SEVEN CORN AND HOG ALLOTMENT MEETINGS

First Will Be Held at Cass City on Monday, Feb. 19.

Meetings are being held in Tuscola county to explain to the producers of hogs and corn the Government plan to pay those producers benefit payments for reducing the production of these commodities.

Meetings for the week of February 19 will be held as follows:

Monday, February 19, 1:30 p. m., at Cass City High School auditorium. (For townships of Elmwood, Elkland and Novesta).

Monday, February 19, 7:30 p. m., at Court House at Caro. (For townships of Almer, Ellington, Indianfields and Wells).

Tuesday, February 20, 1:30 p. m., at Mayville High School auditorium. (For townships of Dayton and Fremont).

Tuesday, February 20, 7:30 p. m., at Kingston High School auditorium. (For townships of Kingston and Koylton).

A second series of meetings will be held at the following three places:

Wednesday, February 21, 1:30 p. m., at Richville Park Hall. (For townships of Denmark and Tuscola).

Thursday, February 22, 1:30 p. m., at Millington Baptist Parish House. (For townships of Watertown, Arabela and Millington).

Friday, February 23, 1:30 p. m., at Vassar High School auditorium. (For townships of Vassar and Juniata).

Government rulings for benefit payments on hogs have been changed so that the small hog producer is now eligible for these payments. Any farmer who has had at least one litter farrow on his farm during the years of 1932 and 1933 is eligible for benefit payments. All producers should attend the meetings for their townships to get the explanation of the plan.

W. S. C. Opposes Vinson Naval Bill

Mrs. M. D. Hartt, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Study Club, has sent the following letter to the President of the United States and to Michigan's two United States senators:

"It was moved at a regular meeting of the Cass City Woman's Study Club held on Feb. 6, that an expression of our views concerning the Vinson Naval Bill be sent to you.

"Having studied this subject of war preparedness in relation to the cause of world peace, we are unanimously agreed that any effort to build up to the treaty limit is a repudiation of our Peace Pact declaration against war as an instrument for the settling of disputes. Are we wrong in concluding that if our country's increasing its fighting ability challenges England and Japan to do the same, then a decrease of our fighting instruments would challenge our neighbors to follow our example? A big navy begets neither friendliness nor respect on the part of other strong nations—it makes for mutual rivalry and antagonism instead of international brotherhood. Then should we not have the moral courage at this critical hour to lead the world in a far better way, by practicing the peace that we preach? That would mean our manifesting a genuine pride in possessing a minimum-sized navy instead of a maximum one, and reducing our fighting forces accordingly. Are the other great powers so pagan that they would not react in the same direction, and relieve the fears and financial burdens for all? This leads to the other major question in our minds—can we sanely afford to spend hundreds of millions for weapons of destruction for which no need is in sight, when there is such dire need for financial help for the masses in our country in relieving government costs that are unavoidable?"

CASS CITY 39 AND CARO 28

Wyse High Scorer in Locals' Double Victory on Friday.

A large crowd were treated to 32 minutes of delirious excitement Friday as Cass City and Caro cagers staged one of their sensational struggles. Rapid-fire action and the unquenchable determination as demonstrated by both aggregations kept everyone at the edge of his chair in spite of the numerous interruptions for the 37 fouls that were called. Vyse led the Hilltoppers with 15 points while A. McDurmon dominated the play of the visitors.

The play started rather slowly with everything in favor of the Purple and Gold. Vyse matched a field goal by McDurmon and added a free throw after the visiting star rang up his second tally. Caro went on to lead 6-3 after the first quarter and then built up an 11-3 advantage while the Maroon and Grey stood about watching. With about three or four minutes left in the half, the home quintette awoke with a bang and registered eight points in one and a half minutes and continued to run a string of 12 consecutive points with the aid of three baskets by Kosanke, and one each by Stafford, Graham and Vyse. They lead at the half 16-12.

After the ten minutes of rest, the Cass City boys came out to continue their sharp shooting. Although the game from here on was divided into alternating spurts, the Cass City players would make their spurts longer and more often than the county seaters. Even so, the game was close until the last scoring spree put the game on ice. Some very nice shooting from the center of the floor by the Caro guards proved to be their best offensive. Both sides missed innumerable free throws. Cass City made only 11 out of 28 chances; Graham led in this department by sinking 5 out of 8. Caro could only make 6 of their 17 possibilities.

The Maroon and Grey made it a perfect evening by winning the preliminary encounter also, 25-17. As usual the Cass City B squad employed a large staff, so the scoring was well divided. At times this contest resembled a wholesale wrestling match, for the contest.

F & S BANQUET DREW LARGE NUMBER

Variety Program on Tuesday Evening Pleases Young and Old.

A larger number gathered at the Father and Son banquet Tuesday night at the high school auditorium than was anticipated, but an extra table was hurriedly added and set and all enjoyed the excellent dinner prepared by ladies of the M. E. church.

The program was sponsored by the elevator-mill-condensery group of the Cass City Community Club and Walter Mann, chairman of the group, welcomed the boys and remarked that about 10 years ago at a father and son gathering the first steps were taken to organize the Community Club. Mr. Mann then introduced M. B. Auten, who told several stories that brought laughs from young and old.

The Gillard group of entertainers presented an excellent program of violin solos, vocal solos and duets. The group is composed of David Gillard and his two sisters, the Misses Margaret and Helen Gillard, all of Brown City, and Miss Florence Barber, pianist, of North Branch. All are accomplished musicians.

Athletic Club in Double Program

In one of the best basketball programs ever presented at the high school gym, the Cass City Athletic Club will play both the Snover Independents and the Carsonville and Sandusky All-Stars on Saturday night. The opening whistle will be at 7:45 p. m. Snover has had one of the outstanding teams for many years in the Thumb District and will be met by the Grey squad. The All-Stars present Trask and Graham of Carsonville, Hill, a former Port Huron "Y" player and trick shot artist, and Donaldson, Bubel and Miller, all former Sandusky high school stars. The Blue squad will attempt to reverse a 21-20 setback suffered by the All-Stars. This defeat was suffered last week at Sandusky.

Minus the services of two regulars, the Athletic Club played excellent defensive basketball at Sandusky last Thursday. Kercher intercepted a Sanilac pass midway in the opening period for the first score of the game. Hill, trick shot artist, then sank three fancy shots, unseen by the locals before. Hunt then found the hoop for a long tom and also sank a follow in shot as the period ended. The latter shot not being allowed, the All-Stars led 6-4 at the end of the period.

LITTLE INTERVIEW.

When Acting Postmaster Arthur Little was spending two weeks in New York City in the summer of 1918 waiting for the sailing date of his company, the 329th Field Artillery, he and Battery Clerk Hornbeck strolled into a hall where John D. Rockefeller was delivering an address. After Mr. Rockefeller had finished his talk, Little said to his buddy, the battery clerk, "Let's go over and shake his hand, and if we return alive, we can tell the folks about greeting a millionaire." They acted on the suggestion, and as John D. clung to the Little hand, he asked if the army boys were getting lots to eat. Being assured that they were, Mr. Rockefeller remarked, "You look it." Undoubtedly, the millionaire oil man would have exchanged a considerable sum to have as healthy an appetite as the battery clerk or the now acting postmaster had in those days.

"Things are much the same now as they were on that summer evening of 1918," said Mr. Little Wednesday, "John D. still has the money and I the appetite."

Miss DeWitt and Mrs. Gillies Display Storing Devices

"The House with a Place for Everything" was featured at the meeting of the Cass City Home Management Club at the home of Mrs. A. A. Ricker Wednesday by Mrs. Norman Gillies, one of the club leaders. Mrs. Gillies and Miss Lura DeWitt, the other leader, exhibited hat holders, hat covers, garment cover and an oilcloth garment hanger with pocket for mittens and caps which had been made by them very neatly. Illustrations of various storing devices and reproductions in paper of two shoe holders were also shown. Previous to the day's lesson, Miss DeWitt conducted a review of the last lesson, the subject of which was the "Homemaker's Clock."

Twenty-one of the club's membership of twenty-two were present at Wednesday's meeting, the absent member, Miss Joanna McCrea, being detained at her home by a prolonged illness. Mrs. C. W. Price and Mrs. H. F. Lenzner were guests. The ladies met at ten o'clock and enjoyed a luncheon at noon prepared by the hostess and Mrs. Willis Campbell, Mrs. Martin McKenzie and Mrs. A. N. Bigelow.

Mrs. Herman Doerr will be hostess to the society on Wednesday, March 14, and will be assisted by Mrs. Stanley Warner, Mrs. Lyle Bardwell and Mrs. Stephen Dodge.

Miss White Married at Bridgeport

A lovely wedding took place Saturday morning, February 10, in St. Mary's church at Bridgeport when Miss Mary White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White of Cass City, became the bride of Joseph Gast of Flint.

American Beauty roses, carnations, lilies and ferns with lighted tapers in cathedral candelabra formed a beautiful setting for the nuptial ceremony which was performed by Rev. Fr. Maciefeski.

The bride, gowned in white taffeta, wore a corsage of American Beauty roses, sweet peas and baby breath. She was attended by Miss Margaret Gast of Foster, sister of the groom. She wore yellow taffeta and a corsage of yellow roses, sweet peas and baby breath. The groom was attended by his brother, Anthony Gast.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception and breakfast, for 40 relatives and friends, were held at the home of the groom's parents near Saginaw. The rooms were decorated in colors of yellow and white and the table was adorned with a beautiful wedding cake and yellow and white roses. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gast have been employed in Flint and will make their home in that city. They were guests of Mrs. Gast's parents over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bender of Detroit, former Cass City residents, are in Providence Hospital, Detroit, with injuries received Sunday evening when hit by an automobile near Clairmont street. The Hitchcocks had been dinner guests of the Benders and all were on their way to the Bender store. When crossing the road, they were struck by a car being driven on the wrong side of the road.

All were badly cut and bruised. Mrs. Hitchcock received severe scalp wounds. Mr. Hitchcock has a broken right leg, just above the ankle. Mr. Bender is suffering from a fractured spine and Mrs. Bender an injured back and severe bruises. Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock expect to leave the hospital the last of the week.

2 PUREBRED CALVES OFFERED AS PRIZES

Will Be Given to Winners in Essay Contests in Tuscola County.

The dairy products essay contest which will be conducted through the schools of Tuscola county will offer two very valuable prizes which are donated by two prominent dairy farms of the county. These prizes are two purebred Holstein heifer calves given by Geo. Foster of Fostoria and the State Farm Colony at Wahjamega. The calves will be given to the two winners in the contest in the high school and rural school groups. This contest is being conducted in connection with the county-wide dairy products campaign and is under the direction of E. L. Hammond, county agricultural agent, B. H. McComb, county school commissioner, and the county dairy products committee.

Mr. McComb, in speaking of this campaign, says: "This is a splendid opportunity for the rural teachers to better serve the farming communities in which they work by assisting in this movement to help the farmer in his perplexing problem of getting rid of the surplus in dairy products."

Materials for both the campaign and the essay contest are being sent to schools from the agricultural agent's office.

State-wide Traffic Educational Program Sponsored by Mich. Safety Directors' Ass'n

A traffic educational program materially reduced. The association has received assurance of one hundred percent co-operation from the police chiefs and sheriffs of Michigan that they have agreed to instruct their individual officers to stress or emphasize education to the motorists on a specific traffic violation each week, which an analysis of traffic accidents reports reveals results in accidents. This does not mean a wholesale issuance of traffic tickets or summons, but, rather, the stopping of the motorist, where necessary, and offering a courteous explanation as to where he is wrong.

Under the sponsorship of the Michigan Safety and Traffic Directors' Association, all police officers in Michigan are making an effort to educate the driving public. Turn to page 5, please.

ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP AT LINCOLN BANQUET

Speakers Hold Attention of 300 at County Seat Gathering

It was an enthusiastic group of Tuscola county Republicans who gathered at the Caro high school building Wednesday evening to attend the Tuscola County Lincoln Club banquet. Three hundred sat at five tables decorated with patriotic colors and enjoyed the fine banquet prepared and served by members of the Sutton Ladies' Aid. The invocation was given by Rev. C. A. Sanders and State Representative D. K. Hanna introduced State Senator H. P. Orr as toastmaster. The introduction of prominent Republicans of the state as guests was made by Mr. Hanna and Mr. Orr.

Hon. Harry Toy, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, was the first speaker with the subject, "Republicanism vs. Democracy." "The Republican people are a thinking people," said Mr. Toy. "They were not whipped by the Democrats at the last election but by the Republicans. If we keep our Republican house clean, we will find the party coming back into power, but we must have a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

Vernon Brown, state representative from Ingham county, introduced Frank M. Sparks, editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, who spoke in glowing terms of the Great Emancipator and wondered what Lincoln would do if he had to combat present day conditions. Abraham Lincoln was described by the speaker as "the greatest of patriots, the wisest of rulers, the ablest of men."

"American history would dwindle if the name of Abraham Lincoln were taken out of it," said Mr. Sparks. "Many men have been and are great in all walks of life, but Lincoln, who came out of the lowly heart of the people, comes back nearer to that heart than any other man that the nation has known. There have been men in peace, there have been men in war, but there has been no such man of Turn to page 5, please.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Bloody Riots in Paris Drive Out Daladier, and Doumergue Becomes Premier—Devaluation of Dollar Brings Flood of Gold.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

FRANCE seemingly narrowly escaped a civil war. Following two days of bloody rioting in Paris and other cities, Premier Daladier and his cabinet capitulated and the reins of government were put in the hands of Gaston Doumergue, the seventy-one-year-old former president who was in retirement on his country estate. His reappearance on the political stage was in response to the pleadings of President Lebrun and many other patriots who were convinced that he alone could restore the country to quiet. It was conditioned on pledges that both chambers of parliament would support him unreservedly and that the president would give him an executive order dissolving the parliament and calling new elections, to be used if he considered it necessary. So the "iron man" of France, as he has been dubbed, returned to Paris with plans for a small cabinet made up of former premiers and party leaders and with power to make himself the virtual dictator of the country.

War veterans, Monarchists, Communists and other elements joined in the violent demonstrations that forced out the Daladier regime. All joined in opposition to the government, though no one of the groups was in accord with any others in other respects. The mobs were furious and fought desperately with the police and the troops that Daladier had brought into the capital. The rioters, operating mainly in the Place de la Concorde and the region about the Palais Bourbon where the chamber of deputies sits, were raked by machine gun fire, sabered by mounted troops and clubbed and shot by the infantry and police. But they returned to the fray time after time and would not cease the struggle until Daladier resigned. The number of dead was estimated at fifty, and more than a thousand persons were wounded. After the battles were over the boulevards in the center of Paris presented a scene of desolation and destruction unequalled there since days of the commune in 1871.

Nationalist elements resented especially the removal by Daladier of Jean Chiappe as prefect of police, feeling that he was being made a scapegoat in the Bayonne bond scandal. The Communists and Socialists accused Chiappe of fomenting the rioting, but the "right" element said the "leftists" were determined to get the Corsican out of the way because they knew he would block the proletarian coup d'etat they were planning. The Royalists were in the mix-up hopeful, as always, that they might be able to restore the monarchy and put on the throne the duc de Guise, head of the Bourbon house of Orleans, who lives in exile in Brussels. Naturally the pretender shares in that hope, but he was quoted as deploring the bloodshed.

DEVALUATION of the dollar, and the purchase of gold at $35 a fine ounce caused a turmoil in the world's money markets and an immediate result was a great flow of gold bullion from Europe to the United States. The pound sterling and the franc made gains, but not big enough to suit President Roosevelt and his monetary advisers. Later both the pound and franc declined again, and the confusion was made greater. The French were alarmed by the drain on their gold and expressed intense resentment against the American policy, charging that the administration was making deliberate efforts to embarrass France.

For the time being the administration was prevented from driving the dollar down to its projected parity points in foreign exchanges by the rising tide of American dollars flowing back to this country. But most of its financial experts were confident that the 59.06 cents value would be made to prevail after a reasonable time to allow for the shakedown. As for the $35 an ounce for gold, it is the opinion of Prof. George F. Warren, chief deviser of the experiment that is under way, that the figure must be raised if prices of commodities are to be put up materially. Frank E. Gannett, the Rochester newspaper publisher, after a visit to the White House and talking with both the President and Professor Warren, said in his Rochester Times-Union that he had been convinced by those conversations "that we shall continue to raise the price of gold" and that the $35 figure probably would succeed only in preventing prices from slipping. By the President's devaluation stroke a treasury deficit of $1,900,000,000 was transformed overnight into a surplus of $973,716,937.

IT WAS authoritatively stated in Washington that the President believes that excessive interest rates on all classes of debts should be reduced as an important step toward reduction of the debt structure. His viewpoint applies to foreign debts owed to United States citizens, to private debts and to those of industry. He was said to be of the opinion that reduction of interest would make payment more probable, and that fixed charges also could be cut down.

Bills before the senate, which have house approval already, would enable corporations and municipalities or other political subdivisions of states to scale down the principal and interest of their debts through an agreement with the majority of their creditors. Legislation is already in effect which enables the individual to re-arrange his debt and interest rates through a pact with the majority of those he owes and to give similar help to railroads. There have been complaints that these laws have not been particularly effective and that they need strengthening.

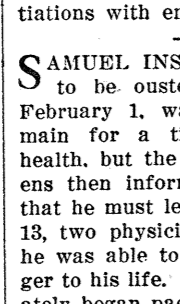

The President, in letting it be known that he thought the debtor was paying too much on obligations contracted in better times, did not say what he believed was a fair rate nor did he specify particular charges that he regarded as too high.

NRA and the steel industry came into sharp conflict, and the NRA to a certain extent backed down. Executives of all the leading steel companies met and considered the claim of the national labor board to authority given by the President to conduct elections for employee representatives when a "substantial" number request that action. To this the steel men took exception. They issued a statement saying the industry intends "to resist all attacks" upon company unions and that it holds that the present plan of employee representation complies with the NRA. The statement, however, declared the steel industry "is cooperating wholeheartedly with the President in his efforts for national recovery and subscribes fully to the principle of collective bargaining as provided in section 7 (a) of the national recovery act."

The NRA had given out a press statement implying that all company unions are dominated by employers. This drew sharp criticism, and the statement was retracted. Administrator Johnson and NRA Counsel Donald Richberg upheld the right of the labor board as stated above. They asserted, however, that the executive order which said that representatives elected by a majority of workers "have been thereby designated to represent all the employees," does not abridge the rights of labor minorities to conduct negotiations with employers.

SAMUEL INSULL, who was due to be ousted from Greece on February 1, was permitted to remain for a time because of ill health, but the government at Athens then informed him unofficially that he must leave before February 13, two physicians having reported he was able to travel without danger to his life. The fugitive immediately began packing up, but at this writing it was not known where he would go in his effort to avoid extradition.

TWENTY-TWO days after he was kidnaped, Edward G. Bremer, banker of St. Paul, Minn., was set free in Rochester, Minn., and made his way home, nervous and with wounds on his head inflicted when he was "snatched," but otherwise unharmed. His father, Adolf Bremer, wealthy brewer, had paid the $200,000 demanded by the kidnapers, in $10 and $5 bills, through an intermediary. During his captivity Bremer was kept in a dark room and under constant guard. State and federal law enforcement agencies were conducting an intensive hunt for the abductors of Bremer, who probably numbered ten or more. It was believed the victim was held in either Sioux City or Kansas City. Verne Sankey, notorious kidnaper who was captured recently in Chicago and taken to Sioux Falls, S. D., for safe keeping until his trial in a federal court, committed suicide in his cell by hanging, using a loop made of neckties. He had admitted the abduction of Charles Boettcher of Denver and Haskell Bohn of St. Paul.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT called congressional leaders into conference and with them formulated bills designed to bring the stock markets of the country under federal control. The measures were then introduced in both house and senate. They deal with short selling, marginal trading, specialists, pool operations and manipulation.

WITH little debate the senate passed the bill introduced by Senator Hiram Johnson of California which is designed to prevent the floating in America of private loans to countries now defaulting on past debts. Before passing it, the senators amended the measure so it would not hamper the President's new scheme to grant to foreign nations loans with which to buy American goods. A proviso was written in declaring that loans to foreign defaulters could still be made by government owned corporations.

Sen. Hiram Johnson

As it now stands, however, the bill puts in the hands of the administration its most powerful weapon for forcing payment of defaulted war debts. No defaulting nation may float any private loan in this country, and any American aiding in the illegal flotation of a private loan to a defaulter would be liable to five years in jail and $10,000 in fines.

According to Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC, the President's plan calls for the creation of a trading bank which will partially underwrite extension of credits to foreign purchasers of American goods. The bank would be entirely owned by the government, so the arrangement would actually be a partial government guarantee of payment to the American producer. The bank would be a division of the RFC.

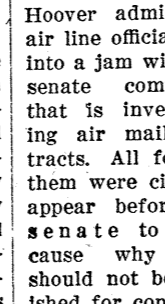

ONLY one representative voted "no" when the house of representatives passed on the bill to appropriate $950,000,000 for continuation of OWA and direct relief activities. The lone opponent was Representative George B. Terrill of Texas, Democrat. The money is to be used by the federal emergency relief administration for keeping up the federal dole to the idle for another year and for continuing the Civil Works administration until the early part of May. About 500 millions is to be used for the former purpose, it was said, and about 450 for the Civil Works administration.

BACKED by the President, a federal grand jury investigation was going on in Washington that promised to uncover a $10,000,000 scandal in the War department. Two lawyers prominently connected in the past with the American Legion were said to be involved. It was asserted that automobile manufacturers had been asked for a fee of $50,000 in return for War department contracts for trucks running into millions. The house naval committee made an inquiry into airplane and engine contracts that, it was predicted, would lead to changes in the Navy department's system of audits.

WILLIAM P. McCracken, who was assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics in the Hoover administration, and three air line officials got into a jam with the senate committee that is investigating air mail contracts. All four of them were cited to appear before the senate to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt. McCracken practices law in Washington. The others are L. H. Brittin, vice president of Northwest Airways; Harris M. Hanshue, president of Western Air Express, and Gilbert Givvin, Hanshue's secretary. McCracken has been under technical arrest but this was vacated.

Chairman Black's report to the senate showed that Brittin admitted that he had removed from McCracken's office and destroyed subpoenaed correspondence; and also that Givvin, on order from Hanshue, had removed confidential papers since recovered by the committee.

Senator Black also told the senate that testimony before the committee showed post office contracts had been awarded "collusively and fraudulently" and that former Postmaster General Brown and McCracken had participated in a "secret meeting" held in a room adjacent to Brown's Post Office department office at which the country was divided into certain mail routes and contracts were distributed among "particular" operating companies.

Lesson for February 18

JESUS' POWER TO HELP

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 8:1-9:34. GOLDEN TEXT—But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice; for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance, Matthew 9:13. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Forgives a Sinful Man. JUNIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Proves He Can Forgive Sin. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Meets Our Needs. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Meeting Human Needs.

In chapters 8 and 9 of Matthew are grouped a number of miracles which exhibit the power of Jesus Christ over the chief foes of men—sickness, sin, satanic power, death, and storms. It is fitting that they should be grouped here following the laws of the kingdom, for they show the king's power to administer the affairs of the kingdom and produce within his subjects the graces of character demanded by these laws. It would make the lesson too long to attempt to consider all these miracles. Therefore certain of the most outstanding should be selected.

1. Jesus Heals a Leper (8:1-4). The dreadful disease (v. 2). Leprosy was the most loathsome and hopeless disease known. In the Jewish ritual it was regarded as a symbol of sin. Just as leprosy was incurable by man, so only the Divine Physician can cure sin.
2. The leper's faith (v. 2). His cry was most pitiable, but his faith was strong. He fully believed that Jesus was willing, to heal him.
3. Jesus' power (v. 3). He put forth his hand and touched the leper, bidding the disease to depart, and instantly the man was cleansed.
4. Jesus Heals the Centurion's Servant (8:5-13). The disease (v. 6). It was paralysis. In paralysis the victim is helpless.
5. The centurion's humility (v. 8). He first sent the Jewish elders and then his friends (Luke 7:3, 6) because he felt his own unworthiness. The condition of this servant was so grave that his master brushed aside timidity and personally appealed to Jesus.
6. The centurion's faith (vv. 8, 9). He believed that if Jesus would but speak the word his servant would be healed. His faith was so remarkable that Jesus marveled because it was not like anything he had discerned among the chosen people.
7. The wonderful power of Jesus (v. 13). He did not even need to see the helpless man and touch him, but needed only to speak the word and it was done.
8. Jesus Heals Peter's Mother-in-Law (8:14, 15). This woman was sick of a fever. Jesus was invited into Peter's home to heal her, and upon his touching the hand of the patient the fever left her.
9. Jesus Casts Out Demons (8:28-34). After stilling the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.
10. Met by two men possessed by demons (v. 28). These men were in a desperate condition (Mark 5:1-17, and Luke 8:27). So fierce were they that no one could safely pass that way. Many today are demon possessed and their number is increasing (I Tim. 4:1).
11. What they knew about Christ (v. 29). They knew that he was the Son of God and that he had come to destroy the devil and his work. Among demons there is no doubt as to the deity of Jesus Christ and the judgment to come.
12. Limitation of the devil's power (v. 31). Although the devil is mighty in power, he cannot even enter a hog without God's permission.
13. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (v. 30-32). The demons quailed before him, not daring to dispute his power, but begged permission to enter the swine.
14. Jesus Opening the Eyes of Two Blind Men (9:27-31). The intelligence of faith (v. 27). They cried unto him as the Son of David which showed they recognized him as the promised Messiah. The prophet had foretold such to be the works of the Messiah (Isa. 29:18, 35:5, 41:7).
15. The persistence of faith (v. 28). These poor men had heard of the wonderful works of Jesus. This wrought in them a desire to be healed. They, therefore, followed him along the way crying out for help.
16. The challenge of faith (v. 28). In reply to his challenge they gave him a definite answer.
17. The triumph of faith (vv. 29, 30). Their faith brought them into touch with the Lord of life, who opened their eyes.

Easy to Be Happy

It is just as easy to be happy as to be miserable, if one makes up his mind to do it, and there is no doubt at all as to which pays the best.—Onward.

ATHLETIC CLUB IN DOUBLE PROGRAM

Concluded from page one. In the second period, Kercher, local scoring ace, again broke away for an easy shot. H. Pinney stopped two of Hill's sensational shots and Gowen at the same time was battling Trask, Carsonville ace. Hunt again meshed a long tom, but again the score was not allowed, because the scorer had blown the whistle. These two unallowed but legal baskets proved to be the defeat of the locals. The score was tied at six all at the half.

Kilbourn and Hunt, of the locals, changed positions at the opening of the third period, and before the Sanilac team realized what had changed, Kilbourn found the hoop for two baskets and Gowen, and Kercher each registered one. After this Hill again made two starting shots while Gowen matched both of them to give the locals an 18-10 lead. Hunt, the defensive star of this period, received his fourth foul and was removed. Tyo replaced him and the locals were forced to play defensive ball again. Hill made good on a charity toss before the period closed.

Kercher sank a one-handed side court shot to give the locals a 20-11 lead as the fourth period opened. Miller then sank a long shot as did Bubel. Hill made good on two foul shots and Bubel cashed a tip-in shot to bring the score to 20-19 with only a minute to play. Bubel then shot from under the basket—the ball traveling in back of the backboards, up over them, and through the cords. L. Pinney was fouled just as the game ended, but his charity toss was missed.

The services of Kelly and Maharg were missed in this game, and with their added strength the Blues should be able to avenge their only defeat. They now hold two victories over Wahjamega, and one each over Elkton, Fairgrove, and Snover. The Grey squad will be strengthened by the services of Ehlers and Ross for the Snover game. This will be the only time that a Sandusky team will be played on the local court.

Ford Has Option on McGuffey Home

Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Blayney, the latter a second cousin of William Holmes McGuffey, author of the McGuffey Readers of public school fame, disclosed a recent visit of Henry Ford to the old Holmes homestead, the birthplace of McGuffey, in West Finley township, Pennsylvania, during which Ford placed an option on the place. The Blayneys own and live on the farm. This photograph shows the house in which the author was born and which is now crumbling in ruins. Most of its timbers remain intact, and observers say it could be easily reconstructed in its original form.

Feed Colts Well in Cold Weather

Grain, Supplemented With Clover or Alfalfa Hay, Is Good Plan.

By Prof. M. W. Harper, New York State College of Agriculture.—WNU Service. Feed colts well during winter; what is saved in feed is sacrificed many times in the final usefulness of the horse.

During the first and second winter colts should be fed grain twice a day—in the morning and in the evening. A good grain mixture for draft colts consists of 30 pounds of crushed oats, 30 pounds of wheat bran, 30 pounds of cracked corn, and 10 pounds of linseed oil meal. This should be supplemented with properly cured clover or alfalfa hay.

For colts of the light breeds, such as trotters and saddlers, cracked corn should be limited and mixed hay or early-cut, properly cured timothy is probably better than legume hay. The grain mixture should be liberally fed, the proper amount to be determined by the need of the individual colt.

In addition to grain and hay, sheaf oats will prove beneficial. Placing a supply of roughage in a covered rack in the exercise lot is a good plan. Ice and snow are poor substitutes for drinking water.

Young horses may be expected to thrive when they are bountifully nurtured with proper grain and forage and are given facilities for exercise.

Newly Born Calves Must Be Given Special Care

During the winter time, newly born calves should be kept away from drafts in the stable in order to avoid colds and pneumonia, warns a writer in the Prairie Farmer. Leaving the calf with its mother during the colostrum period, which is about four days, will make it more resistant to sickness. After the period with the mother, the calf may be fed from a bucket, three or four times a day for a few days, and then twice a day as the calf grows older.

With a bucket-fed calf the greatest cause of digestive disturbances is irregularity in amount of milk, time of feeding and temperature of the milk—that is, outside of drafts and dirty milk buckets.

After four or five weeks the calf may be changed from whole milk to skim-milk, taking about seven days to make the change. Good quality legume hay and a grain mixture of coarsely ground corn and oats, with some bran and oilmeal added, should be placed before the calf. It will learn to eat in a very short time. Fresh water and salt should be accessible at all times. Milk may be discontinued at the age of six months.

Locate Ice Houses and Pits on the Hillside

Where natural ice may be harvested economically and, easily, farmers in locating ice houses and ice pits can often take advantage of hills, trees or buildings which afford protection against hot winds and direct sunlight, and thus reduce melting losses, says John T. Bowen of the bureau of agricultural engineering, United States Department of Agriculture. To facilitate drainage the ground should be porous and slope from the building.

On a dairy farm, a vestibule and cooling room are desirable features of the ice house, which should be convenient to the dairy house. On a general farm, the ice house should be convenient to the residence. Small houses on farms using natural ice can be used to store a season's supply for household purposes, and on farms using manufactured ice to store a supply sufficient to save frequent trips to the ice plant.

Locals Hand Snover a Second Defeat

Wednesday night, the Cass City Athletic Club journeyed to Snover to play one game on the smallest floor in the Thumb. Snover had previously lost only one game in 12 played this year, and that was an overtime game. The Athletic Club also had lost only one, that a one point decision at Sandusky last week.

Both teams started slowly, each trying to find the other's weakness. Kilbourn kept the locals in front in the first period by two beautiful tip-in shots, while Bubel made three short ones, which was not enough to lead, as the period ended 8-6.

Hunt and Kelly scored for the Cass team in the second period, but Snover put on a good fast drive, led by Bubel, for nine points to take the half time lead of 15-12.

Bubel added seven points to his total in the third period, the sum total of the Snover team, while Kilbourn, Kelly and Hunt combined to give the locals six points, which was four less than what would bring a tie score.

Maharg opened the final period with two nice dog shots, while Hunt scored three times from the side court. Bubel also added a basket to bring his total to 19 for the evening and Moore was good for a basket and a charity toss.

The last point was made with two minutes to go. The foul also disqualified Hunt, ace of the C. C. A. C. attack and defense. The score was 28-27, and the Blue squad put on a great exhibition of stalling. Kilbourn broke away for another basket just seconds before the final gun to make the score 30-27, a fine Cass City win.

Hunt led the local scorers with 12 points, but Bubel's 19 was much better. The Snover ace also plays for the C & S All Stars and will be seen here in both ends of the double program on Saturday night.

Land Bank Pays $1,233 Taxes in Tuscola County

The Federal Land Bank of St. Paul has paid 1933 taxes amounting to $1,233.78 in Tuscola county on real estate it owns, is announced at the office of the general agent of the Farm Credit Administration in St. Paul. The total of taxes it has paid on its real estate in Michigan for the year is $31,325.

This is in addition to taxes of $175,000 which the Land Bank has advanced to its borrowers in this state whose loans have been re-amortized, and who had been unable to pay either taxes or installments because of adverse farm conditions.

"We hope and believe that many counties have been benefited by these payments, that schools have been kept open and that these sums have gone to pay wages and salaries and for the general support of business in many communities," said a statement from the bank.

FARM CREDIT ASSOCIATION.

Tuscola county is included along with Lapeer and Genesee counties in the Lapeer Production Credit Association, which was recently organized with headquarters at Lapeer, and which will be in position to extend general short term farm loans to farmers within a short time. There are 18 such associations in the state, 16 in the lower peninsula, and two in the upper peninsula.

Applications for these loans may be made by Tuscola county farmers at the office of the county agricultural agent at Caro. Miss Marie Goodell will make out applications every day, starting Saturday, at this office. Any farmer interested in making a production loan is requested to call at the office at once.

POST OFFICE FORCE TO HAVE DAY'S VACATION

Postmaster Arthur Little, Postal Clerks Fritz and Schenck and Rural Carriers Corkins, Hall, Elliott, Schell and Landon are slated for a day's vacation next Thursday—Washington's birthday. The mail from the south will be "disturbed" at noon and that's probably all the mail we'll get during the day as the Bay City-Port Huron bus will not deliver mail on the holiday. The carriers haven't even that much to do in line of duty. This rural mail delivery looks good on Washington's birth anniversary, but it held no attractions when the mercury was hovering around the 20 below zero mark a week ago.

Improper Turns.

From an analysis of accident reports occurring in Michigan, it is definitely shown that 75% of all accidents occurring on the highways of this state occur in villages and cities, and principally at intersections. They occur seemingly because of lack of knowledge on the part of the driver as to how to execute right and left hand turns at these intersections, and the proper manner of signalling driver's intention of doing one or the other.

Sub-section a, of Section 62, Act No. 318, P. A. 1927 reads as follows:

" * * * the driver of a vehicle intending to turn to the right at an intersection shall approach such intersection in the lane for traffic nearest to the right hand side of the highway, and in turning shall keep as closely as practicable to right hand curb or edge of the highway, and when intending to turn to the left shall approach such intersection in the lane for traffic to the right of and nearest to the center line of the highway and in turning shall pass beyond the center of the intersection, passing as closely as practicable to the right thereof before turning such vehicle to the left.

"For the purpose of this section, the center of the intersection shall mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the highways intersecting one another. * * *"

Overtaking and Passing.

On the rural highway, according to a compilation of accident reports, the vast majority of accidents occur between intersections on smooth, straight stretches of highway, and a goodly portion of them can be traced to some operator overtaking and passing a vehicle proceeding in the same direction when he has insufficient room or insufficient distance to do so.

Section 14, of Act No. 318, P. A. 1927, reads as follows:

"(a) The driver of any vehicle overtaking another vehicle proceeding in the same direction shall pass at a safe distance to the left thereof, and shall not again drive to the right side of the highway until safely clear of such overtaken vehicle.

"(b) the driver of an overtaking motor vehicle not within a business or residence district as herein defined shall give audible warning with his horn or other warning device before passing or attempting to pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction."

It might be well to remember in this respect that a vehicle traveling at the seemingly normal speed of 40 m. p. h. is traveling 67 feet per second, and with a vehicle coming in the opposite direction, traveling at 40 m. p. h., the space between the two vehicles is closing at the rate of 134 feet per second. It can thus be readily seen that great care should be used in judging the speed of the on-coming vehicle when attempting to pass a car going in the same direction.

During the first semester careful, individual attention has been given to the freshmen pupils in an effort to make the prodigious jump from the country to town school less difficult. Usually more failing marks are found among the freshmen because of this change in school life. Whenever any failing marks are discovered, Mr. Price tries to get at the root of the trouble and help the pupil restore his scholastic standard which, when it comes graduation time, will mean a great deal to some pupils.

This is one of the most helpful pieces of work adopted, for it may mean the success of many pupils. Often one finds that it is neither the pupil's nor teacher's fault for some of the failures that are given and a little help and encouragement give the pupil a more fair chance to get started on the right foot once more.

Below is a chart which shows the marks of the high school pupils for the first semester which they have just completed. Conditions are given to the pupils when the teachers have a doubt in their minds as to whether a failure or a pass should be given. Incompletes are given to pupils whose work, usually due to illness, has not been yet completed. Take particular notice of the few E's, or failures, which have been given. This most certainly shows that the school spirit is influencing class work also.

The students of the school are exceedingly grateful to Dr. McCoy for the two copies of President Roosevelt's book, "Looking Forward," which he donated to the school library. Our library is in great need of good periodicals, books and book repairs which have mainly been deprived the school because of the state library fund having been reduced to around twelve dollars per year. This does not nearly purchase the books and magazines the pupils really should have for their work.

Friday afternoon, we were entertained in general assembly with some good old-fashioned pillow fights. Most of the fights however were too short and ended in the midst of all the fun.

The geography class has proved to be so interesting as to practically double the class and a second order of books had to be sent in for the new pupils who joined the group this week.

Our school flag has been repaired, though it is just about worn out, and placed out on the pole once more to wave proudly before the school until it falls in shreds.

HORSE MANAGEMENT MEETING TO BE HELD IN CARO

Of special interest to the horse breeders and all horse owners in Tuscola county will be a meeting to be held at the court house in Caro Monday afternoon, February 19, at 1:30 o'clock at which time problems of horse management will be discussed by H. F. Moxley of Michigan State College.

A feature of the meeting will be a discussion of control of horse parasites by Doctor Killham of Michigan State College, who is well known to farmers of Michigan for his work on animal diseases.

Bots are a serious pest of horses in Michigan and cause many thousands of dollars loss to the farmers of the state every year through the loss or poor condition of horses during the spring work season. Proper control of these parasites is necessary to the complete health of the horses on farms.

BETHEL CLUB TO HOLD LAST MEETING OF YEAR

The last meeting of the Bethel Home Management Club will be held early in March at the home of Mrs. Herb Maharg when members will hand in their records for the year. The records will include eight different accomplishments in the year's work which entitle the members to secure certificates.

On Feb. 7, the ladies entertained their husbands at the Homer Muntz home. All but three of the 23 members were present.

Members of the group have been busy making shoe racks and hat racks since the meeting with Mrs. V. Carpenter on Jan. 26.

Hy-Grade Chick Hatcheries

The National Hatchery Code was signed Dec. 28, 1933, by Pres. Roosevelt and became a law on Jan. 3, 1934. The object of this code is to decrease mass production of poultry and improve quality throughout the year, by not setting eggs weighing less than 1 5-6 oz. per egg.

HY-GRADE CHICKS THIS YEAR ARE BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE.

Every flock has been bloodtested for B. W. D., the Whole-Blood method Antigen used, and the work done by the managers of the Hy-Grade Hatcheries. Every hen has been culled, and only the choicest hens mated with male birds fully matured and of the foremost strains.

Surely there are big "Profits" with "Hy-Grade Chicks" as all indications point to higher poultry and egg prices next summer.

DON'T DELAY IN ORDERING "HY-GRADE CHICKS" NOW.

POULTRY

FEED PULLETS TO GET THEM TO LAY

Grain, Vegetables, Gravel, Water Necessary.

For maintaining egg production during fall and winter months when egg prices are highest the following practices are recommended to farmers and poultrymen by O. C. Ufford, extension poultryman for the Colorado Agricultural college.

Pullets probably will require about 10 to 12 pounds of grain per day for each 100 hens of the heavy breeds, and about 8 to 10 pounds daily for the same number of hens of the lighter breeds such as Leghorns at the beginning of production. These amounts may gradually be increased as the weather turns colder.

Feed one-third of the grain in the morning and two-thirds for the evening feed in a straw litter at least an hour before dusk.

A good laying mash should be kept before the hens all the time in non-wasting hoppers. If one feeds a wet mash, make it quite crumbly and give only amounts the hens will clean up in about a half hour of feeding. Feed the mash about the middle of the day.

Be regular in daily feeding and care of the flock.

Green feed is an important part of the ration. Some of the sources of green feed are alfalfa, carrots, beets, cabbage and lawn clippings that may have been saved and dried during summer months. Beets and sometimes cabbage are low in vitamin value. Alfalfa is best if it is available.

Water is a most important part of the ration. Water composes two-thirds of the egg and the same proportion of the chicken's body. Therefore plenty of water always should be available to chickens. Keep a bed of fine gravel in the laying house for grit in winter time. Lime is furnished in the form of oyster shell or calcite.

A simple, although quite satisfactory winter ration commonly used for laying hens includes the following grain mixture: Cracked or whole corn, 60 pounds; wheat, 40 pounds. The mash mixture consists of 20 pounds each of fine corn meal, bran, shorts, ground oats or barley, and meat meal. Ground wheat may be substituted for the bran and shorts. Add one pound of salt to every 100 pounds of feed.

Vaccination Advisable to Stave Off Fowl Pox

Fowl pox of chickens is a disease that affects the poultryman's pocketbook, for infected birds lay few eggs, and if the chicken's mouth and eyes are infected, the bird may die, according to Dr. C. C. Ellis of the New York state college of veterinary medicine. When pullets recover from fowl pox, as many do, they are immune from further attack.

Doctor Ellis says vaccination is desirable where flocks had fowl pox last year; vaccination is probably not desirable if the flock has never suffered an attack of fowl pox; but to be certain to avoid the disease this fall and winter, he suggests vaccination as a preventive measure. It is advisable to vaccinate while the birds are still on range. Flocks that are affected with coccidiosis, worms, or any other diseased condition will likely suffer some losses.

The vaccine is applied by first removing several feathers from the front part of one leg and then applying the vaccine with a small brush.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now I feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.—Advertisement 3.

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

If you want to GET RID of Constipation worries—

The unwise use of harsh laxatives may drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys. A doctor will tell you that the wrong choice of laxatives often does more harm than good.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain.

The liquid test:

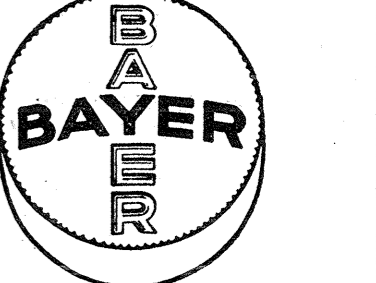

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics.

First: select a good liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find is suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

The first week will be given to the presentation of his unique, novel Map messages, entitled, "From Cradle Roll Harbor to Bible Class Bay."

Wherever the Map messages have been presented, pastors and people have been enthusiastic. The messages have been copyrighted in Washington, being the sole possession of the author and originator. The map of the United States used to illustrate the talks is twelve feet long and eight feet high, drawn to scale. The name of the states have been changed to convey the idea of the various states which children and older folks get into. The entire series is packed full of practical truth and will be long remembered by all who hear it. The author provides each one who attends with a miniature copy of the map, so that each listener may fill it out as the series progresses, having at the conclusion, a complete replica of the entire map message, "From Cradle Roll Harbor to Bible Class Bay."

There will be six messages in the Map series. Time of services is 7:45 each night, Sunday included. Everyone welcome. Bring your Bible.

World History in the Making—That's Our Weekly News Review

The people of the United States became world-conscious with the plunging of this country into the World War. Ever since that time they have realized that the United States, with all of its so-called isolation, is concerned with world affairs, and they have a deep interest today in those current events that are making history in all countries on the globe.

It is world history in the making that we are giving to our readers in our "Weekly News Review," written by Edward W. Pickard.

This is an editorial interpretation of today's history-making events in our own country and throughout the world, of events that have an influence, directly or indirectly, on ourselves. It covers the kind of events that intelligent citizens talk about, that they wish to be informed about, so they may talk intelligently.

Edward W. Pickard, who prepares this feature for our columns, is one of the highly trained newspaper observers and writers of the nation. He has a background of many years of experience, of a very broad education, of personal contact with men of affairs of this country, and travel and study in many foreign lands. From his school and college days he has been a constant student of world history of the past, of world and national history in the making, of the men and events of our generation.

Mr. Pickard's foreign travels have but intensified his love for and appreciation of America. He is intensely American, and sees the world events through the eyes of an American. He writes of events from the standpoint of their effect on our land.

Our readers will find in this "Weekly News Review" a feature that is very much worthy of their careful reading each week. It will keep them closely in touch with the events of consequence, and they will find in it a sure foundation for any discussion they may have with their neighbors of the real and intelligent news of each week.

State Ranks High on Alfalfa Acres

Michigan is now in the big time as far as alfalfa is concerned; the latest figures on the crop show this state stands in second place in acreage in the United States, according to the farms crops department at Michigan State College.

This is an instance of the swift changes in farming practices which sometimes occur. Michigan grew less than 100,000 acres of alfalfa in 1919 and increased the amount to 874,000 acres in 1933. Most of the increase was planted on land which otherwise would have been sown to ordinary clover or to timothy.

The great increase in the amount of hay grown has not resulted in a corresponding increase in the amount of livestock in the state.

However, the livestock is much better and is more economically fed than it could be with the other types of hay.

Estimates made by the farm crops department give the alfalfa hay crop a value of $70,000,000 more than could have been obtained from other hay grown on the same ground in the years from 1919 through 1933. The increasing acreage of alfalfa in Michigan has attracted manufacturing plants which are now processing this crop and shipping it to other states.

The threefold value of alfalfa, as forage, as a seed crop, and as a soil builder has been the real reason for its tremendous popularity. Hay in the barn and fertility in the fields are signs of the alfalfa crop. This legume is increasing in favor as a cash crop for seed. One Michigan farmer has a twelve-year-old field which has an average production record of five bushels per acre per year.

Here's why you should use Royster's Field Tested Fertilizer

GOOD quality crops are hard to grow. They take hard work, experience, favorable weather, proper soil and the right kind of fertilizer. They call for a real investment in money and plenty of worry. Yet all this means nothing if the fertilizer is not right. Why run the risk? Why not play safe? Protect your investment. Trust your crops to Royster's—the fertilizer that is tested out right in the field.

Remember this: Royster's is made in one quality only—the best. You can pay more or you can pay less, but you cannot buy better fertilizer.

Royster experts are continually studying crops like yours, learning all there is to know about fertilizing them. They never stop experimenting and improving. They test every fertilizer in the laboratory, then field-test it under actual growing conditions. Only refined materials are used to make sure that the purest obtainable grades go into Royster sacks. As a result, we know that Royster Fertilizer will give you the results you want.

See your Royster dealer today and let him know how many tons you need.
