SHORT COURSE AT CASS CITY ASSURED

THIS COMMUNITY IS ONE OF FEW TO SECURE IMPORTANT MEETINGS.

Course Will Be Entirely Educational in Nature; to Discuss Farm and Home Problems.

A short course in agriculture, horticulture, gardening and home conveniences has been secured for this community as the result of negotiations between local business men and farmers and the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester Company, and F. J. Wolfe, a representative of the Harvester Co. was here Tuesday to assist in making the preliminary arrangements. At a meeting held at the high school building that evening, about 115 people were present and manifested a deep interest in the work. The short course will be entirely educational in nature and the purpose of the meetings will be to discuss farm and home problems in such a way as to be of help to both farm folks and town folks.

The extension department has a large force of people who give all their time to strictly educational work, but as there is such a demand for their short course crews only five towns in Michigan can be given these meetings this fall and Cass City is fortunate in securing them. The dates are Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 11 and 12.

A crew of speakers and demonstrators, all men and women of exceptional ability, will be sent here to conduct the meetings. The short course will be virtually a farmers' and housewives' chautauqua, and there will also be much to interest and help the children. Large charts and educational moving pictures will be used to illustrate the lectures.

Those living in the country and those living in town—men, women, boys and girls—all will find the meetings enjoyable and beneficial. Everybody will be invited to attend all the sessions and no admission price of any kind will be charged.

CALL TRIP TO STUDY CORN BORER CONTROL

STATE AND FEDERAL AGENCIES TO CO-OPERATE IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST PEST.

Still greater activity in efforts at control of the European corn borer, destructive crop pest, will follow a special inspection trip called for October 22, in the opinion of specialists at the Michigan State College.

Representatives of all phases of agricultural service in the state will join in this observation tour, which will cover some of the most heavily infested sections of Ontario, Canada. Fields are to be seen in this section which are almost total economic losses as a result of corn borer damage, according to Professors J. F. Cox and R. H. Pettit of the college staff, who have just returned from a visit to the fields in question.

The corn borer was introduced to our eastern states some years ago, an unwelcome guest from Europe, and since has spread as far west as Michigan, being reported even in Livingston county this summer. Quarantine work which has been carried on very effectively by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture has slowed up the spread of the pests in the state, and similar work has been done in other sections.

Entomologists who have been studying the situation for years, however, fear that the borers will eventually spread throughout the corn belt, unless something startlingly effective shows up to check them.

As a result, farm crops men are planning to bend every effort toward learning ways and means of growing corn in spite of the pest; entomologists are speeding up their experimental program seeking effective parasitic control; and quarantine and other regulatory steps are being continued.

The inspection trip on October 22 will start from Detroit in the morning, covering many corn borer sections of Ontario before night. Plans for the establishment of a special corn borer test station in southeast Michigan may grow out of the trip, it is said by the college men interested. The State Department of Agriculture and U. S. Department of Agriculture would undoubtedly join in the establishment of such a station.

MRS. J. D. CROSBY ANSWERS CALL

FUNERAL OF WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN WILL BE HELD SATURDAY.

Mrs. J. D. Crosby passed away at her home on South Seeger St., Cass City, at five o'clock Thursday morning, October 15, after a lingering illness, at the age of 73 years. Funeral services will be held at the residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30, Rev. Wm. Schnug, pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating.

Kate Lucas Dunham, daughter of George Augustus Dunham and Eliza Bancroft Dunham, was born at St. Charles, Ill., on August 1, 1852. Her youth was spent at St. Charles, Ill., and Wayne, Northville and Ypsilanti, Michigan. She was united in marriage with James D. Crosby on January 7, 1877, at the home of her grandparents, Horace Bancroft and Arville Wheeler Bancroft. Their early married life was spent at Wayne where Mr. Crosby was employed as a telegraph operator.

In 1882, Mr. and Mrs. Crosby moved to Cass City with their two children, coming by team from Caro to this place. Mr. Crosby entered the boot and shoe business, later adding clothing and furnishings, and continued in business here until his death on Feb. 22, 1915.

Mrs. Crosby joined the Daughters of the American Revolution at Ypsilanti and transferred her membership to North Branch when a chapter was organized at that place four years ago. This chapter was named to honor Amos Wheeler, who was killed at the Battle of Bunker Hill June 17, 1775. Mrs. Crosby was his great, great granddaughter.

Mrs. Crosby has for many years been a prominent member of the Presbyterian church and devoted much attention and interest to the activities of the Woman's Missionary Society and the Ladies' Aid. She was also a member of Venus Rebekah Lodge and the Woman's Study Club, having been made an honorary member of the latter society just recently.

Long a resident of this community and known as a lady of culture and kindness, Mrs. Crosby will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends here.

She leaves two children, Mrs. Frederick C. Ballard of North Branch and Roy B. Crosby of Cass City.

THE AMERICAN ENTERTAINERS.

A highly diversified musical and entertainment program rendered with genuine artistry will be an outstanding feature of the local Lyceum course when the American Entertainers come here on Tuesday evening, Oct. 20.

This popular company is composed of two young ladies well known in the Lyceum field.

Corine Jessop is a mezzo-soprano, pianist and reader of ability and has hundreds of admirers in her many Lyceum appearances. Much of her material is original and is presented with an inimitable sense of "showmanship."

Helene Portune has a really notable dramatic coloratura soprano voice. Her singing is delightful to audiences everywhere, not only for the poise and power of her interpretations, but for the sweet, true quality of the tone. Miss Portune is also a violinist, and her violin solos are a splendid feature of the program.

Vocal solos and duets, violin solos, readings, musical monologs, all go to make up an unusually charming program.—Adv. 1

SMART FORWARD PASSING ATTACK

AERIAL WORK OF LOCALS DAZZLED BAY CITY CENTRAL ELEVEN.

Cass City Squad Crowned Itself with Glory in Saturday's Contest.

The Cass City high football team crowned itself with glory Saturday when they scored two touchdowns against Bay City Central, holding that powerful aggregation to a 39-13 score, in their favor. The score of the first half was 7-0, and it was not until the last part of the game that Bay City was able to increase its margin of victory. Bay City used its first team nearly all the time and they were forced to use all they had in order to achieve their victory.

By scoring on Bay City, the local boys did something that Detroit was unable to do. Probably no other team this year will be able to score two touchdowns against that team, which bids fair to be a strong contender for the state title.

It was in the passing game that Cass City excelled and Bay City never was able to solve this style of play.

The following statements are taken from the Bay City Tribune:

"Cass City, a team averaging 145 pounds, went into the game picked as a heavy loser. But a backfield of willing workmen and the end who knew no bounds so far as chances were concerned, unleashed an aerial attack of short passes which bewildered the Central eleven. So complete was the passing game shown by the visitors that twice they scored from passing formations, and incidentally they stand today as the first team to score on the Nevitt men in 1925. They did something which Detroit Western was unable to accomplish."

"Central's defense against the smart forward passing attack of the Cass City boys was miserable. Practically all of the heavens completed by the visitors were right over the scrimmage line. Central's men were flatfooted as they unsuccessfully sought to break up the attack. None of the locals seemed capable of meeting the Thumb district athletes on a par when it came to this passing game."

"The visiting eleven, while it was fresh, withstood the onslaught of the heavy locals in such a remarkable fashion that Central failed to score during the first period. Rather, it was Cass City that stood out."

"Cass City started its dazzling aerial attack after the first score had been made and was threatening to carry the ball over the goal line when the half ended."

"The passing combination, Gowen to McBurney, worked well. It brought both of the visitor's touchdowns, the latter coming after Bay City had held Cass City from scoring when within a few inches of the last stripe. McBurney proved himself a player of exceptional merit, both on defense and offense. He scored several of the passes with his finger tips and scored both of the touchdowns with splendid runs after catching passes."

Cass City tackled Sandusky on Friday, October 16. A good game is expected, for Sandusky always has a good team. Last year, they defeated the locals. The game is called at the local field at 3:45 p. m., sharp.

TWO MINUTES AGAINST ETERNITY

THE MAN IN THE ENGINE CAB APPEALS TO THE AUTOIST.

Successive campaigns to educate the drivers of motor cars to cross crossings cautiously seem to be bringing about the desired result, a lower number of accidents. These campaigns are conducted intensively each year during the months of June, July, August and September, a period when there is a greater number of motorists on the road than at any other season of the year. Through these campaigns in which the newspapers, and public spirited citizens are seconding the efforts of the Safety Association of the American Railway Association, the number of accidents, fatal or otherwise, have been greatly reduced each year. The present season, according to the early forecasts, will show a marked decrease in the aggregate number of accidents as compared with last year.

Engineer Ben Cragdon, who is employed by the Rock Island lines, in a recent article, gives the experience of the man in the cab when a motorist is trying to beat a train to a crossing. His statement in part is as follows:

"If you were on the river bank, and saw a little child running toward the river, sure to fall in and drown unless it stopped, and you were powerless to help it, you might realize the position in which the engineer is placed almost daily and sometimes several times a day by the automobile drivers who will take chances."

"Take the longest and slowest freight train—say one-half mile long, traveling at the rate of fifteen miles per hour—and it will take but two minutes to pass a given point and a passenger train will take about ten seconds. Would you bet that much time against a chance of death?"

"Is it not a fact that passenger trains are sometimes mistaken for freight trains, and that watching a train coming from one direction takes your attention from a train coming in the opposite direction? Some awful accidents have happened in just this way."

"I have seen a man driving a car with his wife and children in it race for the crossing with all their attention on the train they were trying to beat, and when they get across, smile and wave at the engine crew. They just missed being hit by a train from the other direction."

"There is a distance at which the driver should not attempt to cross ahead of a train with safety, and at that distance the engineer will sound the warning whistle."

"From our experience in watching automobile drivers at railroad crossings we know that most drivers are careful. It is to those who are not careful that we make this appeal, for the engineer is in a position to know the desperate chances you are taking, because he has too often seen the unfortunate results in loss of life and property damage caused by your mistakes, and if he gives you warning after warning with the whistle, please stop."

"The engineer is not trying to scare you, but is making every effort to prevent an accident. Won't you cooperate with him, for the permanent careful crossing campaign means much to both of us?"

Andrew Fargo, who entered a guilty plea to larceny, was given 1 to 5 years with the recommendation of 2 years. Jack Swartz and Jack Long pleaded guilty to breaking and entering. Vendal Neiman, another prohibition law violator, pleaded guilty and sentence will be imposed at the December term of court.

The case of Paul Hool charged with liquor law violation was dismissed through error and that of John Strobel on a similar charge was dismissed because of faulty search warrant. Several other prohibition law cases were dismissed when they came to trial because of the reasons given above, lack of evidence or because of the long confinement of the defendants in jail before court convened. Lappart charged with assault, Irvin Whitmore charged with enticing away female under 16 years, and John Krick and Feronia Fargo charged with larceny were all dismissed.

S. A. Tag Day Comes Tomorrow

The fine record made by the Salvation Army during the great World War, as they ministered to the boys in France no matter what their race or creed, won for them a place in the hearts of the American people. The Salvation Army is needed in peace time as well as in war, and wherever there is disaster, suffering, sorrow or need, this organization is found, doing everything possible to relieve and assist those who are in trouble.

In their rescue homes, industrial institutions, slum missions or their salvation work, they never ask the race, color or creed, but go about the work of ministering.

It is the plan of the organization to go into the several communities of the state and put on a financial campaign once a year in order to secure money to carry on the work in places where it is not self-supporting. Where this is done, no other appeals are made for the Salvation Army work during that year.

A representative of the Army has been in Cass City during this week and plans are made for a tag day on Saturday, at which time young ladies will be on the street selling buttons for the benefit of this work. A contribution of ten cents or more will be gratefully accepted.

Butterfield to Speak at S. S. Convention

President Kenyon L. Butterfield of the Michigan State College will appear in a role that is new to many of the people of the state when he addresses the 65th annual state Sunday school convention at Detroit Nov. 3, 4 and 5, on rural religious problems. However, President Butterfield is known in religious reputation in this phase of work. His address will be "The Challenge of the Country-side."

President Butterfield will make his address on the afternoon of Nov. 4. Parts of the afternoon of the same day and the preceding afternoon will be devoted to discussion of the problem of workers in rural and small town communities. Discussions will be led by specialists in rural social problems and one room Sunday schools. Special attention will also be given the workers in small Sunday schools and in divisional conferences.

Efforts are being made by the Michigan Sunday School Council which is in charge of arrangements for the convention to obtain delegates from every Sunday school in the state. The larger schools are planning to send as high as 20 or more representatives, each department of the schools to be represented by at least one person.

Lodging without charge with church people in Detroit is to be provided for a limited number of delegates who register with the council at Lansing in advance and express a desire for this accommodation.

RESERVE SEAT SALE.

A sale of reserve seat tickets will be held at the A. J. Knapp store on Saturday, Oct. 17, at one o'clock. The first number of the lecture course is next Tuesday evening. Be sure to secure your favorite seats for the entire course.—Adv. 1

EXCELLENT CORN CROP IN STATE

SEPT. WAS FAVORABLE FOR MATURING OF LATE CROPS.

Rain Caused Considerable Damage to Bean Crop in Several Counties of Michigan.

The month of September was very favorable for the maturing of late crops, the moisture having been sufficient and no frosts occurring except in northern counties. The ground was in excellent condition for wheat and rye seeding although rains delayed the work in some sections. Corn cutting was well advanced at the end of the month and silo filling was practically completed. Rains delayed bean harvesting and causing considerable damage to the crop in some of the heaviest producing counties, according to the October 1 report issued by L. Whitney Watkins, Commissioner of Agriculture and Verne H. Church, Agricultural Statistician, U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Corn—Michigan has an excellent corn crop this year being good in practically all sections except in some northern counties where extreme drought prevailed during the greater part of the season. The condition of 93 per cent is equivalent to a production of 66,796,000 bushels, the largest crop without exception on record for the state, and over 50 per cent larger than harvested in 1924. The quality is also very good.

Spring wheat—The average yield of spring wheat is reported to be 18 bushels, making the total production 144,000 bushels as compared with 126,000 last year. The quality is rated at 88 per cent.

All Wheat—The percentage of the crop marketed up to October 1, according to the estimates of correspondents, is 38 per cent, or a total of 5,974,000 bushels.

Oats—The yield of oats is placed at 32 bushels per acre, nearly two bushels below the average for the last ten years. The total production is 52,224,000 bushels against 67,200,000 last year, the yield being ten bushels less per acre. The quality is 88 per cent, one per cent above the average but six per cent under last year. Rains dur-

LETTER CARRIERS IN CONVENTION

TUSCOLA-SANILAC ASSO. MEMBERS AT BANQUET HERE WEDNESDAY

Weather conditions seldom baffle a rural carrier in his daily rounds in service and they failed to keep many home from the meeting of the Tuscola-Sanilac Rural Letter Carriers Association meeting at Cass City Wednesday evening. While the rain may have discouraged a few from coming, the meeting was marked with a good attendance, visitors coming from as great a distance as St. Clair to Cass City.

The banquet was well prepared by the ladies of the Baptist church and finely served by the young people of that church. The program was given in the auditorium, Rev. A. G. Newberry presiding in a happy mood and introducing the speakers.

Roy Bricker led the community singing and as Chairman of the Civic committee of the Community club, welcomed the letter carriers and congratulated them on the improved service in their branch of the postal department in recent years. O. A. Dawe of Deckerville responded in a brief address.

Bert Maxwell of Vassar delighted the audience with an original reading and came back with an encore.

Mr. Bacheller of Albion, president of the state association, made the rounds on his route at Albion Wednesday morning and then "Forded" to Cass City, a distance of about 160 miles, to deliver an address. Mr. Bacheller's talk was devoted chiefly to the state and national associations and their activities. In his address, he urged carriers to use their influence to create public sentiment to have sleighs made the same width as autos, insuring a uniform track in the winter season. Mr. Bacheller told carriers that they may expect that the department will extend the length of routes where road conditions are good and the probable elimination of a number of carriers in the economy program of the government.

Pleasing musical numbers were given during the evening by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bricker. Mr. Bricker sang "The Garden of Tomorrow." Mrs. Bricker gave a piano solo, "Crescendo," and responded with an encore of her own composition.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Grapefruit

Grapefruit is so named because from the tree it clusters like a bunch of grapes. A native of the East India islands, it was brought to Florida in 1800. For years the crop proved unmarketable because taste for the fruit had to be cultivated. Likeness for it gradually grew until today it is one of the most extensively grown fruits.

The Passing Through

A Weekly Column of Personal Comment by Millard S. Binney

Copyright 1925—H. Lewis Hayes & Staff, Los Angeles

Sacred Vaudeville

Buddy Cameron Mason, 26-year-old movie stuntman, married Virginia Clark, a Hollywood schoolteacher. The wedding occurred during the noon hour when the streets were crowded. It was staged—and I use that term advisedly—on the steel skeleton of the uncompleted Orpheum building in downtown Los Angeles, eight stories above the ground and the staring crowd. Judge Walter Gates performed the ceremony and a score of steel-workers astride nearby girders acted as witnesses. In-as-much as a photographer was present to preserve the scene, it is probable that all of the actors thought quite well of their act.

Whether one considers such an affair as a sacred ceremony or a vaudeville act depends largely upon his mental bias. Many with ordinarily strict ideas will regard it with composure, however, for marriages of that nature have become so common that they no longer shock those whom they might have formerly. Of late we have grown used to weddings performed on burlesque stages and in bathing suits or airplanes. As individual happenings, such unions are of little importance. If they indicate a general tendency on the part of the younger generation to regard the wedding ceremony as a hilarious prank, however, it might be well for someone to sound a warning signal.

For my part I would as soon see a child brought into the world—or the dead given their farewell laudation—before the eyes of a gaping multitude and on the naked beams of an uncompleted skyscraper, as to see a wedding ceremony carried out under the same circumstances.

Of course, my attitude may be wrong. Perhaps I am just an old fogey.

Utopian Marriage

The marriage views of Superior Judge Joseph Sabath of Chicago have been quoted widely in recent newspapers. After reading them one can scarcely imagine him on the end of a steel beam, eight stories in the air, taking part in a vaudevilian marriage act.

Judge Sabath, who is said to have heard more divorce cases than any other American jurist, has just returned home from Czecho-Slovakia with considerable interesting information on the question of marriage and divorce.

In that country neither men nor women may marry until they are 25 years of age. Being legally of marriageable age and desiring to wed, a man and woman must file with the town authorities their intention to marry. This notice is posted publicly for three weeks. After that they file histories of their families and personal health certificates. They are then issued a license which may be used two weeks later if no legal objections are encountered.

Judge Sabath is much in favor of such a procedure. He says: "If they still want to marry after having taken all of that trouble, it is a hundred-to-one shot that theirs will be a happy marriage."

Elber Hubbard always contended that marriage should be made very difficult and divorces very easy. With divorce mills grinding out decrees at the rate they now are, one may reasonably question his judgment regarding divorces. He was certainly right, however, when he insisted on maturity and deliberation as essential foundation-stones in the successful marriage structure.

Playing According to Rule

Gilbert Evans, an ambitious ice-man, wanted to make money—and he wanted to make it quickly and literally. He therefore purchased of three affable strangers a contrivance that consisted of two thin steel plates and a few bottles of acid.

"They told me I could put a dollar bill into the machine and it would come out a $100 bill at the other end," he explained sorrowfully. "I paid them $920 for it, all the money I had in the world, but it won't work."

Evans has now asked the police to locate the three strangers and arrest them as swindlers. I almost hope the rascals escape. I have little patience with a man like Evans who lacks the courage to play the game of life according to the rules by which the rest of us abide.

H. W. Gibboney lost his wife to a younger man. He falsely confessed the murder of Claude Hutton in order that the hangman's noose might be his means of suicide to escape a dreary life. He, too, lacked courage—courage to continue life and courage to end it. He tried to shift the load to other shoulders.

I suggest that Messrs. Evans and Gibboney turn to their newspapers and read the story of the Montreal worker who sold his blood eight times to buy bread for his starving family. For each pint of blood from the veins in his arms he received $20. With each dole he staggered home and turned the money over to his wife to stock the family larder. He would then go to bed for a few hours before going out to seek work. Doctors say that he sold about six quarts of his blood. In that way he supported himself, his wife, four young children, a widowed sister-in-law and the latter's baby.

Generally those who are too weak to play the game of life according to the rules get the most publicity. We seldom hear of those who fight courageously and fair. But there are many such and we should be grateful for them. Through them honor passes from one generation to the next.

Psychological Justice

Judge Harry Thompson held a recent impressive session of "speeder's court" beside a freshly dug grave in the cemetery of Agency, a small village in northwestern Missouri. C. E. Miller of Chicago was the prisoner at the bar and he was fined $25.

In a certain section of some states—Ohio, I believe—a white cross is erected on the highway at each point where a fatal motor accident has occurred, data describing the accident being inscribed thereon.

Most automobile fatalities are the result of carelessness. Fines will not in themselves make men careful. The psychological effect of a cross on the roadway, or a judicial reprimand on the brink of a freshly dug grave, may do so. At any rate the experiments are worth trying.

When natives of Madagascar take an oath they drink together, and each prays that the liquid may turn to poison for him who breaks the vow. The Timorese make their vows impressive by mixing gunpowder and earth with their oath-water and saying: "May I die of sickness, by powder or the sword if I swear falsely." It is related that others savage peoples cut open their veins, mix blood with water and with the resulting distasteful potion drink to their vows.

It might be possible to devise so effective an obligation for a careless driver that he could not forget his obligation to society. Cemetery courts and roadway crosses are steps in that direction.

All men are born free and equal, but most of them get married.

Omer Glaspie began work this week at the mill. Omer does the delivering, unloading cars of flour and feed and that makes us think that we have another car of Cream of Wheat Flour on the road. Will be here this week.

Vandeville wit—"They can fool some of the people some of the time, and some of the people some of the time, but they can't fool some of the people some of the time."

John Sehaas said: "We will try Cream of Wheat Flour and if we like it, I will buy enough for the year." Oct. 12, he bought enough Cream of Wheat to do them the year.

The melancholy days have come. But we can't see anything to be melancholy about.

Any church, school or other organization wishing to announce dinners, suppers or athletic events may use space in "Grist Screenings" free of charge. Let us have them not later than Monday. The "Grist Screenings" are read and will get you results.

A Caro fellow was calling on his girl the other night. Finally she said, "I'll be back in a minute. I'm going to put on my new percolator." "Aw," he says, "you look all right as you are."

Seems strange to many folks that cities and towns do not have the best of everything and yet at the same time reduce taxes.

Michigan Happenings

Acting with blue-sky law officers in every state in the union to stop fraudulent sales of Florida real estate, H. N. Duff, executive officer of the state securities commission, is withholding approval from wholesale batches of real estate licenses sought from the commission in the last 10 days. Duff plans to investigate all properties offered and to prohibit all promotions not approved by Florida "Better Business" agencies. He was emphatic in his warning to investors to refrain from buying unknown properties until the commission has had a chance to get its investigating machinery into working order.

The attitude which many citizens have assumed toward the federal prohibition law has created a "terribly menacing situation" in this country, declared District Judge C. W. Sessions in his charge to the grand jury at Grand Rapids. Discussing the point that there is a prevailing opinion that the prohibition act should be repealed or modified, Judge Sessions said, "It requires a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress and the affirmative vote of 36 states to repeal a constitutional amendment. Do you imagine for one moment enough votes could be mustered to repeal the prohibition amendment?"

A city's appearance typifies the character of its residents and Grand Rapids has a continuous and important duty of upholding its reputation as a beauty spot, according to A. E. Davidson, director of the department of public welfare. This city, said Director Davidson, is recognized as one of the most beautiful municipalities in the United States and the reason, he added, is because the minds of more than half its householders are concerned with improvement of the aesthetic appearance of their own homes and consequently with that of the city.

At a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission examiner at Chicago, Grand Rapids furniture manufacturers will protest that the proposed increase in freight rates to the eastern seaboard would be unwarranted. Because of increased and keener competition, even a light advance in these rates would handicap the industry, E. L. Ewing, acting for the manufacturers, said.

Affairs of the Southern Michigan Telephone company, serving rural residents and a number of towns in Branch and St. Joseph counties, Michigan, and in LaGrange county, Indiana, are in far more satisfactory condition than 16 months ago when taken over by the receiver, John W. Coffey, according to the latter's first annual report filed in the district court at Grand Rapids.

For the first time in the history of the state title association, which held its Twenty-fifth annual convention at Adrian, a woman was elected secretary of the association. She is Miss Emma Stoeckert, manager-secretary of the Monroe County Abstract company. The other officers are: Ray Trucks, Baldwin, president; E. Abbott, Lapeer, vice president; Herbert W. Goff, Adrian, treasurer.

Adrian has a hero of the "noble 600" who made the "charge of the light brigade," at Balaklava, October 25, 1854, in the Crimea, immortalized by Alfred Tennyson. He is James Driscoll, Sr., who came to the United States afterward rather than accept the 160 acres of Canadian "wilderness" the British government offered him as a reward for his services in the army.

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the "University of Michigan, is to address the U. of M. Alumni club at Lansing December 2, according to an announcement made by club officials. The announcement came as a surprise at it had been understood Dr. Little had refused previous invitations and did not plan to come until next spring.

The state will complete the pavement between Ypsilanti and Saline, on M-24, this year, if possible, the state administrative board directed recently. The board also directed the highway department to complete 2.26 miles on the same route to Hillsdale county, from M-14 east to the county line, when no bids were received.

According to a survey just completed by the board of education of Birmingham, 260 dwelling houses are under construction here and will be completed with a few months. The survey was made to determine the extent of next year's building program for the school system.

Holland changed to Eastern Standard Saturday night, October 10. The council for some time was undecided as to what action to take, since Grand Rapids retained fast time. The spring election will decide whether fast time shall be permanent or not.

Adrian adopted a school building plan when at a special election it voted to bond for $300,000 for the erection of ward schools. Only 606 taxpayers voted and the project carried 313 to 293. The proposition has been before the city for the last three years

DON'T BE MISLEAD.

During the last few weeks stories have been particularly rife in Michigan of the fabulous wealth that was being garnered, almost overnight, in Florida real estate. In many cases these stories may be true, but better that you take a lot of them with the proverbial grain of salt. When you are tempted to close out your Michigan holdings and trek to the land of Everglades in search of easy wealth, remember the fate of those who in other days heard stories of other Eldoradoes and departed from the certainties of this state for the uncertainties of other portions of the globe.

It doesn't take a centenarian to remember the time when a lot of our best citizens sold out, loaded their personal effects into box cars and set out on the long journey across the country to raise fruit in California. A generation later there was an exodus of substantial farmers who were lured into the Dakotas to raise wheat, and later others went up into the Canadian north-west. A good many of them never accumulated enough money to come back; some may have prospered, but of the great majority who later returned, their illusions were dissipated, what of them?

Was their lot in life as rich as it would have been if they had remained in Michigan and shared in the great industrial and commercial growth of the Commonwealth? The Farmers of Kimberly roamed the world in search of hidden gold, while their children on the doorsteps played with brilliant pebbles worth more than the wealth of the Indies. We have climate, progress and unlimited opportunities right here at home. Why break the ties of a lifetime to follow strange gods into strange lands?

Eve's Appetite.
"One day," said a story-teller, "at the close of a hot day, Adam was returning with his hoe on his shoulder from a hard day's labor to his humble cottage. Maybe it was a cave. That don't matter, for it was an humble abode. Young Cain was running ahead, boylike, throwing rocks at the birds. Suddenly they came upon a beautiful garden.
"O father," said Cain, 'look at that beautiful garden. I wish we could live there."
"We did live in that garden, said Adam regretfully, 'until your mother ate us out of house and home.'"—The Christian Evangelist.

EXCELLENT CORN

CROP IN STATE

Concluded from first page. ing harvest discolored a portion of the crop while in the shock. Barley—The reports of correspondents indicate that the average yield of barley is 24 bushels. The straw was shorter than usual but well filled. Rains discolored a considerable quantity of the grain while standing in the shock thereby reducing the quality to 84 per cent. The estimated total crop is 4,104,000 bushels, whereas the 1924 crop was 4,743,000 bushels from a considerably smaller acreage. Buckwheat—Dry weather shortened the yield in northern districts, and heavy storms did considerable damage to the crop in some of the southern districts. The condition of 79 per cent is the same as one year ago and five per cent above the ten-year average and is equivalent to a production of 961,000 bushels which is practically the same as that of last year. Potatoes—Prospects did not improve in September as is usual in most years. The condition of 76 per cent represents a production of 26,384,000 bushels as compared with 38,252,000 in 1924. The early crop was light and the late crop varies greatly between different sections, being rather light in many central, southwestern and northern counties and very good in some of the west-central counties. The quality is excellent. Beans—Frequent rains during September interfered with the harvesting of the crop and damaged many fields, as a result of which the pick will be heavier than usual on the late crop. Correspondents' reports indicate an average yield of 12 bushels per acre and an average pick of 8.5 per cent. However, but little threshing had been done at the time of report and a considerable percentage of the crop was still unharvested, so that a later inquiry may show somewhat different figures. Based upon this yield, the production will be 7,956,000 bushels in comparison with 5,848,000 harvested last year. A special inquiry relative to varieties indicates the following percentages grown this year: small white, 82; large whites, 4; light red kidneys, 5; dark red kidneys, 7; soys, 1; other varieties, 1 per cent. Sugar Beets—The season has been favorable and beets are attaining good size and quality, with a prospective yield somewhat above the average. Apples—The total apple crop averages 60 per cent of a normal one, or 10,756,000 bushels of which 1,864,000 barrels is rated as commercial. This includes all summer, fall and winter varieties. As the winter varieties, represent 54 per cent of the commercial crop, according to the reports of growers, they amount to 1,007,000 barrels.

White Rurals were certified. Now there are seven types certified, Russet Rural, White Rural, Green Mountain, Irish Cobbler, Early Ohio, Russet Burbank and Bliss Triumph. The directors of the Thumb of Michigan Show want the people of the Thumb area to see the best potatoes grown in the state so are making special effort to have many certified seed growers send samples of thirty-two potatoes to exhibit. An entry card is being planned which will show the name of the grower of all exhibits after the judging is done. This is done for the benefit of the show visitors who may wish to purchase seed of particular types which appeal to them.

Britain in America

British America, which consists of Canada, Newfoundland and a number of islands, has an area of 3,750,000 square miles, while the area of the United States and its possessions is 3,743,446 square miles. Thus Britain has a little more territory, but much of it is so far north as to be of comparatively little value.

Even Kings Fix Prices

Price fixing on the part of governments was not a new idea when it was used in the World-war time of economic stress and since during the reconstruction period. King Henry III of England was one of the early rulers to use the right. He caused an ordinance to be passed prohibiting bow makers from selling their best bows at more than 3 shillings 4 pence each.

Paragraphs Concerning Michigan

(By Ed. A. Nowack).

Lansing—With but one exception in the political history of the state, Rep. Gerrit W. Kooyers, Holland, has served more consecutive terms in the legislature than any other representative. He was former Rep. James Jerome, Detroit.

Forest fires that the Conservation Department was powerless to handle are credited with the decided decrease of the honey crop in upper Michigan. Vast areas of the land from which the bees gathered their supply were burned black.

Chase S. Osborne, former governor and former game commissioner, stating it is useless to try to safeguard his famous 7,000 volume library on Duck Island in the St. Mary's river in the ordinary way, is building a fire-proof vault to house the books. Recent forest fires almost wiped out the $150,000 collection.

All school children in Michigan have been warned by Tom E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, to exercise the greatest caution in crossing highways. Mr. Johnson says the injuries to children by autos is on the increase.

Workers in Detroit live as far as 20 miles from their places of employment but by use of the autos consume no more time in going to and from work than they used to when walking a mile or two. Many workers in Flint reside 10 miles and more from their places of employment.

Seventy-eight per cent of last year's automobile production in Michigan sold for $1,000 or less. In 1920 the output of cars at those prices was 59 per cent of the total.

Michigan last year contributed a large share to the one and one-quarter million of automobiles that were scrapped. Within two more years the estimated number of cars that will be scrapped annually will be two millions.

Because land deals made in Oakland county 80 years ago were imperfect so far as mortgage discharges are concerned the courts there today are busy with at least a dozen actions to quiet titles.

VanBuren and Berrien counties produce 90 per cent of the state's grape crop. VanBuren county is the original home of the Michigan grape and it also was the original county in the pioneer local option work.

Michigan state prison inmates at Jackson are now busy manufacturing 100,000 auto license plates for Vermont. The 950,000 for Michigan's 1926 use are delivered.

Soft coal mines in this state for the week ending August 1 reported mining 11,000 tons of coal.

Michigan's 1924 lime production had a total value of $673,000. More than 73,000 tons of lime were put on the market.

Happenings of a Quarter Century Ago

Taken from the Tri-County Chronicle of October 19, 1900.

J. F. Hendrick's jewelry store was broken into early Thursday morning and watches, rings and cash were stolen. The loss, including damage to fixtures, is estimated at $2,000. A small fire-proof safe was blown open and the contents rifled. Authorities have been notified, and a search is being made for the robbers. No clue has been found so far.

Mrs. Wm. F. Seed passed away Sunday following a brief illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Torbet of the Presbyterian church officiating. Mrs. Seed leaves her husband and a three months' old son, besides her parents and other relatives.

Important Celebration

The Huguenot-Walloon tercentenary was instituted by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America for the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the settling in New Netherlands of Walloons—that is French and Belgian Huguenots—by the Dutch West Indian company in 1624.

Grow Your Own Lilies

If people only realized how easily water lilies can be grown in the garden, the flowers would be as familiar as asters or sweet peas, says Nature Magazine. Even the tiniest garden has all the requisites, and lilies have been grown successfully on the roofs of city skyscrapers. A tub or tight half barrel of water, a little good soil and sunshine are all that the gardener needs for a modest attempt.

Male Choir's Good Work

Mozart's "Magic Flute" has been given complete by a male choir of Tormorden, England. The difficult soprano arias of Paulina, Papagena, and Queen of Night were done cleverly by boy members of the choir, and without changes of text. A really remarkable achievement. Tormorden, a town of about twenty-five thousand inhabitants, is midway between Manchester and Harrogate.

Wind at Night

The light wind that has been blowing all night is seen at morn to have not worked at random. It has shepherded some small flocks of clouds afield and folded others. Not a line, not a curve, but confesses its membership in a design declared from horizon to horizon. There's husbandry in heaven.—Alice Meynell.

Michigan Happenings

"Trouble in industry the last few years has been due to lack of understanding and co-operation of the human elements in industry and the Y. M. C. A. can, through developing a better understanding between men and management, do much to avert misunderstanding in the future," declared H. M. Taliferro, general manager of the American Seating company, at an industrial conference at Lansing, called to discuss human relationships in industry. About 50 plant executives from several of the states and larger cities and industrial secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. were in attendance.

Ground was broken recently for Manistee's new high school on the northern half of Sanda Park. The excavating will be completed in about two weeks, preparatory to building the foundation. Winter is treading on the heels of autumn in the Upper Peninsula. Snow fell in Negaunee, although the trees still are robed in the gorgeous colors of early fall. Sleep on, beloved, sleep and take your rest; Lay down your head upon your Saviour's breast. We loved you well, but Jesus loved you best— Good night—good night—good night. Calm are your slumbers as an angel's sleep, But you shall wake no more to toil and weep; Yours is a perfect rest, so calm and deep— Good night—good night—good night. Only good night; beloved—not farewell! A little while, and then we all shall dwell In hallowed union indivisible— Good night—good night—good night.
