John Finn Drowns in Phelps Lake

John Finn, who was employed on the farm of Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch, near Mayville, was drowned in Phelps Lake Saturday afternoon, May 5, about 3:35 o'clock. He was working in a field with Clayton Culbert and at two o'clock, the two decided to walk over to the lake and go bathing.

John Finn walked out into water too deep, and being unable to swim, disappeared underneath the surface of the water. Culbert ran to the nearest help and then notified the office of Sheriff Kirk. The body was recovered about 6:30 p. m. Coroner Charles N. Race gave the verdict that death was due to accidental drowning.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bailey of Vassar were guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bailey, over the week-end.

DENTAL WORK EXCHANGED FOR BEANS AT $3.00 CWT.

Dr. P. A. Schenck of Cass City offers $3.00 a hundred for Michigan pea beans in exchange for all classes of dental work or old accounts. Beans may be delivered at either elevator at Cass City.—Advertisement.

ALLEN-FISCHER

St. Agatha's rectory was the scene of a quiet wedding ceremony Tuesday evening, when Miss Betty Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fischer, of Owendale, and Claude Allen of Owendale spoke their marriage vows before the Rev. Fr. McCullough of Gageton.

The bride wore an attractive suit of tan wool with matching accessories. A shoulder bouquet of lilies of the valley and sweet-peas complemented her costume.

Mrs. M. F. DeHart and Gerald Fischer, brother of the bride, were the attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen will make their home in Owendale with Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fischer, for the present.

4 TONS SUGAR USED DAILY AT CONDENSERY

Milk Receipts Are Increasing 1,000 Lbs. Daily; Peak Comes June 16.

The receipt of milk at the plant of the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., here shows an increase of 1,000 pounds daily and will probably continue to do so until June 16 when the peak will be reached in milk production. Each year June 16 is the approximate date when the peak is reached and it comes within three days before or after that date.

Tuesday, 8,300 pounds of sugar were used in the manufacture of condensed milk at the local plant. The amount of sugar used daily will gradually increase until it will be approximately 10,000 pounds when peak production of milk is reached the middle of June. Beet sugar manufactured in Michigan is used at the Cass City plant.

Fred Brown to Join Chesaning Staff

Fred Brown, who graduates from the Central State Teachers' College at Mt. Pleasant this spring, has accepted a position as athletic director in the Chesaning High School for next year. He is the son of Mrs. Bertha Brown and graduated from the Cass City High School in 1929.

Miss Verda Zuschnitt, a former instructor in the Cass City School, will join the Chesaning staff as a commercial teacher next fall. L. D. Randall, superintendent at Chesaning, held a similar position at Cass City a year ago.

Passing of Early Pioneer of Greenleaf

Mrs. John Summerville passed away Tuesday afternoon, May 8, at her home after an illness of four months.

Mary Janette Maxwell was born November 28, 1859, in Jarvis, Ontario, and in 1875 came to Greenleaf township. She was united in marriage with John Summerville, February 8, 1877, and they made their home on a farm 1½ miles north of Cumber where they lived until December, 1920, when they moved to Cass City and made their home in the house where Mrs. Summerville passed away.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon from the home. Rev. Paul J. Allured, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, officiated and interment was in Elkland cemetery.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Jennie Freeman of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Ethel Farr, of Detroit; four brothers and one sister, Jacob Maxwell of Gifford, William Maxwell of Greshen, Oregon, John and James Jackson of Wickware, Mrs. Alice Stouffer of Port Huron, and nine grandchildren.

County 4-H Club Council of Ten Members Is Named to Strengthen Program

Upon response to invitations issued several days ago, approximately 50 County 4-H Club leaders, members and parents met at the Courthouse for the purpose of nominating a County 4-H Club Council of ten members to assist County Agricultural Agent E. L. Hammond in making plans for a better County 4-H club organization. In strengthening the county organization it is the hope of the 4-H Club leaders that plans may be perfected for a summer 4-H Club camp for Tuscola county, for the Achievement Day and for the selection of State 4-H Club delegates from Tuscola county.

At this meeting also, details were discussed relative to the

CASS CITY LOSES OLDEST RESIDENT

Funeral of Mrs. Hugh McColl Will Be Held Here on Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. Hugh McColl, the oldest resident of Cass City, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Landon, Wednesday evening, May 9, at the age of 93 years. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church of which she was a member for many years, on Sunday at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. McColl accomplished the rare and difficult task of growing old gracefully and happily. She entered the ranks of the octogenarians of Cass City 13 years ago. In her 93rd year, she was up each day and seldom missed coming down stairs in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Landon, to pass the day. She enjoyed unusually good health until two weeks ago.

Mrs. McColl, a pioneer of Sanilac county, was born in Alboro township, near New Glasgow, Ont., on Sept. 5, 1840. Her parents came to Canada from Scotland in the early part of the eighteenth century.

She was married to Hugh McColl in 1865 and lived at Chatham, Ont. In the spring of 1881, they came to Michigan and purchased 200 acres of land in Greenleaf township. They lived in a shanty until a log cabin was built. This log cabin still stands on the old homestead.

In 1899, the family moved to Cass City where Mr. McColl conducted a feed barn for several years. He passed away in 1917. Until a few years ago, Mrs. McColl was able to keep house for herself, but in late years has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Landon.

She leaves five children, D. H. McColl of New Greenleaf, Dr. A. C. McColl of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. E. S. Kreiman of Saginaw, Mrs. R. A. Rich of Deckerville and Mrs. G. W. Landon of Cass City.

100 Guests at Wedding Here Sat.

Miss Gladys Lucille Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, of Cass City and Robert Hare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hare, of Colwood were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, May 5, at the Davidson home. Rev. Hare of Saginaw, brother of the groom, performed the ceremony in the presence of 100 relatives and friends.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweetpeas and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by Miss Eva Hare of Colwood, niece of the groom, who wore light green organdie and carried pink and white sweetpeas. Clinton Davidson, brother of the bride, attended Mr. Hare.

A reception and six o'clock wedding dinner followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hare left Sunday to make their home in Bay City where Mr. Hare is employed by the Watkins Company.

Minstrel Show to Boost Crippled Children's Fund

There are many rumors afloat regarding the "doings" at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, May 18, when the minstrel show sponsored by the Rotary Club for the benefit of crippled children is on the boards. These reports have not been verified by the powers that be, but the story goes that C. Wayne Price, Audley Rawson, Bruce Brown and Andrew Bigelow are among the eligible ones for the end men positions and that E. B.

County 4-H Club Council of Ten Members Is Named to Strengthen Program

securing of proposed new 4-H Club buildings on the Caro fairgrounds. A committee consisting of Russell Hill, Guy Ormes, Ben Reavey, Wilson Kirk and Henry Lane was appointed to have charge of a county live stock contest to finance the buildings.

The members of the County Council of ten have been named as follows: Live stock, Ben Reavey, Russell Hill; canning, Mrs. John Hickey, Fairgrove; Mrs. Harrison Maier, Mayville; crops, Lee Fowler, Mayville, Fritz Mantey, Fairgrove; clothing, Mrs. Maxwell Jensen, Millington; Mrs. Elwood Merrill; Reese; handicraft, Fred June, Sr., Millington, Donald Ellwanger, Caro.

"Chic" Schwaderer, as an Algerian negro, will make his first appearance as a soloist.

Another rumor is that there is trouble in camp. One member of the cast, it is said, has threatened to pull out because he will not be allowed to sing alone and was somewhat peeved when he was admonished not to sing too loud in the chorus numbers.

Another story is that Rotarians P. A. Schenck, Earl Douglas and Theron Donahue are planning to sing a trio number, one of the boisterous kind that raises the roof.

Be part of these rumors false, there is no question but that the minstrel show will be a fine one. Cass City local talent always puts on an excellent evening's performance and this promises to be no exception to that rule. An enjoyable evening is assured for those who attend with a worthy cause to receive the proceeds of the venture.

MOTHER'S DAY AT LOCAL CHURCHES

Services in Keeping with Day Will Be Observed on Sunday.

Presbyterian Church—Paul J. Allured, Minister. Sunday, May 13: Unified worship and religious instruction, 10:30 to 12:30. Mother's Day service. Appropriate special music by our vested girls' choir. Adult class topic: "Christianity and Patriotism"—Matt. 22:15-40.

SHORT HISTORIES OF 3 OCTOGENARIANS

One a Twp. Officer 49 Years; Two Ladies Were Early Settlers in Mich.

A township officer for 49 years is the record of one of Cass City's older citizens. Isaac Cragg, who has that honor, retired from the office of justice of the peace in Elkland township on July 4, 1933.

Mr. Cragg was born Dec. 24, 1849, in Reach township, Ontario, and married Miss Beatrice Ann Wells. They came to Evergreen township, Sanilac county, in 1879, where they purchased a farm and where Mrs. Cragg died in 1890. Some years later, he was united in marriage with Mrs. Myra Franks and they remained on the farm in Evergreen, adding more land from time to time, until 1910 when Mr. Cragg gave up farming and moved to Cass City.

Mrs. Cragg passed away May 22, 1930, in the home on Garfield Ave., where Mr. Cragg lived until last fall when he was persuaded to spend the winter with his daughters in Pontiac. He returned to Cass City a few weeks ago and will make his home for the present with another daughter, Mrs. Floyd Ottaway.

In the spring of 1892, Mr. Cragg Turn to page 8, please.

16 to Graduate from Gageton H. S.

By Gageton Correspondent.

The Gageton high school graduation exercises will begin on Sunday, June 10, with closing activities on June 16. This year's class consists of sixteen members, one more than the class of 1933.

The graduates are Marjorie Trudeau, Mary Burdon, Willard Comment, Douglas Comment, Margaret Glougie, Carroll Hunter, Ernest Kelly, Patrick Kehoe, William Mullin, Mary E. Mullin, Cecelia McKlovich, Helen Quinn, Vincent Walsh, Morris Wood, Elaine Williamson and Lynwood Fournier.

Of this class, Miss Margaret Glougie with a remarkable scholastic average of 2.6 will be valedictorian and Miss Helen Quinn with an average of 2.09 will be salutatorian. Both students have had remarkable standings during their high school career.

The program, as outlined for graduation week, is as follows: Sunday, June 10, baccalaureate; Monday, June 11, class night; Tuesday, June 12, Junior-Senior banquet; Wednesday, June 13, Commencement; Thursday, June 14, School picnic; Saturday, June 16, Alumni banquet.

151 ATTENDED LADIES' NIGHT OF C. C. C. C.

Noted Detroit Pastor Pleased Audience with his Address.

One hundred fifty-one attended the annual ladies' night of the Cass City Community Club at the high school auditorium Tuesday.

Following the banquet served by ladies of the Evangelical church, ten ladies representing various church societies in the community capably presented a pagant, "The New Day." Mrs. L. Bailey took the part of the mother; Miss Charlotte Warner, the daughter; Mrs. Stanley Warner, Hope of Tomorrow; Mrs. Harriet Dodge, Charity; Mrs. A. A. Ricker, Righteous Government; Mrs. M. D. Hartt, the Christian Church; Mrs. Roy Stafford, Money; Mrs. Mary Gekeler, Education; Mrs. Omar Gaspie, Peace; Mrs. Martin McKenzie, War.

Mrs. I. D. McCoy gave the "8th Hungarian Rhapsodie" by Liszt as a piano solo, effectively portraying the wanderlust of the spring season. Her encore number, "Tam O'Shanter," by George W. Warren, was a selection in the same mood, equally enjoyed by the audience.

Rev. G. A. Spittler introduced Rev. Edgar DeWitt Jones of Detroit as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Jones announced his subject as "The Best I Remember" and related in a pleasing manner his choice of the best stories, limericks and poems he recalled, the best orators and the best sermon he had heard, the most romantic episode he had witnessed and the best experience in his life. Mr. Jones' method of portrayal of these high lights was delightfully entertaining.

A questionnaire which invited suggestion for improved church conditions was passed among the men at the banquet. A summary of replies received is printed on another page of this number of the Chronicle.

The program was sponsored by the ministerial group of the club.

Sunday School Workers Meet Here May 29

The Tuscola County Council of Religious Education will hold its annual convention in Cass City Tuesday, May 29. The sessions will be held in the Baptist church here, and will continue from 10:00 a. m. until evening.

A program of subjects of immediate interest to Sunday School workers of the various participating denominations has been arranged for the morning and afternoon, with the introduction of a feature in the evening that is intended to include both church workers and public school people. This feature is to be known as a Good Will Conference of Public Education and Church Workers. It will be a supper meeting at 7:00 in the dining room of the Baptist church.

Supt. C. W. Price of Cass City and Supt. T. M. Clay of Vassar will each speak on "What Our Public Schools Are Doing in Character Education." Rev. J. Leslie French, of Caro, will speak on "The Church's Program of Character Education." There will be a round-table discussion of the whole matter, following which the conference will be concluded by an address by E. W. Halpeny, State Superintendent of the Michigan Council of Religious Education, on "Schools and Churches' Cooperating for Character Education."

All sessions of the convention are open to the public. Reservations for meals must be made in advance with Rev. W. R. Curtis, Cass City.

Toy's Address May Be Heard by Public

The last meeting of the Thumb Round Table for this school year will be held at the high school auditorium at Cass City on Thursday evening, May 17. Dinner will be served to members of the Round Table at 6:30. At eight o'clock the doors will be opened to the public. At that hour, Harry S. Toy, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, will deliver an address on the subject of "Crime."

8th Grade Exams Held on May 22

The county eighth grade examinations in Tuscola county will be held on Tuesday, May 22. The questions will be sent in a sealed package to each teacher a few days prior to the examination. Each teacher will be held responsible for conducting the examination in her own school. Only eighth graders will write the examination. Pupils who have a subject or two of the seventh grade to make up will write these subjects in addition to the eighth grade on the same day.

Arithmetic and grammar will be given in the morning; history, civics, and "The Science of Living Things" in the afternoon. The State Fair examination questions for boys will also be included and given to boys after the regular examination is completed. Boys should be urged to write this examination because it is a great honor to represent this county at the State Fair.

The eighth grade graduating exercises will be held on Friday, June 8, the same day as the county field meet.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY SECTIONS

Happenings Here and There Garnered from the Chronicle's Exchanges.

Seniors of the Caro High School have chosen Dr. Leslie J. French to give the baccalaureate address, Sunday evening, June 10. Commencement will be the following Wednesday evening. The annual J-Hop in the school auditorium will open commencement week festivities on May 29.

Prof. Wm. Lyon Phelps and Mrs. Phelps will return to Huron City the last of May to spend the summer months. Mr. Phelps will deliver the first of his Sunday afternoon addresses in the Huron City Methodist church on June 3rd.

In a questionnaire at Crosswell recently, parents voted in ratio of 16 to 12 against caps and gowns for the seniors at graduation.

Taking effect June 1st the two rural delivery mail routes out of Bay Port will be consolidated.

Ruben Frank, who is carrier on Route No. 2, will go to Fairgrove to take a route out of that town.

PLAN FOR MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM HERE

Plans are in progress for the observance of Memorial Day at Cass City on Wednesday, May 30. The Ladies' Band will furnish music for the occasion and other details of the program will be arranged by the Civic Welfare committee of the Cass City Community Club.

START WIDENING ROAD IN ELMWOOD TOWNSHIP

Workmen under the supervision of the County Road Commission have started to widen the highway and deepen the ditches on the road which runs north from the four-mile corner west of Cass City towards Gageton.

NEW ATTORNEY ADMITTED TO BAR IN TUSCOLA CO.

William Morris Quinn of Caro was admitted to practice law in the courts of the state when a motion presented by his brother, Timothy Quinn, of Caro was sanctioned in the Tuscola county circuit court on Tuesday.

The young attorney comes from a family of barristers. His grandfather, Timothy C. Quinn, and his father, William Quinn, both practiced law for many years in Tuscola county, and his brother, Timothy Quinn, began practicing in the county within the last few years.

TO CITIZENS OF CASS CITY.

Monday and Tuesday, May 14 and 15, are clean-up days. Let's clean up that back yard—and front yard, too. Place the winter's accumulation of rubbish and tin cans in neat piles at the curb or other suitable place where it can be easily loaded by the city's workmen. If you have old barrels and boxes, please place the tin cans and other small rubbish in them to facilitate loading.

And don't forget the flowers and shrubs. During the past few years there has been a growing tendency on the part of the people of Cass City to make their home surroundings more beautiful through the proper planting of flowers, trees and shrubbery. This is a commendable effort and one that might well be carried out even more vigorously than in the past.

G. W. WEST, Village President.

MANY ON CONTRACT FOR LESS CORN-HOGS

Michigan Farmers Approve Plans to Adjust Production to Needs of Consumers.

Signatures of more than 24,000 Michigan farmers have been placed on contracts to reduce their production of corn and hogs in compliance with the plans of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to Verne H. Church, statistician for Michigan.

Lenawee county has turned in the greatest number of contracts, and other leading counties are Branch, Hillsdale, Monroe, Huron, Gratiot, Ionia, Calhoun, Tuscola and Clinton. Farmers in 66 counties have signed contracts.

The exact totals for counties and state can not be given yet as the work has been completed in only 29 counties and some contracts may be refused even in those counties.

Most of the contracts involved the reduction of both corn and hogs on the same farm. In a few instances, men who could not qualify for a contract for one commodity signed for the other.

Benefit payments to be made for the reduction in hogs will total approximately $2,800,000 and an additional $1,500,000 will be paid for the decrease in corn acreage. These are the sums due but the local expenses will be paid from them so the farmers will receive slightly less.

No payments are made on either contract until the contracts have been approved in Washington. The first Michigan contracts, those from Schoolcraft county, will be sent to Washington immediately.

Early Resident of Grant Died Sunday

Funeral services for James W. Brackenbury were held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Paul J. Allured officiating. Burial was in the Williamson cemetery in Grant township.

James W. Brackenbury was born in Elgin county, Ontario, July 16, 1858. He was the son of Joseph Sellers Brackenbury and Amanda Parker Brackenbury.

Mr. Brackenbury moved to Michigan at the age of five. In 1866, the family settled in Grant township, Huron county. This was a homestead in section seven of Grant township.

About 1876, he was united in marriage with Eva Lyons. During the years of 1884 and 1885 they conducted a store at Wolfton. Mrs. Brackenbury died leaving one daughter, Claudia. She passed away some years later.

William Green Says Labor Must Force 30-Hour Week; Gen. Johnson and Business Leaders Discuss Future of the NRA.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

NOTICE is served on the nation that the 30-hour work week will be forced on industry, by organized labor by the use of widespread strikes, if necessary. This is the dictum of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and it causes consternation in the administration as well as grave alarm in the country generally. Green, in his May day address to workers, says the New Deal has failed to remedy the unemployment situation, since there are still more than ten millions without jobs. The 30-hour week, he says, is the only remedy available since if all industries not yet under codes are brought under them, the resulting re-employment will not give work to these millions.

Just before Green issued this statement, President Roosevelt had apparently declined to support the Connelly bill legislating a 30-hour week for all industry; and General Johnson has recently abandoned as not feasible the plan for forcing a 10 per cent reduction in working hours.

REPRESENTATIVE BERTRAND SNELL of New York, minority leader in the house, says the period of emergency is over, so he and the rest of the Republican leaders feel free now to demand that the emergency laws and bureaus be dispensed with. An amazing phase of the controversy over the New Deal thus comes to light. The opponents of the administration virtually concede that President Roosevelt and his advisers have won their fight against the depression and declare that normal conditions have been restored or are at hand. But the President and the other New Dealers deny that the battle is over and assert that their recovery measures must be continued in force. At the same time they insist that they are not seeking to change the American system to state socialism, collectivism, communism, fascism, and that what they are accomplishing is "evolution, not revolution."

Thus a most peculiar situation in politics is created, and the man in the street is waiting interestedly to see how it will be handled in the coming campaign.

LEADERS of business from all parts of the country gathered in Washington for the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and naturally the topic for discussion was the NRA, concerning which varying views were offered. President Henry I. Harriman declared that industry is willing to accept the President's suggestion of a permanent NRA if modifications and restrictions are placed on the broad authority granted Mr. Roosevelt during the emergency last year.

On the other hand, Silas H. Strawn, former head of the chamber, attacked what he termed the abandonment of a scheme of government which has made "us happier and more prosperous than any other nation." He called for a three-way action by Mr. Roosevelt:

Balancing of all governmental budgets, a definite announcement that there will be no more requests for emergency legislation and "no more tinkering with the dollar," and a revision of the securities act and proposed stock-exchange legislation. At a dinner Gen. Hugh S. Johnson was the chief guest and after his address he submitted to an inquisition on the present and prospective policies of the NRA. Asked directly if the principles embodied in the recovery act were to be permanent, he replied:

"If there has been any good demonstrated by the recovery act, it will live and it ought to live; if there has been any bad it will die and it ought to die."

Admitting that there has been a lapse in public interest and enthusiasm, the general said a new campaign to make the nation Blue Eagle conscious was being mapped. He also admitted that the controversy between labor and industry is becoming more acute. He expressed the opinion that the ideal relationship between labor and management had been worked out in the bituminous coal industry.

Generally, the member of the chamber of commerce agreed that the first year under the NRA had brought economic improvement. Some of their suggestions for speeding the recovery program were:

Co-ordination of all land, water, and air transportation under a federal commission and a cessation of federal subsidies for inland waterways.

Another $2,000,000,000 for public works in order to help the lagging heavy industries.

Relaxation of the present rigid security act and a softening of the pending stock exchange bill.

Approval by congress of the President's tariff bargaining plans as a means to reviving foreign trade.

Abandonment by the administration of its demand that industry cut its working hours 10 per cent and raise its pay rolls 10 per cent.

Control of bituminous coal production by a system of quotas and penalty taxes on overproduction.

JUST a few hours before General Johnson had spoken in high praise of the bituminous coal settlement, Federal District Judge Charles I. Dawson in Louisville held unconstitutional the code arranged for that industry, as applied to local business, and granted a temporary injunction restraining the government from forcing the code upon unwilling operators in western Kentucky.

The operators, who claim to have $50,000,000 invested in the mines, chiefly in Hopkins, Muhlenberg, Union and Webster counties, protested vigorously when the code recently was formulated providing for $4.60 a day for seven hours work. Prior to that the scale was $4 for eight hours work. Most of their mines were shut down more than a month ago.

WHEN the senate committee on privileges and elections opened the hearings on the demands that Senators Huey P. Long and his political follower, John H. Overton of Louisiana be deprived of their seats, the political groups that have been seeking especially to oust the "kingfish" remained in the background and left it to the women of Louisiana to take the lead in the fight. These women are headed by Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, who has been indefatigable in the campaign against Long and his crew.

The women were represented as counsel by Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, wartime acting judge advocate general, who has pending against Long a suit for libel. His opening statement dispelled the idea that Long's opponents would be satisfied to let Overton remain in the senate if the "kingfish" were thrown out.

"We expect to prove," said General Ansell, "the charge that there was fraud in the 1932 Louisiana primaries sufficient to vitiate the election of Senator Overton; that Senator Overton was an active perpetrator of that fraud; that Senators Overton and Long were designers and instigators of that fraud."

WILLIAM H. WOODIN, who was President Roosevelt's first secretary of the treasury, has passed away, succumbing to the throat affection that forced his resignation from the cabinet last December. In his death the country loses a business man of the highest type and a gentleman who had the respect and affection of all who knew him. He became president of the American Car and Foundry company in 1916, and also was president of the American Locomotive company. His interests were varied, for he was musician, composer, art lover and student of government as well as leader in industry. He was long a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt and, though a Republican, was one of the first selections for the President's cabinet and worked hard so long as his health permitted.

EXACTLY 36 years from the day Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila bay, the legislature of the Philippines accepted the new offer of the United States for the independence of the islands as embodied in the Tydings-McDuffie act.

Under the terms of the measure, the Filipinos will obtain complete independence in 1945. During the intervening years a commonwealth government, to be set up probably next year, will govern the islands.

With acceptance of the act the Filipinos ceased to be nationals of the United States and became subject to the rigid immigration laws. Only 50 may enter this country yearly. The status of an estimated 60,000 Filipinos in the United States as well as the international status of the entire island population during the transition period remains in doubt, due to the wording of the measure.

MAJORITY and minority reports of the investigation into Dr. William A. Wirt's "red plot" stories were made to the house, and they were just what had been expected. The majority of the committee held that Wirt's charges were untrue and that his companions at the famous dinner party did not make the statements he had attributed to them. Representatives McGugin and Lehlbach, the Republican minority members of the committee, characterized the investigation as a "reputation of all precedents" and indicating of intentions to "suppress all information" which might directly involve the brain trust.

THE senate by acclamation accepted the conference report on the 1934 revenue measure, which provides for an increase in taxes of $417,000,000. The Couzens amendment for a 10 per cent increase in income tax, which the house rejected, was cut out.

WHEN the administration's bill for reduction of cotton production was under consideration its opponents argued in vain that it would work grievous injustice to thousands of tenant farmers and "croppers" in the South. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace now finds this prediction coming from Dr. Calvin B. Hooker of Duke university whom he requested to make an investigation. Mr. Wallace now plans the establishment of a compliance board to inquire into complaints of tenants. At the same time the enforcement of cotton reduction contracts will be tightened to prevent farm owners from ousting tenant farmers and farm workers because of the reduced amount of production.

SPEAKING to about two million Germans at the Tempelhof airport outside of Berlin, Chancellor Hitler defiantly denied Germany's war guilt and declared the reich has been a victim of the war. He warned the world again that Germany no longer was willing to accept discrimination against her by the former allied powers, and declared that day of "spineless submission" was at an end.

"DEAD" for more than a year, the Austrian parliament came to life long enough to approve, by a vote of 74 to 2, the new Constitution and a mass of laws decreed by Chancellor Dollfuss since March 8, 1933. The new Constitution abolishes parliaments and also does away with trial by jury.

JUST before midnight of May 6, George V began the twenty-fifth year of his reign as king of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the sea and emperor of India. By his own choice the anniversary was not observed by special ceremonies, but preparations are already under way for a celebration of his silver jubilee in 1935 that will rival that of Queen Victoria's golden jubilee in 1887. In his 24 years on the throne George has earned the high esteem of the world and has proved himself a real leader and, in the minds of the British, all that a king should be. He is democratic, human and progressive and a genuine sportsman, but upholds with dignity the traditions of the court.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CUMMINGS feels that the forces of the Department of Justice are inadequate to cope with the gangsters, and will ask congress for about $2,000,000 in excess of the $28,700,778 authorized the department for the fiscal year 1935. Next year's appropriation is the lowest granted the Justice department since the war.

With the additional money the attorney general contemplates purchasing for the division's agents a fleet of high-powered automobiles, a few armored cars and ample guns and ammunition. Likewise the force of investigators will be added to, and there is a possibility that the division's 24 field offices will be increased.

FEDERAL agents believe they have uncovered a great ring of crooks for the handling of money derived from kidnappings, bank robberies and swindles. They already have arrested a number of men and are hurrying to get others before they are put out of the way by members of the gang, as has been done before. The ring, it is said, has been operating in Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Kansas City and other cities. One of the first men taken into custody was John J. McLaughlin, formerly a state legislator and a political boss in Chicago, suspected of being a leader in the disposal of the "hot money." The specific charge against him is conspiracy in the kidnaping of Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker, for whose release a ransom of $200,000 was paid. The federal agents were diligently searching for William Elmer Mead, a notorious crook, who is thought to have directed the kidnappers.

McLaughlin confessed that he had handled some of the Bremer ransom money, and his son was arrested with part of it in his pocket.

TANNER SCHOOL.

"Children, make your mother happy, Many griefs she has to bear; And she wears 'neath her burdens Can you not those burdens share?"

Our school room has the era of spring. We have the most common birds of Michigan, (made from crepe paper) on pussy willows over our blackboard. Louise McKay brought in a painted turtle. We call him, Tim.

The primary folks have written language stories about Tim. Some of the folks have learned the poem, "The Little Turtle."

Robert McKay brought a large bunch of frog eggs to school. Fred Swarhout brought in food for the eggs. Some of the eggs have developed into wigglers.

Miss Selena Jackson of Detroit did assistant teaching one afternoon.

Velma Bailey brought a bouquet of hepaticas.

Lorene Robinson brought to school a pretty bouquet of artificial flowers.

We expect to have our final test

Thursday and Friday. Report on Louise McKay.

The choir, under the direction of Sr. M. Albertina, is to be congratulated.

Death of Mrs. Chloe Bingham—

Taken from Kalispell (Montana) News.

"Funeral services for Mrs. Chloe Bingham were held Wednesday, April 18, at 2 p. m. at the Waggener & Campbell chapel by Rev. William F. Koehler of the Methodist church. There were many beautiful flowers banked about the casket and across the front of the chapel. During the services, Mrs. R. Dutton and Mrs. Gratia Roe sang three appropriate hymns, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. F. Koehler. The pallbearers were M. Glockle, Nels Peterson, J. A. Zeidler, P. C. Russell, Wm. Prindiville and H. L. Knapp. Interment was made in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

"Chloe E. Hutchinson was born at Mallorytown, Ontario, June 10, 1854, and died at Kalispell, Montana, April 18, 1934. She came with her parents to Ellington, Mich., at the age of seven years. The family was among the first settlers in that part of the country. In later years her father engaged in the hotel business. She grew to womanhood in Ellington, Mich., and was united in marriage to Jerdan W. Bingham of Gagetown, Mich., Dec. 24, 1872. There they engaged in farming until 1909, when they moved to Kalispell. Mr. Bingham passed away in March, 1931. Mrs. Bingham was united with the local Methodist church March 30, 1924. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. S. Cameron, after an illness of two years at the age of nearly 80 years. She leaves to mourn her loss two sons and one daughter: Boyd H. Bingham of Muskegon, Mich., Alonzo A. Bingham and Mrs. D. S. Cameron of Kalispell; ten grandchildren, one great grandchild, several nieces and nephews and many friends and neighbors."

Mr. and Mrs. Bingham for many years lived 2½ miles south of town on the farm now owned by Wallace Laurie and then lived in town until they moved to the west. Their many friends here extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

Firestone LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

Protect yourself and family by driving in today and replacing your smooth, thin, dangerous tires with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

MORE THAN 50% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE

Firestone Tires are Track Tested on the greatest proving ground in the world—they have won this classic for fourteen consecutive years.

Firestone Tires are ROAD TESTED on the large fleet of Firestone test cars, day and night every day in the year, over all kinds of roads and highways.

WARNING to EXPECTANT MOTHERS

If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.

Doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can thus be controlled to suit your individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wrote!

But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.

Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle regulation of bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of delightful action, made of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug; nothing to cause strain or irritate the kidneys.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.

PLAN MEMORIAL ON MISSISSIPPI RIVER

St. Louis to Honor Pioneers and Empire Builders.

St. Louis, Mo.—Plans for a national memorial beside the Mississippi river, as a tribute to the lives and deeds of pioneers and empire builders of the Mississippi valley and in commemoration of the Louisiana purchase, are being made by a group of St. Louisans, and congress will be requested to act on the proposal at its present session. Stately colonnades and majestic buildings containing statues and sculptural groups would be erected in a large site in downtown St. Louis overlooking the Mississippi, and a parkway almost a mile long would extend along the river front, under tentative plans for the memorial.

The vast project probably would cost between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. Bills are being forwarded to Washington for introduction in congress for authorization of the memorial. Federal aid will be sought.

Thomas Jefferson, the outstanding figure in the Louisiana purchase, would occupy the commanding place in the proposed memorial. Under tentative plans, the principal memorial building would stand near the river's edge just south of the Eads bridge and command a sweeping view up and down the river. Farther back from the shore there would be two colonnades, each about a block long, standing parallel to each other and containing statues and sculptural groups of pioneers and empire builders who figured in the development of the Mississippi valley domain.

The memorial plaza, for a width of one block, would extend to the historic old courthouse, four blocks from the river front, where the famous Dred Scott decision was issued in 1848.

Razing of scores of buildings now standing along the river front would be necessary to make way for the memorial.

Mayor Bernard Dickmann, one of the principal sponsors of the memorial plan, said it was hoped that in about ten years St. Louis could hold a world's fair on the river front in a setting of permanent memorial buildings and sculpture. Luther Ely Smith, chairman of a committee appointed to promote the plan, described the place selected for the memorial as "the most significant historical spot in the United States." It was from here that the Lewis and Clark expedition took off in its explorations of the northwest territory.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY SECTIONS

and Gust Guethlich, now carrier on Route No. 1, will serve the combined routes which will be 52 miles.

The Caro Board of Education has offered a contract to M. J. Crawford to return and serve his eighth year as superintendent. Other teachers were also offered contracts to return to their positions. The signed contracts are expected to be returned to the board in another week. The same salary schedule will be effective as has been given teachers the past two years.

At the outset of the year, the teachers were paid 60 percent of the contract rate, but recent receipts from the state have made it possible to give all teachers their back pay.

Three high school pupils were badly injured in an automobile accident near Bay Port Saturday night in which two cars collided. The two cars were driven by Bay Port high school youths en route to the annual junior-senior banquet.

George Bauer, driver of one of the two cars, was the most seriously injured, suffering severe cuts and bruises about the face and body. His sister, Clara Bauer, and DeLores Henne, who were also riding with him, were also injured. Occupants of the other car escaped injury although their car was badly damaged.

Bitter criticism of the new mortgage law which eliminates the townships of the county in the registration of chattel mortgages is constantly heard around Sanilac county. At township or community meetings can be heard such criticism. Movements in other counties are being made by farmers to try and combat the plan that has been slowly developing to put the rural units of government out of existence and substituting a centralized body in the hands of a few.

Donald Pauly, 4 year old son of Rev. and Mrs. John J. Pauly of Bad Axe, who sustained injuries in a fire at the Pauly residence Sunday, died Tuesday morning at Huba a fire of unknown origin in the basement of the home while Rev. and Mrs. Pauly were at church, suffocated the child who was found unconscious on the floor when volunteer firemen broke into the house.

Definite assurance has been received at Caro that a liquor store will be opened in that village in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace who reside two and one half miles southwest of Kingston celebrated fifty years of married life on Sunday, April 29.

Supervisors of Tuscola county will take the school census in each township the last ten days of May. This plan follows that carried out last year, and avoids considerable effort under the old arrangement whereby each school district took its own census.

BROWN SCHOOL.

Teacher, Hazel Hower.

We are enjoying ball games at noons and recesses.

We are sorry that Martha Knoblet was hit in the eye one day last week.

We have seven pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy during this school term.

The first grade are reviewing some stories in their reading book. The eighth grade have been reviewing in all their work. We have no seventh grade.

Reporters, Anna Frederick, and Martha Knoblet.

MINSTREL SHOW

Friday Evening

May 18 at 8:00

at High School Auditorium

Sponsored by Rotary Club of Cass City for the benefit of crippled children

Do you want to hear Chick Schwaderer sing "Lazy Bones"—do you know of some song more appropriate?

Do you think it belittles the dignity of those illustrious supervisors, Audley Rawson and Bruce Brown, to act as end men? Do you think they are too stiff and formal to act as end men in a minstrel show?

Do you remember when Andy Bigelow made his debut as one of the great actors of America and violently voiced those now famous lines "Do you know what Avery does?" Do you think his magnificent carriage, his slicked hair, and masculine looks will lose any of their attractiveness as a blackened coon?

Can McCoy act as interlocutor? Can he all by himself be the only well dressed man on the stage and get the other fellows to do all the work?

Did you ever hear Wayne Price sing? Did any one ever hear him sing? If not, you've got a real experience coming.

And Al Knapp—Old Black Joe. Is he good? He sings even better than he dances.

Can Fred Bigelow sing? Can Art Atwell sing? Can Paul Allured, Herb Lenzner, Lou Wood, John Sandham, Ashton Tindale—I say, as man to man, can Dr. Schenck sing?

ALL IN ALL IT WILL BE PROBABLY THE MOST UNUSUAL GROUP EVER ASSEMBLED ON A MINSTREL SHOW PLATFORM.

Admission—Adults 25c; Children (fourteen or under) 15c

All Reserved Seats 10c additional. Reserved Seats go on sale at Lou Wood's Store on Wednesday Morning at 9 a. m. or earlier if Warren gets there.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for May 13

CHRISTIANITY AND PATRIOTISM (Temperance and Good Citizenship)

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 22:15-22; 34-40.

GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matt. 22:37-39.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Great Commandment. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Christian Patriot.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Be a Good Citizen. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Citizenship.

The committee has made the lesson unit to embrace chapters 22 and 23. Objection may be offered to this because of the great scope and also the dissimilarity of material. It is better to confine the lesson to chapter 22:15-22, 34-40. However, verses 1-14 provide the necessary background from which to view the teachings of the lesson. The parable of the king's marriage feast stresses the necessity of a right relationship to God, which is essential for a life of temperance and good citizenship.

1. The Tribute Money (vv. 15-22). 1. The subtle question (vv. 14-17). The Pharisees and Herodians purposed to entrap Jesus and thus bring him into conflict with the Roman government. Therefore they came to him with the subtle question, "Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?" To have answered this question by either "yes" or "no" would have involved difficulties. "Yes" would have conveyed the impression of endorsement of all that the Roman government did. "No" would have at once brought him into conflict with the government. There are times when it is difficult for a Christian to determine his right relation to civil government. Some ministers have failed in their work because of their failure to solve this problem.

2. Christ's reply (vv. 18-21). The principle set forth in this reply when properly understood and applied is the final word on the Christian's relationship to civil government. The obligation of the Christian citizen is to render obedience to civil authority in all matters which do not violate God's law. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's" means that within the realm of the rights of government the Christian should yield glad and free obedience. Christ's answer not only sets forth the Christian's relationship to government but also the correct principles governing all lives. Those enjoying the benefits of civil government should support that government, and those enjoying the blessings of God should render full allegiance to him.

11. The First and Great Commandment in the Law (vv. 34-40).

For the third time in one day the Lord was tried by hard questions. While these questions were prompted by wrong motives, we should be forever glad they were put to the Lord because of the invaluable truths disclosed by his answers.

1. The Pharisees' question (vv. 34-36). With a lawyer as their representative they asked which is the great commandment in the law.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 37-40). In this answer he summarized the law and set forth the sum total of a human responsibility. This embraces two commandments.

a. The first commandment (vv. 37, 38). "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." This means that supreme and undivided love to God is the first and great commandment. It shows that man's supreme obligation is to God. It is utterly wrong to evaluate man's character on the basis of his morality as expressed in his relation to his fellow man. Real righteousness is doing the right thing with God. One who does not supremely and with undivided affection love God is the greatest sinner.

b. The second commandment (vv. 39, 40). The second commandment is like unto the first in that it centers in love. It is not said that it is equal unto the first, which would be untrue. A man may love himself but not supremely. The measure set is love for self. We are under obligation to love God better than ourselves because he is the supreme one and worthy and demands all of our affection. The command to love our neighbor is involved in the command to love God. To attempt to establish a brotherhood among men without the recognition of the Fatherhood of God is utter nonsense. Men become children of God by faith in Jesus Christ. The only way to bring in the brotherhood of man is to preach Jesus Christ to the race and secure acceptance of him. All obligation resting upon man is embraced in these two commandments.

Preliminary Survey of Replies to Questionnaires Submitted to Men

At the May meeting of the Cass City Community Club on Tuesday night when the ministerial group were sponsors of the program, questionnaires were passed to the men in the audience with the request that the following questions be answered:

1. Do you, or do you not, believe in the organized church as an essential means toward realizing the highest type of personal and community life?
2. Do you think our churches in Cass City and vicinity are making the best possible use of their opportunity to propagate the religion of the founder, Jesus Christ? (If not, what are one or two practical steps which should be taken to increase their effectiveness?)
3. What do you think are some of the underlying causes that men and boys are in the minority at church services here and in the organized activities of the churches. What would you advise to better the situation?
4. Is there something not covered by the above about which you would especially like to comment, regarding churches or present-day Christian programs, etc?

A preliminary survey of replies to the questionnaire shows that:

Total making any sort of reply was 34. Number checking only questions one and two, and these only "yes" was 12. No one voted "no" on the first question. Number making some comment on second question, 16.

Gist of question: "What are one or two practical steps which should be taken to increase the effectiveness of our churches in Cass City and vicinity?"

Sample answers—"A good effective choir; a snappy, rapid-fire sermon." "Sermons more interesting" and "shorter ones." "More cooperation among the members of the different churches." "Consolidation would be a beneficial step, I believe." "More evangelism; more of a united effort." "More personal work." "More Christianity, less religion. More truths, less supposition. More desire for true service, less denominations." "Consolidate." "More truth and honesty on the part of church members in business." "So far, the church has not done very much to meet the changed conditions of recent years. It is going along in the same way as it always did. The church must change to meet these new condi-

or lose the interest of the young folks." "Believe that moving pictures of a religious nature would greatly increase interest for children in Sunday School."

Number making some comment on the third question was 16 in all, with five commenting on Question 3 but not Question 2. One checked "No" on Question 2 but made no comment. This accounts for the total of 34.

Samples to replies to question about men and boys being in minority in the churches:

"Gear the church-life to a man's mind. Union would bring together talent both unusual and educational for making the services both of worship and mental stimulation."

"Have some young people's organizations that will keep them interested such as S. S. baseball teams, class camping trips." "Less love for pleasure and more love for Christ." "More young married men should be in active participation." Men and boys "not encouraged enough; give the boys something to do." "More personal contact; closer comparison of Christ to present-day life." "Reduce the official boards, boards of deacons and elders to effective men only." "Fewer preaching services, more social and discussion meetings." "The churches seem to cater to those who accept any teachings of a minister without thought or questioning. Men and the younger generation do not do this. An appealing and workable Christianity need not defy common sense and all laws of nature."

Random comments, as invited by the final question, ran as follows: "Reduce the questions for admission to membership to a few non-technical statements." "Call off women's societies from money-making ventures which cloud the vision of their members as to what the church is all about." "Stop the pell-mell competition to secure for our church the socially acceptable of those who move into the community." Turn union services over to one or two of the pastors, without drafting each pastor present to some part of each service. Next meeting let the other do the honors." "Conduct dramatic study to present vital themes through well-staged plays." "Secure church union, especially of denominations so nearly alike that only the ministers and a few laymen know the slight differences that keep them apart." "Have a union church like the one at East Lansing. United we stand—divided we fall."

Sky-Line." The choir will sing. Prayer service on Thursday at 8:00 p. m. in the church. All are welcome.

Methodist Episcopal Parish—Chas. Bayless, Minister. Sunday, May 13: Cass City Church—Class meeting, 10:00, John Mark leader. Morning worship, 10:30. # Feed Mermash

Mermash 16% protein is a starting, growing and laying mash for chickens, ducks and turkeys. It provides in ocean kelp and fish meal a food iodine and other essential minerals which are lacking in Michigan crops and soils. Poultry responds to Mermash with splendid growth and production. Mermash is a complete mash, ready to be fed with scratch grains for high egg production.

Grow Better Chicks at Lowest Cost with Mermash.

Nothing mysterious about it. Michigan soils and crops are very deficient in iodine. Chicks raised on Mermash simply walk away from those raised on other rations. They're healthier, grow faster, feather better. Chick losses are lower. Cost per chick is lower.

Yes, all costs are lower because Mermash is undoubtedly the lowest priced, good chick starter-growing mash on the market.

Balanced Formula

... that's why Acme Quality New Era House Paint costs less per job per year.

A paint must do more than one thing well in order to give you maximum value for your money. It must cover a great deal of surface. It must cover it well. It must wear a long time. It must look well. It must protect your property. Acme Quality New Era House Paint does all of these things—and does them well . . . because it is a balanced formula. The following ten points show just exactly what "balanced formula" means to you:

- 1 Spreads over the maximum amount of surface that can be covered thoroughly by any paint, making it the most economical paint per square foot.
- 2 Spreads easily under the brush, reducing the time required for application. Saves labor cost.
- 3 Hides the surface thoroughly with a film that protects and preserves.
- 4 Is always soft and fresh in the can—therefore mixes easily with linseed oil. It will not harden in the can.
- 5 Dries to a hard, smooth, surface which prevents the accumulation of dirt and can be washed clean. This means fewer re-paint jobs.
- 6 Colors are permanent and will not fade or become muddy and dirty looking. Means your house looks nice longer.
- 7 Gives extra years of wear—it wears and wears and wears.
- 8 Presents a good repainting surface—one to which subsequent coats of paint will blend and will not peel or chip off.
- 9 Has your local dealer's reputation behind it.
- 10 Is no experiment—50 years of honest paint manufacturing are behind it. Its balanced formula is the combined experience of our entire staff of expert formulators for 50 years.

THE STORY

CHAPTER I.—Mary, daughter of David Brown, self made millionaire, obsessed with the idea that her personality is obscured by the fact that she is the child of the "rich David Brown," determines to make her own way in life, discarding her father's wealth, and her own. She has a million dollars, legacy from her mother, which she insists her father invest in the "wildest dream" imaginable, and which she must know nothing. She is a graduate of a college of engineering. Her father, secretly admiring her courage, humors her.

CHAPTER II.—As "M. Brown" Mary applies for position as engineer with the Paradise Valley Project, a California development concern, and is engaged, by letter. On the train, on her way to her job, she meets Denis Craig, who immediately antagonizes her, but excites her interest.

CHAPTER III.—Alighting from the train, Mary is left at a way station, practically penniless, her purse, which she had laid down, having disappeared. Arriving at the Project, without her rails, coming to her assistance, is also left behind. He befriends her, despite her coldness toward him, enabling her to continue her journey. She is grateful, but nevertheless has a feeling of humiliation. Arriving at the Project, she is accused by John Stark, chief engineer, of deception in concealing her wealth, and again meets Craig, who she learns is the promoter of the development project.

CHAPTER IV.—Insisting she can do "anything a man can do," in the engineering line, Mary is given a position. Craig's engaging personality makes an impression on her, but she cannot make up her mind as to whether he is an honest visionary or a "slicker."

CHAPTER V.—Mary "makes good" on her job, winning the friendship and esteem of her fellow engineers, though having an uneasy feeling that Stark, annoyed at having a woman engineer in the field, would be glad of an excuse to discharge her. Among her fellow workers is a young engineer, Neil Goodenough, with whom she has a more or less friendly rivalry.

CHAPTER VI.—In an accident Mary, at the risk of her life, saves a valuable instrument, and, through the incident, is drawn closer to Craig.

CHAPTER VII.—Mary discovers that she has misjudged John Stark, and that he is really her friend and will willingly relinquish much resembling love creeps into her heart concerning Denis Craig, though she hesitates to admit it.

CHAPTER VII

Mary Steps into Denis Craig's Shoes—And Other Things.

THE shock grew the more severe as Mary dripped her way down a wide hall behind her soldierly host.

He admitted her to a large room with a great many windows and a very little furniture, but with bright flames in a fireplace, the most cordial reception committee Mary ever had faced.

"Sketchily furnished, you see," Stark went on, waving a hand at a cot and an array of dry-goods boxes. "I've decided," dictatorially, "to keep you over night. It's sheer nonsense to send you forth on what would be a two-hour ride in the rain with the roads as heavy as they are. Ah, here comes the flunky with my first prescription."

It was the cook's helper from the nearby camp, bearing a cup of steaming bouillon. "Drink this while it's hot, and then get into dry clothes. By the way," chuckling, "I made a raid on Denny's wardrobe. His things not only will fit you better than mine, but they seemed, well—more modish."

Without giving her time even to gasp a "Thank you," he left her. Mary flew to the bathroom. There was a tense moment as she turned the spigot above the new tub, then a fervent "Glory be!"

The water was hot. It was the one thing her soul and body craved. Hot water and plenty of it, to warm her to the bone! Submerged to her neck, she sipped the steaming soup luxuriously and emerged, warmed and rested. She discovered comb and mirror (monogrammed C) on a shelf—beside a box of powder. Spreading her kinking light hair to dry, she ran into the bedroom, somewhat shyly to investigate the clothing laid out on the cot: a man's underthings, long-legged, soft and warm; soft woolen socks; slippers; a dark-blue quilted satin robe. Denis Craig's. Mary giggled a little as she put them on; it seemed so shockingly intimate!

She had spread her own clothing to dry when a knock came on her door. Again she opened to John Stark. "Quite warm, Miss Mary? Feeling all right?" he asked. "I've come down to the living room. Then had our dinner sent over."

"The—living room! But—I'm not dressed, Mr. Stark!"

Kindly—actually kindly—eyes beamed at her in amusement. "Now I'll wager you're more thoroughly dressed than you've been in many a day. I went through drawer after drawer before I found wool. Formalities are waived tonight." He laughed genially as he surveyed her. "Lucky Denny had that million-dollar lounging garment. You'd have looked like somebody's stepchild in my old bathrobe. Now you make me think of my daughter Nancy on Christmas morning, parading around camp in what she bullied from Santa."

"Your—family has lived with you?" This was a new conception of him—with a family.

"I usually have dragged them about with me. They claim they like it."

Yes, with him like this, she could imagine him the center of an adoring family. And just a few hours ago she had been quite sure that he wasn't even human!

The living-room was enormous. Fireplaces at either side made it homelike and snug. A small table was set before one of them, invitingly. Set for three.

"I'll put you on this side, where it is warmest, Miss Mary."

This solicitude Mary looked up to thank him, but the words somehow didn't come out, her chin got slightly out of control, and she turned quickly away to hide the mist in her eyes.

"What's this?" came Stark's quick demand.

Mary smiled up at him frankly. "Don't pay any attention to me. You see, I had a sudden spasm of homesickness this afternoon, and a little fathering was the one thing I was needing. But having it descend upon me out of a clear sky is—so overwhelmingly like food to the starving."

He patted her shoulder understandingly. "You'll be all right with a night's sleep. What's become of Denis? That boy never would stop to eat if I didn't drag him to meals." He stepped to the door. "Denny? Chow!"

"He is—so busy?" Mary was curious for John Stark's slant on a baffling subject.

"Too wrapped up in his game ever to relax. Of course he doesn't have much chance, carrying the load he is. But he's too strenuous. You did him a good turn when you made him a barefoot boy this afternoon. Knocked his worries for a while."

"Who says anything about worries?"

Craig entered the room briskly, looking more than ever scrubbed and tubbed in his fresh flannel suit.

"I've just knocked a serious one in the head, but I had to raid the camp to do it. Miss Brown," eloquently, entreatingly, dramatically, as he drew a small box from his pocket, "will you wear these in remembrance of me?"

Curiously, diffidently, Mary peeped into the box; laughed; reached for it eagerly.

"You touch my very soul, Mr. Craig! You have guessed my heart's most fervent longing!"

They were not orchids which met Mary's entranced gaze, nor pearls, they were circlets, to be sure, but not of gold nor platinum for her fingers. They were—bunions plaster!

"For my poor heels!" peaned Mary. "Indeed I'll wear them! And I've a sneaking suspicion I'll wear your shoes, too, if I can make off with them. From previous experiences I'll have to coddle these heels a long time."

"I'm grateful to serve even in so lowly a way."

It was a jolly, chummy, leisurely meal. John Stark was in a reminiscent mood. By adroit questioning Denis Craig kept him monopolizing the conversation, Mary noticed. She listened, with little thrills going down her back, to his adventures.

At an early hour she rolled into the blankets on her cot. Outside the rain drizzled pleasantly; the clatter of dishes in the mess house still was audible. Off in the hills a coyote howled, and a young fox barked in a canyon. Above the thud of rain-drops and the roaring of a madcap stream, something sounded like "Plucky little idiot!"

This conglomeration of questions in her head: Was John Stark a lion or a lamb? Was Denis Craig a slicker, or the adorable, impersonal comrade of the trail? She could see the concern on his face, the look in his eyes, as she came back to consciousness there on the mountain side. He had called her dear—without any apology. Brazenly. Openly. But not flirtatiously. Why? Was that his "line" with women? Had he a habit of calling girls dear? Hang the questions.

A horse waited for Mary when she came outside the next morning in her dried, if unpressed, clothing, and borrowed shoes. It was Denis Craig's horse, and Denis was chatting with it as he waited for her.

"Just leave him at Camp C. And, not wishing you any bad luck, I still hope you'll have to seek our hospitality again—Mary."

Her first name, without any handle!

"Mr. Craig, I want to thank you for everything; and to tell you that I—I got my medal!"

He caught her meaning. "I thought a glimpse of the inside workings of a man like Stark would be honor and glory enough for you. You understand him, don't you? His type? An engineer of the old school? That was what her father had called him. 'He's a great man, John Stark. He has stood the grief of his profession. That has been his creed. He has asked no quarter. And he allowed his men to ask no quarter, but I think you realize now, Mary, that even a girl will get a square deal."

"All I have to do," she said thoughtfully, hopefully, as she accepted his help into the saddle, "is to deliver the goods."

"Good-by, Mary."

He held out his hand. Hers went into it.

"Good-by, Mr. Craig."

"Mary!" retaining the hand insistently. "It seems to me I remember your telling me once that an engineer abhors any waste, even that of breath. You could address me with one less syllable."

She had to get possession of her hand, didn't she? So she said, "Good-by, Denis."

"That's better. Mary," quizzically, "next time I see you shall I have to teach you to like me all over again—as usual?"

"Probably." She rode off with an exalted, heady feeling.

But gradually she came back to earth. Same old story! Why did she always succumb to the charm of this man? Give him two minutes, and he made quick work of all her circumspex doubts! Infected her with his own gay abandon!

Uncanny, the magnetism of this person!

She looked down at his shoes in her stirrup. Silly of her to be finding it rather nice to wear them! She'd have them polished and return them to him at once!

Maybe she would.

SENIOR CLASS PROM PRONOUNCED FINE EVENT

The members of the senior class and their sponsor, Mr. Niergarth, wish to thank most sincerely those who so kindly gave us use of their furniture for the prom Friday night. It was through this cooperation that the party was successful and that everyone had an enjoyable evening.

Dillman's orchestra furnished the music for dancing from 8:30 until 12. To those who didn't come, we say you missed a very good time for it was the biggest and best event given so far this year.

ONE MORE EDITION OF TUSCASSIAN THIS YEAR

Just one more edition of the Tuscassian, our school paper, will be published. We urge you to buy one of these papers to find out more about the happenings at school. They are on sale at various stores or you may procure one at the main office. It takes a lot of hard work to get this paper done and all of the labor is done by Ruth Schenck and her staff. We appreciate your comments very much.

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS AT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The boys' and girls' glee clubs entertained us at general assembly last week previous to their appearance at the Bad Axe choral festival last Thursday afternoon and evening. In connection with the music department, the school orchestra appeared at the Mayville music festival Thursday, May 10. There will be full details concerning this big event in next week's school news.

KIDDIES INTERESTED IN THEIR SETTING HEN

The kindergartners are very excited about the setting hen and three eggs she is hatching in their room. They took turns painting the coop for the hen. We are all waiting to see how many of the eggs are going to hatch.

FULL CALENDAR FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR

It might interest you to know the various events which are on the school calendar for the remainder of this year. This Friday afternoon (today) we have a baseball game with tough old Sebawaing—may we see you there? And here is a perfect example of a rushed week-end just to show you how busy some people are going to be on the 17th and 18th. On Thursday, the 17th, the Thumb Round Table banquet will be held in the gym and on the 18th the big Rotary minstrel show takes place.

During the next week, two baseball games, Sandusky on the 22nd

Why a Community Newspaper?

By Miss Minnie Cook, Belding, Mich. (Favorable Mention) in contest sponsored by Adrian VanKoevring of Zeeland, Michigan.

Our topic, "Why a Community Newspaper," brings a smile, and we find ourselves wondering just how a community could exist without a newspaper. We scarcely realize how much our newspaper means to us—we have become so used to its weekly visits that, like the air we breathe, we take it for granted.

But when an extra good number for instance, at Christmas time, comes to our attention—then we wake up to the fact that we have a really alive editor who feels that the best is none too good for our community.

Should you chance to have a member of your immediate family taken suddenly and seriously ill and it became necessary for you to call in the family physician, he might, by watching his patient closely, come to some conclusion regarding the case; but the physician does not wait for this—he watches carefully, the patient's pulse and is thus enabled to handle his case more satisfactorily. Should a business firm consider the possibility of locating in your city—like the physician, he would take the pulse of that city which necessarily would be the community newspaper.

He would study its pages carefully. Of necessity he would be bringing his family to your city and would note whether your schools were adequate, whether there was a hospital available in time of need; also he would be interested to know if the church of his choice had its weekly program in its pages. He would take special note of the coming events. In other words, he would seek to know if your city had an upward trend—was progressive, would co-operate with him in helping to make his business a success. Special notice would be taken of your want columns and of your ads as any business, to be alive, must advertise.

Then there are the always welcome letters from former residents dwelling at length on the fact that (don't miss that) and Vassar on the 25th. On the evening of the 25th is the annual Junior-Senior banquet which will be given by the Junior class, and on the 28th the musical event, "On Midsummer's Day," will be given on the school lawn.

The next big attraction of course will be the graduation exercises on the 10th, 11th and 12th of June. These are just a few of the many things which the teachers are responsible for at school besides their regular activities. Never say a teacher has it easy for they are always in a constant frenzy to keep things running smoothly and on time.

STUDYING DRAMA AND THE STAGE

The American Literature class has been studying drama and the stage during the past two weeks. Many fascinating things were discovered about modern playwrights and their works, but the class regrets the fact that they didn't have more time to spend on the study of this subject. Next week, they will begin the study of the novel with a special twenty minute report by each member of the class on any American author they choose to make a thorough study of for the report.

KELLY ESTABLISHED OUTSTANDING RECORD

(From C. S. T. C. Publication.) Coach Kenneth "Bill" Kelly degree '30, who is coaching at Cass City has developed one of the outstanding athletic records in the Thumb.

While at Central, Mr. Kelly was very active in campus activities. He was senior class president, president of the Student Council and winner of the Michigan Collegiate Conference medal going to the outstanding scholar-athlete. In athletics he starred in football, basketball and tennis.

Mr. Kelly went to Cass City in 1930. His first turnout for football showed that he had 14 candidates out, but last season he had enough suits for 50 men which was not enough for the group that turned out for the sport.

Building up Cass City football teams is only one of Mr. Kelly's accomplishments, as his football and basketball teams did not drop a game this year and his baseball team has so far a clean slate.

The state regional tournament saw Coach Kelly's fighting basketball team defeated at the hands of a strong St. Clair quintet who were later defeated in the finals by Holland Christian. Coach Kelly deserves much credit, for his teams have been developed through much work and he has made Cass City sportsmen proud of their accomplishments in athletics.

They have so enjoyed our community newspaper which seems like a breath from home. They have either subscribed for the paper or are enjoying it through the kindness of a friend. Through its pages we are often so fortunate as to locate a friend or a relation, who, through the years has been lost to us. Our editor, necessarily a genial, kindly man, else he could not successfully cope with the problems that arise from week to week, always aims to write his newspaper articles from such an optimistic angle that they are an inspiration to the reader. Then, in the fall before our schools open we celebrate Labor Day or Homecoming Day. It is the community newspaper with its glad invitation that goes into the by-ways and hedges and invites the people back to their home-town, back to renew acquaintances of by-gone days. Many come with baskets and there are family reunions and glad hearts and the community spirit is

Cass City Drops First Thumb Tilt

Cass City suffered its first defeat by a Thumb opponent this season, when they were beaten by Caro in a "heartbreaker," 9 to 8.

Cass City went into the ninth with a three-run advantage, leading eight to five, but when Collon, the lead-off man was safe on a third strike that got by Kosanke, the fireworks started. The next two men were safe on errors, and a hit batsman forced in a run. Brock singled, and Fournier then ended the game by singling to center.

Pete Retherford started on the mound, but gave way to Cousin Phil after Collon had belted a mighty "Ruthian" wallop over the race track for a home run. Phil pitched very good ball until he weakened in the ninth.

The locals scored one in the first, one in the third, two in the fifth, and then put on a rally for four runs in the eighth. Pete Retherford opened the eighth by drawing his fourth consecutive base on balls of the afternoon. Karr then bunted and everybody was safe when Brock threw the ball into right field. Graham came through with a double to left, scoring both runners, and scored a moment later on Kosanke's hit. Don stole second and third and came home on an infield out.

The boys stole everything except home, pilfering twelve bases in all. Kosanke's throwing arm cut down all opponents.

The Maroon and Grey still have a chance at the championship, as Caro already has a game.

Locals Win From Unionville 8 to 5

Cass City was able to even the week's standing by defeating Unionville here eight to five Tuesday. Except for some rather erratic fielding at times, the boys were able to come through in the pinch, having but five men left on bases.

Eddie Graham pitched all the way, as did Deroy of Unionville. Both hurlers were very effective, Graham yielding eight hits for two earned runs and Deroy giving up eleven hits for five earned runs.

Cass City presented Unionville with a gift of three runs in the second on two successive errors. However, they came back to score two runs in their half on hits by Karr and Vatters. In the fifth inning they forged ahead by scoring two runs on Kosanke's timely single and in the eighth scored two more on Hyatt's hit.

Prime of Unionville was the leading hitter, connecting for two triples, while Don Kosanke led his teammates with two singles and a walk.

Friday (today) the locals play the hard hitting Sebawaing aggregation and Tuesday they journey to Mayville for a game there.

Plow Soon to Avoid Loss of Bean Crops

Baldheaded beans have one trait in common with baldheaded men, the trouble can not be cured; but entomologists at Michigan State say the beans have one advantage, as their lack of top can be prevented.

The tops of the beans are killed by a tiny maggot, which is the larvae of a small, two-winged fly often seen in the spring near places where there is decaying organic matter in the soil. Fields where barnyard manure or green manure has been plowed down attract the flies, which deposit eggs in the decaying material.

These eggs hatch into larvae which will feed upon the new sprouts of either corn or beans, but the injury is usually most severe on beans. Ground which is to be planted to beans or corn and upon which manure is applied should be plowed as early as possible to permit the organic matter to decay before seeding time. Fall plowing is best, but early spring plowing reduces the damage done by the maggot.

Beans planted shallowly on a well packed seed bed are injured less than those planted deeply and requiring more time to start growth. Crops are injured more during wet, cool seasons than when the weather is warm enough to start the seed as soon as planted and to keep the plants growing well. The well packed seed bed assists rapid growth, as it helps to supply the moisture required by the growing plant.

11 to Represent Cass City in Commercial Contest

The second annual Northeast Michigan commercial contest, sponsored by The Business Institute of Saginaw, will be held on Saturday, May 12, in the Board of Commerce Building in that city.

The contest is for the benefit of high school students of twenty-five counties comprising the northeastern section of the state as follows: Alcona, Alpena, Arenac, Bay, Cheboygan, Clare, Crawford, Genesee, Gladwin, Gratiot, Huron, Iosco, Isabella, Lapeer, Midland, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, Roscommon, Saginaw, Sanilac, Shiawassee, and Tuscola.

Valuable prizes will be awarded in the various events, including typewriters, high-grade fountain pen and pencil sets, kodaks, trade certificates, etc. There are to be six events: three in typing, two in shorthand, and one in bookkeeping. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded in each event. Heavy felt banners, appropriately lettered, 30 by 48 inches, will become the property of the high schools whose contestants total the highest number of points in all events. These championship banners will be awarded to the highest ranking school in each of the four classes A, B, C, and D, classification being in accordance with the rules of the State High School Athletic Association.

Students who will represent Cass City High School are: Marie Papp, Violet Cameron, Genevieve McCaslin, Evelyn Milligan, Hazel Bulgrien, Marion Callender, Georgene VanWinkle, Margaret Raduchel, Helene McComb, Genevieve Garety, Harland Charter.

EARLY RESIDENT OF GRANT DIED SUNDAY

Concluded from page one. Mr. Brackenbury was united in marriage with Cora Meyer. He conducted lumber camps in a great many parts of the state, one of these camps being located at West Branch. He also ran a lumber camp in Ontario. He was manager of a lumber yard in Detroit for some time, being employed by the Brownlee Lumber Co.

It was during his location at West Branch that Mrs. Brackenbury died, leaving three daughters, Mrs. B. Livingston (Zella), Mrs. Vera Fritz, and Mrs. Wayne Stoneback (Hazel).

In 1899, he married Margaret Hamilton of Marlette. They lived on the Brackenbury homestead in Grant township. To this union, four children were born, James A., Mrs. Eva Marble, Mrs. Beryl Warner, and John Brackenbury.

In 1912, the family moved to Cass City where Mr. Brackenbury conducted a livery barn.

In later years he served as substitute carrier for the mail carriers of Cass City. About three years ago, Mr. Brackenbury retired from this activity.

He has been poorly for some time and quite ill for the last three months and passed away Sunday, May 6, at his home.

He leaves besides his wife, seven children, Mrs. B. Livingston and Mrs. Vera Fritz of Plymouth; Mrs. Wayne Stoneback and John Brackenbury of San Francisco, Calif.; James Brackenbury of Rogers City; Mrs. Eva Marble and Mrs. Hilton Warner of Cass City; and one sister, Mrs. Martha Scott of Maple City. He also leaves four-teen grandchildren.

REV. BAYLESS HEADS PORT HURON DIST. GROUP

Concluded from page one. ing on "Youth of America in the New Day." He also led a round table discussion, "Sharing the Gospel with the World's Youth." Dr. Stuntz will go to South America in June to teach.

A youth symposium, "Our Contribution Toward World Peace," was directed in the afternoon by Clayton Lewis, Port Huron. Topics for discussion included "The Case for War Resistance," "Student Drill," and "Various Decisions Open to Youth."

At the close of the afternoon session, a drama, "What Price Revenue?" was presented by eight young people of Detroit. This was open to the public and a crowded house witnessed the fine presentation. After the play, three speakers outlined briefly the aims of the Allied Youth movement.

District officers elected were: President, Rev. Charles Bayless, Cass City; vice presidents, Eleanor Kirby, Oxford; Catherine Baker, Port Huron; Georgie Black, Sandusky, and Edward Sinclair, Port Huron; secretary, Virginia Rawson, Cass City; treasurer, Earl Cutler, Bad Axe, and junior superintendent, Julia Clark, New Haven.

SHORT HISTORIES OF THREE OCTOGENARIANS

Concluded from first page. was elected supervisor of Evergreen township and held the office four years.

In speaking of his political ideas, Mr. Cragg says that he has always been a Republican, even though he did vote for a Democrat not so many years ago.

Although quite lame and compelled to walk with a cane, he is hale and hearty, and enjoys a good joke at any time. He relates many amusing incidents of his life during his years as justice of the peace and also recalls many friends he made, even among those with whom he was called upon to be severe.

Mr. Cragg is quite contented wherever he is, as long as he has plenty of good reading material. During the last winter, he read between 65 and 70 books.

He has four daughters, Mrs. Harry Ostrander, Mrs. Lottie Lyons, Mrs. George Skrine, all of Pontiac, and Mrs. Floyd Ottaway of Cass City.

Mrs. McBurney Is Oldest Member of Presbyterian Church Here.

Mrs. Jane McBurney, the oldest member of the Presbyterian church at Cass City, in relating some of her life history to the Chronicle for the octogenarian column, says:

"I was born in Arthot, Scotland, on Nov. 15, 1847. In 1855, I went with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Morton, and two small sisters to Wentworth, Canada. It took us six weeks to cross the ocean. We went from there to Wawanosh, Huron County, Ont., where I resided until I was united in marriage to John McBurney on Oct. 31, 1866. In 1878, I came to Cass City to live with my husband, he having come over the year before to purchase a farm and build a house. We suffered all the privations of pioneers, passing through the fire of '81.

"It took us three days to come from Canada to Cass City; by train to Vassar and then by horse team to Cass City which took two days. We stayed all night in Ellington on the trip.

"I am the oldest member of the First Presbyterian church, now living. I resided on the farm till about 12 years ago. A few years later, I purchased a home in Cass City. I am always glad to meet old as well as new friends. I enjoyed the best of health until last year. I learned to knit when I was five years old and am still knitting, having made several pairs of socks the past winter."

Mrs. Welcher's Hobby Is Flowers.

Mrs. J. M. Welcher's one hobby is flowers and gardens and her one regret is that now she is unable to plant seeds and dig among the plants.

Miss Ida Claus was born in Three Mile Bay, Jefferson County, New York, on April 1, 1851. When she was 17 years old, she came to Decatur, Michigan. Here she married J. M. Welcher and settled on a farm near that village. A year ago, she came to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Dailey, in Cass City.

Mrs. Welcher has been well and very active until a few months ago when she suffered an attack of the flu and since has been unable to get about.

When she was 80, she took an automobile trip to Florida to visit her sister, Mrs. Emily C. Barrett. She was accompanied on the trip by a son and daughter, Harley E. Welcher of Decatur and Mrs. E. J. Dailey. She stood the trip fully as well as the younger people.

Mrs. Welcher, herself a twin, is the mother of twins, Hartley A. Welcher of Ann Arbor and Harley E. Welcher of Decatur. Mrs. Dailey is the only daughter.
