MOTOR OILS You can trust

Polarine

Iso-Vis

It's a hard life for the modern motor! Traffic is congested. Engines are built with higher compressions. Cars are driven faster. Motors run hotter. Correct lubrication is more important than ever before.

Iso=Vis is an oil of unusual quality. It lubricates the engine faithfully—to stand up under the strain of today's driving. Like Polarine, Iso=Vis is rich and sturdy and steadfast.

Polarine will do it! Polarine is rich—sturdy—steadfast! It covers every frictional surface of the engine with a protecting cushion of oil.

No need to drain the crankcase so frequently if you use Iso=Vis. This new type, constant viscosity motor oil gives a new type of lubrication service. It will not thin out! It wears and wears and wears!

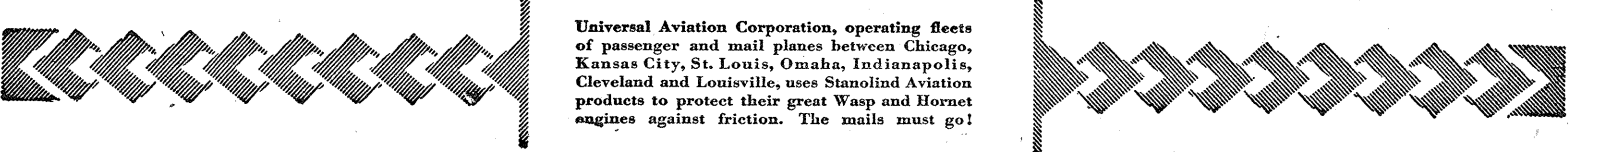

By draining the crankcase every 500 miles and refilling with fresh Polarine, you insure satisfactory lubrication of your car—at minimum cost.

For smooth motor miles—and a long life to your engine—use Polarine or Iso=Vis. They are dependable products of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). They are the motor oils you can trust.

THE YEAR'S SCHOOL WORK.

The schools of the country are soon to close for the summer and many have already done so. The community congratulates all those who have won promotion to a higher grade, and particularly all who are to graduate from schools and colleges. The possession of one of these diplomas means more than it used to. School tests are stricter than formerly, and usually when such diplomas are awarded, it means that a great deal of real work has been done.
The successful student has many times rejected the chance to go in for good times, on account of the need for quiet study on the morrow's lessons. The student who has thus learned to keep the main end of school in view and stick to that and let side issues go, has learned something that will be valuable in after life. That ability to concentrate on the higher ends is something that many of our people never acquire, and this lack accounts for the failure of many.
School pupils may forget the greater part of the specific facts that they learn. In a few years they will not be able to repeat the list of the presidents of the United States, nor tell the dates of our historic battles. But the value of education is not so much the information learned, as the acquisition of habits of thorough work and a capacity for judgment about human affairs.
Warm commendation should be given to teachers for their patient efforts. They carry a heavy load of anxiety for the progress of their pupils. Day after day through the long school year they have patiently explained their subjects to slow minds, they have tried to awaken and inspire the backward, and have striven to correct and regulate the unruly. Their service should never be forgotten.

EDUCATION BY RADIO.

A conference was recently held in Washington, called by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, to discuss utilization of radio broadcasting in school work. Leaders in education and the radio industry were invited to this meeting, and hopes will be felt that some very useful programs will be prepared which the public schools of Michigan can make use of.
Secretary Wilbur raises the question how this new method of conveying instruction can be used. Heretofore the children have sat in classes and studied from books. It is often difficult to hold their attention to the printed page. Perhaps they would take in the same thing better, if the information came through the mysterious power of the ether waves.
The public demands that the radio facilities be used largely for entertainment, particularly in the evening, when people have time to listen to it. It is not so fussy as to what is done with these instruments in the morning, when the schools are in session, and it should be possible to arrange for time when the children could listen to it.
Brief radio lectures on good citizenship, honesty and moral conduct, history, the principles of our constitution and good government, the advantages of earnest study in school, and the necessity of ambition and industry, should be a wonderful factor in influencing children.
Many teachers, particularly those who have had only limited education, would feel hardly competent to talk to their pupils on these subjects. If the children could hear brief talks from national leaders, their whole point of view could be changed. There is a chance here to do a wonderful job of inspiration for the youth of the land.
Presidential Anger
"Even President Washington was said to have sometimes dashed his hat upon the ground, and the second President was famous for his gusts of temper," according to Henry Adams in his History of the United States. He then quotes as follows from one of Jefferson's letters: "I have heard, indeed, that my predecessor (John Adams) sometimes decided things against his council by dashing and trampling his wig on the floor."

May, president of the Alma Carriers Association, and Mrs. Gertrude Moffatt, Sandusky postmistress.
Mr. and Mrs. John Renshler of Detroit were among the many out-of-town visitors who came to Cass City to celebrate Memorial Day. Mr. Renshler will be remembered by early automobile owners as the first man to engage in the garage business in Cass City, forsaking his occupation as a blacksmith for the new industry. Mr. and Mrs. Renshler are planning to take a motor trip to western states and expect to spend a year in sight-seeing. A good deal of Mr. Renshler's spare time in the past two years has been devoted in fitting up a house car for the journey.

Order those chicks now.

A doctor must have patients
But when their bills fall due
And they are slow in paying—
He must have patience, too.

Purina Calf Chow will save you about one half the cost of whole milk in raising those calves. Easy to feed and agrees with the calves perfectly if fed according to directions.

At 6 o'clock she laid out his dress suit—and he didn't come.
At 12 o'clock she laid out his pajamas—still he didn't come.
At 3 o'clock he came—and she laid him out.

When he asks you to share his lot, girls, tell him you will if he'll build a house on it.

There are about 101 imitations for Purina Omolene but only one real Omolene. We sell it in the Checkerboard bag. It's just the feed for horses.

Let your next baking be with Cream of Wheat flour. Then you will know why we sell more of this flour every year.

Store-Advertising Is Expensive If You Do But Half Enough of it—and Profitable When Made To Match Your Store's Present Importance and Future Possibilities!

Half-done tasks are never profitable. WHATEVER they cost is usually too much. For the result aspired to is never reached. A really GOOD STORE, but half-advertised, represents a lost opportunity of no mean importance to the community.

CASS CITY

For a good store is of more immediate service and value to the people of a city than are many of the useful public institutions. It concerns more intimately the daily lives of the people—helps to solve the how-to-live-within-the-income problems—gives to the dollar of the housewife a little more than its customary buying-power.

Such a store should KEEP IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH THE PEOPLE. It cannot render complete service unless it does. It cannot do this unless it is ADEQUATELY ADVERTISED—unless its "store news" is fully told, all the time, and reaches the alive people who plan their shopping always after a consideration of the ads.

Every GOOD STORE will prosper under the "advertising test"—and that test should be made ADEQUATELY, CONFIDENTLY.

CHURCH CALENDAR.

St. Pancratius Church—Services next Sunday will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Halpin, Pastor.

M. E. Church—Children's Day exercises will be held at the hour of the regular morning service. At Bethel, a Children's Day program will be given at twelve o'clock. No Sunday school session will be held at either appointment next Sunday.
Geo. Hill, Pastor.

Presbyterian—Paul Johnson Allured, pastor. Sunday, June 9: Morning worship at 10:30. "The General Assembly of 1929 and the Year's Accomplishments."
Church School at noon. Adult lesson: "The Story of the Rechabites," a temperance theme. Jeremiah 35:5-11.
Christian Endeavor, 6:15.
Baccalaureate service, 7:30, at the school.

Evangelical Church—Rev. Charles W. Lyman, Pastor. A pleasing program to be presented by the Sunday school in observance of Children's Day, will begin at 10:30, next Sunday, and take up the balance of the morning worship hour. The offering will go towards bringing up the great missionary objective of $60,000. This will be the only service in the church on next Sunday, that all may have the privilege of attending the baccalaureate service in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p. m.
"The Village Prayer Meeting," conducted by the pastor every Thursday evening, will be a feature of the new conference program. Mr. Lyman will give readings and comments on the psalms, their history and meaning, each week until further notice. The hour is 8:00 p. m. To further the excellent spirit of Christian fellowship, everybody will be welcome at the midweek meeting. The term "Village Prayer Meeting" means that it is for all of us.

Owendale and Grant Methodist Episcopal Churches. Fred H. Townsend, pastor. Services on Sunday, June 9th, will be as follows:
Owendale—Praying at 10:00 a. m. sharp. The pastor will speak on "Observations of religious beliefs, practices and customs around the world, especially in China." An image of Buddha will be shown. We expect that Rev. C. A. Glass, the blind preacher-evangelist, will sing for us. Everybody cordially invited. It is your church and service. Its value to the community depends upon you. The pastor secured a brass bowl in India for baptismal purposes. Children will be baptized at this service. Speak to the pastor about it. The Bible school will be held at 11:10 a. m. Classes for all ages. Your children will value it more if their parents, and other adults attend.
There will be an important official board meeting on Tuesday evening, June 11th, 8:00 p. m. All officials and members are urged to be present.
Grant—Children's Day exercises will be given here at 2:00 p. m. and baptism of children will constitute one feature of the service. It is also expected that Rev. C. A. Glass, the blind preacher-evangelist, will sing and give a brief address.
At eight o'clock Rev. C. A. Glass will preach and sing, and on Monday evening will give one of his inimitable entertainments. Everybody cordially invited.

Decker M. E. Church—Bert Ede, Minister. June 9—Sunday school, 10 o'clock. Supt., Bruce Adams. Morning worship, 11 o'clock. Special music by the junior choir under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Smith. Sermon by Dr. Peter F. Stair, District Supt. of Port Huron.

Sunday, 3:00 p. m.—Dedication of our new church. Special music by the Marlette M. E. church choir. Dr. P. F. Stair in charge of this service.
Sunday evening service at 8:00. Special music from Cass City. Sermon, Dr. P. F. Stair.
Monday, June 10, eight o'clock—Home coming of the ministers who have served on this circuit. The following ministers will be present: Rev. J. Didden of Bay Port, Rev. J. Sherlock of Jeddo, Rev. Merle Townsend of Port Huron, Rev. A. Thompson of Grand Blanc, Rev. W. L. Jones of Deckerville and others.
Supper will precede the program, served by the Ladies' Aid at a nominal charge.
Special music by the combined choirs of the Elmer M. E. church and the Evangelical church of Snover. Mrs. E. Hogan of Snover and Miss Marian Fritzman of Shabbona will render selections of music.
Tuesday, June 11, eight o'clock—The Marlette concert choir will present a program of music. Silver collection.
Wednesday, June 12, seven o'clock—Church night—Supper at seven o'clock by the ladies of the church and community. After supper a program which will be in the nature of an introduction to the advantages of having a church house. Games, etc., under the leadership of Mrs. O. Nique and Mrs. Earl Smith.
This will be one of the great weeks in the history of the church. The new building is going to supply a great need that the community has felt for a number of years. We want you to all the services and you will be very welcome.

OBITUARY.
Mrs. Laura Dorman.
Laura Wellwood was born near Bolton, Ontario, Dec. 15, 1865, and died at her home in Clifford May 29, 1929, at the age of 63 years.
When she was a little girl, the family moved to Michigan to a farm near Marlette. She lived there during all her younger life except one year spent in Jersey, N. J. At the age of 34, she was married to James Dorman, who died about nine years ago.
Mrs. Dorman was not able to walk for 20 years, but tried very hard to be cheerful and make the most of her life, always forgetting herself as much as possible. She was a member of the Cass City M. E. church for many years and also belonged to the Royal Neighbors.
She was one of a family of ten children, five girls and five boys. Four sisters and two brothers are left, who very lovingly cared for her through all the years she was a cripple and in her last sickness. They are Frank and Herbert Wellwood and Mrs. Jane Clothier of Marlette, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. McMillan of Burbank, California, and Mrs. Arthur Decker of Flint.

John H. Barnes.
John H. Barnes, one of Cass City's well known residents, passed away Wednesday morning, June 5, at his home on West Pine street, after an illness of one week.
Mr. Barnes was born May 30, 1865, in Ohio and came with his parents to Uby when but a child. With the exception of seven years in Wisconsin, he has lived since that time in the Thumb district.
He was married Nov. 24, 1883 to Miss Minnie Thompson at Cass City. Seven years ago they moved from their farm, six miles north and one-half mile east of Cass City, to the home on Pine street where they have since lived. Mr. Barnes, although in poor health all winter, was able to work most of the time until last week when he was taken quite ill. He seemed better Monday and was up town and planning to go back to his work Tuesday morning, but was found unconscious by his wife early Tuesday morning and passed away the following day.
He is survived by his wife, one son, Andrew Barnes, of Cass City, and three daughters, Mrs. William Brenner of Virginia, Minnesota, Mrs. Leo Hopps of Detroit, and Mrs. Clyde Peterson of Flint. One daughter, Mrs. Grover Keys, and one son, William, preceded the father in death. Funeral services will be held today (Friday) at 2:00 p. m., at the home. Rev. George Hill, pastor of the Cass City Methodist church, will officiate.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. David Tyo, Mrs. L. V. Mulholland and Mrs. W. L. Wiley were-Bay City callers Monday.

June 10 has been set as the last day on which applications may be made for calves and pigs in the 1929 livestock clubs here.

The annual high school boys' tug of war took place Monday afternoon at the river east of town. The freshman-senior group proved the stronger and soon pulled the sophomore-junior into the stream.

Miss Veda Bixby broadcasts over station WMBC at Bay City every Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Last Friday was the fourth time her pleasing voice was heard over the air from this place. Mrs. Earle Chisholm, Mrs. H. F. Lenzner and daughter, Phyllis, accompanied Miss Bixby to the city, the last named being her accompanist at the piano for that day.

Ross L. Mahon of Port Huron, who sends to weekly newspapers the Thumb of Michigan Association Newsletter, spoke highly of the banquet served here May 24. These lines appeared in several of the Thumb papers last week: "The meeting of The Thumb of Michigan Association at Cass City last Friday, the 24th, was one of the best that the Association has yet had. At the business meeting a lot of important business was transacted, while never has the Association had a more delightful banquet than was put on by the Cass City Community Club in the evening. The wonderful new school of which Cass City is justly proud, was the objective point of those attending the meeting. The director's meeting attended by about 40 directors and members, was held in the library of the school. The banquet and program following came off in the gymnasium and auditorium. Cass City is certainly to be complimented on having had the vision to provide themselves with such a beautiful and complete school, which will be a wonderful asset to Cass City for generations to come."

stood by scores of boxes containing the bodies of America's heroes, we say, "It must not happen again." When we walk through a Gettysburg cemetery or the American cemetery in northern France we feel an unspeakable aversion to war and determine to do our utmost to outlaw it.
"Milton once spoke wisely when he said, 'Peace hath her victories not less than those of war.' Yes, the victories of peace are finer, more glorious, more lasting. It is a truism that force never settles anything. The final arbitrament for every question is in the calm of the human reason. By the books which contribute to learning, by the schools which advance our culture, by the churches which inspire character, by the marts of trade, the great teeming industries and the tilling of the fields we are gaining victories which promote the welfare and enhance the glory of our nation.
"Our nation has not a threatening foe from without her borders. Our pacts with other nations make us to enjoy security and peace. But lawlessness and crime within, a lack of reverence and a disrespect for all law and authority threaten the foundations of our nation. Homes are indifferent, schools lack moral emphasis and churches preach non-essential dogma. The clarion call of our day is for children, youth and men who hold our law sacred, and who would count themselves traitors by doing anything which would disgrace our flag."

EVERGREEN.

Mrs. Walter Wood has moved to her farm here. We are glad to have her with us again.
Mrs. Ira Howey and son, Lester, and daughter, Amy, and John Jakes of Roseville visited relatives here last week.
Mrs. Ruby McRae of Detroit is spending this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mitchell.

With the arrival in Caro last week of Mrs. Paul Tarsitano and Mrs. John Spagnuolo from Italy, two families have been reunited after a separation of nine and seven years. The ladies brought with them Maggie Tarsitano, aged 9, and Paul Spagnuolo, aged 7, neither of whom had ever seen their fathers. Messrs. Tarsitano and Spagnuolo are proprietors of a fruit store in Caro.

Worth Trying
Would it not make for variety in the program if some of the radio entertainers who repeat the same selections over and over were to play one backward occasionally?

HOLBROOK.

A community meeting will be held at the home of Ed Jackson on Saturday evening, June 8, at eight o'clock, to appoint officers and committees for a Holbrook home-coming on July 4. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

SLATS' DIARY.

BY ROSS FARQUHAR

Friday—Littel Slim Buckner cum pat are house this afternoon all

Excited up and ma ast him what was the matter with him and he replied and sed he was ruzhen home becuz they had a new babe at his house. Ma ast him what was it and he sed it was a child of sum kind but so fur he diddent no weather he was a bruther or a sister yet.

Saturday—I tried to tawk ma out of a Xtry peace of Chalklit pie today at the dinner table but I faled very bad. Ant Emmy piped in and says. Dont you no that Pie kills more people than bullets does. I ansered back and sed Well mebbly so but I drather die with a stumick full of pie than a stumick full of led enny ways.

Sunday—Ant Emmy axually got off a Wise crack today. We had went to church and seen Mrs. Cory Blunt there with her sister. Ant Emmy new all about her and sed she had ben devored three times at lease and that when she was here at home why people tawked about her as mutch as they did about the weather. Witch Cory seamed to be not to be careing nothing about.

Munday—Pa was envited out to a Stag party tonite and after he had got drest and went Ant Emmy kinda smiled and sed Well Well I never new till now what a Stag party was. I all ways that it was a sort of a masquerade party or other to witch people went dressed like a different animal and ect.

Tuesday—Ant Emmy says she aint never a going to vote agen. She voted last Fall for the 1st time and her Candudate was elected but she says to this day she haint herd a wurd frum him so she dont think he reely appreciates what she done for him a tall.

Wednesday—Me and Slimmy Buckner had a fite today and beleave me I got the best of it and him. Ant Emmy sed it was becuz I had the rite on my own side The way it was Slim sed my pa wassent fit to asoshiate with hogs. I sed he was so then the trubble started and I give him a offle licken.

Thursday—And then agen today I goes and have a nother fite. This time with Hinky. And when I finely floors him with a upper Cut to the Jaw why I give him two or 3 extry for good measure and then the teacher frum the Sunday skool come a long and balls me out for hitting him when he is down. I wander what she thinks I got him down for.

Compensation

We read of a dentist who sings at his work. It is a consolation to reflect that a saxophonist cannot do this.

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indisposition entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle

That's Different

"Your wife seems to be strong for over-stuffed furniture," remarked the guest, after giving the living room the once over.

"Yes," growled the husband, "but Judging from the way she uses a can opener for getting meals, she doesn't intend to have that kind of a husband around."

Self-Preservation

"How did you ever sum up the nerve to beat up that hand? and save your pay?" asked the friend of Henry Pack.

"Well," sighed Henry. "I knew what I'd get if I went home without it, so I decided I'd rather take my chances with him than with Henrietta."

EATS IT RELIGIOUSLY

"How do you want your steak done?"

"Spiritualistic."
"Huh! Watcha mean?"
"Why just medium."

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars. In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

DAIRY

TEST DAIRY COWS FOR PRODUCTION

Eliminates Unprofitable Animals From Good Ones.

"The herd improvement test advances the breed in two ways," said H. W. Norton, speaking at Cornell university. "It gets rid of the low-producing, unprofitable cows, and discovers those animals capable of high production, the real seed stock of the breed."
Mr. Norton, who is superintendent of advanced registry for the Holstein-Friesian association, says that the herd improvement test meets the requirements of hundreds of breeders who have not felt warranted in undertaking advanced registry testing. Unlike the advanced registry test, in which the individual cow is the unit, this test includes the entire herd and is designed to furnish the owner a definite knowledge of the production of each individual member of the herd. It began January 1, 1928, and for the first year 269 herds including 6,318 cows representing 36 states were on test.

"The improvement test will also furnish valuable information regarding sires. Improvement of the breed must be effected largely through the sire; and since heavy production is the chief consideration, it follows that the selection of sires having ability to transmit high production is a matter of the utmost importance," said Mr. Norton. "In the past we have selected sires with a long line of high-producing dams, but this is not an absolute guarantee that the sire will transmit heavy producing ability to his daughters. The only real proof that a bull possesses this much desired characteristic is the fact that his daughters are heavy producers. Such bulls are commonly called proven sires. To date, we have few of them. Advanced registry testing, as commonly practiced, does not prove the sire, because only the best daughters are tested."

"Testing all the daughters of a bull is the real check of his ability to transmit the factor for high production, and this will be one of the outstanding features of the herd improvement test. Herds which continue with this test year after year will show the influence of the sire by comparison of the productions of dams and daughters. As a result many valuable sires will be saved for service, and not slaughtered before their real worth is discovered."

Careless Handling of a Bull Always Dangerous

Careless handling of a bull is dangerous. Safety demands that the simple principles of good herdsmanhood be used, without fail, every day of the year. First, every bull should be dehorned as a calf. Second, every bull should have a strong ring put in his nose when he becomes a yearling. And whenever it is necessary to handle him, a strong bull staff should be attached to the nose-ring. Third, every bull in service should be confined to his exercising pen. Never under any conditions should anyone "trust" a mature animal. Even the bull with the habit of holding his head near the fence to be petted—the so-called "gentle as a kitten" bull—should never be trusted. When he displays his skill at butting in an attempt to catch and crush a hand or object, it should not be looked upon as mere "playing." Instead it should be looked upon as a warning.

Dairy Facts

Salt should be added to all grain mixtures in amounts of 1 to 2 per cent by weight.

Potatoes may be used with success although a heavy allowance of them to a cow will produce milk of poor flavor.

The farmer who has a dry pasture should not hesitate to cut some green corn or sorghum and throw it over to the milk cows.

After the heifers are safe in calf gradually increase the grain ration up to three months before calving and then feed besides alfalfa hay and silage, six to ten pounds of grain a day until a week before calving.

Any feed which is relished by the cow, such as corn, oats, bran, and linseed oil meal, is palatable. We must cater to the cow's appetite if we are to get most milk out of her.

Some farmers like to milk so well that they keep ten poor cows rather than five good ones.

The dairyman who wants a good milk cow must raise her himself. Good milk cows are not for sale except in case of death or divorce.

Stubble or stalk fields are all right for ordinary cattle, but they are not good enough for the dairy cow. If she uses her energy roaming the fields she does not have much left for milk production.

Old-Fashioned Flowers

The old-fashioned flowers seem sweetest to me,
For some fancied reason or other—
In each fragrant petal there's something I see
That always reminds me of Mother.

The mem'ry it brings me is winsomely sweet.

A mem'ry that never shall perish—
And in it the two of us smilingly meet—
A love-laden mem'ry I cherish.

We stroll through the garden, and s'op here and there,
Admiring the colorful splendor
Of flowers she's planted and nurtured with care,
With hands that were loving and tender.

We stop at the roses and chat for a while—
She tells me how sweetly they're scented,
And there 'midst the flowers our hearts are a-smile;
How happy are we, and contented!

And here are the zinnias, the dahlias, and phlox;
The sunflowers, nodding and lazy,
And threading among them are neat little walks—
And there is an old-fashioned daisy!
And now as we're leaving the garden, I find—

For some fancied reason or other—
The old-fashioned flowers seem gentle and kind,
And so they remind me of Mother.
