Miss Elnora Corpron Had Pelvic Bones Fractured in Accident.

GROUP WERE ON WAY HOME FOR WEEK-END VISIT

Two Cass City students at Central State Teachers' College were injured when the car containing seven young women collided with one driven by James A. Phillips of Big Rapids, nine miles west of Midland Friday afternoon. Miss Elnora Corpron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Corpron, received a fracture in both pelvic bones, and Miss Betty Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hunt, had her face badly cut and lost several teeth in the accident. Miss Corpron is a patient in a hospital in Midland.

Miss Mildred Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Johnson, of Harrisville, was most seriously injured in the wreck. She received a fractured pelvis and fractured skull, and badly lacerated face. Miss Loretta Jane Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, of Mikado, and driver of the car, received severe cuts about the face, and Miss Rosemary Dickinson, daughter of Dr. J. W. Dickinson, of Oscoda, was cut in the head and suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. Miss Anne Medcalf, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Medcalf, of Tawas City, was slightly injured.

The group of students who were on visits over the week-end were headed east in Miss Anderson's car. The accident took place in the late afternoon on M-20, nine miles west

by a New kind of ZINC Coating

A Newly perfected electrolytic process known as bethanizing applies a zinc coating to bethanized fence that in its entire thickness is 99.99 per cent pure zinc, the purest ever applied to wire.

Free from the embrittling, rust-inviting iron contamination and other impurities unavoidable in older zinc-coating processes, the bethanized coating has remarkably high resistance to the weather. It is also so ductile and tightly bonded to the steel base that there is no loss of protective value from the wrapping at the joints in weaving. It affords the same heavy protection here as on the un-

When the Spring, with its joy and its beauty, Comes again to the valleys and hills, Hawthorner And the songs of the birds and the flowers Add their charm to the woodlands and rills, Then my heart knows a wistful emotion That I find rather hard to define-For the Spring always brings recollections Of that first little sweetheart of mine. Many years have gone by since that Springtime When we promised we'd always be true-When we caught that first moment of rapture We were sure no one else ever knew: But in fancy I still see the moonlight As it danced in the gold of her hair, And I still hear the low, gentle music "Of her voice on the sweet-scented air . . . Life has brought other loves, other friendships; I have known many joys in my day; As a suitor and husband and father. I have trod the conventional way: But when Springtime returns, there is something Very tender and precious and fine That awakens—and sets me to dreaming Of that first little sweetheart of mine. @ Western Newspaper Union

Ironing

*********************

The electric operated iron—no home is complete without one. It is the universally used appliance because it has proven to be safe, economical and dependable, in all departments of ironing the electric iron has

A true companion to the electric iron is the newly developed ironer which heats and is operated by electricity. If you have never experienced the thrill of ironing with one of these labor savers, you have yet that experience in store for you.

Electrically operated ironing machines have been developed to the highest degree and are now an accepted appliance; very dependable, very easy to operate and control; no back breaking, lifting nor standing on one's feet for hours. You can now be seated in a comfortable position and really iron better than ever before. The electrically operated ironer was designed to "iron for you" in a skillful manner and do a complete job in much less time than it has ever been possible before.

Besides ironing, some types are designed so that pressing may be done equally as efficiently as by former methods. Suits may be pressed and steamed. In fact, there is no job in the ironing field that the present day electric, ironer cannot do. Investigate today these ironers. Ask any present user of an ironer and she will tell you of the saving of time, of the beautiful work she turns out with her ironer, and of the perfect control of the heat which makes it easy to regulate for any and all kinds of different materials.

ASK CONTINUANCE OF HARD SURFACE ROAD FROM GAGETOWN TO SHORE

A Sanilac County delegation on Elmwood; Mr. and Mrs. Manley Wednesday urged State Highway McComb, Miss Phyllis McComb and Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner to continue the hard-surfacing naw Friday afternoon where she Forestville. The delegation suggested that the commissioner designate the entire highway from Unionville to Forestville a state trunkline and to surface it the remainder of the way. An oil aggregate surface was constructed on the road last year from Unionville to Gage-

"We need $5,000,000 to match Federal money, to take part in WPA construction, and to do some work on the state trunklines that are off the Federal Aid highway system," the commissioner said. "If we don't get this money, we will have a two-year road-building holiday in Michigan. In the past, we have been able to put on some large construction programs but they have been financed almost exclusively with federal funds. Now, the federal government is requiring us to match its money.' R. L. Meredith, president of the village of Minden City, presented the request in behalf of the delegation. Commissioner VanWagoner said he regarded the request as reasonable" and the road as an deal location for a trunkline.

Origin of Name "Hocking" The name "Hocking" applied to river and country, finds its origin in the old Delaware Indian word "Hockhock," meaning gourd or bottle, and "ing," signifying place. The Shawnee Indians termed it Wastha-kagh-qua seye, meaning "Bottle river," because of the shape it assumes just above the town of Logan, Ohio.

Indians Married on Trial Indians usually married on a trial basis. The man was expected to provide the home and provisions while the squaw was to cook and raise the maize and vegetables. If each performed his duties well, the marriage became permanent, but if one or the other fell down on the job-well, they just separated. For example, if the wife failed to have the meals ready when hubby came in from a hunting trip, all he had to do was to walk out, and in so doing

Chameleons

The change of color in chameleons and certain frogs is a very interesting phenomenon in nature. Many complicated factors enter into these color changes, but in general, they are caused by the expansion and contraction of the pigment cells in the superficial layers of the skin. The cells are linked up with the sympathetic and central nervous system by means of nerve fibers, and they all act in harmony as the result of a common stimulus, which may be due to moisture, light, or temperature conditions, cerebral excitement, food, or the creature's physiological condition; or the surroundings acting through its eyes.

RAIN OR SHINE, your message to your customers is delivered to them in fine shape when it appears in THE CASS CITY CHRONICLE columns, for Uncle Sam does the delivering. Every Thursday afternoon or Friday morning for over half a century the mailman has been your servant as well as ours. If your customers are too busy to read your message at once, they will come to it later, for The Chronicle is not discarded shortly after it arrives, but stays on the library table for other members of the family to read, for it is "the family's weekly." That's why advertising in THE CHRONICLE brings results.

American passengers who in the early reports were unaccounted for and presumably killed were: Burtis Dolan, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Pannes, New York City; Moritz Feibusch, Lincoln, Neb.; Edward Douglas, New York; James Young and Birger Brinck, addresses not

The airship, just arrived from Europe on its first transatlantic trip of the year, was about to land when there was an explosion toward the stern. Instantly flames broke out and ran the length of the ship. The tail sagged first, then the nose crashed down and the split sections telescoped as they fell. A few of from Gen. Charles. P. Summerall, the 44 passengers and some members of the crew were able to jump to safety, but many of the others aboard hadn't a chance for their lives. The navy men of the ground crew heroically plunged into the flaming wreckage and dragged out those victims who could be reached.

The screams and cries of injured in agony were "terrible," the hardened sailors and marines who did the rescue work reported. The clothing was completely burned off one man. Another, blown through the envelope, was found moaning near the smashed airship.

The survivors and rescue workers told of the terrific heat which followed the explosion and the surge

An explosion of the No. 2 gas cell toward the stern of the ship was named as the cause of the disaster by State Aviation Commissioner Gill Robb Wilson, who called the blast "strange."

Some authorities scouted the theory that the explosion could have been caused by the ignition of hydrogen inside the gas cells. They said a mixture of 20 per cent free air with hydrogen would be necessary to cause an explosion, indicating the first blast must have occurred outside one of the gas cells.

Aeronautical experts said the only way they could explain an explosion inside the ship would be that free hydrogen had in some way escaped and was lying in the stern of the ship where it was accidentally

H OW to economize by cutting down government expenditures, as the President has demanded, and at the same time to continue with such huge expenditures as the billion and a half dollars Mr. Roosevelt asked for relief is a puzzle that congress doesn't know how to solve. Harry Hopkins, Works Progress administrator and most accomplished spender of the administra-

H. L. Hopkins tion, took a hand in the discussion, telling a house appropriation subcommittee that unemployment is a permanent problem, that the government should be prepared to support seven million jobless persons at all times, and consequently that congress must appropriate the billion and a half for relief instead of cutting the sum down to a billion.

Both Democrats and Republicans on the committee protested, and Chairman Woodrum of Virginia told Hopkins he would use every endeavor to have the appropriation reduced by at least a third. He challenged the figures and arguments submitted by Hopkins, contending that if the extravagance of the work relief principle and the padding of relief rolls with undeserving cases were eliminated and the states required to assume a greater share of the burden the cost to the federal government would not exceed one Senator William H. King of Utah, Democrat, not only disagrees with Hopkins as to the amount needed for relief, but isn't satisfied with the way the administrator has been conducting the work. He introduced resolutions in the senate calling for an investigation of the works progress administration and taking the future spending of relief money out of Hopkins' hands. King said his purpose was to abolish the WPA.

In the house economy received a wallop on the head when the reforestation bill was passed, 171 to 153. This measure would appropriate $2,500,000 annually for government aid to farmers who wish to turn part of their farms into woodlands. NE of the major tragedies of Representative J. J. Cochran of Misaeronautical history occurred souri, Democrat. "It has a worth those expensive measures which we blazing mass at the landing field can defer passing for a while until in Lakehurst, N. J. At this writing the budget is in balance," declared Cochran.

> BEWILDERED members of congress were still further dazed when they learned that the administration was moving to obtain approval of the Florida ship canal project which will call for $197,-000,000. This was revealed when Secretary of the Navy Swanson sent to the house rivers and harbors committee a letter urging that the canal scheme be approved. It was assumed he would not have done this without the approval of the President. Mr. Swanson argued that the canal would be of value during war for the shipment of materials.

Testimony labeled "confidential" was also heard by the committee retired chief of staff of the army, and Rear Admiral Frederic B. Bassett, retired. Both declared that the canal would serve as "a most important element of the national defense in time of war.'

Representative Beiter of New York, Democrat, called upon the budget bureau to make known its stand on the Florida canal question.

Attention of congress was called to the matter when Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, Republican, demanded an in-

"To the 825,000 employees of the government the President's announcement was a most czaristic order." Mrs. Rogers declared. "I believe the money paid to federal employees is just as much their money to do with as they please as is the money paid to any employee working at any job in any place in the United States.'

But government employees, she added, certainly ought not to have the advantage of knowledge withheld from the public.

T WELVE American women reached what some people consider a social climax when they were received by King George and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain at the first court of the new reign. These favored matrons and debutantes had been carefully coached at the American embassy and were presented by Mrs. Robert W. Bingham, wife of the American ambassador. They were:

Eleanor Bowdoin of Aiken, S. C.; Mrs. George Temple Bowdoin of New York City; Catherine M. Maher of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. George W. Norton Jr., of Louisville; Mrs. John Perrin of Boston; Anne Schenck of New York City; Vesta Putnam Culberson of Chicago; Mrs. F. Vernon Foster of West Orange, N. J.; Lydia Fuller of Boston; Mrs. Dozier L. Gardner of Philadelphia; Mrs. Byron Hilliard of Louisville, and Mrs. Julia Henry of Philadelphia.

PRIME MINISTER STANLEY BALDWIN, soon to retire, made an eloquent plea to the people of Great Britain not to mar the coronation festivities and endanger the safety of democracy by engaging in industrial strife. He was moved to this by a threatened strike in the coal fields and by the danger that the trolley employees of London would go out in sympathy with the striking bus men. Said Mr. Baldwin: "I appeal to the handful of men on whom rests the responsibility of peace or war to give the best present to the country that could be given at this moment, to do the one thing that would rejoice the hearts of all who love this country, and that is to rend and dissipate this dark cloud gathered over us and show the people of the world that this democracy at least can still prac-

General Pariani, for the war department, said Italy was taking no chances concerning protection of her frontiers. The government, he said, intended to build up in the Italian peninsula an army which would be able to paralyze an enemy's advances and "win the war in the shortest possible time."

It took only 25 seconds to make absolute the decree nisi which Mrs. Simpson obtained last October 27. The king's proctor had been satisfied with the lady's behavior in the interval, and Sir Boyd Merriman, president of the divorce court, personally granted the decree along with a lot of others.

The date for the wedding of the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson has not yet been announced, but it probably will be in the week beginning May 24. Edward was willing to wait until all the coronation hullabaloo was over for he did not wish to annoy his royal brother in REICHSFUEHRER ADOLF HIT-LER was informed by Pope Pius XI that the Roman Catholic church must be free to fulfill its mission in Germany. This reply to the German church note, which itself was a reply to the pope's pre-Easter encyclical accusing the German government of violating the 1933 churchstate concordat, was delivered by Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli to the German ambassador to the holy see, Diego von Bergen.

The note was rather moderate in tone, but insisted that economic pressure must not be brought to bear against Catholics in Germany; that Catholic schools and the Catholic press should not be hampered.

ELEVEN unions of the Federated Motion Picture Crafts, with about 6,000 members, went on strike in Hollywood, Calif., and the great film industry there was in serious difficulties. The strikers counted heavily on co-operation by the Screen Actors' guild, but that body, which has 5,600 members, delayed action until it could confer with the producers. The guild already had presented a number of demands regarding working conditions and hours and overtime pay.

Fifteen of the largest hotels in San Francisco were practically tied up by a strike of 3.500 employees. The strikers were given the active support of 13 unions. They insisted that hotel owners had refused to agree to preferential hiring and a five day week for clerks, although other groups of hotel employees had been awarded such conditions.

SOME of the most desperate fighting of the Spanish civil war was taking place in the struggle for Bilbao between the sturdy Basques and Gen. Emilio Mola's veterans, reputedly mostly Italians and Germans. The insurgents had promised not to bomb the center of the city but bombarded its environs heavily from the land and the air. By fierce attacks they broke through the Basque lines on the Bay of Biscay coast, reaching Bilbao's seaports at the mouth of the Nervion river.

Disregarding the protests of General Franco, Fascist chieftain, the British and French governments undertook to remove from Bilbao a large number of women and chil-

Comforters and quilts are launlered in the same way. However, more care must be taken with quilts to keep the cotton or wool fillers from wadding. Also, because of their thickness, at least one more sudsing and two more rinsings are required.

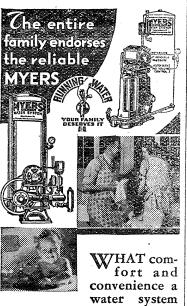

Spots and stains in either blankets or quilts are quickly removed by commercial solvents. Rubbing with olive oil before washing is another good way to remove grease spots. For stains caused by rust, Mrs. Hays advises a dilute solution of oxalic acid.

Today all Ford prices are still low - with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than those of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that. It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service — for parts — and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85 horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the "60" delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Scarecrow Gun Cuts Fruit Loss

Nervy starlings and fat and saucy robins which have counted on Michigan's annual cherry and berry harvest for soft and easy pickings have found their match in man's ingenuity.

Adoption of a mechanical scarecrow for protection during the ripits worth against the feathered thieves. The device is an automatic carbide gas gun mounted on a tall pole. It does not harm the birds but proves effective in reducing the bird population in an orchard to but one-tenth of the usual number of fruit eaters.

H. A. Cardinell, extension horticulturist at Michigan State College, discovered this tireless "scarecrow." He adopted the carbide gun as a possibility after finding that western sheepmen had been using these devices to scare away coyotes at

Now the machines have been tested for daylight bird scaring and have proven efficient. Tests have been run in protected and unprotected orchards of Carl Schweikert, Allegan County, and the L. G. Morrill orchard, St. Clair County. Results are summarized in a new bulletin "Protecting Cherries from Birds," Circular Bulletin No. 160, available by writing to the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East

Cardinell still laughs when he remembers July 16, 1936. Monotonous hours of patrolling orchards to count birds was broken that day by the apperance of a mass of starlings which swooped down upon some inviting red cherries. The orchard block was being protected by a carbide gun. Just as the starlings settled to a feast, the exploder operated. Cherry leaves mixed with feathers as the starlings

This is sufficient for all of the needs of a farm in supplying water for the chores. When called into fire fighting service the farmer will find that he has a stream strong one moment, tapering off into a drizzling the next, warns W. H. To prevent this he advocates the use of a switch operating in parallel with the regular pressure controlling switch. By use of this extra switch which should be located directly beside the fire hose the motor will commence running even if the pressure is at 40 pounds. By the time the hose is uncoiled and turned on pressure in the pressure tank may be up to 65 pounds.

The pumps of one-third to onehalf horsepower most frequently used on farms deliver from 400 to 500 gallons per hour and give a stream, by means of the extra switch, about equal to that of the city watering hose.

While a hose line fights most fires, any fire resulting from gasoline or kerosene will merely be Judge of Probate.

It has often been said, and in this column, too, that accidents do not happen.

The cause of any particular accident may be attributed to a careless driver, to a pedestrian, to a defect in the highway, to a mechanical defect, to hazardous weather conditions, or to a combination of a number of these factors.

Yearly statistics, as prepared by all states and bureaus, indicate that the human element is the outstanding cause. The driver of the automobile is usually the cause of all three-year period by H. R. Pettifarm crops department, and C. E. Millar, soils department of Michigan State College, show that growers panning to plow under sweet clover for this season's bean yield should get their plowing done early in May, before the fifteenth if possible.

Tests prove that those who wait for a larger growth and plow late in May are likely to have an exceedingly dry, loose seed bed on which beans yield poorly.

While the disadvantage of late plowing was not so great in wet seasons the experiments show that there never has been any advantage. Many late plowed sweet clover fields in Michigan's best bean sections gave a total bean failure last year because of the prolonged drought.

Delayed plowing, the recent experiment proved, can cut bean production in half. Beans planted late in May will lie in the ground for as long as 20 days without germinating, while those planted on earlier plowed land will sprout in four

A FARMER can earn real money by taking a genuine interest in the work his men are doing for him.

You'll find it profitable to supervise your workers. For example:— Show your workers how you want your beets blocked. See to it that they leave

A Beet every 10 inches

Good final stands depend agreat deal on the actual thinning operations.

Successful beet growers recommend the following procedure as being most profitable to farmers.

"See that your workers understand not only how to thin properly but why. Explain that proper thinning means higher tonnage. See that they thin and space properly. Poor work produces a poor yield at harvest time."

"Insist on leaving only the strongest plants. The big beet at the thinning will be the big beet at the harvest."

"Better work means better pay for your workers."

"Have your men check up on their spacing by frequent measurements. Take a hundred foot row and count the beets. If your men are doing good work tell them so. Encourage them. On the other hand, if you find a worker who is not up to snuff, let him know it."

Supervision pays you extra dividends!

Social Legislation

Also on the administration legislative program are the following: Labor relations measure giving the governor powers of a strike dictator. Organized labor is critical of the responsibilities, not found in the federal Wagner act for interstate commerce, which the Murphy bill would impose on employees in intrastate commerce, and strong pressure is being applied to have the bill amended in the house this week when the bill is due to be reported on general orders.

Minimum wage legislation for women and minors. House bill 66 by Rep. Murphy to Washington?

A New Yorker, coming to Lansing on business last week, heard "gossip" in legislative corridors at the capitol:

Governor Frank Murphy is slated for a cabinet position at Washington, D. C., probably as secretary of labor. An appointment as supreme court justice is also possible. As soon as the social legislation program is enacted by the legislature Murphy's appointment will be made by the president.

Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, would be Murphy's choice as a successor, and Lieutenant Governor Nowicki, an engineer, would go to the highway department berth.

The Camel Family

Although furnishing man with milk, meat and clothing, the camel is best known for plodding tirelessly across sandy wastes. Heavy natural padding protects its feet; it doesn't object to lying, unshaded, beneath the burning sun. Whether it be the one-humped Arabian or twohumped Bactrian, says the Washington Post, it will go until it drops or its master tires. Yet it won't lift a load willingly; is hard to start. The ugliest, worst-tempered and most stupid of beasts, it must be trained for four years as a burden bearer. Even then it attacks humans.

Memorial Tablet Below Sea

The only memorial tablet to be placed below the surface of the sea, it is believed, is the inscribed bronze plate that marks the spot, in Kealakekua bay off the island of Hawaii, where Capt. James Cook, the English navigator and explorer, was killed by natives in 1779. Laid in 1928, says Collier's Weekly, the tablet is always covered with water, even at low tide.

Concerts Spirituels

Concerts spirituels originated in France in 1725. These recitals were given on the 24 religious holidays during the year. They were discontinued in 1791, at the time of the French Revolution. In 1805 they were resumed, with programs made up entirely of sacred music and presented only during holy week.

The Harpy-Eagle

The harpy-eagle is one of South America's most predacious birds. Any small warm-blooded animal that it can handle is meat for its table, particularly monkeys. It is frequently seen in the larger zoos of this country and commands attention with its owl-like face.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

WHEN we're feeling very debonairly modern over our game of bridge, it's quite a jolt to remember that it's actually very old-fashioned to play cards. Thack-eray relates: "Cards in 1730 were the resource of all the world. Every night for hours kings and queens of England sat down and handled their majesties of spades and diamonds.'

But cards are much older than that . . . it is generally conceded that they came from Asia, but where or how they originated we don't know. Maybe they were invented in China in 1120 A. D. as some people think. Maybe they've been known in India from time immemorial, as others believe. Or maybe they came from the Egyptians instead and had a religious significance.

One of the most attractive pieces of furniture for card playing that has ever been thought of is the Queen Anne card table, a walnut tilt top table with a pedestal base

A smaller tilt top table is also terminated by three curved legs, often with paw feet. This type of table sometimes had an eight scalloped top and is the ancestor of the familiar mahogany pie-crust table that we still see so often. The Queen Anne tilt top was first designed in the early Eighteenth century, while the pie-crust tilt top was made by Chippendale in the middle of the Eighteenth century. It is our opinion that we can go further and fare worse than a tilt top table for cards to this day. It's so much more gracious than the average folding bridge table that doesn't contribute anything to the design of the room. If you don't think a round table is the most convenient thing for bridge, you can still have a tilt top as there are any number of perfectly lovely square top models that tilt-some of them are painted and rather French. Others have florals in the Dutch manner. And of course many are of plain polished wood. With one of these tables for bridge, we think four really good chairs of more or less the same design are nice to use here and there about

College Co-ed's Room.

Eighteen athletic and a college freshman—that's the young lady whose room is perplexing me right now," writes her mother. "She's brown eyed and looks well in greens, yellows, orange and rust brown. I am willing to buy new furnishings complete for her room if they're not too expensive."

What a lot of things you can do with a room starting out with everything new, even on a budget. No wonder it's puzzling! If you have several old things that have to be used, they more or less settle the matter. This way there are ever so many different ideas to decide between.

We saw a perfectly stunning room recently in emerald green and white. White walls, emerald green spread and draperies, white and green plaid rug (really a summer rug but appropriate here), white painted furniture and crystal lamps and accessories. This room would be a very good background for athletic trappings because it isn't fussy.

But maybe you'd like something less austere. Yellow painted woodwork and doors . . . pale aquamarine walls, yellow swiss or organdycurtains and bedspread, flowered scatter rugs, very simple modern walnut furniture.

Or peach walls and woodwork, a soft blue rug, flowered chintz draperies and bedspread, colonial mahogany furniture.

Or dark brown walls with white woodwork, a matting floor, blonde maple modern furniture, beige corduroy for spread and draperies. A pair of small arm chairs in light yellow-green and a quilted puff of this same shade can provide interesting color accents.
