

SUPERVISORS START JUNE SESSIONS MON.

Tuscola Board to Fix Salaries; Sanilac Group to Hear Auditors' Report.

Supervisor boards of both Tuscola and Sanilac counties will meet for their annual June equalization sessions on Monday, June 27. Equalization of property valuations will be one of the major items of business.

W. T. Lewis, supervisor of Vassar township and chairman of the committee on county officers' salaries, has been securing a fund of information regarding remuneration received by Tuscola county officials. This he intends to present to the attention of the board of supervisors of Tuscola county at their June session. It is probable that the board will fix salaries of county officers at their session next week.

In Sanilac county, John Jackson, chairman of the board, will announce standing committees at the beginning of the June session. The supervisors are also scheduled to receive a report from the special certified audit unit conducted during the last few months to determine the actual status of the alleged shortage in Sanilac county funds claimed during the administration of a former treasurer, James Curry. Auditors are completing their report this week to be made to the board and Edward A. Bilitzke, assistant attorney general, in charge of the case. What the audit will show is not known, and apparently no information will be made public until the supervisors first hear the report. Some members of the board will attempt to have the report read to the board in secret, it is reported, but the public nature of the document, it is assured, will be given out by Bilitzke should the board attempt to withhold the report.

Soft Ball League Will Be Organized

On Tuesday evening, June 28, at the fairgrounds, a soft ball league will be organized under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. This will make the fifth league organized by the Tuscola-Saginaw Area Y. M. C. A., bringing the total number of teams to 32.

The following captains have been chosen: Arthur Atwell, Frank Reid, Frederick Pinney, Andrew Bigelow, Meredith Auten and Ed Fritz.

Three diamonds are being laid out at the fairgrounds, making it possible to play all of the games at once. Games will be played on Tuesday and Friday evenings, starting at seven o'clock.

Every man or boy, high school age or over, is eligible to play, the only cost being 15 cents per person which will be used to pay for the balls and bats used.

At the state conference of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church held in Brown City, the following appointments of pastors in churches in the Thumb of Michigan were made: Brown City, W. O. Cline; Greenwood, R. D. Dean; Cass River, G. D. Clink; Marlette, R. G. Morgan; Bad Axe, B. W. Douglas; Elkton, E. M. Gibson.

Miss Wilson expects to attend night sessions of the Detroit City Law school when that opens this fall.

Officers probed an attempt last week to rob the Pere Marquette railroad office safe in the Marlette depot. No clues were found. The thieves knocked the combination from the safe but were unsuccessful in gaining entrance. A freight wrecking bar was used to break locks off the two main doors leading into the station office. Officers believed that the job was a local one as only a small amount of money is kept in the safe.

The Sanilac County Federation of Women's clubs elected the following officers at the annual meeting in Marlette: President, Mrs. John E. Campbell, Brown City; vice president, Mrs. Frank Sturbridge, Crosswell; secretary, Mrs. Bruce Rudd, Marlette; treasurer, Mrs. Grant R. Smith, Sandusky. The next annual meeting will be held in Snover in June, 1933. Resolutions were passed in memory of Mrs. A. E. Fox, Peck, deceased federation president. Her work was extolled as a club worker and faithful officer.

The past week he finished his work at the Michigan Savings Bank and has been at the State Savings Bank this week. Due to his being called away for several bank hearings the last of this week, he will be unable to finish his work here until later. Mr. Nelson has interviewed several citizens and others who have had matters to discuss with him. His report when finished will go to the state banking commissioner and then to Judge Smith who will likely make the contents of the report known.—Vassar Pioneer-Times.

10TH REUNION OF NOVESTA PIONEERS

Birthday Surprise Back in 1913 Started Annual Picnic of Early Settlers.

On October 20, 1913, Mrs. Roswell Allen invited a few old settlers to her home as a surprise on Mr. Allen's sixty-fifth birthday. The day was spent in telling bear stories and recalling pioneer days and was so much enjoyed by all that it was decided to meet once a year. Although a meeting was held each year, no record was kept of them until August 20, 1920.

The 1932 gathering was held Thursday, June 16, in the Randall grove, 4 3/4 miles south of Cass City. About 240 were present and enjoyed a picnic dinner. Thirty-five who attended were over 70 years of age. M. H. Quick, who is 84, was the oldest.

After the dinner, the meeting was called to order and prayer was offered by Rev. P. Jones. N. W. Bridges welcomed the guests and M. H. Quick responded.

A short business meeting was held and officers were elected as follows: President A. H. Henderson, Deford; vice president, Howard Retherford, Deford; secretary, Mrs. Thomas Colwell, Cass City; treasurer, Charles Kilgore, Novesta. A number of old time songs, under the leadership of Mrs. E. L. Carless of Kingston, were sung by the company.

Mrs. Thomas Everett of Kingston, an early settler of Deford, told how Kingston received its name and gave its history. She concluded her talk with one of Edgar A. Guest's poems.

Mrs. John McLarty of Cass City read a paper on "Pioneer Days." She brought back many recollections of past experiences. George Hatherly of Kingston gave a talk, also bringing back memories of times gone by. "A Tribute to Pioneers," written by Mrs. Mary Holcomb, was read by Miss Ruby Kelley. Short talks were given by C. P. Hover of Akron, candidate for nomination for the office of representative on the Republican ticket, and by Mrs. A. J. Knapp of Cass City.

The meeting was closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie" and with prayer by Rev. Carless of Kingston.

It was decided to hold the meeting next year at the same place and on the same date, the third Thursday in June.

Miss Law Is Bride of Frank Agar

Impressive in its simplicity was the marriage service when Miss Flossie M. Law, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Law, became the bride of Frank H. Agar, son of Mrs. Lucy Agar of Ann Arbor, on Saturday, June 18, at high noon in the Law home in Greenleaf township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Firth of the M. E. church of Peck.

The living room, banked with flowers in tall baskets and ferns, formed a lovely setting for the ceremony. The bride wore a becoming gown of powder blue taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of white rose buds and baby breath.

Her only attendant was Miss Marion Agar of Ann Arbor, a sister of the groom. She wore a frock of pale blue chiffon and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Wellington Law of Pontiac, brother of the bride, performed the duties of best man.

The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Iva Karr of Gageton, cousin of the bride. The ceremony was followed by a wedding dinner. The tables were attractively decorated in pink and white. A large wedding cake and tall candles formed the centerpiece.

The bride was a member of the Class of '26 of the Cass City high school and graduated from the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, and was a teacher in the Wickware school for two years. The past two years she was employed at Couzen's Hall in Ann Arbor.

The groom was graduated from the Ann Arbor high school and Cleary college at Ypsilanti and is employed with the Detrola Radio Corporation.

Relatives and friends were present from London, Ont., Oak Harbor, Ohio, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Rochester, Caro, Unionville, Argyle, Shabbona and Gageton. Mr. and Mrs. Agar will make their home in Ann Arbor.

ROBUST BEANS LIFT PROFITS PER BU.

Use of Disease Resistant Strain Only Consistent Factor in Reducing Costs.

The use of Robust beans, a disease resistant variety originated at Michigan State college, as seed stock appears to be the best means of insuring a profit from bean growing in Michigan, according to a study made by the farm management department at the college.

A study of the production costs of beans in the state has been made during the past three years by that department. The influence of several factors upon the costs was determined, and the use of the disease resistant seed was the factor that showed consistent aid in reducing production costs on all kinds of soil and in all kinds of weather.

The study showed that the only way a profitable bean crop can be raised in Michigan under present market conditions is to produce an exceptionally good yield and to keep the growing costs as low as possible while securing the high yield. Methods of getting big yields per acre should vary on different types of soils.

The two extremes in production costs found by the farm management department in its study of 92 farms was a low cost of 63 cents per bushel for a 34.2 bushel crop and a high cost of $8.44 per bushel for the production of 2.2 bushels per acre. One farmer made a profit of $16.86 per acre on his beans in 1931, when the average loss on the 92 farms was $8.59 per acre.

An unusually dry year reduced the yields in some sections on the lighter soils. In these areas, the use of fertilizer did not increase yields and the late plantings yielded better than the early. The fertilized fields yielded best on heavy soils and early plantings produced the most beans. The result on light soils would be different in normal years.

Miss Henderson Is Bride of A. J. Pratt

In a pretty home wedding Saturday afternoon, June 18, at 4:30, Miss Thelma Lillian Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Henderson of Novesta, became the bride of Albert J. Pratt of Bay City. Rev. William R. Curtis, pastor of the Cass City Baptist church, officiated.

The couple were attended by Miss Irene Brooks of Tyre and Arthur Henderson, brother of the bride.

The bride was gowned in Alice blue while the bridesmaid wore orchid. The beautiful ring service was used.

A wedding dinner was served immediately after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents where the wedding took place.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt will make their home in Bay City where Mr. Pratt is in the transportation business. The well wishes of many who know them will follow them to their new home.

OWENDALE LAD KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

Funeral of Harold Lloyd Zapfe Was Held Sunday Afternoon.

Harold Lloyd, 5 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zapfe of Owendale, was killed about 7:45 p. m., on Thursday, June 16, when he was struck by a car driven by John Linda, 16, of Owendale.

Harold was with a group of 13 children ranging from 5 to 12 years who were playing around gasoline tanks south of the Owendale elevator. Several of them had crossed the highway ahead of the Zapfe boy, who was hit by the Linda car traveling north. The lad was carried 60 to 70 feet by the car after being struck. The boy was hurried to a physician in Gageton, but life was extinct when he arrived.

A jury at an inquest conducted by Coroner Russell G. Paynter exonerated Linda of blame in the accident.

Harold Lloyd Zapfe was born in Cass City on January 6, 1927, and started school here in the kindergarten department. His father is railroad section foreman at Owendale and the family moved to that village last December.

Funeral services were conducted by Elder Sheffer of Laing, at the Canboro church on Sunday afternoon and interment was made in Elkland cemetery. Surviving are the parents and six brothers and sisters, Lillian, Floyd Jr., Iris, Orville, Deloris and Jeannine.

Horseshoe Pitchers Contest Here June 25

Cass City Horseshoe club defeated the Elkton team Wednesday without difficulty and at Bad Axe defeated the team representing that city by a 400-310 score. John May, local player, hung up a record of 14 ringers out of 18 shoes thrown.

Tomorrow (Saturday) is "horseshoe day" in Cass City when teams from Elkton, Bad Axe, Mayville and Cass City will compete for honors in the afternoon and evening.

A special attraction for the occasion will be the presence of Jimmy Risk, American horseshoe champion. Here are some of that gentleman's records: Forty-eight ringers out of 50 shoes. Fourteen straight doubles. Ninety-five per cent ringers in one game. Ninety-three out of 100 shoes pitched.

Dept. of State News Bulletin

As a result of the staggered plan of part-time employment put into effect June 15, the Department of State is furnishing work to more persons than ever before during the slack summer months, while departmental payrolls, starting July 1, will be lower than during previous summers.

By the part-time plan of work, the department kept 33 workers upon the payrolls, who otherwise would have been dropped because of lack of work. The new system affects about 125 persons, whose duties for the most part, are of a routine nature.

Those who have no dependents, work two out of every three weeks. Married employees, whose husbands or wives are dependent upon them, work four out of every five weeks, while employees with more than one person wholly dependent upon them for support, work six out of every seven weeks. Four exceptions to this rule, have been made in cases of employees with six or seven dependents. These work full time.

Although the plan of staggering work has been in actual operation but a few days, inquiries have been made regarding the details of the plan with a view to adoption by other departments.

HERBERT HOOVER FOR PRESIDENT

G. O. P. BIG SHOW AT CHICAGO WAS A MASTERPIECE

Greatest Interest Centered in Fight Over Prohibition Repeal Plank.

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON Chicago.—The Republican convention met, nominated Herbert Hoover as the party's candidate for President, and Charles Curtis as its candidate for Vice President, adopted a platform that embodies a modification of the prohibition amendment to the states as one plank, and adjourned.

That is what was accomplished by 1,153 delegates—Senator Borah not being present—and 1,154 alternates, who traveled in going to and from the convention an estimated total distance of 2,308,000 miles at a cost for railroad fare of something over $46,000.

So far as the actual news of the convention was concerned any reporter—even the cub—could have written it at any time during the past three months and possibly at any time during the past three years. But there had to be a convention, the properly designated delegates had to have their day in the spotlight, even though there was no contest for votes for a Presidential nomination and all had to pay their own railroad fare and hotel bills. Members of the national committee had to have the opportunity of sitting in the reserved seats at the big show. Distinguished guests had to have the opportunity of being known as distinguished guests. The assistant sergeants-at-arms and the ushers would never have been satisfied had they been deprived of wearing their badges, and even the peanut vendors had to have their chance to earn an honest dime.

The Nominations Are Made.

When the roll call of states for the naming of candidates began on Thursday the California delegation was the first one to respond and James Scott presented the name of Herbert Hoover. His naming of the President produced the greatest demonstration of the convention. When Oregon was reached the name of Doctor France was presented to be followed by the one ballot needed to name a candidate. President Hoover received all the votes with the exception of three or four for Coolidge, three for France, three for Blaine of Wisconsin, and one for Senator Wadsworth of New York.

Doctor France proved a magnanimous candidate for the nomination. After L. R. Sandblast of Portland, Ore., had presented in a modest way the qualifications of his state's champion for the Presidential job, Doctor France attempted to secure recognition from the chair, and when refused attempted to force his way onto the platform. The audience presumed he wanted to say something more in his own behalf, but that was not the good doctor's purpose. What he wanted to do was to withdraw his own name and present to the convention the name of the distinguished Massachusetts trout fisherman, Calvin Coolidge. The police took a hand in the affair, ejected the doctor from the platform, and the name of Calvin Coolidge was not mentioned except that during the roll call for the Presidential nomination three or four delegates from Connecticut, read the minority platform report, demanding straight repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, ment embraced across the front pages of Chicago newspapers a dozen hours before the nomination was made.

With General Dawes out of the race there was practically no opposition to Vice President Curtis, and he received the nomination for second place on the ticket on the first ballot.

The Formalities Begin.

Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock there were close to one hundred thousand people milling about OUTSIDE the Chicago Stadium. Inside, there were some fifteen thousand to occupy 20,700 seats. In the section reserved for delegates there was but one vacant chair, the one reserved for Senator Borah. In the alternate section they were all filled. The national committeemen and women were all present, the distinguished guests had arrived, the assistant sergeants at arms, all properly labeled with pretty badges, were in evidence, but all too many of that more than 7,000 seats provided for paying guests, at from $3 to $5 per guest, were vacant. The people of Chicago had failed to evidence their appreciation of the entertainment provided by a national Republican convention.

It was only 18 minutes after the scheduled hour of eleven when Senator Fess, national chairman, with a bung starter for a gavel, called for order and announced to those who persisted in continuing their conversation, that their time was up, and he was now in charge and would temporarily, at least, run the show. Ordinarily, the next number on the program would have been the prayer, but before that in this case they must get through with the welcome by the Democratic mayor of the city. It would never do to include in the plea for Divine guidance, the actions or words of a Democratic mayor.

The keynote, Hon. Lester Jesse Dickinson of Iowa, made a good speech. The same quality of speech made before a Democratic national convention would have produced hours of boisterous demonstration, but the Republicans are more given to voting than to shouting. Though Senator Dickinson's speech did not produce any number of wild outbursts, any prolonged parade of howling delegates, it did make a profound impression on the assembled Republican hosts.

While looking on at a Republican national convention seems like watching the operations of a well oiled and perfectly geared machine, it is not as simple as it seems. Jones and Smith and Brown and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler all have a chance to air their views, but all of this is in committee meetings held in hotel rooms. It is the final result that is brought to the floor of the convention and goes into the record as the unanimous verdict of the assembled delegates.

The Wednesday morning session was another of those formal occasions that did not attract the crowd. It took ten minutes to listen to the report of the organization committee and an hour to listen to the speech of the permanent chairman, Representative Snell, of New York. But it was a good speech and appealed to the delegates. His first mention of the name of President Hoover started a half hour demonstration that would have been unanimous had Oregon joined in. But that state was loyal to former Senator France, of Maryland, the adopted favorite of Oregon, and its banner was not carried in the parade of states.

Chicago Sees the Show.

Chicago went to the convention Wednesday night, and Chicago was wet. When Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, read the minority platform report, demanding straight repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, the thunderous applause came from those $3 to $5 seats the Chicago people had paid for and the assistant sergeants at arms. The rather mild delegate demonstration was led by Wisconsin, and joined in by many states, including prohibition Maine. When previously the majority report was presented, providing for modification, with federal control of the liquor traffic, Kansas led the demonstration, but did not receive any appreciable support from the Chicago audience.

Wednesday night it looked like a convention. The vacant seats that had been so noticeable during the Tuesday and Wednesday morning sessions, were all filled. All of the Chicago aunts and uncles and cousins, Republican and Democratic, had turned out to hear what the G. O. P. was going to do about prohibition, and these Chicago aunts, uncles and cousins knew what they wanted done with it. When James R. Garfield of Ohio attempted to make a plea for the adoption of the majority plank, Chicago, in the galleries, refused to listen. Even a threat to clear the galleries was of no avail, and very little of what Mr. Garfield said was heard by any of the delegates to whom he was talking.

Chicago thought differently about Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler when he had his ten minutes on the platform. The gallery gods recognized him as their champion and the threat to adjourn the convention was not needed to secure attention to his speech.

Speech followed speech, starting with a time limit of ten minutes and getting down to one minute, until every one who wanted to have his say had been given an opportunity. It was such a talk-fest as would have been expected at a national Democratic pow-wow, but the oratory lasting until one o'clock Thursday morning, did not change a single vote, and when the roll of states was called it resulted in the adoption of the majority report by 462 to 681.

Platform and Prohibition.

The party platform as worked out by the resolutions committee contains 25 planks. When it was read to the convention on Wednesday evening the delegates, and especially the wet Chicago visitors, evinced interest in only one of the 25. There was but little interest in the fact that the party stood for a reorganization of the government bureaus in the interest of economy; that the party proposed to have the government loan money to the states for emergency relief work; that it stood for a reduction of public expenditures; for the balancing of the national budget; for adherence to the gold standard and against currency inflation; for revision of the banking laws to protect depositors; for continuing assistance to co-operatives through the farm marketing act, but when the secretary, after an hour, got down to that one vital, all-important subject, prohibition, they were interested.

The majority of the resolutions committee proposed a plank that would modify the Eighteenth amendment permitting people of any state to decide for themselves whether they wished to be dry or wet. If dry the federal government to assist in the prevention of the manufacture of liquor in the state, or transportation into or the sale of liquor within the state. If wet the federal government to control and regulate the sale of liquor within the state. It implied that government control and regulation would be through the medium of government dispensaries to be established in wet territories only.

Other planks call for tax reduction; for a flexible tariff and the extension of tariff protection to cover natural resource industries, farms, forests, mines and oil wells; for a shorter work day and shorter work week, restriction of immigration, collective bargaining, freedom of speech and assemblage; for a home loan discount bank system; for giving the federal power commission authority to regulate charges for electric current when transmitted between states, and others that are usually found in any party platform.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name: Charles H. Fletcher

R. S. There are some such lots that are a disgrace for people going through our otherwise beautiful little city to look at. Anyone wishing to investigate this can be shown some places where docks are from 5 to 6 feet high and should be cut at once."

Hoover to Stand on Platform Calling for Modification of 18th Amendment—Would Let States Decide for Themselves.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

President Hoover

LET each state decide for itself whether it will be wet or dry. That, briefly, is the prohibition plank adopted by the Republican national convention in Chicago. It was dictated by President Hoover, and the administration forces, in complete control of the convention, put it over after one of the most uproarious sessions in twenty years of Republican conventions.

The plank is not pleasing to the very wet Republicans and is completely obnoxious to the dry ones. Under the Republican plan congress will at all times be in general control of liquor law enforcement in those states that elect to remain dry. Also, congress will control the manufacture, sale and distribution of liquor within the borders of the wet states.

With the platform out of the way the convention proceeded to do what had been whispered in some quarters they might do. They renominated Herbert Hoover for President and Charles C. Curtis for Vice President.

The debate on the prohibition plank was the only thing that saved this convention from being a complete flop as far as thrills and excitement are concerned. In all other respects it was about as tame as a town meeting, the selection of standard bearers being a foregone conclusion. James R. Garfield, chairman of the resolutions committee, led the fight for the Hoover plank, while Senator Bingham and Nicholas Murray Butler headed the forces demanding a plank insisting on the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

Senator Bingham's plank was defeated by a vote of 681 to 472. An analysis of the vote shows that the Republicans in the south swung the balance against the northern, eastern and middle western states which furnish the bulk of the electoral votes for the election of Republican Presidents.

The Hoover plank as adopted reads in part as follows: "We do not favor a submission limited to the issue of retention or repeal. For the American nation never in its history has gone backward, and in this case the progress which has been thus far made must be preserved, while the evils must be eliminated.

"We, therefore, believe that the people should have an opportunity to pass upon a proposed amendment the provision of which, while retaining the federal government power to preserve the gains already made in dealing with the evils inherent in the liquor traffic, shall allow states to deal with the problem as their citizens may determine, but subject always to the power of the federal government to protect those states where prohibition may exist and safeguard our citizens everywhere from the return of the saloon and its attendant abuses.

"Such an amendment should be promptly submitted to the states by congress, to be acted upon by state conventions called for that sole purpose in accordance with the provisions of Article V of the Constitution, and adequately safeguarded so as to be truly representative."

The entire platform, as submitted by the resolutions committee, was adopted by a viva voce vote. Some of the high lights follow:

Approval given an emergency relief fund for loans to states in need. No direct federal relief to individuals.

Shorter work week, shorter work day, legislation to stimulate home building, continuance of restricted immigration.

Prompt and drastic reduction of public expenditure urged. Further aid pledged through federal farm board, protective tariff duties, assistance to solve problems of controlling production.

Full protection to incapacitated veterans pledged. Cash payment of bonus not mentioned.

Favor extension of tariff protection to natural resource industries.

Committed to maintenance of navy on basis of parity with any nation. Opposed to further army personnel reduction.

American entry into league court favored. Settlement of international difficulties without "alliances or foreign partnership" pledged.

Relentless warfare pledged against narcotic traffic. Need cited for revision of banking laws on sounder basis. Retention of gold standard pledged. Participation in international conferences on monetary questions. Existing status of government in Hawaii should be maintained. President's "constructive program" lauded as an attack on the depression with "far-reaching objectives, but entailing no danger to the budget."

Republican control of the federal government will "insure the orderly recovery of the country."

WHILE the Republicans were busy in Chicago, the Democrats made small progress in settling their pre-convention squabbles. One development was the rumor, originating in Chicago, that Melvin A. Traylor, the banker who is one of the dark horse possibilities for the Presidential nomination, might be put on the Roosevelt ticket in second place. It was said the New York governor would welcome this move. The Traylor campaign managers seemed to think the better ticket would be "Traylor and Roosevelt."

Support of the nominee, whoever he may be, was pledged by leaders of the party in a united appeal for completion of the party's $1,500,000 victory fund before the opening of the national convention on June 27. The message to the rank and file was signed by Alfred E. Smith, Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, Jouett Souse, Owen D. Young, Newton D. Baker, former Gov. James M. Cox, John W. Davis, and 54 other leaders.

TRAGEDY stepped in to halt the debate of Representative Wright Patman's soldier bonus bill when Representative E. Eslick (Dem., Tenn.) dropped dead on the floor of the house while making an impassioned plea for the immediate payment of the $2,400,000,000 bonus. Shocked by the dramatic turn of events, the house adjourned immediately as a mark of respect.

Mr. Eslick had about half completed a ten-minute speech in behalf of the bonus. Picturing the World War army as "the flower of the country's manhood," he waved aside questions of finance and said:

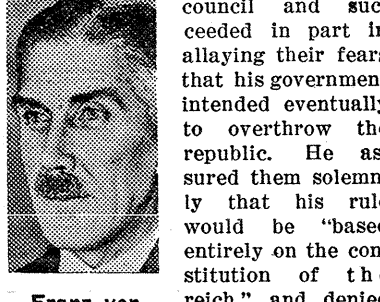

"Mr. Speaker, I want to divert from the sordid—"

He never finished the sentence. As he collapsed, he clutched at a table and partially broke his fall. Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol physician, said he had died before he struck the floor. Mrs. Eslick was in the members' gallery at the time.

Tragedy added to futility is the history of this bonus bill. Hours of debate, largely for home consumption, wasted on the measure that was foredoomed before it was presented.

Though it passed the house by a vote of 211 to 176, there was no possible chance that the senate would pass it, and President Hoover had announced that he would veto it if it should be passed.

FRANZ VON PAPEN, Germany's new aristocratic chancellor, held several conferences with the premiers of the states and the German agricultural council and succeeded in part in allaying their fears that his government intended eventually to overthrow the republic. He assured them solemnly that his rule would be "based entirely on the constitution of the reich," and denied that his cabinet was unsocial or reactionary.

Franz von Papen

The reichstag and the calling of elections were thought necessary, he said, to a new unified expression of the national will, and it was his belief "that a new parliament will more readily produce a clear-cut majority for a policy of spiritual and ethical rehabilitation and an economic orientation that shall rest on Christian, national and social foundations."

WITHOUT debate the senate adopted a resolution presented by Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic floor leader, calling on the President to specify how and where additional savings were to be accomplished. The resolution was introduced in answer to President Hoover's demand that congress save $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 more. In some quarters the prediction was made that the need for additional budget balancing funds will serve to revive the sales tax, notwithstanding the fact that the billion dollar tax bill already has been enacted into law.

The conference committee, still wrestling with the economy bill, has come to a virtual agreement on the plan for enforced furloughs for federal employees, instead of the 10 per cent pay cut plan.

STANISLAUS FELIX HAUSNER, the aviator, who attempted a flight from New York to Poland, was rescued by the steamship Circle Shell after drifting eight days on the Atlantic on his wrecked airplane. Hausner was completely exhausted when rescued and literally fell into the lifeboat that was lowered to pick him up. The captain of the ship reported by radio, that Hausner had received only minor injuries and was progressing satisfactorily.

FOLLOWING the abortive attempt of three young Cubans to assassinate President Machado by throwing a bomb at him, the police of the island republic made a series of raids on the homes of prominent persons and asserted they had uncovered three separate plots against Machado's life. Nearly a hundred leading citizens of Havana were put in prison, and arms and explosives were seized. Capt. Miguel Calvo, chief of the police expert bureau, said: "Cubans have turned to terrorism in a desperate effort to oust President Machado dead or alive. I am convinced that Havana's leading men and women have gone crazy. The revelations are astounding and most disappointing for the future of Cuba and the Cubans."

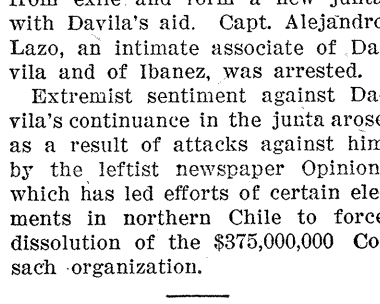

President Machado

The "society terrorists" belong to the ABC organization which sought to overthrow the government on May 20, independence day, but were foiled by the discovery of their plot. Police say that other government leaders besides Machado are "marked for death."

CARLOS DAVILA apparently was not sufficiently radical in his policies toward foreign interests in Chile, so he was forced by the military and socialistic junta to resign as provisional president. Col. Marmaduke Grove, who had a great deal to do with the ousting of President Montero, remained in control, but there were rumors that an army group was plotting to bring ex-President Carlos Ibanez back from exile and form a new junta with Davila's aid. Capt. Alejandro Lazo, an intimate associate of Davila and of Ibanez, was arrested.

Extremist sentiment against Davila's continuance in the junta arose as a result of attacks against him by the leftist newspaper Opinion, which has led efforts of certain elements in northern Chile to force dissolution of the $375,000,000 Co-sach organization.

IT LOOKS as if Gaston B. Means, one of the slipperiest individuals in America, would have to spend another term in a federal penitentiary. A federal jury in Washington found him guilty of stealing $104,000 entrusted to him by Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean for the purpose of ransoming Col. Charles Lindbergh's baby, and the court inflicted a sentence of 15 years' imprisonment and a fine of $2,000. He was acquitted on two embezzlement charges. His attorney moved for a new trial and gave notice of appeal, and meanwhile Means was put back in jail.

Gaston B. Means

POLICE action in the Lindbergh case is being attacked on both sides of the ocean, following the suicide of Violet Sharpe, English maid in the service of the Morrow family. The young woman had been questioned repeatedly by the police, and many persons in America and in England believe she had so persecuted that she was driven to self-destruction, although it appears she was in no way implicated in the kidnaping. State Senator E. L. Richards of New Jersey attacked the administration of Governor Moore as responsible for blunders in the case and said a legislative investigation was "virtually certain."

In London a member of the house of commons brought up the matter by asking the foreign office if the government had its attention called to the suicide of Miss Sharpe and if it would make representations to the Washington government suggesting an inquiry as to what responsibility the police had for the girl's death.

Almost Meal for Lion
Missionaries seem to be singled out by lions for rough treatment. The story was told recently of a missionary who was attacked by a lion, fired three times and missed. The lion began to maul him; whereupon the resourceful missionary thrust his arm into the lion's mouth. The lion chewed at this unexpected morsel, appeared satisfied, and left the missionary injured but alive.
