MAROON AND GREY TAKE TOURNAMENT

Unionville, Harbor Beach and Bad Axe Set Down in Order.

Cass City has a new trophy to add to her collection as a result of the victories of her cagers in the tournament at Bad Axe last week. None of the teams competing could come close to the Hilltoppers, who turned in three impressive victories by 36-18, 20-11, and 29-13 scores to bring home the district championship.

Thursday night, they coasted to an easy 36-18 win over Unionville. After establishing an early lead, Coach Kelly kept shifting the playing line-up to give his reserves a chance to carry most of the game.

Friday night, Cass City met their first real opposition when they beat Harbor Beach 20-11. The fast passing lake city boys kept the game on fire for the first half, but the locals came back after intermission to put the game on ice.

Score by periods:

Harbor Beach	.....	2	4	0	5	—11
Cass City	.....	2	7	4	7	—20

The final night, Cass City, led by the high-scoring Vyse, got off to an early lead over Bad Axe and then coasted to the end. They blanked the county seaters while scoring 15 points themselves in the first period and went on to take a 22-4 lead at the half. The third quarter was about even and a late rally by the Blue and Gold team fell far short of victory. Cass City played this game without Graham, who hurt his nose while playing against Harbor Beach.

Score by periods:

Bad Axe	.....	0	4	5	9	—18
Cass City	.....	15	7	5	2	—29

This week starting Thursday, March 8, Cass City will attend the regional tournament at Flint. Other schools from the Thumb who won their right to go to this tournament are Lapeer, Caro, and Sandusky. The winners of these regional tournaments go to Grand Rapids to play in the state finals.

X-ray TB Tests Here on March 22

X-ray examination of the students who reacted positively to the tuberculin test given in Cass City recently will probably be made at the Cass City school on Thursday, March 22, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, announced this week.

The X-ray photographs, made by the portable X-ray machine of the association, will then be read and reports on them made within a few weeks after that. There will be absolutely no charge for any of this work, association official said, the survey here being made as a prize for the excellent showing made by Cass City students in the tuberculosis Christmas seal sale of 1932.

Cooperating with the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in the present tuberculosis survey of Tuscola county is the Tuscola Medical Society. Miss Georgia Doherty and Miss Blanche Howley, Child Care nurses, who assisted with the tuberculin testing, will also help when the X-rays are made.

Mayville Veteran Claims State Title

A Tuscola County Civil War veteran, acclaimed for two weeks as the youngest in Michigan, has lost his title to a man from his own county, says the Detroit Free Press. George Huested, of Water-

March 20 Last Date for Signing Corn-Hog Contracts in Tuscola County

All corn and hog producers in Tuscola county who are interested in signing contracts to reduce their production and thereby receive benefit payments from the Government will have an opportunity to have their contracts checked and all information reviewed at the sign-up meetings which are to be held in Tuscola county next week.

The community committees from each district will work with the County Agricultural Agent at these meetings and check the applications of all producers at each meeting. Those committees met at the Court House in Caro this week, Wednesday, and received instructions on the work which they will have to do, through J. G. Hays, district supervisor for the Corn-Hog program in this part of the state.

The final date for signing of an application for a contract has been town township, who won't be 84 until Oct. 29, came forward Friday to wrest the distinction from Clark S. Bixby, of Cass City.

Bixby will be 84 on Aug. 13, 77 days before Huested. Other contestants who held their title momentarily, so to speak, include Thomas W. Meers of Ludington, who will be 84 May 10; William Gleason, of Shiawassee county, who was 84 last July 23; William Rochester Montgomery, of Hillsdale, who was 85 Feb. 12; and William Harrison Ashley, of Bangor, whose claims started the controversy, was 85 Dec. 30.

Huested ran away from home when he was 13 years old and enlisted in the summer of 1864, but his parents brought him home again, saying he was too young to fight. In October, just a few days before he was 14, he ran away again, and enlisted at Pontiac in the Ninth Michigan Cavalry. Like Bixby, he served under Gen. Sherman in the march through Georgia.

Mr. Huested and his wife celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary Feb. 2. They moved to Tuscola county in 1881, the year that a great fire swept this section of the state. Despite his years, Huested is active, and last year built a huge chicken coop on his farm. He remembers many humorous incidents of his war service, but, perhaps purposely, has forgotten the tragic episodes.

WHEAT MEN CAN STILL GET CROP CONTRACT

More Mich. Farmers Given Chance to Qualify for Benefit Payments.

Michigan wheat growers who have regretted that they did not sign reduction contracts when they were offered last year can now qualify to reduce their acreage and will receive all benefit payments except the one made last fall, according to R. J. Baldwin, administrator for the plan in Michigan.

Opening the field for additional contracts was made necessary by agreements between the United States and other nations to reduce wheat in this country and in others by a certain percentage of the average acreage planted.

Some Michigan farmers who were not certain that their contracts would be approved and who, therefore, planted their usual amount of wheat can meet contract agreements by disposing of the excess above the contracted acreage. The excess wheat can be removed by pasturing or by cutting it for hay.

All farms under wheat contracts will be inspected by local men to determine if the contract agreements have been met. These inspectors will be instructed in their duties at meetings to be held within the counties. The inspectors must certify that a proper reduction has been made in the wheat acreage before final payments will be made under the contract.

The inspection work will start as soon as crops have made growth enough to make the work practicable. The second payments on the first year's crop will be made, starting in July, provided that the inspection service has been completed.

Wheat growers can get all details about the new rulings on wheat contracts from the county committees or the county agricultural agents.

Come Up and See Me Some Time

High School Pupils Study Bible

Bible study under "the Michigan Plan" is a regular elective course at Cass City High school, and has been in the curriculum for several years. This plan, authorized and outlined by the Department of Public Instruction at Lansing, is made possible by the cooperation of local ministers who give their services free. Four of our churches cooperate by means of regular rotation of leadership, a semester at a time.

This semester a class is studying the Life of Christ, with Rev. G. A. Spitzer as teacher. Last semester, Rev. Charles Bayless taught the first half of this same subject. Mr. Bayless completed his ninth consecutive semester of High School Credit instruction in January.

There are twelve different courses outlined, making it possible to begin the work as early as the 7th grade where arrangements can be completed for the same. Cass City is fortunate in having ministers who can and will include this activity in their regular schedules.

NEW RULE ADOPTED FOR SELLING CHICKS

Michigan Man in Charge of Enforcing Rules Govern- ing Sales.

Michigan buyers of baby chicks will benefit from the national hatchery code under which sellers of day-old poultry are required to meet certain conditions which are to the buyers' advantage, according to J. A. Hannah, now national administrator for the code and formerly poultry specialist at Michigan State College.

Chicks, poults, or ducklings bought from sellers operating under the code must have good quality and must be delivered as agreed. Any disagreements between buyer and seller about excessive losses of birds can be reviewed by the code administrator. Failure of hatcheries to meet the various protective features of the code are classed as unfair trade practices.

Fraudulent or deceptive advertisement or the substitution of chicks for those advertised as having special qualities are practices which also are classed as unfair.

Eggs used for hatching by code members must weigh at least 23 ounces to the dozen and no individual egg is permitted to fall below one and five-sixths ounces. The use of large eggs for hatching is expected to improve the quality of the chicks hatched and also it tends to pass along to pullets raised from these eggs the characteristic of producing good-sized eggs.

Mr. Hannah says the main purposes of the code are to improve the quality of all chicks in the country and to reduce the surplus supply. Farmers who produce quality eggs for sale to hatcheries will benefit as the code presumes these eggs will be sold at a fair premium above the open market price. Mr. Hannah's office is located at Kansas City, Mo.

Elkland Township Caucus.
A township caucus for Elkland township voters will be held at the town hall in Cass City on Tuesday, March 13, at 2:00 p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the various township offices and conducting such other business as may appear to come before it. ## NAME 4-H CHAMPIONS FOR MICHIGAN CLUBS

Winners Are Given Scholar- ships at M. S. C or Trip to National Capital.

Honor awards for outstanding merit in 4-H club work during 1934 announced by state club leaders at Michigan State College show that 49 boys and girls have been given scholarships at the college and four others have won trips to the national encampment at Washington, D. C., next summer.

Winners of awards are state champions in the projects supervised by the college club department. Both boys and girls are enrolled, and the total membership was over 32,000 in 1933. The youngsters may select farm crops, livestock, forestry, food canning, gardening, poultry, sewing, or preparation of meals as projects.

In addition to the technical training which the club members get in their work, they hold monthly meetings which help to teach them the principles of conduct necessary for enjoyable association with other people. Many of the club members are markedly successful in their projects.

The scholarship awards are given by the State Board of Agriculture and cover the tuition costs of the freshman year at Michigan State. Scholarship holders who make required grades the first year are

Tells "What Men Live By"

Rev. Chas. Bayless, pastor of the M. E. church of Cass City, spoke on the subject, "What Men Live By," at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon. Three important things he mentioned were hope, fellowship and a vital religion for today and tomorrow. Mr. Bayless reviewed briefly the outstanding utterances of President Roosevelt's speech of Monday that related to the brotherhood of men in the industrial world.

Next Tuesday, Rotarians will meet with the Community Club. On Tuesday, March 20, each Rotarian will invite a farmer friend as a guest at the noon-day luncheon program. On March 27, Albert Dunham of Royal Oak, a former Cass City boy, will be the speaker and Mr. Dunham and his daughter will give musical numbers.

VADER-DOUGLAS NUPTIALS.

A quiet wedding took place Friday evening, March 2, at the Baptist parsonage, when Miss Mary L. Vader of Flint became the bride of Donald E. Douglas, also of Flint. Rev. W. R. Curtis performed the ceremony, the ring service being used. They were attended by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Vader, of Cass City. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas spent the weekend in Cass City before returning to Flint where they will make their home. The groom is employed at the Fisher Body in Flint.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT CARO MARCH 14

Dr. Edgar D. Doudna and Dr. H. L. Turner Are Speakers.

B. H. McComb, conductor of the Tuscola county teachers' institute, has been obliged, because of illness and other unavoidable causes, to make changes in the personnel of speakers who will give addresses. The speakers at the institute on Wednesday, Mar. 14, are Dr. Edgar G. Doudna, director of the Board of Regents of the Normal Schools of Wisconsin, and Dr. Harvey L. Turner, director of rural school education of the Michigan State Normal School at Ypsilanti.

The institute opens at 9:30 a. m. in the Caro High School auditorium with institute songs led by Reuben J. Hill, director of music of the Caro school. The invocation will be given by Dr. J. Leslie French, pastor of the Caro Presbyterian church. Dr. Turner will speak on "The Challenge to Rural Teachers in 1934" and Dr. Doudna on "The Real Business of the School."

The afternoon program begins at 1:15 with an orchestra selection and roll call. Dr. Turner will speak on the subject, "Improving Instruction for Rural Schools" and Dr. Doudna on "A Poet Passed This Way." J. M. Clifford, secretary of the Teachers' Retirement Fund Board, will lead a discussion on "The Status of the Teachers' Retirement Fund." Musical numbers will include a selection by a brass quartet and a song by the Girls' Glee Club of the Caro school.

The same speakers will appear at the teachers' institutes in Sandusky on Monday, March 12, and in Bad Axe on Tuesday, March 13.

Local Talent to Feature C. C. C.

Next Tuesday night is the date for the March meeting of the Cass City Community Club at which time the banquet will be served by ladies of the Catholic church and the garage and oil dealers' group will sponsor the program.

"We have noticed," says A. H. Kinnaird, chairman of the program committee, "that numbers presented by local talent go over big in this community and next Tuesday's program will be liberal with such features. Then we have an outstanding entertainer in the person of Mr. Dollinger of Port Huron."

Pressed for more information about the local features, Chairman Kinnaird said the high school orchestra would play and admitted that there were at least two numbers in which professional men or their representatives would participate. He was reluctant in giving out information before the big night, but finally admitted that local clergymen would hand out some "hot stuff."

"We are greatly interested in the fine work that is being done by the medical profession and have often wondered why they did not take the public more into their confidence and explain to the man on the street the causes of malignant diseases and their method of treatment," said Mr. Kinnaird. "The average man knows little about the art of anatomization and vivisection, but Tuesday night's illustration of the advances made in recent days will surely open his eyes!"

Brothers Arrested in Argyle Holdup

George and Charles Bodie, Detroit, are awaiting trial at Sandusky on charges of armed robbery of Wm. Langenburg, Argyle storekeeper. The two brothers were arrested by Detroit police Monday and returned to Sandusky by Sani-lac county officials.

The two suspects were identified by Noel Sefton and Miss Marian Jones, employees of Mr. Langenburg, who were in the store at the time of the holdup.

Melvin Wright, service station operator on M-53, also identified the suspects as the two men who stopped for gasoline at his station shortly after the time of the robbery. Cash loot taken in the hold-up totaled $165.00.

EASTER WHITE CROSS SEAL SALE IS COMING

The Michigan Society for Crippled Children, in collaboration with the International Society, is about to launch an intensive campaign to further the work for crippled children.

The campaign will be in charge of county communities throughout the state, and will be conducted during the two weeks preceding Easter. The purposes are to make everyone familiar with the problems incident to the care, treatment, education and placement of crippled children, as well as the prevention of crippling conditions, and to secure, through the sale of Easter White Cross Seals at one penny each, to as many people as possible, sufficient funds with which to carry on the work.

The cooperation of Judges of Probate, County Welfare Agents, County Commissioner of Schools, Superintendents of Schools, members of Rotary and other service clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, the American Legion, the King's Daughters, Women's Clubs, school groups, church groups, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and other organizations is being invited, and a thorough educational campaign will be conducted.

MAN DROPPED DEAD IN COURTHOUSE

Geo. M. Abke Stricken with Heart Attack on Tuesday Afternoon.

Geo. M. Abke of Columbia township, while visiting the county treasurer's office in Caro on business Tuesday afternoon, complained to Treasurer Whittenburg that he felt ill and needed fresh air. Mr. Whittenburg assisted Mr. Abke to the front door and after he had been outdoors a few minutes, the sick man requested to be seated in a chair. Taken into the lobby of the courthouse, Mr. Abke expired as he was being placed in a chair by Treasurer Whittenburg and Probate Judge Cooper.

Mr. Abke came to Caro Tuesday and had dinner at the home of his daughter. He has had several heart attacks in the last two years.

Cass City Defeats Caro at Elkton

The Cass City Athletic Club advanced to the second round of the Tri-county Amateur Independent Basketball Tournament at Elkton by defeating Caro 21-11 Wednesday night. Thursday night they will place them in the quarter finals for Friday night.

Caro made the first basket but Kelly matched this one. Gowen put the locals ahead with a charity shot, and Maharg added a basket. Atwood's shot was good, but a free throw by Kelly gave the locals a 6-4 quarter lead. Kelly raised his total three points, while Schrader was good for a tap-in shot just as the half ended. The locals controlled the ball throughout and well deserved a 9-6 half time lead.

The Tuscola County Seaters out-scored the A. C.'s the third period 5-4, but still the locals controlled the ball. With a 13-11 lead to work on in the fourth period, Cass City began to stall. Caro's men were drawn from under the basket, and thus the locals were able to score four times—Kelly, H. Pinney, Maharg, and Hunt each registering baskets. Caro had the ball in her possession only three times in the final period, and only a stubborn defense kept the locals' score from mounting. Kelly led the scorers with eight points but the point-proof defense in the final period brought victory.

Excerpts from a Letter from Harry Sansburn.

5453 Lake Park Avenue,
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 18, 1934.
Mr. F. E. Hutchinson,
Cass City, Michigan.

Dear Frank:
Well, old pal, I just thought it was about time I let you know I did not have much difficulty in figuring out whose initials were on your Christmas card. I appreciate the thought very much.

I have often thought about you and the old home town, but never have had any desire to come back there to stay. Not that I ever got too "high hat" but to me I can see more opportunities for my family elsewhere, and I might say that perhaps those opportunities don't show at the present time or that they ever did me much good.

Let me hear all about you and the old gang. The Schwaderer

Ruth Schenck Secured All A's in Last Four Grades at Cass City.

Ruth Schenck, daughter of Mrs. Alma Schenck, of Cass City will be the valedictorian of the Class of 1934 of Cass City High School. Miss Schenck has the unusual distinction of securing all A marks during her high school career. J. Ivan Niergarth, principal of the school, says she is the only pupil who completes high school with a perfect mark during his years as instructor here and is probably the only student with such a record during the school's history.

Marie Papp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Papp of Decker, will be the salutatorian of the class. Miss Papp has made her home with Mrs. S. B. Young during her high school days in Cass City.

The marks of the nine students standing highest in this year's graduating class are:

County Seat Notes

Six township treasurers have made their annual settlement with the county treasurer.

Tuscola county officers have been invited to attend the dedication of the new county building at Bay City Saturday afternoon.

Walter N. Hunter of Kingston, who was awarded damages of approximately $1,900.00 in circuit court recently for injuries suffered in an automobile accident, has applied for an injunction against the defendants in the case, Anna Baldwin and Elbern Parsons and wife, to prevent them from disposing of real estate property in Sections 2 and 11, Koylton-township. Judge X. A. Boomhower granted a temporary injunction. The defendants have appealed the damage case to the supreme court.

Arthur Whittenburg, county treasurer, received for the historical room of the Tuscola county court house, a "Settler's License under the Act of 1859" which was granted to Chas. J. Schultz of Vassar. It is dated Jan. 3 1861, and signed by Samuel S. Lacey, commissioner of the State Land Office.

The act provided for the sttlement and drainage of swamp lands by actual settlers. Mr. Schultz's grant of land was in Fremont township, Tuscola county. Settlers had to reside on the tract for five continuous years and could not cut pine or other valuable timber during that time.

COMING AUCTIONS.

Leo Bartholomy has decided to quit farming and will sell horses, cattle, farm machinery, etc., at auction 2 miles north and 1/2 mile west of Getageton on Tuesday, March 13. James Arnott is the auctioneer and L. C. Purdy is clerk.

On Thursday, March 15, Walter McIntyre will sell horses, cattle, farm tools and other articles at auction at the McIntyre farm, 2 1/2 miles south of Cass City, with A. C. Ball as auctioneer.

Full particulars regarding both these auctions are printed on page six.

Letters from Former Residents

Likes "Do You Remember" Pictures.

My dear Herbert:
"The stored away" pictures of former days are extremely interesting and causes one to indulge in a great deal of reminiscence.

The picture of the old school house carries me back a long way. However, it is not as a school house, but as a church, that it stirs up pleasant memories. A vivid recollection I have was when I was seven years old. Our family had just come to Tuscola county. One beautiful summer evening my two older sisters, Martha and Margaret, and myself walked from our farm, one mile west, to attend church in the old school house. The "new part," the wing, had not then been built.

Deaths of Army Pilots Embarrass the Administration— President's Plans for Continued Relief— Emperor of Manchukuo Crowned.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

DEATHS of five army aviators killed in operations connected with the carrying of the air mail have supplied the Republicans with ammunition for attacking the administration that they are not neglecting. President Roosevelt himself is distressed by the casualties, and it is believed his supporters will hasten to offer in congress a bill giving the air mail contracts back to private companies.

Postmaster General Farley has had to shoulder the greater share of the blame, if blame there is, and though he has steadily defended the cancellation of the contracts, he probably would be glad to see the army air corps relieved of its new task. There is no question as to the courage and ability of the army flyers, but it is evident they have not had the peculiar training to fit them for carrying the mails, and their airplanes are not suitable for the work. Of course, the weather has been against them, but little attention is paid to that fact by those who are making political capital out of the deaths of the five.

Mr. Farley, appearing before the senate committee investigating air mail affairs, declared that no one deplored the fatalities more than he, but that the Post Office department had felt it must cancel the contracts and had acted on the basis of the law and the conditions under which it had found the contracts had been made. He assured the committee that as rapidly as possible the department would work out a new policy in the public interest with respect to the air mail and would take into account the interests of the operators.

The postmaster general had been summoned especially to confront his predecessor, Walter F. Brown, and to consent to Mr. Brown's repeating a remark he said Mr. Farley had made to him about Senator Hugo L. Black, chairman of the committee. This was: "He's just a publicity hound. But don't tell anybody I said so, because I've got to get along with him."

Mr. Farley immediately denied that he had said any such thing, and, scarlet faced, he departed for New York amid roars of laughter. His denial was necessary, doubtless, but it didn't seem to impress anyone.

Speaker Rainey says the army air corps is inefficient and poorly trained, and for this he blames the three previous Republican administrations. He indicated he would support a resolution already approved by the house rules committee calling for investigation of War department methods. Maj. Gen. Ben Foulis, chief of the Army Air corps, defended his men warmly.

HOW the President proposes to carry on the relief program was revealed at a press conference. In addition to continuation of the CWA in cities, relief of distressed families in rural regions is to be placed on a new basis, and the government is to undertake the transportation of entire communities from non-operating coal mine localities and similar centers of unemployment to the subsistence homestead colonies which are being created with $25,000,000 of public works funds.

In rural regions families in distress are to be helped to raise enough food for subsistence and to get part time employment in industries and on road building and other public works.

Communities of miners, out of work because of the closing down of coal mines, the President calls "stranded populations." They were left stranded when work gave out and there is no prospect of a resumption of mine operations. In most cases the mines have been exhausted. The President said the undertaking would be to move an appreciable number of such families to localities where they can maintain themselves on small tracts of land with incidental industrial employment which is the subsistence homestead idea now being tried out at Reedsville, W. Va.

Concerning that Reedsville plant, a pet of Mrs. Roosevelt's, it is interesting to read that the house refused by a margin of 165 votes to approve the construction and operation there of a factory to make post office furniture. The project was denounced as "a plunge into state socialism."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in a special message asked congress to create a new federal commission to regulate the wire, cable and radio communications systems. He proposed that the new commission take over the duties of the federal radio commission and the functions of the Interstate Commerce commission which deal with telegraph and telephone regulation.

Mr. Roosevelt said the new body should be given "full power to investigate and study the business of existing companies and make recommendations to the congress for additional legislation at the next session."

This means that if the President's desires are carried out, as they undoubtedly will be, the question of communications mergers will go over for determination next year.

Senator Schall of Minnesota, Republican, was aroused to strong protest against the proposed commission, asserting that it meant the newspapers would be subjected to censorship by the administration and that "not one word of the skull-duggery committed in Washington could reach the people of the United States."

THERE are signs indicating that the administration is going to modify its stand and that of its predecessors concerning the war debts. Some Republicans in the senate tried to put through a resolution offered by Robinson of Indiana asking the President, if not incompatible with public interest, to inform the senate by what agreements he had accepted token payments from Great Britain, Italy and Czechoslovakia and had recognized them as not in default. It also asked what steps, if any, have been taken to induce defaulting nations to pay; whether any understandings have been reached concerning revision; and whether any assurances have been given linking debt payments with tariff concessions.

The Democratic leadership in the senate succeeded in having the resolution sidetracked into the foreign relations committee. Senator Robinson of Arkansas made a speech openly referring to the necessity for some further concessions on the part of the United States if any further payments are to be obtained, but he denied that negotiations looking to revision had taken place yet.

The vote on the motion to commit the resolution showed there has been a considerable change from the opinion held in the senate in December, 1931, when the Hoover moratorium resolution was passed successfully only after it had been amended to include a reservation reiterating congress' unalterable opposition to revision or cancellation of the debts.

THREE export-import banks are to be set up to help American exporters to finance shipments abroad, and George N. Peek announced, after a White House conference, that he would be the head of these institutions. The banks will all be owned by the government. One will deal with Russian business, one with Cuban, and the third with credits for all other foreign countries.

THERE'S a new emperor in the world and a new dynasty has been founded. By direction of Japan, Henry Pu-yi, who in his infancy was the "boy emperor" of China, and who has been the chief executive of Manchukuo, has been enthroned as emperor of that puppet state. The young man— he is twenty-eight — assumed the name of Kang Teh, which being interpreted is "tranquillity and virtue." He probably is virtuous, but the tranquillity is problematical in view of the way Japan and Russia are snarling at each other, for if those nations go to war the scene of the conflict will be the newly established empire which used to be Manchuria.

Great preparations were made for the coronation ceremony, but Henry's Japanese sponsors were so apprehensive of attempts on his life that the public was not admitted to the rites in Hsinking, the capital. The emperor rode the five miles from the palace to the "altar of heaven" in an American bullet-proof automobile and the route was protected by barbed wire stockades and lined with thousands of troops. For every three Manchukuan soldiers in the lines there was one Japanese soldier, and also there were swarms of secret police.

Simultaneously with the elevation of the new ruler, his invalid wife, Yueh Hua, was vested with the dignities of queenhood, although her health precluded her participation in the ceremonies.

JAPAN and Soviet Russia are now quarrelling over military airplane flights over each other's territory, and have exchanged sharp notes of protest. Though the situation seems to be tense, an official spokesman for Japan denied that hostilities are imminent.

"The world need not be afraid that Russia and Japan are on the verge of war," he said. "All of these protests and the noisy fuss are a good sign that the danger of war is far away. When both sides are silent, look out."

OUTWEIGHED by 86 pounds and with ten inches less reach, Tommy Loughran was unable to capture the heavyweight title from Primo Carnera in the fight at Miami, Fla. The Philadelphia boy fought gamely and more skillfully than the giant Italian, but lost the decision in eleven of the fifteen rounds.

SECRETARY OF WAR DERN, probably following the ideas of General MacArthur, chief of staff, told the military affairs committee of the house that he was decidedly opposed to congressional plans for an independent and greatly enlarged air corps. He was arguing against two bills introduced by the committee providing for the purchase of 4,384 military airplanes and for the separation of the army air corps from the jurisdiction of the general staff, and the granting to officers and enlisted men of the air corps special compensation and rank.

Mr. Dern held that the air corps was only a co-ordinate part of the army, that its flying officers and men were not heroes of glory any more than the infantry and the artillery, that the whole army organization must proceed in balance and that the air corps has had more than its rightful share of progress in recent years.

NRA and the Ford Motor company are tangling up in another fight. The company was charged by workers with having refused to bargain collectively with their representatives at the Edgewater (N. J.) and Chester (Pa.) plants, and William H. Davis, national compliance director, arranged to hear both sides at a meeting in Washington. Secretary Craig of the Ford company sent Davis a long letter denying the concern had violated any provision of the automobile code of the national recovery act, and refusing to send a representative to the meeting. The NRA thereupon notified President Edsel Ford that it would investigate the charges "without his cooperation."

The automobile industry was disturbed by widespread labor troubles and the threat of a general walk-out. Difficulties over union organization and demands for pay increases are at the bottom of all the row.

At Milwaukee, Wis., 1,200 employees of the Seaman Body corporation voted to go on strike in sympathy with the walkout of 1,200 workers in the Racine division of the Nash Motor company.

UNDER the management of Gen. Hugh Johnson, the NRA opened a series of public hearings in Washington, open to all individuals and organizations that wanted to present suggestions or complaints concerning policies or administration of the NRA codes. The possible benefits from such hearings appeared to be lessened by the restrictions decreed by General Johnson. He ruled that all speakers should be considered as "witnesses"; that only facts might be presented, and that no argument would be permitted.

General Johnson opened the proceedings by admitting NRA had many faults that he hoped would be corrected. Then came the flood of complaints, starting with those of small business men who assert the codes have operated against them and in favor of the large concerns. Mrs. Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania, unexpectedly appeared and declared the government had been defeated by the "steel trust," and she was supported by Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor. Mrs. Pinchot said that in the cases of the big steel companies the workers had been betrayed by the NRA, and she made a bitter personal attack on General Johnson. Next day the cause of labor was brought more prominently to the front by Mr. McGrady and others who declared employers had been evading the code provisions at the expense of their employees.

ONCE more the tariff comes up as a leading issue, for the President has sent to congress a request for new powers permitting him to fix the tariff within wide limits. The legislation he asks is designed to expand trade and would give the Chief Executive authority to shift the tariff up or down by as much as 50 per cent so that reciprocal tariff treaties with other nations may be negotiated. Furthermore, these treaties would not have to be confirmed by the senate, and the tariff commission would not be consulted. The new authority would be limited to three years and no article could be placed on the free list or removed from it. It was predicted that many Republicans and some Democrats would oppose the scheme, but that it would get through congress after long debate.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

YOU TELL US, PROFESSOR!

OUR histories seem to be little more than the elaborately recorded misbehavior of males. It's the men who make the trouble in the world; the women contribute the peace and order! That was the pronouncement of Professor Wheeler of Harvard recently before the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Oh, yes, Professor Wheeler is himself of the masculine gender! He is just broad-minded and modest, when in these words he attributes the world's troubles entirely to men:

"Throughout the ages the aggressiveness, curiosity, unstable intelligence, contentiousness and other anti-social tendencies which the male had inherited from his ancestors have kept society in a constant turmoil."

But before we succumb entirely to the professor's blandishments, let him finish:

"But without him there would be no progress! If it were a woman's world, peace and order would reign but society would make no advances! It is the restless, dominance impulses of the male that furnish the necessary stimulus to progress. Female societies are harmonious, but incapable of further development. They remain stationary!"

When a man admits the superiority of the "weaker sex" in any way, one might know there is a catch to it somewhere!

"Peace and order but no progress"—indeed! Well, professor, we don't mind that at all. In fact we're quite willing to stand by your estimate of the effect of the two sexes on the world. We're perfectly willing to accept peace and order for our part. Only we can't quite figure out what you mean by "progress" and "advancement." How can there be progress without order? The history of the world and its strife and turmoil and man-made wars tells the story. It was in the peaceful intervals that the progress was made.

Very good, professor—you tell about the influence of women. We're perfectly willing to have it your way!

Cass City Schools.
By Elaine Turner.

The X-ray schedule sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has been changed and will be held at Cass City on Thursday, Mar. 22. The children from the Gageton, Kingston and Deford schools will also be X-rayed here on the above date.

On Monday, March 19, through the cooperation of the State Health Department, doctors will be in Cass City to administer toxoid for the immunization of diphtheria. This toxoid will be given to children from six months to ten years of age at Cass City High School at 9:00 a. m. on the 14th. A second immunization will be given at the same hour and place on Wednesday, Apr. 4. Schools located in Elkland township, Districts Nos. 2, 4, 5 and 6, Novesta township, are also included in this toxoid service. Any parent of pre-school age children may obtain this service by appearing at the school house on above date with his child. All children enrolled in the Cass City school up to the age of ten years will be given letters telling about the tests and blanks for their parents' signatures this week stating that they wish the test to be given to their children. Any further information concerning these most valuable health insurers may be procured by calling Dr. Donahue or Supt. C. W. Price.

Warren and Zelpha Keyhole have recently entered the fifth and third grades respectively, having come from the Bay City schools and making it necessary to add more seats to the class room.

The Juniors are hard at work practicing for their play, "The Spanish Onion," which will be given Friday, Mar. 23, at the high school auditorium, at 8:00 p. m.

The Cass City High School basketball team, since all of the fine work which they did at the district tournament at Bad Axe last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, deserve far more praise than could possibly be given them in a few words. They are the only undefeated team in the Upper Thumb district and by winning the district Class C championship, they are given the right to play in the regional tournament at Flint this week where they are expected to carry off the honors once more. "Smoky" Vyse, who made 13 points for us in the Bad Axe game Saturday night, earned his share of the trophy which was presented to him on behalf of the team after the game which we won from Bad Axe by a score of 29 to 18. Coach Kelly certainly deserves a great big cheer for all of the work he has been doing to make this a winning team. No one realizes what an amount of work it takes to build up such a team as he has for Cass City High. To him and the team we offer our heartiest congratulations.

The primary operetta, "Goose-land," by kindergarten, first and second grades, will be given April sixth at eight o'clock in the High School auditorium. Act I—Scene on the lawn in front of Ethel's home. Act II—A garden scene in Mother Goose Land. Act III—Scene in Fairyland at foot of "Queen Mary's" throne.

Trends in Children's Clothes

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

DESIGNERS who create youngsters' coat fashions are proving themselves to be master diplomats this season in that they have managed to cater to mother's idea of what a little girl's coat should be in the way of childish simplicity at the same time that they are subtly introducing grown-up suggestions to tickle the vanity of wee folks. And so both factions are satisfied as the spring style parade in childhood's realm passes merrily along in review.

You will agree that it will not take much urging on mother's part to induce little daughter to don as pretty a coat-and-hat ensemble as is shown to the left in the picture. In this coat exactly what we told you has taken place in that there is an air of sophistication about it which will delight any child, while at the same time, from mother's point of view, the garment is as practical as it is good looking.

Let's sort of analyze this coat for ourselves and see if we are right. Well, in the first place, that hint of an epaulet effect at the shoulders, even big sister's new spring coat can do no better in the way of a swagger touch. Ever so many of the newer models are like this, they either have their shoulders cut in this cap fashion or, in some instances, cunning little epaulets of flat fur or fabric which are tucked or seamed or shirred in some ingenious way, give the impression of a widened-at-the-top silhouette.

And the scarf-cravat of self-fabric, have you noticed how one end is drawn through a slot? Of course, just this moment, little missy is standing as prim as you please, having her picture taken, but later on will she keep those little fingers

CLIPS AND BUCKLE
By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A new idea in costume jewelry is a set of twin clips for the shoulders and a matching belt buckle. The exquisitely satin-gowned lady of fashion pictured, makes a sparkling appearance in that her lovely frock is enhanced with a three-piece jewelry ensemble of this description, made up of rhinestones with large colorful insets. With this glamorous twin-clip and buckle "set," lady wears two stunningly beautiful rhinestone bracelets.

Neckline Finish
Little triangular "kerchief" scarfs of polka-dotted handkerchief linen finish the high necklines of many new frocks.

SUIT NOW STYLISH AT SMART AFFAIRS

The suit certainly has come into its own. Formerly this costume was confined to the street mode. Now it has become a striking part of the evening scene, to say nothing of dressup afternoon affairs. The dinner suit also is fashionable.

Most of those for evening wear are made with long, slinky skirts and bright, contrasting, blouses of velvet, lame or satin. Velvet or spongy dull crepe usually makes the knee-length coat as well as the long, fitted skirt.

Dinner suits have shorter coats as a rule. In many cases the suit consists of a one-piece dress with jaunty fitted jacket of slipper satin or ottoman. The dress is often cut quite low in back and may be worn as an evening gown when the jacket is removed.

Pick Ribbed Fabrics to Set Styles for Spring
Spring seems a long way off to you, but the men and women who tell us what to wear are already thinking about the planning for the season of buttercups and dogwood. They've decided that ribbed materials will be the highest note in the fabric scale.

Cote de cheval ribs undoubtedly will carry off several honors. Colors are woven into those types which have colored ribs on white grounds.

Two-tone ribs are the result of trick weaving. These crosswise or ottoman effects have one ribbed dull satin surface in plain color and two-tone ribs in pearly effect on the other. Loose basket-weaves with huge black crossbars on smoky pastels are also vastly interesting.

POULTRY

MUST TEST FLOCKS TO CHECK DISEASE

Infected Breeders Should Be Promptly Removed.

Pullorum disease, or bacillary white diarrhea, can be removed from poultry flocks only by the testing of diseased flocks and the removal of infected birds, says Dr. C. C. Ellis of the New York State College of Veterinary Medicine. Since the disease is transmitted through the egg, the testing of the breeding stock and the removal of all infected breeders, he points out, should be the first step in control. The blood test, he says, is the only reliable method now in use for detecting the disease. This test consists of collecting a sample of blood from each bird and having it examined in a poultry-disease laboratory. All chickens and turkeys on the premises should be tested annually, and more often if possible, he says. Two or three tests before the breeding season, he points out, will result in more rapid control. The reactors should be removed at once and the poultry house and equipment thoroughly disinfected after their removal. Other precautions are: Thoroughly boil all eggs which are fed to the birds; buy eggs and chicks from tested flocks only and rear them separately until they can be tested; quarantine all birds purchased, or returning from shows, and test them before placing them in the pens.

Soft Shelled Eggs Are Problem During Winter

Soft shelled eggs are often a real problem during the winter months. Part of the trouble can be overcome by feeding. This is accomplished with a well-balanced ration consisting of a good laying mash kept in hoppers before the birds all the time, supplemented by a grain ration fed night and morning either in hoppers or in the litter as a scratch, and by keeping crushed oyster shell or limestone grit within reach of the layers at all times, says a correspondent in Successful Farming. The next step is to give the birds access to the direct rays of the sun as much as possible. This is accomplished by the use of glass or glass substitutes of a type which allow the ultra-violet rays of sunlight to pass through them. In addition, as there is not a great deal of sunshine in some parts of the country during the winter, vitamin D should be supplied by feeding cod-liver oil in the mash at the rate of one pint to 100 pounds of the mash.

Poultry Needs Sunshine

The best source of vitamin D is the ultra-violet rays of sunshine, if plenty of it is available. It is especially important that the sun strikes the heads and feet of the birds. To make the most of the winter sunshine the poultry house windows should be open on sunny days. There must be enough windows open so the birds can get into the sunshine without crowding. One open window in a poultry house does not provide enough light to supply the amount that is really needed.

POULTRY HELPS

Poultry or eggs are produced on more than 5,400,000 of the 6,000,000 farms in the United States.

Store eggs in cool places, where the temperature does not get above 70 degrees, nor down to freezing.

The 1933 fall turkey crop of Tom Green county, Texas, was estimated at 35 cars, worth more than $125,000.

Hens do not respond to careless management, irregular feeding methods, poor ratings, or uncomfortable houses.

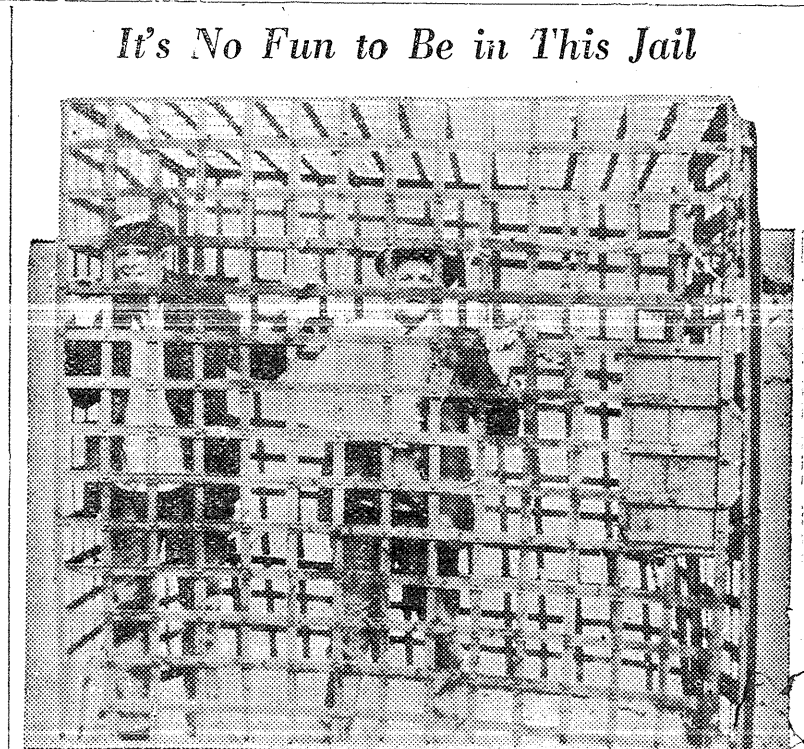

Finland doubled her egg exports in the first half of 1933, as compared with 1932. England remained the chief purchaser.

Poultry flocks gave Illinois farmers more cash income than they received from the wheat crop in 1932, according to the University of Illinois.

Chicks should be examined occasionally for the presence of insects under the wings and around the vent. Dusting with sodium fluoride should be resorted to.

After vaccinating the flock for chickenpox the vaccine is excreted in the lining of the throat of the bird about five days and in some cases 15-18 days after the treatment.

Infectious bronchitis is not transmitted on the surface of eggs from the flock containing carriers of the disease or from a flock in which the infection exists, according to investigations.

MURCHILL, which is Canada's newest and most northern seaport, on Hudson bay, has what is probably the airiest jail in the world. It is erected on open ground in a locality where the temperature hovers around zero even in September and October. Of course only the toughest male-factors are locked in this jail.

Lesson for March 11. PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM. LESSON TEXT—Matthew 13:31-33, 44-52. GOLDEN TEXT—Of the increase of his government and peace, there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.—Isaiah 9:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story Jesus Told. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Story Picture of the Kingdom's Success. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Our Religion Means to Us. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Pictures of the Kingdom.

In this chapter of Matthew the "mysteries" of the kingdom are unfolded (v. 11). By "mystery" in the Scriptures is meant truth undiscoverable by human reason, made known by revelation. The teaching set forth in these parables does not primarily apply to the Church but rather sets forth the admixture of moral and spiritual interests which characterize the period between Christ's rejection and his triumphant kingdom.

1. The Mustard Seed (vv. 31, 32). 1. Its unimportant beginning (v. 31). It begins as the least of all seeds. Not only was Christ, the king of humble parentage, but his disciples were unlettered fishermen. 2. Its vigorous growth (v. 32). Though small at its inception, the work inaugurated by Christ, has become wide in extent and mighty in power.

3. Its lodging capacity (v. 32). The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church, but predatory individuals who have found shelter in the church but are not part of it. The birds which lodge in the branches are the "fowls" which devoured the seed that fell by the wayside (v. 4).

II. The Leavened Meal (v. 33). 1. The meal. Meal in the Scriptures means something nutritious and wholesome. Examples of its character and use are found in Gen. 18:6; I Kings 4:22; II Kings 4:41. Also it was used in one of the sweet savor offerings which typified Jesus Christ (Lev. 2:1-3 R. V.). 2. The woman. The woman is the administrator of the home. Her responsibility is to take the bread provided by the head of the home and prepare and distribute it to the children. Observe: a. Her act. She hid the leaven in the meal. b. Its issue. It leavened the meal. The meal was not turned into leaven but was affected by the leaven.

3. The leaven. In the Scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil (Exod. 12:15, Matt. 16:6, 12; I Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). The teaching of this parable, therefore, is that in this age the truth of God and the wholesome institutions established by God would be corrupted by error, worldliness, and unbelief. The woman representing the administrator of affairs in the world would introduce false doctrine and thus corrupt the children's bread.

III. The Hid Treasure (v. 44). 1. The field (v. 38). Christ's own interpretation makes this to be the world. 2. The treasure. This doubtless means Israel, the chosen people (Ps. 135:4; Deut. 7:6-8). 3. The purchaser. This represents Jesus Christ (John 3:16). 4. The purchase price (I Pet. 1:13, 19). This was the precious blood of Jesus Christ, God's beloved Son.

IV. The Merchantman Seeking Goodly Pearls (vv. 45, 46). 1. The merchantman is Christ (Luke 19:10). The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost. The pearl is valuable until it has been brought into touch with human life. A lost human becomes valuable only when brought into touch with the Savior. 2. The purchase price (Phil. 2:6-8). Christ impoverished himself in order to purchase the pearl of great price. 3. The pearl of great price (Col. 1:15). This is not Jesus Christ but the Church purchased by his blood. V. The Dragnet (v. 47-50).

1. The sea. Sea in the Scripture denotes people and multitudes (Dan. 7:3; Rev. 17:15). 2. The dragnet cast into the sea (v. 47). This means the sowing of the Word by the Son of Man (v. 37). 3. The dragnet drawn to shore when full (v. 48). This means that when God's purpose is made full concerning the present age, an account will be made.

4. The separation (vv. 48, 49). This separation is made by the angels, and will take place at the end of the age. 5. The destiny (vv. 49, 50). The angels, God's ministers, shall separate the wicked from among the just and shall cast them into the furnace of fire where there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. The good shall be set aside for the pleasure and service of the Lord.

GREEN NEEDLES. Here is a story that is hailed by critics of current fiction as strikingly wholesome, pleasing and natural. That's about as strong a recommendation as any story could be given as to its value for serial publication. IT IS THE STORY of a genuinely delightful girl, who believes she is "shackled" by money, and of a young idealist and dreamer, to whom money is essential to success. The girl, not satisfied with her millions, embarks upon a career as a civil engineer. In the development of a great project to which her work takes her, and in the unfolding of a trouble-beset romance, many things happen to make this an unusually entertaining story. The girl makes good her boast, that, as an engineer, she can "do anything a man can do." Doing her full share of the engineering work and joyfully sharing the unavoidable hardships of the life, she "establishes" herself and wins the esteem and friendship of the men associated with her, they knowing her only as "Mary Brown" and not the daughter of David Brown, multi-millionaire. In the end Fate overcomes her and she returns to her proper station in life, unembittered by her failure, and finding happiness, in the age-old way, in the love of Denis Craig, brilliant young engineer at whose side she had worked and who had known her as plain "Mary Brown."

WEIGHT TAX RATE IS CUT TO 35 CENTS

A tax slash of $5,100,000 a year for Michigan motorists became a reality Wednesday when the House concurred with the Senate in a reduction of the license rate from 55 to 35 cents a hundredweight.

Minor amendments over which there is no controversy will delay sending the bill to the Governor for his signature for a day.

The action makes operative at once the ten days of grace granted by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald, for the acquisition of new plates, and a rush is expected.

byterian church, with a small group of members, and were holding the church services in the school house. I don't recall any part of the sermon that night, but the music—one song—I could never forget. It was the first time I had ever heard it. "The Great Physician," and the chorus, "Sweetest note in seraph song, Sweetest name on mortal tongue, Sweetest carol ever sung."

Mrs. Knight was at the organ; Mr. John C. Laing led the singing; and to this day I can see Minnie Botsford, Lydia Ahr, and many others, just as they looked that night in the old school room.

You would hardly expect a little girl of seven years to remember these things so long, but to this day, the song still stands out as the "Sweetest carol ever sung."

I also recall that our father, Rev. James MacArthur, also preached many sermons in that old school house, and the congregation consisted of the finest type of pioneers. So you see, Herbert, that the "stored away" picture is to a degree responsible for many pleasant memories of the Cass City of several decades ago.

The pioneers of Cass City and the surrounding country will, I am sure, especially appreciate the real old "stored away pictures."

With best wishes and kindest remembrance, I am

Sincerely,
ISABELLE MACARTHUR-PLATZ,

boys and the rest of the bunch. Several years ago I heard Guy Landon sing over the radio just after radio came out and I intended to call him up at his hotel but never did. Well, now, you know who is still around there that were there when I was in that town, so remember me to them and tell me about them.

For myself, I have been following the printing game ever since I left there. You probably know I was out in the Canadian Northwest for several years and then came here 17 years ago on account of our boy—an operation required when he was a babe—and have been ever since. I located Leah, my wife, in Flint, Mich. We have a girl who will be 21 next month and has just graduated as a nurse from one of our best hospitals here and is now taking a post graduate course in contagion at the municipal contagious hospital. Stewart, our son, will graduate from high school this June. He is attending a technical high school. Has been on the honor roll part of the time and won his minor and major letters on the wrestling team. So I feel to date he has done better than I did or had a chance to do. We want him to go to college this fall. We don't know how, but I say he has to go. There are several good colleges right here, but not just the type of training he wants, an engineering course, so will undoubtedly go to either Illinois at Champaign, Urbana, Ill., or at Purdue in Indiana.

I have had steady work and some very nice jobs until three years ago when the firm I was with at that time sold out and left me without a connection. The depression was on and another job was impossible. I worked about five months in two years. I have done better this last year; worked about 10 months of the year which is a lot more than many of the boys. Several hundred printers did not work at all. Of course you did not have the number of bank failures there we had here. When I was out of work, that was when the banks failed, we discovered our other investments in stocks and bonds had practically all defaulted, so we had to find friends who had faith in our word and loaned us cash. Well this last year, I was able to get caught up again and am just now even with the board.

I do not know, of course, whether you ever were interested in Masonry or not. I joined one of the good sized lodges here on the south side of the city in 1920, became interested and active in the work and served as its master in 1931. Had a very nice year and enjoyed it very much. We had 841 members at the close of my year. I have a commission as instructor (Grand Lecturer from the Grand Lodge) and am now instructing three lodges. Mrs. Sansburn is active in her Eastern Star and expects to be worthy matron next year.

The whole family are Baptists. Have been active in the Sunday School. I was president of the Men's Bible class for one year and served as secretary, assistant secretary and vice president for several years. We have a class of between 50 and 80 every Sunday and about 125 on the membership roll. So you can see with all the activities we have and by entertaining friends occasionally and being entertained, we do not have much time to get lonesome in this great big "bad city." Speaking of the "bad city," I had the pleasure of having a couple of guys stick a couple of guns in my ribs, in my car, about two years ago and driving me around until they took everything I had on me away, then ordered me out several miles from home without even a nickel for car fare or telephone. I had had the car they took about 10 days. But still it's a fine place.

Really, this is a wonderful place. There is something doing all the time and so many things to see, lectures to hear, and all at no cost except car fare or transportation. We lived for years just a stone's throw from the campus of the University of Chicago. We are still within walking distance. We have the most wonderful park and boulevard system in the world.

I was happily disappointed when I came here. I had always thought there were no opportunities for rearing a family, or rather it was no place to rear one. I imagined the only place one could live was over a store situated on a street car line, but needless to say this is all false. We have homes of all kinds, cottages, bungalows, flats and mansions for those who can afford them. It costs us more to live here, but we necessarily can earn more than we can in a smaller place, so we have the pleasure of earning the money and spending it. Let's hear from you, telling me all about the "old home town."

As ever your friend,
HARRY SANBURN.

A. A. P. McDowell, former publisher of the Cass City Enterprise, in a letter to the Chronicle, writes in part:

"I have finally been obliged to give up my job at Estacada, Ore., and reached my home here (Victoria, B. C.) today. My trouble is arthritis, which has gotten into my joints so seriously that I just couldn't handle some of the work. If I get well enough, I will try to get some proof reading here, but I fear I cannot attempt anything more strenuous."

Mr. McDowell's address is 428 Helmecken St., Victoria, B. C.

WICKWARE.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nicol returned to Detroit Monday after spending the week-end with relatives here.

Milford Robinson, who is employed in Detroit, spent Friday night and Saturday at his home here.

Rev. and Mrs. W. Firth and sons, Stanley and George, of Peck visited friends here Saturday afternoon. The Ladies' Aid will meet on Wednesday, March 14, with Mrs. Thos. Nicol. Dinner will be served. Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison were the guests of Saginaw friends last week.

Never Took It Up Most folks regard work as merely one of the words near the end of the dictionary.
