CASS CITY, MICHIGAN

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

The Tri-County Chronicle and Cass City Enterprise consolidated April 20, 1906.

Subscription Price in Advance. In Tuscola, Huron or Sanilac counties, $1.00 a year in advance.

Entered as second class matter April 27, 1906, at the post office at Cass City, Michigan, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

KEEPING HIS PROMISE.

President Roosevelt intends making good on his inaugural statement of "Never another winter like last winter." Calling his advisors around him at his Hyde park home a gigantic nonprofit corporation to buy and distribute the necessities of life to the unemployed this winter was announced.

It is estimated that nearly three and a half billion dollars will be available for this purpose. Food, clothing and coal will be purchased in vast quantities and shipped to relief depots throughout the nation.

The potato situation looks encouraging. Late fall rains and the absence of a killing frost in September is said to have done much towards adding to the yield.

YOUR COMPETITORS. A man who is looking for work tells us he has quit, because there are 10 applicants for every job.

COMMON CAUSES OF FIRES. What are the most common causes of the destructive fires against which Fire Prevention week is warning us each year at this time?

When you get an accumulation of waste paper, packing material, etc., a thoughtless person is very likely to throw some burning thing into it, and you know what will happen then.

The good old "day of rest" has been transformed into a "day of risk" in Michigan, as people do dangerous things with their automobiles.

A PEACEFUL ROOM

I WOULD give a child a peaceful room where he could go to rest and feel himself safe and still.

I like pretty rooms. I like color and the forms of lovely things. What I fear in the children's rooms is the fussiness, the crowded activity that is in the decorations. Children like animals and Mother Goose rhymes. They like the pictures that suggest these old friends. But do you think it is wise to paint the walls of their rooms with trumpeting elephants, charging lions, spouting whales and faty goblins? I don't. Those pictures please the grownups, but I am not so certain that they have a good effect on tired children.

If there is a playroom whose walls can be dressed with all the animals from the zoo, well and good. Decorations that cause no ripple of thought in daytime stimulate fear in the shadows of night. In my experience such things are best kept out of the child's sleeping room. If there is to be a frieze let it be a gentle scheme, soothing and serene in its atmosphere.

A clutter of toys is out of place in the child's sleeping room. We want that room to express rest, peace, quiet. Disorder makes one restless and a tired child is restless enough without adding anything to increase his fatigue. Every object he rests his eyes on stimulates him anew when he wants to shut off all stimulation and induce sleep. Have the sleeping room comparatively bare, of soft color, serene atmosphere, and it will do its full share in restoring peace and quiet to the child who so much needs them.

The lighting of the room is very important. It is unwise to allow light to shine in the child's face. Some arrangement to soften the light and still allow plenty of air to circulate about the room is needed.

The bed itself is the chief article of furniture. Have it as near right as possible. That means a rather hard, firm mattress, a flat pillow, if any, and lightweight warm coverings. The mattress and spring are more important than the frame. Spend the money for them and take a sturdy simple frame that will stand up against hard usage.

Simplicity ought to be the keynote of decoration in the children's rooms. The simpler the better. Color and line and mood are not expensive but they are essential to the peaceful, restful room a child needs for a good night's sleep. Sometimes we spend more money than thought and the result doesn't justify us.

LOCAL ELEVEN

BEAT VASSAR, 38-6

Concluded from first page. The fourth time—this time on a 28-yard run through the tackle position. At this point, Coach Kelley substituted frequently, and by the time the last quarter started, there was only one Cass City regular playing. Most every man on the local team was given a chance to play. It was with less than five minutes to play that Vassar again threatened. Captain Daugherty was rushed into the game at this point, and made two gains of 15 yards. The local team, composed of second and third string players, held for three downs within their 5-yard line, but the Vassar captain crossed the goal line on the last down. The extra point was missed. Final score—Cass City 38, Vassar 6.

The fast charging of the entire line was encouraging to the local fans. Quick and Knight showed that they are both fast and shifty. Graham's punting and John Kelly's defensive work and the blocking of two Vassar punts by Kosanke were also among the "features."

Today (Friday) Cass City will play host to the Sandusky eleven.

Sandusky's chances for their first Thumb championship are more than bright. They were greatly increased last week at Caro, when they outpassed, outran, and outpunted the Caro team. They scored in every period of the game, finally winning from the Tuscola County Seaters 32-0. This was somewhat of a surprise, as Caro had previously defeated Pigeon 13-0. Can the local line stop the Sandusky running plays? Can the backfield from Cass City keep Sandusky passes out of the hands of the potential receivers? Will Quick and Knight make more long gains against the Sanilac team? And, will Cass City win this game, and keep its record clear? Why don't you come out and see? Many attended the game last week. Many more will be there today for it will be a great game in every way.

Next Thursday, October 19, on account of teachers' institute, will be the homecoming game against Caro. The Caro team has lost only to Sandusky, and will be fighting hard to avenge last year's defeat by Cass City. This will be another game well worth seeing. Come and meet your friends. After the game, there will be a dance at the high school. This dance is semi-public—open only to students of both Cass City and Caro high schools and the Alumni of Cass City high school.

Principle of Nationality
So powerful, intangible, and overmastering is the principle of nationality that statesmen called upon to make laws for the people do not dare rebel against it.

Pork Not Good for Dogs
More dogs show digestive disorders and the resultant skin eruptions from pork than from any other meat. Sea foods are notorious offenders.

Governors Island
Governors Island, N. Y., originally consisted of 69.8 acres of land but an extension begun in 1901 and completed in 1912 (making use of excavation from subway construction in New York city and from harbor deposits), increased the area to 173.35 acres.

Academy Conducted by State
The New York State Marine academy was established through the support of the Maritime Association of the Port of New York, the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York and various commercial and educational interests.

From Throat to Stomach
The length of time required for liquids and semi-solids to pass from the throat to the stomach averages only six seconds, but dry foods sometimes take fifteen minutes, or 150 times longer.—Collier's Weekly.
