Intelligence

Intelligence is an inherited characteristic which grows year by year in childhood, and is fully developed about sixteen or seventeen, after which you may cultivate the mind through study and experience; but not by the measure of a brain cell can you increase your "intelligence." Many grown-ups, and some of them successful as the world counts success, if tested scientifically, would find that their "intelligence" was no more than that of their schoolboy son of twelve.—Glasgow Herald.

Valley Forge Stamps

The Valley Forge commemorative stamp was first placed on sale May 26 at the post offices at Valley Forge, Philadelphia, Lancaster, Norristown and West Chester, Pa. and Washington, D. C. Furth more, on account of the Midwestern Philatelic exhibition at Cleveland, it was decided to include the sale of this stamp at Cleveland on May 26, the last day of the exhibition.

Snake Belief a Myth

There is a small, harmless reptile of the more southerly United States which is called a hoop snake. And it takes its name from the notion that it curves itself in a hoop and thus travels along at a great rate of speed. But the idea is without the least foundation, and the tales of rolling hoop snakes are purely mythical.

Imperfect Bricks

Usually bricks in a wall that get powdery and waste away have been underburned and are exceedingly soft and therefore susceptible to crumbling or wasting away due to dehydration. If the number of such bricks in a wall is small, they may be removed and replaced by others which have been burned hard enough to resist weathering conditions.

Superlative Duty

A man owes his first duty to himself—and that duty is to be gentle in his acts and moderate in his judgments. Thus does he conserve his strength over against the time when it is most needed.—The Philistine.

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fleet, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor-public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell, M.D.
AT AGE 93

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and wo have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many lives someone is sure to need it quickly. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

DAIRY FACTS

DRY SKIM MILK USED IN FEEDING

Calf raising experiments at Pennsylvania State college show excellent results using dry skim milk, remixed with water, from the second to fifth weeks, and fed dry with grains from then to the end of four months. The experiment station's fortieth annual report summarizes the work by Professor Bechdel as follows: "It has been known and appreciated for some time that skim milk powder of good quality, reconstituted with water to a total solids content of 9 per cent, has a value equivalent to fresh liquid skim milk. "An investigation was started during the past year to determine the advisability of feeding milk powder in the dry rather than in the liquid form. Thirty-five grade Holstein calves were fed experimentally in three groups. They were weaned to a dry ration when thirty-four days old. "The oldest group of 12 calves, on which data are now available, made an average daily gain of 1.36 pounds up to six months and were 95.7 per cent normal in size. The milk powder was discontinued when they were one hundred and fifteen days old. These calves consumed a total of 105 pounds of milk powder, on the average, in addition to 120 pounds of whole milk. The feeding of milk powder in the dry rather than the liquid form affords many advantages in labor-saving. Less equipment is needed, also, and the precautionary measures for sanitation are reduced to the minimum. The results of this work to date prompt the advice that the calves be changed to the dry ration at six weeks of age after feeding the powder in the reconstituted form up to that time. The dry mixture, at first, should contain not over 45 per cent milk powder, and preferably not over 40 per cent. The percentage of powder should be reduced then as the calves grow older and consume more concentrates."

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 3 By Satterfield

1. On August 10, 1874, Herbert Clarke Hoover was born in West Branch, Iowa. He had one brother and a sister. 2. As a boy, Herbert loved all sports and outdoor pastimes. In winter he delighted in snow sports.

3. Herbert's father died when he was six, and Aunt Agnes took him on a visit to Oklahoma. 4. The boy's playmates during this visit were little Osage Indian boys, who taught him many Indian sports.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 4 By Satterfield

1. After Herbert Hoover's father died in Iowa, the three children went to live at Uncle Benajah's farm nearby. 2. Here Herbert had his share of the housework, which included this important engineering job.

3. The children's playhouse was the farm attic, where they read Youth's Companion and Robinson Crusoe. 4. First prize always went to Herbert when the children played circus with Uncle Benajah's old white mare.

Dairyman Appreciates Big Value of Legumes

When one studies the differences shown in the profit columns of different dairy farms one quickly appreciates the value of legumes as a factor in profitable dairying. Legumes bring about a greater production by furnishing a better balanced ration, as well as saving in feeds purchased by reducing the needs for as large an amount of high protein feeds. In addition to the benefit as shown directly by increased dairy returns on account of lessened expenditures for high protein feed, there is also a resulting profit due to the use of legumes through increased production from the soil. Surveys of dairy farms show distinctly that farm profits come not only from good rations and high production of cows, but also from high production of farms as well. Large production per acre and large production per cow should be made the watchwords of good dairy farms as they usually mean increased profits. In developing a scheme of this kind, legumes are essential.

Most of Milk Produced Stored in Cow's Udder

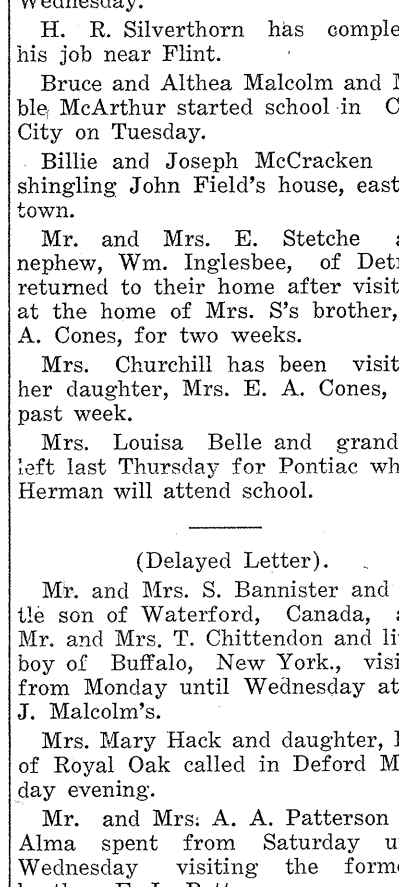

Discarding the old theory that little milk is stored in the udder but that most of it is secreted during milking, the Missouri College of Agriculture has found with dairy cattle slaughtered at the college that the udder is capable of holding all or nearly all of the milk that is produced at one milking. When the udders were removed from the animals and then milked out, the amount and quality of the milk approximated the normal milkings. They indicated that milk secretion is a continuous rather than a periodic process.

Dairy Hints

- The small or delicate calf should be fed the smaller amount and if the milk is of high test less is required.
- Overfeeding is one of the worst dangers in rearing calves. This can be avoided if the calf is kept just a little hungry.
- Hand feeding usually starts when the calf is two to four days old, the amount fed varying from six to ten pounds daily.
- A four-week-old calf will eat a little grain and nibble at hay, making it possible to start the change from whole milk to skim milk. The change should be gradual, requiring at least a week.
- If a herd bull is a scrub he represents 100 per cent of the inheritance of the calf crop, for all his calves will be scrubs.
- Sometimes milk will appear to be poor in fat due to a difference in the coloring matter, but if tested, it will be found all right.
- It is better to feed silage to dairy cows once a day over a longer period than to feed it twice a day for a shorter time if no other succulent feed can be had.
