The opera house was crowded on Wednesday evening when members of the Class of 1926, the largest class in the history of the school with one exception, were presented with diplomas by Dr. S. B. Young, president of the board of education. Seated on the platform with Mr. Young were his classmate of M. S. C., E. E. Gallup, state supervisor of agriculture, and H. W. Holmes, superintendent of schools.

As Miss Alvina Lang, played the grand march, "Verdi's Aida," the Class of 1926 marched in and were seated in section A. Rev. I. W. Cargot gave the invocation which was followed by Guy Landon, who sang in his able manner "Ship Mates O' Mine" by Sanderson. Mr. Holmes then introduced Mr. Gallup as the speaker of the evening.

Prefacing his address on the subject, "From Ox Team to Automobile," Mr. Gallup commended local taxpayers on the splendid school system at Cass City. The last few years, the real public school has served the farm boy as well as the village boy, he said, and there is offered at Cass City as complete a course catering to the needs of the young people of this community as Detroit and Grand Rapids schools offer to theirs.

Mr. Gallup's address was one on growth and progress. The index of the two ages to which his subject referred is the speed limit. In the pioneer days everything was in keeping with the slow pace of the ox team. As the speed limit grew faster there came an increased demand for higher intelligence, more education and a larger training. More information is required in this age to do the ordinary things of life and our schools are today meeting the demands of the automobile age in better equipping the pupils of the present day. Boys and girls today in their teens are better trained and better informed than men and women of 50 in the ox team age. This is evident in their possession of more skill in parliamentary law, in being able to make better speeches, in their increased ability to serve in religious work, debating, oratorical and agricultural clubs and community activities.

The farmer has kept in tune with the progress of the ages and has increased his efficiency 900%. Fifty years hence will see that efficiency greatly increased. Mr. Gallup predicted, when the farmer through improved conditions will be enabled to feed nine other persons besides himself, thereby increasing his efficiency 2,700%.

We have but a glimpse of the coming age, Mr. Gallup said, in which today's graduate will make his progress—an age in which the speed limit will be increased from 35, the present legal pace, to 150 or 300 miles per hour; an age requiring a better control of faculties and a larger efficiency than the present one; an age when the unsolved problems of today will be taken care of.

The spirit of interest in the other fellow is the product of the school today, said the speaker, and makes for better citizens generally. Every organization in future days will be the better because of this training in teamwork.

THE CLASS OF 1926.

Mrs. I. D. McCoy presented the piano solo, "The Erl King," giving a splendid interpretation and rendition of the F. Liszt composition.

Dr. S. B. Young gave the graduates some good advice in a brief address preceding the presentation of the diplomas to members of the class. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Cargot.

Baccalaureate Exercises.

The M. E. church was filled to the doors Sunday evening at the union service of which the baccalaureate address of Rev. A. G. Newberry, pastor of the Baptist church, was the feature.

As Miss Lura DeWitt played the march, Miss Ethel Wager and Leonard Urquhart, two Juniors, ushered the graduates to seats at the front of the church. Rev. C. F. Smith of the Evangelical church offered prayer and Rev. Newberry read the scripture lesson.

"Three Types" was the subject of Mr. Newberry's address. He referred to three types of humanity and pointed out to members of the class the advantages and the desirability for them to choose the highest type of life, one in which they would be honored by society and in which they would be of the utmost service to mankind. His address contained a strong plea for right living and the discourse was splendid one. Two male

Since that time, four daughters and two sons have been awarded high school diplomas at Cass City. This is a distinction attained by few families.

HAY DAY AT NATE PATTISON FARM

Proper Way of Handling Alfalfa Will Be Demonstrated on June 22.

Hay Day for Tuscola county as has been announced will be on June 22, at 1 o'clock. It will be held on the Nate Pattison farm about three miles northeast of Caro on the Cass City road. Provisions have been made for different implement dealers to have various hay machines to demonstrate at this place, and all other provisions made. Tuscola is fast becoming a heavy producer of alfalfa hay and many farmers are interested in seeing this improved method of hay making.

Many methods of handling alfalfa hay lets most of the desired ingredients get away before the crop is stored in the barn. The percentage of leaf surface in the hay, the maturity of the alfalfa and its green color all play an important part in the "Quality" of the hay from either the feeding or sale value. These factors are exceedingly easy to destroy. Alfalfa needs special attention in methods employed in its handling, so that the best quality of hay may be secured. Its small leaf surface, when compared with the stems, needs to be protected from the direct rays of the sunlight; otherwise, it becomes very brittle and shatters easily. Within these leaves lies most of the feeding value of the entire plant. The stems have a large percentage of moisture of the plant locked up within them. This moisture must be discarded if one is to have hay keep in storage. Direct rays of sunlight, rain or other seasonal conditions have a detrimental effect on the green color—so desired in legumes, and especially alfalfa.

Curing of hay can be shown only by actual field demonstrations, where the hay is handled by this so called "new" system of hay curing with the improved labor saving implements.

Many have been discussing the advantages and disadvantages of the methods employed under such a system of hay making and often wonder wherein lies the real advantages of these new left hand rakes. The only real way to determine for oneself is to actually see such implements in operation. The purpose of these "Hay Days" is to show all operations in this "new" system of handling alfalfa hay, from cutting to the cured product and thereby giving everyone an opportunity of judging for himself the merits of such methods.

Methods of Treating Seed Potatoes

Several potato seed treating demonstrations have been held in Tuscola county this past week, under the direction of the County Agrl Agent, by C. M. McCrary, potato specialist from the Michigan State College. Mr. McCrary states that potatoes are treated for three diseases: scab; black leg and black scurf. Of these three diseases black scurf is perhaps the worst and also the least noticeable as it does its damage on the plants as they are sprouting in the ground and cause a poor stand. Old methods of seed treatment, particularly the formaldehyde treatment will control scab but will not control the other two. For this reason the corrosive sublimate treatment was recommended and demonstrated at these meetings. This treatment consists of dissolving four ounces of corrosive sublimate in four quarts of hot water then adding this to thirty gallons of water and soaking the potatoes in the solution for thirty minutes. As the solution weakens with use it is necessary to add one ounce of corrosive sublimate dissolved to the thirty gallons after dipping every other

VILLAGE TAX RATE LOWER THIS SUMMER

Council Has Fixed the Rate at Twelve Dollars per Thousand Valuation.

The village council, in session Monday night, fixed the rate for the summer taxes at $12.00 per thousand. This is $3.00 less per thousand than in 1925 and $10.50 per thousand valuation less than the 1924 tax.

On the total valuation of $860,450 on real estate and personal in the village, the twelve mills per $100 rate this summer will bring in $10,325.40 in taxes. With a nice balance in the village treasury at the present time, this amount will bring ample money to care for village expenses and improvements the coming year.

The council plans on commencing the work of extending the sidewalks to the pavement curb in the near future and broken blocks in the Main St. sidewalks will be replaced. The completion of the east end of the Church St. sewer is contemplated and four additional boulevard lights will be added—two at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets and two on Main St., between Grant and Sherman Streets. Money was voted for improvements to fences and buildings on the fairgrounds to an amount not to exceed $500.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN RESPONDS TO CALL

Aaron B. Parmalee, for many years a resident of Cass City, passed away at Pontiac on June 14 after an illness of three years. He had been confined to his bed for the last eight months. Services were held at eleven o'clock at the home in Pontiac and the body was brought to Cass City Wednesday afternoon. Services were held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of Levi Bardwell.

Aaron B. Parmalee was born Feb. 27, 1846, in West Bloomfield township, Ontario county, New York. He was the son of Aaron B. and Catherine Parmalee, who were born in New York state of English ancestry.

He was only 14 years of age when he enlisted October 8, 1861, in Co. D., Thirtieth New York Infantry. During his service of eighteen months, he was in ten large battles and about 30 skirmishes. He was wounded June 27, 1862, in the battle of Gains Mills, Va.

Some of the engagements in which he participated are as follows: The siege of Yorktown, West Point, Va., Hanover Courthouse, Seven Days before Richmond, Second Battle of Bull Run, and the Battle of Antietam. He was honorably discharged May 14, 1863. He was married Feb. 27, 1895, to Hattie Bardwell of Caro, Mich.

SPRING EXPERIMENTAL WORK IS COMPLETED

Variety Tests, Fertility Tests and Other Experimental Work in Tuscola.

The last of the spring experimental work as put on by the Co. Agrl Agent, John W. Sims in Tuscola County has just been completed. This consists of variety tests, fertility tests and other experimental work. A new two row beardless barley, which was developed by the Michigan State College, as yet un-named, is being compared with the Wisconsin Pedigree Barley, a six-row bearded type on the farms of Henry Lane of Fairgrove township and Fayette Lawrence of Indianfields township. Comparisons of Pickett Yellow Dent corn and M. A. C. Yellow Dent corn are being made on the farms of Cleveland Neal of Wisner township and Frank Hosmer of Millington township. Three strains of early beans developed at the Agricultural College, which are as yet un-named, are being tried out by Lee Metcalf of Fairgrove township, Fred Janks of Wells township and Chas. VanAllen of Gifford. The comparison of various kinds of fertilizer on potatoes a 0-10-10; 3-8-4; 2-12-2; 2-12-6 along with the kind used by the farmers are being tried by Wm. Witkovsky of Wells township, M. E. Kitchen of Fremont township, Peter Green in Dayton township. Fertility tests comparing various fertilizers on sugar beets are being tried by Joe Davis of Fairgrove township, Henry Uhan of Fairgrove township, Bert Thurston of Denmark township and Chris Miller of Almer township. Wheat fertility tests put out last fall by Ivan Heckroth of Akron township, Ed. Coler of Fairgrove township and John Horst of Akron were somewhat disappointing as both Mr. Horst and Mr. Coler had to put in other crops this spring on those fields, one using peas and the other beans. However, the results of the fertilizer used last fall will be noted on these crops. Ten limestone tests were put out in the vicinity of Vassar on the farms of Geo. Proctor, Hugh Dick, Bert Stephens, Henry Opperman, M. Gerstein, Wesley Bronson, John Baxter, A. E. Baxter, Lorenzo Williams and E. C. Brainerd. These tests were for the purpose of determining the advisability of using limestone on these types of soils. Two farmers of the county are growing Hardigan alfalfa, a new alfalfa produced by Professor Sprague just before his death, which gives promise of being better than Grimm for Michigan production. These are Carl Smith of Elmwood township and Dorr Perry of Ellington township.

Results of all of these tests tried will be compared and will be made available to the farmers of Tuscola county as soon as they are completed.

Correction in State Fair Representative

An error was made in the standing of George B. Coffeen, who it was announced last week, would represent Tuscola county at the state fair. Commissioner of Schools McComb has found in correcting the papers that he gave him a mark in the state fair examination that belonged to another boy. Since Geo. B. Coffeen wrote only the 8th grade agriculture examination, he is not eligible to take the state fair trip. He retains his place as "high man" in the regular 8th grade examination in Tuscola, but Kenneth Peck of the English school, Dayton township, who was announced as alternate last week, is entitled to the honor of representing the county at the state fair.

Lyle Murry, a pupil of the Lewis school, Almer township, becomes alternate and will attend the state fair if Kenneth Peck is unable to go.

"I am very sorry," says Mr. McComb, "to have made the error and hope it brings no embarrassment to participants."

CASS CITY FIRST IN MEET AND BASE BALL

Caro and Cass City Men Set New County Records in Two Events.

WHY MEN FAIL By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THERE are a good many reasons why men fail—young men as well as old—laziness, lack of ability, lack of faith in themselves. When a man admits to himself or to any one else that he cannot do a thing he has usually failed already. Gilbert had to pass an examination. He had been held back for two years or more in his course in college simply on account of this subject which he had not mastered. He knew that it had to be done, and yet he could not quite drive himself to it. "I can't do it," he said. "I'm quite sure I can't." Finally he was barred from further procedure because of his failure to get the work in the particular course. "Why don't you try it?" I asked. "Frazier got a textbook, the stuff down to work and passed the stuff in two weeks." "I don't believe I could," was his only comment. Finally in desperation as the only way out he applied himself to the hated task and finished it successfully in an amazingly short time. "It wasn't so very difficult after all," he confessed rather shamefacedly. And so it is with many things from which we shrink. When we really come up against the seeming activities of life the path is not so steep as in the distance it seemed. When Admiral Dupont was making excuses to Farragut, his biographer says, for his failure to take the city of Charleston, excuses which were numerous as are those of most people who fail, the old fighter said: "You forgot one thing. You didn't think you could do it." Believing in one's own ability to do a thing helps a good deal, and is in many cases the difference between failure and success. Sometimes men are too self-confident and blow their own horns a little too loudly to please the ears of sensitive listeners. The story is told of the electrician Rollins that once he was on the witness stand and was being questioned by a distinguished attorney as to the reasons which had induced him to make a charge of $25,000 for services to a certain company engaged in litigation. "On what ground do you base this exorbitant charge?" the attorney asked. "On the fact that I am the greatest electrician in the world," Mr. Rollins replied. A friend who was present at the trial said to Rollins later: "How could you have the temerity when on the witness stand to claim that you were the greatest electrician in the world? It sounded unbelievably conceited in you." "I know it," Rollins replied, "and I did feel rather embarrassed, but you see I was on my oath, and I had to tell the truth." Webster was trying to sell books last summer. He didn't believe in himself and he didn't believe in the book. He went at his job without confidence, without enthusiasm, without faith in what he was doing. No wonder he failed.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE Federal Coast Survey Although a complete survey of the entire coast of the United States was first proposed in 1806, work did not begin until 1817. Working intermittently until 1844, nine states on the Atlantic seaboard were finished. Progress thereafter was rapid. Later the work was extended to the Pacific coast, Alaska, and the Great Lakes.

May Cross Ocean in Strange Craft To cross the Atlantic in this strange craft, a Catamaran launch-houseboat, is the dream of C. F. Wilmer, seventy-nine, of Kansas City, Mo., who left the sea when nineteen. Ships of all sorts have been his hobby for years, and the new craft was evolved, a houseboat with dual hulls. Two gasoline engines drive the paddle wheel. The craft can accommodate eight persons, is 45 feet long and 15 feet in the beam. At the right is Mr. Wilmer.

Carl Hagenbeck-Great Wallace Circus The Carl Hagenbeck-Great Wallace Circus, known as the "Highest Class Circus on Earth" will soon be in our midst as it is scheduled to give afternoon and night performances in Bay City on June 23. The advance advertising men have visited this community and have placed posters in store windows, as well as on barns and fences. Many automobile parties are being arranged and there will be a large delegation go from here to witness the big show. Since the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Circus were combined twenty years ago it has been universally recognized as the peer of all trained wild animal shows. During the past winter large groups of jungle-bred lions, tigers and leopards arrived at the Peru, Indiana winter quarters. Such noted subjugators as Clyde Beatty, the youthful American; Bob McPherson, the noted Scotchman and Capt. Barnardo of Italy, will send their charges through sensational routines in the big steel arena. Many new and startling features are promised. Owing to abandoning the street parade, it was possible to secure better and higher class performers and patrons will witness a much superior performance than heretofore. Such noted acts as the Orrin Davenport family of equestrians; the Ward-Kimball Troupe of aerialists and Clyde Beatty and his mixed group of lions and tigers are outstanding features. Clownland was searched high and low for slapstick artists and pantomimes and such names as the Arthur Borella Trio, the Three Harding Brothers; Joe Coyle, Mickey McDonald and Earl Shipley mean plenty of good clean fun. As the parade has been eliminated the performances will start promptly on time at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. with the doors opening an hour earlier.—Adv.

Ask Yourself These Questions Then Do a Little Thinking The trouble with too many of us is that we do not give enough consideration to our financial affairs. We get money and go ahead and spend it, thinking that things "will come out all right anyway." Each year finds us no better off than we were the year before; the years fly by; gray hairs commence to show; health commences to fail; sickness comes to the family. Then it is that we face the specter of old age; without income and without means. This little statement sums up the life experience of a large number of people. The AIM of this Bank is to be helpful—to render genuine SERVICE. That's a PART of OUR BUSINESS and we take real pleasure in trying to live up to those high ideals. So let us inquire if you have ever ASKED YOURSELF these questions: "Do I Know My Financial Condition?" "Am I Getting Ahead, Just Keeping Even or am I Running in Debt?" We can HELP YOU get in a better financial condition. Open a Savings Account with us and add to it as much as you can each week or month. At the end of the FIRST YEAR you will see how EASY it is to GET AHEAD and KEEP AHEAD. We will always be glad to advise with you, or render you any service that we can. Coal! Coal! Why buy Coal in summertime? Think it over. If coal advances one dollar per ton in six months, which is often the case, on an average price of nine dollars per ton delivered, you will save $1.00 per ton in six months, which is 20 per cent per annum on your money—that is a saving of 16 per cent over your 4 per cent certificate of deposit in the banks. WHY BUY FROM US? We have experimented on different coals and believe we can sell you coal with the largest heat units per ton of any coal in the market. Miller's Creek Kentucky Splint for ranges has no equal—contains less waste—and therefore more economical. Present price, $8.75 per ton at bin. Dundon Red Ash Lump for furnaces and heaters has many friends—$8.25 per ton at bin. Our Daniel Boone Kentucky Lump is very low in volatile (soot and smoke) for furnaces, steam or hot water, $8.75 per ton at bin. Our "Wm. See Mine" West Virginia Lump is very free from slack—for schools and ordinary heaters—best for the money—$8.00 per ton at bin. POCAHONTAS. No. 3 vein Pocahontas is the very best coal to be had—we have the egg size. Ask for delivered price. Also have Chestnut and stove size Anthracite and Coke. CORN. Will have a car load Kiln Dried Western Corn this week—Price 90c per bushel. The Farm Produce Co. Elevator Dept.

GRIST SCREENINGS Vol 1. June 18, 1926. No. 45. Published in the interest of the People of Cass City and vicinity by the Elkland Roller Mills Roy Taylor, Editor Harvey Streeter has a fine lot of chicks that are being fed the Purina way. "I'll give you a dime, Tommy, if you get me a lock of your sister's hair." "Make it a quarter and I'll get you the whole bunch. I know where she hangs it." We know a little boy who doesn't like ice cream. "Severe backaches, pain over hips and in my side, dizziness, floating specks, irregular painful bladder action. Very miserable! Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, gave me prompt comforting and permanent relief." (signed) F. M. Platte, Peoria, Ill. "What FOLEY PILLS have done for others they will do for you Take Them When Tired" L. I. Wood & Co. Burke's Drug Store Clinton Starr has raised two hundred out of two hundred eight chicks. That is fine but we know of several others that are doing as well. Mrs. E. A. Livingston is one of them. "We never had chicks do as well" is the way she puts it. Of course they fed Star-tena. Geo. Seeger bought one of those 1,000-chick Royal Brooders this week. We know he will be more than satisfied with it. Geo. is feeding Startena to the little chicks.

Will you give a Penny for its Life?

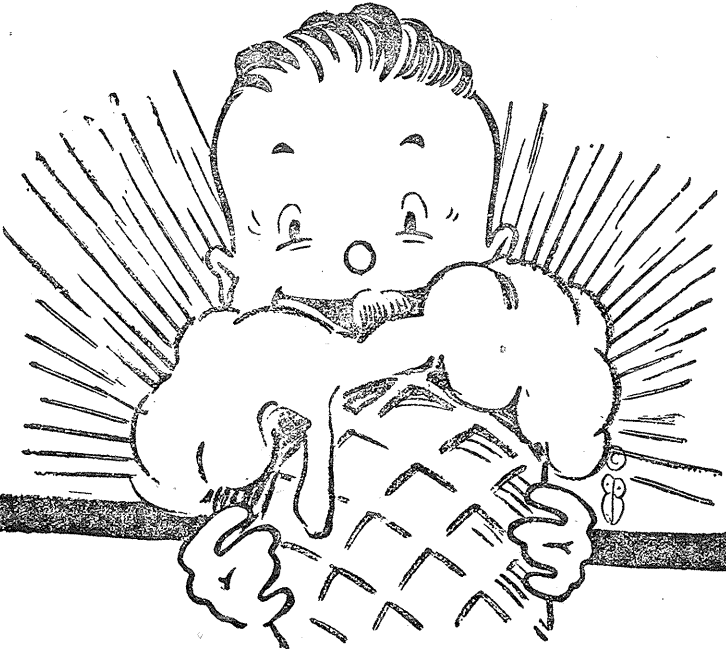

It costs one cent more per chick to feed Purina Poultry Chows for the first six weeks than to feed uncertain unbalanced mixtures. Of the chicks fed average mixtures 50% die. Purina saves 90%. It costs a lot more to let chicks die than to save them. The best feed you can buy is by far the cheapest. You can save a cent—or a life. Which will it be? Phone us your answer. Just say "I want Purina Chick Startena."

Alex McArthur, driving his car south Saturday evening, before crossing the railroad came suddenly to a standstill. Clarence Miner is driving a Chevrolet coupe. Little Doris Barrons is slowly improving. Calling for Faith. Among those enterprises which depend for success on implicit faith are love, democracy and hash.—Detroit News.

GREENLEAF.

All the pupils of the Tanner school taking the 7th and 8th grade exam were successful in passing the grades with high average. Those deserving commendable mention for high average are Marion and Hannah Ballard and Aletha Morrish, their averages being 94 and 95 %. In the Kitchen with 6 Famous Cooks

FIVE WAYS TO PREPARE CHICKEN

These Are Favorite Recipes of Four Famous Cooks

(Lemon's recipe; 1 cup in one of a series of unusual cooking articles contributed to this paper by six famous cooks.)

Chicken is a universal favorite. Very few folks can find it in their hearts to refuse a second helping of this appetizing fowl. Four famous cooks give tempting recipes for cooking it—fricassee, fried, broiled, stewed, and soup. There's variety enough for everyone!

MRS. SARAH TYSON RORER

Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, the Philadelphia cooking expert, has a recipe for a delicious chicken corn soup. "This is an excellent dish," she says. "With a salad, coffee, and a bit of ripe cheese it makes a wholesome meal."

Chicken Corn Soup

Her directions follow: Single-draw, and cut up as for stewing a two year old hen. Put it in a kettle, and cover with three quarts of cold water. Bring to a boil, and cook until tender—about two hours.

Remove chicken, skim the broth, and put it back on the burner. Add two medium sized onions chopped, a teaspoon of salt, dash of pepper, and a box of noodles. Add one pint of canned or fresh cut-off corn. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Add the chicken cut into small pieces. When hot, serve. If too thick, add milk to thin.

Delicious Fricassee

For chicken fricassee, made according to the recipe of Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles cooking expert, select a young chicken, weighing about 3 1/2 pounds. Season pieces of chicken with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and fry in hot fat until brown. Place in casserole, add water and cook in hot oven, 100 degrees F. for one hour. Keep the cover on the casserole.

As They Cook It "Out West" Pacific Coast fried chicken is delicious. You have the word of Mrs. Belle DeGraf for that. Mrs. DeGraf is a domestic science counselor in San Francisco.

For this dish cut one medium sized young chicken in pieces with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Heat four tablespoons butter or chicken fat in frying pan. Fry chicken until well browned. Cover with hot water. Add one tablespoon minced onion and cook until the chicken is tender, using a low flame. When chicken is done, remove to serving plate. If any liquid remains in pan, drain off in cup.

Put 2 tablespoons of butter in the pan. Add 2 tablespoons of flour. Mix until smooth, then add 2 cups of thin cream, or cream and liquid left to make a sauce. Stir until creamy. Then add one tablespoon finely shredded green pepper, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Simmer a few minutes, then pour around, not over the chicken. To prepare the green pepper pour boiling water over it and let stand 10 minutes. Shred with scissors.

Two Southern Methods

Miss Rosa Michaels, New Orleans domestic science specialist, comes from the south, where chicken is one of the most popular dishes. She gives two southern ways of preparing it.

For southern broiled chicken, she says, select a very young chicken. Clean, singe, and spruce down the back. It will almost lie flat. Season with salt and pepper, and brush melted butter all over it. Have a broiler ready over a moderate fire. Place chicken in it, and let it broil slowly for a half hour or a little longer if the chicken is not so tender.

Turn the chicken once in a while to brown both sides. When done, place on a heated platter which has been garnished with sprigs of parsley or lettuce leaves. Pour melted butter over chicken, and serve hot.

With Brown Sauce

Chicken prepared with brown sauce is good served with rice, Miss Michaels says. Here are the ingredients:

- 1 chicken
2 tablespoons lard
1 sprig each of thyme, parsley, and bay leaf
1 onion
2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper to taste

Clean and cut chicken in small pieces. Season well with salt and pepper. Chop onion fine. Put lard into deep pot. When hot add onion and let brown. Add flour. Let this brown, and add chicken. Let simmer a few minutes with thyme, parsley, and bay leaf chopped fine. Stir often. When all is nicely brown, add 1/2 pints boiling water. Stir until it begins to boil.

If necessary, add more salt and pepper. Cover and simmer until tender (about an hour). The gizzard, liver, and heart may be cooked with sauce, and served with hot rice. No matter if the chicken is old or young, you can make it taste good if you choose one of these recipes.

(Be sure to read the interesting cooking article on this page next week.)

New Toaster

It really pays to invest in a good toaster which lasts a life-time. Many hardware stores are displaying a new blue glass toaster. It makes four evenly browned slices of toast at a time. It does not warp. Very handy too, for crisping breakfast cereals. Its handle is ever cool. It can be used with equally good results on oil, wood, coal, or gas stoves.

RESCUE.

A large crowd attended the sale of Mrs. Fayette Parker last Thursday. The Premo class will hold their next meeting Friday evening, June 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jarvis. The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. J. J. Pearson on Thursday, June 24.

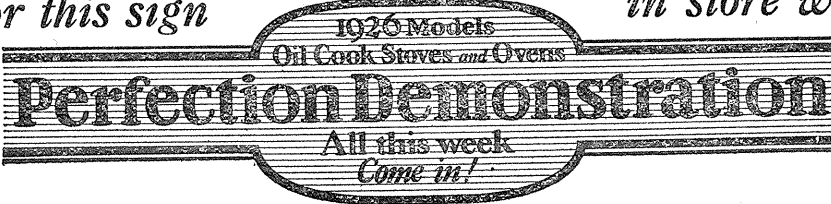

Miss Marion Mellendorf returned home Saturday after visiting friends in Flint. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Caryl and children of Harbor Beach visited at the home of Jesse Putman Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennis returned to their home in Farmington Saturday, having been called here by the death of their son, Fayette Parker. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mellendorf and children were callers in Cass City on Monday.
