CASS CITY, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1934.

BASKETEERS ANNEX REGIONAL TITLE

Lapeer, Sandusky and Grand Blanc Beaten; Locals in State Finals.

For the first time since the class division, Cass City won a regional championship to compete in the state finals in basketball. Their fourteenth straight victory in their class gained them this position. In this tournament, the Maroon and and Grey beat Grand Blanc 36-22 on Thursday, Sandusky 28-15 on Friday, then returned Saturday to defeat Lapeer, coached by Paul Smarks, 22-17.

Graham, Kosanke and Vyse took turns in leading the scoring, while Stafford, Ward and Knight turned in good performances to help the cause. The entire squad with Hyatt, Donnelly, Kelly and Hulbert, along with those mentioned above, saw action. Unusual close officiating kept the boys well in check and put many of the locals out of the game on personal fouls.

On a whole, the boys played a more careful game than they did during the season. Especially commendable was the way in which they controlled the tip-off. In the final game, Lapeer did not once get the ball from the center jump and the other unfortunate cagers found equal difficulty in recovering the ball.

Coach Kelly and the team were well pleased with the way the town has stood behind them so far, but by all indications they "haven't seen anything yet" for all are proud of the local team.

There are seven other teams besides Cass City still in the race for the State Class "C" title. Elimination among these started this Thursday. Cass City meets St. Clair at Lapeer. Other games are between Holland Christian and St. Augustine of Kalamazoo, Parma and Trenton, and Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart and Boyne City. The winner of the Cass City-St. Clair and the Mt. Pleasant-Boyne City contest meet Friday at Battle Creek for the right to play the winners of the other bracket for the state championship on Saturday.

St. Clair, coached by "Al" West, a former Cass City boy, has not been defeated this year. His boys have won two from Mt. Clemens, a Class A school. It will take all the team's power and the town's backing to meet this tough competition! Shall they have it?

Twelve Juniors to Present Play

Be sure to reserve Friday night, March 23, for the Junior play, to be given then in the high school auditorium. The play deals with college life, and is full of humor. Twelve juniors form the cast—Lorraine Hoffman, Curtis McNaughton, Howard Taylor, Mary Mark, Bill Hyatt, Pauline Dodge, Carlos Vader, Marion Milligan, Eunice Schell, Everett Leishman, Genevieve Garety, and Arthur Bat-tel.

ELMWOOD HOME MANAGEMENT CLUB

The Elmwood Home Management Group met at the home of Mrs. Wallace Laurie for an all-day meeting and potluck dinner Friday, March 9. There were eleven members present. Several members gave some very good book reviews during the afternoon. These books were recommended to the group as they portrayed the life and ambitions of different women, that the members might compare and profit by the lives of these notable persons. There followed some interesting discussions, which were followed by "The Homemakers' Ten Commandments." If these are lived up to, there ought to be many happy homes throughout the land.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING FRIDAY

Friends Extend Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchinson, well known residents of Cass City for over fifty years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Friday, March 9.

Thirty relatives and friends attended a gathering at their home, on West Main street, in their honor. A dinner was served the relatives at noon at a table beautiful with its large wedding cake and bouquets of yellow flowers. A color scheme of yellow was used throughout the dinner. Ice cream and cake were served later in the day.

David Hutchinson and Miss Rhoda Wait were married at Ellington by Rev. Mr. Sutton on March 9, 1884, and made their home on a farm three miles east of Cass City and they have lived in and near Cass City since.

A renewal of marriage vows featured the golden wedding on Friday. Rev. William Curtis, pastor of the local Baptist church, reading the service on this occasion.

Mrs. Jacob Messner, sister of the bride of fifty years ago, and Smith Hutchinson, brother of the groom, who attended them at their first wedding, again attended them at their golden wedding day.

The Baptist church people were invited guests for the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson received many beautiful gifts. They have one son and three daughters, Frank Hutchinson and Mrs. Philip McComb of Cass City; Mrs. John Kitchen of Lansing and Miss Clara Hutchinson, at home. All of the children were present Friday except Mrs. Kitchen.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson enjoy good health. Mr. Hutchinson is employed as a milk hauler for the condensery of the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc.

TB X-ray Photos Made Next Thursday

The tuberculosis survey now being carried on in Tuscola county by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has reached the X-ray stage and on next Thursday, the portable X-ray machine of the association will be set up in the Cass City school.

All students who reacted positively to the tuberculin test given here, should be at the school at that time so that their X-ray photographs may be made. The films are then read and reports made on them within a few weeks.

No charge is being made for the survey in Cass City, as it is in the nature of a reward for the excellent showing made by local students in the tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in 1932.

Cooperating with the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in the present survey is the Tuscola County Medical Society. Miss Georgia Doherty and Miss Blanche Howley, child care nurses, who assisted with the tuberculin testing, will also help when the X-rays are made.

"The Lost Church," a highly dramatic presentation of the value of the church and its contributions to civilization, will be given at the Evangelical church at Cass City on Sunday evening, March 18, commencing at 6:45, by members of the Christian Endeavor of the Saginaw Evangelical church. In this production, a typical man of the world, who sees no reason to give the church his support, is permitted to live for one day in a churchless world. Corn and Hog Growers Organized

A meeting of the corn and hog growers of Sanilac county met at the high school at Sandusky Thursday to discuss ways and means of signing up those farmers who might be interested in cooperating with the government in the reduction program, according to John D. Martin, county agricultural agent.

Sanilac county is not a large hog and corn county but according to government statistics there are about 500 farmers interested in the pig business and growing one or more litters a year. It is estimated that about $50,000 will be paid to the farmers for reducing their production in this crop.

Committees were selected to canvass the different townships and all material has been sent out to these groups and all farmers are requested to call on these men in their townships if they are interested. In the northwest part of the county, the committees are:

Austin—Elmer Hawksworth, Lee Vahovick, Lee Hunt, Walter Walsh. Argyle—Fred A. Vatter, Frank Pringle, Arthur Heemer, Bruce Wheeler, Wm. Vatter. Evergreen—Grant B. Meredith, Roy Severance, G. M. Davis, Edward Bullis, Ralph Loney. Greenleaf—Theodore Gracey.

CASS CITY STATE BANK OPENED MONDAY

Deposits Now Insured in Federal Insurance Deposit Corporation.

The Cass City State Bank opened for regular business Monday morning with the same officers and directors who held positions when the banking holiday was declared by Governor Comstock on February 14, 1933.

Fifty per cent of the deposits were made available on the opening of the institution and 50 per cent of the deposits were placed in a trust fund under the supervision of three trustees. Trust fund deposits are represented by certificates of participation issued in accordance with a trust agreement. Payments on the certificates of participation will be made as the assets in the trust fund are liquidated. Neil McLarty, Frank Reid and M. B. Auten are the trustees.

Interest on savings accounts and certificates of deposits are computed to March 4, 1933, and become a part of the depositor's claim against the bank. Stockholders of the bank have been subject to a 100% assessment.

Deposits made available on the opening of the bank and new deposits are insured in the Federal Insurance Deposit Corporation up to the amount of $2,500 for each depositor.

M. B. Auten, G. A. Tindale, B. F. Benkelman, Sr., J. A. Sandham and A. J. Knapp are the directors of the bank. Mr. Auten is president, Mr. Tindale, vice president, and C. M. Wallace, cashier.

85 Attend Young Men's Council Meet

Eighty-five young men from several points in Tuscola county met at the high school auditorium here Wednesday night for the purpose of interesting young men of this community in the Tuscola County Young Men's Council.

Dr. French, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Caro, spoke on the subject, "Know Thyself." Barrett Seelye told of the council's activities at Caro, and C. L. Bougher explained the objects of the county society.

Smith and McCreedy, a musical pair of Fairgrove, played guitar and banjo selections and sang.

C. L. Bougher of Caro is president of the Tuscola County Young Men's Council; C. U. Brown, Cass City, vice president; Howard Davis, Caro, secretary; and Francis Ode, Fairgrove, treasurer.

The organization is formed to promote the spiritual, intellectual, social and physical welfare of boys and young men in Tuscola county.

Auto Accidents of the Week

M. B. Auten thought his "time had come" when the automobile he was driving took a leap in the air, 3½ miles north of Elkland cemetery, and headed for a rail fence and a big tree. Only a quick turn of the wheel averted a collision with the standing objects. Wire spokes in the rear wheels were badly bent. Mr. Auten was driving about 70 miles an hour on what he thought was a nice stretch of road. Two saucer-like dips on the brow of the hill caused the auto to land in the ditch. Several other drivers have had the same experience within the past two weeks. Maurice Eveland of Mayville had his automobile badly damaged at this point.

The car of Levi Bardwell and the Bay City-Port Huron bus came together ½ mile east of town Saturday morning, both cars being badly damaged. The drivers were fortunate in escaping injury.

C. C. C. Program Packed with Laughs

The garage and oil men's group presented the March program of the Cass City Community Club on Tuesday evening at the auditorium. It was packed with laughs and featured by local talent.

Members of the high school basketball team were guests of the Rotary Club at the dinner and as they were introduced by Coach Kelly, were greeted with much enthusiasm.

Local dominees were slated to demonstrate their ability as pre-variators and the stories that came to the fore were "whoppers" and carried many witticisms.

The program was well along when a prominent business man appeared very ill and faint and was carried from the room. Soon after the curtains on the stage parted and the patient was wheeled in on an operating table. A. H. Kinnaird, G. A. Tindale, Andrew Bigelow and Willis Campbell, as members of the hospital staff, held a consultation and then proceeded with the operation. And such an operation! There was but one dim eye and that was the property of Miss Lorraine Watson, who played the part of the patient's wife. All in the audience were convulsed with laughter.

Musical numbers, much enjoyed, were guitar and mandolin duets by Espiridion Reyes and Inez Benitez, and selections by the high school orchestra. The latter organization of youthful musicians is making very satisfactory progress under the instruction of Mrs. J. I. Niergarth.

Banquet tables, decorated with shamrock designs and potted plants, were attractive. The speakers' table held two trophies recently awarded the basketball team. The banquet was prepared by ladies of the Catholic church.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY SECTIONS

Happenings Here and There Garnered from the Chronicle's Exchanges.

Two hundred Huron county men will meet at Finzell's Lakeside Inn at Port Austin on Thursday, May 10, in a gay fete in honor of the memory of Peter D. Post, Huron county banker for fifty years, who died at his home in Bad Axe Dec. 10, 1932. The banquet will be held as the result of a request stipulated in Post's will that $200 be set aside from his estate to defray the expense of such a party. The portion of the will relating to the memorial celebration states, "I do this for 'the boys' to have a good time in my memory, desiring that they leave all their long, sober, wry faces at home and be social and jolly."

A degree team of 44 Odd Fellows from Detroit will exemplify degree work at the meeting of the Huron Federation of Odd Fellows at the high school auditorium at Elkton Saturday evening. The Detroit team will wear Biblical costumes while presenting the degree program.

To George VanWinkle the years are flashing on and on, each one bringing added interest as progress crowds out the old for the new.

Mr. VanWinkle, who began his work as a farmer and lumberman near Caro when he was twenty-three years of age, has been in excellent health until a few months ago. He says he has missed very few meals because of his own illness. He is keenly alert and has a fine sense of humor.

Mr. and Mrs. VanWinkle make their home with their son, Grant VanWinkle, on the corner of Woodland avenue and Third street. They have no other children.

DAIRYMEN DISCUSS CHANGES FOR CODE

Marketing of Milk in Detroit Area Subject for Hearing in Pontiac

Men representing Henry A. Wallace, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, held hearings March 5, 6, 7, and 8 in Pontiac to get facts pertinent to the formulation of a new code for the sale of milk in the Detroit area.

Farmers and their representatives gave evidence of the factors influencing the costs of producing milk and also gave estimates of what those costs were. During the presentation of these cost figures, A. C. Baltzer, dairy specialist from Michigan State College, was asked by the federal men to present any evidence in his possession on the cost of milk production.

Mr. Baltzer told the committee that 65 dairymen in Michigan had cooperated with the farm management department of the college in securing the actual costs of producing milk from the 1,000 cows owned by those men. This study showed that the cost of producing the milk on the 65 farms was $1.70 per hundredweight.

These cost figures are not made up by the college. They are the actual amounts of money expended in producing the milk, plus a computed amount for home feed, labor, and any other items for which money was not paid out of pocket. Labor was figured at 20 cents per hour and the feed was valued at the prevailing market prices of March 1, 1934.

The hearing at Pontiac, presumably, precedes the formulation of a new code to replace the one under which milk is now being sold in Detroit. Under the old code prices were set for milk from the producer and to the consumer. The new code is expected to set prices only on milk bought from farmers and the distributors will determine the price to consumers.

City milk buyers will be protected by the Milk Industry Board which checks price rates in all cities and seeks reasons for prices that appear to be out of line with those prevailing in other places.

Evidence presented at the Pontiac hearing showed that increases

Athletic Club in County Tourney

The Cass City Athletic Club will end its successful basketball season sometime next week in the Tuscola County Amateur Independent Tournament. The dates are March 21, 22 and 23 and the place will be at either Caro, Kingston, or Mayville. A handsome trophy will be presented by this organization to the team that wins the final game.

The fast Millington team will be the first one to meet the locals—on Wednesday, March 21, at 6:00 p. m. Akron will play Fairgrove, and the winner will meet the Cass City-Millington winner Thursday at 8:30 p. m. In the other bracket, are the Kingston-Mayville and the Vassar-Caro games. The consolation, for third place, will be played at 7:30 Friday and the finals at 8:30 the same night.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

President Asks for Shorter Hours and Higher Wages; NRA Penalty Provisions Will Be Invoked; Desperate Dillinger Escapes From Jail.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SEVERAL thousand members of the code authorities gathered in Constitution hall, Washington, at the call of the President to revise and strengthen NRA industrial agreements. The opening session was formal and rather stately, with the members of the cabinet, other high government officials and many senators and congressmen present. Before this assembly came Mr. Roosevelt to tell not so much what had been accomplished in the last twelvemonth as what he hoped for in the near future. He warned the industrial leaders that "the government cannot forever continue to absorb the whole burden of unemployment." He called for greater protection of small business, terming the code authority "the keeper of your small industrial brother."

Briefly summarized, this is what Mr. Roosevelt proposed: Wage increases and shortening of hours to bolster consuming power and spread employment. Greater adherence by the people to the Blue Eagle symbol to make all "play the game."

Continued enforcement of the anti-trust laws to retain competition and prevent monopoly. Strict adherence by employers to the law allowing free choice by employees of representatives to do their collective bargaining.

Permanent reorganization of the economic and social structure along the lines already started. General Johnson, NRA administrator, wound up the code authority sessions with the blunt announcement that the Blue Eagle rules were to be tightened up and the assertion: "I have been too gentle. 'You ain't seen nothing yet.'" Urging the industrialists to play the game fairly, the general uttered three warnings. One was that under specific orders from the President the NRA was reorganizing to enforce the penal sections of the act; the second, that the country faces this spring "the worst epidemic of strikes in our history because of illegal interposition of employers in the matter of company unions; the third, that with the recent Supreme court decision upholding the New York state emergency milk law, the administration has dropped all hesitation, and is ready to use the powers of the industrial law to the limit if opposition forces it."

To draft his new plan for making more jobs, Johnson asked the code authorities of the heavy goods industries and of the consumer groups to select twelve men each. President Roosevelt, said the administrator, has approved the plan for putting teeth in the NRA. The President himself intimated that he would ask congress to extend the time limit on the licensing provisions of the NRA. The act gives authority to the President to place any industry under license and to revoke the license of any concern in the industry, thereby compelling it to shut down. This authority to license expires next June under the terms of the recovery act which granted it for one year only, whereas the life of the act was limited to two years.

COMPLETION of President Roosevelt's first year in the White House called forth a chorus of laudation and of hostile criticism from his admirers and his opponents. The least that can be said is that it has been a year of excitement and action, of bold experimentation in methods of government, and of the spending of vast sums of money in the furtherance of the President's determination to establish a New Deal that amounts to a social revolution.

Mr. Roosevelt himself, in a brief address on the occasion of the installing of Dr. J. M. Gray as chancellor of the American university in Washington, said "one of the most salient features of the salient year in our American life has been the amazing and universal increase in the interest" of the people in the subject of government.

The joint congressional Republican campaign committee took occasion to issue a statement declaring that the administration ends its first year "with many platform pledges untried and practically abandoned, with policies unshaped and conflicting, with its monetary program bewilderingly uncertain—a situation baffling enough to prove a hindrance to a return to prosperity."

Replying for the supporters of the administration, Senator Hiram Johnson of California, nominally a Republican, said: "It is not necessary to agree with all that has been done in every conceivable particular, but unfair and unjust would be the individual who would not emphatically concede that with an enlightened audacity the President has acted, and has accomplished amazing results.

"It is a sorry policy that now says to 120,000,000 people that nothing has been done that is right and that the President has brought them no relief, and the future holds for them no hope.

"We are better, and our country is better, and other people are better, and our times are better for what the President has done during the past year."

LEGISLATION to restore the air mail to commercial operators will speedily be started through congress at the instance of the President. He sent letters to Chairman McKellar of the senate post office committee, Chairman Meade of the house postal committee and Chairman Black of the special senate committee investigating the air mail, in which he outlined his plan for new temporary contracts and the eventual regulation of air mail rates and routes by the interstate commerce committee.

The new policy will be for contracts to be let for not more than three years "on full, open and fair competitive bidding, with a limitation of the rates of compensation above which no contract will be awarded."

The legislation carrying the program into effect, Senator McKellar indicated, will fix the limit of compensation mentioned by the President far below the prevailing 40 cents per mile. The figure, the senator said, may be as low as 25 cents.

Six months before the three year contract expires, according to President Roosevelt's suggestion, the question of the public convenience and necessity of the various routes and the question of maximum rate of pay would be submitted to the ICC. Under this plan transportation of the mails by air would be placed under substantially the same regulation as that of the railroads.

JOHN DILLINGER, eminent bank robber, gang leader and alleged murderer, who was captured with great eclat in Arizona and conveyed to Indiana for trial, became irked by confinement in the "escape-proof" jail at Crown Point. So he made a pistol out of a piece of wood and the handle of a safety razor, cowed the guards and deputies and locked them in cells, obtained two machine guns from the jail armory and a pistol from a guard, took Sheriff Lillian Holley's car from the garage and drove away with a negro murderer. They took one deputy sheriff and a garage attendant as hostages but released them near Peotone, Ill., and then vanished. It was believed Dillinger was hidden somewhere in the vicinity of Chicago. The law authorities of the Middle West were all searching for him, and all officers had orders to kill him at sight.

Sheriff Holley's car was found abandoned on a street in Chicago. This escape of the desperado was one of the boldest performances of his career, and it is amazing to consider how it could have been successfully carried out, in view of Dillinger's record. Perhaps some sympathy is due the woman sheriff, Mrs. Holley, who was given that office after the death of her husband. Terribly depressed by the fiasco, she made the futile gesture of strapping an automatic about her waist and setting out to find Dillinger.

Mrs. Holley declared she would not resign her office, but steps were taken to force her out by court action. Two of her deputies were arrested, charged with aiding and abetting the escape.

The investigations and recriminations in Lake county are unfortunately mixed up with local politics.

DESPITE the protests of the "little navy" group, the senate by a vote of 65 to 18 approved the administration's naval replacement bill authorizing the construction of a 15,200-ton aircraft carrier, approximately 65 destroyers totaling 99,200 tons, some 29 submarines totaling 35,530 tons and the airplanes (from 650 to 1,250) required to complete the fleet's air equipment.

Planned to cover a five-year period, the replacement program will cost approximately $475,000,000 in all for the projected vessels, and $85,000,000 more if the maximum number of planes are built.

Enactment of the measure assures the United States of a navy as strong as is allowed under the London agreement that was signed in 1930.

AS WAS predicted recently, the President appointed Judge Florence Allen of Ohio to the federal Circuit Court of Appeals bench. She is the first woman to be made a federal judge. Since she was admitted to the bar twenty years ago her legal career in Ohio has been notable. In 1922 she was elected to the Supreme court of that state.

The President also appointed Mrs. Bernice Pyke of Cleveland as collector of customs there, and Frank P. Corrigan, likewise of Cleveland, to be minister to El Salvador.

TWO more vacancies in the Democratic national committee are announced as a result of the President's belief that national committeemen should not practice law before government departments or hold party and government positions at the same time. Arthur F. Mullen of Omaha, who was floor manager for Mr. Roosevelt in the Chicago convention and who is counsel for Public Works projects involving some $15,000,000, resigned from the national committee; and his action was followed two days later by the resignation of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, of Wyoming, director of the mint, who quit the committee with reluctance. At this writing the only prominent holdouts remaining are Postmaster General Farley, who is chairman of the national committee and also of the New York Democratic committee, and William A. Julian of Ohio, treasurer of the United States.

Mr. Mullen, it is rumored, may turn up as an opponent of Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska in the forthcoming race for the United States senatorship.

SENATOR SIMEON D. FESS of Ohio is one of the most voluble of the administration's critics, and he found opportunity for another energetic attack when the senate was considering Senator Tom Connally's bill to include cattle among the basic commodities subject to farm adjustment control.

The provision for an appropriation of $200,000,000 was the special point of assault by Fess, McNary of Oregon, Dickinson of Iowa, and Carey of Wyoming and Vandenberg of Michigan, all of whom agreed that the Agricultural Adjustment program has been a complete failure. The Democrats, with the exception of Connally, made no reply to the verbal barrage.

The Ohio senator said that hog prices had fallen instead of rising, that the prices of farm commodities not under the AAA had in many cases risen faster and higher than the so-called basic commodities.

"That sort of thing is nauseating to any decent person who wants business to be done in a business way," he said, alluding to the hog buying program. "It's time to stop this foolish experimentation, time to take the heavy hand of government off business and let business recover."

Senator Vandenberg and Senator McNary could not understand why $200,000,000 were required for cattle when only $100,000,000 were asked in the original bill covering six commodities.

They suggested that benefits were to be paid before a processing tax was levied and that perhaps no processing tax was intended to be levied on cattle. Senator Connally fumed, but could not answer their queries.

"I think I can answer," Senator Dickinson finally put in. "The AAA has obligated itself for $855,000,000 in benefits; an additional $831,000,000 are called for 1935. Yet treasury receipts show only $203,000,000 received from processing taxes."

"In other words, a potential deficit at the present time of more than $600,000,000," remarked Senator Vandenberg.

CHICAGO'S most sensational murder trial in recent years resulted in the conviction of the elderly Dr. Alice Wynkoop who was charged with killing her daughter-in-law, Rheta, presumably to get the insurance on her life. The jury fixed her penalty at 25 years in the penitentiary, which amounts to a life sentence. The first hearing of the case resulted in a mistrial because the defendant was too ill for its continuance.

Doctor Wynkoop, a member of a family of physicians, had practiced medicine in Chicago for many years and her crime astounded her numerous friends.

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, accompanied by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Tugwell and others, took an aerial trip to the Caribbean islands, the special purpose of which was to visit Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. From Miami they flew via Cuba to Port Au Prince, Haiti, and San Pedro in the Dominican republic, and thence to San Juan and St. Thomas. The last named town gave the First Lady a gay welcome. She made a brief study of social and economic conditions there and took part in the dedication of a hospital building named "The Anna Eleanor building" in her honor. After a hop to St. Croix, also in the Virgin Islands, the party returned to San Juan.

Shirtwaist Dress Plays Dual Role

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALWAYS doing the unexpected—fashion is just like that. This time it is the revival of the shirtwaist dress which is causing no end of excitement among followers of the mode.

Of course, if you have in mind the old-fashioned interpretation of the shirtwaist dress, that it is a prim waist-and-skirt frock neatly tailored of serviceable material, as should be a strictly utilitarian garb doing solely office, sports, schoolroom, and other practical service, you have but half sensed the newer meaning of the modern shirtwaist costume.

The shirtwaist dress as now is may be utterly informal or it may take on formality of highest degree. The dual role which the modern shirtwaist costume is playing is entirely a matter of the material which fashions it.

To be explicit, the smartest and most out-of-the-ordinary evening gowns of the season are shirtwaist frocks whose skirts are of either velvet, satin or crepe in black or some one or other of the very new dark tones which are so voguish at present. Of course, to be formal, these skirts go to great lengths, touching the floor, and even boasting trains as most of the latest night-life frocks do. These form-fitting, statuesque, slenderizing-skirts set off by contrast the brilliancy of the glamorous bodices that top them, the same being tailored in strictly shirtwaist fashion of resplendent gold or silver-tissue cloth.

The figure sketched in the foreground of our illustration is just such. The skirt is of regal velvet.

The shirtwaist is just what it claims to be—strictly a tailored shirtwaist. It is its material which performs the magic—a perfectly exquisite lame of tissue weave with a glitter of rhinestone buttons down the front. All of which bespeaks the sumptuousness which is characteristic of current evening modes. The little halo of velvet with its gold-mesh veil is also a necessary evening luxury.

Something of the theme of the formal shirtwaist is varied in that it is fashioned of gleaming satin perhaps in the new gold color or some other equally as effective hue. These satin types are often graced with twists of self-satin about the neckline or perhaps they develop a cowl drape or a soft bertha effect. Their sleeves are also apt to take liberties in that they are short and are ingeniously pleated or gathered into the armhole.

In the daytime the smart set is going about in shirtwaist frocks which are tailored to a nicety of black satin, observing meticulously the rules of patch-pockets, waist-length sleeves, neat belts and prim collars. The sketch above to the left in the picture conveys the idea—just the type of dress to wear under "comfy" fur coats.

When a daytime shirtwaist dress is not of black satin or one of the new ribbed silk variety, then it is almost sure to be of a modish bright woolen, the newest thing in woolens being striped. These gay stripes made up effectively, as the shirtwaist frock centered in the group bears testimony.

Two Octogenarians Recall Early Days in the Settlement of Tuscola County were many pine stumps on the streets of that village, which consisted of a town hall and very few stores.

The VanWinkle brothers were very active in clearing the land and lumbering around Caro and Elmwood for many years. When George was twenty-five, he was foreman over forty men at a lumber camp four miles east of Elmwood.

In 1882, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary E. Blackman at Vassar. Before this time, Mr. VanWinkle and his brother had begun lumbering activities at Farwell, a small place west of Saginaw and from there they went to Van's Harbor in Northern Michigan. Here they had forty-four camps and employed on an average of 350 men daily and owned 200 horses. At hauling time, they often had 600 men. They averaged clearing from eighteen to twenty million feet of pine timber a season. During Cleveland's administration, a saw mill was built at Van's Harbor, costing them $100,000.

After thirty-five years there, they sold their lumbering interests and everything connected with it, including 2,000 acres of cleared land, 300 Angus cattle and as many more cattle of other breeds. When this stock was bought $5,000 was paid for four head of the Angus cattle and for a few they paid as high as $2,000 per head. They sold their holdings to a Chicago firm for $150,000 in cash.

After disposing of their interests in the north, they returned to Caro where they lived until seven years ago when they came to make their home with their son in Cass City. Lewis passed away in Caro ten years ago at the age of 91. Another brother, William, of Morristown, N. J., who is 91, is still living.

John McLarty.
trustees of the Michigan Asylum for the Insane, March 8, 1910, the following resolution was presented, adopted and unanimously carried:

The resignation of Mr. and Mrs. John McLarty, who for seventeen years have had charge of the Colony and Brook Farms and the patients who have been placed in their care, were presented and accepted. In accepting their resignations, we deem it fitting to place upon the minutes of our proceedings our appreciation of the very faithful, humane and satisfactory manner in which the important duties and responsibilities placed upon these good people have been discharged during the entire period of their employment. The quality of their services sets an example well worthy of emulation. We wish them health and much prosperity in all their future undertakings.

Dr. A. J. Noble, Medical Supt. John A. Huffman, Steward.
A recommendation fully as good as these, was received from the Pontiac State Hospital by Mr. McLarty. These were the words of praise that John C. McLarty received for his efficient work during twenty-three years of service at Michigan State Hospitals.

Mr. McLarty celebrated his eighty-second birthday Wednesday, March 14. He was born in the Township of Alborough, Ontario, and was united in marriage with Miss Anna Munro.

In 1877 he came to Michigan and purchased 40 acres of land from Mrs. Fred Lee in Novesta and was obliged to clear a space to build a house. He later added 80 acres to his farm.

Mrs. McLarty passed away in 1881 leaving a son, Grant, three of age.

On October 23, 1888, Mr. McLarty married Miss Sarah Jane Dickson of Novesta. A few years later, they began work in the Pontiac State Hospital. After twenty-three years in state hospital work, they returned to Cass City in 1910 to their farm of 140 acres one-half mile north of town. Mr. and Mrs. McLarty still own their own home on the hill but the last two years have lived with their daughter, Mrs. Day.

Mr. McLarty has always enjoyed good health. He follows no particular standard of health rules except that he always leaves the table just a little hungry and is particular as to his diet, leaving pie and cake entirely alone.

He is very active, never worries, and anticipates celebrating many more birthdays.

They have one other daughter, Mrs. Herl Wood, of Flint. The son, Grant, died a few years ago.

Mr. McLarty also has two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. E. P. Smith, Mrs. William Little and Neil McLarty, all of Cass City, and Duncan McLarty of California.

SAVE 28½% ON YOUR OIL

THAT'S a real saving for every motorist. It means almost a third reduction in your motor oil cost. This is an actual fact that was proven by the A.A.A. on the Indianapolis Speedway. To make the test they borrowed five popular makes of cars picked at random, ran them for thousands of miles and then checked the oil consumption. The results proved Gulf-lube to be America's longest mileage medium priced motor oil.

CONGRATULATIONS.

After winning all its scheduled games in the Upper Thumb series, Cass City High School's basketball players won the district tournament at Bad Axe and the regional tourney at Flint and last night engaged in the first contest in the elimination series for state honors.

ILLUMINATING PROTESTS.

The protests made by Supt. R. L. Dixon, of the Lapeer School for Feeble-minded, and Senator William Palmer against two $500,000 items in the Administration's public works program are significant.

The fact that people directly interested in the two institutions regard the proposal to spend $1,000,000 upon them as waste creates a strong suggestion that similar extravagances may be written into other parts of the measure now before the Senate Finance Committee.

The State Sanatorium Commission protested some months ago, it will be remembered, against hospital expansions it did not consider called for, and succeeded in cutting one $600,000 grant down to $230,000.

Such protests, coming from sources that normally would be expected to applaud appropriations, must be accepted as well-founded.

Before the senate approves the public works program as a whole it ought to go through the list of appropriations and scrutinize each carefully. There are too many worthy projects upon which money can be spent, if it must be spent to provide employment, to allow money to be thrown away on unneeded ones.—Detroit Free Press.

POULTRYMEN LIST THEIR PROBLEMS

Marketing Output, Diseases, Most Important.

Farm bureau committeemen have told the poultry department at the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca what they consider the most important problems on poultry farms in New York.

The largest single problem has to do with marketing, and concerns the profitable sale of broilers. In all, 283 farmers have given this as the most important.

Next after that numerically, comes the problem of the disease known as coccidiosis. Although 194 mentioned this disease, the total number of those interested in all diseases is 800. These diseases include range paralysis, worms, colds, roup, chickenpox, and other such sources of loss.

Other important problems are high costs of feed, ventilation, satisfactory sources of baby chicks, and failures to obtain top prices for eggs.

When these men gave a list of topics which poultrymen would like to have discussed at poultry meetings, it ran somewhat in this order: Feeding laying hens, 246; diseases and parasites, 237; the outlook for poultry and poultry products, 237; cost of producing eggs and pullets, 204; the use of electricity on poultry farms, 160; house construction and ventilation, 146; various factors affecting the income from poultry, 123; quality of eggs, 116; feeding chicks, 103; breeding, 102; the relation of egg quality to price, 89; brooding, 84.

The poultry department at Cornell says that it considers this a fair index of the relative importance of the various types of work which it is called upon to do through the extension service.

Oyster Shells, Limestone Needed in Poultry House

Nature not having equipped birds with teeth with which to grind their food, this process of mastication is accomplished in the gizzard by muscular action. Hard, sharp grit is used to grind the food into small particles. The harder and sharper it is, the better, and it should be before the birds at all times. If it is soluble and contains carbonate of lime, it is all the more valuable. Grit can be easily tested for lime carbonate content and its solubility by putting some of it in a cup and filling the cup with vinegar (acetic acid). If it is a lime carbonate grit, bubbles will rise and a slight hissing noise will be heard. This means that the gastric juices, which are acid, but not so much so as vinegar, will have some effect on the grit and that lime will be available for the food of the bird. Lime is of great importance, especially in feeding laying hens, as the shell of an egg is composed almost entirely of lime. Grains are rather deficient in this material and if birds are confined it is very essential to supply it in the form of oyster shells, limestone grit or ground bone.

Use of Cod Liver Oil

When the hens do not have access to sunlight, the inclusion of good cod liver oil in the ration materially increases egg production. In one test at the Missouri station, a lot of Anconas kept behind glass when fed cod liver oil produced an average of 89 eggs each during the six winter months, while a similar lot kept under the same conditions, but fed no cod liver oil, produced only 61 eggs each. In Brown Leghorns, the cod liver oil fed groups averaged 93 eggs each, while the lot which received no cod liver oil averaged 62 eggs. With White Leghorns, the difference was not so great.

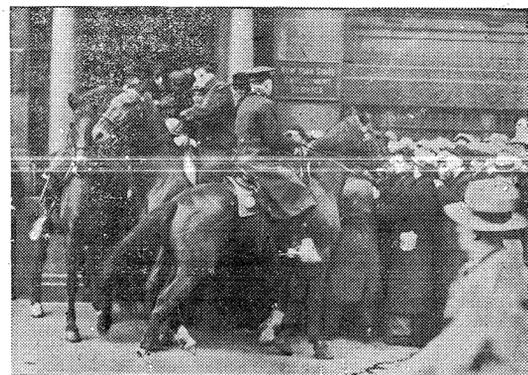

Leg Weakness

Weak legs are often caused by rheumatism. Other causes include overcrowding or overheating in close, unventilated quarters. It may develop in young chickens kept in brooders in which the heat was not properly distributed; or, where the birds are kept constantly on wooden floors. Intestinal trouble, especially when caused by worms, can cause this weakness, which is then merely a symptom of internal derangement. Pulletts when beginning to lay often have similar symptoms, but usually recover after laying the first half dozen eggs.

Early Winter Molt

Pulletts that go into winter quarters early and lay heavily often go into a winter molt and check production. It is the careful poultryman who can keep them going throughout the winter pause. Early hatching has become common among the commercial poultrymen, and it is not uncommon now to see pullets in late summer in 50 per cent production, some hatched last December and January. These pullets lay heavily in the fall and early winter when prices are highest.—Ohio Farmer.

Mounted police in New York struggling to restrain the great throng of unemployed men who descended on the re-employment office there, following the announcement by President Roosevelt that 1,000,000 of the 4,000,000 civil works jobs had already been given out.

Makes Climbing Easy

The Matterhorn, Switzerland, noted for its steepness and only first ascended in 1865, today has ropes and iron railings fixed at the most difficult points, so that climbers with no previous mountaineering skill or experience can get to the top without any great trouble.

Breezes from the Hill.

Cass City Schools. By Elaine Turner.

Fortunately the snow came just in time so that the American Literature class would feel a little more at home when studying Whittier's "Snow Bound." Following this, the class began studying Oliver Wendell Holmes' poems which were not only very entertaining but very practical.

The French II class have been giving plays during the past week, but I wonder how many could understand what it was all about if they heard their favorite play being given in French.

Miss Knight gave her English 9 class the beginning sentences of a theme which they were to conclude with their own ideas. I was more than a little surprised when I read the finished papers, for some of them were cleverly written and were as well done as many older people are capable of doing. In fact, there are quite a number of freshmen and sophomores who have talent along the line of literature and art.

The English 10 class have made Elizabethan newspapers in which they told the various happenings at the time of Queen Elizabeth.

I said a lot about our basketball team last week, but after their splendid work at Flint last week I can't resist talking about them some more. To the following ten boys, and to their manager, Russell Quick, we offer the heartiest congratulations: Bill Hyatt, John Kelly, Ed. Graham, Donald Kosanke, Fred Ward, Dave Knight, Grover Hulbert, Carl Stafford, Elton Vyse and Lloyd Donnelly. Donald Kosanke, John Kelly and Dave Knight are the only seniors on the team.

Thus we should have a winning team next year too. Cass City is proud of this team and the boys have earned every honor which has been given them.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Mrs. Harold Reed of Cass City, Mrs. William Fahner of Pigeon, and Walter Kohl are still patients at the hospital.

Joshua Curtis of Novesta was admitted Saturday night and was operated on that same night.

John Elliott of Kingston entered the hospital Tuesday and submitted to an operation Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Paul Donahue of Caro was admitted Tuesday evening and underwent an operation Wednesday.

LETTERS

2057 Burnside Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Mr. H. F. Lenzner, Cass City Mich.

My Dear Mr. Lenzner:

The Chronicle of March 2, carries an article referring to my 22 years' service here. I appreciate that very much as it brings back pleasant memories. I belong to the yesterdays, although I feel the same as when going to school. I see the same spirit exists as ever, C. C. H. S. always ahead.

I have through your columns kept up with the people and conditions there—a city during depression era keeping up without tax burdens.

You and your city can boast that one spot in the country has men who are honest, sound from center to circumference, true to the heart's core, and men who are not for sale.

I am glad to be remembered and can say with the writer: "The joy of this world, when we've summed it up, is found in the making of friends."

Respectfully, A. N. Freeman.

"WIFE" OF BRIAND BARES HERO'S LOVE

"Friend" of French Premier Offers to Sell Letters.

Paris.—Intimate details of the private life of the late Aristide Briand, many times prime minister of France, are being offered for sale by the woman who for many years was Briand's sweetheart.
Briand was never married and the revelation that the austere front of the hero of Locarno covered a romantic heart was made nearly a year ago when Madame Nouteau, now a faded and destitute old woman, brought a lawsuit against her lover's heirs. It was her contention that as the lifelong companion of the famous statesman she was entitled to a share of the 3,000,000 francs which he left.
The suit is still pending, but Madame Nouteau meanwhile has offered to the highest bidder the love letters which Briand wrote to her. The suit revealed publicly for the first time that Mme. Nouteau carried on a close friendship for 40 years. The love letters are the sole possessions which she has retained from that relationship.
Madame Nouteau asked $150,000 of Briand's family to surrender the letters and was refused. So she adopted her original intention of disputing the legacy before a Paris tribunal.
That Briand addressed his lady love as "little gazelle" is all that has been revealed about the contents of the letters.
Madame Nouteau was the wife of a wealthy banker when she first met Briand in 1889. The co-author of the Briand-Kellogg pact was a poor and obscure attorney making his first political gestures in the columns of "The Democracy of the West," a newspaper of Nantes. Madame Nouteau, a Breton, left her husband to follow Briand to Paris. A scandal burst on the heads of the lovers, and a divorce suit followed.

Egyptians Have Regular Airplane Service to Sea

Cairo, Egypt.—Now residents here can commute to Alexandria, 150 miles distant, in an hour, and also to Mersa Matruh, a fashionable bathing resort on the Mediterranean coast. In fact, one can leave here in the morning, go in the surf at Alexandria or Mersa Matruh, and be back here in the evening of the same day.
The Misr airworks, an Egyptian aviation company, has established the first regular air service within Egypt. It has installed its own bus lines between the leading hotels and the airports.
The aircraft used are D. H. Dragons, eight-ten seater, bi-engine planes. The seats are extremely comfortable; there is remarkably little noise, and special ventilation insures a steady stream of fresh cool air in the summer and fresh warm air in the winter.

Chemist Announces War Gas of Deadly Quality

Paris.—A war gas so deadly that its discoverer intends to keep it secret, even from the war office, except in case of a defensive conflict, was announced by Dr. Leonce Bert, director of the Clermont-Ferrand Chemical Institute.
Bert said the gas was the most formidable known. It was discovered, he said, while he and another institute doctor were experimenting with synthetic perfumes.
They concocted, he explained, a celery-scented fume-giving liquid, against which no gas mask, as they are known now, or other means of protection, would be effective.
The gas attacks dry as well as moist flesh, Bert said. It penetrates any sort of clothing and produces lightning-like disintegration of body cells.

Diocesan Priests Given Title to Famous Church

The constitution of the American Catholic church was adopted in 1783 on the site of the present edifice, and John Carroll was elected the first Catholic bishop in America there in 1789.
The property was bequeathed to the Jesuits in 1728 by James Carroll.

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

Bad Posture

I have mentioned poor or bad posture as an accompaniment of improper diet. It isn't always present, but slouching and other posture defects do often occur with and as a result of undernourishment. The reason is not obscure.
Muscle strength and tone depend upon a proper and adequate food supply. Muscles are fed from the food we eat. As you would expect, they need certain kinds of foods. That is nature's way with humans, as well as with animals and plants. Some things go to build, while other things are harmful. So there are foods that make muscles strong and firm.
It is easy to see what happens when the muscles are weak and soft. The bony skeleton droops. Bones tend to sag. Of course, they can't fall far out of position, but the muscles aren't strong enough to keep them in place. And all the time, the force of gravity is at work, so when we stand the tendency to slouch is aggravated. Thus, the child who leaves his milk, fruit and vegetables, or who spoils his appetite with an excess of sweets and pastries, is likely to be the bad posture case.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON. Improved Uniform International. (By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for March 18

JESUS RESPONDS TO FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:54-58. GOLDEN TEXT—Ask and it shall be given you, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you.—Matt. 7:7.

I. The Unbelief of Jesus' Own Countrymen (13:54-58). Jesus shared the common fate of men, unacknowledged in his own country.

II. Jesus Responding to the Faith of the Multitude (Matt. 14:13, 14). 1. He retired to the desert (v. 13). The news of the cruel death of John the Baptist brought grief to the heart of Jesus and he withdrew to a place of quietness to commune with the heavenly Father.

2. Followed by the people (v. 13). The people were so greatly interested in him that they followed him on foot out of the cities.

3. Jesus healing the sick (v. 14). Although the rulers had broken with him, he did not abandon his work.

III. Jesus Responding to the Faith of a Woman of Canaan (Matt. 15:21-31). 1. The mother's awful distress (vv. 21, 22). Her daughter was grievously vexed with a devil.

2. The mother's fervent appeal for help (vv. 23-25). She humbly fell at his feet and pleaded for mercy.

3. The woman's faith rewarded (vv. 26-28). a. Jesus' apparent refusal (v. 23). He answered her not a word.

b. The woman's quick response (vv. 25-27). As soon as she perceived the difficulty she worshiped him as Lord and cried for help.

c. The glorious issue of her faith (v. 28). She received more than she asked. Her daughter was healed at once while the instructions she received were worth much to her.

IV. Live Near to Christ. Make up your mind to live so near Christ, to be so true to him, to be so filled with his strength and gladness, that you will change for the better the character of every friend and companion, the atmosphere of every group of which you are a part.

Two Robbers Get

15 to 25 Year Terms

George Bodie, 20, and Charles Bodie, 22, pleaded guilty to a hold-up charge in Sanilac county circuit court before Judge X. A. Boomhower on Tuesday and each received a prison sentence from 15 to 25 years. The Bodie brothers had been identified by clerks in an Argyle store as the men who held up the store and escaped with a lunch of crackers and cheese and $162.50 taken from the cash register. They live at 400 S. Cavalry Ave., Detroit.

Charles Bodie was released two months ago after serving five years of a robbery armed sentence at Ionia. George Bodie was paroled a year ago after serving three years in Jackson for breaking and entering. Both previous sentences were from Tuscola county.
