

BRAVERY OF CASS CITY LADY MERCHANT FOILS HOLD-UP MAN

Mrs. Brown "Hands" Robber Counter Hardware in Place of Money Demanded.

SCORES HIT AS STEALER RETREATS FROM GROCERY

Mrs. S. H. Brown, grandmother of 14 and great grandmother of two children, put to flight a youthful robber, who entered her grocery store on East Main Street on Saturday at 8:10 p. m.

Mrs. Brown had gone to the living rooms over her store about eight o'clock to get some Sunday school papers. Returning directly to the store, she found a young man the sole occupant of the grocery. Stepping behind the counter, she asked what was wanted. The answer was more of a grumble than words and Mrs. Brown repeated her question. This time the man was emphatic in his demands to "hand over your money!"

"Hand over my money? Well, I guess not," replied the proprietor.

The man shoved the pocket of his coat above the edge of the counter. In his pocket was his hand and the first appearance revealed the shape of a revolver. In fact, Mrs. Brown thought she noticed a gleam along the barrel of a weapon, but she bent over for a closer look and saw the cloth of the garment covered the object. She made a grab for the gun or whatever it might be. The young man edged away from the counter and then Mrs. Brown gathered up grocery scoops and hardware on the counter and commenced throwing them at the would-be-robber's head. She scored one hit, she remembers, before the young man retreated and bolted out of the door. During the melee, Mrs. Brown lifted the top of a candy jar and was about to throw it at the intruder and then returned it to its place as the thought flashed through her mind that she might miss the man and break the glass of the showcase directly behind him.

The young man, Mrs. Brown says, was dressed in black or dark blue trousers and jacket of the same color and wore his dark hat at a rakish angle. He appeared to be from 18 to 25 years of age. Leaving the store, he retreated south to the alley and then disappeared to the east.

On being complimented on her bravery, Mrs. Brown denied that she was courageous and said her actions were due entirely to an Irish temper. Temper or courage, she demonstrated how to deal with would-be robbers of this type.

Mrs. Brown has conducted the store on East Main street since the death of her husband seven years ago. She served as treasurer of Elkland township for two terms.

Officers are working on a clue that looks promising.

40 Attended First Session of Sunday Night Round Table

Forty adults attended the initial gathering of the Sunday Evening Round Table at the Presbyterian church on Jan. 26 when Daniel Kroll, Kenneth Kelly and Rev. Paul J. Allured led an informal discussion of the subject, "Next Steps in American Neutrality." The following points were brought out:

"The traditional 'freedom of the seas' neutrality policy of our country proved a failure when during the World War it actually created the conditions which drew us into the conflict.

"The present neutrality law corrects only in part the defects of the old policy and should be replaced in this session of Congress by one which prohibits loans and credits in addition to arms and munitions to nations at war, and possibly certain raw materials as well.

"While such a law would go far toward keeping our country out of war, to confine our policy regarding war to merely keeping out of one, no matter how ruinous it may be to those taking part in it, is essentially selfish and unbecoming a nation with our degree of strength and idealism.

"Hence, we should never be satisfied with such a negative and unneighborly attitude of deserving only to keep out of war. Rather, we should feel ourselves obligated to a positive peace-making policy of keeping war out of the world. To this end, the greatest step we could take, is to join the League of Nations and the World Court. We should repeal the Oriental Ex-

CASS CITY 32 AND BAD AXE 8

Leslie Doerr's Loss to Team to Be Keenly Felt as Important Games Near.

The defensive work of the Cass City high school quintet has been outstanding all season, but Friday it was working overtime and the result was Bad Axe got only enough shots to total eight points while the local's offense was gathering in thirty-two. The second, third and fourth teams scrambled through a 17-12 victory to keep their record intact.

Brown City, the Sanilac county champions, will bring a fast breaking offense and should, according to their previous record, give the locals a real test this Friday. Russell Clement, Fred Withey and Leslie Profit will share the right forward duties while Leslie Doerr is out with a minor fracture of the lower leg. Leslie's leg was broken while doing chores when he was accidentally kicked by a horse.

The girls' baseball game, scheduled for last Friday, will be played between halves of tonight's game. Bad roads caused postponement last week.

Following are the line-ups for last week's game:

Reese Landmark Destroyed by Fire

Fire which is believed to have started from an overheated stove seriously damaged the store and stock of the F. W. Kern general store at Reese Friday morning. The building, a landmark of Reese, was built over a half century ago.

The building caught fire when a stove used to heat the upstairs rooms ignited some furnishings of a family residing on the second floor. No one was injured in the blaze.

Mr. Kern, a pioneer merchant, has had plenty of misfortune in recent years. Three times during a period of 18 months his store at Reese was burglarized.

THUMB CITIZENS ASK THAT M-53 GAP BE PAVED AT EARLY DATE

Commercial and Service Clubs to Petition State Highway Department.

WANT ASSURANCE OF ADDITIONAL PAVEMENT

Members of the Cass City Rotary Club, who took the initiative in the campaign to secure the paving of M-53 for the 3 1/2 miles east of Cass City and circulated petitions which were freely signed by citizens of the community several years ago and sent to the state highway department asking that division of state government for that improvement which was later realized, are now endeavoring to interest the state highway department in finishing the gap on M-53. This club together with the Rotary organization at Bad Axe and commercial clubs at Kinde and Port Austin are interested in seeing the remaining 20 or more miles still unpaved and for which no provision has been made for improvement may have the early attention of the highway department and that the completion of pavement on M-53 from Detroit to Port Austin, at the tip of the Thumb, may be an early accomplishment.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the noon luncheon of Cass City Rotarians Tuesday:

"Whereas, we consider M-53 one of the most important roads in the State of Michigan, not only commercially but for resorters,

"And whereas, there remain less than twenty-three miles to be paved to complete the road from Detroit and Port Austin,

"And whereas, there has been no assurance of additional pavement in the immediate future,

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Rotary Club of Cass City unanimously petition our State Highway Commissioner, Murray D. VanWagoner, to give the matter of additional pavement on M-53 his consideration and that favorable action be taken on this project in the near future, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. VanWagoner."

Mr. and Mrs. David McCracken celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ira Little (Grace) at 4920 Belvidere street, Detroit, on the evening of Jan. 25.

David McCracken and Edith Hoffman were married in Deford at the home of Mrs. McCracken's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Spencer, 50 years ago and lived for a number of years in that community, then moving to Lupton, Ogemaw county, and later to Detroit. They have five children, ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, all of whom are living.

All were present except Roy McCracken and family of Lupton, who, due to the severe weather and blocked roads, were unable to attend. Relatives were present from Chicago, Ill., Jackson, Caro and Pontiac as well as from Detroit, about 35 in all.

Several selections sung by a great granddaughter, who sings over Station CKLW, were much appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. McCracken were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts and a purse of money as well.

Tuscola Herds Are Leaders in Thumb

Tuscola County Dairy Herd Improvement Association won the distinction of being the high association in the eight counties of the Thumb district with an average butterfat production of 25.9 pounds per cow in the association for December. The county association in making up its December report found George Foster's herd of Fostoria to be high herd of the month. Mr. Foster has 27 registered Holsteins on test which for the month made 1,067 pounds of milk with an average fat of 38 pounds per cow. Mr. Foster also owns the leading cow under four years of age in the entire Thumb district for the month of December which cow made 1916 pounds of milk with 69 pounds.

Harold Blaylock of Millington with 17 registered Holsteins on test stood second in the association for the same month with 1,004 pounds of milk and 34 pounds of fat as average per cow.

Seventeen members in the county received the December test. Starting with the month of January a new tester, Lee Rowe, of Hudson, has been employed and the number of herds in the association increased to 25. At a meeting held by the association Tuesday evening, Jan. 14, the association laid plans for conducting a county bull sale to be held perhaps at the County Fair grounds in Caro next fall, all animals to be consigned by members of the association with production and breeding pedigrees for each animal that the buyer may have every possible source of information concerning the quality of animals offered for sale at that time.

A committee composed of County Agricultural Agent E. L. Benton and Smith-Hughes teachers in the county were appointed to select the animals, assist in preparing the pedigrees, and take care of the necessary publicity and arrangements.

"THE MAN Who Gave His Eyes for a Hair Cut" is the subject announced by one pastor in the church notes on page five. Ought to be a good sprinkling of barbers in that Sunday evening audience.

DURING A recent week the death of eight children has been noted. All of them died from auto accidents caused by auto drivers permitting children to hook their sleds on the back of cars. Play safe. Perhaps you are careful if you are pulling some happy children, but you can not be sure of the other fellow who cuts in and out, or the children, who may let go of the rope, or in turning corners run out into the path of oncoming machines. It's tough on the kiddies to be denied this great pleasure, but it is a lot worse when the accident occurs. Don't present the opportunity for an accident.

IDLENESS LEADS TO JUVENILE OFFENSES SAYS PROBATE JUDGE

Lack of Home Training More Often the Fault of the Parents.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY NOT VICIOUS IN TUSCOLA

"I am sure that we as a county can congratulate ourselves as being a model as far as juvenile delinquency is concerned," Hon. H. Walter Cooper, probate judge of Tuscola county, told Cass City Rotarians Tuesday. "We have had very little and what we have had during my administration has all been of a minor nature—nothing vicious, but all more in the nature of child pranks and a few petty thefts.

"From my observation," said the judge, "juvenile delinquency comes from the lack of proper home training and I usually criticize the parents more than the child. I think that a good many misdemeanors start by some carelessness which is not noticed or is allowed to pass and show the way for further discrepancies. Others come from the desire for things that a child can not have and that he sees other children have.

"It does seem that in the majority of cases brought to my attention there has been little or no home work or other occupation provided and the consequent idleness leads the boys to banding together supervision quite often lead to some pranks, which if allowed to

County Roads Get $624,004.88

Tuscola county during the calendar year of 1935 received a total of $220,227.75 from State Highway Department revenues derived from the gasoline and weight taxes. Huron's portion was $205,572.26 and Sanilac county received $198,204.87. Complications announced this week by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner reveal that the amount returned during the past year is the largest in Michigan history. Over the last ten years, returns to the counties from state highway revenues have increased approximately 3 1/2 times.

The first meeting of the classes will be held in the supervisors' room in the court house at 1:30 next Saturday.

Luncheon sets, pillow tops, scarfs, handkerchiefs, and various other articles were shown. Following the lesson, each member chose one of the accessories on display and then explained the reason for her choice.

POTPOURRI.

One of my acquaintances told me the other day that he takes his bath in the morning and always in cold water. He seemed to think that was something commendable, and I heard him tell it to two or three other men. Why should a man brag about taking his bath in cold water?—"the colder the better."

Did you ever know a negro to commit suicide? Or did you ever know a colored woman to live and die an old maid?

Recently I was turning the leaves of an old book written 75 years ago, and I saw mention of a "pounce box." How many youngsters of the high school age of today know what pounce is?

It's a pity that so many men who are themselves workers can be worked by men who do no other kind of work than to work workers. The woman whose husband has no bad habits must live a very monotonous life.

What We Think

By Frank Dixon.

I have just read Mrs. Roosevelt's column, "My Day."

I understand that she will receive several thousand dollars a year for the column which will be a recital of the things she has done during the day.

While it will be widely read, I am not greatly impressed with it as a column. At the same time Mrs. Roosevelt will get more for her column for one week that I would be able to get in ten years.

Maybe the reading public is right at that.

To me one of the most remarkable inventions the past year has been the method of transporting photographs by telegraph for use in daily newspapers.

The morning following the opening of Congress, the night session of which was addressed by President Roosevelt, there was laid on the breakfast tables in the nation a morning paper containing a picture of the president in the act of delivering his message.

When one thinks that this picture was taken and transmitted hundreds of miles on a wire, a plate engraved and the paper printed and delivered a hundred miles away from the newspaper office in the short space of eight or ten hours, it appeals to me as a remarkable achievement.

Another thing I think that is remarkable that has happened the past year is the discovery of a means of "canning" blood from persons who have died, for use in transfusions.

I cannot join with those who worry over our present national debt. If the debt had been created by war I would feel differently about it, but it hasn't been. It has been created to save men and women and children from hunger and cold and misery.

No one likes debt less than I do, but if a member of my family had to have an operation we would arrange for the operation if it took the family savings, the farm, and even the carpets off the floors.

As I size up the year that has just closed, I find some things to be thankful for and a few things that I regret.

I notice, though, that most of my regrets are not caused by the mere fact that the year is past and gone, or that I wasn't able to make more money than I did.

Most of my regrets are caused by my failure to do the good and the kind things I might have done if I had only thought in time, and, now and then a thoughtless unkindness that crept into my dealings, leaves an ugly spot that I wish I could erase, and which I hope won't show up on next year's page.

Two Minute Sermon

The Finest Monument.

By Thos. Hastwell.

In a town not far from where I live an old man gathered together his all, some fifty thousand dollars, and invested it in a monument to be placed on the lot in the cemetery in which he would be buried when he died. Situated as it was in a country town cemetery it was easily the most conspicuous memorial there, and perhaps nothing approaching it would ever be placed there by any one else. In contrast to this there is, in another nearby town, another man who has also invested fifty thousand dollars in a memorial. The difference is that in the latter case instead of putting his money in a lifeless pile of stone he has invested it in human life. He has taken young people, boys and girls, and has made it possible for them to secure an education and to develop the talents that they possess, but which, for some such aid, would be dormant and unexpressed. To me there is no comparison in these two memorials. In contrast with the latter, the piles of stone appears cheap and common. It is the last earthly expression of human vanity and human conceit and human greed. It will die with its owner. But the man who gave so generously of his life's substance that other lives might reach a higher level of expression has sent out into the future a force, that like the circle caused by dropping a pebble into a pool, will go out and out in ever widening and never ending waves, and reach through all the ages that are yet to come. The ultimate effect cannot be estimated or known. I would a thousand times rather be such a man and come to my final resting place with nothing but the plainest, simplest marker, than to be permitted to sleep beneath the other's magnificent monument. One sleeper will hear humanity's praise of a remarkable piece of granite, and the other will hear his praise of a remarkable human heart.

Frijoles, Cultivated Beans
In Mexico and the Spanish-American countries any cultivated bean of the genus Phaseolus is called frijole. In particular it refers to the small flat black bean, which ranks next to maize in importance as an article of diet and is an ingredient of many dishes. It is probably of South American origin.

ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

THIS $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms. GETTING OUT OF RELIEF.

It is agreed on all sides that the government must cut its expenditures and move as rapidly as possible toward balancing the federal budget.

Unfortunately too many citizens seem to stop right there, without figuring just how the change back to normal is going to be accomplished. The abnormal relief load creates the conditions leading to such deficits.

To do so, it has to get rid of the unemployment burden, including both employables and unemployables. The government is now providing work of various kinds for about 3,500,000 of the former, and is helping to take care, in various ways, of about an equal number of the latter.

More workers will naturally get private employment as business improvement continues. There is here a strong incentive for business interests of all kinds to hire idle men and women as rapidly as they can, for all kinds of work, as the most effective means of reducing federal expenses, deficits and taxes.

It will be up to the states and local governments to provide work or subsistence for the remainder, if the government sticks to its declared purpose of getting out of the relief business as rapidly as it can.

The burden upon taxpayers, in any case, may be about the same except for the employables hired again by private enterprise. The most effective reduction of public expenses comes from private employment.—Review Atlas, Monmouth, Ill.

Reputations wear out quickly when not taken care of.

The only safe time to make a prediction is after the thing has happened.

INDIVIDUAL GIVING.

A 16-year-old boy who has been afflicted with an incurable disease wrote a letter to a newspaper asking if any of its readers knew of an unwanted erector set which might be given to him.

From all over the city calls came to the newspaper office asking the boy's address. Children came bringing toys. Adults came with books, toys and money.

This sort of thing has happened before and will happen many times again. It shows what human beings are like when they are sincerely moved. The sad thing about it is that it so often requires a particular case, well presented, to start the stream of generosity flowing.

Some folks don't tell what they know, while other folks tell what they don't know.

The year 1936 may be a break for the girls, but to the pedestrian it is just another leap year.

The season is at hand when we shall see some of our most esteemed citizens and some not so highly esteemed, either "viewing with alarm" or "pointing with pride."

While Safety Slogans will help in making our streets and roads safer, we're going to have to go much farther than that.

The twenty-eight or thirty billion dollars the government owes keep us awake less of nights than the few hundred that we owe.

Those who get something for nothing never fail to come back for another supply on the same terms.

The Oyster Tree

The oyster tree is really a mangrove, and grows in salt water. It is found on the islands of the Caribbean sea. Oysters attach themselves to the tree as high as the level reached by spray from the waves.

Origin of Word Petunia

The origin of the word petunia is from petun, said to be applied by the Indians of South America to tobacco, a related plant.

Delouse Cattle by Using Powder

When cattle rub against posts and buildings in winter, it is a pretty good indication they are suffering from an infestation of lice, says C. B. Dibble, of the Michigan State College entomology department.

Many inquiries have come to the animal husbandry department of the college, asking for ways of delousing. A bulletin on cattle lice may be obtained by writing to the College.

When fall control has been neglected and emergency measures are necessary in winter, louse powders are the only safe desirable control, the entomologist advises.

Commercial louse powders containing pyrethrum and derris, but without such poisonous materials as arsenic, fluorine, nicotine, or hellebore may be used.

A homemade recipe, recommended by Mr. Dibble, would include one pound of pyrethrum, three pounds flour, and four pounds louse powder for a total cost of 60 cents or 15 cents per pound.

One-fourth of a pound should be used per animal with the treatment repeated in 14 days. Bedding should be cleaned each time. If blue lice, which do not respond to this treatment, are present, six ounces of powdered naphthalene or moth balls should be added.

Know Your Horses; Try to Find Defects

Do you know your horses? If you do, you'll get a chance to prove it during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, East Lansing. A special feature of the week will be a competition between farmers of the state in discovering defects and unsoundness in eight to ten horses on display.

Dr. J. P. Hutton, of the Veterinary Division, announces that the competition will be held at 9:00 a. m. Tuesday, Feb. 4, in the Demonstration Hall.

The winner will be awarded a trophy at the annual meeting of the Horse Breeders' Association at the People's Church, East Lansing, at noon. Four other awards will be given runners-up.

The event has been arranged in order to permit farmers to identify some of the more common unsoundnesses in horses which prevent them from rendering desirable services.

BEAUTY IS HELPED BY STYLE OF HAIR

The girl what wants to make the most of her best features and to draw attention away from not-so-good ones should study her face carefully and experiment with hair styles and cosmetics.

The right coiffure can make a too-long nose seem shorter, or an extremely thin face appear plumper.

If your nose is long and pointed, never part your hair in the middle. If it is short, by all means do wear your hair with the part in the center.

If you have a long thin face, a coiffure that fluffs out slightly at the sides will be most flattering. Girls with short plump faces can very well go in for sleeked-back hair styles, perhaps even the types that show both ears.

Pert curls that fly across the forehead and in front of ears generally are best for youthful, rather small, pliant faces.

Treat Furs Roughly

If you are lucky enough to get a silver fox wrap, for goodness sake learn to care for it correctly. The fur never should be stroked with the hands or touched with a brush. Instead, when you want to fluff it up and remove dust, shake it vigorously. Don't treat furs gently. On fox ranches where the little creatures are bred and reared to enhance feminine beauty and in large fur houses, fox pelts are beaten with a stick to make them fluffier and more luxurious looking.

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—and see that you get what you want.

Money Issuing Power

There is no limit on the money issuing power of a government. Written constitutions in every case vest the legislative authority with full power to issue money and regulate its value. In most cases governments then delegate the money issuing power to central banks or ordinary commercial banks, but restrict their note issuing power by requiring certain metallic reserves.

DOCTORS KNOW
Mothers read this:

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?
The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.
If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.
Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

Improved SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 2
JESUS ENLISTS HELPERS
LESSON TEXT—Luke 5:1-11, 27, 28. GOLDEN TEXT—They forsook all and followed him.—Luke 5:11. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Finds Some Helpers. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus and the Fishermen. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Calls Us. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Call to Serve With Christ.

The work of Jesus had now progressed far enough to make more workers necessary. He, therefore, called and trained the helpers needed. The spread of Christianity depends upon the testimony of men and women who have come into an experiential knowledge of Jesus Christ.
His fame was now so widespread that the people pressed upon him to hear the Word of God. The manner and matter of his teaching gained the attention of the people, for he taught as one having authority and not as the Scribes. The people came to hear the Word of God. It is true today that people will flock to hear the preaching of the Word of God. The people will not flock to hear the preacher discourse on politics, literature, current events, and human philosophy. These people were hearing the living Word expounding the written Word.

Before these disciples were called into the Lord's service, it was necessary that, in a most concrete way, they be shown the wisdom and power of Jesus Christ.
1. Christ's command (v. 4). It was to launch out into the deep and let down their nets for a draught of fishes. It was necessary for them to learn that if fish were to be caught they must cast their nets where the fish were.
2. The disciples' hesitant obedience (v. 5). Peter as spokesman explained that they had a night of disheartening failure. They had given themselves to a whole night of exhausting toil, with no success. While they acknowledged their failure and unwillingness to continue on the ground of their own judgment, they expressed willingness to proceed on a new ground of action; namely, "At thy word." Happy are they who are willing to go forth with unflinching courage on the ground of Christ's commandment.

3. Reward for obedience (vv. 6, 7). By Jesus' guidance they were able to take such a draught of fishes that their nets broke and the boats were in danger of sinking. Abundant success will crown the efforts of the disciples who render implicit obedience to the commands of the Lord Jesus Christ.

III. The Disciples Called to Higher Service (vv. 8-11).

1. The effect of the miracle upon the disciples (vv. 8-10). This miracle was so manifestly the work of supernatural power that Peter acknowledged himself to be in the presence of a divine being, even expressing the fear that comes to all when brought face to face with God.
2. Their new vocation (v. 10). Jesus not only spoke words of good cheer to the disciples, but made clear to them their work in the coming years. They no longer were to spend their time in catching fish, but henceforth were to be fishers of men. Literally, they were to catch men alive. This is the exalted calling of every one who is Christ's real disciple.
3. Response to the call (v. 11). They left all and followed Jesus. They had such a marvelous demonstration of wisdom and power of Christ that they were now willing to give up their temporal interests and give themselves to the new work; that of winning men to Christ. Obedience to Christ meant not only sacrifice, but a life of fruitful service in winning souls for him.

IV. The Calling of Matthew (vv. 27, 28).
Matthew was a despised tax-gatherer. He was called from a remunerative position to give up all and follow Jesus. He, together with James, John, and Peter, gave up all to follow Jesus. He had the courage of his convictions, for he made a great feast to which he invited his old friends so that he might introduce them to Jesus Christ. This act of Matthew was a result of mature deliberation, for considerable time had elapsed since his call. His experience with Jesus was so blessedly real that he desired that his friends should have a like blessing. Men and women of reputation and influence should capitalize on them for the salvation of the lost, introducing their friends to Jesus Christ. Christ is not only able to save all kinds of sinners, but to use them when saved in his work.

The Eyes of Fish

The eyes of fish are like our own in structure and vision, but with adaptive modifications. Eyelids are absent, so that the eye remains always uncovered. The eyeball has little power of movement; the cornea is flatter and the lens more globular than in the eyes of mammals; and it appears that fish are comparatively near-sighted. While in most species the eyes are very large as compared with those of the higher animals, a few have small orbits, or none at all that are visible, and live in darkness as parasites, or under stones, or in cave-streams, or in the abysses of the ocean.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Tuscola in Chancery:

The petition of John J. O'Hara, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all lands in said County of Tuscola upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1890 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid, for the first installment of taxes of 1932, or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale, or sales, so made have been set aside by court of competent jurisdiction by Legislative Action (See Act 126, P. A. of 1933, as amended by Act 11, Extra Session of 1934, as amended by Act 73, P. A. of 1935), or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.

Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner ever pray, etc. Dated January 6, 1936.

JOHN J. O'HARA Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

A list of the lands referred to as included in "Schedule A" is on file in the office of the County Clerk and subject to public inspection.

The Returned Delinquent Rolls and the Supplemental Returned Delinquent Rolls, together with the delinquent taxes of 1933, are all filed in the County Treasurer's office and contain the descriptions which will be offered for sale. They are subject to public inspection.

Edward VIII Becomes Ruler of the British Empire; Substitute for Unconstitutional AAA Rejected by Senate Subcommittee.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

GEORGE V, king of Great Britain and emperor of India, died in Sandringham house, peacefully and painlessly, in his seventy-first year. Immediately on his passing, his eldest son, Edward Albert, who had been prince of Wales, succeeded to the throne, which by British law, is never vacant. Next morning the state council, consisting of the queen and her four sons, which had been created by a decree which George signed a few hours before his death, proclaimed the accession of the new ruler as Edward VIII. His first official act was to notify the lord mayor of London of his father's demise.

King Edward VIII

King George, who had been on the throne almost twenty-five years, was the best loved and most democratic of the world's monarchs, always just, solicitous for the welfare of his subjects, and living a simple and almost faultless domestic and official life. The new king, a confirmed bachelor, knows his vast empire intimately, having visited practically every part of it, some regions many times. Decidedly different from his father in his tastes and ways of life, he still, as the prince of Wales, has been a great favorite of the people, and in recent years, realizing that he would soon have to mount the throne, he steadied down and took an increasing interest in the affairs of the empire. He is especially liked by the laboring classes, in whose welfare he often has shown deep sympathy. That he never married has been a disappointment to the British people. Now for the first time since the reign of William IV there is no prince of Wales. Next in the line of succession is the king's brother, the duke of York, and second comes the duke's little daughter, Princess Elizabeth. There will be six months or more of official mourning for George's death, and Edward VIII will not be crowned for about one year.

The body of the dead ruler was removed from Sandringham house to the little church of St. Mary Magdalene in Sandringham. Thence it was to be taken to Westminster abbey, there to lie in state. Interment is to be in the Albert Memorial chapel at Windsor, beside the tombs of George's father and mother. It was believed the state funeral would not take place for two weeks.

THE New Deal's substitute for the unconstitutional AAA, a bill empowering the secretary of agriculture to pay farmers who cooperate voluntarily in a program of soil conservation, was introduced in congress by Senator John B. Bankhead, Democrat, and Representative Marvin Jones, Democrat, Texas. The bill was referred to a senate subcommittee. The members of the subcommittee doubted the constitutionality of the new measure and directed Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to write a new bill. The bill rejected by the committee stated as its purposes:

1. Preservation and improvement of soil fertility.
2. Promotion of the economic use of land.
3. Diminution of exploitation and unprofitable use of national soil resources.
4. Provision for and maintenance of a continuous and stable supply of agricultural commodities adequate to meet domestic and foreign consumer requirements at prices fair to both producers and consumers.
5. Re-establishment and maintenance of farm purchasing power.

Secretary Wallace was requested to write a new act that would provide a plan of co-operation with each of the 48 states, and set up a permanent program on AAA policies, Chairman Smith, Democrat, said. Saying he speaks for the committee, Smith explained: "We said in effect to Secretary Wallace, 'Make it constitutional,' because we have the responsibility to pass it."

THE compromise bill providing payment of the soldier bonus, whipped through congress by crushing majorities, was passed on to the President, who is expected to veto it.

Congressional action of the measure was completed when the house voted 346 to 59 to accept the senate substitute for the bill it had previously passed. The senate vote was 74 to 16. Leaders of both houses claimed they have sufficient votes to override a veto.

The original house bill did not provide a method for paying the cost of the bonus, which is estimated at $2,337,000,000. The senate suggested the issuance of the $50 "baby bonds" which will bear interest at 3 per cent annually until 1945 if the veteran elects to hold on to them.

Each veteran will receive the 1945 value of his adjusted compensation certificate in $50 bonds with a government check for odd amounts. Interest owed by veterans upon loans unpaid on their certificates is canceled, but there will be no refund of interest paid upon such loans.

THE present federal relief program, depending principally on work relief, CCC and public works, is alone costing approximately as much as the fourfold program which went before and which embraced these three items plus direct relief which has now been returned to the states, according to a study of the relief problem and the government finances by Kendall K. Hoyt in the Analyst.

For immediate purposes, at least, there is no prospect of much reduction in the rate of federal expenditure, according to Mr. Hoyt. In order to prevent the states from trooping back for more relief funds the government must keep its pledge to employ the arbitrary three and one-half million persons which have been carried since last November principally under WPA and CCC. In dollar terms this means that, according to budget estimates, the outlay for recovery and relief for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, will be almost the same as that for the preceding fiscal year, namely, three billions in round numbers, or an average of 250 millions per month. It is within expectancy, therefore, that costs to the country will reach a new high unless economic conditions improve more rapidly than can now be foreseen.

APPARENTLY "authentic" administration sources are credited, according to Democrats in congress, with a report that Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, may become secretary of the treasury. It was said that Henry Morgenthau, present secretary of the treasury, may be made confidential adviser to the President.

One congressman, who keeps abreast of developments in government financial circles, said he was reasonably sure the change already has received some consideration from President Roosevelt. Another added that it was "a 100-to-1 shot that it is under consideration."

The reports were discounted to some extent, however, by the fact that the President has just renominated Jones for two years as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. One Democratic representative argued that on the basis of his past record Jones could carry into the treasury the respect and confidence of both big business and "the man in the street." He described the RFC chairman as sufficiently liberal to command the support of liberal elements and yet not leaning so far in that direction as to alarm conservatives.

PREMIER NESSIM PASHA, weary of his job since the anti-British riots started November 13, has handed the resignation of his cabinet to King Fuad I. The resignation was accepted.

Nassim found it exhausting to keep an equilibrium between the conflicting forces of the throne, the British residency, the nationalists and their compatriots. But the final blow, dealt him by the British government at London, was the thinly veiled ultimatum to Egyptian Nationalism, in the form of verbal instructions for negotiations for an Anglo-Egyptian treaty. The sting to Egyptian pride was in the wording that if the present negotiations fail, the British consider their hands will be free and will revise their Egyptian policy.

THE senate munitions committee which participated in a sensational controversy recently by reflecting on the war record of President Wilson, has decided to request an additional appropriation of $7,500 to complete its investigation and make its final report.

Many Democratic senators have declared that they would not vote another dollar for the inquiry, but Senator Nye, chairman of the committee, believes the additional sum will be forthcoming.

AFTER several months of governmental stability Premier Pierre Laval has handed to Albert Lebrun, president of France, the resignation of the entire cabinet.

The radical Socialists: Minister of State Edouard Herriot, Minister of Commerce George Bonnet, Minister of Mercantile Marine William Bertrand, and Minister of Interior Joseph Paganon, composed a letter of resignation, condemning the domestic and foreign policies of Laval. Their colleagues, Minister of Finance Marcel Regnier and Minister of Pensions Maupouil, refused to sign, declaring they would resign only with the cabinet as a whole. The Nationalist Minister of State, Louis Marin, also dissented from the resignation.

Laval, informed of what was going on, handed the president the resignation of the entire cabinet.

FACTORY sales of automobiles manufactured in the United States rose to 407,804 in December, bringing the year's total to 4,009,486, the Department of Commerce reports. The total compares with 2,753,111 in 1934. At the same time the department reported an increase of $7,483,914 in exports of automotive products during the month of November from the preceding month. November auto exports reached a valuation of $22,403,722. This is the peak figure for any corresponding month since 1929, when the export total amounted to $27,129,963.

RECENT League of Nations developments have gone heavily against Italy's aspirations for African conquest. Of four major actions taken by the assembled powers, led again by Anthony Eden of Great Britain, two definitely were antagonistic to Italy, one was a draw and one was somewhat in the Fascist state's favor. They were:

1. The league council decided to move against an oil embargo against Italy. A committee of experts was appointed to ascertain if oil sanctions could be made effective.

2. Britain announced a military alliance with France, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia, and these nations pledged aid should Italy attack Britain because of sanctions. Rumania and Czechoslovakia promptly joined this group, making seven nations pledged to combined action against Italy should war come over efforts to stop the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

3. The league declined to send a neutral investigating body to Ethiopia, which Ethiopia asked and to which Italy consented.

4. The league conciliation committee published a report that no peace proposals are possible at the present time, and that the league should pursue a policy of watchful waiting.

THE opening of the reign of Edward VIII of Great Britain, was marked with an act of mercy. Arthur Charles Mortimer, under sentence of death for running down and killing a girl bicyclist with an automobile, received a reprieve commencing his sentence to penal servitude for life. Mortimer's crime, murder by motor car, was described as the first of its kind in England.

HUEY LONG'S lieutenants, following the victory of their primary state in Louisiana, declared that the late senator's fight on the Roosevelt administration would be pushed, with the share-the-wealth program as the spearhead of attack. Returns on the primary indicate a majority of more than 100,000 for senator, governor and other state officers. Nomination is equivalent to election.

UNDERSECRETARY of the Treasury Thomas Jefferson Coolidge resigned his position suddenly and unexpectedly, because he did not agree with all the policies of the administration. At the same time Assistant Secretary Lawrence W. Robert resigned. President Roosevelt accepted both resignations. It was understood there was no connection between the two withdrawals. Mr. Robert had been expected for some time to quit his post.

In his treasury position Mr. Coolidge, long a New England banker, has been in charge of such government financial affairs as the huge borrowings of money to meet heavy government expenditures. He was understood to be in accord with most Roosevelt policies but felt he was unable to give his full support to the general New Deal program. It was not learned what specific objections were raised by Mr. Coolidge but they were believed to revolve around such constitutional questions as federal versus state rights.

RUDYARD KIPLING, poet and story writer who best embodied in his literary work the ideas of British Imperialists, died in London following an operation for perforated ulcer of the stomach. He was seventy years of age and in recent years had written very little except as a propagandist. He was a vigorous and bold writer and a master stylist. His best work was done long ago when he wrote numerous poems and stories about India, its natives and the British soldiers there.

CASS CITY SCHOOLS.

Cass City Wins Debate—

The preliminary series of the 1935-36 debating season drew to a close Monday evening when Cass City debaters, Glenna Asher, Donald Allured, and Frank Morris met the team from Kingston, Eileen Holmes, Robert Cory, and Richard DeGrow. The subject for debate was the question of government monopoly for the manufacture and sale of combat instruments of war.

Due to the absence of one of the three judges, Mr. Crawford, superintendent of schools at Gagetown, served alone in that capacity. He gave the decision in favor of the affirmative side represented by Cass City. The debate was held in the high school library, and Carl Reagh presided as chairman.

Delicious chop suey, hot rolls, and cocoa were served afterwards by the Home Economics II girls to the participants in the debate, timekeepers, coaches, the judge, and teachers.

Two victories and two defeats are credited to Cass City debating squads this year. The teams won from Unionville and Kingston, and lost to Mt. Morris and Bad Axe. In all cases the affirmative side was given the decision. Cass City, however, is not permitted to enter the eliminations, as they have only seven of the required ten points.

Athletics—

Those two girls in red skirts and white sweaters that you see leading the students in yells at the games are Patricia Pinney and Martha McCoy. The team likes to know that the crowd is behind them, and a rousing cheer often spurs the boys on to win.

The next basketball game is with Brown City here tonight (Friday). The remaining games of this year's schedule are as follows: Jan. 31, Brown City, here. Feb. 4, Sandusky, there. Feb. 7, Caro, here. Feb. 11, Sebawaing, there. Feb. 18, Harbor Beach, here. Feb. 21, Bad Axe, there. An account of Friday's game with Bad Axe is found on another page. The girls' basketball game scheduled for between halves of the game Friday night was postponed because some of the girls were unable to get in to school because of drifted side roads.

General Assemblies—

The band opened the general assembly program Friday with several selections. This was the band's second public appearance. After group singing, Donald Allured, representing the freshman class, presented the freshman sponsor, Miss Ruth Ann Erskine, with a leather brief case. Mr. Niergarth, representing the faculty, gave Miss Erskine a two-year subscription to the Chronicle so that she might follow the activities of the school through these columns while she is attending Cornell University, starting next semester.

Dr. Francis Onderdonk of Ann Arbor addressed the student body on Wednesday morning, Jan. 22, on the subject of world peace. He illustrated his talk by telling of personal experiences in his European travels.

Home Economics—

A climax in the number of students served a hot dish at noon was reached Thursday and Friday, Jan. 23 and 24, when about 140 were served each day. This was due to the very cold weather.

Friday was the dead-line for the handing in of the first home economics projects. Both first and second year home economics students are required to spend a certain amount of hours outside the regular school hours in foods, clothing, room decorating, care of the sick, or child-care projects. Instead of two projects during the year and one during the summer, it has been decided to do all three projects during the school year.

Scholastics—

Renewals for subscriptions to the Scholastic magazine next semester were received by Miss Hale. She said there will be about seventy copies of this magazine coming to the school each week. More than this number of students have access to the magazine as copies are shared. The Scholastic is a weekly national magazine of contemporary life and letters for supplementary study in high school classes in English, history, and other subjects.

Hawaiian Guitar Orchestra—

Mr. Shultz of Owendale comes to the high school every Monday to give lessons in Hawaiian guitar playing. About twelve students are taking advantage of this opportunity to learn to play this instrument. The orchestra will play before the high school assembly sometime after the semester exams are concluded.

Reviews and Exams—

The first two days of this week were spent in review of the past semester's work, and the last three days in semester exams. A schedule of the exams was arranged so that the tests were divided over the three days for the pupils as conveniently as possible.

IDLENESS LEADS TO JUVENILE OFFENSES SAYS PROBATE JUDGE

Concluded from first page. In gangs. The gangs without propounded by various organizations, like Rotary, in furnishing occupation and amusements for our children, and mostly for boys, such as camps and summer outings, skating rinks and slides in winter. Juvenile cases come from all communities. We all have them.

"My experience has been mostly with boys, and only two or three girls. I have never sent a child to any institution other than Lapeer and never will if I can possibly avoid it. I have been the cause of a good many tears and have had to confine some of the boys from one to two weeks and do not allow anyone to go to them until they ask for it. In every case I feel that good has come from such treatment. In only one case have I felt that I should have sent the boy to Lansing. I really expect more trouble from him, but hope to be disappointed.

"Yet, Major Armstrong told the probate judges in a talk at their convention that he considered that Michigan had a model institution but that he would advise us to send our boys to him only as a last resort. That it always leaves a mark on the boy that he never outlives. Further that a boy must be able to pass a high mental test to be eligible.

"Juvenile cases all come to the probate court," said Mr. Cooper, "and are always disposed of by this court except when some serious case on the border line of 17 years appears and it is sometimes turned over to the circuit court investigation.

"I think that every town or village should make some effort to continue, will bring the child into probate court.

Lower Feed Cost Profits Dairies

Decreased feed costs for Michigan dairies was reported for December by state cow testers, the report based on cost records. A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at the Michigan State College, attributed the decline in feed costs to dependence on home grown feeds.

"The summaries of Michigan cow testers for December reveal a very high percentage of dairymen depending largely on home-grown feeds," he said. "Little improvement has occurred in dairy herds where the feed is not home-grown."

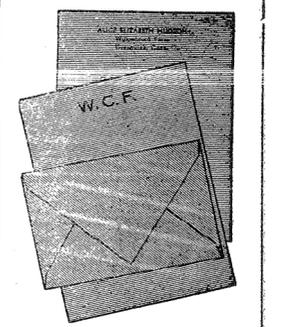

The report stated that cow testers inspected 1,000 herds in all parts of the state and tested 14,000 cows for economical production. Good sales of bulls from dairy association herds was also reported for December.
