Supervisors Order Audit of Tuscola Justices' Records

Board Accepts Land Given for County Parks on Saginaw Bay Shore.

Tuscola County supervisors mixed pleasure with last week's business when they adjourned on Wednesday noon to attend the bridge dedication at Vassar and left Thursday afternoon to visit the Huron County board in session at Bad Axe and that evening were dinner guests with Tuscola County officers of their Huron colleagues at Pointe aux Barques.

Chairman John McAlpine was requested to name a committee of three to act with the prosecuting attorney to audit the collection of fines by the justices of the peace in Tuscola County and to check on the payment of fines collected by justices to the county treasurer. If the committee should find any discrepancies or irregularities in their audits, they are to take proper measures to secure from any person involved the correction of the same. Fred Mathews, Wm. Barriger and Carl Keinhart are the supervisors named to serve on this committee and the period of time the audit covers is to be decided by them but must not exceed a longer period than 18 months. This committee started work directly after the supervisors adjourned.

Wm. Profit, chairman of the county park committee, presented the committee's report which asked the supervisors to accept the two sites offered to the county which was done. Supervisors Carl Keinhart, Edmund Miller and Robt. McFarlane were appointed to work with the county park committee to devise some means to finance the improvement of these two county parks.

These two parks are located on Saginaw Bay near Unionville and Quiancassee. The one located four miles west and three miles north of Unionville consists of 20 acres with a fine beach and is a gift of Clare Thomas. The other is a 20-acre plot with a fine grove and is located north of Quiancassee. This property is presented to the county by Mr. Vanderbilt.

The report of the hospitalization committee was accepted by the board. It provided for the purchase of equipment for an operating room at the hospital at the county farm at a cost which is not to exceed $600.

The county building committee recommended the enlargement of a county farm building and the installation of two drinking fountains and an upstairs lavatory at an estimated cost of $1,200, and the placing of additional shelving for chattel mortgage records, a filing cabinet and a new typewriter for the register of deeds' office. The supervisors voted to adopt the building committee's report. They also

Nervous Driver Gives Examiner a Case of Nerves

He came to Caro Tuesday with the hope of having his 60-day temporary driver's license made a regular one for the three-year period. He found Walter Heckroth, who conducts the examinations in the basement of the court house, and the examiner turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Homer Hillaker, who was to ride in the automobile driven by the applicant and observe how efficiently he handled the machine. So far, so good.

They started from the street back of the court house, rounded the corner to go what seems north, but probably is northwest in Caro, and by the time they reached M-81, a block away, the driver was hitting the high spots. Fortunately, there was no traffic at the moment on the state highway and they crossed safely.

"I'm just a little nervous in starting; give me another chance," the applicant pleaded and Homer finally consented.

They went northeast on M-81 and this time the deputy was inclined to be nervous. In turning around near the village limits, the driver just missed a telephone pole and then crashed a picket fence before Deputy Hillaker secured a heavy grip on the steering wheel.

The deputy stayed long enough to see that adequate remuneration was forthcoming for damages to the fence and then reported to Mr. Heckroth.

Both thinks Hillaker would rather meet a dozen of Tuscola's bad men than repeat the experience of Tuesday's driving episode.

SMITH IS THE NEW HEAD OF THE SANDUSKY SCHOOLS

HARRY C. SMITH.

From 53 men who applied for the position of superintendent of the Sandusky Schools, the board of education engaged Harry C. Smith, who for the past ten years was the commissioner of schools in Sanilac County. He succeeds Alex J. Duncanson, who resigned to accept the superintendency of the Yale School.

Both Smith and Duncanson are graduates of the high school in Cass City. Mr. Duncanson finished here in 1906 and Mr. Smith in 1922.

Ralph Rawson Enroute to France Writes about Trip

English Channel, Enroute LeHavre, France, June 16, 1938.

Dear Mother and Dad:

My thoughts at this moment are concerned with how much nicer this stationery looks without any words scratched upon it. I know, however, that you are expecting an account of our crossing and of our itinerary now that we're in shoal water again. Perhaps, I'll be able to overcome my tiredness, caused partly by night watches, and partly by too much food—beans, long enough to say a little about the navy and the extremely important R. W. R.

I was sent aboard a day early to prepare for the "Mobilis Vulgus" that was to desert the Naval Academy at 1230 Friday, June 3. The working party that came aboard with me, a bos'nmate, did so well at marking gear, filling lockers with hammocks, clews, lashings, etc., that we could go ashore Thursday evening. I had a good meal, congratulated Ethel via Western Union and returned to the ship at 2200 in the last liberty boat.

We were ready and waiting for the other 350 fellows when they finally finished their good-byes and shoved off from the dock. It took about an hour for the heavy launches to bring the midshipmen and

Guess This One? Taken When We Were Young

The "Guess Who" participants scored 100% on their guesses on last week's picture.

The dozen who registered their decisions all said the picture was that of David Murphy. The group included Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer, Mrs. George McIntyre, Joseph E. Crawford, Mrs. O. W. Nique, James J. Wallace, Mrs. Ernest Croft, J. A. Cole, A. A. Jones, William Ball, Miss Sarah McDonald, Frank Dillman and William Lepia.

We venture to say that some of the guessers this week will be wrong. But you can never tell what'll happen. Occasionally, ones we picked as difficult to solve have proven easy. Tell us who you think it is this time.

Rev. J. Willis Hamblin of Sheridan, Wyoming, a former minister in the Presbyterian Church here, will have charge of the services in the Cass City church Sunday morning, July 31. This Sunday marks the twentieth anniversary of his work in the ministry, his first pulpit having been in the Cass City church.

Bird School Held First Reunion in Its 78-Yr. History

Historian Names Twenty-five Instructors in the Early Days in District.

At a meeting of the school inspectors, held at the house of John Anyon in Elkland Township on April 16, 1860, School District No. 1 was designated, comprising sections 26, 27, 28, 29, 32, 33, 34 and 35, and a meeting of the qualified voters of the district was held for the purpose of electing officers and choosing a site for a schoolhouse. The second district comprising the northeast nine sections was formed just a week later, on April 23, 1860.

On Saturday, July 2, 1938, 78 years, one month and nine days from the time the second district was formed, patrons of the district, both past and present, pupils of present and former days, and teachers of the Bird school district held their first reunion. They came from near and distant points, and favored with most pleasant weather, Saturday, July 2, proved to be a pleasurable and happy day.

Under the shade of two tents erected in front of the school building, in section 2, a bountiful potluck dinner was served, and following this, John Marshall, the reunion chairman, announced the program. Delbert, William, Robert and Clair Profit, Audley Rawson, William J. Schweger, Naaman Karr and LeRoy Martin, picked from the best singers of the district, sang "Boys of Yore" as the opening number. State Representative Audley Rawson, the director

10,056 Children Included in Library Apportionment

State auditors, working on the books of county officers in Tuscola last week, discovered that money had been invested in a law library at the court house which should have been applied to the school library fund of the county. Money for the law library should come from the county's general fund.

Money received from fines go to the school library fund and that fund had an accumulation of $2,940.93 on June 30th last. County Treasurer Arthur Whittenburg has been informed by the State Department of Public Instruction that it is to be divided according to the school children population in the several school districts. There are 10,056 school children included in the library apportionment.

Miss VanWinkle and C. A. Palmer Marry

At a wedding of charming simplicity on Wednesday, July 6, Miss Georgene VanWinkle of Cass City was united in marriage to Mr. Carlton Atwood Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Palmer, of Caro.

The nuptials were read at high noon in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant VanWinkle, the Rev. Arnold Runkle, of the Caro Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. The rooms were very pretty with bouquets of cut flowers.

Miss VanWinkle wore white accessories with a becoming street length gown of aqua sheer alpaca with lace top combination. Narrow bands, extending from the skirt over the shoulder, contained tiny appliqued rosebuds. She wore a corsage of Briarcliff rosebuds and baby's breath.

Miss Frances Palmer, sister of the groom, of Caro, as maid of honor, wore rose beige chiffon and her corsage was Johanna Hill rosebuds and baby's breath.

The groom was attended by Richard T. VanWinkle of Pontiac, brother of the bride.

A luncheon followed the ceremony, yellow and white being the color scheme in the dining room and on the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left for a trip through Northern Michigan, after which they will reside in Caro where a house has been completely furnished for them.

The bride is a graduate of Cass City High School. She took a short business course at Central State Teachers' College, Mt. Pleasant and has been employed in the Caro office of the Detroit Edison Company.

Mr. Palmer is a graduate of Caro High School and of Michigan State College, East Lansing. He is employed in the State Savings Bank at Caro.

Dr. and Mrs. Morris on Trip to California

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Morris and their niece, Miss Frances Fairchild, of Galt, Ontario, left Cass City on Tuesday on a motor trip to California. They planned to visit their son and cousin, John Morris, who is employed in a drug store in Wheaton, Illinois, on the going trip.

In California, they will visit in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Their itinerary also includes Seattle, Wash., Lake Louise near Banff, Alberta, and the Yosemite Valley.

This is the first real vacation Dr. Morris has had since 1934 and his friends are glad to know that he will again have a respite from his strenuous life as a physician. The party plans to return about August 1.

Dr. J. C. MacPhail of Bay City will be in charge of Dr. Morris' practice in Cass City during Mr. Morris' vacation.

Rotary Committees Are Appointed

Thousand Children Will Receive Dental Care at Clinics, Says Speaker.

A talk was given at the Tuesday luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Hotel Gordon by Dr. W. P. Haist of Pigeon, in charge of the dental clinic in Tuscola County this summer. He explained the origin of the Children's Fund of Michigan by the late U. S. Senator Couzens and told particularly of its dental program. He said that approximately 1,000 children in the county would receive dental care during the three clinics this summer. The first is now underway in Cass City. The next will be held in Caro for four weeks, and the last month, the doctor will be engaged in the work in Vassar.

J. Ivan Niergarth, the new head of the Rotarians, presided at his first meeting as president Tuesday and named the following committees:

Young Woman Starts Walk to Kentucky

A 20-year-old woman was found walking barefooted and with bleeding feet, six miles southeast of Cass City, on M-53, Wednesday evening and brought to Cass City in an exhausted condition by Mr. and Mrs. E. Brigham. First aid was administered.

The woman told Deputy Sheriff J. A. Caldwell that her name was Oma Tackett and she arrived near Pinnebog two months ago from Flat Rock, Kentucky, to work in the sugar beet fields. Becoming homesick and unable to secure wages due her, she started walking to her home town.

Mr. Caldwell took the woman to the sheriff's department in Caro where arrangements will probably be made for her transportation to Kentucky.

Farm Bureau in Tri-County Meet Here

Delegates from Community Farm Bureaus in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties will gather at Cass City in a tri-county meeting on Wednesday evening, July 13, commencing at seven-thirty o'clock.

The meeting will be held at the town hall and Jack Yaeger, state organizer, will be the principal speaker.

The Average Lady Reports Reception

Did I attend the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elliott in the Evangelical Church last Thursday? Most certainly, Sarah, and you missed a fine gathering by being out of town that night.

There must have been about seventy-five people present in the basement of the church. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Elliott had the tables fixed beautifully with so many bouquets of pink roses. On a smaller table with a lamp was an arrangement of large white sweet peas. And all the flowers came from the Elliott garden, too.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Elliott (they had just been married a week or so) were the center of attraction, of course, and the whole program was directed toward them in sentiments. After all the guests had met the bride and groom, George Dillman conducted group singing. Somehow after songs like "Let Me Turn to page 4, please.

Many Expected Here on July 12 for Orange Walk

Bright Regalia and the Uniforms of Fraternity to Add Color to Event.

The Orangemen's Walk and addresses by orators of the order have been standard features of the annual Orangemen's celebrations on July 12 for half a century and they are still in vogue as outstanding numbers on the program. In one particular, there has been a decided change and that is the method of traveling to the point where the celebration is held. Back in 1895, when the Orangemen celebrated in Cass City, eight railroad coaches brought members of the order from Huron County. Next Tuesday if one Orangeman takes a train to Cass City it will be surprising for passenger traffic on branch railroads in the Thumb district is now quite infrequent. Practically all of the members of the order who will come here to attend the 1938 state celebration on July 12 will drive in automobiles and buses. The later method of transportation permits traveling from distant points and the return home the same day.

Next Tuesday's program in Cass City calls for the annual walk to commence at 1:30 p. m., followed by addresses of present and past Grand Lodge officers and other speakers, a baseball game between Elkton and Hemans in the City Park, and foot races and other athletic events. A boxing match is planned for the evening and later at night comes the Orangemen's dance in the town hall.

The committee on arrangements, William Ball, Merritt Sherman, Hugh McBurney, Maynard DeLong and Clarence May, are anticipating a large crowd here at the state celebration next Tuesday.

Back in '27.

In 1927, when Orangemen walked in a parade in Cass City, 600 or 700 men and women were in the line of march which was interspersed with two kiltie bands with bagpipes and drums, a cornet band and numerous fife and drum corps. Turn to page 5, please.

Appreciation Meeting Sunday Evening

A Community Appreciation meeting will be held in the Evangelical Church next Sunday evening at eight o'clock in honor of the Rev. Libbie Supernois, pastor of the local Nazarene Church for the last three years and who with her family will move to their new home in Kentucky within a few days. Participating in the service will be the Evangelical, Methodist, Presbyterian and Nazarene Churches of Cass City and several Nazarene Churches from the Thumb District. The pastors of the co-operating churches will have a part in the program and Mrs. Supernois will preach the sermon which will be her farewell to the churches and community. A male quartet from Shabbona will sing.

Because of the various community activities of Mrs. Supernois during her residence here the churches interested in the meeting are hoping that there will be a large attendance from all churches and from citizens in general, in order that the service may be a fitting testimonial to her work in Cass City.

Blind Man Led Those with Sight as Clouds of Smoke from '81 Fire Swept over Ontario

When the great fire of '81 was raging and creating havoc in Michigan's Thumb, the smoke in dense billows carried to Canada, and made darkness in the midday. James Dobson of Cass City recalls the event, for unlike many of Canada's pioneers to Michigan, Mr. Dobson came shortly after the fire and escaped much unpleasantness. Upon that day the fire caught among the settlers' homes, the Canadians were bewildered by rolls of smoke that seemed to come from nowhere. Mr. Dobson recalled that many thought it was the end of the world, and resigned themselves to a fate they knew not what. "A few sparks carried with the smoke," said Mr. Dobson. "A neighbor of ours let the sparks set fire to his fences and buildings doing nothing to put it out, believing the end for all men was near."

In a small village that day the inhabitants were thankful for the peculiar senses of a blind man. When the artificial darkness came, people caught away from home were unable to return, until that blind man, able to sense the exact locathe new pastor of the Riverside and Mizpah Churches, has long been in the service of the Mennonite Church in Michigan. For five years he served as pastor of the church of that denomination in Elkton and previous to that was minister of a Detroit congregation. For the past five years, he served as presiding elder of the South Michigan district and during that time resided at Brown City.

He succeeds Rev. B. Douglass as pastor of the Mizpah Church, four miles east and four miles south, and the Riverside Church, two miles south and two and a half miles west of town.

Four Crash Victims Taken to Caro Hospital

Four Detroit residents were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding skidded in the gravel and ran into the ditch of the Caro-Deford road, near the Orr bridge. All were taken to the Caro Community Hospital.

Stephen Popp, 47, had facial lacerations and his wife, Elizabeth, 45, received severe lacerations on the forehead. Matthew Viju, 45, dislocated his left shoulder and Mrs. Viju, 43, suffered minor bruises.

Hospital attendants said none of the four were in a critical condition.

A purebred Guernsey calf was killed by an automobile as Neil Vader, his wife and son were driving cattle across M-25 in Wisner Township. The driver of the car refused to leave his name and address.

Bingham School in Reunion Saturday

Patrons, pupils and instructors, both past and present, of the Bingham School met in annual reunion at the school grounds on Saturday, July 2. Following the big dinner, a program was presented in which Perry Livingston and Warren O'Dell sang a duet. Mrs. Rose Muntz, a former teacher, gave a reading, and Miss Seeley played accordion solos. The younger generation enjoyed playing baseball in the afternoon. There were fifty present.

Officers elected include: President, Warren O'Dell; vice president, Mrs. Robert Milligan; secretary, Mrs. Howard Evans; treasurer, Mrs. Rose Muntz.

The reunion next year will be held on July 1.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Field Course of Education Here under the U. of M.

Graduate and Under Graduate Courses Open to the Teachers of the Thumb.

J. Ivan Niergarth, superintendent of schools here, has received notice from Dr. J. B. Edmonson, dean of the school of education at the University of Michigan, that a field course of education sponsored by the university will be established in Cass City the coming year, starting probably in October. This will be open to teachers in the Thumb of Michigan area, with courses for both graduate and undergraduate work.

Plans call for five one-day meetings in the fall and three in the spring, with sessions from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. The course carries two hours of graduate credits during the year.

Wed in St. Pancratius Church on Saturday

A lovely wedding took place at nine o'clock Saturday morning, July 2, in St. Pancratius Church, Cass City, when Miss Helen Marie Frederick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frederick, of Cass City became the bride of George A. Laslo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laslo, of Bad Axe. About 100 guests witnessed the ceremony read by Rev. Fr. E. R. Werm, pastor.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor length gown of white silk lace over white satin with a long tulle veil, which fell from a cap of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and baby's breath tied with white tulle ribbon.

Miss Frederick was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Frederick, as maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of blue chiffon with a head band of cherry blossoms. Her flowers were similar to the bride's and were tied with blue tulle. Miss Theresa Laslo, sister of the groom, of Bad Axe, who wore peach colored chiffon, and Miss Jeanette Vanier of Detroit, wearing yellow chiffon, were bridesmaids. Their arm bouquets were of peach colored carnations and were tied with bows of tulle to match the dresses. They also wore head bands of cherry blossoms.

Mr. Laslo was attended by Ray Vanier of Detroit, Thomas O'Herrin of Bad Axe and John Lush of Detroit.

Immediately following the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the bride's home, two miles south and two miles west of Cass City. The rooms and tables were pretty with bouquets of cut flowers and colored streamers.

In the evening, a reception was held in the Frederick home, when 180 relatives and friends from Detroit, Wyandotte, Flint, Pontiac, Bad Axe, Gaytown and Cass City, enjoyed a supper and evening of dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Laslo received many lovely gifts. They will make their home for the summer with Mrs. Laslo's parents.

MISS ELEANOR HOADLEY MARRIES IN NEVADA

A wedding of interest here took place at Carson City, Nevada, when Miss Eleanor Hoadley became the wife of George Monis of Camarillo, California. The marriage occurred June 23, and the couple were attended by Mrs. James Mudge and Bruce Hoadley, sister and brother of the bride.

Mrs. Monis has been employed in California for several years. She is the daughter of Mrs. Guy Hoadley, who had spent the winter there and attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Monis are enjoying a month's honeymoon in Northern California.

Shabbona Won Friday's Contest, 8-3

YOUNG FOLKS AT CAMP.
People you see a bunch of young like a burst of joy that they look storm, and if you hear them yelling with no ball game near them, suggest the cause, you can perhaps suggest they are going away to a summer camp. It is a wonderful experience for a kid, particularly for those who have to live in crowded cities, where the woodbirds do not build their nests, and where there may not be any places easily available for swimming and other recreations.

It may be thought these children are glad to be released from home discipline, but usually they find the camp rule stricter than at home.
The majority of parents give their children a fairly free rein during vacation. The camp managers strong will must be pretty firmly controlled, or rebellion may break out.
One thing the kids like is that they have something to do all the time. Children are full of activity, and sitting around and twirling their thumbs is remote from their buoyant natures. Most of the things they do in camp are things they like. The camp managers put in plenty of sports, and in thousands of camps located near some body of water, these youngsters have a chance to splash to their heart's content.
The boys and girls learn many things in the camps. The managers of these places are experts in dealing with the modern kid, which is a problem calling for about all that psychology can do.
The child usually comes back with a feeling that rules have to be obeyed. Also the faces are tanned with health, and the big camp appetites put them in shape to do great stunts at home—if they can be persuaded to. It would be wished that all boys and girls could have this pleasant and disciplinary experience.

HAND OR BRAIN POWER.
Educated people sometimes complain that the man who has skill with his hands is often better paid for his labor than the one who has trained his mind or brain. Sometimes they say that muscle gets higher pay than development of literary gifts. Many ministers and teachers, for instance, are not as well paid as skilled mechanics. And the young lady who has taken a course in business studies, may not get as much pay as one who does housework.
The pay people get is dependent in part on whether the work is popular and agreeable. If the people all rush to get the professional and business and clerical jobs, and few want to lay bricks or wash the dishes, the folks who are willing to do such things have to be paid pretty well.
It takes close observation and intelligence to be a good mechanic or good houseworker, and these trades should be highly respected.

From now on the minimum pay of beauty shop operators in New York will be $16.50 per week. And considering what they have to work on, some of the time, it may be worth it.
The real forgotten man so far as the New Dealers are concerned is President Andrew Jackson. He left the White House with a surplus of $28,000,000 in the national treasury.

Remember the good old days when they used to build railroad tracks instead of tearing them up?
One way to make your time earn money is to read very carefully the news of the goods offered by the stores, as shown in the advertising.

When are we lawbreakers? Ten years ago if a man walked down the street in most cities with a $5 gold piece in one pocket and a pint of whiskey in another, the whiskey made him a lawbreaker. But the present administration has reversed it. It has removed the ban on whiskey and placed it on the $5
gold piece.—Exchange.

Household Hints
By BETTY WELLS
EACH generation, and almost every individual, feels pretty superior on the subject of taste. In short, what we like is good taste—while bad taste is the prerogative of the other person. Isn't bad taste always something associated with somebody else rather than ourselves? But what about the person we accuse? Perhaps, in fact very probably, he thinks the same thing about us. And rarely, indeed if ever, does one generation fail to scorn the taste of the preceding generation.
Broadly, taste reflects standards of beauty. Yet we constantly hear authoritative artists and decorators say that there have been throughout art history certain recognized standards of beauty that can be accepted as beauty. But what are these standards? Greek sculpture was ignored and almost destroyed by time before it was revived. Da Vinci's "Last Supper" was plastered over and forgotten for many years. And the creators of the Divino style in decoration wrote with certainty that "The Eighteenth century was noted for its taste." So, we ask again, what standards have survived the evolution in ideals of beauty?

We have no ha are convinced that there are set definite and fast standards, no spiritual values. That beauty is is individual quality, like love. That it happens. That we can't measure it or make rules about it. That we can only know it by the pleasure it brings.
So we try not to be glib about our taste. And so positive about what is beautiful and what is ugly. Because we don't see why we must consider our taste so superior to that of the gay nineties, just because it is different. If we like it, it's enough.

Monday—Finished the chair I've been upholstering—it on the fringe around the bottom and the back.
Some final tacks on the back. But somehow I kept putting it off. Had a lamp designer out for tea—she's

Tuesday—To town this morning.
Looked at new chintzes and lace curtains. Lunched with a decorative friend who's on a green binge.
"It's the most restful of all colors and goes with everything," said she. And that's true, come to think of it. We liked the sound of a room she described in deep hunter greens, beige and mauve, with furcoting. In the afternoon I looked at rugs—more texture weaves, more light colors.

Wednesday—The chintz window delicious in my room. They're of the same chintz I've used for bed-

them. But I hope my two-year-old

the cords and flipping them up.

small room, so I want something without a footboard. . . . I'm play-

But luckily the stuffed breast of veal

Artists Sometimes Are Too Positive.
At Port Huron where he sur-

Governor Murphy announced that federal funds for a bridge at the Straits of Mackinac was practically a growing realization in Michi-

Take the following eye-openers:
During the 15 years of ferry operation by the state highway department, traffic has increased from 10,000 vehicles in 1910 to nearly 275,000 last year. In five years the ferry fleet has been doubled.
At the present rate of growth Michigan's motor vehicle is due to double within the next 15 years;
the number of motor vehicles on public highways is due to increase 90 per cent.

The same chintz I've used for bed-around 50 cents apiece to get the shades made. I furnished the old

them. But I hope my two-year-old son will soon get tired of grabbing
the cords and flipping them up.

Staggering Relief Landed.
George Granger, state relief administrator, raised some eyebrows the other day when he announced that approximately 75,000 of the 104,200 persons in Michigan now getting direct relief are unemployables.
No matter how times improve Michigan will have to care for 75,000 citizens who cannot work, Granger reminds.
The problem of unemployment relief is staggering enough, as many industrial centers find as they scrape treasures for funds and implore aid from Lansing and Washington. Lansing itself has dipped into 1939 appropriations and special funds for $6,500,000 relief cash.
Taxpayers will hear more of the Michigan problem of unemployed and unemployables, as a referendum will be held in November on the state welfare act.
Deficit $13,800,000
One year ago the state legislature adjourned leaving an $18,000, 000 deficit in the governor's lap.
The generous law-makers, having done a little wealth distributing of their own, had the thoughtfulness to invest the governor with powers of a financial dictator. Harold Smith, budget director, was told to trim expenditures.
The other day the prospect of the deficit, in advance of an official

Lansing—That the federal pump-

Even Republican hopefuls are looking a bit wistful, if not down-

Yes, the mad scramble is on for gifts from the Great White Father.
Michigan wants to get its share,

the funds it has obtained. Governor Murphy proclaims that he is going to "sit down" on the White House millions it can grab.

As we pointed out in this col-

no small factor in the forthcoming announcement, was given at $13-800,000. Some progress has been made, it will be agreed, in reducing a deficit from $18,000,000 to $13-800,000.

According to an Associated Press story from Washington, Michigan and Oklahoma are the only two states in 48 which are going further in the red. Only a half dozen states report budget deficits at all.
Oklahoma reports $21,450,000; New York, $10,200,000 as compared with $94,428,496 in 1933; California, $7-500,000. Surplus states include Pennsylvania with $92,695,000; Indiana, $24,000,000; Illinois, $19-124,000; Minnesota, $1,250,000;
Wisconsin, "pay-as-you-go"; and Ohio and Rhode Island where state laws require a balance.
Simultaneously with the spending program at Washington, you may expect to hear of an economy program at Lansing.
How far the economies will go is something else.
With relief of unemployed and unemployables and an increased state deficit running side by side at the 1938 half-way mark, the tax problem again surges to the front.
After all, the next session of the state legislature is only six months off.

AN ASSOCIATED Press dispatch from New Philadelphia, Ohio, tells a story which is sponsored by W. E. Geiger, superintendent of Tuscarawas park.
Geiger says that sawyers working on a rotted tree in the park found a seven-inch catfish in a watery crevice of the tree, 40 feet above ground. The fish was thrown into the lake and swam away.
Since a catfish doesn't belong to the flying-fish family, it is reasonable to suppose, as Geiger says, that the catfish must have been carried into the tree
by a kingfisher or some other bird.

Effect of Carbon Dioxide
Carbon dioxide has a far greater effect than oxygen on the human respiratory system. If the carbon dioxide in a man's blood is increased by 3 per cent, his rate of breathing is doubled. If it is decreased by 3 per cent, says a writer in Collier's Weekly, his breathing stops completely. Considerable oxygen lack has its effects, but they are not comparable with those of the slightest change in carbon dioxide.

The Atlantic coastline of the United States has an estimated length of 5,565 miles.

Castle in Cliff
Montezuma's Castle National Monument, 25 miles southeast of Cottonwood, Ariz., was literally sculptured from the face of a limestone cliff. The castle is a five-story combination apartment house and fortress possibly more than a thousand years old. Scores of families dwell there, and held ceremonies, and even buried their dead within its walls.

of your neighbors have switched to electric cooking—
here are the reasons why!

An electric range provides the latest and most modern method of cooking. That is what appeals to most of the 10,000 families in and around Detroit who have switched to electric cooking during the past year. That is why more than 60,000 of your neighbors prefer an electric range to any other cooking method, and are now enjoying the advantages that only an electric range provides.

What are these advantages? Your dealer will be glad to point them out to you, one by one, on any of the ranges he has on display. He will mention the CLEANLINESS of electric cooking, with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. He will mention the ease with which you can have a bright, sparkling kitchen. Walls and curtains stay fresh for a much longer period of time, and there is less frequent need for redecorating. Cooking utensils, too, remain bright and shiny after long use.

Your dealer will tell you about the BETTER FLAVOR of electric cooking. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, with delicious natural flavor sealed-in. You will learn about the modern waterless cooking method which retains precious minerals and important food values. You will discover the ADDED LEISURE that an electric range makes possible . . . extra hours of freedom away from the kitchen. You will appreciate its COMFORTABLE COOKING in warm weather—an electric range does not raise the kitchen temperature one degree.

Stop in at your dealer's today and see for yourself the convincing superiorities of electric cooking!

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at your Detroit Edison office.

Taking advantage of the invigorating night air Tuesday evening, the twenty-five Evangelical young people attending the July Christian Endeavor social and business meeting spent most of the time on the lawn outside the country home of Miss Katherine Joos. Except for the short business meeting beginning the evening at which Helen Hower presided in absence of the president, Lucile Anthes, and the potluck refreshments, which concluded the evening, time was spent outdoors. Miss Mildred Schwieger and Keith Buehrly had arranged relays and games suitable for the occasion, and enthusiasm was stimulated for the next month's outdoor meeting at Caseville by the enjoyable time Tuesday.

Mrs. Whitley McLean returned home the first of the week from several days' attendance at the Free Methodist camp meeting in the Tallman grove near Wilmet. ## Visitors to the National Capital Find an Infinite Variety of Sights

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WHATEVER the visitor's particular curiosity may be, the nation's capital seems to offer something to satisfy it. Residents of Washington are amazed by the variety of sights their visitors wish to see. More news and photographs originate here than in any other city and pilgrims to the capital usually have their own ideas of where they would like to be taken. Showing the home folks the infinite variety of sights, scenes, and dignitaries is a major form of entertaining out-of-town guests.

Long propinquity has made Washington residents accustomed to the presence of the famous and near-famous. If a man prominent in public affairs grows weary of the adulation of hero-worshippers, he has only to retreat to Washington to enjoy virtual anonymity.

A rather shy-appearing elderly gentleman used to walk four times each day, to and from work. Among other pedestrians he passed unnoticed, though in most cities he would have attracted a queue. He was Andrew Mellon, then secretary of the treasury, the man who quietly presented to the United States one of the finest collections of paintings and other works of art ever assembled, and added to the gift a $10,000,000 gallery in which to display them.

People everywhere are familiar with the government departments through the extension services that reach all parts of the country. For information on almost any topic within reason, one has only to call the proper office.

Great Place for Students. Thousands of students come here not only because of excellent universities and colleges but also because government agencies and private institutions afford unparalleled opportunity for research. If it is necessary to ascertain the names, nature, or classification of rare species of flowers, for example, they carry the question to the Department of Agriculture or to the United States national herbarium, where an expert quickly supplies authoritative data.

If a question arises concerning trade practices in a foreign land, accurate information is available in the Department of Commerce. For human-interest material and statistics on other countries, there are the embassies and legations of those nations. The Library of Congress and the archives of the United States furnish a wealth of material on history. The national bureau of standards is a mine of scientific information. There is not a government department that does not stand ready to help the serious inquirer.

Almost everyone is amazed to discover how much really unspoiled natural country remains in the nation's capital. There still are many tracts of perhaps a hundred acres of woodland and meadow where wild blackberries and strawberries grow, where coveys of quail scuttie to cover at anybody's approach, where youngsters build concealed huts and defend them against all rivals.

District Is a Bird Haven. The District of Columbia welcomes more than 300 species of birds each year, perhaps 150 of them casual or rare visitors, but many of them year-round residents. Since the passage of a protective law in 1932, the District has been a veritable wild-bird haven.

The bald eagle, the turkey vulture, the wood duck, the pheasant, the black-crowned night heron, the quail, the starling, several kinds of owls and hawks, and about 25 other birds are permanent residents. Within the city it is not unusual to hear the song of a wood thrush or sight the bright flame of a cardinal.

Theodore Roosevelt listed more than 90 kinds of birds seen in the White House grounds or near by, and 17 of them nested there. Wrens, chickadees, finches, orioles, swallows and sparrows are perhaps the most numerous, but bluebirds, cedar wax-wings, juncos, golden-crowned kinglets, and even cuckoos are not uncommon.

There are five kinds of wild squirrels here, the gray fox squirrel and the red most numerous; also cottontail rabbits, woodchucks, muskrats, and chipmunks. Beavers and pine martens, which used to inhabit forested districts, are virtually gone, but occasionally a red or gray fox, a raccoon, or an opossum may be seen in woodland areas.

Of snakes, the District has 23 kinds, only one, the copperhead, poisonous. It is a comparatively short time, however, since rattlers lurked in some of the wild blackberry patches.

Rock Creek park is a constant source of delight, with its more than 1,800 acres of natural woodland and its pretty stream breaking into foam over scattered boulders.

There are more than 30 miles of bridge paths in the park, and hiking trails climb cliffs and hills steep enough to give the enthusiast a taste of mountaineering. When motoring through this recreation area, one has choice of many winding roads totaling more than 25 miles.

In one of the most restful spots in the park, old Pierce Mill has been restored exactly as it was in the half century before 1897, when it closed down because a shaft was broken. A white-haired miller proudly superintends the grinding of corn and wheat, and the visitor may purchase water-ground cornmeal, or graham, whole - wheat, or white flour. The surplus is sold to the cafeterias in government buildings.

The National Zoological park has been greatly enlarged and developed since 1925 by Dr. William M. Mann, who recently was in Sumatra at the head of the National Geographic Society-Smithsonian Institution East Indies expedition, obtaining new specimens. It ranks as one of the most extensive and interesting in the world.

Some Zoo Inhabitants. In the up-to-date birdhouse and the flight cages near it live Andean condors and flightless cormorants from the Galapagos, besides hundreds of more familiar species. About 100 wild black-crowned night herons have made their permanent home near the largest flight cage, apparently to keep their captive relatives company.

Separated from the public by glass screens in the reptile house—the last word in comfortable quarters for serpents—are cobras (six varieties), rattlesnakes, water moccasins, African puff adders, coral snakes, and other poisonous kinds. Boa constrictors, pythons, and anacondas live in compartments which resemble their habitats.

So far as possible the zoo displays other specimens in their natural surroundings. Flight cages contain miniature mountains and craggy heights; tropical animals are housed in realistic jungle scenes.

Washington loves outdoor sports, and the city provides full opportunity for their enjoyment. In the public parks alone there are 89 tennis courts, 32 baseball diamonds, 10 golf courses, 35 horseshoe courts, 26 picnic groves, 23 playgrounds.

Among the recreational highlights are polo, the equestrian drills at Fort Myer, and the army, navy, and marine band concerts held in Washington parks in summer.

Botanic Garden Ranks High. Last spring the National Botanic garden displayed 1,700 azalea plants in full bloom. This show was followed by one of rhododendrons, together with Easter lilies, hyacinths, and other flowers. Under the direction of the Congressional library and the office of the architect of the Capitol, the Botanic garden has gained recognition as among the finest in the world.

In one part of the new million-dollar building the visitor finds himself literally transported to the tropics. Exotic plants from mysterious jungles thrive amazingly under scientific care. Here are the finest artificially grown specimens of the long-stemmed Peruvian plant from the fibers of which Panama hats are made.

Another room contains a bewildering collection of cacti, ranging in shape from the spherical bisnaga to the wandlike cottofilo, and in size from tiny spikes half an inch tall to 20-foot giants from the Southwest.

To the newcomer by train Washington is a delight, particularly if he has come from a crowded city of skyscrapers and industry. He steps out of the Union station to look across a charming plaza to the Capitol. An elaborate fountain plays above a large reflecting pool, and he little suspects that beneath it lie a vehicular tunnel and a subterranean garage for 270 congressional automobiles.

Here is real spaciousness, room to breathe. The sky is clean. There are no skyscrapers thrusting spear heads at it.

BIRD SCHOOL HELD FIRST REUNION IN ITS 78-YR. HISTORY

Concluded from first page.

of the Bird district, gave the address of welcome and LeRoy Martin, a member of the staff of the Bay City schools, responded. Clarence Boulton read a school history, Mrs. John Crosby of Fairgrove, a former teacher of the district, gave a humorous reading, and short talks were given by Oscar O'Kelly, John A. Benkelman and William Ball, pupils back in the seventies, A. E. Boulton, the eldest school officer present, and Mrs. Mary Mahoney Carolan, a beloved teacher of the early days.

The men's chorus sang "The Old Grey Mare, She Ain't What She Used to Be" and "School Days" and the reunion group joined them in "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Be with You Till We Meet Again."

Special honors were tendered five pupils of the log school days who were present at the reunion, Mrs. Fred Orr and her brother, Oscar O'Kelly, both of Caro, and John A. Benkelman, John Morrison and William Ball, all of Cass City.

Clarence Boulton, in his historical sketch, mentioned 25 teachers who served from 1871 to 1899, in the log school in section 10 and in the second school, a frame building, erected later across the highway in section 11. They were Jane Nelson, Mary May, L. H. Withey, Robert H. Warner, Lora Newcomb, Hannah McLennan, Hattie Delano, Fred Orr, Miss E. J. Bird, William Highfield, Nellie Hall, Ella F. Gates, Lewis Marsh, Nellie Gamble, Philip Davis, Mary Mahoney, N. W. Bridges, Jim Talbot, H. C. Wales, Jim Kelly, Fred Morford, J. C. Wood, Jennie Watson, Phebe Teskey and Ella Bader. There were a few others in that period whose names Mr. Boulton was unable to learn.

The following officers were elected to serve for the 1939 reunion: President, William Profit; secretary, John Marshall; treasurer, Alex Marshall.

One hundred twenty-five names were on the register at the middle of the afternoon, but the attendance was much larger than that number. Most of the group came from Tuscola County. Those from points outside of this county included Mrs. Alex Sinclair, Alma; Mrs. Beatrice Erb, Bad Axe; Mr. and Mrs. Orton Klinkman, Decker; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Martin and Donna Martin, Bay City; Mrs. Iva Broadway, Rochester; Mrs. Coulson Blair, Standish; Mrs. Bertha Karr, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Angus Sweeney and Alex Ross, Uby; Helene Bingham, Lansing; W. J. Buckley, Margaret McDonald Buckley, Mary McDonald LeVan and Viva Root, all of Detroit.

Call You Sweetheart," it was easy to get into the romantic mood. Maurice Joos and Clark Helwig and a guitar provided music again with some original words and motions extra. Shirley Anne Lenzner gave the bride advice on "How to Manage a Husband" in dialect, and Mrs. Maurice Joos sang two solos.

There was a men's quartet, too—George Dillman, Art Ricker, Burt Elliott and Ed Buehrly—and their rendition of "Juanita" using Mrs. Elliott's name, Laverda, in the chorus was particularly well harmonized. Dr. Holsapple wished the couple joy and happiness and told some of his humorous stories to continue the jollity of the evening.

All this time there was a table in the corner filled with gifts. The two honor guests were kept busy for a while opening them and arranging them for the guests to view afterwards.

Yes, there was a lunch, too. Great big helpings of ice cream and so many delicious cakes, cookies and jelly roll. Just about everyone knew everyone else; so there was lots of conversation at the table.

The bride was sweet and smiling and the groom nervous and happy. They're going to live at the B. A. Elliott home for the present. The whole crowd's invited over to see them, and I'm going soon, too, to wish them a successful and happy marriage.

COULTER-CRAGG REUNION.

The annual reunion of the Coulter and Cragg families was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Mitchell on Monday, July 4.

As one car after another came and started to unpack, Mrs. Mitchell wondered where she would put all the food but her husband soon solved the problem by bringing the lumber wagon with a flat hay rack and it wasn't long till the ladies had a great display of many good things to eat for the seventy people present.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, John Coulter. Officers were re-elected to succeed themselves. It was voted to hold the 1939 reunion with Miss Barbara Coulter on the old Coulter homestead.

The afternoon was spent with a program of short recitations and music, and visiting. Members of the families were present from Detroit, Trenton, Pontiac, Cass City, and Shabbona.

Ball was played by some while others visited. The reunion will be held next year at the home of Samuel Jaus on the same date, July 4.

The Seasons

When it is winter in the Northern hemisphere it is summer in the Southern, and vice versa. The earth is nearer to the sun during our northern winter than during our summer. But the distance has nothing to do with the seasons. The earth's axis is permanently tilted, with relation to the sun, and it always inclines in the same direction.

The equator is inclined to the plane of the earth's orbit at an angle of 23 1/2 degrees, and because of this inclination the sun is high in the sky in summer months and low in the winter. It is the tilt which causes the seasons, for not only does the high altitude in summer cause the days to be longer, but the sun's rays then fall more directly on the earth's surface, making it hotter, instead of being spent, as in the winter, in an oblique course through the atmosphere.

Elephants Destructive

Elephants can often be a decided pest and damage in their native Africa. A herd can often lay waste a banana plantation in a single night, trampling underfoot what they do not eat. Whenever a telegraph line is erected the straight, smooth poles seem to be irresistible to them; the elephant seems to think it was put up just to rub himself against, and when one pole goes down why there is another one just down the line a bit.

Sinking Creek in Kentucky

Sinking creek, in Breckinridge county, Kentucky, suddenly disappears and traverses an underground course for several miles, reappearing as a large spring flowing under a hill.

DEATHS

William E. Duffield.

William E. Duffield passed away early Monday morning, July 4, after an illness of several months. Funeral services were held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the home at New Greenleaf. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

William Duffield was born in Edonwells, Ontario, January 19, 1883. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Roy Powell, of Gagetown.

Mrs. Donald J. Ross.

Sheridan and surrounding community were shocked on Monday morning, June 27, to hear of the death of Mrs. Donald J. Ross, who has been called to her eternal reward. Mrs. Ross had been in poor health for some time. She was taken to Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City and was operated on June 23. Every medical skill was used to restore her health but all efforts were met with failure and a few days' time brought sweet relief in the form of death to the sweet, natural patient sufferer.

Mrs. Ross had lived in Sheridan all her life except for five years which were spent in Detroit. Her remains were brought to her home on Monday and funeral services were conducted at nine o'clock at St. Columbkille Church by Rev. Fr. E. R. Werm of Sheridan. Burial was held in St. Columbkille Cemetery.

Christina Frances McIntosh was united in marriage January 27, 1915, to Donald J. Ross. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Vernice; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. C. E. Linden of Chicago, Mrs. F. B. Fenton of Ferndale, and John McIntosh of Detroit.

The spiritual and floral offerings showed the esteem in which Mrs. Ross was held by those who attended the funeral.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh and two children of Detroit; Mrs. C. E. Linden of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Fenton of Ferndale; Mrs. Joseph Hoste, Mrs. John Kelly, Donald McMillan and daughter, Loretta, Neil McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McIntyre and family, Miss Kathryn Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius McIntyre, Edward Branksa and Mrs. Mary Foley, all of Detroit; Edgar Carey and son of Port Huron; Mr. and Mrs. William Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gillis and son, Norman, all of Minden City; A. D. McIntyre of Saginaw; Mrs. George McIntyre, Sr., of Columbiaville; and a host of relatives and friends from surrounding towns.

Red Squirrels Erratic Workers

Red squirrels have a habit of gathering spruce cones into piles. Often they do not wait for these cones to fall but chew, pull or tear them off the branches. Squirrels are erratic workers, and will spend considerable more time eating cones, sitting in trees or playing than in actual cone-piling.

Concluded from first page.
later," recalled Mr. Dobson, "that news of what happened in Michigan reached us, and the smoke was explained."

Shortly after the fire, Mr. Dobson came to Michigan to make his home in the charred land. He bought a farm in Canboro Township, cleared it and began farming.

At the home of James Maharg, another settler from Canada, Mr. Dobson met Suzannah Gray, sister to Mrs. James Maharg, and began the romance and marriage that lasted nearly 51 years, until the death of Mrs. James Dobson, a few weeks ago.

A few seasons, Mr. Dobson worked in the lumber camps near Clare as a carpenter, and erected many of the huge buildings out of logs, hewed from the mammoth trees. Returning to Canboro, he purchased more land, then a few years later, Mr. and Mrs. Dobson moved to Rescue.

Life went smoothly for the couple in Michigan, except for the cyclone of '82 that destroyed their buildings. "It was a freak wind," said Mr. Dobson. "We had several sacks of flour piled in the attic. The wind carried them and all of the furniture in our house out into the yard as though we had moved it by hand, but tore all of the buildings down."

In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Dobson moved to Cass City buying a home, and planning to stay here. Preferring the solitude of farm life, they stayed only one year, trading the home for the present farm, south of Cass City.

In Cass City, Mr. Dobson worked as a carpenter and stone mason, and continued the work for many years, while living on the farm, retiring but a few years ago.

Today Mr. Dobson finds much enjoyment caring for 15 hives of bees. "The bees are a hobby with me," he said, "and a person can learn something new about them every day."

Mr. Dobson was born in Ontario in 1861, but despite his 77 years is active. Today he lives with his granddaughter, Mary Dobson. One son, William, is a successful engineer of Flint. Another son, Robert, and daughter Elizabeth, died several years ago.

Known as Ultima Thule

Ultima Thule was the ancient Roman designation for the northernmost portion of the world capable of human habitation.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Various attempts have been made to solve the problem of New York's many late theater comers. Curtains advertised to go up at 8:40 are held until 8:50 or even 9 o'clock and still the tardy ones, usually with seats in the center of a row, come straggling in to the vast annoyance of those already in their places. Now, according to Variety, managers of legitimate houses are contemplating going into a huddle with the Broadway association to see if there isn't some remedy for the nuisance. The idea in mind is the 9:30 or 10 o'clock curtain. To make up for the lost time and to bring the final curtain near the usual hour, the plays would be "streamlined" by shortening or doing away with intermissions.

Two main causes for theater tardiness are given. One is the increasing habit of late dining. More and more New Yorkers are taking to the habit of eating in the continental fashion. That is, leisurely. The result is they do not think about the theater until the first act is well under way, or is at an end. Frequently the movies are a compromise, the late shows in various mid-town houses, especially Radio City Music hall, attracting white-tie and ermine audiences. The other main cause for lateness is traffic congestion. The theaters are mostly west of Broadway or very close to Broadway. The smart dining places are on the East Side. At theater hour, cross-town traffic is a series of jerks with long waits in between.

In a number of establishments, "theater dinners" are served. The head waiter is notified as to what play is to be visited. From his time-table, he ascertains the curtain time and then convives with the chef to get the diners out in due season. In a number of mid-town establishments, curtain time-tables are displayed. But all that entails hurry and New Yorkers, when dining, don't like to hurry no matter what their habits may be on other occasions. So the move for the late curtains. And if they do go into effect, the usual number of show-offs will continue to stumble over feet and seats in the middle of the act. At least, that's my guess.

New York kitchens contain many gadgets despite their small size. There are electrical appliances of various kinds, from orange juicers to clocks, of course. The latest I've noted is a two-door vegetable bin. When I was a youngster, the vegetable bin was in the cellar and it was my spring job to go down there and sprout and sort the potatoes. But New Yorkers don't have cellar storage space except for trunks, etc. Also, New Yorkers move frequently and like to take their belongings with them. That applies to vegetable bins as well as suction ventilators for kitchen windows.

One thing I've never been able to understand is why New York landlords do not furnish window screens. We've lived in apartments in several different locations and in each we've had to supply our own fly barriers. A few tenants, with long leases or careless of expense, install screens on their own. The rest of us buy the extension kind which can be moved to another location. But which are not very efficient in keeping flies out.

In the Brill building, an old man is employed as a janitor. Nevertheless, he is one of the town's busiest music critics. He is a close friend of the composers and arrangers of Ray Block's staff and when a new song or an arrangement is completed, it is rushed to him. If, after looking it over carefully, he declares it will click, it does and if he says it won't, it doesn't. At least, that is the report. But the funny part of the whole thing is that the old man can't read a note of music. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

India's Insects Kill 1,500,000 in Year

Calcutta.—Insects cause the loss of more than 1,500,000 human lives and do damage estimated at $750,000,000 a year in India.

These figures were given by Mohamed Afzal Hussain in his presidential address to the entomology section of the Science congress here.

The number of existing species of insects in India could not be less than 2,500,000, he said. Of these only 40,000 species, it was estimated, had been studied in India.

W. Jennings of Flint, Rev. C. Collins of Detroit, Rev. S. M. Gilchrist of Saginaw and ministers of local churches each made a short address. D. W. McLean of Bad Axe presided as chairman.

HISTORIC OUTPOST TO BECOME MUSEUM

Fort Snelling Won Fame in Civil, Indian Wars.

Fort Snelling, Minn.—Julius Caesar himself could not have erected a more Roman-looking round tower at lower cost than the United States did in 1821 at Fort Snelling.

And Caesar probably would have walloped the Indians, and taken the land from them. Uncle Sam, through the offices of Lieut. Zebulon Montgomery Pike, bought title to the property in 1805 with 50 gallons of whisky.

Sixteen years later, soldiers, many of them veterans of the war of 1812, were paid 15 cents a day in addition to their army pay to build the tower.

It is possible the plans were a heritage from the Caesars, except for 20 rifle slits from which shots could be fired, and which made the tower capable of resisting, with its walls constructed of solid stone quarried from the Minnesota and Mississippi river banks, any form of attack then known.

Family Lives There.

For the last 19 years Thomas Marcum, post civilian engineer, and his family have occupied the tower, remodeling the interior at their own expense into a unique home. Plans now call for tearing out partitions to make one large museum room of the structure.

Before Marcum's occupancy many world-famed characters found shelter in the old tower. Surprisingly, the idea for the German Zeppelin was incubated there.

Union army officials stationed at Fort Snelling during the Civil war scoffed at the suggestion made by a young German military attaché, Count Von Zeppelin, also stationed there, that it might be possible to scout the enemy from the air, thus passing up a chance for the Federal army to be the first to use aircraft for military purposes.

Von Zeppelin, however, failed to become discouraged and on a warm spring night in 1864 rose 300 feet above the round tower, suspended below a canvas bag filled with gas furnished by the old St. Paul gas company.

He said later it was during his 30-minute ascension here that the idea of transcontinental air transport was born. After the Civil war, he returned to Germany to bring the idea to fruition.

Dred Scott Married at Fort.

Dred Scott, a negro slave whose name is perpetuated in the famous Dred Scott decision of the Supreme court, married a slave girl in the round tower in 1837. At the time, Scott was a servant of the household of Dr. Emerson, fort medical attaché to Col. Josiah Snelling.

Some 15 years later, in 1849, after Dr. Emerson had transferred and moved his slave retinue to St. Louis, Scott sued for freedom on grounds he had been a citizen of free territory in Minnesota.

The Supreme court ruled that Scott was without citizenship rights and that the Missouri compromise was unconstitutional.

Records recently discovered revealed many illuminating and hitherto not generally known facts concerning the historic importance of the round tower. It was gathered from the records that life inside the walls was a tragic experience for many a young army tenderfoot as result of the whims and caprices of Colonel Snelling.

Flogging an arrogant soldier became quite a pastime during Colonel Snelling's tenancy of the round tower, according to the records, and 200 lashes with a cat-of-nine-tails on the bare back of some luckless rookie was an afternoon's exercise for the colonel.

Divers Again Will Seek Galleon Treasure Trove

London.—A new attempt is to be made to raise from the sea the millions of gold coins, minted when Philip of Spain was at war with Elizabeth of England, which are reputed to lie on the bottom of Tobermory harbor, Isle of Mull.

The coins were in a galleon which was sunk by an angry Highlander who could not get the money for goods he had supplied.

Nearly 400 years have passed since the galleon Duque Florencia set sail with the mighty armada, carrying 30,000,000 ducats. After the armada met with defeat in the English channel, a gale sprang up which swept a number of ships up St. George's channel and the Irish sea to the west coast of Scotland and the rocky strands of Northern Ireland.

The Duque Florencia reached the Isle of Mull. Officers ordered stores from the islanders, but refused payment. As the galleon was putting out to sea, she was blown up by a daring Highlander, who had got aboard and swam ashore after lighting the fuse.

Now Herr Van Wiener, Dutch engineer and inventor of a new type of diving apparatus, has obtained permission to try to raise the cargo. For hundreds of years the romance of treasure trove has lured people to seek the gold.

baggage to the anchorage. In two hours we were underway and standing down the Chesapeake Bay, enroute to LeHavre, France.

In case you haven't guessed it, the battleships draw about 22 feet of water. Since there is only 20 feet at Reina Dock they have to anchor about eight miles out in the bay. Also, the 350 midshipmen mentioned were coming to the Texas. The same number went to each of the other ships—Wyoming and New York. The crew of a battleship is normally about 1,000 men. The ships of the training detachment have about 600. We fill up the remaining billets.

The first class are divided into three groups—navigators, engineers and deck hands. Likewise, the cruise is divided into three parts. At the end of each period the groups rotate to a different duty. I am in the deck detail for the first four weeks. A similar organization is also used for the third class, or youngsters—known in other parts of the world as sophomores. (The second class, juniors, remain at the academy for flight instructions).

My first few days were taken up largely with showing the youngsters how to make up hammocks, where to stow their gear, and in acting as guide lecturer on orientation tours. On the third day we took over our share of the watches. Not the least among a youngster's troubles is the use of scrubbers, paint brushes, and bright work polish.

The weather has been fine. The only blow we had lasted for a couple of days. A few youngsters got sick. Occasionally squalls obscured the stars, much to the delight of midshipmen navigators. With no sights to work out they got a few hours more sleep. To all hands, sleep, at sea, is precious. Last Wednesday we changed from white to blue uniforms. It felt good to put on something warm. Today the sun is bright, and this windy corner of the ocean looks like a mill pond.

A midshipman attends two lectures a day while at sea. He receives practical instruction in seamanship. He draws sketches and answers questionnaires on all the engineering apparatus from air conditioners, evaporators, and ice machines to boilers, turbines, and steering engines. He practices emergency drills such as man overboard and fire or collision. He sends visual messages between ships by flags and Morris Code blinker lights. Radio communication is his easiest watch. He steers the ship and tends the throttle. While in port he has even more to do but it is self imposed work or play—whichever you choose to call it.

Those coming aboard ship for the first time have several surprises waiting for them. The smallness of living quarters and the utility of small corners make a deep first impression. Many are surprised to find a 10 or 12-piece professional band on board. After reading stories about taking on fresh water and stores, they are surprised that all fresh water used is evaporated from sea water. The average for the navy is 17 gallons per capita per day. To think that a movie is shown on deck every night in fair weather, seems extravagant. The surprise, however, comes when you see how old the pictures are. Many do not expect to find a canteen aboard where you can usually buy candy and a limited amount of ice cream. A tall or short man will be equally surprised at the number of places he can bump his head and his shins. I never gave a thought to the fact that there would be no milk (except powdered milk) aboard. Powdered milk has not yet reached the point of perfection attained by Bis-quick. You will marvel when you see a man draw a bucket of cold water, walk across the wash room to a shiny 1/2 inch pipe and run steam into the bucket until the water is warm enough to shave his face comfortably. You eat in the same casemate you sleep in and in which you have gunnery exercises. The tables and benches have folding legs and hang from the overhead when not in use.

The navy paints every corner, where dirt is apt to collect, with white paint. Some are undoubtedly surprised to find a chaplain aboard and to hear church call on a bugle every Sunday morning.

The U. S. S. Texas like most other battleships carries 10 small boats ranging from 50 to 30 feet in length. Fifteen minutes before quarters the noise from electric razors reminds you of the air races at Cleveland. The colors in tattoo marks seen in the enlisted man's wash room call to mind your new flowered print wash dress. You will not fail to be amazed when you taste the navy's mixture of coffee grounds and boiler water.

Sincerely,
RALPH.

Streamlined Train Service NOW SPANS COUNTRY

Luxurious new diner for the Pennsylvania. It was designed and constructed by the Edward G. Budd Company, famed builders of stainless steel rail cars.

Travelers now may ride from New York to the Pacific Coast by streamlined train. This new Broadway Limited, fleet leader of the Pennsylvania, cuts the New York-Chicago schedule to 16 hours.

Crowds are attracted by new trains, as evidenced by this group about one of the six Rock Island Rockets.

The Reading Crusader serves Philadelphia and New York with a fast twice-a-day schedule. It, too, is Budd-built of stainless steel.

Two of the famous Burlington Zephyrs are shown here in Chicago's Union Station, ready for a speedy run.

Linking Chicago and the west coast with a 39 1/4 hour schedule, the Santa Fe Super Chief, Budd-built, heads the largest fleet of streamlined trains in the world.

Competent and attractive hostesses aid travelers to enjoy their journey on streamliners. Here is a spacious, comfortable chair car on one of these modern trains.

Paralleling the New York-Chicago service of the Pennsylvania, the New York Central adds this new Twentieth Century Limited. In trial runs this train hit 105 miles an hour.

Market for Cows' Tails
Once the hair of a cow's tail was of value only to a cow. "But today," says Thomas E. Wilson, of a Chicago packing firm, "not only is a cow's tail of value to industry, but so also are the tails of hogs and horses." Wilson explains they are used in the filters of air-conditioning machines. Once packers paid to get rid of tail hair but now they sell it.

Location of Pelee Island
Pelee island is a part of the province of Ontario. The boundary runs southeast from the Detroit river to a point in Lake Erie immediately south of Pelee island (southwest of Point Pelee on the mainland), thence straight east for a few miles, thence northeast to the Niagara river.

BUG POISON PINK INSTEAD OF WHITE

Purpose of Changed Color to Prevent Mistakes.

By James W. Dayton, Extension Vegetable Specialist, Massachusetts State College.—WNU Service.

Farmers who purchase new stocks of lead arsenate and calcium arsenate this year may be surprised to find these materials pink instead of white. It isn't that pink insecticides will kill bugs any quicker but rather that the pink is added so human beings will not mistake these poisons, for flour, lime, or other white powders.

The new color of these products is in accordance with the following announcement by the Agricultural Insecticide and Fungicide association:

"In the interests of public health and for the protection of users of agricultural arsenical insecticides, this industry has, by voluntary agreement, adopted and will use a pink coloring in all white arsenical products.

"It is the belief of the industry that this action represents a constructive effort by the industry to eliminate as far as possible the hazard of mistaken identity of the products and that in time the pink color will become established as a distinctive warning of the poisonous nature of the material."

Since this change in the customary appearance of the materials may possibly lead to some confusion, it is emphasized that the coloring agent has no effect whatever on the insecticidal value of the arsenicals. The new pink products are to be used according to the same recommendations that have applied to the arsenicals in their white condition.

The pink color will be a real advantage in serving as a ready means of identification so that arsenicals will not be mistaken for other white powdery substances as has happened when the materials have been carried over from one season to another and the label has been lost from the container.

Teach Chicks to Go to Roost and Save Trouble

After chicks reach four weeks of age they can be taught to roost, and the poultryman will have less trouble teaching them than he will if he waits until they are three to five months old, according to experience at North Dakota agricultural college.

All brooder houses at the college poultry farm are equipped with roosts, and it has been found that with little or no bother the chicks early form the roosting habit. The roosts are built of lightweight material in a framework and are hinged midway on one wall of the four-sided brooder house so they may be raised when not in use or for cleaning. Wire of medium mesh is attached to and underneath the roosts to keep chicks away from the droppings.

The rows of roosts, lowered in place when chicks are about four weeks old, incline from the floor back to the wall, thus being easily available and inviting to the chicks.

Head of Healthy Hen

The head of the bird supplies valuable indications of her activity. A hen in good laying condition will have comb, wattles and ear lobes full and large for her breed. The comb is stiff, smooth and waxy and bright red in color. With cessation of laying, the comb becomes shrunken, dry and rough. Light colored scales appear over its surface. Because of the rapidity with which a hen's comb changes its appearance with production, it gives a valuable clue to her state at the time of examination. The comb of the pullet, too, foreshadows her coming period of laying by expanding and coloring up.

Care of Leghorns

Leghorns are fairly dainty and small feeders but are excellent consumers of green and very large consumers of mash. Mash hoppers in the leghorn pen should be kept filled at all times and after the birds have gotten into good laying condition, grain feeding can be reduced to one feed a day, preferably at night. Owing to their dispositions leghorns may be profitably confined to the houses for the entire year, but it is better if practicable to allow the breeding hens their liberty during the breeding season. That always results in stronger chicks and better hatches.

Brooder Temperatures

The temperature under the edge of the hover two inches from the litter should be from 95 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit the first week, 90 to 95 degrees the second week, and gradually lowered until no heat is needed. The amount of heat and the length of time it is needed depends on the season and the day. The heater, however, should be left in the brooder house a while after the heat is discontinued for possible use in unfavorable weather.

WINTER'S PORK CHOPS IN THE MAKING

A portion of the 3,300 spring pigs being raised on state-owned farms. Photo displays the success of crossing Durocs with Chester Whites, a plan that may be adopted by all of the 16 farms, according to John B. Strange, commissioner of Department of Agriculture. At the left of photo is Charles S. Porter, farm supervisor; center, John A. Crawford, steward; and right, Everett Scamhorn, swine herdsman; all of Traverse City State Hospital farm, where the experiment is being conducted.

300 New Owners to Use Combines

Combines that once were the pride of the grain growing West have been whittled down to Michigan size so that an estimated 300 new combines will be working in the state this year to add to the 1,000 already put in service.

Those estimates gathered by E. C. Sauve of the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College indicate that in 1937 the grain combines coursed over 200,000 acres but that this acreage will increase this year.

Present conditions indicate that southern Michigan wheat cutting that begins this week will be followed in seven to ten days by the whir of the combines.

"New combine owners, inexperienced, usually take the waiting period, following the binder harvest in adjacent field, in a condition of nervousness and unrest," says Sauve. "The experienced owner is content to wait even three weeks and longer with no fear of excessive grain loss in harvesting wheat."

Such crops as oats and barley must be combined soon after the grains are ready for the combine because these grains shatter easily when ripe. Inclement weather also may cause the grain to lodge with resultant loss.

So Sauve recommends the waiting interval for oats and barley, after neighbors cut with binders, to be from seven to 10 days. Experience soon dictates when grain should be harvested. Moisture is the principal factor in determining keeping quality of the grain. Grain in storage usually is of good quality if the moisture content at harvest is not in excess of 13½ per cent.

Summer Tours Thrill Children

Unless your memory is bad you'll still relish some of the most enjoyable excursions of your childhood, suggests Catherine G. Miller, director of the nursery school of Michigan State College.

So she points out some of the summer "extra occasions" which parents can devise for children.

Now that snow suits and galoshes are put away for a few weeks there is time to think about, and also do, some of the trips. Not only do they add to the enjoyment of childhood and keep the boy or girl satisfied that his or her parents are about the best and most thoughtful, but they add to the growing store of knowledge.

For the city child of three years, Miss Miller suggests trips to a farm, to see a train or such things as a cement mixer. Sounds simple? Remember when you were a child and then you'll realize it's a good idea.

For the country three-year-old it's fun to see a train closeup or to go marketing. For the four-year-old of city or country Miss Miller suggests visiting a garage, a fire station, an airport or a shoemaker's shop.

Be alert to what and why that pop up during these little educational journeys, is the warning but don't force conversation. Remember it's more fun for the child to make the discoveries than it is for the adult to show off his knowledge.

British Order of the Bath
The British Order of the Bath was instituted by King Henry I. The order required every man to scrub himself thoroughly before receiving the accolade.

Electric Fence Gains in Usage

Electric fence is covering ground at a shocking rate in Michigan, if a preliminary survey by members of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College is an indication.

One manufacturer alone sold nearly 5,000 electric fence installations in 1937 in the state.

With this new type enclosure that facilitates use of pasture that otherwise might go to waste or be used inefficiently, D. G. Ebinger, rural electrification specialist at the college, sees several precautions which farmers can utilize.

Weeds, brush or other green growth touching electrified wire can cause short circuits. Mowing or removing this growth once or twice a season is recommended.

Many have used old pieces of inner tube or rubber hose for insulating the wire. Weather conditions cause this rubber to check and crack. When water enters, more short circuits result. Porcelain insulators should be used, says Ebinger.

In confining stock for the first time within an electric fence the adjacent green growth should not be too enticing. Gentle training to give the live stock respect for the wire is best. A few gentle nips on the nose are needed for animals to learn the lesson of the charged wire. Extremely dry weather may mean that an increased voltage is necessary, or a two wire circuit, rains means reducing the charge to reduce danger.

Electric fence on some farms is completely paying for itself in a season, Ebinger finds. Installation at times cuts out 90 per cent of the cost of conventional fencing. Additional information is contained in "Electric Fencing," Michigan State College Agricultural Engineering Department Bulletin No. 28-776.

Holsteins Take All of Honors in North Tuscola Dairy Herd Improvement Ass'n.

The Holsteins take all of the North Tuscola Dairy Herd Improvement Association honors this month. Three herds of other breeds were well above the association average but failed to place high in any of the classes.

As can be seen, a registered Holstein owned by Charles Sieland and Son produced 995 pounds of butterfat in thirty days. This cow was retested because of her high record.

A small 4-year-old Holstein cow owned by Fred Miller & Sons made 2,688 pounds of milk for the high milk record this month. She is being milked three times daily and produces 89.6 pounds per day. Two other Holsteins were producing 80 pounds per day, one owned by Lincoln Horst and the other owned by Mrs. F. B. Otherson.

Four herds produced over 40 pounds of butterfat per cow. Harold Perry and William Parrott own the herds not mentioned in the high herds. William Parrott's herd of Guernseys was tested this month for the first time.

The average production per cow in the North Association was 32.0 pounds of butterfat and 864 pounds of milk. The average test was 3.69.

It was noticed that production dropped since the very hot weather and flies began to annoy the cows. Keep your cows sprayed and provide plenty of shade.

Clayton Reid, Tester, North Tuscola Dairy Herd Improvement Association.
