

HOME-COMING HERE WAS BIG SUCCESS

Much Interest Taken in Contests and Games on Program.

250 GALLONS OF FREE LEMONADE WERE POURED

Cass City entertained two large groups of people early Thursday afternoon, Aug. 31, which later merged into one at the city park. At two o'clock, when 1,500 gathered at the Earle monument in the small state park one mile east of town to listen to the program of the Earle Memorial Super-Highway Association, another crowd started gathering at the city park to attend the home-coming celebration. At the completion of the highway program, that audience came to the city park making the crowd there an enormous gathering.

The home-coming event was so much enjoyed and such a success that plans are already being considered for a similar event in 1934.

Caro and Cass City met on the baseball field, and while the game showed loose playing on both sides, there was lots of hitting and it required 11 innings to proclaim Caro the victor. The contest stood at 10 all at the end of the ninth. Caro added two scores in the 11th inning to claim a 12-10 victory. Cass City is credited with 18 hits and Caro 13.

In the ladies' egg carrying contest, Mrs. Chas. Miller won the event and Mrs. L. Brooks was second. Mrs. Miller was also the winner in the ladies' rolling pin throw. She sent the kitchen weapon for a distance of 83 ft., 4 in. Records of other contestants are: Mrs. Louis Showmer, 69 ft., 7 in.; Mrs. Bert Clara, 69 ft., 4 in.; Mrs. Thomas McCool, 63 ft., 3 in.; Mrs. M. B. Auten, 52 ft., 11 in.

Three heats were necessary to decide the boys' 50-yard dash because there were so many entries. The boys were divided into two groups and the four finishing first in each group entered the final heat. Leslie Profit was the winner and second prize was awarded to "Darkie" Clement.

The three-legged race of supervisors and clerks was exciting. The event was won by Bruce Brown, supervisor of Elmwood township, and Robt. Noble, the latter "pinch-hitting" for Mose Freeman, Elmwood clerk. Audley Rawson and Chas. Patterson of Elkland township were second, and Walter Kelley and Robt. Phillips of Novesta were third. John Jackson, supervisor of Greenleaf, and Chas. Severance, supervisor of Evergreen, were team-mates and were contented with finishing in fourth position.

In the girls' 50-yard dash, Ethel Gurdon won first prize and Mamie Strickland was second.

Frank McComb was awarded first prize in the boys' bicycle race; Frank Fort, second; and Ivan O'Connor, third.

The boys' egg throw, a precarious contest which required a careful handling of hen fruit, was won by the team composed of Leslie Profit and Leslie Doerr.

Evenly Matched Teams.

The tug of war was no one-sided contest by any means. Stanley Asher and Ralph Ward had their 10-men teams so well trained and so evenly matched that it required some time before the Ward group demonstrated their ability as conquerors. Members of the Ward team included John Bliss, James

Phelps Lists 33 Best Books

Novels, general literature and thrillers were included in the list of 33 books of the past year, reviewed by Professor William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of Yale university and formerly Lamson professor of English literature, in his annual book lecture at Pointe aux Barques Sunday night.

Mr. Phelps discussed each book briefly, outlining its plot and speaking of the authors, most of whom he knows personally.

"Anthony Adverse," by Hervey Allen, a book of about 1,240 pages, was termed interesting but too long.

Poetry and Thrillers

He said "The Soft Spot," by A. S. M. Hutchinson, is a marvelous book and the author's best since "If Winter Comes."

Mr. Phelps said P. G. Wodehouse, author of "Heavy Weather," is the best of all living humorists. Of the general literature list, Mr. Phelps recommended "England

Their England," by A. G. Macdonell. He praised "The Name and Nature of Poetry," by A. E. Housman.

Speaking of thrillers, Mr. Phelps said: "I read murder stories not to remember but to forget."

Proceeds of the lecture will be given to the Hubbard Memorial hospital, Bad Axe.

The list of books, their authors and publishers follows:

Novels.

"Anthony Adverse," by Hervey Allen (Farrar and Rinehart.)

"The Soft Spot," by A. S. M. Hutchinson (Little, Brown & Co.)

"Heavy Weather," P. G. Wodehouse (Little, Brown & Co.)

"Lose With a Smile," by Ring Lardner (Scribners.)

"God's Angry Man," by Leonard Ehrlich (Simon and Schuster.)

"Sons," by Pearl S. Buck (John Day.)

"The Narrow Corner," by Somerset Maugham (Doubleday.)

FOOTBALL PRACTICE HAS STARTED

Gridiron Men Getting Ready for Opening Game on Sept. 22.

Football practice opened Tuesday for Cass City high school with about 20 men reporting for their first workout. School not opening until Sept. 18th has made it hard to get all the boys from the rural districts out, although their cooperation has been greatly appreciated.

The opening game with Harbor Beach will be played Sept. 22, the week school opens, which will give the opposition quite an advantage as they will have two more weeks of preparation. Coach Kelly hopes that all of the boys can come the last few days of next week as it will be nearly impossible to condition a team and develop any degree of team work in the four days following the opening of school before meeting Harbor Beach.

The schedule to date is as follows:

Sept. 22—Harbor Beach there.
Sept. 29—Open.
Oct. 6—Vassar here.
Oct. 13—Open.
Oct. 20—Caro here.
Oct. 27—Sebewaing there.
Nov. 3—Marquette there.
Nov. 10—Open.
Nov. 17—Bad Axe here.

Games with Pigeon and Sandusky will be arranged in the near future.

With many letter men returning and several good new men, prospects are good for a winning team.

Striffler Clan in Third Reunion

The Striffler clan coming from Michigan, New York and Ontario gathered in the grove, 2½ miles northeast of Cass City, known best to them as "Uncle John's Woods," on Labor Day for their third annual family reunion.

A sumptuous potluck dinner was served in the grove, followed by a business meeting at which C. J. Striffler was elected president and H. L. Hunt, secretary-treasurer. It was decided to hold the 1934 reunion in the same place on July 4.

G. A. Striffler presided and announced the numbers of a short program. Mrs. Edward Helwig read a memorial to the members of the family who have passed on. A basket of flowers was presented in memory of Delmar Striffler of Cass City and a wreath in remembrance of Mrs. John Striffler of Lancaster, N. Y., who died within the past year. Following this came a German song, "Sie Schlummert im Thale," by Miss Martha Striffler and Mesdames Solomon Striffler, Wm. Joos, S. C. Striffler and Edward Helwig.

Gerald Kercher put the company in a merry mood with a tale about a boy and a big bear. Miss Luella Striffler of Detroit, instead of eulogizing members of the clan, told of their vices in a clever and original sketch.

Solomon Striffler exhibited a genealogical chart of the Striffler family and gathered further details to a fund of information regarding five generations of the clan which has been compiled by him and Rev. R. J. Striffler.

Young folks and others not so young enjoyed baseball games in the afternoon.

Those from out-of-town who attended the reunion included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Striffler and daughter, Luella, Louis Striffler and the Misses Gertrude and Mary Striffler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Striffler, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kaiser and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wm.

Edward Kosanke Badly Burned

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kosanke and son, Donald, spent from Friday until Tuesday afternoon in Detroit where they were entertained at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. James Cole, and visited their son and brother, Edward Kosanke, who is a patient in Highland Park hospital. Edward was badly burned from the waist up on Thursday, August 24, while at work for the Murray Motor Company in Detroit when an electric spark from a spot welder set fire to his clothing. At present he is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. H. McColl Was 93 Tuesday

Mrs. Hugh McColl, the eldest person residing in Cass City, celebrated her 93rd birthday on Tuesday, Sept. 6, and the occasion was recognized by two groups of persons this week.

The Rotary Club, through a committee composed of Dr. I. D. McCoy, Frank Reid, and W. L. Mann, congratulated Mrs. McColl and presented her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

On Monday, Mrs. McColl was the guest of honor at a birthday dinner party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Landon, where she makes her home.

Guests at the dinner included Mrs. E. F. Kreiman and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ippel of Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rich and daughter, Belva, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Davis and two children, Mrs. H. T. Rich and two children of Decker-ville; Duncan McColl of Greenleaf; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Landon and daughter, Joella, of Holland. One son, Dr. A. C. McColl, of Oklahoma City, Okla., was not present.

Mrs. McColl is a pioneer of Sanilac county, her residence dating back to the time of the 1881 fire. She was born on a farm in Albion township near New Glasco, Ont., Sept. 5, 1840, and married Hugh McColl in 1865. They moved to a farm near Chatham. Mr. McColl came to Michigan and purchased a 200-acre farm in Greenleaf township. In 1899, the family moved to Cass City. Mr. McColl passed away in 1917.

W. S. C. OPENS YEAR'S PROGRAM TUESDAY

Society, Organized 25 Years Ago, Will Study Three Subjects.

The first meeting of the Woman's Study Club will be held Tuesday, September 12, at the home of Mrs. M. D. Hart. A message from the general federation at Richmond, Virginia, will be brought to the club by Mrs. A. J. Knapp. Special music has been planned, and a social hour will be observed. In response to the roll call, members are asked to be prepared to give correct and incorrect sentences.

The course of study for the current club year includes "These United States," "Modern Drama," and "Better American Speech." Interesting programs have been prepared by the committee—Mrs. Lewis Law, Mrs. P. J. Allured, and Mrs. G. A. Tindale—and the year promises to be a profitable one. Other standing committees are: Library—Mrs. L. I. Wood, Mrs. L. Bardwell, Mrs. J. A. Sandham, Mrs. W. Wood, and Mrs. G. A. Tindale. Music—Mrs. R. A. McNamee and Mrs. Raymond McCullough. Reception—Mrs. E. Baker, Mrs. A. H. Kinnaird, and Mrs. Arthur Atwell.

Mrs. C. L. Graham is commencing her second term as president of the club. She will be assisted by the following officers: First vice president, Mrs. E. W. Douglas; second vice president, Mrs. B. A. McNamee; secretary, Mrs. B. Benkelman, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. D. Hart; treasurer, Mrs. R. M. Taylor; librarian, Mrs. L. I. Wood; reporter, Mrs. S. Heroy; federation delegate, Mrs. Douglas; alternate, Mrs. McNamee.

The club was organized in 1908, a quarter century ago.

VOELKER REFUTES FALSE OPTIMISM

Primary Interest Fund Will Be $3,000,000 Less Than in 1932.

Because erroneous impressions have been given to the public in the last few days to the effect that the primary interest fund money will adequately relieve the financial distress facing the public schools, Dr. Paul F. Voelker, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued the following statement:

"While we are grateful that cash from the primary interest fund to be distributed in September exceeds earlier expectations, it must be remembered that this money can be used only for teachers' salaries for the ensuing year; it cannot be used generally for the payment of tuition, nor for the payment of unpaid salary or other accounts of last year. Nor can it be used for current operating ex-

LOCAL EXHIBITORS SHOW 13 CHAMPS

Received Many Prizes on Cattle and Swine at the Detroit Fair.

Dan Hennessy returned Wednesday evening from the Michigan State Fair at Detroit with the news that members of the Cass City Livestock Club had secured 13 champion awards on their exhibits in the open classes and many prizes on beef cattle and swine.

Willis Campbell, club advisor, expected the boys to win a number of prizes on sheep, but the names of winners were not available to the Chronicle Wednesday night.

The following are listed as prize winners on beef cattle and swine from this community:

Beef Steers.
Shorthorn steer—Kenneth Hennessy, 1st; Maxine Horner, 2nd.
Hereford steer, Lynn Spencer, 3rd; Myron Spencer, 5th.
Aberdeen Angus steer—Donald Caister, 1st.

Group of three steers by one exhibitor—Cass City Livestock Club, 3rd and 5th.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Farm Home Burned—

The farm home of Leland Nicol, 8½ miles east and 1 mile south of Cass City, was destroyed by fire Monday evening. Mrs. Nicol was badly burned about arms and hands while rescuing household goods from the blazing building. Practically all the furniture from the first floor was saved.

Locked Women in Church—

George Ackerman, being a church janitor, is with a patient man and when the report was circulated Sunday that he had locked several women in the Evangelical church, his friends defended him by stating there must have been a good reason for such action. There was. After the Sunday morning service, several ladies adjourned to the basement for a committee meeting. Taking a look around the auditorium, George concluded all had left, locked up the church and went home to Sunday dinner. The ladies found egress by way of another door in the edifice with a lock on the inside.

Reunion of 1928 Class—

A reunion of the 1928 graduating class of the Cass City high school was held Friday evening at the home of Donald Schell. Eleven members of the class were present and enjoyed an evening of games and light refreshments were served. It was decided to make the reunion an annual affair and Miss Leila Battel was elected chairman of the 1934 meeting. Those present Friday night were Donald Schell, Keith McConkey, Ralph McTavish, James Milligan, Bruce Hoadley, Edward Schwieger, Watson Spaven and the Misses Leila Battel, Mildred Knight and Lena Joos and Mrs. W. Ware (Mardell Starr).

Lost No Time in Two Years—

Frank E. Hall, employed as fireman and night watchman at the plant of the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., here, has a record of being off the job but 31 nights in a nine-year period. During the last two years he has lost no time. His shift started at 6:00 p. m. and continued for 12 hours until 6:00 a. m. during the nine years. Since the Nestle's condenser has been operating on the NRA code, Mr. Hall's hours and those of the day fireman, Dennis O'Connor, have been cut in two and two extra men, Joy Smith and Ernest Clement, have been added to this department of the factory. Each of the four firemen works six hours a day.

MANY ATTEND EARLE HIGHWAY MEETING

Gathering Honors Michigan's First State Highway Commissioner.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY IS PRESENTED TO SCHOOL

Thursday, Aug. 31, brought good roads boosters from all parts of Eastern Michigan to attend the annual meeting, dinner and program of the Earle Memorial Super-Highway Association at Cass City.

At the business meeting held at the high school building Thursday morning, Fred Fox of Almont was elected president; Fred Taggart of Marlette, vice president; Frank Rathbun of Imlay City, secretary; and Fred W. Kinde of Bad Axe, treasurer. He was elected to succeed themselves except Mr. Kinde, who was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry McKay, elected treasurer at the 1932 meeting of the society.

A resolution passed unanimously endorsed the completion of M-53 and the society recommended to the state highway department that unused portion of federal funds allocated to Thumb counties for highway purposes be expended to complete paving of M-53 from Marlette to Bad Axe. The 1934 meeting of the association will be held at Pointe aux Barques.

Rev. T. S. Bottrell, pastor of the M. E. church, returned thanks at the association dinner served in the high school auditorium. Musical numbers included selections by the Geo. Dillman Orchestra and community singing led by Dr. I. D. McCoy. Brief remarks were made by Wm. Crapo, who extended the invitation to meet at Pointe aux Barques in 1934, Godfrey Schultz, road commissioner of Tuscola county, and Senator Scully of Detroit.

Program at State Park.

The program of the afternoon was held at the Earle monument in the state park, one mile east of Cass City. Here the monument was unveiled in its new location 16 years and one week after the dedication of the monument which occurred on Aug. 24, 1917. This granite shaft from the quarries of Mr. Earle's native state of Vermont marks the westerly end of the first mile of state reward road built in Michigan. The road was constructed during the first year of Mr. Earle's term as state highway commissioner.

Two large and attractive signs placed some distance in the rear of the monument bore terse messages. One carried a "Welcome, Horatio S. Earle and His M-53 Boosters," and the other "Let's Finish Paving M-53, By Gum." "By gum!" is Mr. Earle's favorite expletive. Loud speakers carried the remarks of those participating in the program to all parts of the park and the 1,500 people assembled at the grounds had the opportunity of hearing each speaker.

The program opened with selections by the Cass City Ladies' Band and the American Legion bugle and drum corps from Bad Axe. Speakers were seated in a newly constructed speakers' stand.

Fred Fox of Almont, president of the association, was introduced to the audience by Mrs. A. J. Knapp and Mr. Fox presented Mr. B. Auten, local chairman on arrangements.

"A cyclone in 1905 is responsible for this gathering today," Mr. Auten told the audience.

"When Governor Fred M. Warner visited this section in the interest of relief work among cyclone sufferers, he told A. A. McKenzie, supervisor of Elkland township, about Michigan's offering $500 reward per mile on the construction of state reward gravel roads. Mr. McKenzie communicated the information to P. A. Koepfgen, township highway commissioner, and the township board lost no time in making application for state aid. John Moore of Gagetown and J. H. Striffler of Cass City submitted bids and the contract calling for $935 was awarded to Mr. Moore on Aug. 15. The job of building the mile of highway was completed Oct. 2 and accepted for the state by Frank Rogers, deputy highway commissioner, on the following day. It was the first of 15 similar state rewards under construction to be accepted by the state. In 1917, the Earle monument was erected and dedicated."

Mr. Auten concluded his address with a welcome to all and expressed the appreciation that so many notables came so many miles to attend the 1933 meeting of the association.

Mr. Fox, president of the association, said: "We accept your hos-

Wallace Asks 15 Per Cent Wheat Acreage Reduction—
NRA Campaign Among Consumers—Raymond Moley's Resignation—Washington for Repeal.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WHEAT farmers of the nation, in order to receive federal cash benefits under the domestic allotment plan, must agree to reduce their 1934 wheat acreage by 15 per cent. This was the announcement made by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, after the news of the international wheat agreement reached in the London conference was received. The secretary estimated that this reduction will mean a cut of about 9,600,000 acres in wheat plantings and of more than 124,000,000 bushels in the 1934 wheat crop, provided all the farmers sign up. This they were being strongly urged to do in appeals that were broadcast throughout the wheat belt.

Sec'y Wallace

Under the allotment plan, the machinery of which is now completed, the government will pay the farmer 28 cents per bushel on 54 per cent of his crop, or that portion destined for consumption in this country. In return the farmer must agree to cut his 1934 wheat plantings by 15 per cent. Some $120,000,000 in compensating payments is expected to be paid this year, if all wheat farmers sign government contracts promising to reduce their next year's planting by the stipulated amount. Funds for the payments are expected to be raised by a 30-cents-a-bushel processing tax on the flour millers.

The application each farmer signs obligates him to sign a contract with Secretary Wallace when his application is approved in Washington. It must be accompanied by a map of his farm, showing location of all buildings, his crop system, and legal description of his location. It must also have a signed statement of the farmer as to how much wheat came off the farm in the last three years and a certificate of the elevator or railroad official who bought the wheat.

"BUY under the blue eagle" was the slogan with which Administrator Hugh Johnson opened the great drive to persuade the entire nation to give its full support to the NRA. The cry was taken up by an army of a million and a half volunteers who started out to canvass the households of the country, to tell the people what the recovery act means and to enlist the individual citizens under its emblem.

General Johnson warned the people that "even a shadow" of boycott, intimidation and violence would wreck the whole endeavor; but he insisted that confining one's patronage to dealers who fly the blue eagle would not be boycotting the others and would be not only justifiable but necessary to the campaign's success.

Completion of the automobile code and its acceptance by President Roosevelt was counted a great achievement by NRA, and the manufacturers were fairly well satisfied with the compromise on the union labor problem which gave them the right to deal with their workers on a basis of merit and efficiency. President William Green of the American Federation of Labor was quick to take advantage of the provision of the code which, he held, permits the workers to organize. He wired the general organizer, William Collins, in Detroit to appeal to auto employees to "unite with labor." Pessimistic observers see in all this the seeds of future conflicts.

Henry Ford was still silent on his intentions concerning the code. General Johnson said emphatically that if he did not sign he could not get the blue eagle; that outdoing the code with shorter hours and higher wages would not be compliance.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN, who as federal co-ordinator of transportation has perhaps the hardest job in the administration, is promoting a freight car equipment program, believing this would be a great contribution toward the increasing employment—as it undoubtedly would. He has asked the executives of class 1 railroads "to make a thorough canvass of existing freight car equipment and to submit at the earliest practicable date their views as to the repair or retirement of wornout and obsolete cars."

The railroads are asked to submit their recommendations for repairs and retirements of each year up to and including 1933 with the average cost for each car.

Mr. Eastman wants the railroads to retire and destroy or rehabilitate the thousands of cars whose period of service has expired. He also asks them to consider the voluntary restriction to service on their own lines of cars of light construction and cars of larger capacity that are not good for more than two and a half years of further service.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT selected Secretary of the Interior Ickes to be administrator for the oil industry, and then selected the other 14 members of the planning and conservation committee to assist Mr. Ickes in this work.

The President also took steps to relax the gold embargo for the benefit of the mine owners. He issued two orders, one allowing the sale in foreign markets of gold mined in the United States and the other stringently binding the anti-hoarding regulations to safeguard the national supply.

He made sure that this permission to give gold producers the advantage of the higher prices available abroad would also be shared by the refiners, and his two orders made this possible.

Then Mr. Roosevelt cleaned up his desk and began a week-end vacation. He attended the Dutchess county fair at Rhinebeck, and next day embarked on Vincent Astor's yacht for a cruise that was to last until after Labor day.

RAYMOND MOLEY, regarded as the "ace" of the Roosevelt brain trust, is no longer assistant secretary of state or in any other way connected with the administration. Following a call at the summer White House in Hyde Park, Professor Moley announced his resignation and his plans to become the editor of a new weekly magazine to be established by Vincent Astor. His associates will be W. Averell Harrison and V. V. McNitt. The publication will be devoted to controversial articles concerning politics and economics and Moley said one of its purposes will be to interpret the ideas of the Roosevelt administration, though it will not be in any sense an agent of the NRA.

Both Professor Moley and Secretary of State Hull denied that the former's resignation was caused by the disagreements between those two gentlemen which culminated at the London conference. Many independent commentators held that Moley's retirement from the administration heralded the passing of the regime of the professor and the return of practical politicians to the direction of the nation's affairs.

Raymond Moley

REPEALISTS were unnecessarily worried about the state of Washington, partly because the vote on wiping out the Eighteenth amendment was in the form of referendums in each of the legislative districts. This scheme, however, availed the dregs nothing, for the state voted for repeal about 5 to 2. Nearly complete returns showed that only one district, with two delegates, went dry, so the repeal amendment will be ratified by the other 97 delegates when the convention meets October 3 in Olympia.

The state emergency committee, a retentionist organization, fought repeal. It contended that in the event of abolition of the prohibition amendment the state would be without liquor regulation, except laws prohibiting sale of alcoholic beverages to Indians and minors, until the legislature meets again in 1935. The state bone-dry law, passed in 1917, was repealed last November.

THIRTEEN deaths are to be laid to a storm in New Mexico. The Golden State Limited, a transcontinental passenger train, plunged through a weakened bridge into an arroyo near Tucumcari, eight persons being killed and many injured. During the same storm a night mail and passenger transport plane crashed against Mesa mountain not far from Quay, and the two pilots and three passengers perished.

Two pursuit training planes collided in mid air over Randolph field, San Antonio, Texas, two cadets and an instructor losing their lives. Another instructor leaped with his parachute and was saved.

SENATOR HUEY LONG of Louisiana hunted the front page again twice. First, at a charity party at the Sands Point Bath club on Long Island, he gave deep affront to an unnamed gentleman and in turn received a black eye.

His explanation, quite incredible, was that he was "ganged" by enemies. Thence he hurried to Milwaukee to address the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and he opened his speech with a virulent attack on the press reporters present because they had sought the truth about the former incident. For this the officers of the organization publicly apologized. It remains for them to explain why they ever invited the "Kingfish" to address them. He is neither a statesman nor an economist, and, in view of political conditions in Louisiana, the fact that he is a senator confers no distinction on him.

TEA and conversation were all that Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, obtained when he visited President Roosevelt at Hyde Park. He was accompanied by George L. Harrison, governor of the New York federal reserve bank, and he hoped to talk about stabilization of the currency. But there were various other guests present, and still more dropped in during the afternoon—and Mr. Roosevelt had no desire to talk about stabilization or any allied matters. So it was just a pleasant social affair, and Mr. Norman left early.

The eminent Londoner, however, did have a number of conferences with financial men, including Secretary of the Treasury Woodin, and monetary problems were discussed, but the results, if any, were not made public.

Montagu Norman

Roosevelt had no desire to talk about stabilization or any allied matters. So it was just a pleasant social affair, and Mr. Norman left early.

The eminent Londoner, however, did have a number of conferences with financial men, including Secretary of the Treasury Woodin, and monetary problems were discussed, but the results, if any, were not made public.

EUROPE is not feeling at all peaceful these days, and this is due largely to the doings of German Chancellor Hitler and his Nazis in their conflict with the government of Austria. The Austrian Nazis are hurrying across the border to join their comrades in Germany, and the threat of invasion grows day by day. But, if it comes, the invaders will be met at the frontier by a vastly increased Austrian army. Among other steps by the Vienna government is the decreeing of a new short-term enlistment force in which from 16,000 to 20,000 men will be trained annually and a second army created.

President Von Hindenburg and Hitler attended a huge meeting of Germans at Tannenberg to celebrate the German victory there over the Russians, and the former, accepting as a gift from East Prussia a forest estate, said: "I am thinking with reverence, fidelity and gratitude of my kaiser, the king and lord, in this hour, when I am thinking also of my deceased comrades in arms, and when I proceed to thank you for the gift."

The chancellor, flying the same day to Niederwald, near the Saar frontier, told a crowd of 200,000 that Germany would never give up the Saar. At the time of the latter demonstration there was a secret meeting of Nazi chieftains to whom Saar State Councillor Simon said: "Wherever the German language is spoken, wherever German blood runs in the veins, greater Germany extends. We will not be content just with the Saar. The German language is spoken as far west as Metz and Mulhouse. The Saar, Alsace, Lorraine and parts of Belgium and Holland formerly were German and the German character still lives there today in the people."

"Germany will no longer be a people of 60,000,000 inhabitants, but of 90,000,000. The conquest of the Saar will be the point of departure for other political successes on the western frontiers of Germany. The Nazi, the reich and Chancellor Hitler will not rest until this aim—a Germany of 90,000,000 inhabitants—has been achieved."

UNCLE SAM is determined to bring Samuel Insull back home to answer for his alleged sins. At the request of American government agents the Greek authorities again arrested the former utilities magnate, and the Appeals court in Athens sustained this action and rejected Insull's plea for release on bail.

The fugitive from Chicago will have to spend another month under restraint pending the result of the second effort to extradite him, but, being in poor health, he is kept under guard in a clinic.

Insull's lawyers indicated that he will first seek to have himself made a Greek citizen, and, failing this, will attempt to show that the extradition treaty between the United States and Greece is contrary to the provisions of the Greek constitution. He is now accused of violating the American bankruptcy law.

The extradition proceedings may be long drawn out. Insull can only be extradited if the charge against him is an offense against Greek as well as American law. Lawyers in Athens say that violation of the bankruptcy law is a much milder offense under Greek law than embezzlement and larceny, with which Insull was charged in the earlier proceedings.

Wingert-Frenzel Marriage—

Miss Merle Wingert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wingert, and Lyle Frenzel of Mayville were united in marriage on August 24 at 7:00 p. m., by the Rev. W. L. Jones, at the M. E. parsonage. ## Deaths

Miss Edna Helwig.

Funeral services for Miss Edna Helwig were held Monday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Russell Erb, in Bad Axe, Rev. Fuell of the Bad Axe M. E. church officiating. Burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

Miss Helwig passed away Friday afternoon after a long illness, during which she was always patient and cheerful. She was born in Lancaster, New York, and when three years of age, came with her parents to Elkland township. She has made her home on the Helwig farm, four miles north and two miles east of Cass City, until April of this year when she went to Bad Axe to live with her sister.

She was preceded in death by her father, Henry Helwig, and brother, Arthur Helwig. Her mother and sister survive her, besides many more distant relatives.

Friends and relatives from a distance who attended the funeral services were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Simmett and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Simmett, all of Carson City; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Weaver and two sons, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smiley, Drayton Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cooper, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaVigne, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nique, Decker. Many friends from Bad Axe and Kinde were also present.

The Scope and Purpose of the President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign.

The President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign may be described briefly as a plan to add from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 persons to the nation's payrolls within the next six weeks or so, through agreements made with the President of the United States by some 5,000,000 concerns or individuals, employing two or more persons each.

In order that this number of jobs may be made available, it will be necessary, of course, for employers in many cases to shorten working hours. The plan also provides for certain minimum wage scales which also in many cases will mean added labor costs for the employer.

The President's Agreement, however, includes a pledge of cooperation from the consuming public, and it is thus anticipated that the employer, while undertaking a larger expense as the direct result of his agreement with the President, will gain added patronage as the just reward of his public spirited attitude.

The fact also is to be borne in mind that where all employers act together to put people back on their payrolls or to raise wages, no employer, as the President himself has pointed out, "will suffer because the relative level of competitive cost will advance by the same amount for all."

It is to be understood that this plan is supplementary to the plan of code adoption by various industrial and trade groups which has for its purpose the elimination of unfair competition, the establishment of more equitable rewards for labor, the spread of employment and the control of production. This plan for speeding business recovery, launched under the provisions of the National Recovery Act passed by the last Congress, is rapidly being made effective, and there will be no let-up on the drive to make its adoption widespread.

The President's Emergency Re-employment plan will bridge time and bring the nation out of the depression more rapidly than if the code adoption plan were depended upon exclusively. The President's Agreement also covers many business groups that would not be amenable to any of the code arrangements.

And what is still more important, perhaps, the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign carries certain psychological values that are as priceless as patriotism at this juncture of our economic history. The President himself made this quite clear in his recent radio address to the nation when he said: "On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this nationwide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society, and of the Nation itself, that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could ever hope to bring about."

Thus we have all the power and potency of mass attack directed along sound lines of organization and system. Here, briefly, is an outline of this organized attack on unemployment: In every community, organizations are formed along military lines, which is fitting enough, because the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign is Uncle Sam's war on unemployment and the nation is rallying to the colors just as loyally as though we were actually engaged in a war against a foreign foe.

The local committee is made up of the active heads of the leading business and civic organizations, and includes also the mayor. These committees in the thousands of cities and towns throughout the country were formed following telegrams and letters sent by General Johnson to the presidents of Chambers of Commerce or similar trade bodies in every section of the United States. These local committees elect a general to have charge of the city campaign and a lieutenant general who is a woman. The general selects three colonels, each of whom is to take over a certain part of the campaign work. For example, Colonel No. 1 has charge of the "man-power" or organization department. Under his direction block-to-block canvasses will be made to check up on compliance with the President's Agreement, and to make a survey of the unemployed, as to adaptability by experience as to trades and industries and thus be able more readily to help in the processes of assimilation of labor by expanding industries. Colonel No. 2, briefly, has charge of newspaper publicity and kindred activities; and Colonel No. 3 has the training and direction of public speakers under his charge.

Each of these three colonels has seven or more majors on his staff, and each major has about the same number of captains. Each captain has seven or more field workers. All of the local organizations are, of course, constantly supplied with educational and inspirational material of all kinds from the National Recovery Administration in Washington. Literally tons and tons of printed matter has been shipped to every nook and corner of the country.

The N.R.A. emblem, known popularly as the Blue Eagle, is one of the most interesting and vital features of the campaign. All employers who sign the President's Agreement are entitled to display the Blue Eagle with the initials N.R.A. and the words "We Do Our Part." Merchants, manufacturers and all others who have the right to display the insignia by reason of their having complied with the President's Agreement, are permitted to hang it on their walls, or in their windows, or on trucks and cars, and, if they so desire, to stamp it on their products or merchandise. It is, in fact, the desire of the Recovery Administration that all make liberal use of this badge of patriotism.

Any person in the United States who wishes to cooperate in the President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign and be considered as a member of the N.R.A. may go to the authorized establishment in his locality and sign a statement of cooperation as follows:

"I will cooperate in re-employment by supporting and patronizing employers and workers who are members of N.R.A."

Any such signer will then be given and may thereafter use the insignia of consumer membership in N.R.A.

Every phase of the progress of this mighty campaign will be flashed in the newspapers of the country and announced constantly over the radio. In this way everyone will be in a position to know just what the campaign is doing from day to day in actually putting people back on the payrolls and adding to the mass purchasing power of the country.

While, as has been stated, it is desired that liberal use of the insignia be made by employer and consumers, it is to be remembered that the official N.R.A. emblem is the property of the United States Government and may not be used or reproduced without authority of the National Recovery Administration.

The lists of all employers who sign the President's Agreement are displayed in local post-offices and it is urged that all employers who have not yet signed the agreement do so immediately and deliver them to their local post-master.

With some minor exceptions, the terms of the President's Agreement with employers is, briefly, as follows: Any employer of a factory or mechanical worker or artisan must not pay him less than 40 cents an hour or work him more than 35 hours a week, except that if the employer were paying less than 40 cents for that kind of work on July 15 the employer can pay that rate now, but not less than 30 cents an hour. As to all other employees—those on a weekly rate—the employer will pay not less than $15 a week in a city of over 500,000 population; or $14.50 a week in cities of between 250,000 and 500,000; or $14 a week in cities between 2,500 and 250,000 population; or $12.00 a week in cities of less than 2,500 population, and the employer agrees not to work this class of workers more than 40 hours a week. As to employees who were getting a higher wage, the employer must not reduce their wages because of a reduction in their hours and he should generally keep the usual pay differences as between the lower and the higher paid employees. And after August 31, he must not work children under 16 years of age. There are, of course, some other rules which apply to special cases, but the terms of the agreement as here outlined cover the large bulk of cases.

MANY ATTEND EARLE HIGHWAY MEETING

pitality so graciously given. We hope to see the paving of the remainder of M-53 finished by 1934 during the lifetime of the one to whom it has been dedicated."

Jesse P. Wolcott, Congressman from the seventh district of Michigan, outlined briefly the activity of the federal government in road building as an aid to welfare work, stating that 87% of the expenditures went for labor. M-53, he said, was the backbone of the Thumb of Michigan district and provided easy access to the Detroit market. He considered it equally important with the shore road. "We want both roads," he said, "but especially M-53."

Romans Built First Good Roads.

A. J. Knapp, who "many long years ago" played with Prof. William Lyon Phelps in the baseball league of Huron county, introduced that noted speaker to Thursday's audience. The first people to build good roads, according to Mr. Phelps, were the Romans in 333 B. C. They built in a scientific way, with four foundations. The eighteenth century witnessed the spread of the good roads movement in England and throughout Europe.

Mr. Phelps related his experience in bicycling in Europe in early manhood and was surprised at the fine roads there in that day. There are 10 bicycles to every motor car in Europe. Mr. Earle started his campaign for good roads at a time when people in this state didn't believe it was possible to have good roads in Michigan, and has lived to see the fruits of his labors. In paying honor to Mr. Earle as a promoter of good highways, Mr. Phelps also paid tribute to Albert E. Sleeper, former governor, in his direction of welfare benefits in war days. Mr. Sleeper sat on the platform with the speakers.

Edgar A. Guest was unable to be present. A poem written by him, honoring Mr. Earle and entitled "The Road Builder," was read by Village President Geo. W. West and presented to Mr. Earle. This poem was printed in the Chronicle last week.

"I have high regard for the man who preaches a sermon every morning," said Mr. Earle in acknowledging the presentation and referring to Edgar A. Guest's poems every morning in the Detroit Free Press, "and I have a high regard for the people of Cass City and Huron county."

"The main purpose of this congregation of people today is to see M-53 finished. This highway is the backbone of the Thumb, the Garden of Eden, by gum!" said Mr. Earle.

Horatio S. Earle, now 78 years of age, is the only man in the United States who has had three monuments erected to his memory while he yet lived. One was constructed of cobblestone set in concrete and erected near Mackinaw City, at the apex of the lower peninsula. Every cobblestone was a contribution from a different person. Another monument erected at Almont was in honor of Mr. Earle and officers and members of the Earle Memorial Super-Highway Association, while the one erected in honor of Mr. Earle, a mile east of Cass City, in 1917, is situated at the westerly end of State Reward Gravel Road No. 1, built in 1905.

Autobiography Presented to School

Mr. Earle, in his address here Thursday, reviewed the action of Elkland township officials in making application for state reward money to improve the corduroy road running one mile east of Elkland cemetery while he was serving the first year of his term as Michigan's first state highway commissioner. He read the resolution offered by A. D. Gillies in 1905 and seconded by R. S. Brown, members of the township board, in making application for the state reward and mentioned that $300 were raised by popular subscription for the road project through the efforts of I. B. Auten. All of these facts with others regarding Mr. Earle's activities in road building are contained in Mr. Earle's autobiography which he presented to the library of the Cass City High school Thursday afternoon.

Commenting on the expenditure by California of $110,000,000 in building two bridges to connect Pacific coast cities in that state, Mr. Earle expressed the desire that Michigan's representatives at Washington would show equal ability to those of California in securing federal aid in financing a bridge building project to connect the two peninsulas of Michigan. He suggested two different locations, one straight across the strait from St. Ignace to Mackinaw, and another by way of Bois Blanc and Round Islands. Michigan owns lands on the islands which could be sold for tourists' homes while tolls on the bridge would finance payment of federal loans advanced for the project.

Mr. Earle was the founder of the American Road Builders' Association instituted on Feb. 13, 1902. "I have lived to see the object of the association—excellent highways connecting state capitals with the national capital—fulfilled," he said.

To young people, the pioneer road builder, in his address offered this advice: "If you want to live until you are 78, take as good care of yourself as you do of your cow or auto. Keep out of the rough in life's course as well as on the golf course."

Raymond M. Foley, public relations director of the state highway department, represented Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, at the Earle program.

Mr. Foley said that the highway department approved the closing of gaps in highways of the state and favored the completion of M-53 at the earliest possible time.

"The time is not far distant when other funds will be available for state highways," said Mr. Foley, "and we predict there will be adequate sums of money for projects such as M-53."

The afternoon program of the highway association closed with a brief address by John Hammen of Lansing, editor of the Good Roads Magazine.

Side Lights.

On August 24, 1917, the unveiling of the monument was performed by the Misses Retta Hooper, Thelma Nettleton, Irene Frutche, Virginia Wilsey and Vernita Treadgold of Cass City and Miss Bernice Stewart of Algonac, a cousin of Miss Treadgold. On Thursday afternoon, Aug. 31, 1933, Mary Lee Doerr, Carolyn Auten, Alice Schwaderer, Virginia McIntyre and Charlotte Auten unfolded the covering of the monument. These five small girls who performed the service in 1933 are daughters of four of those who accomplished a similar service 16 years earlier.

To James L. Purdy of Gagetown and Eugene Waterworth of Caseville goes the credit of outlining the route of the Earle Memorial Super-Highway (M-53). These two men were among the 100 delegates who met at Detroit to determine the course of the highway. There were many opinions and a day's discussion brought no decision. It was then that Messrs. Purdy and Waterworth secured a map and marked out a course which proved to be the "happy medium" and it was adopted.

On Aug. 24, 1917, Mr. Earle's grandson, John Earle, placed a wreath at the base of the Earle monument in memory of 12 of Mr. Earle's friends and helpers who had passed to the Great Beyond. On the wreath were the names of Sluman S. Bailey of Grand Rapids, W. H. Weber of Saginaw, Amasy W. Wright of Alma, Dr. E. B. Smith of Detroit, Dr. A. W. Nichols of Greenville, Alexander McVittie of Detroit, C. H. Peters of Saginaw, Frank A. Peavey of Port Huron, Aaron T. Bliss of Saginaw, Arthur L. Holmes of Detroit, Ambrose E. Palmer of Kalkaska, and A. A. McKenzie of Cass City. On Thursday afternoon, Aug. 31, 1933, a wreath bearing the names of three friends and co-workers of Mr. Earle—A. A. McKenzie, P. A. Koepfgen and Governor Fred M. Warner—was placed at the base of the monument by Audley Rawson, supervisor of Elkland township.

When the Earle monument was dedicated on Aug. 24, 1917, Frank F. Rogers, deputy to Mr. Earle, in an address, said: "Elkland township has more miles of state reward road constructed and paid for than any other township in the state. Tuscola county stands fourth among the counties of the state in number of state reward roads. Mr. Earle advocated good roads through the period when people said good roads were wanted only by wheelmen and then through another period when they said they were wanted only by auto owners. Now good roads are wanted by all and it is a popular movement." Mr. Earle, in his address in 1917 said: "Michigan is a better state to live in than it was on account of the good roads that have been built, and if I know you men and have judged you rightly, you are going to continue to lend your support to those that are in office today and the result will be that we will make Michigan because of its lakes, rivers, hills and good roads, the 'summer resort of the United States of America.'"

ELLINGTON AND NOVESTA.

Tuition Rates Lowered

Tuition rates in the Cass City High School have been reduced from $80 to $65 per annum. As the school district from which the non-resident pupil comes pays $60 of the annual tuition, this leaves but $5.00 for the pupil to meet. This is $2.50 per term, payable the first week of each term.

We have tried to meet the needs of a rural community by offering courses in the following fields: Home Economics, College Preparatory, Agriculture, and Commercial. The records of these departments speak for themselves and in spite of the times, the work offered this year will be of a larger scope and, we believe, still better. The teaching staff is an experienced one, each teacher having from two to twelve years in this school. All are college graduates trained in their respective fields. The teaching staff has NOT been reduced.

Our tuition rates have been lowered and terms made easy; the living costs in Cass City are the lowest in years; text books are cheap (few changes have been made the last few years and many used books are available); everything is in your favor to get that high school education now. Be ready and prepared for those better times when we get around the corner.

If you are interested in attending school and are concerned about a place to stay, the matter of your tuition, or getting necessary books and supplies, call and see the school officers. Perhaps any one of a number of arrangements can be made.

Address all inquiries to J. A. Sandham, President of Board of Education.

Jo Ann's fifth birthday. The children enjoyed the afternoon playing games and a birthday supper was served. The table was very pretty with its cut flowers and lighted tapers, the color scheme being yellow and green. A cake with five candles was a great delight to the guests. Jo Ann received many very pretty gifts.

Ward Benkelman returned last week from a trip to Lancaster and Buffalo, N. Y. Being an implement dealer, Mr. Benkelman is naturally much interested in crops and kept an eye on the farm lands as he motored through the country. He found Michigan's general farm crops fully as good as those of other districts which he travelled and better than some. The drought showed no partiality and all sections are effected. He found the peach and grape crops of New York and Ontario better than those of the Thumb. Mr. and Mrs. S. G.

VOELKER REFUTES FALSE OPTIMISM

penses. It is quite useless to have teachers in the rooms if the plant cannot operate.

"It must be remembered further that the primary interest fund money estimate is $3,000,000 less than the sum received last year and that it will supply, especially in the cities, only a part of the salary budget. Because districts have not paid last year's high school tuition and have no credit for the coming year, thousands of boys and girls are facing the possibility of being deprived of the right to secondary education which is provided by law."

Referring to the statements that the sales tax will supply money for the schools and that the governor has indicated $6,000,000 may be designated from the general fund, Dr. Voelker says:

"These assertions brighten the picture, to be sure. But schools cannot operate upon the probability of receiving these aids. Specific provision must be made at once if the immediate situation is to be alleviated. School budgets must be constructed at the beginning of the school year. Should the governor be able to release the $6,000,000 for school aid at once, it is possible that money might reasonably be deferred until January."

Plans are being made for revising the procedure in giving seventh and eighth grade state examinations, to conform with the resolution adopted by the state legislature. Paul F. Thompson, assistant superintendent in charge of rural and elementary education, states that there is a strong inclination to eliminate seventh grade examinations entirely and place the conducting of the eighth grade examinations in the hands of the teachers in the respective schools.

Mr. Thompson further states that the County Board of Examiners will still be the body to determine finally the question of granting the eighth grade diploma in each particular case. However, the diploma will not be granted on the evidence of the examination alone, but on the results of certain other examinations, instructional tests, and other evidence that shall measure the child's ability. Instructional guides to be used as a basis for standards will be supplied by the department to the county school commissioners.

The first of these units, already sent out, is known as the "Science of Living Things," covering subject matter in agriculture, nature study and hygiene.

County NRA Meet at Caro, Sept. 12

Allison R. Stone, president of the Caro Board of Commerce, announces an NRA meeting which will be held on Tuesday, September 12, at the auditorium of the Caro high school at 8:00 p. m. The speakers will be Jesse P. Wolcott, representative of the 7th Congressional District, and James A. Ludlow, executive secretary of the Port Huron Chamber of Commerce, and connected with the NRA headquarters in that city.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the NRA from the viewpoint of the business man, to give the latest information available, and to answer any questions about it that after reading the papers, listening to the radio discussions about it and thinking it over, you still do not understand. A question box will be placed at the door. Drop your questions in it as you come to the meeting and an endeavor will be made to answer them before the meeting is over if possible.

This is the regular September meeting of the Caro Board of Commerce but it will not be a luncheon meeting. There will be no expense connected with attending the meeting.

Business men are invited to attend as this meeting will be for the merchants of Tuscola county. "The time has now arrived when the public expects you to bring your business under the Blue Eagle. The plan is in operation on a large scale and the Board of Commerce wants to do all in its power to help you conform to its provisions," says Mr. Stone.

OLD TIME BEAUS AT HENRY'S WEDDING

"Henry's Wedding," a three-act comedy of married life and old time 1890 styles is to be staged on Sept. 28 and 29 in the auditorium and under the sponsorship of the Cass City Ladies' Band.

"Henry's Wedding" is a story of a bachelor bridegroom of 55 getting married for the first time to a widow of 49 who has been married three times. The story deals with the trials and tribulations of the bachelor bridegroom attempting matrimony for the first time when his young nephew, Jack, does not want him to get married because it will cut him out of $100,000 bequest in his grandfather's will. After many funny and ridiculous situations both the nephew and Uncle Henry are able to get married.

The high spot of the production is the beaus and belles of grand-ma's time portrayed by 40 prominent men in the city who will show exactly how the shieks and flappers of 1890 dressed and danced.

This specialty will all be costumed in the famous old styles of 1890 when the people drank pink lemonade and rode in buggies drawn by horses.

He hated to sign his name and thus plunged his nation into many embarrassing situations by delaying important papers, among them authorizations to pay bills.

Subsoil Farming Is Loss

Subsoil farming is an impoverishing type of agriculture. It is bankrupt farming on bankrupt land. It means low acreage yields, often five to ten times below those obtained from virgin soil. Although producing a large aggregate of crops, the average yields at this low level of soil productivity are so pitifully meager that there is but slim opportunity for the operator to get ahead.

Lesson for September 10

JONATHAN

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 18:1-4; 19:1-7; 20:30-40.
GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity. Proverbs 17:17.
PRIMARY TOPIC—New Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—David's True Friend.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Choosing Worthy Friends.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Be a Friend.

1. Friendship Established between Jonathan and David (I Sam. 18:1-4).

The friendship of Jonathan and David has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between the two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince and heir to the throne, according to hereditary rights. David was to be king according to divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and yet magnanimously waived his natural, personal rights in favor of God's chosen.

1. Love at first sight (vv. 1, 2). At the end of the interview between David and Saul, following the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. While there was mutual love, this trait stands out pre-eminently in Jonathan. To him it meant great loss, the loss of the throne, while to David it meant immense gain, the acquisition of the throne, to which he had no natural right.

2. A covenant established (vv. 3, 4). This mutual love found expression in the establishment of a covenant between them. Following this love covenant, Jonathan stripped himself of his court robe and equipment and gave them to David. This act was a virtual abdication of the throne to David. Truly, "Love seeketh not her own." (I Cor. 13, 15.)

II. Jonathan Defended David Against Saul's Frenzy (I Sam. 19:1-7).

David went into the battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion, not for personal glory; but it turned out as always, that because he put God first, God honored him. It is always true that those who honor God shall in turn be honored of God.

On David's return from victory over Goliath, he was met by a triumphal chorus of women of all the cities of Israel, chanting praise to him of the victory over their enemy. They ascribed more praise to David than to Saul. The one group sang "Saul has slain his thousands," and the other answered, "And David has slain his thousands." The praise of David aroused the murderous envy in Saul's heart and moved him twice to attempt to kill David.

This wickedness was in Saul's heart. The occasion fanned it into a flame making it a burning passion of evil. Let no one think of this as an imaginary sin. Its counterpart may be found in many of us. The supreme test is as to whether the success of others and the honor bestowed upon others arouse within us envy and jealousy. It is hard to forgive those who outdistance us in the race of life.

In Saul's third attempt to kill David, Jonathan defended him and secured from his father the oath that David should not be slain. He thus exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father for David's sake. This willingness to lay down his life for David proved his real friendship (John 15:13).

III. Jonathan Revealed to David Saul's Murderous Attempt (I Sam. 20:30-40).

The beginning of the new moon was celebrated by sacrifices and feasting at which all the members of the family were expected to be present (v. 5). David's excuse for being absent was that he might go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of his family. Matters were now so serious that Jonathan and David renewed their covenant. In this renewal the terms were broadened beyond the life of Jonathan (vv. 14, 15).

Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in David's company was most dangerous, so he cleverly planned this sign by which he could make known to David Saul's attitude and purpose. True friendship warns those who are exposed to danger. This pledge was faithfully carried out by David (II Sam. 9:7, 8).

Crawford School Reunion—

About three hundred people was the general estimate of the attendance at the third annual school reunion of the Crawford school district held on Saturday. There was a sumptuous dinner served on the lawn after which a ball game between married men and single men took place at the same time that the program was being given in the school house. The program consisted of community singing; prayer by John Hicks of Hemans; address of welcome by president, Wm. B. Hicks; reading by Greta Hicks; song by Elaine and Velma Pratt; song by Gerald and Donald Hicks; song by Velma Pratt; remarks by Miss Nora Moshier, former school teacher; reading by Mrs. J. B. Daugherty of Deford. Business meeting was short. All officers were reelected. Foot races, ladies' ball throwing contest and other games more than filled the time. Everyone enjoyed the day as usual with the only complaint being that the time was too short.

Towering Sky Ride Thrills Fair Crowds

The photographer tilted his camera toward the clouds to get this unusual view of the 628 foot mainland tower of the Sky Ride, the $1,000,000 thrill attraction of A Century of Progress Exposition—the Chicago World's Fair. To the left may be seen a rocket car that travels over a 1,350 foot cable 200 feet above the lagoon to the tower on Northerly Island. Above may be seen the observation tower reached by elevators which gives the visitor an unusual view of the Fair grounds and the city of Chicago stretched out below.

RESCUE.

Parker Reunion—

The fifth annual Parker reunion was held at the County Park at Caseville on Sunday, Sept. 3. One hundred and twenty relatives and friends were in attendance. A bountiful potluck dinner was enjoyed by all. After dinner was over, a program was given consisting of singing hymns, Mrs. Claud Asher read the 23rd Psalm, a number of selections were given by Burt Elliott and son, Leonard, with their guitars and a reading by Mrs. Jos. Mellendorf. The minutes of the last reunion were read and C. E. Hartsell was re-elected president and Mrs. Bertha Parker Asher was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The oldest lady present was Mrs. Mary Jane McGaw of Bad Axe, who was 96 last May, and Nelso Schaar was the oldest man present. He is 80 years old. The youngest baby girl was the three months old Zonia May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira May of Deford, and the youngest boy was Wayne Mellendorf, four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mellendorf of Grant. Those who attended from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parker, Jr., and children of Munising, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Parker and children, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Parker and daughter of near Unionville; Mr. and Mrs. Ira May and baby and Mrs. Elizabeth Hizer of Deford; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper and daughter of Caro; Ralph Anderson of Mazola and daughter, Elizabeth Blanch, of Alba; Mrs. H. L. Caryl and son, Lyle, of Port Huron; Mrs. John Parker of Carsonville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brackenbury, Mr. and Mrs. George Morley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Asher and children, George Rockwood and family of Harbor Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James Brackenbury, Mrs. Eva Marble and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wanner and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Martin McKenzie, Harvey Parker and Kenneth Parker of Cass City; Mrs. Mary Jane McGaw, William Parker and daughter, Verena, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parrish and Mr. and Mrs. John MacAlpine and son, Kenneth, of Bad Axe; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Parker and children and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kivel of Elkton; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson and Mrs. Lydia Warrington of Pigeon; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Danks of Bay Port. Other relatives came from Brookfield and Grant townships. There were four generations of Parkers at the reunion—Harvey B. Parker, James E. Parker, Norman Parker and Joan Parker. The reunion will be held next year on Sept. 2 at the same place.

Robert Edgerton of Avoca visited Saturday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Frank McCauley.

Mrs. Gilbert Tebeau and children and Mrs. William Tebeau visited in Port Huron last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore and children attended a reunion at Lum Sunday and Monday.

The topic for the League next Sunday evening, Sept. 10, will be "The Pearl of Great Price." Leaders, Clark Sowden, Ercelle Cliff and Lewis Yoe.

A number from around here attended the home-coming at Cass City last Thursday.

Little Miss Elizabeth returned home Sunday after a few weeks' visit at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Colson Blair, at Standish.

Miss Jessie Simmons was a Sunday visitor at the Frank McCauley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellicott entertained a number of relatives from Canada over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaVigne and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dehetre and sons and Mrs. Della LaVigne of Detroit visited relatives here a few days ago.

Miss Vera MacCallum of Pontiac spent from Friday till Monday visiting at her parental home here and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dulmadge of Royal Oak were Sunday callers at the George Hartsell home.

Anthony Inglesbe, Mrs. Stiles and Mr. and Mrs. John Combs made a business trip to Romeo on Saturday.

Brooklyn Bridge Complete in 1883

The Brooklyn bridge was completed in 1883 at an original cost of $10,000,000, but its total cost, including the value of land for approaches and subsequent improvements and additional construction, is $25,000,000. Its total length is in excess of 6,000 feet. Its river span is 1,595 feet. The bridge extends back into Manhattan 1,562 feet and into Brooklyn 998 feet. Standing 133 feet above high water, it hangs 13,800 tons in the air.

Levels of Oceans

The difference in the levels of the oceans at the Pacific and Atlantic ends of the Panama canal is due to current, tidal and wind influences and also to the configuration of the Bay of Panama.

Buying Power of Wheat

Articles Farmers Buy

Cost in Terms of Wheat
(Each sack holds 3 bushels)

GIVING wheat the same buying power that it had in the period before the World War is the goal of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. This chart shows how big the problem is. In 1914 8 sacks of wheat would buy a pair of shoes, a barrel of flour, a chair, and a plow.

In 1925 it took 9 sacks of wheat to buy the same set of articles. In 1930 it took 19 sacks of wheat and early in 1933 it took 22 sacks of wheat. The cause of the low buying power is too great a supply. To remedy the situation, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has begun a campaign asking farmers to reduce their acreage for the 1934 and 1935 crops so that the return from a bushel of wheat will be once more what it was in the pre-war period, in its power to buy the goods which farmers need. The goal of the wheat administration is the 1914 basis, on which 8 sacks of wheat would buy the bill of goods pictured here.

ELKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaVigne and two children of Detroit spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Helwig, and visited other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Crawford and Lucile Younglove of Detroit were week-end guests of friends in this vicinity.

Miss Elizabeth Ross went to Big Rapids Monday to resume her studies at the Ferris Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Crawford and children of Flint spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Muntz.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Marks were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Profit.

Miss Elizabeth Knight accompanied her sister, Miss Pauline, to Fairgrove Monday, where she began her work as teacher for another year in the Fairgrove school.

School opened Tuesday at Heron, Winton and Bird.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall and son, John, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Knight.

Mrs. John Profit, Miss Julia Schumaker and their mother, Mrs. Schumaker, are spending a few days in Orion and Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Profit and Jeanne spent from Friday until Sunday in Detroit and attended the boat races.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blair of Standish spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. M. Crawford, who returned home with them Monday to spend the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Murray and son, Jimmie, of Flint spent Sunday and Monday at the homes of Delbert and William Profit.

Mrs. Hugh Jordan, who has been in very poor health this summer, is spending some time with friends in Sandusky.

The Bethel Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. James Day on Thursday.

Mrs. John Doerr, Jr., proved a clever hostess to a large company of friends at a miscellaneous shower in her home on Tuesday evening, August 29, honoring Miss Mildred Knight, who became the bride of Keith McConkey on Saturday, Sept. 2. A mock wedding created much merriment as a feature of entertainment; also a guessing contest in which Mrs. T. J. Heron won first prize. The bride-elect received a splendid collection of interesting and useful gifts. Miss Knight will be greatly missed from our community as she was a faithful worker in our Sunday school and social activities. The best wishes of her many friends are extended for her future happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McNamee of Cass City called at the David Murphy home Sunday afternoon. A large number of neighbors and friends from this vicinity attended the funeral of Miss Edna Helwig which was held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Russell Erb, in Bad Axe Monday afternoon.

DEFORD.

Tent Meeting Closed—

The evangelistic tent service of the Rev. Paul Jones came to a close on Friday night and Mr. Jones and family returned on Sunday to Detroit.

School Work Begins—

The various schools in our vicinity opened for the year's work on Tuesday. Eber Stewart and Mrs. Neva Zinnecker are again welcomed at the Deford school, Miss Alison Milligan at Crawford, Miss Caroline Field at Town Line, and Mrs. Albert Quick at the Quick school.

House Burned—

A woods fire that got beyond control destroyed the house of Clarence Vorhes, two miles south and one mile west of the village on Monday.

Labor Day Home-coming—

The second annual home-coming proved to be a fine success in reference to numbers and weather, and was very free from any misconduct, unpleasantness or accident. Plenty of amusement was provided. Two ball games were on the program. In the one in the forenoon, Caro won from Deford. The afternoon game, Deford vs. Pontiac All Stars, was won by the Deford boys. John Wicks captured the 100-pound greased pig. R. E. Johnson won second money in the fat men's race. Deford men won the tug-of-war from Wilmot. The various stands and the aeroplane all did a flourishing business. All agree that five very splendid teams competed in the horse pulling contest. The weight drawn was 7,500 pounds, on gravel, on a 12-ft. stone boat. The prizes were awarded as follows: 1st, Paul Auslander, Shabbona; 2nd, Harry Knapp, Decker; 3rd, Harry Niles, Novesta. Several boxing matches and a night dance completed the doings.

Joe Kelley and Alton Lewis of Bear Lake spent from Saturday until Wednesday at their parental homes here.

George McIntyre and daughter, Ann, and niece, Miss Irma Warren, were Sunday visitors at Grand Rapids.

Mrs. W. A. Bruce of Richmond spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bruce.

Miss Lillian Allen of Kingston spent Friday night and Saturday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith of Brantford, Ont., spent Sunday and Monday at the C. J. Malcolm home.

Mrs. Malcolm returned home with them to visit friends and relatives for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Locke and children and Louis Yorke of Mayville were week-end tourists through Northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Malcolm and Bruce Malcolm spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carless at Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sole entertained on Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Carl and family of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Lew O'Rourke of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Whitney, Miss Jerry Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Taylor and sons of Hazel Park.

Monday guests at the Rene McConnell home were Lee McConnell of Ferndale, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Snyder and children of Detroit.

parents, returned home with her parents Monday evening.

Mrs. Carrie Lewis had as guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hiser and son, Anson, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Sorenson of St. Ignace, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McCrea, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gracey, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulbert and son, Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blades and son, Howard, Loyal Boulton and Miss Lillian Ertel of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gee and daughter, Kathryn, and Leland Lewis of Caro.

DECLARED BIG SUCCESS

Pethers, Glenn Vyse, Arthur Wood, Ed Fischer, Wm. Davidson, Basil Hartseil, Watson Spaven, Frank Soldan and Leo Quinn.
John Z. McDonald of Lansing, appearing as Mac's One-man Circus, gave a platform act at the city park in the afternoon and on Main St. in the evening that proved an outstanding feature of the day's program. A man without feet, he walked the wire, rode the single wheel and performed in other difficult acrobatic stunts.

It was a thirsty crowd at the city park in the afternoon. Free lemonade dispensers poured 250 gallons of lemonade to quench the craving for the beverage.
Plenty of Music.

There was plenty of music for the occasion. The Ladies' Band played at the city park in the afternoon and on the street in the evening, being generous in their supply of selections. Those who enjoy the thrill of martial music were made happy by the bugle and drum corps of the Caro American Legion who executed pavement drills in the evening to "con molto spirito" tempo. The American Legion buglers and drummers from Bad Axe, appearing in natty uniforms, were here for the highway association program in the afternoon.

The day's program was concluded with a pavement dance at which Geo. Dillman and His Melody Lads furnished the music to which lovers of that pastime moved rhythmically to the selections until the midnight hour.

Announcer Balls Up Queen Contest

Senator Chester Howell, who introduced the judges at the sugar queen contest at the Tuscola County Fair, carried the following story on the contest in his newspaper, the Chesaning Argus:

Michigan's first sugar queen is Miss Bertha Binder, 17, Sebawaing, who won this honor at the Caro Fair Friday night from a field of 31 queens selected from that many cities and villages in the Thumb and eastern Michigan. Some 12-000 people watched the selection of Miss Michigan. Miss Alma was second and Miss Caro third. Miss Chesaning made an excellent showing.

The contest coming after several months of activity, particularly in the Thumb district brought out the greatest crowd that has ever attended the Caro Fair. Judges were Port Huron men and women.

The floats in which the queens rode in the afternoon and night parade were very beautiful. For instance one float was an airplane of flowers, another was a locomotive. Miss Binder rode behind two beautiful Belgian horses drawing her float. Miss Chesaning rode in a float.

One of the incidents of the queen contest, of course not on the program but which provided an embarrassing moment for everyone present, was a mistake of the announcer. The queen was ready for her "throne of flowers," the stage was set and the vast audience was just about holding its breath in suspense.

"Miss Sebawaing is the first Michigan sugar queen," the announcer said in the mike.

"Miss Almont is second and Miss Caro is third."

There was a nervous stir among the judges.

Miss Alma you see was second. The announcer had mistaken the words "Alma" and "Almont."

Miss Almont took her place on the edge of the throne satisfied that lightning had struck her.

Miss Caro was in her place where she had a right to be. All the room on the throne was taken. It was an embarrassing moment.

The judges finally made their collective voices known to the announcer.

"A mistake has been made, Miss Alma was second," he corrected.

Whew.

It was embarrassing for Miss Almont. There she was, sitting pretty on the edge of the throne. Miss Alma edged up to the throne but there was no place for her.

The judges rather smoothed things over by placing Miss Almont fourth.

SHABBONA.

Mrs. H. C. Hammond of Capac spent last week with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lena Leslie.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mitchell visited Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, north of Cass City, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Travis left Saturday to spend this week with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Comfort and other friends in Detroit.

Mrs. Wm. Fleming of Dansville, Ill., is visiting her son, Harvey Fleming, and daughter, Mrs. M. J. Ehlers, this week.

School opened here on Tuesday morning with Clifford Furness as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Honeywell of Pontiac and Mrs. D. C. Sinclair of Kingston were Sunday visitors at the J. P. Neville home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Fleming of Detroit spent the week-end at the M. J. Ehlers home. Dick and Billy Fleming, who has spent the week here, returned home with their parents Monday.

George Gotham, who underwent an operation on his head a few days ago at the Gift hospital, Marlette, is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kritzman and daughter, Marion, spent from Saturday till Monday with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Auslander and daughters, Marie June and Jeanne, and son, Clare, attended the Clark reunion at Bright's grove, near Sarnia, Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Miss Eunice Ehlers left Monday for Detroit where she will attend school for the coming year.

George Kirkpatrick left Monday for Sandusky where he will attend school the coming year. Billy Hyatt will attend high school in Cass City again this year. Mabel Auslander will start her first year in high school at Cass City, Sept. 18.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR HISTORY BOOK CHANGE

Harry C. Smith, commissioner of schools of Sanilac, is not taking the responsibility for the change in history books this year. In a letter to parents of school children, he says:

"I wish to take this opportunity to inform you that the change in the Fifth and Sixth grade History text book for this year in Sanilac County was made necessary by the State Department of Public Instruction and not by my office. Although there are textbooks County, I have felt, as many of you know, that this is a very inopportune time to make changes. This new book which is now being used over the entire state is no doubt a better book than the one we have been using. But if you have any criticisms to make regarding the change, do not blame your local teacher or the commissioner's office."

The first meeting of the extension courses to be given this fall will be held in the court room of the court house at Sandusky Friday, September 15, at 7:30 p. m.

BOY SCOUTS, TAKE NOTICE.

A very important meeting of the Scouts is called next Monday evening at the Scoutmaster's home. Have something up our sleeve. Don't miss it. We will be glad to have all boys between the ages of 12 and 14 who desire to become Scouts to be present also. All Scouts above 14 will be taken care of in another organization.

Twp. Meetings for Wheat Farmers

A second series of township meetings are now being held in Tuscola county to give the wheat farmers of this county an opportunity to sign the contracts for reduction of acreage under the wheat allotment plan being presented by the agricultural adjustment administration.

This will be the last opportunity for farmers to get in on this plan for the next two years and the closing date for the signing of applications will be the evening of September 15. No applications will be accepted after that date.

Mr. Hammond, county agricultural agent, who is in charge of this work in Tuscola county, has arranged for all the applications to be signed at township meetings under the supervision of the men in charge. In order to avoid confusion and mistakes, assistance will be given to all farmers at these meetings in filling out the application blanks.

Farmers are asked to bring to the meeting information pertaining to their production for the years 1930, 1931, and 1932. Also, they are asked to bring a legal description of their farms. Blanks are being mailed to the wheat farmers in each township for this purpose. It is planned to have all threshermen from each township at their township meeting in order that information may be obtained from them.

Meetings will be held in the following places, all meetings beginning at 7:30 in the evening:

Elkland township, Friday, Sept. 8, Town Hall, Cass City.

Novesta township, Monday, Sept. 11, Kelly's Hall, Deford.

Ellington township, Monday, Sept. 11, Town Hall, Ellington.

Millington township, Monday, Sept. 11, Millington High School.

Fairgrove township, Friday, Sept. 15, Fairgrove High School.

Yellowstone Park's Geysers

Yellowstone park has an area of over 3,400 square miles extending into Wyoming, Idaho and Montana. Here roam herds of buffalo, antelope, elk and deer. And no other attraction advertises itself quite so thoroughly as do its famous bears. Within this huge area are more geysers than in all the rest of the world together; 100 of them, large and small. Old faithful, sometimes called "Nature's Timepiece" because of its regularity in "playing," is undoubtedly the best known of all.

Fire's Out

American fire-fighting experts extinguished a gas-well fire in Moreni, Rumania, after efforts that lasted more than three years. The flames were 300 feet high and could be seen for a radius of 70 miles.—Collier's Weekly.

The Fable of the Acrobatic Horoscope

By GEORGE ADE

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

ONCE there was a Boy, named Jefferson who lay on his Back in an Orchard one whole Afternoon mapping out his Future. He was Five Years Old at the time and still carried his Milk Teeth and a few Pin Feathers, but already he had begun brooding over his career.

After a Survey of all Business Occupations and Professions it struck him that being a Preacher was the Duck Soup. He had been watching one of them and it seemed to him that this Bird had everything organized and was riding high, wide and purty. Nothing to do all Week except wear a Dark Suit in conjunction with a psuedo-Panama and beam like a Head Light whenever addressed.

Jefferson had it on good Authority that the Parson didn't have to pay any House Rent. No matter where he went, the folks who saw him began to kill Yellow-Legs and lay the Foundation of an old-fashioned Strawberry Short-Cake. At every Wedding he could go as far as he liked on the Ice cream. Neighbors often sent in the first Lilac Cuttings, and usually he had Corn on the Cob about a week ahead of the Stores. Easy Picking was the only Name for it.

The Job seemed to have no Draw-Backs. On Sunday Morning the Preacher was Boss of the whole Show. He picked out the Songs, and on matter what he said, no one dared to give him any Slack. It seemed to little Jefferson that a Feller who had a chance to be a Minister, and then got hooked with some other kind of a Job was a little shot in the Upper Story, to quote the Picturesque Idiom of some three Decades ago.

The Webster Stuff.

By the time that Jeffe was 10, and sat on a baggage Truck to watch the Choo-Choo wham by, he had forgotten all about his Determination to free-lunch his way through Life as a Parson. He was now all set to be a Con on a good Passenger Run. Nothing, it seemed to him, could exceed the Glory of the Blue Uniform, the servile Attentions at every Way Station, the imperious Gesture to the Engineer, the Lantern carried in the Hollow of the Arm, the Rollicking Comradeship of Traveling Salesmen and the expert flipping on and off.

Jefferson knew all the Trains by Number and was saving up to buy a heavy Silver Watch. It was all fixed. When he grew up he was going to run No. 5 into the Grand Central every Evening and then wash up and go to the Minstrels.

We discover him at the Age of 15 eating Throat Lozenges and making hurried Preparations to be a great Political Orator. He was just at the High School age when the Legs and Mental Perceptions are wobbly, when the Voice and the Outlook on Life are changing and when the Whiskers and many impracticable Ambitions are beginning to sprout.

Jefferson had tried out his new Baritone on Norval, whose Father fed the Flock on the Turk who lay in the Guarded Tent at Midnight, and on Spartacus, who formed the first Equity Association among the Actors doing stunts in the Arena at Rome. He was one of the main Elocutors in Lincoln High and his Stuff had been going over big. Consequently, when he came under the Spell of a visiting Wind-Jammer who spoke for nearly two Hours in Court House Square, he was carried completely off his Feet and resolved that he would be a Public Speaker or bust his Vocal Cords in the Attempt.

The great Word-Painter who had so impressed our Young Friend belonged to the Old School of Platform Performers who loved Metaphors and hated Hair-Cuts. The Type is still hanging on in the Chautauqs, but the radio has him on the Ropes. Along about 1905 he was a Darb. The one admired by Jefferson wore a double-breasted P. A. and was trying to be a Carbon Copy of Daniel Webster and was getting away with all of the standardized Tricks. He knew how to wave the Flag and Cry and pluck the Stars out of the Firmament, so every time he hit a Yap Town the Farmers would drive in from miles around in order to have their feelings massaged and get all het up.

Try-Out Years.

Let us now check up on Jefferson at the ripe age of 20. He is a Junior at a College which is trying to dispense Knowledge and collect Endowments. Through his membership in a Frat and because of his natty Appearance he has been given the principal male Part in a Performance by the Dramatic Club, and he has learned that he is saturated with Histrionic Ability. Therefore, he has made up his Mind to be a celebrated Actor. Already he has been photographed in Costume and is preserving a newspaper Clipping which says that in the Part of the Hero he was "adequate."

The Fact that the Local Sheet did not go into any of the harrowing details merely proves that more News is suppressed than ever gets into Print.

Jefferson decided to go ahead and take his Degree rather than disappoint his Parents, but he was just aching for a Chance to join a regular Company and have his Photo in a Frame in front of the Grand Opera House.

Between the Period of his College Triumphs and his 25th Birthday he had quite a few Experiences. Statistics prove that almost anything may happen to a Graduate just after he is deprived of the Checks from Dad, and finds himself trying to get a Grapevine on the World. He suddenly ascertains that the Task is a good deal like trying to upset a Brick House without the help of a Lever. It is during the cruel try-out Years that the one who has prepared himself to be a Landscape Gardener suddenly decides that he can do better by playing the Piano in a good Movie House and the Incipient Lawyer goes out in a Ford taking Orders for a Nursery.

Jefferson got shut of Actoritis without suffering a single Cramp. It seemed to work out through the Pores. In fact, he told his Relations on Commencement Day that he had almost decided to take up Social Service and be a Settlement Worker and go about shaking Hands with Lowly Roughnecks whether they wished to be annoyed or not. When he made this noble Resolution he was still under the Influence of the Baccalaureate Sermon which, very often, will help to guide Young Men and Women through Life for at least a Week after they have heard it.

The Demon Realtor.

Jefferson copped his Sheep-Skin in June and along in July his Male Parent asked him if he was going to play tennis indefinitely and he said No, he had been looking around for the Agency of some good Car, so along in September we find him soliciting Life Insurance, only to learn that all persons still living were fully covered. So about all he did for the remainder of the year was to play Santa Claus at a Yuletide Festival put on by the Church.

Early next Spring, in order to relieve the Tedium of Life in a Small Town and to prove that two may live as cheaply as one if they stay in Bed and don't eat, he up and got Married. When he announced his Intentions, the Parental Blessing could have been heard a Block away.

Now we find him at 25 in a good Boom Town helping to lay out a Residential District costing $40 an Acre and about to be sold for $100 a Front Foot. He has a Bungalow, a Baby Carriage and a set of Golf Clubs and is active in the Chamber of Commerce, having been selected to give out the Identification Badges at the regular Luncheons.

It seemed that Jefferson at the age of 30 had struck his Stride, rung the Bell, and brought home the Side-Meat. He had become the head Babbit in the Boom Town already mentioned, which will be remembered as the one having the Bill-Board, to be seen from the Station, reading as follows: "Watch Us Grow."

He was worth a World of Money if all of his Property was worth what he was holding it at. Every day he sat around with other busy Cigar-Smokers, talking about building a Million Dollar Hotel, than which there is nothing more easy to talk about.

Now we come to the Present and we find Jefferson back in the Home Town running the General Store founded by his Father in 1877 and also having general supervision of the two Farms. He is just where he was destined to be from the Beginning. He still has some Holdings in the Town which started out to be another Chicago and then stubbed the Toe. They are Corner Lots and will be all right some Day, if not sold for Taxes.

Alloys in Fish Canneries

In the process of canning fish the use of machinery has been somewhat restricted because of the action of the metal upon the fish. Specially developed alloys have enabled the construction of a fish-canning machine which will not contaminate the food products with which it comes in contact. All parts of the machine coming in immediate contact with the fish are made of a nickel cast iron which is highly resistant to corrosion. The frames and other cast parts of the machine are constructed of nickel-copper-chromium alloy, another corrosion-resistant alloy.

Chinese Preparedness

An engineering feat, regarded as one of the most rapid ever performed, for its size, has been accomplished in China. Enough earth to build a wall three feet high and three feet wide, that would run four times around the world, has been piled up by the Chinese in little more than a year to prevent a recurrence of the disastrous floods of 1931, which caused the death of millions, and which left millions destitute and starving.

Khartoum Siege Notes Sold

What is believed to be the last set of siege notes issued and signed by General Gordon during the siege of Khartoum were bought recently by Lord Bute of Edinburgh, Scotland. The notes, consisting of slips of gray paper with their values in Arabic characters and signed in the right-hand corners by Gordon, were recently discovered.

He Liked Ice Cream Best!

In the radio interviews from the Century of Progress exposition, did you hear this one:

Interviewer—"Well, sonny, what do you like best about the fair?"

Boy of Ten—"Ice cream, sir."

Though you are 400 miles away from the big world's fair, it's biggest feature according to the Boy of Ten is right in your home town.

And such ice cream is
