The past week has been an eventful one in Cass City in that 44 young people have graduated from the Cass City High School. The exercises attendant upon the happy event have been unusually attractive and filled with interest and those who have labored so zealously for the success of the occasion have the satisfaction of knowing that their efforts have not been in vain.

Three large audiences attended the commencement week activities at the high school auditorium. The class night program attracted the largest number when close to a thousand people were present. The audiences at the baccalaureate service and commencement were nearly as large.

As Mrs. I. D. McCoy played the "Marche Orchestral" Tuesday evening, the members of the Class of 1931 were ushered to seats at the front of the auditorium by Albert Warner and Marjorie Graham, representing the junior class. The invocation was given by Rev. T. S. Bottrell, and Principal J. Ivan Niergarth introduced Dean J. B. Edmonson of the School of Education at the University of Michigan and president of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, as the commencement speaker.

European educators are greatly impressed by the American plan of encouraging all to be educated and they are gradually broadening their program and making their higher educational advantages less restrictive to their children, said Dr. Edmonson. While the high schools of America have met with tremendous success, they are likely to be the subject of much criticism in the next few years. Graduates may do much in meeting the arguments for lessening the school's advantages. It is true that there are men in many communities who have been successful in spite of limited schooling but the uneducated youths of today will find more handicaps than those of thirty years ago. A mere schooling is not the only factor to success, but it does decrease the chance of failure, said the speaker.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT BACCALAUREATE

Local Churches United for Service in H. S. Auditorium Sunday Evening.

The high school auditorium was well filled Sunday evening at the baccalaureate service. As Miss Phyllis Lenzner played the march, members of the Class of 1931 were ushered to seats in the auditorium by Albert Warner and Marjorie Graham of the junior class.

The invocation was given by Rev. Wm. R. Curtis, the scripture was read by Rev. T. S. Bottrell, and prayer was offered by Rev. C. F. Smith. The high school choir sang, "Recessional," by DeKoven and "Ave Verum" by Elgar. Rev. P. J. Allured, pastor of the Presbyterian church, gave the address on the subject, "Jesus' Way of Life" (Gal. 5: 13-23, John 15: 8-13). A summary of the sermon follows:

At the Iroquois Theatre fire in Chicago, a young man, McLaughlin, saved seventeen lives. He kept at his rescue work until he himself had received fatal burns. Dying, he refused to listen to commendation, saying, "It's great to get a chance like that! Some get their chance at sixty, some at forty. I got mine at nineteen. I am glad to be able to die to save others." In contrast to this spirit, a typical Confucian in China will stand on a river bank and bargain for a big rescue price with a drowning man. How explain these two attitudes? The Chinese had heard much of self-control but nothing of self-sacrifice. McLaughlin lived in a land whose ideals are being developed toward the ideal given us by Jesus: "Love one another, even as I have loved you."

Nineteen centuries have gone by since Jesus lived on earth to show man how God meant him to live. Yet man as a whole has made a wretched failure of his attempt to live Jesus' way of life. The Christian world has taken its religion too easy. It's easy to worship but not easy to work and walk His way. It's easy to adopt a second-hand creed about

ASK FARMERS TO SEE BETTER SOILS TEST

Fertilizer Demonstration Will Be Given at the John Reagh Farm Here Today.

Michigan has so many different soil types that the soils department at Michigan State College maintains nine experimental farms in different sections of the state to try the effects of fertilizers, lime and other methods of soil improvement and each year the public is asked to visit these farms and see the results of the trials.

Each soil type requires different methods to build it up to a state of fertility that makes it possible to grow profitable crops. The experimental farms make it possible to find which improvement practices are most practical on each soil type, and farmers in the vicinity of these farms can easily visit them to find out ways to improve their own land.

Friday, June 12, has been set as the date for the soils demonstration at the John Reagh farm, 2 1/2 miles west of Cass City. It commences at 2:00 p. m. and all interested are invited to attend.

Fertilizers of different kinds and in different amounts have been applied to crops on the Reagh farm under the direction and supervision of the soils department of the Michigan State College. The results of last year's experiments will be reviewed as well as the inspection of the different plots in this year's program.

who is a friend of the band and who will enjoy its weekly concerts during the coming summer to give some article which they can spare and which may be sold, the proceeds to be used to finish payment on the band uniforms. These uniforms cost about $900, over half of which has been paid, and now this means is adopted to clean up the indebtedness.

The reconstruction of the Michigan Electric Power Company service lines and substation, which has just been completed, involved a financial outlay of over $110,000.00 and gave over 50 Lapeer men employment for four months. This was the statement of L. W. Sparling, company engineer stationed at Lapeer. The work, which was done in the interests of better electrical service to the people of Lapeer, involved resetting over 500 poles and putting up over 355,000 feet of copper wire of varying thicknesses. In almost every case, the new wire replaces wire of a smaller diameter. The heavier wire allows a more even flow of electricity, Mr. Sparling points out, and lights will continue to glow brightly regardless of any additional lights that may increase the load. The new wire used varies from 1/4 to 1/2 of an inch in thickness.—Lapeer Press.

FOUR COUNTY MEET RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Caro High Wins Friday's Event by Half Point Margin over Cass City.

Four Tuscola county high school track and field records were broken Friday when Caro high nosed out Cass City by half a point in the annual field day meet held at Caro. Caro scored 56 1/2 points, Cass City 56, Vassar 14, Unionville 8 and Fairgrove 7 1/2. These were the final standings in Class C schools.

Unionville, Class C champion of the county, defeated Reese, Class D champion, for the county baseball championship, 8 to 5.

Clare McDurmon of Caro furnished two of the new records. He skimmed over the 120-yard low hurdles in 14.5 seconds, displacing the mark of 14.6 seconds made in 1912 by Throop of Vassar. McDurmon boosted his own high jump record of 5 feet, 10 inches, made last year, by three-eighths of an inch.

Charles Smith of Caro put the shot 43 feet, 9 7/8 inches to beat the mark made by Rajkovich of Caro, 43 feet, 2 1/2 inches, a year ago. Cass City's relay team covered the half-mile in 1:36.5, or seven-tenths of a second better than the mark made by Caro in 1929.

Smith of Caro, who starred in the weight events, was high point man with 14 1/2 points.

The Storm brothers of Akron were the high lights in Class D events. Henry Storm set a mark of 37 ft. 10 1/2 in. in the shot put and 5 feet, 3 1/2 in. in the high jump. Joe Storm made a record of 96 ft. 1 in. in the discus and 146 ft. 1 1/2 in. in the javelin throw. Two schools entered athletics in Class D events. Akron was first with a total of 101 points and Gagetown athletes secured 30.

The following are the winners and their records in Class C events:

GLORIFIED PUPILS.

Proud parents have been gathering in schools in the "Thumb as the term closes, to attend various exhibitions illustrating the year's work. Their faces shine as they see their offspring march into the schoolrooms, the girls glorified in scrumptious new dresses, the boys somewhat awkward in the austere severity of their Exhibition day clothes.

There is reason for pride, since the young folks of today are quick thinkers. They know more of life than their parents did at their age; sometimes they know too much of things not learned in school. But they are climbing up the hill of knowledge, and making progress.

The most vital lessons taught in the schools can not be revealed in any recitations or songs. The children will forget the rules and facts. But if they have been taught to be good citizens, to be honest and truthful, a stamp has been moulded upon them more valuable than book learning.

CHARACTER FACTORS.

In the baccalaureate address Sunday evening, Rev. P. J. Allured referred to an interview quoted in Public Opinion, London, England, in which Chas. Lindbergh said: "I came to the conclusion that if I knew the difference between the right way to do a thing and the wrong way to do it, it was up to me to train myself to do the right thing at all times. So I drew up a list of character factors."

"I checked myself daily and compared my record from month to month and year to year. I was glad to notice an improvement as I grew older."

Check over these character factors and estimate how much they would influence the life of Lindbergh or any other person. Here they are:

- Altruism No talking about Ambition others Brevity in speech No talking too Calmness in temper much Optimism Patience Cheerfulness Perseverance Clean body Physical exercise Clean speech Pleasant voice Clean thought Politeness Concentration Punctuality Courage Readiness to compromise Courtesy promise Decisiveness Recreation— "Manful not sinful" Determination "Manful not sinful" Economy Respect fellow-men Enthusiasm Respect superiors Faith Reverence (Divine) Firmness Country Gracefulness Home and family Honesty Parents Hopefulness Self-confidence Industry Self-control Initiative Self-esteem Judgment Sense of humor Justice Sincerity Love toward all Sleep and rest Loyalty Sympathy Moderateness Tact Modesty Unselfishness Neat appearance Fact No argument Thoroughness No faultfinding Unselfishness No sarcasm

STUDENTS AND JOBS.

There is a quaint old American tradition that the college student who makes his mark in scholarship never amounts to much afterwards; that the really admirable product of our colleges is the glad hander who is president of things, plays tackle on the football team, and never lets his studies interfere with his college work; that for every routine job awaiting the student "grind" there are 10 big corporations clamoring for the services at a fancy salary of the high hurdle champion who was president of his fraternity.

Enter President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company with disillusionment. Gifford reports that men who graduate in the first tenth of their class have four times as many chances of getting into the higher salaried groups as those who graduate in the lower third. Generally speaking, the men with the highest scholastic records get the most responsible jobs, and have the best salaries afterwards. A number of large corporations have standing offers open with various colleges to give jobs to the leading scholars in every class.

And don't think the college students haven't waked up to that fact, long ahead of the public in general. At Amherst recently 80 per cent of the senior class indicated that they prized Phi Beta Kappa (scholarship society) ahead of any college distinction. Yale students have often indicated a similar preference.

The college students who get mixed up in booze parties and the like get the publicity. The ones who work at their studies, get the jobs.—Dearborn Press.

FORTY YEARS.

"It was just forty years ago tonight that I graduated from the Cass City High School," remarked a lady to a friend as she was leaving the high school auditorium after the baccalaureate address on Sunday night.

Forty years—a long time when one looks ahead, but seemingly much less when one looks back in retrospect. When we compare epochs two score years apart, we perceive many signs that progress has been made. Probably in no other field is this more noticeable than in that of education.

Compare the advantages of school life in 1891 with those of 1931. There's a wide difference, one must admit, but the percentage in the nineties who made a success in their life's work, set a high standard and did mighty works for the happiness and welfare of those with whom they associated, will compare favorably with that of the later century.

MANY PROMINENT CARRIERS AT MEET

Concluded from first page.

Auxiliary; Mrs. Lora Hoyt of Bellevue, president of the State Ladies' Auxiliary; John L. Hoyt of Bellevue, state secretary; and W. G. Armstrong of Niles, national president, R. L. C. A. Musical numbers during the evening were an accordion solo by Herman C. Cook of Holland, guitar selection by Elliott & Elliott, vocal solo by Mrs. W. Dickerson, and a piano solo by Mrs. I. D. McCoy, all of Cass City.

Table decorations were in red, white and blue. The women were given patriotic colored carnations and the men were provided with cockade hats.

In his address, W. G. Armstrong, national president, said:

"The National Rural Carriers' Association is the largest group of organized postal workers in the government service. Out of approximately 42,000 rural carriers in the United States there were over 39,000 last year who were members of the association."

"Last year 22 states of the union won silver loving cups, gifts of the national association for bringing their state organizations in with a 100% membership. Michigan won one of these cups."

"The National Association is now waging a campaign for a 100% national membership and are looking forward to calling this a victory year which they are hopeful of obtaining by national convention time in August 18, 19, 20 and 21 when the convention takes place at Los Angeles, California."

"During the 29 years since the rural carriers' national body was organized, the association has received at the hands of Congress many favorable pieces of legislation which has helped their working conditions and these have been brought about by the wonderful cooperation and loyalty of its carriers in retaining their memberships in the association. Both Congress and the Postoffice Department have recognized the strength of the Rural Letter Carrier Association through its nearly 100% organization and while there are still bits of legislation which the carriers' association hope to see made into law, they are not going to press those measures which would involve the outlay of more funds from the United States treasury, especially until the depression has righted itself and working conditions are back to normal."

"The postal deficit which so many have read about can be laid at the head of nearly every department of the postal service and, while the postal service was not organized with the intentions of being able to pay its own way, it was organized to give service and that is what the public are demanding regardless of operating costs. It is true the rural carriers' branch of the service comes in for its share of the criticism in the postal deficit but with the improving road conditions of the past few years and the rapidly advancing progress of road building now it is possible to consolidate many rural routes. Instead of taking new men into the service, as carriers die, retire, resign, and are removed for cause, they consolidate these routes and the amount saved to the government on each consolidation means a saving of approximately $1,000. With many carriers retiring from the service after attaining the age limit of 65 years, which makes possible a great number of consolidations, it is hoped in the next few years to put the rural service on a near paying basis as any part of the postal service. An example of how the number of rural routes are being done away with in the state of Michigan through consolidations can be given by stating that in 1929 there were some 1790 rural routes while today the routes number slightly over the 1600 mark."

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary.

Landon of Cass City, president of the Michigan Rural Letter Carriers' Association, and Mrs. Landon celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and entertained at a week-end party officers of the state association and prominent state workers and their wives who had attended the seventh district convention here Saturday. Breakfast was served at the Landon home and a chicken dinner was served at the Golden Poppy Inn at noon. Mr. and Mrs. Landon were presented with a chest of silver.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Armstrong of Niles, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Walker of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Convicts Raise Money for "Talkie" Machine

Columbus, Ohio.—Ohio penitentiary keeps abreast of the times. A "talkie" machine will be installed and prisoners will be entertained with comedies, travelogues and educational features. Romances will be barred. The machine cost $5,000, the money coming from "home talent" shows given by the convicts during the last ten years. It was originally planned to purchase an organ, but by the time the fund was large enough, a "talkie" machine was decided on.

The talking pictures will be the prisoners' sole entertainment, all other forms of amusement having been discontinued since the disastrous Easter Monday fire in which 322 convicts lost their lives.

PRINCE OF NORWAY MAY COME TO U. S.

Olav Would Lead Norwegian Olympic Team.

Lake Placid, N. Y.—Crown Prince Olav of Norway, himself an enthusiastic winter sportsman, may visit the III Olympic winter games to be held at Lake Placid in February, 1932, coming as a good will ambassador of Norway, according to a cable received by the III Olympic winter games committee here.

The cable advice came from Bjorn Blix, international secretary of the games, following an audience granted him by Crown Prince Olav in Oslo. Mr. Blix is now visiting the major capitals of Europe, aiding European groups in making arrangements for the winter Olympics.

Norwegian participation in the games is practically assured, Blix cabled after meetings at Oslo with leading sports groups. Twenty-five contestants and five group leaders probably will comprise the Norwegian delegation, together with a substantial group of Norwegian newspaper and magazine correspondents.

The present winter will see an active sports season at Lake Placid in preparation for the 1932 games. The bobbed races which will open the great Mount Van Hoevenberg bobrun on February 6 and 7, have been approved as the North American championship events by President Rene de la Fregeolere of the Bobsleigh federation. These races, in which teams from both Canada and the United States have been invited to compete, have already been sanctioned as the National A. A. U. championship.

W. G. Howard of the New York state conservation department, also a member of the New York State Olympic commission, has further advised that the conservation department is at once starting work on the construction of an Adirondack leanto on the summit of Mount Van Hoevenberg, which may be used by skiing parties visiting the bobrun. Numerous shelters and sheds are being built by the commission at the base of the course.

Grave in St. Louis May Hold Last of Bourbons

St. Louis, Mo.—Neighbors of genial and plodding George Williams believe the newly sodded grave in which his body is buried, marks the resting place of the "last of the Bourbons."

They point, for instance, to a picture of Williams, street department employee, which still hangs over a fireplace in his home. With the picture is the inscription, "George Williams—Last of the Bourbons."

Williams believed he was the grandchild of the lost dauphin, son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette. Legend had it that Williams' grandfather, an Indian missionary, was in reality the "lost dauphin," coming to this country in flight after the French revolution.

The story that Williams believed was that the dauphin was brought to Albany, N. Y., by two women in November, 1795. Later the child turned up at Ticonderoga, N. Y., in charge of two Frenchmen. It was left with Indians and named Eleazer Williams. Williams died in 1853, believing he was the descendant of kings.

Published in the interest of the People of Cass City and vicinity by the Elkland Roller Mills Edited by Roy

A Cass City bee fancier tells us that after you've had 'em a year or so, you get real attached to bees. Well, we remember one bee that got attached to us not so long ago. Buddie Burt wonders why it is when you get awake in the night and wonder what time it is, the clock always strikes half-past something.

Wayne Buttermilk All-Mash Grower makes chickens out of chicks. It's a positive fact. We will have another car of Wayne feeds next week.

In the Cornfield. One for the blackbird One for the crow One for the cut-worm And two for to grow.

They'll grow fast and at the same time develop and fill out, if you feed them Wayne Buttermilk Chick Starter! We know. It's genuine economy to buy coal now. You get a special summer discount. It pays. Call us. She would have been the belle of the village if somebody had only told her.

June 14 is Play Day. We give you this advance information so you won't have to ask why all the flags are out.

Young fellows lose a degree of respect for education, we understand, when they understand that professors are seldom able to buy ring-side seats.

The difference in bread is usually the difference in flour. Try a sack of Cream of Wheat.

Many farmers are faced with the problem of financing the growing of pullets. With a short chick crop in 1931, there is every indication that the pullet crop will be short this fall and that those who have pullets ready to lay in October, will be able to profit handsomely from the eggs which are produced.

When the pullet crop is short, prices of fresh eggs should be higher. All of this means that it will pay to push pullets with good feeding and management so they are ready to lay in late September or early October. In order to do this, growing pullets must not be denied mash or staked in the quantity which they are fed. Feed Wayne Buttermilk All-Mash Grower and mature those pullets early.

There's one thing that Delights our soul— A can of bait And a fishin' pole.

She: "You had no business to kiss me!" He: "But it wasn't business. It was pleasure."

It will be good business on your part to buy your coal at our low summer price. Will have another car soon. Let us have your order.

Order those high quality chicks at the low price. The hatching season is nearly over.

We can use a sow or sow with pigs in exchange for flour, feed or anything we sell.

Let us SHOW you why Firestone TIRES are better!

FIRESTONE do not manufacture special brand tires for others to distribute—but they do make a complete line of tires for us, bearing the Firestone name and guarantee, that not only meets the prices but beats any special brand tire distributed by mail order houses or others in Quality and Construction, giving greater values.

Firestone have invested $25,000,000.00 with Firestone Dealers in establishing the most economical distributing and servicing system in the world.

Come in today—let us show you the INSIDE FACTS from cross sections—that you may understand the EXTRA VALUES in Firestone Tires.

Table titled 'COMPARE CONSTRUCTION and QUALITY' comparing Firestone Oldfield Type and Special Brand Mail Order tires across various metrics like More Rubber, More Weight, More Width, etc.

COMPARE PRICES FIRESTONE OLDFIELD TYPE

Table titled 'COMPARE PRICES FIRESTONE OLDFIELD TYPE' listing various tire models (e.g., 4.40-21, 4.50-20) and their prices per pair.

*A "Special Brand" tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as mail order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

HOW

HEARER GETS MEANING IN IMPERFECT SPEECH.—Even when he fails to hear correctly 25 per cent of the sounds in speech a normal person understands the conversation. Experiments showing this are reported to the Acoustical Society in America by Vern O. Knudsen, of the University of California, according to the Associated Press.

"Actual tests," he says, "in a quiet open space have indicated that with average speakers and listeners the articulation will be about 96 per cent. A rating of 100 per cent, that is, perfect articulation, can never be attained."

"A few of the consonantal sounds are sometimes mistaken even under ideal conditions. We are ordinarily unaware of this when we listen to speech, because the connotation facilitates correct interpretations of those words not heard distinctly. Even when speech articulation is as low as 75 per cent the hearing will be regarded as acceptable."

The experiments indicated that speakers should give special attention to the sounds ng, d, v, f and th.

How Sawdust Can Help

Some Varieties of Soil
Recent reports of the sale of sawdust as fertilizer, while they caused much amusement at the expense of the purchaser, were not quite so ridiculous as they seemed.

Of course, as fertilizer, sawdust is of no value, but it can be used to advantage in certain types of soil. For instance, in very sandy soil, from which moisture is lost rapidly, a certain amount of sawdust dug in around roses and other plants and shrubs will serve to hold moisture in the soil. It will help, too, to lighten heavy clay soils. This is the only use that it has, however, for so far as fertilizing is concerned the sawdust is of no value or, at best, of very negligible value.

How New Light Pierces Fog

Newsprint can be read at night more than a mile away by a new fog-piercing light, recently demonstrated in London, which combines the principles of the blow torch and the gas mantle. Bottled oxygen and liquid fuel produce a blow-torch flame in the new light. The flame is drawn against a disk of thorium oxide, a material commonly used in the manufacture of gas mantles. The result is a brilliant white light which pierces the densest London fog. In a test, occupants of a motor car a mile away read a newspaper by the light.—Popular Science Monthly.

How Twilight Is Counted

Twilight ends when the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon. In low latitudes, because of the quickness with which the sun traverses the 18 degrees below the horizon and because of the transparency of the atmosphere, there is little twilight. However, the higher the latitude the smaller the angle at which the sun's path meets the horizon, and hence the longer it takes the sun to sink to the required distance.

How Rainbow Is Formed

The rainbow is caused by the refraction and reflection of light by water drops. The ordinary rainbow is on the opposite side of the observer from the sun (or moon, rarely); is circular, with its center on the straight line, projected, from sun to observer; and its position is the position of the actual drops that are, at the moment, producing it.

How Panama Hats Got Name

According to the Pan American union, Ecuador was the original producer of Panama hats. The name, says that organization, originated during the gold rush to California. Returning prospectors purchased the hats in Panama, which gave to the popular form of head covering its permanent name. Ecuador is still the chief producer of Panama hats.

How Semites Got Name

"Semite" is derived from "Shem," the name of one of the sons of Noah. The word "Semitic" or "Semitic" was invented in 1781 by the German historian and scholar August von Schlozer and was deemed particularly appropriate because most of the peoples speaking the languages so denominated were descended from Shem.

How Katydid's Make Sound

The loud shrill noise of the katydid is made only by the male and is produced by raising and lowering the wings. The noise-making organs consist of transparent drumlike structures at the base of the wing covers. The sound is produced by friction.

How to Keep Tea's Flavor

Tea must be kept in glass or some other air-tight container, if it is to retain its individual flavor, declares a federal tea examiner, for the dried tea leaves readily take up flavors of other foods nearby on pantry shelves.

How Hickory Is Seasoned

The forest service says that the best way to season hickory is to remove the bark and pile the wood up in a shed where it will get a good circulation of air, but will not be rained or snowed upon.

HARROW KILLS WEEDS BEFORE CROP STARTS

The easiest way and the cheapest method to destroy weeds in potato fields, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College, is to use a spike tooth harrow before the potatoes are up and a weeder until the plants are six to eight inches tall.

More ground can be covered with the harrow in a day than can be tilled with a cultivator, and the weeds are small and easily killed at the proper time for harrowing. The use of the harrow and a cultipacker, if needed, smoothes down the ridges which the planter leaves in the field, and the surface tilling helps retain moisture in the soil.

The spike tooth harrow should be used as soon as the potatoes are planted and the use should be repeated at intervals of seven days until the potatoes are up. A weeder can then be used until the plants are six or eight inches high. Success with both these tools depends upon their use while the weeds are small and can be easily pulled.

The first cultivation with a cultivator should be close to the plants and fairly deep. In later use of this implement, only the surface soil should be stirred and the gangs should not come close to the plants. When the vines are one foot tall, most of the feeding roots in the plant are in the top six inches of soil and deep cultivations cut off these roots.

Cultivation should stop when the plants blossom and the tubers begin to form. Level cultivation should be practiced except that some soil may be thrown around the plants at the last cultivation.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

Newspaper advertising was described as "without doubt the most effective medium for the retail store," by D. F. Kelly, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, in an address before the recent session of the International Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Kelly came before the gathering of business men of twoscore countries as the spokesman of more than 3,700 department, specialty, and dry goods stores of the United States which do an annual business of approximately four and a half billion dollars, and which employ upward of a half million people, and his tribute to newspaper advertising may therefore be regarded as the testimony of an expert.

No Part of Patriot Army "Skinners" during the Revolutionary war, were a predatory band, professing allegiance to the American cause and roaming over neutral ground.

"NEW ISO-VIS Highly Satisfactory in FORD"

Reports A.A.A.

RESULTS of Indianapolis Speedway Tests certified by American Automobile Assn.

- 1 New Iso-Vis did not thin out from dilution.
- 2 During entire 9,000 mile tests, all parts of engine and chassis were lubricated effectively.
- 3 Less than 1 quart of oil—Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy)—was used in 1,000 miles at 30 m. p. h.
- 4 Carbon formed was only 6.75 grams per cylinder at 30 m. p. h. using Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy).
- 5 The cylinder wear was too little to measure.

These certified facts tell a remarkable story of the outstanding lubrication New Iso-Vis delivers. And the fine condition of the engine of this Ford after the severe tests it went through is further positive proof.

No other motor oil has ever given such a public demonstration of its lubricating ability. New Iso-Vis is the only motor oil that will not thin out from dilution. Give your car this constant protection. Change your oil this week and change to New Iso-Vis.

New Polarine also is refined by our new process—giving it an efficiency which is exceeded only by New Iso-Vis. The price is 25c a quart.

the person of Christ but it's difficult to open our hearts to Him and give Him full command of our lives. It is because of man's corrupted nature and the existence of so many selfish social customs that makes it hard to live the Jesus' Way of Life. Nevertheless, we must do it if we are to save both ourselves and the world. The whole world knows of Lindbergh today because as a boy he made out a list of 63 character factors to aid him to do the right thing at all times, checking himself daily and comparing his record from month to month and year to year. One of those 63 factors was, "Love toward all." This one sums up most of the rest. The modern world is in desperate need of more Lindberghs and this graduating class might provide some of them in the near future, if each made as earnest an effort to develop the right attitudes toward his fellow-men.

Jesus' way of life is the way of love. It rules out all hatred or ill-will toward any man or race or nation. A willful hater of any fellow citizen is more of a menace to the community than a small-pox carrier. It would be fitting to quarantine him with a big red sign, "Hatred." A Japanese editor, expressing the hurt which the United States Senate inflicted upon their people by the Oriental Exclusion Act, said, "We are up against a great wall of race prejudice which for obvious reasons is most acutely developed among the American people." The challenge of Jesus to the next generation is to purge our race and nation of this great social sin.

The way of love places us unequivocally on the side of internationalism, as opposed to nationalism. An American Christian must place the rights and needs of all humanity above the "national" interests of the U. S. A. Nationalism, which sets up the State as supreme sovereign and objects to limiting its freedom in any way by international organization in the interests of all humanity, makes one's country another god and an outlaw among the nations of the world. The Prince of Peace can never have his way with this world while this type of patriotism survives.

A recent speaker before an American Legion gathering was reported to have said, "The greatest enemies of America today are pacifism, communism, and internationalism." If this be true, judging by the standards of Christ, it is a question whether America has the right to live or will continue to exist. Three reasons for believing that the world is getting better are the steady advances of Christian pacifism, Christian socialism, and Christian internationalism.

Applying Jesus' way of love to other vital issues of the day, our tariff legislation has proved to be selfish and ultimately suicidal; the payment of billions in reparations by Germany should be abolished as unjust because based on the false presumption that her war-guilt was greater than that of Russia and France; the eighteenth amendment should be loyally supported as the greatest love-law in our land, contributing mightily, as it becomes better enforced, to the peace, the purity, and the prosperity of our national life.

The power of love has never been so severely tested and proved effective and triumphant as in the life of Mahatma Gandhi. A frail little 93-pounder, he is holding at bay almost single-handed the spirit of anti-British violence on the part of millions of his fellow-patriots and the colonial policy of Great Britain to put might before right. Says Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York: "More than any other one man of our time, this Hindu could teach America the meaning of the Christianity we profess so loudly and practice so lightly."

In the name of Jesus, I dare you to start out tonight to honestly live Jesus' way of life. It will not be easy; you cannot do it in your own strength; the devil and all his cohorts will line up against you. But if you put on the whole armour of God you will become "more than conquerors."

"Genius"

One authority defines the word "genius" as meaning the highest conceivable form of original ability, something altogether extraordinary and beyond even supreme educational progress, and differing in kind, apparently, from talent, which is usually distinguished as marked intellectual capacity, short only of the inexplicable and unique endowment to which the term "genius" is confined.

Beginning of Light

It was not until the time of Hippocrates, some four or five hundred years before Christ, that the Greeks began to attribute disease to natural rather than supernatural causes.

George W. Snyder, M. D., of Chicago, Said This

"It is more important to use an antiseptic for the stomach, bowels and kidneys than an antiseptic for the mouth and teeth for the reason that 95% of all diseases arise from intestinal disorders. I have prescribed Dr. Burnham's SAN YAK as a laxative and kidney diuretic for swelling of the limbs, high blood pressure with rheumatism, dizziness and diabetes and found it the one and only product I would be willing to tie to. San Yak is the only laxative I ever prescribed that does not irritate and flush away the mucous membrane of the lower bowel. Hence its use in moderation is highly commendable to health." Sold at Burke's Drug Store. Be sure and get Dr. Burnham's San Yak.—Advertisement.

As I was in a hurry I cut the title down, and asked the girl at the book counter of one of our department stores whether she had "Lamb's Tales." AIRPLANE ACTIVITIES IN HURON COUNTY

(Harbor Beach Times.)

The possibilities of covering a lot of ground in a short time was demonstrated last Friday when Capt. Hal Dungun flew the new Stinson, Jr., plane of Otto Poschke to Cleveland and back in one day.

He had as passengers Mr. Poschke and Geo. Inhelder. They ate breakfast here at home, had the noon-day meal with Mr. Poschke at his place of business on Lake Avenue, Cleveland, and came back home to have supper at home.

It took them two and one-half hours to fly to the Forest City and about the same time to come back.

A stop was made at the Detroit airport to take on gas.

One thing that Capt. Dungun is trying to bring out is that flying is safe, as much so as auto riding, or any other means of travel, he tells the Times.

Many people of this vicinity are experiencing the novelty of riding thru the air and patronizing the local airport.

(Pigeon Progress.)

Dudley McCormick of Caseville received his new airplane from Saginaw last week. The plane has accommodations for four people including the driver and is what would be called a cabin plane.

Mr. McCormick has been in the air several times since he received the machine, making two trips to Saginaw, passing over Pigeon, Elkton, Bad Axe, and other parts of the county.

Dudley had taken a number of lessons from the Saginaw airport both last year and this and was passed upon as qualified to drive a plane.

He is keeping the machine on a farm near Caseville.

(Bad Axe Tribune.)

George Murphy, brother of Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, made one of his frequent airplane trips from Detroit to his former home in Harbor Beach recently and circled over Bad Axe but did not land. A trip from the Poschke field near Harbor Beach to Bad Axe was made in 13 minutes against a head wind and after circling over the Verona golf course. The distance is 18 miles by road and about 15 miles by air. Under ordinary circumstances the trip could be made in eight minutes, Mr. Murphy told friends. George is the son of the late John Murphy, pioneer county attorney, and recalled the times that he drove from Harbor Beach to Bad Axe with his father with a horse and buggy. The trip took about three hours, Mr. Murphy said. George is an attorney and also a licensed pilot.

CARO WOMAN AWARDED $1,500 BY U. S. COURT

Mrs. Eliza Calbeck, 79, Caro, was awarded damages amounting to $1,500 on June 2 after the jury trial in federal court at Bay City of her case against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. She sued for $15,000.

Mrs. Calbeck fell in the defendant's store in Caro two years ago and broke her right hip. As a result, she is crippled and has to walk with a cane.

The decision hinged on whether or not the defendant had neglected the safety of its customers by oiling the store floor. The plaintiff claimed permanent disability as a result of the injury.

Delvin Striffler, in the president's address, expressed the appreciation of the class to parents and teachers, and Aletha Morish as salutatorian extended the welcome. Evelyn Retherford in the giftatory, John Morris as class prophet, and Caswell Hunter, in the class will, supplied the humor in the program which was best appreciated by high school pupils.
