P. J. ALLURED HEADS CASS CITY P. T. A.

Society Presents School with Playground Equipment Costing $178.65.

Rev. P. J. Allured was elected president of the Parent Teachers' Association for 1930-31 at the meeting of that society Monday evening. Mrs. Walter Schell was selected as first vice president, Herbert Maharg, second vice president; Miss Gertrude Hale, secretary; and Ivan Niergarth, treasurer.

Rev. Allured gave the invocation at the opening of the business session. The treasurer's report followed the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Mary Holcomb. Mrs. Holcomb reported a membership of 300. Ivan Niergarth, the treasurer, reported a balance of $73.61, after playground equipment had been paid. Supt. Randall, chairman of the committee to purchase this equipment, reported the arrival of an eight-ladder giant stride, a four-gang tectortter and a 20-ft. wave slide. The cost was $178.65.

Mr. Allured was elected the delegate to represent the local society at the state P. T. A. convention at Muskegon on Apr. 30 to May 2, with Mrs. A. A. Ricker as alternate. A subscription to the Child Welfare Magazine was voted for the use of the new president.

Dr. Albert Law of Detroit, of the Class of 1923 of the local high school, was announced as a speaker at the May meeting of the P. T. A. He will speak on the Couzens Fund. Mrs. Ricker, P. T. A. president, expressed the hope that Tuscola county would engage a county nurse in the near future and opened a discussion on that subject. As a result of the discussion which followed, Mrs. Ricker was authorized to appoint a committee from P. T. A. members to present the county nurse project to the board of supervisors. J. A. Sandham, Mrs. Mary Holcomb and Rev. P. J. Allured were named as this committee.

Two youths made their first appearance as musicians Monday night. Russell Ragan, violinist, and Howard Taylor, cornetist, played "Flag Day March." Miss Catherine Bailey was at the piano. This trio opened the program. Later in the evening, "Columbine" was played as a cornet duet by Bernita Taylor and Evelyn Robinson, with Barbara Taylor as piano accompanist. Both trios were well received and the audience demanded encore numbers.

Mrs. Edward W. Oswald, president of the Saginaw Council of P. T. A., was the speaker of the evening, her subject being "Parental Education." She called attention to the wonderful change in home and living conditions in the past 25 years and the increase in leisure time for both parents and children in that period. Parents must meet these changed conditions, she said. The task of the parents is to study the difference and adjust themselves to them so they may better understand the problems of the later generation.

In simple pioneer life, children were kept more busy with home duties. Because of modern improvements; both parents and children have less chores and more time for amusements.

Mrs. Oswald pointed out the parent's responsibility to avoid the moral failure of the child. The teacher and the physician take years to prepare themselves for the duties of their professions, but for the serious responsibilities of parenthood, what training has the average parent had? There has always been a conflict between the two generations because of changed conditions. The job of parents is to study the differences, adjust themselves to them and thus better understand the present day problems of the younger generation. If problems are anticipated and studied, the parent is in readiness to handle them more intelligently when they appear.

Mrs. Oswald told of 20 groups in Saginaw who meet regularly, talk over problems in child training and get much help from the practical suggestions advanced by members. A group consists of 8 to 20 parents of children of the same age and frequently much more good is obtained in a discussion than weeks of reading will accomplish. The speaker advocated P. T. A. bookshelves stocked with books written in every-day language by people who are experts in parental education.

The program closed with the high school girls' glee club singing the numbers they have prepared for the music contest at Lapeer today. The girls appeared in new costumes of pale green Peter Pan gingham with black ties and black beret tams and the rendition of their selections showed great improvement.

SIX SENIORS ON FOUR YEAR HONOR ROLL

Six members of the Class of 1930 are classed as honor students, having a mark of B average or better for their four years of study in the Cass City high school. They are Phyllis Lenzner with a 2.96 honor point, Mildred Karr with a 2.85 honor point, Alison Milligan, Louis Chaffee, Barbara Taylor and Marion Leishman. Phyllis Lenzner has been selected valedictorian by the faculty and Mildred Karr, salutatorian.

"These marks are exceptionally high," says Principal Ivan Niergarth, "and represent nearly an A average."

An "A" average for the four years counts three and a "B" two points.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET FOR APRIL SESSION

Will Elect Road Commissioner and Chairman of Board of Supervisors.

One new face, with the possibility of two, is the only change which will be noted on the board of supervisors of Tuscola county who meet for the April session next Tuesday. In all townships except Indianfields, supervisors were nominated to succeed themselves. All were re-elected, election returns show, but there is said to be the possibility of a recount in Wisner. P. L. Black, the ticket nominee, was elected by a majority of one over Mr. Russell, who ran on slips. Edward Purdy is the new supervisor in Indianfields. Joseph Beckton, who was named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Giles Whitlock, early this year, did not desire the position longer and was not a candidate for the nomination at the caucus.

The Tuscola board of supervisors are:

Akron—Walter Heckroth. Almer—Arthur Whittenburg. Arhela—Edmund Miller. Columbia—Ed. A. Dillon. Dayton—S. W. Morrison. Denmark—Carl Keimath. Elkland—John A. Benkelman. Ellington—Jas. B. Dietz. Elmwood—Bert M. Perry. Fairgrove—Jas. McAlpine. Fremont—Ernest Haas. Gilford—S. A. Noble. Indianfields—Edward Purdy. Juniata—Wm. Higgins. Kingston—Jas. Osborn. Koylton—Neil H. Burns. Millington—Henry Van Wagnen. Novesta—Geo. McArthur. Tuscola—L. D. Harnes. Vassar—Richard Hascall. Watertown—Geo. Freeland. Wells—Frank Macomber. Wisner—P. L. Black.

At the April meeting, the supervisors will elect a chairman, audit bills which have accumulated since the October session, and confer regarding a uniform method of assessing personal property.

An important duty at this session is the election of a member of the county road commission to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. D. Brooker. Among the candidates suggested for the office are John A. Sandham of Cass City, A. W. Atkins of Vassar, J. L. Purdy of Gagetown, J. H. Beckton of Caro, D. K. Hanna of Ellington and Frank W. Bowles of Caro.

BAD AXE WOMAN GETS ONE TO TEN YEARS

Mrs. Orabelle Quinn, operator of a beauty parlor at Bad Axe, was sentenced Tuesday by Judge X. A. Boomhower to serve one to ten years in the Detroit house of correction. She was charged with arson.

Before sentence was passed, Mrs. Quinn added a new version to her chapter of former stories, declaring that she was forced to get money by burning the building as a man had been blackmailing her for years. Mrs. Quinn said she had paid tribute of $500 a month to this unnamed man and that the night she attempted to burn the building and shoot herself, this man had visited her apartments demanding more money. She did not reveal the reason for the alleged blackmail.

CENSUS GAIN IN TWO DISTRICTS IN THUMB

Complete census returns have been made in two districts to Glenn Carpenter of Bad Axe, supervisor of census of the Thumb counties.

In Port Austin village, the total population on Apr. 1, 1930, was 501. In Jan. 1, 1920, the number was 410, thus showing a gain of 91 in ten years. There are five farms in this district.

At the Michigan Farm Colony, a state institution at Wahjamega, in Tuscola county, the census figures were 920 on Apr. 1, 1930. On Jan. 1, 1920, the population was 535, a gain of 385. There is one farm in this district.

BUTTER SELLS BEST IN THE CITY

State Survey Shows Substitutes Find Readiest Sales in Small Villages.

A survey made by the State Department of Agriculture of the amounts of oleomargarine and butter sold by Michigan stores proved that the sales of butter are much higher proportionately in cities than in small villages of the state.

The figures on which these findings were based were obtained in a study of sales of butter and oleomargarine made by 406 stores located in 140 cities, towns and villages. The percentage of margarine sold as compared to the total amount of both butter and butter substitute was eight times as high in villages as in the city of Detroit.

Thirty-three Detroit stores reported their sales. These stores sold 324,220 pounds of butter and 23,400 pounds of oleomargarine. Thirteen of the stores sold no butter substitute.

In contrast with these figures, the sales made by 42 stores located in 20 small villages were 101,689 pounds of butter and 159,147 pounds of oleomargarine. None of these stores reported selling no butter substitute.

The percentage of oleomargarine sold in Detroit was 6.7 per cent of the total sales of butter and butter substitute. In the whole state, the percentage of oleomargarine sold was 84 per cent, and in the territory served by the 42 village stores, the percentage of oleomargarine sold was 61.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF BEANS FROM BROTHER

Deputy Sheriff W. M. Francis arrested Jack Sahavdak, 28, of Saginaw about 2:00 a. m. on Sunday on a charge of stealing beans from the farm of his brother, Evsy Sahavdak, in Wisner township. He was arraigned before Justice Frank St. Mary at Caro and bound over to the circuit court for trial.

According to the tale told officers, Jack Sahavdak had been spending a few days at his brother's farm while Mr. and Mrs. Evsy Sahavdak were in Flint for a few days. A neighbor's boy was also at the Sahavdak home with their two small children while the parents were absent. Saturday afternoon, Sahavdak called up a Saginaw merchant who owned an auto and trailer to come to Wisner township late Saturday night to haul some beans for him. Before the arrival of the automobile, Sahavdak had hauled several bags to the main road with his brother's team and an old buggy, explaining to the Saginaw merchant that the lane was too soft for an auto to make the trip. The farm buildings are situated quite a distance from the highway. On his second trip down the lane after the remainder of the beans, Sahavdak apparently made too much noise and awoke the neighbor boy, who stepped out of the house and fired two shots into the air. The Saginaw auto driver, hearing them, sensed that something was wrong about the transaction and hastily unloading the beans on his trailer, he drove away without consulting Sahavdak.

NUTRITION CLASSES STUDY SPECIAL MENUS

Plans for Achievement Day Are Discussed by Bethel and Novesta Groups.

The regular meeting of the Bethel Nutrition Group was held Wednesday, April 2, at the home of Mrs. Richard Karr.

Reports of the year's progress were filled out by each member, after which all enjoyed a delicious and well-balanced luncheon served by the following committee: Mesdames Herman Charter, Vernon Carpenter and Delbert Profit.

A short business meeting was held in the afternoon. The meeting then was in charge of local project leaders. Mrs. John Marshall conducted the examinations and true and false test, which covered the work of the course for the year. The new lesson was given by Mrs. Frank McCauley. The month's study subject was "Menus for Special Occasions" and was divided into the following divisions: 1—The Child's Noonday Meal 2—Meals for Harvest Time. 3—Party Refreshments. 4—The Picnic. 5—Demonstration of Sandwiches and Beverages. Much attention was given to harvest meals and each member was requested to prepare for the next meeting a day's menu for harvest time.

The date for Achievement Day has been set for May 16 and will be held in Caro. There will be both afternoon and evening sessions. Dr. Carrie Hedger of Chicago will speak at both meetings on the subjects, "Adult Education" and "Co-operation Necessary To Make 100% Child." The local group has chosen the "Umbrella Stunt" as their part in the afternoon program.

The last meeting, a special one for demonstrations and election of officers, will be held next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed. Knight.

Novesta Nutrition Class.

A profitable and enjoyable time was had by the Novesta Nutrition Class on Wednesday, April 2, when the members met with Mrs. R. Knobel. This meeting closed the Nutrition work on "Better Planned Meals" for the season.

At noon a balanced meal was served by the leader, Mrs. Ethel Gillies and Mrs. Helen Little. Two tables were set to accommodate the members and guests. Mrs. Reva Little acted as hostess for one table while Mrs. R. Knobel did the same for the other. The meal, which was served in three courses was delicious as well as nourishing. Each member could not well eat the wrong foods for this motto, "Eat what you want after you have eaten what you should," was displayed near both tables.

The demonstration for the lesson consisted in making different kinds of sandwiches. Mrs. Gillies demonstrated this very well.

A business meeting was held in the afternoon. Plans for "Achievement Day" were discussed. All the different groups of the county will meet at Caro on May 16. The Methodist church will be honored by the presence of Dr. Caroline Hedger, who will speak to the groups both afternoon and evening. Plans were also made to organize as a class for some project which will be taken up next year. Considering the fact that most of the members enrolled again and some new names were added to the list, the class is well able to say that nutrition work is a success.

After the business meeting, the lesson was presented, future assignments made, and final examinations given. The class is very grateful to the leaders, Mrs. Gillies and Mrs. Little, for their great effort in introducing and presenting nutrition work.

THIEVES BREAK INTO REESE STORE AGAIN

F. W. Kerns General Store Paid Fifth Visit in 18 Months.

The F. W. Kerns general store at Reese has proved an attractive subject of prey for thieves in late years. Tuesday night, members of the light fingered fraternity paid the fifth visit in 18 months at this store and made way with shoes and clothing valued at $300 to $400.

Entrance was gained by boring and chiseling a hole in the wall about 20 inches square, large enough to allow a man to crawl through.

The robbers apparently were leisurely in their selection of shoes, clothing, neckties and other goods. One of the gang took time to open a recently received box of shoes, hunt through it and select one pair of oxfords, size 9 1/2. The gang also showed a preference for chocolate bars, leaving other candies in the store untouched.

Saginaw police were investigating Wednesday the theory that Saginaw men were the robbers of the Kern store at Reese. Sheriff James Kirk of Tuscola county Wednesday visited police headquarters and identified as part of the Kern store loot a quantity of merchandise found in an automobile reported stolen Tuesday evening by a Saginaw man and afterward recovered. When the police recovered the car they found in it a shirt, a quantity of gum and candy, a razor and several pipes that were identified by Sheriff Kirk.

A pot luck supper was served after which the bride cut and served a beautiful wedding cake. Sets of silver and china and several pieces of money were left as gifts for the honored couple.

After singing songs among which was "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," the company departed for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Livingston many more happy years of wedded life.

Behold, One Oil King Our Flying Army Name It Newton No Mother Love, No Nation

Los Angeles.—The gasoline threat that worried the big oil men a few days ago is becoming reality. Here the price has been cut as low as 10 cents, and deeper cuts are expected. This is due to disorganized production and disorganized distribution.

Any buyer who exults in the low price of today exults prematurely. He will more than make up for it later on.

Old royalty, kings, emperors, etc., are going out. In the realm of finance kings are coming in. The American government, interested in United States prosperity, might make a careful study of Sir Henri Deterding, head of the Shell Oil company.

An able Dutchman, born in Holland, knighted by the British, with his office in London, Deterding surveys the world from the oil man's point of view, literally, as an imperial conqueror.

The other day as lowest bidder he supplied the Japanese navy with oil for a year at 64 cents a barrel, the lowest price ever quoted, and probably bought it from independent California producers for 40 or 45 cents a barrel.

California produces the oil, Japan gets the oil, Deterding gets the profit, the United States sees its oil supply diminished.

On Mather field, Sacramento, Brig. Gen. William E. Gillmore directs the maneuvers of army airplanes, greatest gathering in the history of the army air corps.

One hundred and fifty-nine army planes, from small swift pursuit planes to heavy bombing machines, are taking part in maneuvers such as would be necessary in actual war.

Men that have inspected the equipment of European armies, including France and Britain, say the "provisional wing," commanded by General Gillmore, is as efficient a unit as would be found anywhere on earth.

The small new planet whose existence was asserted by the late Professor Lowell continues to agitate scientists.

Guided by Newton's law, Professor Lowell knew that disturbances in the orbit of Uranus must be accounted for by the existence of another planet.

Officials of Lowell observatory following the new wanderer on the outskirts of our solar system, say it behaves exactly as Professor Lowell would have expected.

A distinguished French astronomer says it is too small to amount to anything, but would change his mind if it shifted its course and struck this earth in the neighborhood of the Place de la Concorde.

The Geographical Society of Mexico very sensibly suggests the name "Newton" for the new planet.

Had it not been for Newton and his law of gravitation, "directly as the mass, inversely as the square of the distance," scientists could not have known of the planet's existence.

Russia, forgetting Sparta's history, plans a human society made to order. Children, taken from their mothers in babyhood, will be raised wholesale by the state. Mothers will enter factories, and otherwise work the same as men do—or, rather, as mares do, on the farm.

Russia should remember that when a mare is valuable, and a fine horse is wanted, the mare is not put to work before the colt is born, or afterward. Sparta educated its youth; trained young men to surprise and murder the miserable Helot slaves on their way to work at sunrise, that the young men might be fierce in war. Sparta's law used iron for money, that no man might care to have much of it.

Fine theories were worked out there as in Russia, but Sparta amounted to little. Athens, where human nature was allowed to develop according to rules—not suggested by Draco or Karl Marx—produced Greek grandeur, art, literature and philosophy.

We are wound up at birth, to run in a certain way; our inborn impulses are our mainsprings, and we cannot remake ourselves. To interfere with the family, with the mother's passionate love of her children, with man's ambition, stimulated by duty to his family and reverence for his father and mother, is to insure a nation's downfall.

The government asks farmers, for their own price protection, to reduce by two million acres spring wheat planting in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Substitution of barley, rye, oats, alfalfa and sweet clover is suggested. That might help if other states reduced acreage. But it is as difficult for farmers as for others to change their habits.

Ours is a marvelous earth dwelling, far too good for those that inhabit it, except the children, spirits of light, and the very old, made humble by life's trials.

Old Language and Custom
Manx, the Gaelic tongue of the Isle of Man, in which language a new edition of the prayer book was printed in the middle of last century, is now spoken by hardly more than 100 inhabitants of the island. The titles of the laws of the island's parliament of "House of Keys" are still read each year in English and Manx from the place called Tynwald.

A great many people neglect their property because of the high cost of paint. That's what we've believed for a long time. What was to be done? We positively wouldn't sell a cheapened article because—

Only when quality is maintained can low price be considered an advantage.

So we arranged with the manufacturer of the paint we handle regularly to sell for a limited period of time—
A $4 Quality Paint for $3 a Gallon

The paint is the highest quality material that modern science can produce and by making this special proposition, we give the consuming public an opportunity to show whether or not such an offer increases interest in property protection.

We guarantee this superior quality paint to give satisfactory service for at least five years. Should it fail to do so, we will replace it free of charge.

The Children's Corner

Edited by DOROTHY EDMONDS

Many, many moons ago, by the shore of a big, blue lake, a little Indian boy was playing "warrior" one bright spring day.

"Wa oh, wa oh, wa oh, wa oh! Woach, woach, woach, ha ha, woach!" That was what little Blue Heron was shouting. What in the world do you suppose those queer words meant? The boy had often heard the shout, for it was the warwhoop of his tribe, who lived on the shore of the lake, Winnepesaukee.

Perhaps you have spent the summer at this very lake. There are houses and trolleys there now, but on that spring day when the Indian lad was playing by the shore, there were only wigwams and forests, and no white man had ever been there.

"I will make a bow from this big tree," said Blue Heron to himself when he was tired of playing warrior. It was a big maple, and of course he could not have cut it down with his little flint knife. But the little knife was new, for the old arrowmaker, had given it to Blue Heron that very day, and the Indian boy liked to play that he was cutting down the tree to make a bow. He had used bows and arrows ever since he was able to walk, as all the Indian boys did. So he made a hole in the trunk of the maple. It was not a very big hole, but little Blue Heron was tired when he finished his work, and sat down to rest.

Mish Queey, as the Indians called the red-headed woodpecker was flying about, tapping at the trees, hunting for worms, under the bark. When he came to this tree he did not tap on it, but clung to the edge of the hole, and, yes, he was drinking!

"Can't you find any worms, Mish Queey?" asked Blue Heron. Then he saw that the woodpecker seemed to have found water. Blue Heron was so amazed that he ran up close to the tree and so scared the woodpecker away. He peeped into the hole, and, sure enough, there was water in it!

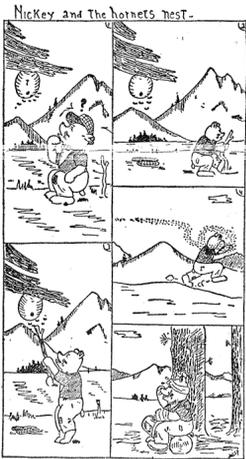

"Nut nip," said little Blue Heron. That was his Indian way of saying, "I will drink." He tasted the water.

"Wek onny su!" he cried in delight. "It is sweet!" How surprised he was! For the Indians in New Hampshire had never known anything about maple sap before. Blue Heron drank and he drank. The sap came so slowly that it made him thirsty to wait for it.

It was almost dark before Blue Heron could tear himself away from that delightful tree. Then he made a basket of birch bark, with a handle (even the littlest Indians knew how to do these things), and filled it with some sap and ran home to his wigwam and gave it to his father.

"Ugh! ugh!" said his father, "wek onny nip! Wek onny nip!" And he liked it so much that he drank it all

IF THEY DID

Everyone should look and speak, and try to be like me, and eat and walk and act the same. How good I'd have to be!

up, every drop! And that is the story the Indians tell of the discovery of the maple sap. For when little Blue Heron's father told the rest of the tribe, and they tried it, too, they were so pleased that they gave Blue Heron more bows and arrows and knives than he could ever use. And the Indians all went to work tapping the maple trees, and drinking the "sweet water." For that is what "wek onny nip" means!

TOYS FROM CORNSTALKS

Cornstalks cut into even lengths make very excellent toys for building. They should be notched at the ends so that when placed on top of each other they will stay in place, and the stalks cut in half make flat timber for roofs, fences, etc. Very nice farm animals can be made from pieces of the stalks of irregular sizes as the picture shows.

Why we waited 6 months to announce this new oil to the public...

Last October, after a year of research, a new type motor oil was perfected. Announcement of it was delayed 6 months to give it the most thorough tests possible in actual use.

We can now definitely make the following statements:

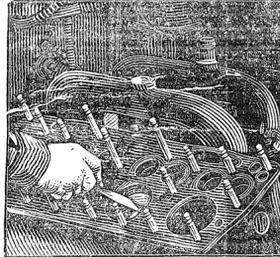

1. New Iso-Vis means less wear on every moving part of the automobile engine.
2. It does not "thin out" with use.
3. It gives effective lubrication over a wider range of temperatures—both high and low.
4. It means a radical reduction of carbon deposits—far less than in most premium-priced oils.

With New Iso-Vis you get a type of lubrication that has not been possible before, regardless of the kind of oil you have used.

This improved New Iso-Vis Motor Oil is now on sale at all Standard Oil dealers and service stations.

HUNDREDS of cars, of practically every make and model, were used in road tests under the toughest conditions possible, to prove the superior value of New Iso-Vis as a motor lubricant. These rigid tests were successful even beyond our expectations. The 4 points at the right give the details.

SAVE THE EXPENSE and bother of carbon removal. Again, thorough tests and experiments have proved that New Iso-Vis has less tendency toward carbon residue than other oils.

THE BACK YARD GARDENER

Start Annuals in Wide, Shallow Boxes

The season is now at hand to start those annuals wanted for early effect in the garden, particularly to transplant into tulip beds to give color in place of the yellowing leaves of the bulbs. While it may be a little too early for the cold frame or hotbed in the northern states, the seed box in a sunny window may do its duty effectively.

Start ten weeks stocks, salvias and verbenas for early bloom. Snapdragons also can be got going to good advantage as they require a longer growing season before coming into full beauty than many annuals.

Give them plenty of air. Cover the boxes with glass until germination starts. Then see that the glass is raised sufficiently to admit plenty of air. Do not place in full sun with the glass over them closely. They are likely to be scalded.

Bake the earth and sift finely before planting the seeds. Place the rough material over a layer of little stones or broken flower pot in the bottom of the box and the fine soil above this. Firm before planting the and practical process. Too much water is death to seedlings. Keep them moist but not wet.

Turn the boxes from day to day so the seedlings will not grow one-sided stretching to the light.

The usual seed box used in the florists' trade is technically known as a "flat." This means a wide, shallow box. About three inches deep or even less is the usual size. Boxes from the grocery can be sawed down readily for this purpose or they can be manufactured. It is best to make them, for better lumber is put into them and they will last for several seasons.

Even with hotbeds or cold frames the seed box usually is brought into use either to set into the frames or for starting seeds indoors especially of plants which need close watching to regulate temperature and moisture.

Under the general term of garden frames are included the hotbed, the cold frame, and the small seed frames. There is no more useful adjunct to successful gardening and, once installed, a gardener wonders how he ever got along without one. They are fundamentally merely a wooden frame to support glass, sash being made in standard sizes to fit the usual 3 by 6-foot unit and now they are made in half size for convenience in handling.

Try some new annuals this year. There is an unusually fine selection of new things and old favorites that have been brought back into circulation from which to select.

Seeds Started in Boxes Will Be Ready to Transplant in Place of Tulips.

The Soil in Seed Boxes Should Be Firmed Before Planting the Seeds.

seed. On cold nights move the seed box away from the window. The boxes do not need sun until the seeds begin to germinate. They may be kept in any convenient place until the sprouts begin to show, but at this time they must be moved to the light.

Don't sow too thickly. Sow thinly and sow in rows. The seed box can be ruled off into rows an inch or half inch apart and it will be much easier to transplant from rows with less loss than if you have to dig into a thick and broadcast planting.

TAKE IT FROM DAD

By Frank H. Cheley

How to Get the Job You Want and Keep It

"Dad, we had a peach of a speaker at our assembly today, on the 'High Cost of Loafing.' Set us all to thinking that perhaps we aren't as industrious as we ought to be and that, as he said, 'killing time is suicide.' So, I'm looking for a job! But the trouble is, how's a fellow going to get the job he wants—and then keep it?"

Mr. Smithough laughed outright, "Bob, I hope your streak of industry has come to stay. I think myself it's about time you began to cash some of your spare time both from the standpoint of learning to work, which is a very real accomplishment, as well as from the standpoint of financial return. College days are not so far away, and boy, they do take cash. Undoubtedly, one of the outstanding characteristics of successful men is that somewhere, sometime, they learned to work. These days we hear a good deal about 'lucky breaks' and 'pull' and all the rest but let me tell you one thing now; things in this world never just happen. There is always a reason for everything; so with successful accomplishment. It is not the result of lucky breaks; it is not a thing of chance except in the movies. It comes to men, only because they work hard and intelligently for it and along legitimate lines.

"Now, as I understand it, you want to know what your prospects are; how to get a truly desirable job, and then how to keep it. Well, as you know, I have some rather definite convictions along those very lines and I don't mind in the least sharing them with you—not by way of advice, however, but by way of observations—then you go to it and try them out for yourself. However, let me say positively that it is tremendously important that you do some thinking about jobs in general before you set out to hunt one in particular. Bear in mind that it is the potentiality of your job which should make it attractive, not necessarily the pay check. What are you learning while you are earning is the important point. Many men pay mighty dearly for their pay checks in what they learn in bad morals and wrong attitudes.

"The second point I'd like to get fixed in your mind is that if possible there should be some definite connection between the work you seek and the thing you are aiming at doing ultimately. One would not be going to an engineering school to learn to become a doctor nor working in a hospital if he hoped to become a great mechanical engineer. There must be some consistency.

"The third point is this: Success and wealth are not one and the same thing. In past years we have had a perfect deluge of success literature and it has left an entirely wrong impression. Every normal man of course desires to make a good living—that is entirely legitimate, but let's make a good life first—useful, creative, in some realm and dedicated to the improvement of mankind. No other sort of a life is legitimate. Get a definite purpose established. Bob, and then set out to make school and job and reading and travel and friends and contacts all help you accomplish that purpose. Apparently your work is going to be some sort of human engineering—your job people rather than things. You seem to be dominated with altruistic motives. So let's find a job that will cast you with folks; meeting people; serving people; in some capacity rather than cleaning machinery or keeping books or driving a car. One of the cardinal principles of finding the right job and keeping it lies in finding work which interests you. Having found a job that fits into your scheme of things and that interests and challenges you, then give it the very best you have.

"Of course you will have to begin at the bottom. Don't expect to be made vice president of the concern in a week merely because you're good looking! Determination, loyalty, integrity and perseverance are the factors in holding a desirable job after you get one. The same stuff it takes to get a desirable job it takes to hold one. "Never work for any man to whom you cannot be loyal, personally, and to the standards of his business as well. To be efficient you must maintain always your own self-respect. "Give full hours and an extra good measure always. The minute you begin working by the clock you join that vast army of folks who have no future in anything because they are 'getters' instead of 'givers.' Besides, the most common type of dishonesty today is 'stealing time.' When you make another contract with yourself to do better than is necessary, then you will love your work and your work will prosper amazingly.

"Now, Bob, about finding the job—that's up to you; a test of your own ingenuity and perseverance."

"In other words, Dad, it's strictly up to me, eh—all I get from you is some sound advice and your moral support?"

"That's it, boy, what more do you want, being a Smithough?"

TAKE IT FROM DAD

By Frank H. Cheley

The Boys of Today and of Yesterday.

Dad Smithough laid down his evening paper and turned rather sharply to Bob who was busy with his lessons in his accustomed corner.

"Bob, what ails you boys at school? Seems to me the papers are just full of one fool escapade after another. Here the council is advocating more policemen and a nine o'clock curfew to keep you young rowdies going straight. A half dozen expelled last week; three stolen autos the night of the concert and now two more of you have 'tired of the restraints of home' and have started to see the world on five dollars apiece."

Bob looked sheepish in spite of himself. The principal had had several recent special assemblies. The chief of police had talked to the student body and things were badly upset.

"Dad, it's not so good I know. Seems to come in streaks like dog days. Those kids aren't bad. They just get crazy. Thank goodness I missed it all this time but don't know how it happened. Dad, are modern kids worse than old-fashioned kids? I've been wondering. I know from what Mother's told me and Uncle Ed that you were no saint yourself, but things do sort of seem to get a bit raw at times."

Dad Smithough considered while he pursed his lips a bit. "It's just a bit complicated and hard to understand, Bob, just what has happened. Things are different, no doubt about it, and whether for better or worse seems quite debatable. You know mighty well I'm not one of those old fogies always sighing for the 'good old days.' The old days that we hear so much about, good or bad, are gone never to come again because we live in a totally different world. All down the line there has been a sort of stripping off of the superfluities; a return to the almost primitive in every realm. People, even you boys, have been doing a lot of thinking and you seem to be challenging a good many old ideas, customs, conventions and prejudices. Certain it is, too, there is a new freedom, less convention, less prescribed ways, less respect for super-imposed authority and so it isn't strange that youth which for thousands of years was to be seen and not heard has suddenly emerged to be both seen and heard, much to the discomfort and concern of your elders—experimenting with conduct much as you do with chemicals in your chemistry to see just what will happen when this is mixed with that.

"Parents and society, Bob, first startled, dismayed, concerned, are now looking on with not a little fear in their hearts at the outcome but helpless to stay the new day. The newspaper with its never-ending array of out-of-the-ordinary crime and immorality, the stage, the modern magazine, the movie, fashion, have all made utter frankness their program. Boys are being forced to see and hear a lot that was forbidden before and then there is the automobile. Reserve has been cast to the four winds and we modern parents are a good deal like the hen who, when she saw her adopted family of ducks sailing serenely away on the water, screamed and cackled and scolded for them to come back, but they would not for they were certain they could both swim and fly and that by themselves.

"Bob, your Mother and I know full well that you and all like you have escaped permanently from the artificial, superficial props and barriers of 'yesterday.' You are on your own as we never were. The question is: Will you be able to stand your freedom and liberty? Will you, with such help and encouragement as we will be able to give you from the 'shore,' be able to develop new resources of reliance and integrity which will stabilize your characters. Youth today and youth of yesterday are fundamentally the same, no better, no worse. It is the TIMES which have changed. Essentially all boys are inherently good, healthy, vigorous, active.

"Avoid being cheap; keep yourself hard with vigorous activity and determine to accomplish the impossible in every realm!

"The youngsters of yesterday did not dare to even think the things that are your common thought because of fear. To have acted as many of you now act would have been a family disgrace and could not be tolerated. The boy of only two generations ago was personal property belonging body and soul to his father whose one object in life was to conform his son to social custom and standard. Today you are a free individuality, a great privilege and a great responsibility! The future will hold you responsible for your heritage. You live in a new and daring and terrible but epic age. Your world is a neighborhood. In many many ways you are wonderful. We believe in you. We expect great things from you. You have the raw material. Do not disappoint us."

"Why Dad, then you think we aren't such a bad lot after all. Why the chief of police said—"

"Bob, be true to the best that is in you and you'll make us older men seem like a lot of pikers. I'm for you boy, and you know it!"

A man's personality is of greater value than his purse.

If you expect young people to take to your religion, do not make it look like castor oil.

This is a funny world. Prophets are stoned in dishonor, and then humanity sets up stones in their honor.

SCRUBS EAT THEIR HEADS OFF.

"One day at the National Dairy Show, a city-bred chap and his best girl came along to see the exhibit on dairy-herd-improvement - association work. I judged that he was a city-bred chap from some of the remarks he made, and that she was his best girl from some of the remarks they both made.

These young folks became very much interested in one of the pictures that showed some scrub cows pasturing in a beautiful field of clover. The cows were headless and the picture was entitled: "They ate their heads off."

After studying the picture for some time, the young man remarked: "I don't get that. I don't see how cows can eat their heads off."

"Oh," replied the young lady, "don't you understand that? It means that they don't produce enough milk to pay for their feed."

"Well," remarked the young man, "that is pretty good, isn't it?" And then they passed on.

When they were gone, one of the department specialists remarked: "That young man had better freeze on to that young lady—he needs her."

Cows that eat their heads off should be fed neither up nor down; they should be put out. A very good way to avoid the danger of a surplus of dairy products in this country is to dispose of low-producing cows.—The Farm Journal.

Doomed to Fail

A St. Louis woman asks divorce because her husband is too stingy to buy her a washboard. A short-sighted policy, it seems to us; anybody ought to see at a glance the investment possibilities of a strong woman with a washboard. Our prediction is that man will never become rich.—Kansas City Star.

MORE SCHOOLS ENTER CONTESTS

Many more schools have entered musical organizations in the district music contests to be held in Lapeer on Friday, April 11, according to a list made public by E. E. Irwin, district chairman. Over 900 boys and girls will participate.

The only school to enter Class A is North Branch. Their band will compete in this class. The largest number of entries come in Class C. In this class Algonac has entered five of the contests; Imlay City has entered three, the girls' glee club, the orchestra and the solo work, North Branch has entered the orchestra work in this class; Brown City has entered the band and girls' glee club contests; Dryden has entered their band and Almont has entered the band and solo contests. Other schools to be represented will be Orion, Bad Axe, Marlette, St. Clair, Sandusky, Vassar and Cass City. Yale has entered a band in Class D.

Lapeer will compete with Caro in Class B. Both schools have organizations entered in the girls' glee club contests, in the mixed chorus contests and in the solo work. Lapeer has entered a group in the band contests and Caro has entered a unit in the boys' glee club work. The two schools will be unopposed in the last two contests.

Classes are grouped according to student enrollment. Class A includes those schools having over 600 students enrolled, Class B from 250 to 599, Class C up to 250. Class D includes such schools as have organized musical units within the past year. They can only be classed as such in the district contests, however. A school may choose to compete in a higher class but not in a lower one, says Mr. Irwin.

Winners of the district meet will take part in the state meet on May 2 and 3. The Lapeer meet will be one of five district meets to be held in the state at this time.

Lapeer is entering the contest with some new features. With the purchase of many new instruments this spring and the added interest which has been aroused, the Senior Band should make a reasonably good showing, thinks Ivan Weidemaier, director.—Lapeer Press.

FISHING LICENSES IN HANDS OF COUNTY CLERKS

All county clerks and other license agents for the Department of Conservation will have a supply of 1936 resident trout and non-resident fishing licenses by today.

The licenses are now being mailed out from the Department's offices at Lansing together with copies of the 1936 Digest of Fishing Laws.

This year the resident trout license button is white on a flaming red background. The non-resident license is white with a gray background.

The resident trout license, which must be obtained by all resident persons over 18 years of age, costs $1. The non-resident license which permits the taking of all species of fish during the respective open seasons, costs $3. Before this year two classes of non-resident licenses were issued; one for the taking of all species except trout and bass and costing $2, and one for the taking of all species, costing $5.

Konjola Puts Speedy End to Neuritis Pains

Other Ailments Also Conquered by This New and Different Medicine.

Be of good cheer, you who suffer from the cruel pangs of neuritis and fear there is nothing to help you. Read the words of Mrs. J. Dangel.

Mrs. J. Dangel.

315 South Tenth street, Saginaw, who says: "I certainly owe Konjola a debt of gratitude, for it put an end to the tortures of neuritis which for months had been almost unbearable. Konjola also cleansed and stimulated my entire system, so that today I feel better than I have in years. My troubles started three years ago, when my stomach and kidneys failed me. My back was lame and I had to be up many times at night. Then the neuritis set in, and suffering I endured was terrible. Then Konjola came to my relief. After taking five bottles I was feeling fine. The neuritis was gone, and my stomach and kidneys were working normally. What a medicine Konjola is."

No wonder Konjola wins such victories, for it is really 32 medicines in one, and of these 32 ingredients 22 are the juices of roots and herbs long known for their medicinal value.

Konjola is sold in Cass City, Mich., at Burke's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Advertisement. 4-11
