

SCHOOL BONDS WERE SOLD WEDNESDAY

Toledo Firm Offers Premium of $4,045, with Interest at 4 3/4 Per Cent.

Bonds amounting to the sum of $175,000.00 on School District No. 5, fml., Elkland, were sold by the board of education of the Cass City Schools on Wednesday to Stranahan, Harris & Oatis of Toledo, at a premium of $4,045.00. The bonds will bear interest at the rate of 4 3/4 per cent. Twelve companies were represented in the bidding.

Voters of the district authorized the board of education at the special election to bond for $175,000.00 at interest not to exceed five per cent. The reduced rate of 4 3/4 per cent will mean a saving of approximately $8,000.00 interest on the entire bond issue.

The architect is still busy in preparing the specifications of the third floor of the new school building. He expects to have the entire plans and specifications ready within a week and bids will be received from contractors within a short period.

Queen Esthers in Two Plays

The evening service of the Methodist Episcopal church for Sunday, May 16, will be in charge of the Queen Esther Circle of that church. Commencing at the regular hour of 7:30, two plays will be offered by the young people of the church. No admission will be charged and the evening offering will be used by the circle for the furthering of its home missionary work.

"A Life Service Quandary," a one-act play, presents five college girls discussing the question of their own personal life work. This is not an abstract, high-sounding write-up of that problem. Rather, it is written in a delightfully informal manner, showing some of the things which one must consider before making such a decision. The scene is the Y. W. C. A. room of a college dormitory and the time is the social hour following the evening study period. The cast:

Helen Edna Robinson
Martha Pauline Sandham
Margaret Emma Bearss
Catherine Ethel Robinson
Mabel Marian Kritzman

"Monica," a three-act missionary drama, will be the second division of the evening's program. It is the story of the search of Monica Ramon for her brother from whom she was separated after the death of her parents. A young Mexican girl alone in the United States, excepting for the protection and friendship of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church, she is trained by that organization as a nurse. While working in one of the missionary hospitals, she finds her brother, who also has been taken care of by mission workers.

An appealing story of non-Christian conditions, of the bond of kinship, and of Christian service, it will be played by the following cast:

Monica Ramon Ethel Wager
Miss Osborn Adella Ferguson
Senor Carlos DeQueron, Clare Bailey
Christina Marguerite Henry
Rosa Zella Travis
Florence Mildred Karr
Mr. Auburn Glenn McCullough
Miss Morton Mildred Knight
Monteca Paquita Raymond Wood
Carmita and Filistina, Esther McRae

Huron Contracts for More Roads

Bright's bid for A. D. 16, was $21,684.04 and for A. D. 18, $16,760.84. Other bidders for A. D. 16, were: William Gilliland, Gladwin, $22,251.18 and Mark McKenzie, Cass City, $26,484.13. Other bidders on A. D. 18 were William Gilliland, $17,110.84 and Mark McKenzie, $17,784.56.

Church Choirs to Sing at Farm Day

Michigan's best church choirs, recruited from the smaller towns and country districts of the state, will "sing it out" for state championships at M. S. C. on July 30, during the annual Summers Farmers' Day at the college.

Special cash prizes will be awarded from the R. E. Olds community music fund, grading down from a first award of one hundred dollars.

Entries will be limited to country churches and churches from towns of not more than 2,000 population, insuring a real "country" classification for the interesting contest. The event is being held in line with the plan of the college in developing community singing in the rural districts of the state.

Each choir must consist of at least six singers, and may have as many more than that as desired. Each group will sing two selections, one of which will be a specified religious song.

PAINT-UP EPIDEMIC.

An epidemic of Clean-up and Paint-up has surely struck Main Street and store interiors have dolled up in a dress of Vitrolite, the long-life enamel or Bradley & Vrooman Washable Interior Colors.

The Ford Show Room and office glistens with a complete decoration of White Vitrolite, setting off the sample cars in an alluring fashion. The Gowen Confectionery has been tastefully finished throughout as has the Central Market next door. The Hart Grocery has been thoroughly refinished in Bradley & Vrooman House Colors.

N. Bigelow & Sons, who furnished the materials, are proud of the jobs and heartily commend the taste of Geo. Sholte, who applied them.—Advt.

INCREASING EFFICIENCY OF RELIGIOUS FORCES

Rural Church Problem Calls for More Co-operation in Religious Education.

The problems of the home missions and ways in meeting them were presented in the address of Rev. I. W. Cargo at the M. E. church on Sunday evening, at a service held in the interest of the Woman's Home Missionary Society.

City problems are largely foreign problems. The speaker cited instances where English speaking churches had been changed to meet the requirements of ministering to a foreign population which had settled in a part of the city where the English-speaking church had once flourished.

The rural problem is often a problem of overchurched. It was suggested that the solution was not a reduction of the overhead but the increasing of the efficiency in religious forces already at work in the community.

Much can be done, said Mr. Cargo, through a plan of co-operation, even where there seems to be more than the necessary number of churches in a given community, to utilize all of these church forces to advantage. For example, in the small town of Kallispell, Mont., there are four churches, probably more churches than could be ordinarily be justified. The church leaders, a year or so ago, so organized their work as to make admirable use of the total number of ministers and their church equipment. A program of week-day religious instruction was developed in co-operation with the high school, which provides that one of the four pastors give courses in religious education to the freshmen class, another to the sophomore class, a third to the junior class and the fourth to the senior class. The entire town co-operates with these four pastors in a Scout program involving every girl and boy in Kallispell. A similarly inclusive program was operated in connection with Daily Vacation Bible Schools, and it was discovered that they have not too many ministers in the town nor too much church equipment.

By way of co-operation, the speaker called attention to the following example which he gleaned from the annual report of the Board of Home Missions of the M. E. church: "In a certain community of approximately nine thousand population there are nine churches, each with a salaried pastor. The combined congregations of these nine churches would fill one good-sized auditorium and the combined Sunday Schools would make one good-sized church school. Here we may say is a case of flagrant over-churching. Why pay nine men when we could get along with one or possibly two? We need to consider, however, that in the same community nearly seventy-five school teachers are employed in the public schools at salaries ranging from $1,200.00 to $3,000.00, and it is not thought by anyone that this is too large a force of teachers. In the same community not a single person in the community is employed to teach religion to boys and girls. There are not too many men employed in the religious task in that town, probably there are too few. From the standpoint of an adequate religious ministry the town is tremendously underchurched. The trouble is not that too many men are employed, but it might be thought that too many of the same kind are employed to do exactly the same kind of work. Nine men are giving of their time to the preparation of 18 sermons each week, and the conducting of nine prayer meetings, but no one is employed to place the church school on a high level of efficiency, to organize and carry on week-day religious instruction, to conduct Daily Vacation Bible Schools, to lead clubs, to give time to Boy Scout and Girl Scout activities, to plan and supervise wholesome recreation. The tragic thing about such a community which employs 75 teachers to teach the three R's and not a single teacher to teach the fourth R, namely, religion, is the fact that so few people realize the inconsistency or recognize the small value which they thereby place upon the religion which they profess."

Members of the Caro Music Club presented a program at Cass City Wednesday evening which was given at a meeting of the local music club at the Cass City Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Frank Campbell read Mrs. Calbeck's report on Music Week which contained a fund of information for music lovers and Mr. Arms gave an instructive paper on musical instruments.

Rev. Blatchford's paper on "Expression and Interpretation of Music" was cleverly illustrated with the following numbers: "Sonata Pathetique" (Beethoven), a piano solo by Frank Campbell; "Lullaby" (Mussorgsky), a baritone solo, Clinton Seely; "Big Brown Bear," a soprano solo, Mrs. Wuerk; "Evening Star" and "Even Bravest Heart May Swell" (Faust), baritone solos, Dr. Geo. Sutton.

The program by Caro musicians was highly enjoyed by members and friends of the Cass City Music club. Light refreshments were served in the dining room at the close of the program.

16 LODGES REPRESENTED AT MARLETTE MEET

Associated Odd Fellow and Rebekah organizations, composing the Tuscola-Sanilac Odd Fellow association met Thursday, May 6, at Marlette. Sixteen lodges in the association were represented.

The attendance through the day was not large, as the farmers were taking advantage of the nice weather to work on their farms, but large crowds of both Oddfellows and Rebekahs attended the evening meetings. The Marlette band and a junior quartet furnished the music throughout the day. The address of welcome was given by E. E. Burget, village president, who is also noble grand of Marlette lodge. The initiatory degree was conferred by the Deckerville lodge. The Rebekah degree work was put on by the Garland Rebekah lodge of Detroit.

A fine crowd of Oddfellows and Rebekahs from the Cass City lodges attended all of these meetings.

STATE SOILS SHOWN IN NEED OF LIME

Tests Made on Soil Fertility Train Give Big Percentage of Acid Reaction.

Most Michigan soils are in need of lime in order to correct acid condition in preparation for crop production, if the results of hundreds of tests made during the run of the recent M. S. C. soils fertility train hold good for all of the state.

The train covered many counties in southeastern Michigan and the "Thumb" district, and most of the soils tested during the trip were shown to need lime, ranging from one to three tons per acre. Several samples in the Saginaw valley showed no lime need according to O. B. Price, soils specialist from the college who was with the train. In some of these instances farmers who had planned liming applications were saved considerable money as a result of the tests.

Proper soil treatment, with the soils test as a basis to provide necessary knowledge of exact soil condition, was the gospel of information spread by the special. More than 5,000 farmers attended the meetings held in connection with the train, while 1,470 soils samples were tested. Lapeer held the record for number of soils brought to the railway laboratory for testing, 139 samples being examined at this stop. The Owosso meeting is reported by the college extension men as turning out the largest attendance.

Delightful Musical Program Presented

Members of the Caro Music Club presented a program at Cass City Wednesday evening which was given at a meeting of the local music club at the Cass City Presbyterian church.

OVER 42,000 KILLED IN AUTO MISHAPS

Ten Thousand More Than Total of Recent World War Are Tragedy Victims.

Forty-two thousand Americans have been killed in motor car accidents during the last two years. That is ten thousand more than the number of American soldiers killed in action during the entire world war. It is a terrible indictment of our sportsmanship, and our good sense as well. It does not prove viciousness. It only indicates carelessness, and lack of appreciation of the dangers involved. By far the most of these deaths could have been prevented, with a little thoughtfulness and consideration. Much of the difficulty lies in ignorance on the part of the drivers of their rights, privileges and responsibilities.

Let every driver cut out the set of "Rules of the Road" herewith printed and study them. They are the accepted rules upon which state laws and ordinances are based throughout the country. They may differ slightly in some localities, but the fundamentals are the same. If each automobile driver would exercise just twice the care he did last year, ten thousand lives would be saved, including possibly his own. Is it worth the effort?

Always drive on the right hand side of the road.

In meeting another vehicle, pass to the right.

In overtaking another vehicle, pass Turn to page 8.

FARM WOMEN TO HOLD BIG STATE INSTITUTE

A special Farm Women's Institute, something new in the way of rural gatherings for the state, will be held at the Michigan State College from July 24 to 30 this summer, under the auspices of the Home Economics Extension division of the college.

The program will include everything from discussion of gardening and farm subjects to the appreciation of art and music.

New Bus on the Stafford Line

The annual mite box opening of the Home Guards and Mother's Jewels was held at the Methodist church, Tuesday afternoon. The mothers were all invited to this meeting. The Home Guards gave a demonstration of their work by conducting an entire social and business meeting. The main feature of the meeting was the opening of the mite boxes. This money goes to help erect a dormitory at the Jesse Lee Home. The child belonging to the Home Guards and the child belonging to the Mother's Jewels having the most money in their mite boxes received booklets. Ice cream cones were served after the meeting.

At the meeting of the East Central District of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Flint on May 5, Mrs. A. J. Knapp was unanimously endorsed for president of the state federation. The election will be held in October at Ann Arbor. Mrs. Knapp is the logical successor to Mrs. G. G. Hunter of St. Johns, the present incumbent of the office, as she is serving the state as first vice president. She has attained her present office through faithful service as state chairman and district president and has always been loyal and ever ready to serve the organization. The honor of this endorsement comes to Mrs. Knapp very deservedly in recognition of her ability as an executive and her willingness to serve mankind and her friends are confident that she will fill the office very creditably.

Fourteen members of the Woman's Study Club journeyed to Kingston on Monday evening where they were entertained by the Woman's Club of that village at a delightful Mother's Day program. The guests were heartily welcomed by Mrs. Meyers, president of the club, and then followed papers on mothers, past and present, two vocal solos and a vocal duet all pertaining to motherhood. The program was presented in the auditorium of the Methodist church and following this all were invited to the dining room in the basement where a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. Brick ice cream and assorted cakes were served. The following from Cass City attended: Mesdames Ernest Croft, I. A. Fritz, N. A. Gillies, G. C. Hooper, Bert Knight, Lewis Law, H. F. Lenzner, Jno. Marshall, W. C. Schell, Wm. Schwieger, G. A. Striffler, G. A. Tindale, Stanley Warner and Mason Wilson.

Millington-Cass City Ball Game

In a game that was featured by hard hitting, Cass City defeated Millington high school 24 to 7.

The way the Cass City team piled up the score was a surprise even to their most optimistic followers, for Millington was considered the big game, and up to Friday, they were undefeated.

A great improvement was shown by most of the local boys from the previous games, and it was their ability to think out the plays ahead of time that eliminated the mental errors and made the team look better than at any time previous to this game.

Score by innings:
R H E
Mill'ton 0 0 2 0 0 1 2—7 8 6
C. C. 0 2 6 7 1 1 7 0—24 21 5
Batteries—Webster, Cobb and Stoddard; McConnell and Fiddymant.
This week Unionville comes here, to be followed by Fostoria the following week, after which the locals go to Caro for the most important game of the season.

LOCAL STUDENTS HAVE HIGH SPELLING MARKS

In All but One Class, Cass City Pupils Are Above Average of Others Reporting.

Pupils of the Cass City Schools are efficient spellers if one is to judge from recent records made by students in Grades 3 to 8 inclusive. Their marks in all but one division show a higher standard than the average records recently made public.

Twice a year, in January and May, the schools using the Horn-Ashbaugh Spellers, receive a set of standard words for each grade. The words are divided into three sections, A, B and C, with 25 words in each list. The A list of words are those the pupil has recently studied in that semester. The words in the B list are those the student is supposed to have studied in previous years. Those in the C list are entirely new words that the pupil has not had before.

Below are the marks of students in the Cass City Schools in the January test compared with the average of all schools taking the test that month. In all cases but one, the Cass City School has the higher average.

The May test will be given in a few days.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK

DAUGHERTY was always looking into the future, or trying to do so. "I wish I knew what was going to happen to me next year," you could hear him saying when he was announcing his plans for the future.

If there was a palmist doing business in a side show when Daugherty went to the circus, he always paid his dollar to have his hand read, and he was most credulous in believing what the fakir told him. If there was ever a clairvoyant or a spiritualistic seance in the village Daugherty was sure to have a front seat at the opening night, eager to get, if possible, the advance dope on what was going to happen to him.

Being credulous, as I have said, he wasted a good deal of time in thinking about the fortunes which were said to be coming his way, the long journeys he was going to take, or the dark-eyed beauties who were destined to cross his path. He made plans for the future based upon what he had been advised by some shrewd fakir was going to come to pass, and then lost out because nothing happened. He grew weary after a while of being so often disappointed, and decided that it was just as well, possibly, to let the future manage itself and to take things when they came. It is the wise point of view.

It is just as well, I think, much as we often feel otherwise, that we are ignorant of what is going to happen to us tomorrow or next month or ten years from now. Few of us plan our lives as we should do if we knew they were to end tomorrow. We shall live to eighty or ninety, we tell ourselves, and there is plenty of time before us to do the things that should be done.

Morrow lived a wonderfully happy life. He was ambitious, he worked hard, he had begun to accomplish unusual things with the prospect before him of being one of the most distinguished men in his profession throughout the country. Then the end came; he was dead at thirty-five, but even in these few years he had done much.

Had he known ten or fifteen years before he died that he should go at thirty-five, would he have accomplished what he did? Would his heart have failed him when he looked forward to the end? Would he have lost courage, and have waited stolidly and ineffectively for the end? Possibly.

We would faint by the roadside, often, if we knew of the sorrow and the misfortune and the sacrifice that await us on the road ahead, but which, when it comes, we meet with fortitude. Men would be so elated, perhaps, if they could realize years before it comes to them the success and the prosperity that are to be theirs, that it would be impossible to live with them, so conceited would they be.

No; it is a wise provision of Providence that we cannot look into the future.

Count de Chambrun, now French minister to Athens, has been prominently mentioned as the next French ambassador to the United States to succeed Ambassador Berenger, who is expected to resign as a result of his successful debt negotiations with this country. Although Count de Chambrun is not yet in line for such an important post, it is expected an exception will be made in his favor because of his previous experience in Washington.

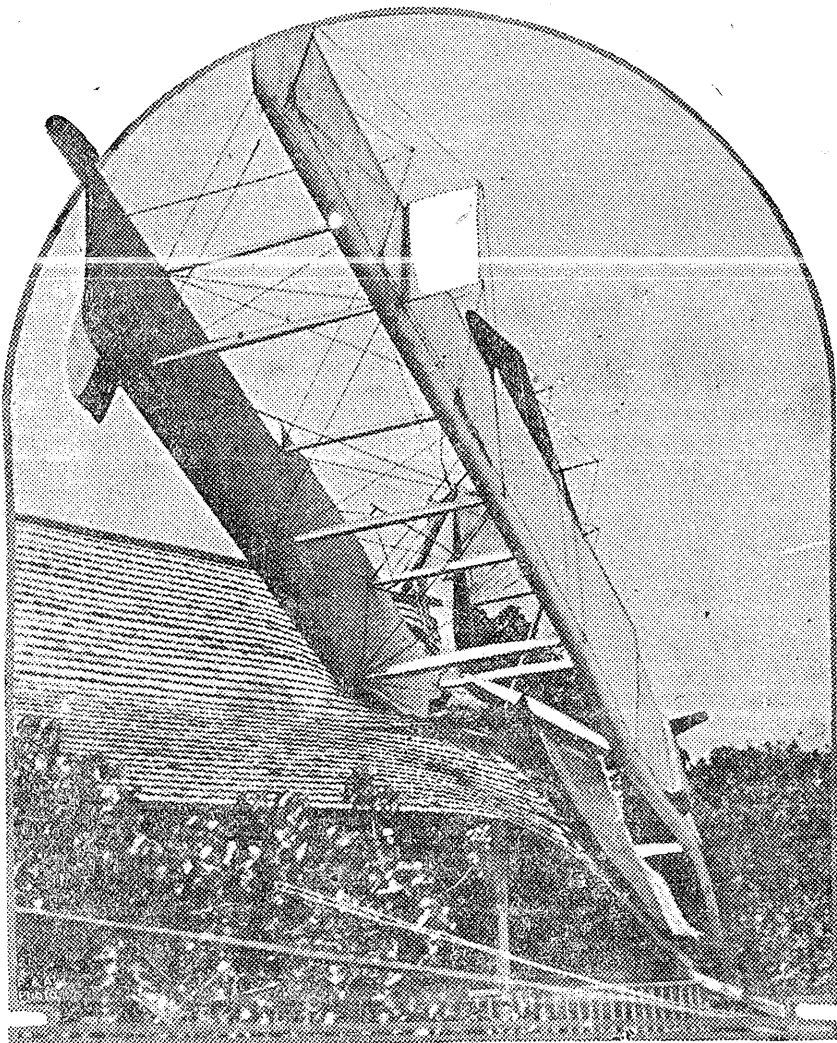

Summer Coats Pursue
a Straight Course

The story of summer coats closes with the arrival of midsummer models for sports and for general wear. Practically all the new models adhere to the straight-line silhouette and those for sports, made of flannel usually, are shown in white and light colors, with white promising to be a very popular choice. In coats for general wear, tan, beige, gray and light green are favorites, and many of them have small collars of summer furs—as squirrel, summer ermine or mole skin. Charmeuse and twills lead in fabrics and a handsome model in the former fabric is shown in the picture. Its distinctive feature appears in its exquisite tailoring.

Match Consumption

If all the matches used by the average person in a period of fifty years could be made into one huge "safety," it would be a foot square and five feet in height, with a head as big as four footballs rolled into one.

Bad Smash, but No One Was Killed

When a seaplane piloted by W. T. Carew crashed into the home of Mrs. Theresa Pine at Coconut grove, Miami, Fla., fortunately no one was killed. Carew and his mechanic escaped with slight injuries.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

(© F. H. Cheley, Denver, Colo.)

The Preoccupied Dad

THE world often calls him the successful man, and prints his history in Who's Who. He gives his family everything they need but himself. In the wild rush of modern living he has abdicated his responsibility as a Dad. He is a really large caliber man who has become wrapped up in his work until he almost forgets he is a father at all.

"Perhaps when profit is dead and brotherhood is an established fact, a less commercial generation will seize the greatest of all opportunities and fathers will concern themselves with their sons."

There is many a preoccupied father who wakes up too late to the fact that the "worst thing about money is that it often costs too much."

Not all the homeless boys in America live in the slums.

It is a great service to such men to help them discover that it is their privilege to be more than a Santa Claus to their own boys.

To whom does your boy go for advice?

"Yes, my Dad was a fine man, but I never knew him," said a certain boy in trouble.

More
Protection

It is easy to insure money but we have always been uneasy about what would happen to our safety-deposit boxes, our notes, mortgages, records and other valuable papers should burglars arrive in the night.

We have this week had gas protection added to our vault equipment. Heat applied to the vault door melts wires which automatically break three gas bombs containing (1) tear-gas which cannot be withstood without a mask, (2) a gas which creates a dense cloud through which one cannot see, and (3) a gas which creates a dust and will clog any gas-mask.

This greatly adds to the protection of the bank and peace of mind.

Beginning Ice Industry

Probably the first ice cut and shipped as an article of commerce was sent in 1799 from New York to Charleston, S. C., but the real beginning of the industry came in 1805, when Frederick Tudor of Boston shipped a cargo of 130 tons to the West Indies. The artificial ice business dates from 1893, but did not become of commercial importance until about 1890.

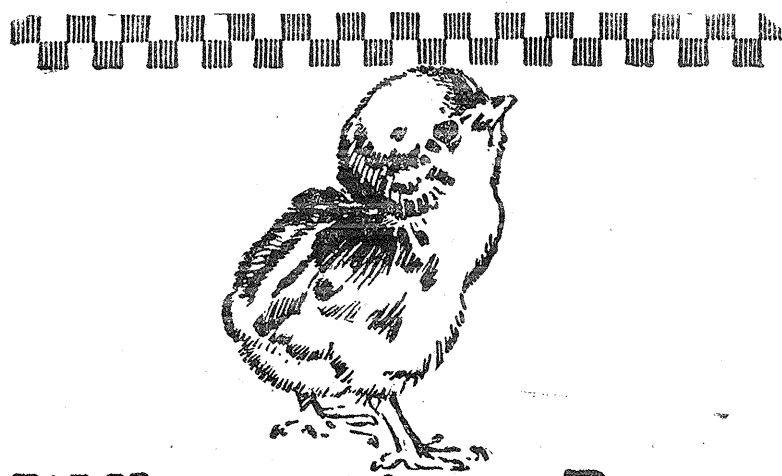

CATTLE THRIVE IN A WELL-BUILT BARN

It's true no doubt that "blood will tell" and he will have most milk to sell whose cows come from a family of tried and tested pedigree. But rotting floor and old-time stalls; a leaky roof and drafty walls are blamed unhealthy for a cow, and that's poor business you'll allow. So while good stock's worth paying for, good barns mean just as much or more.

Concrete Sidewalks

Finding Much Favor

The use of concrete for sidewalks has become so universal throughout the cities and towns of this country that a town or city of any appreciable size is rarely found in which the sidewalks are not all made of this favored material.

Concrete is now universally accepted as the ideal sidewalk material. Properly built concrete walks meet all the requirements of a good footway. They are durable, smooth without being slippery, and are pleasing and clean in appearance. Good walks are easy to build. It is only necessary to follow a few, easily understood principles, to build concrete walks that are practically everlasting.

Just four materials enter into a concrete walk—portland cement, sand, crushed stone or pebbles and water. When these are combined in certain definite proportions, placed on a prepared foundation and allowed to harden the walk is complete. But the materials must be suitable; the foundation must be properly prepared; and the mixing and placing of the concrete must meet the requirements of sound construction principles. Failure to meet one or more of the above conditions in the early days of concrete-making was the cause of occasional poor walks being constructed.

Future "Old Home" Weeks

The "antiquated" past is not so far in the rear after all. In America it is hardly sufficiently remote to be regarded as historical in the strictest sense of that term. And yet the inclination too often is to believe that all that is worth while in American annals has been written by those of previous generations. It might not be an extravagant statement that at no time since the coming of the first white settlers to American shores has the responsibility of the individual been greater than at the present moment. There are still many old home weeks to be observed, a decade hence, a century farther on. Those who participate in such gatherings will look back upon the building which is now being done, just as we of today look back upon the structure we have received as a legacy from sturdy and high-minded forebears. — Christian Science Monitor.

Time to Plant Trees

Whatever trees we want to plant—and everybody ought to plant trees—should be planted now. The early planted trees get the best chance at making satisfactory growth. If we are going to grow a lawn—and everybody ought to grow a lawn—this is the best time to get the seed in the ground. Hot dry weather is not conducive to growing grass. It takes the cool, moist season of spring to get a new growth for a lawn started. Then if we expect to garden, plant flowers, paint the premises or otherwise let the world know that we are among those present in the world's activities, it is also time to get going. It is the time to leave our hibernating mental attitude and get into the wide-awake swing of real action.—Florence News.

City's Opportunity

Cities have the ambition to aspire to great heights when they have built their foundation with an understanding of the main essentials which go into the development of prestige and good will. Without these attributes, some cities may become richer and greater, but they do not and cannot become better. Troy has the opportunity. Troy may never become the city of half a million people; but Troy may become better and more favorably known than any city twice or three times its size if new standards are adopted and applied.—Troy Herald.

Rattler Need Not Cough

The commonly accepted belief that a rattler will not strike until after it has sounded its warning is false. If the reptile is trodden on while asleep it will strike first and do its rattling afterward.

That's Different

SOME SMITHS!

(Yale Expositor).

The writer was wheeling her little granddaughter down Mary St. yesterday and a little girl, possibly 7 or 8 years, came by, going home from school and we chatted. I asked her if she knew the baby, and she said "no," so I introduced Betty Smith and said, "Do you know her now?" As she skipped across the street to her home she replied, "I know some Smiths, but not all of them." That was good, and I laughed with appreciation.

FAIRM STOCK

GOOD PASTURE IS FIRST ESSENTIAL

A good pasture is the first essential for successful live stock production and one containing only the wild or native grasses will not increase the bank account on the basis of growing cattle since it will produce an approximate gain of only one pound per animal daily.

"Such a pasture will only pay about two per cent on the investment," says Prof. R. S. Curtis, of the animal husbandry department at the North Carolina State college. "A business man figures that he must have at least six per cent on his money. A good pasture seeded to tame grasses and properly made and cared for will return this amount. In other words, where the live stock man gets only one pound gain per day on native pastures, he should get from two to three pounds gain on all tame pasture.

"It is time to plow up the old pastures, reseed them and make the investment pay. Some farmers who are getting about 125 pounds of gain per animal in a season by using old, native-grass pastures should remember that there are numerous instances where other farmers are getting 350 to 375 pounds of gain per season. This means that the live stock man who has a good pasture and is using it as a business man, is growing out a steer in one year, while the other man, not so business-like, is taking two or three years to grow out his steer. In the meantime, he has his money tied up and incurs the risk of carrying the animal."

Professor Curtis states that live stock growers must learn that a beef animal should be kept growing from the time he is born until marketed. There should be no lapse in weight during this time. Pasture plus feed is the way to do this. The live stock grower must grow pasture, use plenty of feed, with judgment, and place his animals on the market with the least delay possible. Money can be made in the growing of beef cattle but only on the basis of good pastures available.

Feed Ewes Liberally to Increase Crop of Lambs

The sheepman who makes brood ewes of his flock is likely to make more money than the man who helps only enough to perpetuate his flock. This fact is brought out by a survey conducted on 20 flocks by the Ohio State university.

Five flocks having the highest percentage of brood ewes and lambs were compared with the five flocks with the lowest percentage. In the flocks with the highest proportion of lambs, 48 per cent of the flock were bred ewes and 37 lambs were raised for every 100 head of the flock. In the five flocks of the lowest proportion of lambs, 33 per cent of the flock were bred ewes and 21 lambs were raised for every 100 head. Compared to this high and low market, the average of all flocks showed that 36 per cent were bred ewes and 29 lambs were raised in every 100 of the flock. The high five flocks reported an average profit of $2.04 on a sheep; the low five flocks 95 cents a sheep, and an average of all flocks of $1.06 a sheep. The conclusion drawn by the university was that the difference of profit can be attributed to the higher percentage of lambs or the higher percentage of brood ewes in the more profitable flocks.

Clover Bloat Treatment as Favored by Kentucky

Some years ago the Kentucky agricultural experiment station made investigations as to the cause and cure of cattle bloating on clover. Their recommendations are as follows:

"When cattle are first pastured on clover they should only be kept in the pasture for a short time and should not be turned into the pasture until after the dew has disappeared. Further, clovers that have been frosted are much more apt to cause bloat than at any other time. After the cattle have become accustomed to clover, there is not so much danger of bloat as there is when they are first placed on this kind of feed. The treatment of cases that do occur consists of tapping or puncturing the paunch, which permits the escape of gas that has formed, also to drench immediately with a solution of one-half to one ounce of formalin to a quart of water. This may be repeated if necessary. It is always advisable to follow with a dose of salts."

Large Lamb Crop

The chief factors of a large lamb crop are peaceful ewes, plenty of green feed at breeding time, virile rams, good feed and plenty of exercise during cold weather and good care at lambing time. Growers count on 100 lambs at marketing time for each 100 ewes in the breeding flock under farm conditions over a period of years. There is probably something wrong with the ewes or the management if the crop runs less than this for a number of years.

Dissatisfaction the Spur

I find it to be the height of wisdom not to endeavor to oversee myself and live a life of prudence and common sense, but to see over and above myself, entertain sublime conjectures, to make myself the thoroughfare of thrilling thoughts, live all that can be lived. Last Day of Carnival

"Mardi Gras" gets its name from the French practice of parading a fat ox (boeuf gras) during the celebration of the day. The name means fat Tuesday, "Mardi" being the French for Tuesday. It is the last day of carnival, the latter comprising the last three days before Lent, the feast or season of rejoicing observed with public merriment, revelry and feasts.

FOUR DELICIOUS CAKES FROM FOUR CORNERS OF THE UNITED STATES

(Ed. Note: This is one of a special series of articles contributed by 6 Famous Cooks. Their recipes are "different." Cut them out and paste them in your cook book.)

Who ever heard of a family without at least one "cake-eating" member? It's pretty certain that such a household doesn't exist. Usually there are several folks clamoring for cake and more cake. It's the one food which seldom has "left-overs."

It's also one of the foods which can be made just as rich or just as plain as the cook wants to make it.

MARGARET ALLEN HALL

For the Chocolate Fans
Rich Devil's Food Cake with Laplander frosting is a cake which appeals especially to those who like chocolate. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition expert at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives this as her favorite recipe:

1/2 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
4 eggs
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts
2 squares chocolate.

Cream the butter with one cup of sugar. Beat egg yolks, add the other cup sugar, beat until creamy. Combine the two mixtures. Sift baking powder with flour and add to creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Add melted chocolate and nuts, and fold in egg whites. Bake in deep pan, or in layers. Cover with Laplander frosting.

Laplander Frosting

1 egg
1 cup sugar
2 squares chocolate cut fine
3 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Beat the egg, add milk, butter, sugar and chocolate. Cook slowly over flame, stirring constantly. When mixture comes to a boil, remove from fire, add vanilla and beat until thick enough to spread.

For the Children

Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, the Philadelphia cooking expert, has an excellent recipe for a soft molasses cake. "Give the children as much as they want," says Mrs. Rorer. "It's wholesome and nourishing."

Here is Mrs. Rorer's recipe: Dissolve one teaspoonful of baking soda in two tablespoonfuls of warm water. Add one cup of molasses, a quarter of a pound of melted butter, one cupful of boiling water, and one tablespoonful of ground ginger. Add three cupfuls of pastry flour and beat until smooth. Bake in a shallow pan, upper rack in a medium oven for about 30 minutes.

This may be served with whipped cream as a delicious dessert.

Use Bananas, Too

Bananas flavor this delicious cake recommended by Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, Los Angeles cooking expert. The ingredients are:

1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas
4 tablespoons sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 1/4 cups flour
1 1/2 cups baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped walnut meats

Cream sugar and shortening, add the beaten eggs. Dissolve soda in sour milk and add. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together and add. Mix well, and add nuts. Pour into two greased and floured cake tins. Bake in oven 350 degrees F. for 28 minutes. Ice with banana whip.

Put all three ingredients in a bowl. With a Dover egg beater whip until mixture is of the consistency of stiffly beaten whipped cream.

Sunshine Prune Cake

Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco, home economics counselor, contributes her recipe for Sunshine Prune Cake.

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk or water
1/2 cup melted shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon

Sift dry ingredients, except sugar; beat eggs until very light, add sugar gradually, beating with egg beater. When creamy, add dry ingredients alternately with liquid, mixing well. Add flavoring and melted shortening. Pour batter in a shallow, well greased pan, cover top with pitted uncooked prunes, placing the fruit in even rows, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Bake in a moderate oven.

(Don't miss next week's special cooking article on this page.)

It's Worth It

Every housewife who uses an oil stove should devote five minutes to it each morning, filling the reservoir and wiping off the wicks. This care insures perfect flame and no soot or odor.

Vegetable Cookery

In cooking vegetables use as little water as possible. Have it boiling when the vegetables are put in, otherwise the vitamins, salts, and flavor are lost.

GREENLEAF.

The remains of Miss Laura Richardson were brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Richardson, Monday. Miss Richardson had been a patient at the hospital at Pontiac for some time and death was caused by tuberculosis. She was 39 years of age. The funeral services were held at the family home Thursday with burial at Uby. Deceased is survived by her mother, father and sister, Myrtle, and a brother, Edmund, and other relatives, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Waterproof Shoes

When polishing shoes in rainy weather put an extra amount of polish along the joint between the uppers and soles. This will make them waterproof and prevent mud from caking on the leather.

Is cake baking really difficult?

"Not when you have the right stove," say six famous cooks.

There is no reason why cake-making should be less successful than any other cooking operation—when the cook can depend upon her stove.

THAT is the statement of six famous cooks who have just completed a practical cooking test of the Perfection Stove. All six agreed in praising the Perfection highly for its baking ability, as well as for its general performance.

"Speaking of cakes, half the making is in the baking," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans, domestic science specialist.

Delicate Angel Food

"An even temperature must be maintained while an angel food and other cakes are baking," added Miss Margaret A. Hall, nutrition expert of the Battle Creek College of Home Economics. "When I baked cakes in the Perfection oven I used a standard, portable oven thermometer as a check. The flame did not creep or crawl. You can depend on the Perfection flame to remain as you set it."

"My orange cakes and devil's foods were delicious," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, household economics director. "The air circulation in the Perfection oven seems perfect. All excess moisture was carried away."

"It's the 'live heat' of the Perfection Oven which brings such good results," said Mrs. Rorer, famous Philadelphia cook.

"The Perfection oven is so roomy that there is room for several cakes at a time," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco. "And, through the glass door of the oven you can see just how they are baking. No need to open the door and lose any heat."

Miss Lucy G. Allen, of the Boston School of Cookery, commented on the visible oil supply. "You can see," she remarked, "whether you have enough for your cooking. If not, it's easy to refill the Perfection reservoir without soiling your hands."

High Praise

These are just a few of Perfection's good baking points which the six expert cooks praised highly. You will find many others when you bake on a Perfection. It's the stove which proves cake-baking is not difficult.

Cass City Schools

Supt. H. W. Holmes, assisted by Willis Campbell and Harry Duke, conducted a review for seventh and eighth grade students on Thursday and Friday, May 6 and 7.

Last year, Mr. Holmes conducted one of these reviews, which was the first given in this part of the state. The object is to prepare the student for the county eighth grade examination. The review met with such good approval last year that Mr. Holmes held another this spring.

Before the review was held last week, he sent out a list of questions on each subject to the different teachers of rural schools and these questions were taken up at the review.

Thursday, May 6, was devoted to the seventh grade and ... subjects of penmanship, spelling, reading, geography, physiology and orthography were taken up. About 125 attended this review.

On Friday, the eighth grade reviewed arithmetic, grammar, history, civil government and agriculture. About 120 pupils attended.

These reviews have met with such a good response that a number of other schools are putting them on this year.

The play "Nothing But the Truth" by the seniors of Cass City high school was pronounced a success by all who attended. It was not only a success as an entertainment, but also financially, a sum of $200.00 having been the receipts of the evening. The success was due to three factors—first the splendid instruction the players were given under the direction of Miss Reed; second, the splendid material the senior class afforded; and third, the effort put forth by the stage and business managers. The senior class and their sponsor, Mr. Duke, wish to thank the public for their support.

On May 21st the first annual academic contest will be held at Central Michigan Normal school, Mt. Pleasant. The purpose of this is to give the pupils an opportunity to compete for honors in the different subjects in high school. Each school is permitted to send two contestants in each subject. Cass City expects to enter.

This week, standard tests from the University of Michigan are being given to the pupils of the grades on different subjects.

Dr. Pitman from the Ypsilanti Normal gave a very interesting talk on "Choosing a Vocation" Thursday, and Friday we were again favored by a talk from Dr. Musser on "The People of India."

The Berkshire pigs which some of the boys in the Pig Club are to receive will come from Mr. Parker of Thornton, Indiana. Mr. Parker was judge at the International Live Stock Show and is one of the best Berkshire judges in the United States. Most of the white pigs for the club will come from the vicinity of Cass City. Wm. Merchant and Steve Dodge expect to accompany Willis Campbell to Winwood farm at Rochester to look for calves for the Calf Club.

The Junior play cast, with the winners of the local declamation and oratorical contests, Clark Knapp and Virginia Day, enjoyed a dinner Monday night at the Knapp home.

The first grade had a spelling contest Friday. Shirley Lenzner won first honors and Arlington Hoffman was second.

The second grade are studying common birds. Each week they take a new bird and learn its size, color, song, food and nest. They are still learning to do shopping for their mothers and learning the prices of different articles, also to make change in buying groceries at the store.

The fourth grade are learning a poem about the months of the year. They are busy with state tests this week. Their average in spelling was eighty.

Correction—In the report of oratorical and declamatory contests in the Chronicle of April 23, the name of Clara Bailey appeared as a contestant in declamations. The name of Thelma Henderson should have been given instead of Mr. Bailey.

THUMB NOTES.

Harbor Beach—The Pere Marquette, as announced in The Times two weeks ago, is now on its new schedule. This schedule does not take into consideration the likes or dislikes of the community, which it serves in a half hearted way, but has cut out the passenger train and is now strictly a freight carrier in this locality. Mail is being carried on the freight train, which is supposed to leave Port Hope in the morning at 10:30, and arrive here at 11:00. Mail for this train must be in the post office at 10:30 to insure its being carried out on the southbound train. Coming back it leaves Palms at 3:50 and arrives here at 5:30—that is it is supposed to. From 6:00 until 10:30 is said to be the time it has been arriving.—Times.

Pigeon—Thieves don't even respect a cemetery. Recently Henry Moeller discovered that some one had cut down and taken a balsam tree from the lot of his father and mother in the Pigeon cemetery. Apparently it was used as a Christmas tree for a school or church as it was too large for a family tree.—Progress.

Harbor Beach—The Community House building committee was in Pt. Huron, Wednesday, looking over the Garfield school gymnasium, Desmond Theater and also the Marysville school gym. Architect Harvey accompanied the local committee. Ideas for the erection of the new Community House was the object of the trip, and they received many. Plans for the new building are being drawn out and estimates as to the ultimate cost will be known in a few days. Insurance adjustment is still taking place. It is thought around $61,000 will be received from the insurance companies.—Times.

Bay Port—More than 10 million white fish were planted at Bay Port and Caseville from the state fish hatchery there this spring, the last planting being made last week. About two and a half million herring were planted last week. Spawn from wall-eyed pike is now being received. Perch eggs will be taken in a week or 10 days.

Port Hope—A syndicate of Detroit has secured an option on seven hundred acres of land north of Port Hope and are after two hundred acres more to put across a gigantic summer resort project which will run into about three million dollars. The plan calls for a restricted summer resort property, homes costing not less than $7,500, and up-to-date golf course, paved streets with parking prohibited, paved alleys where summer resorters will be permitted to do their parking, electric lighting and an up-to-date sewerage system.
