WHO AIDS THE CRIMINAL?

"All honest as well as dishonest men know that the machinery of law enforcement is defective and out of date," says the Saturday Evening Post in an editorial on crime. Here is a problem not in politics or academic theory or dialectics, but in practical organization, which is supposed to be just the field in which the typical American citizen is best.

"It is the job and the conditions which surround the job that need attention. If as a people we are incapable of improving the judicial and jury systems, of doing away with frivolous appeals, lessening the grant of continuances, expediting trials, simplifying indictments, and making the other necessary improvements in the actual technique of the job, then we have lost the art of self government.

"The people may have become more lawless or they may not; that is a moot point. In any case, respect for law will not be established by rhetoric. Why not concentrate first on what everybody knows is inadequate and outworn, the institutional machinery for doing the job?"

Expressed in a nutshell, what we need is less laws and better enforcement, more rationalism and less emotion in the handling of crime. More laws restricting the law-abiding on the theory that the criminal will thereby be curbed, merely encourage crime and increase law-breaking.

Happenings of a Quarter Century Ago

Items from the Tri-County Chronicle of Aug. 19, 1904.

Cass City business men have agreed to close up their business places next Tuesday and will join their brethren along the P., O. & N. in the business men's excursion to Bay Port.

The census tabulation of Michigan has been completed. Tuscola county has a population of 35,961, and Cass City is credited with 1,212.

At an election in Fairgrove Monday, electors of that village decided to keep Fairgrove "dry." By a majority of nine, voters turned down the bar-room proposition. Ever since its incorporation 25 years ago, it is said that saloons and the liquor traffic have been tabooed by Fairgrove's citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner arrived at Chicago last week on a trip from California with a horse and buggy. They left Los Angeles on Dec. 2 and will come to Akron, Mich., where Mr. Skinner, who is 78 years old, will visit with a comrade in the Seventeenth Michigan Infantry.

John Profit, sr., who has been visiting relatives in England, expects to arrive home the first of next week.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Wickware was made happy on Monday by the arrival of a baby boy.

Prof. and Mrs. F. E. Sinclair returned home Wednesday. Mrs. Sinclair has been visiting friends at Brown City, Gladwin and other places and Mr. Sinclair has been in the employ of the International Harvester Co.

Michigan Happenings

Myron Dolbee has entered a vigorous protest against the story of his death, as recorded on the books of the County Coroner's office at Kalamazoo. A body, identified as Dolbee's, was found along the Kalamazoo River on July 20, and was buried a few days later beside the graves of his father and mother. The identification was made by Dolbee's second wife and his daughter. Dolbee, working on a farm in Berrien County since his disappearance two weeks before the finding of the body, did not know for a month that he was legally dead.

A joint statement by S. A. Graham, president of the Federal Commercial and Savings bank; D. D. Brown, president of the First National Bank & Trust company of Port Huron, and Robert O. Lord, president of the Guardian Detroit group of financial institutions, announces that at recent meetings of the boards of directors of the two Port Huron banks it was unanimously voted by the respective boards and recommended to the stockholders that these institutions become units of the Guardian Banking Group of Detroit.

Although a .22-caliber bullet passed through his skull, Harry Bloomhuff, 23 years old, will recover, physicians at a "Battle Creek Hospital declared. Bloomhuff was shooting at a target while vacationing at Clear Lake. The rifle which he was using accidentally discharged and the bullet entered his left cheek and followed a course diagonally across the brain, lodging in the right side of his head. An operation was performed when the injured man was brought to the hospital and the bullet removed.

A change in the clause of the debenture certificates, to be issued in the financing of the proposed new women's dormitory at the University of Michigan, will make the contract pledge the rentals from the dormitory, rather than the faith and credit of the State. Under the contract, the revenue from the building will be collectable by the trust company issuing the bonds until the $955,000 debt has been retired. Then the building will become the property of the State.

Edward Laura, 61 years old, and his wife, Anna, 54, both crippled and in feeble health, were released on probation, in the Adrian Circuit Court after they pleaded guilty to setting fire to the buildings on their heavily mortgaged farm in Rollin Township. The amount of insurance carried on the buildings had been increased in May. Mr. Laura was unable to ascend the stairs to the courtroom, and his plea was heard at the main street entrance of the courthouse.

Lieutenant J. Stanley Harvey, U. S. A., a former Hillsdale boy, is one of the eight officers of the United States army air corps now on a 50,000 mile tour in the greatest commercial aviation undertaking in the history of air flights. The tour will include many stops in the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico, and will take several months to complete.

Bacterial blight and anthracnose are two diseases which are taking a heavy toll in the Michigan bean crop this year, according to Prof. Ray Nelson, Michigan State College plant pathologist. Blight is proving very troublesome this season in plantings of Lima beans and all varieties of wax beans, defoliating the vines prematurely and stunting the crop.

Recommendation of the addition of two judges to the Supreme Court of the state is being made by a committee appointed by the state bar association, according to Judge Samuel G. Houghton, of the Bay City Circuit Court. The committee was named recently to suggest a way to relieve congestion of the court.

Thirty prisoners from the County Jail have been put to work at the Grand Rapids airport grading runways, removing stumps and smoothing the field.

Highway construction during the present season has passed the 200-mile mark, the latest report of the State Highway Department reveals.

An acetylene torch used in repair work ignited two airplanes at the Kalamazoo municipal airport, causing loss estimated at more than $5,000.

Michigan farmers are advised by H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops division of Michigan State College, to store their wheat this year.

Carl Fuson, 5 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Fuson of Battle Creek, is dead of injuries suffered recently when he was struck by an automobile. Death resulted from meningitis developing from infection in a scalp wound.

Howard L. Foster, 18-year-old Jackson high school student, was killed when struck by lightning while playing golf. Robert Burck, 17, Foster's companion, was knocked to the ground but not seriously injured.

Contracts for completing the widening of Grand River avenue between Detroit and Farmington and for starting a cutoff that will skirt that village have been awarded by the road committee of the administrative board. The whole distance to be completed is a little more than three miles and will cost $356,209. Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, explained this cost of more than $100,000 a mile by the fact that several expensive fills are necessary and because the concrete is to be ten inches thick instead of nine.

Slipping from a scaffolding underneath the span of the Fort street bridge over the Rouge River when the bridge was raised to allow a tug to pass, Clayton Langbecker, 20 years old, employed as a painter by the Wayne County Road Commission, fell into 30 feet of water and was drowned. Langbecker was one of a crew of eight men working on the bridge. It had been the custom of the painters to secure their scaffolding in such a way that they would remain on it when the bridge was raised or lowered.

The new dairy barn recently dedicated at Michigan State College, East Lansing, is said by college authorities to be the finest publicly-owned one in the country. It will greatly facilitate the teaching and development of dairy work which attracts many students at the college. The new barn will accommodate 89 head of mature cows and 53 head of young stock. It is the first of a number of buildings to be built this year by the college with money recently appropriated by the state legislature.

Marking the first attempt to use the principle of excess condemnation in Detroit, the city has begun court proceedings to open a section of one street and widen that of another. Excess condemnation permits the city to take additional land so that no property will be rendered unsalable, the necessary enabling act having been passed by the last legislature. Previously the law had limited cities to taking only such land as was actually needed for the project in hand.

An Indian pageant, depicting primitive life in the primeval forests of Michigan, set in a natural amphitheater surrounded by a symphony of brown, red and golden leaves ripped by the frosts, is proposed for Newway county's second annual color show this fall. Miss Petoskey, a full blooded Indian maid well acquainted with the habits of her ancestors, has agreed to assist the committee and will take a leading part in the scenes which will depict early Indian life in the Great Lakes territory.

The last hardwood lumber company in northeastern Michigan went out of existence this month when the Johanesburg Manufacturing company closed its lumbering operations. It ends the activities of a corporation which has been in existence for 28 years and during that time has produced 300,000,000 feet of lumber, hauling its timber from the forest with its own locomotive and cars.

Delivering his annual "report to the home folks" at the Ionia Free Press, Gov. Fred W. Green refrained, on the grounds that it would be injudicious, from disclosing whether he will again be a candidate to succeed himself. Politicians were present in large numbers as it was expected that the Governor would declare either his retirement or third term candidacy.

Henry Blair, 41 years old, a Saginaw County farmer and the father of seven children, is Michigan's first person to receive the maximum penalty for violation of the Jones Law. He was sentenced in Federal Court in Bay City to serve five years in the Government Prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, and was ordered to pay a fine of $10,000.

Dale (Red) Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, who remained aloft 17 1/2 days to win the title of endurance champions of the air, spent two days in Detroit on their present good will air tour of the country. The fliers are accompanied on this tour by the crew of the refueling plane, Maj. C. Ray Wassell and P. V. Chaffee.

Completion of the widening of Woodward avenue, between the Eleven Mile road and a point two miles north of Birmingham, is probable by the fall of 1930, unless unforeseen delays arise, according to Oakland county officials and officials of the Grand Trunk railroad.

A new cell block is to be constructed at the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia. This cell block and another to be built as soon as the first is finished, will abolish the dormitory system in vogue at the institution since 1921.

Ralph, 6-year-old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell of Hillsdale, was seriously injured when he came into contact with a live wire carrying a 2,300 voltage while climbing a tree on the lawn of his home.

Henry Williamson, 38 years old, Dearborn, was drowned when he fell into Baby Creek at the foot of Mulkey avenue, in Dearborn. Williamson was walking beside the creek when the soft clay bank gave way, throwing him into deep water.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Lord's Prayer.

Matthew 6:9-13. Our father which art in heaven. Hallowed be thy name. 10. Thy Kingdom come, Thy name. 10. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. 11. Give us this day our daily bread. 12. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. 13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

Prayer: Father, in all of our petitions, give us the spirit of the living Christ.

CASS CITY

This... answers the question... which is America's finest medium-priced automobile

The Oakland All-American Six was compared with twenty other cars in 878 individual comparisons. Of the 878 points of comparison, Oakland established clear-cut superiority on 451 or 51.37 per cent. The twenty cars combined proved at best to be equal to Oakland on 382 points or 43.50 per cent. Yet thirteen of these cars are higher-priced than the All-American Six... Let us give you complete returns of this analysis. Then you will know that here is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

What these features mean to you

Large piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car.

PISTON DISPLACEMENT

How Oakland compares with the field

Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are higher priced than Oakland.

Fisher bodies are famous for style, luxury and roominess. In addition, they hold such advantages as sturdy hardwood and steel construction, VV windshield, side cowl ventilation and adjustable drivers' seats.

FISHER BODY

Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

Prices, $1145 to $1375, f.o.b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Spring covers and 1.75 shock absorbers included in 1929 prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

AND UP

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the C. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan is used.

RED CROWN ETHYL

Up and over the top in high! Her car seems hungry for hills—swallows them, softly purring.

Away it speeds on the open road. Swiftly and smoothly the miles fly past. [Red Crown Ethyl gives it power and speed].

Back to the city and the traffic jam. Cars stand panting to be off. Horns blow. Some engines knock and sputter impatiently. Her sleek car in the midst of the jam waits with a well-behaved purr.

The engine is quiet. It whirs with a steady rhythm—with the easy unconcern of power. [Red Crown Ethyl knocks out knocks—keeps it purring in that well-behaved way].

The light says go! Watch her car shoot ahead! It could afford to be unconcerned. It has power to spare because it is fueled with Red Crown Ethyl and is therefore untroubled by the trying conditions that make other cars complain!

Red Crown Ethyl gives new life to any car. Made for high compression engines. Gives advantages of high compression to other engines.

Be sure to ask for Red Crown Ethyl. Other ethyl gasolines may be offered you, but remember, ethyl does not make the gasoline—there is only one ethyl gasoline made from the famous Red Crown—there is only one Red Crown Ethyl!

DAIRY FACTS

PROVED SIRE IS BIG DAIRY ASSET

Quality of His Get Cannot Be Told by Their Looks.

(By JAS. W. LINN, Extension Dairyman, K. S. A. C.)

The sire is half the herd! Besides feeding, there is nothing that determines the production of the herd or cow to as great an extent as breeding. In breeding it is important to have good cows, but regardless of how good or well bred one can only count on an average of one calf each year which will be the limit of the individual cow's influence on the future herd.

Such is not true of the sire. His influence in bettering or lowering the standards of the future herd is limited only by the number of cows to which he is mated.

The dairy bull has two disadvantages as compared with the beef herd sire in that the quality of his get cannot be told by their looks, and it is more difficult to keep an aged dairy bull.

If dairymen will realize that the older bulls may be kept in perfect safety by spending $100 or less on equipment, that the bull that has proved his worth is a sure way to build a better herd and that these bulls may often be bought at beef prices, or at least at reasonable prices, more of them will be used and better and more profitable herds will be the result.

It is necessary to list the daughters of these aged bulls to prove their worth. The Dairy Herd Improvement association is doing this in the best and most practical way, and hundreds of bulls will be proved in the next few years through this method.

Perhaps the one thing that is doing more to encourage the use of proved bulls than anything else is the use of the bull association where bulls are owned co-operatively and moved from one farm to the next. This is especially true where the members are members of the Dairy Herd Improvement association.

Absolutely Germ-Free Milk Is Impossibility

Clean milk should contain neither foreign matter nor bacteria of any kind. If milk could be obtained and stored, that was entirely free of bacteria, it would keep indefinitely. In view of the fact that absolutely germ-free milk is impossible to obtain under practical conditions, it is important to consider the ways and means of securing milk that is from healthy cows, free of foreign matter and which contains only a small amount of bacteria, none of which are disease-producing.

The tuberculin test is used as a means of eliminating cows that might pass tuberculous germs through the milk. This test is prescribed by practically all city ordinances. In some cases cities require the cows to be tested or the milk pasteurized. Other cities insure a doubly safe product by requiring all the milk to come from tuberculin tested cows, whether it is pasteurized or not.

Visible dirt in the milk is not only a source of danger, but it indicates carelessness in handling. Usually such milk contains a large number of bacteria.

Dairy Hints

A balanced ration for the cow will help balance the bank account.

Give the cows all the hay they will clean up reasonably well, legumes preferred.

Fifty tons of roots will replace about four and one-half tons of grain in feeding dairy cattle.

Get acquainted with your milking machine. It may be able to explain how the milk can be better.

The feed saved by culling out one low-producing cow will pay the cost of testing an entire dairy herd for a year.

The chief reason why a cow does not starve to death on pasture alone is because the summer season is too short.

Give a calf the right start. Heifers cost too much to raise to waste time on poor ones. A good heifer poorly developed is not a good investment, either.

Grow a legume to reduce feeding costs. Underfeeding dairy cows is like riding a merry-go-round; you never get anywhere.

Don't stunt the dairy calf. A cow must have constitution to make a good producer, and a stunted calf never made a big frame.

Many feeding experiments have fully demonstrated that the percentage of cream in milk is not materially altered either by the amount or quality of feed.

GIRL, 18, MAY HAVE BEAU, COURT RULES

Great Modern Question Is Settled by Judge.

New York.—The weighty legal opinion involved that great modern question: "Might a girl of eighteen have a beau—or mightn't she?"

All girlhood's future was at stake as pretty Josephine Pupica of Yonkers faced the bar of justice in Yonkers before Judge C. W. Boote.

Josephine had been haled to court by her mother for running away to a relative's home because she would not live up to the parent's rules of never associating with boys, handing over all her weekly wages, never staying out later than 10 p. m. and never visiting girls at night.

"The girl's lips quivered and she told the stern court: "I had to run away, your honor. Listen to those rules."

So the judge listened and then he pondered. It may be that he thought of the time when he used to have an occasional date with a pretty brunette like Josephine.

"I will lay down some new rules," he declared.

"You may remain out later than 10 o'clock. Say 11 or thereabouts.

"You may keep some of your earnings for yourself and also you may visit other girls at night.

"You may select your own clothes." "But," exclaimed the defendant, "er, how about a boy fr—"

"The court interposed, a twinkle in his eye. "Oh, yes," he remarked. "You may accept the attentions of a respectable young man."

Josephine smiled. Girlhood had been freed from bondage!

Locate Iron Messenger of Space in Africa

Bloemfontein, South Africa.—Again chance has led to the discovery of one of those mysterious messengers that bear evidence that space is not empty. This time the news comes from the far northeastern corner of southwest Africa.

In the Grootfontein district a meteorite lies in a tomb of limestone, a great, massive block of iron. There is nothing dramatic in its appearance—a lone block of metal in the veldt, but if one tries to visualize its arrival one finds a spectacle surpassed by few.

A black mass of iron, cruising through space, invisible to all. Suddenly, as it enters the earth's atmosphere, its great speed and the excessive friction set a blaze in a fraction of a second. An enormous fireball, white hot, it approaches the ground with an angry hiss. A terrific roar as it crashes through layers of limestone, a shower of sparks, sand, rocks and metals, a cloud of dust—and all is quiet.

A deep pit was excavated all around it, to show the full extent of its huge mass. The whole appearance is remarkable—an almost flat, level upper surface 9 by 10 feet in size, with almost vertical sides about four to five feet deep. It is estimated that it weighs not less than 50 tons. One specimen shown to the writer was a piece that had needed but the sawing through of a surface of two square inches, and that had required fully two hours of hard work.

11,500,000 Wed in India Under Age of Fifteen

London.—The extent of child marriage in India was shown recently by official figures which reveal that there are 8,500,000 wives and 3,000,000 husbands under fifteen years of age.

The figures are contained in a new statistical abstract for India, which the secretary of state for India has just distributed to the members of parliament.

According to these statistics, there are 110,834 husbands and 218,463 wives under five years of age, while 575,405 husbands and 2,016,687 wives are between the ages of five and ten. The total jumps still higher between the ages of ten and fifteen, with 2,334,006 husbands and 6,330,287 wives. Between fifteen and twenty there are about 4,000,000 husbands and 9,000,000 wives.

The figures also show that about 400,000 Indian girls are widows before the age of fifteen. Of these, 15,139 are baby widows under five years of age, 102,293 between five and ten, and 270,124 between ten and fifteen.

Jail Explorer When He Works Overtime

New Orleans, La.—The landlady rented a room to Edward White, fifty-three, who said he was an "explorer." In the middle of the night she heard the floor creak, and saw her new roomer in her room with a flashlight. "What are you doing?" she asked.

"Exploring. That is, er—er—I am looking for matches." White was taken to the city jail.

POULTRY FACTS

EGG PRODUCTION DURING SUMMER

Poultry Men Agree That It Depends on Best Care.

Facing poultry men during the summer is the problem of preventing a rapid drop in egg production with the coming of warm weather, when eggs bring good prices. Standard egg production in New Jersey for June is 18 eggs per bird, for July it is 16 eggs, and for August, 13 eggs. Whether or not a flock makes standard production during these three months depends entirely on the care it is given by the poultry man, announces the poultry department of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station.

According to the station, successful poultry men agree that good summer egg production depends on attention to little details of management and not on one outstanding factor. Culling the flock, for example, is not the most important factor in obtaining standard production, but just one of the many factors. In fact, culling should be last in the effort to hold production.

The laying house should receive attention first, as a means of holding egg production. All windows should be opened to provide good ventilation and to keep the house cool.

Lice and mites are often the cause of the flock falling off in production. Careful inspection of the birds and coop should be made once a month for these parasites. It is considered a good practice to treat the flock for body lice by using sodium fluoride or any lice powder. Generally, one treatment is sufficient for the entire summer. The roost, drop-boards, and nests should be painted with any coal tar product as a means of controlling the mites. When such cannot be obtained, a mixture of kerosene oil and old crank case oil from the tractor or automobile can be used to advantage.

Heavy consumption of mash, so important to heavy production, is obtained in the summer by feeding only 8 or 10 pounds of grain to each 100 birds; keeping mash always before the birds; and keeping the layers confined to the house where they will always be near the mash hoppers.

Other factors found to be important in feeding are: a daily supply of fresh green feed such as dandelions, lawn clippings, and weeds from the garden; and a constant supply of fresh, clean, cool water.

When production falls below 50 per cent, it is time to start culling, if the foregoing factors mentioned have been carefully followed.

Provide Natural Shade for All Young Poultry

An ideal range will provide natural shade where the young birds may find protection from the hot summer sun. Many poultry flocks do not have this natural protection, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college, so some means of protection must be provided. Moving the colony houses near a cornfield makes ideal range conditions. Sunflowers planted around the colony house also will provide satisfactory shade. If the colony houses cannot be moved near a cornfield and sunflowers are not used, some form of artificial shade should be provided. Old feed bags placed on a frame about two or three feet above the ground will give the needed protection.

Always Make Fowls as Profitable as Possible

There is a great temptation for the poultryman who is ambitious to equal the records made by others. Naturally any one wants to make his hens as profitable as possible, and as the rule generally applied is to keep a hen only to the end of her first laying year and then replace her with pullets, the effect of high egg production on the laying hens apparently is negligible as she is sent to pot before any evil effects of force feeding can interfere with her laying.

Mistake With Geese

A common mistake made in raising geese is to try to feed them upon grains without sufficient grazing. If the geese have good green feed they will need but little additional. Grit and oyster shell should always be accessible. During the summer a satisfactory method consists in providing one feed a day of equal parts of corn meal, bran and ground oats. During the winter the same grains are satisfactory, but steamed clover or alfalfa hay should be added.

Grain for Geese

Geese should not be fed hard grains, but ground feeds mixed in what are known as mash and fed in a moist state. A good ration for geese would be three parts of yellow corn meal, four parts of wheat bran, one part of red dog flour or flour middlings. To this add 5 per cent of meat scraps and during the laying or breeding season 15 per cent. At all times 1 per cent of fine sifted sand and one-half per cent of fine table salt. Any kind of green feed will help.

"Robert," said the Sunday school teacher, "Explain the story of Jonah and the whale!" "Why make me do it," said Robert, "I wasn't the one that started it."

The ration must literally please the palate of the cow. When a cow likes the ration, it is eaten and eaten in large quantities. The result is greater and more profitable production.

The Wall Street Journal says that the trouble with the present marriage crop is that it's too divorced.

When a minister makes a mistake nobody knows it—when a plumber makes a mistake he charges twice for it—when a doctor makes a mistake he buries it. But when a farmer makes the mistake and buys feed on price alone he loses. Results are what count. We sell only the better feeds.

Why does the neighbor on your left always ask an intricate question just after you've taken a mouth-ful of salad? Will have another car of coal next week. Get your order in now. Use Armour's "Big Crop" Fertilizer for your wheat. "They say the prisoner was very much interested in the jury's verdict." "Yeah—he literally hung on their word."

Winter laying depends upon what they are fed from now on. Your pullets should have Growena and the hens Purina Chicken Chowder. "Now doctor," said the patient, "all I need is something to stir me up—put me in fighting trim, you know." "Wait until you get my bill," said the doctor. "That will do it."

The Holbrook community picnic on Sunday was a decided success, many people coming from a distance. Basket dinner was enjoyed in the grove at the horseshoe bend. After dinner a very interesting ball game was played between the married and single men. The writer was told not to mention the score, but really we married people must take defeat once in a while from the youngsters. Score was 11-26 in favor of the singles. Darrell Luther of Cass City should be given full credit of course as a league player on the Bay City team. Why wouldn't they beat us. Darrell made three homers. Three cheers for the youngsters. Those who attended the Holbrook picnic and base ball game from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Constula of Painsville, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Decker and children of Peck, Mr. and Mrs. George Codling of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ricka of Detroit, and Raymond Jackson of Port Huron. If "Opportunity" Knocks Can YOU Open the Door?

That's the Secret of Success—to be Able to "Open the Door" When "Opportunity" Knocks

ELDON E. BAKER, President

One reason why we are operating Baker Business University is to help young men and young women prepare themselves to "Open the Door."

There's not much chance for a young man to succeed in the ditch with a shovel, unless he is prepared to "Open the Door."

There's no chance for a girl, only to use the mop, unless she knows how to "Open the Door."

Hundreds of our Graduates are drawing big salaries now, because they were trained by our efficient corps of instructors to "Open the Door" when "Opportunity" knocked.

The OLD BRASS BAND

Love the military bands
Of London and Paris,
The famous orchestras that play
On both sides of the sea,
But never will their melodies
So classical and grand,
Excell the rousing rhythm of
The Old Home Town's brass band.

Slim Johnston blew the clarinet
Red Smith, the slide hornbone
And big fat Billie Thompson made
The ponderous tuba moan.
While in and out the wailing fife
Would wander to and fro
All tangled with the big bass drum
And screaming piccolo.

O would that I could huddle again
Behind them down the sheet
With tattered jacket open wide
And sunburned dusty feet.
The finest harmonies to me
Of any chime or land
Can never match the music of
The Old Home Town's brass band.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Conner of Highland Park, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Funk, Roy Courliss, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Osburn and family enjoyed a pot luck dinner with their father and grandfather, Clark Courliss, at his home Sunday.

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic purges and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. In 5 MILLION HOMES TONIGHT

A host of babies will enjoy sound sleep tonight. And their parents will have unbroken rest. Castoria is the cause of this contentment in a multitude of homes. Good old Castoria! Children cry for it. Mothers swear by it. Not a household where there is an infant should ever be without it. A few drops of Castoria quiet Baby in a perfectly innocent manner. It is natural slumber that follows. Castoria is a purely vegetable product. No opiates. No narcotics. Of any kind. Now you know why trained nurses give Castoria as often as an infant is ailing, or even restless. And why doctors tell mothers it is the first and only home remedy when Baby has constipation, colic, diarrhea, or other upset. It is made for babies, and safe to give babies, and other things are not. Fletcher's Castoria is "old-fashioned" if you count its fifty years, but it's an old-fashioned mother, nowadays, who worries along without it. Twenty-five million bottles bought last year! Think of the number of mothers who rely on Castoria! All these mothers can't be wrong! To keep a bottle in the house is a precaution you owe your little one.

Cass City High School

The Cass City High School offers excellent educational advantages to boys and girls who have passed the county eighth grade examination. They are cordially invited to attend this modern school during the coming year.

Courses are offered as follows: Agricultural course, Commercial course, Academic course, and Home Economics course. The Cass City High School course offers extra credit in the following work: Art, Chorus, Orchestra, Debating, Public Speaking, Bible, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Agricultural Project. Numerous school societies provide valuable training. Added advantages are to be had in the splendid churches, library, and the various lectures and gatherings which center in the community of Cass City.

The Cass City High School is accredited by the University of Michigan and is on the North Central Association list. Students graduating from the high school here are admitted to the various colleges, universities and normal schools without examination.

All high school and grade teachers are specialists in their respective fields. All high school teachers of academic subjects hold degrees.

The 1929 graduating class numbered 57 students. This compares favorably with schools in towns two or three times larger than Cass City.

The commercial course gives the student four years of special training, fitting him for the commercial field. Commercial arithmetic, bookkeeping, typewriting and shorthand are all offered in this course. Enrollment in the high school has passed the 260 mark. Non-resident pupils have increased in the past few years from approximately 40 to 163 in 1928. Careful attention is given each pupil in planning his course of study and in his work throughout the year. We have a physical director for students and a dean for girls to look after their social welfare while attending school here.

Good roads make it possible for students to come long distances. Many drive to and from school to their homes each day. Others living much farther away have been at home week ends. Provision is made at the school cafeteria for high school students to purchase lunches at cost during the winter months. Over 2500 meals were served last year at an average cost of 15 cents per meal.

Cass City students won the sub-district oratorical and declamation contests in 1928 and 1929; won second place in the state academic contest at Mt. Pleasant in 1928; won first place in the district music contest in 1929; won the county and Thumb championships in football and basketball the past year, the county championship in baseball and the Thumb championship in track. Cass City vocational boys have exhibited 17 state champions at the Michigan State Fair in the last five years.

Tuition is $80.00 a year for high school pupils. The home district must pay $60.00 of this amount per year if application for tuition has been made to the director of the home district.

The principal and superintendent will be in the high school office Saturday, Aug. 31, to aid those who wish to arrange their course of study. School opens Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Address all inquiries to H. W. HOLMES, Superintendent.

DAIRY FACTS

GENTLE BULL IS EVER DANGEROUS

Animals With Bad Reputations Closely Watched.

"All bulls must be regarded as dangerous," says H. A. Hopper of the New York State College of Agriculture. "It is the gentle bull, not the vicious one, that most certainly kills or maims his victim. Those with bad reputations are more closely watched."

Since improvement in dairy herds comes slowly, promising bulls should be kept in service long enough to determine the worth of their daughters. With proper care, bulls may give satisfactory service until fourteen or sixteen years old.

The chief reasons for frequent changes of bulls as indicated by owners, are: Sold for beef, changed to another breed, his calves were mostly bulls, his daughters lacked type and were poorly marked, sold for beef to avoid inbreeding, lacked arrangements for exercise and safety, he was often neglected, became useless as a breeder and was killed, he killed his keeper.

The first four reasons are, in part, valid; under certain circumstances they might justify the disposal of a bull, Professor Hopper says. The last four causes turn upon inadequate facilities for housing, for controlling, and for maintaining the health of the bull and a more serious cause.

Professor Hopper is the author of a bulletin just issued by the New York State College of Agriculture on "The Housing and Handling of Bulls." E 177. In it he says that bulls respond to care and training. The author describes the bull stall, the safety bull pen, handling the bull, trimming the feet, ringing, and dehorning. The publication will be sent free upon request made to the office of publication, Roberts Hall, Ithaca, N. Y.

Excellent Plan to Keep

Calf Little Bit Hungry

A calf fed three times daily can assimilate more food than when it is fed after it has finished drinking its milk. Milk fed to young calves should be at about body temperature. Cool milk should be warmed to a temperature of 95 degrees Fahrenheit by setting the pail in a vessel of hot water before being fed. One cannot depend upon guesswork—be sure to use a thermometer! Cold milk will almost always cause digestive troubles, resulting in scours which tend to stop the calf's growth and hinder its getting a good start.

No one can accurately estimate with the eye the quantity of milk in a pail. Milk scales are very convenient for this purpose.

Clean feeding pails are absolutely essential to successful calf raising. They should be washed after each feeding as carefully as milk utensils and sterilized if possible. Dirty pails invariably cause digestive troubles. All mangers and feed boxes should be kept scrupulously clean. Plenty of bedding, straw, corn stover or shavings should be used, especially in the winter, to insure the calves always being on dry litter and not on the cold stall floor.

Contamination of Water

Will Lead to Disorders

The water supply of dairy farms should be carefully examined and its purity established. The farmer owes this protection to his own family, to his business interests, and to those who use milk that comes from his dairy. Contamination of water may lead to typhoid fever. All water on the farm, even that to which only the cattle have access, should be above suspicion as to its purity. If cows wade in polluted water, disease bacteria may adhere to their bodies and later fall into the milk pails. Especial attention should be paid to the purity of the water in which milk pails and other utensils are washed.

Dairy Stable Equipment

Makes Much Difference

The equipment of a dairy barn makes a great deal of difference in the labor of caring for the cows. Good concrete floors with gutters and drainage makes it possible to keep the cows clean and minimizes the labor of caring for the stable. Swinging stanchions which allow the cows considerable freedom have met with approval. When cows are confined by stanchions they require less space, less bedding and may be handled with less labor than by either leaving the cows loose or in box stalls. Dirt floors are not good in a dairy stable as they cannot be kept clean.

Cows for Cream

The number of cows that can profitably be kept for cream production on any farm is dependent upon the quantity of pasture, roughage and labor available. However, on most farms this number should range from five to ten head. The income from these cows will usually take care of the operating expense of the average farm and make it possible for the farmer to bank the returns from his cash crops rather than pay old debts with them.

GARB DOESN'T MAKE THE MAN IN RUSSIA

Sheer Necessity Forces Outlawry of Style.

Moscow.—In the Soviet capital, at least, clothes do not make the man; nor the woman, for that matter. Style is among the antiquated "bourgeois" notions thrown into discard by the Bolshevik revolution.

Sheer necessity—the lack of textiles and of cash—had more to do with outlawing style than did Communist principles. In the bitter years of civil strife and famine people were happy enough to have their bodies covered without bothering about the cut or color of the covering. While conditions are incomparably better, those who can afford to worry about the hang of their trousers or their skirts are still a small minority.

Many men, of course, throw off the yoke of a tailored jacket for the freedom of a peasant blouse out of revolutionary ardor; but the overwhelming majority did so because their jackets had fallen to pieces and they could not buy a new one.

The Russian Flapper. A generation of Russian girls adopted rough boyish attire and scoffed at female finery. One may be pardoned for guessing, however, that many of them were making a virtue of necessity. Certainly the first sign of easier economic conditions here, as in the rest of the world, was the better-dressed young woman. The Russian "flapper"—a boy's cap pulled rakishly over her close-cropped head and a man's overcoat over her nondescript dress—is definitely on the decline.

Between poverty and principle, however, style has fared badly enough. Anything but stark nakedness (and the rigors of Russian climate discourage that) passes muster. Moscow undoubtedly holds the world record for diversity of costume. The queerest sartorial combinations will attract not the slightest attention on Moscow streets. The most grotesque patchwork passes unnoticed.

Can't Judge by Clothes. Another result of the discarding of style is that one can no longer judge anyone's social status from his or her clothes. The fellow you bump into on the stairway may be the commissioner or the humblest of his clerks—you can't tell from his apparel. Indeed, if he shows a tendency towards elegant European dress he is most likely to be the clerk.

Foreigners who have visited Moscow over a period of years agree that in general people here are enormously better dressed than a few years ago, although the standard is still far below western Europe, or even a city like Warsaw. Smartly dressed women are more in evidence and the popularity of "Modes," a pitiful little magazine devoted to the Paris fashions, may be a sign of the times.

Fruit Growers Profit

From Europe's Winter

Lindsay, Calif.—The "It's an ill wind—" adage was borne out literally in Europe this year, with California orange growers reaping the benefit of the suffering of European growers.

The most severe European winter in 230 years caused great damage to the Spanish citrus crop, next largest in the world to that of California.

One result was that the California Fruit Growers' exchange has already moved its first shipment of oranges to Europe, docking in London the latter part of April. Others are being loaded, and before the season ends it is estimated California citrus growers will have benefited to the extent of marketing 2,500 carloads of their product that never would have been able to compete with European growers under ordinary circumstances.

The extra market proved extremely fortuitous to California growers, burdened with an unusually large Valencia crop. It is estimated more than 1,000,000 boxes of oranges will go to Europe this season at prices that will net the grower from $2 to $4 a box.

New Hampshire Man Has Wagon 113 Years Old

Franklin, N. H.—Frank H. Gerlach says he owns a wagon one hundred and thirteen years old and in perfect running condition. It has original tires and paint, he says, and he has absolute proof as to its age.

It is said to be one of the very first wagons that Abbott Downing, the famous builder of the Concord coach, constructed. It has no springs similar to the leaf springs in use on wagons and automobiles today, but it nevertheless rides like a cradle. In place of springs there are leather straps running from the front to the rear axles and the body of the wagon is suspended upon these similar to the manner in which the stage coaches were constructed.

At the places on the leather where the front wheels hit when the wagon is turned there is a protection in the shape of steel plates to prevent the tires from wearing out the leather.

Orders Dress for Maid Tattooed on Tar's Arm

Lynn, Mass.—Gordon Smith wanted to join the navy. He passed the mental and physical examinations, but during the latter process, recruiting officers discovered the tattooed figure of a nude woman on his arm. Before approving his enlistment papers they forced him to have a dress tattooed on the offending picture.

WRONG METHODS MAKE BUYERS SHUN MUTTON

Something is wrong with methods of merchandizing meat in the United States when the records show that for every pound of mutton eaten the public buys 10 pounds or more of both beef and pork and one pound of veal, and Michigan State College is aiding flock owners to hold a series of meetings to call attention to the value of mutton as a food.

One of the troubles which the retailer of meats has had in selling mutton has been his inability to cut up front quarters of mutton into desirable pieces of meat. To compensate for the unsalable forequarters, a high price had to be charged for the choice cuts from other parts of the carcass.

Mr. J. E. Hertzler, Chicago, representative of the National Meat Board, will show how front quarters of mutton can be cut up into attractive pieces of meat at meetings to be held in Jackson, Aug. 19-20; Lansing, Aug. 22, 23, 24; Grand Rapids, Aug. 26, 27, 28; Saginaw, Aug. 26 to 31; Flint, Sept. 5, 6, 7; and Detroit, Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

Mr. Hertzler has developed a method of cutting which will enable the meat retailer to furnish good cuts of mutton at reasonable prices, and to make attractive cuts from all portions of the carcass. College specialists say that mutton is equal to other meats in food value and that better selling methods will increase consumption of this meat.
