OIL CO. DECLARES 30 PER CENT DIVIDEND

STOCKHOLDERS HAVE REALIZED
70 % ON THEIR INVEST-MENT IN FOUR YEARS.

Frank Auslander Re-elected President at Annual Meeting Held on Tuesday Evening.

Stockholders in the Cass City Oil and Gas Co. have no reason to complain regarding a satisfactory income from their investment in this company. During the past four years, dividends aggregating 70% have been paid to shareholders. Both in 1922 and in 1923, a 10% dividend was declared, in 1924 a 20% dividend and in the year ending in July 1925, a 30% return on the investment.

Stockholders and their wives and sweethearts, to the number of 250, gathered at the Pastime Theater building Tuesday evening to attend the annual meeting. Frank Auslander, president of the company, presided as chairman. Robt. Warner, secretary and manager, read the report of the year's business. The total sales of the year ending in July reached $87,297.67 which is $12,588.68 higher than the previous year. Profits for the year show 34% on each share of $100.00.

Sales of the year include 43 cars or 352,600 gallons of gasoline, 14 cars or 114,800 gallons of kerosene, 4 cars or 15,000 gallons of lubricating oil, $6,000 worth of tires and tubes and 15 barrels or 825 gallons of alcohol.

When a stockholder proposed three cheers for the company and Mr. Warner's able management, the response was enthusiastic.

Chas. E. Hartsell and M. B. Auten were elected directors for terms of three years each. Other members of the board of directors are Frank Auslander, A. E. Goodall, Mark Bond and Samuel Mitchell.

Ice cream, doughnuts, wafers and lemonade were served to the company at the close of the meeting.

At a meeting of the board of directors, Frank Auslander was re-elected president and A. E. Goodall vice president. The board will meet next Wednesday to select a manager of the company.

Archibald A. Dickson Died in B. C. July 6

Archibald Alexander Dickson, a resident of Novesta township in pioneer days, died on July 6 in a hospital at Lillooet, B. C., after an illness with pneumonia.

He was born May 3, 1860, in St. Thomas, Ont., and came to Novesta township at the age of seven. Relatives in this community have not seen him for 40 years and had not heard from him for 35 years, until a few months ago.

Mr. Dickson has been engaged in mine prospecting in the Klondike region for 30 years. While working on one of the claims Oct. 22 last, a piece of machinery gave way, crushing his right side. It required two weeks to get him to a physician and he suffered loss of blood and exposure which resulted in an illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Dickson leaves three daughters aged 30, 28 and 24 years, all residents of Van Couver, B. C., two brothers, John Dickson of Detroit and Geo. Dickson, and four sisters, Mrs. John McLarty of Cass City, Mrs. Margaret Beebehyer of Pontiac, Mrs. Janet Phillips of Gilroy, Calif., and Mrs. Edith Elliott of Sacramento, Calif. His wife preceded him in death nine years ago.

First Reunion of the Starr Family

The first annual reunion of the Starr family was held at the home of Lloyd Starr in Almont July 4th.

A bounteous pot luck dinner was served to about 36 guests, the oldest of whom was George Starr of Royal Oak, aged 62 years and Raymond Starr of Austin, one month old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Starr, was the youngest.

The afternoon was spent in visiting, playing games and racing, after which officers for the ensuing year were elected. James Starr of Pontiac was elected president and Mrs. Lloyd Starr of Almont, secretary-treasurer.

A display of fireworks in the evening closed a very happy day.

Guests were present from Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing, Austin and Argyle.

DOGS TO BE BARRED FROM STATE PARKS

Dogs have gone under the ban of the state department of conservation so far as all Michigan State Parks are concerned and in the future Fido must be left at home when the family goes out for a days outing or he will find himself in a state pound with a price on his head for his liberty.

The action was taken following several reports from state parks to the effect that resorters' dogs have been eating up the picnic lunches, scaring women and children and making themselves generally obnoxious on the bathing beaches and elsewhere.

Under the present plan a pound will be established in each park. Any dog taken into the park must be securely tied so he may not run at large, and should he gain his freedom the caretaker has been instructed to capture him, dead or alive, and if alive to impound him.

NOW THE CHAIN FARM.

Now they are considering the question of "chain farming"—one big corporation operating a whole string of farms, just as others now operate chains of drug stores, groceries, clothing, and five-and-ten cent stores. They argue there is a vast saving in machinery, since it can be transported from one farm to another and used on all of them in the chain; supplies can be bought more cheaply where they are bought for a big bunch of farms instead of each farmer buying separately. A Chicago man is now organizing a "chain farm" company.

SEES WONDERFUL CHANGES IN 43 YEARS

GEO. E. METCALF, "WATCHMAN
POET," MAKES COMPARISON OF "THEN AND NOW."

Prof. A. A. Metcalf Presents Clan
with Brief History of the Metcalf Family.

The sixth annual reunion of the Metcalf family was held July 4 at the farm residence of Irvin Metcalf in Elmwood township. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Turner and daughter, Miss Helen, Cressy Steele, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turner and family attended from Cass City. There were present, old and young, about ninety persons.

George E. Metcalf and daughter, and Mrs. Gertrude Burns of Traverse City, were present for the first time. George E. Metcalf, the first white child born in Ellington township, had not visited the place of his birth for forty-three years. Having been a resident here for twenty-five years, he and his two sons moved, after the death of his wife, to Crawford county, where he lived twenty-two years. He then moved to Traverse City, where he has been employed at the Wells Hignman Co. and the Zapfe Fruit Package Co. for twenty-three years.

Mr. Metcalf is known there as the "Watchman Poet of Traverse City." He remarks very forcibly on the change in the country since his departure. The wonderful improvements, the abundance of crops, the beautiful scenery and the healthful climate where once there was nothing but impassable swamps. Now it is all drained, cleared and covered with crops of all kinds, which cannot be beaten anywhere in the state of Michigan. When Mr. Metcalf left Tuscola county, Caro had only two brick buildings, while it is now built up almost entirely of brick business buildings and dwelling houses. Cass City, which was nothing but wooden buildings, has been greatly enlarged with brick business blocks and homes and fine pavements.

After a bountiful dinner served by the resident members of the family, Professor A. A. Metcalf of the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, presented to the clan a beautiful book containing a brief history of the Metcalf family, with recollections of old times from some of the members, and poems by George E. Metcalf. George Metcalf presented to the clan a very fine gentleman's pin, set with seed pearls and jets, and which was made by the grandfather of the present heads of the clan. This pin is more than 100 years old.

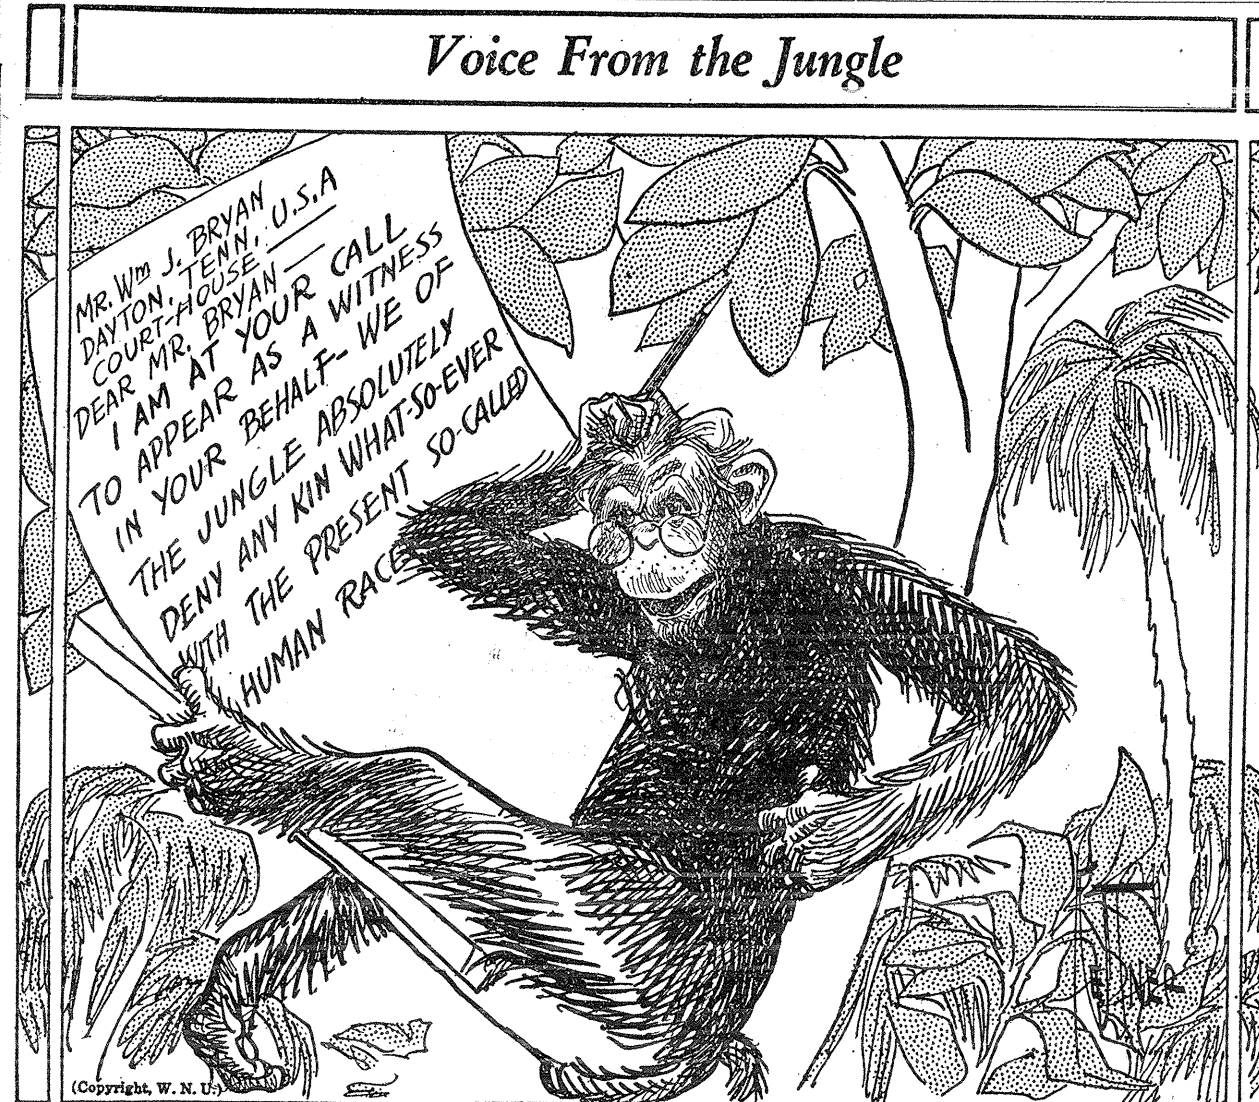

After talks by the different ones of the company, songs and recitations, they proceeded to elect the officers for the coming year. The following, who served last year, also were elected: President, Mrs. Harry Metcalf-DeNoyles, Colwood; secretary, Mrs. Stanley Turner, Caro; treasurer, Wesley Metcalf, Ellington.

The next reunion is to be held at the Robert Milner home in Almont township on July 3, 1926.

EASING THE LOAD.

The recent action of President Coolidge in abolishing 39 out of 84 land offices has met with universal approval of every person who is honestly interested in a general lowering of Federal taxes.

The President's action was in the interest of sound and economical government. For over half a century the public land offices were among the softest political plums to be handed out by administration leaders, and a small army of office holders was the result. At the present time nearly 2,300 of these barnacles on the ship of state have been cast overboard and yet there has been no lowering of efficiency in the departments due to the jolted survivors doing more work than former gangs. The presidential road to lower taxes is going to spell a lot of grief for those who have looked upon Uncle Sam for years as the greatest sugar papa the world has ever known.

Favorites from Comic Sections Coming

Colored fire will replace printers' ink at the night shows of the Cass City fair, Aug. 18-21, when favorites from comic-sections of the newspapers will be portrayed in the Thearle-Duffield Fireworks displays.

Barney Google, the inimitable little horseman, and his nag, Spark Plug, will be pictured in the ring at the horse show, where Spark Plug has won a blue ribbon. Barney holds the ribbon up admiringly to be seen by the folks in the stand, which include Andy Gump with Min and Chester, Jiggs and Maggie, Mutt and Jeff, Uncle Walt and Skeezix and others. Sambo, the little colored chap who is Barney's valet and secretary, chaparones Rudy, the ostrich, while Felix the cat, cuts capers for the amusement of the stands.

In former years one or two characters from comic sections have found their way into fireworks, but this is the first time an entire group has been pictured and the result is laugh-compelling.

An elaborate display of mechanical set and ground-pieces will be shown Turn to page 5.

Beloved Teacher Died Monday in Chicago

Miss Lulu Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Julia Anderson of this city, died on Monday last at Lakeside Hospital, Chicago, after an illness of nearly a year. The remains were brought to Cass City on Tuesday and funeral services were held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Schenck. The service was conducted by Rev. A. G. Newberry, assisted by Rev. Wm. Schnug and the burial took place at the Elkland cemetery where also rests the remains of the late Rev. S. G. Anderson, father of the deceased, who was for several years pastor of the local Baptist church.

Miss Anderson was at one time a student in the Cass City schools. She later graduated from the Northern Michigan Normal school at Marquette and entered the teaching profession. In this work, she spent several years at Ironwood and Kalamazoo, Mich., leaving the latter position to accept an appointment in the city schools at Evanston, Ill., where for 13 years she served as an efficient and valued member of the teaching staff.

The deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Julia Anderson, and sister, Mrs. P. A. Schenck, of Cass City; Mrs. Gertrude Ross, Mrs. W. A. Morey of Chicago; Mrs. Edward Hall, Boston; Mrs. R. L. Holloway and Mrs. M. M. Wickware, of Detroit, also sisters; and Dr. L. F. Anderson, Columbus, Ohio; and William Anderson of Coronado, Col., brothers.

OUR FIRST BILLIONAIRE.

Wall Street called attention a few days ago to the fact that the balance sheet of the Ford Motor Co. shows a valuation of $863,000,000, and that in addition to owning almost all of the plant, Henry Ford owns a railroad, a steamship line, several big lumber camps, a string of Kentucky coal mines and goodness only knows what else. Last year was Ford's best year. He sold cars at the rate of 250 an hour, 24 hours a day for the 300 working days. He paid his employees $253,001,528 in salaries during the year. And when we realize that the Ford company was incorporated only 22 years ago with a capital of but $22,000, it knocks the wind out of the young man who complains that "there isn't a chance for a fellow to get anywhere in this country any more."

1 DEAD, 5 INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

FORMER WICKWARE TEACHER
PASSED AWAY IN BAD AXE
HOSPITAL SATURDAY.

Steven Andreski Pleaded Guilty Tuesday to Driving While Intoxicated and Paid Fine.

John Ahearn, 54, of Detroit died at the Hubbard hospital at Bad Axe on Saturday afternoon of injuries received Friday night, July 3, when two automobiles collided head-on near Bad Axe.

Three others were also injured in the same accident and were taken to the hospital. Dan Meagher of Port Austin, who was riding with Mr. Ahearn, is believed to have received internal injuries from which his recovery is doubtful. Myron Burgess of Thompsonville, Conn., and Delos Fowler of Detroit, who were in the other automobile, are expected to recover. Burgess received injuries about the head and Fowler had his face cut and arm bruised.

Fowler and Burgess, college chums from Yale university, were headed north in a roadster, to spend the week-end at Pointe aux Barques, while Ahearn and Meagher were coming south in a light sedan. The machines met head-on, and both rolled over in the ditch.

Mr. Ahearn is survived by his widow and six children, Arline, Langdon, Catherine, Dorothy, Agnes and Joseph. Funeral services were held Tuesday from St. Edward's church at Kinde. Mr. Ahearn will be remembered by several of the older residents of Greenleaf township, he having taught at the Wickware district school a number of years ago.

Auto Hits Horse.
Steven Andreski and Mrs. Frances Smnsky, both of Detroit, were injured in an automobile accident five miles east and about ¼ mile south of Cass City on Thursday evening, July 2, when they wrecked a light coupe after striking a horse Wm. N. Harrison, a Greenleaf township farmer, was leading along the road. Both were brought to the hospital at Cass City for treatment. Andreski left the hospital Sunday. Mrs. Smnsky is still there suffering with a broken hip. Mr. Harrison says the accident occurred between 8:00 and 8:30 p. m.

Andreski was arraigned before Justice T. E. Dawson at Sandusky Tuesday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $61.15 including costs.

Roy Vance of Cass City was arrested Thursday night by Undersheriff Leslie of Sanilac county on a charge of having liquor in his possession, which it is alleged, came from the wrecked car. Vance was taken to the Harrison farm while officers went to the house to interview the injured parties of the accident. Harrison was left to guard the prisoner, who turned on the farmer and beat him into insensibility. Vance pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery when arraigned before Justice Dawson and paid a fine. He will be brought into circuit court later, officers say, to answer to a charge of prohibition law violation.

J. L. Cathcart Will Re-Open Store Here

The firm of Wilsey & Cathcart has been dissolved and will be succeeded by John L. Cathcart, who will re-open the store in the City Block about July 27. Mr. Cathcart will carry the same line of merchandise with the exception of the grocery stock.

Mr. Cathcart has been engaged in the mercantile business for 38 years, 13 of which he was a member of the Wilsey & Cathcart firm at Cass City. He is well versed in his calling, has carried goods of reliability and quality, and his friends are pleased to hear that he will continue in business here.

BEAN GROWERS AND JOBBER PLAN POOL

MEETING AT SAGINAW DISCUSSES METHODS FOR SATISFACTORY MARKETING.

A. B. Cook of Owosso Is Temporary Chairman; Another Meeting at Lansing July 13.

Tentative plans for a pooling system for Michigan beans in which growers, jobbers and elevator men would participate were made at a meeting of representatives of the three groups held last week at Saginaw.

The general outline of the plan was given the approval of those present, A. B. Cook, of Owosso, chairman of the meeting announced afterward. Temporary officers were elected and a committee was appointed to present the matter at a meeting of bean growers to be held at Michigan State college in Lansing, July 13. An organization meeting probably will be held later, Mr. Cook said.

Mr. Cook was elected temporary president and J. H. McFarland, of Merrill, was named temporary secretary. The committee that will take the matter up at the growers' meeting consists of Earl McCarty, Bad Axe; W. F. Dowling, Caro; Frank Nolan, Albion; A. L. Wright, Deckerville; E. Thomas, Flint; James McBride, Burton; L. W. Oviatt, Bay county; John H. McFarland, Merrill; Mr. Horton, Kine; Holly Hubbell, Saginaw, and Mr. Hart, of Williamston.

General features of the plan proposed, says the Bay City Tribune, call for sale of a part of the bean crop in the usual manner, but pooling of the rest. The pooled beans, after being picked and graded, would be stored in terminal elevators, subject to sale at such times and in such quantities as the executive committee of the pool should determine. Farmers depositing beans in the pool would be given certificates on which they might borrow money if they wished, being paid for the beans when they were sold. The elevators and jobbers would receive certain stated sums for their services.

Explaining the reasons for the proposals, Mr. Cook told those present that "It is not necessary for me to emphasize the advantage of orderly marketing. We all appreciate the waste which in some instances has been almost criminal which has resulted to our growers and others through the dumping on the market of a volume of beans in amount in excess of capacity of the market to assimilate, and we believe the time is ripe for an advanced step."

"We have witnessed the efforts of individuals in greater, sometimes in less numbers, endeavoring to steady the bean market by taking a quantity of beans off the market, thereby relieving the strain until conditions became more favorable. While the principle involved is undoubtedly correct, that is that the market should be protected and fed and not glutted, that the product should be merchandised and not dumped, that a steady strong market at a reasonable price is much more advantageous to a great majority of those interested in the business, still these efforts have sometimes failed and usually fallen short because of the fact that they were not attempted by a large enough body of interested individuals."

WHAT ARTHUR BRISBANE SAYS ABOUT ADVERTISING

Mr. Woodbridge, new head of the Advertising Clubs of the world, says newspapers are the "preeminent advertising medium for selling merchandise quickly."

To the real business man it is more than that. It is the only force that can build up a name. Reputation is Reputation.

And only newspapers can give a Reputation the Reputation that creates value. Dollars put into bricks, mortar, steel and glass will wear down. Money invested in advertising, building up a name worthy to be advertised, will outlast all your factories.

Ford's factories perhaps are worth 50 millions. The one word "FORD" is worth at least two thousand millions. —Arthur Brisbane.

RECOVERY FROM THE WAR.

A most hopeful view of business prospects as the result of recovery from war conditions, was given by the recent address of the retiring president of the International Chamber of Commerce, Willis H. Booth. He felt that the rapid improvement of manufacturing methods all over the world gave reason to believe that the losses of the war would be made up much sooner than had been expected.

The war burdens would seem rather light if a large gain in production methods could be secured. Take the case of the American war debt. The sum of $20,000,000,000 seems an enormous burden. Yet it is only about $180 for every man, woman, and child in this country. If the production of the people could be increased 25 to 50 per cent, the whole debt might theoretically be paid off in a year, though the practical difficulty would remain of finding a market for all this stuff.

The trouble with the world, and the reason why the foreign demand for American products has fallen off in some instances, is not so much that these war debts form an insuperable difficulty, as that the world is still fearful of the threat of war.

It was claimed during the war, that the people's ingenuity and capacity had been so increased by their war experiences, that they would soon make up for war losses. That has not yet proved true. War sets loose such terrible evils as to prevent these effects from being realized. The passion of fighting seems to demoralize people, in their working capacity and moral standards.

Recovery from war then is a kind of mental and moral problem as well as a financial one. If the present negotiations pending in Europe for a guarantee against war should be successful, new hope and courage would sweep over the world, and the burden of debts would not seem so formidable.

THE NAME WRITING PASSION.

Some folks have a mania for writing their names in places of public resort. They should note that steps are being taken at Gettysburg national park, against those who deface the tablets at that historic spot, by writing their names on them.

Many sacred spots, shrines of history or natural beauty, have been marred by the people who insist on writing their autographs in such spots. It seems to destroy the sacredness of such a place to see a lot of names scrawled over them. Those who feel a desire to leave a record of their presence in the world, should accomplish it by doing some useful thing that people will remember.

THE "OLE SWIMMIN' HOLE"

Residents of Greenfield, Indiana, native town of James Whitcomb Riley, the poet, have contributed $12,500 to preserve Brandywine creek as a park, this including the spot which Mr. Riley immortalized as "The ole swimmin' hole."

Innumerable men can look back to some similar secluded spot where as boys they used to hold daily celebrations during the hot weather. Wonderful scenes of kid merriment were enacted there, and the sorrows of working in the garden and doing chores were forgotten in the solacing waters of these resorts.

Boys with such a swimming place to turn to were mighty fortunate, and their practice at a healthful exercise did much for the vigor of American manhood. Today the girls demand their share of the "ole swimmin' hole" too, with all the necessary facilities, and they will not be excelled by the boys in proficiency in its arts.

EDUCATING THE CONSUMERS.

Prof. Martha Van Rensselaer, dean of the Home Economics college at Cornell university, told the New York state bankers some days ago that consumers need to be educated as well as producers.

The American people have gone to great expense to provide technical training, and to perfect manufacturing processes, so that the work of production shall be efficient. Meanwhile most of our people have had no special training in the art of spending, and they waste far too much. Prosperity can be produced by efficient spending as well as by efficient production.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

HE IS RE-ELECTED
OVER HIS PROTEST

E. P. Armstrong, national vice commander of the American Legion, is of the type of men which believes in getting things done. And he believes that the way to get things done is, forsooth, to go and do them.

It is that driving power which has carried him from commander of his post to a re-election, to commander of his department, to a re-election over his protest, to a choice as national vice commander of the Legion. Those who have been closely associated with him in his home department of Connecticut, who have seen him work and observed the enthusiastic, compelling way in which he works, say that every Legionnaire in Connecticut loves him.

In four years of Legion work Armstrong has given largely of his time and energy and services to the cause of bettering the lot of men who returned from the war as physical wrecks. After he had been drafted as commander of Corporal post at Waterbury in 1922, he made the care of the disabled his first concern. Conditions were bad then and were complicated by serious unemployment. With others, Armstrong helped to find jobs for 1,000 jobless veterans. He found time in the midst of this activity to make his post the largest in the state.

Re-elected, Armstrong organized a Legion band. He started a post newspaper. He aided materially in securing a Legion home for service men at Waterbury, worth $100,000. Then he was elected department commander. He took a leave of absence from the Scovill Manufacturing company to devote himself exclusively to Legion work.

Great strides in helping the disabled in Connecticut were made under his inspiration and guidance. He organized 14 new posts and brought his department from forty-fifth to second in percentage of membership gain over the preceding year. He made a speaking tour of the state on behalf of the Legion program, delivering from one to four speeches daily for forty-five days. Then after three nights of rest, he was off again, this time on a seventy-two-day schedule. He visited every post in his department and a number of cities where posts were being organized.

At the annual department convention last fall Armstrong was re-elected. He had made strenuous protest. But the delegates staged a demonstration for him in Wild West style and put him back in his job. At the national convention in St. Paul in 1924 he was chosen as one of the five national vice commanders. He resigned as department commander in order to devote himself to his work in the national field. And now he is busy again with his work for the disabled, devoting himself to the American Legion endowment fund for the disabled and the orphans of the war.

Subject Announced for National Essay Contest

The subject of the American Legion national essay contest for 1925 for American school children was announced recently by national headquarters of the Legion at Indianapolis. The subject is:

"Why has the American Legion, an organization of veterans of the World war, dedicated itself, first of all, to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America?"

The contest is open to all boys and girls between the ages of twelve and eighteen, inclusive.

Prizes of $750, $500 and $250 for first, second and third places, respectively, have been offered. The cash prizes shall be used only for scholarships in recognized colleges to be chosen by the winners. Medals are also given to winners.

State and county school officials will co-operate with the Legion in conducting the contest.

POULTRY

RAISING GEESE IS QUITE PROFITABLE

During the past year I have been raising geese and I have found them to be profitable. There is a good market for geese.

In the first place geese require less grain than any other fowl. That is important. The geese derive a greater part of their living from pasture and roaming about, and they get just what they require in the way of feed. In winter it's different. We must feed them, but they do not eat like other fowls, and I have found they will fatten more quickly than other fowls, says a writer in the Indiana Farmer's Guide. The important thing that I do not want overlooked is the fact that the goslings are the easiest of all fowls to raise. That has been my experience of many years past, perhaps ten years or longer. Once they are hatched out, with ordinary care, they will thrive and grow with rapidity to maturity. The thing that is hardest is to get them hatched. I have found so many eggs that were infertile, so I always set plenty of them.

The little goslings will seldom touch feed other than bits of grass until after three or four days. One thing is essential, and that is having plenty of drinking water. They must have this, and require it, for that seems to be their very nature.

The hen and goslings are kept in their coop, where it is warm for the first week. Sometimes I keep them in ten days when it is damp and cold. After that they are allowed all the free range they want, except on rainy days.

The first feed I give the goslings is hard-boiled eggs mixed with milk and cornmeal. That is the best thing in the way of feed that I have ever tried. The milk must be sweet for best results. The eggs may be crushed up, shell and all, and mixed with the milk and cornmeal.

The first month the goslings are fed about four times a day. I have always done this, for while young and growing they require nourishment often, although sparingly fed each time. It is folly to overfeed and it is also injurious.

The breeding birds are fed carefully during winter. I give them clover, vegetables and sprouted oats, so they do not get too fat.

Young Turkeys Require
Shelter in Wet Weather

Young turkeys are susceptible to wet weather. One precaution that must always be observed in handling the young poult is to see that they have a dry place where they are protected from the rainstorms, and that they have a dry place to roost.

Turkey hens will lay when a year old if they are well matured. It is probably best to keep the majority of the flock older hens, but it is necessary to keep some of the better young hens to gradually replace the older hens. In this way the flock can be kept in the best of condition.

In feeding and caring for young poult there are as many different ration and methods advocated as there are for chicks.

No food should be given to the young poult for the first 36 to 48 hours. During the first week hard-boiled infertile eggs chopped fine and mixed with equal parts of rolled oats and fed in limited quantities three times a day is a satisfactory ration. Sour skimmed milk or buttermilk is excellent for drinking purposes. After the third or fourth day cracked corn, hulled or steel-cut oats, cracked wheat or other similar grains may be scattered in the light litter or in the short grass outside of the brood coop in order to encourage the poult to exercise in getting their food.

June Is the Best Time to Caponize Cockerels

While capons are produced only in small number where their quality is known, they sell for fancy prices, according to D. H. Hall, extension poultry specialist of Clemson college, who suggests that the month of June is the best time to caponize young cockerels. At this season the market is usually low for broilers and it will pay to caponize cockerels and keep them for capons.

In selling these capons the local market must be developed first. Some of our tourist towns are already providing good market for capons and are paying good prices for them. Several men in South Carolina are caponizing for the farmers, and are marketing their products for them at a small cost.

The operation on the cockerel is not difficult usually, but should be performed with care. If the cockerels are starved out from 36 to 48 hours before the operation, it will help greatly. If the intestines are full of food the operation is very difficult.

Dirty Feet Retard Eggs

When yards and houses are wet and ooze with moisture most of the time, it means cold and dirty feet for the hens. A hen that "gets cold feet" seldom lays the right quota of eggs, and dirty feet make dirty nests and dirty eggs. In cases where a suitable dry location is hard to get, along with other desirable factors, place a three-inch tile even with the bottom of the foundation on the outside, and provide proper outlet for excess moisture.

Twice as many said "Willard"

Last summer 12237 car owners selected at random were asked, "What battery will you buy next?" Practically twice as many said "Willard" as said any other battery.

8860 were asked what battery they bought last (for replacement) — and again it was twice as many for Willard.

Some Advantages That "Hick Town" Boy Has

The so-called hick town has lately become a source of great inspiration to our professional humorists. If you read comic weeklies and newspaper quips you have doubtless noticed many in the last year which began like this: "A hick town is a place where—"

A hick town, say the various users of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for a pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where woodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a girl or a boy; where the folks build a yellow brick gym but no sidewalks; where the neighbors will supply you with a conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem; where a curfew disturbs the residents' rest; where a bachelor of 85 needs a bodyguard; where fine-cut tobacco is no handicap socially; where $50,000 is as good as a million, and so on and so on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is a place where 26 of our 29 Presidents were born and where 7 out of 10 of the immortals in New York's National hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons; one produced a great university president just lost to Michigan. If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.—Detroit News.

Tells Property Owners Importance of Paint

Chicago property owners throw away millions of dollars every year, because they fail to paint correctly, according to S. H. Stewart, president of the Chicago Paint, Oil and Varnish club, who spoke at a general conference of paint men.

This sum, he announced, is but part of the billion and a half dollars' waste which represents the national annual loss from neglect of property.

"Not only do the property owners themselves suffer an actual cash loss in depreciation of property values, repairs and more expensive paint bills when they finally do decide to call in the painter," he said, "but they put a premium upon the principal wealth of a nation, which is its physical property." In the United States there are $90,000,000,000 worth of physical property.

This waste is prevented by paint only, according to Mr. Stewart. Paint forms an elastic coating over materials susceptible to the fungus spores of rot and the chemical action of air which results in rust. Paint is impervious to them, therefore the substance which is covered with paint is immune.

For Garden Walls

"Grow your own berries" is a slogan worthy of the attention of every person who has even a small piece of ground, for it is an easy matter to grow good crops of delicious berries in a small space. Berry growing is interesting and the time spent in cultivating and watering is a pleasure. This frequently is overlooked with the result that berries are not served as often or as fresh as they should be. In a few minutes one may pick sufficient berries for breakfast, lunch or dinner, fresh from the vines and full of rich flavor and healthful juices.—Farm and Orchard.

Newspaper's Duties

The place of the newspaper in city planning is vital. Never before in history have newspapers gone so far in playing fair with their readers. He who talks of the good old days of journalism should be sent to a lunatic asylum. Horace Greeley, in spite of his fame, didn't play fair with his readers. He gave them what he wanted them to know. But even now, the newspaper has not reached its real development in serving the city by planning for the future.—New York Times.

Plant Nut Trees

The time is not far off, according to nut-growing enthusiasts, when nut trees will replace most shade trees. Nut breeding is said to be 150 years behind that of apples and other fruits, but it is fast catching up; some day we may have a larger black walnut with a paper shell. Among the varieties recommended for orchards are black walnuts, butternuts, hickory nuts, hazel nuts, pecans and those sorts of chestnuts which are resistant to blight.

Small Principalities

The five smallest countries in the world are: Monaco, 8 square miles; San Marino, 46 square miles; Liechtenstein, 65 square miles; Andorra, 140 square miles, and Danzig (free city), 720 square miles.

House Your Machinery

Farmers lose large sums of money each year because farm machinery is not properly cared for. Rust and rot cause rapid deterioration of implements. They shorten their period of service and thus reduce your profits.

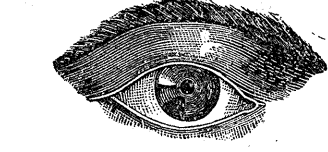

These losses can be decreased by housing your machinery when not in use in a modern machine shed. Your increased profits, due to the longer life and greater efficiency of your tools, will soon pay the cost of constructing such a shelter.

Besides protecting your implements, the building can also provide you with room for a machine shop or tractor garage in which you can do necessary repair work on rainy days. The space upstairs can be used for storage purposes.

Drop in today and let us show you how inexpensive such a profit-making improvement on your farm really is.

The Luxury of Sleep

O. Lawrence Hawthorne

"Now I lay me down to sleep"—
Oh, what a happy phrase!
Enwrapped in folds of slumber deep,
While stars their faithful vigil keep,
Our barks across the darkness creep
Between two busy days.

Afar we float on spirit wings
Beyond the vaulted sky;
We soar to realms of mystic things
And drink of youth's eternal springs,
While Mother Nature gently sings
A soothing lullaby.

Of men asleep, it matters not
How humble they may be;
In sleep we know a common lot;
All strife and burdens are forgot
When each has found his friendly cot
And sails the Morphean Sea.

The luxury of sweet repose
Bids petty cares be gone!
When men their weary eyelids close
The spark of genius brighter glows;
They gain the might that sleep bestows
And gayly greet the dawn.

Concluded from first page.

In conjunction with the "Comedy Land" number, which will be shown on one night only, being replaced by other scenes on other nights. Each night will see the gorgeous program of aerial sensations, however, as well as the setpieces. The latter include many new and novel numbers this year, including the "Star of the East," outlined in a white blaze; "Cross of Malta," done in many-colored fires; "Pyro Carnival," a melee of Roman Candles, spotted in a semicircle and fired simultaneously, and many others.

From the time the program opens, through the features and until the grand finale the air will be filled with illumination and the big exhibition field will be a blaze of colored fire.

THE DANGERS OF CREDIT.

The dangers of extending credit too freely were dwelt upon by the president of the New York State Bankers' association, at their recent convention. He thought it was time to discourage spending for unnecessary articles and luxuries.

It is the business of the banker to discern that invisible line where reasonable confidence in one's future becomes extravagance and lack of thrift. He is trained to make that distinction and if he advises you to wait until you have saved more money before you make this or that expenditure, it is well to accept his counsel.

Favorite Recipes

Strawberry Pie.

Sweeten well enough ripe berries to fill a freshly baked pastry crust. Mix berries and sugar thoroly, being careful not to crush the fruit. When crust is cold, fill with the berries and cover with whipped cream or the beaten whites of two eggs sweetened and flavored with vanilla. If the eggs are used, sprinkle sugar on top and brown quickly. Serve very cold.—Mrs. Vernon Carpenter.

Fruit Cookies.

One and one-half cups sugar, 1½ cups ground raisins, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup sour cream, cup of shortening, and flour to mix, but not too hard.—Mrs. A. L. Sharrard.

Graham Gems.

One cup graham flour, 1 tablespoon pastry flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 saltspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sour cream, 2-3 cup sour or buttermilk, ½ teaspoon soda. Beat all together and bake in well buttered gem tins 20 minutes.—Mrs. Geo. Kolb.

Pineapple Conserve.

One pineapple, 2 oranges chopped fine and cooked. Three cups rhubarb cooked separately. Mix together after cooking and add 6 cups sugar. Raisins and nuts may be added if liked.—Mrs. T. W. Stitt.

Raspberry Pudding.

One cup flour, 1 rounding teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon butter, mix and add sweet milk to make a batter which will drop easily from spoon. Fill four cups half full of raspberries either fresh or canned. Cover with batter, steam 3-4 of an hour. Serve with cream and sugar or sweet sauce.—Mrs. Wm. Welsh.

Sailor Duff.

One egg, ½ cup molasses, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon soda in ¼ cup hot water, ½ cup boiling water. Mix melted butter and sugar, add egg and flour, molasses, soda, lastly the hot water. Steam one hour. Sauce—One cup powdered sugar, 2 yolks eggs, 1 cup whipped cream.—Mrs. A. D. Gillies.

Molasses Pie.

Four eggs, butter the size of an egg, 1½ cups molasses, 1 cup sugar. Beat the whites to a stiff froth and just before pouring on crust, mix the whites in and flavor with nutmeg. Try this. It is very nice.—Mrs. E. R. Andrews.

Happenings of a Quarter Century Ago

Taken from the Tri-County Chronicle of July 13, 1900.

Chas. McDonald, keeper of the light house on Charity Island, with Joseph Lamme, A. C. Faber and Fabian Laplante, nearly perished in Saginaw Bay Friday night when a heavy squall struck them and capsized the boat. By superhuman effort they succeeded in clinging to the craft until long in the night when the storm subsided somewhat and they managed to turn the boat right side up. Having lost their paddles they were powerless and floundered about until late Saturday afternoon when their plight was discovered by two little girls playing on the shore near the stone quarry. They gave the alarm and a rider was sent to Caseville for help.

"A Weary Traveller" writes of a four weeks trip through Lapeer, Oakland, Genesee and Tuscola counties in which he says that Michigan will never have good roads as long as the law provides for from 50 to 75 road bosses in every township. "The worst sight in the whole trip," says the writer, "was the mutilation of the beautiful Irish road in Genesee county. Here huge sods from four to six feet in length were thrown across the road, some in bunches and some scattered promiscuously. Five miles of this road was left for dead, to wear down for the next eight months in order to become passable again."

An electric push button in a rear room in the telephone office starts an electric siren giving the village night fire alarms. She found the room where this signal button was located, filled with flames, but managed to reach the signal.

The changes in valuation were limited to the cities of Bad Axe and Harbor Beach and a few of the townships. Winsor township, with a reduction of $5,010 was the only district assessed at lower amount than last year. The boost in Harbor Beach was more than twice the increase in Bad Axe. The Harbor Beach assessment was passed at $1,622,200, or $33,250 higher than in 1924.

WASHINGTON INSIDE OUT

A Weekly Panorama of Events in the National Capital.

By Peter Keegan.

Herbert Hoover has been added to the Cabinet sick list. The Secretary of Commerce is at his home in California under the care of a physician. His condition is not serious, according to information reaching his friends here, but he is said to have worn himself down in his work in Washington with the result that physicians have ordered him to take an absolute rest for an extended period. Secretary Weeks, who was critically ill a few weeks ago, is now reported on his way to recovery.

This government's efforts in the direction of war debt collections has caused the British Government to adopt a similar course. Among the nations to which Great Britain has addressed a dun is France, which owes the United States four billion dollars. In some quarters it is feared that the British action may complicate a possible adjustment with the French, who are adjusting their internal finances with a view to sending a debt commission to Washington. The Italian debt fudging negotiations here have adjourned until August with only small progress being made.

Mrs. Constance Schach Gracie De Urbina, who married a young South American diplomat—Humberto Aguiar—after her first husband went down on the Titanic, has learned from her attorneys that her second husband has fled the country and is working as a waiter or dishwasher on a steamer bound for Argentina. Mrs. De Urbina charges that he made away with some of her jewels before leaving and has asked that he be extradited back to the United States as soon as he lands in South America. De Urbina is about fifteen years younger than his wife, who said she married him "out of pity" but is now through with him.

Secretary of Labor Davis is to represent the Cabinet in Europe this summer since Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has elected to stick close to Washington to watch out for debt negotiations. Davis will investigate immigrant conditions abroad in addition to going on a pleasure trip on the continent and calling on his old friend, Alex Moore, now the ambassador at Madrid. This was the first summer, for many years, that Secretary Mellon has not gone to Europe, he will spend much of his time during the hot months at South-Hampton, Long Island, where he has a summer home.

Edward L. Doheny's lengthy defense in the New York Times against the Government's conspiracy charges against him in connection with his California oil leases has aroused widespread comment here, but is not expected to change the status of the civil and criminal cases which the government has instituted against Doheny and his oil companies. In copyrighted article in the New York paper Doheny declared that the United States was fearful of getting into war with Japan and this led to the contract to build oil storage tanks in Hawaii. According to Government officials, any possible fear of war was removed by the Washington Armament Conference before the Doheny contract was concluded and that the war scare talk brought out in the Senate oil investigation was never regarded seriously.

The government ended the fiscal year of 1924-25 with a quarter of a billion dollars more of the people's money than was needed for operating expenses. The surplus will be retained in the treasury as a basis for the tax reduction which the administration has already promised and which will be urged to Congress in December.

The amount left over was $50,000,000 more than had been estimated a few weeks ago by treasury officials. Receipts from all sources, however, exceed early calculations. A suggestion is being made in congressional circles for a law providing for automatic prorate refunds to taxpayers at the end of every year in which a surplus is accumulated in the treasury. That this could be done by the treasury was shown when the 25 per cent income tax rebates were paid last year by order of congress.
