PRESBYTERIANS HELD JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Several Come from Distant Points to Participate in Exercises.

Back in 1877, three courageous souls, realizing that the church is a great uplifting and conserving agency in the world, an agency that not only offers salvation in the future but teaches men how to live in the present life, met and formed the nucleus which later grew to the present Presbyterian church at Cass City. During that period of a half century, 537 others have had their names added to the membership roll of the society, either by letter or confession of faith.

It was in recognition of 50 years of progress that the jubilee celebration was planned by the pastor, Rev. Paul Johnson Allured, and members of the local church, and their plans were brought to realization in exercises

J. D. Brooker, who presided as toastmaster, presented Mrs. McBurney with a basket of beautiful roses as a gift from the congregation and spoke of her long and faithful service to her church. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Brooker said that the pages of history would be turned back 50 years for the audience to observe the progress made by the society.

Rev. John Kelland was the second minister of the Presbyterian church, commencing his pastorate in 1878. His daughter, Mrs. Spencer Roe of Flint, gave the response. She grew reminiscent in her talk, much to the interest of her audience, and told incidents of the congregation in their efforts in erecting a house of worship, referred to the splendid music of the first choir and paid special tribute to the hospitality of the early settlers in the pioneer days. Mrs. Roe was a teacher in the Walmesley district when her father served as a minister here and later taught in the Cass City schools.

Greetings from former pastors and members were read at this time in which the writers referred to incidents in their connection with the Cass City church and expressed the which were held Saturday evening and Sunday.

It was truly a happy occasion on Saturday evening when 200 of the present and former members of the church met for a banquet in the church parlors. Many were present from distant points and it much resembled a family gathering in the cheer and happiness represented. The ladies of the church prepared such a meal as a mother serves when the family holds one of those rare reunions when all members gather together after a long time apart, serving substantial and appetizing food and a bounteous supply.

Mrs. A. J. Knapp, president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, graciously extended the welcome greeting to the guests. "The occasion refreshes the memory of those who made possible this beautiful church," Mrs. Knapp said, and special tribute was paid by her to Mrs. Jane McBurney, only living member of the first years of the Presbyterian church at Cass City and others who were among its first communicants.

hope that coming years would be as fruitful and pleasant to the Cass City congregation as had been those of the past. Greetings from Rev. Albert Torbet of Lemmon, South Dakota, were read by James Tennant; from Rev. J. Willis Hamblin of Canon City, Colo., by F. E. Kelsey; from Mrs. McLean-Bender of Seattle, Wash., by Mrs. J. D. Brooker; from Rev. Irwin Bradford of Detroit by M. B. Auten. Greetings were also announced by Mrs. G. H. Burke as having been received from Mr. and Mrs. Goulding of Bad Axe, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mudge and Mrs. F. J. Nash of Detroit, Mrs. LaVan of Plymouth, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Schnug of Milford, and Miss Caroline Livingston of Detroit, and a telegram from Geo. Farrar of Port Austin which expressed his disappointment in not being able to be present.

Mrs. Burke, at this time, presented the church with a leather bound scrap book, a gift from the Spafford Guild, in which may be preserved records, original manuscripts and documents of particular interest to members of the church.

Progress of Half Century in Local Church Is Revealed in Church History

The following interesting history of the Presbyterian church at Cass City was prepared and read by Mrs. A. D. Gillies at the jubilee celebration of the society held June 25 and 26.

I have been asked to give the history of this church from its inception until the present time. I thought it might be interesting for me to roll back the curtain from the years just a little farther and tell you of the first religious service in the township of Elkland.

The first sermon was preached by the Rev. John Baker of the Watrousville Circuit, Methodist Episcopal church. The date as near as I can ascertain was the last part of the year 1861, or in the year 1862, on a Sunday evening at the log house of my father, Andrew Walmesley. Notice had been sent by Mr. Baker, that service would be held, and the fact being generally known, the settlers came in from a circuit of seven miles around and the house was filled.

The roads at that time were of the crudest kind. Mr. Baker came from Watrousville on horseback, through forest most of the distance there being only an occasional clearing. When Mr. Baker reached my father's home, he found the house in darkness. There was no welcoming light. For some reason candles were scarce that night, and had to be conserved until needed. They were soon lighted and I am sure they must have had a most joyous meeting—a genuine "love feast." Their hearts must have been full of thankfulness and praise to God for sending one who would break to them the bread of life.

Thanks to those sturdy pioneers, the forests have disappeared and in their place are fine farms and comfortable homes. You were enabled to come to this meeting over good roads in comfortable automobiles. When you reached this church last night, its electric lights were shining out their joyous greeting to you. Almost speaking the words that are in the hearts of all of us today, "We are glad to see you, so happy to have you with us to help us celebrate our fiftieth anniversary."

Our fifty years of service in this church. There had been up to 1877 occasional preaching in Cass City by clergymen of the Presbyterian denomination, viz: by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, who pursued the occupation of farming in Huron County, and by the Rev. Mr. McLelland, a missionary preacher. June 25, 1877, an organization was effected at a meeting in Cass City, Rev. Wm. Reid of Vassar, presiding. There were admitted by letter, Mrs. Hugh Seed and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Work. Mr. Work was ordained ruling elder and also elected clerk. He held the office until the fall of 1879, when he removed to the State of Ohio, and Mr. John McBurney was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. and Mrs. John McBurney were the first

150 AT BINGHAM SCHOOL REUNION

H. P. Woolman, Who Taught School 52 Years Ago, Gave
Address of Day.

The second annual reunion of former pupils of the Bingham school and their friends was held at the school building in that district Saturday when 150 enjoyed the pot luck dinner which was self served.

Following the meal, Mrs. Frank Burgess, who is president of the reunion association, gave the welcome address which was followed by the singing of "America" by the audience, with Miss Doris Livingston at the organ. Sherman Evans gave the invocation. Musical numbers were given by a male quartet and male trio and a vocal trio by Warren O'dell and daughters, Hilda and Helen. Readings were given by Catherine Hunter of Gageton, Ida Morse, Shurwell Kelley and Evelyn Schmidt. An especially interesting part of the program was the talk given by H. P. Woolman of Detroit, who taught the Bingham school 52 years ago. The only pupil living who attended the school that year is Sherman Evans of Ellington and he was present at the reunion. The song, "God Be with You 'Till We Meet Again," closed the program.

At the business session, it was decided to hold the 1928 reunion the last Saturday in June. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. Colon Bingham; vice president, Mrs. Hattie Beach; secretary, Mrs. Wm. Simmons; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Milligan; program committee, Miss Hilda O'dell, Mrs. Stanley Muntz and Mrs. A. Schmidt. A collection for expenses netted $14.93.

Forty-five years ago, Mrs. Henry McConkey, sr., Sherman Evans and Mrs. Henry Paul attended school together in this district. All three were at the reunion Saturday.

Mrs. Stanley Muntz has taught the Bingham school for 12 years and was instrumental in making the school a standard school. She has been re-engaged as instructor for the coming year. Members of the present school board are Chas. Seekings, Colon Bingham and Wm. Simmons.

Union Sunday Evening Services

The Ministers' Association of Cass City has arranged for union Sunday evening services during July and August. During July a series of sermons is planned on present day moral problems in which the churches are especially interested.

"World Peace and Disarmament" is the theme for the patriotic service of July 3 at the Evangelical church. "The Church Serving the Community" will be discussed on July 10 at the Baptist church. A brief sermon on the prohibition question is scheduled for July 17 at the Methodist church followed by stereopticon slides illustrating the subject. On July 24, at the Presbyterian church, the subject, "The Christian Sunday," will be presented by Robert S. Womer, an 18 year old Detroit boy, who is touring Michigan and speaking to large audiences on this subject.

These services are planned to provide the Christian forces of the community with accurate, up-to-date knowledge of various phases of the church's battle for righteousness concerning which all should be better informed and in which all should be more active. To accommodate the farmers, the services will begin at eight o'clock, one half hour later than the usual time. Please keep this notice for reference.

Tuscola Board in June Session

Supervisors of Tuscola county met Monday morning for the June session of that body and the first three days were devoted mostly to routine business.

The committee on footing rolls made their report Monday. The request of Orlo J. McDurmon for clerk hire was referred to the committee on county officers' salaries.

County Clerk Hurley and Probate Judge Hill were authorized to attend state conventions of county clerks and probate judges respectively at the county's expense.

The road commission was authorized to sell Covert Act bonds for a paved road in the village of Mayville. The cost of this road to the county would be approximately $3,000, said Commissioner Shultz.

Chairman Dillon was authorized by motion to appoint a committee of three to investigate rumors in regard to D. J. Evans, county road commissioner, and report finding at this session. Supervisors Reavey, Frenzel and Van Wagon were appointed.

The equalization committee is having a difficult task. Denmark township reports a loss of $45,000 in valuations owing to less merchandise stocks, bank failures and fires, and the committee is endeavoring to find townships on which this amount may be apportioned.

TAX RATE IS HALF MILL HIGHER

Village Treasurer Graham Will Soon Be Ready to Gather in Public Money.

The village tax rate in Cass City is twelve and one-half mills, just one-half mill higher than in 1926. The assessment books will soon be turned over to C. L. Graham, village treasurer, and that official will be ready on and after July 11 to add his signature to the taxpayer's receipt.

The 1927 tax will total $10,838.51, which is $513.11 higher than the tax of last year. The 1927 valuation on real estate is $681,850.00 and on personal is $185,050.00. This totals $866,900.00 and is slightly higher than in 1926 when the valuation was fixed at $860,450.00.

Valuations on real and personal property are lower for village tax than the same property is valued for assessment for state, county and township taxes. If the higher valuation was used for assessing village taxes the rate would be decreased proportionately on raising the same amount of tax.

PROGRESS OF HALF CENTURY IN LOCAL CHURCH

parents to present a child for baptism which they did on Mar. 30, 1879.

The first settled pastor was the Rev. John Kelland who came here from Flushing, Michigan, Rev. Mr. Beecher having, however, supplied the pulpit for the first six months, after an organization had been effected. From this small membership of three, the church grew rapidly, receiving many members during the succeeding year, both on confession of faith and by letter. The first trustees under the formal organization of the "First Presbyterian church of Cass City," were James L. Hitchcock, Hugh Seed, sr., Sylvester Ale, John C. Laing and Robert G. Orr.

There was no church building in Cass City at this time, and the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations were both holding services in the schoolhouse, a small one room building which was located on the lot where Mr. Robt. Agar's residence now stands. This building is now located on the east side of South Seeger St., and is used for a council room.

A subscription had been started before Mr. Kelland's arrival to raise funds for a church building, but little had been practically accomplished. Through his vigorous efforts with the efficient aid of his church and congregation, the necessary funds were raised. In a diary kept at that time, by Mr. Hugh Seed, sr., we find these sentences: "Mar. 19, 1878—Locating church site. Mar. 20—Locating church site," showing they did not decide hastily. I am sure we will all agree that their choice was a wise one.

The lot on which the church stands and also one for the manse were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seed, sr. We find opposite the date Mar. 21, this sentence, "Worked on church lot; Mar. 22, attended church school," showing that they were much in earnest and were losing none of God's precious time. At a meeting of the board of trustees, Feb. 11, 1878, a committee of three was appointed to advertise for bids for the building of a church edifice. At subsequent meetings, plans were agreed upon, a contract for construction let to Mr. Geo. Tennant, and lots 1 and 3, block 4, of Seed's Addition to Cass City selected as the location.

There was no lumber yard in Cass City at that time, and the nearest saw mill was one owned by Mr. Geo. Tennant, located in the Township of Sheridan. Consequently, all lumber had to be hauled from that place. The stones for the foundation were to be hauled by voluntary labor. Messrs. Farrar, Hitchcock, Ale, Laing, Seed, Orr and George Tennant came with their teams and with plenty of help, that part of the work was soon accomplished. The church was completed in the fall of 1878, and dedicated in October, dedicatory services being conducted by Rev. Wm. Grandy of Trumbull Ave. church, Detroit, assisted by Rev. E. P. Clark of Vassar, Michigan. It has been said that one of the pleasing features of the exercises was the music which was excellent for a small place, the size of Cass City. The members of the choir at that time were Mrs. Amelia Knight, Miss Pauline Ahr, and Messrs. John Laing, Alonzo Ale and James Adamson.

The building was in Gothic style, of very neat construction, having a bell tower on the corner underneath which was the main entrance of the church. The seating capacity was three hundred. The membership of the church at this time was about forty. A flourishing Sunday School was connected with the church. A Ladies' Aid Society had been organized, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Fannie Kelland; secretary, Mrs. Kate Crosby; treasurer, Mrs. Emma McLaughlin. At that time and for some time after, the Aid Society served suppers for ten cents. The receipts for an evening sometimes were as low as $1.20 and sometimes as high as $4.00. Usually the amount was about $2.50.

After the church was plastered and the floors laid, a "Martha Washington" supper was given. Mrs. J. L. Hitchcock took the part of Martha Washington and Mr. Kelland acted the part of Parson Hopkins of Colonial fame. A band came over from Columbia and their music added much to the interest of the occasion. The sum of $90.00 was realized. This was a most excellent and creditable showing, considering the population of Cass City at this time, which was only 350 persons.

This sketch would not be complete without special mention of Mrs. Fannie Kelland, wife of Rev. John Kelland. She united with the church, April 26, 1878. She was a wonderful woman, untiring, energetic and capable, a born leader. She never faltered in the work she so much loved. She organized the first Ladies' Aid Society and first Missionary Society. She was the president of both. She also organized the society known as the "Busy Bees," an organization of little girls. That society raised the necessary funds to buy the pulpit chairs, organ and Bible. The pulpit was donated by Mr. Oscar Lenzner, Sr., and was the product of his own handiwork.

The Aid Society completed the rest of the furnishings. During the years that followed, the Aid Society gladly helped with the finances of the church wherever it was needed, many times making up the deficit in ministers' salaries. They bought and paid for the house and lot corner of Third and Grand Streets for a manse. Later this place was sold that they might secure a location nearer the church. A house located on the east side of S. Seeger St. was bought for a manse. At a later date, it was sold.

Under the pastorate of Rev. E. H. Bradford, at a congregational meeting held July 31, 1905, the church as a corporation was reorganized. The following Articles of Association were adopted:

Articles of Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City, Michigan.

Article I.

The purpose or purposes for which this Society desires to become incorporated are as follows:

As auxiliary to that ecclesiastical body known as the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City, Michigan.

To make contracts, to take, hold, control and convey property, real and personal, to the end aforesaid, and generally under the limitations declared in the By-laws adopted under these Articles, to manage the temporalities of said church.

Article II.

The name assumed by this proposed corporation, and by which it shall be known in law, is The First Presbyterian Church, of Cass City, Michigan.

It was moved and seconded that the annual meeting of the congregation be held on the second Tuesday of November of each year, time 7:30 p. m. Carried.

Moved and seconded that the congregation elect six trustees, carried.

The following were elected:
For one year from Nov. 1905, I. B. Auten and E. H. Pinney.

For two years from Nov. 1905, O. K. James and John Rensler.

For three years from Nov. 1905, A. E. Goodall and Wm. McCallum.

The following elders were elected: James J. Spence, Hector L. McDermott and Andrew Armstrong.

In the years 1906 and 1907, the church was rebuilt. The work was done under the supervision of I. K. Hall. The building was almost transformed although the main building retained its original shape. The original building was of wood. In the new building the outer walls are built of cement blocks and brick. An addition was built on the south side of the main building and the entrance which is at the corner was surmounted by a large square tower. The vestibule which is beneath the tower, has steps leading up to the entrance to the auditorium. New pews were procured for the auditorium. They are in circular form. The floor is an incline so that a good view of the pulpit may be had from any point in the room. The old windows were replaced by new ones which include memorials to Mrs. Esther Seed, Mrs. Helen Goodall, Mr. Robert Miller, Mr. John McBurney and Mr. Alexander Gillies. Mr. Gillies and Mr. McBurney had each held the office of ruling elder.

The Ladies' Aid Society had bought and paid for a pipe organ, and that was installed and ready for use. A basement under the whole structure provided a Sunday school room, cloak room, dining room, kitchen, pantry and furnace room, all being appropriately furnished. The church building as it stood completed, represented a total value of $8,500.

The speakers for the second dedication were Rev. David Howell, D. D., of Lansing, Synodical Supt. of Home Missions, and Rev. W. L. Hool, Sunday School Missionary of Presbytery of Saginaw.

On Sunday, February 10, 1907, the church was dedicated. All other churches in town were closed for the day, and the ministers and congregations united in the services of which there were three, although it was extremely stormy. At 10:30 a. m. a large congregation gathered and listened to a very inspiring sermon by Dr. Howell. The text was taken from John 11: 25, 26. The dedicatory service was read by Dr. Howell. Rev. W. L. Hool assisted in the services.

Special music was furnished by the choir, which consisted of the following members: Misses Nellie Goff and Mamie Brooker, Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, Mrs. P. A. Schenck, Mrs. M. M. Wickware, Mrs. F. A. Tiedgen and Mrs. F. J. Nash, Jr., and Messrs. O. K. James, F. A. Tiedgen and Lyle Koepfgen. Miss Edna Matzen acted in the capacity of organist. The finances of the church had been so arranged that it was necessary to ask for a contribution for the expenses of the day only, which amounted to over $50.00, which was received. In the afternoon at three o'clock, the second service was held which consisted chiefly of the reception of new members, and the sacramental and baptismal services. Four new members were received, three by letter, and one on confession of faith; two candidates were baptized.

The evening service was quite largely attended and the congregation listened to two very able addresses, one by Rev. W. L. Hool, and one by Dr. Howell. This service ended a most happy and well planned dedication. Too much credit cannot be given Rev. E. H. Bradford for his part in the rebuilding of the church. He was an untiring worker, an efficient and agreeable leader, a man who won during his pastorate in Cass City, not only the admiration and respect of his own church, but that of all those with whom he came in contact.

In giving the church history at the time of the second dedication, Mr. O. K. James expressed the wish that "The next quarter century's history of the church might be fully as gratifying and free from dissension as had been the quarter century just passed."

Twenty years have elapsed since that time, and there is no doubt but that his wish will be realized. During the fifty years, twenty ministers have served the church, though not all of them were installed pastors. Under the guidance of our highly esteemed present pastor, Rev. Paul J. Allured, the past year's work has made a pleasant ending for the half century now closed, and an auspicious beginning for the half century upon which we are about to enter. Mr. Allured has worked untiringly to get things in proper order for this joyous occasion. He has won the respect and sincere appreciation of his church and congregation. We have always had a good Sunday school, but at the present time, it has reached a high standard of excellence. Every department is doing good work. Mr. F. E. Kelsey is the present Superintendent. Twenty years ago, a primary department was organized in the Sunday school by Mrs. Alfred J. Knapp, the present superintendent, who has held the office during the whole time with the exception of one year when she was Assistant Supt. to Mrs. Everette Mudge. Many a boy and girl has gone out into the world better fitted to cope with life's problems because of her training and wise Christian council. The present membership of the Sunday school is 257.

Our enthusiastic Missionary Society has 52 members, and an average attendance of thirty. We hold one meeting each month, and at every meeting, we enjoy a good program. When we give an account of our stewardship at the end of the year, it is one of which we need not be ashamed as we are able to report all work done, and our apportionment fully met. This Society was organized by Mrs. Helen Wixon, in October, 1907. Mrs. Wixon was the mother of Mrs. Maud Wilsley, who is now the efficient President. It is most interesting to know that the second Missionary Society organized in our church was presided over by Mrs. Frances Pinney, a sister of Mrs. Wixon, and for many years, one of the faithful members of the church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pinney has just completed twenty years of service as Treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society, and to her I am indebted for the following facts: Twenty years ago the church became able to meet its regular expenses, without the assistance of the Ladies' Aid Society. For the rebuilding of the church in 1906, the women of the Aid paid $1,000. They also paid for the present manse. Since then, they have expended for repairs and remodeling of the church and manse over $3,000. Mrs. Grover Burke is now president of the society.

Other organizations of the church are as follows: The Spafford Guild, organized in 1924. This Guild was formerly the Westminster Guild, and was organized October 4, 1919. It was changed to the Spafford Guild, and named so in honor of Rev. Spafford Kelsey, a foreign missionary to Siam, and son of our Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey. This is one of the strongest organizations in the church, and the work of the Chapter deserves our highest commendation. The present officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Cameron Wallace; Vice President, Mrs. Clarence Burt; Treasurer, Mrs. Angus McPhail; Secretary, Miss Allison Spence; Secretary of Literature, Miss Johanna McRae. There are at present, 38 members in the Guild.

The Louisa Smith Circle was organized eight years ago, by Miss Louisa Smith. Miss Smith continued as director of this Circle until her death, four years ago. Every year, this circle is aided in their work, by a gift from Mrs. Smith. Many of the Circle are the leaders in the present Christian Endeavor Society.

The Lillian Dean Guild Circle, named after a missionary of our church in Korea, was organized five years ago. Mrs. F. E. Kelsey is the present patroness. The officers for this year are, President, Janet E. Allured; Vice President, Blanche Stafford; Secretary, Marjorie Boyes. During the past year, this Circle has been much interested in Missionary scrap books.

The Light Bearers Society, formerly the Little Light Bearers, has been in existence for the past five years. Mrs. Elmer Seed has been the leader of this society. Mrs. Paul J. Allured is the present patroness. The officers are, President, Dorothy Boyes; Vice President, Lucille Goodall; Secretary, Florence Schenck; Treasurer, Irene Russell.

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor was organized October 1, 1926, with Miss Van Eldick as the first superintendent. Miss Virginia Day was the first president. Grace Wylie now holds that office. The vice president is Horace Pinney; secretary, Katherine Hunt; treasurer, Albert Warner.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society was organized March, 1927, under the supervision of Mrs. Clarence Burt, Mrs. G. H. Burke and Mrs. Ernest Croft. There are fifteen members. The present superintendent is Mrs. J. H. Holcomb. The officers are: President, Robert Allured; vice president, Dorothy Boyes; secretary, Dorothy Holcomb; treasurer, Patricia Pinney.

Our session is composed of the following elders: Fred E. Kelsey, clerk, James J. Spence, Christopher McRae, John L. Cathcart, Ernest Croft and Robert McNamee. Trustees: Meredith B. Auten, president; Grover H. Burke, secretary and treasurer; Alfred J. Knapp, Charles L. Robinson, Robert McNamee, Dr. Pearl A. Schenck, Ervin Zemke and Robert J. Knight.

Last, but not least, I want to mention our choir. Many who are singing this morning have been faithful members of the choir for years. The messages that they have given in song, have found their places in the hearts of many. The music of any religious service, forms one of its most vital parts. For our Sunday evening services now we have the junior choir, with Mrs. Robert McNamee, as director.

As we look back across the past fifty years, we can see God's guiding hand. We as a church, have much for which to be thankful. We have had many happy experiences. One that stands out above all others has been seeing young men and women uniting with the church and taking the Master for their guide and counselor. We cannot help but feel the loss of the many loyal loving workers who have passed on. We would ever honor and revere their memory, by striving to live in a manner that will be acceptable to the Master.

I know of no better way to express my feelings today, toward this church, than to apply to it the words of Longfellow, concerning the "Ship of State."

Thou too, sail on, O ship of state!
Sail on, O union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!
We know what Master laid thy keel,
What workmen wrought thy ribs of steel,
Who made each mast, and sail, and rope,
What anvil rang, what hammers beat,
In what a forge and what a heat,
Were shaped the anchors of thy hope!
Fear not each sudden sound and shock,
'Tis but the wave and not the rock;
'Tis but the flapping of the sail,
And not a rent made by the gale!
In spite of rock and tempest's roar,
In spite of false lights on the shore,
Sail on nor fear to breast the sea!
Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers,
Our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee,—are all with thee!

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Three Divergent Schemes for Naval Limitation Offered at Geneva.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

THREE great powers, in conference at Geneva, through their representatives, for the purpose of devising further limitation of naval armament, are considering three widely divergent plans, and if they get together on any scheme it will be only by making big concessions and after long debate. The initial positions of the three powers may be succinctly stated thus:

United States—Extension of the 5-5-3 ratio to all warships, with definite tonnage limits for cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

Great Britain—Further limitation of battleships, reduction in size and armament of both capital ships and cruisers and extension of the 5-5-3 ratio to 10,000-ton cruisers, but no mention of application to auxiliaries.

Japan—A naval holiday on the basis of the status quo, and a ban on battleship construction.

Ambassador Hugh Gibson opened the conference and presided as chairman because it was called by President Coolidge. In submitting the American plan he suggested the following allocation of tonnage:

Cruisers—United States and Great Britain, 300,000 tons; Japan, 180,000 tons.

Destroyers—United States and Great Britain, 250,000 tons; Japan, 150,000 tons.

Submarines—United States and Great Britain, 90,000 tons; Japan, 54,000 tons.

In polite terms, Mr. Gibson hinted that if an agreement among the powers for naval limitation was not reached, the United States was prepared to resort to an extensive building program.

According to American experts, adoption of the British plan would enable England in time of war to swamp the American fighting ships through utilization of her mercantile marine as auxiliary cruisers; her big passenger liners would be capable of carrying airplanes and transporting troops as well as mounting 6-inch guns. In the Japanese proposal to adopt the status quo the Americans found a joker in the fact that Japan possesses considerable more cruisers and destroyers in commission or capable of utilization than the United States and the legalization of this strength would place Japan just below Great Britain and above America for these categories.

Admiral Sir Frederick Field, British delegate, explained the British point of view. He declared Great Britain requires more light cruiser and destroyer tonnage than any other power because England relies on its food supply from overseas and also for marketing the dominions' products and safeguarding the long routes of communications.

All this was set forth at length when the proposals were turned over to a committee of expert technicians who were instructed to try to find a common ground for discussion. The British claim to greater tonnage of light craft was supported by elaborate charts showing how England's trade routes and lines of communication criss-cross every body of navigable water on the globe.

Naval experts in Washington openly attacked both the British and Japanese plans, and their view was shared by Congressman Britten of Illinois, ranking member of the house committee on naval affairs. Mr. Britten predicted that failure of the Geneva conference will result in increased naval building by the United States but this view is not shared by Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. Mr. Borah feels there is little likelihood of the conference achieving real results, but that even if it does fail, this government will not enter upon a large building program.

POLAND'S firm and dignified stand against the demands of Russia in connection with the murder of the Russian minister in Warsaw seems to have had good results, for it is now reported that the two countries are in a fair way to negotiate a treaty of amity. But the Soviet government's savage reprisal in the way of wholesale executions of counter-revolutionists and others accused of being spies in the pay of foreign governments has aroused widespread indignation. An instance of this is the resolution adopted by a joint meeting of the executive committee of the British Labor party and of the general council of the British Trades Union congress.

"While recognizing the Soviet government's indignation at the murder of M. Volkef," the resolution said, "we are obliged to protest against the execution of persons innocent thereof as a reprisal. We are of the opinion that meeting murder by murder is a degradation of the standards of civilized life and can produce nothing but harm to Soviet Russia."

In this connection it is interesting to read that Pope Pius XI in an allocution before a secret consistory denounced bolshevism as an insidious, subversive doctrine that is permeating the ignorant classes throughout the world. Basing his remarks on knowledge gathered by his diplomatic outposts, the pope charged bolshevism with being chiefly responsible not only for the troubles in China but also in Mexico.

MARSHAL CHANG TSO-LIN is now the absolute dictator of northern China—though he may not enjoy that pre-eminence very long. In a twenty-word speech in Peking he announced that he had assumed the office of generalissimo in order to work for the regeneration and unification of the country. The diplomatic body was absent from the brief ceremony and so avoided official recognition of Chang's new status. In a circular telegram to the provinces the marshal pledged himself to fight against communism while breath remains in his body. He added that any seeking to undermine the nation's foundations or acting in collusion with foreigners for a like object, will be regarded as public enemies deserving death.

There are indications that the Han-kow and Nanking nationalist factions will soon get together, at least for the purpose of getting possession of Peking and Shantung provinces. The Shanghai bankers are reported to have raised two-thirds of a $30,000,000 loan to assist General Chiang in his drive northward.

FAILURE to reconcile the National peasant and Liberal parties in Rumania resulted in the downfall of Premier Babu Strebey, favorite of Queen Marie, who only recently was elevated to that position. He handed in his resignation and the former premier, Ioan Bratianu, was called on to form a new cabinet pending elections. The National peasants not only refused to co-operate with the Liberals but announced that they are publishing a manifesto making scandalous revelations against the government party.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, who caught his first mess of rainbow trout by using worms as bait, has heard the sorrowful protests of the Izaak Walton league members and now is landing the fish with the regulation equipment of fly and casting rod. And Mrs. Coolidge has proved herself no mean angler. The Chief Executive has been receiving various groups of citizens, including the members of the National Editorial association and their wives, and on Tuesday he motored to Rapid City and reviewed the South Dakota National Guard at its camp near there. He took back to the summer White House as an over-night guest former Gov. S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska, who is the editor of a farm paper. Mr. Coolidge accepted an invitation to attend the Belle Fourche roundup on July 4, which is his birthday, and promised to go to Ardmore on July 16 for a big gathering of farmers from South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming.

Governor General Wood of the Philippines was the President's most important individual caller of the week, having been invited to report on conditions in the Islands. Other visitors included several congressmen.

REPRESENTATIVE W. R. GREEN of Iowa, chairman of the house ways and means committee, went to Washington for a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, and told the correspondents that there was small hope of a substantial tax reduction in 1928. Present indications, according to Mr. Green, are that, if there is any surplus in the national treasury at the end of the fiscal year, it will not be large enough to permit such reductions as were made in the last revenue bill, which authorized cuts aggregating $400,000,000.

In this view Mr. Green takes sharp issue with other Republican leaders, notably Senators Edge of New Jersey, and Reed of Pennsylvania, who have predicted a surplus exceeding $900,000,000, and probably running as high as $400,000,000.

BECAUSE of his refusal to return to the United States and testify in the trial of Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair in the Teapot Dome oil lease fraud case, the Department of State has put Harry M. Blackmer in the position of a "man without a country." The former chairman of the Midwest Refining company has been deprived of his passport by order of the department and so is without the protection of the government on his travels. While his passport has been revoked he has one chance to recover it, namely, to apply for a passport to return to the United States. But as Blackmer evaded service of a subpoena for a long time and finally actually refused service, officials here do not believe he will seek a chance to come home, knowing that this would mean facing another subpoena on landing, or arrest for contempt of court, or confiscation of his American property under the drastic Walsh law, recently enacted by congress to meet this very case.

COMMANDER BYRD and his three fellow aviators waited all week for weather conditions favorable to the start of their flight to France in the Fokker monoplane America. Heavy fogs and fluctuating winds prevailed over the north Atlantic, and Byrd saw no object in starting as he was not planning a record-breaking flight or contemplating any sensational performance.

Colonel Lindbergh had a few days to devote to his own affairs, and then was summoned to Washington to confer with officials of the Army, Navy and Commerce departments. He flew there from St. Louis in an army plane, making one stop, at Dayton, Ohio. A committee of St. Louis business men has offered Lindbergh the presidency of a projected airplane manufacturing company with large capital.

CITIZENS of Indianapolis grew tired of the doings of the city hall ring there and, being given the opportunity at a special election, they smashed it by voting, five to one, in favor of abolishing the council and mayoralty system and substituting the city manager form of government. In March the anti-manager forces persuaded the legislature to amend the law so that the change cannot be made before January 1, 1930. If this legislative action is held unconstitutional the city manager will take office next New Year's day.

UNQUALIFIED approval of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project is given by the joint New England-St. Lawrence waterway committee of business men, financiers, economists, and engineers in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, Maine, and Connecticut.

After months of study this committee has concluded that the all-American waterway route through New York, proposed as an alternative to the St. Lawrence route, is impractical from a financial and engineering standpoint, and in a formal report the spokesmen for the six states urge the Washington government to initiate negotiations with the Canadian government upon a treaty which will speed completion of the St. Lawrence project.

We will be closed July 4th.

Lots of people we know allways refer to it as the "Government Postoffice." Do you happen to know of any other kind? If anybody else starts one here in Cass City, let's boycott him.

Next Tuesday, July 5th, will be our last delivery of Baby Chicks. Get your order in early and avoid being disappointed.

And do you people realize that this year is half gone? Guess we'll have to begin getting ready for winter again.

Cyrus Wells sold us 150 bus. of fine wheat last week.

How broad-minded some of us are when we are dealing with problems that don't affect us personally—how narrow-minded we become when we face our own little troubles.

Might Go To His Head.
Undoubtedly personal liberty is a good thing, but we don't like to ride with a driver who is full of it.

We will have another car of Purina about July 10th.

It echoes south, it echoes north, "Where're you going to spend the Fourth?"

Our sympathy is with the person who walks.

Fred Bigelow wonders why it is, when you get awake in the night and wonder what time it is, that the clock always strikes half past something.

If anyone asks us our opinion of the weather for the last few weeks, we're going to say "Perfect."

It is generally admitted that the rain last week was quite nice. This sounds like the girl who called Pikes Peak "cute."

"What became of that portable garage of yours?"

"Oh, I tied the dog to it and a cat came by."

There was a young man from the west,
Who loved a fair maiden with zest,
So hard did he press her,
To make her say "Yes sir,"
That he broke four cigars in his vest.

PRESBYTERIANS HELD JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Concluded from first page.
The church. Pages were inserted for the names of those at the banquet. One hundred sixty signed that night and others of the 200 present appended their signatures later. Rev. Allured, the pastor, accepted the book in behalf of the congregation and expressed the gratitude of the recipients.

Reminiscences from the days of ox teams to those of "Tin Lizzies" were related by friends of the church. Mrs. Jane McBurney told of services held in a little schoolhouse on North Seeger St. when she came to Cass City in 1878 and of the building of the church that year and that her husband assisted in its erection. Mrs. J. L. Purdy of Gageton, recalled experiences in the early Sunday School, its teachers and the exercises held on Christmas and other special occasions dear to the heart of a child. Rev. L. V. Nash of Birmingham, Iowa, related that his father came to this community in 1860 and told of several incidents of pioneer activities in the community and church. Rev. Wm. W. Edwards of Lansing who served as pastor here in 1920-23, brought his reminiscences to a late date when he told of his experiences in traveling the roads of this section in his Ford car.

In a short address, "An Echo from General Assembly," Rev. Edwin H. Bradford, a minister in the local church in 1904-08, told of his impressions as a delegate at the recent assembly at San Francisco. Among the outstanding features of this supreme court of the Presbyterians were the general recognition that a new day had come to the Church of Jesus Christ and the raising of a pension fund of $15,000,000 for aged and infirm ministers and missionaries and their widows and orphans.

Among the highly pleasing features of the banquet program were the musical numbers given by Miss Emily Mutter, violinist, of Howell, Miss Angeline Wilson, contralto, and Miss Gwendolyn Wilson, pianist, both of Ann Arbor. These young ladies delighted a Cass City audience in a concert a little less than a year ago and their appearance here Saturday was greeted with much applause. Miss Mutter artistically presented "Frasquita" by Lehlar-Kreisler and "Shon Rosmarin" by Kreisler. Miss Angeline Wilson, blest with a voice of unusual quality and volume, sang the "Wayfarer's Night Song" by Martin and "Homing" by Del Riego. Miss Wilson played with a charm and grace most pleasing Etude Op. 25, No. 9 and Etude Op. 10, No. 12, both by Chopin.

Anniversary Service.

Sunday morning marked the anniversary service which opened with the prelude, "Andantino in D flat," with Mrs. I. D. McCoy at the organ. The invocation and the Lord's prayer followed the doxology. "Seek First His Kingdom" was the subject of the responsive reading, Rev. L. V. Nash read the Scripture lesson and Rev. W. W. Edwards offered the pastoral prayer.

In addition to the congregational hymns, musical numbers at this service consisted of a violin solo by Miss Mutter and a contralto solo by Miss Wilson.

The jubilee history as read by Mrs. A. D. Gillies is printed in this number of the Chronicle.

The anniversary sermon, "The Soul of the Church," was given by Rev. Edwin H. Bradford of Lawrence. Before entering into the discussion of his sermon subject, Rev. Bradford related incidents regarding the remodeling of the church edifice when he was pastor at Cass City in 1904-09.

"The church," said the speaker, "has gone beyond the crudeness of her early years. She has changed her method from coercion and oppression to one more in keeping with Divine methods. She is causing men to think of God as a father with a love and patience that exceeds that of a mother. The church has never had a broader vision than today as she seeks to save a world for whom Christ died."

In his announcements at this service, Rev. Allured called attention to the church bulletin board on which were posted the names of the 540 who had become members of the church during the 50 years of the society's history.

Many baskets containing beautiful bouquets of peonies and roses decorated the platform and a handsome wreath hung upon the organ. Within the wreath were the dates "1877-1927."

Union Mass Meeting.

Local churches united in a mass meeting for the final gathering of the jubilee celebration on Sunday evening. Rev. A. G. Newberry of the Baptist church read the Scripture lesson and Rev. Ira W. Cargo, pastor of the M. E. church, offered prayer.

Greetings to the churches of Cass City were extended by Rev. E. H. Bradford and Rev. W. W. Edwards.

Rev. Andrew M. Lowry of Lapeer, moderator of Flint Presbytery, delivered the sermon on the subject, "The Current Call of the Church to Christ-like Character." The church needs, said the speaker, an informed constituency, active in the work, possessing and exercising friendship for fellowmen and a growth in character.

Special music for the service was an anthem by the junior choir. Rev. C. F. Smith, pastor of the Evangelical church, dismissed the congregation with the benediction.

Commencement Week— Commencement week was unusually instructive and unique in its program and decorations. The graduating class listened to a very inspiring address delivered by Rev. Tamblin at the union baccalaureate service held in the M. P. church Sunday evening. Aileen Ziehm, Junior president, ushered the graduates to seats at the front of the church. Following the seniors were the eighth grade graduates and juniors. Rev. Tamblin chose for his text Prov. 23:3, "Buy the truth and sell it not." His address contained a strong plea for right living, bearing in mind the need of truthfulness and a strong religious ideal. A union choir furnished special anthems for the evening's program. On Monday evening, in the church parlors, the seniors with their parents, members of the board of education with their wives, teachers and pastors were guests of the juniors and their parents at a delightful banquet. The rooms were prettily trimmed in gold and green, and yellow roses formed the center pieces for the tables. At seven o'clock 82 guests were served a delicious three-course dinner by the Ladies' Aid Society. Aileen Ziehm, junior president, gave the address of welcome and introduced Miss Koepfgen as toastmistress for the evening. The program was cleverly arranged and the toasts, readings and music showed marked ability and careful preparation. Although many were very brief, they were of extraordinary quality. Hon. L. C. Cramton and Rev. N. D. Braby delighted the guests with their addresses. Commencement exercises on Wednesday evening were very impressive. While the Vassar Orchestra played, a procession was formed, with Aileen Ziehm as usher, who conducted Mr. Bartholomy, president of the board of education, and Dr. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan to the platform. Then followed the alumni, who were seated by Miss Babcock, the alumni sponsor. Next formed the eighth, grade graduates and the juniors, the latter forming in two lines for the seniors to pass through and all were seated. The orchestra played several selections. Rev. Wilson gave the invocation. Eltha Farson, salutatorian, gave a hearty welcome to the friends gathered. Dr. W. D. Henderson gave the address, his subject being, "The Master Key." His talk was full of pep and delighted his audience with his forcible statements. Lucile Bartholomy then gave the valedictory. She showed clearly the class appreciation of their opportunity for education given them by their parents and the community. Supt. Koepfgen, in a few and well chosen remarks, presented eighth grade diplomas to Melvin Fischer, Janet Laurie, Lester Shepherd, Leotta Deneen, Leona Williams and Preston Karr. At this time she spoke of the pleasant association which had bound the community and school together for the past seven years, acknowledging a feeling of gratitude to one and all. In closing, she said "We had never gone after the gold of Ophir but had labored for the fine gold of knowledge and true usefulness." She then presented the class to the board of education. Mr. Bartholomy gave the graduates some good advice in a brief address, preceding the presentation of the diplomas to members of the class. Mrs. Harry Russell, then in behalf of the alumni, invited the class to join their ranks and before leaving the platform signed their names to the alumni roll. Accompanied by the orchestra, the audience sang "America," and Rev. Wilson pronounced the benediction. The exercises were followed by the alumni banquet. A short business program was held preceding the banquet. Eighty guests enjoyed the elaborate feast prepared by the alumni and served by the junior girls. Prof. Henderson, Miss Koepfgen, Miss Babcock and Alex Crawford responded to toasts. The latter of the Class of 1924 expressed in appreciation of the seven years' labor of Miss Koepfgen. State News in Brief

Muskegon—Special allotment of $75,000 of river and harbor appropriations for maintenance and improvements of Muskegon harbor, has been announced at the war department in Washington.

Lansing—Delegations from out-state communities have appeared before the State Administrative Board to assure Gov. Fred W. Green that their districts favor the three-cent gasoline tax. The delegates asked additional trunk line highway construction.

Lansing—Agitation for establishment of a fifth state normal school has been revived, according to reports received here. Representatives of Petoskey are preparing to appear before the State Board of Education and urge that such a school be opened there.

Traverse City—Bowen Holliday Post No. 35, American Legion, has been granted a State boxing license. The summer program calls for three outdoor ring shows, one each in July, August and September, months of the heaviest summer resort business. Boxing will be continued in the winter also, according to present plans.

Grand Rapids—Miss Lucine Lohman Jaeger, 22 years old, attired in overalls and sombrero, hitch-hiked from Salt Lake City to her home at Kent City in five days. A tooth brush and powder puff were among the luggage she carried in her pockets. Her hiking began two years ago, when she made a trip to the Pacific Coast.

Alma—An explosion of fireworks, which had just been placed on display destroyed the Look-Paterson drug store here and damaged two doctors' offices on the second floor of the building. It is believed a match dropped into the pyrotechnics caused the blast. Miss Flora Henry, in charge of the store, estimated the damage at $40,000.

Ann Arbor—The University of Wisconsin joined the group of Big Ten schools which led in boosting the price of football tickets to $3. Illinois, Iowa, and Chicago have been charging that rate for several seasons. The Wisconsin board of regents have approved the 50-cent advance and it is understood here that Minnesota and Northwestern, along with Michigan, will take similar action by next fall.

Levering—Mrs. Joseph Winn, 67-year-old paralytic, and her crippled son, Joseph Winn, Jr., 23 years old, were burned to death when fire destroyed the farm home where they were living near here. The mother was trapped in a second floor bedroom by the quick spread of the fire, and the son was attempting to rescue her when the floor dropped. The bodies were recovered later. No inquest was held.

Holt—Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen White, of Mason, died suddenly at Holt recently. Mrs. Ansel Budd, 21 years old, collapsed and died before medical aid could be summoned. Her sister, Mrs. Bert Black, 29 years old, called to the home of Mrs. Budd by the report of the death, succumbed a few minutes after entering the house. Mrs. White, mother of the two young women, was reported to be in a serious condition from the shock.

Battle Creek—Mrs. Michael Dayton, 41 years old, has given birth to her twentieth child. The baby weighed eight and a half pounds. It is the fifth child born to Mrs. Dayton, following her second marriage. Fifteen children were born by a former union. Only two of the first 15 children are living and the father is also dead. All of the five children by the second marriage are alive. Dayton is employed in a local factory. He is 54 years old and a native of Vassburg, Pa.

Lansing—Samuel Odell, of Shelby, the senior member of the Michigan public utilities commission, was elected chairman at the first formal meeting of the newly appointed commission. James Bice, who has been an employe of the commission for the past 28 years, was chosen vice-chairman. The commission adopted a resolution to the effect that the chairmanship shall rotate during the four-year term, each chairman holding that position for nine months and 18 days.

Jackson—One hundred and eighty-five inmates of the Michigan State prison here were in the prison hospital, recently, suffering from intestinal disorder caused by drinking water from the Grand River, which entered the Jackson city water mains through auxiliary mains laid for fire protection. A number of employes of factories in the vicinity of the prison also were reported ill. The exact nature of the malady is not known by physicians, but it is known that it is not typhoid fever.

Lansing—Conservation officials are investigating reports of a mysterious epidemic which threatens to wipe out thousands of bass, pike and perch, according to reports to the department. Hundreds of dead fish are being washed ashore daily along lakes in Newaygo, Montcalm, Lake, Berry and Jackson counties, according to information sent here. The fish are affected with a swollen mouth and gills, and specimens have been sent to Ann Arbor for study. Preliminary investigation shows a parasite infection.

Plowing Done Now Halts Army Worms

Precautionary measures taken by Michigan farmers now will save serious losses from the inroads of a threatened invasion by the army worm, according to a statement given out by the entomology department at Michigan State College.

Farmers can find whether or not the army worm is present on their farms by examining the oats in low spots in their oat fields. The army worm is a cut worm and prefers to have its food wilted before eating it. The worm cuts the leaves from the oat plants during the night and hides under clods or rubbish in the daytime.

If the oats show that army worms are present, the area where the damage is being done should be plowed immediately to keep the worms from maturing and spreading to a larger area.

Although the loss of the leaves from the oats may not appear serious at first, it should be remembered that later the worm will eat the entire top of the oat plant. Unless the worms are brought under control the entire field of oats may be lost, according to the college specialists.

A state of preparedness now will stop the worm before its myriads are ready to start on their devastating march through Michigan crops. When the march is once begun, control measures are difficult and expensive and crops in fields invaded by the army worm on the march disappear as if by magic.

The army worm is only one-half inch in length now, and any increase in size which it makes is made at the expense of crop yields.
