Gagetown Man
Wins Idaho Bride

From Gagetown Correspondent.

Preston C. Purdy, only son of Leslie C. Purdy, was united in marriage to Miss Ila Tanner, only daughter of George Tanner of Sand Point, Idaho, on Tuesday evening, August 30, by Rev. Thos. Tamblyn, pastor of the Methodist church at the home of the groom's father on Gage St. in Gagetown. They were attended by Mr. Harold Hobert, a close friend of the groom, and Miss Carolyn Purdy, college friend of the bride. After the wedding luncheon, the bridal party, motored to Lansing. Mr. and Mrs. Purdy returned the following evening. Preston's boy friends gathered, and gave him a pleasant serenade with songs. The groom proved a good sport, and acknowledging his appreciation to his home town pals, stepped out on the porch and sang a response song. Treats followed. Mr. and Mrs. Purdy have a college romance. Both attended M. S. C. last year.

Friday evening, the spacious L. C. Purdy home was opened to a reception at which about 75 were present and at which Miss Babcock as hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alfred Rocheleau, Mrs. Ted Fischer, Mrs. John Fournier and Mrs. C. P. Hunter. A dainty luncheon was served.

The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon at Rose Island. They have been the recipients of many lovely gifts. Mr. Purdy has a position with the Consumers' Power Co. at Saginaw. They will be at their apartment home at 321 Fayette St., Saginaw, after Sept. 15.

Rev. Newberry
Accepts Union Call

Rev. A. G. Newberry has accepted a call from the Baptist church at Union in Cass county and he and his family expect to move to that place next week. Mr. Newberry's daughter, Miss Ellen, will teach a rural school at Vandalia, near Union, this year.

Rev. Newberry has been pastor at the Baptist church at Cass City for seven years. During his pastorate here, members of his congregation and those outside his church have been impressed with his sincerity and earnestness in ministerial labors and his willingness to co-operate in furthering the better interests of community life. The best wishes of a large circle of friends are for his success in the new field of labor.

Mr. Newberry will preach his farewell sermon Sunday evening. Local churches will unite in a service at the Baptist church for this occasion.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED AT CASEVILLE

Heber A. Howell and Abigail Ada Searles Howell Married
50 Years on Sept. 3.

Heber A. Howell and Abigail Ada Searles Howell, pioneers, were feted for their golden wedding Saturday, Sept. 3.

These stout hearted pioneers, who in the early eighties walked many a weary mile to church to bees or to funerals, were whisked away in their children's sedan coaches twenty miles to the lake shore at Caseville.

Tables were heaped high with chicken, cakes, pies and other delicacies. In the center was a mountain of cake, snowy white with frosting printed with red candies, "Golden Wedding," prepared by their daughter, Ethel Christina Howell Sting.

The camera was exercised much over the bride and groom. A short divine service celebrated their wedding of fifty years ago, their son, the Reverend Clarence V. Howell of New York City officiating. Mrs. James Day, neighbor pioneer near Cass City, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. John Wooley, neighbor pioneer near Gagetown, acted as best man.

The family tree was transplanted. It was found to be all tangled up with love stories. These love stories could readily be conjectured for many shy maidens and bashful lovers entered into conjugal felicity according to the record. And to these unions—Hudson, Conkey-Ostrander-Howell and Searles-Duzzenberry-Baily—so many children were born that they now cover the earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell moved from Canada to near Cass City in 1880. They brought with them Pearl May and Ethel Christina, born in Canada. William Eber and Clarence Vere were born on the new farm near Cass City. No sooner had they hewed out a farm and a home and built a barn than they again moved to near Gagetown to another farm in the woods. Here Grant Arthur came into the world. Here the family grew to manhood and womanhood—then more romance. The family became wedded to the German community near Sebawaing, to French, to English, to Scotch and to another pioneer family near Cadillac.

Many old time neighbors and relatives were invited to help celebrate the golden wedding. Those present were Mrs. Phoebe Meade of California, Hamilton Wooley of Oklahoma, Mrs. and Mr. John Wooley, Mrs. James Day, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, Keith Day and Miss Bliss of Cass City; James Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnum of Gagetown. Besides these were many relatives—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Howell and daughter of Twining; Mrs. May Stock, Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Stock of Caro; Rev. Clarence V. Howell of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sting, their daughters, Alfreda and Bernice, their son, Autrant, and Miss Mary Taylor; Mrs. Grant Howell, Gertrude, Jackie and Master Billy and niece, Maxine Allison.

The day, opened with showers, was closed with showers of good will.—Contributed.

CUT-OVER TO NEW EXCHANGE MONDAY

Telephone Co. to Move to New Quarters on Seeger Street
Next Week.

The cut-over from the old exchange of the Cass City Telephone Co. to the new switchboard in the company's new quarters on Seeger St. will be made next Monday night. The time to change from the old to the new may be accomplished within a half minute if all goes well. Possibly a minute will go by before the change is all completed. It seems to be a very simple operation as related above, but the employees of the company have been engaged for two or three months in getting ready the lines and switchboard for the transfer.

The new telephone central on Seeger St. will make pleasant quarters for the operators and office force. A furnace and other modern conveniences have been installed. The front of the building is used for an office and back of that is a room devoted to the switchboard operation. The new switchboard is equipped to care for 250 lines. The frame is large enough for 400 lines, making provision for future growth of the system.

A 400-pair underground cable runs from the central plant and overhead cables, each carrying 200 pairs of wires, are used in distributing the telephone service to the east and west sides of town. Cables are placed in the alleys on the north and south sides of Main St. Branch lines running south on Leach St. and north on Oak St. care for territory in those neighborhoods and carry the wires to the rural districts. All open wiring will be eliminated on the streets and alleys now supplied with cable and will avoid a lot of telephone troubles caused by "cross wires."

SURVEY WILL DEPICT
CORN BORER STATUS

Actual Counts of Pest Being Made to Compare 1926 and 1927 Infestations.

The field survey begun August 15 to determine the corn borer infestation of the 1927 corn crop in the infested area of the states covered by the clean-up campaign will be completed about Sept. 30, according to word received from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The results of the survey will show to what extent this campaign was successful. Early indications are that the spread in Michigan is considerably less than it was last year.

Approximately 850 townships are being surveyed, involving five cornfields per township. Within each field a census is taken by corn borer experts experienced in locating the destructive corn borer.

When the campaign was authorized by Congress, the Department considered eradication of the corn borer impossible. The spring clean-up campaign conducted in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture and Michigan State College was therefore an intensive effort to slow down the natural spread of the borer into the corn belt and to reduce commercial damage in territory already infested.

The survey was not started until the borers had begun to reach maturity and the maximum damage to the crop could be determined accurately. Until this survey is completed, it will not be possible to make any conclusive statements relative to the comparative corn borer infestation in 1926 and 1927.

Two Cars Crowded into Deep Ditch

Saturday afternoon as Mrs. Hazel Dow, Miss Helen Dow, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dow of Bad Axe and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mugan of Flint were on their way to Detroit, they had the misfortune to be crowded into a very deep ditch near Unionville. Mrs. Dow, who was driving a new Buick sedan, which she had purchased only a few months ago, met another large car and just as they were passing, a third car—a Ford—crowded in between them, tipping both cars into the ditch. The Ford did not stop but hurried on and not even the license number was obtained.

Both cars were badly damaged and all in the Dow car were badly bruised and hurt. The other car contained one man who was also injured. Miss Dow received a cracked hip bone besides severe cuts. Mrs. Russell Dow, who was most severely injured, was hurt about the face and head and was thrown several feet. The men received broken ribs and were also severely cut and bruised. They were all taken to the Unionville hospital. Some have been able to leave the hospital since. Mrs. Dow is better known to Cass City people as Florence Ewing and Mrs. Mugan as Marguerite Ewing. Latest reports are that all are getting along nicely and consider themselves fortunate in getting off as well as they did.

Four Hundred Call at McDonald
Farm One Day to See Mastodon.

The remains of the large animal thought to be those of a mastodon which were unearthed on the farm of Francis McDonald, four miles northwest of Cass City, last week are attracting the attention of a large number of people. As many as 400 a day have called at the McDonald farm during the past week to see the relic.

Mr. Saunders, a member of a scientific society at Cleveland, Ohio, called there Sunday. He thought the bones of the head and limb joint and the tusk on exhibition belonged to a dinosauria, an order of reptiles, which ages ago were especially numerous in western United States. Mr. Saunders estimated the animal originally measured 120 feet long, stood 30 feet high and weighed 60 tons.

W. H. Buettner, who mounts fossils at the University of Michigan, and Chas. F. Deiss, an assistant instructor at that institution, visited the McDonald farm Wednesday afternoon to view the relic and to obtain permission to dig for further remains. Mr. McDonald would not grant the request to excavate at this time.

SOIL FERTILITY
TRUCK MEETINGS

Will Be Held in Tuscola
County on September
19, 20 and 21.

The maintenance of organic matter in the soil has been found to be essential to economical crop production by experiments conducted by the Soils Department of the Michigan State College. Results of these experiments will be displayed and discussed at the soil fertility truck meetings to be held in Tuscola County on Sept. 19-20-21.

The cost of nitrogen when purchased in commercial fertilizers is much greater than when inoculated legumes are grown for green manuring according to experimental results obtained by the Soils Department. The air is loaded with nitrogen which can be deposited in the soil if proper methods are used and most Michigan soils are badly in need of this valuable plant food.

The cost of missing a leguminous crop in the rotation is clearly illustrated at these truck meetings by results from actual experiments.

There is much discussion of the best time to turn under sweet clover for green manuring. Experimental results have quite definitely pointed out the best time for this operation under average conditions.

The effect of inoculating legumes, the best crops to use for green manuring, the beneficial results of adding organic matter to the soil are among the other points which will be illustrated at the meetings mentioned above.

Dr. M. M. McCool and his associates of the Soils Department hope to have every Michigan farmer realize that "fertile fields promote successful farming." These truck meetings are only one phase of their efforts to bring the results of many years of experimental results to the farmers of the state.

The truck will be under the supervision of John W. Sims, Soils Extension Specialist Michigan State College, and D. B. Jewell, County Agricultural Agent.

FARMING AND FINANCE

Babson Park, Mass. (Special)—Last week in this column of farming and finance, there was shown the price trend of poultry products over the past few years. Attention was drawn to the fact that there had been a rather steady rise in such prices from 1922 up to a peak price in 1925. Then prices fell away again sharply, especially so far during the current year.

Today it is equally fitting to note that the price trend of dairy products has been decidedly more steady over the same period of time, namely from 1922 through the present year to date.

In the case of dairy products, the best prices were seen in 1923 rather than in 1925, while so far in 1927 prices have not been far under that figure.

Dairying has increased very successfully and is now probably far better organized from the point of marketing than in the case of poultry products. For that matter, successful marketing is apparently obtaining an almost exclusive hold over the word "prosperity" so far as the farmer goes these days, regardless of the particular farm products sold. In that way, it is being brought home more vividly than ever that farming is a business like any other business. You can not merely be content to produce the product. You must sell it right.

The movement of the leading price indices over the past month appears to indicate that the general

Concluded from first page.
commodity price level is turning upward.

Price increases thus far have been almost entirely in the field of agricultural products. Industrial products, with few exceptions, have remained stationary, or declined slightly.

Corn is a good example. The present price is high enough to discount the present condition and if frost holds off there will be a decline from the present price level. If early frosts come the price of corn is likely to shoot up further.

In a general way, it is true that the degree of agricultural prosperity can be fairly measured by the price level of farm products in relation to that of industrial products.

Costlier Living in Cities Suggested.
Increased farm purchasing power means heavier sales of industrial products and, most probably, increased imports. This should check, temporarily at least, further decline in industrial prices. It must, however, mean a higher cost of living for the urban population.

From the long-run viewpoint, the belief seems to be growing that agriculture has turned the corner in relation to urban industry. 1926 saw a net decrease in farm population of 649,000, greatest since 1920.

Where farm property can be purchased at thoroughly deflated prices, as for example, at tax and foreclosure sales, it should now prove a satisfactory investment if the above belief is upheld.

Problem of Industrial Noises Grows

There is an interesting problem facing industrial workers, as contrasted to most farm workers. It is the matter of the effects on the human system of various kinds of noises met with in industrial employment. The current issue of the Labor Review of the Department of Labor aptly discusses the point.

Without going into the matter in detail, one cannot help but remark as to the little thought of advantage of the farm worker in being particularly free from such harmful noises and vibrations that so often result in deafness and functional nervous disorders.

Co-operative Marketing Clearly Helps

There have been fresh arguments, debates, doubts and queries coming along upon the feasibility of co-operative marketing. It is a matter vital to the interests of farming these days—and it ought to be clearly understood, at least in a general way.

The co-operative marketing associations in this country, have generally succeeded in marketing their members' products to better advantage than could the individual producer, loss through limiting production, than through standardization, grading, better packing, advertising, and the elimination of waste.

The Maintenance Is Built Into Concrete Streets

When the street in front of your home or place of business is paved, you naturally want to be sure that the pavement chosen will be the most satisfactory and economical that money will buy.

Before you decide this important matter, investigate thoroughly the investment advantages of portland cement Concrete Pavement.

Be sure you know what a standard Concrete Pavement is. You can recognize it by the pleasing light gray color. It is made of a definitely proportioned mixture of sand and pebbles, or broken stone, held together by that tenacious binder, portland cement.

Our booklet R-4 tells many interesting things about Concrete Streets. Write this office for your copy.

The firm of Wyman & Sons is said to be the oldest printing house in London. It was founded in 1637, doing the printing for the East India company, with one press. Benjamin Franklin was once employed as a journeyman printer in this shop.

Save Money for Holidays

Fellow tourists, townsmen and friends: Listen and I will tell you how to save some money toward purchasing your holiday gifts.

First of all patronize your home town dealer, especially your old reliable Cass City Oil and Gas Co. Do you wish to use just an ordinary grade of gas or kerosene? If so, you must purchase it elsewhere, but if you want a superior quality of fuel, then buy White Star products.

If you are not particular about what service you get from your tires and tubes, then purchase them from those who do not understand the making of tires or who cannot tell you whether or not the manufacturer uses long staple cotton and the best grades of compound to make up the materials for their hi-grade products, or whether they use short No. 2 cotton with cheap jip compounds that go to make up a cheap tire. We cannot sell you a high class tire at a ridiculously low price. Our products are well made and we handle quality merchandise which is always the cheapest in the long run. By purchasing quality merchandise you, in the end, will save money for your holiday purchases.

Reduction in Residence Lighting Rate.

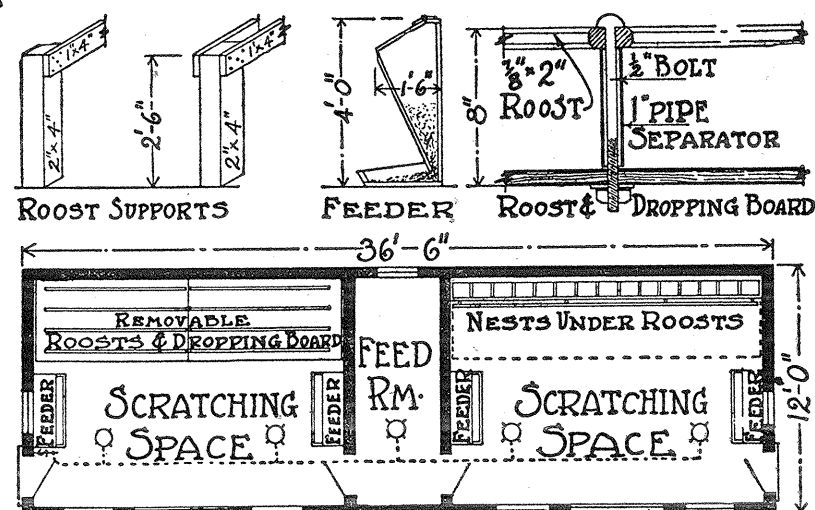

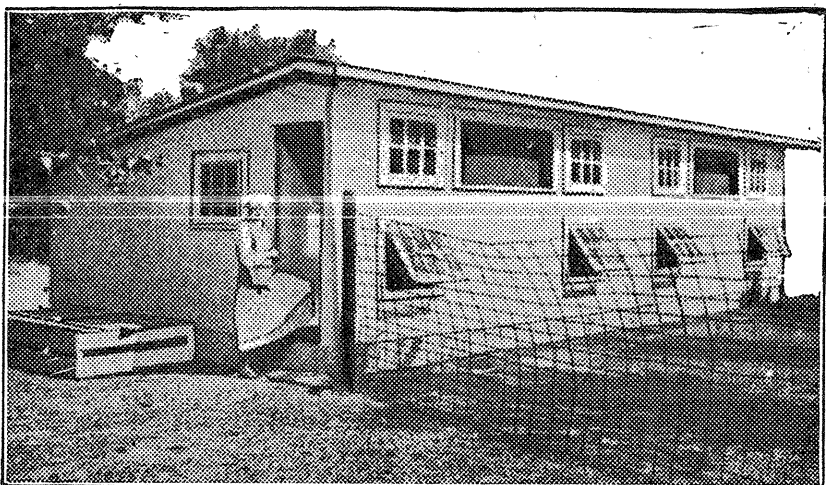

Mr. E. L. Edwards, General Manager of Michigan Electric Power Company, wishes to announce that there will be a reduction in the residence lighting rate effective September 1, 1927, and such reduction will appear on the bills as rendered on October 1, 1927.

The residence rate will reduce the first step from 40 kw-hrs. at 9c to 30 kw-hrs. at 9c, which places the second step at 70 kw-hrs. at 4c instead of 60 kw-hrs. at 4c. This makes a reduction of about 25% for this class of service. The new rate will read as follows:

First	30 kw-hrs. used per month	$0.09 per kw-hr.
Next	70 kw-hrs. used per month	0.04 per kw-hr.
Excess of	100 kw-hrs. used per month	0.027 per kw-hr.

This rate reduction is the fifth one this company has made over a period of five years.

Shed-Roof Type of Poultry House Simple, Inexpensive and Practical

By W. A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

The shed-roof type of poultry house, shown in the accompanying illustration, is simple to build and is not expensive. Faced to the south so that it will get the benefit of winter suns, it provides a house where the layers will keep up to their best production.

The house shown is 36 feet 6 inches by 12. It is divided into two pens, with a feed room in the center. The floor plans show the interior arrangement of the house, while construction details of the nests, feeders and roosts also are included in the architect's drawings.

It will be noted that the plans specify electric lights, two lamps in each of the pens. In a well-constructed, warm and ventilated house such as this, electric lights will provide a longer working day for the hens in late fall and winter and keep up egg production when prices are highest.

The house is set on a concrete foundation, which also provides a concrete floor. Such a floor is easy to keep clean and when covered with deep litter and sand and gravel makes an excellent scratching place. The nests are at the back where there are no windows to admit light, with the roosts above them. When the lights are turned on before daylight and in the early evening of the short days, the hens have longer hours for feeding and exercise, which are the two essentials aside from proper feed for maximum egg production.

What to Look for in Woodwork for the Home

The selection of the interior wood trim for a residence requires much thought and certainty of good workmanship. The interior trim is in the house as long as the house stands, and is not susceptible to change, as are articles of furniture, pictures or draperies.

Finishing of the various kinds of interior trim varies according to the kind of woodwork selected. Several grains of wood are used for interior trim which are classified as open-grained or close-grained woods. The open grains are filled with a paste filler, while the close grain can be brought to a finish with the use of ordinary filler.

Some of the woods which are classified as open grained, are oak, walnut, mahogany; the close-grained woods are birch, maple, gum, white and yellow pine and basswood.

In specifying interior trim woodwork, insist on properly seasoned, kiln-dried stock, and in the specifications for the finishing of your woodwork insist that the surface be smooth—almost satinate—clean and dry, and that all nail holes and cracks be filled.

On the subject of paints and varnishes for interior woodwork, any of the well-known paint manufacturers will be glad to furnish specifications and give free advice.

One of the newer developments in the handling of interior trim is the cut-to-length, sealed-package-of-sets method of delivery. This proves a great economy and provides for clean dry stock and neat, close joints, which are most essential.

The finish of your trim should equal the best quality of furniture, if your stains and varnishes are properly applied and clean material used. Be sure your trim is not exposed to dampness, by placing it in a warm, dry room before the carpenter starts to put it up.

Masonry Veneered Houses Require Fire Protection

In the case of houses veneered with masonry a space is generally left between the veneering and the sheathing of the frame wall. A fire within this space is an exceptionally difficult one to locate exactly. For this reason the space between the veneering and the outside surface of the frame wall should be fire-stopped not only horizontally but also vertically, at intervals of at least three feet.

The horizontal lumber strips will accumulate sufficient mortar droppings to act as an effective seal and perform fire-stopping functions satisfactorily. When the stops are set close together in this space a fire cannot spread over any considerable area, and the fire department need not wreck the entire wall to get at the center of action.

Careful Construction Prevents Creaking Floors

The following suggestions are offered as high lights in good building practice:

For best service and the elimination of such annoyances as creaking floor boards, all boards should be nailed over each joist, according to the following schedule: 4 and 6 inch widths, 2 nails; 8, 10 and 12 inch widths, 3 nails.

Floor joists should have one row of bridging for each eight feet of unsupported span. The bridging should be carefully fitted and rigidly nailed. Two by two lumber is the best bridging material.

Studding should have diagonal bracing and solid bridging, not only to stiffen the frame, but to form fire stops and to shut off the passage of air through the walls.

Insist on boards and dimension that are properly seasoned and that have been dressed after seasoning. This will eliminate cost in construction and shrinkage of the frame, with resultant cracks.

Putting on sheathing and subflooring diagonally increases the stiffness of the walls several times. It adds slightly to the cost, but this is more than repaid in the satisfaction that will be obtained from the home.

Home-Owning Is Best Road to Prosperity

Home ownership as the best road to the prosperity of the individual and the country was the keynote of a conference of representative retail lumber dealers from various sections of the United States, held at Chicago recently.

Organization of a council whose object will be to help home builders build better and more livable homes was the outcome of the gathering, which was presided over by Bror G. Dahlberg. The lumbermen met primarily to discuss many of their merchandising problems, but the home ownership theme was injected into the conference by Fred Ludwig of Reading, Pa.

"The soundest thing in America today is absolute home ownership," said Mr. Ludwig. "It is the keynote to the real prosperity of the individual. People should own a home before they own an automobile or a radio."

"A man who owns a home is a better citizen and a better influence for the community in which he lives."

Metal Lath

Generations of skilled master plasterers have continuously striven to improve the craft. Today, plastering has been completely modernized by steel reinforcement—metal lath. In homes, steel reinforced plaster alone provides firewalls at economical cost. Be sure your plastering contract specifies better plastering on metal lath.

U. S. DOCTOR'S BILL 2 BILLION YEARLY

Individual Earning Power Cut $20 by Sickness.

Washington.—Industrial America is absorbing $2,000,000,000 doctor's bill annually. Premature deaths cost another $6,000,000,000 in economic losses. Despite striking progress made in checking some diseases in the last decade, the earning power of every person in the United States is reduced an average of almost $20 a year through ill health.

These facts were made public in some impressive statistics compiled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Through them the chamber hopes to call attention of business men and manufacturers to the enormous toll sickness and preventable deaths exact from the nation's earning power.

The final price industries pay for sickness has never been determined, the chamber declares. Only estimates may be presented, based upon records obtained from varied sources.

One manufacturer with an annual pay roll approximating $5,000,000 estimated illness among his employees cost $287,500 annually. This includes charges for idle machinery and reduced production.

The loss to the individuals and the community due to illness of his employees is placed at $308,000 a year, taking into consideration direct loss of wages, lowered earning capacity during convalescence, medical expenses and charitable relief.

In the business world, a representative group of stores, the chamber says, showed that illness and injury cost each employee an average of six days a year.

For a working force of 1,000 persons, earning an average of $3 daily, this totals up to $18,000 a year in direct wage loss alone.

The chamber points out that encouraging progress has been made in checking disease. The future promises even greater strides in this direction through improved sanitary conditions.

Tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid, influenza and pneumonia, which once exacted the greatest toll in human life, are being brought more under control each year, the chamber declares. Reduction of the tuberculosis mortality rate alone, since 1900, means a saving to the nation of $2,000,000,000 a year, it is estimated.

College Girls' Diaries Read in Mental Test

Hamilton, N. Y.—"I had a weird dream last night, but I don't remember it," says college girl number one ingeniously, and college girl number two shrieks with laughter at the absurdity of remembering what you don't remember.

This type of foolish jesting is the sort of humor that appeals most widely to the feminine collegian, judging from "humor diaries" kept by psychology students at Vassar college.

The diaries were kept in connection with an experiment to find out whether people are at all consistent in enjoying one kind of funny situation more than another, according to Polyxene Kambourpoulou, who has reported the investigation to Industrial Psychology. Over one-third of all the humorous incidents recorded by the students belong to one class, she found. Mental inferiority is the basis of these jokes, which are aimed at mistakes, ignorance, absent-mindedness, naive remarks, laughing at one's own foolishness, social breaks and blunders.

A close study of what each student found most ridiculous indicates that "laughing at nothing in particular" is a trait more likely to be found among students of lower academic standing.

North Coast Indians Too Prosperous to Take Jobs

Puyallup, Wash.—North coast Indians of Washington and British Columbia are too prosperous this year to accept work in the berry and hop fields here. Thus far only six families have arrived from reservations to get their old jobs. The big hauls of fur seal, salmon, and bounties from sealions have enabled most of the red men to deposit money enough in banks for a summer's rest and recreation, which they dearly loved. Usually several thousand Indians from numerous tribes migrate here in summer under special government permission to get family jobs.

Rome Began Permanent Wave Back in 198 A. D.

Princeton, N. J.—The permanent wave is not an invention of modern hairdressers but was known to Roman women as early as 68 A. D. Shirley H. Weber, associate professor in Princeton university, declared here recently. Professor Weber said this was clearly indicated on coins in the collection at the university library.

In the late Roman period, he said, women's heads are represented not only with distinct marcelling, but also with elaborate jewelry to emphasize the waves. The realistic art of this period, he said, would forbid the representation of these styles if they were not actually in use.

THUMB DISTRICT NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Items Gleaned from Newspaper Exchanges and Other Sources.

Sandusky.—Three civil suits have been started against Sanilac county, amounting to $30,000 by three Detroit men who were injured near Roseburg last fall, when their car struck an unprotected drain crossing the highway. It is claimed no lights or signs were visible and the car hurled into the 20 foot dredge cut pinning the men underneath.

Bad Axe.—Septimus Irwin, 94 years old on Sept. 4, attended the Bad Axe fair last week as usual. Mr. Irwin helped organize the first county fair 58 years ago and says he has not missed attending one since. He is in good health and spirits but has not very good eye sight.

Sandusky.—According to Sheriff Hagel's reports 142 prisoners have been confined in the Sanilac county jail since Jan. 1, 1927. Liquor law violations head the list with 34 arrests on the charge.

Brown City.—Mrs. W. A. Martin has in her possession an interesting document. It is the deed for 40 acres of land purchased from the government in December, 1861, by her stepfather, Samuel Howard. What makes the paper more valuable is the fact that it has the name of Abraham Lincoln affixed—presumably the president's own signature. The deed is in a remarkably good state of preservation. The parcel of land is located in Wayne county and is owned by Mrs. Martin.

Imlay City.—Several new giant locomotives have been running through Imlay City for the past few weeks, said to be the largest in the world. The new engines are known as the "6300" type and weigh 326 tons. They are 94 feet and six inches long. It is said they can pull a loaded freight train one mile long at a fast rate of speed.—Times.

Caseville.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Woodworth announce the marriage of their daughter, Clara Gertrude, to Mr. Douglas N. Connor, in Detroit last Saturday. The bride's father formerly lived at Caseville, was state representative from Huron county a number of years and is at present collector of internal revenue at Detroit.

Mayville.—By a vote of 142 to 35 voters of Mayville decided to bond the village for $10,000 to make necessary extensions to a paving program which has been under consideration for several months. The proposition calls for excavating, paving and the construction of gutters and curbs of additional pavement of 601 feet on Main street, and 708 feet on Fulton street.

Sebewaing.—Fifteen years ago, after Sebewaing township had voted its first good roads bond issue of $75,000, A. E. Avery of Bowling Green, Ohio, was engaged to construct half a mile of experimental concrete road past the farm then owned by Alfred Bach, who was then also highway commissioner. Out of the experiment grew Sebewaing's extensive road system. Stopping in Sebewaing last Friday, on a tour of Michigan with his family, Mr. Avery inspected the road to find that it is still doing good service. While the road is only nine feet wide, it is still good for many years to come. At the present time Sebewaing and its immediate territory has approximately 20 miles of concrete, about twice as much as all of the rest of Huron county can boast of.—Blade.

Deckerville.—Arrangements are being made for the annual home-coming at Deckerville on October 4 and 5.

Brown City.—This place has been selected as the permanent camp meeting site of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ. The purchasing committee has decided to buy a plot of 20 acres from Joseph B. Witmer, one mile south and a quarter mile west of Brown City. The location is considered ideal for a camp meeting site. About five acres along the road are clear; the remainder is wooded. A dining hall and dormitory will be built the coming summer and a large tabernacle at a later date.

BUICK for 1928

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-slung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

What is a Diuretic?

One Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

THE part played by the kidneys and their importance to bodily health should be clearly understood. Sluggish kidneys do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. Such impurities are apt to make one dull, tired and aching with often a nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common warning of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions. Doan's Pills aid the kidneys in their eliminative work. 50,000 users have publicly recommended Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

WHEN WINTER COMES

Will you, Mr. Consumer, be on Easy Street with your coal in your cellar, or, when it is time to start the furnace, will you have to hustle around and get what coal you can?

Think over these reasons why it is to your advantage to buy your coal now.

1. Price is lower now—may be higher during the winter.
2. Easy to secure now—may be hard to get later on.
3. Enough coal cannot be mined each month in winter to supply each month's demand and the Union coal miners' strike has cut down the usual surplus stock.

"Think it over seriously."
