CASS CITY CHRONICLE

BIG AMUSEMENT

Special Free Acts, Horse Races afternoons. and Fireworks Are Special Features.

It is just a little over two weeks before it's time to make the annual visit 'to the Cass City Fair and the preparations are well under way and things in general are shaping themselves for the realization of four days of entertainment and pleasure.

Entertainment features include three days of horse racing, a carefully selected line of free act features, an abundance of band music, gorgeous fireworks spectacles and ball

Stone's Famous Orchestra, an organization that has given satisfactory service at the fair in late years, has been engaged again as a musical feature for this year.

In the list of special platform attractions are the Rex Comedy Circus, an animal act of comedy and class; the Argyle Sisters, three of the foremost lady gymnasts; and the Six Lucky Boys, feature risley acrobats.

To create additional interest in this season's fair, officials have decided to give $350.00 in gold. Fifty dollars will be given away each afternoon and evening, commencing with the Tuesday night's performance.

Everyone should help forward the fair. Size up the flocks and herds, the products of the farm, garden and orchard, the needlework and artistic creations and enter every animal and article that has prize winning qualities. Make this year's fair show up large exhibits in all departments.

Keep the dates in mind—August 13, 14, 15 and 16.

MYSTERY STORIES CLAIM MANY READERS

Classics in Winter, Fiction in Summer Are Demands at W. S. C. Library.

Many residents in Cass City, perhaps, do not fully appreciate the opportunity for good reading offered by the local Woman's Study Club library. The library is located in the Sheridan building and is open every Wednesday from three until five o'clock. It is patronized largely by high school pupils. Consequently, summer to about 50 in the winter time. In the latter season, the classics and other books needed for schoolwork are most desired but now light fiction seems more suitable for hot summer days.

Toward the close of the school year the VanDine stories, such as "The Green Murder Case" proved most popular-stories full of mystery. In Five MILLION HOMES

There are times when all a mother's leve can't soothe a fretful baby. No way of telling just what's wrong, yet some thing must be done. Castoria time! A few drops, and Baby has dropped off to sleep. Yet this marvelous means of quieting a restless infant is utterly harmless. There is not one ingredient but what all doctors know and approve, and would let you give your baby every day in the week. In fact Castoria is a purely vegetable product. Gas pains constipation, even diarrhea can be dis-pelled in this same manner. Castoria is older than you are, but physicians still say "nothing better for babies." An old-fashioned remedy if you count its years, but parents are old-fashioned who still raise babies without its aid! And at least five million modern mothers keep it handy day and night, for twenty five million bottles were bought last year! Buy yours now; don't wait until

Iso=Vis

THE new type motor oil, Iso-Vis, is the sensation of the motoring world. This superb motor oil has the remarkable property of constant viscosity. It will not thin out! It will not wear out. It maintains its body under all normal driving conditions.

When you fill up your crankcase with Iso-Visyou can motor with an easy mindknowing that you'll have no trouble from dilution in the crankcase—sure that your engine will be protected with proper lubrication every mile.

Iso=Vis avoids the necessity of frequent crankcase changes. Many motorists drive for 1000 miles or more without changing oil. Iso=Vis maintains its viscosity. It wears and wears and WEARS!

Rex Circus, consisting of ponies, dogs, monkeys and an unrideable mule, is a troupe of hard-working four footed performers that always succeed in pleasing to the utmost.

Included is a riding act in a ring in which two dashing ponies have two equally clever dogs as riders, the canines jumping from pedestals to the backs of the ponies and then changing pedestal positions as they leap back and forth from their platforms to the backs of the ponies. In addition there is a monkey trick rider, who performs in almost human fashion. The ponies rish, Thursday, July 18, an eight also do an intricate drill, in which they jump hurdles and do other difficult tricks. The bucking mule provides the comedy, and in good measure. Nothing much funnier in this type of entertainment can be imagined than the situations the riders find themselves in while trying to stick on the back of the unwilling mule.

FINDS NEW WAY TO STORE EGGS

Small Amounts of Carbon Dioxide Will Be Big Aid.

Eggs can be better preserved if they are stored where there is a certain amount of carbon dioxide in the air. according to Paul F. Sharp of the New York State College of Agriculture, who has just published the results of some experiments on eggs in Eggs stored in ordinary air spoil rapidly after they lose the carbon dioxide which is a part of the egg. As soon as an egg is laid it starts to become more alkaline and this hastens decay. This alkaline tendency, however, can be easily and conveniently neutralized and controlled if the eggs are placed where the air contains small amounts of carbon dioxide.

This discovery has a practical result because carbon dioxide can be introduced into cold storage rooms in amounts which greatly retard the destructive changes in the eggs and yet the amount in the air will not be enough to prevent workmen from entering the storage rooms. Carbon dioxide can be used also in shipping containers and in refrigerator cars.

A convenient source of this gas can be used, such as the solid form or the gas form in cylinders. Professor Sharp says the only method of preserving eggs which approaches this one in cheapness and practicability is the oil dipping method in which eggs are dipped in a suitable oil which very nearly seals the pores. The carbon dioxide method is superior to the oil method, because the whites of the oil-dipped eggs become cloudy in storage. Those preserved by the carbon are not cloudy after the eggs are removed from the air which contains the carbon dioxide.

Concrete Runs Outside Brooder House Are New

Concrete runs outside of the brooder house are a comparatively new addition to poultry farm equipment but are coming into use because of several advantages. They enable one to use a brooder house without danger from contaminated soil near them, save the labor of moving portable buildings and make it possible to keep chicks near the dwelling or barns, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker. As they do not have to bear heavy weights, a two-inch thickness of concrete is sufficient, except at the edges, where double that thickness is needed to prevent breaking.

They should be smooth for easy cleaning, have a slope for drainage, two or three inches, according to size, and need not be roofed. They, of course, may be of any desired size, so that they give an ample outside run, preferably not less than that required inside for the same number of chicks. They may have permanent fences or movable wire covered frames to set upon the concrete. Movable frames will facilitate cleaning They may be lightly covered with sand, loam or litter, though the essential thing is that they be kept clean to prevent infection from dropning upon them.

Poultry Hints

Early-hatched pullets produce fall and winter eggs. Overcrowding in the poultry house discourages production of eggs. Sitting hens should be dusted with sodium fluoride before being put on the nest. Gather the eggs frequently to avoid the dirt that may be carried in on the Chicks hatched so as to begin laying the first of October are usually the most profitable. As many farmers have found, profits with poultry can easily be increased by better feed and care.

When possible it is well to have a pen where the little pigs can go for food but to which the sows do not have access.

A colt may be fed on cow's milk provided the milk is not too rich in fat. Use the milk from a cow that does not give very rich milk.

Unless pullets are laying by October 1 they will miss a great deal of the high-priced egg period. If they start laying much earlier than this, there is danger of a fall moult.

A small poultry flock properly fed and cared for is more profitable than a large flock given indifferent care.

Protein is a constituent of feeding stuffs which is used by chickens for building muscles and tissues, in addition to the production of eggs.

Early feathering and early crowing stay a month on account of Jean's mean early maturity. Early maturity health. means early profits. Always select the cockerels that feather first and then select from them the one that home on a week's vacation from her crows first

Like New Language

Burns-You don't come down to spend the evening with the boys any more; what's the matter, have you become one of those radio nuts?

Kerns-No, I'm spending my evenings learning the latest slang so I can understand my children when they are talking to me.

Reason Aplenty

"What's the idea of getting home at three o'clock in the morning?" stormed her dad.

"Because Bob ran out of jack and we couldn't stay out any longer," sighed his daughter.

SULTAN OF SULU NOW AIR MINDED

Potentate Has Plane Ride and Enjoys It.

Washington.-The sultan of Sulu one of the few Filipino potentates still ruling under the protection of the United States, has become air minded. According to advices reaching the War department, the sultan was taken on his first airplane ride recently in an army machine and liked it.

A few years ago tribesmen in Philippines were overcome with fear when the "giant birds" of the army soared overhead. They could not understand the roaring machines driven by army airmen on cross-country flights across the island and often the planes spread fear and consternation. Then the sultan of Sulu visited Manila. He was invited for a short flight. Capt. Donald Wilson piloted the sultan 5,000 feet above the city.

The potentate's $retinue_{\theta}$ waited with quaking hearts until the sultan landed safely and grinning over his novel experience. In short excited sentences he explained the sensations of flying to his aides. They immediately besieged the army flyers to be taken up.

The pilots obligingly consented and others in the sultan's staff learned of the joys of soaring through boundless spaces far above the earth. News of their flights spread and the presidente of Bontoc expressed the desire for a short hop. Other members of the non-Christian tribes of the Philippine archipelago were flown and the news spread still further until the army air corps station in the islands was flooded with requests for flights

Teacher Urges "50-50

Dates" for Young Folks Columbia. Mo.-Fifty-fifty dates for voung men and women in college are advocated by Miss Nellie Lee Holt, instructor in religious education at Stephens college here.

Romantic Victorian love is dead, she points out, and in its place has grown a love based on "friendship, understanding and willingness on the part of the girl and boy to share responsibilities.

"Boys and girls should learn to share," said Miss Holt. "That is the reason I have become such a strong exponent of the 'Dutch' date. Generally speaking, girls receive as much allowance as boys. Then why shouldn't they pay for what they eat, for the show they attend and for the costly entertainment they enjoy?"

Girls of today, Miss Holt characterizes as "sound thinkers who do things in a wholesome and under-

"Guardian Angel" Aids Travelers to Safety

northwest Alaska trail has a strange guardian angel, according to a weird tale by travelers returning from a region over the Sawtooth mountains. In a valley across the range, they say, dog teams are often bewildered. But when the visibility is exceptionally bad, so goes the story, drivers and their passengers are guided safely along the way by some well-outlined form, resembling a hooded monk, who is always accompanied by a huge dog. Old-timers claim the monk is an apparition or mirage encountered as the temperatures in various altitudes change, but it is difficult to convince those who have encountered the mystic trail blazer.

Many Important Crops Ruined by Insect Pest

Washington .- Man's battle to master insect pests that annually destroy one-tenth of the crops in the United States is an uphill struggle which may never be wholly won, Dr. A. L. Quaintance said. Damage will be much heavier this year unless the Mediterranean fly which has just appeared in Florida is checked.

Telling of the effects of science to reduce the damage by the insect scourge, Doctor Quaintance said many important crops could not be grown without the entomologists.

Without the checks now provided by science, insects would multiply so rapidly the world would soon be completely overrun, he said. Insects have several million descendants in the course of a year.

Health Chief Urges Planes for Funerals

San Francisco.-Airplane funerals were advocated here recently by Dr. William C. Hassler. city health officer, as a means of solving the avowed problem of shrinking space for buria grounds. COMING

Douglas Fir One Log Home

WILL ARRIVE IN CASS CITY

THURSDAY, AUG. 1st

Douglas Fir Log Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wade, of Aberdeen, Washington

Will Be on Exhibit from 1:30 to 2:30

The Public, Especially School Children, Is Invited To This Exhibit.

Cut from Douglas Fir tree out of which nine more logs were cut besides the one used by Mr. Wade. Each log 22 feet long, in all making some 50,000 board feet of lumber, about two carloads, or enough to build six four-room cottages. Cut in 1926, then 434 years old, and therefore born in the year Columbus discovered America. Visited by more than a million people in 26 states.

This marvelous house on wheels-hewn out of one log—is brought to Cass City by the undersigned lumber company which invites you to visit and make a trip through the house free. The Farm Produce Company will also be glad to have you call them any time for building material information or building materials. They will be glad to help you plan your new home or the remodeling of your old one.

We carry complete stock of West Coast lumber made from big Douglas Fir trees like this. Douglas Fir lumber lays straight—does not twist or warp, holds paint and easy to saw and nail.
