SPECIAL MEETING TO VOTE ON SITE

PEOPLE OF SCHOOL DISTRICT WILL CONSIDER CHANGE OF SITE ON MAR. 8.

A special meeting of voters of School Dist. No. 5, frl., Elkland, will be held on Monday, March 8, at 8:00 p. m., to consider the changing of the school site. The meeting will be held at the opera house in order to accommodate all the voters.

There has been considerable discussion rgarding a change of site since the bonding proposition passed, and in order to bring the matter to a decision, a petition was presented to the board of education for an expression of the people. Acting on the petition, the board has called the meeting of March 8.

Those favoring a change, must present a description of the new site desired and its price. Parents or guardians of children going to school as well as taxpayers are entitled to vote on this proposition. If 60% present at the meeting vote to change the site, the board of education will ask for authority to make the purchase.

Paragraphs Concerning Michigan

By Ed A. Nowack.

Lansing—Less than 10 years ago, near Grayling, the state planted a herd of eight elk. The last official count of the herd, made a few days ago by conservation men, listed 100 actually seen and an estimate of 50 additional nearby.

Sol Beach, editor of The Fenton Independent, says that for just 20 years he has been carefully reading the Milford Times run by G. S. and C. M. Rowe to find an error and has failed.

Tommie Burns, editor of The Lakeview Enterprise, is luring tourists his way by using stationery depicting recreational features near his town and this succint statement: "200 lakes within 20 miles." Other similar boosters in Michigan are Editor Schumann of Grayling, Fuller and Weber of Cheboygan.

Slightly more than 35 per cent of state taxes in the 1271 townships and 118 cities in Michigan had been forwarded to Auditor General O. B. Fuller by the last of January. This, he says, is a record.

During the last 12 months in the state that many muncipally owned and operated public utilities have been abandoned in favor of interconnected steam and hydro power companies giving 24 hour service.

How farm land has been abandoned and platted for city use is strikingly illustrated in a report issued by L. Whitney Watkins, head of the Department of Agriculture. All lower Michigan counties having industrial centers have expended. A decided decrease in farm land is noted. Wayne county leads. Other counties in this category are Allegan, Calhoun, Genessee, Ionia, Kalamazoo, Kent, Montcalm, Oakland, Tuscola, Washtenaw.

Due to the several weeks' lectures by state police in village and rural schools relative to highway accidents, the prediction is made by T. E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, that 1926 will see a decided decrease of accidents in which school children and autoists figure.

An effort is under way to interest sufficient capital to reopen the Cooper coal mine near Owosso. Last year's coal production in Michigan shows a decrease.

Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, is the highest salaried member of the State Administrative Board. He draws $7,500 per annum. Other members, including the governor, draw but $5,000. Rogers' salary is fixed by statute. The governor's salary likewise is set. It was necessary for the administrative board to increase the salaries of the auditor general, secretary of state, state treasurer and superintendent of public instruction whose salaries by statute are but $2,500.

The cost of a special session of the legislature runs around $15,000 according to Charles Pierce, clerk of the House of Representatives.

The Department of Conservation is taking a deer Census. Post cards are sent to all who obtained licenses. They are asked to report if they killed a deer. One chap from a northern county happened across such a card and wrote back he had got his deer but had not obtained a license.

John Andrews, Jr., former Iron Mountain mayor, has been named head of the state trappers. Andrews has been a game warden for many years.

VALUE SHOWN IN COW TESTING WORK

CARO MAN HAS HOLSTEIN WHICH HAS MADE WONDERFUL RECORD.

Dave Secor of Caro, has a Holstein cow which has made a very wonderful record for the past two months, which he put in cow testing association work. This cow is one of several that Mr. Secor has bought in the county, being careful to get large good type cows and put on cow testing association work as soon as he could. This cow is a purebred cow, although the papers are not up to date. During December this cow gave 2592 pounds of milk and during January 2535. The milk tested an average of 4.6, it having gone up as high as 5.1 during each month the tester has checked the production test, as required by the Michigan Regulations on cow testing association work, and each time the check test has equaled the original test.

Mr. Secor has also had the milk tested by the condensary at which he is selling, and found that here too the test checked in every way. The production from this one cow during the two months brought Mr. Secor $80.69 above the cost of feed, the milk being sold at condensary prices.

She gave during the two months 227.9 lbs. of butterfat and, during these same two months, has produced more milk and more butterfat than the average cow in Michigan produces in a year.

That this is not the only good cow which Mr. Secor is milking is shown by the fact that seven cows in his herd of fifteen produced over 400 lbs. of butterfat during the cow testing association year. Mr. Secor is fully convinced of the fact that there is a great difference in cows and states that the best cows are the cheapest ones to buy. He is also convinced that cow testing association work is one of the best means of finding these good cows and thereby promoting their use for breeding purposes as a means of raising the average production for the cows of Tuscola county.

Philip O'Connell, State Representative, Gives His Views on Conservation

I feel it my duty to call the attention of the citizens of my District to the propaganda, which has been printed in the Detroit papers and, also, in other leading newspapers of the State, that the deer of Northern Michigan have been starving to death on account of deep snow and scarce feed, and also that the hunting corporations are feeding them. I am writing this article to inform you that such a statement is propaganda, misleading and untrue. Hon. John Baird, Commissioner of Conservation, has sent special representatives to those localities to investigate and they have reported those conditions to be untrue. I believe these statements, which have been proven to be untrue, were made solely for the purpose of leading the citizens and the Legislature to believe that the hunting corporations are good organizations for protecting the wild life and game of Michigan.

Until the 1923 session of the Legislature, there had been no law enacted limiting the amount of acreage which the hunting corporations could buy and hold. Some of these corporations had continued to buy until they had twenty-six thousand acres and were still buying more. The writer became alarmed at this condition and gave his attention and help to enact a law in the 1923 Legislature which set the limit of acreage for any hunting corporation to be not more than fifteen thousand acres, and, further, they could not be any closer than two miles to any other corporation, which gave the common man two miles of just as good hunting and fishing as the corporation had. This bill was fought bitterly in the Senate to kill it, but with the efforts of two or three in the House, it became a law, which has not been satisfactory to the corporations who came back in the 1925 Legislature and offered a bill known as the Pearson Bill, to repeal the 1923 Act and allow the millionaires of other states to buy and hog all the hunting and fishing territory of any account left in Michigan. This bill created a bitter fight on the floor of the House and was defeated. The leader of this bill stated that three millionaires of Chicago wanted to buy fifty thousand acres of cut-over lands in Marquette County, which were going off the tax roll to the State. Since the Pearson Bill has been defeated and the law still holds that fifteen thousand acres is the limit, these Chicago millionaires, in defiance of the State

STATE CORN KING PICKED FOR 1925

HILLSDALE CO. MAN RAISES 112 BUS. PER ACRE AND LEADS MICH. GROWERS.

A yield of 112 bushels of corn per acre was necessary to win the 1925 corn championship of Michigan, so keen was the competition among the state's best growers. Ernest Gilbert, of Waldron, Hillsdale county, is the man who has been crowned "Corn King" by extension men at M. S. C. who have been checking up on the annual contest.

Profit above "cultural" costs on Mr. Gilbert's yield figured $70 to the acre. William Hilton, Coldwater, in Branch County, stood second in the state in total yield with 105 bushels per acre; while Paul Clement, of Britton, in Lenawee County, followed with 100 bushels to the acre. George Putnam, also of Britton, produced but 95 bushels to the acre, but lower cultural costs enabled him to check in a profit of $64 an acre for second place in the state contest for efficient production.

Included in the costs as figured were labor charges for preparing the ground, fertilizer, seed, and cultivation costs. Harvesting and general "overhead" costs were not included in the contest records.

The cultural costs varied all the way from $8 an acre to $19 an acre among the men who were entered in the competition, while the profit dropped to as low as $25 an acre in some places.

The three men who produced 100 bushels per acre are the first to reach such figures in the history of Michigan corn contests, according to crops specialists at the Michigan State College.

Writes of Tenacious Calif. Realty Agents

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 12th, 1926.
Editor Chronicle:

Dear Sir: I thought one letter would be all that the people back home would want to read, but I see in the Elkland News of last week's issue that the correspondent is looking for No. 2, and as I am not very busy I will comply. I wrote a letter to the Huron County Tribune a few weeks ago, and I will try to take up the most important things that I have taken in since that time.

There are many real estate concerns in Long Beach. They solicit tourists to take trips with them. Several of them have small boats in the harbor and they make a date with people and send an auto to gather them up and then take them to the boat. While the boat is touring the harbors of Los Angeles and Long Beach, which lie practically side by side, a man gives a lecture on the boats that have been in recently and the ones that are in at the time and the resources of the country and interests represented along the harbor. Then when the boat lands, the autos take the people to the tract where they have a building or tent where they serve lunch and then there is a lecture on the growth, resources and possibilities of the country. Then the salespeople divide up the crowd and take them out over the tract and pull their wires. Some are not hard to shake and some are. I have been on several of those trips. The last one was a few days ago and after lunch, there was a middle aged lady took charge of me. I did not ascertain whether she was a widow or not, but she was sure hard to shake. After she seemed to be slightly winded, I discovered that both of my arms were intact. After she gave me up, she approached a lame man from Iowa on our way home. He told me he thought she gave him as good a talk as she had given me

Los Angeles is 20 miles north of Long Beach and about the same in from the coast and as I mentioned earlier the two harbors lie side by side. Los Angeles lies north and Long Beach east. Los Angeles has a population of over 1,000,000 and Long Beach about 140,000. Both are

SEE CROP INSURANCE IN CERTIFIED SEED

POTATO GROWERS URGED TO INCREASE PRODUCTION ECONOMY.

That the planting of certified seed potatoes is an effective form of crop insurance for Michigan farmers is being pointed out this spring by H. C. Moore, potato specialist at the Michigan State College in charge of seed potato inspection service.

"Those state farmers who each year plant approximately 100,000 bushels of certified seed potatoes have found that such seed is a very good form of potato crop insurance," says Moore. "Certified seed has materially increased their yields and bettered the quality of their crop, so that they have been able to produce potatoes more economically and to market them to better advantage.

"Economy in production—lower production costs per bushel—should be the aim of potato growers. Numerous tests throughout the state show production increase of approximately 50 bushels per acre for certified seed as compared with non-certified or 'common' seed potatoes. This makes it possible in many instances for growers to reduce their acreage and still maintain their total potato output, by planting certified seed and following good cultural practices."

A general shortage of certified seed potatoes is said to exist this year, not only in Michigan but also throughout the entire country. For this reason growers have been urged to get their seed stocks early. Varieties included among those which are being certified in Michigan are: Russet Rural, White Rural, Green Mountain, and Irish Cobbler.

GLEANERS' SPECIAL MEETING NEXT MONDAY EVENING

Donald Henry, a field man of the Ancient Order of Gleaners, will address members of Elkland Arbor at a special meeting which will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. O. Root on Monday evening, Mar. 1.

ALL ENTITLED TO CO. AGENT'S SERVICE

THE AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION WORK IS FOR ALL FARMERS OF TUSCOLA COUNTY.

There appears to be some misunderstanding in a few communities in Tuscola county regarding the work of the county agricultural agent and the county agricultural extension work. Some farmers are under the impression that it is necessary for them to belong to a certain farmers' oganization in order to claim any assistance and advice from the county agricultural agent. This impression is erroneous.

While the Tuscola County Farm Bureau has contributed liberally to the support of the county extension work for several years, funds for this purpose have also come from other sources. In 1922, the Farm Bureau advanced $6,827.27 and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Michigan State College $1,200.00. In 1923, the Farm Bureau paid $4,-539.26 and $1,200.00 came from state and federal sources. In 1924, the Tuscola county board of supervisors made their first appropriation for county extension work, the amount being $1,800.00. Twelve hundred dollars came from the state and federal sources and the Farm Bureau made up the balance of $2,567.57 that year. In 1925, the supervisors appropriation was $1,800.00, that of the state and federal governments $1,-200.00, and the Tuscola Farm Bureau $2,117.43. The 1926 budget will be financed by $1,800.00 from state and national sources, $1,800.00 appropriation from the board of supervisors and approximately $1,800.00 from the Farm Bureau.

This brief history of the support of the county extension work in late years shows that the taxpayer has been shouldering a portion of the cost of the work through his payment of county, state and national taxes and is justly entitled to the benefits of the county extension work.

It is estimated that one-fourth of the farmers are members of the various farm organizations in Tuscola county. No particular group in these 900 families have been favored by County Agent Sims. He has endeavored to deal impartially with all farmers irrespective of their relation with farm bodies. Naturally, he has answered the calls of those who have requested his services, and if some communities have failed to make their desires known, he cannot consistently be blamed.

A few farm organization leaders outside of the Farm Bureau feel that the county extension work should be financed entirely from public funds. The Farm Bureau board of directors will be glad to be relieved from the support that the bureau as an organization has been making for several years, as they feel that their money could be expended in other ways for the benefit of their membership. The bureau, it appears, wants the county extension work continued and is willing to continue in aiding the work financially until satisfactory arrangements can be made for handling the work without their direct support as an organization.

At a meeting held at Caro Monday evening, in which a few representatives from various sections of the county were present for the purpose of suggesting a more satisfactory solution of the financial support of the extension work and of promoting a better understanding of how the work is carried on, it was recommended that as soon as it seems best this work be financed wholly from public funds. The Farm Bureau was commended for its generosity in money and time spent in keeping the work in progress. This matter will probably be presented at the union meeting of farmers clubs of the county which will be held next Thursday.

In the meantime, every farmer in the county should feel that he is entitled to the services of the county agricultural agent irrespective of his relation with farm organizations. Of course, individual service cannot be given directly to all of the 3,600 farmer families in the county and the work must be done as much as possible by groups or neighborhoods. However, where the problem of one farmer is of community interest, his problem is not to be considered entirely as personal work.

Cass City Boys Defeated Unionville

In a well played game Cass City defeated Unionville there last Thursday, 19 to 13. Due to the low ceiling both teams had to resort to the short passing game and it was Cass City's superior passing ability that gave them the margin of victory. The game was close for nearly three quarters, but in the last quarter Cass City sprinted up and withdrew from their opponents.

Capt. Benkelman and Fiddyment led the attack for Cass City, while Sees was the outstanding player for Unionville.

In the preliminary game Cass City girls lost 10 to 2. It was the inability to "cash in" on the short shots that cost local girls the game.

UNION MEETING OF CO. FARMERS' CLUBS.

The union meeting of the farmers' clubs of Tuscola county will be held at the Odd Fellow hall in Caro on Thursday, March 4. The morning session opens at ten o'clock. Dr. Eben Munford of Lansing will be the principal speaker at the afternoon session. Howard Retherford of Deford is president of the county farmers' club federation.

REWARD MONEY WILL BE PAID

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT ASSURES SATISFACTORY SETTLEMENT.

(By Ed A. Nowack).

Lansing—Michigan motorists need have no fear of an increased gas or weight tax or modification of either. Townships and counties will receive their delinquent reward money on definite dates and early enough each year so the money will be available for us with the beginning of the season. Not a cent of reward money is to be repudiated. The future highway program as visioned by the special session of the 53rd Michigan Legislature sees a road building program of about 300 miles of improved roads annually.

That, in effect, is the program tentatively agreed to by house and senate leaders and Gov. Alex Groesbeck and which is on its way to enactment this week in the shape of a bill introduced by Rep. Eugene Kirby of Covert and Rep. John Gillett of Kalkaska.

Solution of the highway problem was started when Rep. Gillett introduced a bill asking amendments to the highway law to provide payment of $250,000 delinquent reward money for townships. This was followed by the Kirby bill which incorporated the Gillett amendment following a conference between Gov. Groesbeck, Kirby and Gillett. The Kirby-Gillett bill provides this schedule of payment for delinquent county rewards:

Townships to receive $250,000 by April 1, 1926, which was not previously provided for and which is all that is owing them at this time, and to receive thereafter on that date each year all township reward money that falls due.

One million dollars county reward money to be paid June 1, 1926. One million dollars each on Feb. 1 and April 1, 1927 and two millions annually thereafter on those dates until all present delinquent rewards are paid as well as all reward money now on application, filed and approved previous to the repeal of the reward law in April, 1925. This reward money totals over nine millions.

In accepting this schedule the legislature approves the temporary suspension of about one and one-half millions in rewards for one year but makes immediate payment of township rewards for which no previous provision existed. Townships in 18 counties will be affected.

The proposed schedule will be met out of the natural increases in the gas and weight tax by reason of the

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

John Lorentzen and Stanley Warner have purchased the oil and gas station at Colling from Jay Colling. Mr. Warner and Donald Lorentzen will operate the station, taking possession this week.

Robt. Warner, C. E. Hartsell and Stanley Warner attended the banquet of the Tri-County Oil Men's club held at Vassar and heard the address of Jas. A. Gilmore of Grand Rapids, state secretary of the State Independent Oil Association. Thumb dealers, at this meeting, entered into an agreement to limit credit to customers to a 30-day period.

A large audience greeted members of the Butzbach Missionary Circle in their presentation of two missionary pageants at the Evangelical church on Sunday evening. The several characters were well portrayed by both young ladies and young men, and talent, heretofore unrecognized, was brought to light. The offering was devoted to missionary purposes.

Mrs. J. L. Cathcart will entertain the Woman's Study Club on Tuesday, Mar. 2. The following program has been prepared: Great Women of America, Mrs. John Marshall; The Big Sister, Mrs. I. A. Fritz; What Is the International Court of Justice? Mrs. B. J. Dailey. The discussion leader is Mrs. J. D. Brooker. Roll call—Words commonly mispronounced.

The Ladies' Aid of the Bethel M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Audley Rawson on Thursday. Following dinner, a business meeting was held at which time the officers were elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. John Profit was elected president, Mrs. John Doerr as vice president, Mrs. Jas. Day as treasurer, and Mrs. John Marshall as secretary. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Crawford on Thursday, Mar. 11.

On Tuesday evening a bunch of femininity "invaded" the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walker on north Oak street. However, a tempting array of delectable pot-luck dainties proved the invasion was well worth while, and after several hours of dancing, fun and jollity, a pleasant evening was closed. The members of the S. E. Club included in their fancy dress arrangements the following characterizations: College girls, dapper young gentlemen, a ballet dancer, a gypsy queen, and Miss America.

A jolly "bunch" of the members of the local Odd Fellow Lodge motored to Vassar Tuesday evening for an evening of profit and pleasure. The sixteen members who went engaged tne new Rogers' Reo parlor car motor bus for the drive to Vassar where, with members of lodges of other towns, they were the guests of the Vassar lodge. The first part of the evening was devoted to a program and third degree work, the latter by the Akron lodgemen. At 12:30, a banquet was served to the company. A most enjoyable evening is putting mildly the report that they brought back.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gemmill were pleasantly surprised on Sunday, Feb. 21, when 16, with well filled baskets, came to help them celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Moulton and two children of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Milligan and daughter of Grant, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gemmill and two sons of Wilmot, Mrs. Mary Gemmill and three children of Cass City, Miss Marie Gemmill of Silverwood. There were three daughters, one son and eight grandchildren present. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Epplett and daughter of Pontiac were unable to attend on account of sickness. The party presented Mr. and Mrs. Gemmill with a liberal purse of money and before leaving, wished their parents many years of happiness.

"Gentlemen's Evening," a time when members of the Woman's Study Club have as guests their husbands and friends, proved a happy and entertaining evening on Tuesday. The Redpath talent were late in arriving and Mrs. Edward Pinney conducted community singing early in the evening, Miss Lura DeWitt acting as accompanist. Mrs. A. J. Knapp introduced the entertainers, Chas. Cox & Co. The two men presented a program featuring songs, piano solos and sketctes bubbling over with clean nonsense and sparkling fun, with here and there a vocal or dramatic selection of a more serious character. Both were entertainers par excellence. Following the program, the company numbering 109 adjourned to the dining room where light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Contrary to the custom of previous years, Gentlemen's Evening was arranged this winter featuring food for the mind rather than food for the body. The reception committee, Mesdames Lester Bailey, G. A. Tindale, W. J. Schwegler and W. O. Root, are the recipients of many compliments over the success of the event.

increase in motor vehicles and use.

Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers, at the request of numerous legislators, submitted a seven-page letter to the assembly detailing highway appropriations, work, expenditures and costs of mooted sections of roads. In part the letter says:

The 1923 legislature appropriated, for the fiscal years 1924-25 the respective sums of $321,440 and $331,190 for administrative expenses. Departmental operating expenses were so decreased that an unexpended balance of $105,214 remained at the end of the 1925 fiscal year which was returned to the state treasury.

The average cost of more than three million cubic yards of earth work on authorized 1925 projects was 49.7 cents per cubic yard as compared to 52 cents per cubic yard for 1924.

Last season's trunk line and federal aid road work included over two million square yards of concrete pavement, most of this being the seven-nine inch standard pavement 20 feet wide at an average price, including cement, of $2.17 per square yard as compared to the 1924 price of $2.23 per square yard.

For the period covered by the letter it is stated a total of federal aid funds of $14,303,154 were received up to Feb. 17, 1926 while $1,892,875 is covered by present outstanding contracts. Additional federal aid of $4,146,335 is available next July 1.

The letter gives a stinging rebuke to what are termed misleading and incorrect reports of the costs of the Grand Blanc and Grand River avenue roads. It relates the Grand Blanc road was the first project of road building into which the state entered, that because of the vital importance of the road—M10—work on it had to be rushed when no contractor would take it on private account. Its total cost is given as $397,772 of which $20,890 was for preliminary work, leaving $376,875 for actual building costs for a pavement 8.057 miles long, averaging 9.13 inches deep and 20 feet wide. The cost per mile is given as $46,776 which, Rogers points out, if reduced to an eight inch thickness, would have cost but $42,315. Heavy traffic, he tells the legislature, made the heavier pavement necessary.

The senate has passed the governor's forced Grand Trunk deal in which that road is compelled to give up its special charter obtained in 1834 and by which it escaped virtually all taxation except an annual tax of $25,171.40. The senate vote on this was 26 to 1, Senator Bernie L. Case of Ithaca voting against it.

Under the terms laid down by the governor the Grand Trunk surrenders its present right-of-way between Detroit and Pontiac, accepts a right-of-way provided by the state, permits the state to pay for the acquired property and moving its tracks.

The road surrenders its special charter and will pay, in addition to the specific tax of $25,171, the full cost to the state of the new property and rebuilding, at the rate of $200,000 per year until the state's money is returned.

Then the road agrees to come in under the general law pertaining to taxation of railroad property and will pay into the primary school fund of the state between $300,000 and $400,000 in taxes.

A bill introduced by Senator Orville Atwood would increase from two to four millions the annual state trunk line maintenance money and would permit the highway department to use for proper purposes a half million formerly specifically appropriated for non-trunk line and bridge maintenance work.

Under the terms of a joint resolution the bars have been let down to the introduction of about a dozen new measures or amendments if the governor acquiesces in the requests of various legislators to send in messages permiting the passage of various pet measures.

The House defeated a proposed resolution by Rep. John Holland, Gogebic, denouncing the World Court, when he sought suspension of the rules. Rep. Holland declares he will receive sufficient support before the end of the session to voice unalterable opposition to the World Court idea. Eleven members voted with him to pass his resolution.

Rep. Ernest Dexter, Mt. Pleasant, introduced a bill seeking a $700,000 appropriation to rebuild the Central Michigan Normal buildings recently destroyed by fire. Reception given this measure in the house presages its passage without trouble.

WRITES OF TENACIOUS CALIF. REALTY AGENTS

growing very fast and the opinion is they will grow together 'ere long. There are extensive oil fields just north of Long Beach and it is claimed there is more oil shipped from the harbors than from any American port. There are also large fisheries here and it is also claimed there are more sardines go from here than any American port. It is said there is more lumber unloaded here than in any American port. The lumber comes from farther north in this state and Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. I have been told that 1-19th of the building in the United States last year was done in California.

I was talking with a man from Ohio. He has traveled extensively through the south and west, but this was his first trip to California, and as he had a son in the oil fields here, he came here for the winter. He thought if the climate, schools and roads were taken away from here, there would not be much left. I met a man who deals mostly in what they call acreage. Back home, we would call it a small tract. He said he could sell a 15-acre tract between here and Santa Ana. He did not speak as if there were any improvements on it. His price was $500.00 an acre and he said that was the cheapest land he knew of anywhere. A few days ago, Glen drove over into Orange Co. We called on a friend of his. He paid $16,000 for a 10-acre plot a few years ago. When he bought it, it had some walnut trees and some apricots. He has taken out the latter and planted oranges. They are now about three years old. He showed us a 40-acre orange grove next to his for which $160,000 had been refused. He also pointed to one of 20 acres which he said could not be bought for $100,000.

Yesterday Luther, Alice, Mrs. Hirth and Mrs. Young and I drove up the coast to Santa Monica and then up Topango Pass, a distance of about 14 miles to the top, which is 1,560 feet above sea level. Here there is an observatory in which is a telescope said to be the Kaiser's most powerful, which was captured from the Germans by the Americans. Through this can be seen Mt. Wilson, Mt. Low, Ridge Mts., Old Baldy, Mt. Howard, Mt. Disappointment, Lake Chaltsworth, Chas. Weeks, Poverty Chaltsworth, Chas. Weeks, Poverty Colony, and several other sights. From here we went down through San Fernando Valley, said to be one of the most fertile in southern California. I am planning on starting the return trip March 16.

With best wishes to all who may read this, I am respectfully,

The Sandwich Islands

The Hawaiian islands, sometimes called the Sandwich islands, were so termed by the discoverer, Captain Cook, who found them in 1778 and named them for the earl of Sandwich, first lord of the admiralty. They were quite generally known as the Sandwich islands until, on closer acquaintance with the Hawaiian people, the rest of the world came to adopt their name for their land.

Why Worry in Ill Health When You Get Service Like This.

To improve the chemical process in the body for better health, take San Yak Pills. They strengthen the blood and body fluids, antiseptic to the stomach, intestines and bowels to a degree nearly odorless. They prevent decomposition of animal and vegetable matter in the bowels that causes bloat and self-poisoning and are years in advance of any other product for the kidneys, high blood pressure, diabetes and rheumatism. Take to reduce the flabby, wrinkled bowels and reduce the waistline. San Yak Pills remove the possibilities to the development of appendicitis.

Dr. Taylor, 2011 Glendale avenue, Detroit, says: "I was paralyzed four years. Three years ago I took San Yak. Two or three months of it cured me. I know because I improved at once and did nothing otherwise. I have gotten more out of life in the last year than in any previous years and I am 78 years of age."

Dr. L. B. Bailey, of McBride, Mich., says of San Yak: "It will do all you claim. It is a fine medicine for the blood and has cured rheumatism of long standing. When one treats the kidneys with San Yak he is renewing the whole body. One can always depend on San Yak." (Signed) L. T. BAILEY, M. D.

Mrs. W. E. Brandon, of Robison, Ind., writes: "I took San Yak for high blood pressure and it worked like a charm. I am not now troubled any more."

Dr. Geo. W. Snyder of Chicago, said this. "To people advanced in years, San Yak lends the thrill that comes from making human life lastingly better. This pill is so highly antiseptic to the pancreas that appendicitis would be much out of reason."

S. F. Waring, of Ohio Oil Co., Marshall, Ill., says "San Yak is a wonderful medicine for stomach and bowels."

Pilgrims' Tunes

"The History of American Music" says that the Pilgrims used but five tunes for their psalmody. What those tunes were has not been proved. "Old Hundred" and "York" were two of them; "Hackney," sometimes called "St. Mary's." "Windsor" and "Martyrs" were probably the other three.

YOU REST EASY

There is a wonderful strength and great satisfaction of mind in a BANK ACCOUNT. When you know you have "Money in the Bank," it gives you a strength of personality and contributes considerable to your success in life. Any one can go out into the world and face Life's responsibilities with greater fortitude and confidence when they are "backed" with a good substantial savings account.

JUST SUPPOSE YOU SAVED ONE QUARTER OF ALL YOU EARNED.

THINK WHAT SUCH A SYSTEM WOULD HAVE DONE FOR YOU HAD YOU STARTED TEN YEARS AGO

Think what such a System will mean for you five or ten years hence. It means the difference between Success and Failure. Dollars pile up surprisingly fast when you put them to work for you. That's a point that most people do not appreciate, and do not think of. "Interest" is just like finding money, because you put forth no immediate effort to get it, but it is really a reward for your habits of thrift.

Michigan Happenings

Governor Alex Groesbeck is asked to include 12 subjects, most of them of minor importance, in his second message to the legislature, in a concurrent resolution adopted by the house of representatives. Several of the suggestions are amendments to straighten bungled laws. Among these are the Darin "gun law," which requires permits to own or carry firearms;; an amendment allowing foreclosure notices to be served by posting them on the premises; another safeguarding defaulted bail bonds; and a fourth providing for adjustment of primary school money in districts partly annexed by cities.

The village caucus in East Grand Rapids, in which he was defeated by Dorr M. Scott for the nomination as trustee, was illegal, Dr. Oscar B. Frye, a trustee, charges in a petition filed with the board of election commissioners asking a recount, a new caucus or an order declaring the caucus null and void with the present village officers holding over. Since the ballots were destroyed, Dr Frye asserts, he desires that a new caucus conducted under the village election law rather than the township law, under which the caucus was held, be called.

Directly contradicting Federal Judge Hand of Grand Rapids, who decided recently that the gift tax law is unconstitutional so far as it affects gifts not made in contemplation of death. Judge Fred M. Raymond, of the United States District Court, in a decision in the case of John W. Blodgett vs. Charles Holden, United States collector of internal revenue for the Fourth District of Michigan, declared the law constitutional and ordered the case dismissed as requested by Edward J. Bowman, United States district attorney.

Convicted of killing his former sweetheart, Mrs. Pearl Fuller, by a jury in Circuit Court at Kalamazoo, Lee H. Gormel was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Marquette Branch prison by Judge George V. Weimer. The verdict followed six hours' deliberation. Mrs. Fuller was shot to death five weeks ago on the porch of her brother's home, after she and Gormel had quarreled. Gormel's defense plea was insanity.

William Laird, prosecuting attorney of Washtenaw County, has been ordered by the attorney general, Andrew B. Dougherty, to bring Herman and William Crossie and Owen Lidke to trial on a charge of murdering Harry Cyb, Augusta storekeeper. The attorney general warned Laird that if he persists in his refusal to act the state will be compelled to start removal proceedings against him.

State prison commission will ask the special session of the legislature to appropriate $1,700,000 for construction work on the new prison at Jackson, W. H. Porter, chairman, has announced. This amount, plus $500,000 which will be available next July from a regular appropriation made by the last legislature, will permit continuing construction until July, 1927, he said.

A reward of $200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the man who abducted and attacked a 7-year old school girl has been offered by the city commission of Owosso. The police have run down scores of clues, but to no avail. Threats of violence against the man, if he is caught, have been heard and police say they will take him out of the county if he is captured.

Several proposed changes in the city charter, including the election of a city assessor and the election of four supervisors instead of two as at present, have been acted upon favorably by the council of Ypsilanti. The amendments will be voted upon at the spring election if approved by Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, to whom they will be submitted for approval.

It was Charles P. Neumann, not Charles Plummer, who has been named by United States Representative Grant Hudson for postmaster at Rochester, whose new term will begin April 1. The wrong name was sent out from Washington and published by Michigan newspapers. It will be Neumann's second term.

A fire started by an explosion during an acetone distillation experiment in one of the laboratories of the Michigan State College chemistry building resulted in damage to the building equipment estimated at $1,000.

Pending adjustment of the troubled mental state of the House over road legislation, the Senate, according to present indications, will not attempt to settle officially on a plan for increasing road building. Such at least is the opinion of Senator Burney E. Brower of Jackson, administration leader. Usually Brower's predictions indicate the sentiment of the Senate and the desires of the administration, which in past sessions have governed the actions of the Senate.

Charging that imperialism, selfishness and the eternal chase after the dollar have clouded the relations between the United States and the far east, Dr. Paul Hutchinson, editor of the Christian Century, of Chicago, spoke before an audience of University of Michigan students and faculty members at Ann Arbor. "America's history in the far east is a black one, and we shall pay, pay terribly for the record we have written," he warned. "The opium war, the Castle agreement and the penetration of missionaries all are clouded and besmirched with unfair dealings."

The enrollment at the University of Michigan is placed at 10,085 students for the second semester, according to an announcement issued from the office of Ira M. Smith, registrar of the university. These figures are only tentative, however, and are exclusive of extension students. New registrations totaled 603, this number probably including several duplications through the enrolment of students in more than one college of the university.

The "measuring stick" of the future for doctors, clinics, and hospitals will be the test of their ability to co-operate with special workers and understand thoroughly the social background of the patient to whom they are giving treatment, according to Katherine McMahon, professor at the Boston School of Social Work who spoke on "medicine and social work" in the natural science auditorium of the University of Michigan.

Voters of Highland Park will go to the polls March 1 in a primary election to select city officials from candidates who completed filing recently. Besides the choosing of officers an amendment to the city charter will also be on the ballot. According to Delmar A. Gowing, city clerk, 3,800 votes are expected to be cast. Highland Park has a population of 62,000. Sixteen polling places will be open from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

After hearing five witnesses, including Kennedy L. Potter, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and Clark Z. Potter, his brother, Jackson County's one-man Grand Jury inquiring into the purchase by the state of the Chelsea cement plant, adjourned last Monday afternoon. The sessions were to be resumed Friday providing Judge Benjamin Williams is able to return from Kalamazoo.

Gomaldia Fower, four-year-old daughter of H. Fower, Battle Creek, Michigan Central section hand, was fatally burned when the cot on which she was playing in the front room of the Fower home became enveloped in flames. It is believed that her three-year-old sister, Margaret, set fire to the cot while playing with matches. Inquest into the death has been ordered by Coroner Carl Gray.

John D. Karel, city commissioner of Grand Rapids, has been made defendant in two suits in Circuit Court started by Charles F. Garratt, president of the Michigan Chair Co., of which Mr. Karel is secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Anna M. Garratt, vice-president of the company. The actions are an outgrowth of a $1,000,000 deal involving the sale of the chair company, announced last week.

Mrs. Margaret Travis, 26 years old, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court at Pontiac to keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold at her home, 73 Gillespie street. Mrs. Travis is the divorced wife of Dehull N Travis, Flint attorney, and the daughter of E. T. Reed, former Pontiac attorney who was disbarred last year for improper conduct and intoxication.

A voluntary reduction in the Detroit Edison Co. rates, that will mean a saving to the smallest domestic consumers of electricity of about $1.75 a year, was announced in a letter to Mayor John W. Smith from Alex Dow, president of the company. The approval of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission has been asked.

James N. McBride, of Burton, Progressive candidate in 1914 for Lieutenant-Governor, has announced his candidacy for representative in the State Legislature from Shiawassee County. McBride was elected representative on the Bull Moose ticket in 1912 and served one term. He was formerly state market director.

Mrs. Eva C. Felton, for 73 years a resident of Ingham county, is dead at her home in East Lansing. She came here from Ann Arbor in an ox cart with her mother when she was 6 years old. Mrs. Felton leaves two sons here and a daughter in Grand Rapids.

A committee of 50 clergymen of western Michigan, embracing all Protestant denominations, has been selected by the west side laymen's council for an investigation of the Lord's Day Alliance of Michigan, Inc., of which M. Wayne Worrer, Detroit, is general secretary.

The federal reserve board at Washington has announced that permission has been granted the First National bank of Lapeer to exercise trust powers.

OBITUARIES.

Margaret Peddie.

Margaret Peddie, one of Michigan's early pioneers, died at her home, 3½ miles west of Cass City on Feb. 17, 1926, in her 84th year.

Margaret Fisher was born April 4, 1842, at Stratford, Ontario. At the age of 24, she was united in marriage to Geo. Peddie. Thirty-eight years ago they, with their family came to Michigan, settling first in Huron county. Nine years later they moved to the present homestead where they resided until death. Mr. Pddie predeceased Mrs. Peddie, his death occurring June 21, 1912.

Mrs. Peddie is survived by one brother and two sisters, James and Jessie Fisher and Mrs. T. Hunt of Stratford, Ont., seven children, Geo. and James, who resided with her, Mrs. Millard Fillmore of Hope, Mrs. James Walters of Royal Oak, Mrs. Edgar Comfort, of Saginaw, John Peddie of Detroit and Jessie Peddie of Stratford, Ont., 12 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Those present from out of town at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. John Peddie and family of Detroit, Mrs. Edgar Comfort and son of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. James Walters and son, Lee, of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Walters of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Fillmore and daughter, Neita, of Hope, and State Representative William Walters of Detroit.

The funeral services were held at the farm home on Saturday, Feb. 20, at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Schnug of the local Presbyterian church officiating. Interment was made at the Williamson cemetery.

Charles Tuckey.

Chas. Tuckey passed away Monday morning, Feb. 22, at five o'clock, at the home of his son-in-law, Wm. Tomlinson, three miles northeast of Caro, at the age of 93 years.

Mr. Tuckey has made his home with his son, J. D. Tuckey, in Elkland township for the past eight years. Two weeks ago, he went to Caro to visit friends and from there to Saginow. Saturday, he returned to Caro in his usual health and his death at the Tomlinson home on Monday was very unexpected. The remains were brought to the J. D. Tuckey home here and the funeral service was conducted at that place on Thursday afternoon by Rev. A. G. Newberry. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Chas. Tuckey was born in London, Ont., in 1833. On Apr. 10, 1863, he was united in marriage with Katherine Carmichael. They came to Cass City in 1879, purchasing a farm 1 3-4 miles west of Cass City. Mr. Tuckey also homesteaded land in section 32, Elkland. Mrs. Tuckey passed away on Aug. 16, 1882. In 1888, Mr. Tuckey moved to South Dakota. He resided several years in Washington state.

Mr. Tuckey has been unusually active for a man who has passed the four score and ten mark in life. His friends noticed in him that age does not depend upon years, but upon the health and constitution of the individual. He has been as spry as many men 20 years younger in point of years.

He leaves one sister, 96 years of age, and one brother, 82 years, both of London, Ont., five children, John Tuckey of Mitchell, S. D., J. D. Tuckey of Cass City, Mrs. Sarah Stetson of Nebraska, Mrs. Tena Sample of Florida and Chas. Tuckey of Montana, 19 grandchildren, 29 great grandchildren and seven great great grandchildren. Four children preceded the father in death.

Peter Lamont.

The many friends of Peter Lamont will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred at San Bernardino, California, on Feb. 17, after a lingering illness of several weeks in a hospital. His death was peaceful with no suffering. He will be remembered by the older residents of Cass City as the builder and owner of the business block now occupied by the A. & P. and M. D. Hartt stores. Mr. Lamont was an earnest and consistent member of the Baptist church of Cass City, and though having lived in the western states for over 20 years, he never failed each year to remember his church here with kind words of encouragement and a liberal contribution. The only one of his family left to mourn his loss is his daughter, Florence Lamont Hinman of Denver, Colorado. His wife and son had gone on before.

Selecting Outfit for Long Journey

Smartness of Clothes Is Important; Duds Should Be Conservative.

Traveling is one of the fine arts, an important phase of which is the choice of proper clothes. Particularly to the feminine nomad, smartness is imperative, notes a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, and yet it should never be bizarre or aggressive. Conservative, tasteful chic is what is most admired in a stranger arriving or en route, and that should be the basis of the traveling costume.

The ideal of the woman traveler is to arrive at her destination, no matter how long the journey, looking as if she had that moment left the hands of a deft and experienced maid. This sounds difficult of achievement, but to the habitues it is relatively easy. Like everything else, it requires care and consideration.

First and most important comes the choice of the actual traveling outfit. Whether the journey is to be made by train or automobile, there are two qualities essential to the smart traveling dress. It must be made of material that does not crease easily and it must be of a color that will not readily show the dust. Of course, traveling always seems to bring out a fatal defect in any shade. The dark tints form a background for light-colored dust and the light ones seem to attract soot as if by magic. Nothing is quite perfect, but beige and medium grays are as safe a choice as any.

Full Length, Moleskin-Lined Coat, Suitable for Traveling.

Kasha, tweed, cheviot and English suitings are the best materials for winter traveling, and a fur-lined coat that is roomy enough to slip on over a tailored suit or a dress and a lighter weight coat is an essential.

A two-piece jumper dress with plaits on both hips, with the front and the back of the skirt plain, is ideal for traveling. Its perfection is achieved by Chanel, who has reduced all superfluous detail to an absolute minimum. A round or slightly squared neck, sometimes finished with a narrow scarf that has importance enough to be smart and is small enough not to be cumbersome, straight sleeves that are just loose enough to be comfortable, a narrow belt and little pockets for the handkerchief and powder puff, are all included by this clever designer, who never puts a vestige of trimming on a traveling suit.

Uneven Effects Shown in Styles for Spring

Uneven effects are emphasized anew in the new styles. One of the manifestations of the vogue is skirt fullness arbitrarily spotted here and there. A cluster of plaits may decorate only one side of a skirt, or circular fullness may be concentrated at one side.

Uneven neck lines and one-sided effects of scarfs and draperies, even of collars, play this same game but skill is necessary to its success. The sloping decolletage with the single shoulder strap is well established.

In balanced treatments greater emphasis on the sides may be expected. Even coats for spring that otherwise would be straight will often indulge in a side seam inverted plait. Clusters of plaits each side from the hip down will be stressed in coat and dress models alike.

Hat of Green Fur Felt

One of the most charming of the little French hats just imported is of green fur felt. The crown is high and the sole decoration consists of a huge spike of rhinestones which is thrust through the crown, holding it in three short folds at one side.

Roman Striped Negligee

Wide Roman scarfs are used to make a negligee that is very smart and quite different. In one instance the colors are of red, bright blue, green and black.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Estella Hicks, Reporter.

The monthly P. T. A. meeting was held at the school house Monday evening. Over two hundred parents, teachers and children enjoyed a fine program put on by the boys of the high school. It included several musical numbers, two speeches and a chemical demonstration. One of the speeches was by President Coolidge, gotten by radio. The usual business meeting was held and afterwards refreshments were served to all. The next meeting will be held in March. The program is in charge of the parents next month.

The Horticulture students are finishing their maps of the homes. They have fixed up the surroundings in a very attractive manner.

The pupils in the Zoology class have found group III very interesting. Among some of the animals studied are Corals, sea aumonace, jelly fish and Hydioid Colony.

Ten boys drew for calves Saturday. This year's club will have fifteen new members.

In the second year French class Labiche's play, "Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichau" is being read. It is a gratitude is a heavy burden for the ordinary person to bear. Monsieur Perrichau, the chief character with his faults and virtues, always amusing, and generally true to life will long hold high rank as a type of the French parvenue. In the reading of this play the class are aiming to become better acquainted with the French people, French customs and colloquial French. Besides finding it interesting and amusing we find it educational from more than one point of view.

The first year French class will soon read another of Labiche's plays, "Le Pondre Aux Yeux," which is also a comedy.

The classes of Community Civics are studying and discussing the various phases of business organization, dealing mainly with the utility value, prices, supply and demand of goods. The study is helping us to see production, exchange and value in their larger relationships and supply than to the smaller.

At the end of the first month the two sections in English Literature are even as to test marks, each having a medium of B. The fifth hour section has a B plus medium for monthly marks while the second hour section has a B.

The ninth grade English students took the Thurston Reasoning test and it was noticed in a graph made, that the majority of pupils are very able to reason and concentrate.

"Modern Prose" is the subject for discussion in the American Literature class. Florence Britton characterized modern prose, and the works of Booth Tarkington were criticized by Edith Wood. The other students are at present preparing their reports of modern authors.

The Junior high has started to read "Oliver Twist" aloud. They do this when the high school has speakers or when they sing. The book is very interesting and it is much better than studying while their elders play, as they used to do.

They read a very interesting account of the life of Harriet Beecher Stowe in history the other day. Now they understand why this book has such a great influence on the slavery question before the Civil War.

The fifth grade have completed the covers for their Michigan booklets and ar quite proud of them.

They are glad to live in a town where they can hear their President talk to them from the National Capitol.

Their twigs from apple trees are nearly out in leaf and they think they are beating the calendar this year.

For geography they are studying South America and noticing the contrasts between their continent and ours.

Their program for Washington's birthday was very nice and they learned many new things about the times in which he lived and also about the making of our laws.

The fourth grade is again interested in "The Story of Siegfried." It is a book from our own library.

They are very proud to say that they have both of the banner pictures for tardiness and attendance. Our attendance percentage was 98 plus %

They are learning the meanings of singular and plural. It is interesting to make lists of words for each list.

Our enrollment in the third grade is the same again for Mary Mark is back again after a six weeks' illness.

They are sorry to have lost one of their pupils, Thelma Ashley, who has moved to Clio.

In the first grade we are learning the following about how to take care of a dog: How to feed him; how to give him plenty of water; what to do when he is sick or hurt; where he should sleep; what to do when he has fleas; how to wash him; and how to make him mind. I'm sure we shall all know how to take care of our pet.

We all enjoyed Mrs. McGrath's visit to our room.

Washington's birthday was appropriately observed in our room.

Kindergarten—On Monday and Tuesday, the first two days of the new month. we had three tardy marks. The purpose of kindergarten is to learn good school habits. We think that it is a very poor school habit to be late two successive days. Really, two days a year are all one little boy or girl ought to be late.

CARPENTER BUYS NEW SIRE AT HOWELL

Vernon Carpenter of Elkland township attended the sale of registered Holstein cattle of Munsell & Satterla at Howell last week and purchased a sire, Lawndale College Butter Boy 4th, 418958, to head his herd of registered cattle.

This sire was born March 3, 1923, and his pedigree is as follows:

His sire is by College Butter Boy who has a 32 lb. dam with a large yearly record and is by Pauline Sir Pontiac who has a two-times 30 lb. dam and is by a son of a three-times 30 lb. cow.

His dam is a 30 lb. daughter and his sire is from a 28 lb. 4 yr. old daughter of Prince Walker Calamity Wayne who has a 30 lb. 4 yr. old dam and is by a son of the 33 lb. cow, Princess Hengerveld De Kol, who has nine 30 lb. sisters.

His dam is from a 30 lb. daughter of Otsego Korndyke Pietertje whose sire is a full brother to the former World's record cow, Pontiac Lady Korndyke, and has 18 other 30 lb. sisters.

PHILIP O'CONNELL GIVES HIS VIEWS ON CONSERVATION

law, have bought forty-five thousand acres in Marquette County and I believe are responsible for the false reports which have been circulated throughout the State—that the deer were dying and were being fed by the corporations. I believe this was done to create sentiment in favor of the corporations, that they might come back in the next Legislature and ask that the law be repealed so that they may fence in all the land and inland lakes and trout streams in Michigan. It is true that the State has four million acres of cut-over lands for hunting and fishing, but you must understand that there are millions of acres of this land that are good for neither hunting nor fishing —just sand plains and worthless rock. The millionaires are not going to buy worthless land. They will follow up the trout streams and buy around the inland lakes where the second growth timber is located until every acre of fishing and hunting territory is bought. They would then own all the fish and game which now belongs to the State at one dollar per acre. It has been stated by some of the state officers that land worth only one dollar per acre costs the state more to collect the taxes than it is worth.

Are you aware that the millionaires of the different states have hunting reserves so they can follow the migratory bird from the Hudson Bay, where it hatches, and shoot it all the way to the Gulf of Mexico, where it winters?

I believe if the State of Michigan is going to change its laws to make hogs out of men, they had better go into the kind that have real bristles instead of clothes. It would be much cheaper for the tax-payer and not sell out the birthright of our sons and daughters for a mere mess of pottage.

Yours for free and equal rights to hunt and fish in Michigan.

PHILIP O'CONNELL,
State Representative.

Happenings of a Quarter Century Ago

Taken from the Tri-County Chronicle March 1, 1901.

Last Friday morning at two o'clock the M. McMillan store at Ubly burned. The fire had gained such headway by the time that it was discovered, that there was no possibility of saving it. Only by hard work, were the adjoining buildings saved.

William McCallum was elected district master of the L. O. L. at the district meeting held at Cass City on Friday. The evening session was taken up by the Royal Arch work given by the Cass City degree team. The State Grand Master gave a very instructive talk on degree work. Refreshments were served at twelve o'clock. The next district meeting will be held at Carsonville.

A missionary social was held at the home of Mrs. I. B. Auten Friday evening. A program of music and recitation was followed by a three-act comedy, "The Lippincott Square Church Coup," a laughable take-off on the attitude of church members to foreign missions.

W. G. Hubbard was the speaker at the temperance meeting held at the Baptist church Thursday evening. Mr. Hubbard touched many interesting points on the temperance question, and gave note of many places where the liquor traffic was abolished and of the prosperous condition of such places.

Neil McLaren now is the proud possessor of Craig Ronald, an imported Clydesdale stallion, formerly owned by Andrew Richards of Caro. The horse was imported from Scotland in 1891, and has gained several first prizes at Canadian and Michigan fairs.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church closed their rummage sale on Tuesday after having operated it for two weeks in the Deming block. The receipts amounted to $130.

Squirrel's Enemies

Like other living creatures, the side-striped ground-squirrel has its share of natural enemies, says Nature Magazine. Among them are coyotes, weasels, bobcats, foxes, badgers, skunks, snakes hawks, owls, and man.

A TALK WITH A CASS CITY MAN

Mr. Withey Tells Something of Interest to Cass City Folks.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Withey of Main street, should be mighty helpful here in Cass City.

O. A. Withey, farmer, Main Street, says: "I suffered from a dull ache over my kidneys and they acted irregularly. Mornings, I had such a backache, I could hardly do my work and often had to sit down to rest. After using a box of Doan's Pills, I was rid of the backaches and my strength returned."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills — the same that Mr. Withey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. 1

Beasts That Blunder

People are always talking of the senses of beasts and birds. Yet instinct often errs. You would certainly think that instinct would warn an animal against poison. Yet many horses and cattle are killed by eating yew, saffron, and other plants, while in America the loco-weed is even more harmful.—London Mail.

Stumps Hinder Plowing

The Department of Agriculture says that in a test in south Georgia under identical conditions except for stumps, nine acres of cleared field were plowed in the time required to plow seven acres of stump field.

Supremacy Maintained through Features which Established Ford Leadership

Originally introduced by Henry Ford on the Model T car in 1908 and since adopted for most American-made cars.

Three Point Motor Suspension—
First used by Henry Ford in 1903, and a feature of the Model T power plant for eighteen years.

Dual Ignition System—
Dual ignition is provided for Ford cars, (1) the Ford magneto and (2) the generator and storage battery. This has been a great factor in establishing the Ford reputation for reliability.

Planetary Transmission—
Costs more to build than the conventional sliding gear type but gives better light car control.

Multiple Disc-in-oil Clutch—
The multiple disc clutch is generally conceded to be the best and smoothest type for any car. The Ford clutch runs in oil.

Thermo-Syphon Cooling System—
Extremely simple—always efficient. No water pump to require packing. Circulation of water is governed entirely by engine temperature.

Simple, Dependable Lubrication—
Exceedingly simple, combining the splash principle with gravity flow. No pump required.

Torque Tube Drive—
Henry Ford originated the Torque Tube in 1908—a driving principle now embodied in many of the highest priced cars.

"We have never lowered the quality of the car to reduce the price"

Hints for Styles in Spring Attire

Gray and Tan Among Favored Shades; Printed Silks and Crepes.

The forehanded woman is turning her gaze springward, and if she has any of her frocks fashioned by a dressmaker, is already looking at the new spring fabrics.

As regards colors, advises a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the light, more or less neutral, shades of gray and tan will be decidedly in vogue. Bois de rose tones, so becoming to both blonde and brunette, will be stressed. The so-called pastel shades, much brighter than those used for negligees but not at all garish, also will be smart. Many shades of green, especially those with a yellow cast such as chartreuse and absinthe, are to be seen, while blues, none of them very dark (pervenche is popular) together with those having a lavender tone will be worn.

Skirt lengths will remain about the same, 14 or 16 inches from the floor for the very shortest. And here let me say that the well-dressed woman is never guided by any particular skirt length style. She will choose the one in the smart skirt range which is best suited to her figure and abide by it.

The kind of material employed also makes a difference, a fluffy, frilly frock appearing shorter than one of a heavier, close-hanging material. Then, too, the type of frock and the places at which it will be worn should be considered.

As to the silhouette, the slender one still is retained, but a greater skirt width is universal. Indeed, the majority of frocks, especially those of the afternoon type, have skirts circular in effect, gathered or shirred at the waistline, or set with godets so that the hem is very much wider than a season ago.

Even sports frocks, although straight of line, are given a greater width by the use of cluster, box, inverted or accordion plait in the front or at the sides. A few gored skirts on the order of those in vogue two decades or so ago also are to be seen.

The new spring wraps when of a sports type are frequently of the slender silhouette, although the more elaborate ones often show a flare at the sides or sometimes all the way around, just as many of the winter ones have done. The straight-line wrap, too, is developed in elaborate effects.

Lovely materials are making their appearance. Gayly printed silks and crepes in modernistic or cubistic designs are unusual and striking.

Silk damasks in gay colors are favored for the two-piece sports frock. Soft flat woolen weaves such as Patou crepe are used for wraps and street frocks, while suede finished fabrics of an exceeding lightness in weight are also popular.

Gloves Are Elaborate; More Simple Than Ever

By her gloves will she be known, was never more true than today. Never has hand covering been more elaborate, and at the same moment, more simple. It is the wearer herself who decides this season just how much decoration the gloves should add to her costume.

There are gloves with more elaborate cuffs embroidered in colored silk to match the tone of the gown, in scrolls and conventional designs or ornate flowered ones. One charming white pair has a Japanese maid and her entire garden on it. A rather thick roll of the kid in the same shade as the embroidery gives a pretty touch. Of the more elaborate sort are gloves with lizard skin bands about the wrists finished off by a tiny silver buckle. Gold and silver skin are also used in the same manner, and give a striking touch to any costume.

Another vivid novelty is the batik glove coming in a suede patterned all over in designs on the order of the old-fashioned paisley. Sometimes there are double ruffles left plain or made lace-like with perforated designs. The old-fashioned gauntlet is almost never seen except in the motor and the cut this time is entirely different, being a kind of triangular piece slatted off to a point.

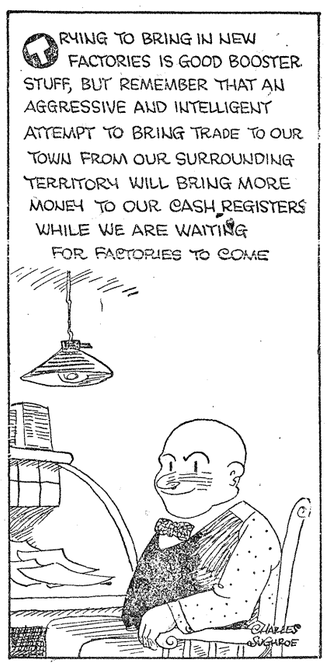
BILL BOOSTER SAYS:



When the World Began

Sir Oliver Lodge says time began with the formation of nebulae 200,000,000,000,000 years ago. We dislike to dispute such an eminent authority, but we were always under the impression it was 199,000,000,000,000 years ago.

Wonderful Horse

Bayard, given by Charlemagne to the four sons of Aymon, was a wonderful horse, according to old legends. He could lengthen himself to carry four masters comfortably. He supposedly still lives in Ardennes forest.
