WILL SHOW MANY MOTION PICTURES

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE REELS TO BE FEATURE OF SHORT COURSE.

Next Wednesday and Thursday Are Big Days in Cass City; Admission to Meetings Is Free.

All like motion pictures if they are clean, interesting and helpful. In the past motion pictures have been mostly used to simply amuse or entertain folks, but the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester Company, realizing the great possibilities of motion pictures, is utilizing them to teach and demonstrate educational and economic truths.

The department has prepared 18 most interesting and helpful reels covering various subjects closely associated with town and country life, and many of these reels will be shown during the agricultural short course, to be held in Cass City next Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 11 and 12. "Farms Inconveniences" is the title of one reel which illustrates the foolishness of doing some things and the carelessness in not doing other things.

"Cherryland" is a graphic picture of the world's greatest cherry orchard and demonstrates the good use of knowledge.

"Household Conveniences" shows how, in many ways, we can make mother's work easier, and another reel, "Power in the Farm Home," demonstrates how to eliminate drudgery from every-day tasks.

"Home Canning by the Cold Pack Method" shows every step in canning and the reel, "Make More from the Farm Poultry," demonstrates how to raise poultry profitably.

"Milk, Nature's Perfect Food" illustrates how to profitably produce milk, its value as food and how to use it to the best advantage, while a companion reel, "Greater Profit from Milk," shows how to get the most value out of milk, after it has been produced.

"The Care of Your Orchard" will interest everyone who hasn't an orchard, as well as those who have, and "The Making of a Good Cow" demonstrates the equal value of good feeding and good breeding.

Two reels, "Hogs for Pork and Profit," and "Hog Health Makes Hog Wealth," illustrate the winter care of hogs and the way to prevent hog worms and hog diseases.

Two other reels, as their titles imply, deal with corn. One is "Harvesting and Testing Seed Corn," and the other is "Growing and Feeding the Corn Crop."

Another reel, "Sheep," illustrates the raising, shearing and care of sheep and is acknowledged to be the best reel on sheep ever produced while another reel, "The Pit Silo," shows how to construct this valuable home-made silo and how to use it to best advantage. "Late and Lazy" is a highly humorous, yet graphically instructive illustration of what happens when we fail to do things on time or are too lazy to do things that should be done.

One or more of these pictures will be shown at every session of the short course. Admission to all sessions will be absolutely free and everybody is invited.

The meeting will be for the sole purpose of helping the community; of presenting to the people new thoughts and new ideas based entirely upon scientific investigations and practical experiences, in the hope that this information will be helpful to them in solving their problems on the farm and in the home.

The program that is being prepared by local committees will be interesting and beneficial to all and the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester Company, which is co-operating with our local people in putting on the short course, will do everything possible to make it of great and lasting benefit to the community.

Invitations have been extended to the schools to co-operate in the meetings, and all women, including housewives, club women and teachers will be urged to attend all the sessions. One of the interesting features of the short course will be talks by Miss Grace Marian Smith, an able lecturer on household and other subjects relating to women's work.

H. S. Mobley and R. R. Robertson will have prominent places on the program. Mr. Mobley is not only a practical farmer but is a nationally known leader in farm and community progress. Mr. Robertson is widely known as a horticulturist and fruit grower. Both these men are lecturers and demonstrators of the highest order and will do their share to make the meetings of lasting value to all who attend—not only country folks, but town folks; not only grownups, but children.

The program of this short course follows: Wednesday forenoon at 10:00—Community singing; "The Educational Turn to page five.

FATHER AND SON MEET AT BROWN CITY

REV. JONES REUNITED WITH SON WHO RAN AWAY FROM HOME.

From Brown City Banner.

A son, who had run away from home to seek adventure in the city, and the father, who had almost given up hope of ever seeing his boy again, by a series of strange coincidences were brought together at the Rev. Ralph Herber home Monday.

The boy, Ray Jones, 17, son of Rev. and Mrs. Jones, of Bad Axe, disappeared from his home months ago. He had given no intimation as to his plans and when, some time after his disappearance the parents learned that he had, after leaving Bad Axe, visited friends in Port Huron, giving them a message for his parents to the effect that he was running away and that they needn't try to find him, Mr. and Mrs. Jones were in despair. They have only the two children, twin boys, Ray and Roy, and Ray's absence was keenly felt. Not only in the home was he missed but throughout the town where he was well known and well liked.

Time went on and no word came from Ray, but hope was rekindled when one day Mr. and Mrs. Jones received a telegram from a friend, who happened to pass through Chicago, met the boy in the station there. He gave the lad money and Ray was to start for home at once arriving in Pt. Huron on a certain train. He failed to appear, however, and again hope was blasted. The father made many trips to Detroit hoping to meet his son on the streets.

In the meantime Ray had secured work in Detroit. He refused to tell his employer his name or where he was from, however. The man, becoming curious, through a fortune teller, learned the boy's name and where his parents lived. When he went to Ray with this information the boy confessed and it was planned that they would visit the parents Monday. Arriving in Brown City some trouble with the car necessitated a delay and Ray decided to visit his cousin, Rev. Herber. He had only just arrived at the Herber home when his father drove in and there was a happy reunion.

Jas. Tennant Ends Long Business Career

James Tennant, who has conducted a grocery store in the building east of the Crosby Block for the last quarter century, sold his business to P. S. Rice on Friday and gave immediate possession. Mr. Rice is no novice in that calling, having been employed as salesman in local groceries for several years and also having presided as proprietor of one which he sold last May.

Mr. Tennant has been a resident of Cass City for about 56 years and practically all of that period he has been connected with the business interests of the village. When he came here at the age of 18 years, he was employed in the McPhail general store. Later, he was employed as a salesman by J. C. Laing and here he remained for 17 years. He then went into business for himself. At the last stand, he has been engaged continuously for 25 years. Mr. Tennant made quality a dominant standard in the wares he handled and will long be remembered for his integrity. His advanced years and failing health led Mr. Tennant to dispose of his business. He is treasurer of Elkland township and will be busy the next few months in receiving taxes.

ADAMS HERD LEADS IN SEPT. REPORT

MR. ADAMS ALSO HAS HIGH COW WITH RECORD OF 67.7 LBS. B. F.

Wm. D'Arcy of Wilmot Has Two High Cows in Milk Production.

Fred Adams of Fairgrove again has high cow in the Tuscola No. 1 Cow Testing Association with his pure bred Jersey, Isabelle of Wayside, with 806 lbs. of milk and 67.7 lbs. of fat. Mr. Adams also has high herd in butterfat, his 6 Jerseys averaging 35.1 lbs. fat for the thirty days. This is the fourth time in eight months that Isabelle has been high cow and the third time Mr. Adams has had high herd.

Wm. D'Arcy of Wilmot has two high cows in milk production, they milking between 58 and 60 lbs. all the time the test was made. Mr. D'Arcy since reports that these cows have milked 70 lbs. daily on first ordinary condition.

These cows were grained during part of their dry period and were in fairly good condition to produce. Their results show the value of feeding grain while dry.

Cows need and must have grain if they are going to do good work for us just as much as a horse needs it. Only 236 cows were tested during the month as 78 were dry.

Thirteen cows produced over 40 lbs. fat and 4 over 50 lbs. for the thirty days. Nineteen produced over 1000 lbs. milk and 8 over 1250. Five unprofitable cows were sold during the month and 57 sold since the association started in January 1924.

One member has sold four out of fourteen and he says there is more to go, but nevertheless he is not discouraged for every time he sells one he takes more pride in those remaining.

Three cows died during the month from bloat on alfalfa pasture. The average per cow for the association was 418.4 lbs. milk and 17.0 lbs. fat. Our average thus far this year is 197.5 lbs. fat per cow and four months yet to go. Our goal is 300 lbs. or bust.

Tuscola's two cow testing associations represent about 60 herds of leading dairymen in the county, and if these dairymen have to sell off between 10% and 11% of their cows as unprofitable what is the per cent of poor cows throughout the entire county?

Any two farmers living near each other and having only 6 or 8 cows

Cass City Schools

The debating teams are working on the question for this year, which is "Resolved, that the proposed Child Labor Amendment to the National Constitution should be adopted by the United States." The first debate will be held here Friday, Nov. 20, with Caro.

The community civics class is making some very interesting and practical studies of problems relative to the general community welfare. The problem of the foreigner and the duty of everyone as a real citizen in aiding to solve the situation has been discussed. Other subjects of vital interest to the community which have been taken up are the value of culture and of health. The general and intelligent reading of high class newspapers and magazines, the common practice of safety first, health measures, the strict enforcement of fire prevention rules are among the practical topics especially stressed. Booster posters were designed and made by the students as a part of the work.

In the Junior High home economics class, the students have just finished samplers giving the constructive stitches, seams and hems needed by the dressmaker. The work on these samplers gives the foundation necessary to correct garment making, the study of which has been commenced. The first garment to be made by the girls is a nightgown. In addition to the actual sewing, they have designed the garment as a part of their work.

The first year high school class is studying "Foods" this semester. Following the text book study of protein and starch foods and their effects on digestion, a practical application is being made in cookery.

The advanced class in sewing has been working on the problems of the tailored blouse and the woolen jumper. Some very creditable garments have been completed. The complete transformation of a silk dress is being worked out by one of the girls. An intricate process of dyeing was accomplished by the mixing of several colors to obtain the desired shade, after which a portion of the material will be finished with a block printed design. The completion of project will be remodeling of the design of the dress.

Willis Campbell is considering the entering of some of the club's prize winning gilts in the International Live Stock Show to be held in Chicago the first week in December. While there would be no financial remuneration, the quality of the local stock is such that it would have a good chance to compete favorably with other entries. The publicity gained by entries in a show entering stock from such an extended territory is worth much effort. The International Live Stock Show is the grand finale for competitors at all the other fairs and shows of the season.

Mr. Campbell and his committees have made extensive arrangements for some splendid exhibits at the school fair this (Friday) evening. A complete explanation of the habits of the European corn borer, with mounts sent out by M. S. C., is one feature. Others are a display of 35 varieties of apples, the process of making sugar from the sugar beet, and an unusually fine milk exhibit.

HENS BREAK STATE PRODUCTION MARKS

ZEELAND WHITE LEGHORNS WIN INTERNATIONAL CONTEST AT M. S. C.

Both pen and individual records for the International egg laying contests held each year at the Michigan State College were broken at East Lansing this week at the conclusion of the 1924-25 competition.

A pen of white leghorns, entered by the Royal Hatchery, Zeeland, Michigan, finished first in the year's egg marathon, nosing out Rhode Island reds from the Huntington, Long Island, by 27 eggs. The Royal Hatchery entry totaled 2,412 eggs for the year, while the Long Island candidates stopped with a total of 2,385.

Other high pens included: St. Johns Poultry Farm, Orango, Mo., third; John P. Gasson, Versailles, Ohio, fourth; the Bangor, Michigan, high school, fifth; and Geo. B. Ferris, Grand Rapids, sixth.

One hundred pens of ten birds each were entered in the contest, which started on Nov. 1, 1924, and finished last week. The entries came from 17 different states and Canadian provinces, and included eight different breeds.

All individual records for Michigan production were broken when a white leghorn entered by Seidel and Buhren of Toledo, Ohio, finished the contest with 305 eggs for the year, a figure approaching the world's production record. Another white leghorn, from the pen of Geo. B. Ferris, of Grand Rapids, was second with 293 eggs. A Rhode Island red from the pen of John Parks, Coopersville, Michigan, and a leghorn from the Royal Hatchery pen were tied for third at 286.

The fourth international contest started at the college on Sunday, Nov. 1. It will run for one year.

Prizes for Best "Book Week" Essays

As an encouragement to children to read and own good books the Woman's Study Club is sponsoring "Children's Book Week" Nov. 8-14, in Cass City with Mrs. C. W. Day as chairman.

The main feature of the week's program is an essay contest among the school students. Boys and girls are asked to earn money for a book and then write a story telling how he earned the money and why he chose the book he bought. Arrangements have been made for two groups—the fifth, sixth and seventh grades of the Cass City schools to comprise one and the eighth and ninth grades the other group. The Woman's Study club is offering a prize of $1.50 to the student writing the best account in the first group and $2.00 to the best essay in the second group.

Owners of bookstores have agreed to have window displays of good books for children and lists may also be obtained from Mrs. Day.

The club asks the co-operation of both parents and teachers to aid in making "Children's Book Week" in Cass City a great success.

Harbor Beach—The merchants of Port Huron have dropped the idea of asking the "Thumb merchants" help in making their city the trading center of the Thumb district. The caravan of some 70 machines failed to show up in Harbor Beach, Tuesday. Whether it was the weather, or some other factor, that caused their feet to be cold is not known.—Times.

DISCOVERED THEIR OWN COMMUNITY

RESULT OF AN ADVENTURE MADE BY A COMMUNITY OF MICHIGAN FOLKS.

Staff Member of "Michigan Farmer" Tells His Impressions of Work of Cass City Club.

From the Michigan Farmer.

Nineteen hundred years ago Vesuvius in its wrath poured forth molten lava upon the city of Pompeii. The city, which had been an important trading point, and the summer home of many wealthy and influential Romans, including Cicero, was blotted out. For sixteen hundred years Pompeii lay undisturbed underneath heaps of ashes and cinders. The place was lost, completely lost, until its recent restoration.

Nowadays, communities are lost—not in the sense that Pompeii was buried, but in that people do not know of the potential possibilities of the communities. They need discovering. The possibilities bound up in the farms and business places, the homes and the institutions ought, in part, at least, be brought to light.

A small start has been made in the effort to discover a few communities. This movement goes under the general term, "community work." These adventures in community work have often been cases of accidents—the out-cropping of some other special organization or cooperative efforts that have found precedent and prejudices rooted deep in the community soil.

Two years ago a Michigan community made an attempt at community prospecting. To an outsider the attempt might seem small. Our observation, however, proved to us that, at least, it has been effective.

This community lies around Cass City in the thumb of the state. A short time ago, having heard of the work being done, we drove to the place to see and hear what we could. Our first effort was to find out how thoroughly the people of Cass City and the surrounding community has been sold on the community work.

The answers to our inquiries convinced us that the local people not only were fully conversant with the doing of the club, but also in sympathy with it. In our survey of the town and surrounding country, we did not find a person who was not acquainted with the club. The boys and girls knew about it; the men in the stores and at the gasoline stations praised the organization; an old man, with one hand resting heavily on a cane, said, "Yes, we have a community club here"; another business man on the street, and several attending a base ball game were ready to talk; out in the country the farmers were even more enthusiastic, and seemed better informed than others on the doings of this new institution in their midst. And the peculiar thing about the whole matter is, that we did not find a solitary kicker. No doubt, there are kickers somewhere around; but we failed to locate a single one.

Another peculiar reaction was that each person seemed to note in the organization objectives that were different from what impressed his neighbor. One farmer thought he was getting better service from the merchants of the town since the organization started; merchants were taking more interest in his affairs, and in providing him with things he wanted. Another tiller of the soil had been impressed with the monthly lectures put on by the organization. A school man measured the advantages of the club in improvements coming to the educational institutions of the community. "Without doubt," said a town official, "there is a better feeling among the folks since they get together in community work."

A merchant assured us that he had never realized what a fine class of folks the farmers were, until he had had opportunity to mingle with them. A local minister testified that local churches were meeting with more favorable cooperation on the part of the general public. An elderly lady was appreciative of the consideration of the fraternal committee of the club for the beautiful flowers, and the help extended during an illness.

Many other matters showing the attitude of the people toward this community club could be related. But this will suffice to show the reader that whatever this community club is, or has been, it is, in some way, touching the lives of many classes of people. The young folks and the old, the infirm and the healthy, the happy and the sad, the farmers and the bankers—all seemed to have a part and an interest in the work.

And they did. Designedly the framers of the plan set about to include all the legitimate activities of the residents of Cass City and the surrounding country. They planned this in selecting their board of directors. Important interests were represented on this board. Naturally, each representative urged that the thing which concerned him most be included in the schedule. Besides these business representatives, each of the seven churches, (two of which are in the country), have one representative each; also, the superintendent of schools is on the board by virtue of his position.

The members of this board outlined a comprehensive program. After careful thought it was divided into four chief divisions. These four departments of work are: Civic welfare, junior work, fraternal welfare, and spiritual welfare. The work of each department was placed in the hands of a competent committee.

When told the actual accomplishments of the club that could be put down on paper, the writer was a little disappointed. He cannot understand, from the work done, how it was possible to get the favorable impression that was so generally accorded this organization. He expected that some big thing had been done—business measured by the hundreds of thousands of dollars, or something.

VISITORS LAUD WORK OF P. T. A.

FAIRGROVE BOOSTERS TELL OF GOOD DONE BY THEIR SOCIETY.

Enthusiasm for the work of the Parent-Teachers Association was spread at the meeting held at the high school building on Monday evening when a group of visitors from Fairgrove gave short addresses and told of the results accomplished by the society in that village.

Mrs. Albertson, president of the Fairgrove P. T. A., spoke of "Our Beginnings" and outlined briefly the early work of the association begun two years ago and which is greatly responsible for a new school building of which their district is justly proud.

Mr. Jones, a teacher in the Fairgrove school, told of things accomplished by the organization. Among these, he mentioned the securing of high class speakers at their meetings and the placing of religious education in the school.

Dr. Harrison spoke of "Our Committees." He advocated large committees, frequent changes in the personnel and getting all to work for the advancement of the school.

Supt. Jordan, the last speaker from Fairgrove, summed up the advantages of co-operation of parents and teachers in a society which did much to make the task of the teacher easier and much more fruitful in the education and advancement of the pupils.

Miss Beryl Koepfen, superintendent at Gagetown, told of the very good work done by the P. T. A. at Gagetown and the help that a society of this character may be to the youths of any community.

Members of the local P. T. A. greatly appreciate the enthusiasm and helpful thoughts advanced by the visitors from the neighboring towns. Meetings of the local society show a gradual increase in attendance and interest.

G. W. Landon, Mrs. H. F. Zenner and Mrs. L. I. Wood were appointed members of a program committee for the next meeting.

Visitors from Fairgrove not already mentioned included the following: Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Fay Townsend, and Miss Scott.

Chicago's So-called Water Steal May Not Be Only Cause of Lowering of Lake Levels

Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record.

Despite the cock-sureness of the Detroit Board of Commerce and the learned savants of the Detroit city council that the cause of the lowering of the lake levels was the so-called water steal by the Chicago people to give enough water to wash their sewage away through the drainage canal, the facts are gradually coming out that the causes of the difficult condition were quite beyond their ken.

Readers of this paper will recall that it declared, during last summer's very ardent controversy on this subject that the cause of the lowering of the lake levels was not that 8,000 feet a second were being withdrawn from the lakes by Chicago, but that 22,000 feet a second which used to come into Huron from Superior are not coming into it now as the result of lessened rainfall in the water-shed of Lake Superior. When lowered lake levels began to make carriers less effective for their mission, the right way to correct the situation is to find out what caused the wrong. Then the cure can be applied. If it had turned out that Chicago wasn't to blame at all, or at most was only one-third to blame, either none or but one-third, at most, of the evil could be corrected by setting Chicago right.

And now comes Herbert Hoover,

NEW ATHLETIC RULES ANNOUNCED

PLAYERS NOT ALLOWED TO ACCEPT SWEATERS OR JERSEYS.

Michigan High School Athletic Association Adopts Stringent Regulations.

The rules of eligibility in the Michigan High School Athletic association are rigid and drastic this year and carry the provisions that players will be classed as ineligible if they accept a sweater, jersey or any other reward from any source whatever.

After September 1, 1926, students competing must be under 20 years of age. The present rule is 21 years of age.

The rules of eligibility are as follows:

Sec. 1. Every student competing must be a bona fide student of the high school which he represents, and must be enrolled not later than Monday of the fourth week of the semester in which he competes.

Sec. 2. Every student competing in any contest must be under twenty-one years of age at the time of the contest.

Note: On September 1, 1926, the words "21 years" will be changed to read "20 years."

Sec. 3. No student shall compete in any branch of athletics for more than four seasons.

Sec. 4. No student shall compete in any branch of athletics who has received enough hours of credit to entitle him to be graduated from high school, who is a graduate of a regular four-year high school, or who is a graduate of a secondary school which has the same requirements for graduation as a regular four-year high school, but a student who finishes the required number of hours for graduation in less than eight semesters shall not be barred from interscholastic competition while doing undergraduate work until the end of the eighth semester.

Sec. 5. No student shall compete in any branch of athletics who has been enrolled in grades nine to twelve inclusive more than nine semesters. The last two semesters, whether the seventh and eighth, or the eighth and who has done more to straighten out crooked kinks for the United States than anybody recently, who declares that of the lowering of the lakes by 18 inches of their usual depth the Chicago condition is not chargeable with more than six inches thereof, if so much and that the rest of it is due to changed climatic conditions, which means lessened rainfall. One would almost think that Mr. Hoover had been reading this paper, from his conclusions; but that was hardly necessary for him, because he belongs to the class of persons who know before they shoot off their conversation. Mr. Hoover seems to think, too, that this climatic change is permanent, which is probably likely if the cause of the lessened rainfall in British North America is the result of Pacific earthquakes, as some very well-informed scientists do believe. Being a probable permanent condition, Mr. Hoover sees the only way to cure it to be the construction of dams cutting off part of the outlet section of Lake Erie.

This is not a merely academic problem, but a very practical one for the people who are interested in the commerce of the Great Lakes. If by reducing the section through which the waters of Lake Erie may get into Ontario, enough water may be impounded in Erie, the Detroit river, Lake St. Clair, the river St. Clair and Lake Huron to restore their former levels, then that is the thing to do.

There has never seemed to be much difference of opinion among engineers that this is the thing to do where similar conditions exist and where the same results are desired. Being the most feasible thing to do, it behooves those associations and interests which care enough about results to be active on the matter, to proceed to get congress to get the plan into operation.

In the case in point, the question is an international one, because Canada has dominion over one side of the waterway and our own country over the other. International action takes time, but in this case it is likely to be expedited from the local interest involved. Canada's harbors and waterways have suffered from the lowering of the levels no less than our own; and while her inland merchant marine is not so great as ours, it is quite as important to her citizens as ours is to our own. So that international speed may well be invoked upon the solution of the problem in the place of international deliberation.

The question may arise in the course of these discussions whether dams limiting the effluent of the waters of certain portions of these lakes may not have to be built at other places than on the Niagara frontier, as well as at that point. It is well to remember, what so many people forget, that we have been removing the natural dams from the channels connecting the Great Lakes. It has been quite the style to damn Chicago for its contribution to the result but it might shock some really good people to be asked to consider to what extent the creation of the two channels at Amherstberg, in the Detroit river, have enabled the waters of the upper lakes to slip a little faster into Erie.

The limestone barrier at Amherstberg originally had only 12 feet of water passing over it, and that through a rather shallow channel; while the American channel has only six and eight feet of water in various parts of the survey of what was known as "Project C" for the improvement of the Detroit river. Has the fact that the first two channels have been cut into the limestone until 22 ft. of water pass over them had anything to do with the gradual degradation of the lake channels? Or is it at all pertinent that the lowering of the water at the various ports of Lake Huron and Lake Michigan has been almost contemporaneous with the period of operation of the Livingstone channel of the Detroit river? Or is it worth inquiring whether the maintenance of the deep cut across the shallows of Lake St. Clair has not made it possible for water to slide out of Lake Huron a bit faster than it comes into it, and considerable faster than it used to when the old navigable channel of Lake St. Clair had but 12 feet of depth? Indeed when the deep cuts were made in Lake St. Clair there were engineers who maintained that compensating works would eventually have to be created to offset the deeper sections then being made for the purpose of navigation.

Mr. Hoover's statements and recommendations make it pertinent for the people of the lake ports—or at least such of them as have not become discredited by their participation in the anti-Chicago bally-boo—to get busy in procuring inquiry as to whether even other compensating works than those suggested by Mr. Hoover for the Niagara outlet may not be necessary at the Straits of Mackinaw and at the outlet of Lake St. Clair. These compensating works do not at all involve the destruction of natural beauty. Their construction and maintenance are quite consistent with the continuance of beauty and study may develop that they are also necessary for the maintenance of an economical system of inland marine. At any rate it is time to know the truth and to act upon it.

The problem of every poultry raiser is to produce more eggs from fewer hens and that depends upon proper feeding more than on any other single factor. Purina poultry feeds solve that problem.

We know a man who pronounces it "similar." Also one who says immediately.

The chicken saw a pigeon's egg for the first time and eyed it curiously. "It must be an egg all right," mused the chicken, "but it isn't like mother used to make."

A Paid Check is the Best Receipt

You often pay bills to parties whose integrity you would not appear to question by asking for a receipt. If, through unintentional error, you should not be given proper credit for money paid and should be presented with the same bill a second time, you would not have any proof of having paid unless you had received a regular receipt. But if you had paid with a check you would have received a receipt without asking for it, embarrassing no one. The endorsement would be proof of its having been paid.

This is only one of the conveniences of keeping your money on deposit and paying it out by checks. There are many other real conveniences in such a plan. We would be pleased to have you call and let us explain these advantages more fully. Every man ought to have a checking account. DISCOVERED THEIR OWN COMMUNITY

Concluded from first page. of the kind. Perhaps one may find that in the business of discovering communities it will require but a little well-directed work along a few important lines to become effective. At least, that appears to be what has happened in Cass City.

Take their civic work. For one thing, the committee having this department in hand, saw to it that proper traffic signs were placed about the town for the benefit of all who drove cars. Another unusual activity undertaken by this committee, was the collection of $400 from the merchants of Cass City to be used in defraying the cost of widening the sleighs of any farmer who desired, for the purpose of breaking tracks in the snow, to permit auto traffic. This division also has under consideration the matter of marketing farm products. In this respect, they are now about to undertake the promotion of a canning factory.

The committee on junior work has also been busy. Efforts to aid the boys and girls to lives of greater usefulness and happiness are, outside of our modern educational system, largely personal. Our churches have given splendid moral support to boys' and girls' scout and club work, and to the young people's societies; but actual results in this field have been very much dependent upon the capabilities of the leaders, more than upon institutional direction and equipment. The leader's initiative, native ability, and his training are the factors which seem to count most in this work.

Sensing this general handicap to work of this kind, the Cass City club is making an effort to put the community behind boy and girl activities. The idea is to develop a wholesome environment, in which it should be possible to do better work for the young people with the same leadership ability. The hope of the committee is to shift some of the responsibilities to the shoulders of the leaders to the community. Many of the perplexing questions often confronting the leader of a troop of boy scouts are simplified, or fully answered, when his work is supported by an active community organization of the business and professional men and women of the town, and the majority of the farmers of the country around about. The Cass City community has sought to stand behind the boy scout work in this manner.

Another thing has been done for the juniors. This committee has provided for a skating rink out on the fair grounds. When boys and girls are given wholesome, healthful exercise and enjoyment, it takes an effort to get them to do things they ought not to do. The skating rink has done much toward satisfying the natural desire of the young people, as well as the older ones, for action and companionship. This makes the work of the town constable monotonous. The fraternal welfare committee has, perhaps, done as much or more toward breaking down the ordinary petty jealousies and prejudices which creep into the life of a community, according to the opinions of some of the persons interviewed. The chief work of this committee is to visit the sick and those afflicted, and to aid persons who, for one reason or another, are in unfortunate circumstances. This brotherly service seemed to put a soul in the community, and out of that soul poured feelings of sympathy and affection. By it the whole community has become enriched, and the life of the average person has become more hopeful.

The work of the spiritual committee has been confined to the task of putting on monthly meetings during eight months of the year. The best speakers that could be secured were brought to town by this committee. The money from dues, which are three dollars for each family per year, is spent largely for the securing of these speakers. On the night of the meetings, suppers are held. The ladies of one of the churches are selected to serve certain of the suppers. The time for the suppers is eight o'clock in the evening, to give the farmer members time to finish their chores, get the family ready, and to arrive. Fifty cents is charged for each plate. The lectures follow the supper.

It is impossible to measure the benefit resulting from these monthly social gatherings, and from the inspiration and information brought by good speakers. If we are to give credence to those with whom we talked, these meetings and the other influences set at work through the activities of the Cass City Community Club, have been a real factor in aiding these good folks to find themselves.

The Watchful Alarm Clock

Some people sleep with one eye open, so as to be "on the job" in the mornings. Others, who are wiser, invest a small sum in one of our Alarm Clocks— Set it to "go off" at the desired moment—Then go to sleep and forget all about everything. No home is quite as it ought to be without one of these handy time-reminders. We've a lot of them here. All are good timers, and never let you "sleep in." Get one.

Thumb Tales Tersely Told

Brown City—Three persons lost fingers in accidents on farms near here last week. Archie Guernsey is minus the fingers and the thumb on his right hand because they came in contact with the working parts of a beet topper. Chris Hoffman had the first joint of a finger removed by a similar machine. Bobbie, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Linck, had his hand crushed in a pulley as his father was unloading alfalfa and two fingers on his left hand had to be amputated.

Pt. Sanilac—While playing along the shore of Lake Huron Thursday afternoon, Robert, 12-year-old son of W. H. Smith, discovered the badly decomposed body of a man lying on the rocks a short distance south of the light house. He called his father and Sheriff John A. Johnson was informed. Together with Coroner G. S. Tweedie, Sheriff Johnson went to Pt. Sanilac and had the body taken from the shore and removed to an undertaking room at Carsonville. It was later identified as that of Clifford Laurie, a sailor, who fell overboard from a lake vessel some six weeks ago.

Deckerville—Adam W. Cowan and Philip Binkle are ordered to pay the sum of $31,393.31 to the State Bank of Harbor Beach by a decision made in circuit court by Judge Eugene F. Law, in a suit which has been pending in the St. Clair county court for a year, after being transferred from Huron county. Cowan and Binkle, partners in a hardware business in Deckerville, were made defendants in September, 1923, when the State Bank of Harbor Beach brought suit to recover $50,000, which it was claimed had been put to the credit of the defendants by Henry Binkle, son of one of the defendants and brother-in-law of Cowan.

Something New for Cass City

A Perfect Gasoline

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) offers to the motorists of this city, something new—SOLITE, a light, fast, volatile gasoline that makes no sacrifice of power.

Solite must not be confused with so-called "high-test" gasoline. It is much better!

Solite does everything that the best so-called "high-test" gasoline will do—but in addition, it drives the piston the full length of the stroke under power.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has never been satisfied to bring out a light gasoline until it could overcome the loss of power feature so common to "high-test" gasolines.

It has overcome this factor by the famous Burton Cracking Process.

Solite is a cracked gasoline. There is no guesswork in its manufacture. It is made to meet exact specifications. It is dependable. We guarantee its uniformity.

Solite will give you a new thrill in motoring. Your motor will start on the instant—it will get away smoothly—it will accelerate rapidly and eagerly—and develop an amazing speed, for Solite is a "fast gas".

Solite has been manufactured for the man who demands a little quicker action and is willing to pay a little more to get it.

Solite sells for 3c per gallon more than the price of Red Crown—our famous economy fuel which produces the maximum of power at a minimum of cost.

Stephane Lausanne, one of the most famous editors and political writers in France, accompanied the French delegation to Washington in order to obtain first-hand information on the negotiations. He is well known in the United States, as many of his political articles have appeared here.

Father of Saxophone

Adolphe Sax, a maker of musical instruments, invented the saxophone in 1840, in Paris, in trying to produce a clarinet that would overblow an octave like the flute and oboe. It became popular at once in France and Belgium. Johann Georg Kastner, a musical composer, introduced the saxophone into the orchestra in Paris in 1844 in "Le Dernier Roi de Juda."

The Faithful Printer

Years ago, when the New York Herald and James Gordon Bennett, Jr. were in their prime, the latter issued one of his arbitrary orders that thereafter the name Herald should never appear unless in italics. One printer followed it almost to the letter. Christmas week came round and churches announced in their programs. "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," the printer duly italicizing.—Kansas City Star.

Odd Natural Freaks

Fish that climb trees, monkeys that brush their teeth after meals and birds that sleep upside down are among the strange creatures discovered in the Malay peninsula, according to a recent explorer. Another freak of this part of the world is a fish that flirts. It is the only swimming animal known to have a real wink.

A TALK WITH A CASS CITY MAN

Mr. Withey Tells Something of Interest to Cass City Folks.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Withey of Main street, should be mighty helpful here in Cass City.

O. A. Withey, farmer, Main Street, says: "I suffered from a dull ache over my kidneys and they acted irregularly. Mornings, I had such a backache, I could hardly do my work and often had to sit down to rest. After using a box of Doan's Pills, I was rid of the backaches and my strength returned."

Death of Lucy A. Smith—Mrs. Thomas Smith, whose death occurred Sunday, Oct. 25, of heart trouble, would have been 74 years of age on Nov. 2. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Newberry of the First Baptist church of Cass City, at the family residence, south and west of Gageton on Oct. 27. Burial was made in the Hillside cemetery at Gageton beside her husband who preceded her in death nine years ago. Lucy Lane was born in Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1852. When a young girl she came to Millington, Mich., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lane. Here her girlhood days were spent. She married a Mr. Pickle, who preceded her in death. She later became the wife of Thomas Smith, a widower with four small children. She took great pride in caring for this little family and never tired working for their interest. One child, Florence, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

She leaves to mourn her loss Mau at home, Florence of Marine City, Roy of California, and Mrs. John Noble of Oxford, two grandchildren, Bobbie and Billie Noble, three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Kennedy of Flint, Mrs. Orin Pierce of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Wesley McMullen of Bay City, and one brother, Jud Lane, of Millington, besides many nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Smith was a cordial hostess. Her home will be remembered as a place of social gatherings. She was especially fond of young people, and a very active member in the Baptist circle. She was also a member of the Gleaner lodge.

Your Own Sun
An electric arc lamp, which, when attached to the ordinary electric current socket in your home, produces light of 4,000 candle-power—equal to that of the sun—has been developed in London. It is said to produce the same effect as a sun bath.

Possible Explanation
A writer says Eskimos never spank their children. It probably would take most of the day to get the children undressed to a degree where a spanking would be noticed.—Kansas City Star.

Freddy Scored One
Bobby and Freddy were discussing the relative prowess of their two big brothers. Said Bobby: "My brother rows stroke on his college crew. I suppose you didn't know that?" Freddy was not much impressed. He replied promptly: "What of it? My brother is too big to get into the boat. I suppose you didn't know that?"

Empty Majority
Never worry about a "foolish majority." If it is foolish it won't remain a majority very long.—Duluth Herald.

Use Northern Hemlock for Strength & Stability

Look for the Grade-mark on end of every board or piece. Three suitable grades for structural uses.

Grade-marked HEMLOCK
is more than "just lumber"

Native Hemlock has long been favorably known for immunity to dry-rot, an important factor in the life of your building. Free of resin, it takes and holds paints and stains perfectly. Add to this the extra strength factor in Extra Standard Size Hemlock Joists and Studding and you'll appreciate the many advantages and investment value in Northern Hemlock buildings.

YES, IT PAYS TO USE GOOD LUMBER OF KNOWN QUALITY. SAVE MONEY! USE THE GRADE THAT FITS THE JOB. BUY BY THE GRADE-MARK.

FEED FROM THE CHECKERBOARD BAGS

When You See This Sign Drop In and Visit Us!

We want to show you how to make more profits from your cattle, horses, hogs and poultry. We want to lower your cost of production per pound of gain, per gallon of milk, per dozen of eggs. If we can't do that we don't want your business. Could anything be fairer? The Purina system of feeding has proved its claims in all parts of the country and we are determined to prove it here. That's why we have put up this new sign you see reproduced above—to remind you to come in and let us PROVE to you that Purina Chows get results.

Purina Chows are more than just feeds. Each Chow is a part of a balanced feeding method, worked out by feeding experts.

We don't expect you to stop feeding your home-grown crops. We just want to show you how to supplement your home-grown grains with Purina Chows. How about it? Let's get together and talk things over.

ninth, must be consecutive. Enrollment in a school for a period of three weeks or more, or competing in one or more interscholastic athletic contests, shall be considered enrollment for a semester under this rule.

Note: On September 1, 1926, this section will read as follows: "No student shall compete in any branch of athletics who has enrolled in grades nine to twelve more than eight semesters. Enrollment in a school for a period of three weeks or competing in one or more interscholastic contests, shall be considered enrollment for a semester under this rule."

Sec. 6. Any student who, after participating in an athletic contest as a member of a high school athletic team, participates in an athletic contest as a member of any other similar team the same season, shall be ineligible for the remainder of that season.

Sec. 7. Any student who has used, or is using, his athletic skill or knowledge of athletics for gain, or who has competed on any college team, or who has played with a professional team, or who has contested with professional athletes where the entry is as an individual, or who has competed under an assumed name, shall be ineligible for any contest.

Sec. 8. No student shall compete in any contest who does not have a passing grade from the beginning of the semester the date seven calendar days prior to the contest, in studies aggregating at least fifteen school periods of recitation per week. In determining the number of school periods of recitation per week under this rule reviews, extra curricular work and physical training shall not be counted.

Sec. 9. No student shall compete in any contest during any semester who does not have to his credit on the books of the school that he represents at least fifteen hours of work for that semester immediately preceding, during which he shall have been enrolled in grades 9 to 12 inclusive for a period of three weeks or more during which he shall have taken part in an interscholastic athletic contest. In determining the number of hours credit during the semester under this rule the usual credit allowed by the school shall be given, but reviews, extra curricular work and physical training shall not be credited. Deficiencies may not be made up during a subsequent semester for qualification purposes that semester. The record at the end of a semester shall be final under this rule.

Sec. 10. Any student who accepts from any source a sweater, jersey, or any other awards, exceeding one dollar in value other than those usually given such as medals, ribbons, and letters, shall be ineligible for any interscholastic contest.

Sec. 11. No student who has been enrolled as a high school student in any high school shall be permitted to participate in any interscholastic contest as a member of any other high school until he has enrolled in such high school for one full semester unless the parents of such students actually change their residence to the second school district. In the latter case, the student will be as eligible as he was in the school from which he withdrew. A student must be enrolled not later than Monday of the fourth week of the semester to qualify for a full semester's enrollment under this rule.

Caro to Forfeit All Grid Games

Caro high school football team must forfeit all foot ball games played to date this season, because Harold Crane, who came to Caro from Ypsilanti this fall and has been playing on the team, has been declared ineligible by A. W. Thompson of Lansing, state director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. Crane has participated in all games played this season with the exception of the second team game against Reese.

It is a rule of the Association that students changing their residence and attending different schools cannot play with the team of the school to which they change until they have been there one semester, unless the player's parents have also changed their residence. Crane came to Caro to live with his uncle, C. D. Crane, and his disbarment from athletics for the rest of the semester is because of the above technicality. Mr. Thompson stated to Superintendent Wilber that Vassar was the school which had questioned Crane's eligibility.—Advertiser.
