East Central Dist. Convention Was Well Attended

President and Two Vice Presidents Were Re-elected by the Delegates.

More than 200 women were in attendance at the fifteenth annual convention of the East Central District of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs in the Cass City Presbyterian church Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 26 and 27. Federated clubs of Tuscola county were hostesses.

Mrs. Daniel C. Atkins, Jr., of Vassar, president of the district, opened Tuesday morning's session at ten o'clock. After the invocation by Rev. P. J. Allured, Bobby Ryland led in the Pledge to the Flag. Mrs. M. D. Hartt, president of the Cass City Woman's Study Club, assisted by presidents of the hostess clubs, gave addresses of welcome to which the district president responded.

The principal address of Tuesday morning was given by Mrs. Tressa Way Merrill of Bloomfield Hills, Dean of Departments, who spoke on "Women Awake and At Work." In her talk, Mrs. Merrill stressed the importance of women and women's clubs in guarding their children against liquor. Her speech was a challenge to women to do something about the liquor situation, especially in educational institutions. "We must rid ourselves of educated crime," she said. "We need to take a stand with other civic organizations for law and order."

Mrs. Fred M. Cross of Bad Axe, first vice president of the district, presided during Tuesday afternoon's session.

Mrs. M. R. Keyworth, president of the Michigan State Federation, discussed club problems at the beginning of her address, the subject of which was "Character and Health Education." Among the points stressed by Mrs. Keyworth:

Juries Decide Two Are Guilty

Trial Board Recommends Leniency for Both Floyd Chapel and H. Keinath.

Floyd Chapel, 22, of Ellington township was found guilty by a jury in the Tuscola county circuit court on Monday on the charge of robbery unarmed. In its report, the jury recommended leniency. Judge Louis Cramton placed Chapel on probation for two years and ordered him to pay costs of $50 to the county.

Chapel was with Clinton Davidson, 22, on Decoration Day when Davidson faked a gun in his pocket and held up J. A. Lindsay, druggist at Gageton and made away with $31. Chapel made no effort to escape. Davidson was captured by Sheriff Jeffrey's force, pleaded guilty to robbery unarmed and was placed on probation last summer.

Harold Keinath of Vassar was found guilty of negligent homicide by a jury who recommended extreme leniency Tuesday. Sentence was deferred until next Monday and Keinath is at liberty under the same bail as before the trial.

Keinath was arrested when Edward Urbanski died as the result of an automobile collision at a highway intersection on M-46 and a county road in Juniata township on June 12th last. Both men were driving automobiles involved in the accident.

Hunters Furnish Pheasants for Two Big Dinners

Hunters of the community furnished pheasants for big dinners for two groups of Cass City men the past week.

The first was served Friday evening to members of Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M., in the lodge dining room. Fifty enjoyed the feast and later witnessed the conferring of the third degree upon a candidate.

Tuesday noon, 22 birds were served at the Hotel Gordon to a company of about 25 Rotarians and several invited friends. The newly formed Rotary quartet, G. A. Tindale, Leslie Townsend, A. C. Atwell and G. W. Landon, and their accompanist, J. Henry Smith, were absent, having been invited to present vocal numbers at the Rotary club luncheon at Vassar.

"The Need of Sobriety in a High Speed World" was the subject of an address by Dr. R. N. Holsaple, pastor of the Evangelical church, before the Rotary club here Tuesday. He called attention to the large number of traffic deaths in this country each year. While relatively a small number of fatal accidents were due to drunk drivers, a vast majority, he pointed out, were due to "had been drinking" drivers. Alcohol has a slowing down effect on the nervous system which renders a driver less capable to handle an automobile. We must either lower our industrial and efficiency standards or abolish alcohol as a beverage. There is no place for alcohol in a high speed world, Dr. Holsaple said.

New Use Tax Law Becomes Effective In Michigan Nov. 1

Places Michigan Business Men on Equal Competitive Basis with Outsiders.

"All tangible personal property sold in Michigan will be subject to a uniform tax, regardless of where it was purchased, and Michigan merchants and manufacturers will be placed on an equal competitive basis with those outside the state when the new use tax law, adopted by the 1937 legislature, becomes effective November 1.

This form of taxation is comparatively new in the United States, first coming into existence in California on July 1, 1935. Since the adoption of the first use tax law in this country, nine states have followed California's lead. Two others have incorporated the principle of the use tax in their general taxing acts.

"The use tax is not an additional tax," said Draper Allen, managing director of the State Board of Tax Administration, "but is supplementary to the sales tax."

Referendum Petition Signed by 711 in Tuscola County

Seven hundred eleven signed petitions in Tuscola county for a referendum on the new welfare set-up passed at the recent session of the state legislature. A quota of 3,000 signatures was set for this county by those interested in the referendum proposed for next spring. Signatures were as follows: Akron township 69, Almer 68, Dayton 15, Watertown 54, Columbia 31, Ellington 36, Kingston 152, Vassar 181, Indianfields 98, Wells 7. Mrs. Clare Horning delivered the petitions to the secretary of state at Lansing on Tuesday.

Workmen See Red at A. B. C. Shop

Decorating which started in the salesroom of the A. B. C. Sales and Service some time ago has been contagious and has spread to the garage department in the rear of the building. Walls in the repair department have been finished in white with a lower panel of green and the two colors divided by a yellow stripe. Repair tools are being painted in red.

An office has been constructed between the salesroom and the repair department and is nearly completed. The inside of the office will have walls of Celotex.

ARCHIE McCALLUM ARRIVES IN ARIZONA

Archie McCallum, a graduate of the local high school last June and a son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCallum, arrived Saturday in Tucson, Arizona, where he may decide to spend the winter. He left Michigan for the South in company with his cousin, Alex McKenzie, of Bad Axe.

The two young men had a delightful motor trip to Arizona.

LEFT ON MOTOR TRIP TO ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fletcher left Saturday for Kalamazoo to visit relatives Sunday. On Monday, they left that city for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they will visit Mr. Fletcher's brother, Andrew Fletcher, whom he has not seen for 38 years. The trip is being made by automobile and they expect to be gone for several weeks.

Cass City, 14; Sebewaing, 0

Saginaw Reserves Bringing Strong Team Here on Thursday, November 4.

The second half of the game at Sebewaing Friday saw the Maroon and Grey squad playing the type of football that has made Cass City a feared foe in Thumb circles. As a result, Cass City won from Sebewaing 14-0 last Friday.

The blocking was sharp, the ball carrying was determined; especially was this true of McIntyre's exhibition, on his touchdown run in the last quarter when he left several would-be tacklers strewn along his path.

For the first time this season, the passing attack clicked for many long gains, which aided greatly in the touchdown drives. Phil Doerr scored the first counter when he ran his left end for about fifteen yards. The only man left between him and the goal line was cut down by a terrific block by the fighting Millard Ball, who as a junior, has become a star on both defense and offense.

The next game will be against a fighting Marlette team at Marlette Friday.

Saginaw comes here next Thursday with a flashy reserve team to engage the locals.

A tentative arrangement has been made by A. G. Spaulding & Co. to have the Cass City reserves put on a demonstration of eight-men football on this day for the benefit of smaller schools in this region.

Cass City Juniors Win from Caro

Thursday, October 21, the Cass City Junior High boys defeated the Junior High lads of Caro in a game of football with a score of 14 to 12.

Kenneth Clement was the star player for Cass City, making both touchdowns.

It was the first Junior High game ever played at Cass City. Practically every Junior High boy had an opportunity to play. A return game with Caro is being planned.

Village President's Proclamation

Once again the time has come for our community to demonstrate its concern for maintaining a very necessary part of our civic welfare program—the work maintained by the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

It is not necessary for me to remind citizens of our community that the work of the Red Cross is a vital contribution to our community welfare. We have all seen, during the past year, how effective Red Cross work is, both from the standpoint of the year-round program and that done during times of great national emergency. Perhaps never before has the work of this great national agency been so universally endorsed as in this year during the gigantic relief operation in the devastating floods in the Ohio and Mississippi River Valleys. It was a great work, done in an efficient manner, and truly deserves our most sincere commendation.

Our community, I am pleased to say, carried its full share of the responsibility for making this great relief work possible, through contributions of our citizens.

The annual Roll Call of the Red Cross, through which such fine work is supported, is from November 1st to Thanksgiving Day. Memberships enrolled during that time will support the work for the year ahead of us. The Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of our people.

It gives me great pleasure, as president of Cass City, to set aside the designated period as the time when all members will be asked to renew their memberships and those who have not enrolled before are urged to add their names to the ranks of Red Cross members in our community.

E. B. SCHWADERER, Village President.

21 Miles of Hard Surface Road for Eastern Tuscola

Road Commission Plans Extensive 1938 Building Program in the County.

Eastern Tuscola county is scheduled to have 21 miles of hard surface road constructed, according to a recent decision of the county road commission.

The commission will match the $16,000 state and federal allotment for farm to market roads in this county. The road will be of the oil aggregate or tarvia type, to be decided later. The commission has designated a continuance of the present blacktop road from Gageton east to the Sanilac county line, a distance of six miles, and the construction of another from Tuscola village river bridge south to the Genesee county line, a distance of seven miles; also from the bridge north to intersect with M-38, a little over a mile.

The extending of the black-top road east from Gageton will make a complete hard-surfaced county road from a point two miles west of Unionville, 21 1/2 miles in an easterly direction.

In addition to the two roads to be constructed with state and federal money, the county will build

Cow Sells for $212 at Auction

At the auction sale of purebred Holstein cattle at the farm of V. J. Carpenter & Son on Tuesday, 61 head sold at an average price slightly higher than $100.

The high cow sold for $212 and was purchased with 10 other animals by the Kalamazoo State Hospital.

Fourteen head were bought by Ervin Cardwell of Imlay City, five animals were sold to Leo McLellan of Davison and several animals went to the Lakefield Farms at Clarkston. Most of the cattle were bid in by outside buyers.

R. C. Canvassers in Cass City

G. W. Landon, chairman of the Red Cross roll call in this community, announced that solicitors will call on persons in the village for their Red Cross memberships. The campaign starts on November 1.

Mr. Landon has made arrangements with the two banks in Cass City and the Chronicle to receive Red Cross memberships and anyone may leave his dollar at any of these three places and receive a membership card.

MAN INJURED BY KICK OF HORSE

Grover Haas, 31, is a patient in Morris hospital with severe head injuries as the result of being kicked by a horse Sunday at his farm near Gageton. Mr. Haas was found unconscious in the barn by his wife and it is thought he had lain there more than an hour. A doctor was called, who gave first aid and ordered the man taken to a hospital. Besides more serious head injuries, he has a broken nose and is suffering from shock.

STATE SHERIFFS PRAISE TUSCOLA OFFICER'S WORK

Sheriff George Jeffrey.

State Association Praises Jeffrey

Says Sheriff Is Deserving of Much Credit in the Arrest of Bank Robbers.

"Sheriff Jeffrey rightfully deserves all the credit he is receiving and more besides," writes Jerome S. Borden, secretary of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association, in a letter to Fred Mathews, chairman of the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors, in recognizing the splendid piece of work Sheriff Jeffrey did in bringing about the arrest of Marshall Rains and Raymond Pyle for the armed robbery of the Mayville State Bank.

"This work on his part again portrays the earnestness and zeal which is always displayed on the part of the local officer in doing his duty," says Mr. Borden. "In these days when so much is being said about abolishing the office of sheriff to supplant him with the state police, this piece of work which was done by Sheriff Jeffrey and is being done every day by every sheriff in the state, more clearly emphasizes the words of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., when he says 'were it not for the local officer working in his local community, knowing the people of that community, we would not be able to function successfully.'"

Mr. Borden concluded his letter with the suggestion that everything within reason should be done to properly equip and maintain local sheriffs.

Electric Service Meetings Have Been Scheduled

Home owners who are now receiving or are about to receive electrical service either through the power companies or the Thumb Electric Co-operative will have an opportunity to enlighten themselves regarding electrical problems at meetings scheduled for early November. These meetings are to be handled through the cooperation of the Agricultural Extension Service of Michigan State College and the Thumb Co-operative at Uby. Matters discussed will pertain to wiring specifications, inspection service, fixtures, financing, services to be derived from electricity, etc. Meetings will be as follows:

- Unionville Town Hall, Monday, November 1, 8:00 p. m.
- Millington High School, Tuesday, November 2, 8:00 p. m.
- Kingston High School, Wednesday, Nov. 3, 8:00 p. m.
- Juhl Community Hall, Sanilac County, Friday, November 5, 8:00 p. m.

Similar meetings will follow in other counties to any of which prospective electricity consumers are invited.

Printed matter covering the various specifications may be obtained at the different agricultural agent's offices or at the office of the Thumb Co-operative at Uby.

ARE ATTENDING ANNUAL GRANGE MEET AT ALPENA

Substantial Gifts to Swimming Pool and School Band

Co-operative Mercantile Co. Stockholders Empty Treasury for Projects.

Through the generosity of stockholders of the Cass City Co-operative Mercantile Company, the community swimming pool fund at Cass City will receive $200.00 and the sum of approximately $325.00 will be turned over to the board of education of the Cass City public school for the use of the high school band. The public need not be surprised to see, in the near future, members of the band appear in bright, attractive uniforms.

The Cass City Co-operative Mercantile Company discontinued business here several years ago and had in its treasury $525.89. A meeting was called recently for Monday evening, October 25, when after considerable discussion it was decided by the 20 stockholders present that the sum should be turned over to some worthy local project.

Audley Rawson made the motion which was seconded by Joshua Fisher that the money be expended for a local project, and a motion presented by Henry Hulbert, seconded by John Day, and carried by the vote of stockholders divided the money as stated above.

John C. Corkins presided as chairman of the meeting and Dr. F. L. Morris served as secretary.

Supervisors' Pay Is Increased

Mileage Rate Is Higher but Limit Is Placed on Total Amount Allowed.

Tuscola county supervisors concluded the deliberations of their October session Friday and in the last three days accepted numerous reports from committees and heard annual reports of county officers.

The special committee on hospitalization recommended that the present wing of the county building at the county farm known as the Women's building be converted into a convalescent home for indigent people of the county. The total cost of remodeling and equipment is not to exceed $3,000. The board adopted the committee report.

The supervisors went on record as opposing the elimination of county normal schools and asked their state senator and state representative to do all in their power to obtain an appropriation for the support of normal schools at a special session of the legislature or from the state administrative board.

Prosecuting Attorney Bates Wills was instructed to proceed with the collection of bills, notes and contracts due the county and negotiated by people through the filter board, the judge of probate or the poor commissioners' office.

The compensation of supervisors was increased from $4 to $5 a day and mileage from two to five cents a mile. This increase is permitted by Public Act No. 199 which became effective July 20th last. Such compensation is to apply to all services rendered during the October session and for any committee work. The present mileage can be collected for only 15 days during the year, while previous to July there was no limit on the number of days a supervisor could collect mileage run up in attending sessions.

MAHARG PULLETS LAY DOUBLE AND TRIPLE EGGS

"Guess we'll have eggs for breakfast this morning," said Mrs. Herbert Maharg to her husband Saturday. And then she broke open the first egg and found it contained two yolks and when she opened the second egg she discovered it held three yolks.

No, gentle reader, there's no use asking the grocer tomorrow for Maharg farm eggs. They're using all their eggs on their Grant township farm at present.

ABANDONED CHURCHES.

A recent news item states that 300 churches in the state of Iowa have been abandoned. Many who once attended these houses of worship must feel regret at such changes.

In most of the states you will find many abandoned churches. One reason is that in many places there used to be more churches than could be well supported.

STOCK MARKET FEARS.

The stock exchanges have witnessed a near panic during recent days. The violent rush to sell securities was strikingly like the awful crash of 1929, although conditions now are very different.

A panic in the stock market is a good deal like one is some public hall. If people in such a hall get a notion that there is a fire in the building, and all rush for the doors in one wild scramble, somebody is likely to get hurt.

So in the securities market, if the people get it into their heads that there is going to be a speculative crash, and rush to sell their stocks damage could be done to business and many people would lose their money.

There are some bad conditions at present which naturally cause apprehension. There always are some such conditions. The business skies are never wholly free from clouds.

PRANKS OFTEN FATAL.

Pre-Hallowe'en pranks caused the death this week of an elderly restaurant owner. He was cleaning up when a group of boys threw a basket of rubbish on the floor and taunted him.

In every town there are "eccentrics" who inspire the cruelty of children. And no one can be more cruel than a child, when he is headed in that direction.

Officials of the towns at this time of year can do much to direct Hallowe'en fun into the right channel.

Let the kids rake the park, then come to a big Hallowe'en or marshmallow roast dressed up in their "scary" clothes. They'll have a good time and no damage will result to property or lives.

An election may not express the will of the people but it comes as near to it as anything yet devised for political purposes.

The average head of the family finds many places for the spending of budget funds even when the budget funds have been expended.

BANK ROBBERIES DECLINE.

There were 145 bank robberies in the country during the year ending August 31, the smallest number since 1918. But this number is far too many.

A bank robbery is usually a carefully worked out piece of strategy, managed something like a high class football game. Each gangster knows what he is to do, and outside the door is the purring automobile, which will transport the dirty crooks many miles in a few minutes.

Yet most of the bank robbers will find themselves behind the bars in due time. The community has good tight prisons where they will be given a chance to exercise all their ingenuity trying to penetrate high walls and heavily barred doors.

WHY PRICES RISE.

The American people are demanding a higher scale of living. They want care taken of people who have had difficulties. This demand calls for social security, to protect the unemployed and the aged.

These aims are good and laudable. They show a desire for progress, and sympathy with those whose lot is hard. Yet such improvements and regulation cost money. Business concerns find it costs more money to operate on this basis.

HOLE IN UNCLE SAM'S POCKET.

President Roosevelt's recent statements on the budget forecasts that the government will have a deficit of $695,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The little old nursery rhyme had it: "A hole's a bad thing in the pocket, Have it mended when you've got it."

Every boy who ever lost his marbles and fishhooks out of such a hole knows that. Uncle Sam can't replace the dollars he loses by spending more than he earns, except by taking them out of the pockets of the people, which means less ability to spend and employ labor.

GETTING OUT OF JAIL.

Quite frequently one reads news about convicts who saw the bars of their cells, or who dig out under or through the walls, or in some way escape or try to escape from their places of confinement. Probably a good deal of the spare time of long term offenders is spent in studying the possibilities of escape, and trying to plan out ways for penetrating those mighty walls that hem them in.

WOMEN AS LAWMAKERS.

Recent figures show there are 109 women members of the legislatures in 34 states. That seems a good many, until you reflect that it is an average of only about three for each state.

Such fears have proved absurd. The women have not neglected their homes because of politics. Women's experiences are different from those of men. They come closest to the problem of stretching slender incomes to meet family needs.

Hard work rarely hurts anybody; it's the worry that kills.

There is no law to prohibit any of us from doing a kind deed.

Michigan Mirror

A Non-Partisan State News Letter By GENE ALLEMAN Michigan Press Association

Lansing—A welfare tug-of-war is raging in Michigan this week as the October 29 deadline nears for a showdown on whether a state-wide referendum will be held November 8, 1938 on the new welfare law.

M. S. VanGeison, Flint, state contact man for the county supervisors who are opposing the new plan, has been confident that the quota of 90,000 signatures would be obtained by today (Friday).

Attorney General Raymond W. Starr has ruled that filing of petitions would prevent the new welfare plan from being put into effect, but it would not stop administration of funds. Michigan spends $8,000,000 a year in old age assistance and $2,000,000 for dependent children.

The Michigan State Farm Bureau may become a factor in the referendum fight. Among its members are rural county supervisors and superintendents of the poor, many of whom are opposed to the new code whereby Lansing retains centralized supervision over administration of welfare money in each county.

The Farm Bureau holds its annual convention November 11 and 12 at Michigan State College.

Centralized Authority

The trend towards centralization of government at Lansing has been under way for years.

When the legislature in 1937 passed an occupational disease compensation law and a labor relations board act (since vetoed by the governor), it gave more power to State government.

The same inclination to administer affairs of state from Lansing is seen in the legislature's decision increasing state advertising funds from $100,000 to $150,000, but retaining $50,000 for exclusive use of the state administration, the remaining amount to be divided equally between the four tourist associations.

Governor Murphy has predicted the ultimate shift of all state advertising funds to a central agency.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, holding its annual meeting in Grand Rapids, revealed that it had spent from 1929 to 1937 a total of $340,000 in advertising Michigan. Of this amount the state furnished $145,000, the remaining $195,000 coming from private citizens.

Norman H. Hill, executive secretary of the governor, has been given an extra responsibility of spending the extra $50,000 of state advertising money.

Governor's New Predicament

The new Detroit C. I. O. mayorality candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, has jumped on the New Deal bandwagon, declaring that his election next month will be equivalent to the endorsement of President Roosevelt.

Because Detroit's election system is non-partisan and the main issue is between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L., O'Brien has put Governor Murphy politically "on the spot." So far, the governor has resisted pressure to declare himself for O'Brien.

Norman Thomas, leader of the socialist party in the United States, pronounces his blessing on the C. I. O. campaign and urges organization of a national labor party.

In the meanwhile, Governor Murphy is at White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, taking medical treatment on order of physicians. Always a defender of the Detroit non-partisan plan for elections, he faces a new test in the C. I. O.-New Deal campaign in the motor metropolis.

84 Per Cent to Worker

In these days of labor unrest—and spiraling commodity prices have been a contributing factor—industry needs to take the worker into a partnership for the management. This was the theme of an address given before Lansing Industrial Executives' club by Sherman Rogers, lecturer and former editorial writer for Outlook and Liberty.

The economic research division, United States bureau of commerce, has issued a bulletin on "National Income in the United States," which proves that labor receives 84 cents out of every industrial dollar. In Grand Rapids a threatened strike at the Grand Rapids Brass Works with a resultant loss of valuable business was averted last spring by intelligent management.

wages to workers during the depression while the stockholders received very little in dividends.

Geyer, now president of the manufacturers' association there, has taken the employees into a working partnership. Both employees and stockholders are prospering.

Bulldozing tactics will not solve labor unrest. Perhaps Uncle Sam's own findings of what labor gets out of the industrial dollar offer a key to a better understanding between capital and labor. The Grand Rapids incident indicates that it can be achieved.

Insane and Whiskey

Sounding a call for immediate improvement of the state's treatment of handicapped citizens, Governor Murphy declared, prior to leaving for a Virginia spa, that the state should spend from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in a three or four-year program for rehabilitation of state institutions.

The lack of adequate housing facilities was given front page prominence when a hospital building for insane burned at Newberry.

After inspecting the farm colony for epileptics at Wahjamega, Murphy declared: "The most serious problem here in congestion. The normal capacity is 690 patients; there are 1,015 there. About 500 epileptics at Lapeer (state home for feeble-minded) should be housed at Wahjamega."

The same legislature which legalized the return of the saloon bar also authorized the raising of state liquor prices beginning next Monday, November 1, by 7 per cent. Higher prices are expected to raise $3,000,000 a year—all of which will be set aside for hospital rehabilitation.

Higher whiskey prices thus will help to improve the lot of the insane, the feeble-minded, and the infirm. Temperance advocates may find in this situation an element of moral inconsistency. You will agree that, if a mere co-incidence, it is still unusual.

More State Parks

As further recognition of the importance of state parks to Michigan's tourist industry, the state legislature voted $300,000 for acquisition of land.

The non-partisan state conservation commission has authorized expenditure of $265,000 to buy property in St. Clair, Monroe and Berrien counties. Four hundred acres are being acquired north of the city of Algonac for an ultimate 1,500-acre state park with a 2,000 foot frontage on the St. Clair river.

North of Port Huron the state is buying a large tract of scenic property on Lake Huron.

The Monroe State park will be expanded by 400 acres.

"Some Beer . . . Not Fit"

At the same time that the Michigan Brewers' association was proclaiming the merits of Michigan made brew, the president of the Michigan Wholesale Beer Distributors caused a mild sensation in Lansing where he charged to the state liquor control commission that "some beer sold in the state is not fit for personal consumption."

How the mix-up occurred in the beer propaganda campaign is not known. Thomas F. O'Connor, the beer distributors' leader, declared that lack of proper handling by retailers often made the beer "so bad that a consumer would call for the board of health if he knew what he was drinking."

Repeal of the 18th amendment, while creating new problems, has brought new profits to Michigan cherry growers. Literally hundreds of tons of Michigan-grown cherries are processed each year for decorative use in cocktails. Color and flavor are regulated through a special brine treatment.

The cocktail is worth thousands of dollars to Michigan's cherry crop which in 1937 broke an all-time record with 29,100 tons. New York was second with 21,750 tons. And if a cocktail can do that to Michigan, verily this is a cock-eyed world.

Habits of Wild Geese

Wild geese do not breed until they are at least two years old, the non-breeders remaining in sociable flocks while the birds of an older generation are hatching eggs and caring for young. During the moulting season, which lasts for a month or so, geese are unable to fly and depend on hiding instead of flight for protection.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

I feel that it is important to issue a warning about carbon monoxide gas at this time. It might be a little early to talk about opening the windows and doors while running the motor in your garage, but nevertheless it should be a timely warning.

As soon as cold weather sets in people frequently run the motor in the garage to warm it up before driving away. This is done to prevent frequent "stalls" on the highways.

Whenever you must do this be sure that the windows and doors (all of them) are wide open so that you will get proper ventilation. By running the motor in the average garage with doors and windows closed for a period of three minutes, sufficient gas is formed to kill you.

The gas is very poisonous. You cannot see it, smell it, taste it, or feel it.

WHOSE RIGHT-OF-WAY?

Many a driver's tombstone might bear an epitaph reading: "He thought he had the right-of-way." Maybe he did have it, too; but what good is it now?

The fact is that the right-of-way is an elusive possession. Courts have defined it to their own satisfaction, but the average driver too often thinks he has it just when some other motorist has the same idea. The result is a smash-up.

If you want to be sure about it, ask for an expert opinion after you have slowed down and let the other car go first. That, you will agree, is the safe way.

After all, isn't the safety of yourself and your passengers the most important thing? You may justly be incensed at the discourteous driver who always insists upon beating you past the corner.

Read your next day's newspaper. You can be sure your name is not among the list of injured in motor car accidents. And you can find satisfaction in the knowledge that you were not in any way involved in the gruesome story of highway death and injury that has become a daily feature in most newspapers.

Children in Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield.

Judges recognize that fear is one of the most important emotions and frequently determines the future success or failure of children. Many men and women today are chained by fear to a life of drudgery when they could be in positions of responsibility and honor.

The importance of this subject was revealed last week when a mere boy was committed to a state hospital for the insane. As a small youngster, his relatives had amused themselves by watching his reactions when they related stories of ghosts, or explained frightful and gruesome incidents of murders and hangings.

Losses in Lambs Can Cut Profits

Lambs by the carload and even trainload are being poured onto farms in the state to prepare the animals for a feeding period.

Feeders who seek any possible profits in lambs costing 10 cents a pound are warned by G. A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State College, to avoid any possible losses at the start of the feeding season.

Heavy frosts recently have made green succulent pastures a poor place for feeding lambs. Frozen grass is apt to cause scours and other digestive disturbances.

"Lambs should be placed in the barn on arrival," says Brown. "Access should be given to water to which a small amount of either lime or baking soda has been added. For the first week these lambs should get no feed except first cutting hay, preferably hay containing some grass.

"In this period the lambs should be tagged about the rear parts and wool trimmed away from the eyes. Examine carefully to determine the presence of parasites. For either stomach or tape worms the entire flock should be drenched according to directions from the county agricultural agent."

Feeding with grain should start after the first week. But it should be 15 to 20 days before feed feeding is reached, when the lambs can safely get from one to one and a half pounds of grain a day. With self feeders this starting process is accomplished by putting 60 per cent of the ration in ground hay the first week. This expensive system should be cut down so that the amount fed with the grain is decreased gradually to not more than 20 to 25 per cent of the ration at the end of two weeks.

The Giant Eland The giant eland is a species of antelope. It grows to a height of six feet, weighs as much as 1,500 pounds, and formerly was found in great herds on the South African plains. No white men are permitted in the interior where the wary, roving giant eland lurks, for sleeping sickness takes too heavy a toll of white hunters.

M. S. C. Dormitory Dedication Planned

Dedication of the Sarah Langdon Williams dormitory, newest unit in Michigan State College's housing system for women students, is set by college officials for Sunday afternoon, October 31. The building was named for the wife of Michigan State College's first president. School home of 258 women students from all sections of Michigan and from other states, the dormitory opened in September at the beginning of the fall term, and with the dedication it officially becomes part of Michigan State College's housing plan for more than 700 women students.

Dedication activities will include a dinner at 1:00 p. m., Sunday, October 31, for State Board of Agricultural members and their wives, dormitory committee members, President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and others connected with the building.

Students' parents and other relatives and Michigan State College faculty members will be guests at an informal reception from three to five o'clock the same afternoon, and between seven and nine o'clock that evening other friends of students and of Michigan State College will be greeted at an open house. The dormitory will be open for inspection at both afternoon and evening affairs. Admission to the afternoon open house will be by card only.

Actual dedication of the new dormitory will follow the dinner. After brief talks by administration representatives, student presidents of each of the dormitory's two wings will accept a lighted torch from President Shaw, and with it light fires in fireplaces in the North and South wings.

Jean Bedford of Elkton is president of the South wing, and Jean Shearer of Grand Ledge is president of the North division. Misses Bedford and Shearer will be assisted at the dedication ceremony and at the afternoon and evening receptions by other students and by Mrs. Leah Robinson and Mrs. Edith Gilhoolie, chaperons of the dormitory's two units.

eral governmental aid, the county commission plans some extensive black-top construction with county funds. Unfinished this year but designated for early treatment in 1938 are the two roads leading east and north from Taggett's corners. The road west will connect with tarvia south from Fairgrove, and the road north with M-83 east of Akron, making an all hard-surface route from Fairgrove and Akron villages to Caro.

Other roads in the county on the 1938 program for tarvia construction include 15 miles from Cass City to Kingston, Fostoria main street north to M-88, two streets in Mayville village. New Pest Weed Threat in State

Like an everchanging battlefront, the fight of farmers in Michigan to curtail weeds finds a new enemy of crops and efficiency. The pest is downy brome, a grass that crowds out more desirable alfalfa in hayfields and pastures and whose barbed spikelets cause sheep to go blind and irritates the mouths of cattle.

Studies of the downy brome problem by farm crops department men at Michigan State College indicate possible solution of how to fight the spreading weed. The downy brome should not be confused with its desirable relative, the smooth brome grass.

H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops department, offers the college findings in the hope that sufficient farmers in the state will give the method a more thorough field test. Early pasturing apparently proves a control. Putting animals in on a downy brome infested alfalfa field as early as the last part of April has been tried with good results and even earlier grazing may be advisable.

That early in the season the alfalfa is not especially palatable and the grazing animals munch on the downy brome, preventing it from forming seed heads that later would further infest the field. The early pasturing seems logical even when the field is to be cut for hay.

Rapid spread of the weed is being found in the most productive farming areas. Many farmers incorrectly call the pest wild oats instead of down brome. Where the infestation takes over all of the desirable seeding, the crops department at the college recommends shortening of the rotation. Cultivation then controls the downy brome.

Our associations and surroundings have much to do with the shaping of our character. Character is the basic fundamental for successful living. It is essential if a citizenry that is capable of directing its own destiny is produced. We must clean up our parole system. Fifteen million dollars a year are spent for crime in the United States. We must concentrate on juvenile delinquency.

Extension Work Protects Health

Better methods of feeding families and better usage of Michigan grown foods are results counted in thousands of farm homes in the state as a result of home economics extension work in the past year.

As a new year starts with additional rural women enrolled in extension projects for communities, a summary of last year's results in food facts alone indicates the scope of the work.

More than 3,500 women report that they now know better vegetable cookery methods. Men often frown upon salads. Yet Michigan vegetables and fruits can supply many combinations for salads that help protect health.

Even that scoffed at vegetable, spinach, was included in one lesson. An uncovered kettleful was cooked for a short time without water other than the drops that cling after washing. The proof of this lesson was in the attractive green color and in the tenderness.

Undernourished children or grownups without good health often can blame improper food selection rather than lack of sufficient quantity of food. Better use of Michigan grown foods including fruits, vegetables, milk and meat, can add to better health.

Roberta Hershey, nutritionist at Michigan State College, which is the center of the state-federal extension work in the state, advocates the use of Michigan grown foods. Variety leads to good appetites, she says.

plemental to the sales tax and is designed to plug certain loopholes that have heretofore existed. No person will be required to pay both taxes, only one of the levies being applicable to any transaction.

Because of the inability to tax goods involved in shipments from out of the state under the sales tax, it was pointed out by Allen, merchants in other states have enjoyed tax free and unfair competitive advantages over businesses in Michigan.

The new tax, however, is a three per cent levy on the use, consumption or storage of personal property in Michigan. Inasmuch as the tax is levied when the goods come to rest in Michigan it is not a burden on interstate transactions, because interstate commerce ceases when the merchandise reaches its destination.

Allen estimated the yield would amount to approximately $1,500,000 annually, basing his conclusions on studies of comparable methods of taxation in other states.

In many respects the use tax is similar to the sales tax which has been in effect since 1933. It does not conflict with the levy now in force, however, because all sales subject to the present law, are exempted from taxation under the use tax.

One of the differences is that the use tax is equipped with sharper teeth. Maximum penalties for violations of the sales tax act are a $1,000 fine and a year in jail but under the use tax it is possible to fine second offenders up to $5,000 in addition to imposing a sentence of a year in jail. These penalties may be imposed on anyone convicted of any attempt to evade the tax or violate other provisions of the law. In addition any person who swears to a false or fraudulent return may be found guilty of perjury, an offense that carries a maximum sentence of 15 years imprisonment.

The use tax, Allen said, will correct many inequalities that have existed because firms outside the state have been exempt. He pointed out that Michigan concerns have been forced to make provisions for the sales tax in submitting bids to prospective buyers while outsiders, exempted from the sales tax, have been able to underbid their Michigan competitors.

This has been particularly true in such business as the building materials, supplies and fixtures contractors, Allen declared. This type of business is expected to produce one of the biggest sources of revenue under the new tax.

Building contractors bringing materials or equipment into this state must declare the value of these articles and be subject to a three per cent levy for their use, consumption or storage in the state of Michigan.

In the past they have been able to bid for business in Michigan and complete the transaction without paying a tax but those in Michigan selling the same type of merchandise have been forced to pay a sales tax.

With outside firms offering tax free inducements to prospective customers, Michigan merchants and manufacturers have lost considerable business and the state a proportionate amount of revenue.

Among the types of business that will feel the benefits of the use tax law to a large extent are department stores, firms dealing in home furnishings, and similar enterprises, because those selling household articles and clothing through house-to-house canvassers and general mail order houses will now be subject to a tax. All of these businesses will now be required to pay a three per cent levy to the state of Michigan, despite the fact that they ship the goods in from other states.

One of the outstanding differences between the sales tax and the use tax is the method of collection. Sales tax collections are made on the basis of gross retail sales while the use tax is levied on every individual sale.

The seller who collects the use tax from the buyer must add three per cent at the time of the sale and turn over to the state all such collections from buyers. The act makes it illegal to consider the tax a part of the sale price, to remit or refund any part of the tax or to imply in any manner that the seller has absorbed the tax. This section protects the Michigan merchants and manufacturers from the practice of those in other states who have held out tax free merchandise as an inducement to the buyer.

In addition the use tax law prohibits the seller, who becomes the tax collector, from retaining for his own benefit any of the proceeds he collects as a tax on the use of the merchandise he sells. Every cent of this money must be turned over to the state.

While only the seller is liable for the sales tax the use tax law makes the consumer equally responsible. This responsibility is not discharged until the tax has been paid. This section of the law makes it possible for the state to collect the tax from the buyer if the seller in another state fails to collect the tax at the time of the sale.

Michigan residents who purchase any tangible personal property in another state, must pay the three per cent tax, either to the seller or directly to the state. This requirement protects merchants whose places of business are located near the state boundaries and affects small purchases such as food, clothing and similar articles.

Consumers going to other states to make purchases of this kind are allowed to buy up to $10 worth of merchandise a month without paying a tax.
