The contract for building the new power house which will contain the municipal electric light and water-works plant was let by the village council Monday evening to I. W. Hall, local contractor, for $2,280. Weldon & Lauderbach, who will lay the brick for Mr. Hall, commenced work Tuesday.

The skating rink building at Deford was burned Saturday afternoon.

B. H. McComb, principal of the Kingston Schools, was elected school commissioner Wednesday by the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. R. Bush.

Tuscola County will be the site for the new state farm colony for epileptics, the commission appointed by Governor Ferris to select a site having decided on the Hart farm at Wahjamega. The price named is $50,000 for the 1,400-acre farm.

The building of the Detroit and Huron branch of the Grand Trunk R. R. from Cass City to Bad Axe and the quartering of the railroad workers at this point has had its advantages to local business people. Grocers, meat dealers, shoe and clothing men, dealers in furnishings and hardware have probably benefited most by the employes' purchases of the necessities of life. The foreign contingent is housed in cars in the Seeger Street yards and they are divided into several groups and each had its own cook. During the past six months, Harry Young has sold to these cooks $7,352.65 in meats, eggs and canned goods. The greater portion of this amount was spent for meat.

The congregation of St. Agatha's Church at Gageton has decided upon plans for a new church edifice which will have a seating capacity of 778 and the cost of which is estimated at approximately $30,000. Charles O. Karr passed away on Saturday at the age of 69 years.

Sweater and Skirt

Little fashion-correct "Missy" in this picture is dressed in her new sweater and skirt outfit ready to answer first-day-of-school roll call. It's the smart vogue this season for little girls to companion a suspender skirt of handsome wool with a sweater of exact color match. In this instance the skirt of fine Arlington wool (comes in interesting colors of Scandinavian influence) has a novel suspender fashioning that widens as it buttons to the skirt belt.

SCHOOLS

Greenwood School.
Reporter, Jean Niziol.
Teacher, William Burmeister.
We have three new beginners in our school this year, Irene, Rowena and Rosella Hawley. There are no eighth graders this year.
Just before school started, the schoolhouse was painted and electric lights were put in.

The seventh grade received their reading list from Mr. McComb. The A. A. A. Club sent a poster with a hare and a turtle on it.

In art work we are drawing trees. On our windows we have four different kinds of leaves: Oak, maple, poplar and cottonwood. There are flowers in the windows. Emma Popp brought a jack-o'-lantern to school last week.

Sharrard School.
Teacher, Agnes E. MacLachlan.

Reporters, Marian King and Genevieve Miljure.
We learned the song "Uncle Ned" for morning exercise.
The primary grades dramatized the stories of "Jack and the Beanstalk," and the "Tortoise and the Hare" for language.

We received a poster from the A. A. A. on safety. Our captain has sent in our first safety report.
We received a letter from the state department approving our water supply.

The language classes made some good explanations on how to make candy.
Those having 100 in spelling were Richard Zaleski, Marian King and Genevieve Miljure.

We made page five for our current event scrap book Friday.
Marian King received a spelling certificate this week.
Eighth grade are studying township government for civics.
We had art Friday afternoon.

Rescue School.
Teacher, Catherine MacLachlan.

Reporter, Rowland Hartzell.
We received our Safety Patrol armbands and badge.

Roland and Elda Hartzell, Isabel Martin and Madelyn O'Rourke received certificates for having 20 perfect spelling lessons.
Miss MacLachlan is reading us the story, "Flash, the Lead Dog," for morning exercises.
We made safety posters for art this week.

Tuesday was Harold Cummins' birthday. He treated us to some very good home-made candy.
Those receiving 100 in spelling all week were Alton Summers, Madelyn O'Rourke, Theodore Ashmore, Isabel Martin, Rowland Hartzell, Kenneth Martin and Kenneth MacAlpine.

Theodore Ashmore's side is still ahead in the spelling contest.

Geraldine Martin, second grade, and Kenneth Martin, first grade, are ahead in the reading contest.

Gordon Decaire and Alton Summers were captains in the arithmetic match Friday.

Batie School.
Teacher, Mrs. Beatrice Miljure.

Reporter, Maxine Osontoske.
We have received our report cards for the first month. The following were on the honor roll: Ralph Tucker, Emilie MacMillan, Rose Mary Sullivan, Anthony Richards and Francis Janik.

We have several bouquets of flowers in our schoolroom.
Rose Mary Sullivan is ahead in reading and spelling. She has had perfect lessons since school started.

Those who were neither tardy nor absent the first month were Mary Doerr, Deloris Franzil, Sally Leitch, Donald and Emilie MacMillan, Rose Mary Sullivan and Ralph Tucker.

We are learning to sing "Yankee Doodle."
Mr. Morey, our director, bought us a new indoor baseball.

CEDAR RUN.

Charles Beardley of Oxford spent the week-end with his family at the William Burse home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fagen and family enjoyed Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fagen near Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Collin of Troy, Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thompson of Oakland, California, started on the return trip home after visiting their sister, Mrs. John Gray, and many other friends. They made the entire trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wilson, daughter, Naomi Grace, and Miss Mary Southworth spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Southworth. Mrs. Eva Smith and son, Harold, were also guests.

Snowy Owl Black When Young
The snowy owl is black when young. Owls that are speckled and barred at maturity usually begin life in snow-white coats.

Wasps Outclass Bees
Wasps are said to be far more intelligent and active than bees, in spite of the old theory about the "busy bee."

What is the "Right-of-Way?" Who has the "Right-of-Way?" I will not attempt to answer these questions because conditions and circumstances are involved that make one answer inapplicable to all cases. However, the safest bet and the wisest course is to give the other fellow the right-of-way rather than argue or have an accident.
What does a delay of a few minutes mean compared to a safe journey? Why gamble on the possibility of a serious accident just for the satisfaction of having the right-of-way?
If you arrive at an intersection at about the same time another motorist does and he signifies his intention of crossing, let him, even though you know you have the right-of-way.

It is much better to follow the safe course, and it leaves you in a better frame of mind.

difficulty in flinging himself out of the way. The last cow to cross the road was hit in her hind quarters and was later found back of the Blades residence where she had walked before dying.
Marks on the highway showed where the car had slid about 200 feet after the brakes had been applied before the automobile left the highway, struck a bank of a ditch and hurtled through the air and over the fence without breaking a fence wire. The car radio was still playing when help reached the injured men and boys. The accident occurred shortly before seven o'clock.
Edward Witkowski, who was born in Detroit on March 24, 1923, is the second in his family to meet a tragic death. His father was killed 14 years ago when he was struck riding a bicycle in Detroit. The family moved to this community three years ago and for the past year have resided two miles southeast of Cass City.
Edward Witkowski is survived by his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Empel; two brothers and two sisters, Anthony Witkowski, Mrs. Sylvia Schantz and Mrs. Genevieve Abram, all of Detroit, and William Witkowski, at home.
Funeral services were held at St. Columbkil's Church in Sheridan at 9:00 a. m. Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. Werm, pastor, officiated, and interment was made in the parish cemetery.

Skippet, a Circular Box
A skippet is a circular box used for covering and protecting a seal. Old documents were commonly sealed by means of a ribbon which passed through the parchment, and to which was affixed a large circular wax seal. The skippet, used to protect such a seal, was turned of wood, like a shallow box, with a cover held to the box by strings passed through eyelets holes.

FARM TOPICS

CHICK DISEASE IS COSTLY TO FARMER
Cleanliness Urged as Best Method of Control.

Supplied by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

The best way to fight coccidiosis, one of the most widespread parasitic diseases of young chickens, is to practice rigid sanitary measures and thus prevent its getting a start in the flock.

During the early summer farmers are likely to spend considerable money for remedies recommended in the treatment of coccidiosis. However, it is pointed out that although many treatments have been tried and advocated for curing the disease, the opinion of poultry investigators is that none of these treatments is effective.

Daily cleaning and disinfecting of the brooder house and poultry yards is recommended for preventing the spread of the disease, the acute form of which often causes death among birds up to two months of age.

A well-balanced diet supplemented by a generous amount of green feed is important for building up the bird's resistance to coccidiosis. Feeding of a mash containing 40 per cent dried skim milk or butter-milk has been advocated generally as being effective in protecting young chickens from infection. Since results from the use of milk have not been entirely consistent, it can not be recommended as a cure for the disease.

Coccidiosis is easily recognized by such symptoms as ruffled feathers, pallor, rapid emaciation and bloody droppings.

The disease is spread by contamination of the feed, water and soil with droppings of fowls harboring the parasites. Water, shoes, grain sacks, or other objects may carry the parasites. They are also spread by birds or insects which fly from one poultry yard to another. Rats and mice also may serve as carriers of the organisms.

United States 'Safest' Country for Live Stock
"The United States is probably the safest country in the world in which to raise live stock," says Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. "In addition, the supply and the wholesomeness of animal products in this country are excelled by those of no other nation."
Step by step, scientific research, he adds, has been whittling down the dangers and losses until the supply of meat and milk has become one of the most dependable elements of national life.
Even in times of widespread drouth and untimely freezing temperatures that curtail cereal, vegetable, and fruit crops, the production of meat and milk continues. Animals not only utilize a variety of feeds but, if necessary, are readily moved from areas of feed shortage to favorable locations.

Nest Talk
The common poultry house nest has an open entrance from the front, but fewer eggs would be broken and less adult cannibalism would occur if a dark entrance were provided from the rear, says a writer in Hoard's Dairyman. This change can usually be accomplished by setting the present nests out from the wall with legs and wall supports and 1 by 4-inch board walks resting on the wall supports. The front should then be closed with a hinged board which enables gathering of the eggs from the front. The nest should be 14 inches square and 12 inches high.

Dairy Barn Corner Stone
The dairy barn is an important building on the farm and we might well make a ceremony of laying the corner stone just as is done with public buildings. Put inside the corner stone a few records of the farm and community. On the outside of the stone put the date, the names of the owner of the farm and the contractors who built it. In doing this, says a writer in Hoard's Dairyman, one shows a commendable pride in workmanship. It stands for stability and for the better things in country life. By carving a few words on the stone it not only honors the builder but the chief carpenter and mason as well. It dignifies the business of farming.

Eight Breeds of Swine
In the United States there are two distinct classes of swine, the breeds of the lard type and of the bacon type. The plan of feeding has much to do with the class of market hogs produced. As an example, less corn and more oat and barley meal in the ration produces bacon, rather than lard in young hogs. The hogs known as lard breeds are Duroc, Jersey, Poland China, Chester White, Berkshire, Hampshire and Spotted Poland China. Those known as the true bacon breeds are the Tamworth and Yorkshire. These last named are not the only hogs that are produced our bacon.

Registration Deadline Oct. 29

Voters Not Registered in Township Should Enroll with Clerk Now.

October 29 is the deadline set for acceptance of registrations for voting in the state and county elections to be held November 8. Charles E. Patterson, in his capacity as clerk of Elkland Township, announced in an official notice in the Chronicle today.

In the notice, he says he will be in his business place daily from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m., for the purpose of receiving registrations.

Anyone who has been registered before and voted here in recent years need not re-register. However, any citizen whose name is not on the registration books of the township or any woman who has changed her name through marriage should come in and register by October 29.

Registration on the voting list of the village will not entitle a citizen to vote at the general election next month for such registration applies only to village elections.

ATTEND 104TH ANNUAL MEET OF MICHIGAN SYNOD

Rev. Paul J. Allured and J. L. Cathcart represented the Cass City Presbyterian Church when the 104th annual meeting of the Synod of Michigan Presbyterian Churches convened in the First Presbyterian Church in Saginaw for a three-day session, beginning Tuesday, October 11. Ministers and elders from Presbyterian Churches throughout the state were represented. The meeting opened at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday with a pre-synodical luncheon with the principal speaker, Dr. Smith Burnham, whose topic was "This Needy World."

At eight o'clock Tuesday evening, John Wirt Dunning, president of Alma College, presented an address dealing with the problems, projects and prospects of the school.

Rev. William Chalmers Covert, D. D., L. L. D., gave a historical address, "A Century in the Making." This address was in keeping with the centennial spirit, as the Saginaw church was observing its centennial celebration.

Another interesting speaker was Rev. Charles W. Welch, moderator of the General Assembly, who spoke at the Wednesday luncheon.

Hints for Subscribers Who Want to Be Up-to-Date

The subscription list of the Chronicle has been corrected to date and if the label of your paper does not read some time in the future you are invited to call and come across. For instance, "October 1938" means that your subscription has been paid to that date, so you can readily tell by the address label just how you stand. If the label is not as you think it should be, call and have it straightened out. You may also call if it is not as we think it should be.

DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT.

Norris W. Wilbur, Tuscola County Agricultural Agent, is in receipt of a list of approved sires offered for sale by Michigan dairymen.

The owners of these animals have their herds under test in county herd improvement associations. Sisters of these bulls will no doubt be under test in many cases during the coming year.

There are nine Guernseys, six Holsteins, and 10 Jerseys listed.

A Non-Partisan State News Letter
By GENE ALLEMAN
Michigan Press Association

Lansing—The idea of January will soon be here, and with them a bag of legislative problems will be dumped into the laps of newly-elected or re-elected senators and representatives.

Like the old Yule trade cry of only so many days before Christmas is the capitol calendar which reckons coming events according to the approach of the 1939 legislative session. And judging from the items already on the docket, Michigan lawmakers face a lengthy ordeal.

Here are some of the pressing matters:

Tax Revision

Revision of the Michigan tax structure is likely.

As voters twice rejected a state income tax, it is questionable whether a third attempt would prove any more successful than the previous ones.

The present state tax law on personal property has not been productive, due to difficulty of enforcement. The present state tax commission is known to be receptive to the idea of going after this lucrative field of intangibles.

The state gasoline tax of three cents a gallon may have to withstand legislative assaults. Several neighboring states have hiked this levy to four cents, diverting part of the proceeds for non-highway needs. Outcome of such a move would depend, of course, on what the voters do to amendment No. 3 on the referendum ballot—an amendment to prevent diversion of gas tax funds.

Marketing of Food

Growers of apples, potatoes and dairy products are considering legislative ways to promote the consumption of Michigan products through co-operative advertising and marketing.

The state department of agriculture is cooperating with a non-partisan legislative committee to draft bills along this line.

Success of similar efforts in Maine, Idaho, New York and Wisconsin is spurring the farm leaders. The state would match funds contributed by the growers in the form of a bushel or barrel tax. The Idaho Supreme Court recently upheld such a statute.

Labor Legislation

Regardless of the outcome of the November 8 balloting, Michigan is likely to get a labor relations law.

The hectic period of collective bargaining controversy has subsided, as employers generally recognize this right of labor. Both the present administration and the Fitzgerald ticket favor some machinery providing mediation for labor and industry. Murphy vetoed a labor relations bill in 1937 because of protests made chiefly by the C. I. O. and after house Democrats proclaimed the measure had been blessed by the A. F. of L.

Detroit is considering adoption of the Toledo plan for mediation whereby a board is created to serve whenever requested, for settlement of differences between employee and employer.

Gambling Again

Efforts will be renewed to license dog racing and slot machines probably under the excuse of providing needed revenues for welfare relief.

The dog racing bill was passed by the Democratic house in 1937, only to meet defeat in the senate. The slot machine bill proved to be too daring, however, and it went down. A group of legislators, headed by Rep. John Hamilton of Detroit, favor outright licensing by the state of gambling. Hamilton was a member of a special legislative committee that traveled about the state to focus public attention on this issue.

Unemployment Compensation

The present exemption in the state unemployment compensation law, whereby employers with eight or less employees do not have to pay a state tax, was an issue in the 1937 session. Frank Picard, chairman of the unemployment compensation commission, favors extending the benefits to all employees regardless of the present exemption.

Old age pensions are also under pressure for revision, critics maintaining that the present level is inadequate. The $30-every-Thurs-day plan has blown up, as far as we have been able to determine. The federal government's action through federal reserve board in declaring such state warrants unconstitutional and unacceptable put a wet rag officially on this movement.

But politicians are still mindful of the success here and there of the Townsend crusade. If business conditions improve in 1939, old age pensions may be revised upward.

Civil Service

Although the new civil service law strictly forbids solicitation of political funds from state employees, political figures are doing their best to circumvent it.

While the virtues of civil service are being proclaimed, the hat will be passed politely. A donation will be considered another way to prevent unemployment.

Few Types of Poisonous Snakes

There are only four types of poisonous snakes in the United States, the rattlesnake and its close relatives, the water moccasin and the copperhead and the harlequin or coral snake. There are a number of species of rattlesnake.

Silkworms Like White Mulberry

Silkworms will eat any mulberry leaf, but the white mulberry results in the finest silk. The white mulberry, a native of China, is found in many other countries. The red mulberry is a native of America.

Registration Notice

for General November Election, Tuesday, November 8, 1938.

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Elkland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law", the undersigned Township Clerk will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered who may Apply To Me Personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my store, within said township, on

Wednesday, October 19, 1938
the twentieth day preceding said election from 8 o'clock a. m. until 6 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of Reviewing the Registration and Registering such of the qualified electors in said township as Shall Properly Apply therefor,

Saturday, Oct. 29, 1938—Last Day
From 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. for General Registration by Personal Application for Said Election.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL Resident of the precinct at the time of said registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Dated October 8, A. D. 1938.

Union Jack Adopted in 1707

Britain's Union Jack, adopted as its national flag in 1707, combines the St. George cross of England with the St. Andrew cross of Scotland.

Hawthorn, Missouri's Flower

The official flower of Missouri is the hawthorn, of which there are more than 125 species growing in that state.

No Uniform Birds' Eggs

Birds' eggs have no uniform shape. The various types are: elliptical, elliptical-ovate, elongate-ovate, almost spherical, ovate and pyriform.

Silo Idea Ancient

The Romans had the idea of ensilage forage, and there is some evidence that silage was put up 2,000 years ago in what is now France. The modern silo seems to date from 1850, when August Gouffart, in France, began working with the idea. About 1875 he published the result of his experiments and was awarded the cross of the legion of honor.
