$ Questions:

1. How many pores has our skin? 2. Are human beings descendants of monkeys and gorillas? 3. What color is the sun?

4. Why does a zebra have stripes?

Answers:

1. After great study some one has found that the skin of an average sized man has about 7,000,000 pores. Each person's number is different, of course, but from this figure you can make some guesses that may be very nearly correct.

2. Great scientists have been trying to discover the answer to this question for many years, but although they know that the bodies of men and members of the monkey family are similar in structure, no explanations of this are yet known.

3. The sun cannot really be said to have any color. It merely has great brightness. Surrounding the bright surface is a gaseous substance that has a rose tint called the chromosphere. This, perhaps, gives the appearance of color to the sun. 4. The stripes of the zebra act as a protective coloring in the distance, making it difficult to find Mr. Zebra in they faced her did she notice that they had their names written on white the woods and on the plains where he

in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. elaborate lubrication study conducted by the Contest Board of the A.A.A. on the Indianapolis Speedway

NOTHING approaching this lubrication study in size and scope had ever before been attempted. Months of preparation had worked up to this climax. Drivers waited at their wheels for the word to go. Excitement ran high.

The tests were conducted by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. The results when compiled will be certified by it. Early in May, the test cars will start on long individual tours. They will visit auto dealers to deliver the certified results and to allow inspection. At the same time they will be gathering more lubrication data. Watch for these cars.

NEIGHBORING TOWNS

At the town meeting held on from Friday until Monday afternoon election day, a resolution was carried instructing the Marlette township board to call a meeting for the purpose of adjusting township officers' salaries. Some of the taxpayers expressed the opinion that on account of the stringent financial conditions that a cut in salaries would heln relieve the local depression. Accordingly a meeting was held at the home of supervisor Oliver M. Wood, last Friday evening. At this meeting there were present all the old officials and all the incoming ones. The retiring supervisor reported to the members present that he had been informed by Prosecuting Attorney first Sunday of each month which is Burgess that the township board had at 8:30 a. m. Sunday school immedi- no jurisdiction over the amount of salaries to be paid to township officials, as that was fixed by statute. However after a full discussion of the proposition, the officials for next year, voluntarily decided to take a cut of ten per cent for the coming year .-Marlette Leader.

Why Brick Stains The substance which frequently stains brick walls is probably a white alkaline solution which exudes from the pores of bricks which have been imperfectly mixed or burnt. When the mixture of clay which is to be put into a brick mold is uneven or unbalanced, especially if an alkaline clay is used, the inside of the brick is not properly baked to the same consistency as the outside and consequently the moisture which is contained in the solution in the inside of the brick works out and streams down the side of the wall of which the brick is a part. Why Month Is "October"

"October" is from the Latin "octo," meaning eight, but it is the name of the tenth month. This is due to the fact that when the months received their present names the year began with March. Thus in Roman times September, seventh month, October, eighth month, November, ninth month, and December, tenth month, had a real significance. When the calendar was reformed and January became the first month some of the older names of the months became meaningless .-Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Blessing on Sneezer

Once, in old times, a sneeze was supposed to signify the expulsion of the devil. The person suffering from the satanic discharge was left in need of some benevolent remark to assist in his recovery. Another story is that the judges of hell keep books on humanity. When they open the book to the page where your name is written, suffer a seizure of sneezing. Therefore, a blessing is desirable for your protection from the machinations of the Evil One.

The Man Who Delivers the Goods

The failures of life sit around and complain; the gods haven't treated them white; they've lost their umbrellas whenever it rains; and they haven't their lanterns at night. Men tire of failures who fill with their sighs, the air of their own neighborhoods; there's a man who is greeted with love-lighted eyes—he's the man who delivers the goods.

Iris, Other Bulbs for Fine Blossoms

The vogue of the iris in the garden calls attention to the type of this beautiful plant best suited for cutting, the spanish iris and its relatives, the dutch irises. The later are magnificent greenhouse material but not hardy. They closely resemble the spanish iris in form but are larger and longer stemmed.

The spanish iris is perfectly hardy but requires a warm, well-drained soil for success. It is a bulb entirely different in character from the roots of other garden irises.

Another bulbous iris even more pretentious in its beauty than the slender, graceful spanish iris is the english iris, resembling a small japanese iris in form and coloring. It needs moist, heavy soil and the spanish and english are seldom happy in the same garden unless special conditions in heavy soil are created for the spanish type. Both bloom later than the tall, bearded class. The spanish with its very thin foliage has not so much decorative value in the garden as other irises but its long stem makes it ideal cut flower material and unlike its kin which grow from rhizomes, rather than bulbs, the flower lasts well when cut. These bulbous irises are under the ban of the plant quarantine board and cannot be imported. Formerly they were so cheap that it made little difference whether they survived more than one year or not. Now they are more expensive and the supply comes from the Pacific coast. Spanish irises raised in the Pacific Northwest have proved even finer than those we formerly imported in great quatities from Holland. They are well worth a sunny spot in some convenient corner of the garden for cutting material, and for garden decoration should be provided with a foreground of low growing attractive foliage of some other plant. In the squills and grape hyacinths, we have materials for the finest sheets of intense blue in the early spring that give character to the garden before the hardy plants have more than a brief start into growth. The siberian squill, scilla siberica, is now used in great quantities all over the garden. It is a companion of the crocuses and of a rich intense blue that has no rival at its season. This little squill once started in a garden will seed itself and in a few years will establish large colonies.

It is a useful little bulb to scatter all over the garden, dibbling in a few bulbs wherever a space presents itself among the perennials. It can be dropped into the open center of iris clumps, around the crown of peonles, between clumps of delphiniums, in fact any little space will accommodate these little bulbs which will give a sheet of blue in the first warm days of April. Other plants springing into growth will cover the dying foliage of this bulb which matures early.

A little later and of larger growth is the grape hyacinth, muscari boytorides, and its more beautiful relative, heavenly blue, muscari racemosun. The latter is displacing the old grape hyacinth because of its more substantial stalks of intense blue "grapes" and because its foliage is not so rank. The old-fashioned grape hyacinth makes dense patches of blue and multiplies so rapidly that it often becomes almost a pest. It makes beautiful pots of bloom for the window. Plant a half dozen or a dozen bulbs in a bulb pan, a pot of half depth, set in a cold frame or merely leave it outside until wanted indoors. Bring it in, thaw it out gently and set in a window and the grape hyacinths will pop up and give a beautiful display.
