225 TUSCOLA PEOPLE IN FARMERS' TOUR

MADE SECOND ANNUAL TRIP TO MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE.

Many from Tuscola County Visited
College for the First Time and Were Pleas'd.

Two hundred twenty-five Tuscola County people made up the second annual farmers' tour to the Michigan State College last Thursday and Friday. The party arrived at East Lansing at noon. In the afternoon the 150 acres of crop experimental work was shown and explained to the men by specialists who are doing the experimental work. Much interest was shown in the clover and alfalfa work, especially the plots having been seeded with seed from the various sources. Professor McGee easily demonstrated to the men that it pays well to get seed of known origin.

The extension experimental plots on beans, beets and potatoes where cultural methods, depth of planting, distance of planting and different methods of seed treatment are being tried out, were visited and were of much interest to the Tuscola county folks.

The horse pulling contest created as much interest as would an airplane a few years ago. The pulling was done with a dynamometer (a mechanical device attached to a Ford truck). Because it rained practically all day Friday, the regular farmers' day meetings were held in the gymnasium.

Many from Tuscola county visited the college for the first time and were very well pleased even though weather conditions made it impossible to see much of what was scheduled to be seen and disagreeable to go into the fields.

President Butterfield of the college made his first address before a summer farm meeting. He welcomed the visitors from all parts of the state, numbering 8,000, and then briefly outlined the work the college experimental station is doing in the field of crop marketing and economics.

"A farm is worth just what it produces, but what is it worth as a home?" asked Samuel R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska, who spoke in the college gymnasium. In his work for the material things in life the farmer often overlooks the value of his home, which compared with city standards, the former governor said, is worth $100 a month. He pointed out three primary essentials of modern efficient farming, the maintaining of a money reserve, diversity in farming, and good marketing.

Examiner Praises County Officers

Wm. R. Barber, state examiner, has recently completed the audit of the books of Tuscola county for the year ending Mar. 31, 1925. The audit covers all funds of the county.

In his report to the auditor general, Mr. Barber compliments county officers whose duty it is to keep tab on the county's cash. Of Wm. G. Hurley, who Jan. 1, took charge of the county clerk's office, Mr. Barber says: "I am pleased with the interest shown by the present county clerk. The uniform accounting system has been faithfully kept and there is no doubt but that he will become a very efficient county clerk. He has become very well acquainted with his duties considering the short time he has been in office."

"The work of the county treasurer's office," says the examiner, "has been taken care of in a neat and capable manner."

Regarding the accounts of the sheriff, Mr. Barber says: "The sheriff is entitled to commendation for the manner in which he has been turning over the fees received by him to the county."

High Cow Produced 67.3 lbs. Butterfat

The high herd of Group 1 of the Sanilac Cow Testing Association, for the month of July, is owned by Carl Sharrard of Peck, producing 1253 lbs. of milk and 67.3 lbs. of butterfat. The herd consists of pure bred and grade Arysthine and Holsteins and are twelve in number. Mr. Sharrard is raising his cows on pasture and is well satisfied with the results obtained.

The high cow for the month is owned by Earl Elston of Melvin. This cow is a pure bred Holstein producing 1497 lbs. of milk and 67.3 lbs. of butterfat. There are nineteen cows in the association producing from 40 to 50 lbs. of butterfat and eleven cows producing above 50 lbs. of butterfat. The highest is 67.3 lbs. and the second highest 65.8 lbs., a pure bred Holstein owned by George Black. The milk range was from 1001 to 2124 lbs. Forty-one cows produced between 1000 and 1250 and 19 produced over 1250 lbs. Pasture is very short, which calls for earlier summer feeding than is usual. There is some disease bothering at the present time, hoof rot, and a certain lameness which is claimed to be from the lack of bone meal. Anyone purchasing bone meal should be sure, county agricultural authorities say, to buy steamed bone meal.

Missionary Address at Union Service

On Sunday evening, at the Methodist church, William B. White of Holy, will give a stereopticon lecture on the Dark Continent. Mr. White recently returned, after spending eight years in Africa, in mission and evangelistic work among the natives. He will show 100 beautiful pictures describing the wild life of Africa and will also show what the Gospel and mission work is doing among the people of that dark land. All are welcome. At the close of the lecture an offering will be received for foreign missions.

413 PRISONERS JAILED IN PAST YEAR

TWENTY-SEVEN UNABLE TO READ, 28 UNABLE TO WRITE.

Total Cost of Maintaining the County Jail in the Past Year Was $12,020.63.

Sheriff Jay Colling has recently completed his annual report to the secretary of state, Chas. DeLand, for the year from June 30, 1924, to June 30, 1925. During that time a total of 413 have been received into the county jail.

According to the report, 397 of these prisoners were men, 26 of whom were under 18 years of age. There were 16 women committed to the jail, none of whom were under 18.

It is of particular interest to know the birthplaces of the prisoners as compiled by the sheriff. Native born Americans numbered 298, while the greatest number of foreign born prisoners came from Austria with a total of 27. Canada was next with 24; Poland, 20; Russia, 17; Sweden, 1; Siberia, 1.

Twenty-seven of these prisoners could not read, while 28 were unable to write.

Of the total number of prisoners, 183 had foreign born parents, 18 had a foreign born father and native mother, and 12 had foreign born mother and native father.

The total cost of maintaining the jail was $12,020.63. This included the amount paid for medical attendance, clothing for prisoners, repairs to the jail, jail supplies, and the total salaries or fees received by the sheriff and deputies, and the sum received for board and keeping of prisoners.

Other items of interest included in the report were:

Number of males charged with high crimes committed to the jail, 78.

Males charged with minor offenses, 302. Females, 15.

Insane persons confined in jail, 17. Idiots, 1.

Number of prisoners in jail convicted and sent to state prisons, 3. To the House of Correction at Ionia, 5.

New Freight Rates Help the Farmer

Michigan agriculturalists win and the manufacturers lose in an order by the Michigan public utilities commission and the interstate commerce commission on the long freight rate case.

While the order will mean a saving of more than $750,000 a year to Michigan shippers the reduction in freight rates to the industrial centers will be so small as to hardly be noticed.

The order cuts the differentials of the zone rates about 50 per cent. It will result in a savings to the potato shippers of about $75,000 a year, $60,000 to the hay shippers and $40,000 to the bean growers.

Proud of University of Michigan

Dr. and Mrs. I. D. McCoy returned Friday evening from a two weeks' trip East. At Emlenton and Danville, Pa., they visited relatives for a few days, going from there to New York City. Returning, they visited New Haven, Conn., Providence, R. I., and Boston, Mass. Following the Mohawk Trail to Niagara Falls, they returned here via Canada.

Dr. McCoy is most enthusiastic in his praises for the University of Michigan. During the trip, they visited ten noted colleges and universities, namely, Oberlin University in Ohio, Grove City College in Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State College, Yale University, Harvard University, Boston University, Wellesley College, Williams College, Cornell University, and University of Syracuse. After visiting the campuses and buildings of these institutions, Dr. McCoy makes this statement: "The University of Michigan campus and buildings surpass all of the others visited in beauty, convenience, and every other point, with the possible exception of the Harvard Medical buildings. Michigan certainly has every reason to be very proud of the University at Ann Arbor."

The following statements concerning the University of Michigan are taken from R. L. Polk & Co.'s Michigan Gazetteer of 1923-24:

"The University of Michigan, the 'Mother of Our State Universities,' has been for eighty years more widely known than any American university except Harvard and Yale. . . . It has property and equipment worth $12,000,000, which, it should be remembered, does not include the value of the fifty-six fraternity and club houses corresponding to the dormitories of other institutions. . . . It now has a student body of 11,513 from all parts of the civilized world."

MARSHALL—HOWELL

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Marshall of Ann Arbor, former Cass City residents, announce the marriage of their daughter, Irene, to Lewis Leroy Howell of Detroit, on July 23. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Goldman at Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell spent the week end at Whitmore Lake and are "at home" at 5434 Detroit St., Ann Arbor.

LOCAL ITEMS

The Robinson Laundry and the McLellan hotel building are among the latest business places which have been painted this summer. Work is being done on both buildings this week.

Joy H. Smith of Detroit and Miss Frances P. Smithson of Cass City were united in marriage by Judge of Probate Hill at the Tuscola county court house Monday morning. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Smith of Detroit, formerly of Cass City, and Miss Smithson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Smithson of this place.

A new law passed by the last legislature regarding the issuing of marriage licenses goes into effect soon. It provides that an application for license must be filed five days before the license is issued. Only when good and sufficient cause is shown in an order from the judge of probate may the county clerk issue a license and deliver same immediately to the applicant. The law was designed to discourage hasty marriages.

Judge of Probate Hill is being "guyed" considerably by his good friends this week, all because he was so unfortunate as to fall in a bathtub and crack two ribs. Some tell him to wear calked boots while bathing, while others are generous with advice regarding other methods of avoiding accidents. The genial judge is taking the banter in good spirit, knowing that his turn will come at some not distant day to have a good laugh on those who are now making merry at his expense.

E. B. Schwaderer, Frank McCauley, A. J. Knapp and Dugald Krug are late purchasers of Buick sedans.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lewis and two children and Mrs. Carrie Cardy, all of Bay City, were guests Sunday at the Andrew Muntz home.

Mrs. R. C. Hulbert and little daughter, Phyllis, of Lapeer returned to their home Tuesday afternoon after spending several days at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talmadge.

Miss Luella Holtz has received word that her mother, Mrs. L. A. Holtz, left Richmond, Va., last week, after spending three weeks with her daughter, Mary, and brother, T. C. Elkington. After visiting with other relatives in Mansfield and Sandusky, O., and Adrian and Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Holtz expects to return home about the middle of August.

The purchase of the McKichan homestead near Cumber by Charles McKichan was celebrated on July 26 by the gathering of 43 relatives at the homestead where many of them had spent many happy hours in childhood days. The occasion was also the birth anniversary of Miss Jane McKichan and Lorne McIntyre. Guests were present from Sandusky, Detroit and other points in the state. ## PREDICTS BETTER TIMES FOR FARMERS

SEC. OF AGRICULTURE JARDINE SEES AGRICULTURE COM- ING BETTER.

Improved Prices Will Help the Farm- ers to Get Squared Away Again.

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine declared in a review of the agricultural situation, as seen from his eight weeks' western tour, that "agriculture is safely convalescent." He said that in the west farmers are getting out of the shadow of bankruptcy, and that there is a ray of confidence and that gradually agriculture is getting its house in order after the disruption following the war.

Mr. Jardine declared "that the farmers themselves are competent to work out their own problems and that there would not be any great demand for farm legislation in the coming session of congress. There is not the same disposition that existed two years ago to leave it to the quacks to prescribe various nostrums to help the farmers out of their troubles."

"Cattle and hog men are better off than they have been since 1920, and I didn't see any sheep men who were down at the mouth," declared Mr. Jardine. "If the wheat men are careful in marketing their crops they will get good prices and they are learning not to flood the markets."

"Conditions in the corn belt are reversed from what they were a year ago when hogs were cheap and corn a poor and expensive crop. Indications are for a large corn crop with favorable prices for hogs. Indications are also that there will be a large cotton crop, and good income for the planters in the entire cotton belt as a whole."

"There are certain dark spots in the general agricultural picture. The southwest is struggling under a prolonged and serious drought. The east does not show any marked improvement. This region was hit last year by low prices for potatoes, hay and other important crops, and the dairy industry has had economic difficulties. On top of that has been the unusually dry weather of this year."

Referring to the Chicago Board of Trade, Secretary Jardine declared that he had reason to believe that the board itself would make necessary changes in trading methods. "But," he emphasized, "they are not going to repeat what they did during the first three months of this year. If they do not do something for themselves then something will be done for them. I know there is a lot of gambling there, but it is difficult to get facts of gamblers."

He declared that the aim of his department would be to put the board of trade in the hands of good men who belonged to it and advocated a clearing house for the exchange, similar to bank clearing houses.

Secretary Jardine reiterated that he favored some marketing machinery for farmers and that it might be necessary for some legislation along that line; although he believed that farmers themselves would either work out some method of disposing of their surplus products, or avoid creating surpluses.

An illustration of what farmers can do to prevent overproduction is the fact that this year wheat farmers reduced their acreage of land sowed to wheat by 20,000,000 acres which was put into other crops.

"Some things will be necessary in the way of legislation, but we cannot set up any machinery that will put us on easy street at one swoop," the secretary concluded.

FINE AMUSEMENT PROGRAM AT FAIR

FIREWORKS WILL MAKE NIGHT SHOW AS POPULAR AS DAY FAIR.

Splendid Line of Free Acts, Excellent Band, Ball Games and Horse Races.

The free amusement program at the Cass City Fair week after next—August 18 to 21—is rich in entertainment and varied to suit the tastes of the crowds that gather at the annual exposition.

In the free acts, officers consider the choice has been well made. Lohse & Sterling are featured at the large state fairs as the neatest trapeze act before the American people. Their acts are a combination of cradle, trapeze and rings. "Willie" and his famous accordion are a laughing knockout.

Frank Silvas, in a dare devil act 70 feet in the air, holds the palm for the biggest number of breathless moments and daringly dangerous work.

DeLiberto Bros. & Co., a foreign combination of two ladies and three men, are booked as another special free attraction at the Cass City Fair, in their version of the sensational "Teeter-Board" act. A more appropriate name would be "Jump-Board" or, better still, human pop-corn acrobats, for most of the strange performance is done from a pedestal and teeter-boards.

Harness and running races are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and indications are that they will be strongly contested as there promises to be a large field of starters.

Two ball games are scheduled, one for Tuesday and one for Wednesday afternoon.

James Brooker, who placed among the winners at the 1924 Olympic games at Paris will appear in exhibition pole vaulting on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Brooker won fame as a member of the U. of M. team previous to his participation in the world contest and many will be glad of this opportunity to see him clear the bar.

Arthur Amsden's Famous Saginaw band, who delighted visitors at the Cass City Fair last year, will give concerts every afternoon and evening at the 1925 fair.

With the fireworks program, the evening show promises to be fully as entertaining as the day fair. Pyrotechnic displays are the most fascinating of entertainments and throngs will view with amazement and delight the wonderful fireworks features designed by the manufacturers. The fireworks display this year, according to the program, will feature a homecoming of the most famous and popular stars of the funny papers including Barney Google and Sparkplug, Mutt and Jeff, Jiggs and Maggie, Walt and Skeezix and Andy Gump and Min.

Rural Church Merger Asked

An important step toward the reduction of the number of rural churches was taken by the rural ministers themselves at the final session of their summer conference at Michigan State College Friday when they accepted the report of their findings committee which recommended such reduction.

"We ask that the superintendents or other officers of our churches study carefully the problems of communities which may be overchurched," said the report, "and that subject to denominational approval, by amalgamation, federation or elimination of churches they may make it possible for such communities to more easily support the preaching of the gospel."

The committee also suggested that a summer course of study be offered to rural ministers, the course to last three weeks each summer for four years, with instruction by text book or lecture.

For 1926, the report suggested that the course consist of rural economics, scientific agriculture and church architecture and administration.

The strawberry season is over but the fried chicken season has just begun.

The best fried chickens are those raised on our poultry feeds.

A Kansas man sent a bathtub home to his family. Next week he got a letter asking when the oars were coming.

Another shipment of Cream of Wheat Flour has just arrived and we have another on the road, which will be in a few days. We will save you money on flour.

"No matter how hot the day, some men insist on wearing a vest," remarks Bill Smith.

Cass City housewives tell us that Cream of Wheat and Red Rose Flour make the best bread. Have you tried them?

Life's pretty tough, after all. You no sooner get settled nicely in a park seat until the sun comes along and you have to move to a shady place.

Buttermilk Developing Mash will make those young chicks grow. Let us tell you about it.

The Cass City Fair takes place Aug. 18 to 21. Of course you are coming. Drop in at the mill to see us in the mornings. We will be closed the afternoons of the 19th, 20th and 21st.

And when you visit the fair be sure to look for the premiums we are offering for the best loaf of bread and the best cake made from our flour.

EARTHQUAKE A DAY KEEPS KILAUEA GAY

Count 82 Shocks in Twenty-four Hours.

Honolulu.—The temperamental nature of Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii, which maintains a fire pit filled with constantly spurting lava, is shown in a report by L. W. de Vis-Norton of the Hawaiian Volcano Research association, concerning the activities of the volcano in 1924.

"The Kilauea observatory on April 7 issued a warning of possible earthquakes, and shortly after this date heavy shocks were felt in the Puna district along the seacoast three miles away. During the 24 hours ending at 11 a. m. on April 22, the observers counted 82 earthquakes, and during the following night the shocks were practically continuous. At this time the ground cracked open in many places, trending roughly parallel to a line of cones and old fissures. About 200 main shocks were felt in all. Land subsidences took place in many sections, automobile roads were blocked by yawning crevices, and in one place a new salt-water lagoon was formed. Heavy Avalanches.

"Meanwhile, a great subsidence was taking place in the Halemauau fire pit of Kilauea. By May the bottom of the pit was more than 600 feet below the rim and heavy avalanches were in progress. The observatory instruments indicated increase of local earthquake, and this fact suggested underground lava surgings, with a possible subterranean flow.

"The Kilauea volcano entered upon an explosive phase on May 11, which steadily increased until the maximum was reached on May 18. Heavy explosive took place from May 11 to 24; immense clouds of dust and ash rose to great heights; boulders were ejected in quantities and there were heavy electrical storms accompanied by mud rains. Many strange features were noted, among them a surf-like roaring, preceding explosions, a marked air concussion being felt before the larger explosions. The seismographic records of these earthquakes are peculiar in that many of them, instead of starting suddenly as in ordinary earthquakes, rose gradually to a maximum and then receded gradually.

"The force of this great explosive eruption shows great changes at the Halemauau pit, which, as June opened, appeared as a vast cauldron oval in shape, about 3,400 feet in its two diameters and 1,332 feet deep. There was a rapid increase of small earthquakes from June 8 to 10, accompanied by puffs of dust-laden clouds, and on the 8th there was a mud-rain, producing dust falls. On the night of June 12 a glowing area 600 feet long by 300 feet high was seen on the north wall of the pit, 600 feet below the rim.

Blowing Noises.
"Early in July blowing noises in Halemauau heralded the coming back of the lava on the 19th. It spread out across the pit and built up a new cone and floor. The active flooring ceased on July 31 and the entire month of August was exceptionally quiet. A sharp earthquake, felt generally throughout the island of Hawaii, took place on August 20, its center being apparently in the Kau district."

Throughout September earthquakes were frequent, the report related, and there was almost incessant avalanching within the walls of the Halemauau pit. Strong windstorms swept up immense clouds of volcanic dust from the Kau district to the south. During the first week of October 21 earthquakes were recorded, and in the last, 46. One of these, on October 28, was strong enough to be alarming, although its effects were only local. During the remainder of the year avalanching continued and earthquakes decreased.

The only fatality in recent years in the neighborhood of the fire pit occurred on May 17, when an eruption of red-hot lava spread the molten rock for nearly a mile in all directions. A Hawaiian who was watching the eruption 1,800 feet from the pit was knocked down by rocks and his legs were broken. He was not found until hours afterward. He died soon after being taken to a hospital at Hilo.

Vanity Ruling Passion of Noted German Crook

Berlin.—Pride in his personal attire so dominated Bernard Pulkowsky, a convict, that when a new charge was discovered against him before the expiration of his sentence, he escaped from prison to replenish his wardrobe and then later voluntarily returned to court clad with sartorial excellence and carrying himself with jaunty pride.

Before the date fixed for his appearance on the new charge, Pulkowsky asked the warden for leave of absence to purchase the proper clothes, saying: "It is quite out of the question for me to appear before the high court in this squalid prison dress." When his request was refused, he simply made his get-away, leaving behind a courteous note to the warden in which he wrote: "My sense of decency simply won't allow me to appear before the court in prison clothes. But don't fear. I shall not fail to be there at the proper time." And he was.

Paragaphs Concerning Michigan. By Ed. A. Nowack. Tom E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, says there are 20 counties in Michigan with an average school tax rate two and one-fifth times that of Wayne county which raise only 63 per cent as much money per child enrolled in school as does Wayne. The oldest judge of probate in point of service in the state is Judge Durfee of Detroit. Judge Matthew Bush of Shiawassee county is second. Township, village and city property leads the list of tax exempted real estate in Michigan with a grand total of $277,241,037 while religious organizations are next with $100,522,243. State owned property is next with a total of $53,407,604. Michigan's lakes—inland—and her rivers are the lowest they have been in years. The reason for this is causing the men of science some concern. The Chicago water steal is generally held responsible. Hogan's Alley, in Ecorse, near Detroit, once America's wettest spot, is today comparatively dry. Many of its booze joints are padlocked. Many of its former denizens are in jail or in the graveyard. The law, man made, is enforced by state police and the constant raids, which have cost bootleggers millions in lost cargoes, are discouraging the rummers. In a compilation of bonded indebtedness of Michigan cities, Tom Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, reports the city of Au Gres as the lowest with a debt of $2,000. Au Gres' population according to the last official census was 199 souls. Forest fires years ago wrote finish for that city. Several justices of the peace in Michigan and a few deputy sheriffs and constables who are suspected of commercializing justice in their frequent attacks upon motorists are under investigation by the attorney general's office. It is intimated in some cases that removal and prosecution may result while in others the officers will have to disgorge fees collected in that manner. St. Joseph, Michigan, has a red headed police officer who is reputed to be a model of even temper. He is said to never have quarrelled with a prisoner, never argued with petty violators and his temperate and judicious handling of his work brings him much commendation. While the state is trying to close the House of David at Benton Harbor the boys running the place in the absence of King Ben are doing the usual thriving business with their sight seeing rigs and their steam railroad, the band, quartet and vaudeville teams. Ford flying ships that now travel a regular air route over southern Michigan counties no longer occasion any stir as they drone away overhead. Approximately 2,800 cars of gasoline are shipped into the state of Michigan daily for local consumption, according to Charles J. DeLand. Too much dynamite under a stump blasted from the new M-16 right-of-way near Saranac sent the stump through the roof of a near-by house and into the pantry, Fred Keister reports. Last year the total revenue derived from the public utility property tax was $10,098,849. Antoine Rushford, Ionia county's oldest resident, is dead at the age of 106. He was a first cousin of Napoleon Bonaparte. He had resided in America for the last 88 years. Thumb Tales Tersely Told. Marlette—The Marlette Oil and Gas Co. has declared a 50% dividend. Total sales for the year were $68,625.27, on which there was a gross profit of $22,572.22, and after deducting expenses, a net profit of $11,228.90 was credited to the surplus fund. Marlette—Different groups of experts in Entomology sent out by the Federal government and co-operating with M. S. C. at Lansing have been making investigations in the State of Michigan, locating the devastating European corn borer. Such a group has been in this vicinity the past week and claim to have located the insect in corn fields near Marlette, as well as in Flynn, Elk and Maple Valley townships. They refused to give out the location of their find in this locality until after their report reaches headquarters.—Leader. Sandusky—It is rumored that Sandusky will have but one bank in the near future. The report is that the board of directors of the State Bank of Sandusky and of the Truman Moss State bank, at a conference, voted to eliminate the latter institution, and the question is to be put before the stockholders for final action. Inlay City—Robbers made away with clothing amounting to $1,500 to $1,800 from the M. J. Haskin clothing store. Entrance was gained through a rear window of the store. Harbor Beach—The Rotary club of Harbor Beach was presented with its charter at Williams' Inn Friday evening. Invitations were extended to Port Huron, Bad Axe, Caro, Saginaw, Bay City and Detroit clubs to be present and enjoy the program. Port Hope—In about a week, the four-mile stretch of gravel road north of here will be completed by the Harbor Beach Construction Co. This piece of road improvement was started last year and is the most expensive piece of gravel road in Convinced after reading a transcript of the testimony taken at the trial of James Allen, a lifer at the state branch prison at Marquette, convicted in the Recorder's Court, June, 1919, of first degree murder, that his conviction was not justified by the evidence, Gov. Corporal William Kaska, now at Dundee, together with two troopers, will be transferred to South Rockwood. The Dundee post is to be abandoned, though two men will be detailed daily to that place.

Laxity of methods used by the Detroit Police Traffic school, in issuing automobile drivers' licenses, was scored by Charles J. DeLand, secretary of state, who said it was too easy to obtain licenses in Detroit. Secretary DeLand urged uniform traffic laws throughout the state and vigorous prosecution of drunken and reckless drivers.

Ten Reasons for Showing Live Stock at the Fairs

1—Help to improve and increase your knowledge of breed type, a very essential factor in gaining success with the breed.

2—Broadens your acquaintance among livestock owners and others interested in the best of your breed; this proves of great advantage in many ways.

3—Introduces your stock to large numbers of prospective buyers.

4—Secures for your stock recognition among the leading owners of your particular breed.

5—Showing of stock at the fairs is one of the best ways of gaining publicity for them and their owners, through the press and in other ways. The accounts of your fair or exposition are, no doubt, sent broadcast all over this country and in many cases abroad.

6—It is often, in the case of beginners or others who have not shown very much, the turning point up the road to success.

7—Helps to increase interest in your particular breed. A large showing of animals possessing correct breed type and in the best condition at time of the fair is often the influencing factor that causes persons, as well as entire communities to become convinced of the popularity and value of your particular breed. Remember, "In numbers there is strength." Co-operate and show your stock this fall.

8—Increases appreciation and interest in your stock by your own family, particularly your boys; often being the deciding point in favor of remaining on the farm. Your community, county and state also have a greater appreciation of your herds or flocks, after seeing them at your fair, and learning of their winnings.

9—Help your fair to be more successful as an educational and commercial enterprise, thereby bringing credit and prosperity to your county, state and section of our country in which it is held.

10—Last, but not least, the showing of your stock at the fairs increases materially the money possibilities of your animals. And it helps to back up your advertised claim that your stock is of correct breed type, sound health and good condition. "It pays to advertise."—Farm and Ranch.

House Your Machinery

Farmers lose large sums of money each year because farm machinery is not properly cared for. Rust and rot cause rapid deterioration of implements. They shorten their period of service and thus reduce your profits.

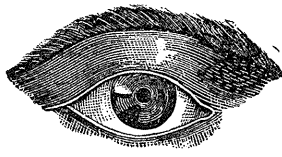

These losses can be decreased by housing your machinery when not in use in a modern machine shed. Your increased profits, due to the longer life and greater efficiency of your tools, will soon pay the cost of constructing such a shelter.

Besides protecting your implements, the building can also provide you with room for a machine shop or tractor garage in which you can do necessary repair work on rainy days. The space upstairs can be used for storage purposes.

Drop in today and let us show you how inexpensive such a profit-making improvement on your farm really is.

Final Funeral Services.

Washington.—William Jennings Bryan came back to Washington, where final religious services were held, before he began his long rest in the Potomac hills amidst a great company of the nation's soldier dead.

When the funeral train which had borne him from Dayton, Tenn., where he died, reached the Union station it found a reverent throng in waiting.

The bronze casket was taken from the station to an undertaker's parlors, but later it was removed to the New York Avenue Presbyterian church where the body lay in state until shortly before the funeral services.

Assent to this plan of the friends of the Commoner in Washington was given by Mrs. Bryan in a telegram she sent from the funeral train to Ben G. Davis, who was confidential clerk to Mr. Bryan when he was secretary of state.

An hour before the scheduled arrival of the funeral party crowds began to gather in silent tribute at the station, as they had in every hamlet and city throughout the long route of the train through Tennessee and Virginia.

At the church here the bronze casket, the lower half covered by an American flag, was placed upon a slightly raised platform in front of the pulpit, where thousands passed to view his body.

The funeral services at the church were conducted by Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, the pastor, who returned here from his vacation in New York state.

It was estimated that 2,000 persons an hour passed the casket during the afternoon, but this number was greatly augmented when the government offices disgorged their thousands of employees after 4:30 o'clock.

Directly behind the bronze casket, on the altar front, was the inscription: "In Remembrance of Me."

Down the right aisle the people passed. Up the left aisle they went out, some dabbling handkerchiefs to eyes, others slipping into rear seats now and then to bow in prayer.

In front of the lectern and in the choir loft at the rear were the microphones through which the nation heard the eulogy and sermon of Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the church, the only one who spoke.

The doors of the church were swung open again at nine o'clock in the morning, and the body lay in state to the public from that hour until noon, when the doors closed again and the church made ready for the services, which began at three o'clock.

When the service was over, the body was placed in a hearse instead of a military caisson, and the procession started for Arlington. Mrs. Bryan objected to a full military funeral, and the use of a caisson would have necessitated a detail from Fort Myer. An escort of noncommissioned officers from the regular army accompanied the casket from the gate to the graveside.

No volley was fired over the grave, but the service at the cemetery concluded with a soldier's farewell, in the blowing of taps by an army bugler, because of his leadership of a Nebraska volunteer regiment at the time of the Spanish-American war, the great Commoner was entitled to full regimental burial honors, but Mrs. Bryan would agree only to a semi-military service in the cemetery.

The active pallbearers were former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, Col. P. H. Callahan of Louisville, Charles A. Lord of Lincoln, Neb.; M. F. Dunlap of Jacksonville, Ill., and State Senator Charles E. Hull of Salem, Ill.

French and British Are Unable to Agree.

Paris.—The French debt funding negotiations with London were broken off after four days of discussion.

The British asked the French government to make a temporary agreement for three years, under which France would pay $5,000,000 ($25,000,000) annually until the French capacity to pay is known, but Joseph Caillaux flatly refused.

The breakdown in the negotiations certainly will have some effect on the funding negotiations in Washington, which are based on the London agreement.

The negotiations with London may not be resumed until next year.

The hot water ejected by hot springs and geysers does not come from deep within the earth, but is surface water that has trickled down through underground channels and become heated by steam from subterranean lava beds.—Science Service.

Indians' Peace Pipe

The peace pipe of the North American Indians was a tobacco pipe with a stem of reed or painted wood about two feet and a half long, decorated with feathers, with a large bowl, usually of red soapstone. After a treaty was signed, the Indians filled the calumet, or peace pipe, with the best tobacco, and presented it to the representatives of the party with whom they entered into alliance, the Indians themselves smoking out of it afterward.—Exchange.

Reach of Gold

Sixteen ounces of gold are sufficient to gild a wire that would encircle the earth.

OLD GOLD CAMP TO BE WIPED OUT

Marysville, Mont., Deserted by Railroad When Mines Peter Out.

Helena, Mont.—Marysville, Mont., to be wiped off the railroad map within a few weeks, as it has been erased from record in its other activities, once was the goal of a race between two great railway systems and in the thirty-odd years of its life was the source of metals valued at not less than $100,000,000.

The town, incidentally, produced a baseball team with a record of defeating all Pacific coast league clubs of its day and of sending several players to the major leagues. A quarter of a century ago Marysville had a population of 7,500.

Petition of the Northern Pacific railway to remove its tracks from Helena to Marysville, relegates to the backwoods what is left of the one-time famous town and again it is to become a stage coach town, fifteen and one-half miles from a railroad.

Left When Mines Worked Out. Years ago the Great Northern, which lost the race for a terminus within the city and ended its line just outside the boundary, abandoned Marysville and gradually, as the mines worked out, the surviving line limited its service until, during the last year, a train operated only when there was an accumulation of freight for its haul.

Truly a ghost city, with a handful of shacks and tumbled foundations left of its once bustling business district, scattered, weather-beaten houses outlining its residence section, possibly fifty or sixty families claiming it as home, Marysville indicates its past glory only to the imaginative.

The famous Drum Lummon mine, chief source of its wealth, is still being worked sufficiently, it is said, to pay wages to a handful of men; some other of the older mines are operated on the same scale and there are numerous prospects whose owners optimistically forecast a renewed activity in the old camp.

Nevertheless the Montana railroad commission, after an exhaustive investigation, has pricked the bubble of hope and has given its consent to the abandonment of the railroad.

Made Eastern Millionaires. The Drum Lummon mine, discovery of Thomas Cruse, alone is said to have produced $67,000,000 worth of gold. Cruse sold the mine to a London syndicate for $1,600,000 when the vein had just been scratched. The new operators honeycombed the surface of the hill and, so the story goes, made millionaires in Boston, Helena and New York, as well as in England. Many other mines paralleled its development, and, from one of these, the Penobscot, Nate Vestal brought down to Helena what was then the largest bar of gold in the world, valued at $50,000.

What is said to have been one of the first concentrators ever constructed on a commercial scale was built below the Drum Lummon to work the tailings of the famous mine. The ruins of the giant plant still mark the road to the city.

Ancient Indian Cemetery Found by Californians

Santa Barbara, Cal.—An ancient Indian graveyard, believed to antedate the California mission period, was discovered recently near Purissima mission in the Santa Ynez valley, near here, by Don Meadows and Ray Grunwell of Orange, Cal., research workers. A number of prehistoric specimens, including several Indian skeletons, skulls, beads and arrowheads were obtained.

The burial plot, once the "happy hunting grounds" of the bronzed warrior of the West, was situated in the center of what was a large bean patch, which, up to the time of the discovery, completely obliterated all trace of the important find.

According to Mr. Meadows, they dug through three different layers of graves, each from three to four feet in depth. It is possible there are other graves below, he said.

The graves were buried in a sitting posture with the knees crooked beneath the chin. Of forty skeletons which were unearthed every one was found facing the west—toward the setting sun.

Above each grave, as a sort of partition between it and the one above, was found a limestone slab several inches thick.

Dog's Divine Right to Bark Says Magistrate

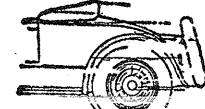

Portland, Ore.—Lugubrious baying of a hound, the raucous bawling of a calf or the timid bleating of a goat are as God-given and free as the speech of man, according to a decision given to the Portland city council by City Attorney Frank S. Grant, and the city can take no legal step to throttle the vocal expressions of animals.

The decision was given on a petition of citizens living in the vicinity of a kennel of wire-haired fox terriers.

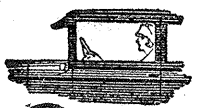

Representatives of the Humane society and of the health bureau reported the dogs were kept in an excellent manner from humane and sanitary standpoints, and the petitioners asked that the city arrest Gillette for disturbing the peace.

Grant's illuminating decision followed.
