Dr. Livingston Touring Europe

Dan Livingston, R. R. No. 1, Cass City, has received the following letter from his brother, Dr. Geo. M. Livingston of Detroit, who is a member of a medical party touring Europe and visiting many of its famous hospitals.

On Board Aragurga, May 4, 1926. Dear Dan: We are now on our seventh day at sea. Weather is fine and the sea well behaved. No storms in sight and not many seasick, so far. As yet, I haven't missed a meal. Mabel has laid in a few times, when she didn't care much to eat but has not felt very bad at any time. There are about 150 in the medical party, including doctors and their wives. All having a good time. The ship makes around 350 miles every day and we are still around 700 miles from sunny France. We have a nice stateroom with two berths, running water, electric fan, etc., very comfortable in every way. The meals are great—finest kind of meats, turkey, duck and chicken—but no fresh eggs and no good fresh milk. They do have plenty of the canned milk. Three big meals a day served and lunches in between. One can scarcely turn around that they don't run into a steward, passing around hot tea, beef tea, sandwiches, cakes, cookies, etc. They keep every-thing well filled up and are not at all stingy.

This is a good sized ship, but not one of the fast ones. Some of them, like the Mauretania, cross in 5 or 6 days. This one takes 10. But she is comfortable and the doctors are not in a hurry. We are to visit hospitals all over Europe and lots of sight-seeing besides. The trips are laid out for both the benefit of the doctors on board and the wives who are interested mostly in sight seeing.

We expect to return home by the Steamer Regina, sailing out of Liverpool on August 21st and due to land in Montreal on Aug. 29. This will be a long vacation but we don't expect to make this trip again soon and so we are making the best of it. We will spend at least a month in Scotland and will visit Argyle Shire, where our ancestors came from. That was mostly in Inverary. We will likely be two weeks in the Highlands.

With regards, and hoping everything is going right with you, I am, Sincerely, GEO. M. LIVINGSTON.

Cass City Plays Fairgrove Today

Up to the close of last week, three high schools had lost but one game each in the county series. Representatives of these three schools, Caro, Cass City and Fairgrove, met to arrange for the field day game. Cass City drew the bye and this left Caro and Fairgrove to play the preliminary game to decide the contestant to oppose Cass City at the field day contest this afternoon. Fairgrove "upset the dope" in defeating the county seat team on Tuesday afternoon, winning the game 6-7.

Fairgrove defeated Cass City earlier in the season, but spectators are of the opinion that they had "no license" to do so. Today's match will tell who's who.

GREAT INTEREST IN 1926 CLUB WORK

Fifty-nine Boys and Girls Enrolled in Pig and Calf Clubs at Cass City.

Barker of Thornton, Indiana. In club work, there are 23 in the Chester White class, 5 in the Duroc and 6 in the Berkshire.

FARM DAY AT M. S. C. ON JULY 30

Plan New Features for Annual Summer Conference—8,000 Gathered Last Year.

The annual summer Farmers Day at Michigan State College will be held on Friday, July 30, this year, and plans are being completed at East Lansing for the entertainment of one of the largest agricultural meetings in the history of the state.

Since the start of the Farmers' Day meetings in 1918, this combined summer conference and picnic has grown so rapidly that it has become the outstanding meeting of its kind in the state. In 1925, in spite of a steady rain which fell most of the day, actual count at the gates showed more than 8,000 farmers and their families checked in for the day.

With good weather, it is predicted at the college that this figure will be surpassed on July 30.

Most of the old features of the Farmers' Day program are to be retained this year, with the addition of new entertainment stunts. Inspecting of the extensive college experimental plots and field visits to the livestock herds and orchards, and informal conference with agricultural specialists will occupy the morning. A big general meeting, with one or two nationally known speakers and a band concert, will be held in the afternoon.

New Decorations in Hospital Building

The Pleasant Home Hospital has been in the hands of decorators the past week and wonderful improvements have resulted from their activities.

The reception room has been done in paneled paper with a burlap base, new drapes have been added and a brown color scheme has been followed in both room decorations and furniture.

The davenport, rockers, chairs, floor lamp, table and fernery in this room are in wicker, finished in brown with a purple trim. The upholstering is in a figured brown tapestry.

The lower hall has been papered and has a burlap base. The ceiling is finished in cream. The upper hall is done in buff and gray. Duco and white enamel was used in brightening the operating room while the nurse's workroom is finished in gray. In the workroom, an electric plate has been installed. Buff and gray are the shades most prevalent in the patients' rooms and their furniture is done in gray duco.

A fuel oil burner will be installed in the hospital's heating equipment this summer.

MAKES LIFE WORTH WHILE.

Anyone who casually reads the newspapers of today cannot fail to be impressed by the remarkable instances of unselfish heroism exhibited by the average citizen in daily life. It is heart rending to read the weekly chronicle of murders, suicides and accidental deaths, but occasionally one runs across an incident that makes it worthwhile to read other harrowing details.

In Baltimore last week, Mrs. Regina Ember, wife of Dr. Aaron Ember Professor at Johns Hopkins, her six year old invalid son and her maid were burned to death when they were trapped by flames in their home. The husband and father was badly burned in frantic efforts to rescue his wife and child. John Miller, a fire chief, knowing that the mother and boy were in a rear second floor room, climbed a ladder and entered the house. He crawled about the burning room seeking occupants, but failed to find them before being driven from the room by the flames.

Later when water had checked the blaze, the bodies of the mother and her child were discovered in a front room. The body of the mother was on top of that of the boy. She had covered her son with her body in a final effort to protect him from the flames!

We might use this space to write editorials on subjects of more interest to the world at large and of more importance in the outlook of the average man, but the human race goes forward through the heroic sacrifices of its unselfish members. We know of no greater bravery than that exhibited by Mrs. Ember. Her husband and the two other children, who were spending the night at the home of a friend on the occasion of the fire, have a right to cherish her memory as one of the bravest of the brave.

There is a comforting assurance that she did no more than millions of other parents in this country would do in the event that they were put to the test. Such bravery should be extolled.

RUNNING DOWN THE TOWN.

If you had a horse that you wanted to sell, you would not go about town talking constantly about its bad points. If you did, you wouldn't be likely to sell. What would you think of a merchant who made a practice of standing out in front of his store telling all passers that his goods were shoddy and not worth much? You would probably say he is a fool and you would be right. Now, the town in which you live in is your own; your business is here, your job is here, your property is here. Do you think you are going to make your business any better or add to the value of your property by standing around and roaring about what a rotten town it is? If you do, you'd better see an alienist about your mental condition. As a matter of fact, every time you "run down" your town, you are hurting your own business and detracting from the value of your property. Even though you may have no pride in your community, you ought to have sense enough not to injure your own interests. Every business concern in addition to a stock of goods and plant, has intangible assets of the greatest value. Among the assets is its good name, its reputation for square dealing. When you hurt the good name of such a concern, you injure it more than you would if you should burn down its plant. Besides its business and industrial institutions, its homes, schools and all other kinds of property, every town has intangible assets which must be protected. When you talk down your town, you are injuring its good name and thereby giving it a blow of the most serious kind. If you want your business to be better, if you want your property to increase in value, if you want to live in a better town, forget your grouch and begin to talk for your town instead of running it down.—Bemidji, Minnesota, Sentinel.

Let all the citizens keep their premises clean and attractive; this will make Cass City impress strangers within the gates.

Obituary.

Fayette W. Parker died Tuesday morning, June 1, 1926, at his home, 1/2 mile south of Canboro, Grant township, at the age of 25 years, one month, 28 days, after an illness of about ten days of ptomaine poisoning. He was born April 4, 1901, at the old home 1/2 mile south of Canboro. He attended the Canboro school until he graduated and then with his parents moved to Owendale in Nov. 1916. He graduated from Owendale high school on June 17, 1920. In Oct. 1920, he accompanied William Proudfoot of Grant on an automobile trip to California and returned the following June. He made his home for a short time with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennis, in Farmington. In the fall of 1921 he left for college there for a year. The summer of 1922, he spent in Indiana, returning in the fall and again in October he went to California. He stayed and worked there from October 1922 until he returned again in June, 1924. He worked a short time again at Farmington and came later to Grant and made his home for a few months with his uncle, William W. Parker, Jr., and family. On Jan. 1, 1925, he was united in marriage to Miss Neva Webster of Grant. They moved on the old home shortly after this, where he resided until his death. He was a member of the Owendale Evangelical church at one time but lately had attended the Grant M. E. church. He was a member of the Gleaners for the past 11 years. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, adopted son, mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennis, of Farmington, besides a number of uncles and aunts and other relatives and friends. He was preceded in death by his father and two sisters some years ago. Mr. Parker was a kind and loving husband and father and a good neighbor and friend to one and all. The floral offerings were large and beautiful. Funeral services were held Thursday, June 3, at the Canboro church, Rev. J. J. Pearson of Owendale officiating, and interment was made in the Grant cemetery. The pallbearers were Howard and Clifford Martin, Neil and Howard MacCallum, Hasket Blair and Harold Jarvis. Among those present from a distance were, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Richards, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrish, Mrs. Wesley Morrish, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McGee, Mrs. Peter Severn and daughter of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chisholm and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stone of Grand Blanc, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eastman and daughter, Grace, and son, Guy, of Imlay City, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morrish of Elkton, Henry Pardo and Mrs. Frank St. Mary of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parker of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson, Mrs. H. L. Caryl and George Rockwood and son, Gerald, of Harbor Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Webster of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webster and children of Orion and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker of Bad Axe and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brackenbury of Cass City. The family have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad bereavement.

Bad Axe—County Clerk W. G. Clark has ordered an additional 500 license plates from the Michigan Department of State. The plates will be among the second million issued by the state this year and will include the letter "M" to denote the extra million. The state prepared over 1,000,000 plates for the first time this year.

Bad Axe—Fifty-nine cases are listed on the calendar of the June term of Huron county circuit court. This number exceeds the April term by five, only 54 cases being listed for trial on the April docket.

Caro—Tuscola county's population increased the past week by 400. However, the increase is largely transient and is made up by the annual influx of beet weeders, most of whom are Mexicans from Texas. Two trains last week brought 200, another 200 came later, and 200 more are expected within the next two weeks.—Advertiser.

Imlay City—Rev. John C. Young announced to his congregation Sunday morning that he had decided to accept a call to the pulpit of the merged Congregational and Presbyterian churches at Big Rapids, starting September 1.

Imlay City—The Chamber of Commerce last week purchased the radio amplifier unit which will be used for concerts and other activities this summer on the streets of Imlay City. The amplifier unit consists of a Western Electric power amplifier, two horns, the base of which a Magnabox power speaker is used and the throat of a concert model Music Master mahogany speaker. The set used is the Splendifer Polonaise 5-tube set, which is operated on a "A" battery and majestic Super "B" eliminator. The set is on exhibition at the Radio Shop and Mr. Muir will be glad to explain it to the public in detail.—Times.

Caro—Seth Q. Pulver, at one time village attorney here and for seven years engaged in the practice of law at Caro, is making a campaign for the state senate. His home is now in Owosso.

Uby—During the heavy wind storm Tuesday afternoon Jas. Davidson, who was assisting at the Henry Davidson farm was badly injured when the wind blew down the silo in which they were working. His condition, which was thought very serious, is now showing signs of recovery, and unless complications set in, he will recover.—Courier.

Lindsay, who left Harbor Beach, Wednesday morning for Cassopolis, his new home was presented with a silver edge mounted pocketbook by his fellow Rotarians at the annual meeting of the Harbor Beach Rotary Club, held at Williams Inn last Friday evening. Bad Axe—Alva Nash, chief mail clerk of Bad Axe postoffice, received 100 per cent on the case examination conducted here recently. He was one of three in this district, which includes Detroit, to receive a perfect mark.—Tribune.

Lexington—Sanilac county's first courthouse at Lexington is being torn down to give place to a modern structure. The old courthouse, built in 1849 and one of the oldest landmarks in the county, will soon be but a page in history.

Sebewaing—Edward Jahr has started the dredging of the channel from the mouth of the river about 70 rods out. The cut is being made 30 feet wide and six feet deep, which will be more than ample to allow the passage of any boat in the river. This part of the channel has gradually filled up until only small craft have been able to get in and out of the river. The cost of the work is being borne jointly by the fishermen and other boat owners and the Sebewaing Chamber of Commerce.

Harbor Beach—Citizens have petitioned the Postoffice Department for the establishment of a star mail route between Port Huron and this city. At present mail is delayed from 12 to 24 hours at Harbor Beach, says the Times, and which is said to result in an economic loss to postoffice patrons.

Caro Teacher Bride of Sugar Maker

Miss Jeanetta MacCallum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John MacCallum of Greenleaf, and for the past three years a teacher in the Caro schools, and Mr. Wilbur R. Dove of Alma were married Saturday, May 29, in Toledo, Ohio. The wedding had previously been set for June 21, but the couple decided to surprise their friends, so were married at once.

Mrs. Dove has been a grade teacher in Caro schools for the past three years, and will complete her contract with the close of the present term. She is a graduate of Central Michigan Normal at Mt. Pleasant, has been a favorite with pupils, and popular in all social and club activities in which she has engaged, counting many friends here who regret her departure and wish for her a happy married life.

Mr. Dove was formerly in Biloxi, Miss., and he is a graduate of the University of Virginia. Some years ago he was employed at the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Co., as a chemist. He then spent a year in Cuba and some time in Porto Rico in the sugar mills and returned to Caro for the sugar campaign of 1925. At the close of the campaign he was sent to the Alma plant of the company as assistant superintendent.—Caro Advertiser.

Secret Is Out

There were no better cooks in the old days. Your stomach just wasn't so darned particular.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Suit Started for Fallon Stockholders

Under the date of June 1, 1925, there has been filed in the Circuit Court of Bay County in Chancery a bill of complaint against the officers and directors of the Fallon Coal Mines Co., a corporation which had been formed for the purpose of mining coal. This company was incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware, with headquarters at Kent, Del. some time during the spring of 1919.

This will be of interest to the many investors in the Fallon Coal Mine Co., who reside in Tuscola county, who have been wondering for some time as to the status and final outcome of said corporation. The bill of complaint lodges fourteen items of charges against the officers and directors of the corporation and asks for a full accounting of them relative to the expenditure of moneys, etc. Without doubt this promises to be one of the most interesting cases that will come for consideration in the Court of Chancery this fall at Bay City.

Crane and Crane of Saginaw, Mich. are being retained as the attorneys for the plaintiffs, being selected by a committee composed of Mr. Chas. A.

Humes, David H. Butler, Dr. A. W. Herrick, G. H. Kaven, John H. Hartley and Donald Hartley who had been selected to act for the body of investors at a meeting of them some time ago. The article of complaint formulated a group of charges that imply much.

TRADING

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

JOHN said that he had been born in England, but if it had not been for his speech, which confirmed his statement, I should have been certain that he was descended from one of the Spanish gypsies who live in the old dugouts in the hillsides at Granada. He was a nomad, never satisfied to stay long in any one place, never contented unless he was engaged in barter of some sort.

Even as a child with his pockets full of marbles and tops and knives and boyish treasures of various sorts, he was always wanting to exchange what he had for what he wanted.

"Got anything to trade?" was his first question when he ran onto a friend or a stranger, from the time he entered school. It wasn't that he profited. He was seldom a shrewd trader, and starting out in the morning with a handful of treasures he often brought up by evening with practically empty pockets. It was not so much gain that he was after as the mere pleasure of exchange. One might have thought that experience would have sharpened his judgment, but it did not.

When he was twenty-one John's father gave him a small farm. Shortly afterward he married and went to work on the tract of land. He was still restless, constantly trading horses, or farm implements, or anything that was movable. His wife remarked often that if it had been at all possible he would have traded her for another one.

He traded his farm when prices were lowest for a little store in Indiana. He thought he would like to live in town better than in the country. Trade waned, however, he didn't have just the business sense he needed, so he made an exchange of his store in Indiana for a lively stable in Kentucky. He didn't like working in the stable, and when a man came along and offered to trade him an interest in a grain elevator for his lively stable John took him up. It was Iowa this time where he landed.

It has been this way all through the years that I have known him. He has been in all sorts of businesses in most of the states of the country, but not for long. Florida and California and Texas and Kansas and North Carolina have all seen him for a short time. He has bought and sold and worked at this and that—worked hard, too—but he has never stayed long enough with anything to realize its worth. He has always seen ahead of him some business oasis upon which he could settle contentedly. Always the thing he had in hand was not to be compared with what was ahead of him or what the other fellow had. He was always willing to trade, always eager to move, and still is.

He is an old man now hardly able to do a day's work. He has made nothing at trading, and sad to say there are no knives in his pockets, no tops with which to barter with the other fellow. He's traded out at eighty.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Roman Hard Roads

Hard roads of the Roman empire were constructed chiefly between the Second and Fourth centuries after Christ. They varied in width from eight to fifteen feet. Soldiers, slaves and criminals did the work. Some of the roads withstood traffic for 2,000 years without material injury. Twenty-four roads converging at the Roman forum had a total Roman mileage of 52,964.

Sheer Tub Frocks in Pastel Colors

Midsummer brings us those pretty frocks made of fine voile and adorned with needle work, that have as much class as their silken sisters. For wear on a summer day, they are as cool as georgette and as dainty, but voile is more sturdy and somewhat less expensive than that exquisite and delicate fabric. The marvelous wear resisting quality of fine voile, makes it worth while to lavish hand-wrought needlework on it and in the frock pictured this appears in drawn work on a front panel, and applique of squares of the material on the under side, at the bust and waistline. Tubing occasionally, keeps these colorful frocks fresh looking, and if they fade a little, they may be easily retinted.

Bresnahan Aid to McGraw

At a special price of only $1.49

Here is a remarkable offer that will interest every housekeeper who appreciates unusual value in quality merchandise. The grocers listed below make you this generous offer in order that more of you may know what satisfying results are possible through the use of Crisco, the pure vegetable shortening preferred by more than 2,000,000 American housekeepers.

The French Fryer illustrated above is made of heavy gauge aluminum, with an attractive, heat-resisting, rubberoid handle. The heavily tinned, woven wire draining basket is of the latest design. With this outfit you can "deep fry" a wide variety of delicious foods. This Fryer is sold only in combination with Crisco.

In the Kitchen with 6 Famous Cooks

NOVEL MEXICAN DISHES Pacific Coast Expert Tells How to Prepare Them

(Editor's Note: This is one of an unusual cooking series contributed to this paper by six famous cooks. Cut it out and paste in your cook book.)

Enchiladas, picadillo, Spanish rice, beans a la Ayre, and refritos!

Those words conjure up pictures of most palatable and spicy dishes to the Spaniard. And many an American has fallen for their tempting tooth-someness.

Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, home economics director, Los Angeles, and author of several cook books, was taught how to make these dishes by a Mexican lady.

Fragrant and Delicious

Mrs. Vaughn gives the following directions for making enchiladas. The gravy may be made the day before. Its ingredients are: 4 ounces chili peppers, 1 1/2 pounds tomatoes, 2 slices hard toast, 1 small onion, 1 pinch each of clove, thyme, pepper, sugar, and salt.

Open peppers, and if it is not desired very hot, remove veins and seeds. Soak in boiling water about 10 minutes. Skin tomatoes by holding over flame. Put toast and onion through food chopper and then strain all the ingredients in order to make a smooth gravy. Melt two tablespoons shortening in frying pan, add gravy, and simmer slowly until smooth and thick.

Filling for Enchiladas (Picadillo)

1 pound pork
1 tablespoon shortening
1 teaspoon chopped onion
Clove of garlic (chopped)
1/2 cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon chopped green olives
1 tablespoon chopped blanched almonds
1 tablespoon raisins (chopped)
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 pinch salt
1 pinch sugar
1 teaspoon olive oil

Boil pork until tender, then chop fine. Melt shortening and fry pork until brown. Add onion, garlic, and chili sauce, and fry for three minutes. Add olives, almonds, and raisins, and cook two or three minutes. Just before removing add vinegar, salt, sugar and olive oil.

Make Tortillas, Too

1 quart white flour
1 cup lard
2 teaspoons salt
Enough water or milk to make dough sufficiently thick to roll out like biscuit.

Divide into balls size of turkey egg and pat between the hands until thin and round and cook on top of the stove without grease. After frying, dip in hot gravy, place on plate, and place 1 1/2 tablespoons of filling in center. Roll tortilla loosely and garnish with gravy, grated cheese, sliced onion that has been soaked in salt water a few minutes, a green olive, blanched almond, radish, and a sprig of parsley.

Spanish Rice

1 cup rice
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 clove of garlic
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1 quart boiling water
Pepper and salt to taste

Melt the shortening, add the onion, and partially cook, not allowing to brown. Add to rice and fry until brown. Add the tomato sauce a little at a time, allowing each portion to almost cook dry before adding more. Add the boiling water. Do not stir, and allow to simmer slowly until one hour. If it is necessary to add more water, be sure it is boiling. Do not stir. Requires about 1 1/2 hours of cooking.

Delicious String Beans

Here's a new way to prepare string beans—a la Ayre. Use 1 1/2 pounds string beans or green beans, 3 eggs, and 2 teaspoons cornstarch. Cook string beans until tender. Separate into bundles of eight or ten. Make batter by beating whites of eggs until stiff. Add slightly beaten yolks. Continue to beat, adding cornstarch. Place a bundle of beans on a large tablespoon, dip in batter, working batter around the beans with the spoon. Fry in hot fat until brown on all sides. Serve with the following sauce:

1 teaspoon shortening
1 teaspoon garlic
1 teaspoon chopped onion
1 small tomato
1 teaspoon cornstarch, salt, pepper, and sugar

Melt shortening in frying pan and cook for a few minutes. Add the tomato chopped fine, and cook until almost dry. Add cornstarch and enough water to make a smooth sauce. Add salt and pepper.

"Pink Beans," Too

"Pink beans" (kidney beans) are very filling. Their Mexican name is "refritos." Take one pound of them, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 teaspoons fat, 2 ounces of cheese, and 2 small Mexican sausages.

Wash beans well, and cook with enough water to cover well. Boil about 2 hours. When adding more water be sure to add cold. When beans begin to get soft add the salt. When mealy and tender, drain juice from them, setting it aside.

Melt fat in frying pan. Add cheese and skinned, chopped sausages. Fry one minute, then remove to dish temporarily. In the same frying pan pour beans and fry for three minutes. Mash, add the cheese and sausages, juice from beans, and mix thoroughly.

"You will find these dishes very appetizing," Mrs. Vaughn says.

(Watch this page next week for another interesting cooking article.)
