THREE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Three Members of Arthur Wood Family Taken to Local Hospital.

By Gagetown Correspondent.
Mrs. Arthur Wood and son, Gordon, 8, of Gagetown are in Pleasant Home hospital in Cass City with injuries received in an automobile accident, about 11:30 on Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Wood, sons, Harry and Gordon, and daughter, Miss Lila, and Miss Lydia Witzke were returning from Cass City to their home northwest of Gagetown. Mrs. Wood has fractures of the humeral bone of the upper arm and the ulnar bone of the forearm and lacerations below the left eye and her son, Gordon, has a femur fracture and lip lacerations.

Mr. Wood received a fracture of the fibular bone of the lower leg and was able to leave the hospital Sunday afternoon. The others escaped with slight bruises.

Mr. Wood, who was driving, turned north at the Dillman school, 1 1/2 miles west of Cass City. He arrived at the "blind corner" a mile farther north where the road ends sooner than he anticipated and was unable to make the turn to the west. The auto went across a ditch and crashed into a large electric light pole, breaking the pole. The car was badly damaged.

Cass City Debates Flushing Here

Monday evening, January 18, at 7:45, the Cass City high school debaters will meet the debaters of Flushing high school here for the first home debate of the season. The subject of the debate is: "Resolved, that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated."

The last scheduled debate was a hard fought encounter with Mt. Morris, in which the local team lost with a decision of 2-1. In this contest, Glenna Asher, Carl Reagh and Phyllis Koepfgen gave a good representation of Cass City high school spirit.

The coming debate with Flushing promises to be an interesting one, as Flushing has won two debates with Flint teams. Mr. Kroll says that one of the greatest values of debate is in the broadcasting to the public pertinent facts about national problems. He, therefore, urges that members of the community attend. Phyllis Koepfgen, Carl Reagh, and Betty Stirling, all of whom have shown steady improvement, will uphold the affirmative side for Cass City in this debate. Admission is free.

Observed Golden Wedding Tuesday

Observing their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Alex A. Brian, who live on Third street, received the congratulations and best wishes of 65 of their friends that evening when a party was given in their honor by their daughters, Mrs. Harry Crandell of Caro and Miss Mabel Brian.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with baskets of cut flowers and a large three-layer wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, adorned the dining room table.

After a few hours of visiting and playing of cards, ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. A. J. Knapp, in a few remarks, congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Brian on their fifty years of wedded life and wished for them many more happy years together.

Guests were present from Caro, Kingston and Cass City.

Shows Champion Lamb at Utah Show

Miss Doris Monte of Fairgrove, prominent Tuscola county 4-H club girl, has been notified that her Southdown wether lamb had been awarded the championship in the 4-H class at the 18th annual livestock show at Ogden, Utah.

Miss Monte was the exhibitor of the grand champion lamb in both the 4-H and open classes at the Michigan State fair last September.

Rural Carriers Exchange Routes

J. C. Corkins, rural letter carrier, who was transferred from Rural Route No. 1 at Cass City to Rural Route No. 2, Vassar, at the time rural routes from the post office here were reduced from five to three in number, has been transferred to Rural Route No. 2 at Gagetown.

Commencing next week, Frank Jaynes will serve patrons on Route No. 2 at Vassar. Mr. Jaynes has been carrier on Route 2 from the Gagetown office since the retirement of Arthur O. Wood, who served patrons on that route for 30 years.

The change of Mr. Corkins from Vassar to Gagetown will enable him to be at his home in Cass City every afternoon and night. His Vassar position made it impracticable to make daily trips to and from his home here night and morning.

SAME DEPUTIES WILL SERVE IN TUSCOLA CO.

Sheriff George Jeffrey says there will be no changes made in his force of deputy sheriffs in Tuscola county. Those who served during his first term of office will continue in the same positions.

TWO ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN COUNTY

Ray Ferris Wounded Cleaning Gun; Dan Hile in Auto Crash.

Ray Ferris, a salesman for the Consumers Power Co. of Flint, was fatally wounded when a gun was accidentally discharged while he was cleaning the weapon in the basement of his home in Caro.

The accident occurred during the noon hour. The wounded man was taken to the Caro Community hospital where his death occurred a few hours later.

Mr. Ferris is survived by his widow and two children, Bonny Jean, 15, and Richard, 4.

Daniel Hile, an employee at the Michigan Farm Colony, was fatally injured on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 7, 40 rods south of the Heinemann oil station at Quanicasssee when his automobile struck the end of a culvert at a "dead end" corner of the highway. Mr. Hile's arm was badly cut in the accident and his death occurred the same evening in a Bay City hospital.

HERE AND THERE AROUND THE THUMB

Items Gathered from the Chronicle's Exchanges and Other Sources.

Mr. and Mrs. William Secord, who live northwest of Brown City, were "blessed" by two gypsy women Saturday and are poorer by $26 because of this experience. The gypsies drove up to the farm home and asked for salt. One of them patted Secord in a friendly fashion and patted a wallet with $24 out of his pocket. Then they asked Mrs. Secord for a penny for a blessing. They secured two dollars more.

The lone demonstration health unit allotted the Thumb district by the Michigan Children's Fund will be established in Sanilac county, officials have been notified by Dr. Bernard Carey of Detroit. The unit will employ three full-time nurses, three clerks and a sanitary officer. Upkeep of the unit will cost $17,000 a year.

During the month of December, 55,825,996 pounds of milk were produced by the cooperating dairymen residing in seventeen counties, commonly known as the Detroit area. This is 2,660,799 pounds more milk than was produced a year ago, or equivalent to a 5 per cent increase. Of the total shipments 50,500,845 pounds were base milk, while 5,325,651 were excess over base. The price of base milk for December was $2.19 per cwt., delivered Detroit, and $1.16 per cwt. for excess milk delivered at the local receiving station.

The receivership of the State Bank of Deckerville ended last week when L. O. Wentworth mailed out final dividend checks to all depositors. The dividend was 4 per cent. The bank has operated in receivership since January 5, 1927. Since the closing of the bank, Wentworth said that it had paid off $180,020.58 to creditors or 83 per cent of the original deposits.

Through adoption by the Huron county board of supervisors of a resolution introduced by Supervisor Alex Wawitzke, of Huron township, the board seeks material recognition and aid for Mr. and Mrs. William Hellig, Huron county farm residents and parents of 20.

AUTHORITY ON CANCER WILL LECTURE HERE

Dr. Osborne A. Brines, member of the Detroit Medical Society and one of the foremost physicians of the state of Michigan, will give a lecture, with slides, on cancer at the Cass theatre here next Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 19, at three o'clock. This is a regular meeting of the Woman's Study club and everyone in the community is invited and urged to attend.

Dr. Brines appears here under the auspices of the Michigan branch of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. As the organization of the Michigan unit was completed only last Saturday, Cass City is very fortunate to secure such a prominent speaker this early in the campaign. Mrs. M. R. Keyworth of Detroit is at the head of the women's division in the state and Mrs. A. J. Knapp represents the East Central district.

The American Society for the Control of Cancer was formed in 1913 by a distinguished group of doctors and lay persons and its object is "to disseminate knowledge concerning the symptoms, diagnosis, treatment and prevention of cancer, to investigate the conditions under which cancer is found and to compile statistics in regard thereto."

All persons, men and women, interested in health problems, are most cordially invited to avail themselves of this privilege to hear Dr. Brines next Tuesday afternoon.

A new extension course for Tuscola county teachers is planned to start on Saturday, Jan. 23, at 10:00 a. m., at Caro, when Miss Grace Cooper of the Michigan State Normal College will offer English 107 as a study. Invitations have been sent out to more than 1,000 persons, including civic leaders, educators, social service workers, labor representatives and others. Every county in the state is expected to have representatives at the gathering which will be held in the Hotel Olds. Professional educators will participate, but will be in the background, Doctor Elliott declared.

Changes Elliott is advocating include better salaries for teachers through the use of state-aid funds; more substantial retirement annuities for aged teachers; direct state aid for construction of school buildings; improvement of county educational programs; more faithful observance of state laws that relate to the proper use of school funds in various districts.

FARMERS' MUTUAL RE-ELECTS DIRECTORS

Small Group of Members Attended Annual Meeting Held Wednesday.

Thirty members of the Tuscola County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company attended the annual meeting of that society in the basement of the Tuscola county court house Wednesday afternoon. Reports read showed a slight increase in the number of policies carried by the company.

Vernon Everett of Kingston, Robert Kirk of Fairgrove and L. S. Gussell of Caro were elected to succeed themselves as directors for three year terms.

The board of directors chose P. L. Black of Akron as president and H. S. Myers of Caro as secretary. Both succeeded themselves in these positions.

1937 SOIL CONSERVATION PROGRAM EXPLAINED

A public meeting will be held at the Sandusky high school auditorium, beginning at 10:00 a. m., Tuesday, January 19, for the purpose of explaining the 1937 Soil Conservation program. A representative of the Michigan State College extension department and the State Soils Conservation committee will be present to explain the set-up. Back in '63, George Charter Split and Hauled Wood 12 Miles at $1.00 a Cord

George Charter smiles reminiscently when he recalls his first work "on salary" back in 1863, in the Township of Brock, Ontario county, Ontario, when he was ten years of age. He had a contract to split and deliver four-foot wood at $1.00 a cord. The delivery involved two trips with 1/2 cord of wood each, hauled three miles away with a yoke of oxen. Yes, that's right—split the wood and travel 12 miles to deliver it for $1.00. Seventeen years later, in 1880, he was employed seven months at farm work, at $14.00 a month. He came to Elkland township in 1881 and was employed on the Mark C. Tanner farm which he later acquired for himself. "I know all about hard times and hard labor," Mr.

Charter told the Chronicle a few days ago, "having cleared land in Canada and later in Elkland township."

Born in Scotland on Oct. 5, 1853, George Charter moved to Ontario with his parents when he was little more than one year old. After five years' residence in Elkland township, he returned to Canada to claim his bride, Hannah Bagshaw, of Brock township. They were married on Dec. 12, 1886, and came to Elkland township to carve out a home in forests here. Mrs. Charter died on June 25, 1922.

Mr. Charter has one son, Herman, who now manages the work on the 160 acres of his father, besides attending to the farming on his own land.

THUMB BANKS ELECT SAME DIRECTORS

Nearly All the Officers Are Retained in Elections Held Tuesday.

No changes were made in the make-up of the board of directors of the two state banks at Cass City when stockholders held their annual meetings on Tuesday. Other banks in the three counties of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac retained the same directors and officers with but few exceptions.

At their annual meeting Tuesday, stockholders of the State Savings Bank at Gagetown, elected the following directors: J. L. Purdy, L. C. Purdy, C. O. Purdy, F. D. Hemerick, and Don Wilson. The following officers succeeded themselves in these positions: President, J. L. Purdy; vice president, L. C. Purdy; cashier, Edith Miller; assistant cashier, Don Wilson.

At the annual meeting of the Kingston State Bank on Tuesday, stockholders elected the following directors: Albert Peter, Sr., N. H. Burns, Alex Marshall, John McKenney, C. W. McPhail, L. A. Maynard, L. A. Heineman, John Burdon and N. Karr. Mr. Peter was chosen president; Mr. Burns, vice president; Alex Marshall, cashier. All directors were elected to succeed themselves.

F. Benkelman, Sr., and A. J. Knapp. The board of directors chose the following officers: President, M. B. Auten; vice president, G. A. Tindale; cashier, C. M. Wallace; bookkeepers, Clark Knapp and Miss Irene Stafford.

25 Fishers Taken from Floating Ice

A call came to Sheriff George Jeffrey to come to Quanicasssee Wednesday to rescue 20 to 25 amateur fishermen who were marooned on a huge cake of ice which had broken loose from the bay shore. When the sheriff's force arrived at the scene, the men, who had been fishing through the ice, had been rescued from their perilous position. The ice was leaving the shore at that time at the rate of about five miles an hour.

First Year Clothing Project

Have you ever wondered just what type of hat, what color purse, gloves, or shoes to wear to give your costume that finished appearance? What accessories to use, and how to use them successfully? These are entertaining features of the discussion for leaders from Tuscola county Home Economics Extension groups at Caro, Jan. 21 and 22, with the assistance of Miss Marjorie Eastman, extension specialist in clothing from Michigan State College.

Accessories can do so much for an ensemble but often do not because the color combination is uninteresting. Sometimes they completely dominate a costume because they are too strong in color or too many are used. How to make some attractive accessories at a very nominal cost will also be shown at this meeting.

WEDDINGS

Uhrland-Roblin.

At eight o'clock, Monday evening, Winton Roblin of Greenleaf township and Miss Elizabeth Uhrland of Pontiac were united in marriage at the home of Rev. CASS CITY WHIPS CARO TEAM 20-17

Sandusky Capitalizes on Ragged Play of Locals Tuesday to Win 18-16.

Playing both good and bad basketball during the past week gave the locals an even break on league games. Caro was defeated by an alert fast-moving Maroon and Grey squad led by Doerr and Davison, so far as scoring was concerned, and well assisted on defense by the Reagh brothers and Harmon Smith.

On Tuesday, Sandusky, behind all the way until the final minute of the game, in which they overcame a slow-moving, inaccurate squad of Maroon and Grey men, apparently still recovering from the Caro victory, won out 18-16. Davison, local forward, had his hand badly cut on a brick wall in this game.

Vassar will have furnished the opposition by the time this paper is published, as they played here on Thursday night, and it was hoped that the local boys could in some measure make up for the loss at Sandusky.

The dinner with pancakes and sausages and pie almodade as the main items was served by pupils of the home economics department. They plan to devote the proceeds of the project to the purchase of a steam table for their department.

FARMERS' WEEK PLANNED FEB. 1-5

Annual "Open House" of Scientific Agriculture at Michigan State.

A longer "look ahead" for a more permanent Michigan agriculture takes the spotlight of the 22nd annual Farmers' Week program Feb. 1 to 5 at Michigan State College in plans announced by Dean E. L. Anthony and R. W. Tenny, chairman and secretary of the annual college open house for farmers and their families.

Featured speaker of the five day program is the Honorable Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture of the Province of Ontario, Canada. He appears in the general program Tuesday afternoon in the college gymnasium. But throughout the week there will be veritable short courses in all phases of rural education and more systematic production of crops and livestock as well as entertainment and special features.

An ox team in their prime, trucked from Battle Creek, will try to show up the pulling powers of farm boys on wide but bare backed drafters and smartly dressed R. O. T. C. students on well saddled riding horses. Although the program packs each day with available information, the two main evening programs, Wednesday and Thursday, are expected to draw most of the attendees those evenings to Demonstration hall on the campus.

George Wellington, senior agricultural student from Springfield, will be ringmaster of the annual Little International livestock show in which students bathe, clip and trim up college livestock, train them and then compete for showmanship honors Thursday afternoon of the week's program.

Association meetings will draw many groups together for their annual meetings and elections, starting out with dairy breed meetings in the morning and the annual dairymen's banquet the evening of the first day and terminating Friday with the annual conference of the Michigan State Grange and finals in the state rural drama contest.

Crandell Shows Grand Champ Lamb

Harry Crandell of Ellington township exhibited the grand champion individual fat lamb at the eighteenth annual livestock show at Ogden, Utah, this week. Shropshires and grade Southdown won four firsts for the Tuscola county showman.

500 Attended Beet Growers' Meeting

Five hundred persons attended the beet growers' meeting held at Caro Saturday when Dr. Brock, editor of the Sugar Beet Journal, spoke on "Selling Michigan Beet Sugar to Michigan People" and P. V. Goldsmith, growers' representative of the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar Association, compared old contracts with the new one, giving figures to show benefits of a participating contract in a period of years over the flat rate of earlier years. G. S. Childs, vice president and general manager of the Michigan Sugar Company, talked interestingly on the 1937 beet contract.

At the business meeting held in the morning, Henry Pries of Peck, Henry Lane of Fairgrove and Emory Lounsbury of Cass City were elected directors to succeed themselves. One hundred fifty beet growers were served dinner at the Caro M. P. church at noon.

TUSCOLA HOLSTEIN BREEDERS MEET JAN. 20

Holstein breeders of Tuscola county will on Wednesday, Jan. 20, at 1:30 p. m., meet for their annual meeting in the basement of the court house. J. G. Hays, extension dairyman from Michigan State College, will be present to aid in the program. Motion pictures of the National Holstein convention will be shown. All Holstein breeders are invited.

String Bean Contracts.

Do you know that you can get a string bean contract right now at Johnson's Hardware in Deford? The canning factory at Caro has been taking acreage for string beans the past two weeks. When at Johnson's at Deford, sign your contract or call at the factory office when in Caro. The prices will be higher than last year. W. N. Clark Company.—Adv. 4t.

CHAPTER IX

For a moment no one moved or spoke. The hound lying close to the hearth, usually alert to every passing sound and scent, twitched and whimpered in his dreams, stretched his fore paws and settled to heavy sleep.

"Aren't you going to tell us the story, grandmother," begged Bess. "An old one will do if you are so very tired."

The clock struck eight. "So late already, it must be a short story then, darlings, or Christmas will take us unawares. Do you tell it for me, Grandfather, for somehow my tongue cannot find words."

Holding Bess in her arms grandmother turned from the hearth to the deep chair in the chimney nook from which the Glen road might be seen, and grandfather sitting erect and drawing Tommy between his knees spoke as if he saw the story that he was telling through the uncurtained window where the rolling hills met the starlit sky.

"Long ago, almost two thousand years as time is counted, the world was growing very hard and selfish and the Creator, Heart of God, saw that the power was not being divided fairly between the rulers that he had to carry out his great plan. Heart of Man when he was put upon the earth to be its governor had a counselor given him that he must consult in everything and this was Heart of Nature.

"Heart of Nature knew about all the things that belong to the body of man and the animals; he was given charge of the earth, the seas and sky. He worked for strength, for perfect forms and beautiful colors; he painted the sunsets and all the wonderful changes of the sea. In all his realm the greatest was the strongest in body, or the most quick to kill, and every live thing in his realm thought first of itself or its own young.

"Heart of God, who had made the plan, ruled in the things of the spirit, the things which outlast the strongest body, the greatest mountain or the tallest tree. He taught mercy, kindness to the weak and all unselfishness. Between these two stood Heart of Man, and had he listened to the counsel of each in its own good place all would have gone well. But he did not, he listened only to Heart of Nature, whom he did not thoroughly understand and so learned to be more pitiless day by day.

"Man does not understand me or my meaning, else he would carry out my Plan," said Heart of God. "I must send a messenger to him to make my voice plainer—a messenger whose word, being the truth, shall be understood by all people in all languages, for all time. How shall he go?"

"The poor will be afraid of a King. A high priest can never enter the hearts or houses of the people. It is only Love who can make my meaning plain.

"There is but one thing that every one will understand and love and that is a little child. As such a child my Son, my Heart of Hearts, shall go. He must be a child of poor people that they may no longer feel that they are set apart, for poverty must always be the lot of the many."

"Soon after this it was whispered to a young wife named Mary, whose husband was called Joseph, that this little child was to be sent to her and she was filled with both joy and fear at the responsibility. "One day Mary and Joseph, who was a carpenter, left their home to travel to the next town to pay their taxes. When they reached there it was toward night and they were very tired. There were many other people in this town of Bethlehem that night, and the inn was full, so that the only place that Mary and Joseph could find a shelter to sleep was a shed where the cattle were kept and there in a manger of hay Mary made her bed.

"In that country it was not cold as it is here at Christmas time and the sheep were sleeping out on the hills where they pastured in the day, the shepherds watching them. Above, the stars shone bright and clear and among them was one great star that no one remembered ever to have seen before.

"Then as the night wore on the wonderful hour came when the message was completed and God sent the little Christ-baby to be born on earth to be the Light of which the new star in the sky was a sign. There in the stable wrapped in coarse clothes he lay in his mother's arms and a wonderful light shone about him, greater than from all the stars outside. Some Wise Men of another country whose knowledge also came from Heart of God were traveling that way on their camels, and saw the new star, and led by it, found the Christ-baby in the manger. Then they gave him gifts of gold, and fragrant spices, myrrh and frankincense.

"When Herod, the king of that country, heard that a baby had been born, a child that the people whispered was to become a great ruler, he did not understand and, being afraid of losing his own earthly power, he tried in vain to kill the little Christ.

"If this had been all, the story of the little boy born of poor parents in a shed, and happening so long ago, as your father says, it might not have mattered much to us now, and perhaps people would not have kept his birthday for all these years and called it Christmas. But listen, children! It was not only then that it happened, it is happening now as well. To some one every Christmas Eve a Christ-baby is born to tell that Heart of God still cares for us, and sends anew the message of Love to keep us pitiful and tender.

"Few people remember Herod the King, but the Love the Christ-baby brought and the sacrifice he stood for come with every little child and where one such comes there lives anew the Christmas Spirit. Tonight everywhere Heart of God is stirring Heart of Man to protect and care for children."

"When father was little did you love him and think he was a Christ-baby?" asked Tommy thoughtfully turning toward grandmother.

"Yes," she answered softly.

"Then I wonder about me and why father never told me? Maybe 'cause he didn't rightly know about it all being so nearby. I wish there was a Christ-baby coming to us or to somebody round here tonight so we could go to see it. Do you think there might be? The stars are awful bright. If father comes before I'm tight asleep, can I tell him the Three Hearts story, grandmother? because, if he knew, he surely would think a lot more of our Christmas tree."

For answer grandmother kissed him almost fiercely and led the children silently to bed. Tommy closed his eyes almost at once, yet he was not any more asleep than Toby, who stretched himself full length outside the bedroom door.

Nine o'clock struck, and grandmother, who now stood at the window beside the chimney, sitting still having become impossible, fixed her eyes so steadily upon her husband that their influence made him turn and face her.

"Poor Emery!" he said.

"Poor Eleanor! I say. Being a woman and a wife I know woman as man does not. Though he is our son I feel that the fault is his, and—the age of miracles is over."

"Hush! Don't let your thought take shape. After all it's only nine o'clock, wife, there's nothing more likely than they've met with some trifling but tedious accident.

"I really think, Elizabeth, that you had better take a little nap to refresh yourself, for when they all come there will be so much to talk about. As to miracles being no more—I wonder at you. It merely depends upon what we consider such."

So grandfather talked, laughing nervously and hardly knowing what he said. Yet at his wish grandmother willingly consented to rest on the high-backed lounge with a soft shawl about her.

Chinking Tricks Aid Cabin, Home

Chinking is an old institution gone modern. Science has been able to improve upon the methods used by pioneers and Indians. The modern chinking method is useful today whether to help seal up cracks and crevices in a log cabin or in a more sedate frame or brick residence.

Take the word of Arthur B. Bowman, instructor in forestry at Michigan State College, who is continuing a two year study of log cabin construction. He has experimented with several types of chinking and recommends caulking compound applied with a pressure gun for the best results. Other methods may be cheaper but prove less effective.

Ease of application and lasting protection are credited to the caulking compound, which is a putty-like but plastic substance. It is available in several neutral colors ranging through whites, grays and browns. The material will adhere to oiled or natural wood, brick, masonry, cement and even some metal surfaces.

From 250 to 300 lineal feet of crack or crevice can be filled with a gallon of the compound, Bowman has found. In explaining why it is preferable, he points out the quality that makes the caulking compound most permanent of the substances. It remains plastic and stands the contraction and expansion of the logs during each year's weathering.

Crack filling materials are available at lower cost but are more difficult to apply or less permanent. These include mortar made from wood fiber plaster or cement, sand and lime or emulsified asphalt paint mixed with peat, fiber or sawdust.

"Hit and Miss" Method Is Disappearing

The "hit-and-miss" age of diagnosing engine or electrical system performance in an automobile is disappearing. In this day the aim is to anticipate and prevent troubles before they occur, greatly cutting down costly repair bills, according to G. A. Tindale, local Ford dealer.

Widespread use of a laboratory test set developed by the Ford Motor company has resulted in important advances in automobile service, Mr. Tindale said.

By means of the test set, guess work in diagnosing an engine's faulty performance is largely eliminated. Time and labor spent in repairing engines and electrical systems is cut to a minimum.

Since this equipment was first put in service, 7,500 of these laboratory test sets have been placed in the hands of dealers in the United States and foreign countries. Mechanics in Ford dealerships throughout the nation have been trained in the use of these sets. Since the first of the year, 26,000 mechanics have received this training.

Some of the mechanics have proved themselves so well adapted to the diagnostic work that they have been granted certificates of efficiency. A total of 6,719 certificates have been issued and more are being awarded daily.

During 1936 more than 5,000 Ford mechanics received specialized training on the science of wheel alignment, steering control and tire life.

Monthly service bulletins, service school text books and educational films supplement the work of service schools held at Ford branches. Some 80 traveling service schools bring instruction to Ford mechanics in dealers' shops—Adv.

Business men find it good business to take inventory of stock around the first of the year. Maybe all of us should take inventory of ourselves and our driving habits as the new year begins.

An all time record for automobile accidents and deaths will probably be set in 1936. Some communities will show reductions, others will show large increases. It's to be regretted that this will be true in spite of all the safety work that is being done.

We must resolve within ourselves to do better. It's the human factor in automobile driving that causes the accidents. A smart driver, because of his driving skill, can usually get out of difficult situations without an accident. The safe driver just does not get into difficult situations in the first place. That's the difference.

Be a safe driver.

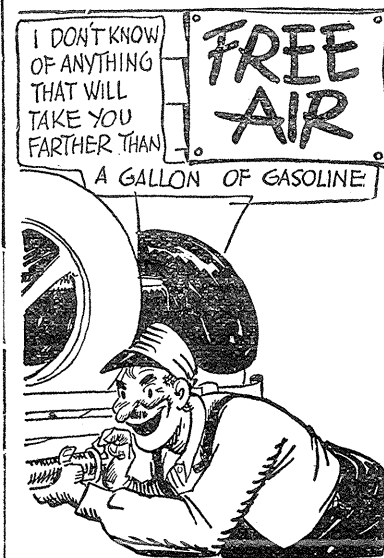

Case to Weed Out Careless Chauffeurs

As a measure of public safety on streets and highways, Leon D. Case, secretary of state, has changed the method of issuing chauffeurs' licenses so that they may be checked against the state's central violation's file at Lansing.

These licenses, renewable annually, were previously available without delay in the larger cities. Effective immediately, however, all applications are being checked against the records of motor vehicle law violations maintained by the state through cooperation of local court and police authorities and the Michigan State police. Licenses will be denied to those with unsatisfactory driving records.

Some delay has resulted from the new system, but applicants are protected by a temporary permit issued at the time of application at any of the branch offices of the Department of State. Night crews of workers have been required at the capitol to facilitate the process of issuance.

A chauffeur, within the meaning of the state's motor vehicle law, is a person more than 18 transporting a motor vehicle for hire but not passengers for hire, or a person more than 21 transporting passengers for hire.

Eat More Lamb Campaign Opens

Eat more lamb to help Michigan producers or pay more for lamb next year, is the suggestion for a campaign planned last week in a meeting of lamb producers, stockyard men, meat packers and retail meat dealers in a conference at Michigan State College.

For the first time in years lamb is cheaper on the hoof than other types of meat. Producers and feeders are not only discouraged but alarmed. If enough farmers in the state suffer heavy losses in the production of meat from lamb this year a heavy curtailment in the industry will follow next fall and winter, says D. H. LaVoi, extension specialist in animal husbandry at the college.

"The consumer will pay. It is strange but true," says LaVoi, "that if the consumer will help out now by eating up this comparatively low priced lamb, it will insure reasonable prices again next year."

Large supplies of lamb are mostly results of the drought of last summer, market men report. Range conditions were poor and lambs did not flow to market as soon as usual from the west. Michigan's 1,300,000 lambs, of which a million are produced in the state, are competing with lambs coming to market later than usual.

Retail meat outlets in many of the cities and towns in Michigan plan to participate. Both chain store and individual meat dealers attended the conference at the college. "Special prices and numerous suggestions as to the use of lamb in menus are to be displayed throughout the state during the six weeks' campaign which opens this week.

Seek Stupid for Ruler The Russians have an old story of the city of Glupov, Fool City, where the people were such fools that they were not content until they found some one to rule them who was more stupid than they were themselves.

Shoes Always Important Well-fitting shoes were a token of good breeding in Athens and much attention was paid to footwear. Sandals laced over the instep were put on when leaving the house. Theophrastus says that mended shoes were a sign of avareice, and overlarge or nailed shoes were boorish except for military wear.

The Wall-Eye Pike Wall-eye pike will thrive in most waters but for some unknown reason will not reproduce. They are so-called "loose egg droppers" and do not make nests like bass or bluegill. Because of this habit it is highly probable that the eggs smother in lake bottoms having shifting soils.

THE FARM PRODUCE CO.

BOTH IN THE SAME BOAT

Why the Beet Grower and the Processor should PULL TOGETHER

Of course the processor wants you to grow Beets—more Beets—in fact, just as many Beets as scientific rotation will permit.

No, he is not entirely selfish about this. Strange as it may seem, what benefits the processor is of identical benefit to you—the grower.

And here are the reasons: Sugar Beets are not a surplus crop. There is always a market for all you can grow.

Next: Sugar Beets have been the most profitable of all major farm crops in Michigan during the last five years.

Next: Sugar Beets have high weather insurance. Beets are tough. They stand hot or cold, wet or dry weather.

Next: With good farm management—proper cultivation—proper plowing—proper preparation for seeding and fertilizing; in other words, by the adoption of the latest cultural practices, you will get more sugar per acre. And that is what we are both after. Next: Sugar Beet tops have a high feed value for stock. Next: Sugar Beets, in proper rotation, make farming a better paying proposition. If you will stick to a regular yearly Sugar Beet planting you will make more money and keep your farm in a more productive condition. The more the grower and the processors pull together—the more we co-operate—the more we interchange ideas—the better will be the result for all concerned. For we are "both in the same boat."

Religious Festival
of Huron Churches

More than 200 persons are devoting considerable time preparing for the religious festival of Huron county churches to be held in the M. E. church at Bad Axe on Jan. 20, 21 and 22.

An exhibit of children's work and an antique table with old Bibles, hymn books and communion ware will be featured. Other exhibits will include posters and programs of the religious work of young people, missionary literature and relics, a temperance program by the W. C. T. U. and literature of church publishing houses. Movies on "The Sky Pilot," "Through Presbyterian Windows," and "The Rural Church with a Program" will be depicted on the screen.

At a banquet of church school workers on Wednesday night, Rev. A. E. Kurth, pastor of the Twelfth Street Evangelical church of Detroit, will speak. The same night, a Huron county chorus of 150 voices will sing the "Hallelujah Chorus" among other numbers under the direction of Miss Veda Bixby of Cass City.

The next night 100 young people will partake of a banquet in the Presbyterian church. The same night open to everyone, is a dramatic program in the church house when three one-act plays will be given. On Friday, the closing night, Rev. Edgar S. Faust of Kalamazoo, will give the principal address of the festival.

HERE AND THERE
AROUND THE THUMB

Concluded from first page. children. The resolution, addressed to the Rural Resettlement administration, requests a grant of 320 acres in Huron county for the family. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, the Resettlement office in Lansing, and Burr B. Lincoln, state agricultural commissioner. The ages of the Heilig children range from seven weeks to 29 years. All are in good health. Twelve are residing at home and eight are working in Detroit.

All present officers of the Senior Woman's club at Owendale were re-elected when the club met at the home of Mrs. Ada Wales. The officers follow: President, Mrs. Shirley Ross; vice president, Miss Elizabeth Proudfoot; secretary, Mrs. Ida Ricker; treasurer, Miss Marie Nielson.

Voters of Caro approved a 30 year electric franchise offered by the Detroit Edison company at the special election called December 30. Only 85 votes were cast by the electorate. The vote was 79 ballots favoring the franchise and six against it. A 60 per cent majority was needed to insure approval.

After considerable delay in arrival of materials which held up its construction, the new county infirmary at Bad Axe is now nearly completed. Officials of the H. C. Weber Construction company estimate that without further hold up the building will be completed in about six weeks. The new building when finished will be fireproof and a modern institution.

Water, used by citizens of Bad Axe, will be measured by meters in gallons, rather than in cubic feet, hereafter. The city council at its meeting Monday night authorized purchase of 200 new dials for water meters. These dials will record the amount of water in gallons.

FARM PARTNERSHIPS.

Father and son farm partnerships and why some succeed and others end in bitter argument or impossible relations are to be studied in an unusual one day conference at Michigan State College Wednesday, January 20. On invitation of R. W. Tenny, college short course director, fathers and sons operating farms have been invited from all sections of the state to attend the meeting, together with county agricultural agents. Departments cooperating in the conference will include those of farm management, agricultural economics and sociology. Dean E. L. Anthony of the agricultural division will conduct the conference. Included in the one day program will be a round table discussion designed to bring out the problems that face those who attempt to operate a farm jointly.

Buchanan Neat, Not Dressy

James Buchanan, one time President, was above the medium in height. His neckgear and clean shaven face gave him much the appearance of a clergyman. His face was indicative of his Scotch-Irish parentage. A bachelor, he could not in any sense be called a leader in society or a leader in dress.

FIRE ONE OF MAN'S GREATEST ENEMIES

European Countries Suffer
Less Than America.

Washington, D. C.—Fire, one of the most valuable forces in building civilization, has demonstrated from the earliest times how easy it is to have "too much of a good thing." More valuable than ever in this machine age, fire still, from time to time, breaks out of bounds, runs wild, and destroys some of man's most cherished property.

"The truly modern method of fighting a fire 'puts it out' before it starts," says the National Geographic society. "Benjamin Franklin, who has become a sort of patron saint of fire tamers, might have added to his almanac, 'An ounce of prevention is worth a gallon of extinguishment.'"

No Fire in 600 Years.

"Two centuries ago Franklin praised Paris for building houses 'in a manner more secure from danger of fire,' with stone staircases in stone houses under tile or slate roofs. Paris still has few more than half as many fires as modern Detroit, Mich. Ahun, little town of 2,000 population in central France, claims a record of no fire for 600 years.

"The fireproof building, to be a fortress against fire within itself and in its neighborhood, needs steel and concrete construction, brick or stone, and metal instead of wood around doors and windows. Modern materials have been added to these—asbestos fabrics, wire-mesh glass, glass bricks, and wood treated for fire-resistance.

"Where it is the habit or the economic necessity to build with fire resistant materials, fire losses are relatively slight. In The Netherlands, where most of the buildings are constructed of brick, the annual fire loss is less than in the single city of Cleveland, Ohio.

"If fires cannot be put out of the realm of possibility, at least they can be put out. One finds the hand extinguisher's red or brass cylinder dotting the walls of many older schools, apartment houses, and public buildings. Invert it, and it is transformed into a miniature fire engine in your very hands.

"A younger relation of this chemical fireman sprays the burning surface with a foam of carbon dioxide bubbles, or with carbon dioxide 'snow.' There is even a non-conducting solution for fires of electrical origin, which encloses 'live wires' with liquid insulation. A special extinguisher attacks fires in tight corners and closed chambers, impossible or too dangerous to enter, by injecting a non-inflammable gas.

Put Themselves Out.

"Fires can even be forced to put themselves out. Many buildings are studded with sprinklers, which automatically spray their surroundings with water as soon as fire creates enough heat to melt their soft metal plugs or lift their small quartz stoppers. Some sprinklers can also send out S.O.S. calls by telegraph if they are out of order.

"Fires, like tigers, are most easily tamed when very young. To remove the alarm from the hands of chance, fire has been taught to tell on itself. A hollow wire of copper, concealed in the walls of a room, can detect the heat from flames in a trash basket and signal firemen to extinguish them before a person in an adjoining room is aware of the danger. These metal watch-dogs are sniffing for fire in numerous art galleries, museums, banks, warehouses, libraries, laundries, historic shrines like restored colonial buildings of Williamsburg, Va., the White House, and the National Archives building in Washington, D. C.

The secret of their sensitivity is that the air in their 'veins' is expanded by a small rise in heat and puffs out a tiny diaphragm in a concealed box. The diaphragm closes an electrical circuit which flashes the alarm to a central station.

"Minute Men of the Revolution are succeeded by the Half-Minute Men of the modern fire department. They can be rolling firewards on a speeding truck in less time than it takes to tell about it. Present day fire engines are specially built for quick starting, speed, and power. They are capable of pumping as much as a thousand gallons of water per minute."

Two Brothers Mix
Bible and Farming

Munden, Kan.—Amos and Jerry Rundus, brothers, combine two widely divergent occupations with results which they consider satisfactory.

When the fall seeding season arrives, they put out wheat on their farm near here. Then they enter a prolonged period of conducting evangelistic services, as the wheat needs little attention until the following summer. They have followed such a plan for many years.

PETIT POINT BAGS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

With the winter season of grandiose social functions coming on, visions of lovely evening bags begin to stir the imagination. To women of discriminating taste a bag of exquisite petit point speaks most eloquently when it comes to giving the desired dramatization to the costume. The very lovely and distinctive bags here pictured are creations by Madame Jolles of Vienna. The sophisticated cape of regal black Lyon velvet shown at the top makes a perfect setting for the charming petit point bag done in brilliant colors and marvelously intricate design. Below in the picture the subtle Edwardian mood of the patrician quilted satin coat is enhanced with a glamorous petit point bag of unusual shape and vivid floral design, distinguished by a new handle, recalling a graceful arc. This winsome bag is as youthful as is the simply cut wrap that so unmistakably bears the stamp of aristocracy.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

IF IT IS WHAT MEN WANT—?

PSYCHOLOGIST speaking on marriage warns men to beware of the meek woman. She seems to think that men flock to the woman who seems meek and passive, as helpless little flies to the spider's web. Such women she says, inflate a man's ego, but usually they are merely trying to get what they want through a technic of submission.

Those are the women, she says, who accept no responsibility, who make no contribution, who give nothing, yet take all. They get what they want. And in their clever way it is they who get the real upper hand of their families.

They are the women who weep when they are thwarted, who get timely headaches, who resort to any trick of indirection to get their way. And yet, say I, why pity the man who victimizes himself by his choice of such a woman? Think of how her apparent helplessness, her professed inferiority, her pretty confusion to feed his ego. And what is more important?

Isn't it a pleasure to take all responsibility from the shoulders of a weak little woman who so frankly admits one's superiority?

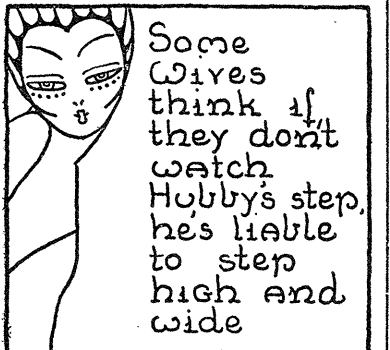

How much more gallant to give in to a woman because she weeps, than because what she asks is her right!

Oh yes, men love it. No price is too high to pay for it. It is more important even than a pretty face. For a pretty face may lose its novelty. But good feeding of the ego remains forever fascinating, new, mystifying.

It's what they want, and that, after all, is the important thing, isn't it?

American Ship Wrecked on Rocks of Cornwall

The remains of the steamship Bessemer City firmly fixed on the rocks off the coast of Cornwall after heavy seas broke it in two. The ship went aground in a fog, and quickly went to pieces under the pounding of the ocean. All of the crew were rescued, being taken off by the St. Ives lifeboat. The Bessemer City is—or was—an American boat, having sailed from New York on her last trip.

Beekeeping Old

Beekeeping is so old that nobody knows when it started. Until a few years ago the methods used differed little from those of the ancient Persians. This in spite of the fact that honey was the principal substance used to sweeten food by most civilized peoples until comparatively recent times.

Convex, Concave Mirrors

Convex and concave mirrors were first popular in Sheraton's day in Eighteenth century England. They were adorned with ornate gilt branches for candles, the tiny lights being reflected many times in the depths of the mirrors. These decorations continued in favor for many decades.

Swallows in Chinese Literature
There exists in Chinese literature no more fitting means of signifying family love and endearment than by mentioning the companionship of old Peking and Shantung, says Nature Magazine, picture a young wife lamenting the loss of her mate at each fresh sight of the swallows flying about the country in pairs.

The "tree with a handle" is near Madisonville, Tenn. A small limb of this tree, by some freak, has practically completed a circle and grown back through the trunk.

Origin of Damask
Not many know that the word "damask" comes from the ancient city of Damascus, where elaborate designs were woven into silk, making the city famous for such patterns.

for Hatchability and Egg Production

MASTER MIX Concentrates contain Vitamins A, B, C, D, E, and G.

VITAMIN A is needed for proper digestion, growth, reproduction and resistance to disease.

VITAMIN C aids bone growth and plumage development.

VITAMIN D is needed for bone development and mineral assimilation.

VITAMIN E is important for fertility, hatchability and muscular strength.

VITAMIN G promotes growth and early maturity.

Nutritional experts of McMillen Feed Mills have overlooked nothing in the preparation of these concentrates.

Feeders can use Master Mix Concentrates with complete confidence and have positive knowledge that rations mixed with them will produce highly satisfactory results which have been definitely proven through scientific tests and experiments.

Our Homeade Feeds are built with these concentrates.

Considered the newspaper the most vital factor in influencing the local market for a national producer, and we and our clients continue to hold this same conviction today.

Our largest individual client, the Chevrolet Motor Company, has just completed the most successful year in its history. It has sold 1,125,000 1936 Chevrolets, taking first place in both passenger car and truck sales for the seventh time in the past ten years.

It has also sold more than 2,000,000 used cars, breaking all previous sales records in that important field as well. All of which, you will agree, is a magnificent selling achievement.

In that achievement, the newspapers of America—your newspapers—have played an important part, and I want to thank you most sincerely on behalf of the Chevrolet Motor Company and my own organization.

All of our other clients, in many other lines of business, have likewise enjoyed a highly successful and profitable year, as has the Campbell-Ewald Company itself.

In the achievements of these organizations also the newspapers of America—your newspaper—have played a leading role and I want to thank you on behalf of these clients, too, for the fine support and cooperation which you have always given to them and to us.

This has become a rather long letter, but that line of Emerson's did start me thinking and did cause me to decide to make my appreciation evident.

My thanks to you again and my very best wishes for a Happy, Prosperous New Year in 1937.

Sincerely,
H. T. EWALD, Pres.
Campbell-Ewald Co.

Gulfpride

Is the Finest Motor Oil
in the world...

Gulfpride comes closer to banishing engine wear than you ever believed possible. (Gulfpride users have driven as far as 100,000 miles without needing a single motor repair).

Gulfpride virtually eliminates the formation of carbon. (This has been proved in test after test).

Gulfpride, say users, is the most economical oil on the market. (They have driven as far as across the continent without having to add one drop of oil).

Gulfpride has helped crack more than a dozen major records on land, water, and in the air—has surpassed every known specification for motor oil, including those of the U. S. Army and Navy—has flown more than 32,000,000 passenger miles in the motors of Eastern Air Lines' Great Silver Fleet!

It has won these honors and stands on its lone pedestal, because the 100% Pennsylvania crudes from which Gulfpride is made are refined by the Alchlor process—developed, patented and used exclusively by Gulf.

What does the Alchlor process do? It takes an already highly refined motor oil—an oil you would be glad to pay a premium price for—and removes 20% of its volume—containing carbon-forming, sludge-producing waste.

The Alchlor process, in short, starts where others stop!

And Gulfpride Oil is the only motor oil in the world made by the Alchlor process. That is why it stands alone.

Gulfpride costs 35c a quart (includes Federal tax only). Try it. We believe a single filling will clearly demonstrate to you that it is the finest oil you can put in your car.
