HEAVY TAXPAYERS IN ELKLAND TWP.

TAX ROLL SHOWS 31 WHOSE TAXES EXCEED $250 EACH
IN 1925.

Lower Tax Rate Brings a Reduction of $1.20 on Each Thousand Valuation in Elkland.

Elkland township's taxes this year will total $54,750.24, which is $3,428.00 less than in 1924. This will make a reduction in tax of approximately $1.20 on a thousand dollar valuation. The value of real estate and personal property in the township is $2,211,800.00.

Elkland's tax total is made up of the following items:

State tax	$7055.85
County tax	9071.22
County road tax	2194.65
Township contingent tax	1700.00
Township rectoring tax	25.16
Cemetery tax	500.00

J. H. Striffler	485.74
J. D. Tuckey	250.41
Wood & Schenck	257.94

The above list is taken as they appear on the tax roll and no attempt has been made to record any changes of taxpayers made through transfers of property since the supervisor's visit last spring. There are other citizens in the township who will pay more than $250 tax whose names are not included in the list mentioned in this article, but their tax is not assessed directly to them, as their property or a part of it may be owned jointly with another party or parties.

James Tennant, the township treasurer, expects to commence taking in taxes on December 1st.

Boulevard Lights Have Been Placed

The Michigan Electric Power Co. has been making good headway in changing the wiring system of Cass City and before many days the unsightly poles, wires and transformers will be moved from the Main St. business section to the alleys. The boulevard lights have been placed along Main Street on the staggering system, five posts to the block.

David Steele, foreman of the construction crew, who has supervised the changes for the power company in the Thumb, says that Cass City has the finest streets of any town in this district. He is favorably impressed with the plan of the village streets in general and with the wide and roomy thoroughfares.

Quietly Married Here on Saturday

Ray S. Colwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Colwell, and Miss Bertha Blot of Snover were quietly married Saturday, November 14, at high noon at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. I. W. Cargo officiating. They were attended by Miss Vera Shaw and Keith Shaw of Decker, niece and nephew of the groom. After a luncheon at the home of the groom, the happy couple left for Oscoda, where Mr. Colwell is employed as principal and mathematics instructor in the public schools.

Mrs. Colwell is a member of the 1923 graduating class of Sandusky high school and also of the Detroit Business Institute. For two years, she has been employed as bookkeeper at the Snover Co-operative Elevator Company.

Mr. Colwell is a graduate of the Cass City high school, class of 1920. He attended Albion College and Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, graduating from the latter school in 1922. Since that time, his time has been divided serving as principal of the Olivet high school, being employed in a bakery at Marlette, and in the schools at Oscoda.

The best wishes of the friends go with them to their home at Oscoda.

Hold Claim on the Thumb Championship
Cass City high school, for the first time in years, has an equal claim to the Thumb championship. Cass City earned its claim when it was held to a 6-6 score by Bad Axe's team last Thursday, Nov. 12. Only three teams are undefeated, Pigeon, Bad Axe and Cass City. One of the two first teams will be eliminated next Friday when Pigeon and Bad Axe play, leaving Cass City and either Pigeon or Bad Axe to play off the rubber.

Last Thursday, as in the Pigeon game, the Cass City lads outplayed their opponents during the greater part of the game. The local men took the ball from the kick-off and carried it for 60 yards on straight line plunging. Being temporarily halted near their goal line, they dropped back from where Benkelman kicked goal. The score stood 3-0 for Cass City at the end of the first half. Bad Axe was completely outplayed in this first half, being hardly able to make the first down.

In the third quarter, Bad Axe spruced up and carried the ball to Cass City's 25-yard line, from where they scored a touchdown. They failed in kicking goal for the extra point. Incidentally, that was the first touchdown made against Cass City this year by any of the Thumb teams. This put Bad Axe in the lead, 6-3.

From then on, Bad Axe did not have a look-in. Cass City had the ball in their possession most of the time. Aided by McConnell's great forward pass, they carried the ball into Bad Axe's territory from where John Benkelman's educated toe was able to kick goal from the 35-yard line, tying the score 6-6. It was a great kick, considering the condition of the field and the ball. It was a great game played in the field of mud and water. The man that scored Bad Axe's touchdown was tackled by McConnell behind his line of scrimmage, but Carl's wet hands slipped off his muddy uniform and he carried the ball over.

McBurney, McConnell, Hartwick, Benkelman, Fiddymont and Gowen starred for the locals. In fact, the whole team played wonderful football and all of them deserve a lot of credit. McBurney once caught a pass and ran 30 yards before being downed. He played under a handicap, having sprained his ankle a couple of nights before the game.

The conditions for the game were anything but suitable. The field was wet in the beginning, and it rained throughout the game. The Bad Axe boys showed up well. They are likely to defeat Pigeon Friday, for once they get started, they are hard to stop.

Cass City High wishes to thank the townspeople for the support they received at this game and in the preceding games of the year.
Cass City plays at Marlette today (Friday), if weather permits.

Funeral of Mrs. A. C. Bader Held Nov. 9

The funeral of Mrs. A. C. Bader was held on Monday, Nov. 9, at St. Joseph's church at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Bader was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, pioneers of Fond du Lac. She died at St. Agnes Hospital where she was brought for treatment from Los Angeles, California. She entered the hospital on Oct. 31, and while every medical aid possible was rendered, her ailment had progressed beyond the point where help was possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Bader made their home in Los Angeles for the past two years and prior to that time resided in Cincinnati, Ohio. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bader have visited relatives in Cass City regularly, Mr. Bader being the son of Mrs. Eleanor Bader.

The news came rather as a shock to friends and relatives and sympathy is extended to Mr. Bader.

Mrs. E. Travis Died at Shabbona

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Travis, who passed away at her home in Shabbona on Friday at 3:30 p. m., were held at the Shabbona M. E. church Sunday, Rev. John Willerton officiating. Burial was in Novesta cemetery.

Elizabeth Davis was born September 7, 1845, in Ontario, where she lived until her marriage to Jarvis Travis, April 7, 1862. Mr. and Mrs. Travis moved to Memphis, Michigan, in April of the following year. In 1883, the family came to Evergreen township where they have resided for the past 42 years.

Mr. Travis answered the Heavenly call 34 years ago. After her husband's death, Mrs. Travis remained on the farm until nine years ago, when she moved to her Shabbona home. It always was her wish to remain in her own home, and this privilege she has enjoyed.

Of the five children, two sons and two daughters are now living. One son, Ezra, preceded the mother in death ten years ago. Two children, Mrs. Judson Bullis and Alva Travis, both of Alberta, were unable to be present at the services. Mrs. Loren Churchill and Lewis Travis have enjoyed the privilege of being with their mother to the end.

FOR EFFICIENCY IN MAIL SERVICE

POSTMASTER HUNTER GIVES VALUABLE INFORMATION TO MAIL PATRONS.

Time of Year Approaching When Mail Will Be Flooded with Parcels; Co-operate.

Postmaster E. Hunter urges co-operation on the part of all in postal service and assures patrons more efficient delivery if a few simple rules and regulations are followed out. The postmaster says:

The season of the year is approaching when the mails will be flooded with parcels. The number of improperly packed and insufficiently addressed parcels that we are receiving, especially from the rural routes, suggests to us that a few remarks along this line will result in better postal service.

The address should be placed on the lower right hand corner of the largest face of the parcel.
The address should be printed in ink.
The address should be on the parcel, not on a tag. Parcels addressed by a tag only will not be accepted. Stickers or gummed labels are acceptable but it is better to put the address on the wrapper than to put it on other paper and then try to stick it to the parcel with flour and water.

The address should also be inclosed inside of the parcel. An invoice of the contents may also be inclosed.
The address should be on one side of the parcel only. This prevents insured, C. O. D. or special delivery parcels from being delivered as ordinary mail.

Your return address should also be in the upper left-hand corner of the address side of the parcel. Parcels without a return address are not mailable.
Old labels and stamps should be removed before returning or remailing a parcel. Patrons in returning parcels frequently try to make over an old address label so that the old address will become the return address and the old return address the new address. Such parcels are not mailable and will not be accepted.

A letter of instructions, etc., with a two cent stamp affixed, can be fastened to the outside of a parcel, but any message inclosed inside of a parcel subjects the whole parcel to the first class rate of postage and the mailer to a $50 fine.

Packages should be packed so that the contents will not rattle or slide around inside of the container.
Packages containing perishable or fragile articles should be marked to show the nature of the contents.
Shoe boxes or other light paste-board boxes are not good containers and will not be accepted unless they are wrapped with heavy paper.

Postmasters are allowed to require at least three thicknesses of paper on every package.
Heavy cord should be used in tying packages. Some people have been trying to use thread or darned floss. We either retie these packages or return them.
Do not seal a parcel. Some concerns who have a specially prepared label are allowed to seal parcels, but unless you have these printed labels you will be charged the first class rate of postage on your sealed parcel.

Many times the rural carriers re-pack your parcels in order to make them mailable rather than return them to you and cause a delay. A little extra care and a good strong string makes most of the difference between a quick delivery and a lost parcel.

Cass City Again Shows Up on Detroit's Map

The board of commissioners of the Detroit House of Correction on Nov. 17 made A. Blake Gillies assistant superintendent of that institution. This comes as a fitting tribute to Mr. Gillies' ability.

Mr. Gillies, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gillies of Cass City, went to the Detroit institution in 1920, taking a position as shop officer. About four months later, he was made hall master, over the heads of many who had been there for years. A year later he was made assistant deputy superintendent. Six months after, he took up the social service work, but later returned to the post of assistant deputy. A year ago he was made superintendent of maintenance and now he takes another step toward the top by being chosen assistant superintendent.

Mr. Gillies has made his way by himself and is one go-getter in the institution and it is a common remark heard most every day about the prison "If you want it done, see-Gillies."

COMING AUCTIONS.

A. L. Bruce & Son will have an auction sale on Monday, Nov. 23, at the premises 1/2 mile east of Deford. Particulars were printed in the Chronicle last week.

W. J. Brown has decided to quit farming, and will have a farm auction 1 1/2 miles west of Cumber on Tuesday, Nov. 24, commencing at 12:30 sharp. Thos. Stahlbaum is the auctioneer.

Frank Simkins is going to move to Pontiac and will have an auction sale 2 miles east and 1 mile north of Gageton on Friday, Nov. 27. Turnbull Bros. are the auctioneers.

107 Attended the November Banquet

One hundred seven attended the November meeting of the Cass City Community club and enjoyed the banquet served by the ladies of the Baptist church on Tuesday evening.

Following community singing, Roy Bricker spoke of the need of better mail service for Cass City and nearby towns in the Thumb and President Auten appointed S. B. Young, Roy Taylor and Frank Reid to serve as a committee to work for the betterment of mail conditions. Mr. Bricker then spoke words of commendation regarding the long and trustworthy service of James Tennant, who recently sold his business here after a half century in the harness.

Mr. Auten then introduced the four recent arrivals in business circles who are M. D. Hart, Maurice Schonmuller, Floyd Kinde and George Elliott.

F. A. Bigelow, in behalf of the club, heartily welcomed the new business men to Cass City. He showed how friendliness is replacing the animosity which formerly existed between competitors and pointed out that there are better things in life than wealth. A town may become a successful one by a hearty co-operation of its citizens even if great wealth is not confined within its borders.

Rev. Cargo announced President Butterfield of the Michigan State College as the speaker at the next meeting of the club which will be held on Thursday, Dec. 10.

Rev. Wm. Schnug introduced his friend, Dr. Peterson, of Pontiac, as the speaker of the evening.

In his remarks on "Playing the Game of Life," Dr. Peterson referred to Coach Yost who recently said that given an ordinary team of eleven men, with four plays, he could whip out an organization which would clean up any football team, providing each man on his team did his part. Dr. Peterson emphasized the fact that in the game of life the individual should be developed to his highest degree, that he should learn to play "with the team," make the front line strong and have a worthy goal in view. He stressed the responsibility of the older generation toward the youth of today. The address, in which the speaker held the close attention of his audience, contained a plea for the development of a better manhood.

Mrs. Ferguson Passed Away on Monday

The funeral of Mrs. Lucina A. Ferguson was held at the Presbyterian church at Cass City on Thursday afternoon, Rev. Wm. Schnug officiating. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Mrs. Ferguson's death occurred at the home of her son, Alfred E. Goodall, on Monday afternoon, Nov. 16. She had been in ill health for some time and suffered a stroke on the Thursday preceding her demise.

Lucina Augusta Hines was born in Mount Hope, Ontario, on Jan. 17, 1855, and was united in marriage with Wm. Goodall on Nov. 26, 1873. Six children were born to them, three of whom preceded their mother in death. Mr. Goodall died in 1885. The following year, Mrs. Goodall and Jas. Ferguson were married. They came to Michigan from Ontario in 1886.

Mr. Ferguson passed away on July 23, 1909. Two children of this marriage survive the parents.

Mrs. Ferguson has been a resident of this community for nearly 39 years and will long be remembered as a woman who delighted in doing good deeds. She was especially helpful in homes where illness prevailed and many neighbors cherish her memory because of her kindness in times of trouble and distress. Mrs. Ferguson was a member of the Presbyterian church.

She leaves five children, J. H. Goodall, A. E. Goodall and Mrs. Chas. Doerr, all of Cass City, R. H. Goodall of Carruthers, Sask., and Mrs. F. C. Johnson of Royal Oak, five brothers, one sister and one half-brother.

OCTOBER WEATHER CAUSED BIG LOSS

CORN CROP IN MICHIGAN IS THE LARGEST ON RECORD.

Ten Per Cent of State's Potato Crop
Is Estimated a Loss Because of Freeze.

Probably the weather of no single month in history caused as great a loss to Michigan farmers as resulted during October of this year. The prospect for all late crops was excellent up to October 1 which, with generally good prices prevailing, caused a more optimistic feeling among agriculturists than had prevailed in several years. But frequent rains, heavy snow, and several days of severe cold weather has changed the situation very materially, according to the November 1 report issued by L. Whitney Watkins, commissioner of agriculture, and Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician, U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

A considerable portion of the acreage of beans, potatoes, apples, buckwheat, clover seed, and sugar beets remained to be harvested during October, to which adverse weather conditions caused heavy losses. As these are not all harvested yet, the extent of the losses cannot be fully determined at this time. Weather conditions during November will govern the amount that can be harvested and to some extent will influence the quality.

Corn—The crop matured well and the yield is good in all sections except some counties in the northern part of the state which were severely affected by drought during the summer. Wet weather has delayed cutting and husking, and is making it difficult to dry the grain properly. The average yield for the state is 40 bushels per acre, or a total crop of 67,440,000 bushels, the largest on record for the state. The quality is rated at 83 per cent as compared with 42 per cent last year and 77 per cent, the ten-year average. Silage corn was unusually heavy this year. The disposition of the crop is estimated to be as follows: for husking, 60 per cent; for silage, 31 per cent; and for forage and hogging down, 9 per cent.

The estimated production for the entire country is 3,013,390,000 bushels, a gain of more than one-half billion bushels over last year, and slightly less than the 1923 crop.

Potatoes—Minimum temperatures of from 10 to 24 degrees were recorded on four different dates during the month of October. There were several inches of snow on the ground over the northern half of the state at the time, and a lesser covering over the southern half. About 30 per cent of the crop was still undug at the end of the month, and progress in digging has been delayed since that time by unfavorable weather. Only a small per cent of the potatoes in some fields seem to be frozen, but in others where the tubers lay near the surface and the snow covering was light the percentage of loss was quite heavy. While it is too early to say definitely, the loss is expected to approximate ten per cent of the total crop of 26,300,000 bushels. The quality is estimated to be 90 per cent.

The total crop of the United States is placed at 346,503,000 bushels, a Turn to page 2.

Jas. G. Read Laid to Rest on Wednesday
James G. Read, for 40 years a respected and honored citizen of Greenleaf township, passed away at his home on Friday, Nov. 13, after a long illness. Funeral services were held from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Wm. Schnug officiating. Interment was made in the Elkland cemetery.

James G. Read was born in Baubury, England, Aug. 11, 1846, coming to America in childhood and settling in Ingersoll, Ont., where he spent his earlier years. July 7, 1870, he was united in marriage with Isabella Chrystal of Nizora, Ont. To this union seven children were born: Wm. M., of San Diego, Calif.; Percy G. of Novesta, Walter Joseph, who passed away Mar. 1, 1925, Charles M. of Oveland, Calif.; Chrystal E. of Detroit, Lawrence, who died at the age of two years, and Marion A.

Mr. Read, with his wife and four sons, came to Caro 46 years ago, moving to Greenleaf township a few months later, where with the exception of six years spent in Homestead, Pa., he has lived the remaining years. He was a life member of Tlyer Lodge, F. & A. M.

Besides his widow and five children, he leaves five grand children and two half brothers, Thomas Cross of Cass City and Harry Cross of Langeneril, Quebec.

OCTOBER WEATHER
CAUSED BIG LOSS

slight gain over one month ago, but 108 millions less than last year and between 35 and 40 millions under the normal requirements.

Beans—Very little harvesting could be done during October and many fields will be a total loss. Some are being harvested during November with varying percentages of quality. About 30 per cent of the crop was still in the fields on November 1, the percentage being largest in some of the heaviest producing counties. The losses are heaviest in Macomb and St. Clair counties but are severe in nearly all other bean growing districts. From present indications, the loss of acreage may reach 20 per cent. A special inquiry resulted in an estimated pick of 10.5 per cent and an average yield of 12 bushels per acre from the acreage which has been and will be harvested. Weather conditions during the next few days will have an important bearing on the situation.

Clover Seed—The average yield of clover seed is estimated at 1.5 bushels per acre as compared with 1.2 last year. Much damage has been caused by rains and a heavy fall of snow, and many acres are still in the fields. How much of this will be saved and threshed will not be known until a later date. The quality is rated at 85 per cent as compared with 86 last year.

Apples—The total apple crop amounted to 11,050,000 bushels against a production last year of 7,333,000 bushels. The estimate of commercial production is 1,916,000 barrels. The crop was of fine quality except for under-size in some of the northern counties where dry weather prevailed during much of the summer, and local damage from a late brood of codling moth that attacked many orchards after spraying had ceased. The quality is rated at 80 per cent as compared with 67 per cent last year and a ten-year average of 78 per cent. A considerable quantity of the winter fruit was still unharvested when the severe freezing weather occurred and this portion, which is expected to approximate ten per cent of the total crop, is a total loss except possibly for cider purposes. In some localities, especially the apple counties of the northern half of the Lower Peninsula, the loss ranges from 25 to 50 per cent of the winter varieties.

The report on United States' production is for a total crop of 171,264,000 bushels, about eight millions less than last year. The commercial portion amounts to 31,312,000 barrels or about two and one-half million more than the 1924 crop. The average quality is given as 76.6 per cent.

Sugar Beets—Only a small percentage was harvested before Nov. 1, due to exceptionally unfavorable weather and the wet condition of the fields. The condition is reported at 91 per cent, the prospective average yield being around nine tons per acre, or a total production of 986,000 tons.

Marjorie Wood
Weds at Birmingham

The following paragraphs are taken from a Birmingham (Alabama) newspaper. They give an account of the wedding of Miss Marjorie Wood, daughter of Andrew Wood, both of whom are known to many Cass City people.

"A lovely nuptial event of the season, characterized by beautiful simplicity, took place on Monday at twilight at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wood, when Miss Marjorie Wood became the bride of Mr. James Thompson Vann. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Nellie Adams rendered a program of nuptial music, assisted by Mr. J. D. McGill, who sang 'At Dawning.'

Before an improvised altar of palms, smilax, standards of caryssthemums and burning tapers, the marriage vows were spoken, the impressive ring ceremony being used, the Rev. J. H. Vann officiating, assisted by Dr. George R. Stuart, the bride's pastor.

"To the strains of Mendelsshon's Wedding March, played by Miss Leona Lewis, the bridal party entered the living room, the aisle being formed by ribbons, held by Jack and Pickard Williams, little cousins of the bride. Miss Elizabeth Wood acted as her sister's maid of honor and her only attendant. She wore a becoming gown of orchid georgette, over satin, trimmed in crystal beads and carried yellow caryssthemums. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. A. W. Wood, and was never more lovely than in her bridal robe of white crepe over bridal ring satin. Her veil was made coronet fashion with orange blossoms around the forehead. The groom was attended by Mr. John Lovin, who acted as best man.

"Following the ceremony an informal reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wood being assisted in receiving by the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Vann, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. E. Pickard, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Crowe. In the dining room, Miss Leona Lewis, Miss Nellie Adams and Miss Sarah Duncan, of Atlanta, served the guests with ices and individual cakes, embossed in orange blossoms.

"The table was lovely with tall burning tapers and centered with the wedding cake, formed in the ring style.

"The bride is a charming and accomplished young woman, a gifted musician, being organist at the present time of one of the city churches. Since her graduation from Shorter college, she has enjoyed a wide popularity and has been much feted. The groom, a graduate of Emory university, where he was a popular member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He now holds a responsible position with the T. C. I. company."

IT HAS LASTED

Cass City People Must Believe Such Convincing Testimony as Mrs. Gale's.

No one in Cass City who suffers backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this twice-told story of a Cass City resident. It is confirmed testimony, telling of lasting benefit from Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. It's evidence that no man or woman in Cass City can doubt.

Mrs. E. Gale, 3rd St., says: "I was bothered with backache and my kidneys were out of order. I found quick relief by using Doan's Pills."

Over three years later, Mrs. Gale said: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Pills since I recommended them and I believe my cure is permanent."

Barn and Silo of Tile Construction Durable Addition to Farm Buildings

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to WILLIAM A. RADFORD, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

It is not at all uncommon to see silos built of monolithic concrete construction, concrete blocks or tile, but complete barns of this type are rare in most localities. There is no reason, however, why such construction cannot often be used to advantage. It possesses many qualities which recommend it, the most conspicuous of which is, of course, its fire resistance. This is a point which can well be given serious consideration. A fire on the farm usually means a total loss, and often spreads to other farm buildings besides the one in which it originated.

This construction also does away with the necessity of periodical painting which is required for the preservation of most buildings. An example of this construction and its neat and permanent appearance is shown in the illustration. Here is a barn which is suited to the needs of the moderate sized farm. It provides for the care of 18 dairy cows, calves, bull and horses.

The foundation is of concrete and there is also a belt of concrete at the level of the ceiling. This breaks the expanse of wall in a manner which adds greatly to the neat appearance of the building. All of the outer walls, except where the concrete is used, are of tile construction and the silo is of the same material. The roof is also of highly fire-resistant roofing material, though any of the usual types of roof may be applied.

Suggestions

Face brick by its texture and color lends itself happily to many designs. Refrigerators of approved type often prove to be efficient silent salesmen. Concrete mixers of approved standard more than earn their way on the job.

Steel casements have many advantages in the way of appearance and weather-tightness.

Wall board of superior type can be used for artistic interiors on both simple and elaborate jobs.

Waterproofing of exterior brickwork and cement will result in beautification of the surface as well as preservation.

Concrete mixers prove their value to the contractor by their speed on the job and the ease with which they can be moved.

Location of Switch

A good thing to remember when planning the electrical equipment of the new home is to have the switches for the various rooms located near the entrance used the most. This is just a little thing, but will do away with much "cussing" later, and quite a few barked shins. Another good plan is to have an arrangement whereby the hall and basement lights can be turned off from any floor.

Interior Hardware

The locks on the inner doors of the home are just as deserving of attention and careful selection as those for entrance doors. Too many builders think that any hardware will do for the inside doors, a mistake that often and expensively "comes home to roost." Watch the selection of your interior hardware.

Insulation

Too many home builders regard insulation as an unnecessary part of any but the frame house. Whether your home is of frame or of brick, stone, concrete or stucco, you will find proper insulation a most valuable part of its construction.

Two large ventilators are placed in the roof to provide for the carrying off of all foul air and there are many windows along the sides to provide the fresh air and sunlight which are so essential to healthy stock as well as the comfort of the men who most care for the stock and barn.

The usual doors are placed at each end of the barn with the central litter alley providing a straight drive through. There are also two small doors at one end, one opening into the bull pen and the other into a feed alley, and another small door on one side near the opposite end. At one end of the barn there are two horse stalls at each side of the entrance, and the litter alleys behind these may be closed by means of doors. Next there is a passage extending across the barn from the small side door. Beyond this passage are the rows of cow stalls on each side of the litter alley. Stalls for nine cows are provided in each row, and these stalls are of the modern steel type. Gutters behind the stalls assist in keeping them clean at all times, and a litter carrier may be run down the center of the litter alley to facilitate the disposal of litter.

At the end of one row of cow stalls is a calf pen, 8 feet by 10 feet, and at the end of the other row a bull pen, 10 1/2 feet by 13 feet. Both of these pens have doors opening from the center alley.

The silo is placed at the corner of the barn nearest to the calf pen and directly opposite the door into the feed alley. From it a feed carrier rack may be run into the barn and along the two feed alleys at the sides to serve all of the stalls with the least possible manual labor. Above the stock floor of this barn is a large loft which provides plenty of storage space for feed for all the stock which this barn will house.

Good Roof on Home Is Real Economy

Much has been written and much has been said on the subject of roofs, but one can never emphasize too much the importance of choosing a roof which will withstand the hard usage of the climate in which the building is constructed.

The old-fashioned wooden shingle in most communities is almost a thing of the past. Indeed, most progressive cities and suburbs have passed fire ordinances which forbid their use. These ordinances name a number of products which can be used, however, such as the newer manufactured shingles which have made their appearance in the last few years.

Most of these shingles have, in addition to their practical fireproof qualities, the added attraction of beauty. Where, in the past, the builder had only the choice of the wooden shingle which turned black in a season or two, he may now put on his home a roof of beauty as well as quality.

Many roofing concerns maintain service departments to which a prospective builder may go and get advice as to what color would go well with the style of house he is to build. At any rate, a few minutes with your architect will keep you from making the mistake of putting a roof that is an eyesore on a house that is otherwise perfect.

House Framing

Wooden houses built in the Colonial period were framed with heavy members of carefully selected timbers. Frames were braced so as to give great resistance to any motion that would throw the walls and floors out of alignment. In present-day framing we use smaller pieces with a larger number of them than in the old type of framing. It is possible to get with these as permanent construction as we find in the old buildings. This means adequate bracing and good nailing. Do not omit sheathing or sub-flooring. Bridging and bracing are an insurance against failure.

DAIRY

AVERAGE COW IS NOT GOOD ENOUGH

The average American dairy cow is not good enough, according to Dr. C. W. Larson, chief, United States bureau of dairying. In an address before the National Dairy club, at Chicago recently he characterized the greatest need of the dairy industry at this time as not an increase in the number of cows, but a greater production per cow. The average yearly yield of cows in this country is around 4,000 pounds of milk and 150 pounds of butterfat. Through intensive studies made by the bureau it was found that a cow producing this amount of milk and butterfat in one year furnishes an income of $26 over cost of feed. It was further shown that cows capable of producing 8,000 pounds of milk and 300 pounds of butterfat in a like period returned an income over feed cost of $74.

The most practical and least expensive way for the average dairyman to increase the profits from his milking herd is through the cow-testing association and the use of a good pure-bred sire. An example of the greater profits possible by careful selection of cows, systematic weighing and testing of milk, proper feeding and the use of a good bull, is shown in the Allentown-Kohlsville Cow-Testing association of Wisconsin at the 1924 National Dairy exposition. Ten immature cows in this association, all daughters of the same pure-bred bull, produced an average of 1,488 pounds more milk and 70 pounds more butterfat in one year than did their dams at mature age. The outstanding exhibits of interest to the largest number of dairy farmers at the National Dairy exposition held this year at Indianapolis, October 10 to 17, again are devoted to these lessons. The comprehensive exhibit of the United States bureau of dairying and those of the national breed and state dairy associations and the leading state agricultural colleges will have special application to the good results obtained through cow-testing association work and the pure-bred sire.

Eradicate Tuberculosis in Utah Dairy Section

A noteworthy advance in the nationwide campaign against bovine tuberculosis occurred during June in a new sector. Cache (pronounced Cash) county, Utah, completed a systematic tuberculosis test of its 23,000 cattle, which showed less than one-half of 1 per cent infection. This very small extent of the disease, together with the fact that all reactors were removed, won for Cache county a place on the United States Department of Agriculture's list of "modified accredited areas."

It is the first county in Utah to have that distinction, and department officials consider that the leadership of Cache county will stimulate similar activity in other counties of the region. This will greatly advance the progress of systematic tuberculosis testing in the West. Such a view is supported by the fact that another county has in the state already applied for a similar intensive test of its cattle. The county commissioners of Summit county voted $500 toward the work which is now in progress.

A survey of the state indicates that the percentage of tuberculous infection in cattle is less than 1 per cent. This low figure and the growing sentiment in favor of the work give promise of an active state-wide campaign.

Prevent Mold in Butter by Sanitary Measures

Moldy butter, which takes a toll of many thousands of dollars from creameries every year, can be absolutely controlled and prevented, says Harold Macy, bacteriologist for the division of dairy husbandry of the University of Minnesota. He points out that molds are living plants and must be present and alive to do any damage. If they are excluded or destroyed, there will be no moldiness of the butter.

Chief of steps to be taken in excluding molds, says Mr. Macy, are pasteurization of all cream, the emptying, cleaning, and sterilizing of the butter milk tank every few days, and the use of two sets of cans by farmer patrons of the creamery, one set for transporting cream to the creamery and the other for taking buttermilk back to the farms. Sanitary piping and pumps must, of course, be provided and be kept clean and sterilized. Only pure, low acid starters, made from thoroughly pasteurized milk and pure cultures and kept in sterilized containers, should be used. Paraffin tubes and treated parchment are indispensable. And, finally, the butter should be stored in a cool, clean, dry, and well ventilated room.

Dairy Notes

Cow-testing associations rid herds of pickpockets. Roughage is not a sufficient feed for good dairy cows, especially if it is somewhat poor in quality. Groom the cows vigorously twice per day. It will help to prevent fly annoyance and will increase production

Church Calendar.

Erskine United Presbyterian—Last Sabbath was an eventful day in Erskine church. It marked the completion of Rev. F. T. Kyle's 12th year as pastor of this congregation. At the close of the morning sermon Mr. Kyle made some interesting remarks on the work accomplished and the progress made in the 12 years. On Monday evening following, a happy company of Erskine people assembled at the parsonage to help Mr. Kyle and his sister celebrate this 12th anniversary of their labors among them. This was a surprise to the occupants of the manse. But surprises are usually in happy spirit and this was no exception. The evening passed pleasantly with conversation, music and refreshments. After this, Douglas Leitch, a member of the Session, was called on and responded in a happy and complimentary speech. Others spoke in the same vein. To this, Mr. and Miss Kyle responded in an appropriate manner. This was followed by a psalm and a prayer when the company dispersed, happy in good fellowship and grateful for the blessings of the Lord.

The ladies' aid met Wednesday this week with Mrs. Lewis Law. The young people's class in Christian education will meet with Willie McCallister on Friday evening, the 20th. This study is proving very interesting and the next lesson will be better still. You can begin any time. Let us have a houseful Friday evening. The Sabbath morning service will be the annual thank offering of our missionary societies. The pastor will preach an appropriate sermon. All are invited to take part in this.

Thursday of next week is National Thanksgiving Day. We will observe it by a service at 9:30 a. m. You are invited. We will be pleased to have other churches having no such service to join with us.

F. T. KYLE, Pastor.

Evangelical—Bible study, 10:00 a. m. Sermon, 11:00. Theme, "Thankfulness." Senior and Junior Leagues at 6:45 p. m. Song service and preaching at 7:30.

Our third quarterly conference will convene on Friday evening, Nov. 27, Rev. G. Knechtel presiding.

C. F. SMITH, Minister.

Methodist Episcopal—Ira W. Cargo, pastor. Services Sunday, Nov. 22—Class meeting at 10:00, morning worship with sermon, "True Gratitude" at 10:30; Sunday School at 12:00; Epworth League at 6:30; evening worship with sermon "Where Are the Nine," at 7:30. The union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Everyone is most cordially invited to these services.

Church of Christ—There will be services at the Church of Christ on Sunday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, at which time a speaker will give a lecture on "The Near East Relief" and its work. All are cordially invited.—By order of committee.

Baptist—10:30, morning service. Subject, "What Is a Christian?" 12:00 m., Bible school. 7:30, evening service. Subject, "The City that Voted Him Out." To these services you are heartily invited.

A. G. NEWBERRY, Pastor.

Thanksgiving Service—That more may have a chance to attend this service, the pastors have planned to hold it Wednesday evening at 7:30, at the Baptist church. Let us plan to gather and express to God our hearty appreciation for the blessings of the past year.

First Presbyterian—Morning worship at 10:30 a. m. Sermon, "God's Wonders in the Dark." Sunday School at 12:00 m.

Sad losses have ye met, But mine is heavier yet For a believing heart hath gone from me! God needs you. The church needs you.

Evening worship at 7:30 p. m. Sermon, "Religion's Dangerous Ages." The evening service is made especially attractive by our splendid young people's choir. Mrs. McNamee, director. Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Baptist church. All the churches and the entire community unite in thanks unto God.

Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

WM. SCHNUG, Minister.

MONEY STOLEN FROM THE DOERR BAKERY

Doerr's Bakery was entered early Friday morning and a sum of money stolen. Albert Milne and Dawson Kosanke were arrested at Clifford that day charged with the offense. Brought before Justice Isaac Cragg, Milne, charged with breaking and entering, waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court for trial. His companion, being a first offender, was charged with larceny, ordered to return the money to Mr. Doerr, pay costs of $10.00, and was placed on probation for one year by the justice.

ORRA C. KOSIER.

Orra C. Kosier, born at Kunkull, Ohio, Mar. 23, 1864, died at his home east of Edon, Ohio, Nov. 12, 1925, from an illness of several months' duration. He was the father of 11 children, 10 of whom survive him.

One died in childhood. Those who are left to mourn are his wife, Lillian Kosier, and children, David True, Mrs. Anna Hoffman and Mrs. Goldie Parks of Toledo, Ohio, Lavern of Perry, Mich., Mrs. Myrtle Pope of Shaftsbury, Mich., Mrs. Mary Dilbone of Coldwater, Ohio, Burt, Elmo and Orra at home, and 17 grandchildren.

Mrs. Kosier will be remembered as Lillian J. Geitgey, the daughter of Samuel and Lydia Geitgey, old residents of Cass City.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

June Popham underwent an operation Saturday, Nov. 7. She is still a patient at the hospital and is doing nicely. Billy McTaggart of Ubyly was operated on Saturday for removal of tonsils and adenoids.

Anna Koszen of Bad Axe entered the hospital Monday and underwent an emergency operation for gangrenous appendicitis.

Jack Siems of Caro was operated on Tuesday for removal of tonsils.

Mrs. Alma Russell of Palms was brought to the hospital Tuesday and underwent an operation Wednesday.

HENDERSON STOCK CO.

OPENS WEEK MONDAY

The Henderson Stock Co., one of Michigan's oldest and best theatrical organizations, will open a week's engagement at the Opera House, beginning Monday, Nov. 23.

On December 25 next, Mr. Henderson will celebrate his thirtieth anniversary of catering to the amusement world. He brings to Cass City this year one of the strongest series of plays he has ever carried, all of them new to repertoire.

The policy of the company for the past year has been good shows at low prices, and this policy Mr. Henderson believes is responsible for his success.

The Henderson Stock Co. is not a medicine show, nor a motion picture company, but a dramatic organization which has been playing in all parts of the country for three decades and which has been seen in many towns in the past seasons. The admission price is only 10 cents to everybody. —Advertisement. IR11-20-1

Fifth Grade—We lost our picture last month because of two tardy marks. We are looking forward to getting it this month.

In geography, we are studying the National Parks. We find the scope views almost as good as being there to see them.

Jr. High and High School—An orchestra has been organized, consisting of nine members, but we expect several more to enter after Christmas.

The Girl Scouts have planned a hike for Wednesday after school, in hope that a brisk walk will dispell the gloom of examination week.

The English Ten students have finished studying short stories and are about to start original stories. We expect it will be a very great exercise in imagination.

The first debate of the season will be held at the school house on Friday evening, Nov. 20, at eight o'clock. Cass City will uphold the affirmative and Caro the negative.

The American history classes, after a careful study of the League of Nations, voted as to whether the United States should enter the league or not. The result was 65 in favor and 9 against. All history classes are observing the American Educational week. For Tuesday we are writing an essay on the subject, "What the Flag Means."

The mathematics department has installed a new set of algebra drill books, which are proving very helpful.

Home Economics Department—Miss Wood, representing the Jello people, gave a very interesting Jello demonstration Friday afternoon. The town women were invited in to hear it, and it was very well attended. The demonstration was very instructive and interesting.

The ninth grade food class had a lesson in bread making Friday. The result was declared fine by the ladies.

The seventh and eighth grade classes are to commence some Christmas work as soon as they have finished their garment making.

Hot lunches will begin the week after Thanksgiving.

Agriculture Department—The field crops class is working on corn judging, the corn coming from Mr. Geddes, the greatest corn grower in Michigan.

Five boys expect to leave for the International Live Stock Show on Dec. 3. They will visit the Chicago board of trade, the International Harvester Co., the International Night Show, packing houses and Lincoln Park zoo. That is a lot to cram in three days, but they expect to do it.

Reporter, Letha Smith.

THE FLOWER IN THE BUTTONHOLE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

ARNOLD, though he was past fifty, used almost invariably to come down to his office in the morning with a flower in his buttonhole—a bright marigold, or a sprig of forget-me-nots, or a crimson rosebud. He liked variety.

Mrs. Arnold said that the flower made him look ten years younger, and Arnold, to please his wife, was willing to look less than middle aged.

The flower gave a certain tone to the office which we all felt we had to live up to, and though we never felt under the necessity of taking flowers ourselves, yet we did give somewhat more attention to our general appearance because of it. We couldn't go about careless and untidy with the perfume and color of the flower constantly in the office.

And Arnold himself repeated the experience of the woman who, having bought a pair of fine curtains for the parlor windows, found that ultimately she had to return them because she had to live up to the flower. His trousers were always carefully pressed; there was never a spot or a wrinkle upon his coat, and his linen was always immaculate, and his nails carefully manicured. There was nothing overfastidious about him; his general appearance was simply in proper keeping with the flower.

He always came into the office with his shoulders thrown back and an unmistakable appearance of being alive and well set up. One can drag his feet! his shoes are down at the heel or his trousers baggy, but not with a flower in one's buttonhole.

Arnold's desk was a model of order and neatness, and I used to ask myself if the flower in his buttonhole did not, perhaps, have something to do with that. It would seem incongruous to have one's desk untidy and littered up with dust and scraps of paper when one has a rose in his buttonhole.

We always thought, too, that the flower which he wore gave Arnold more poise, more self-control. He always spoke in a quiet voice, he never seemed to lose his temper or to show irritation, and he never descended to coarse or vulgar language as men often do. It seemed as if a man couldn't rage with the perfume of a gardenia permeating his office. The flower suggested refinement, and the man had to live up to the suggestion.

Possibly it was all our imagination in attributing so much influence and suggestion to the flower which Arnold wore, but, be that as it may, dress, and the small and seemingly insignificant details of dress, have much to do in giving every man self-respect, self-control, self-confidence even. A man sloppy and unkempt in his dress is more likely to be so in his manners, in his speech and in his ways of doing business.

It would help a lot of people to have a flower in the buttonhole.

Rejuvenated to Help the Reds

Clara Zetkin, "grandmother" of the German Communists, sixty-eight years old, has just submitted to a rejuvenation operation by Dr. Serge Voronoff, the gland specialist. Soviet Commissioner of Health Semashko, in expressing pleasure over the success of the operation, said that Communism must do everything possible to preserve the health of the experienced fighters who were dying of old age.

Happenings of a Quarter Century Ago

Taken from the Tri-County Chronicle, November 23, 1900.
 Thirty of the business men of Cass City met at the New Sheridan hotel Tuesday evening in honor of the Messrs. William and Christian Schwaderer, who left the following afternoon on an extended trip to Minnesota, Montana and the west. A banquet was served at nine o'clock and was followed by a program with F. Klump as toastmaster.
 Hon. B. W. Huston of Vassar passed away at his home Friday evening. Mr. Huston was a lawyer of some prominence and had been elected to several public offices.
 Last Friday afternoon fire broke out in the large store of J. J. Gies in Reese. The entire block and several buildings across the street were destroyed. With the exception of the Reese Review plant, no insurance was held.
 At last Monday night's council meeting, Charles Herr was appointed night watch, his salary to be made up by voluntary contribution by the business men.
 Mrs. M. L. Moore will move her millinery stock into the building just vacated by M. L. Moore, who has disposed of his grocery stock.
 The old Sheridan building was sold on Tuesday to John Schwaderer who will fit it out for a meat market.
 Theodore M. Bradshaw, who is well known throughout Sanilac county, died at his residence in Cumber, Monday, Nov. 19, aged 67 years. Mr. Bradshaw was a resident of Austin township for 35 years, and served in various official capacities.

Southfield Court

WITHIN a mile circle of Southfield Court there are 1200 homes already built and 5000 persons living in them. These numbers are increasing daily.

A Super Sub-division Fronting on Two Superhighways

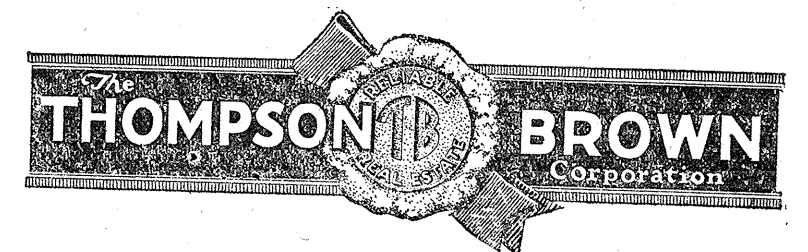

Every one of these homes is of artistic type, built within restrictions placed on both Southfield Park and College Park, the two greatest large-scale home developments around Detroit.

This is the second unit of Southfield Court. It is contiguous to the first unit, where investors already have met with unusual success. Southfield Court is inside the city limits of Detroit and ready for early development because all city improvements and conveniences will soon be available.

Southfield Court is thus assured of an early development and those who invest now will profit greatly and quickly. If you were fortunate enough to obtain an investment in the first unit of Southfield Court you will know the value of this second tract which adjoins it.

Such property will not remain long on the market. Because of its ideal location at the intersection of Southfield and Seven Mile roads, and because it is one of the closest-in subdivisions within the city limits of Detroit, shrewd investors will act quickly.

Therefore, you cannot afford to put off investigating its great possibilities. Get the full facts, then invest!

Bovine Obstinacy

Just what a cow finds to eat on a paved highway is more than the average motorist can figure out, but still the cows persist in taking up the center of the road just for the sake of hearing the horns blow for them to step aside. It would seem.

RED CROSS FINANCES SHOW WIDE SERVICES

Past Year Cost $10,321,679.80; Duty to Ex-Service Men Paramount.

Washington.—The national and international services of the American Red Cross are portrayed graphically in a statement of the Red Cross finances for the past fiscal year ended June 30, 1925. Expenditures by the Red Cross (including both the National Organization and the Chapters) during this period aggregated $10,321,679.80.

The obligation of the American Red Cross to the ex-service and service men is represented in this sum by a total expenditure of $4,225,292.61. In the interests of disabled veterans, the Red Cross expended $3,577,916.42, of which $1,677,916.42 came from the National Organization, and $1,900,000 from the more than 3,000 Chapters and local branches of the society. Red Cross services to the men of the Regular Army and Navy the past year called for $647,376.19, of which the National Organization furnished $310,376.19, and the Chapters, $337,000.

Sharing in importance with this responsibility was the Red Cross work of disaster relief during the year. In these operations there was absorbed a total of $1,922,732.90 up to June 30, this year. This represented $1,622,732.90 of National Organization funds and $300,000 from the Chapters. Relief in foreign disasters amounted to $285,579.35. This sum was appropriated altogether by the National Organization.

Insular and foreign operations of the American Red Cross during the year included relief in foreign disasters, the League of Red Cross Societies, Junior Red Cross Foreign Projects, assistance to insular Chapters and similar functions. Besides its disaster relief, the National Organization financed these other branches of foreign work also, including $110,238.72 for assistance to insular chapters, $177,450 for the League of Red Cross Societies, $84,334.43 for Junior projects abroad, and $80,057.62 for other insular and foreign operations.

In addition to its paramount duty to assist veterans and other service men and their families, and its disaster relief, the Red Cross expended at home through its national and chapter funds, a total of $1,029,616.05 for its Public Health Nursing Service; $154,135.09 for nutrition instruction; $314,422.76 for First Aid and Life Saving; $445,707.34 for Junior Red Cross; $132,759.88 for instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; and carried on similarly important home duties. Included in the latter were such valuable services as the Enrolled Nurses' Reserve, for which the National Organization expended $45,562.64; while other national operations at home amounted to $302,957.64. The chapters, in addition to the large part they played in all Red Cross activity, spent $678,000 of their own funds on general chapter services.

The broad humanity of the American Red Cross can never be measured by the money it costs, but even in bare terms of dollars and cents, the scope of its work is indicated. A study of these facts also shows the necessity for the largest possible enrollment, since Red Cross service is maintained almost entirely by its membership. The annual invitation to participate in this work through membership in the American Red Cross, is extended from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving, November 26.

Red Cross First Aid Popular in America As Accidents Gain

The rapidly mounting toll from traffic accidents has brought home to the public the necessity of being prepared to render prompt assistance while awaiting the doctor. During the past year 356 chapters of the American Red Cross were instructing classes in First Aid, and in the same period certificates were issued to 26,601 persons qualified by Red Cross experts.

Many cities throughout the United States are showing interest in securing first aid instruction for their police and fire department personnel, and through the work of local chapters, practical results have been obtained in such cities as Washington, D. C.; Toledo, O.; Boston, Mass.; South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind.; Port Arthur, Texas, and other communities. In co-operation with the State authorities, intensive training in first aid and rescue methods has been given to State police and constabulary members at four State training schools.

Instruction in these subjects in public and private schools, colleges and universities has increased during the year. Attention has been given to training teachers at institutes and summer schools.

The Red Cross first aid railroad car has been in continuous operation throughout the year. It covered 10,340 miles, visiting 137 cities, where 1,200 meetings were conducted by the surgeons, with a total of 146,327 people.
