LOCAL BANKS CASH MILK CHECKS

Local Business Houses Ar- bor. range for an Exchange of Local Checks.

The two banks at Cass City opened for business at the usual hour Tuesday morning and those in charge were as surprised as anyone when the telegram came at 9:05 o'clock that morning from the State Banking Department ordering all banks and trust companies in Michigan to suspend operations fort to make this a decided success for an eight-day holiday. GENEROUS RESPONSE ON BUNDLE NIGH

Excellent Concert Given Tuesday by Quartet of Singers from Detroit.

While early promises of the doctor-dentist group of an unusually fine concert might be classed as extravagant, they were fully realized Tuesday evening when that group presented to the Community Club as entertainers, a quartet of vocalists from the Orpheus Club of Detroit. The Detroit men, all soloists in city churches as well as radio and concert singers, proved to be finished vocalists individually and remarkably well balanced in quartet numbers. Their voices were fresh and buoyant and admirably well managed. The pianissimo effects of the quartet were beautiful in quality and well sustained, while in the handling of larger intervals the voices produced an organ effect extremely pleasing. Miss Naomi Henkel of Detroit was the accomplished piano accompanist who aided greatly in making the program an excellent one. Each group the Bad Axe second team 40-9. of numbers brought rounds of applause.

Members of the quartet are: Orville Griffiths, first tenor; Percy H. Peters, second tenor; Carroll P. Adams, baritone; and Hubert R. Hacussler, bass. They were introduced to the audience by Dr. I. D. McCoy, who presided as chairman.

Cass City May Enter Tournament as a Runner-up

Cass City lost its third game of the season to a good, fast Caro aggregation by a score of 24-17. Caro's defensive ability enabled them to hold the Maroon and Gray scoreless during both the second and third quarters, while their star, C. McDurmon, slipped through a number of times to add to their total points. The second team, however, fared much better. Led by Kilbourn, they were able to ring up baskets apparently at will over a strong Caro second team, ending with a score of 40-21. Caro's second team had previously defeated

Caro now holds the undisputed lead in the Upper Thumb League, with Bad Axe and Cass City fighting it out for the runner-up position as two teams are to be sent to the regional tournament from this league. This Friday, Cass City plays Unionville and the following Friday, February 24, will finish Tuesday was "bundle night" for the schedule with a game here against Bad Axe, which probably will be the deciding factor in determining the runner-up. Both games, however, are league games and should Unionville upset the dope, the local squad will be out of the running.

army and navy into one department in committee rooms of the senate of national defense, as has often of browbeating a witness accusing been suggested. The bill as approved by the senate grants the new President much greater latitude than was asked by President Hoover for the same purpose. The executive orders will not become effective until sixty days after being submitted to congress unless congress itself provides by law for an earlier effective date. Besides the grant of power to reorganize the federal establishment the senate moved toward further economies by adopting an amendment offered by Senator Sam G. Bratton of New Mexico, one of the leading Democrats in the matter of savings. It requires all department heads to cut their expenditures for 1934 5 per cent; though this must be done without cutting wages-this being insisted upon by Senator Costigan of Colorado. Mr. Bratton estimated that his plan would result in the saving of about $140,000,000 in the cost of operating the government during the next fiscal year. Other economy meas ures attached to the bill, it was said would realize some 20 millions of additional savings. One of these includes the enlisted personnel of the army, navy and marine corps in the present 81% per cent salary cut affecting other federal employees.

In the house all kinds of attempts to economize were beaten during consideration of supply bills. WOOLENS STRESSED IN SPRING FABRICS

Old Friends in New Guises in Early Showings.

Old friends in new guises are seen in materials for early spring wear. Some of the more important development of community farming are as follows: A fine wool crepe matelasse, this showy fabric being the most widely discussed of the season: next, a rather decidedly THAT flurry over the activities of wool, which manages to achieve a striped effect along withits checks. This is shown in string beige and navy blue.

Hairy woolens are stressed. with either rabbit's or muskrat's hair woven in. Monotone tweeds are especially favored in this idea for early spring. Natural cashmeres States, probably and kashas are being promoted, satin jerseys and cashmere proving good. Ballitt, who a popular combination with some designers.

Canvas weaves are being particularly emphasized this year, and so Wilson, also was are jacquards, some designs showthought by some ing a broken jacquard on a canvas French officials to coating. Heather mixtures are good, especially a georgette-tweed dress woolen in oxford gray.

THE NEW HATS By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Well, we are coming to brims, which is about the most important message of all. Even the new berets have little visor-like additions which tilt jauntily over the brow. Veils are tiny and sprightly and most every little hat has one. The sketches herewith portray three typical millinery trends. The wee sailor is such as will predominate in the early spring picture. To the right we see one of the berets with a visor effect which classes this model with the new brimmed versions. Its tiny veil flares saucily in latest approved manner. The last hat is one of those utterly feminine affairs which gets its inspiration from the Watteau effects which, it is said, will be immensely popular this season.

FLASHES FROM PARIS

Shades of gray in combination is a chic color scheme. Lacquered braid is used for belts and dress trimmings. Lovely party frocks are of metal-embroidered organdie.

Tiny sailors wil be very much in evidence with the spring suit. Gloves of the same fabric as the hat is fashion's latest whim. Bandeaux tilt perky weebrimmed hats over the forehead. Brim facings with gloves and scarfs to match is fashion's latest gesture.

Matelasse and cloque silks, also lacquered satins, are favored for evening gowns.

Two-Way Costume Is Cne of New Style Features

One of the important features of the new dress collections is the importance attached to costumes whose appearance can be altered. These changes are achieved in jacket costumes, for example—the jacket lined with a print, and designed to be worn on either side; jackets that, when unfastened, reveal a complete frock with suspender bodice over a blouse; also costumes that introduce capes that are detachable, and that give the impression of a high neckline until removed.

The tunic silhouette is a recurrent one, often in various guisês.

Black Broadcloth Coat Trimmed With Greige Fox

Gorgeousness always attracts envious eyes, and it is only natural that since Molyneux has designed a sumptuous black broadcloth coat trimmed with pale greige fox, and further complicated by a fox muff separate guimpe being a red and with broadcloth trim at each side, white gingham. A plain yellow that we should see it and have to guimpe with a vivid wool crepe make both mental and pencil note would also make a smart change.

Yet Washington in his lifetime was the target for abuse and vilification such as few Presidents since his day have had to bear. A British traveler and author, writing in 1795, told how many men refused to drink to the President's health at the celebration of his birthday. When Washington retired to private life at the end of his second term as President, one of the foremost newspapers then in existence declared that was a time of public rejoicing, "for the man who is the source of all the misfortunes of our country is this day reduced to a level with his fellow citizens and is no longer possessed of power to multiply evils upon the United States . . . if ever a nation was deceived by a man the American nation has been deceived by Washington."

Very few men in high place escape such calumny. There is something in human nature which resents the idea that one man is superior to others. But it did not take the American people long to realize that in George Washington they had had a leader who was probably the only man who could have successfully led the revolt est worker among the eight able against British domination and establish our nation on an independent basis so sound that the foundations laid by him have never been seriously shaken.

Justice George M. Clark of the Michigan Supreme Court comes up for re-election next April 3rd. He has been twice elected by the people since his appointment in 1919. by Governor Sleeper to succeed Justice F. C. Kuhn deceased. Justice Clark is the "commoner" on the Michigan Supreme bench, having been promoted directly from his private practice at Bad Axe. He has become one of the nation's foremost jurists, and in 1929 the U. S. Supreme Court quoted at length Justice Clark's precedent in the famous Baltimore Railways case. His decision in the Michigan Telephone case settled a long and expensive controversy in favor of the telephone users of this state. Probably the most famous case, which established the rights of insurance policy holders, was that of the farmer who fell over a log and was frozen to death while deer hunting in Mackinac county. Deciding against the insurance company, Justice Clark held the death accidental and gave the heirs a double indemnity. His experience in the woods came in handy. This able jurist is 58 years of age, lives in Lansing and is perhaps the hard-Court bench.

Clair Haines of Caro had an experience that he will long remember in connection with a fishing expedition to Bay Port last week. Driving his car onto the ice about a block from shore, he set up his fish house and went to slumberland in the bunk Tuesday evening. During the night, the heavy snow caused the ice to settle and about ten o'clock that night the young man stepped into water as he left the bunk. In attempting to leave hurriedly, the fish house was overturned and he was obliged to crawl out of the spear hole at the bottom. Haines spent the remainder of the night in his automobile. When found by a fishing party about nine o'clock the next morn ing, he was so thoroughly chilled that he could not speak. The men hurriedly built a big fire in a nearby shanty and when Haines was warmed up he was taken to his

Fable of the Charley Horse By GEORGE ADE

(©, Bell Syndicate.)-WNU Service. NCE there was an Insurance Agent named Warburton J. Timmons who often boasted to his Wife and the Stenographer and his Business Partner and Strangers encountered in the Underwear Department of a Pullman Car that he didn't know he had a Stomach. Such gross ignorance would not seem to call for Brag- able to get the Preparation lately ging, but Mr. Timmons attached tremendous Importance to the Fact that so far as Gastritis, Heart Burn and Dyspepsia were concerned he didn't have any more Interior Complications than a Bass Drum. So, when he saw some less Fortunate Mortal stirring up Bi-Carb or munching Pepsin Tablets, of the Works is causing Misery, it he would grin at the Sufferer in a perfectly unbearable Manner and pull the Favorite Speech: "Well, Sir. take it Year in and Year out. I'll be switched if I know I've got a Stomach."

Warburton was one of those who could eat Anything and did. All kinds of rich and gummy Pastry were simply Vitamin A to him. He deliberately and in a Spirit of Bravado attacked all of the dangerous Combinations which might properly be engraved on so many Headstones. Meaning as for In-

Grabbing Credit for It.

Exhibit A-Broiled Lobster, followed by Cucumber Salad, Tutti Fruitti Ice Cream and Angel Food. Exhibit B-Pork Chops, Hot Biscuits. Potatoes Au Gratin and Apple Dumplings.

Exhibit C-Welsh Rarebit with Indian Pudding and Hard Sauce. And so on. Then, when the admiring Spectators would tell him what a Four-Time Wonder he was, that would be his Cue to explain that, as a Matter of Fact, he didn't know he had a Stomach.

Because he was First Cousin to an Ostrich and had all of the Alimentary Immunities of a Goat, Mr. Timmons assumed a Moral Grandeur which did not fit in with his Personal Appearance or his Social Rating. Naturally, he was hated by all Cripples, Hypochondriacs and Neurasthenics, for the Reason that he tried to make them feel that he was a King on a Throne while they were a lot of Insects crawling in the Gravel.

Along with the Virtues of the nonexistent Stomach he advertised to the World the startling News that his General Health was so robust that several Doctors had starved to Death on his Account. To quote his own original Way of putting it: "I haven't had an Ache or a Pain since I don't know when."

Warburton J Timmons went on for Years and Years leading a benumbed and painless Existence, the got what is coming, under the Terms of the Contract, to every Person who makes Moral Atributes of certain Bovine Characteristics.

One Day he played Golf in the Clothes or take a Hot Foot-Bath because he said he was tougher than Whale-Bone and a little Cold Water wouldn't hurt Him because he took it, every morning, just the way when they eventually get to a Place O. K. where all the Water is hot?

Joy in Clarksburg.

It all happened next Morning. Mr. Timmons started to roll out of his Couch, in his usual bounding and gymnastic Manner, when some one stuck a red-hot Corkscrew into his Right Hip and turned it around twice. He let out a Yip and fell back in the Covers, a very surprised and grieved Person. He lay there moaning but still refusing to which penalized everyone else, could possibly take a Mean Advantage of Warburton J. Timmons.

It now becomes necessary to ask certain questions regarding the Town of Clarksburg, of which Mr. Timmons was one of the main Ornaments. Why was it, that on a Certain Morning, all of the Birds in the Trees chirruped more gayly? Why did the Tots on their way to School emit Peal after Peal of silvery Laughter? Why did the Trolley Conductors sound their Gongs with unusual Vigor and all of the Merchants in the Business District attack the Day with extraordinary Cheerfulness? The Answer to all of the Foregoing is that on this particular Morning the whole World was brightened by the Spectacle of Warburton J. Timmons limping to his office-with the Assistance of a Cane.

It was the Good Wife who told him to try a Liniment which an Indian Doctor had given to old Mr. Keesler soon after the Civil War.

It was Mr. Bromley, the Business partner, who told him to put a Porous Plaster over the Seat of Pain. Mr. Bromley may best be described as the Type of Man who use of a Porous Plaster.

tato in case he could not find a Buckeye.

It was Herb Ketterling, who sold Fruit, Tobacco and Newspapers, who advised him to get an Electric Belt becuz one of them done Wonders for a Cousin of his employed by U. S. Steel, at Gary, Indiana.

It was Miss Skinner, the Steno, who asked him if he had ever tried a Turkish Bath which was a nut Question, because he never tried Anything. We forget to tell you that in addition to not knowing he had a Stomach, he never suspected that he had a Sciatic Nerve.

Plenty of Advice.

J. B. Cummings, the Postmaster, said that he had used, for Years, a Brings Joy." Tablet which instantly killed any kind of Pain, but he hadn't been on account of the Government stopping the Sale of it because it was said to be full of Morphine. Mr. Cummings was quite a Help.

Grain Dealer, dropped in to see about his Premium, did Mr. Timmons learn that whenever any Part simply means that one of the Vertebrae has jiggled out of Place and all you have to do in order to get Relief, is to go to a Practor and have him hit you in the Back with that nearly all of the Suffering which has been exeprienced by the Human Race during the last 8000 Years might have been averted if more People had been hit in the Back with Hammers.

Mr. Cadwallader, who managed the Local Picture House, happened to be in the Office when the stricken Patient was getting all of the good Dope from the Grain Dealer. He waited until Mr. Harrington went out, and then told Mr. Timmons to lay off of the Hammer Treat ment. He said that one of those Lads nearly ruined his Sister-in-Law. He said that the real Guy was the Osly because he felt around all over you, to see if anything had shifted or turned over. All of which sounded reasonable.

"You'll try this and you'll try that, but in the End you'll pack up and go to French Lick. Such was the emphatic Opinion of Mart Carr, who ran the Soft Drink Emporium of which Mr. Timmons, the Invalid of whom we have been speaking, bought all of his Chewing Gum.

Ebbie Swisher, who carried the Mail on R. F. D. No. 3, took quite a different View of the Matter. He said the only Thing for Mr. Timmons to do was get right out and take a lot of Exercise.

Before 3 o'clock P. M., the Trouble had been diagnosed as a slight Sprain. Neuritis. Rheumatics. Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago and Pneumonia. Also, Mr. Timmons learned from Otto Gunkel, the Harness-Maker, that he ought to take Sarsaparilla for his Blood.

In spite of all the co-operative Efforts of the Samaritans, there is no denying that the Charley-Horse continued to jump, so Mr. Timmons be investigated. This homely parable is a symbol of the amazing growth of the Christian movement. Launched by an obscure Galilean who was cruelly crucified, it quickly expanded into a world-wide society to which both Rome and the harbarian who conquered her paid deference And at the present time it is estimated that the disciples of Christ now equal, if they do not exceed, a third of the human family.

This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. washington.—The second session of the Seventy-Second congress, now passing A DO-NOTHING into history as the last "lame duck" session is crowning itself with new-found glory. Short sessions of congress, in advance of a change in administration, are never expected to accomplish much, but the current edition is by all odds the winner when the race is run toward the zero.

Indeed, those of us who are required-not privileged-by our duties to sit in the press galleries of the senate and the house day after day have indulged in a little game of attempting to locate some legislation which might have been killed but was allowed to pass. It "just ain't."

And to make the thing more ridiculous, senate and house committees were excitedly holding hearings on this bill or that right up to the finish line, taking testimony (on account of which there is always a tremendous stenographic bill in addition to the printing charges of thousands of dollars) and inviting witnesses from here, there and everywhere. There was not a chance for those bills to be enacted into law, and the bulk of the committee members admitted the fact privately. But for the sake of the "record," they joined with others of their particular committee and went right ahead on their grand errand of futility.

The proponents of the hearings justify their course with the statement that they now have the data upon which to fashion legislation later. They argue that the bulk of the legislation had something or other to do with the whole program of lifting the country out of the mire of the depression, and a survey shows this to be true in all respects. It could be said, therefore, that the orgy of hearings in the short session was in preparation for greater things, except that the records reveal new hearings always have been held, regardless of what has transpired before, when the same legislation is introduced in a new session of congress.

Whenever a congress ends, all bills on the house and senate calendars of business die. So the expiration of the second session is that was before either house or in farm wagon. the hands of any committee of either house becomes null and void.

No one seems to know why there committees of the senate and house in the session. It was apparent at the start, and became more so as February rolled in, that it would be when they get together. a do-nothing session. Senators recognized the situation. From the were blocking anything and everyof the senate chamber came the same tune with just a slight variaeffect that the Republicans had control, which they did if one counted ocrats. as Republicans those who had deserted the Republican candidate in the 1932 election for the support to get whatever he wants from the of Mr. Roosevelt. And so it was.

In the house, there was a clear Democratic majority. But something else was wrong in that body. The plans of the leadership did not always carry, and if they did, the legislation was passed only to run into sives. the log jam in the senate. Some of the house Democrats even went so far as to say their majority would not have held to pass some of the legislation put through except for the knowledge that the bills would get snowbound in the senate.

A Washington correspondent for one of the great London dailies cabled his newspaper that "the American congress seems to be going in all directions at the same time." I quote him because there tion of the situation come to my at-home has increased as the troubles have grown. Not that he can do anything about most of the cases. yet he is one point upon which the spotlight focuses.

Consequently, it is made to appear that senators and representatives hear so much about the sad state of affairs, the suffering, the foreclosures, the closed banks, the bankrupt corporations, the low price of wheat, of cotton, of cattle and hogs and dairy products, that they are actually "going in all directions at the same time." I do not know whether that excuses them for their failure to get things done, but assuredly it is one of the factors in the situation which has been overlooked to a considerable

ment. Washington observers of all shades of opinion are coming around to the conclusion that whatever may have been his faults, he had one of the toughest jobs on his hands that ever was faced by a President. Especially was this true during the last two years of his administration. During that time, he had a congress made up of a Democratic house and a senate in which there never was a majority on either side of any question; I mean, a majority that could be counted in advance, and he was forced, therefore, to do a lot of trading. That Mr. Hoover was able to get his reconstruction program as far under way as he did was due absolutely to the condition of the country and not through any control which he was able to exert. So it becomes rather obvious that whatever Mr. Hoover may have lacked in political ability or acumen; whatever were his shortcomings in statescraft, or however many mistakes he made by refusing concessions, the fact still remains that he held the job as President in a period when few men would have succeeded. For, coupled with all of these factors, there was and is no measure within the power of the federal government to satisfy all the diverse elements of these times. The depression has made exalso the expiration of the Seventy-Second congress, and every bill as the proverbial fifth wheel of the
