Miss Mary C. Moore of Colling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Moore of Cass City, and Willard Fader of Detroit were united in marriage on Wednesday evening, Aug. 13, at the home of the bride in Colling. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mrs. Ward is a sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Fader left on a lake trip and are visiting relatives in Pontiac and Detroit. The bridal couple stole a march on their Colling friends, many of whom were unaware of the marriage until several days after the event had taken place. Co. Treasurer McDurmon Has $4,402 in the Escheat Fund to Divide Among Missing Heirs

Orlo J. McDurmon, treasurer of Tuscola county, has $4,402.56 in his hands awaiting its owners. The money has been in his hands for some time. In fact, most of it has been in the Tuscola county treasury for many years and a great deal of it is likely to remain there for many years to come.

This money has accumulated from estates in which no heirs are known or where the whereabouts of heirs cannot be ascertained by the probate court. In these instances, the portion of the inheritance which cannot be placed in the hands of its rightful owners is placed into the county fund known as the escheats fund.

At the present time, there is money in this fund from 16 estates, ranging from $1,542.62 in one estate down to $1.00 in each of three others. Here are the names of the estates and the amount of money to be distributed in each:

CHASE S. OSBORN GAVE ADDRESS AT MAYVILLE

Tuscola county was host last week to a candidate for the United States Senate in the person of Chase S. Osborn, former governor, who addressed the Mayville Assembly Thursday night.

Fulfilling a promise to speak made before he knew he was to be a candidate, Mr. Osborn came not as a politician but as a friend eager to serve those who had honored him with their invitation, as he said.

He packed an entire evening's thought into a 40-minute talk on "Indiana." Drawing on his deep study and personal travels, he marched India's historic pageant before his hearers, pictured her present distress, exploitation and struggle for liberty. He forecast the day when freed of her masters and social ills, she would rise to greater heights.

Mr. Osborn, who will speak over Station WJR Friday at 10:00 p. m., during the campaign, has assailed Senator Couzens' record of "individualism" as well as his attacks on the administration at Washington, especially Senator Couzens' vote against Chief Justice Hughes and his opposition to several of President Hoover's nation-wide programs.

MICHIGAN STEPS OUT AS T-B FREE STATE

Farm Interests Plan Celebration Banquet at M. S. C. on September 19.

A "celebration" banquet, in recognition of Michigan's recent designation as a modified accredited area, free from tuberculosis in its dairy cattle, will be held at Michigan State College on September 19.

Agricultural interests cooperating in staging the "T-B Free" meeting include: the Michigan department of agriculture; the U. S. department of agriculture; the Michigan Farm Bureau; Michigan State College; the U. S. livestock exchange, and many other organizations. Men of national reputation in the livestock and animal disease world are scheduled to speak at the banquet.

Michigan is said to be the first dairy state to be given the accredited ranking. North Carolina and Maine are two other states already accredited, but both have but a relatively small number of dairy cattle. Accreditation means that bovine tuberculosis infection has been reduced to less than one-half of one per cent for the entire state.

Tuberculosis eradication work was started in Michigan in 1917, according to E. L. Anthony, head of the M. S. C. dairy department. Since that time 185,000 herds numbering more than 1,500,000 head have been tested, with 58,324 reactors found and slaughtered during this time.

Aside from the health value to consumers of milk, dairy cattle from accredited areas are said to command higher prices. Professor Anthony estimates the value of dairy cattle sold from Michigan to other dairy centers at $1,500,000 annually. The demand for Michigan cattle because the state is known to be relatively free from tuberculosis has been great, increasing the value of Michigan's dairy cattle at least 25 per cent, according to Prof. Anthony.

SAWS BARS OF TUSCOLA COUNTY JAIL WINDOW

Steve Sikorn, 28, held at the Tuscola county jail for Detroit officers, came near making his escape from the county stronghold the first of the week. Sikorn had worked part of one night in sawing bars at one of the windows at the northeast side of the jail. Officers found two steel saw blades in the prisoner's possession, one of which had not yet been in use. Turnkey Hutchinson is of the opinion that another night's work would have been sufficient for Sikorn to complete his job.

Two of the outside bars were recently sawed, and as it seems impossible to reach these from the inside of the jail, it looks as though Sikorn had a friend who was busy on the outside while he was at work inside the jail.

Sikorn was arrested by Deputy Milliken on Aug. 16, on a farm south of Wahjamega, for Detroit officers. He is charged with participating in an armed hold-up. Three were engaged in the job, it is said, one of whom was killed and another given a long prison term. Sikorn was turned over to Detroit officers, who came for him Tuesday. They have been looking for him for several months.

SURRENDER OIL LEASES IN FOUR TOWNSHIPS

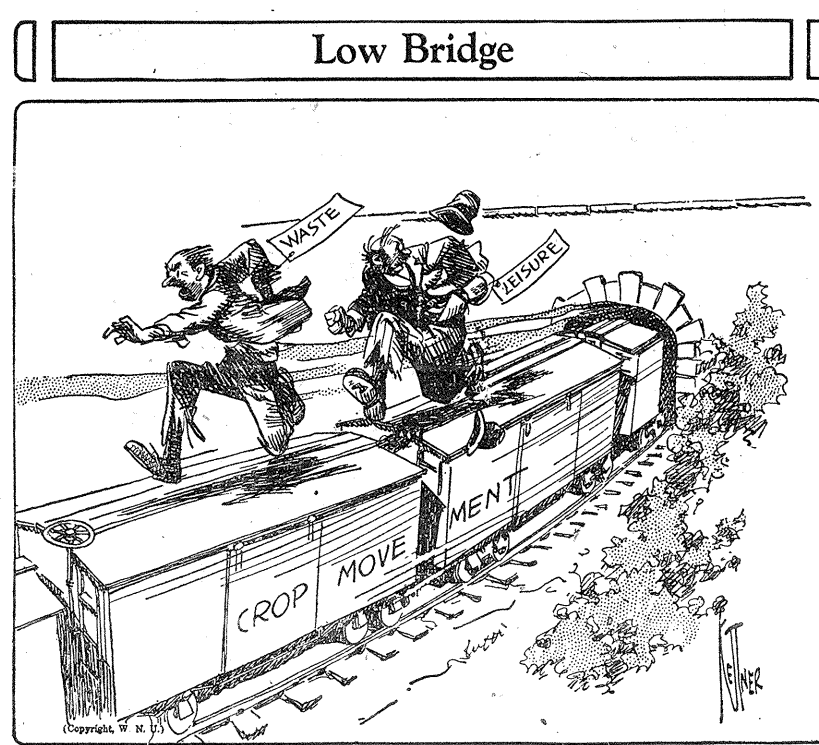

Stanley Osborn, register of deeds, has received 67 discharges of oil leases to record in the books in his office. This surrender of leases came from the Pure Oil Co., with headquarters in Saginaw. Apparently the company does not view Arbel, Dayton, Tuscola and Denmark townships as favorable oil fields for all land covered by these leases is situated in that section of Tuscola county. Two of these leases were on land in Arbel, 39 in Dayton, 15 in Tuscola and 4 in Denmark townships.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS SCHOOL WITH AQUARIUM

The Senior class of 1930 has voted to purchase an aquarium, costing approximately $100, for the high school agricultural department. The aquarium holds 74 gallons of water and will be used to hold live specimens of fish, etc. This will enable the students of the zoology classes to observe the life of such things as snails, which they could not have done otherwise. G. H. Burke has offered some fish for the collection.

Willis Campbell, local agricultural teacher, says that the aquarium will be the finest thing of that sort in this part of the state.

M. S. C. COMMENTS ON THE WHEAT SITUATION

Suggestions Offered Michigan Growers in View of National Crop Conditions.

Suggestions for Michigan growers on meeting the wheat situation have been issued by a special committee from the agricultural division at the Michigan State College, as part of an extensive report written following a special "wheat" conference held at Indianapolis, Indiana, recently.

The report on the national conference indicates that "extensive adjustment in wheat growing, including substantial reduction in cost per bushel, must be made if wheat production is to be profitable to growers generally during the next six to ten years." Lowered consumption of wheat per capita and "intensive competition in world markets" are among reasons mentioned for the present situation. The world situation is said to point to "a lower level of prices in the next six to ten years than has prevailed in the past seven years."

Among the definite suggestions for Michigan growers are:

(1) Farm storage—Present conditions at terminals have caused too large a spread between cash prices at loading point and futures.

(2) Feeding—U. S. D. A. reports "with 79 per cent corn, wheat as a feed is worth about 85 cents for feeding to poultry and sheep and about 89 cents for feeding to hogs and beef cattle."

(3) Crop Alternatives—Farmers may well consider the possibilities of producing more alfalfa, corn, barley, oats and the improvement of pastures in high cost wheat areas. In general the production of more feed crops may be desirable.

All methods proposed for meeting the situation, however, which involve the readjustment of the crop and livestock enterprises should be considered in view of their effect upon the returns from the farm business as a whole.

SPEAKS HIGHLY OF VOCATIONAL WORK HERE

E. E. Gallup, supervisor of agricultural education in Michigan, speaks very highly of the vocational project work at the Cass City High School. In a letter to Willis Campbell, instructor in agriculture here, Mr. Gallup says: "I have just finished looking over your 13 student project reports, their summary upon Form 21, and your financial summary."

"This is one of the three best sets of reports that have come in this year. Your reports are neat, complete and 100% accurate. Your net project income of $3,423.90 is a good showing for your town. This probably could be made considerably higher if you had the boys report all of their projects. Your stories are well written and reflect the splendid work you are doing with the boys in your community. Your instructor's comments are helpful and interpret some things to the state supervisor that he would not know if you did not give the instructor's comments. We shall take pride again this year in showing the project reports of Cass City to other state supervisors, members of the Federal Board and other agricultural teachers who want to see some real vocational project work."

VIEW INTERESTING POINTS ON TRIP

Mrs. Bertha Brown and son, Frederick, reached Cass City Tuesday evening, after having spent two weeks at the home of Robert C. Brown at Albuquerque, New Mexico. They, with Mrs. Christina Olson of Detroit and Mrs. Oakley Phetteplace of Ypsilanti, left New Mexico last Friday morning, thus making the trip in about five days. The route led along the Santa Fe trail to Kansas City, then through St. Louis, Missouri, across the state of Illinois, through Indianapolis, Ind., and then to Michigan.

The trip, Mrs. Brown states, was a wonderful one but many places of interest could not be visited because of the brevity of time. Part of the party were, however, able to visit the Grand Canyon which, although about 15 miles wide, shows its opposite side very plainly. Other points which they visited included the oldest known well (388 years) located in the Santa Fe mountains and a petrified forest where are located vast deposits of agatized wood, ranging in size from those resembling marbles to trees more than 300 feet in length. The forest is about 250 miles west of Albuquerque, where Mr. Brown resides. A point at the rim of the Sandia mountains claimed much attention, for from this place, one can see four hundred miles in one direction and into four states in another direction. A scenic drive along the Rio Grande canyon proved very thrilling and the Painted Desert with its beautifully colored cliffs of many contrasting hues and vivid coloring defies description. The houses of the poorer class of people in that section of the country are made of adobe—mud and straw made into brick—which are piled up until the desired height is reached.

Mrs. Brown was much pleased to find her son in much better health than she expected. During their stay in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Brown and children, Betty and Bobby, moved from their cottage in the mountains to a home in the city of Albuquerque. The Michigan group drove a total of over 5,000 miles in the three weeks in which they were gone.

The next reunion will be held at the same place. Relatives and friends were present from Detroit, Oscoda, Almont, Deford, Capac, Armada, Romeo, Elkton, Flint, Akron, Marlette, Morgan, Washington, Allentown, Cass City, Port Huron, Crosswell and Ohio.

Those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. Jason Kitchin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kitchin and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kitchin.

FINE DISPLAYS AND TIP-TOP ATTRACTIONS

Cass City Fair a Success in Exhibits and Entertainment Features.

The unanimity of opinion of the thousands in attendance at the Cass City Fair last week is that they were well pleased with the fine line of exhibits and the excellent entertainment features. Many favorable comments are heard in praise of the exposition. With harvest work well out of the way, farmers found it convenient to spare the time to go to the fair and it was well attended. City folks who make this an opportunity to visit their old home town and community were also here in great numbers.

Sun Bros. Show presented fine entertainment features in their excellent animal acts and acrobatic numbers. At no fair here has there been more numerous or a greater variety of free attraction numbers given. The Bad Axe Band furnished music during the fair. Not only was their offering good in quality, but the organization was most generous with their numbers.

Exhibits in all departments were well displayed and of fine quality. The excellent showing of live stock caused a great number of complimentary remarks. In the open classes, Frank Kinch of Grindstone City exhibited sheep; David Murphy of Cass City, Shorthorn cattle and sheep; Ray Erard of Deckerville, Ayrshire cattle; Harry Crandell, sheep; and Bonibek Farms, Berkshire swine. These were the exhibitors who presented the larger showings of live stock.

The club exhibits, as usual, attracted a great deal of attention. On the whole, the good calves exhibited were a shade better than those of a year ago.

In the club classes, Jim Milligan showed an Angus which took the honors as grand champion steer. Lynn Spencer exhibited a Hereford steer which crowded the Angus for first position. Audley Horner showed the grand champion Holstein. This animal created some stir a few years ago in being an airplane passenger from Detroit to the Cleveland stock show. The best dairy calf exhibited was an Ayrshire owned by Grover Hulbert. This calf was a grand champion Ayrshire at the state fair last year.

Merritt Allen's showy Jersey attracted a lot of attention. She will be exhibited at the Detroit fair next month.

For the first time, members of the Cass City Live Stock Club showed sheep at the Cass City Fair. It was a very good exhibit. Oxfords displayed here will go to the state fair. Alison Milligan exhibited the best Chester White gilt here.

George Taylor of the Michigan State College, judged the club stock at Cass City last week. He said the Holsteins here were above the average and there were at least three outstanding individuals. These were a two-year-old owned by Audley Horner, a three-year-old owned by Clarence Merchant, and David Knight's senior calf.

In the floral hall, the ladies found many exhibits of needlework that claimed their attention. Entries in Turn to page 5

VOGT REUNION.

It was decided to hold the 1931 reunion at the Mrs. Levi Vogt home in Fowler. Out of town guests left for their homes late in the afternoon, and a good time was reported by all.

Race Drivers DEMAND the TIRES WE SELL!

THE Indianapolis 500 Mile Endurance Race is famous as an endurance test and battle of tires for no driver can win this race who has tire trouble. He races over a hot brick track at a speed of 100 or more miles per hour. For eleven consecutive years Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have been on the winning cars.

FOR years the winner of the hazardous race of Pike's Peak climb—where a slip meant death—used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

1. THESE drivers do not simply choose Firestone Tires. They demand them. They know by experience that this tire never fails. It never fails because it is built not to fail by the special Firestone processes of tire building.

(a) Every fibre of cotton thread going into the making of the cord fabric, which is the foundation of the tire, is coated and cushioned in rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process.

(b) Under the tread is the Firestone patented Gum-Dipped Double Cord Breaker—which means not only two extra plies where most needed, but also sets the Firestone Tire apart as an all cord tire, while others are woven fabric and cord.

(c) Firestone Super High Speed Tires now have 32% more rubber in the tread, giving deeper grooves that will give you over 50% more non-skid wear before the tire is smooth.

2. THESE are not just features. They are basic differences in tire building proved by service on every kind of road and track.

3. YOU may never intend to race. You may never intend even to speed. You may never climb Pike's Peak. But, every day—whether you know it or not—your life depends upon your tires.

4. WE HAVE these Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloons for sale today. They are the same tires that the racing drivers demand—the premier tires of the world. Their first cost is low. Their cost per mile of service makes them cheaper today than even cheap tires. They are inexpensive, not only because the price of rubber is low, but because we have joined with Firestone to bring into the sale of tires the same degree of efficiency which goes into their manufacture. The benefit of all this is in the price to you.

5. DRIVE IN TODAY. We will examine your tires and make you an allowance for your unused mileage. We can equip your car with new Firestone Super High Speed Tires at a much lower cost than you ever expected. They will give you unequalled service and satisfaction.

TRADE IN YOUR USED TIRES TODAY!

BACK TO SCHOOL.

The fat ones, and the lean ones, the first grader, the eighth grader, and the high school senior, the fast learners and those who do not learn so fast—soon the entire varied group of school children will be gathering for the first class of the new school year. With them will be borne the hopes of fathers and mothers, solicitous for the welfare of their youngsters, and the most anxious that they make good showings in their class work.

Nevertheless it can be predicted that a certain number of children will not do well in school, much as their parents may worry and their teachers give them special attention. Some will just barely slip by with a passing grade; others, failing, will be required to repeat the class another year.

At one time these lagging students were disregarded by the thought that they were born slow-minded, and that nothing could be done about it. More lately expert classroom studies have shown that many cases of poor scholarship are due solely to the presence in the child of handicapping physical defects. For example, a study made in Cass Technical High School, Detroit, has demonstrated the fact that seventy per cent of the academic failures there were due to correctible defects.

In the light of this knowledge, there should be no doubts about the course to be followed by parents who want to give their children a fair chance in school. Defects such as diseased tonsils or adenoids, abscessed teeth, and imperfect vision should be corrected immediately, while sufficient time remains before the opening of school. Parents of children in the kindergarten and first grade are advised by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to be particularly on the lookout for these physical troubles, since they are most common among the children just entering school.

A physical inspection by a doctor is the most certain method of uncovering these bodily imperfections. Not only is such an inspection likely to help smooth the child's path through school, but early correction of the defects it may reveal will eliminate the danger later in life of serious ailments in the development of which these very defects, insignificant as they seem, are important factors.

ATTRACTIVE ROADSIDE STANDS.

The natural scenery of a state is one of its important assets. Tourists like to spend their vacations in regions of natural beauty. So a state should preserve the beauty of its scenery, as a feature that constitutes a great attraction to visitors.

Many states have permitted some of their finest scenery to be marred, by the succession of unattractive little roadside stands that have developed along certain automobile routes. The automobile driving public has to buy a lot of food and tourist supplies, and consequently the furnishing of this material has become an important business. It makes a big difference whether the various roadside stands that cater to these people are neat and attractive and artistic, or whether they are disorderly and unattractive.

People who undertake to run such places should realize that they will get a lot more business, if they give their stands a pleasing appearance. A disorderly one holds out no hope of good eats. An artistic one suggests that the food and drink will be clean and sanitary and well made, and refresh the traveller on his way.

A hot dog stand can be made a thing of beauty as well as anything else. Neat painting of woodwork, planting of vines and flowers and shrubs, give an impression of taste and thoroughness that pleases the traveller. Too many advertising signs stuck around also give the impression of disorder. If you please the eye of the tourist, he will give you a chance to please the inner man.

The word "community" comes from a French word meaning "common." It expresses the idea that the people living there have things in common, that they are all interested in the same aims, and are working together to accomplish them. A community goes ahead where a mere town stands still.

Few towns gain population through peddlers.

This Week

by ARTHUR BRISBANE

Mr. Coolidge Sees Hope Hawks, Champion Flyer Surprising Barbarians Mr. Hoover Will Work

Mr. Coolidge, writing for a newspaper syndicate, observes the educational effects of modern inventions. "Now all kinds of cars with people from all sections are circulating all over the country. Another important influence is the radio. A third is the motion picture. These influences have supplemented the schoolhouse in banishing ignorance."

On the other hand, these new inventions do not appear to have increased mental concentration. It is what the individual thinks in solitude, not what he gazes at in a crowd, that makes him worth while. Milton, Roger Bacon in his blindness in prison, Bunyan in jail, Voltaire and Mirabeau in the prison of the Bastille, developed excellent ideas. Life should not be spent with the radio turned on or the automobile engine "purring" always.

According to the police, Chinese "tong" men in New York are learning racketeer methods from the West. Gentlemen of one tong sometimes kill gentlemen of another tong, and hitherto each tong has done its own killing.

It isn't so among modern gangsters and racketeers. They hire somebody, usually a youthful cocaine victim, to do the killing, and put the doomed man "on the spot." The killer shoots, not knowing the name of his victim or why he is killed.

Following this excellent idea, New York's On Leon Tong hired two young white men to murder seven enemies of a rival tong. The white youths told the police. Three Chinese and one Filipino arrested, six guns, several hundred rounds of ammunition seized.

Robert Kronfeld, Austrian glider flyer, betters his own world record, gliding 94 miles in a storm. Others feared to glide in such weather, but Kronfeld went up, "hooked on to a little cloud," as he put it, and carried by the wind that carried the cloud, he went sweeping 94 miles over the mountains.

No wonder gliding attracts romantic youth! Who would have dreamed a few years ago, looking at the clouds, that a man would go up on a frail board, "hook on" to one of the clouds and sail with it?

Captain Hawks is now the world's champion flyer, and has beaten all records across this continent westward and back again.

Flying from Los Angeles to New York in 12½ hours, he beat Colonel Lindbergh's record by 2½ hours, and his engine was never "wide open."

Describing how he "loped along at 250 miles an hour" between Albuquerque and Wichita before a tail wind, he said he hoped to make the crossing in shorter time later this fall when conditions are better. Three thousand miles in twelve and a half hours is not bad. At that rate of speed, you could fly around the world in less than five days. Jules Verne never thought of that.

Having given the Afridis twenty-four hours' notice, the British air men bomb their defense towers and many houses, knocking them down as children would overturn a house of sand.

The barbarians were surprised to see how one small bomb could destroy what they considered "an impregnable fortress."

What will happen to western civilization if the barbarians decide to build planes for their own use? What would happen if our highly civilized friends of Asia decided to stop fighting each other and attack through the air somebody in the West?

President Hoover gives up his western vacation trip, much needed, to remain in Washington for the rest of the hot season, directing the drought relief campaign.

The trip to the Glacier and Yellowstone national parks is postponed for a year.

There are two bad features to the drought. First, the lack of rain prevents the growth of crops; second, the lack of moisture encourages insect life, promoting diseases that destroy plants.

On the Hudson, near Sing Sing prison, four persons in a sinking boat were in danger of drowning. Four convicts, sentenced to long terms, with many years of prison life ahead of them, asked for a chance to save those in danger, saying: "We will come back." The guards wisely consented. The convicts saved the four, and they did come back to serve out their terms.

There are thousands in prisons that with a better chance in youth would have been useful men. There are thousands living in luxury that would be in prison if their childhood had been the same as the average convict's childhood.

Monsignor Lavelle, acting doubtless on instructions of his superior, Cardinal Hayes of New York, renders public service by denouncing indecency in the theater.

New English System for Landing in Fog

Further experiments with a new system for fog landings developed in England will be watched with interest. The air ministry has announced that five successful landings were made in a fog which it describes as "real." Anyone who has had experience with an English fog will know what that means.

The method used was to send up a tethered sighting balloon above the fog layer, have the pilot take an angle downward from his balloon in such a way as to have his instruments show certain predetermined readings which would bring him to the field and then glide down, maintaining this angle until a weight suspended from his fuselage struck the ground and lighted a red lamp in the cockpit, which was the signal to level off for the landing.

Great benefit is foreseen for air mail routes.

CANNOT FOOL THIS AIR RACE REFEREE

Christopher Is on to All the Tricks of Pilots.

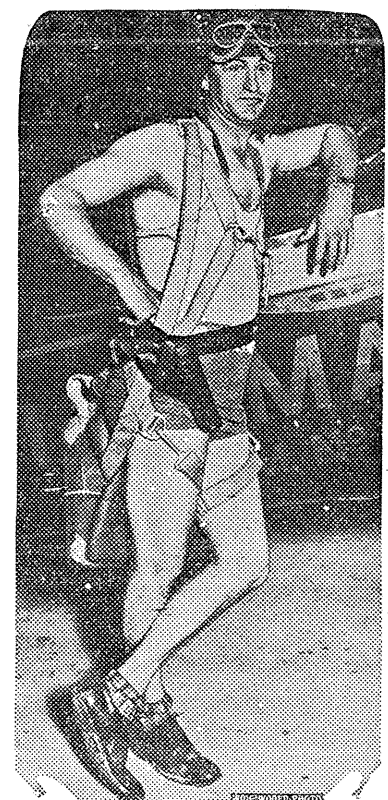

Chicago.—Major Luke Christopher, who as contest director of the National Aeronautic association will referee all events at the National air races, to be held on the model Curtiss-Wright-Reynolds airport from August 23 to September 1, will be a hard man for contesting pilots to fool.

As in every form of competition there are "tricks of the trade" in air racing and not a few pilots enjoy putting a fast one over on the referee. At a recent contest refereed by Major Christopher, the competing planes were obliged by race rules to take off with fuel tanks full. A pre-race inspection revealed gasoline to the top of all tanks. But when the starter's signal flags were dropped one plane zoomed lightly into the air after a short run.

From experience the referee knew that what had happened simply couldn't be done. When the particular plane crossed the finish line first, Major Christopher was on hand to greet the pilot. Investigation disclosed that the pilot had inserted several inflated balloons in his main fuel tank, displacing large volumes of gasoline by air. He was at once disqualified.

The reason why Major Christopher is an excellent air racing Sherlock Holmes is that his powers of deduction are backed by 5,000 hours of flying experience. He has flown practically every type of airplane ever built. His experience is perhaps the most diversified of any American pilot. He was trained by the army, took a post-graduate course with the Canadian Air Force, and then was detailed to the navy during the war. His post-war experience covers barnstorming, stunt piloting, crop dusting, test pilot for one of the leading aircraft builders and the highly technical work of test piloting for the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

FOR WARM WEATHER

The new summer undress uniform, consisting mainly of a bathing suit and parachute, adopted by Dick Merrill, mail pilot on the route between Richmond, Va., and Atlanta, Ga.

Flying Rules Set Up in New York State

New York.—A contribution to air traffic regulation uniformity is seen in the signing of the New York law establishing flying rules governing airplane operation within the state. In the main, the provisions of the empire state law follow those set forth in the regulations established by the Department of Commerce for interstate operation of licensed planes.

Among the prohibitions of the New York law that are consistent with the federal regulations is the ban on acrobatic flying with a pay passenger in the plane. The new law becomes effective on July 1, 1930.

Caro and Cass City contested for honors in baseball Wednesday, resulting in the county seat team having the better end of the 9-5 score. On Friday, Deford and Cass City crossed bats. Heavy hitting by the local team resulted in a lop-sided score of 13-6, Deford carrying home the smaller number of points.

Expenses so exceeded receipts that the fair proved unsuccessful as a financial venture.

Permanent Wave

He climbed the fence and looked long and critically at a large bull whose big head was covered with wavy, curly hair. Then he called: "Uncle Dan, this big cow has got a dandy permanent wave."

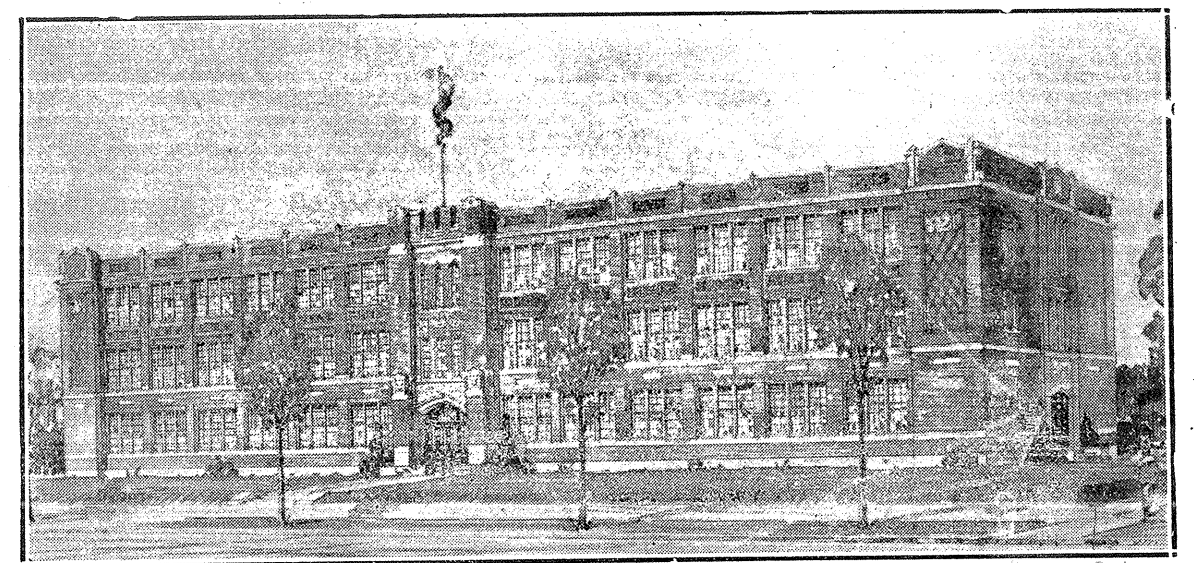

Little Tide in Great Lakes

The coast and geodetic survey says that there are no tide tables available, as the periodic tides in the Great lakes are so small that they are generally masked by changes in level brought about by winds, changes in atmospheric pressure and river discharge, and, consequently, are of no practical importance.

Cass City High School Opens Sept. 2

The Cass City High School offers excellent educational advantages to boys and girls who have passed the county eighth grade examination. They are cordially invited to attend this modern school during the coming year.

Courses are offered as follows: Agricultural course, Commercial course, Academic course, and Home Economics course. The Cass City High School course offers extra credit in the following work: Art, Chorus, Orchestra, Debating, Public Speaking, Bible, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Agricultural Project. Numerous school societies provide valuable training. Added advantages are to be had in the splendid churches, library, and the various lectures and gatherings which center in the community of Cass City.

The Cass City High School is accredited by the University of Michigan and is on the North Central Association list. Students graduating from the high school here are admitted to the various colleges, universities and normal schools without examination.

All high school and grade teachers are specialists in their respective fields. All high school teachers of academic subjects hold degrees.

The 1930 graduating class numbered 44 students. This compares favorably with schools in towns two or three times larger than Cass City.

The commercial course gives the student four years of special training, fitting him for the commercial field. Commercial arithmetic, bookkeeping, typewriting and shorthand are all offered in this course.

Enrollment in the high school has passed the 260 mark. Non-resident pupils have increased in the past few years from approximately 40 to 167 in 1929. Careful attention is given each pupil in planning his course of study and in his work throughout the year. We have a physical director for students.

Good roads make it possible for students to come long distances. Many drive to and from school to their homes each day. Others living much farther away have been at home week ends. Provision is made at the school cafeteria for high school students to purchase lunches at cost during the winter months. Between two and three thousand meals were served last year at an average cost of 15 cents a meal.

Cass City students won the sub-district oratorical and declamation contests in 1928 and 1929 and first sub-district honors in declamations in 1930; won first place in the district music contest in 1929; won the district championship in basketball in 1930; and more than their share in county and Thumb honors in football, baseball and track for several years. Cass City vocational boys have exhibited 21 state champions at the Michigan State Fair in the last six years.

Tuition is $80.00 a year for high school pupils. The home district must pay $60.00 of this amount per year if application for tuition has been made to the director of the home district.

The principal and superintendent will be in the high school office Saturday, Aug. 30, to aid those who wish to arrange their course of study. School opens Tuesday, September 2.

Address all inquiries to L. D. RANDALL, Superintendent.

Correct Wording

A fish expert says that it is correct to speak of "fishes" or "trouts" when several live specimens are meant, but anglers, shopkeepers and cooks should refer to "fish" or "trout," regardless of number.

N. E. MICHIGAN FREE FAIR
OPENS AT BAY CITY AUG. 25

The Northeastern Michigan Free Fair is prepared to open the gates of its greatest exposition Monday, Aug. 25, at Bay City. The 1930 show will run five days through Friday, Aug. 29.

The historical pageant, with 1100 characters in the parts, is the highlight of the entire fair. It depicts the history of Northeastern Michigan from the dawn of creation through the present day. Emphasis is laid on the Indian lore of this section and on all the other highlights which have typified its growth.

Horse-pulling contests will take place Monday and Tuesday under the auspices of the Michigan State College, and a record entry is anticipated.

BAD AXE FAIR IS THE ATTRACTION NEXT WEEK

More and finer exhibits of stock and field crops and more liberal appropriations have been made for free attractions at the Bad Axe fair, to be held at the 61st annual exhibition and night carnival, Aug. 26 to 29.

R. P. Buckley, manager of the fair, says that some of the finest vaudeville and musical entertainments on the road have been secured for the fair, in addition to the Henry H. Lueders' big revue and the public wedding.

The ever popular horse races held during three days of the fair, will attract thousands of fans. Prizes for these events total $1,200.

County league ball games for the championship will complete the league's summer playing schedule.

Origin of Apt Phrases

Said the Greeks: "Even the ant and the worm have their wrath," and from this we get, "A worm will turn." The Greeks also probably furnished Shakespeare with his, "Brevity is the soul of wit," when Sophocles said, "Many wise things are bound up in short speech." And Pliny the Younger supplies this variant: "In the pleading of causes nothing pleases so much as brevity."

RHEUMATISM IS PUT TO AN END
BY NEW KONJOLA

Chicago Lady Is Enthusiastic
Over What New and Different
Medicine Did for Her.

Surely one could do no wiser thing than to profit by such experiences as Mrs. Marie Basman, 740 North Lawndale avenue, Chicago, had with Konjola. She says:

"I was troubled for two years with rheumatism in my hip. I could hardly get out of bed in the mornings. I tried a number of medicines and treatments but nothing helped me.

Mrs. Marie Basman.

Then I started with Konjola. That was six months ago and I took six bottles. Since then I have not had an ache nor pain. If I do, I surely will take Konjola again. Some of my friends are now using Konjola and getting fine results."

Konjola is a medicine for the aged and the infant; for all the family. A complete treatment of from six to eight bottles will bring relief from even the most stubborn cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Cass City, Michigan, at Burke's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Advertisement 8-22

Old English Adage
The old adage, "Hell is paved with good intentions" is one of the commonest in the English language. In that phraseology it is quoted by Boswell as having been used by Doctor Johnson in 1775. George Herbert puts it: "Hell is full of good wishings and meanings." James Kelly, in Scottish Proverbs, says, "Hopers go to hell." The Portuguese say, "Hell is paved with good intentions and roofed with lost opportunities."

Nation's Butter Consumption
The Department of Agriculture says that approximately 99 1/2 per cent of the butter consumed in this country is produced in this country. The butter that is imported comes mostly from Denmark and New Zealand.
