Gagetown Plans for Addition to the Public School

Receive Approval for a Grant of $13,500.00 from the P. W. A. Last Week.

Official approval of the grant of a $13,500 allotment by the Public Works Administration for an addition to the public school building has been received by the board of education of Gagetown. A sixteen thousand five hundred dollar bond issue was voted by the taxpayers of the district at a special election on May 10, and thus $30,000 will be available for the new building. It is planned to start the addition to the present school building in about three weeks. Plans are being made by the Warren S. Hohms Co. of Lansing and will be ready within a week. The contract for the construction, it is expected, will be let ten days later. The project must be completed within five months, according to PWA specifications.

The addition, which will be built at the north side of the present building, will be 77 by 62 feet in size, and will be constructed of brick. It will contain a combined auditorium and gymnasium and two class rooms. The stage of the auditorium will be 13 feet deep and about 50 feet wide. The two class rooms will be located above the bleachers in the second story on the south side of the new building and connected with the present school edifice by a corridor and stairway. The $16,500 bonds voted by the school district at the special election mean that an average rate of 10.3 mills additional school tax will be levied annually for a five-year term to page 5, please.

Guess This One?

Taken When We Were Young

Well! Well! It surely was easy to guess the picture in this column last week. Of the 14 persons registering their opinions, every one was correct in naming William Lepla.

The 14 included Mrs. Owen Darling, A. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Gilbert, Mrs. Lena Parrish, S. C. Striffler, Mrs. B. F. Hill and Mrs. Clinton Mitchell, Mrs. Frank E. Hutchinson, William Ball, William Zinnecker, and Mrs. D. B. McNaughton.

Perhaps the halftone picture this week will be as easily recognized. You tell us who you think it is.

Three Held at County Jail for Questioning in Stabbing Affray

Adolph Betzold, 35, and Charles Zimmer, 28, both of Bay City, and Jesse Jerome Sweetland, 57, of St. Charles are being held at the Tuscola County jail for investigation. The three men with Mrs. Chas. Zimmer, Mrs. A. Betzold, Maud Zimmer, and nine children ranging from six months to 10 years of age, were traveling in an automobile into Millington Sunday when a dispute arose among the three men regarding union labor activities. Betzold, officers were told, attacked Sweetland. Sweetland, claiming he acted in self defense, with a pocket knife, stabbed Betzold several times in the heart region.

Betzold was taken to the General Hospital in Bay City for treatment and released to Sheriff George Jeffrey a few days later.

All three men are held in the county jail awaiting questioning by Prosecuting Attorney Bates Wills.

Gillies is New Head of Detroit Prison

Prison Court System Was Designed by a Former Cass City Young Man.

A. Blake Gillies, who was born here and spent his boyhood in Cass City, was appointed Saturday as superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction at Plymouth. He succeeds Capt. Edward H. Demiston, whose resignation will become effective August 1. The appointment was made at a special meeting of the House of Correction Commission.

Mr. Gillies, who is the son of Mrs. A. D. Gillies, of Cass City, joined the prison staff in 1920 and has been deputy superintendent since 1925.

The prison court system now widely used in prisons throughout the country was designed by Mr. Gillies. It gives an accused prisoner a chance to defend himself in a prison court. The Osborn Prison Commission complimented Mr. Gillies for his work in connection with the system.

Former Cass City Boy Weds at Albion

From Albion Evening Recorder.

A soft glow of candle-light from two seven-branch candelabras on either side of the fireplace where palms, ferns and garden flowers were banked, made a lovely setting for the exchange of wedding vows of Miss Margaret Grace Ludwig and William Ira Cargo, Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harland A. Ludwig, East Erie Street. Mr. Cargo is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Ira W. Cargo of Gladstone. Rev. Mr. Cargo officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Miss Dorothy Ludwig attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Hubert Gaskell was matron of honor. The bridegroom's attendants were Hubert Gaskell of Albion and his brother, Paul Cargo, of Gladstone.

Preceding the ceremony, Paul Cargo sang "At Dawning" by Cadman and "Sylvia" by Speaks, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Bacon, who also played the Mendelssohn wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream." An aisle of white satin ribbons was formed from the stairway to the fireplace by Barbara and Janice Ludwig, sisters of the bride, who were dressed in yellow and aquamarine blue marquisette dresses. Another little sister, Virginia Marie Ludwig, dressed daintily in pink chiffon trimmed in pink satin, was the flower girl. John Robert Ludwig, a brother, carried the rings on a pink satin pillow.

The bride wore a lovely white tulle wedding gown, made red-

Rotary Officers Start Duties July 1

Committee Members Will Be Announced by Pres. J. I. Niergarth on Tuesday.

Dr. H. T. Donahue, president of the Rotary Club for the past year, turned over the reins of control of that society to the new president, J. Ivan Niergarth, at the club's Tuesday luncheon, in a brief speech. Other new officers of the club who take their positions today are: Vice president, G. W. Landon; secretary, Otto Prieskorn; treasurer, G. A. Tindale; directors, Dr. H. Donahue, Frederick Pinney and E. B. Schwaderer.

Mr. Niergarth will announce his committee appointments next Tuesday.

If Korean Lespedeza, Poa Trivialis and Winter Vetch were placed before you with 29 other samples of seeds, would you be able to name them correctly? That was the task Frank Reid as program chairman gave to members of the Rotary Club here Tuesday.

A. C. Atwell, as elevator manager here, proved he had the most experience among contestants for he named 22 of the 32 samples correctly and received two dollars as first prize. State Representative Audley Rawson proved he had not strayed far from the farm during his legislative career for he named 19 correctly and received $1 as second prize. The most competition was for the consolation prize for which Otis Heath and Frederick Pinney divided 50 cents as winners.

SCHELL-WRIGHT.

Paul L. Wright and Miss Sarah Jean Schell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Schell, of Kingston were married on Saturday, June 25.

Mr. Wright formerly resided in Cass City and attended high school here and is now operating a gasoline service station and shoe repairing shop in Kingston. Mrs. Wright is a graduate of the Caro High School and Tuscola County Normal and taught the Leek School in Kingston township last year.

Thompson-Molnar Thompson-Tyler

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place Saturday evening, June 25, at eight o'clock, in the Caro Methodist Episcopal parsonage, when the Misses Betty Jane and Helen Elizabeth Thompson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, of Cass City, were brides in a double wedding attended by only a few relatives and close friends.

Miss Betty Jane became the bride of Joseph Molnar Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Molnar, of Cass City, and Miss Helen Elizabeth became the bride of Walter J. Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tyler, also of Cass City. Rev. Arnold Runkle officiated.

Both brides wore street length gowns of heaven-blue lace over silk with white accessories. Betty Jane carried a shower bouquet of white roses and baby's breath and Helen carried white lilies and baby's breath.

Attendants at the wedding were Miss Julie Guc of Caro, Miss Jane Phetteplace, Miss Bernice Tyler, Miss Marjorie Slimko, William Tyler, Louis Molnar, Steven Schwartz, John Nemeth and Clare Seeley. The young ladies wore crepe frocks of pastel shades and carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses.

Following the ceremony, the

Miss Helen Corkins Bride of D. Greig

Helen Irene Corkins, daughter of John C. Corkins, of Cass City, became the bride of Douglas Greig of Detroit, Wednesday, June 29, at 8:00 p. m., the 64th anniversary of the wedding of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Fell, in the chapel of Central Woodward Christian Church, Detroit.

Dr. Edgar Dewitt Jones performed the ceremony before a background of palms, ferns and pink rambling roses. Ivory tapers burned in the cathedral candelabra.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace was fashioned along princess lines with a low square neckline and full circular train cut into the skirt. The sleeves, puffed at the shoulder, were fitted from the elbow to points over her wrist. Her Juliet cap of Chantilly lace held in place her finger tip veil of bridal illusion. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, and she carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Daisy Reid, the maid of honor, was gowned in a peach lace, fashioned with full skirt and bolero

Blowout Wrecks Car, Injures Seven

Two Were Brought to Hospital Here; Others Were Slightly Injured.

Cars driven by Clinton Bruce of Deford and Earl Springstead of Cass City collided on the highway, two miles south of Cass City, Saturday night. The Bruce car rolled over three times and is almost a complete wreck. Mr. Bruce received a cut on the face and John Zinnecker of Kingston, who was riding with him, has a broken rib and a severe cut on the face. Both were badly shaken up and bruised. They were brought to Pleasant Home Hospital, but were able to leave there the same night.

Passengers in the Springstead car, Mrs. John Sanders, Julius Sanders, Mrs. Milton Phillips and Mary Phillips, and the driver, Earl Springstead, all of Cass City, were only slightly injured and were treated at the scene of the accident. The Bruce car, in passing the Springstead car, which was turning around, struck an obstacle at the side of the road, causing a tire to blow out.

A. A. A. Crop Checking Begins

Farm reporters, selected by and under supervision of the county agricultural conservation committee, have begun a check of Sanilac County farms to determine the extent of cooperation with the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

These reporters will visit every farm in the county to find out whether any person interested in all, or a share, of the crops or soil-building practices performed on the farm, wishes to participate in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. If the farmer desires to participate in the program the farm reporter will prepare a report for the farm, carefully verifying measurement records on the various fields, or noting changes in field measurements or crop averages that have occurred since the original measurements were made.

The farm operator and the farm reporter will visit and inspect all fields on the farm and jointly measure the acreage. A complete report of all the crop histories and the disposition made of the crops, or a description of the use made of the land, will be recorded on the farm report and sent to the county office.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid will conduct a delicatessen sale at the Baker Electric Shop on Saturday, July 2, commencing at two o'clock.—Advertisement 1.

COMMENCES SIXTH YEAR AS PASTOR HERE NEXT SUNDAY

REV. CHARLES BAYLESS.

Many in Swimming Pool Opening Day

Mechanically, Everything Is in Good Working Order, Says Superintendent.

The municipal swimming pool in the City Park went off with a flying start on Friday with 100 children and young people enjoying themselves on that hot day. The weather turned decidedly cold on Sunday with few venturing into the cool water. Tuesday brought warmer weather with 20 going into the pool in the morning, 80 in the afternoon and 14 in the evening.

Arthur Holmberg, superintendent at the pool and bath house, says, mechanically, everything is working correctly now and he finds little change in the morning from the temperature of the water on the previous night. He says the pool will accommodate 100 bathers at one time and anticipates that with a continuous run of hot days the water will warm up considerably.

Pumps are operating practically all the time the pool is in use and the chlorine content and purity of the water are maintained at a high standard through a filtration process. There is a complete change of water almost twice a day. New water to the average amount of approximately 1,000 gallons is added each day.

A morning period for business people previous to the regular free period for children is under consideration.

Pigeon Farmer Is Accidentally Shot

Theodore Nieschulz, 36-year-old Pigeon farmer, was accidentally and fatally wounded by his hired man, Clayton Christner, Sunday afternoon with a .22 calibre rifle.

Nieschulz and Christner were preparing to go crow hunting on the farm a half mile east of Pigeon when the accident occurred. Christner was loading the rifle, it is said, when the bolt action .22 calibre he was holding on his knees discharged. Nieschulz, who was kneeling to tie his shoe about 40 feet away, cried out that he was shot.

He was taken to Pigeon and was then transferred to Hubbard Memorial hospital.

Be on Your Guard; Don't Spoil Your Summer Vacation with Too Much Exertion; Play Safe

Many vacations, while offering a change from normal routine are more work and more tiring than staying at home. Both individuals and families usually attempt to do too much, travel too far, or try to get a complete sun-tan in a week or two. As a result, they arrive home too exhausted or too sick to move and thus the vacation is worse than worthless. A group of health experts produced the following suggestions:

1. Wear light clothing and as little of it as is decent, but do not get too much sun.

2. Be doubly careful of food and water, particularly while traveling.

3. Always protect the eyes carefully, either with sun glasses or by staying in the shade.

Avoid mosquitoes, flies, wood-ticks, particularly when traveling strange parts of the country. Drink salty water or take salt tablets in extremely hot weather. Recreational accidents have increased tremendously in the last 20 years indicating that more and more persons are indulging in sports but are not learning how to pursue that indulgence with safety.

Orangemen of State to Celebrate Here on July 12

Members of Fraternity Are Expected from All Parts of Michigan.

The Orange Walk, a parade of lodges from all parts of Michigan, will feature the state celebration of Orangemen in Cass City on Tuesday, July 12. The parade starts at 1:00 p. m.

Two Grand Lodge officers will address the celebrators from a platform on the corner of Main and Seeger Streets directly after the conclusion of the parade. They are State Master Conrad of Sault Ste. Marie and Chas. Grill of Clare. Rev. Paul J. Allured of Cass City, Mrs. Berta Timson of Detroit, supreme grand mistress of the order, and other speakers are also on the program.

A baseball game between Elkton and Hemans is scheduled later in the afternoon in the City Park and races for boys and girls and other athletic events will entertain the crowds.

A boxing match is planned for the evening, and later at night comes the Orangemen's dance in the town hall.

HOUSEBOAT HANNAH AUTHOR VISITS HERE

Radio listeners who have been so intensely interested in the "Houseboat Hannah" program, which in recent months has been broadcast at the noon hour, will be further interested to learn that the author, Mrs. Aline M. Ballard, will arrive in Cass City from Chicago today to visit for two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Smith. Mrs. Ballard also writes for Liberty, Good Housekeeping and other national magazines. Miss Nancy Ballard of Chicago, her daughter and a student in Smith College at Northampton, Mass., is spending several weeks this summer with her grandparents here.

Progress in Tuberculosis

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

ANYONE who has regularly visited a relative or friend at a tuberculosis sanatorium learns the names of patients in adjoining rooms and wards, and can see the progress toward recovery or otherwise from week to week.

Of course the physician can see the record of each patient—the range of temperature, the amount of coughing, the amount of daily sputum, the number of times he breathes in a minute, and finally the X-ray film which shows whether the tuberculosis process is spreading, healing, or standing still.

From the above he is able to tell the patient, or the family, just what to expect—three months, six months, or a year to recovery, or it may be just a matter of months before he passes away, notwithstanding all that can be done by way of food, fresh air, rest, or collapsing the lung by artificial air or by surgery to give it rest.

What should help the patient to fight and family to hope, despite all the other signs, symptoms, and tests, is recorded by Dr. Allan S. Kennedy of Mountain Sanatorium, Hamilton, Canada, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal. Dr. Kennedy states that the blood pressure—low or high—will give the physician a correct idea of the progress of the patient.

"It is an accepted fact that active and progressing tuberculosis of the lungs is accompanied by lowering of the blood pressure."

"It is generally believed that tuberculosis patients with high blood pressure have very little tuberculosis, or, in any case, tend to heal the tuberculosis more quickly than people with normal or low blood pressure."

Response to Cold Tests. The response of the blood pressure to cold—a test taken every few months, will show whether or not the patient is improving.

Dr. Kennedy outlines the method used on 80 patients to obtain the blood pressure response to cold—putting hand and wrist of one side in near-freezing water for 25 seconds—while blood pressure is taken on other arm.

If the blood pressure response is poor—does not increase a definite amount—the patient is not improving; if the response is good the patient is putting up a winning fight against tuberculosis.

For Underweight Child. Some mothers are naturally distressed when they find that despite the amount and the variety of food eaten by their youngsters they still remain underweight.

If abundant amounts of meats, vegetables and fruits have been given to maintain body structure and also liberal amounts of bread, butter, milk and cream to provide energy and store up a little fat, with no proper amount of increase in weight, there is something wrong with the youngster and he should be examined by the family physician and dentist.

For instance, there may be a history of thyroid trouble in the family and the youngster may be an early thyroid case. Should this be so, the amount of food eaten may be quite large, yet there will be no increase in weight; the youngster continues to be underweight.

Another cause of underweight is infection of teeth and tonsils. So much of the body's energy is being used to fight this infection that there is not enough left for proper growth aside from any increase in weight.

Sometimes the youngster will play so hard and so long, perhaps stay up so late at night, that he is actually tired all the time and the food eaten is not fully absorbed into the blood.

When the cause for underweight has been removed—fatigue, goitre, infected teeth or tonsils—then what is called the rebuilding diet should be used. This includes all the usual foods—proteins (meat, eggs, fish, poultry, cereals), all the starch foods—(bread, sugar, potatoes), all the fat foods (cream, butter, egg yolks), and the minerals and vitamins (fruits, vegetables, dairy products).

The next point is to give increased amounts of the foods known to be fattening; "an extra tablespoonful of butter with each meal adds 300 calories, and improves the flavor of cereals, vegetables, and desserts without being noticeable when used as a seasoning. A tablespoon of thick cream on cereal, or whipped cream on dessert, and of mayonnaise dressing on salad, will add 300 calories more. One or two tablespoons of olive oil at bedtime furnish 100 or 200 more calories and may help relieve constipation.

Life needs diversions, but nothing gives more pleasure than a home which is made attractive to the public. The householder with a nice lawn and beds of flowers and shrubs feels happy every time he looks at these beautiful things.

WHY

Some Names on Menus Do Not Mean What You Think.

Contrary to public opinion "au gratin" does not mean "with cheese" but rather, ice, glazed or frozen. Neither does "glace" mean candied, but rather, ice glazed or frozen. Dishes which appear on menus marked "a la provencale" are not, as is said, "out of the provinces," or "country style," but are made with oil or garlic or both.

"That 'au gratin' business got started because so many scalloped or dishes 'gratinee' are made with cheese, the grated part was originally crumbs, says a writer in the Washington Post.

"Sea Pie" (often mentioned in old stories) is not made of fish at all, but of cooked sliced meat and vegetables. If you order something "Crecoy" from a menu, you'll find it's carrot—and like it, Grille (from which we get grilled) means "toasted" so call them "marshmallows grille" if it makes you feel high-toned! "Bisque," which we apply to practically every type of cream soup, correctly means only soup made with shell fish. Or just to confuse you, it may be a rich frozen dessert.

Here's a dinner-time piece of show-off: "Demi-tasse" does mean "half-cup" all right, but the French from whom we took it never use the word for after-dinner black coffee; they say "cafe noir."

"A la Normandie" doesn't mean it came from Normandy, but calls to mind the old song about apple blossom time because such a dish should contain apples (but may also contain shrimps).

The modernists are bent on still further charming confusion. "Scallops" are not little fish when they're made with bananas, but delicious little morsels of banana crumbed and fried.

Why the Borda Gardens in Mexico Are Beautiful. The famous Borda gardens in Mexico are at Cuernavaca, Mexico's most noted holiday resort. Some historians say they were laid out in 1716 by Joseph de la Borde, who came from France and later changed his name to La Borda. Emperor Maximilian made Cuernavaca the summer capital of his court and occupied the Borda gardens as the official seat of the government.

The gardens were planned to reproduce those of Versailles and French landscape gardeners were brought to Mexico to make them as perfect as possible. They abound in tropical plants such as mango trees, poinsettia, bougainvillea. The islands in one of the pools are planted with coffee, banana, and Maicillo trees. Blue morning glories add to the color of the gardens. Tiled seats, fountains, wrought iron gates, pergolas, and arcades are some of the beautiful features.

Why the Radio Stops. The reason a radio ceases to operate under a steel bridge is that the bridge being a good conductor of electric currents acts in a manner identical with a sponge, absorbing all the signals and transmitting them to the ground. An automobile radio does not connect to the ground and therefore near a steel bridge is robbed of the signals. A steel building acts in a similar manner, serving as a more or less effective shield: Radio signals are not deterred by the walls, roof, or windows of an ordinary house because this construction does not absorb and transmit the signals to the ground.

Why It Is Grapefruit. Why is a grapefruit called a grapefruit? Every child at some time in his life asks that question. The answer is that the name originated because of the grape-like clusters or bunches in which this fruit grows. It was introduced into Florida by the Spaniards early in the sixteenth century, but did not become popular until comparatively recently.

Why Moslems and Jews Clash. The walling wall in Jerusalem is near the Mosque of Omar and it has been necessary for Jews to traverse narrow winding Arab streets to reach the wall. A new road will give easy access even by automobile. Its cost is provided by Jewish taxpayers.

Why Plants Are Called Kalmia. The genus of plants to which mountain laurel belongs is called Kalmia. It is named for Peter Kalm, Swedish scientist, who traveled in America and described many of the native plants.

Why Outline of Moon is Visible. The outline of the moon is sometimes visible when there is a new moon. It is due to earthshine. On clear nights the light cast on the moon by the earth makes the surface slightly visible.

Why They Are "Sickle" Pears. The name "sickle" pear was originally Seckel, named for a man in Philadelphia, who had the first tree bearing this small reddish-brown pear.

Why Men Love Dumb Animals. Jud Tunkins says many a man is tempted to love dumb animals simply because they can't talk back.

Why Laundryman Was Beheaded. Tradition has it that Queen Elizabeth of England, the noted "Queen Bess," had a laundryman beheaded because one of her favorite neck ruffs fell to pieces in the wash.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

WHAT a lady and a can of paint, between them, can't accomplish is nobody's business. Right now we're interested in Helen W's plans for her bedroom. Because her own ingenuity with paint is going to be the main expenditure on the room, but we're betting that it's going to have plenty of charm when it's finished.

It's a small farm-house room, just repapered in a yellow-flowered paper on a white ground. The ceiling has yellow paper with tiny white dots. The bed is old fashioned, a Jenny Lind type, painted ivory and the dresser is old oak. The old washstand she's planning to use as a dressing table, taking off the heart-shaped piece across the top. The bedspread is a lovely quilt in pastel colors and the curtains are cream, draped and tied back.

But what she's really worried about is the paint to choose for the floor, woodwork and furniture and the material for the dressing table skirt.

We suggested that she paint the floor a soft gray, then have the dresser and bed painted the yellow of the ceiling. The woodwork we'd prefer in the ground white of the wall paper. The dressing table skirt would be nicest in yellow organdy or yellow dotted swiss, but must you take off the heart shaped frame at the top? It sounds quaint and delightful. Maybe you could use it as a frame for a mirror.

Another reader with a paint problem has a wood bed and an old dresser to be used in an attic room. The room is to be repapered, and woodwork and floor will be repainted. What colors? What paper? What should be done about the furniture?

Why not gray paper with a small all-over pattern of pink flowers and ribbons, something that can go over ceiling as well as side wall. Then for woodwork the gray of the paper and for the furniture the lightest pink in the floral. The floor we'd paint black, the bedspread and curtains we'd like in plain pink voile or dimity made with six-inch ruffles.

Nerve!

"It took as much courage as when I cut my hair," drawled Prissy Kent when we had exclaimed properly over her living room.

We could imagine that it had taken plenty of nerve. Because she'd used two marvelous paisley shawls for draperies at her windows. They were perfect in the room but imagine cutting them up!

"Well, I've kept them in moth balls for years, thinking they were too good to use," Prissy explained. "Then I decided that I might as well get some pleasure out of them. So there they are!"

Why not, indeed? We'd probably have felt the same way. She's just had their house done over, with knotty pine walls in the living room. Their maple furniture was pleasantly livable here, with its mellow tones and unassuming heartiness. Wide built-in book shelves with book bindings that made a medley of deep glowing colors patterned one wall. Opposite the two windows seem to need just the tones of a paisley shawl.

"At first, I thought I'd get a paisley print," said Prissy, "but the two real paisleys kept tempting me and making the prints look like nothing by comparison. So finally I just up and slashed right into them. Each shawl made a pair of draperies. I backed them with a strong rep made to extend enough at the top to fasten the rings to, so there wouldn't be strain on the shawls. Then I lined and weighted them and there you are."

Certainly they were perfect there. An old blue sofa and a pair of chairs in figured linen on a dull red ground were set off by the pine color of the rug. Blue pottery supplied accessory accents.

AN ELECTRIC RANGE GIVES YOU

look for this extra value!

Women say, "There are six definite advantages in my electric range:

(1) CLEANLINESS — My electric range cooks with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. My kitchen walls and curtains stay fresh for a much longer period of time, with less frequent redecorating, and cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use.

(2) COMFORTABLE COOKING—My electric range will not raise the kitchen temperature even one degree, no matter how warm the weather. It is a boon during the hot summer months.

(3) BETTER FLAVOR—Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.

(4) WATERLESS COOKING — The waterless cooking method seals in precious minerals and important food values. No longer need I boil vegetables in large quantities of water, and then pour this flavor-laden and mineral-laden water down the sink, after the cooking is finished. I do not waste the very things I pay for.

(5) MORE LEISURE — My electric range is time-saving . . . it gives me extra hours of freedom away from the kitchen. I can put an entire meal in the oven and go out for the afternoon. When I come home my dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.

(6) MODERN COOKING—This modern cooking method is fast, simple, safe—and convenient. I snap the switch and start to cook. Thanks to the accurate oven heat control, I can achieve the same perfect baking results time after time, without guesswork."

Stop in at your dealer's and have him show you these superior features—and many others — of the new 1938-model electric ranges. He will be glad to answer your questions and explain in detail the advantages of electric cooking.

5 People Are KILLED In Auto Accidents . . .

. . . You May Be Next!

A DEAD man never gets a second chance! Let's use our brains while we're still living—the trouble with us motorists is that we think we're pretty good drivers—accidents can't happen to us. But don't kid yourself, that's just the attitude that death grows fat on—overconfidence! Overconfidence is just a ritzy word for carelessness—carelessness that will send you to your grave or years of crippled living. But your life isn't the most important thing—no sir, we know plenty of motorists who'd give their lives and more if they could bring back to life those they had killed.

Let's knock some sense into our heads—let's drive carefully—let's save 5 lives a day! Or would you rather learn by experience—all right, go ahead—kill yourself . . . that will teach you a lesson you won't have to worry about forgetting. But listen—don't kill an innocent victim—because living as far as you're concerned is all washed out. You'll always hear the sickening impact of flesh against car—a heart-rending scream—a bloody body and gruesome death—you'll wish it were you who had died. We know people who had that experience—some of them went crazy.

WEARY BILL-PAYER AIDED BY SCIENCE

Yearly Savings of $428,000.-000 Are Made Possible.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—American bill-payers could stuff $428,000,000 back in their pockets every year if they all had opportunity to take advantage of the latest developments of science.

This is the estimate recently made by A. R. Ellis, president of the Pittsburgh Testing laboratory, which has conducted millions of tests for hundreds of United States industries over a period of 37 years. He said exhaustive tests of new scientific achievements demonstrate that savings of from 20 to 30 per cent are possible in the nation's annual bills of $1,700,000,000 for tires, coal and hosiery alone.

If all women hosiery buyers knew how to confine their purchases to the type proved by science to have the greatest wear, they could save $118,000,000 a year, Ellis said. On the same basis, car owners could save $110,000,000 in tire bills, he said, and if the latest improvements in heat-efficient building construction were universally adopted, the nation could cut $200,000,000 from its yearly coal bill.

"In the past 30 years, science has saved the nation many millions of dollars through improvements of tires alone," Ellis said. "Recent tests by our engineers point to the opportunity for still further savings in tire bills, for a new scientific development was found to serve the double purpose of conquering the skidding menace and increasing non-skid mileage by an average of about 20 per cent.

"Tests of women's hosiery reveal that savings of 30 per cent are possible through development of improved products," he said. "This means that American women who now spend approximately $350,000,000 for hosiery every year, could tuck $118,000,000 back in their purses if they bought only the type proven by scientific tests to save one third of the cost."

The country's coal bill could be slashed by 25 per cent if commercial and residential buildings were constructed so as to include the latest scientific developments for heating efficiency, Ellis estimated.

"Tests conducted here in Pittsburgh show that industrial engineers have now perfected methods of greatly increasing the heating efficiency of buildings," he said. "This has progressed to the point where a quarter of the estimated $800,000,000 spent for coal for heating purposes could be saved by universal adoption of the newest improvements."

Jungle Is Termed Safer Than Cities by Priest

Cleveland.—After 32 years in the Amazon jungle, Brother Raphael Haag is bewildered by the multitude of automobiles on the streets of modern American cities.

The rush of motor traffic so confused him that he gained the impression there were more automobiles than pedestrians on the city streets.

Brother Haag made his first trip to America since 1905 to visit a brother, Herman Haag. The priest is a teacher in the mission school of the Holy Ghost fathers in Teffe, Brazil, on the Amazon river.

Being a missionary is the safest occupation at Teffe, Brother Raphael is convinced.

"The Indians distrust all white men," he explained, "but they respect the priests for the long, white cassocks we wear. One day, one of the brothers ventured into the jungle without his cassock but dressed in native garb of white shorts and shirt. He soon was dodging missiles fired at him from blow guns."

50-Year Photography of Sun Planned by Experts

San Jose, Calif.—A photographic mapping of the entire sky which will take 50 years to complete soon will be undertaken at the Lick observatory on Mount Wilson, Dr. Joseph H. Moore, assistant director, has revealed.

The project has been made possible by the donation of $65,000 which will be used in the construction of the largest star camera in the world. The instrument will have a 20-inch lens.

The carrying out of the 50-year program will make possible the measurement of the rotation of the entire stellar universe.

Sisters Construct Their Own Residence

Chariton, Iowa.—The Myers sisters, Grace, forty, and Rosa, thirty-seven, needed a house to live in.

So they bought a house that had been wrecked by a tornado, and a nearby plot of land, and set to work. At a cost of less than $500 they have built with their own hands a handsome four-room dwelling.

"Carpentering is no harder than housework, once a woman gets into it," Grace says.

FIND GRASS TONIC FOR ANIMAL LIFE

Nature's Gift Ranks With Sunshine, Air, Water.

By G. T. Klein, Extension Poultry Specialist, Massachusetts State College. WNU Service.

Poultrymen are going back to nature as a result of recent findings in scientific laboratories. We have found that short tender grass is one of nature's greatest gifts to animal life, ranking in importance with sunshine, air and water.

Chickens and turkeys which receive a liberal quantity of finely-cut tender grass every day throughout the growing period, in addition to a well-balanced grain ration, appear to develop a resistance to certain diseases and parasites. They usually grow more rapidly and consume less grain than do birds reared on a grass-free diet.

The cultivated grasses, such as oats, barley, Sudan, wheat, and rye, when grown on fertile soil, are high in protein, contain about 15 minerals, and all the known vitamins except D. Use of oat plants as much as possible during the year is recommended since these plants are palatable, easily grown and yield a high tonnage.

Where time does not permit cutting and feeding the grass daily, the next best practice is to have the grass available for the birds to range in during the growing period. A combination of the two systems gives excellent results. The main point is to feed the grass when it is young and tender.

The growing of green feeds for poultry seems to offer a way of reducing growing costs and building healthy, vigorous bodies capable of resisting disease and giving greater performance. Because of the saving in grain feeding, good pasturage is now considered to be the most valuable feed crop grown on the poultry farm.

It Takes Time to Clean the Range for Chickens

Clean range for young chickens is good insurance, according to H. L. Shrader of the United States Department of Agriculture. "Clean range," however, does not mean mere neatness and removal of scraps and refuse. Time is the main "cleaning" factor—and it takes 2 years to make a range clean enough to be safe.

Shrader defines a clean range as "one that has been free of chickens for at least 2 years and one on which poultry manure has not been spread." In 2 years, poultry parasites will die for lack of a chance to multiply. A clean range, free of parasites, gives young chickens a chance to grow without a handicap.

An ideal range, Shrader adds, also supplies plenty of shade for the hot summer months and an abundant supply of succulent green feed and fresh water that is not contaminated by parasites.

Calves on Wire

The big problem with little bossy is to keep her dry and out of drafts until she gets well accustomed to this strange world. A wire floor in the calf pen is one way in which to keep the baby dry, says Hoard's Dairyman. Use one-half inch mesh sandscreen on 2 by 4 or 4 by 4 frames. Use No. 9 wire stretched both ways every five inches underneath the sandscreen. The frames should be made in sections about 3 feet square so that they may be removed for cleaning.

Agricultural Notes

Alfalfa cut before the blossom period is likely to winterkill.

Good grain storage on the farm is the first step in conservation.

Milk proteins and vitamins are especially needed for good hatchability.

Common salt is the only mineral that is almost always lacking in feeds.

Twenty-eight degrees above zero is the temperature at which eggs freeze.

The 1937 American cotton crop was 18,700,000 bales, the largest on record.

Wheat raised in Argentina in the 1937-38 season weighed nearly 6,000,000 tons.

Dairy cows need many minerals. Fortunately, the usual combinations of feeds supply most of them.

The number of women who make their living on farms, according to the last agricultural census, was 909,939.

The useful life of a horse averages about 13 years; the period of greatest value is from five to seven years of age.

Peanut growing as an industry is far more important than generally supposed, outranking silver mining when unsubsidized by the government.

HOW TO TELL LARGE COYOTE FROM THE COMMON WOLF

Ask a hunter how to tell the difference between a large coyote and a small wolf and chances are he will be at a loss to name the distinguishing characteristics. The two species are so close together that even expert mammalogists are unable to differentiate the two at times. There are a few rules which may help, Adolph Stebler of the Michigan conservation department says. Here they are:

A coyote has a black mark on the top of the tail, about a third of the way from the base. The wolf's black mark on his tail is continuous with the black mark going down his spine.

A coyote has a narrow nose patch like a fox. A wolf has a wide nose patch. You need the hides side by side to discover this.

A wolf has a black line going back from the eye toward the ear. A coyote may have this also, but it occurs only occasionally.

A coyote's ear is high and pointed. In a live animal, you will be impressed by the height of the ear. A wolf's ear is short and blunt.

A coyote's muzzle comes to quite a sharp point—usually sharper than the muzzle of a wolf.

How Zoo Animals Enjoy or Dislike Snow and Ice

Zoo animals are affected by winter weather in surprising ways. Monkeys, for example, greatly appreciate ice and snow and cannot resist tasting a piece of ice.

It is related that one zoo ape not only showed a complete indifference to cold, but on one occasion became so enamored of the keeper's pre-breakfast game of snowballs that he took to making snowballs himself and hurled them at the public, to the general delight.

Zoo polar bears not only detest cold, according to E. G. Boulenger in his recent book, "Zoo Cavalcade," but during the winter months are probably the dirtiest animals, for the snow shows up their sooty coats to great disadvantage. Nothing will induce them to take a bath when the temperature falls below 50 degrees; and if water bears a coat of ice, they gingerly make a circuit of their tanks with their backs toward it, trying the ice with their enormous hind feet.

In winter the elephants are oiled from head to foot. Though an elephant can become acclimated to winter weather, its tough, non-resilient skin quickly cracks in cold weather, dirt and insects finding their way into the fissures and causing endless discomfort.

How to Clear Windshield Almost everyone has his own pet way of keeping ice from forming on the windshield when driving in snow, sleet or cold rains. Some say to take a bag of smoking tobacco, dampen it and rub it over the windshield will keep it free from ice. Others advise rubbing on glycerine.

Another effective way, providing it is done properly, says Pathfinder Magazine, is to raise the hood on the driver's side of the car and place a strip of rubber, soft wood, folded piece of cloth or folded cardboard under the back edge to stop the hood from closing down tightly. When the motor is running the fan will drive the warm air from the engine back through the resulting opening. The forward motion of the car will keep this stream of warm air playing on the windshield and keep it free from ice. Try it.

How to Apply Size

In using plastic paint, unpainted plaster is usually given a coat of size if it is new and absorptive. Otherwise the plastic paint may be applied direct. Cracks and holes should be filled with plaster of paris or crack filler before the size is applied. Painted walls require no surface preparation for plastic paint unless the finish is glossy, in which case the gloss should be toned down by washing the surface with a weak solution of warm water and sal soda. Calcimine or wall paper should be removed. Wall board requires sizing.

How to Shut Outside View The national bureau of standards says that the only principle it knows of to prepare glass so that one can look out of a window, but people cannot see in is that of the "half-silvered mirror." The glass is given a light coat of silver. When viewed from outside, one sees only the reflecting surface. When viewed from the inside, the glass appears transparent.

How to Remove Shine From Goods To remove the shine in a garment place shiny section over ironing board and put a dry cloth over it. Take a second piece of cloth, wet it thoroughly and wring out. Place the damp cloth over the dry one and pass a hot iron lightly over the area covering the shiny spot. Brush with a stiff brush if the material has a nap.

How to End Thieving There is practically no thieving in Tibet, one of the reasons being that an entire village can be fined for the theft as well as the thief himself.

GAGETOWN PLANS FOR ADDITION TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

Concluded from first page.

This means $10.30 per $1,000 valuation.

On Saturday, July 2, a special election will be held to increase the tax limitation by an amount sufficient to take care of the 10.3 mills additional tax and any possible delinquency. The voting is not limited to taxpayers, but all qualified school electors are eligible to participate in this election.

Invented Metric System

The metric system was an invention of the French in the latter half of the Eighteenth century. The French government appointed a committee of the Academy of Sciences under the authority of the national assembly sanctioned by Louis XVI to devise a system of weights and measures. On June 22, 1799, the standard units, the meter and the kilogram, made by expert scientists and instrument makers, were deposited in the archives at Paris.

Play Safe July Fourth

Hundreds will be killed or maimed on Independence Day, the National Safety Council predicts. A few of the causes are listed below.

July Fourth is a day of picnics—and of picnic accidents. If the gentleman isn't careful, he'll split an artery instead of opening the bottle.

This picnicking couple filled their water bucket at a nearby brook, never thinking it might be contaminated. But it is, and two cases of typhoid will probably result.

Here's one for the books... filling a gasoline stove while smoking a cigarette. It looks foolish, and is, but many Independence Day picnickers will try it.

Fourth of July is a favorite day for swimming... and drowning. If you're not an excellent swimmer, don't be independent just because it's Independence Day. Don't go in the water right after eating.

If the youngsters MUST have firecrackers, make sure they're small size. You'd better be around to supervise the celebration, too. Children can be awfully foolish with firecrackers. So can some adults, for that matter.

Beginning of N. Y. Stock Exchange

The New York Stock exchange had its origin in the financial needs of a young republic. Prior to the Revolution, securities were practically unknown in the United States, but the first congress in 1790 authorized the issue of $80,000,000 in bonds which were promptly absorbed by investors. About the same time three important banking institutions were incorporated and their stock sold to the public. The sale of these securities created the need for a market and one promptly developed under a buttonwood tree which stood at what is known as No. 68 Wall street. The Stock exchange traces its origin to a small informal group of men who met daily under this tree and who became the first stock brokers in the United States.

FARM TOPICS

ALLOW FRESH AIR, SUN, FOR CHICKS

Range Outside Advised for the Young Birds.

By Roy S. Dearstyne, Head of Poultry Department, North Carolina State College.—WNU Service.

The chicken is primarily an out-of-door bird, not a "hot house plant."

Yet in bad weather, birds need some protection against cold, rain, and drafts. Many poultrymen have a tendency to confine their birds more than necessary.

On warm, sunny days give the birds, especially the young chicks, a chance to range outside. Exercise in the sunshine will help develop vigorous birds.

But the ranges should be clean. It is better to keep chicks inside a clean house than to turn them out on a dirty range.

Poultrymen who buy their chicks will find it pays in the long run to buy only good quality chicks from reliable sources. State blood-tested chicks from the near vicinity are usually best.

Don't overcrowd chicks or growing birds. Give them plenty of fresh air without exposing them to drafts. But don't overheat them, either, for this will lower their vitality.

It is also a good idea to watch laying birds carefully. In the season of heavy laying they are sensitive to changes in feed and management.

To prolong production in the spring, start feeding a wet mash at the first sign of a slump. Give the mash early in the afternoon, placing it in troughs in such quantities as the birds will readily clean up in 20 to 30 minutes.

Bees Find Nectar Supply Varies as to Localities

Local conditions, soils, and climate seem to influence the nectar supply of plants from which bees gather their raw material. Science has not solved nearly all the problems raised by the bees in their search for honey material. W. J. Nolan, bee specialist in the United States Department of Agriculture, notes that alfalfa is a good nectar producer in the area west of the Mississippi river, but is of slight importance to the east. Buckwheat honey is well known for its dark color and characteristic flavor but nearly all of it comes from a relatively small area near Lakes Erie and Ontario; elsewhere in this country buckwheat is a honey plant of only slight importance. White clover is widely grown and is a first-class honey source, but in certain localities it gives the honey bee little or no nectar.

Protecting the Waterfowl

Grazing by cattle and other domestic animals destroys waterfowl food and cover and frequently causes the loss of eggs due to trampling. On areas frequented by large numbers of waterfowl, grazing should be confined by fencing to protect the best nesting cover, says Successful Farming. Small grains like barley, oats, or wheat should be broadcast on waste lands where practical. Such grains, relished by game birds, augment available food supplies and tend to hold game on the farm.

In the Farm Lot

A 10 by 12 foot brooder house will provide ample accommodation for 100 or even 200 day-old chicks.

In recent years many poultrymen have found that local markets are best for both live and dressed poultry.

Unless cows have an abundance of pure water to which they can go at any time, milk flow will be affected.

Jumbo eggs must weigh at least 26 ounces per dozen. They are worth more than other eggs because of their size.

In the United States, the cotton-picking season averages 100 days and is the most costly operation in the industry.

Ten hens entered in a New York egg laying contest recently established an average production record of 300 eggs per bird in 51 weeks.

Mouse girdled apple trees may be restored by bridge grafting, in which young active scions bridge the gap across the ruined bark of the tree.

Most of the market ducks in the United States are of the White Pekin variety.

Well cured green alfalfa and clover hay make very good sources of green feed for poultry.

American agriculture is now said to use more machinery than any other one industry in this country.

Michigan Mirror
A Non-Partisan State News Letter
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—The greatest reforestation program in the United States is under way in the Upper Peninsula. A total of 110,000 acres of cutover waste land, left idle by lumber slashing, have been replanted with pine trees. Thirty thousand acres of trees are being added annually. Wholesale tree planting on such a large scale has never been achieved successfully elsewhere.

These facts were revealed this month to members of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau by Lyle Watts, forestry director for Michigan and Wisconsin.

To the people of the Upper Peninsula conservation and the tourist industry go hand in hand. Together, they offer the one and only hope of economic salvation. Many mines have closed. Lumbering has depleted nearly nine-tenths of the virgin forests. To the tens of thousands of unemployed residents, it is recreation, rather than agriculture or industry, that offers a ray of encouragement for their future.

Public Ownership
Public ownership of forest lands, both by federal and state governments, is advocated by Forester Watts.

It is illuminating to know that a group of Michigan conservation enthusiasts, led by John Norton, publisher of the Escanaba Press, fathered the establishment of federal forests by congressional enactment.

On a commercial basis selective logging is difficult to put into practice, because of competitive conditions. As long as some lumber firms insist on cutting all merchantable timber in each acre, lumber men declare that the forester's dream of selective logging will never be realized.

More than 600 million feet of lumber were cut last year in the Upper Peninsula—far in excess of what should be allowed if the forests are to be maintained permanently.

It is another case of free competition vs. public ownership. Again the Great White Father is being implored to solve our problems.

"Dead-End" Region

For years the Upper Peninsula has been on a "dead-end" street. Because of the vast distance from the Soo to Ironwood the development of good roads has been slow.

Today, U. S. 2 is paved most of the way west from Sault Ste. Marie. This route is very scenic, skirting along Lake Michigan from St. Ignace west to Brevort within sight of blue water at all times. Eventually this beautiful highway may be extended west along the lake shore to Port Inland, near Manistique.

From Watersmeet to Ironwood this route takes you through a dense forest country without even a farmhouse in sight for nearly 50 miles.

Building of a bridge at the Straits will likely attract heavy transcontinental traffic through Michigan. The Port Huron bridge will be the gateway for west-bound traffic. Ironwood will be the gateway for east-bound tourists.

Strange Contrasts

Until you have visited the Upper Peninsula, you do not know Michigan.

It is a land of remarkable contrasts.

A few years ago it was one of the two worst relief areas in the United States. A large percentage of the entire population was on welfare. Poverty cast a shadow over idle mining centers.

Today, the Upper Peninsula looks to recreation—the tourist industry—as the hope for future economic activity. And recreation means sightseeing, fishing and hunting in the daytime and entertainment at night.

We visited the luxurious Gateway Inn, Kunsky's $300,000 establishment on the state line near Land O Lakes, Wisconsin, just a few miles south of Watersmeet. Imagine this: Eight of the finest bowling alleys you have ever seen; a dozen billiard tables; a huge restaurant with the gayest modern decorations and superb equipment; a club bar and a gaming bar; and the entire building outside outlined in red neon lights.

Fashionable city people, smartly attired in resort togs, mingle with lumberjacks—and all in a smart sophisticated atmosphere imported up into the "North Country," miles from a city.

Upper Peninsula people are the most hospitable people in the Middle West. They think nothing of driving 150 miles for an evening's entertainment together.

"Barefoot Charlie"
Two miles from the dazzling

Gateway, which was built by a Detroit theatrical magnate, is a rustic log establishment built and managed by an eccentric "wood tick" by the name of "Barefoot Charlie." "Barefoot" couldn't build a chicken coop if he tried. He is a wizard, however, with an ax. His big wigwag is an artistic achievement. "Charlie" goes barefooted winter and summer, while his tourist guests dine of food and liquor.

Outside is the unbroken forest country for miles and miles.

Contrast these entertainment spots—and there are literally hundreds of others catering to the same demand—with the tremendous problem of employment, and you begin to appreciate the lusty virility of this Upper Peninsula region in Michigan. Again, we repeat, it is a region of remarkable contrasts.

Hurley's Honky-Tonks

Wisconsin is the state of the progressive party.

But the LaFollette dynasty of liberal ideas in political science also has liberal ideas in the matter of public morals.

Take Hurley, for example, the Wisconsin town just across the river from Ironwood. Here is a rip-roaring, swaggering town of 86 wide-open saloons, most of them operating 24 hours a day, side by side for nearly eight solid blocks.

Hurley has the old frontier bravado, posed solely for the tourist trade. It offers a sharp contrast to Ironwood, a bustling modern city in Michigan with two fine hotels, etc.

You don't know Michigan until you have visited the Upper Peninsula!

BERRIES SOLVE DESSERT RIDDLE

Shortcake, Cobbler Pie and Pudding for Summer.

By EDITH M. BARBER BERRY season is welcome for many reasons but for none more than that it practically solves the summer dessert question. We do not mind how many times these berries repeat themselves, plain, with cream, in shortcakes, cobbler, rolls, cottage puddings, in plain fruit pies or in cream custard pies.

For a cobbler, the fruit is always baked with the dough which is the same as that used for shortcake. Put the berries or sliced fruit in a well buttered baking pan, sprinkle with sugar and cover with a soft dough. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees Fahrenheit. This same dough is used for a roll. It is made stiff enough to roll into an oblong piece, which is sprinkled with fruit and sugar and rolled tightly. This is baked also in a moderately hot oven. A custard sauce, a hard sauce, or cream is served with this. For "pufts" the fruit and sugar are put into greased custard cups. The dough is put over this and they are then steamed thirty to forty minutes.

This same dough is used for apple, peach or pear dumplings which may be either steamed or baked. At our house we always had to have some each way to satisfy the preferences of the family.

A favorite pudding is a sponge cake with whipped cream and strawberries. This may be made into a more elaborate dessert by putting ice cream between the layers of cake, covering with crushed berries and garnishing with whipped cream. Meringue with ice cream and strawberries or other fruit sauce is a dessert which fits a party meal nicely. Sometimes you can buy them ready to use but they are not difficult to make.

Meringues. 4 egg whites, 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar, or 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat egg whites very stiff, add the sugar gradually. Beat until the mixture will hold its shape. Stir in flavoring. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto a wet board, covered with glazed paper. Bake about thirty minutes in a very slow oven, 250 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fresh Fruit Pudding. 6 slices buttered bread, 1 quart raspberries, 1 cup sugar, Whipped cream. Crush berries with sugar, if fresh, or crush canned fruit. Trim crust from bread and line a greased bowl with the slices, cutting corners so that the pieces meet. Pour in the berries, cover with bread, set plate on top of this, so that it is pressed down with the weight, and put in the refrigerator twenty-four hours. Turn out of mold, garnish with whipped cream and serve.

Preserved Cherries. 4 pounds cherries, 4 pounds sugar. Wash cherries, remove the stems and stones. Cover with sugar and let stand two hours. Set on stove and bring slowly to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cook until the cherries are tender. Fill hot jars and seal. A few pits cooked with the fruit improves the flavor.

Medley Marmalade. 2 quarts raspberries, 2 quarts strawberries, 2 quarts currants, 4 1/2 pounds sugar. Mash the berries, add the sugar and boil about forty-five minutes until thick, stirring occasionally. Pack and seal in clean, hot jars.

Apricot Blossom. 3 parts gin, 2 parts orange juice, 1 part pineapple juice, 1 part apricot brandy, Lemon juice to taste, Cracked ice. Mix all ingredients and shake with ice until outside of cocktail shaker is frosted.

Cherry - Pineapple Jam. 4 quarts pitted cherries, 2 cups crushed pineapple, Sugar. Combine fruits and add an equal weight of sugar. Heat slowly to boiling. Simmer three-quarter hour. Pour into platters. Cover with glass and set in the sun until the desired consistency is reached. Pour into hot jars and seal.

Cucumber Sandwiches. Spread bread before slicing with softened butter. Slice and cut into rounds. Arrange sliced cucumbers which have been crisped in salt water for one-half hour, on the rounds. Spread with mayonnaise to which a little onion juice or horseradish has been added. Cover with other spread rounds of bread.

Coconut Cup Custard. 2 eggs, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups milk, 1 cup coconut, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat eggs very lightly. Beat in sugar. Add milk slowly. Add coconut and flavoring. Pour into cups which have been greased lightly with butter. Stand cups in a pan of water and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) one hour.

Cloves Give Zest to Various Dishes

Buds Are Also Used as an Attractive Garnish

By EDITH M. BARBER EVERY fine lady and many fine gentlemen in days of old, used cloves as a scent, perhaps before they were used as a spice for foods. Each year in the orange season pomanders must be made to scent the linen and sometimes to hang in the rooms where no doubt they were welcomed in the days when fresh air was feared.

And what was a pomander? Merely an orange so well studded with cloves that it was completely disguised as far as appearance went. The zest of its scent, however, blended with the spicy odor of the cloves. Perhaps I should not have used the past tense, because a pomander, while not so necessary today, will still provide its pungent tang if you care to make one.

I like to use an orange studded with cloves and baked for half an hour with either a hot or cold punch, to which it gives a piquant flavor. I also like to stud pared apples with cloves and then to cook them over a low fire in a covered pan. I must have whole cloves with baked ham, and, of course with pickled peaches and pears which I make in the fall.

Powdered cloves, used discreetly and usually in combination with other spices, belong in spice cakes and cookies, but in general when this spice is used alone, it should be in its whole form. Clove buds provide an attractive garnish as well as flavor to many dishes.

Sauerbraten (Sour Beef). 4 pounds round, 1 pint vinegar, Water, 4 bay leaves, 12 peppercorns, 8 cloves, 2 tablespoons flour, Salt, pepper, Allspice, 1 bunch carrots, 12 onions, sliced, 12 ginger snaps, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Select meat with a layer of fat, put into a bowl, add vinegar and enough water to completely cover meat. Add spices and put in refrigerator for three days. Drain, rub meat with flour, salt, pepper and allspice and brown on all sides in hot dripping. Add sliced carrots and onions and two cups of the spiced vinegar. Cover and cook over a low fire about two hours. Crumble ginger snaps and add with the sugar to the liquid around the meat. Cook ten minutes more. Add more salt to the gravy if necessary.

Jellied Tomato Bouillon. 2 tablespoons gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 4 cups canned tomatoes, 1/2 cup cold water, 3 slices onion, 2 stalks celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 6 cloves, Pepper. Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes and stir in hot tomato stock made by cooking tomatoes, one-half cup water, and seasoning over a low fire and straining. Stir thoroughly until gelatin is dissolved. Pour into a shallow pan or into bouillon cups and chill until set. Beat with a fork or cut into cubes before serving.

Stewed Fig Pudding. 1 cup molasses, 1 cup chopped suet, 2 cups chopped figs or dates, 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon soda. Mix together molasses, suet and figs or dates, stir in milk and well-beaten eggs. Stir in flour, mixed with spices and soda. Beat well and fill well-greased mold three-quarters full. Steam two hours. Serve with hard sauce and garnish with whipped cream. This recipe makes two puddings, each of which will serve six people.

Baked Eggs. 2 cups tomato puree (condensed tomato soup may be used), 6 eggs, 1 cup buttered crumbs. Heat tomato puree, pour into individual baking dishes and break an egg into each dish. Sprinkle outer edges with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees Fahrenheit, about ten minutes, until eggs are set.

Chicken and Bacon Salad. 2 cups diced chicken, 4 slices broiled bacon cut in small pieces, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 whole tomato diced. Mix together and serve on a bed of crisp lettuce.
