Miss Day Reports a Wonderful Week at Mu Phi Epsilon Meet

Virginia Day recently returned from the 22nd national convention of Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical sorority, which was held in Kansas City, Missouri, June 21-25. Miss Day is president of Phi Eta chapter located at Michigan State College and acted as official business delegate at the convention. Miss Day had the distinction of being the first delegate from the chapter in East Lansing to the national convention inasmuch as this group became affiliated with the national organization January 10, 1931, and is the youngest of the fifty-three active chapters. Miss Day reports that a most wonderful trip and week was enjoyed in the "Heart of America." She says:

"In company with Mu Phis from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, New York and Wisconsin chapters, I left Chicago for Kansas City on a special Mu Phi Pullman the night of June 20, arriving in the convention city the following morning. From that moment on, the entertaining Mu Phis did everything in their power

HELWIG FAMILY REUNION.

Thirty-two members of the Helwig family met Monday, July 4, for a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hiller, six miles east and one mile south of Cass City. A potluck dinner was enjoyed at noon after which a fine program was given. The remainder of the day was spent in visiting and in pitching horseshoes.

Those from a distance who attended were Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sherman and two children of Caro.

The reunion next year will be held at the Cooper home in Flint.

CEMENT POURING FINISHED ON M-81

Another Month Needed for Work on Shoulders on 3 1/2 Miles of Highway.

The pouring of cement on the 3 1/2 miles of concrete highway on M-81 between Cass City and the junction of M-81 and M-53, four miles east of town, was completed Saturday afternoon. A total of 2,300 feet was poured on Saturday, the greatest amount of cement laid in any one day on this job. This is by no means a record day's work for Contractor E. B. Schwaderer's crew for better showings had been made on earlier contracts. Nearly 1 1/2 miles of cement 10 feet in width were laid in 3 1/2 days here last week.

Mr. Schwaderer says that the work of grading the shoulders will keep his crew busy another month before the contract is completed.

There still remains a short stretch of cement to be laid near the Cass river bridge, but this cannot be done until the new bridge is completed. The west abutment of the bridge has been completed and the bridge crew is laying the one on the east side of the river.

Faithful Ones at School Reunion

A small crowd of faithful ones attended the second Frenchtown school reunion Saturday. Owing to sickness in his family, the president, Jesse McNeill, was unable to attend. The vice president and treasurer also failed to put in an appearance. Miss Mary E. Petiprin, former teacher and head of the program committee, had a previous engagement and was away on her honeymoon.

The honorable secretary, W. C. Morse, attempted to fill all vacancies but suffered a nervous breakdown and was forced to retire. Mrs. Beulah Hobart then took charge and succeeded in reorganizing the convention with a brand new set of officers and by-laws, one making it a compound felony for any former pupil or teacher to be absent from future reunions, death or matrimony being the only excuses accepted.

Refreshments were then served after which the boys played ball and the kids pelted each other and the innocent by-standers with the remains of the cake and lemonade.

Officers elected for next year were: Pres., Mrs. Beulah Hobart; sec.-treas., Miss Cecelia McKlovish.

The date for the next homecoming was not set but will appear in the Chronicle as usual.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB OF NORTH CENTRAL COLLEGE, NAPERVILLE, ILLINOIS, will present a concert of high class music at the Evangelical church, Cass City, Friday evening, July 8. C., giving concerts during the summer months. During the intermission Friday evening, Herdis Deabler, graduate of the college, will show motion pictures of the school.

STATE BANK AT CARO REOPENED SATURDAY

Substantial Deposits Made and Capital Stock Is Oversubscribed.

On Saturday morning, after being closed nearly nine months for reorganization, the State Savings Bank at Caro, reopened for business.

"We have had wonderful cooperation on the part of depositors and customers of the bank," Cashier Clarence Myers said Wednesday morning. "In the two days the bank has been open, we have had substantial deposits. Our intention was to fix the amount of the capital stock at $40,000, but $42,500 have already been subscribed and there are prospects of further subscriptions for stock."

At a meeting of the stockholders of the bank held last Thursday evening, the former members of the board of directors were reelected to positions on the new board and three new directors added, making the total number on the board constitute ten of the stockholders of the institution. They are Louis Wean, C. R. Myers, R. L. Dixon, A. D. Gallery, L. R. Stewart, D. M. Graham, Carl Palmer, H. P. Orr, W. A. Crooks and W. J. Moore. The last three named are new members on the board.

At a meeting of the directors, H. P. Orr was elected president; Louis Wean, chairman of the board; Dr. R. L. Dixon and A. D. Gallery, vice presidents; and Clarence Myers, cashier.

An article regarding the opening of the bank at Caro, printed in the Saginaw Sunday News, contained the following paragraphs:

"For six months from the date of its opening, the State Savings Bank of Caro will be a one-way financial agency insofar as old deposits are concerned. There will be money coming in but not a sin-

CRAMTON TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Stresses Importance of Agri- cultural Relief and More Economy.

Louis C. Cramton of Lapeer, who served this district in Congress for 18 years until defeated in the 1930 primaries by the narrow margin of 25 votes in a total of over 55,000, Thursday announced his candidacy for the Congressional nomination. In his statement, he says:

To the Voters of the Seventh Congressional District:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in Congress and ask your support.

The foremost problem of our nation now is the return of prosperity and that is a many-sided and complicated problem. To its solution all else should be subordinated. Patience, care and courage are essential on the part of voter and representative alike. The failure of this Congress to squarely meet the needs of economy and relief has intensified and prolonged the depression. Too much attention has been paid to partisan and personal political in-

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION IN TUSCOLA

The Democratic pre-primary convention at Caro Friday brought fully a hundred delegates from various parts of the county and all apparently took a lively interest in the convention proceedings. County Chairman Robt. Jacoby called the meeting to order and introduced Frank L. Hopkins, chairman of the campaign committee, who announced the chairmen of the different townships and then proceeded to name the candidates drafted by the county organization for the various local offices, emphasizing the special qualifications of each candidate for his particular office.

Clare T. Purdy served as permanent chairman of the meeting and addresses were given by James Tucker of Mt. Clemens, Edward M. Sharpe of Bay City, and Van V. Philp of Bad Axe

ORDER SHERIFF TO REMIT CIVIL FEES

Sheriff Hagle Contends He Has Legal Right to the Fees.

Civil fees collected by Sheriff L. C. Hagle during the last four years since the sheriff's office was placed on a salary basis were ordered remitted to Sanilac county by the board of supervisors in session last week, and the finance committee of the board was authorized to proceed with collection.

The supervisors based their action on a resolution passed in October, 1928, and another resolution passed in October, 1930, in which the office was placed on a salary basis, and the provision made that all fees collected by the sheriff should be remitted to the county treasurer each month. Opinions from the attorney general's department, and supreme court decisions were cited to the supervisors by Prosecutor W. H. Burgess in support of the action that the board had the power to order fees remitted. Sheriff Hagle declares he was advised by the prosecutor shortly after the office was placed on a salary basis, that he had legal right to

Miss McLeod, Bride of Leo Flannery

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLeod of New Greenleaf announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Flora, to Mr. Leo Michael Flannery of Flint, son of Mrs. Nora Flannery, which was solemnized at St. Michael's church at Flint, on Saturday, June 25.

Miss Dorcas McLeod was the bride's only attendant, and Angus McLeod, Jr., assisted the groom as best man.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of powder blue with which she wore navy accessories.

After the ceremony, the bridal party motored to Detroit where a lovely breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Flannery will spend some time at a cottage on Long Lake, after which they will reside in Flint.

Arthur Whittenberg, Candidate for the office of county treasurer at the Republican primary election September 13, 1932. I was a candidate two years ago and was defeated by the incumbent who is now asking for a fourth term. I do not ask a life lease of the office; I simply ask a fair trial and the opportunity to serve you faithfully and efficiently. —Advertisement.

KITCHEN FAMILY REUNION.

The Kitchen reunion was held July 4 at the farm home of Mrs. Clinton Starr near Argyle, a good representation of the family being present from St. Thomas, Ont., Wayne, Rochester, and Argyle. Many from Canada and other points were kept at home on account of the heavy rain in the early morning but many friends and neighbors participated in the happy event. A bountiful dinner was served at noon on the lawn after which the time was spent in visiting and games. About 3:30 ice cream and cake were served to the forty-five present, the guests then leaving for their different homes, all reporting a good time.

STATE TO VOTE ON REAPPORTIONMENT

Petitions Bearing 140,000 Names Assure Ballot This Fall.

Michigan voters were assured Friday of another constitutional amendment to be voted on at the November election.

Petitions carrying more than 140,000 names asking a vote on the Michigan plan of reapportionment of the state legislature every 10 years, were filed with Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald, late Thursday. Although only 85,000 names are required to initiate a referendum, sponsors of the movement to bring reapportionment to the electors plan to make additional filings.

If the constitutional amendment is approved the membership of the house of representatives, numbering 100, will be apportioned according to population every 10 years.

House members will be elected every two years as now obtains but beginning in 1934 one-half of the senate membership will be elected for four years and the other half for a term of two years. The following two years the election of senators whose terms have expired will be elected for four years, assuring a veteran organization in the upper body. Senators representing the odd numbered districts will be the first to be elected for four years.

If the legislature fails to apportion as the amendment provides it will then be incumbent upon the secretary of state to carry out the provision.

The proposed amendment has the indorsement of the Michigan Municipal league.

Vacation School Ends with Picnic

The Daily Vacation Bible school which has been conducted at the high school building and which has been under the supervision of local Methodist, Presbyterian, Evangelical and Baptist churches, was brought to a successful close last week after three weeks of study.

On Friday evening, July 1, the members of the three departments, Beginners, Primary, and Junior, presented a program of songs, exercises, plays, and an operetta before a large audience of parents and friends in the high school auditorium. Arranged about the room were tables on which were placed exhibitions of the students' work and these displays claimed much

Average American Family Is Hard Hit by the New Tax Measure

If yours is an average family, the new $1,115,000,000 tax bill passed by congress is going to cost you somewhere between $10 and $100 next year. In all probability, the amount you will contribute in that time toward balancing the national treasury deficit will hover around the $50 mark.

Assuming that you earn $40 weekly, are married, and have an automobile, your taxes, under the new bill, would run something like this:

Sporting goods	$3.60
Soft drinks	2.50
Amusements	2.00
Telephone	1.80
Cosmetics	4.25
Matches	.20
Tires, tubes, oil, accessories	7.00
Gasoline	7.80
Electricity	1.50
Checks	2.00
Miscellaneous	8.00
Total for year	$44.90

Say you are a once-a-week golfer. If you buy two $5 clubs a year, and lose—to be optimistic—one 50c ball each round, your tax

SALARIES OF CO. OFFICERS REDUCED

Supervisors Vote to Raise $2,500 to Care for Indi- gent Cases of Illness.

Salaries of elective county officers in Tuscola county were reduced 20 per cent and physicians of the county were limited to $2,500.00 a year for medical and surgical cases of indigent residents in the economy program adopted by the board of supervisors last week. Hospitals are to receive $2.50 a day for the care of indigent cases and $5.00 for the use of the operating room for such cases. The reduced salary schedule is effective Jan. 1, 1933, and the medical schedule Aug. 1, 1932.

The committee on county officers' salaries in submitting their report, recommended that salaries be fixed as follows: County clerk, $1,800; county treasurer, $1,900; prosecuting attorney, $1,500; drain commissioner, $1,800; school commissioner, $2,400; sheriff, $2,500. In place of adopting the schedule as presented by the committee, Supervisor Dillon made a motion, seconded by Supervisor McAlpine, that the salaries of elective officers in the county be cut 20 per cent from the amounts fixed by the board of supervisors in October, 1930. At that time, the board set the clerk's salary at $2,150; the county treasurer, $2,150; the prosecuting attorney, $1,800; the county drain commissioner, $2,150; the commissioner of schools, $2,800; the sheriff, $2,800.

All of the above salaries will be 20 per cent less starting Jan. 1, 1933, according to the schedule adopted by the supervisors last week.

The county commissioner of schools is allowed $1,000 for clerical help and may hire extra help

Rinard-May Nuptials Saturday, July 2

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Repeal With Beer at Once Is the Democratic Stand on Prohibition—Senate Passes Economy Bill to Save 150 Million.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

A DRIPPING wet, outright repeal and modification plank is the official stand of the Democratic party on the prohibition question. Not only does the party call for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, but it demands immediate modification of the Volstead act. The decision was reached after five hours of heated debate in the national convention at Chicago, and about the wildest demonstrations ever witnessed in a political convention.

The prohibition plank as presented in the platform reported by former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the resolutions committee, follows:

"We favor the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

"To effect such repeal we demand that the congress immediately propose a constitutional amendment to truly representative conventions in the states called to act solely on that proposal.

"We urge the enactment of such measures by the several states as will actually promote temperance, effectively prevent the return of the saloon and bring the liquor traffic into the open under complete supervision and control by the states.

"We demand that the federal government effectively exercise its power to enable the states to effectively protect themselves against importation of intoxicating liquors in violation of their laws.

"Pending repeal, we favor immediate modification of the Volstead act to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the Constitution and to provide therefrom a proper and needed revenue."

The vote which placed this plank in the platform came on the question of substituting a minority report calling for a non-committal submission of a repeal amendment. The minority report was voted down by 934 to 213.

The platform is a model of brevity, containing exactly 1,396 words in contrast to Republican declaration of some 8,000 words. Some of the outstanding planks, briefly, are as follows:

Advocated—
An immediate reduction of not less than 25 per cent in governmental expenditures.

Maintenance of the national credit by a budget annually balanced on the basis of accurate executive estimates within revenues, raised by a system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay.

A sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

A competitive tariff for revenue. Extension of federal credit to the states to provide unemployment relief wherever the diminishing resources of the states make it impossible for them to provide for the needy; advance planning of public works.

Unemployment and old age insurance under state laws.

Enactment of every constitutional measure that will aid the farmer to receive for basic farm commodities prices in excess of cost of production.

A navy and army adequate for national defense.

Strict and impartial enforcement of anti-trust laws.

Quicker methods of realizing on assets for the relief of depositors of suspended banks, and a more rigid supervision of national banks for the protection of depositors and the prevention of the use of their moneys in speculation to the detriment of local credits.

The fullest measure of justice and generosity for all war veterans.

A firm foreign policy, including peace with all the world and the settlement of international disputes by arbitration; cancellation of debts owing to the United States by foreign nations opposed; adherence to the World court with the pending reservations.

Condemned—

Improper and excessive use of money in political activities.

Paid lobbies and special interests to influence members of congress and other public servants by personal contact.

Action and utterances of high public officials designed to influence stock exchange prices.

The extravagance of the farm board, its disastrous action which made the government a speculator in farm products, and the unsound policy of restricting agricultural production to the demands of domestic markets.

The usurpation of power by the State department in assuming to pass upon foreign securities offered by international bankers, as a result of which billions of dollars in questionable bonds have been sold to the public upon the implied approval of the federal government.

The Hawley-Smoot tariff law, the prohibitive rates of which have resulted in retaliatory action by more than forty countries, created international economic hostilities, destroyed international trade, driven our factories into foreign countries, robbed the American farmer of his foreign markets and increased his cost of production.

CONGRESSIONAL action on the national economy bill was completed by the house and senate Tuesday night. The senate agreed to the changes made by the house in the plan of payless furloughs for government employees.

The major house changes in the furlough plan were reduction of the exemption from $1,200 to $1,000 and establishing a graduated scale of pay cuts for those employees whose services were so needed they could not be given a month's leave without pay, as will the employees who can be spared.

The pay cuts begin at 10 per cent on salaries over $10,000 and range to 20 per cent on salaries of $20,000 and over. Those making less than $10,000 who could not be furloughed would give up 8 1/2 per cent of their year's pay.

One reason for the senate's reluctance to approve the bill may have been that it cuts the salaries of congressmen 10 per cent. The Vice President and speaker of the house suffer 15 per cent slashes.

Even the President is invited to do his part, the measure providing that whatever portion of his salary he wishes to turn back is acceptable to the Treasury department. President Hoover had indicated his willingness to accept a smaller salary as part of the economic program.

The same provision is applied to federal judges, who, like the President, are exempted by Constitution from salary changes during their terms.

The salary and wage cuts provide the great bulk of savings in the measure, but changes in bureaus to eliminate duplication will effect other reductions in government cost.

WHEN the fiscal year 1932 ended on June 30 the public debt showed an increase from $16,801,000,000 at the end of the last fiscal year to close to $19,251,000,000. This was due to both diminishing revenues and increasing expenditures. In spite of the fact that the gross deficit, nearly $2,900,000,000, is the largest in the nation's peace time history, treasury officials were inclined to see a ray of hope in the fact that the deficit is no larger than had been anticipated by the department's statisticians last February. It was said also that the total expenditures, not counting the extraordinary spendings of the Reconstruction Finance corporation capital and the federal land banks, will run considerably below the estimated expenditures for the fiscal year.

CURTAILMENT of federal bureaus and a stated percentage reduction in total appropriations are asked of congress by representatives of manufacturers' association who met in Chicago. A careful survey of all governmental spending activity will be made at once and detailed suggestions are to be made on this information. States represented at the meeting were Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kentucky, Nebraska, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida, and Tennessee.

PRAJADHIPOK, the good natured and progressive king of Siam, is no longer an absolute monarch. When he was in the United States some months ago he said he intended to grant his people a constitution "when they were ready for it," but they couldn't wait any longer because of the country's economic distress. Headed by the army and navy, they put on a revolt at Bangkok, arrested a number of princes and other government leaders, and announced that a constitutional monarchy must be established at once. They gave the king only one hour to accept their terms, declaring that if he refused they would put another prince on the throne. Prajadhipok and his queen returned immediately from their vacation and he agreed to the demands of the revolutionists, issuing a proclamation legalizing all the acts of the people's party under whose banner the government had been taken over. A draft of the constitution was submitted to him and after studying it with representatives of the revolutionists he signed it.

REPRESENTATIVE La Guardia and other congressional critics of the federal farm board think they have found another case of mismanagement by that body, and the New Yorker has sent to Chairman J. C. Stone a letter demanding a full explanation of the board's sale last fall, of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China.

The chief question in the minds of congressional inquirers is why the farm board sold wheat to the Nanking government on long term credit when advices from China are that China has paid cash for Canadian and Australian grain and has been selling large quantities of wheat to Russia and getting payment in cash.

The farm board's transaction with China was fulfilled last fall and winter on the Nanking government's plea that its own granaries were empty, that it had no funds to make cash payments, and that millions of Chinese face starvation.

RENEWAL of warfare between China and Japan is threatened by the developments in the relations between the Nanking government and the Manchurian state of Manchoukuo. The bone of contention this time is the customs receipts at Dairen, which were being diverted to Manchoukuo by the Japanese customs commissioner at Dairen, J. Fukumoto. This official was discharged by T. V. Soong, Chinese finance minister, and the entire Japanese staff there resigned, declaring the action "outrageous."

The Manchoukuo government through its Japanese finance minister, Matsuzo Genda, declared its intention to establish a new customs house at Wafangtun, on the border between the Kwangtung leased territory and Manchuria. In addition to Dairen, nine other customs offices within Manchuria are now operating under the flag of Manchoukuo. Sir Frederick Maze, British inspector general of customs in China, upholds the Chinese in the controversy.

A spokesman of the Nanking government in Shanghai said troops in north China had been ordered to resist any attempted invasion of the Peiping-Tientsin area by Japanese or Manchoukuo troops.

AT A meeting of the Republican senatorial campaign committee called by Senator Henry D. Hatfield (Rep., W. Va.), committee chairman, plans were made for an active senatorial campaign in the East, Middle West and Far West. Senator Felix Hebert (Rep., R. I.) will be in charge of eastern headquarters at New York, Senator L. J. Dickinson (Rep., Iowa) will open midwestern headquarters at Chicago, and Senator Robert D. Carey (Rep., Wyo.), at Cheyenne, will have charge of the far western section.

In the Middle West the senatorial committee will assist in the campaigns of Senator Otis F. Glenn in Illinois and Senator James E. Watson in Indiana. In Iowa it will have the candidacy of Henry Field, victor in the primaries over Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart, radical Republican, to support.

APEACE conference between Gen. Augusto Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent, and powerful political leaders of his country has been arranged for the near future. This startling development came about through Gen. Manuel Balladarez, prominent Sandista, who recently talked with American officials from Nicaragua after a conference with Sandino.

The conference will be held at San Lorenzo, a Honduran port. The participants will probably be the four liberal candidates for the presidency and Gen. Horatio Portocarrero, Sandino's candidate.

The immediate object of the conference is the nomination of a single liberal candidate from among the contesting five. If a compromise is reached the next step would be a declaration of an armistice pending election, and ultimately final peace.

ATWO MILLION DOLLAR curtailment of the coast guard's prohibition activities was voted by the senate with the passage of the treasury and post office appropriation bill. The saving was more than counterbalanced, however, by an increase of the appropriation for rural sanitation from $300,000 to $3,000,000 and the retention of customs surveyors and appraisers, which the house bill had thrown out.

As agreed to, the bill carried 1,056,498,333.

Peddler's License

Several large companies have protested to Elktion officials over complying with the city ordinance on peddlers having a health certificate before they go from house to house selling their wares.

The latest one is the Fuller Brush Co. They state that it is in restraint of inter-state commerce and that no license is needed.

It is true that a company in interstate commerce does not need a license to peddle from door to door taking orders but a city has the right to expect that the peddler is in good health and not liable to spread contagious diseases among the people of the city. That is the reason the ordinance requires these peddlers to prove they are not carrying smallpox, diphtheria, etc., with them.

Village President W. G. Schiele is asking the people of the city to ask and insist on the showing of a health certificate before they allow a peddler inside of their houses. People should do this for their own protection.—Elktion Advance.

The Curry Case.

(Peck Times)

Went up to Sandusky Monday afternoon. The board of supervisors was in session and we thought we would be in on the ground floor when the auditors who are being paid so well made their report on the alleged Curry shortage. The supervisors were all on hand but the auditors were not present with the report. Asked two or three supervisors when the report would be ready but did not secure this information, and no one seemed to know anything about the matter except that the auditors were not in town and were presumed to be in Lansing conferring with the attorney general or some other officials in the capital. In April, 1931, James Curry was arrested charged with embezzlement and the case against him is now pending in the circuit court and has been for some months, and since his arrest the people have had ample time to prepare their case, but the audit upon which the case will be based has been going on intermittently for the past three years and, like Tenneyson's brook, seems destined to run forever. If there is no shortage, it is time that some person had the courage and decency to give James Curry a clean bill of health; if there is a shortage, the facts and the names of those implicated should be given to the public and those supposedly responsible should be given a speedy trial, as the constitution provides.

Drink Yourself Rich.

We respectfully suggest this slogan for the wets, "Drink yourself rich!" Boiled down to three words, this slogan is the argument which is being urged in high places for the restoration of intoxicating beer as a legalized drink. Millions of us haven't the price of a meal, but make beer lawful, and we will drink so much of it that the tax on it will amount to $2,000,000,000 a year. The budget will be balanced, the Government's difficulties will vanish, and prosperity will be upon us again almost in one swallow. In other words, we shall "drink ourselves rich."—Hibbing (Minn.) Tribune.

Good Qualities Recognized

Only recently has okra been considered suitable for food, yet the southern mammals discovered long ago that okra, while it may be a snooty relative of milkweed was not poisonous; that it could be utilized in soups and other forms of food. Likewise it was learned that the despised burdock by proper training, could rise above its slovenly family traits and emerge as pleasant, highly respected and desirable.

The phase, tried in camera, means that the case was tried privately, not in open court. The meaning is derived from the Italian or Spanish word camera, a room or more especially a legislative chamber. Camera is also the name of a department of the Papal curia.

Medusa's Head

New and unusual Serial story to be printed in these columns.

Mrs. Josephine Daskam Bacon, the author of our new serial, writes of society and society folk with a sureness of one whose knowledge of the subject is intimate. This author knows the background of New York's social life and her pictures of this background are bright and fascinating and her characters vivid.

"Medusa's Head" tells the story of the mystifying disappearance of one of the most beautiful young matrons in the fashionable set. Apparently Mrs. Crandall White is happily married, certainly she is in good health, and the inscrutable little note she leaves on her departure might mean almost anything. Only one thing is made explicit and that is, no search is to be made. "If you try to find out by the police, I swear that I will never come back," she wrote.

In these days of so many mystery and detective stories, one with a unique situation, a new combination of events, stands out. The reason for Mrs. White's disappearance is as unusual as it is curious. Many women will ponder upon it. Every reader will delight in the gay comedy vein in which the mystery is developed, and enjoy the note of rare romance upon which the story closes.

This clever story will be our next serial. It is unusually interesting and clever in plot and presentation. A story you will want to read and will await the appearance of each new installment with increasing interest.

MISS DAY REPORTS

A WONDERFUL WEEK

Concluded from first page. nated with a formal reception-musical and dance on the Athletic Club Roof garden, where friends of Mu Phi came to meet the national officers.

"The 22nd national convention of Mu Phi Epsilon was formally opened for business Wednesday morning, June 22. Ninety-six business and musical delegates responded to the call. At the end of this day of hard work and satisfactory accomplishments, we felt rewarded by the delightful formal dinner concert on the K. C. A. C. roof, followed by the delegates' concert at Thomas A. Edison Hall, in the new Power and Light Building, made famous by its novel dome lighting. There was no doubt in our minds of the seriousness of purpose and the great wealth of talent displayed. We Mu Phis had reasons to congratulate ourselves on belonging to an organization which stands for only the very best in music. As Bertha King, our national president, said after it was all over, 'I just sat back and was proud.' So were we all!"

"Even those not interested in riding enjoyed seeing the beautiful, high-spirited horses put through their paces in a 'private showing' for the Mu Phi convention Thursday afternoon at the Longview farm, twenty miles from Kansas City. This 1,600 acre farm is owned by Mrs. Lola Long Combs, who has one of the finest stables in America and exhibits at all the important horse shows.

"And now for the memorable night—a glimpse into a new world—this is what Countess Helena Morsztyn's concert meant to her Mu Phi sisters. Helena Morsztyn is one of the world's truly great pianists, an international celebrity, and a true flesh and blood sister! Her whole presence was so sweet, so genuinely interested, that one became lost in her charming personality. She played Chopin as only a Pole can and perhaps as only one other Pole does. Of course, I mean Paderewski, her close friend, and the close friend and associate of her brother, Count Morsztyn, who is now secretary to the Minister of Poland. The Morsztyns are one of the oldest Polish families, well known in the history and literature of the country.

"Two hundred Mu Phis walked into the banquet room Friday night for the last social function of the 1932 convention. Two hundred Mu Phis picked up the violets at two hundred plates. The banquet was on! I recognized more than ever before the significance of the great privilege which had been bestowed upon me by my Mu Phi sisters and the patronesses of Phi Eta chapter. To them I wish to express my most sincere appreciation for the confidence they have placed in me, as well as for the most wonderful experience I have ever enjoyed!"

CAN AFFORD TO READ.

Librarians in many cities and colleges remark that the people are reading more than ever before. If they haven't the money for sporting life, they can at least find excitement in their favorite novels, or in glimpses of the infinite world of real life.

The jazzy followers of sporting doings a few years ago did not care for books. They dropped history like a hot potato. Biography put them to sleep. But the people of former years never felt so. They set up half the night to see if Jack married Jane, or if the distressed heroine was carried off by the bloody pirate chief.

And many of them were not satisfied to stop with the dream world of fiction. They wanted to know what the real folks had done. So they read about Washington and Napoleon and all the big ones. Many of them who never traveled 100 miles from their secluded homes, knew more of the real world than our globe trotters who have seen all the cafes of Paris and the boulevards of Vienna.

All this marvelous world of literature, tingling with sentiment and stirring with enthusiasm, is open to those who can't afford to spend money now on jazzy life. You can tire of the sports. But once the entrancing world of books opens up, that fairy land of romance, that battle ground of nations and peoples and personalities, becomes more fascinating even than real life.

Every town in the United States should have its library. Those that lack one should start assembling books today. Maintaining a magazine and newspaper reading room is practical in any village. It costs little, and when your young folks are enjoying themselves there, they aren't parking their cars in dark places nor getting fined for speeding.

THE "BOYS LOOK HUNGRY."

It will not be so easy to raise campaign funds this year. The traditional process of "frying the fat" out of wealthy contributors promises to find their bones very lean picking.

The "boys" of politics look hungry. They will appear more emaciated by November. Much of the artificial enthusiasm of former years, judiciously stimulated by infusions of the "long green," will be missing.

Every election hears a great outcry about excessive campaign funds. Each political party justifies liberal expenditures on its own account, as constituting an educational campaign. But similar expenditures by the opposition is considered debauching the electorate.

It all costs a heap of money, if the people are really to be given the information they should have. It does not seem unreasonable to mail a circular to every voter. Yet that one item would probably cost $4,000 for every 100,000 voters, which would be around $1,500,000 for the whole country.

Newspaper advertising and radio broadcasts are essential. Many printing, clerical, office, and transportation bills must be paid. What the country dislikes most, is to see great sums handed over to political workers, to be distributed for so-called personal services. When some ward politician is paid for his time, the public often wonders if it isn't about the same as buying that gentleman's support.

If people wanted better government as badly as they desire money, fun, sports, etc., there would be so many willing political workers that not so much would need to be paid for personal campaign services. When the American people get thoroughly enough "fried" to clean the abuses out of their government, they will do most of their political work for nothing. The "boys" will look sad and melancholy under those conditions, but the taxpayers will smile for the first time in years.

Now that the scientists are able to split the atom, the old timers want to know how long it will take them to saw and split a cord of atoms.

terests. There has been too much effort to capitalize the depression for pork barrel and other local or personal schemes. More consideration needs to be given to the general welfare and less weight to the appeals or threats of special groups.

Tax burdens must be reduced. The people are themselves forced to economize drastically and should not be required to turn their savings over to government, federal, state or local, in taxes. I pledge myself to the support of real economy in national affairs. As a member of the House committee on Appropriations I accomplished much and if returned can do more.

It has now been demonstrated that permanent prosperity cannot exist without prosperity in agriculture. I believe it to be now of prime importance that some plan be made effective for control of surpluses in order to make tariffs effective on farm crops and that the disposal of these surpluses abroad be so guarded as not to depress domestic prices. The program agreed upon by the great farm organizations—the Grange, the Farm Bureau Federation and the National Farmers Union—as presented to this congress deserves favorable consideration but has been ignored by this congress.

In the past I have been able to aid materially in protecting such important products of our district as beans, peas, dairy products, beet sugar and flax, and my interest in them is not lessened.

I am opposed to the adoption of any national system of branch banking, centering, as it would, our financial resources and credit control in Detroit and New York.

Unfortunately in political discussion, the public attention is today largely diverted from our acute economic problems by the proposed repeal of the 18th amendment. I am definitely opposed to its repeal or to its nullification through modification of the Volstead Act for the attempted authorization of wine and beer. Definite advances have been made under the policy of prohibition. Improved enforcement would bring greater gains and will always have my support.

Since I am a Republican and am seeking election as a Republican I will, if elected to Congress, notwithstanding my own views against repeal, vote for resubmission of this question as provided in the Republican platform. Such submission will send the decision to that great jury, the voters of the nation, and constitutes a challenge to the best thought of the citizenship of the republic.

In my service in Congress as is generally known, I was free from subservience to any clique, faction or special interest, and served all without regard to creed, party or position. This I will continue to do if again chosen to represent you. I have little money and cannot afford an expensive campaign. If I am to succeed it can only be with the help of those who have confidence in me and that confidence I will always endeavor to justify. Your support will be appreciated.

LOUIS C. CRAMTON.

Also the politicians are agreed on another point, that they are all in favor of prosperity.

Anyway the people who lost their money in the stock market, don't have to worry about losing it again.

People drive long distances, mix in big crowds and come home Fourth of July night tired and weary and wonder if the big celebrations are worth-while events anyway. Others stay at home, rest up and feel better for the time spent around the house.

Still others stay at home and make the best of the opportunity in providing a celebration of their own, even if the whole town hasn't prepared "big doings" for the day. The children in the McCoy-Pinney neighborhood put on a celebration at the McCoy front yard and garage Monday, after weeks of practice, that brought many a thrill to youthful hearts. It opened with a parade with a covered wagon and other original ideas of what a parade should be. Arriving on the show grounds, a story was vividly dramatized, a magician performed wonders, and a three-headed baby drew forth exclamations of awe from the youthful audience until the lad who performed this act single handed grew tired and discarded two of the heads. Sales from lemonade and the five-cent admissions left $2.30 after all expenses had been paid, and then someone mislaid the money and another business venture was obliged to forego paying dividends to members of its company.

ELKLAND ROLLER MILLS TOLD BY ROY

Volume 8. July 8, 1932 Number 1.

Published in the interest of the People of Cass City and vicinity by the Elkland Roller Mills Edited by Roy

A meek little man was walking home from the funeral of his big, masterful wife. Suddenly a roofing tile fell and struck him on the head.

"Gosh," he said, "Sarah has arrived already."

People, who are well fed, are industrious and energetic. Wayne All Mash Grower gives the pullet that ambitious feeling. And early laying means money in the bank.

This and That Doesn't a grand and glorious feeling steal over a Cass City property owner as he approaches tax paying days to remember that there are no village taxes to pay this summer in this municipality? And to add to that pleasantry is the prospect of the repetition of another "no tax" summer in 1933.

A man was driving down the street behind one of the new miniature cars. Every once in a while it would jump into the air. Finally both cars stopped and the man in the rear car shouted: "Why does your car jump around every once in a while?"

To this the other replied: "Can't a man hiccup when he wants to?"

The father of a girl who is now away teaching in another state recently let us read a portion of a letter from his daughter. It said, "Sometime I feel that it isn't just sensible to be too 'family conscious,' but I have visited other families and I have found out just how high mine rates and how wonderful you and mother have always been to me. I just can't help holding my head a bit high. I know that the thought of the family has kept me from making a fool of myself more than once here and just because I knew what your faces would look like if you heard bad things of me. You won't. Until I find someone who is as decent and square as you are, Dad, I'm not trotting to the altar." It seems that this very personal paragraph taken from this girl's letter is both a message to other girls and parents.—Ex.

You, older people, can remember the time when mustache cups were quite the vogue. Those were the days when men were proud of their mustaches. A man could drink his tea or coffee and his mustache would rest quietly out of the way on sort of a shelf that covered part of the cup. This eliminated straining the tea or coffee through the mustache. It was said to be more sanitary and lent an air of elegance to any table. Friends used to give mustache cups as Christmas and birthday presents and at one time a person would have enough on hand so that he could use a different one for each day in the week.

Some one has figured out that the new tax on cigarettes—if you smoke a package a day—will represent $21.90 a year. Boys and girls, at your age you can buy a $1000 insurance policy from this savings. Instead of smoking and tying yourself up to a useless and expensive habit buy a $1000 insurance policy with your saved revenue tax, for the next ten years. You will be happier in 1942—that's all. Think it over. At twenty-one or younger this suggestion is the best investment that you can make in health and wealth.

Little Betty, taking her first ride in the country, was very much impressed by everything she saw. Turning to her mother, she cried, "Oh, Mother, they must be very rich in the country!" Mother: "Why, Betty, what makes you think so?" Betty (pointing to the windmills): "See, they even have big electric fans for the cows!"

This article applies particularly to boys. Every boy who goes in swimming this summer should read what Johnny Weismuller had to say in a recent issue of a current magazine. He wrote "I am a champion swimmer yet I would no more swim a half mile from shore alone without a boat in attendance than I would put a loaded gun to my head and pull the trigger. It is as dangerous, as that. Don't show off, and just keep cramps in the back of your mind when you are tempted to swim out of sight and aid of others." What excellent advice that is, but it means nothing, boys, unless you let it really sink in. You see that old saying "no matter how good a swimmer you are, you can never afford to take chances" is very true and such advice coming from the champion swimmer, Johnny Weismuller, proves it. How often you read or see a person drown trying to swim across a lake for a longer distance than he or she could possibly make. That's just the trouble, we try to show off not thinking of the dangers that might befall us until after it's too late. Let the words that this noted swimmer said sink in, boys, and remember what a chance you are taking when you get out of sight and aid of others. The majority of drownings are caused from cramps which suddenly seize you when you least expect them.

Somebody has invented a motor horn that sounds like a harp. Always giving thought to the pedestrian.—Lynchburg News.

TALES of the CHIEFS

By EDITHA L. WATSON

TENSKWATAWA

As he was lighting his pipe, a young Shawnee suddenly went into a trance.

Tenskwatawa dead, lamented loudly after the fashion of their people, and prepared for a funeral.

Nothing was further from their thoughts than that the supposed corpse would revive, and one may imagine their consternation when the Indian spoke again. However, he had that to tell which caused them to forget their fears: "I have seen heaven. Call the nation together that I may tell them what has appeared to me."

He announced that he had been given a wonderful new revelation from the Master of Life. He had visited the spirit world and seen behind the veil of past and future. He had found that evil is punished and good rewarded there, and he also learned that the Indians were not living a good life.

Here he denounced witchcraft and strong drink, and stated that those who continued to drink would have a fiery punishment hereafter; the pain of burning would be theirs, and flames would shoot from their mouths.

Sorcery and "medicine" were also wrong, the prophet stated, but other of the old Indian customs were the right ones and should be reinstated. The old should be respected and the infirm taken care of. Property should be owned in common, as had been the case in ancient times. White men should not be allowed to marry into the tribe, and in fact, civilization should be rejected entirely. The Shawnees should return to the old ways of life, as they were before the white men came. And thus, said the revelation, happiness would come once again to the red man's heart.

His Indian hearers received these commands with considerable excitement. The belief in a Messiah was strong in every one of the vanquished race, and this seemed to be a message of hope. The strong personality of the prophet impressed them, and although he was blind in one eye, the other seemed to hold a magnetic power.

The name he now assumed was Tenskwatawa, "The Open Door," and he became known to the whites simply as the "Prophet." It is doubtful from his intrigues if he had any real belief in his "trances." He would have appeared more genuine if he had avoided politics. However, he adroitly directed suspicion of witchcraft against those who spoke in his disfavor, and sometimes went too far in his zeal, thus harming his cause.

Greenville, Ohio, was the site chosen by the Prophet for his headquarters. Here the campaign assumed a business-like air. Indians from other tribes flocked to hear the vigorous speaker, and his representatives were sent from the Blackfoot country to Florida, spreading the report of his marvelous supernatural messages.

An eclipse of the sun occurred in 1806. Tenskwatawa had predicted this event, and the fulfillment of his words served to stamp him as a true prophet. The other tribes accepted him without further question and began to work along the lines he had planned.

There were two outstanding points about Tenskwatawa's propaganda: within four years, he said, some awful catastrophe would happen, and only those who believed in the prophet would be safe. This added to the numbers gathered around him. Then, the northern tribes advanced the idea that a confederacy could be formed which would drive the white men back, and this idea was eagerly adopted.

At the battle of Tippecanoe, in which more than a thousand converts to the Prophet's creed were engaged, Harrison won a decisive victory over the Indians, causing them a considerable loss. As Tenskwatawa had claimed that he could avert death in battle, this blow was a severe one, and he lost his prestige on this account.

His work, however, had acquired too great an impetus to stop. The War of 1812 brought this ferment to its height. The British were quick to see the advantage of such an Indian league on their side, and made good use of the opportunity. The Creek war of 1813 was another result of the Prophet's teachings.

After the War of 1812, Tenskwatawa was given a pension by the British. He lived for some years in Canada, finally returning to the United States, and died in Kansas in November, 1837. His burial place is unknown.

Proof of Birds' Journeys

Bird-banding is telling some queer stories of bird-wandering. A heron gull, banded at the Isles of Shoals, off the coast of New Hampshire, last July, turned up in Iowa on October 30; and another, banded at Biddeford, Maine, was found dead in New Brunswick.

BUD 'n' BUB

WELL, ANYHOW THEY ARE GOOD RULES

By ED KRESSY

ARGYLE.

Dr. and Mrs. McNaughton entertained their son, Clarence, and family of Detroit over the Fourth.

Miss Jane MacKichan entertained her brother, Chas., and family over the week-end. Mary Jane remained to spend two weeks with her aunt.

Marble McKichan spent the Fourth at her home here and also attended the school reunion at Cumber which was well attended by former teachers and pupils and old friends of long standing.

Those from Detroit at the McIntyre homes were Mrs. Kate Vanriper, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. McIntyre, and Lorn MacIntyre and family at the home of his sister, Jennie McIntyre.

A potluck dinner was enjoyed by relatives from Canada, Rochester, Novesta and Argyle at the home of Mrs. Clinton Starr. The gathering was in honor of Mrs. Starr's mother, Mrs. Minta Clark.

"Deductive" and "Inductive"
The deductive method in logic is the method of scientific reasoning by which from assumed or established general principles concrete applications or consequences are deduced. Inductive logic is the act or process of reasoning from a part to a whole, from particulars to generals, or from the individual to the universal.

Slaying!

Our language, says a well-known etymologist, is a living thing. Which doesn't at all deny that in the mouths of some of our youngsters it's perfectly killing.—Columbus (S. C.) State.

Long Words

Language in which entire thoughts are combined in one word is called holophrastic. American Indian tongues are examples of this. They often compress a whole sentence into a word, the length of which is often remarkable.

Marriage and Longevity
Marriage, apparently, is an aid to long life, says a European expert, who declares that by the time a man is twenty-seven he has an average expectation of living 42 years longer, while the expectation of life by his bachelor brother of the same age is five years less.

Dogs and Wolves

All dogs of whatever breed are remotely related to wolves, since the wolf is the ancestral form of the domestic dog. In the German shepherd dogs, popularly called German police dogs, this wolf blood is more apparent than in any other breeds and it is likely that this breed of dog is more directly descended from the wolf.

Hudson River

The Hudson river varies from one-half to nearly one and a half miles in width. However, it expands into Havershaw bay, which is three and a half miles wide, and into Tappan sea, which is four miles wide.

Now You Can Buy On Faith....

"I talked with grandma the other day," said the young housewife. "I told her I dreaded this daily shopping — that I hardly knew where to begin. And she made me feel ashamed; she actually did!"

We know just about what her grandma told her. "In my day you would have dreaded shopping much more. It was a real chore then. From place to place you went, looking, looking, tasting this, sniffing at that, buying on suspicion and not on faith. You didn't know who made the things you bought; they didn't have labels; most of them weren't in packages.

"Now you know by name most of the things you buy. You buy a can of So-and-so's Beans today, and you know they'll be just the same when you buy them again. You read the advertisements in your paper, see where the best values are offered, make up your list, and out you go and get it over with in a jiffy! Count your blessings, my dear—they are many."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

DEMOCRATS PUT ON ROARING SHOW AT CONVENTION

Picked Roosevelt, Garner as Standard Bearers for National Race.

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

Chicago. — The democracy of America met in national convention in this city, and, at the end of six days and two nights of strenuous labor, had selected Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as its candidate for President; Speaker John N. Garner of Texas as its candidate for vice president; adopted a platform, one plank of which provides for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and the immediate modification of the Volstead act to permit the sale of beer and light wines; listened to the speech of acceptance by its candidate for President, and adjourned.

The above paragraph tells the news story of the Democratic convention. It tells what was presumably done in the convention hall, but no news paragraph can give the reader a picture of a national political gathering, nor can that picture be painted with only the ingredients found in a convention hall.

Both national conventions of this year consisted of a gathering of 2,308 delegates and alternates; men and women from every state in the Union and from every outlying possession. Quite naturally they felt they were at Chicago representing the sovereign will of their party members in their respective districts, and sat in the convention, in the glare of the spotlights, for that purpose. But of that 2,308 men and women less than one-fourth actually had a voice in deciding what would be done, and the one-fourth diplomatically or sometimes brutally, told the other 1,500 what they would do. A goodly percentage of the 2,308 delegates and alternates did not know just what it was all about.

On the floor of the convention about 90 per cent of the activities was bunk and ballyhoo, noise and hysteria, a useless effort to create sentiment for or against this, that or the other policy, or this, that or the other candidate. The other 10 per cent consisted of the ratification of what had been accomplished by the leaders behind closed doors in committee meetings held in hotel rooms. If it were not done in that way a convention would never end, and party government in America would be impossible.

Conventions Much Alike. That, in brief, is a picture of any national political convention, and it was as true of the Democratic convention as of any other, with the exception that the committees were in no sense unanimous, and there were minority reports presented from practically every one of them on practically every question of policy. In the end, however, the wishes of the majority of each committee were ratified by the majority on the floor.

The ballyhoo of the convention was particularly noticeable, as it always has been, at the time of presenting the names of candidates to the convention. It began shortly before two o'clock Thursday afternoon, continued until the adjournment at six, began again at nine that night and continued without a break until four-thirty Friday morning.

For nominating speeches, of which there were nine—Roosevelt, Smith, Ritchie, Traylor, Garner, White, Byrd, Reed and Murray—20 minutes each was allowed. For second speeches, of which there were more than 30, five minutes each was allowed. Following each nominating speech came periods of carefully staged hilarity which was supposed to represent enthusiasm, but which in the majority of cases represented noise produced by the pipe organist with the aid of all the loud pedals on the instrument. Gallery Always in Evidence.

The exceptions were the demonstrations for Governor Smith and Governor Ritchie. In these demonstrations the unruly gallery gods took a hand and supplemented the noise made by the pipe organ. To the gallery gods these two candidates represented beer, and beer to the galleries was the most important subject before the convention. The demonstration for Roosevelt lasted 45 minutes. Then followed that for Speaker Garner, participated in by the "Gray Mare band" of Dallas and a goodly number of Texans imported for the purpose. Then came the naming of Governor Smith, and pandemonium broke loose in the galleries, as well as with the Smith delegations. They kept it up for one hour and two minutes, the record for the convention. That ended the afternoon. Four hours gone and three of the nine names before the convention.

It began again at nine and through the long weary hours of an all-night session there was speech and ballyhoo, speech and ballyhoo, until four-thirty Friday morning when that part of the job was completed and the roll was called on the first ballot for the party's candidate for President. The result was: Roosevelt, 606 1/4; Smith, 201 1/4; Garner, 92 1/4; White, 52; Traylor, 42 1/4; Byrd, 23; Reed, 24; Murray, 23; Ritchie, 21; Baker, 8 1/2. Mr. Roosevelt lacked 103 1/2 of the needed two-thirds to secure a nomination. Two more ballots were taken without material change in the result, and then, at eight-thirty in the morning the weary crowd quit until eight-thirty Friday night.

Trades were made during Friday. Speaker John Garner was assured of second place on the ticket if his delegates threw their votes to Roosevelt, and the nomination was made on the first ballot taken at the Friday night session, the fourth ballot of the convention, Roosevelt receiving 945 votes, Smith 190 1/4, with 12 1/2 votes scattered between Ritchie, Baker, White and Cox.

The Smith delegations stood loyally by their champion to the end, and there was no motion to make the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt unanimous.

At the Saturday session Speaker John N. Garner was chosen as the party's candidate for vice president. At that session Mr. Roosevelt, who had reached Chicago by plane, was present and was received with tumultuous enthusiasm. He was officially notified of his nomination and made his speech of acceptance.

The convention opened at 12:45—forty-five minutes late—on Monday. The stars of the first performance were National Chairman Raskob, making his last appearance; Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation army and Senator Barkley, temporary chairman. In his opening address the subtle wit of the national chairman was just a bit over the heads of his audience and did not produce the rip-roaring hilarity characteristic of a Democratic convention. Senator Barkley was more to the liking of the delegates and the audience, and his slaps at the Republicans brought down the house and created the noisy demonstrations that made it look and sound like a Democratic gathering.

The crowd on the opening day was not up to expectations. Chicago did not treat their Democratic guests any better than they had treated the Republicans, and a third of the seats in the Stadium were vacant. But Chicago knew the fireworks would not start the first day.

With the opening of the Tuesday session at 12:50—fifty minutes late—Chicago was all set to witness a real Democratic shindig. There was the promise of a scrap over contested delegations from Louisiana and Minnesota; another over the permanent chairmanship, Walsh vs. Shouse; and a third promised over the two-thirds rule.

But the big Chicago audience that filled every available seat was disappointed. The session did not develop on the surface—any fights but all the evidence of a Democratic love feast, except for Senator Huey Long's castigation of the "bunch of outlaws" that were contesting the seats of the senator's group of delegates.

To be sure it had not been possible for the committees on credentials and on permanent organization to arrive at unanimous opinions and there were minority reports from both committees brought to the floor of the convention, the vote of the various members of the committees indicating very clearly just where the strength or weakness of the leading candidate lay.

The first test came on the seating of the Long delegation from Louisiana, which was instructed for Roosevelt, the contesting delegation being uninstructed.

Long won. The minority report, the adoption of which would have unseated his delegates, was defeated by a vote of 638 1/4 to 514 1/4.

At the suggestion of Senator Barkley the oratory had been confined to the Louisiana contest and he also suggested that the convention dispose of that case before the delegates had "perpetrated" upon them the oratory in the Minnesota contest. The speech making in the Minnesota case consisted largely in the orators, and there were several, telling of the virtues of all Minnesota Democrats, only some had more virtues than others, depending upon which delegation they belonged to. The contestants were quite willing to be satisfied with half the honors, and proposed that both delegations be seated, each delegate having half a vote. In the end the contestants were defeated by a vote of 658 1/4 to 492 1/4.

Walsh Wins Gavel. The settling of these contests was followed by what the chairman referred to as the "controversy" over the selection of the permanent chairman. The Roosevelt majority wanted Senator Walsh, the Smith, Ritchie, Reed, White, Murray, etc., etc., minority wanted Jouett Shouse of Kansas.

That "controversy" was productive of eulogistic oratory. Ralph C. O'Neill of Kansas eulogized Walsh while talking for Shouse, and J. F. Burns of South Carolina eulogized Shouse while talking for Walsh. Then came the former Democratic standard bearer, John W. Davis, who eulogized both Shouse and Walsh, though presumably talking for Shouse. On the roll call Walsh was elected by a vote of 626 to 528.

Altogether it was a mild affair. No rip-roaring, roaring, Democratic demonstrations; no fisty arguments; no real entertainment for the Chicago audience that had purchased season tickets at prices up to $50; nothing to indicate that it was a Democratic national convention in session.

Wet Chicago went to the convention Wednesday night to help the wet Democratic majority put over its wet plank. It was a roaring, howling, good-natured mob that crashed the gates of the Stadium to the extent of thousand and finally forced the closing of the doors to the exclusion of large numbers who held legitimate tickets of admission.

Genuine Ovation for "Al." The one outstanding note of Wednesday night's tumultuous session was the reception accorded Smith when he took the platform to speak for the majority liquor plank. He was the hero of the convention, and regardless of the fact that he will not get their votes, the idol of nine-tenths of the delegates. Despite every effort of the chairman to restore order that the business of the convention might be expedited, the roaring, howling, marching demonstration for "Al" lasted fifteen minutes.

The drys had a hard time. The gallery gods did not want to hear them, and made that fact evident. Despite every possible effort on the part of Senator Walsh, and all of the biting sarcasm he could put into his denunciation of the behavior of the mob, nobody was permitted to hear the speakers supporting the plank presented by the minority. But all of the oratory, whether heard or not, did not change a single delegate vote, and the "dripping wet" plank was adopted by a vote of 934 1/4 to 213 1/4.

POULTRY

MILK'S HIGH PLACE IN FLOCK'S RATION

Efficient Egg-Making Food at Present Prices.

Milk, at present prices a relatively cheap food, deserves a place in the poultry ration, declares P. B. Zumbro, extension specialist in poultry husbandry for the Ohio State university.

If liquid milk is available on the farm, this form is the cheapest to use. For every gallon of liquid milk fed daily to each one hundred hens, the protein concentrate in the mash may be reduced 5 per cent, he says.

If liquid milk is not available, dried milk may be used in the mash.

When liquid milk is not available for the poultry ration, the following grain-mash ration is recommended by the poultry specialist. For the mash: ground yellow corn, 40 pounds; ground wheat, 20 pounds; ground oats, 20 pounds; dried milk, 5 pounds; meat scraps, 15 pounds; salt, 1 pound. For the grain: cracked corn, 50 pounds; wheat, 40 pounds; and oats or barley, 10 pounds.

A moist mash fed in the summer will stimulate the poultry appetite and result in increased production, says Zumbro. The regular laying mash may be used in making the moist mash. For each 100 hens, 2 pounds of the mash moistened with milk or buttermilk until it is in a crumbly condition, is sufficient for a daily feeding. It is not necessary to have special feeders for this special moist mash; it may be fed on top of the dry mash in the dry mash hoppers.

Alfalfa Urged as Best

Crop for Poultry Yard

In making a choice of all forage crops for poultry yards, select alfalfa, advises a writer in the Prairie Farmer. Alfalfa is a permanent crop that will grow throughout the entire season without cultivation and can withstand more hot, dry weather than almost any other crop. Bluegrass is good pasture.

If you cannot have alfalfa you may want to sow a temporary crop and we suggest oats for the early part of the year and sudan grass for the rest of the season. Plow the oats during the later part of May or early in June and seed the sudan grass.

Farmers are getting away from the idea of a permanent poultry yard for their fowls. They are moving their houses each year to new ground. Many of them use their meadows or pastures for range, thus giving the birds ground that has had no chickens on it for one to two years.

Cull Out Poor Pullets

Some interesting figures have been secured from a large number of Rhode Island flocks. Nearly 10,000 birds returned between March 1 and September 30 a profit of $1.91 over feed costs in the case of pullets and $1.64 over feed costs for hens. The average egg production was 100.9 eggs for pullets and 94.3 eggs for hens for the seven months.

One lesson learned was the importance of culling out pullets that do not pay their way. A suggestion here is that these nonproducers be culled out when the pullet flock has reached about 2 per cent in egg production. At that time those that are unduly slow in maturing can be easily identified. Those that are not producing can be removed to another pen, fed stimulating ration, and then if they do not respond, can be disposed of as unprofitable.

Grass for Chicks

The bare ground, the smaller the chance to raise good chicks. So a good many years of experience and experimentation have proved. Early chicks are always more desirable, because they grow better, have less mortality, the cockerels are ready for market earlier and hence bring more money, and the pullets are ready to lay earlier in the fall and winter when eggs are high.

As to why bare ground doesn't help raise good chicks, authorities point out that a good growth of alfalfa, clover, or bluegrass insures a liberal supply of green feed, is much more sanitary than bare ground, and is an insurance against disease.

Laying Hens Need Lime

The importance of keeping hens well supplied with limestone, oyster shell or some other form of calcium carbonate is emphasized by results obtained in investigations.

Where no limestone or oyster shell was fed, but the ration was otherwise the same, the investigators observed that:

The hatchability of fertilized eggs was diminished, finally becoming zero.

The percentage of infertile eggs increased.

Fewer eggs were laid.

The eggs became smaller. The eggs became lighter. The chicks hatched weighed less

Rings the Bell

"I hear," pens a Kansas colonel, "that the Bell telephone system has perfected an artificial larynx enabling the dumb to speak. Isn't this an achievement really worth while?" "We dunno," keenly comments the Concordia Blade. "There are plenty of the dumb speaking now. What we need is some kind of a device to enable the dumb to think."

Indians' Use of Salt

The "Handbook of American Indians" says that not all of the tribes of Indians were accustomed to using salt, whether from difficulty of procuring it, the absence of the habit, a repugnance for the mineral or for religious reasons, it is not always possible to say. Salt exists in enormous quantities in the United States, and it was not difficult for most Indians to obtain it.

Tin Flower Pots Best

Tin can flower pots are better than ordinary clay pots for house plants, a Massachusetts professor asserts, because the tin does not soak up the water and rob the plant of moisture.

Reclaimed the Desert

The Sukkur dam across the Indus, the world's largest irrigation project, cost $75,000,000 and brought 5,000,000 acres of desert land under cultivation.

Huron county Republican office holders who are circulating petitions for re-nomination are: Joshua Braun, judge of probate; John A. Graham, sheriff; John Doyle, clerk; George Alexander, treasurer; William J. Steadman, drain commissioner; Ted H. Schubel, register of deeds; and Frederick S. Beach, prosecuting attorney. John W. Gettel of Brookfield township and Earl Hebner of Bad Axe, have announced their candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Dr. John W. Geiger of Vassar has decided to locate at Kingston and will move to that village about July 15. He has rented the Colston property next to the Methodist church.

According to School Commissioner Sparling of Huron county, the law requires students of rural school districts who intend to have their districts pay tuition for them at neighboring high schools that they should file application with their local school boards before the third Monday in July. While the officers of the district may pay tuition when applications are made at a later date, they would not be compelled to pay according to the law and with the scarcity of the school funds, students interested in attending high school should be interested in complying with the law and file application now.

The Caro village council has voted a decrease in taxes. The rate will be 75 cents per $100 valuation to be spread in the general fund and 25 cents per $100 for the highway fund, making a total of $1.00 per $100 or $10 per $1,000. Last year the rate was $15 per thousand.

At a cost of $1,225, the Huron County Road Commission has purchased the seventh gravel pit for the county. RECEIVER NAMED FOR ONE VASSAR STATE BANK

There was only one officer of the Michigan Savings Bank of Vassar to make answer to the order of Judge Smith in court last Saturday when the hearing was held. Conrad Mueller, president of the bank, in a signed statement read by Roland Kern, attorney, denied that he had any knowledge of the irregularity set forth in the statement of the banking examiner in connection with affairs of the bank.

Attorney Kern read the statement after testimony had been taken by the court from Wm. Nelson of the state department, who read to the court reports as made previously to Judge Smith. These reports dealt with the lengthy report of the activities of certain directors and others who had taken securities after the 90-day clause had been placed in effect.

Judge Smith, on recommendation of R. E. Reickert, state banking examiner, appointed Lewis Walton as receiver of the bank and ordered that all books, records, papers, assets, keys and any other articles held by Thurber C. Chrysler, custodian of the bank, be given to Mr. Walton. Mr. Walton is a former Caro resident—Vassar Pioneer-Times.

Farmers' Day Ends Farm Women's Week

Farmers' Day, Friday, July 29, will be the concluding event in a week of study and recreation for Michigan women who attend the seventh annual Farm Women's week at Michigan State college, July 24-29.

The daily program for the week begins at 7:45 in the morning and continues throughout the afternoon and evening. Members of the staff of the college will give daily lectures. Poultry raising, landscape gardening, furniture, nutrition, and clothing are the main topics assigned for study.

This year's program concentrates most of the efforts of the week upon those subjects instead of assigning less time to a greater number of interests. There will be one lecture each day on subjects other than those included in the study course.

The work on poultry includes growing pullets, culling the flock, handling the birds in the laying house, and killing and dressing poultry for market. The landscape course includes all phases of the use of shrubs and flowers in beautifying the home grounds and the rooms within the home. Refinishing and repairing furniture and upholstery are included in the furniture course.

The hour from 4:00 to 5:00 p. m. each day is allotted to recreation, and the period from one to two is designated a rest hour. An entertainment feature is planned for each evening, and the annual banquet will be held at 8:30 Thursday evening.

Fish Need Oxygen

Respiration of fish is fundamentally the same as that of warm-blooded animals. Fish suffocate when placed in boiled water, because such water is practically free from dissolved oxygen.

STATE BANK AT CARO REOPENED SATURDAY

gle penny will be paid out during that period on the deposits that were of record at the time the bank closed.

"Under such a state of affairs, it might not be deemed strange if there were an absence of customers. Such was far from true, however, when the bank opened yesterday. The opening attracted a sizeable crowd and, while there were those who came solely from curiosity, a larger number were there to reestablish banking connections with the institution that for many years was an important unit in Tuscola county's private financial operations."

"The plan under which the State Savings Bank opened is not unlike that employed by the new National Bank of Bay City. There has been declared a depositors' moratorium which is even more restrictive in its protective measures for the depositors than that adopted in Bay City. To bring about the reopening, securities and assets of doubtful nature that were held by the bank at the time of closing have been 'washed out.' There was no pretense about this operation and if these assets appreciate in value the financial position of the new bank will be just that much stronger."

"Here are some interesting facts about the new set-up of the Caro bank: "The sum of $403,040.39 has been set aside as a deposit liability. This represents 60 per cent of the total amount due the depositors when the bank opened its doors yesterday morning. This fund will be distributed, on demand by the depositors, at the rate of 3 per cent monthly, starting January 2, 1933. It is only reasonable to believe in view of the feeling of goodwill openly voiced by depositors in the bank at its opening yesterday, that even when the deposits become available for withdrawal many depositors will leave their accounts intact. The amounts contained in the 60 per cent fund will draw interest at 3 per cent.

"The remaining 40 per cent of the depositors' accounts has been set up in a trust fund. These remaining deposit accounts are a liability against the bank and, as an offset, there has been established the trust fund, totaling $404,693 of bank assets. Should these appreciate in value, the bank will be able to pay off all depositors 100 cents on the dollar.

"Depositors of the bank have received no guarantee on payment of the 40 per cent trust fund. They have been told frankly that it will take time to work out this fund but there has been a unified community expression of faith in the officers and directors of the new bank in respect to this matter of policy.

"We've waited nine months for our money, and we have eaten every day," declared one depositor waiting to enter a new account in the bank. "They are going to release 60 per cent to us that we know we'll get. If they work out the rest, that is just so much better."

"The deposits held in the trust fund will draw no interest but neither will the stockholders in the new bank draw a cent in dividends until the trust fund pays out the remaining 40 per cent to the depositors. Improvement in business might bring a dividend to the depositors from the trust fund but the bank has made no promises in this respect and the depositors have evinced a willingness to accept the plans without question.

"There is a feature of the trust fund that lends a significant note to the action of the bank's stockholders in renewing their banking operations. The deposit liabilities against the trust fund amount to $268,693. The trust fund total is $404,693 and the balance of approximately $136,000 represents the total capital, surplus and undivided profits of the old bank.

"From the year 1926 until it closed, the directors did not pay dividends on bank stock. The capital, surplus and undivided profits grew to $136,000. Without hesitation, the directors voted to place these assets in the fund. To these were added the $268,693 in assets that will take time to work out and the sum of the two items makes up the whole of the trust fund.

"This action of the directors unquestionably attracted favorable public sentiment to their cause when efforts were made to reopen the bank. Any bank whose stockholders, not only accept losses by reason of stock assessment, but add to the pot by turning over accrued profits, is entitled to public support, the people of Caro reasoned. This may have been the answer to the influx of accounts when the bank opened yesterday.

"The new bank has cash on hand totaling approximately $70,000. No money will be paid out on the old deposits until after Jan. 2, 1933. Meantime, collections will not be entirely stagnant, for Tuscola county residents, living in the center of a prosperous farming community, will have some money when bean, pea and sugar beet crops mature and are sold. Notes will be paid and mortgages reduced and the total of cash on hand in the coffers of the bank will be increased."

WAHJAMEGA HOSPITAL TO BE OPENED TODAY

The new $300,000 hospital at the Michigan Farm Colony at Wahjamega will be opened July 8. It is expected the hospital will be ready to accommodate 100 new patients by July 15.

Dr. Crooks explained that the hospital is to be used largely for the reception of new patients where each particular case will be studied. After a 30-day observation period, the patient will be assigned to the cottage fitted for his particular type of affliction.

There are 830 patients at the colony now, with a waiting list of 529, Dr. Crooks said. The new patients will be taken from the waiting list.

The hospital building is a two-story brick structure with a full sized basement. It faces the east and is in the shape of a Maltese cross, allowing each room outside exposure. The building is fire proof to an exceptional degree in that it is heated from the central heating plant of the institution and the only wood used in construction is in the doors.

the fees, and that the supervisors acted outside their jurisdiction when they ordered civil fees returned.

The exact amount of the fees collected is difficult to determine, it is said. The sheriff says that the fees collected will not amount to more than $500 a year, while the supervisors estimated that the gross amount would be between $5,000 and $6,000. The sheriff said he would seek legal advice before determining his future action.

The finance committee submitting the report asking return of the fees was composed of Warren Sweet, Andrew Wark and George Lee.

The finance committee also reported to the supervisors that further action on the Curry audit would be determined this week. The private audit conducted here since January to determine the status of the claimed shortage in county funds is still under way.

The committee reported that between five and six weeks more would be required to complete a check on the delinquent tax payment during Curry's administration. Decision as to whether or not to continue this check was scheduled to be made this week after the committee confers with Judge X. A. Boomhower.

No report of the findings of the audit to date was made to the board, but one is expected to be made soon as the board adjourned subject to call of the clerk when the audit report is completed.

Various rumors are afloat as to the findings of the audit to date, but no confirmation can be had officially as to the findings.

Salary recommendations covering all offices over which the supervisors have jurisdiction were made at last week's session. Cuts were prominent in all the salaries. While the board officially has no legal right to cut salaries at this session, the recommendations were made at this time with final action to be taken in October to enable all candidates for office to become acquainted with county salaries expected to be put in effect. The salaries' committee was composed of George I. Smith, Charles Mehler and John Morris.

Following are the complete recommendations: Sheriff, $4,000 a year from $5,000, and remittance of all fees, also pay deputies' expenses. The meal rate of 25 cents a meal was recommended cut to 15 cents. Salary of the undersheriff cut to $1,800 from $2,000.

Road commissioners from $6 to $5 a day, and mileage at the rate of five cents.

Superintendents of the poor, $200 a year, with $25 extra for third year of service, and travel mileage at the rate of seven cents.

County treasurer's salary cut to $2,100 from $2,300; deputy treasurer, $1,000, and $400 recommended for extra clerk hire.

Prosecuting attorney's salary recommended cut to $1,800 from $2,000.

Drain commissioner cut to $1,500 from $1,800. County clerk cut to $1,400 from $1,500.

Recommendations were also made that the road commission reduce the salaries in their department as follows: County highway engineer's salary from $3,600 to $2,700; deputy county clerk of the road commission from $1,980 to $1,500; clerk from $1,740 to $1,000.

Recommendation was also made that the school commissioner accept a cut from $1,800 to $1,500. As the school commissioner's term has about three years to run, the board has no legal right to cut the salary of this office.

The salaries of all deputy clerks and regular clerks were recommended at $1,000 in the report.

All of the above salaries were made as recommendations pending final action in October. The salaries would not become effective until Jan. 1.

The supervisors also voted to cut their own pay 10 per cent effective this session.

Three Arrested on V. P. L. Charges

Three arrests were made in Tuscola county this week for violation of the prohibition law. Vernon Decker, 33, Arbelia township, was picked up by Sheriff Kirk and Deputy Millikin on July 4, in a raid on the Decker premises where beer and a small quantity of whiskey were found. Horace Gordon, 39, of Vassar was arrested the same day, when beer was uncovered on his premises. Geo. Canfield of Vassar was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Craig on July 5. He is the husband of Alice Canfield arrested last week when local officers found 475 pint bottles of beer at the Canfield home.

Wallace Rogers, 21, of Millington was arrested by Sheriff Kirk on July 6, on a charge of robbery armed in connection with an alleged hold up last week at the Empey dance hall near Vassar when two men claimed they were relieved of all the money they had which proved to be only a few cents.

attention from the fond mothers and fathers. The same evening, diplomas were presented to those who had perfect attendance records or very few absences and who had completed the work in a satisfactory manner.

Perhaps more appealing to the little folks than the official close of the school the night before, was the picnic for them Saturday, July 2, in the woods belonging to Miss Florence Smith, northwest of town. After a romp through the woods, the children enjoyed a potluck dinner in which five gallons of ice cream and ten gallons of lemonade played important parts.

"We desire to thank the school board for their generous permission to let us use the school building," said Rev. Wm. Curtis, director of the Bible school. "There were 138 registrations and an average attendance of 116. It is hoped that this feature may be repeated another year."
