EVANGELICALS TO CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY HERE

First Church of That Society Erected in Cass City Half Century Ago.

The Evangelical church society will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the building of the church of that denomination in Cass City. A banquet to which members of the church and congregation have been invited will be served this evening. On Sunday, anniversary services will be held both morning and evening.

Congregational singing will open the program this (Friday) evening after which Rev. G. A. Spittler, pastor of the church, will introduce the toastmaster. Rev. Paul J. Allured, pastor of Presbyterian church, will extend inter-church greetings. Miss Kathryn Voelker of Flint will present a reading, reminiscences will be given by Solomon Striffler, and the address of the evening by Rev. H. I. Voelker of Flint, a former pastor here. Musical numbers include an orchestral number, a selection by a male chorus, one by a ladies' chorus and one by a male quartet. The hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" closes the program.

Excellent Program Here Sunday by Deckerville Talent

The Deckerville high school was represented by a group of 75 vocalists at the high school auditorium at Cass City Sunday evening when four local churches combined in a union service. A program of Eastern music was presented and stereoscopic views of religious art were displayed during the singing. Rev. G. A. Spittler, pastor of the Evangelical church, gave a Post-Easter meditation, on "Faith."

In the group of visiting singers were a high school choir of fifty voices, a children's carol group of twenty members, and a mixed quartet of adults. The numbers were especially well rendered and greatly pleased the audience of over 500 that gathered at the auditorium. The program of music was a remarkable accomplishment by a group of young people and the service was an outstanding one among union church gatherings held here in several years.

COMING AUCTION.

Spafford Kelsey came from Detroit to spend the week in Cass City and make arrangements for an auction sale of household goods. The sale will be held Saturday afternoon, April 14, with R. N. McCullough as auctioneer. Full particulars are printed on page 6.

2,400 JOIN HOME MADE FARM RELIEF

100% Dairy Club Goes Over with a Bang in Tuscola County.

The 100 Per cent Dairy Campaign sponsored through the rural schools of this county has been very successful as reported by E. L. Hammond, county agricultural agent. About 2,400 members have been signed up by the school children and farm folks have expressed an eager willingness to cooperate in this project of "home-made farm relief." One hundred eleven rural schools sent in pledge slips in the campaign.

The prize money of $10 which was to be given to the school signing the highest percentage of families was a very difficult problem to award because sixteen schools in Tuscola county finished with 100% of the families in their school district signed. The Dairy Products Committee of Tuscola county worked with the School Commissioner and County Agricultural Agent and have finally decided to award the prize to Beverly school, Kingston township, which school signed up the highest number of families of any of the 100 per cent schools. The other fifteen schools are to be awarded $1.50 each as prize money for their efforts.

The winning schools are as follows: First prize, Beverly school, Kingston township, $10. Other fifteen schools $1.50 each, as follows: Smith school, Dayton township. Sielbach school, Wells township. Barton school, Fremont township. Cedar Run school, Elmwood township. Turner school, Fremont township. VanBuren school, Gilford township. Maple Grove school, Dayton township. Maxam school, Koylton township. Sunshine school, Elmwood township. Rowley school, Juniata township. Turn to page 4, please.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Voters of Tuscola County: After considerable thought I have decided to be a candidate for sheriff of Tuscola county at the republican primary election to be held next September. The voters will remember that I campaigned for this office four years ago, and I believe everyone will agree that I conducted a clean campaign, and it is my intention to continue that method.

DAIRY PRODUCTS ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS CHOSEN

Two Purebred Holstein Calves Will Be Presented to Winners.

The essay contest for schools of Tuscola county sponsored by the Dairy Products Campaign Committee has come to a very successful close and the two winners in the high school and grade school groups have been selected by the committee in cooperation with the County Agricultural Agent's office and the County School Commissioner's office. These winners will receive the two purebred Holstein calves as prizes.

Approximately 1,000 essays were written for this contest by the school children of the county. Eighty-eight of these were selected by the teachers as the winning essays in their respective schools and were presented to the county committee for their consideration in the contest. From this number was selected the winning essay from each township. These 23 will receive $1 each for their reward. Also the winning essay in each of the six town-graded schools will receive $1 each.

The competition for first place in the county was very keen and after much deliberation, the winners were picked as follows:

First prize, High School Group, Herbert Gould, tenth grade, Tuscola School. Prize—Purebred Holstein heifer calf, donated by George Foster, Fostoria.

First prize, grade school group, Erma Jean Scott, eighth grade, Moreland School. Prize—Purebred Holstein heifer calf, donated by State Farm Colony at Wahjamega.

Township winners who received $1 each are as follows:

Donna Horst, Cook School, Akron township. Betty Johnson, Green School, Millington township. Felice Goslin, Carolan School, Elmwood township. Kathryn Heusted, East Watertown School, Watertown township. Norwood Eastman, English School, Dayton township. Robert Wells, Fourtown School, Indianfields township. Turn to page 5, please.

James Curry Is Acquitted

James Curry, former treasurer of Sanilac county, will go back to being just "Jim" Curry, a tenant farmer. He was acquitted by a Circuit jury Tuesday night of charges of embezzling $49,000 in county funds.

For five years Curry has battled to defeat the effort to send him to State's prison. He gave up a job to return to Sandusky and try to trace the funds, he testified.

On the stand Curry, now 50 years old, asserted that he did not learn of the alleged shortage until 1929, nine months after he had left office.

He immediately quit his job in Flint, he said, to return and conduct his own investigation seeking to find out what had happened to funds which auditors said were gone. Curry was in office from 1923 to 1928, inclusive.

The state based its case on Curry's failure to charge himself with various county checks totaling something over $49,000. The checks were deposited in a county depository, testimony showed and checked out for authorized expenditures.

However, the prosecution charged that Curry failed to enter the items on the county's general ledger account in order to conceal previous shortages.

No evidence was produced to show that Curry actually received the money, but it was contended that the failure to account for the items indicated an intent to appropriate the money to his own use.

The defense, on the other hand, contended that there was no evidence of a shortage introduced and that the alleged discrepancies were caused by errors in bookkeeping.

Asked by his counsel whether he ever took a penny of county funds, Curry's answer was an emphatic "no."

Curry told of losing his Lamotte township farm by foreclosure in 1932. Since then he has been a tenant farmer in charge of a farm near Capac owned by a Detroit firm.

Judge Glenn C. Gillespie of Pontiac presided at the case.—Detroit Free Press.

Co. C. E. Meeting Here April 17

The Tuscola County Christian Endeavor Union will hold their meeting at the Cass City Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, April 17. A potluck supper will be served at 6:30 sharp, followed by a recreational period.

The evening service will begin at 7:30. Two conferences will be held, led by Rev. Leo Burch of Gagetown and Alvin Schultz of Caro. School Commissioner B. H. McComb will deliver the message of the evening, speaking on "The Challenge of Leisure." The union extends a sincere welcome to everyone.

MARRIED QUARTER CENTURY AGO IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bohnsack Will Celebrate in Detroit on April 22.

Married at Seattle, Wash., on April 10, 1909, Eunice Viola Martin to John H. Bohnsack.

A quarter of a century! A quarter of an inch, a quarter of an hour, a quarter of a dollar are not things that would engage any particular attention because of their size, but a quarter of a century is a different matter.

A lot of the River of Life flows under the bridge in a quarter of a century, carrying on its flood joys, woes, labor, relaxation, things bitter and sweet, things sad and happy; yet, when one can see real attainment, it is a matter of satisfaction to look back through the years and say, "Well, take it by and all, it's been a pretty good life, after all."

And Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bohnsack of Cass City are justified in saying just that Their 25th wedding anniversary came Tuesday, April 10, but the real celebration of the event will take place at the home of relatives in Detroit on Sunday, April 22.

Married in Seattle, Washington, April 10, 1909, they spent the first two years of wedded life in British Columbia, afterwards moving to Leavenworth, Washington, where Mr. Bohnsack served as member of the police department. In 1913, they came to Cass City where they spent a year on Mrs. Bohnsack's father's farm, four miles north of town. Five years of residence in Detroit followed and in 1918 they came to Cass City where Mr. Bohnsack embarked in the plumbing and heating business. They have two sons, George of Caro and Harry of Mt. Pleasant.

Friends are congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Bohnsack on the completion of a quarter century of successful married life with best wishes for the spending of a second quarter century, a not unreasonable hope.

Word has been received from Miss Evelyn Turner, who has taught the classes in this county this year, that the main speaker at the program is to be Dr. Robert Shaw, president of Michigan State College. Doctor Shaw is the man noted throughout the United States as an agricultural leader and a sound thinker on agricultural problems of the day. Farm women and their husbands will be much interested in this phase of the program.

According to E. L. Hammond, county agricultural agent, the program will start at 1:30 in the afternoon and will include some local talent as well as outside speakers.

Exhibits will be arranged at the church and will be open to the public at 10:30 in the morning for all who wish to view the things which have been taught to the housewives in this Home Management course.

Cass City Talent at Gilford Institute Next Wednesday

A farmers' institute will be held on Wednesday, April 18, beginning at 10:00 a. m. at the Gilford town hall.

There will be a diversified program. Prof. Willis Campbell of Cass City will be in charge of the 4-H Club work, including sheep and cattle.

Clayton O'Dell of Cass City, whose sheep brought the world's highest price at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show, and Harry Crandell, Jr., whose lamb brought $1.66 per lb. at the Kansas Royal, will also appear. James Milligan and Romney Horner of Cass City will be present as the outstanding Junior beef raisers.

Hon. John Goodwine of Sanilac county will speak on "Cost of State Government."

The Michigan State College will furnish a speaker in the afternoon on "Small Fruits and Gardening."

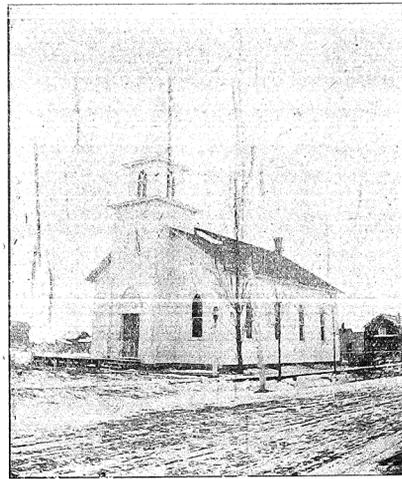

C. H. Bramble, master of the State Grange, will speak at 8:00 p. m. on "The Past, Present and Future of the Farmer."

Ladies will serve lunch at noon and at 6:00 p. m.

DEPUTY TAKES OFFENDER TO JACKSON PRISON

Deputy Sheriff George Jeffrey took Lawrence Aleck to the Michigan State Prison at Jackson Monday to commence his sentence of 5 to 15 years. Aleck was found guilty of breaking and entering the Kamm Chevrolet Garage at Reese recently.

Dell Hoffman and Chas. Fortune are at the county jail awaiting investigation. They are charged with breaking into the Wm. Stone residence near Watrousville on October 9th last.

CO. ACHIEVEMENT DAY SET FOR APR. 20

Dr. Robert Shaw, President of M. S. C., Is the Main Speaker.

County Achievement Day will be held for twenty-six Women's Extension Groups who have been taking courses in Home Management during the past winter and fall season. The meeting will be held at the Caro Methodist church Friday, April 20, and 458 women who are enrolled in these groups will exhibit many of the articles and methods which they have learned in the course this year.

Word has been received from Miss Evelyn Turner, who has taught the classes in this county this year, that the main speaker at the program is to be Dr. Robert Shaw, president of Michigan State College. Doctor Shaw is the man noted throughout the United States as an agricultural leader and a sound thinker on agricultural problems of the day. 500 HEARD FARM BUREAU SPEAKERS HERE ON FRIDAY

Farm Men and Women Came from Three Counties to Attend Meet.

Side roads made travel difficult and in some places were so bad that a rural mail carrier returned to the horseback method to deliver mail to his rural patrons part of last week. In spite of these conditions, prominent farm men and women of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties gathered at Cass City Friday to hear addresses of Farm Bureau representatives of state and nation.

The morning session of the tri-county farmers' day was held in the Presbyterian church and was called to order by Frank Reid. Mr. Hill of the Caro school led the community singing and Henry Lane, prominent Fairgrove farmer and president of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau, welcomed visitors to Tuscola county.

Clark L. Brody, executive secretary of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, was scheduled as a speaker but was unable to come because of ill health. E. E. Ungren, editor of Farm Bureau publications, took Mr. Brody's place on the program. He stated that interest in the organization was picking up and more activity was noticed in its departments now that had been at any time in the past three years. The organization "turned the corner" 20 months ago. Mr. Ungren reviewed legislation regarding farmers and said many lawmakers sought the advice of Farm Bureau and Grange members regarding proposed state laws affecting agriculture.

Mrs. Edith M. Wagar of Carleton, Mich., chairman of the Michigan State Farm Bureau's Home and Community program, was the second speaker on the morning program. The Farm Bureau, she said, was the defender of the farmer in a great many instances, particularly in watching legislation. She advocated the election of more Farm Bureau members as legislators. Extension work in the United States is being continued largely through the effort of the Farm Bureau.

"Farmer people have as much right to bath tubs, electricity and modern comforts as the day laborer," said Mrs. Wagar. "We want essentials in education for the farm children as well as those of the city. The state and nation should carry more of the burdens of education and bring relief from school taxes to the property owners."

"Farm people have many blessings to be thankful for," said Mrs. Wagar, who has served on the welfare board in her community. "Farmers know nothing about misery yet. None of us go to bed hungry."

"Southern Melodies" and a negro spiritual sung by the Caro High School Boys' Quartet added to the enjoyment of the morning session.

Dinner was served to a large number by ladies of the Presbyterian church in the church basement.

The afternoon session at the high school auditorium was attended by 500 people. Frank Reid introduced Willis Campbell as master of ceremonies.

Tuscola Democrats Rally Tonight

More than 400 are expected to attend the county rally of the Tuscola Jeffersonian Club which will be held at the Caro High School auditorium this (Friday) evening. Judge Arthur Lacy of Detroit, James E. Mogan, director of the state tax administration, and Raymond M. Foley, public relations director of the state highway department, will be the main speakers at the rally. M. E. Eveland of Mayville will give the address of welcome and David McLaughlin, Saginaw city attorney, will be master of ceremonies.

LINER AD MAKES PROMPT SALE OF 10 TONS OF HAY

"If you want to sell anything, run an ad in the Chronicle's liner columns to get results," says Chas. Freshney, Evergreen Twp. farmer. "Recently I ran a liner on hay and had a buyer at the farm within two hours after the Chronicle was delivered to rural route subscribers. By Monday night I had sold out my supply—10 tons in all."

HECKROTH HEADS TUSCOLA SUPERVISORS

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Irate Senate Rebukes Huey Long, Then Gags Him; Jobs and Wages Highest Since 1931; Senate Rejects Higher Normal Income Tax Rate.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

HUEY P. LONG, the vituperative senator from Louisiana, was soundly spanked by the senate Thursday. Their patience exhausted, Democratic leaders united in administering a sound rebuke for his conduct on the floor. The proceedings were without recent precedence in the senate. Following the blistering remarks hurled at the Kingfish, the senate clamped upon him temporarily a parliamentary muzzle that reduced him to silence.

Senatorial veterans could not remember a similar occasion when a senator has been subjected to the humiliation of such a public chorus of disapproval from his colleagues. The Louisiana's behavior in the senate has disgraced him in the eyes of the nation, Senator Pat Harrison (Dem., Miss.), told Huey. The Kingfish screamed his protests. He shouted that Senator Harrison was the kind of a man who "would stick a knife in a friend's back and drink his blood." This brand of abuse brought Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson (Dem., Ark.), Senator Bennett Clark (Dem., Mo.), and others to their feet and the senate rules were invoked to stop the mouth of the yelling Long. He sat down and gulked in his chair.

The senate has fumed for days as the excitable Long put on his typical exhibitions, shouting to the galleries. Thursday found almost the entire body in a wrathful revolt against these displays of temperament which have been hampering the consideration of important bills.

THAT Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the air corps, and others acted in "violation of the law" in connection with the proposed purchase of $7,500,000 worth of army airplanes, is the conclusion of a subcommittee of the house military affairs committee that has been investigating the matter. The subcommittee also found that Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war, had attempted to assure competitive bidding for the airplanes and thereby comply with the law and the intent of congress.

The transaction in question dates back to the first of the year. Army officers, asking a public works allotment to buy airplanes, made arrangements to purchase them from special companies without competitive bids.

Woodring, the committee decided, intervened and demanded competitive bids be sought. Specifications were drawn and proposals submitted to the industry for bids. But the army judge advocate general held the proposals did not assure competitive bidding.

The committee contended that in so far as it had been able to find, Woodring's every act was to assure free competition, yet his desires were thwarted.

It mentioned, in addition to Foulois, Brig Gen. Henry Conger Pratt, chief of the army air corps' procurements division. It said Foulois gave testimony before the Rogers committee and an appropriations subcommittee which seemed to conflict.

CONTINUED improvement in business activity during February and March and expansion employment and pay rolls to the highest point since the latter half of 1931 were announced by the Commerce department in one of its most optimistic reports on business since 1930.

The average weekly wage was $19.81 in February, the highest since 1931. The hourly rate of 55.8 cents per hour was within 4.1 cents of February, 1929. The employment improvement was general throughout manufacturing industries. Seventy-seven of the 89 manufacturing industries reported increased employment in February and 79 reported higher total wages. When classified into 14 major groups only the food group did not make an employment or pay roll gain.

posed plan would affect some 4,500,000 farm families, whose income had been cut in half during the depression and whose products had been selling at 40 per cent below prewar "parity."

ACTING under the power delegated to him by President Roosevelt under an executive order, National Recovery Administrator Johnson approved an amendment to the bituminous coal code imposing a five-day week of 35 hours and revising its wage scale upward, figured on a $5 base with differentials, on the entire bituminous coal industry. The amendment is subject to a hearing on April 9.

Authoritative sources in Washington agreed that the operators would accept the amendment, at least until after the hearing and that the threat of a strike is avoided at least until after that hearing by the action of the NRA head.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, issued a statement praising the action of the administration and promising the co-operation of the union.

THE Civil Works administration has gone out of existence, and this relief organization became the works division of the Federal Emergency Relief administration.

Under this title it will use some $800,000,000 remaining from its recent grant of $950,000,000 for the year 1935 to provide relief for states, which are in turn to pass the money along to cities and counties.

For a month district agents have been working to perfect the machinery for the change. Meanwhile, administration officials made it clear that industry was not expected to take up the whole slack of unemployment, absorbing the former CWA workers, in a day.

"SOAK the rich" forces were defeated Thursday when the senate rejected an amendment to the revenue bill by Senator La Follette, Wisconsin Republican, for a big increase in surtax rates.

The vote was 47 to 36. The party lineup showed 25 Democrats, 10 Republicans and one Farmer-Laborite for the amendment, with 30 Democrats and 17 Republicans against it.

Estimated to produce $185,000,000 additional revenue, the La Follette amendment called for a boost in the normal income tax rate from 4 to 6 per cent, with surtaxes graduated up to 71 per cent on net incomes in excess of $1,000,000.

A "COMMON sense recovery plan" was laid before the country Thursday by France's aged premier, Gaston Doumergue. The program, which was officially approved by a special council of ministers at Elysee palace, is comparable in scope with Russia's five-year plan and America's NRA. It reflects, however, the typical distrust of experiments by the French peasant. It is marked by the same simplicity and absence of ballyhoo which has characterized all of "Gastounet's" actions since the dramatic February morning when he arrived in the civil war littered capital.

The French program is based on the theory that if the government puts its own house in order and mends its own business, industry will recover by itself.

It all boils down to a question of restoring confidence, but the methods laid down for achieving this purpose are nothing short of revolutionary for France. The keystone in Doumergue's edifice of recovery is the leveling of government expenditures down to income, which means eliminating immediately the budget deficit of some $270,000,000.

THE liberal Spanish republic has discarded one of the major pillars upon which it was built. Marshaled by the nominally moderate Radical party that once was violently anti-clerical, the cortes in an uproarious session put 7,500 clergymen back on the payroll of the state for life.

For three hours before passage of the law, which directly violates article 28 of the republican constitution, Premier Alejandro Lerroux's supporters and the shrunken left opposition hurled insults and waved fists at each other.

IMMEDIATE comprehensive revision of the national railway labor act to expedite and enforce the settlement of disputes between the railroads and their employees and to safeguard the right of collective bargaining, was recommended by Joseph B. Eastman, Federal coordinator of transportation, in a letter to Representative Sam Rayburn, chairman of the house interstate commerce committee.

His outstanding recommendations were these: The creation of a new national board of adjustment, divided into four independent parts, whose awards would be enforceable in the courts.

The substitution of a new national mediation board of three members for the present board of mediation of five members.

The inclusion of all companies which operate equipment or facilities or furnish service included within the definition of the terms "railroad" and "transportation" in the interstate commerce act.

Provisions similar to those in the temporary emergency railroad transportation act of last year, insuring "the complete divorcement of railroad employees and management in the choice of representatives to deal one with the other" and providing adequate means for the enforcement of these provisions.

The national adjustment board would be divided into four independent parts to adjust future disputes.

THE house of representatives got busy Wednesday, suspended its rules and granted quick approval to three important bills dealing with widely divergent subjects. They were:

The administration sugar bill—subject of heated controversy for months—which slid through to final approval without even a record vote. It includes sugar as a basic commodity under the AAA, quotas domestic production of sugar beets and cane, and gives Secretary of Agriculture Wallace power to quota imports of Cuban and insular sugar.

The so-called Johnson bill, prohibiting foreign nations which are in default on private or national obligations in this country from floating their securities in the American market. The measure is the upshot of a senatorial investigation several years ago into the nature of foreign borrowings in the United States.

A resolution ordering a federal power commission inquiry into rates charged for electric energy by private power companies throughout the country.

GENERAL JOHNSON said at his first press conference in six weeks that he favored allowing the licensing provision of the National Recovery act to expire in June.

The general's attention was called to a report that the President favored extending the licensing arrangement, which had not yet been invoked in a single case, and he indicated that he would be at the service of the President for further discussion of the matter.

Inquiry in administration quarters concerning the recent report of the federal trade commission on the operation of the steel code led to the information that General Johnson would reply to this report shortly. The general is said to hold views diametrically opposed to those of the trade commission respecting the regulation and supervision of business by the government.

SAMUEL INSULL, fugitive utility magnate, has learned that Uncle Sam has long arms. He thought himself safe aboard the chartered freighter, on which he escaped from Greece, anchored at Istanbul, but Uncle Sam's long arm tagged him and he was arrested by the Turkish authorities. The council of ministers immediately ordered his extradition to the United States. Two eminent Turkish lawyers on behalf of Insull filed an appeal with the supreme court of Turkey against the extradition order. But the appeal was denied.

Unless the former utilities magnate is able to perform some new wonder, his year and a half of flight almost half-way around the world has been brought to an end.

REPRESENTATIVES of the flour milling industry decided to operate without a code of fair competition. Their rejection of the NRA and AAA mark the first refusal of an entire industry to accept the administration's recovery plans. The decision to go ahead without NRA affiliation came after nearly nine months of fruitless negotiations with the NRA and AAA officials.

Government officials were represented as considering a legal test if the millers do not reopen negotiations. There was some talk that the millers might be put under a license.

The millers contend that the code offered would have brought ruin to the industry and would have forced up prices of flour beyond the ability of consumers to pay.

WICKWARE.

Mrs. Florence Ingel and Miss Theo Ingel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ingel of Argyle Sunday.

Asa Wagg of Pontiac spent the week-end with relatives here. Mrs. Ward Law returned Friday afternoon from Columbia Corners where she spent several days with Mrs. Frank Kile, who has been ill for four weeks, but is now improving.

Vern Watson, who is employed in Detroit, spent a few days with his family here.

Mrs. M. E. Wagg and daughter, Miss Elnore, returned Tuesday from Pontiac where they had spent two weeks with relatives.

Mrs. J. S. Ball is quite ill at this writing.

Wm. Gracy was awakened about 11 o'clock Saturday night to find the house filled with smoke. Upon going upstairs, he found the fire raging in one of the bedrooms. The smoke and heat were so intense that he could not bear it and was forced to go to the outside, and by breaking through the window, he worked through that. After considerable effort the fire was extinguished. A dresser was totally destroyed and a quantity of clothing, also a portion of two walls. The ceiling and floor were badly burned. The house was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Robinson entertained Detroit friends over the week-end.

Gaston Doumergue

I FIXED YOUR MOTOR BUT YOU'D BETTER DRAIN THAT WORN WINTER OIL!

WHY? WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE OIL?

TWO DAYS LATER

THAT MECHANIC WAS RIGHT. NO GASOLINE-DILUTED WINTER OIL CAN STAND BOTH HARD DRIVING AND WARM WEATHER.

THERE'S A GULF STATION LET'S GET THE OIL CHANGED NOW

WHAT SUMMER OIL DO YOU RECOMMEND?

GULF-LUBE, SIR-IT GIVES 10% TO 50% MORE MILES PER QUART---AND IT LUBRICATES BETTER

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE?

FAST WORK! YOU FELLOWS CHANGED THAT OIL IN JUST 5 MINUTES!

YES, YOUR CAR'S SUMMER PROOF NOW. THAT'S $1.25 FOR A FORD, PLUS TAX, SIR.

HI, BILL--YOU PICKED THE RIGHT SERVICE STATION

DON'T I KNOW IT! SUMMER GULF LUBE HAS CUT MY OIL COSTS 30%

It takes only a few minutes to make the Gulf "screen test" with the new Testodrop. It will show you just how dirty your oil really is. And you start saving money the moment you refill with summer Gulf-lube.

"Suffice It to Say"

This expression is in the subjunctive mode, in which there is no future tense. To use that expression, one can merely say, "Suffice it to say," or, "Suffice it for us to say." In order to introduce a future idea, the construction must be changed: "It is sufficient for us to say."

Maple Sugar Born in U. S.

Maple sugar is the native American sugar. It is prized for its richness in flavor, and it commands a fancy price. It is more popular in the form of syrup than as sugar, because some of the pleasing flavor is lost in the crystallizing process.

Feed Mermash

Mermash 16% protein is a starting, growing and laying mash for chickens, ducks and turkeys. It provides in ocean kelp and fish meal a food iodine and other essential minerals which are lacking in Michigan crops and soils. Poultry responds to Mermash with splendid growth and production. Mermash is a complete mash, ready to be fed with scratch grains for high egg production.

Grow Better Chicks at Lowest Cost with Mermash.

Nothing mysterious about it. Michigan soils and crops are very deficient in iodine. Chicks raised on Mermash simply walk away from those raised on other rations. They're healthier, grow faster, feather better. Chick losses are lower. Cost per chick is lower.

Yes, all costs are lower because Mermash is undoubtedly the lowest priced, good chick starter-growing mash on the market.

Elephants and Mice. There is a popular belief that elephants have an especial fear of mice, the reason being that small mouse-like animals sometimes crawl up the trunks of the wild elephants when they are feeding. This is denied by wild animal experts, who claim that the wild elephant's greatest fears are dogs and human beings. In zoological parks the elephants are stated to pay no attention whatever to the mice around the barns.

Prosecuting Attorney Ransford appeared before the supervisors on Wednesday and recommended that the salaries of the clerks in the probate office, clerk's and treasurer's offices be raised. He said he believed their pay was inadequate.

Clerk Morrison presented a request that the court house janitor's wages be raised. These requests were all referred to the Committee on Officers' Salaries.

A request was received from the State Emergency Relief Commission of Michigan asking that Tuscola county turn over to the commission $30,000.00 for welfare relief work in the county.

Attorney M. D. Orr addressed the supervisors regarding the request and protested the turning over of this sum to the state commission. Road Commissioner G. F. Shultz addressed the board and also expressed himself as opposed to such action.

At the October session, the supervisors passed a resolution which provided for the expenditure of the money in question after certain sums due the county from the state had been paid, and it is likely that the board of supervisors will adhere to that policy. The resolution read in part as follows:

"Therefore, be it resolved, that immediately upon receipt by the said county of all moneys due it from the state under the provisions of said Senate Enrolled Act No. 21, the Board of County Road Commissioners of said county shall proceed to expend the said balance of $30,000.00 for Welfare work relief under the direction of the State Emergency Welfare Relief Commission and or its local agents as the said commission shall direct.

"Be it further resolved, that when all of said moneys allocated to said county under the provisions of said Senate Enrolled Act No. 21 are received from the state government, the said balance of $30,000.00 shall be set aside for the aforesaid purpose."

"The board is wrestling with the proposition of refunding the bonds of the Sebewaing River and Branches Drainage District. Collection of taxes have not been sufficient to pay the bonds in full as they mature and it has been necessary to borrow money from the general fund of the county to pay partial amounts. A portion of the 1933 maturities are still in default and estimated revenues which will be collected during the fiscal year of 1934 will not be sufficient to pay the bonds and interest maturing in the calendar year of 1934. Over $112,000, principal and interest, are due on the bonds next October with about $53,000 in sight to meet the obligation.

Land in Huron county is located in the drainage district and the Huron board of supervisors have voted favoring a refunding of the bonds. Like action will probably be taken by the Tuscola board. The proposition was scheduled for consideration Thursday.

FIND MUD-SLINGING IN OLD ELECTIONS

Excavations Throw Light on Pompeian Politics.

Naples, Italy.—Mud slinging at elections was prevalent at Pompeii before the destruction, according to recent archeological findings.

The publication of Professor Maiuri's findings in a volume of 500 pages issued by the Italian state library takes us a good deal further on the road of Pompeian knowledge, and reveals further details of the house, which is given its name from the wall portrait of the Greek poet Menander.

Owner Had Nickname. The one interesting discovery is that the owner of the house of Menander apparently had a nickname.

Silver Treasure Found. The latest find in this house, which gives every evidence of having belonged to a rich and highly cultured man, is the treasure of ancient silver objects totaling 118 pieces, which has been compared with that other famous "treasure" of antiquity found near Pompeii, the so-called "treasure of Boscoreale," which now is in the Paris Louvre.

The silver treasure includes some fine cups in Hellenistic style, chased with scenes of pastoral and rural life. There are other cups, which are about the size of cocktail glasses, decorated with miniature scenes from the story of Bacchus.

The collection includes a large silver center dish for the middle of the table, evidently to hold fruit. It is ornamented in the center with a figure personifying the city of Pompeii.

Along Milky Way to Win an Education. San Francisco.—How a student is being aided in earning his way through college in a novel way was told by one of the professors of the University of California.

A young man came to the professor to obtain a loan. He said that he was earning his way by milking two cows and selling the milk. Unfortunately, one cow was going dry and he did not have enough milk to supply his customers; he wanted another cow.

The professor told another professor who had a small ranch near Berkeley and this professor sold the youth a cow, to be paid for as he earned the money. The one-man—two-cow dairy is once again in full operation.

welcome, said that the 174 non-resident pupils of the Cass City High School, came from an area of almost 400 square miles and that Cass City was interested in the boys and girls in every home in that area.

Complimenting Mr. Campbell, teacher of agriculture, he said that it took some stability and ability to teach in a town continuously for 13 years.

The agriculture department of the local school is known in every part of the state.

E. E. Ungren of Lansing responded to the welcome address and expressed the appreciation of the Farm Bureau to the people of Cass City in making the tri-county farmers' day a success.

Mrs. C. W. Sewell of Otterbein, Ind., national director of the Farm Bureau Home and Community Department, proved to be a fluent speaker as she reminisced in Farm Bureau activities.

"Woman's job is to keep 'culture' in agriculture," she said. "The government has recognized agriculture as the basis of industry and goes with it hand in hand. We need to make high schools better for the needs of the rural boy and girl and we should support the rural church."

Why a Community Newspaper?

Contest Sponsored by Adrian Van Koeveering, Zeeland, Michigan.

By Gerald Henry, Lowell, Michigan. (Second Prize).

High in a tower at the Chicago Fair was a crystal ball which, by lenses and mirrors, somehow caught the panorama beneath and reflected it upon a table.

On one side was a glimpse of Lake Michigan, with tugs trailing plumes of smoke that would do only for the smoulder of a cigarette.

In and out of exhibition buildings eddied crowds of microscopic people, mysteriously intent on something.

It was like gazing on the great fair through the eye of some precise and colorful historian generations hence.

Through its own newspaper, the community is kept informed on church and fraternal activities, the progress of its schools, the conduct of its municipal government.

In the furtherance of every worthwhile enterprise, the newspaper welds diverse interests and aims into a cohesive whole, united toward a common goal.

By friendly encouragement and praise, the community newspaper lends stimulus to achievement.

In the hour of tragedy, scandal and slander not being its stock in trade, it lightens the burdens by silence.

Every editor knows as many medals are deserved for what he omits to print as by what he publishes.

Less tangible, but nevertheless very real, are the contributions of the community newspaper in maintaining a high level of general character, and fostering the best traditions of public and private conduct.

Not the least of its many services is the community newspaper's capacity to act as an economical and fruitful medium through which merchants and others with goods and services to sell, can present their wares to a broad public.

The best test of advertising effectiveness as expressed in terms of reader interest, can never be made.

Go into the home. Discover what portion of the newspapers' ephemeral product is kept and treasured through the years.

Will you find a lurid account of error and disaster, drawn from a sensational daily newspaper.

Never. Between the pages of family Bibles, tucked away in bureau repositories, the yellowed clippings from the community newspaper, tell of an honorable career of decency and sacrifice.

More and more, advertisers are learning that their messages create the largest buying response in such a publication, which is closest to its readers, identical in purposes, in sympathy with their aims and hopes, friendly always.

In short, it is the people.

Butter and All Other Dairy Products Should Be Used in Every Home in Tuscola County

Winning Essay in High School Group.

Here is a conversation I overheard between Bobby and his mother one morning as I was waiting for him to get ready for school.

"Bobby, drink your milk." Every morning Bobby's mother had to go through that same procedure of getting Bobby to drink his milk in time to get to school.

"Aw Mom, I don't want it," was Bobby's inevitable reply and that morning was no exception to the rule.

"But Bobby, everyone in Tuscola county should drink milk or use other dairy products and you need them more than most people."

"Why, mother?" "Because you are weak and pale, you need more energy and milk will give it to you.

The tissues of your body are continually being torn down and your body needs material to rebuild them, these come from milk. Also you need the other minerals milk contains such as calcium and phosphorus."

"What are the calcium and phosphorus minerals for?" "They build bones and teeth, regulate your heartbeat so you will get the right amount of blood; assist in the coordination of muscles; and aid in the coagulation of blood."

"That might be so, Mother, but one glass of milk wouldn't make much difference would it?" "One glass of milk helps but you should drink a quart a day at least. A quart of milk contains all the calcium your body will need for the day besides many other minerals such as iodine, sulphur, potassium, magnesium, and manganese."

"They all keep you healthy, if you don't have calcium in your body you are liable to have a disease called rickets, your teeth and bones are apt to be crooked, and your teeth decay. The absence of iron results in a disease known as anemia."

"I am not the only one who don't like milk am I, Mother?" "No, son, there are many, many boys and girls who don't drink milk or use other dairy products because substitutes are cheaper."

"Aren't substitutes as good as the true dairy products?" "No, you see the substitutes are harder to digest. The body heat is not high enough to dissolve the various food elements, but the products of milk, such as butter and cheese, dissolve at a heat much lower than that of the body."

Butter and All Other Dairy Products Should Be Used in Every Home in Tuscola County

Winning Essay in High School Group.

"That is all true, Mother, but why don't you drink milk too? You give it to me to drink every morning, noon and night, but you never drink it. Do you remember that one hundred per cent dairy club project I told you about? It said that old people should drink milk to feel young, and that young people should drink milk to keep young. Why don't you drink milk?"

"I have reached my full growth and I don't believe I need it."

"But Mother, you said that the body needed material to build new tissues with and that they came from milk, you said that I should drink a quart a day and I believe you should, too, and think of how it would help. There are three billion pounds of surplus milk in the United States. If every person drank a quart of milk a day all of the surplus milk would be used up in eleven days, the farmer would get a better price for his milk, and the wheels of industry would soon be turning again."

"I believe you are right, Son. I will order three quarts of milk every day now, and everyone will be satisfied. Perhaps we are only a small cog in the wheels of industry, but a small cog has often held up a large machine." With this parting injunction we started for school.

"Well," I said, "do you agree with your mother?" "Yes," Bobby replied, "I fully agree with her, I also think that everyone in Tuscola county should drink milk and use other dairy products."

Though Bobby didn't know it at the time he was agreeing with the decision not only of his mother but also of the leaders of thirty-eight states as well, who have agreed that milk is the best food any one can possibly use and who are also working hard to put through this one hundred per cent Dairy Club Project.

I have signed up and I sincerely hope that everyone else will because everyone needs health, and the farmer needs help.

Fathers and Mothers Smiled with Pride

The operetta which the kindergarten, first and second grade children gave Thursday evening, April 5, under the direction of Mrs. Day and Miss Aurand was one of the best accomplished pieces of work that the Cass City Schools have produced this year. Many fathers and mothers must have smiled with pride when they saw their children performing with perfect ease before a large audience. The girls were dressed in dainty fairy costumes while the boys wore gay little elves' suits which were of course in keeping with the Fairyland setting in which they wore them.

65 Out for Track and Baseball

There were about 65 boys out for the track and baseball meeting last week. With this many to choose from, we will be capable of building a team which will be pretty hard to beat. The boys are expecting the support of each one of you. May we see you "rarin' to go" at the first game!

The High School is greatly in need of magazines covering politi-

BROWN SCHOOL.

Reporters, Gatha Mercer and Cleo Russell.
Teacher, Hazel Hower.
Spring is here; we are glad to see it come. We have seen many spring birds back from the south. We wish more of them would see the colored birdhouses which we have in our windows.
Our boys are beginning to practice baseball.
We notice that Frederick Knoblet is quite busy at noons and recesses giving the children a ride around the schoolhouse on his bicycle.
We are glad to have Geraldine, Irene and Harold Kilbourn come back to our school.
On our side bulletin board, we have some little chickens playing about the yard but the mother hens are shut in coops which we made from wrapping paper.
We have a bouquet of pussywillows already.
The third and fourth grade language class is making a bird book. They have reported seeing several different kinds of birds they have studied.
We got our second treatment of toxoid for diphtheria last Wednesday. Robert Millard and Andy Bolla stayed at the high school to visit in the afternoon.
Those who received an A for spelling during March are: Jack Kilbourn, Gladys McLellan from the third grade; Peter Dasho and Bobbie Kolb from the fourth grade; and Cleo Russell, Gatha Mercer, Anna Frederick and Vernetta O'Dell from the sixth and eighth grades.
Peter, Jackie and Mary Dasho were absent from school last Friday because of the death of their father.
Robert Millard received his five-months' certificate last month.
Mrs. Rineer Knoblet and Ruth Knoblet visited us last week.
Those who received monthly attendance certificates are: Irene, Eunice and Madelyn DeLong, Leigh and Norma McConnell, Bobbie Kolb, Robert Millard, Martha and Frederick Knoblet, Vernetta O'Dell and Andy Bolla.

GREENWOOD SCHOOL.

Our school looks very nice now. It was redecorated last week by the CWA.
They are grading our school ground with gravel.
The second grade is ready to start their third readers this week.
The seventh grade had a test in orthography on the Latin stems.
Alvin Tallman cut his finger quite badly while getting pussy willows for our room.
Frank Nemeth was absent Tuesday on account of an earache.
Anna Nemeth, Helen Popp, Virginia Vorhes, Letitia Tallman and Dickie Sadler were our visitors.
The seventh and eighth grades have finished Unit VI.
Some of our people went to Crawford school last Wednesday to get the second treatment of toxoid for the prevention of diphtheria.
Reporters, Alvin Tallman and Harvey Horak.
Teacher, Caroline E. Field.

TANNER SCHOOL.

"Smile a little, smile a little,
As you go along,
Not alone when life is pleasant,
But when things go wrong."
We are glad spring is here. We know many new songsters. The meadow larks like to play hide and seek with us over the hills around our school.
We have completed our Holland cal, social and general science; also good literature, history, geography and nature study. Parents or patrons having magazines of this type that would be useful would be doing a real service by bringing them to the school.

Easter Recital, Fine Piece of Work

Another performance which has taken place at the High School auditorium during the past week was the Easter recital given by the Deckerville High School choir and the children's choral group. They are to be complimented upon their fine work that is a good example of well planned school activities.

It is hoped that by the end of this week the grade children will have some new books to read. Some of these were bought through the proceeds of the operetta.

The school received a fine first-aid kit from the Michigan T. B. Association as an award for this year's Christmas seal sale.

Beginning this week, the school time has been changed to 8:20 in the morning and 3:36 in the afternoon. The faculty prefers those who live in the village not to return to the schoolhouse until 12:45 at noon. They ask that the parents cooperate in carrying out this plan.

project. The geography and language classes have learned how the people in Holland make their work play and ways of living fit their land. Velma Baily brought a pair of wooden shoes to school. Lorene Robinson and Louise McKay made attractive Holland posters. Some of the primary folks did some very good free hand drawing while others modeled Dutch scenes from clay.

The seventh grade are studying Evangeline for reading. For geography, the group has given reports on Europe which were taken from "The National Geographic Magazines."

Miss E. Philpot, a county nurse, visited our school. Lorene Robinson was the only one in school who didn't have some physical defect.
We are selling seals to help the crippled children of Sanliac county.

Louise and Harry McKay and Richard Rolston have earned seven-month certificates for attending school without being absent or tardy.

We are sorry that Lillian Swarhout and Dolores Souden are ill.

The 4-H Club girls had a social meeting last week for the girls who had completed their aprons and towels. All of the girls were at the party. The members of the advisory board and the girls' mothers were invited. Most of the girls are working on their dresses.

H. C. Smith, M. Paloch, Misses L. and G. Krug, Mrs. Wm. Kitten-dorf, Jerry Peter, James McKay, and Mrs. Earl Hewitt were callers at our school in the past week.
Reporters, Lorene Robinson and Louise McKay.

CEDAR RUN SCHOOL.

Memory Gem—"A funny thing about advice is that the better it is the harder it is to take."

We have some new pupils in our school. They are Harvey and Richard Ostrander. Harvey Ostrander is in the seventh grade. Richard Ostrander is in the third grade.

We went to Ellington school on Thursday and got our second treatment for diphtheria. Dorothy Or-lowski, Phyllis Hendrick, Carl Hartley and Clara Hartley were absent from school Friday because of their arms being sore.

Second and third grades made toads and toadstools for the blackboards.

Sixth grade are going to have arithmetic workbooks.

We have some pretty pictures on the walls.
The boys are busy playing ball. The girls have a ball team, too.
Teacher, Marion Leishman.
Reporters, Shirley Beardsley and Marie Hartley.

WITHEY SCHOOL.

H. M. Spaetzell, Teacher.
Memory Gem—May we do the things we can the very best we know how.

Many children have been absent on account of sickness.

We had tests last Thursday and Friday.

The 6th and 7th grades are studying vowels in orthography.

We have sold nearly all of our Easter seals.

The boys are playing Red Light at recesses and noons.

The seventh and eighth grades are through with their history work books.

Mrs. Wm. Patch and Billy Perry were visitors this week. Visitors welcome.
We are learning "Our Presidents," memory rhyme to give as a report for Friday afternoon.
We hope the weather warms up so the Shabbona school will not get cold feet.

Lucille Wentworth is still ahead in the spelling contest.
Reporters, S. Ruth Dorland and Lucille Wentworth.

RESCUE SCHOOL.

Teacher, Catherine MacLachlan.
Memory Gem—All habits gather by unseen degrees, as brooks make rivers, rivers run to seas.—Dryden.

We are all glad to have Edna Ellis back to school.

Audrey Webster is absent on account of illness.

Mrs. Joseph Mellendorf visited our school Wednesday afternoon.

We had our Easter party Thursday afternoon. We heard the story of Good Friday and Easter. Billy Tobeau played the guitar. Eugene Longuski, Gladys Longuski and Frederick Britt played mouth organs. Gladys and Florence Longuski and Jack Fay sang.

Our spelling contest ended Friday. The winners were: Gladys and Florence Longuski, Marguerite Cummins, Marie Martin, Justus Ashmore, Elinore Longuski and Melvin Martin.

We have two new pupils, Bessie and Agnes Glasby.

SAND VALLEY SCHOOL.

Eva Marble, Teacher.

Margaret Marble visited school Monday and Jackie Marble visited school Tuesday.

We drew pussywillows Wednesday for art work.

We are coloring health posters. The fourth grade acted "The Elves and the Shoemaker."

We have a beautiful bouquet of pussywillows.

We did not have any school last week because of the CWA work on our schoolhouse. They built a large cupboard, shingled the roof and put new siding on the building. The Cadillac won the contest for the month.

The eighth graders are through their history book and are busily reviewing.

June Knowland and Betty Oden-berg spent Thursday evening with Mrs. Marble. They attended the Mother Goose play given at the high school.

Reporter, Ralph Robinson.

McCONNELL SCHOOL.

We thank Mr. Harris for the pencils and blotters he gave us advertising an insurance company of which he is agent.

Tuesday, March 27, Mrs. Marble, her son, Jack, Grace Harrison, Beatrice Langworthy and Elizabeth Toht visited our school. Mrs. King visited us in the afternoon.

We have two new pupils. They are Stella and Harry Kolton and they are in the 6th and 1st grades respectively.

Virginia Hartwick and Elaine Klinkman are very busy studying words for the Sanliac county spelling bee.

Our visitors on Monday were Mrs. Klinkman, her small son, Richard, Mrs. Seeger and Rhea Seeger.

The eighth grade is working on general review in arithmetic.
Teacher, Vera Flint.
Reporter, Elaine Klinkman.

Heated Water Freezes Quickest

Water which has previously been heated will freeze a little more rapidly than water which has not, if both are of the same temperature when placed under the same freezing conditions. This is because water which has once been heated has lost a large percentage of the air. For the same reason, water which has been heated will freeze more solidly.

"Terminological Inexactitude"

To attribute the term "terminological inexactitude" to a political opponent is a mild way of saying he is guilty of an untruth. An inexactitude is an inaccuracy or want of precision; terminology has to do with the special or technical terms or words used in a business, art, science or the like.

'Little Stories for Bedtime' by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER LEARNS OLD MOTHER NATURE KNOWS BEST

PETER RABBIT sat under his favorite old Bramble Bush in the middle of the Old Briar Patch, and Peter wasn't altogether happy. No, sir, he wasn't as happy as he should have been. You see, he was feeling rather dissatisfied, it seemed to him that everybody had more than he. At least, that is what he tried to make himself believe. He wanted to believe it, and you know you can make yourself believe almost anything if you want to bad enough.

Peter was waiting for Nimbleheels, the Jumping Mouse, to return. Nimbleheels hadn't been at all fair. I was taught when I was little that she knows best, but I don't believe it. I certainly do not. I would be ever so much better off if I had a couple of nice handy pockets."

Just then Nimbleheels returned with a pocketful of seeds which he emptied in a little pile and at once began to eat. "What kind of seeds are those?" asked Peter.

"Some grass seeds, but mostly weed seeds," replied Nimbleheels. "Won't you have a couple?"

Peter turned his head to hide a smile. "No, I thank you," he replied politely. "I am not very fond of seeds. My teeth are not made for them. I like green food such as sweet clover, grass and vegetables, when I can get them in Farmer Brown's garden." Inside he was laughing at the offer of a couple of seeds, and thinking that it would take all Nimbleheels had brought to make even a good taste.

"You were quite right when you called those pockets handy," said Peter. "I wouldn't mind having a couple myself. I suppose you can carry a whole dinner in them."

Nimbleheels nodded. "They will hold a lot of seeds," said he, "more than I can eat at one time. But I don't think you would have much use for pockets in your cheeks, Peter."

"Why haven't I, just as much as you?" demanded Peter indignantly.

The little bright beady eyes of Nimbleheels twinkled and snapped, but he didn't even smile as he said: "From what I have seen of you, Peter, your stomach is bigger than any two pockets in your cheeks could possibly be. Besides, the kind of food you eat couldn't be put in a pocket very well. I rather think you'll find, if you think it over, that Old Mother Nature knows best."

Peter pulled his whiskers thoughtfully. He remembered what a lot of sweet clover he could eat at one meal, and then tried to imagine crowding it into a couple of pockets in his cheeks. The idea made him laugh right out.

"You are right, Nimbleheels," he cried. "There isn't the least doubt about it. Mother Nature does know best. She certainly does."

"What Kind of Seeds Are Those?" Asked Peter.

Nimbleheels had gone to search for a pocketful of seeds. It was finding out that little Nimbleheels has a pair of handy pockets in his cheeks that had made foolish Peter dissatisfied.

"Old Mother Nature isn't at all fair," muttered Peter. "Why didn't she give me pockets? Why should she have to give Striped Chipmunk and this little snip of a Mouse pockets and not me?" Peter quite forgot that he was not the only one without pockets. You see, he was thinking only of himself.

"What is good for one is good for another," he continued, still talking to himself. "I'd like to go out and fill a couple of pockets and then come home and eat in peace. Nothing would be nicer. No, sir. Old

Speedy SERVICE

Expert SERVICE

AND YOU'LL FIND THAT "STANDARD-SERVICED CARS LAST LONGER"

YOU don't have to be a large purchaser... You don't have to be a regular customer... You don't have to be at the wheel of a high priced car, in order to get fast action and thorough, expert attention from a Standard Servisman. He's there to be courteously helpful to you when you drive in. And he's trained to be skillfully helpful, too.

Here are a few of the many attentions he gives your car—things that add a definite plus value to the good motor fuel and oil he may sell you—things that make Standard serviced cars last longer:

- Windshield and rear window wiped clean for clear vision (it's done in a jiffy).
- Radiator filled, as needed, with fresh, clean water.
- Oil level checked for safety (he'll not try to sell you more than you actually need).
- Mechanism under the hood quickly inspected (he warns you if anything's out of order).
- Battery checked if desired (he adds certified water if needed).
- Tires quickly inspected (he inflates them accurately to proper pressure all 'round).

That's standard service where you see the familiar Standard Oil sign. Make use of it—you're welcome to it.

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries

by taking this advice!

Can constipation be safely relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as in the case of mineral drugs.

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. The dose can be measured, and the action controlled. Pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like Syrup Pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

Mary was silent during the rest of the ride. Her mind was busy...

"You say there is no hotel?" Mary came back to earth to ask.

"Nope."

"Nor rooming house? Perhaps some one would take a boarder?"

"Nope. Don't know of no one."

But he stopped the car before a wretched-looking unpainted house.

"Go in here. Miss Leigh can help you if anyone can. She helps every one. Makes it her business—lookin' out for folks. One of the engineers' wives."

"In—here?" Mary couldn't keep the dismay out of her voice.

"Ain't many houses like mine in town." Hank Johnson set Mary's baggage down by the dilapidated gate.

"How you goin' to get back and forth to work?"

"I'll have to see," soberly. "How much do I owe you, Mr. Johnson?"

He lumbered into his car. "I'll send my bill." He started the engine, released his brakes. "Tain't nothin'," he flung back at her as he rolled down the hill. "And I'll take you back and forth. But I'll charge you a plenty."

Mary looked down at the bill he had refused; looked at his departing car; smiled suddenly, wisely, but with a flooding of her eyes.

A person whose god was money? No. This was the sort of person Hank Johnson was. Something about him inconspicuously reminded her of her father: his surreptitious charity, it would be.

She climbed up the rough slope into the yard. Before she reached the house the door was flung open hospitably. A young woman stood in the doorway, surrounded by stepping stones of children.

A gay and gallant young woman with a lilting voice and a laugh that ran down into the brown depths of her eyes like sunshine into a pool.

"Good morning!" she called. "Are you somebody's wife?"

"No." Mary laughed with instant friendliness for this girl. "I'm somebody myself—if by somebody you mean one of these 'halfalutin' engineers."

"You!" Two outstretched hands pulled Mary inside the house. "You—an engineer! This is the most romantic thing I know! You're going to work here?"

"I wish I knew!" Mary made a grimace. "I wasn't exactly popular with the chief. I think he's planning to make quick work of me."

"Don't—my husband—will help you. And you'll adore him! Don," laughing preening herself, "is the embodiment of all the heroic things you think of when you hear the word engineer. You know—service—full value—progress. Those are the things he thinks in. Money—pouf!"

"I know I shall adore him," Mary prophesied promptly. "And I almost adore Hank Johnson for plotting me to you."

"He needs some one to love him," June grinned. "Maybe that would make him human. Worth three hundred thousand, and never spending a cent on anyone but himself! And if ever there was a town in need of a public-hearted citizen, Foggy Gulch is it! It isn't so bad for the grown-ups. But the poor children! Mediocre schools—the three R's, and no play. If some one could pry the affluent citizen loose from enough for even a swimming hole, it would be to rejoice."

Mary's eyes glistened. "Be rather fun to try, wouldn't it?" But she was to call it by a different name upon a later day.

Without obviously looking at it, she was conscious of the wretched house. And here was this woman beside her, blooming like a rose in an alley. Evidently money was not her god, either.

"Don't be upset by my house," laughed June Leigh. "It's the worst in town, really, the only one left when we came. Besides, all our money has gone into babies instead of over-stuffed furniture. But we're satisfied with our investment, aren't we, Junior, and Kay and Nancy?" as she presented the stepping stones, beaming little images of herself.

"And here, in here, neglected all this time, God love him! Is our baby, Jimmie."

She led the way to an adjoining room where six cots were lined up like hospital beds. Jimmy, a curly-headed sprite of two, sat in the family wash tub, industriously baling himself out by spooning the water from it to the floor.

"I won't stay to bother you," said Mary. "Mr. Johnson said perhaps you would know of some place where I could get a room."

Happening to Glance at the Bed, Her Hand Went Over Her Mouth to Check Her Outcry.

"Of course I do, though I can't think just now where it is. I will later. In the meantime, you're having lunch with us."

Lunch was a haphazard, merry meal. Life in this house, Mary gathered, was a merry haphazard life. Where a better illustration that money wasn't everything? Brom-die? Stock consolation of the poor? Why, money wasn't anything here! Yet Mary never had felt so happily entertained where covers were laid in pompous dining rooms with candleabra and shining silver, sparkling glass and fragile china, as she did at this table with its oilcloth lunch set, odds and ends of china, meager silver, and plain food.

"Run down, Kay," said June after lunch, "and tell all the girls to come up for the afternoon. We'll have a party for Miss Brown." And shortly little groups of engineers' wives were making their way up the dusty street.

They greeted Mary warmly. She was one of them instantly. A great sense of satisfaction swept her. She was more than realizing her dreams. She was starting at the bottom, but not in isolation and loneliness. She would be with people of identical ideals.

She studied the girls interestedly amid the chatter. Lucretia Dorsey, wife of the engineer to whom Mary was to report tomorrow. Lucretia, as methodical and orderly and efficient as June Leigh was the opposite, the stay of them all, Mary gathered. Claribel Moore, vital, fun-loving product of the Hawaiian islands, as young as Mary, wedded to a fledgling engineer, playing at house-keeping and calling it a "go'geous lark!" Helen Rich, older, the easy-going wife of the horticulture expert, speaking casually of "when we lose our jobs."

"One of the exigencies of the profession, Hilt, says," Lucretia explained. "Projects are always being finished—or petering out."

"And—with a plunger at the helm of this one!"

"What do you all think of Mr. Craig?" Mary probed.

"A dreamer!"

"A golden-voiced crook!"

"A slicker!"

"A business man. Watch him swing this thing!"

"A da'hn good sport! We should worry about his ethics. He's the life of the party!"

"He's an idealist," June Leigh contributed the final word, "who has the courage of his convictions. Some day you'll all eat your scoffing words."

Some one laughed at her. "He has about as much chance of ever putting his house in order as you have, June!"

"Speaking of houses," said Mary, "reminds me that I must find a room to cover my head before night."

They discussed possibilities while they had tea.

"Well," Mary set down her cup decisively. "It resolves itself into this. There is one vacant room for rent in town. I'll take it."

A little later her bags were loaded upon Junior Leigh's little red wagon, Kay was despatched to town with a trunk check, and Mary Brown said good-by to Mrs. Leigh and picked her way through the long dusty grass to a squat little house next door.

She was admitted by a slatternly girl in her teens. "Sure, I guess you can have it. Ma's sick. In here is the room. Just make yourself at home."

She went out, and Mary dropped upon the lone chair—a straight one with a broken cane seat and gave release to the gasp she had smothered upon entering. Make herself at home! Why, all at once, June Leigh's house loomed a palace. It had clear bare floors, air, light. Here there was a carpet, dingy, worn, filled with the dust and dirt and grease of years. There was an iron bedstead with a little green paint adhering in spots, a sway-backed mattress, a filthy spread.

The only place in town! And she had to live in it. She dropped onto the edge of the chair, that being all there was to the chair, and laughed ironically. This was starting in at the bottom!

She wouldn't think about it! She'd go right to sleep and forget her silly squeamishness. She had almost dropped off when she found herself brought suddenly bolt upright. She gritted her teeth. Wriggled. Tossed.

There were a million humps in the bed.

Presently she found herself scratching. Itching all over! A fine state of nerves she was working herself into!

She arose at last, and lighted the lamp. She would read and calm herself.

Happening to glance at the bed, her hand went over her mouth to check her outcry. She grabbed an envelope from her escritoire, used it to effect a pursuit and capture, sealed it, folded it many times, and pinned it, the more securely to fasten it together.

She took off her pajamas and permanently abandoned them on the bed, donned a fresh suit, put on her shoes and stockings, a sweater and bathrobe. She gathered up newspapers and her coat. Then she raised a window and jumped out.

In the shade of a nearby tree she spread out newspapers for a bed, folded up her coat for a pillow, and stretched herself out on earth that had baked through six months of heat and drought.

There in time the daughter of the rich David Brown fell asleep like an ordinary little hobo.

Lesson for April 15

JESUS TEACHING FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:15-35. GOLDEN TEXT—And forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.—Matt. 6:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Helps Peter With a Hard Question.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Lesson in Kindly Conduct.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Practice Forgiveness?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What is True Forgiveness?

This lesson touches a most vital subject, a most practical one for our everyday lives. We are always surrounded by wicked men. Ill-treatment we shall most surely receive, for all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution (II Tim. 3:12).

I. How to Gain an Erring Brother (vv. 15-20).

To bring a sinning brother to a knowledge of his sin and restore him to fellowship with his Lord and to fellowship with the saints is to gain him. Therefore the transcendent aim should be to win him. The method to be used is

1. Personal (v. 15). Go and tell him his fault alone. The aim in this personal effort is not to charge him with sin but to bring him to see his sin.

2. The help of a comrade (v. 16). "Take with thee one or two more." The presence of one or two Christian brethren helps in making known his fault.

3. Tell it to the church (v. 17). Sometimes the church can accomplish that which the individual and the one or two brethren fail to do.

4. The binding authority of the church's decision (vv. 18-20). When the church follows the instruction of the Lord, gathers in the name of Jesus Christ and is actuated by the Holy Spirit, its decisions are final.

II. The Limit of Forgiveness (vv. 21, 22).

1. Peter's question (v. 21). From Christ's teachings as to the efforts to bring about reconciliation in case of offenses between brethren, he knew that the spirit of forgiveness would be required. The rabbin taught that one, two, or even three offenses should be forgiven, but the fourth should be punished. Peter, disposed to be gracious, inquired, "Till seven times?" showing his readiness to forgive his brethren not three times merely but twice three times and a little over.

2. Jesus' answer (v. 22). This answer astonished Peter. Jesus said "not till seven times but until seventy times seven," showing that willingness to forgive should be practically limitless. The Christian should be so filled with the love of Christ that he will forgive whenever being called upon to do so.

3. Christ's principle of forgiveness (vv. 23-35). This principle is illustrated by the story of the two creditors.

a. The gracious creditor (vv. 23-27). The king in this parable represents God. The servant who is greatly in debt represents the sinner—any sinner, every sinner, you and me. We were hopelessly in debt to God. Ten million talents are equal to about $12,000,000. To meet this obligation would be an utter impossibility. This man's plea for time, promising to pay all, resembles man's vain imaginations that he can pay his debt to God; that by his future good works he can atone for his past grievous sins. The law says, "Pay all," but Christ forgives all. By the justice of God's law we are hopelessly doomed. By the grace of God we are freely pardoned.

b. The cruel creditor (vv. 28-35). The man who was forgiven so much found the man who owed him a small sum, about $17. He shut his ears to the man's entreaty to be patient with him, flew at his throat, and cruelly put him into prison. The great mercy shown him did not touch his heart, so he refused to be merciful. Every one who is unforgiving shows that the forgiveness of God in Jesus Christ has not been experienced. Being set free from so great a debt as our sins against God, we should make God's act of unlimited forgiveness toward us a standard of unlimited forgiveness toward others. In dealing with others we should always keep before us

(1) That we constantly need the forgiveness of God. When we pray, "forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," let us be sure that we have put away all thought of things held against others.

(2) There is a day of judgment coming, and at that day we shall be treated as we treat others. No mercy will be shown to those who have not shown mercy. God's action toward us should be the standard of our action toward others.

We, Too, Can Forgive

In the power of his fellowship we cease to be contemptible. By the heart of his great love for us we can be warmed into the love for our poor brethren. In the might of his forgiveness we, too, can forgive.

How It Began

The term "grass widow" is said to have originated among the Anglo-Indians about the middle of the Nineteenth century, from the practice of European husbands residing in India, sending their wives and children to the hills during the hot season. In this section the grass is plentiful. A more plausible suggestion is that it arose in America during the gold rush in California; a man not infrequently put his wife and children out to board, while he went to the diggings. This he called, "putting his wife to grass" as a horse is put to grass when not in use for work.

Deaths

E. A. Geitgey.
Funeral services for E. A. Geitgey were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the A. McPhail home. Rev. Charles Bayless, pastor of the Cass City Methodist church, officiated and burial was in Elkland cemetery.

E. A. Geitgey was born May 25, 1853, in Wauseon, Ohio, and came to Michigan when a boy. He married Miss Katherine Muzzy on December 2, 1876, and they made their home in Cass City for forty-one years where Mr. Geitgey was employed as a section hand for the P. O. & N. railway for many years. Six years ago they moved to Detroit to be near their children because of Mr. Geitgey's failing health. Since that time, they have lived in that city. He has been quite poorly for some time and has been in a wheel chair since last summer. He seemed as well as usual when he retired Wednesday evening. Early Thursday morning, his daughter, Mrs. Phelps, with whom he and Mrs. Geitgey were living, went to his room upon hearing an unusual sound and found him lying upon the floor. He passed away a few hours later on Thursday, April 5, just sixteen years to the day from the time his son, Claud, died.

He leaves beside his wife, one son and four daughters, Samuel Geitgey and Mrs. F. A. Reid (Grace) of Royal Oak; Mrs. A. L. Anderson (Maud) and Mrs. Chas. Phelps (Belle) of Detroit; Mrs. L.

C. May (Dorothy) of Chicago; also three sisters, Mrs. M. C. Beach of Tecumseh, Mrs. Belle Bender of Pittsford, Mrs. Lillian Koshier of Toledo, Ohio; and seven grandchildren.

Geo. A. Wintersteen.
George A. Wintersteen, 60, died Saturday morning, April 7, at his home, one-half mile south of Cass City after being confined to his bed ten days by illness. He has been poorly for the last two years.

George Wintersteen was born on Jan. 18, 1874, in Defiance, O., and was united in marriage with Miss Mary Flint 27 years ago. In 1907, they moved to a farm southeast of town and three years later came to Cass City where he was employed as a salesman for the McNess Company.

Mrs. Wintersteen passed away Dec. 25, 1931, and on April 7, 1932, he married Mrs. Addie Rinard Coulter of Cass City.

Funeral services for Mr. Wintersteen were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the local Baptist church. Rev. W. R. Curtis officiated and burial was in Novesta cemetery.

He leaves beside his wife, an adopted daughter, Mrs. Florence Mangan, of Detroit; three stepchildren, at home; and one grandson.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mr. Wintersteen were Mrs. Meisster of Kinsman, Ohio, Mrs. Martin of Detroit, Miss Mayme Rinard of Grand Rapids, Raymond Rinard of Marlette, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Lyons of Ferndale, and Mrs. Frank Shoemaker of Romeo.

John Dasho.
Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Schewang Catholic church for John Dasho, 41, who passed away Thursday, April 5, at his home southwest of Cass City. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Dasho was injured last summer while in the employ of the Cass City Sand and Gravel Company and has been ill since then.

He is survived by wife and eight children, Anna, Barbara and Kafie of Detroit, and five children at home. He also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dasho, two sisters, Mrs. Henry Walters and Mrs. Fred Settmacher of Wyandotte; three brothers, Max of Wyandotte, Steve of Elkton and Joe of Cass City.

John B. Medcalf.
Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. on Friday for John B. Medcalf, from the Ellington church. Rev. Lincoln Ostrander officiated and interment was in Ellington cemetery. The Odd Fellow Lodge had charge of the service at the grave.

John Medcalf, one of the oldest pioneers of Ellington, was born on August 12, 1850, near Ann Arbor. When he was four years of age, he moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Medcalf, to Ellington. The journey was made in a one-horse wagon. Since that time, he has made his home in Ellington.

At the age of 20, he was united in marriage with Miss Eleanor Burse. In 1877, they moved to the farm where they spent the remainder of their lives. Mrs. Medcalf passed away in 1930 and Mr. Medcalf has lived alone since, doing his own work.

He has been poorly all winter but was only confined to his bed two weeks and died Wednesday noon, April 4.

He is survived by two daughters and four sons, Mrs. D. E. Turner of Cass City, Mrs. Stanley Turner and Lee Medcalf of Fairgrove, J. W. Medcalf of Caro, A. C. Medcalf of Ellington, and Pierre Medcalf of Detroit.

A number from Cass City attended the funeral service.

Concluded from first page. This, and in this he reflects the attitude of the Moody school, in which as many as thirteen denominations have been represented on the faculty at one time.

At the institute he instructs large classes in English Bible, Homiletic, Modern Apologetics and Systematic Theology. He is also much in demand for addresses at Bible conferences in many parts of the country.

Observers have noted Dr. Fitzwater's broad scholarship in his expositions of the weekly Sunday school lessons, which are a regular feature of this paper. Turn to the lesson in this issue and see what it offers. Tell your friends about it, so they may join this great class, if they are not now members.
