

BIG CROWD EXPECTED HERE ON JULY 12

Orangemen from Large District of State to Gather for Annual Celebration.

Cass City Lodge, L. O. L., is making extensive preparations to entertain the big crowd that will gather at Cass City for the Orangemen's celebration next Tuesday, July 12. Several have predicted that it will be one of the largest crowds that ever gathered in Cass City. Local Orangemen not only expect members of the fraternity from the Thumb counties to attend, but representatives of lodges from Detroit, Pontiac, Pt. Huron, Flint, Clio, Saginaw and other points in the state.

Prizes will be offered for the best appearing lodge and the best band in the parade known as the Orange Walk, which is regarded as the big feature of the day.

The day's program opens in the morning with athletic events for men, boys and girls and a Shetland pony race.

Lodges dressed in regalia and carrying flags and banners and nearly every lodge accompanied by a band or pipe and drum corps will form for the Walk at 1:00 p. m. at the corner of Main and Seeger streets. The line of march will be on Seeger St. north to the schoolhouse and then return south on Seeger St. to Church St., west on Church St., past the Nestle's Food Co. plant, to the street paralleling the railroad, south to Main St., west on Main St. to Brooker St., then south on Brooker St. to Garfield Ave., east on Garfield Ave. to Seeger St., north on Seeger St. to Houghton St., east on Houghton St. to Ale St., north on Ale St. to Main St., and then west on Main St. to the railroad where the lodges will counter march and return to the corner of Main and Seeger streets.

This is the plan of officers at the present time though it is subject to slight changes.

Addresses by speakers representing the Orangemen's order will be made from a platform at the corner of Main and Seeger St.

The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to a program of horse racing and ball game at the fair-ground. Caro will play Owendale in base ball. The harness races for horses in Classes A, B and C and a farmer's running race are the numbers on the racing program.

In the evening, a free pavement dance sponsored by the Cass City Fair Association will be given, a nine-piece orchestra furnishing the music.

Colling Merchant Died Sunday

Fred Grice passed away at his home at Colling Sunday morning at 8:30. Mr. Grice had been poorly for a few days and Saturday evening was taken worse. His death was a shock to his many friends.

Fred Grice was born August 14, 1869, at Colling and has always made his home near there. His wife died twenty years ago and since that time his niece, Miss Mary Moore, has made her home with him, and helped him care for the general store which he owned. He leaves three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. William G. Moore of Cass City; Mrs. James Andrews of Caro; Mrs. William Bourn of Pontiac; William and Robert Grice of Colling, and George Grice of Flint.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 at the home, Rev. Putnam officiating, and burial was at Caro cemetery. The Masonic Order of Unionville, of which he was a member, had charge of the services.

Home Coming at Cumber School

A home coming was enjoyed Monday at the Cumber schoolhouse when between 60 and 70 old settlers and pupils met and organized a reunion society. The following officers were elected: President, William Robinson of Cumber; secretary, Mrs. Jesse Hawksworth of Cumber; treasurer, John Pettenger of Cumber. It was decided to make the gathering an annual affair on July 4 each year with a pot luck dinner, and all interested in the Cumber school are invited to attend. Among those present on Monday were Mrs. C. Boyes and son of Cadillac; William Boyes of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. George Schiestel and children of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. John McLean of Port Huron; James O. Greenleaf and son, H. O. Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Henry and children and Charles Robinson, all of Cass City.

BIRD MAN OBSERVES 167 SPECIES AT FISH POINT

Fish Point, three miles southwest of Sebawaing, is gaining state-wide prominence as a bird haven. Last year, Dr. Norman A. Wood, curator of birds at the University of Michigan, spent about a month at the point, during which time he collected 167 different bird specimens for the University, some of them quite rare in the state.

Since early this spring, Mr. Edward Allen Hyer of the Kent Scientific Museum, Grand Rapids, has been at the Point in the interest of the museum, and in last Sunday's Detroit Free Press was printed a story by Mr. Hyer, in which he named 167 different birds observed during his stay here, from March 27 to May 26. According to Mr. Hyer's story, Michigan is rich in a large and varied bird life and Fish Point is a good place to study them.—Sebawaing Blade.

PREMIUM LIST IS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Thirty-eighth Annual Cass City
Fair Will Be Held
August 15-19.

The premium lists of the Cass City Fair of August 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 are being distributed. The new book has 68 pages and cover, a larger book than that of last year. H. T. Crandell, secretary of the fair, has endeavored to make the premium list a complete one. It contains the names of officers, directors and superintendents of departments, a complete list of premiums, illustrations of special attractions on the entertainment program, the race program, names and dates of Michigan fairs, special information for exhibitors, announcements of business houses, fireworks features and names of fair guarantors.

Officers of the fair are: President, P. A. Schenck; vice president, Roy M. Taylor; secretary, H. T. Crandell; treasurer, G. A. Tindale; assistant treasurer, Frederick Pinney.

Directors of the association include the following: P. A. Schenck, J. D. Brooker, Robt. Warner, J. A. Sandham, Angus McPhail, H. T. Crandell, R. M. Taylor, A. H. Higgins and Frederick Pinney.

Superintendents of the departments are: Cattle, C. J. Striffler; sheep and hogs, John Marshall; agricultural hall, J. A. Sandham; floral hall, A. H. Higgins; poultry, Robt. Warner; races, A. McPhail and J. D. Brooker.

The Cass City Fair will be conducted as a "free fair" next month; that is, the plan will be similar to that of the Ionia Free Fair in that no admission fee will be charged at the entrance gate and visitors may view the exhibits in all departments and visit the Midway without charge. Admission is charged, however, to the grandstand and for the bleachers and infield.

Narrow Escape from Drowning

Earl Vance had a narrow escape from drowning while bathing in the deep pool near the plant of the Cass City Sand and Gravel Co. on Friday. His companions rescued him after he had gone under the water for the third time. He was taken very ill with pneumonia afterwards, but is now reported much better.

ONCE MORE—PLEASE SIGN NEWS ARTICLES

Once more, in fact, every few weeks, it seems to be necessary for The Chronicle to ask people sending in news articles to sign their name at the bottom of the articles.

The name of the author of the article of news is not for publication, but for safety in publishing. Many times a feature of the article is left out and we want to get hold of the author's name to get more data on the article of news; without it we are lost.

We are glad to receive any article of news—that's what makes a newspaper—but please sign your name! Thanks!

BUSINESS PLACES CLOSE FROM 3 TO 5 TUESDAY

Business places in Cass City will be closed between the hours of three to five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 12, when the races and base ball game will be held at the fairgrounds as a part of the Orangemen's celebration at Cass City.

DECLARE ARMISTICE IN CORN BORER WAR

End of Clean-up Operations for This Season Brings Pest
Campaign to Conclusion.

With the cessation of enforced clean-up operations in the corn borer area the past week, a truce has been declared for the next few months in the war which has been waged since early spring against the European pest.

The borer campaign, however, is not yet over as it was not expected that the pest would be conquered in one drive. An armistice has merely been declared. In the meantime, casualties in the corn borer ranks will be reckoned by the entomologists, and plans laid for the next offensive.

It is doubtful whether the past campaign has ever been equalled so far as cooperative enterprise is concerned, according to those in close touch with agricultural events.

Commencing in late March, the Extension Division of Michigan State College staged demonstrations of practical and effective control measures throughout the infested area. Thousands of farmers, who attended these meetings, were convinced of the immediate need of clean-up work in order to retard the destruction wrought by the borer, and enlisted in the campaign.

In April, the regulatory forces swung into action. Surveys of townships were made and farmers were advised of just what would be expected of them in order to meet the regulations.

The outstanding feature of the campaign has been the whole-hearted support given it by the farmers of the area. While exact figures are not yet available, it is estimated by C. O. Larrabee, field supervisor of control work in Michigan, that less than one per cent of the 800,000 acres in the area was cleaned up by government crews.

Specimens of this year's corn borer moths have been collected in a field near Erie, Michigan, by federal entomologists, and also at the Monroe experimental station. Under average field conditions, corn borers which have escaped destruction during the campaign waged against the pest, are now rapidly changing into moths and taking to flight. It is expected that this process will continue for several weeks.

Corn borer moths measure about three-fourths of an inch across the extended wings, according to Professor Pettit, and are yellowish to brownish in color. The insects are normally night flyers. When disturbed during the day, however, they make short flights, close to the ground, for distances of 10 to 20 feet, and eventually seek cover again.

The female moths usually lay their eggs in clusters upon the undersides of the host plant. The eggs of the clusters are deposited in irregular rows, each egg overlapping the adjoining one in the manner of shingles. In four to twelve days, the eggs hatch out into larvae which soon develop into mature corn borers.

It is the young, growing larvae, explains Professor Pettit, which feed upon and seriously damage the corn crop.

The finding of the corn borer moths is not to be looked upon with alarm. It is expected that there will always be a few of these moths present. The number, however, will undoubtedly decrease after a few years of careful clean-up.

Two Injured in Auto Accident

Glenn McClorey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McClorey, of Cass City, suffered a broken nose and had both jaw bones broken and Joe Johnson, riding with him in McClorey's Ford roadster, received a severe cut under the right eye, had his right hand injured and back badly wrenched when their car was tipped into the ditch at the corner five miles east of Cass City Sunday afternoon. A large car coming from the north and turning west at the corner forced the McClorey car travelling east on M-81 close to the ditch when a second car coming from the north struck the McClorey car tipping it into the ditch and damaging it badly.

Mr. McClorey was taken to the Morris-Cridland hospital and Mr. Johnson to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McClorey, where he makes his home. Both are getting along nicely according to late reports.

DAIRYMEN TO HOLD FOUR STATE MEETS

Big Field Days Booked for Famous Institution Herds in Late July.

Dairymen of Michigan will have an opportunity to inspect excellent herds of dairy cattle, to see these cattle judged for type, and to hear nationally known authorities on dairying give brief talks at four special Dairy Days this month, according to the announcement of J. G. Hays, extension specialist in dairying at Michigan State College.

The Dairy Day meetings will be held at Pontiac, Tuesday, July 26; Kalamazoo, July 27; Ionia, July 28; and Traverse City, July 29.

The first event on the program at each of the meetings will be a judging demonstration at 10:00 a. m. by Prof. John E. Burnett. The animals will be placed as their merit warrants, and then the judge will give an explanation of the points used in determining the placing of the cattle.

R. S. Shaw, dean of agriculture at Michigan State College; O. E. Reed, professor of dairy husbandry at the same institution; E. J. Cooper, extension director for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America; and D. D. Aitken, ex-president of that Association, will appear on the afternoon program each day.

The committee in charge of arrangements for these meetings states that the weather will not be allowed to interfere with the events as it will be possible to carry out the entire program indoors if necessary. Crowds of several hundred are expected at each of the four meetings.

The convention closed July 7.

WOOD-BISHOP

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, June 28, at nine o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Ackley at Bangor, when Mrs.

Ackley's daughter, Miss Alberta Bishop, was united in marriage with Charles C. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Wood of Cass City. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ozanne, pastor of the Methodist church of Bangor, before a bank of shasta daisies, the ring service being used. Only the immediate family and friends were present. After the ceremony, a four course wedding breakfast was served. The living room and dining room were both decorated with daisies and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for a two weeks' camping trip to Long Lake. Mrs. Wood taught music and art in the Cass City school for three years from 1923 to 1926. Mr. Wood is a graduate of Cass City high school and served as salesman and druggist in the Wood drug store for several years, being a registered pharmacist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home in Midland, where Mr. Wood has a position in the Austin drug store.

SUPERVISORS FINISH JUNE SESSION LABORS

Equalization Committee Raised
Six Townships and Lowered
Two.

The Tuscola county board of supervisors completed the work of the June session of that body on June 30.

A report of the committee on county officers' salaries was adopted on the closing day. It provided that the county treasurer shall receive $500 per year for clerical help instead of $200 as heretofore; that the school commissioner receive a salary of $2,800 per year as before and that he be allowed $1,500 per year for clerk hire in place of $1,000 which was the amount in the past year; and that the register of deeds receive $100 per year for making out cash receipt slips.

Chairman Dillon was authorized to attend the state meeting of supervisors and to select one or two members of the Tuscola supervisors to accompany him to that meeting and the county to foot the expense bill of those representing Tuscola county.

The resignation of D. J. Evans of Millington, a member of the county road commission, was read and accepted. Mr. Evans asked to be relieved July 1 stating that he intended to move from the county in the near future.

A motion was passed to have the road commission function with two members instead of three until the October session of the supervisors. Fifteen favored such action and 7 opposed it.

It having been forcibly represented to the supervisors that hunting on the first day of the week has become a general practice in Tuscola by inhabitants of the county as well as other parts of the state threatening an extinction of the wild game life of the county, the board passed a resolution stating that the board is convinced that measures ought to be employed to protect all game and fur bearing animals and game birds and the supervisors requested the Department of Conservation to make, issue and promulgate the necessary and proper order prohibiting the hunting of all game in the county on the first day of the week for a period of not less than two years.

The total valuation of real and personal property in Tuscola county as assessed by the supervisors was $33,148,915.00. The total valuation as equalized is $33,164,915. The committee on equalization added $3,000 to the Dayton supervisor's figures, $2,000 to Denmark, $2,000 to Gilford, $10,000 to Indianfields, $4,000 to Millington and $3,000 to Wisner. From Columbia's assessment total $2,000 were deducted and from Vassar $6,000.

The valuation of real and personal property in the various townships as equalized by the committee follows:

Akron	$2,118,775
Almer	1,641,000
Arbela	836,160
Columbia	2,097,490

DEFORD MAN FATALLY INJURED BY AUTO

Don C. Nutt Struck as He Was Crossing Highway Near Fostoria.

Don C. Nutt, 77, of Deford was fatally injured when an automobile struck him 3 1/2 miles north of Fostoria, about 6:30 o'clock Monday afternoon as he was returning from North Lake where he had celebrated the Fourth with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Nutt, of Caro. Mr. Nutt's death came an hour after the accident.

Mr. Nutt was coming toward the car of his son which was parked at the side of the road when his daughter-in-law warned him to wait until two cars, one coming from each direction, had passed. Mr. Nutt thought he had time to cross the road, but misjudged the speed of one car which struck him as he was crossing the highway. The injured man was taken first to Fostoria and then to Mayville, but no doctor could be located in either town at the time. A call to Caro and Vassar brought a physician from each town to Mayville.

Don C. Nutt was born in New York State. He was united in marriage with Miss Jennie Madough of St. Clair county, Michigan, and six children, three boys and three girls, were born to them. On account of the ill health of Mrs. Nutt, the couple broke up housekeeping at Deford recently. Mrs. Nutt has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. O. Valentine, at Oxford, and Mr. Nutt has been with his daughter, Mrs. H. R. Silverthorn, at Deford. On Friday last, Mr. and Mrs. Silverthorn left for a trip to the northern part of the state and left Mr. Nutt at the home of his son, David, at Caro, until their return.

Besides his widow, he leaves five children, Ray Nutt of Deford, David Nutt of Caro, Mrs. Alice Valentine of Oxford, Mrs. Pearl Silverthorn of Deford, and Ivan Nutt of Cummons. Funeral services were held at the Silverthorn residence at Deford on Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Scott. Interment was made in Novesta cemetery.

Walker Accepts Post at Ypsi School

Arthur Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walker, will be in charge of athletics and physical education at Ypsilanti Normal High School next year. He will also act as critic teacher for the students in the physical education department at Michigan State Normal College who do their practice teaching at the Normal High. Mr. Walker has been employed as football, basketball and track coach at the Orange school in Pontiac for the last two years. The Pontiac Daily Press says:

"In basketball last winter Mr. Walker's team won the regional championship at Ypsilanti and played well in the state tournament at Detroit, being eliminated by Muskegon, state champions.

"In track, Walker developed Henry Harper as one of the fastest shot putters in the state while Captain V. Criger was one of the fastest milers that Michigan high schools have produced in the last few years. Ray Newman, a member of last year's track team, was a stellar pole vaulter under the tutelage of Walker."

My Dear Sir:
As we are nearing the shores of Old England my thoughts go back to the times nearly forty-five years ago when I first studied geography in the Dillman school with Miss Sarah Dickson as the teacher. Since she was overworked with classes in all of the studies with children of all ages from four years of age to 18 years, representing the two MacArthur families as well as the other numerous families of Dist. No. 1, Elkland Twp., she frequently asked Miss Mary McBurney, now Mary Abbott, to teach my class in geography.

Maps then seemed to me but pretty pages in the book with beautiful blue circles around pink continents and I never dreamed of seeing the shores there represented. However, since so Turn to page 5

State News in Brief

Sault Ste. Marie—The city commission has adopted a resolution urging former Governor Chase S. Osborne to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator to succeed Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris.

Albion—Buried in a sand slide at a local manufacturing plant Robert Mooney was saved from serious injury when his fellow workmen dug him out and rushed him to the hospital. He suffered from shock and abrasions on the legs and back.

Owosso—The city of Owosso, which recently refused to purchase two acres of land near the water works plant for $1,000 from James E. McCartney, has determined the city already owned the land and an adjoining strip, according to Mayor O. L. Sprague.

Detroit—Carrying the most impressive majority of any proposition brought to a vote in recent years, the Detroit-Windsor international bridge ordinance was approved by the people in a recent special referendum election. The ratio of victory was greater than 8 to 1.

Manistee—Manistee county has joined with other northern Michigan counties in an effort to get a state appropriation for a public tuberculosis sanitarium in the northern counties. Supervisors Waite and Heuer were appointed by the county board as a committee to represent the county.

Lansing—The state's cement plant at Chelsea will be shown no partiality, Gov. Fred W. Green declared in a statement directing the Chelsea plant to submit bids on all jobs within its territory. If the plant is not the lowest bidder on the job it will not be given the contract, Green said.

Bay City—Miss Lola Neal, 22 years old, was stabbed here when she resisted the advances of a young man. Miss Neal told police she was on her way home from work when she was attacked. Miss Neal fought her assailant off, hurling him in front of her. He then drew a large knife and in the struggle he cut her.

Grand Haven—The Detroit Piston Pin Manufacturing company will move its factory from Detroit to this city. It was announced here. The company will erect a $15,000 plant and will employ 50 men. It is engaged in manufacturing cylinder pins for the Hudson Motor company, Hupp Motor company, and Kelvinton company.

Port Huron—Driving 700 miles in 22 hours and 45 minutes on a motorcycle was the way Philip Wells Browning, employed in a local theatre, ended his vacation recently. The young man came back to Port Huron from Washington on a motorcycle. He asserts that during his vacation he rode 4,500 miles on the motorcycle.

Port Huron—John Lyle Harrington, New York consulting engineer, has been conferring with Mayor John J. Bell and members of the city commission and with Mayor James F. Newton, of Sarnia, and W. E. Harris, manager of the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce relative to the construction of an international bridge between Port Huron and Sarnia.

Lansing—George Lord, ousted as chairman of the state tax commission by an act of the legislature which takes effect in September, has mailed his resignation to Governor Fred W. Green. It is to take effect August 15, the first day of the annual meeting of the state board of equalization. Governor Green has promised the new commission chairman will be a Detroit.

Ann Arbor—More than $8,000,000 will be spent in operating the University of Michigan during the coming year, budget figures disclosed. Expenses for running the university exclusive of the hospital have jumped $77,691, the report shows. The budget for the coming year has been set at $5,860,832.73 by university officials. In addition hospital expenses will run $2,846,290.95.

Lansing—Gov. Fred W. Green received notice from the State Board of Education that it refuses to take further action toward selection of a site for the proposed fifth normal school. This means that the appropriation made by the 1925 legislature will revert to the general fund July 1, and the most famous political football of recent Michigan history will be a thing of the past.

Bay City—Critics of the last legislature were scored by Gov. Fred W. Green in an address here recently. "You know it is quite the thing these days to take a rap at the legislature," he said. "Criticism isn't going to make any improvement in the legislature and I believe every member of that body conscientiously was giving the State the best that was in him. There isn't going to be any improvement in the quality of our legislature until there is an improvement in our men and women who elect them."

Monroe—The board of supervisors has given permission to the Detroit & Toledo Shore Line railroad to erect a concrete bridge across the Huron river at South Rockwood, 14 miles north of here. The bridge is to be 180 feet long, equipped with two abutments and piers, steel girders, double track, and to take the place of the wooden structure which is to be razed. Three curves are to be eliminated on the right-of-way. It will cost $100,000. O. H. Sessions, engineer, intends to complete work this fall.

Irvin—Irvin Miller, 25 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Engelbert Miller of Westphalia, was shot accidentally when he dropped a gun which exploded when it hit the ground. He received the full charge in his abdomen.

Lansing—For the first time in history a general fish census is being conducted in the state of Michigan. Deputies of the conservation department are in charge of the work, which will determine the needs of certain fish species in different localities. Better fishing is the aim of the department, which accounts for the census.

Flint—A recommendation that the Genesee County jail be replaced with a modern structure was placed before the board of supervisors in a report from the State Welfare Commission. The report says the jail is unsafe and a fire menace is constituted by having cells for women on the third floor, which is reached only by a wooden stairway.

Grand Rapids—An airplane was used to rush from Detroit to Grand Rapids a quantity of anti-tetanic serum for the treatment of Henry Van Dyken, 27 years old, a carpenter, who was in St. Mary's hospital suffering from lockjaw. The illness was attributed to an apparently slight wound suffered when Van Dyken stepped on a nail.

Pontiac—Harry N. McCracken, of Farmington, was the first Oakland county farmer to receive federal compensation for meeting requirements in cleaning up 1926 corn stubble and refuse, it was announced by Harold M. Vaughn, county agricultural agent. The award is made in connection with the fight against the corn borer. McCracken cleaned up 20 acres of corn land.

Traverse City—Enraged when he believed an attempt was being made to take from him the two girls whom he had taken to a dance, Paul Rushton, 20 years old, of Greenville, stabbed Elmer McManus, 18, at the Lake Ann pavilion, according to officers. Rushton is confined in the Benzie County jail at Beulah and McManus received treatment at a Traverse City hospital.

Grand Rapids—Of the 1,040 men mustered into service in Grand Rapids on June 10, 1861, as members of the Third Michigan infantry, there are only 13 survivors and the organization's annual reunions have come to an end. At the recent fifty-fifth annual reunion of the veterans of the regiment, only six were able to attend because increasing age and physical infirmities make travel difficult.

Detroit—Special allotments for two Michigan harbor projects have been approved by Secretary of War Dwight W. Davis. One allotment of $354,000 of rivers and harbors appropriations is for improvements of Frankfort harbor, new construction on which will include an outside south breakwater for the harbor. The other allotment is $25,000 from other departmental appropriations for operation and care of St. Mary's Falls canal.

Lansing—The state supreme court ordered the transfer of the county seat of Oscoda county from Hersey to Reed City, scheduled for July 1, held up pending a hearing of a petition for a writ of mandamus. The petition alleges an election last April when the voters of the county approved the transfer was illegal because ballot boxes in Richmond township were not locked, the entire proposal was not printed and separate ballots were used.

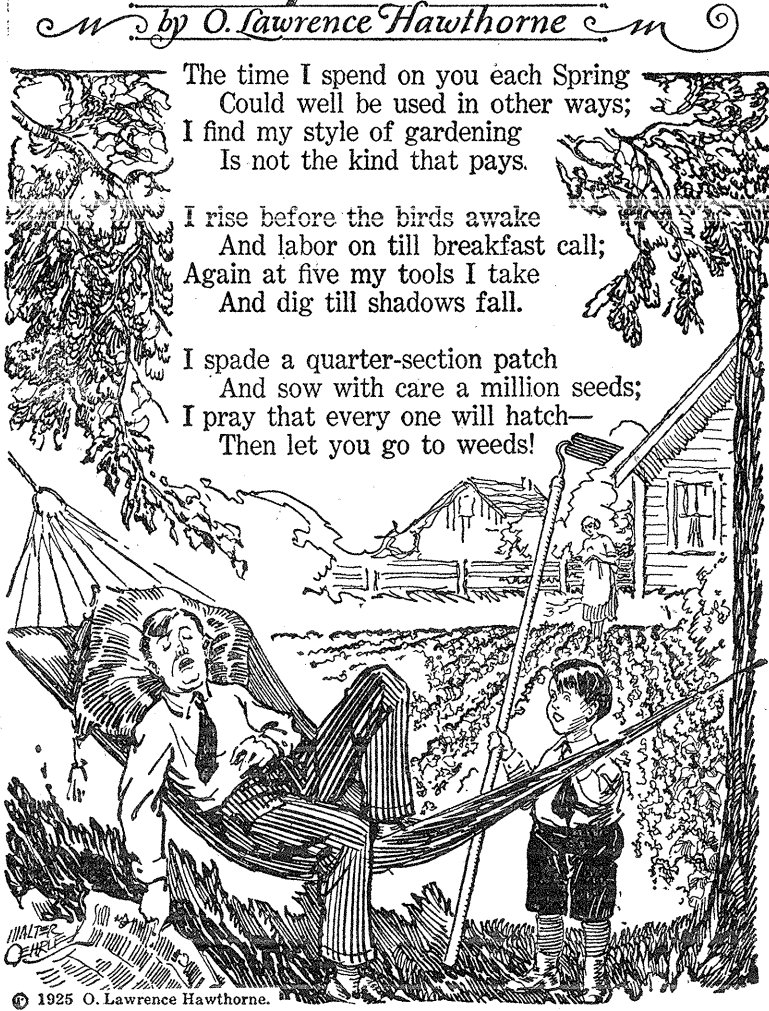

Ludington—John Reinberg and his son, Wesley, of Ludington, netted one of the largest sturgeons caught by local commercial fishermen in years, off Big Point Sable. The sturgeon weighed 175 pounds. It was six and one-half feet long and was taken in a pound net and brought into the fishing boat by a noose, after a 30-minute battle. Bortel brothers, commercial fishermen of Summit township caught a sturgeon weighing 140 pounds at Big Sable Point.

Grand Rapids—The Newsboys School of the Grand Rapids Press held its thirty-third annual graduation exercises here when four boys completed the eighth grade. The school is said to be the only one of its kind in the country. The speaker was Clark L. Brown, cashier of the Grand Rapids Press, who came here as the first teacher of the school 33 years ago. He was in charge of the school for eight years. The school is ungraded and teaches sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils.

Lansing—The River road between Saginaw and Bay City will be paved next year, Governor Green assured a delegation from those cities. Contracts are to be let late this year and the project will be completed in 1928, the governor said. The delegation, headed by A. W. Black, of Bay City, urged that the contracts be let so work can be started early in the spring. Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, said the grade now had settled sufficiently so all paving can be laid next year.

Jackson—A country-wide search for Charles Sterns, 45-year-old South Haven automobile dealer, has ended here, where Sterns was found by detectives, a victim of amnesia. He was identified by an automobile salesman. Sterns told the police he became conscious of his whereabouts while aboard a boat near Buffalo. At a hospital his memory partially returned, and although he did not recall his name, he started for Detroit where he knew a friend. He was taken back to South Haven by relatives.

To My Garden

© 1925 O. Lawrence Hawthorne.

The time I spend on each Spring
Could well be used in other ways;
I find my style of gardening
Is not the kind that pays.

I rise before the birds awake
And labor on till breakfast call;
Again at five my tools I take
And dig till shadows fall.

I spade a quarter-section patch
And sow with care a million seeds;
I pray that every one will hatch—
Then let you go to weeds!

BRONZE FINISH ON BRASS
The bureau of standards says one of the simplest ways of producing a bronze effect upon brass is to treat it with a weak solution of sodium or potassium sulphide. The darkness of the coating will depend upon the strength of the solution and the length of time it is applied. If desired, it can be brushed off in spots, yielding a bronze finish.

Canadian Drainage Basins
The greatest drainage basin in Canada is the Hudson bay basin, 1,486,000 square miles drainage into the bay. The basin drainage into the Arctic ocean contains 1,290,000 square miles; the Atlantic basin, 554,000 square miles, and the Pacific basin 357,300 square miles.

High in Quality-- Low in Price

Motorists are beginning to learn that there's a big difference in tires, although they all look pretty much alike.

Some are made with skimpy, short staple cotton. Some have an overdose of "filler" in the rubber of the tread. Some are long on looks and short on quality.

But you won't need a microscope to be sure that the Goodyear Tire you get from me is a real buy. Goodyear mileages tell the story.

Goodyears are performing so satisfactorily for my customers that they invariably come back—not with a kick but with a boost, and for another Goodyear when they need tire equipment.

I have your size—in fresh, new stocks.

DEFORD

C. J. Malcolm spent Tuesday in Caro.

Mrs. Edward Sutton spent the week-end in Detroit.

Mrs. L. Pugh is spending the week with her sisters.

Herman Bell spent the week-end in Pontiac with his mother.

The drain that is going through Deford is making fair progress.

A large crowd attended the free show at Deford on Wednesday night.

Mrs. Kruzel of Deford underwent an operation on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. C. L. McCain and daughter, Mrs. L. Pugh, of Utica came last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Spencer of Cass City were callers in town on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Spencer and children visited Sunday at the Chas. Silverthorn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gage and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Silverthorn left on Friday for the north to spend the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sherwood of Pontiac came to spend the Fourth with the former's parents, one mile west and one-half mile north of Deford.

Miss Velma Spencer and Miss Phyllis Barnes of Cass City spent last week with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer of Deford.

Monday, July 4th, was celebrated in a very agreeable way at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Silverthorn when relatives enjoyed a bounteous chicken dinner served by Mrs. Silverthorn. Those present were Mrs. C. L. McCain, Mrs. Louella Pugh of Utica, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Sherwood and three daughters, Rosalind, Luella and Onile, of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Silverthorn and daughter, Nora, of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer. Several selections of music on the piano played by Nora Silverthorn and Rosalind Sherwood were enjoyed.

RESCUE.

Wm. and Howard MacCallum, Wesley Parker and Almon Austin of Pontiac spent a few days at the John MacCallum home.

A number from here attended the 4th of July celebration at Bay Port.

Please remember that there will be an ice cream social at the Beaulieu church Friday evening, July 8. Everybody welcome.

Edwin Lince of Kinde returned home Wednesday evening after a few days' visit with his sister, Mrs. Ralph Britt.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Karr and children of Gageton visited at the Sidney Roberts home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jamieson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Roberts were Sunday evening visitors at the Samuel Heron home in South Grant.

Miss Marion Mellendorf returned home Saturday evening after working for her aunt, Miss Lydia Parker, the past week.

Mrs. John MacCallum has gone to take care of her niece, Mrs. Diller, and baby near Kilmanagh for a couple of weeks.

The Ladies' Aid held their meeting at the church basement last Thursday.

Burdette Webster was taken to the Cass City hospital Tuesday for treatment and will have an operation in a short time.

Prepared to "Smoke"
An old Dutchman, Mynheer Van Klais, had smoking materials buried with him. It is stated that "at his feet were placed a bladder of the finest Dutch golden-leaf and a packet of caporal; by his sides were laid his china-bowled pipe and a box of matches, and steel, flint and tinder."

State News in Brief

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids jobbers who have just completed a survey, report the Michigan bean acreage this year will be nearly as large as that of 1926 although the relative percentages of dark and light red kidney beans will be reversed. Although some sections report considerable reduction in acreage others are planting larger areas.

Grand Rapids—The Grand Rapids Railroad company, in a special program dedicated one of its electric rail coaches to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. Planes from the Grand Rapids airport flew overhead and dropped flowers upon the coach bearing Colonel Lindbergh's name. The operator of the car will be attired in aviation costume.

Monroe—The Monroe County jail, at Monroe, declared to be "in the most deplorable condition and one of the rottenest in the state," was ordered condemned by the State Welfare Commission. George H. Gruenbauer, of Grand Rapids, who investigated the jail said it was "the worst jail I have ever been in and I have inspected a good many of them in the state."

Mt. Clemens—The death of Milton Houston, 27 years old, of Speedwell, Tenn., is under investigation by Federal officers here. Houston died from burns received when a line of hose used in conveying oil to a corn stubble burner exploded and covered him with the burning liquid. Houston was foreman of a crew of Federal workers engaged in fighting the corn borer.

Benton Harbor—With a view to keeping down raspberry diseases and clinching Michigan's place as the leading state in the production of raspberries, a tour of 18 plantations in Southwestern Michigan, will be held under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture. Among the plantations to be visited will be that of the House of David, at Benton Harbor.

Detroit—Air passenger service which will link Indianapolis with Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville will be established soon by a number of former Indianapolis business men. They are prepared to file articles of incorporation for formation of Central Airways, Incorporated, with headquarters at Indianapolis. The company will bid also for air mail contracts.

Lansing—W. W. Potter, attorney general, is requested to sue the city of Lansing to compel it to proceed toward construction of a sewage disposal plant, in a letter he received from the Conservation and Health Departments. The two departments report that practically all cities are making reasonable progress toward construction of sewage plants, but that Lansing and Howell have done nothing.

Grand Rapids—The Grand Army of the Republic and allied patriotic societies will hold their national meetings here again next September. The national officers, learning that Dayton, O., which was chosen at the Des Moines, Ia., encampment last fall, might not be able to accommodate the veterans, turned to Grand Rapids, which sought the 1928 encampment. The convention bureau here made arrangements to finance the encampment.

Lansing—A state-wide check on automobile drivers' licenses is urged by John S. Haggerty secretary of state, in letters sent to police and sheriffs' officers throughout Michigan. The drivers' license check was decided upon after it was reported that state police and traffic officers are finding a large number of drivers without licenses many of them being children under 14 years of age and persons otherwise ineligible for licenses.

Lansing—Despite protests by Herbert F. Powell, Michigan's commissioner of agriculture, no obstacle will be placed in the way of interstate shipment of green corn this season in the area infested by the European corn borer. This decision was reached in a conference at the Department of Agriculture in Washington, at which Ohio representatives, particularly those from Lucas County, opposed the imposition of an interstate embargo.

Grand Blanc—Never absent from classes during her 12 years at school, and without a tardy mark for seven years, Miss Mabel Callen, who graduated from the Grand Blanc high school, has achieved a record that few students can equal. Miss Callen expects to take a business course at Michigan State Teachers' college at Ypsilanti. Besides standing high in her class, she is quite an athlete, and was one of the best basketball players in the school.

Almont—The Pere Marquette engine which pulls the mixed train that occasionally runs between this place and Port Huron recently met with a peculiar mishap. The engine had gone on to a siding that led to a gravel pit when a wire that was stretched across the track caught the whistle of the train and pulled it off, allowing the steam to escape. Before the hole could be plugged the boiler was cold and it took about two hours to generate sufficient pressure to allow the train to continue on its way.

WHY

One Loses Weight When Moon Is Overhead

When the moon passes vertically overhead did you ever notice that you lost weight? Well, you do, says the Abbe Moreaux, noted French astronomer. A man weighing 168 pounds weighs 1-32000th of an ounce less under the moon.

It is the same influence that causes the tides, perhaps the best-known example of the moon's modding in our affairs. Here's what happens to make the tides, according to the abbe:

If the water loses weight when the moon is overhead, the column of water directly under the moon must be higher than in other parts in order that the pressure on the sea floor may remain the same and equilibrium maintained. This bulging outward of the ocean's surface is the tide.

Now, here is an odd thing: When the moon passes straight over New York, for instance, not only are the tides the same in exactly the opposite parts of the earth, but the other magnetic effects are likewise. At the same time that we lose that 1-32000th of an ounce, so do the Chinese on the other side of the globe.

The earth may be 81 times the size of the moon, but that does not mean we can look upon it with contempt, according to the abbe. The moon pulls us hither and yon, working sometimes with, sometimes against, the sun. The effects depend upon the position it occupies in the heavens.—Popular Science Monthly.

Why Flowers Must Close Their Petals at Night

The reason many flowers close their petals at night or during bad weather is to preserve the precious pollen that enables seeds to be produced.

Heavy dew or mist at night can do almost as much damage in washing away the magic dust as rain.

But what are the mechanics of the process? The nightly closing is due to the fact that the part of the plant which gets less light grows more quickly. Normally the underside of the flower will therefore have grown a little more during the day than the top surface of the petals, so that the uneven tension will cause the petals to curve inward.

During the night and early morning the inside of the flower will grow more quickly and so straighten the petals out again. The closing during rain is due to the shrinking effect that moisture has on vegetable matter. Some flowers, such as the night-scented stock, are closed by day and open at night, because they are most successfully fertilized by night-flying insects, such as moths.

Why We Keep Diaries

Who has not turned diarist at one time or another—probably at a dozen different times? Most of us have done so, and most of us have, an equal number of times, left off.

I should like to see a psychologist's report on the motives which lead so many of us to impose on ourselves on top of all the tasks that the world imposes this added labor. Behind the first childish efforts there is, I suppose, the vague but terribly strong necessity of the young ego to establish itself as an ego apart from all the other egos, cosmic forces and what not that seem disinclined to give it elbow room. It is merely a more elaborate way of scribbling one's name over schoolbooks, wall paper, and fences; and a logical step from that so-called vandalism.—Helen McAfee, in the Bookman.

Why Popcorn Pops

There is some difference of opinion on the cause of the popping of popcorn, a number of theories having been advanced, but the United States bureau of plant industry informs us that the best explanation of this phenomenon appears to be as follows: The popping is an explosion due to the expansion, under pressure, of moisture contained in the starch grains. Until the instant of the explosion the expansion is prevented by the colloidal material within which the starch grains are embedded. It is not likely that either air or volatile oil, as is sometimes claimed, is concerned with the process.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Trees Are Tagged

If the observant traveler abroad observes an expert setting out trees in a public square, he will discover that attached to a leaf on one side of each tree there will be a bit of white tape. It is at once apparent that the marking is in no sense distinguishing. But as the gardener goes about setting the trees in the holes prepared for them, the traveler will observe that each tag of white is brought around to face the east. Upon inquiry, one will be told that unless the tree, say a palmetto, uprooted from the nursery, had the same eastern exposure of the same part in transplanting it would fail to take root and flourish.

Why Dog Howls

This question has long been disputed, some maintaining that a dog's hearing is so delicately constructed that music of a high pitch causes him pain, and others claiming that a dog likes music and feels the urge to join in with his own voice. Possibly it depends upon the dog and on the music. Generally speaking, however, it is supposed that when music causes a dog to howl and bark he is not especially happy.—Pathfinder Magazine.

"We Serve Michigan"

What Better Railroad Service Has Meant to Business

Agricultural commodities have shown an upward tendency in prices during the current year, while the course of industrial and raw material prices has taken a downward trend. We have been going through a period of price re-adjustments—always a critical time for business—but, in this instance, there were not the usual accompanying shocks to business peculiar to such periods.

The major reason for this absence of disturbances in business is that smaller inventories are being carried nowadays since the railroad service of the country assures certain and speedy delivery. Traders carry smaller stocks, and business, therefore, is carried on with less capital and with fewer hazards.

More stabilized business conditions are assured American business, and with these, consequently, failures become less likely and less frequent.

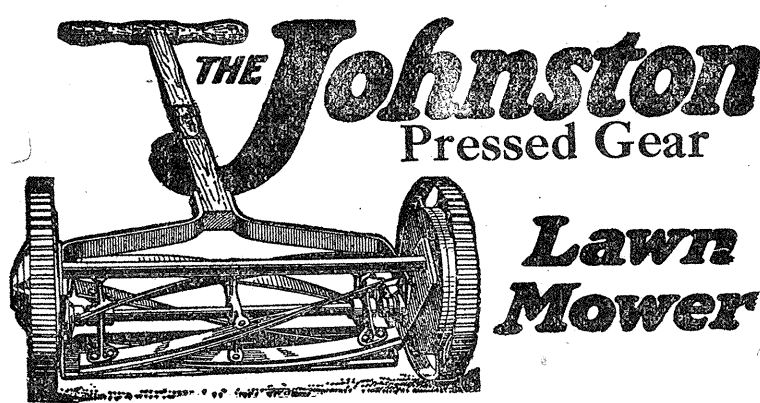

What the workings of the Federal Reserve Act proves to be to business, through the stabilizing of credits, the improved steam railroad transportation service is accomplishing through its regular and its prompt deliveries. So the large outlays to better the service have justified themselves. Both expedients work to the same end in their respective spheres. They avert the shocks.

In Michigan, this is particularly true. Vast sums, in recent years, have been expended to achieve this new standard of service. Seven of the nine railroads serving Michigan alone are expending this year nearly $26,000,000 in new engines and cars and in improvements and betterments which will continue these stabilizing forces.

These expenditures, too, were made right at home, and at a time when the lull in industry, through which we have just passed, was at its low ebb. Therefore, these $26,000,000, going largely to labor, raw materials and manufactured commodities, served appreciably to buoy up conditions.

Michigan railroads have, therefore, been more than local common-carriers. They have, through their service, removed some of the hazards inherent in business in former years.

MICHIGAN RAILROAD ASSOCIATION

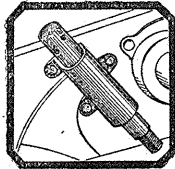

A Boy of Six Can Run It

Yes, sir, that's all the "push" that the Johnston All-Steel Lawn Mower needs.

It takes less force to cut than to tear. That's why the Johnston runs so easily. Its crucible steel blades sharpen themselves as they whirl over the die-steel bed-knife. They shear off every blade of grass the first time over. You don't shove a Johnston—you guide it.

The Johnston is all-steel; wears and works well for years. No matter how you use it, the Johnston is always ready to go.

The slightest turn of a screw at each side of the mower raises or lowers the bed-knife. This makes it easy to adjust the cutting contact of blades and bed-knife.

Get the satisfaction of using this better mower. Ask us to bring a Johnston over some evening and give it a trial.

SWEET CLOVER IN FAVOR FOR COWS

Sweet clover hay is a satisfactory substitute for alfalfa in the ration of the dairy cow, say dairy specialists of South Dakota State college. If it is well cured and not too coarse it supplies nutrients quite similar to alfalfa hay in quality and quantity. It is not as palatable a dairy feed as is alfalfa and because it is somewhat coarse and stemmy the high-producing milk cow should not be required to clean up all that she is fed. In localities where both legumes can be grown successfully the usual practice of dairymen is that of relying upon the alfalfa crop for hay and upon sweet clover for pasture.

With a few exceptions sweet clover seems to give excellent results as a pasture crop. While the number of trials to determine its value are limited in number several experiment stations report no ill effects on dairy cattle when pastured on sweet clover. Furthermore these reports show that milk flow was maintained satisfactorily and no complaints were received reporting the odor or flavor of the milk as being disagreeable. Occasionally the loss of a cow from bloat is reported when sweet clover is pastured. But bloat seems to occur more frequently on alfalfa pasture. Unless the crop is pastured closely the growth will become rank, coarse and unpalatable.

It is estimated that sweet clover makes equally as nutritious silage as alfalfa. The amount of moisture in the legumes as cut for hay is usually high and if silage is made of this green material it is advisable to let it become slightly more mature than when cut for hay. One South Dakota dairyman reported satisfactory results with sweet clover silage last summer. There is, however, not enough evidence in support of this practice to warrant more than a reference to it.

Calves Thrive on Skim Milk if Supplemented

Under most conditions in Colorado the price of butter fat makes many dairymen hesitate to feed whole milk to their calves. Whole milk is nature's food for the calf, but skim milk, properly supplemented will, in the light of many experiments, make a feed which is equally as good. Whole milk may make a better calf than skim milk, but not necessarily a better cow. Skim milk is the whole milk after the fat has been removed by the farm separator. It must be supplemented with feeds which are high in energy-giving nutrients called carbohydrates and fats. Such supplements are corn meal, kafir meal, ground barley and like feeds. The following ration is one suggested in the feeding of skim milk to calves: ground oats, one part; ground barley, one part; wheat bran, one part; skim milk and hay.

Corn meal or kafir meal may be substituted for the ground barley in the above grain mixture.—Extension Bulletin 236A. Colorado Agricultural College.

Skill in Getting Most Milk From Herd of Cows

Knowing how to calculate good rations does not constitute all the skill in getting the most milk from a herd of cows at the least cost and with the least wear and tear on the cows. Knowing feeds and the calculation of rations and not knowing cows is much like the theoretical agricultural economist who knows the theories of co-operative marketing without knowing the American farmer and his agriculture. There are thousands of dairymen who are doing a good job of getting a lot of milk from a herd of cows who do not know the arithmetic of calculating good rations, but these are men who know cows.

Dairy Facts

Watch the bags of the cows about to calve, and make sure they don't become so congested as to be injured. Better to milk out a little than to have a caked bag.

The cow which freshens during the fall may be expected to produce from 10 to 20 per cent more milk than does the cow which freshens during the spring months.

A good variety of feeds in the grain mixture will be appreciated by the dairy cow. Successful dairymen use corn, oats, bran, gluten feed, oil meal and cottonseed meal.

Calves should have fresh water even though they are receiving milk.

A small amount of ground limestone in the ration of a dairy cow, one-half to one per cent of the ration, can be fed to advantage, especially if alfalfa is not used.

The symptoms of scours are profuse bowel discharges of exceedingly offensive matter. The calf shows intense suffering and usually dies within 24 to 36 hours.

Published in the interest of the People of Cass City and vicinity by the Elkland Roller Mills Roy Taylor, Editor

We close at noon July 12th.

This month—right now—is an important time in the life of your pullets.

What you feed them now will have much to do with when they'll lay, how heavily they'll lay and how long they'll lay.

Growth must be continuous—unchecked—fairly rapid. Strong bones, large rangy frames are necessary for heavy laying capacity.

Purina Chick Growers for mash—Purina Intermediate Hen Chow for scratch. Put them to work. You'll not be disappointed. They are marvelous builders of vigor and energy for future layers!

We've often wondered if the fellow who attends a 4th of July celebration and gets noisy and all tired out, really loves his country any more than the fellow who stays at home and naps all day a la BVDs.

Dog Chow is not a medicine but a food. Your dog will like you better if you feed him Dog Chow.

"I can't understand why men have to have lady entertainers at a stag party," remarked a lady in our presence yesterday. "Who said they were ladies?" inquired the husband.

MISS MacARTHUR IS VIEWING EUROPE

many progressive school teachers now take trips abroad for the summer vacation, I decided that I, too, might find it enjoyable and profitable to cross the Atlantic; so immediately after my return from Cass City to Detroit after the Decoration Day recess, I engaged passage for June 15th on the S. S. Geo. Washington of the U. S. Lines leaving Pier No. 4, Hoboken, New Jersey, for Europe.

We have been on the ocean now for eight days and the trip has been very enjoyable. We have had no rough seas and when in the course of the Gulf Stream, it has been quite calm. Now that we are nearing land, the sea gulls are following the ship, but no other signs of life were seen during our passage excepting one whale a few days ago.

In the tourists' cabins, there are 418 persons, a great many of whom are young men and women from high schools and colleges. Consequently, the dances on the deck in the evening have been frequent and there have been two concert programs arranged from the local talent, which were fine. The menus have been wonderfully good and the service uniformly obliging and courteous everywhere on the boat. We all have made friends with our fellow-travellers from whom we shall be sorry to part when we reach ports where we disembark at Plymouth, Cherbourg and Bremen.

I believe that Helen McGregory will leave Montreal tomorrow on the Cunard Line—the Aurania, I think, and I hope she will have as enjoyable a trip as I have had. We hope to meet in England.

After landing at Plymouth, I go by rail to London and later to Kintyre, Argyle, North Britain (Scotland) to find the parish where my Grandmother McArthur lived when a young woman. Thence to Liverpool and France where I have been invited to view the country with college people from Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio.

Having seen many points of personal and historic interest I know I shall be happy to sail again across the Deep, bidding farewell to the lands of the heather, the rose and the lily to the America that adopted us, where the air is full of sunshine and the flag is full of stars—when we left the Land of the Maple Leaf in 1878 to settle on the farm west of Cass City.

Sincerely yours,
NANCY McARTHUR,

It is true love if it endures after hearing her describe 82,942 different things as "perfectly precious."

PERFECTLY SAFE

Youthful Mother-in-Law—George doesn't kiss you good-by every morning, I notice.

Twentieth Century Wife—Mamma, you can't ask too much of a man! George is a bit absent-minded, but he always makes up for it. He'll kiss his stenographer instead, when he gets to the office.

Mother-in-Law—But surely you don't allow him to kiss his stenographer! Wife—Why not, mamma? It's a man.—American Humor.

More Swag

"Martha," a farmer who had driven into town phoned to his wife, "an automobile load of robbers just held up the city bank and they're headed out our way. Don't go outdoors."

"I'll have to," was the frantic reply. "Your Sunday shirt's hanging out on the line in plain sight."—Country Gentlemen.

Timid

A conversation with an old Dartmoor farmer's wife turned on an empty house in the neighborhood.

"I am surprised," said the visitor, "that such a fine place should stand empty so long."

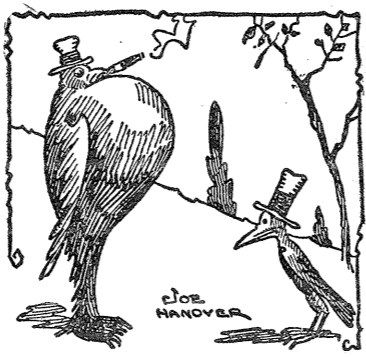

"Ah, sir," replied the old lady, "it's a fine house, but it's festive with rats."

NOTICE TO DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS

To all owners, possessors and occupiers of land, or to any person or persons having charge of lands in this state.

Notice is hereby given that all noxious weeds growing on any lands anywhere within the Township of Novesta, County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, or within the limits of any highway passing by or through such lands must be cut down and destroyed on or before the tenth day of July, A. D. 1927, and also again on or before the first day of September, A. D. 1927.

Failure to comply with this notice on or before the dates mentioned, or within ten days thereafter, shall make the parties so failing, liable for the cost of cutting the same, and an additional levy of ten per centum of such cost to be levied and collected against the property in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected.

Also, all brush growing upon the right-of-way of all highways running through or alongside of said lands, but not including any shrubs reserved for shade or other purposes, must be cut down and destroyed.

Dated this 1st day of July, A. D. 1927.

WM. ZINNECKER,
Highway Commissioner for the Township of Novesta. 7/8/27

BEWARE THESE FAKIRS.

The Hastings Banner calls attention to a gang of men who are traveling through Barry county selling linoleum. Last year these same men canvassed that county and sold linoleum of inferior quality, gave short measure and charged a higher price than good linoleum could have been purchased for from home dealers. It is altogether likely these men will invade other counties in the state as soon as they have finished in Barry, so we are passing this information along to our readers that they may be warned in time. As the Banner says: "It has been proven, time and again, that it is not wise to buy of folks who have no established place of business and who are unknown to your neighbors. The best plan is to purchase of the merchants who will stand back of their goods and who are on the job all the time.

To Be Taken Separately

Work and play are wonderful tonics separately, but they make a very bad mixture.

Cleanliness of Product and Health of Animals Provided for in Barn

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm...

So important is it that milk be produced in clean barns and by clean animals that several of the states have rather stringent laws on the subject...

The floor plans which accompany the exterior view of the building show how the interior of the barn is arranged. There are stalls for 48 cows, each cow having at the manger a bowl which is constantly filled with fresh water...

Aside from care in handling milk after it is drawn from the cow—sterilization of containers, immediate cooling to take out the animal heat, and keeping the milk at a low temperature to prevent the ever present bacteria from multiplying—the stable in which the cow is maintained is an important consideration...

It is to secure cleanliness and health for the cows that the modern dairy barn has been designed. This type of barn was not made standard overnight—it is the result of study and experience. But now it is considered as near ideal as can be.

If the reader will closely study the illustration he will see that there are almost continuous rows of windows in the walls of the stable floor. These windows are of the proper height to admit sunshine during a greater part of the day to the litter alleys in the rear of the stalls...

shine that can be admitted the more sanitary will be the stable.

On the ridge of the roof of the barn are suction ventilators. These connect with foul-air shafts that lead from the stable. The action of the air in passing the ventilators creates a vacuum which draws the foul air out of the stable...

The building itself is of frame construction, set on a concrete foundation. The building has excellent lines, which make it an attractive addition to the farm building group.

This is a barn that is weathertight, designed to house comfortably and keep healthy a good-sized herd of dairy cows. At the same time it will be noted that its dimensions are such that there is no waste space.

Too Many Beds Will Spoil the Garden
Avoid the use of too many flower beds except in their proper place. Nothing does more to destroy a fine piece of landscape work than geometrical flower beds scattered about the lawn...

How beautiful they are! said Dorothy admiringly. "Sometime—years from now, for I've got so much I want to see before I leave—I'd like to take a trip on a real steamer like this."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

TWO ADVENTURES

"There are to be two adventures today," said Uncle John one afternoon to the children.

Many a time in the country Douglas and Dorothy had seen their mother bake bread. They had watched her mixing it with her hands and they wondered how their mother ever had the patience to do so much for a few loaves of bread.

"Yes," said Uncle John, "I will have to show you how they bake in a big modern baking factory."

Both the children thought it would be a very interesting sight and off they went on an expedition to watch modern bread baking, as Uncle John called it.

"How awfully pale they are," said Dorothy. "What are you laughing at?" asked Dorothy. "That's flour on their faces—they aren't pale," answered Douglas.

"Oh, yes," said Dorothy. "Well, I'm glad the men aren't really pale." "They don't use their hands!" exclaimed Douglas. "How can they mix it up properly?"

"When bread is made in a factory," said Uncle John, "we wouldn't like to eat it if we thought all sorts of hands touched it. It's a little different when we know just who has made the bread."

"But I don't see how they can manage without using their hands," said Dorothy.

So Uncle John showed them the machines and various things that were used to bake the bread without having it once touched by hands.

And then they saw the great ovens—which never seemed to stop going.

"Don't they stop some days?" asked Dorothy.

"I should think they would choose certain days for baking. Do they?" she asked.

"In the city," said Uncle John, "there are so many people who always want bread that the ovens are very seldom empty."

But just then a man in white was offering the children a loaf of bread to take home as a souvenir of the big factory, and Dorothy said:

"I believe I'll pack it in a shoe box and send it by parcel post to my mother and tell her how it was made without the use of hands!"

From there they went to the next adventure of the day, about which Uncle John was quite mysterious.

"We are not going to another land," he said as they all went down, later on, along the wharves to a gangway which led up into an enormous ship.

"I'm glad of that," said Dorothy. "I couldn't bear to leave this city with so much to be seen in it, and such fun to be had every single day."

"It will be fine to see a truly big ship," said Douglas. He looked up at the enormous steamer and with his eyes growing wider every moment said:

"It looks mighty different from the little sightseeing boats we've been on." "The steamer will leave in a few hours," said Uncle John, "but we can see it first."

"I'd like to see the decks and look down the side of the ship," said Dorothy.

"All right," said Uncle John, "we will take the elevator. Follow along."

"An elevator!" screamed Douglas. "An elevator on a ship!"

But Uncle John was leading them into one, and a gorgeous one it was, too. Right up to the topmost deck they went, and after they had looked around up there they took the elevator again and went around to see the cabins.

"How beautiful they are!" said Dorothy admiringly. "Sometime—years from now, for I've got so much I want to see before I leave—I'd like to take a trip on a real steamer like this."

"And maybe some day you will," said Uncle John.

How to Prevent High Blood Pressure and Paralysis in Advanced Years

HEADACHE GOES AWAY IN 40 MINUTES.

To improve the chemical process in the body for better health take San Yak. It strengthens the blood and body fluids, antiseptic to the stomach, intestines and bowels. They prevent decomposition of animal and vegetable matter in the bowels that causes bloating and self poisoning and are years in advance of any other product for the kidneys, high blood pressure, diabetes and rheumatism. Take to reduce the flabby, wrinkled bowels the cause for diabetes. San Yak removes the possibilities to the development of appendicitis.

Prevents Paralysis and Nerve Trouble.

Dr. Taylor, 2011 Glendale ave., Detroit, says: "I was paralyzed four years. Three years ago I took San Yak. Two or three months of it cured me. I know because I improved at once and did nothing otherwise. I have gotten more out of life in the last year than in any previous years and I am 77 years of age."

Physicians Recommend San Yak.

Dr. L. B. Bailey of McBride, Mich., says of San Yak: "It will do all you claim. It is a fine medicine for the blood and has cured rheumatism of long standing. When one treats the kidneys with San Yak he is renewing the whole body. One can always depend on San Yak." (Signed L. T. Bailey, M. D.)

Mrs. W. E. Brandon of Robison, Ind., writes: "I took San Yak for high blood pressure and it worked like a charm. I am not now troubled any more."

Dr. Snyder Indorses the Kidney Pills

Dr. George W. Snyder, of Chicago said this: "To people advanced in years, San Yak lends the thrill that comes from making human life lastingly better. This pill is so highly antiseptic to the pancreas that internal inflammation causing appendicitis would be much out of reason."

S. F. Maring of Ohio Oil Co., Marshall, Ill., says: "San Yak is a wonderful medicine for stomach and bowels."

Get San Yak in liquid or pill form at Burke's Drug Store, Cass City.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Army Lieutenants Fly to Honolulu, and Byrd Hops to France.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

TWO more great feats in aviation marked the week, and both were American accomplishments. First and of more importance was the flight of Lieuts. Lester J. Maitland and Albert Hagenberger from San Francisco to Honolulu. Taking off from the Oakland municipal airport in a huge three-motor army Fokker monoplane early Tuesday morning, they reached Wheeler field on the island of Oahu, their destination, in 25 hours and 50 minutes. The distance is about 2,400 miles.

The army aviators thus made the longest transoceanic airplane flight on record, and made it without mishap. The passengers and crew of the steamer Sonoma, 740 miles from the Golden Gate, were electrified when Maitland brought his plane out of the mist and dropped to within 200 feet of the water as he passed by. He had then been more than nine hours on his way.

The next report from the flyers came from the steamship President Pierce, 1,100 miles from California, which reported hearing their radio asking for a hearing to be sent to establish location. At 3 a. m. the plane radioed that the flyers were 700 miles off Honolulu.

The landing was made on a rain-soaked field. The huge plane taxied the entire length of the field. Then, circling it came back to the front of the review stand, where army, navy and civil authorities were waiting to extend congratulations to the flyers. The crowd went wild with joy and enthusiasm. Guns thundered in salute as the plane stopped before the reviewing stand.

Colonel Howard, department officer, rushed to the plane, grasped Maitland's hand and shouted, "You did it, and I congratulate you."

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Lewis, commander of the Hawaiian department of the army, clasped hands with Maitland and Hagenberger. The eyes of both aviators filled with tears as he said:

"My boys, I congratulate you. Maitland said that the radio beacon on the island of Maui failed to function.

"Our compass," he said, "is what got us here. If we hadn't had that we should have been out of luck."

The flyers were presented to Gov. Wallace R. Farrington, Rear Admiral John D. McDonald and other dignitaries, who loaded them with beautiful Hawaiian flowers and leis, the native emblems of greeting.

Cablegrams and radio messages of congratulation were showered on the happy young men, and they were especially pleased by a congratulatory wire from Commander Byrd, who learned by radio of the success of their flight while himself winging his way across the Atlantic. Army officials in Washington were especially pleased by the achievement of two of the army's birdmen, which supplemented the almost successful attempt of Commander John Rodgers of the navy in the fall of 1925. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, in his dispatch to the lieutenants, said:

"I can't help alluding to the fact that coming on top of the Byrd polar flight and the Lindbergh and Chamberlin flights, this latest flight again demonstrates the reliability of the air-cooled engine and represents a distinct advance in aviation."

HAVING waited many days for favorable weather, Commander Richard E. Byrd of the navy hopped off Wednesday morning from Roosevelt field, Long Island, on his scientific flight to France. With him in the big three-motored Fokker America were Bert Acosta, Lieut. George Noville and Bert Balchen, formerly of the Norwegian navy. In the earlier stages of the flight the American made faster time than did Lindbergh or Chamberlin. Radio messages from Byrd were received frequently, and told of passing through continuous dense fog and low-lying clouds which completely cut off the vision of the aviators. Thursday afternoon the America reached France, where the aviators were warmly welcomed.

AFTER several days in Washington and New York, conferring with officials and business men concerned with aviation development, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flew back to St. Louis for the purpose of getting his Spirit of St. Louis and making a non-stop flight to Ottawa, Canada, where he was to be the guest at the jubilee celebration of the Confederation of Canada. In New York, Harry F. Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, made this announcement:

"Arrangements have just been completed under which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will undertake a country-wide airplane tour of the United States for the purpose of furthering public interest in aviation development."

PROSPECTS are growing brighter for some good results from the naval limitation conference in Geneva. Great Britain had been steadfastly demanding virtual revision of the Washington agreement in a way the United States could scarcely accept, and Japan caused surprise by coming out in favor of the British proposals. But unanimity is a requisite and the American delegates showed not the slightest sign of yielding. Then the British apparently, though tacitly, recognized they could not put across their plan, though they still hoped that the question of the size of battleships might be discussed at a plenary session of the conference. The technical committee announced that "a considerable measure of agreement between the three delegations" concerning destroyers had been revealed.

In the matter of cruisers, the English delegates proposed that those vessels be divided into two classes. Only a limited number of the 10,000-ton 8-inch gun cruisers would be allocated, the balance of the cruiser tonnage going into ships below 7,500 tons, carrying 6-inch guns. These lighter ships would be worthless to the United States because it is without naval bases and the ships are incapable of accompanying a battle fleet into combat operations any great distance from a base. As the technicians decided against any limit for small craft under 600 tons, the Japanese and British could set the seas swarming with little boats jammed full of torpedoes, any one of which is capable of disabling a capital ship.

SACCO and Vanzetti, the Massachusetts radicals whose conviction for murder has attracted international attention, will not be executed during the week of July 10. Governor Fuller, who has been studying the case carefully, has granted the men a reprieve of 30 days. He has also given a 30-day respite to Celestino Madellos, sentenced to death for another murder. Madellos has asserted he was a member of the gang that committed the murders for which Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted and that they were not involved.

THREE years of trouble over the defunct Grain Marketing company and the Armour company was in a fair way to be ended when petitions were filed with the Illinois commerce commission to bring into existence a corporation to control eleven grain elevators in place of the Grain Marketing company. The Armour Grain company asks permission to quit operating public warehouses in Chicago and the Rosenbaum Grain corporation asks authority to enlarge its business and to issue $2,500,000 of bonds. The documents are in the names of the Export Elevator company, an Armour property, and the Postal Elevator company, a Rosenbaum organization.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE may include in his next message to congress a recommendation that an insular bureau be established under which the Philippines and our other island possessions would be gathered together under one civil department head. He told this to the correspondents after his conference with Governor General Wood. The idea is not new and has been suggested before by Mr. Coolidge.

The President said he had no change in Philippines policy in view as a result of his conversation with General Wood. He was encouraged, he said, by the report that the general gave as to conditions. The general result of the administration's attitude has been, he finds, an acceptance of the policy on the part of the Filipino people (political leaders excepted) and a feeling of security and stability. He pointed out that 95 per cent of the local government is in the hands of the natives; they hold nearly all the offices and carry on most of the government.

SOCIETY, especially in the East, was intensely interested in the news that Miss Grace Vanderbilt, twenty-seven-year-old daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Henry Gassaway Davis III, a mining engineer, had eloped in New York and were married first in the municipal building and later in the Little Church Around the Corner. The bride, according to report, had been sought in marriage by many men of high position, including Prince George of England, Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill and the marquis of Donegal. Her brother said that General and Mrs. Vanderbilt were strongly opposed to her marriage to Mr. Davis. The groom is a grandson of former Senator Davis of West Virginia. He was graduated from Princeton in 1924 and has been a post-graduate student at the Columbia school of mines.

REPRESENTATIVES of 45 nations gathered in Stockholm for the twenty-fourth convention of the International Chamber of Commerce. King Gustaf and the crown prince attended the opening session and the delegates were given a reception in the royal palace. The 400 German delegates were greeted with especial warmth by the other members, since this is the first time Germany has been represented at the international business parliament, as the convention is called.

INDICTMENTS against three of the most prominent bankers in Los Angeles in connection with the investigation of the overissue of stock of the Julian Petroleum corporation were returned in Superior court there. Fifty-five others already had been indicted in connection with the case.

The indicted bankers are Charles P. Stern, president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank; John E. Barber, president of the First Securities company and vice president of the Pacific Southwest, and Motley H. Flint, executive vice president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank. Stern and Barber are charged with felonies—three counts of embezzlement and another count of accepting a banker's bonus. Flint is charged with usury.

SHANGHAI cablegrams say that the Nationalists suffered a tremendous reverse at the hands of the northern army, losing hundreds of thousands killed, wounded and captured. But not much reliance should be placed on such stories until they are confirmed. Peking dispatches indicate that Chiang Kai-shek's offensive in Shantung is in full swing. Japanese along the Shantung are in a state of panic and calling for troops from Tsingtao. The moderate branch of the Nationalists has formally charged the Japanese with breach of neutrality, asserting that Japanese troops were sent into Shantung province for the purpose of enabling Marshal Chang to maintain the dictatorship of North China. Immediate withdrawal of the troops was demanded, together with cancellation of the unequal Sino-Japanese treaty and recognition of the Nanking government.

BOTH major political parties were warned by the Anti-Saloon league that, under the league's guidance, the dregs in both parties will be organized to demand the nomination of "satisfactory" candidates for President and congress and on state and local tickets in the 1928 campaign.

The proclamation of the league, issued by its general counsel, Wayne B. Wheeler, asserts that "the Anti-Saloon league will use its well-established and successful methods in the coming political campaign."

Waves Tell of Storm

Whenever tropical hurricanes are likely to be about the navigator keeps a lookout for an increase in the swell, says Nature Magazine. They often give the first warning of one of these storms, as the storm waves travel much faster than the storm itself.

Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday.

The Gift of Peace.—Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.—John 14:27.

Monday.

The Right Attitude.—O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our Maker. For He is our God; and we are the people of His pasture.—Ps. 95:6, 7.

Tuesday.

Be Kind to the Erring.—Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.—Gal. 6:1.

Wednesday.

Man's Appeal.—O Lord, revive Thy work in the midst of the years.—Habak. 3:2.

Thursday.

Trust Him Always.—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him.—Ps. 37:5.

Friday.

The Lord is Good.—Serve the Lord with gladness: come before His presence with singing. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting: and His truth endureth to all generations.—Ps. 100:2, 5.

Saturday.

God's Pleasant Surprises.—Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him.—I Cor. 2:9.

Preaching and Practice

Preachers say, "Do as I say, not as I do." But if a physician had the same disease upon him that I have, and he should bid me do one thing and he do quite another, could I believe him?—Selden.

Term Had Wide Meaning

In the Scriptures the term "Gentiles" implies all peoples who did not accept the Jewish faith. They therefore comprised all nationalities except Jews.

Now—A New Race of Motor Cars!

Thanks to

CHRYSLER has just announced a new high compression engine. Undoubtedly other manufacturers will do the same thing. That means a new race of motor cars—swifter—more flexible—more powerful!

Now that Red Crown Ethyl is on the market, high compression engines can be built and operated. Red Crown-Ethyl Gasoline is a high compression fuel.

For years engineers have wanted to build high compression engines. They could not because there was no fuel to feed them. The usual type of gasoline knocks and loses power when compressed beyond certain limits.

Red Crown Ethyl "Knocks Out That Knock".

You'll hardly recognize your old car if you feed it Red Crown Ethyl! Power when you need it—speed when you want it—get-up and go every mile! An engine lively and eager and quick!

Red Crown Ethyl "knocks out that knock"—uses carbon. Carbon deposits raise the compression of your engine. That's why—with old type gasoline—carbon causes knocks. With Red Crown Ethyl it's different. Red Crown Ethyl is a high compression fuel. The more carbon—the higher the compression—the better Red Crown Ethyl works.

This remarkable gasoline gives you the benefits of high compression. That's the scientific reason back of its remarkable performance. That's why hundreds of thousands of motorists in the Middle West will use no other gasoline!

THUMB NOTES.

Imlay City—After many weeks of consideration authority has been given by the federal court to A. L. Drum, receiver, for the discontinuance of operation, both passenger and freight, on the Detroit, Almont & Northern Railroad, a subsidiary of the Detroit United Railway. The discontinuance is effective after the close of business on July 5. Arrangements have been made for the establishment of a motor coach route which will "hook up" with the electric cars at Romeo.

Marlette—Elmer Bunert, youngest son of Theodore Bunert, living 4 1/2 miles north, and 2 miles east of Marlette, was instantly killed when he came in contact with a wire of high voltage, at Davison, Mich., Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The young man was in the employ of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and in some inexplicable manner came in contact with the wire.

Peck—Thomas Graham, editor of the Peck Times, has been appointed by Governor Green to the position of supervisor in the fire marshal division of the department of insurance. The district is composed of the following counties: Shiawassee, Genesee, Saginaw, Bay, St. Clair, Tuscola, Sanilac, Huron and Lapeer.

Unionville—The many friends of Miss Evangeline Pursell of Caro, formerly of Unionville, who is a Birmingham teacher, will regret to learn she was called to mourn the death of Dr. Harry Myers of Saginaw, her betrothed husband, who died June 2. Dr. Myers underwent two operations and ten days later passed away. Miss Pursell was summoned for the operation at a Saginaw Hospital and again called when his life was despaired. She attended the funeral held at Mt. Pleasant, where she met the young man when she was a student at the Central Michigan Normal.

Caro—Tuscola county road commissioners at a recent meeting voted to erect crosses at all places on roads in the county where fatal accidents have occurred. This custom is one adopted in some states, to serve as reminders to operators of automobiles to drive with care. G. F. Schulz was appointed to superintend making of the crosses and placing them at the proper places. He can already count about 20 places where one or more crosses will be erected.

David Smith of Jackson, a former Caro resident, passed away at the home of his brother, T. H. Smith, of Cass City Wednesday, June 29, of anaemia.

Mr. Smith was born June 11, 1870, and lived in Caro many years, moving to Jackson three years ago. Besides his widow, he leaves two brothers, W. D. Smith of Muskegon and T. H. Smith of Cass City and one sister, Mrs. Esie Miller, of Peck.

Funeral services were held Saturday, July 2, at the home of his brother, T. H. Smith, and were conducted by Rev. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church at Caro and burial was in Caro cemetery. Those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith of Muskegon, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller of Peck; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jewett of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carey of Pine Run; Mr. and Mrs. George Gray of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald, Mrs. Sarah MacDonald, and Mrs. Wm. Gleason, all of Sandusky.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home, Rev. Newberry officiating. Young ladies of the Baptist church sang and boys of the neighborhood acted as pall bearers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Dickinson of Fairgrove and Mrs. Lottie Conners of Caseville attended the funeral.
