HOWER—SEELEY.

Miss Hazel Hower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hower of Cass City, and Hollis Seeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seeley of Cass City, were quietly married Saturday morning, September 5. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. F. Binder of the Evangelical church of Dearborn.

The bride was attired in a Du-Bonnet suit with brown accessories. The bride's attendant, Miss Katherine Joos of Cass City, wore rust color with black accessories.

Harley Dean of Detroit, cousin of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Seeley graduated from the Cass City high school in 1929, and has taught in the rural schools in this vicinity.

Following a week's motor trip through Northern Michigan, they will make their home in Detroit where the groom is employed by the Chrysler Motor company.

CIRCUIT COURT

In circuit court in Tuscola county on Friday, the first case on the docket was that of Theodore Daud vs. S. W. Morrison, county clerk, and Arthur Whittenburg, county treasurer, in which was requested a writ of mandamus to enforce payment of interest on defaulted Sebewaing River and Branches drain bonds. County officers gave data regarding amount of money in the drain funds and payments. Attorney Bates Willis for the defense said money on hand had been earmarked for payment of bonds and interest, but not for payment of interest on bonds in default. Attorney Maurice Ransford for the plaintiff claimed money was not specifically for payment of bonds now due but all interest and bonds should have been paid as fast as presented either from drain fund or from general fund when drain fund is depleted. Judge Cramton took the matter under advisement.

COMING AUCTION.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING.

To the Republican Voters of Tuscola County:
Next Tuesday you will be called on to nominate a candidate for county drain commissioner. As I have previously announced I am a candidate for re-election, and I ask you to consider some things in connection with that office which you will agree are most necessary for the efficient management of the office.

In selecting your county drain commissioner, you will I believe want one who is trained by education and experience for the office. I am a native-born citizen of Tuscola county, a service man, a taxpayer of an 80-acre farm and a graduate of Michigan State College as civil engineer. For ten years I was employed as an engineer on various construction projects, where I gained experience in estimating the costs of construction work, which has been of value to you in my work of letting contracts for drainage construction.

As a civil engineer, it has not been necessary to employ others to make surveys and plans for drain construction. By doing this work myself, Tuscola county has been saved a great expense. These qualifications are most important, you will agree, in an office in which great sums are some times expended in drainage improvements.

During my administration I have saved Tuscola county taxpayers the expense of a deputy commissioner. My time has always been at the disposal of Tuscola county people.

During the past year, this office was the only one able to secure a WPA project of such an extent as is still being maintained in the county drain department. Approximately 140 men have been employed cleaning out drains of this county, and this labor bill has been paid by the WPA federal funds without county funds. You will agree that this has been a very great factor in keeping down the relief load, which otherwise would have been paid by county taxpayers.

On the basis of honest and efficient service, on qualifications and experience, I ask your support at the primary election as an engineer for an engineering office.

Very truly yours,
ROSCOE J. BLACK.

FARMERS' INCOME IS 16 PERCENT HIGHER

Mich. Farm Products on Par with Prices of Commodities Farmer Buys.

For the first time since 1930, the prices of products which farmers in Michigan sell have been on a par with prices of commodities which farmers buy, reports R. V. Gunn, extension economist, Michigan State College.

In diagnosing what has occurred and what effect trends may have on the crops farmers in this state now are harvesting, Gunn reports that on August 15, for instance, the average farm price index was 34 per cent higher than the pre-war level and that prices are more than double what they were in the fore part of 1933.

"To put it another way, the cash income to Michigan farmers for the first six months of 1936 is estimated to be approximately 16 per cent higher than for the first six months of 1935. If this proportionate increase over last year continues for the balance of this year, the total cash income to Michigan farmers for 1936 will approximate two hundred million dollars. This is almost equal to the income of two hundred and eight million dollars in 1930. Compared with the low cash income year of one hundred and eighteen million dollars in 1932, this represents a 70 per cent increase. It is true that the cost of commodities which farmers buy has also risen during the past four years, but so far this increase has been only 26 per cent.

"For the fourth consecutive year, the total U. S. wheat crop is almost 25 per cent below normal. We will again be on an import basis which means that prices for the 1936 crop can be expected to remain high, compared with the 'world market' price. Michigan, with a good crop this year stands to gain because of this situation."

The U. S. corn crop as indicated by August 1 conditions is the smallest since 1881.

The Michigan corn crop, according to government crop reports, will probably be not much more.

REPUBLICAN WORKERS PLAN FALL CAMPAIGN

Three Counties Represented in District Meeting at Caro Tuesday.

With the object of intelligently and systematically contacting a substantial majority of Upper Thumb voters between now and November, 100 Republican workers of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties were invited to the Hotel Montague at Caro Tuesday night by the Republican State Central committee to consider plans and hear an outline of organization work for the fall campaign.

A Tuscola county enrollment committee was elected as follows: James Kirk, Juniata township, chairman; Mrs. A. J. Knapp, Cass City, vice chairman; Alison Stone, Caro, representing the Veteran's organization; and T. L. Lowthian, Unionville, the Young Republicans. Enrollment committees were also named for the 24 precincts in townships. The objective of these county and township organizations is to assure workers before election day that a majority of the people of Tuscola county will vote Republican on Nov. 3. Similar committees with like objectives were named for Huron and Sanilac.

Following a dinner at Hotel Montague, addresses were given by

Cass City Painter, 76, Tackles Lots of Work This Season

One will have to search long to find a more active man of 76 years than Wallace Withey of Cass City.

Friday, Mr. Withey completed painting the front of the plant of the Elkland Roller Mills on East Main street, the peak of which is more than 60 feet from the ground. Two 20-foot ladders coupled together and placed on the veranda roof of the mill were necessary for the painter to reach the topmost portion of the building.

Mr. Withey, besides the mill job, has painted three houses and the front of a blacksmith shop and helped shingle a farm barn thus far this season, and has the exteriors of three more residences and a farm barn to paint before snow flies.

He works 10 hours a day and 5 1/2 days each week on painting jobs. On his weekly half-day "vacation," Mr. Withey helps his wife do the family washing. He attributes his good health and unusual activity at an advanced age to temperate habits and early-to-bed hours.

He celebrated his 76th birth anniversary on Feb. 2, 1936.

RE-ELECT WHITTENBURG.

To the Republican Voters of Tuscola County:

Next Tuesday is primary election day, and I wish to take this last opportunity to express through the press my sincere thanks for the many expressions of kindly interests in my behalf that have come to me. If nominated by the Republican party next Tuesday, and elected in November, I shall continue to give the position of County Treasurer the same careful and honest attention that I have in the past.

In the office I have given you my constant and earnest service despite the fact that I am faced with the present primary campaign. I am deeply grateful for the honor you have conferred upon me and hope you will permit me by your votes to continue to serve you during the next two years.

When I was 17 years of age I became a taxpayer in this county. My father's death threw upon me the duties of operating the farm, and this work I continued despite my physical handicap until you chose me to this office. It is my earnest desire to continue to merit the confidence you have reposed in me, and that confidence can best be expressed by your support at the polls next Tuesday.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR WHITTENBURG.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

One of the singular things about the way the American people run their government, is that in most of the states they pay relatively little attention to the primary elections, where candidates for office are nominated by the several political parties.

Probably in the average state, the number of people who vote at the elections is double the number who vote at the primaries. Yet the primary is apt to be the place where the real issue is decided. If a political party makes a strong nomination at the primaries, it is likely to win. If it makes a poor nomination, it is apt to lose.

If the American people want to decide who shall hold office, they must go to these primaries, and vote for the best nominations.

Intelligent and conscientious folks often stay away from these primaries, arguing that they are usually cut and dried, and their results fixed up in advance. The reason why the results are frequently assured in advance, is that so many good folks stay away from these primaries. The people who have axes to grind, and special favors to ask contrary to public interest, are all there and ready to vote. If there is only a small vote, these elements that are looking out for their own interests frequently control the nominations.

The American people complain bitterly over high taxes, inefficient and frequently corrupt government. And then millions of them are too indolent or absorbed in other things, to get out to primary elections and help put competent people in office. Why wonder that many things go wrong?

MORE SAFETY.

Village Traffic Ordinance, known as Ordinance No. 39, was passed by the Common Council of the Village of Cass City several weeks ago and became effective on Monday, Sept. 7. The ordinance contains 80 sections, most of them pertaining to the regulations of traffic, and repeals Ordinance No. 33 of ancient vintage insofar as modern regulations of motor vehicle traffic is concerned.

Now that modern laws have been enacted which provide regulations for speed and for greater safety for pedestrians and for occupants of motor vehicles, police officers have the duty of strict enforcement. Too long have the speeders had their own way in endangering lives of children and adults on village streets. We have been fortunate that no more accidents have occurred here.

tool means disappointment in life. Faithful application to its lessons opens the door to hope and opportunity.

CONSTITUTION DAY.

September 17 is the anniversary of the day in 1787 when the constitutional convention of the 13 original states completed the document under which the country has lived since it was finally ratified during the following year. Some people say this document was created in the "horse and buggy age," and needs radical overhauling. Others believe that a system of government that has produced such a wonderful development, should not be lightly changed.

Anyway the people living under that government have made a most marvelous progress. The constitution would never have lived as long as it has, if it had not been very astutely framed, so as to satisfy the claims of different localities and interests.

The independent colonies of 1787 had very conflicting desires. Virginia and South Carolina had different ideas from New York and Massachusetts. The country and the city folks and the debtor and creditor classes had sharp contentions. But somehow those wise old statesmen satisfied the conflicting states by giving them local self government to a large extent. They managed to reconcile the different economic classes, by giving everybody a chance to help elect the officers of the government.

Today we have great differences in the views of different sections, yet not as great as the conflicts of 1787, when it took many weeks to go from the outlying states to the capital of the country. Today our country is bound together by railroads, motors, and airplanes.

The men who created a form of government that has lived nearly 150 years performed one of the greatest deeds in world history. They could not foresee all the marvelous industrial development that has occurred, which calls for new laws from time to time. Human nature today is about the same, and the plans the founders made for regulating it are still to be viewed with high respect.

WHAT SEPTEMBER SAYS.

Every month speaks its own language. It conveys thoughts to human life. September, with its invigorating air, says it's time for man to quit his languid ways and walk and labor with a spring in his step and his touch. Still more, September is a month of fruition. Waving fields of grain, rich color of fruits, say the time has come to reap the reward of labor. The industrious gardener sees his bins filled with luscious fruits and vegetables.

Unfortunate farmers in the drought states have seen honest toil beaten by the pitiless sun and storms of dust. Yet as a whole September brings a ripe fruitage for those who have stressed and striven. It is a kind of object lesson that toil in the long run does not go unrewarded.

U. S. ONLY FIFTH IN WAR COMBAT PLANES

Great Britain Tops World; Germany Progresses.

New York.—Although the United States is without peer in speed and efficiency of its commercial airplanes, it ranks fifth among the world powers in the number of combat planes available to the air forces.

This fact was revealed in the Aircraft Year Book for 1936, published recently by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

Germany shows the most rapid development in combat ships, which classification includes all armed planes, pursuit-fighters, light and heavy bombers, attack, armed scout and observation, armed patrol and transport ships, and all ships in active service.

France Lost in 1935.

"The United States, France and Japan lost in the actual numerical strength during 1935," the Aircraft Year Book shows, "but that is not nearly as significant as the fact that in each country technical progress has been rapid."

"France a year ago had many combat planes, but is now devoting a great effort toward modernizing her combat planes. Japan plans to re-equip all squadrons by 1938."

"The United States is still ahead of other nations in technical excellence of its combat planes, but that can be traced solely to the momentum of the past."

With a view toward keeping ahead of other nations in the air, Great Britain is engaged in a mammoth expansion program. Her total combat strength increased from 2,800 planes in 1935 to 3,600 in 1936, with the number including reserves scheduled to reach 4,500 machines by 1937.

Germany Steps Out

Germany, under the Hitler regime, has made great strides with its air force. Early in 1935 only 600 combat planes were available. Through renewed activity, Germany's air fleet was increased during 1935, so that by January of this year approximately 1,600 combat planes were in service. Air Minister Goring plans to have 2,600 ships ready at the end of this year.

Italy is increasing its force from 2,000 pilots, 2,300 planes, and 20,000 personnel in the 1935 regular air force to a proposed 3,500 pilots, 3,000 planes and 33,000 personnel by the end of 1936.

"A fair estimate of Russia's air force," the Year Book states, "places her combat strength at 4,000 planes by the end of 1936. New bombers, now being delivered to the squadrons, can cruise at 150 miles an hour with 30 soldiers and two tons of bombs, with a cruising range of 1,200 miles."

Beware of Sleepy Auto Drivers, Survey Warning

Los Angeles.—Sleepy automobile drivers cannot see clearly; their notion of perspective is bad, their eye movements slow and their judgment of color erratic.

That was one of the facts developed during studies of the record of the recent 54-hour "open eye" marathon by four University of California students to determine the effects of loss of sleep upon humans. A considerable percentage of early-morning automobile accidents would be explained by such facts if the preliminary studies of the results are substantiated, according to Drs. Neil Warren and Brant Clark of the university's psychology department.

Students who stayed awake the 54 hours are Fred Thompson, LeBaron Stockford and Frank Friede. Earl Lions, fourth member of the group, was unable to last it out and was sent home before the period ended.

Pastor Confines Talks to Morals Seen in Films

Philadelphia.—When Rev. David Carl Colony, D. D., Protestant Episcopal clergyman, takes the air for his nightly radio sermon, his subject is likely to be Greta Garbo's latest film or the religious moral in a Marx Brothers comedy.

On the theory that 80 per cent of all motion pictures teach a definite moral lesson, Reverend Colony confines his five-minute daily talks to movieland. His method is to review a current film, point out the lesson and trace his premise to a biblical text.

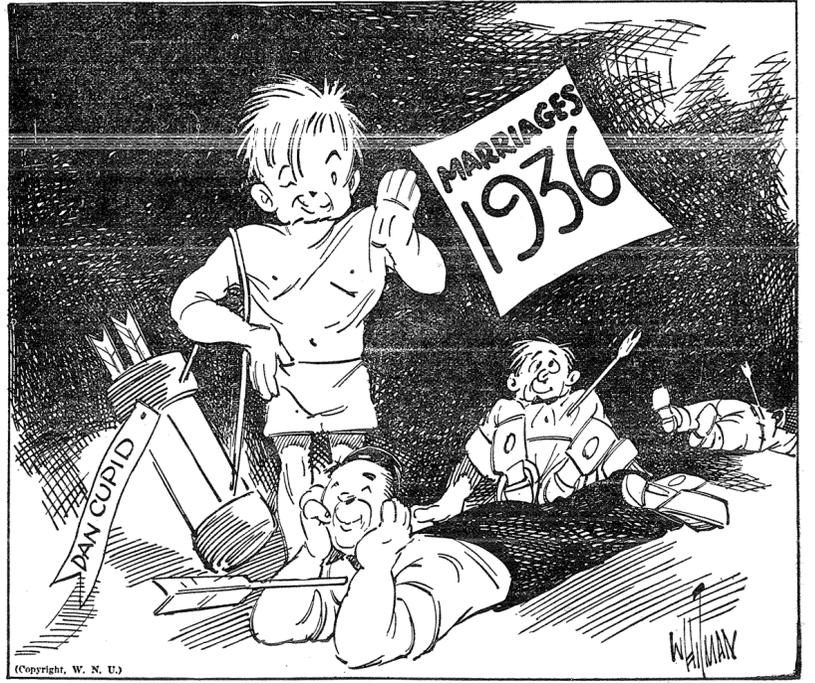

By this procedure, he explains, he hopes to interest some of the 80,000,000 weekly movie-goers in religion, only 10 per cent of whom are said to be people who are regular church attenders.

Camden Claims Oldest Paid Fire Department

Camden, N. J.—Oldtimers here assert that Camden has the oldest paid fire department in the United States. The history dates back to 1869, when the Camden Steam Engine Company No. 1 was formed. These steamers replaced the old hand pumpers of volunteer days, and members of the fire department were paid.

Records reveal that while the firemen were paid, all citizens—men, women and children—were compelled to form bucket brigades when a fire occurred.

The Record Breaker

"The Universal Car"

ONE NAME comes quickly to mind when you think of "The Universal Car." The description is distinctively Ford. No other car is used by so many millions of men and women in every part of the world. Everywhere it is the symbol of faithful service.

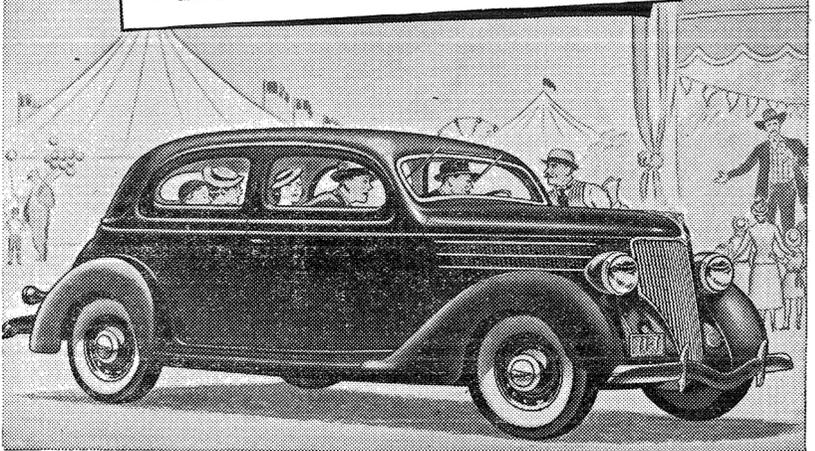

Today's Ford V-8 is more than ever "The Universal Car" because it encircles the needs of more people than any other Ford ever built. It reaches out and up into new fields because it has everything you need in a modern automobile.

That has always been a Ford fundamental. Something new is constantly being added in the way of extra value. Each year the Ford has widened its appeal by increasing its usefulness to motorists.

The Ford V-8 combines fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty with low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. It depreciates slowly because it is made to last. There is no other car like it.

Only the Ford V-8 Gives You These Fine-car Features

- 1. V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
2. SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
3. SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
4. CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT

Microphotograph, Photomicrograph—Originally the terms microphotograph and photomicrograph were quite distinct in meaning. In 1858 G. Shadbolt wrote: "The word microphotograph originated, I believe, with myself, and is applied, I think correctly, to very small photographs, not to photographs of small objects, which would more correctly be photomicrographs." Following the original concept, and still in correct usage, a photomicrograph is a photograph of a microscopic object on a magnified scale. A microphotograph is merely a miniature photograph, resembling the image seen through an inverted telescope or opera-glass. The term is also employed, though erroneously, for photomicrograph.—Literary Digest.

Nations Seek Monopolies—The enterprising and commercial nations of the world know there is far more money to be made securing and establishing for themselves a monopoly in the undeveloped regions of the earth than in peaceful and competitive commerce with each other.

Such are the fundamentals which go for IDEAL SUMMER COOKING.

Glistening enamel, sparkling metal, spotless walls and woodwork, crisply fresh curtains, a cool, comfortable atmosphere. This indeed is the IDEAL SUMMER KITCHEN!

And such ideal kitchen conditions are procurable when you use an electric range.

Electricity is fuelless, requires no air for combustion. In consequence, there is no air circulation required to generate heat. The absence of air circulation removes the grime and dirt factor, hence, electricity has no substitute for cleanliness.

Electric heat is such that a specified amount of heat can be definitely localized at a given point. The distribution is even over the entire bottom of the utensil. There being no flame to discolor the sides and bottom of the utensil and be dissipated in the kitchen makes for coolness and further cleanliness. There is no warp to the utensils, no excess and wasted heat to raise the already heated temperature.

You can enjoy the Ideal Summer Kitchen by installing an electric range.

FIRST FOOTBALL GAME IS FREE TODAY Local fans will have an opportunity to see the Maroon and Grey warriors in action this Friday against Gagetown. This is not a regularly scheduled game but due to a few shifts in the schedule which makes all home games come late in the season, Gagetown has agreed to come over for a scrimmage this Friday. This contest is free to all. Cass City will officially open its schedule at Saginaw where Saginaw High's first team will be met Saturday, September 19, 1936. The starting line-up is still uncertain as there are several promising freshmen fighting for starting berths. The first games, however, will probably see more experienced men getting the call. Dale McIntyre, Deford; Leland, better known as "Bill" DeLong, and the hard-working Harmon Smith, Junior, formerly of Fairgrove, are boys who will be hard to keep off the first team after they once get the lay of the land. The starting line-up for today's game will undoubtedly be: Left end, Eugene Spencer; left tackle, Meredith McAlpine or Archie Mark; left guard, Millard Ball, who will start in place of Veteran Ryan, who is at the State Fair this week; center, Bernard Kelley or Russell Hicks; right guard, Walter Kloc, in place of Kennedy, who is also winning prizes at the State Fair; right tackle, Frank Fort; right end, Bob Gallagher; quarterback, Willard Davidson; left halfback, Arnold Reagh; right halfback, Pete Reyes or Grant Reagh; fullback, Don Hunter. Other men who will get in early in the game are Franklin Wright, Leslie Profit, Phil Doerr, James Ballagh, Jack Spencer, in fact if it is possible the entire squad will see action before the game closes.

TO THE VOTERS OF SANILAC COUNTY Leonard J. Paterson REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION TO THE OFFICE OF Prosecuting Attorney

I have worked continually in the county building during this campaign and have been unable to leave my office long enough to make a personal call on all the voters of Sanilac county and therefore desire that this be considered by you as my personal request for your continued support. During my three years and eight months in the office as Prosecuting Attorney, I have not only tried to do all of the legal work for the county, but have also rendered as much assistance in your personal matters as it was possible for me to do. The depression, the banking situation, the welfare and new laws presented many new and perplexing problems. In taking up the duties of Prosecuting Attorney, it was my ambition to protect the innocent, prosecute the criminal and to aid in lessening the tax burden of the county. Our law provides that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty, and I have refused to issue warrants when it was my opinion that no criminal conviction could be had. Up to July 1st, 1936, I have prosecuted 804 cases, from which there have been only 15 acquittals. Three cases have been appealed to the supreme court and the only one that the court decided has been decided in favor of our county. I have aided in the reduction of the tax burden by preparing a refunding plan for our 1933 county bonds, which the county was unable to pay, and by that plan, which was adopted, these bonds have been spread over a number of years, making it possible to pay the indebtedness in small installments, with no additional expense to the county for legal services, while other counties spent large sums for this work to lawyers other than their Prosecuting Attorney, and in recognition of this work, I refer you to Page 11, of the Official Proceedings of the Board of Supervisors for the Year 1933. "Whereas: This Board of Supervisors wishes to express its appreciation to Prosecuting Attorney Leonard J. Paterson for his efficient, capable and diligent manner in which he labored in preparation of a bond refunding plan for Sanilac county, this board recognizes the long hours of preparation necessary in preparing the plan after a study of its comprehensiveness, therefore be it resolved: That a copy of this resolution be spread on the record in official recognition of this service rendered beyond his ordinary duty, and that the county clerk forward a copy of this resolution to the Prosecutor. Signed by twenty-three supervisors, moved and declared carried." I proposed a plan to the board of supervisors, which was adopted, whereby each department of county government was required to refrain from spending more money than that which was apportioned by the Board of Supervisors to its department, thereby preventing any further overdrafts in the General fund, and making it possible for the county to meet its bonded indebtedness and to operate within the fifteen mill limitation act. My services were again recognized by the Board of Supervisors, which may be found in the Official Proceedings of such board for the year 1933, on Page 74. "Further that this Board of Supervisors also extends to the Prosecuting Attorney, and his office assistant, their appreciation for his service, advice and assistance and also for the courtesies extended by his office. Therefore be it resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread on the record of this body. Motion declared carried." My pledge to you is that should I be successful in the nomination and reelection to this important office, I will continue to render my best efforts for the benefit of the people of Sanilac county. LEONARD J. PATERSON.

 of manslaughter on Sept. 2, was brought into court for sentence Friday. Testimony was taken from the physician and nurse at a hospital where Schmidt was treated for injuries and from Deputy Sheriff J. A. Caldwell. The court determined that the defendant was driving recklessly and that the recklessness was due to intoxication, and the sentence pronounced was for a term of two to 15 years, with a recommendation of two years, in the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson. He was taken there Saturday by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Brady. Schmidt's arrest followed an auto collision on August 1 when his truck and a car driven by Donald Cross of Deford collided 1/2 mile south of Cass City. Mr. Cross' 15-months-old daughter was fatally injured in the accident and the child's grandfather, John McArthur, of Deford suffered injuries which have confined him to a local hospital since the collision.

 At a default hearing in the divorce case of Earl P. Holden vs. Ella May Holden, a decree was granted but not signed until defendant is consulted concerning resumption of maiden name.
 Wendell J. Howarth of Detroit, who pleaded guilty on Sept. 2 to maliciously destroying property in Section 10, Gilford, belonging to Frank Beach, was placed on probation Friday for a six months' period and ordered to pay $100 by October 1.

REPUBLICAN WORKERS PLAN CAMPAIGN

Concluded from first page.
 Wm. Bishop of Alpena, campaign manager of the Young Republican group; Mrs. C. L. Barbour, vice chairman of the Republican State Central committee; James Frye of Battle Creek, secretary of the National Service Men's league; and Judge Sweeney of the Recorder's court of Detroit.
 Mrs. Barbour predicted a Republican victory this fall. She said Michigan women are taking a great interest in the campaign and are anxious and ready to participate in its activities.
 Mr. Frye said many service men are opposed to the Democratic party because of President Roosevelt's National Economy act which cut disabled veterans' benefits and reduced pensions of soldiers' widows.
 Only three counties in the state are without Young Republican organizations, said Mr. Bishop. Eight million people in the nation have become of age since the last presidential election and it is of utmost importance to get the support of these young people.
 Judge Sweeney pointed out that too many people do not ordinarily participate in elections. In Sanilac, it will average 25% and in Huron 26%. Tuscola has the poorest record with 35%, or approximately 6,000 voters, failing to exercise the right of franchise.
 Tuesday night's meeting was the last of a series of similar district meetings which covered all parts of Michigan.

Cows Eligible for Bigger Cuds

Michigan dairymen with foresight will be able to save their check books from embarrassment next winter by putting up now all the ordinary waste roughages possible, points out A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State College extension dairyman.

During the coming season in which it is obvious that feed supplies will be reduced, dairymen will find that an extra stack, mow, shedful or pitful of such material that ordinarily goes to waste will come in handy. Quality of the second mowing, wild hay, immature corn stover and other waste roughages may not be the best but it is important to garner all the crops possible from even the fence rows, ditches and woodlots, says Baltzer.

Farmers who have sufficient hay and other feed, by conserving these waste roughages, may be able to convert them into some extra cash or may be able to sell some of their better feed. In making a clean sweep of the farm for all possible waste roughages, the farmer should not overlook swamp grass, beet tops, fescue and similar roughages. Bakery and brewery refuse, apple pomace and pea vinery refuse have value to the hungry cow and can be converted into milk and butterfat.

"Feeding these low quality roughages in small amounts daily may conserve more expensive feed," Baltzer advises. "The addition of molasses and the chopping or grinding of the material will help to make the roughages more palatable.

"With every indication of high prices for grains and concentrates this coming fall and winter, low grade roughages can be fed to dry cows, due to stand dry for many months, young open heifers which must be wintered through, and in moderate quantities to the herd bull.

"Regular additions of salt or mixture of two pounds of salt and one pound odorless steamed bone meal to every one hundred pounds grain fed should be supplied. No money should be spent for the purchase of fancy mixed mineral mixtures other than steamed bone meal."

KITCHEN CLUB

New Members

Dear Club Members:
SO many letters have come in lately, asking how to become a member of the Club!

One specially nice one is from Mrs. Walter Seufert, of Newark.

"My whole family reads your column, even my husband," she writes. "We think you some times say very clever things and the recipe are marvelous. "I would like to become a member of the Club, too, if I may. Can you tell me how to apply, and what the dues and requirements are?"

We will be very happy to welcome you, Mrs. Seufert, and thank you for the compliment. There are no dues. The only requirement is that you send in some good recipes once in a while, or write to the club with any comments or suggestions you have.

The Kitchen Club is probably the most informal organization in the world, and in my opinion, the most delightful. I think you'll agree with me!

And here's a recipe, sent by Mrs. James Donohue, of New Haven it's for a main cheese dish, casse role of tuna and noodles:

package noodles 3 hard cooked eggs (5 oz.) 1 1/2 cups milk small can tuna fish 1 1/2 cups milk cup pimento cheese 3 tablespoons butter small can mushroom 3 tablespoons flour tablespoons chopped Salt and pepper
green pepper

Make a white sauce by melting the butter, adding flour and stirring to form a smooth paste. Add milk and blend. Cut cheese in small pieces, add to white sauce and allow to melt, season with salt and pepper. Cut mushrooms, flake tuna fish and then combine all ingredients. Pour into well-buttered casserole and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

WAYS TO SERVE GRIDDLE CAKES

Their Use With the Main Course Popular Today.

By EDITH M. BARBER

FOOD like clothes and furniture takes the trend of the day and is being "styled." Take for instance the old griddle cake, that ancient breakfast standby—it has graduated to lunch and even to dinner and what a welcome it gets in these days of light and hasty breakfasts!

Perhaps its most popular use at the moment is for service at the main course of the meal with chicken or other meat which has as accompaniment a cream gravy. I just don't know anything better than corn griddle cakes baked at the table on the electric griddle or grill and served piping hot to each person in turn, to eat with a smooth, brown, well-seasoned gravy. If you like you can make them serve for dessert at the same meal if you provide maple syrup or honey or strawberry jam.

Then there are plain griddle or "flannel" cakes, as we used to call them, which are delicious for luncheon with old-fashioned "frizzled" beef—you know the kind I mean, made by cooking the beef first in butter. These tender griddle cakes make a foundation for a number of interesting desserts. If plenty of shortening is used and if the batter is very thin, they take the place of the more expensive "crepe" mixture which is often used. I wonder if you have ever had them wrapped around slender rolls of cabbage or cream cheese and served with raspberry jam—or strawberry, if you prefer?

When these cakes are baked at the table, you can pass the cheese and jam with them. Other simple desserts may be made by adding blueberries, chopped apples, or ground nuts, and a little extra sugar to the pancake batter. In this case you may like plain or whipped cream to serve with the cakes.

The most fashionable sort of griddle cakes at the moment is of Russian origin and the cakes served in this fashion are known as "Blinys" (short for Blintchiky). The original recipe calls for a raised rye mixture very like an old-fashioned buckwheat flour. Personally I usually use my standard griddle cake recipe leaving out the sugar.

Blindys are served as a first course for dinner or a main course for luncheon. To each person is served two cakes and with them is passed a tray containing melted butter, caviare, minced onion, chopped hard-cooked egg whites, strained egg yolks, and sour cream—each in its individual bowl. The butter and caviare are put between the cakes and the rest of the accessories are put on top of them. You may not take the onion if you are not one of its fans but it must be served for the satisfaction of those persons who always demand its flavor with caviare.

An article on griddle cakes would not be complete without mention of potato pancakes which go so well with some meats and of German pancakes always baked in a huge frying pan, then rolled and cut in slices. Apples are often added to the batter. Then there are crepes suzette, the French pancakes for which it is not too easy at the moment to get the proper accessories, the liquor for flavoring the sauce and the brandy which must be set on fire to melt the sugar and to blend the flavoring and orange juice of the sauce. The cakes are baked and then cooked in the sauce at the table in a chafing dish or grill. The preparation of crepes suzette is an art which at a restaurant requires the services of several waiters, whereas I have seen them made at home with less ceremony by the hostess.

Guests are always interested in any food preparation made at the table and will appreciate any type of griddle cake baked for them under their observation. As for the family's opinion, you are certain to have the approval of your daily critics when you choose cakes for breakfast, lunch or dinner.

Note—Griddles need not be greased if plenty of shortening is used in the batter.

Do Flies Bite Harder in September?

Ask Bossy! If she could talk she would insist that flies are exceedingly troublesome in the fall as well as in the summer months.

Peaceful cows are better producers and quieter to milk. Contented horses do the most work and are most easily handled.

Gulf Livestock Spray

will quickly kill flies, lice and ticks and repel stable and horn flies. It is practically odorless and tasteless and will keep the coats of cows and horses smooth and glossy. It's a paying investment to buy Gulf Livestock Spray.

FARMERS' INCOME IS 16% HIGHER

than half as large as last year's bumper crop. As Michigan normally imports some corn for feed, the price situation on corn will be costly to livestock producers in the state. The oats and barley crops are also much below normal in Michigan.

Prices for old crop beans have soared to 1930 levels—close to $5 per hundred pound bag. The prospective yield, however, is but slightly more than half last year's big crop and only slightly less than the average. If present prices hold for the new crop, Michigan bean growers, even with a less than average crop, will still secure a good income. However, the total 1936 U. S. bean crop was estimated on August 1 to be only 14 per cent less than the 1928-32 five-year average. Therefore, the final outcome is somewhat problematical.

"Although recent rains may improve prospective yields materially a twenty million bushel potato crop was indicated August 1," Gunn reports. "This is about 75 per cent of the average production for the previous five year period. On the other hand, the total late potato crop for the U. S. is now expected to be as small as the extremely short crops of 1925 and 1919. With such a small U. S. crop in prospect, potato prices for this year's crop are likely to average much higher than for any season since 1925-26. With fair yields and good prices in prospect Michigan potato growers have an encouraging outlook.

"At present the outlook for sugar beet growers is fairly good. Yield prospects, despite the dry weather, indicate a fair sized crop. The price of raw sugar for the 1935-36 season has been running from 25 to 30 cents per hundredweight higher than for the 1934-35 season. Stocks of raw sugar in Cuba and at domestic refineries are from 20 to 25 per cent less than a year ago. There is nothing to lead us to expect lower returns per ton of sugar beets to growers of the 1936 crop than for last season's crop.

"The livestock outlook continues encouraging. Total meat supplies are expected to be smaller in 1937 than in 1936, largely because of the 1936 feed shortage occasioned by the drought. Reduction is expected to be most marked in pork and in the better grades of beef. Further improvement in consumer demands for meat is also in prospect. As a result of these two factors—reduced supplies and improved demand—the general level of both meat and livestock prices is expected to be higher in 1937 than in 1936."

Because of the feed shortage, cattle and hog slaughter during the remainder of 1936 is expected to be relatively large. Some decline in prices from now until the first of the year may result. With lighter weight and smaller supplies available for slaughter in 1937, prices are likely to advance sufficiently to more than offset the prospective decline this fall.

"Prices for dairy products for the next twelve months probably will average higher than a year earlier. Production is expected to be curtailed somewhat and demand continues to improve. Although the cost of feed will be higher than for last year Michigan will not be faced with a hay shortage. Furthermore, late summer rains will improve fall pastures. Dairymen of Michigan who are not required to buy much feed should obtain higher net returns than during the past 12 months.

"Poultry prices are likely to decline by more than the average seasonal amount from July to December, but egg prices probably will rise more than the average.

Because of the increased number of chicks hatched and due to the drought conditions, more poultry will be available for market. On the other hand, lower storage stocks of eggs and improving consumer incomes should have a beneficial effect on egg prices."

Water That Eats Iron One of the world's strangest streams is in Anglesey, says Pearson's London Weekly. They say that if you fill a tin at the Parys Water and leave it overnight, the water will be there in the morning, but the tin will have disappeared. It's true that the water runs into artificial lakes which are filled up, every now and then, with old iron. The water eats up the iron, and copper ore is deposited on the lake beds. The stream which possesses this peculiar property flows out of Parys mountain, where at one time a famous copper mine was worked.

Fulcher Reunion.

The sixth family reunion of the William Fulcher and Mary Jane (Gibbins) Fulcher family was held at Lake Pleasant on Labor Day, Sept. 7, with about 75 present. A potluck dinner was served at noon after which a business meeting was held. William Fulcher, the oldest member present, was re-elected president and George Bolman, secretary and treasurer. The program committee chairman is Mrs. Edwin Dive, Detroit.

All report a good time and voted to hold the next one at the same place on Labor Day, 1937.

Martin Family.

The annual Martin reunion was held Sunday, Sept. 6, at North lake, when a potluck dinner was enjoyed. Over 30 relatives were present from Bowling Green, Ky., Detroit, Bay City, Caro and Cass City. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. J. H. Scott of Detroit; secretary, Miss Florence Martin of Bay City. It was decided to hold the reunion next year at the same place on the same date.

Striffler-Benkelman Reunion.

On Labor Day about 170 Strifflers and Benkmans gathered in Uncle John Striffler's woods, northeast of Cass City, eager to meet and converse with their relatives and friends. People came from Puslinch, Ontario, Cleveland, Ohio, and many places in Michigan.

After the potluck dinner was eaten, President W. D. Striffler presided at a business meeting, during which officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Harry Hunt; vice president, Mrs. S. G. Benkelman; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Ben Schwelger.

The meeting was turned over to Miss Ruth Schenck, who was in charge of the program. A group of singers chosen from both families, sang a German hymn. Frank Striffler and Cal Striffler acted as tellers at a straw vote for the president of the United States. Landon won by a large majority with minors and Canadian relatives participating in the voting. Several people composed a chorus, singing many songs as parodies about the two families. Then the "Striffler-Benkelman Broadcast," a small paper published by the committee, was distributed to everyone present, and arrangements were made to send copies to the absent members. Edgar Braun of Detroit spoke some very appropriate words in memory of Solomon Striffler, who died during the past year.

Erwin Kercher directed games. After the group picture was taken, the men played a baseball game, everyone visited, and a very pleasant day ended with plans for a similar occasion next year.

A RECOMMENDATION.

James Osburn of Kingston township, candidate for County Drain Commissioner at the primaries on the Republican ticket, is very capable of handling this important job, as he has been a farmer all his life.

The office of Drain Commissioner deals mostly with farmers and their interests and we who know "Jim," as he is known by his many friends, recommend him to the voters of Tuscola county as a man that will be fair and impartial in administering the office if he is nominated and elected.—Publisher of Kingston Enterprise.—Adv.
