Methodist Churches Here to Have a New Minister

Rev. H. G. Bushong of Flint to Succeed Rev. Charles P. Bayless.

Rev. H. G. Bushong, pastor of the Lakeview Methodist Church in Flint, has been appointed to succeed Rev. Charles P. Bayless as minister of the Cass City and Bethel Methodist Churches, and will hold his first service here on Sunday morning. This will be held in the Cass City church, it having been decided recently to unite both congregations in all Sunday School and worship services during the months of July and August.

Rev. Mr. Bayless has been assigned to the pastorate of the Methodist Church in Durand and will preach his first sermon at his new appointment on Sunday morning. Pastor here for six years and president of both the Community Club and Christian Citizenship League and prominent in other community activities, Mr. Bayless, with Mrs. Bayless were honor guests at an open house event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Audley Kinnaird on Thursday evening, June 29, and sponsored by the members of both Methodist Churches here. Arrangements for this event were made by Mrs. I. A. Fritz, Mrs. J. A. Sandham and Miss Eleanor Bigelow, and the attendance was made inclusive for all the friends of the Bayless family in the community and was not confined to membership in the churches they served. The time was from 8:00 to 10:00 p. m.

Mr. Bushong, the new pastor here, was minister at Sandusky from 1929 to 1932, then went to Mills Memorial Church in Port Huron, and later to the Lakeview Methodist Church in Flint.

Rev. Ira W. Cargo, Methodist minister in Cass City who left here in 1927 to take the pastorate at Fenton, was transferred from Gladstone to Fowlerville by the state conference held at Adrian last week.

Rev. H. C. Elford is the new pastor of the Deford and Kingston churches and comes from Port Hope.

Rev. Waldron Geach, for 42 years a minister in the Detroit Conference, has retired and the position at Harbor Beach will be filled by Rev. Versile D. Bentley, who comes from the Epworth Church in Saginaw.

Other changes in pastorates made at the state conference at Adrian include the following:

Two County Parks Being Improved

Tuscola supervisors intend having a picnic this summer, and at their session this week, requested the county park committee to make the necessary arrangements and to set the date. It is probable that the picnic will be held at one of the two recently established Tuscola County parks.

Land for these pleasure spots on Saginaw Bay was donated a year ago. A 20-acre plot with a fine beach is located four miles west and three miles north of Unionville and is a gift from Clara Thomas. The other park donated by Mr. Vanderbilt is about the same size and is located north of Quinacassie. Roads which lead to the beaches in both parks have been constructed by the county road commission.

At the Thomas park, four diving boards in graduated heights have been erected on the channel bank. At the Vanderbilt site, there is a fine grove of oak and white ash and under their shade were pitched a few tents this week by the early patrons of the park.

Erection of buildings will be started in both parks within a few days, and while there is yet considerable work to be done in the way of improving the sites, it is expected that the places will be visited by many during the next few months.

Mail Contract Goes to St. Clair Man

The post office department has awarded the contract to carry mail between Sandusky and Saginaw to Oscar Meyer of St. Clair. The new mail service between these two points starts July 1. Two trips are made daily each way except Sundays and holidays.

The route will include delivery to and from Reese, Gifford, Fairgrove, Akron, Caro, Wilmet, Decker, Snover, Sandusky and Saginaw. The contract was let at a salary of $4,475.

APPOINTED PASTOR OF DURAND METHODIST CHURCH

REV. CHARLES P. BAYLESS minister of Methodist Churches at Cass City and Bethel for six years, has been appointed to fill the pastorate at Durand and will preach his first sermon there next Sunday.

Six Mails Daily at Cass City

New Bus Mail Route Is Established from Caro to Owendale.

Commencing July 1, the mail buses passing through Cass City on the routes from Bay City to Port Huron and Port Huron to Bay City will be discontinued and in their places will be a bus mail from Caro through Cass City and Gagetown to Owendale and return daily except Sundays and holidays. It is anticipated that the Detroit and Chicago mail received here by way of Bay City each morning will arrive at approximately the same time on the bus from Caro which makes close connections with a bus from Saginaw each morning.

The mail service twice each day from Imlay City and twice daily from Bad Axe will continue as at present.

Mail will leave the Cass City post office each day at approximately these hours, starting July 1:

To Owendale, 8:40 a. m.
To Caro, 3:00 p. m.
To Imlay City, 7:46 a. m. and 4:15 p. m.
To Bad Axe, 11:30 a. m. and 6:00 p. m.

Elkland's Valuation Increases $23,200

At the June session of the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors, Supervisor William Profit reported an increase of $23,200 in the property valuation of Elkland Township over that of 1938.

Real estate valuations, because of several new residences, increased from $1,448,115 to $1,458,915.

Personal property valuations totaled $154,650 in 1939, while last year the figure was $142,250.

In the personal valuation the larger total this year came mainly from a $7,000 increase for the Detroit Edison Company and a $5,000 boost in the valuation of E. B. Schwaderer's road building equipment.

Frank Lenhard, New Gagetown President

Frank Lenhard was chosen village president of Gagetown at a special session of the common council of that village Monday evening to serve during the unexpired term of the late George Munro, who was fatally injured in a fall from a barn on June 19.

Mr. Lenhard is a World War veteran and manager of the Wallace & Morley Company's elevator in Gagetown.

NEW ROTARY CLUB ORGANIZED AT SEBEWAING

A new Rotary Club has been organized at Sebewaing with the following officers: R. S. Wurm, president; J. E. Wurm, vice president; Dr. H. L. Burke, secretary-treasurer; L. C. Stowell, sergeant-at-arms. Other members are Dr. A. Bernthal, C. H. Bush, Dr. J. A. Caccamise, John Eisengruber, Richard Denner, Robert Joy, Paul Lovelace, Carl Lohrmann, H. G. Muellerweiss, Orvil H. Mast, Dr. John Ritsema, J. E. Schwalm, Erwin Schroeder and Dr. H. F. Thumme. The new Rotary Club is sponsored by the Bay City club. The charter was presented on Thursday evening.

1940 Triple A Wheat Program Is Announced

Individual Allotment Notices to Be Sent Out About July 15.

The 1940 wheat allotment for Tuscola County is 19,102 acres, according to an announcement made this week by J. M. Reagh, chairman of the Tuscola County Agricultural Conservation Committee. County wheat acreage allotments for 1940 represent an apportionment of the state allotment of 739,792 acres, which in turn represents Michigan's proportionate share of the National allotment of 62 million acres.

The 739,792 acre allotment for Michigan was established in accordance with the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. It compares with an allotment of 669,954 acres for 1939.

The Tuscola County wheat allotment is being announced nearly six weeks earlier than last year in order that farmers may have the opportunity to plan operations for 1940 well ahead of seeding time.

In announcing the county allotment, Mr. Reagh said that he believed the county office would be able to notify farmers in the county of their individual allotments by the middle of July.

The Tuscola County basic wheat loan rate for farm storage of the 1939 crop was also made known this week. The basic rate of Red Winter, Hard Winter and Soft Winter Wheat, No. 2 grade with a maximum moisture content of 14 per cent, will be 70 cents per bushel. The loan value on mixed wheat or wheat with a moisture content between 14 and 14½ per cent will be two cents per bushel below the established rate. Smutty and garlicky wheat also will be subject to a lower loan value, ranging from 3 to 6 cents less than the basic rate of 70 cents.

Crop insurance on wheat planted this fall will be available to those farmers who plant within their 1940 wheat acreage allotments. Last fall, 5,077 farmers insured 75 per cent of their average production. State crop insurance officials expect the number to be at least doubled this fall. Active selling of Federal Crop Insurance will start in August.

Harbec-Harrison Nuptials Saturday

Joseph Harbec, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Harbec, of Greenleaf Township, and Miss Martha Harrison of Detroit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Harrison, of Cass City, were quietly married Saturday, June 24, in Bowling Green, Ohio, by E. B. Bailey.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kociel of Detroit, the latter being a sister of the groom.

The bride wore a street length gown of blue lace and chiffon with white accessories. Mrs. Kociel was attired in white.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbec returned to Cass City Saturday night.

Mr. Harbec is employed by the E. B. Schwaderer Construction Company and Mrs. Harbec works in the office of the Sani-Wash Laundry Company in Detroit and will continue to be employed there. She graduated from Cass City High School in 1936 and attended Detroit Business Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Harrison will entertain in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harbec at a reception in their home on Third Street Saturday evening.

Dr. H. T. Donahue Chooses Associate

Dr. John G. Brazer is now associated with Dr. H. Theron Donahue at Pleasant Home Hospital. Following graduation from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1935, Dr. Brazer has been associated with the Department of Medicine at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor and for the past two years has been a member of the teaching staff of the Department of Medicine.

Guess This One?

Taken When We Were Young

Last week's picture was also an easy one to determine, only two incorrect guesses being among the dozen estimates submitted.

The ten who said it was Frank McGregory included Roy Kitchin, C. J. Striffler, Miss Marie Darling, Mrs. Thomas Colwell, Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, Mrs. Lena Parrish, Mrs. Minnie Skrine, A. H. Henderson, O. A. Ferguson and Herbert Greenleaf.

Dennis O'Connor guessed Giles Fulcher and T. J. Auten thought it was Charles Evens.

And today's picture is—?

Runaway Horse and Milk Cart Damage Two Automobiles

"It's bound to bring a laugh when I put in my claim," remarked Dr. B. H. Starmann Monday. He was referring to the reception his application for damages would bring in the insurance company's office when he placed a claim for harm done to his car which had been hit by a horse-drawn milk cart Monday morning. Richard Brewer, employed at Sommers' Bakery, had his car parked in the same block and his automobile also had a fender damaged in the runaway.

The excitement started when some children frightened J. E. Seed's horse and it broke from its fastening at the east side of the Folkert Store, dashed southeast across the street, ran down the sidewalk for nearly a block, and after hitting the two cars, broke from the milk cart and ran home.

Comedy might have turned to tragedy had not Joe Diaz and J. I. Niergarth grabbed two little boys from out of the path of the runaway to spots of safety.

Burgess Station Has Paved Driveway

Pavement for a double driveway leading from M-81 to the Burgess Gas and Oil Station has been laid within the past week and a single driveway was constructed from the station to the large storage tanks on the property. Seventy-five barrels of cement were used on the job.

It was expected to put the finishing touches on the project Thursday, but the heavy downpour of rain early that morning interfered with the planned program of work.

Stafford Boys Have Interest in Reed City Theatre

Nile and Norris Stafford of Cass City hold an interest with C. H. Schuckert of Caro in the motion picture theatre at Reed City and it will be known as the Schuckert-Stafford Theatre. Norris Stafford will be the manager in charge there.

A number of improvements will be made which will include a new neon sign, a new wide range sound and projector.

SEEGER-KRAHLING.

A quiet wedding took place on Monday evening, June 19, in the Evangelical Church parsonage on Van Dyke Avenue in Detroit when Mrs. Alma Krahling was united in marriage with Andrew J. Seeger, both of Cass City. Rev. William Kotesky officiated.

The couple, who were unattended, left on a week's trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and New York City. At New York City, they attended the World's Fair.

For her wedding, Mrs. Krahling wore a street-length gown of gray rose lace with white accessories. For traveling, she wore a suit of Oxford gray.

Three New School Teachers Are Engaged Here

Vacancies in the Grades Caused by Resignations Have Been Filled.

Three new instructors have been engaged to commence their duties when the Cass City Schools open in September.

Florence Rosenow of Ludington will be the new teacher of the second grade. Miss Rosenow is a graduate of Western State Teachers' College in Kalamazoo and has been an instructor in the public schools at Custer.

Miss Doris Boersma, of Mt. Pleasant and a graduate of Central State Teachers' College in that city, will teach the third grade.

Miss Ruth Richards will be the instructor in the fifth grade. She graduated from the Michigan State Normal School in Ypsilanti and has taught a number of years in the North Branch School.

These three young ladies take the places of Misses Marion Hopkins, Erma Flint and Ruth W. Hile, who tendered their resignations to the board of education several weeks ago.

DEDICATION OF FLAG POLE AT SHERIDAN SUNDAY

A patriotic program with Alex Guyeau and Donald Clark, both of Bad Axe, as speakers will be given at the St. Columbkille Catholic Church grounds in Sheridan on Sunday, July 2, at 2:00 p. m., the occasion being the dedication of a new flag pole. Dinner will be served after the program.

School Census in Tuscola County Shows a Loss in 1939

The count of school children was taken in a census last May to determine the number of children from five to 19 years of age in each district in order to fix the amount of the apportionment of the state primary school fund. Compilations of the count are being made in the office of County School Commissioner B. H. McComb and to date the figures of 11 graded school districts in Tuscola County are available. Only three, Akron, Gagetown and Millington, show an increase over the census of 1938.

The following is a list of graded schools where the census enumerations have been checked, with the 1938 and 1939 totals:

| | | |
|------------|------|------|
| Kingston | 1939 | 1938 |
| | 124 | 133 |
| Millington | 254 | 252 |

4-H CLUB CLOTHING JUDGING TEAM SELECTED

The following girls were selected at the recent County 4-H Clothing Judging Contest, held in the Caro M. E. Church on June 14, to represent Tuscola County at an elimination contest held at Michigan State College, on August 18 and 19: Thelma Powell, Kingston; Naomi Neal, Kingston; Anna Kupiec, Kingston; Jean Neal, Kingston; alternate, Eleanor Jones, Kingston. Best teams will be selected to judge clothing at the State Fair.

ELECTRICAL EXAMS FOR THUMB HERE TODAY

Cass City, centrally located in the Thumb of Michigan territory, was considered a most advantageous point for holding the examination for journeymen electricians and electrical contractors in the district. So today (Friday) will find electricians from the city of Port Huron and five counties, Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair, writing on exams in the Youth Center here, which if passed satisfactorily, will permit them to either follow the trade as journeymen or to enter business as contractors.

Journeymen applicants are required to take a practical quiz and write papers on three subjects.

RETURNED TO GAGETOWN AS METHODIST MINISTER

REV. WESLEY DAFOE

has served the Methodist Protestant Church at Gagetown for five years and was returned to that church as minister by the conference of the united Methodist Church held at Adrian last week.

Here and There Around the Thumb

Items Gathered from the Chronicle Exchanges and from Other Sources.

Harbor Beach—A number of interesting events have occurred in connection with the retirement of Rev. Waldron Geach from the active ministry, after having served for forty-two years in the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church, the last fourteen years of which has been spent in the local church of that denomination.

Bad Axe—A 10% payment to holders of participation certificates of the segregated and substituted assets of the State Bank of Frank W. Hubbard & Company amounting to $40,000 was made Monday. This payment will bring the total to 75% of the total deposits.

Sebewaing—A Washington news dispatch says that the Senate commerce committee approved and recommended the passage of a bill authorizing $407,855,600 for rivers and harbors projects. Added to the bill carrying the appropriation was the Sebewaing River flood control project of $250,000.

Vassar—Mr. and Mrs. Edward James will leave Vassar in August for Athens, Georgia, where Mr. James has accepted a position as assistant professor of Farm Crops.

4-H Club Milk Marketing Tour

Seven 4-H dairy club members from Tuscola County attended the annual 4-H Milk Marketing Tour, sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association, on Thursday and Friday, June 22 and 23. This tour was open to all 4-H dairy club members who have production projects and who are 15 years of age or over.

The following boys were on the tour and were accompanied by H. D. Parish, district 4-H Club leader, and Norris W. Wilber, county agricultural agent: James Russell, Fairgrove; Francis Kirk, Fairgrove; Lee Ensign, Kingston; Harry Hess, Vassar; Junior Strieter, Unionville; Emory Mileski, Kingston; Burwin Wilcox, Kingston.

Each of these boys is required to write an essay concerning the methods used in marketing milk. The boy writing the winning essay will have his expenses paid to the National Dairy Show at San Francisco, California. A total of 66 boys were on the tour.

PUBLIC HYMN SING AND SACRED BAND CONCERT

A public hymn sing, sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Union of Tuscola County, will be held at the Caro Fairgrounds, Sunday, July 9, at 3:00 p. m. Christian youth will march from the courthouse to the grounds at 2:30 p. m. A sacred band concert will be a part of the program. All are welcome, officers of the county union say.

Village Taxes Are Now Due. Starting Tuesday, July 4, village taxes may be paid at the Bigelow Hardware on Tuesday and Friday of each week. A. N. Bigelow, Treasurer.—Advertisement.

Mileage Restored to Tuscola County Deputy Sheriffs

The County Health Unit Project Is a Problem for the Hospital Committee.

Three part time deputy sheriffs appeared before the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors at their June session which started Monday and requested that mileage be allowed them on trips to and from work when called on duty by the county sheriff. The privilege of collecting mileage by deputy sheriffs was discontinued by the board at an earlier session this year. The request was referred to the committee on officers' salaries and the committee recommended that the collection of mileage charges be restored. Their report was adopted by the board.

Dog record cards were ordered checked and those on which no dog tax has been paid are to be turned over to the sheriff.

County Treasurer Arthur Willits was allowed an additional $50 for clerical help, bringing the appropriation from $150.00 to $200.00 per month. Mr. Willits was instructed by the board to send out notices to all delinquent tax payers.

Four hundred dollars were appropriated for the month of June to take care of the deficit in the Emergency Relief Administration office.

Register of Deeds Alger Bush was authorized to attend the state convention of registers at Traverse City, July 6, 7 and 8, with expenses paid by the county.

The matter of establishing a health unit in Tuscola County was left to the hospital committee of the board to determine.

The session on Wednesday afternoon was adjourned early to permit supervisors to join with county officers in a journey to a party at Finzel's Lakeside Inn at Port Austin for a fish dinner, some entertainment and a get-acquainted meeting. General problems of supervisors and public officials were slated for discussion. Invitations were sent to supervisors and county officials of the seventh congressional district.

Church Spire Downed After 55 Years

The spire on the Evangelical Church was removed this week and the appearance of that part of the edifice pointing toward the heavens has been changed after a lapse of five years more than a half century.

Painting the woodwork of the exterior of the building brought to the attention the need for repairs on the church steeple and it was decided to tear down the part above the bell house. This will eliminate the hazardous job of painting the spire and will tend to modernize the structure.

McKENZIE-SCHENCK.

William McKenzie and Mrs. Alma Schenck, both of Cass City, were quietly married at 7:30 p. m. Friday, June 23, in the Evangelical parsonage by the pastor, Dr. R. N. Holsapple.

They were attended by Miss Ruth Schenck, daughter of the bride, and Miss Mildred Schwegler.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie left the same night for Jackson, where they visited Mrs. McKenzie's son, Donald Schenck, and from there left on a trip up the west coast going as far north as Sault Ste. Marie. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Mr. McKenzie is a prosperous Elkland Township farmer and Mrs. McKenzie has been employed in the local post office for a number of years.

Miss Gertrude Striffler of Detroit will fill the position of postal clerk here left vacant by the resignation of her sister, Mrs. McKenzie.

To Enforce Fireworks Law in the County

Sheriff George Jeffrey and Prosecuting Attorney Timothy C. Quinn are calling the attention of the public to the state law against the use and sale of firecrackers and state that this law will be enforced in Tuscola County.

The law states that "any person who shall offer for sale, expose for sale, or sell at retail, give, furnish, use, explode, or cause to explode any fireworks, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

BIRTHDAY OF A NATION.

When the fathers declared independence of Great Britain on July 4, 1776, the chances for the little republic were not good. The idea of a democratic republic had been entertained previously by philosophers, and experiments in maintaining such a system had been tried before, but without permanent success.

When republics have failed, it is because the people were not sufficiently intelligent and conscientious to make that form of government a success. The founders of our government based their actions on a supreme confidence in the sense and honesty of the people. They assumed that the majority of the people will prefer honesty to dishonesty, and that they will have enough practical sense so they will not be fooled by selfish and designing men.

The fact that our government has lasted 150 years, while many republican governments have perished, proved that in the main the fathers were right. To maintain this government with its liberty and justice, the American people have to develop a patriotic spirit that shall be equal to that manifested by the fathers.

The independence of the United States is the principal cause of whatever welfare we have in our land. Under American freedom, the pioneers were inspired to conquer the wild forest and the sandy deserts, and to bring this great land into productivity and to produce wealth to an extent never equalled before. Freedom and liberty have allowed us to develop whatever talents we have, and have given us the finest system of schools the world ever saw. They have promoted scientific development that has filled our homes with comforts and luxuries. The country may well celebrate its birthday on July Fourth with enthusiasm, and resolve that it will never abandon the principles which our fathers handed down to us.

GETTING OUT THE VOTE.

Kiwanis Clubs are planning a nation-wide campaign next year to get out the vote for the 1940 election, without regard to party lines. In some cities telephone operators will call up the homes and offices. Through newspapers, churches, and public meetings, the effort will be made to arouse the people from the apathy which so often prevails.

The failure of many millions to exercise this privilege is one of the mysteries of American conduct. Our fathers fought to obtain this privilege, yet many of our people can't remember to exercise it, or will not take the trouble to do so.

Probably the principal reason is the feeling expressed by the remark, "My one vote won't make any difference." If people failed to pay their taxes because their one tax would make no difference, the whole structure of government would break down. Popular government is not a self-perpetuating machine which will run indefinitely even if many people fail to attend to it.

DAIRY WEEK.

National dairy week reminds one of increased care taken in selecting dairy stock. We recall the time when a cow was just a cow, and when its lineage was not regarded important in connection with milk production. We have milked cows that were so ugly they would kick out the side of a barn. We found the kick from an ill-natured cow, while relieving her of lacteal fluid, was not gentle caress. Testing to guard against diseases is eminently essential. Facilities for handling milk and converting it into edible form—cream, butter, and cheese—have been wonderfully improved. And nothing contributes more to health and a satisfied appetite than dairy products.—Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

RICHES.

"How much money did he leave?" is often the first question asked when a man dies. That's no way to judge any one. You may save but little money in life, but if you have saved a lot of heartaches for other people you are a rich man indeed.

Modern wives are far more inclined to mend a man's ways than his socks.

YOUR SCHOOL PROBLEM.

Most parents in Michigan are interested in their children's education. And some of them are acutely upset over the question of state revenues to the schools. The proposed school budget of $45,000,000 if cut seven or eight million dollars may work hardships in some districts. Yet, as one legislator says, "How can we appropriate money which we don't have, if we intend to stay within our budget and not levy new taxes."

The deep concern which we have heard many people express over this situation and its effect on the schools has made us feel that at last the tax problem has come home to average people. We could publish statistics daily about the hidden taxes on a loaf of bread, about the $25 in tax a man pays yearly on his cigarettes if he smokes a package per day, etc. We could daily remind folks that one-third of their income goes for taxes right now and most of them would scarcely give such facts a second thought.

But now with constantly increasing costs of government, with revenues in the millions, people are surprised that the project closest to them all—the schools—must suffer for lack of funds.

This dilemma may become a boon to Michigan if it awakens the average citizen to the tax situation. Ear marking large sums for more roads (as the voters did last fall) while the children's education suffers is scarcely a mark of a progressive state. A thorough investigation into the tax situation now will avert such a serious situation in the future. A united movement on the part of every civic-minded person and group will do the trick.

WORKING OFF THE FAT.

The white man's burden of excessive weight seems to have descended on the famous Dionne quintuplets at a very early age, as it has been decided they are a little too fat. Hence they have cut down on starchy foods, and potatoes are out for them, for the present anyway. Under their highly competent medical care, the dieting will no doubt do them good, and help them get a start for a long and healthy life.

Many people who are troubled by an excess of weight will wish they had started dieting at an equally early age. Perhaps if they had, they would not now have to carry these overloads of flesh.

The ways of nature in placing flesh on the bones of man are mysterious. Some people eat freely, and are thin, and some eat sparingly and are overweight. Some human bodies eagerly grasp every item of food value and add it to their substance, while others reject this nutrition, and grow into a lank and bony figure.

The modern world, particularly women and girls, dreads excess weight. Many people run risks of semi-starvation in their effort to keep their weight down. The girls seem to think the slender and willowy form is the one that fascinates the world, and shows off clothes to the best advantage.

It would seem that an active and vigorous life should help keep down weight. If people are working energetically on farms and in gardens, running over the house to do housework, playing strenuous tennis and golf, dancing considerably, taking long walks, it would seem that the surplus weight would be less likely to become a burden. Some may say that such exercise develops a big appetite, so the additional food consumed might help them grow fat. The folks who are worrying about excess weight would better go to their doctor, and let him decide what they should do.

BATHING COSTUMES.

What would the old timers of the beginning of this century have said, if they could have seen in advance the scanty bathing costumes of today? It would have seemed to their modest minds that the world was deteriorating.

The modern world is keen on physical well being. It says that men and women, boys and girls, should have every opportunity for healthful exercise. As the bathing dress of years ago made swimming difficult, the old ideas were modified, and people now have a large degree of freedom on the beach. Local custom will have to decide how far they may go in such brevity of attire, but the world will never go back to swimming clothes that interfere with the free movement of the body.

Strive always to be fair, remembering that those who don't think as you do have a perfect right to their foolish and illogical opinions.

Lansing—What happens when a state goes broke?

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown gives the answer in these words: "It goes broke when its total cash on hand will not cover the total of checks drawn or to be drawn."

Just that has happened to the State of Michigan which has finally reached the end of its financial rope.

Therein is an interesting story of how the state government has gradually assumed, more and more, the financial responsibility of maintaining services in counties, school districts, and cities, and how increased spending has drained dry the till.

Auditor General Brown presents the picture frankly, comparing the state's budget needs with those of the average family which must stretch income to meet expenses or incur an embarrassing deficit and prospect of bankruptcy.

Once Self-Supporting

"Back in 1933 the local units of government were self-supporting," the state official explains in an article prepared for the Ingham County News at Mason, of which he is the publisher.

"Perhaps these might also be called the uncles and aunts who came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Michigan. Or perhaps these local units of government might be the married children and their offspring coming to live with their parents. In any event, the total of all revenues collected by the state and transmitted to counties, cities and school districts prior to 1932 did not exceed $40,000,000 a year.

"In 1938 almost exactly one-half of all the money the state of Michigan collected, more than a hundred million dollars, was earmarked and by law was merely collected for and turned over to counties, school districts, cities and townships to be spent by local officials for purposes which formerly were supported entirely from taxes spread locally by local officials or for new purposes conceived since the state at large became a Santa Claus.

"New school aids provided since 1933 consume more than $25,000,000 a year. Demands of county and city relief commissions, always before 1933 supported from local taxes alone, each year absorb nearly $40,000,000 of state cash. Another $30,000,000 goes direct and immediately into county road coffers.

State Increase Slight

"So when one deducts this $65,000,000 of new grants-in-aid set up since 1933, plus increased aid to county road commissions since 1932, it is discovered that the actual increase in those functions of state government which existed back in 1933 costs but slightly more than then.

"Now let us go back and get these figures in mind once again. Expenses piling up. Income going down. How many people have faced this condition in their own affairs during recent years! What did they do about it? They cut expenses, or faced disaster. The careful business man who faced that condition either stimulated his business income or cut his expenses to what he took in.

"The state has not done that. Faced with a suddenly reduced state income when the strikes aimed their deadly blows at business back in 1937, the state took on new and added obligations and spent more than ever. The legislature blithely appropriated an extra $10,000,000 for relief when its coffers were already empty. That was merely legalizing embezzlement because in order to pay the bills, trust funds were used.

"And that leads up to the next step in our study.

"Michigan's constitution is very rigid in certain respects. It provides that receipts from certain specific taxes must be applied to certain specific purposes. For instance, railroad, telephone, utility and similar taxes go into the primary school interest fund to be divided among the school districts strictly in accordance with constitutional mandate. Motor vehicle and gasoline taxes are very definitely earmarked for road maintenance and improvement and cannot be expended otherwise. They should not be even borrowed for general fund expenditures, but unfortunately they are.

Borrowing from Peter

"The last sentence in the foregoing paragraph shows how the state can get so far in the red and still pay. The state merely puts these trust fund revenues temporarily in its general fund and uses the money to pay its current bills whenever the revenues intended and provided for general fund expenses fall below its general fund expenses.

"But there finally comes a time in state management just as it will in private venture when this practice leads to grief. It has happened in Michigan.

"Last January the general fund deficit stood in excess of $10,000,000. Expenses and demands upon the state since that day have each and every day exceeded daily receipts available for general fund purposes. On the last day of this present month of 1939, the general fund deficit will exceed $31,000,000. This condition is unavoidable and inescapable.

"The state can do this because its total trust fund balances exceed this sum. Red ink is offset by black ink.

Not All Funds in Cash

"But that does not explain how the state can go broke and not be able to meet its bills. Well, the explanation of this is the fact the state does not have all its funds in cash. The law provides that sinking funds carried against outstanding state obligations—highway bonds voted back in 1921, war and soldier bonus bonds, et cetera—must be invested in interest-bearing securities. This is indeed fortunate. Otherwise when the state bonds fall due there would be nothing from which to pay them and the people would thus be taxed a second time to pay the debts they represent.

"What happened last week, then, when the state went broke? Well, one morning there came into the hands of the auditor general with instructions to pay it out, all in strict accordance with law, a warrant for more than $2,000,000. The auditor general naturally inquired of the treasurer how his liquid cash stood. The auditor general found that there was only $3,400,000 cash on deposit in all the banks of the state in which the state treasurer carries his deposits.

How It Happened

"The books of the auditor general showed that checks totaling more than $2,000,000 had already been sent out but had not yet been presented to the treasury for payment. You know—outstanding warrants. Payrolls for the half-month were in preparation. These payrolls for nearly 17,000 state employees call for another million. That left less than a half million cash on hand.

"The auditor general already had held up nearly a million in refunds to cities and townships due them under the liquor control act. He also held about $650,000 of overdue bills for hospital and surgical services rendered under the afflicted and crippled children's acts, awaiting the signing of a deficiency bill passed by the legislature. He knew these hospitals were in desperate need of the money. He knew that every working day there go out from his office more than 4,000 checks to aged dependents—old age assistance checks—and they certainly must be paid. He knows that county welfare units must have state cash to meet the requirements of those in need. He knows that nearly 40,000 inmates of state institutions—penal, charitable, mental and corrective—must be fed, housed, clothed and guarded. "So this is how a state goes broke."

What Is to Be Done?

In the judgment of the state auditor general, Michigan has "two ways to crawl out of the hole."

1. Have the legislature balance the budget. This means denial of demands from "pressure groups" for spending of state funds in excess of reasonable revenue expectations.

2. "Then at some time the revenues of the state might increase and the red ink items might be wiped off. Failing in this, the people, with the current budget balanced, might some day forget and forgive and authorize the issuance of time bonds to retire the old debts."

As for new taxes, legislators will probably hesitate a long time before resorting to this unpopular step. A bond issue, Mr. Brown also feels, would face certain defeat is a state referendum.

The legislature, meeting yesterday (June 29) for final adjournment, has a "pretty kettle of fish" to stew, anyway you look at it. The auditor general's statement fully emphasizes the difficult task with which legislators today are confronted.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE MANY OPPORTUNITIES TODAY

"It is to you young people that America must look for the future development of the country," said Walter P. Chrysler in speaking to a group of sons of Chrysler employees, but his words apply to young people everywhere.

"It is up to you to make something of your country and yourselves. You have a wonderful opportunity and do not believe anyone who tells you differently.

"There never was such a chance for up-and-coming young fellows as there is today, but no one other than yourselves can develop the future for you. There is no stopping the progress of America and you young people are the most important factors in making this the kind of country it can and should be.

"The opportunities today are as great as they ever were. I remember when I was a boy of your age, people also said there were few chances for a young fellow who wanted to go places and get somewhere. I was a poor boy and had to work hard. I did not make much money for a good many years. That, however, may be a good thing for a young fellow.

"I certainly never thought in those days that I would be the head of a great corporation nor that I would have the opportunity of erecting a large structure like the Chrysler building. It just shows that you can do if you try hard. Remember that to be successful in any line of endeavor you have to put a real effort into it.

"Furthermore, if you don't give something to the other fellow, you cannot expect the other fellow to help you or give you anything in return. Give of yourself, put all you have into your activities, whether they are sports, studies or work, and you will find that your efforts will be amply repaid. So keep smiling, don't get discouraged and always do your best."

(WNU Service).

Evangelical Church—R. N. Holsapple, Minister. Sunday, July 2, and the week following:

CASS CITY

"VACATION LAND" ENHANCED BY NYA PRODUCTS

The romance of Michigan—"Land of Hiawatha"—is aptly proved by the tremendous volume of tourist business done each year. Filled with lakes, falls, rivers, forests, parks, historic remnants of pioneer days, and steeped in Indian Lore, Michigan each year attracts visitors from all parts of North America and this business is second only to the automotive industry in state income. The job of maintaining all this includes the construction and servicing of numerous roadside parks, picnic tables, rest rooms, tourist information booths, rustic markers, historic monuments, and Indian artwork. The National Youth Administration is busy doing this work for the convenience and satisfaction of millions of summer visitors. The pictures show some of the products of this NYA work: a tourist booth at Manistee; construction of roadside tables in an Upper Peninsula workshop; and examples of rustic markers and historic monuments.

GAGETOWN

Senior Class Returns—

The 1939 senior class returned Thursday evening from their class trip of eight days. Enroute they viewed Niagara Falls, the Welland Canal, Queenstown Hydro-Electric Plant and Taugahannock Falls. The drive along the Hudson River to New York was especially enjoyable on account of the picturesque scenery. This drive is considered one of the most interesting scenic drives in the world, especially along the Catskill Mountains.

While in New York their means of transportation was by bus and subway. Highlights during their stay in New York were a visit to Radio City, tour through China Town, the Bowery, Wall Street, the Battery, an evening in Harlem, a tour of the Queen Mary boat, a boat trip to Staten Island affording a splendid view of the city, and a view of the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. The seniors went to the Roseland Ballroom and the Cotton Club where they heard and saw some of the radio celebrities. Sufficient attention was given the World's Fair.

The trip home was made by the way of the Catskill Mountains, making a tour of the Howe Taverns as their last place of interest.

Those who made the trip were Genevieve Downing, Vernita Bliss, Patricia Kelly, Maxwell Leiterman, Thomas Downing, Joseph O'Rourke, Luther Murray, Miss Agnes McIntyre, language teacher, and Supt. and Mrs. D. A. Crawford.

Carroll Hunter, son of Mrs. C. P. Hunter, was one of the class graduating from the American School of Embalming in New York City. Graduating exercises were held on Saturday morning. Mr. Hunter is taking an extra three weeks' course and upon his return will be associated with the Hunter Funeral Home.

Those from a distance attending the funeral of the late George Munro were Mrs. James Brown, Gordon Brown and John Brown of Ailsa Craig, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Matt Holmes and Mrs. Richard Craig of Samia, Ontario; George Munro of Strathroy, Ontario; John Munro and daughter, Elsie, of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McLean, Maurice McLean, Mrs. Jean Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. William Keeler and Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Brown, all of Battle Creek; Mrs. Bert Baker of Hope, Michigan; Mrs. Anna Miller of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Seekings and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Litsch of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Caro.

Saturday guests at the J. L. Purdy home were Mrs. Marion Cojocari, son, Michael, and daughter, Florence, and M. K. Smith of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Purdy enjoyed their dinner Sunday at the Log Cabin, Sebawaing, and spent the afternoon and evening with friends at Rose Island.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Wood and family spent Sunday at the State Park.

Miss Evelyn Ann Sias and Misses Marion and Marjorie LaFave were Sunday guests at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. George Purdy at Rose Island.

Miss Laurie Beardsley of Ellington is a guest this week of Misses Iva and Meadie Karr.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred of Bay City spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Fischer and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fischer.

Mrs. Floyd Laurie and daughter, Eleanor, of Royal Oak visited Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McCree last week.

Franklin McComb and son, Charles, of Portsmouth, Ohio, came Saturday for a few weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hobart and Clayton Hobart.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Rocheleau and Miss Catherine LaFave, Mrs. C. P. Hunter, Mrs. Alfred Secoir and daughter, Mary Margaret, John Weiler and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Lenhard of Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cornell of Grayling spent from Saturday until Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Freeman. The Cornells will spend the summer at Harbor Spring.

Mrs. Clara Bothwell and son, Nelson, of Detroit were guests of Mrs. C. P. Hunter and family from Friday until Sunday.

John Karner of Essexville was a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Weller.

The remains of George Mulloy of Detroit, 54, brother of Mrs. Michael Ryan and Miss Bernice Mulloy, were brought to Gagetown Saturday by the Hunter boys for burial in St. Agatha's Cemetery. Funeral services were held in St. Agatha's Church Saturday morning with Rev. Fr. McCullough officiating.

Angus McKenzie, who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Peter McDonald, returned to his home in Lucknow, Ontario, Tuesday.

Mrs. Earl Hurd went to Pontiac Sunday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wachner.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton George and son of Pontiac were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Quinn and family and Miss Helen Quinn of Detroit were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinn. Helen remained for a week's visit with her parents.

Mrs. Agnes O'Rourke is spending the week in Detroit visiting relatives.

Karr's Standard Service

East Main Street, Cass City

ONLY 10c A DAY

provides 60 gallons of electric hot water!

"Here's the biggest bargain in comfort and convenience you've ever bought for your family," enthuses this helpful fellow, Electric Hot Water. "If your home is the 1 out of 12 that enjoys an automatic supply of hot water, you'll never be kept waiting. Just turn the faucet, and there is your hot water on tap—to speed up dishwashing, cooking, bathing, shaving, the laundry and other household tasks. Electric water heating is really very economical. Your furnace coil, for example, does not provide 'free' hot water. By actual laboratory test, one shovel of coal in every five goes merely to heat water. Ask about the advantages of automatic electric water heating at any Detroit Edison office." The Detroit Edison Company.

LETTERS

From Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Van. Johannesburg, Transvaal, South Africa, May 19, 1939.

Dear Mrs. Bailey and family,

We want to tell you how much we've enjoyed the clippings of your articles in the Chronicle, which mother sent to us, regarding our trip.

We've just come back from the most exciting bit of our journey so far and thought you might enjoy hearing about our experiences.

After camping ten days in the National Park, a resort at the foot of Mt. aux Sources in the Drakensberg Mountains, we wanted to get a look at some wild game. Decided on Giants' Castle Game Reserve where the only existing herd of Cape Eland are to be found.

We left Estcourt, after inquiring the way and receiving a penciled map from a garage owner, about 2:00 p. m. With only 43 miles to go to reach Mr. Barnes, the game conservator, we figured we had plenty of time to find him and pitch camp before dark. Had we known what was in store for us, driving into "Boss" Barnes place, I'm afraid we wouldn't have risked it.

As it was, we left full of good cheer and the hopes of seeing this almost extinct type of Eland. The first 15 miles or so weren't so bad but from there on the so-called road grew steadily worse. Don't know whether driving due west into the setting sun over grass covered lowlands with barely a track to follow; or ascending mountain sides with 1 in 3 ascents over rock and boulder strewn roads, meant only for oxen, was worst. Anyway after a fourth try at one particularly steep place before reaching the crest I thought back on our drive over ice covered roads to New York last December and decided that seemed like child's play.

We finally reached "Boss" Barnes (as the natives call him) at seven o'clock—a little better than an hour after dark. They, he and his wife, were speechless when we drove into the yard, for we learned from them an auto hadn't been in there for months and months. In fact only seven autos had ever reached his place.

What a lovely welcome we received—tea, home-made bread and butter in front of a roaring fire—for the mountains are very chilly as soon as the sun goes down. All this along with the cordial greetings of the owners.

The few days we spent with them were marvelous; filled with hikes and climbs to see Bushman Paintings, hundreds of years old, in caves nearby; riding Basuto ponies, the surest footed animals, over the rolling foothills and up the green valleys. When one is out riding all day through this scenery the hills seem to roll on forever—and they do go on for about 150 miles. I got so that every time I saw a crevice in the hills studded with green trees I could almost hear the mountain stream singing and leaping on its way to the Indian Ocean, for there always is a stream in a place like this.

We saw what we went for—Cape Eland—in fact a couple of times, with the wind in our favor we rode close enough for Van to take snapshots. Do hope they turn out well. We saw Vall Rheubuck and Oripi. The latter are the fastest buck known. They've been paced 65 miles per hour by a motor car. No—we didn't get pictures of these! What a thrill it was to see the different species in their natural home. They are such graceful animals—a beautiful sight to see.

The capping climax came the morning we left. It rained all night—a soft steady rain which the people call a "Land's Rain." At 7:30 a. m., I went out to see if there was a possibility of its clearing so we could attempt the drive down to civilization. (Here, we were 8,000 feet above sea level). A hole in the mountain mists and clouds showed me the "Berg," as they call the mountain range. I could hardly believe my eyes when I decided what was sparkling on the other side of the cloud bank with the sun shining brightly on the mountain top—was snow. It was a gorgeous sight. As the clouds rolled away, I could see snow on several of the mountain ranges—some 12,000 feet high.

We left about eleven, after bidding our host and hostess an appreciative farewell. The drive that had taken five hours before now took only three hours. We were stuck in the low wet places twice. Fortunately there were natives nearby who helped push us out. We then persuaded them to ride on the running board with us in case we got stuck again. We had no occasion to use their brawn again and finally paid them off in small silver, candy and cigarettes. It was quite an experience and we enjoyed it thoroughly.

Enough of our wanderings! Though the main roads are good asphalt or gravel there is a tremendous road building campaign on. Just wish Chick Schwaderer was over to show them how a road really should be built!

I hear your family is increasing what with marriages and births. My congratulations to both the newly-weds and the new parents.

We hope this finds you all in the best of health. Sincerely, Van and Carolyn.

Family Reunions

Robinson-Lowe Reunion.

Sixty-three members of the Robinson and Lowe families from Innwood and Alvinston, Ontario, Detroit, Uby, Filion, Pontiac, Caro, Argyle and Cass City held their annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Robinson, Sunday, June 25.

After a basket picnic dinner at noon, a fine program was presented which included readings by Shirley Watson, Margaret Elliott and Mrs. Arthur White, musical numbers by the Hamilton Brothers of Pontiac, and games.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Amos Lowe, Uby; vice president, Stanley Tripp, Dutton, Ont.; Canadian secretary, Mrs. Josephine Sanderson, Petrolia, Ont.; American secretary, Mrs. Milford Robinson, Tyre.

The next family reunion will be held at Marysville Park, the second Sunday of June, 1940.

Cooper Family.

Thirty-four relatives were present Sunday, June 18, when a Cooper reunion was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper in Marlette. The entire family of Jesse Cooper was present except three grandchildren and one great-granddaughter. Relatives were present from Browning, Montana; Cut Bank, Montana; Detroit, Drayton Plains, Kingston, Marlette and Cass City. Dinner was served on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schell attended from Cass City.

Two brothers who met recently for the first time since they parted in England 67 years ago were among those present at the reunion. They have been reviving old memories and renewing their acquaintance. The two are Isaac Cooper, 71, and Jesse Cooper, 86. Jesse left England when he was 19 and went to Pontiac. Three years later his mother, two brothers and two sisters moved to Western Canada after the death of the father.

After a few years, Isaac left the family and for 50 years his relatives heard nothing of him. Last year a friend wrote to Isaac's brother, George, in Manitoba, now dead, and mentioned that an Isaac Cooper was living in Cut Bank, Glacier County, Montana.

The news came back to Michigan and Jesse's granddaughter, Lela Jeffery, of Drayton Plains, stopped in Cut Bank on a trip west. She found he was Jesse's brother. The two elderly brothers who parted in youth met recently when Isaac came to Michigan.

Isaac, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Asa Armstrong, wife of the sheriff at Cut Bank, and her two sons, Buck and Bill, have been distributing their visit to include all their relatives in Michigan.

These include Jesse's children, with whom he has been living since the death of his wife three years ago. They are Mrs. Julius Ehke of Detroit; George Cooper, of Marlette; Mrs. Walter Schell, of Cass City; Mrs. Frank Jeffery, of Drayton Plains; and Fred Cooper, of Kingston.

Beautiful Bird Beyond Expert Classification

LONDON—A bird that has baffled ornithologists at the Natural History museum, South Kensington, was exhibited at the national show of caged birds at New Horticultural hall, Westminster.

Eight experts examined the bird but none was able to define its species or country or origin.

Its owner, Allen Silver of Newport, who has had in his hand virtually every rare bird that has reached this country in the last 40 years, said that he had never seen anything like it.

The bird is the size of a canary but has extraordinary jet-black markings on its sulphur-yellow body and jet-black flight feathers. With its golden crown and sleek lines it is most attractive.

It was brought by a sailor returning from Africa to this country 18 months ago. Silver, who acquired it in October, went through all the books on birds in the museum, and examined thousands of bird skin specimens in its collection without finding poor anything to resemble the stranger.

Australian Men 'Go Soft'; They Copy Movie Actors

DARWIN, AUSTRALIA—American films, especially those starring such film idols as Clark Gable, Leslie Howard and William Powell, are being blamed here for turning Australian's real "he-men" into the Hollywood type.

Formerly these burly giants thought nothing of a 600-mile ride in the saddle, or of digging postholes in a temperature of 150 degrees, with unkempt heads and bristling whiskers.

Now, according to beauty parlor operators, they are dawdling in Darwin's beauty parlors, getting permanent waves, velvet if still blue chins, plucked eyebrows and massaged faces.

One woman hairdresser who came here with the intention of catering only to women, reports that nearly half of her clientele is masculine.

White Pique for Chic This Summer

Made in Everything From Gloves to Bags.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It's a grand and glorious season for white pique. Everything from gloves to wedding gowns is being made of it.

The pert little sailor hats of white pique are ever so chic. To match the hat you can get gloves, bags and belts of pique.

Neckwear of white pique is seen at every turn. Boleros made of tailored white pique or of the very smart new eyeleted pique are among fashion's latest offerings. These are worn with the very fashionable black or navy sheer costumes. Pique boleros are also good style to top sheer evening frocks.

Big bows of white pique are worn and pique flowers are high style for boutonniere or corsage. New dance frocks are of white pique cut along princess lines with generous flare below the knees.

The bridal party dressed all in pique will testify this summer to the importance of this smart cotton. The bride wears a gown of wide-wale pique topped with a bonnetlike headdress of white pique with a short veil. Her attendants' frocks are of sunshine yellow pique veiled in rust-yellow.

Crisp starched hats of pique are introduced. Sometimes the hat is of eyelet embroidery. Then again it may be of stiffly starched white lace.

Tennis or Beach

Nowadays as much attention and care is given to the meticulous styling of play clothes as to the most elegant of evening apparel. A study of play fashions as worn by leading film stars out Hollywood way is always well worth while, for the utmost care and research is given to correct dress both on and off the stage. For tennis or beach a favorite play suit is the two-piece with tops of white sharkskin with a Roman-striped silk jersey blouse, as here shown. The great advantage of silk jersey added to its comely appearance is that it is delightfully cool in the wearing.

Sway of Gingham Still Hanging On

To be in the fashion you must become decidedly gingham-minded. According to the new style code it's gingham for party wear, for tailored street outfits and as to accessories to wear with other gowns make them of gay plaided gingham, belts, gloves, pocketbooks, hats, boleros, and blouses.

Reefers Glory in New Bright Hues

Reefer coats are particularly adaptable to spectator sports. Trimly fitted, they look especially well when done in one of the new bright shades. Polo coats have regained a surprising degree of popularity this year, and, of course, they are always a classic mode.

Jumper Returns

The "little girl" vogue has brought back the linen jumper.

Paris Flashes

White veils are worn on black hats. Vogue for ornamental buttons is revived.

Pearl gray ensembles are chic for day wear.

Taffeta is favored for both day and evening wear.

Bright short gloves are worn with black costumes.

Fragile evening fashions have filmy short cape effects.

Old-fashioned stiff broche weaves are in prospect for jackets and bustle dresses.

Light colored woollens with black accessories is new fashion.

Dramatic jewelry is made to brighten dark costumes.

Results of Tuscola County 4-H Dairy Judging Tour

More than 100 4-H dairy club members from the following clubs of Tuscola County were present on the 4-H dairy judging tour on June 20: Fairgrove Dairy Club, Watertown Center Dairy Club, Kingston Dairy Club, Vassar Dairy Club, Millington Dairy Club, Unionville Dairy Club, West Caro Livestock Club, Gilford Dairy Club, and Cass City Dairy Club.

Nevels Pearson, assistant state club leader, Michigan State College, was in charge of the judging work. Stops were made at the following farms near Fairgrove: John Hickey, Wiley Kirk, James Russell, and Frank Parrish & Sons.

A picnic dinner was served at the Fairgrove High School grounds. H. D. Parish and R. A. Garner assisted in arranging this tour.

Those selected on the Tuscola County Dairy Judging Team are: J. D. Monteil, Fairgrove; Harold Humm, Fairgrove; Delbert Light, Fairgrove; Henry Forsythe, Millington. Alternates: Loren Brady, Unionville; Don Harrington, Akron.

These boys will take part in an elimination dairy judging contest at Michigan State College on August 18 and 19. At this contest, the best teams will be selected to take part in the 4-H dairy judging contest at the state fair.

$16 Mare Still Worth $16 After 22 Years

CHARMAN, NEB.—Here's a story to disprove the song that says the old gray mare "ain't" what she used to be." J. A. Power, farmer near here, bought a gray mare colt for $16 at a horse sale 22 years ago. Recently, he decided to sell her. When the auctioneer's hammer fell, the mare (22 years old) brought $16.

Harry Bohnsack of Mt. Pleasant was a Cass City caller Tuesday.

Mrs. Lavina Masselink of Big Rapids was a visitor in Cass City last week.

Beverly Woosley of Detroit is spending some time at the Clifton Champion home.

Elsie Mac Rawson of Bethel was the guest of June Schwaderer on Saturday night.

Misses Marie, Margaret and Glendora Churchill left Sunday to visit their aunt, Mrs. Robert McKenzie, at New Baltimore.

Elaine Brown and Frances Koepfgen are spending a few days as guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. M. J. Laidlaw, at Brown City.

Miss Geraldine Striffler is visiting with her mother in Petoskey for a few weeks. She expects to return to Cass City about August 1.

Sunday dinner guests at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Read were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cross and family and John Tewkesbury, all of Cass City.

Dr. Linus James Leavens has just received his Ph. B. degree from the University of Vermont at Burlington and has entered Harper Hospital in Detroit to serve his internship. Dr. Leavens is the son of the late Harlow G. Leavens of St. Albans, Vermont, who served as superintendent of the Cass City schools twenty-five years ago.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Galloway were Mrs. George Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Shared and two children of Port Huron, H. Chapman and son, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kelch and two children of Lapeer, Joe Leishman of Elmwood, Mrs. Ella Vance and daughter, Amy, of Cass City, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelley of Pontiac.

M. E. Post, who taught the sciences in the Cass City High School over 30 years ago, dropped into town Wednesday to see fellow-townsmen of his early nineteen hundreds and look up former pupils.

In the latter class, he found a few with graying locks, while others are scarcely burdened with locks at all. "Lou" Wood, according to Mr. Post, has changed the least of the men along the street when Mr. Post taught school here and still has his youthful visage. Mr. Post is head of the science department of the high schools in Berkeley, California. Mrs. Post accompanied her husband on his trip here and they left Cass City Thursday afternoon in a new Buick car on a trip to Maine and New York after which they intend to motor to their California home.

Old Blount Mansion

One of the favorite points of interest to visitors to east Tennessee is the old Blount mansion at Knoxville, which was the first frame house built west of the Alleghenies and for years was the hub of government for all the territory south of the Ohio river. The house was erected by William Blount in 1792. Two years before that Blount had been appointed by President George Washington as governor of the Washington district, which was later carved into Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi and Alabama. The old Blount mansion is of early American design.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Predict New Pact With Brazil As U. S. Staves Off Nazi Bid For Entree to South America

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

PAN-AMERICA: Hair's Breadth

Many years ago when the U. S. clamped down on immigration, millions of Germans, Italians and Japanese turned to unexploited Brazil. When Adolf Hitler came to power he began a diligent campaign to Nazify Brazil's Germans, just as Benito Mussolini tried Fascifying Brazil's Italians to the degree that Brazil's Japs were natively loyal to Tokyo.

To Hitler, one of Brazil's major charms was its unexplored iron deposits which might some day be taken by military force. As a foundation German crews began manning German airships from German airports established in Brazil, an expensive commercial aviation venture which could never pay out except in war. But one of Hitler's mistakes was to barter armaments and machinery for Brazilian coffee, which he then dumped on the markets to obtain badly needed foreign exchange, thus undermining world prices and damaging Brazil's coffee trade.

Even this blunder was almost overcome, however. Early this year a Brazilian commercial mission was about to leave for Berlin when the U. S. convinced Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha he should visit Washington. Result: Brazil gained a loan from the U. S., also received aid in developing her resources and agreed in return to begin servicing her payments to American bondholders during the current summer.

After this hair's breadth escape came another. In May Gen. Pedro Aurelio Goes Monteiro, Brazilian chief of staff, was about to visit Berlin for general staff consultations leading either to a co-operative understanding or a military alliance. Hastily dispatched to Rio de Janeiro was Gen. George C. Marshall, newly appointed U. S. chief of staff. Result: Back home in mid-June came General Marshall with the bacon. On an American cruiser he brought General Monteiro to Washington, where observers expected a military agreement would soon be reached between the U. S. and Brazil.

The agreement's substance: The U. S. could use emergency air fields in northern Brazil, thus perfecting the American plan to make an American lake out of the Caribbean, with bases at Puerto Rico and Guantanamo, Cuba, serving as miniature Hawaiis.

Simultaneously, the Atlantic Clipper's inaugural trip to Lisbon with 30 passengers and 12 crew members gave every layman an idea of transatlantic aviation possibilities and their bearing on a U. S. pact with Brazil. Should a European power beat us to the draw, Brazil might easily become an operations base from whence bombers (after crossing the Atlantic at its narrowest point) might work against the Panama canal, Guantanamo, Puerto Rico and even the U. S. itself (see map).

Germany has tried in two ways to hamstring the British. While William Strang of the London foreign office is conferring with Dictator Josef Stalin, the Reich's ambassador to Russia has been ordered to work for a stalemate by offering Moscow a commercial and credit agreement. If Germany thus joined western democracies in begging for Russia's friendship, it carried the begging to still greater heights during the Jap incident by singing a siren song that went something like this: "Why should a great power like you care to tie up with people like the British, who can now be kicked with impunity even by the Japanese?"

The Reich's second effort, obviously in desperation, has been to push its projected military pact with Japan. Although Tokyo's ambassadors to Italy and Germany both favor Jap participation in the anti-Communist front, the foreign office back home has shunned such complications for good reason—Japan has enough ambitions and troubles in the Far East without getting embroiled in Europe's woes. Moreover, both Russia and Japan—bitter enemies—doubt the sincerity of a nation which tries simultaneously to win the friendship of both.

Hence observers predict consummation of the Anglo-Russ alliance, with Britain asking help in the Far East as well as in Europe, thanks to Japan's clamping down on London's interests in China. For Britain this would be merely a last-ditch defensive alliance with a nation most Englishmen dislike. Russia would thereby gain British support in her projected Far Eastern war with Japan, also winning a comparatively free hand to expand westward by exercising Hitler-like pressure on Baltic states like Finland, Latvia and Estonia. Out of this, Britain may hope, will come a German-Russian war in which Europe's dictators will slaughter each other.

UKRAINE: Incentive

Russia's rich Ukraine ranges from the Carpathian mountains of central Europe almost to the Caspian sea, embracing 360,000 square miles and populated by 53,500,000 Russians, Slavs and Germans. Through its east and central part run rich valleys of the Dnieper and Dniester rivers, which for years have fed vast Russia. To the east, in the Donetz river basin, lie vast deposits of coal, iron ore and manganese, accords in the deck of any military nation.

If Adolf Hitler's fascination for the Ukraine was once a puzzle, public interest has zoomed to such heights since he captured Czechoslovakia and thus made a path to the east, that the Ukraine's resources are now public knowledge. Even "Mein Kampf," which outlines Der Fuehrer's plans for wresting the Ukraine from Russia, revealed far less than a new U. S. bureau of mines study. Data:

The Ukraine's coal reserves are 72,300,000 tons; iron, 4,066,000,000 tons; ferruginous quartzite containing large iron percentage, 40,800,000,000 tons; manganese, 441,000,000 tons; lignite, 510,000,000 tons.

TAXATION: Profit Sharing

Last autumn a special senate committee inspired by Michigan's presidency-aspiring Sen. Arthur Vandenberg began studying profit sharing as a means of curing capital-labor trouble. The basic idea: Industrialists would get tax credits for sharing their profits or (if regarded in another light) would be penalized if they did not share profits. Though pointedly socialistic, the idea caught fire when one witness after another told how profit sharing had worked successfully. Soon Republican Vandenberg's idea began looking good to his Democratic colleagues, Iowa's Sen. Clyde Herring and Colorado's Edwin C. Johnson, both of whom knew the administration needed a clever card trick to soothe tax-irritated business.

By mid-June Mr. Vandenberg had lost the ball entirely, for Senators Herring and Johnson issued the committee's cautiously worded report. Its gist was that some "prudent experiments" in incentive taxation could be tried "in the spirit of exploration." Points (with critics' consensus in italics):

1. Exemption from all income taxes of the payments industrialists make to employees from accumulated profit-sharing retirement funds or annuities. (Good idea. Although it would temporarily make social security a duplication, that agency would eventually grow smaller as provision for old age returned to private hands.)
2. Issuance and sale of government profit-sharing bonds which would be available only to profit-sharing funds and would be issued for the purpose of protecting investments by employees. (Good and bad. Would discourage small private investment and small banking, meanwhile providing new source of money for government spending. May be discriminatory. But would also loosen large private capital for private investment.)
3. Specific tax credits for increased employment by companies following other than capital-expenditure work; similarly, reasonable exemption on such expenditures as plant expansion. (Good and bad. Would lower business taxes, but places capital in the position of a child who will be praised by a paternalistic government if he does right and punished if he does wrong. Pre-supposes that profit sharing, thus far untried on a national basis, would be substantially a cure-all that would permit drastic reduction in "extraordinary" government expenditures.)

Essentially a successful idea in private application, profit sharing will probably be boosted by both Democrats and Republicans in the next campaign. Chief issue (and no one yet knows which party will take which side) will be on the application of government incentive taxation. Said the report:

"One school of thought insists that the taxing power should never be used for either incentive or punitive purposes, and that one is the complement of the other. The other school of thought insists that we already have the punitive tax and that—confronting a condition rather than a theory—we should also have the incentive tax, either as an offset or a substitute."

AVIATION: Students

The world's undisputed No. 1 air power, Germany, can train 65,000 airmen annually. By contrast the U. S. has but 23,000 fliers of both sexes and all ages. Worried lest a war in the air find America unprepared, a training program will be in full swing by October 15 designed to teach 95,000 U. S. youths to fly by 1944. Cost: $5,675,000 to train 15,000 in the next 12 months; $7,000,000 a year to teach 20,000 more annually until mid-1944.

Now underway in Washington are plans to offer "ground school" study next autumn at 300 to 400 universities and colleges, followed by actual flying. Students from 18 to 25 years old will be accepted and the program will cost the U. S. about $325 per pupil.

Biggest fear voiced last winter when the program was broached has already been dispelled. To test it the civil aeronautics authority gave primary training to 330 students at 13 institutions, later granting private flying certificates to 173 of them. Though officials held their breath, only one student was killed.

Oak Bluff Breezes.

With the annual Summer Home Club meeting announced for June 30, the season seems officially opened. New faces appear here and there but mostly we greet the old friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hutchinson have their new home almost completed, and with a furnace installed and good insulation, they plan to spend most of the year here, driving back and forth to their schools in Elkton.

Vacations have begun, and the C. R. Todds are spending theirs at their cottage.

Among the notables here last week was Supt. Cody of Detroit, who was a guest at the Mary Belle Grant house party.

Harold Ballard is very much occupied week-ends with his good looking new motor boat as are the Maxwells also.

James Anderson and J. E. Wurm have both opened their cottages for the season and the gentlemen are regular commuters to Pigeon and Sebewaing respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Striffler are quite regular week-enders and last Sunday Mrs. Charles Striffler and Stanley joined them.

Oak Bluff Drive had had an early and heavy coat of oil which should lay the dust for the season.

Mr. Sturm has been busy building permanent horse shoe courts which look very professional.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knapp spent a few hours at their cottage Sunday evening and plan to return for an indefinite stay the first of July.

Everyone hopes that Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Wickware will soon be back after their trip to the San Francisco Fair.

Miss Pearl Spinks arrived Monday for the season.

The Edwards cottage has a fresh coat of paint and it seems like old times to see Wilma and Mary about.

C. R. Todd and G. H. Burke were in Detroit Wednesday and Thursday.

Everyone hurries back from down town these days to the shade and breeze on the front porch.

Northwest Elmwood

Gagetown swamped Bad Axe Sunday 30-4, setting a league record for runs scored in a single game. Pigeon defeated Bach in another one-sided ball game, 13-3, Bach making 10 errors. Unionville remained undefeated by shutting out Cass City, 10-0.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Campbell and granddaughter, Maxine, of Fairgrove, Mr. and Mrs. James Wark and children of Bay City, and Mr. and Mrs. William Grappan and daughter, Jean Carol, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grappan, the occasion being Mr. Campbell's and Joseph Grappan's birthdays.

Miss Thelma LaFave, who has spent the past three weeks at her home, returned to Pontiac Sunday to resume her nursing duties.

FORD

V-8

In the 1939 Gilmore-Yosemite Run (314 miles over mountain roads) this 85-hp. Ford V-8 surpassed all other leading low-price cars for economical gas mileage. It delivered 24.57 miles per gallon!

THE THINGS YOU WANT ARE HERE:

BIGGEST HYDRAULIC BRAKES AMONG LOW-PRICE CARS!

STYLE LEADERSHIP!

V-TYPE 8-CYLINDER ENGINE!

SCIENTIFIC SOUNDPROOFING!

TRIPLE-CUSHIONED COMFORT!

CENTER-POISE RIDE! • WEATHER-TUNNEL TESTED!

STABILIZED ENCLOSED CHASSIS!

IT'S EASY to talk about economy, but the Ford V-8 backs up its claims by actual performance on the road.

In this year's Gilmore-Yosemite Run the Ford, with its big powerful 85-hp. V-type engine, turned in a far better gas mileage record than any other car in its class, including the low-price "sixes"!*

For all its size and power, this 1939 Ford V-8 is amazingly thrifty on gas and oil. Don't take our word for that. Come in and make us prove that Ford tops the field in economy and quality!

Put New Stamp on Sweet Clover

Once cursed as a weed, sweet clover is gaining a more savory reputation in Michigan.

Twenty years ago sweet clover was a widely used pasture plant in the state but its liking for roadside ditches, fence corners and grain fields often led to mixed feelings of admiration and perplexity.

Now it is gaining a new foothold as a valuable green manure crop. Which has led C. R. Megee, associate professor in farm crops at Michigan State College, to draw a revised picture of the plant and its uses. Soon to be available will be Extension Bulletin 202, "Sweet Clover."

"Sweet clover still remains a valuable crop," says Megee. "In 1939 the weather that affected other pastures still permitted sweet clover to put out excellent spring pasture."

"We do, however, think that a more modern legume and grass combination is winning out in pasture seedings. Alfalfa and smooth brome seem to be more ideal in Michigan for offering July and August forage, hard to get with bluegrass or with the clovers."

"For green manure there is an increasing respect for sweet clover. For soil improvement there is a growing trend to sow this legume with small grains and in the succeeding spring to plow under the growth before it is too rank for improvement of fertility and soil condition."

The new bulletin written by Megee discusses sweet clover for seed, silage, honey production, pasture, hay crop and green manure. As soon as it is off the press, copies can be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Wheat Combines Soon Begin Hum

With an increasing number of combines soon to begin whirling on portions of the more than 700,000 acres of winter wheat in Michigan, a point of caution in timeliness of harvest is urged.

The warning comes from H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops department at Michigan State College. He suggests waiting with the combine until 7 to 10 days after binders begin or until the wheat is dead ripe so that proper moisture percentage in the wheat will be obtained.

Wheat cut with a binder can have 2 to 30 per cent moisture because by the time it is threshed moisture has gone down to a safe point of about 14 per cent.

Michigan's wheat harvest with binders likely will be between July 5 to 15, Rather estimates. Combines thus will be operating probably between July 12 to July 25, and possibly somewhat later in the north.

For the sake of quality, Rather proffers another suggestion on time of combining. Do not extend the period too far past ordinary maturity of the grain, he says.

Shattering is not so much involved with such usual Michigan varieties as American Banner and Bald Rock, but if rains occur the moisture may dry out in the field before combining, the grains keep their plumpness and the test weight thus are reduced. This can result in reduction in market value of from 3 to 7 cents a bushel.

Governor Luren D. Dickinson as he signed Michigan's entry in the National Pedestrian Protection Contest sponsored by the American Automobile Association. Awards will be given those states which do the most effective work in reducing pedestrian accidents and fatalities. Similar contests will be held between cities throughout Michigan and the rest of the country. With the governor is H. O. Rounds, director of the safety and traffic division of the Automobile Club of Michigan who points out that this type represents an increasing proportion of the motor vehicle and traffic accidents each year. Approximately thirty per cent of the street and highway traffic deaths in Michigan last year were pedestrians. The governor appointed Captain C. J. Scavarda, of the Michigan State Police, as the reporting officer in charge of the contest in the state.

TIMELY HINTS

The Onion Maggot.

By Willis Campbell, C. C. H. S. Agricultural Instructor.

Several calls have come in regarding white worms found in onion sets. This is the onion-maggot, a footless white worm, which tunnels in the bulbs and underground stems of onions, both seed onions and multipliers. The adults of these maggots are flies resembling house flies, except that they are much smaller. The flies lay their eggs on onion plants at the ground level, and from the eggs thus placed are hatched maggots that tunnel down into the onion bulbs. The control with small gardeners is usually of a preventative nature because this insect winters over in piles of cull onions and gets a fresh start in the spring when the adults emerge from the pupa. Commercial growers use a corrosive sublimate treatment which is dangerous and should only be handled by experts.

White Grubs or June Beetles.

The common June beetle, June bug, or May beetle is familiar to all. This large, clumsy, dark brown beetle is to be observed, usually every third year, flying at dusk about shade trees, notably oak trees. It is the common, large beetle that bumps into illuminated windows, buzzing and scrambling about and creating a disturbance. The larva of this creature lives underground and feeds on the roots of grasses, strawberries, corn, beans and other plants, often burrowing in the tubers of potatoes, in which stage it is known as the white grub. Like all beetles, it passes through four stages, starting with the egg which is laid underground by the adult June beetle. From this egg, the white grub hatches, and the grub, after attaining its full size, changes to a pupa, still underground; while this in turn produces a winged June beetle, in the case of most of our common injurious species, during the spring of the third year from the time the egg was laid. To go back to the tiny larva just hatched from the egg, its small size during the summer of its birth prevents it from destroying very much vegetation in the form of roots.

When fall comes, the grub goes down below the plow-line and passes the winter. In the spring (just about a year after the egg is laid) the grub comes up to feed on the roots of plants. This is the year that the grub gets its growth, and the injury to vegetation may be very serious, indeed, at this time.

CANNING BULLETIN AVAILABLE

Completion of a revision of Extension Bulletin 132, "Home Canning," is announced by the extension service of Michigan State College. Copies of the simple but informative bulletin which can be hung in the kitchen during operations can be obtained through county agricultural agent offices or by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

GRASS SILAGE BEATS CORN.

Ten tons of alfalfa-brome grass in the silo from an acre of land with excellent prospects of a second crop for hay or pasture is an average yield on test plots at Michigan State College that points to greater use of this combination crop. Farm crops men at the college find the grass type silage involves less labor than corn, provides at least an equal yield in volume and has about twice as much protein as corn silage.

Soap, Hot Water Curb Ivy Poison

If Michigan gets its usual large share of tourists this summer, the poison ivy still prevailing in many of the fence corners and woody spots will claim victims.

So the farm crops department of Michigan State College suggests cutting and salting the ivy to remove the pesky weed. And the home economics specialists in the extension service at the college suggest strong soap and hot water to halt the blistering effects.

Washing the hands or other parts of the skin which have been exposed to the plant removes the volatile acid oil which causes the swelling and blistering.

If this is done before the oil has had a chance to penetrate, the irritation is stopped. Careless washing, however, may spread the poison to other parts of the body.

Washing the finger nails and the tender areas between the fingers at least two or three times, interspersing the soap treatment with thorough rinsing helps get rid of the ivy oil. Hard scrubbing with a brush is to be avoided as this may rub the poison into the skin.

Even after inflammation has started, the soap treatment has value, since it can help remove traces of the poison still on the skin surface.

Cooking soda or epsom salts, one or two heaping teaspoons to a cup of water, appear to be helpful treatments. This is to be applied with light bandages or clean cloths, kept moist and changed frequently.

"FOX" MAY BE BADGER.

Hunters, like fishermen, are prone to offer advice, so they nearly have C. A. McCrary convinced that the chicken killer near Augusta, on the Kellogg demonstration farm of Michigan State College is a badger rather than a fox. McCrary still is willing to credit the thief and killer with exceeding sly cunning. A carbide exploder installed recently to stand guard at night failed to function one evening and 19 more chicks turned up their toes. Now McCrary has another safeguard consisting of huge lights that are powerful enough to light up eight acres of chicken range.

The Colossal Caves
The Colossal caves are about 27 miles southeast of Tucson, Ariz. Rivaling in beauty and size the Carlsbad caves of New Mexico, this natural wonder has for many years remained almost unknown to travelers. But in recent years the caves and surrounding area have been improved under the supervision of the national park service. The ceiling is ornamented with intricate silver webbing. There are stalactites of translucent calcite. Many of these are so hard that if struck with the hand they ring like chimes. In some places the stalactites and stalagmites have joined and the result is columns of unusual shapes.

Use of Car Couplings
Railroads first started changing from the pin and link coupling when Ezra Miller patented his automatic coupler in 1863. By 1870 it was in general use in the middle and western states and a few years later in use on most of the railroads in the United States. The Pennsylvania railroad in 1878 made the Janney coupler, which was patented by E. H. Janney in 1877, standard equipment for its passenger cars. In 1887 a recommendation of the Master Car Builders' association for the adoption of vertical plane couplers discontinued the use of the pin and link couplers on all roads. The Janney coupler was made standard by this association in 1888.

DEATHS

Mrs. Jennie H. Bond.

Mrs. Jennie H. Bond nee Janet Hannah MacArthur, wife of George S. Bond, 6856 Paxton Avenue, Chicago, died at her home Sunday afternoon, June 25, 1939.

She was born in Lobo Township, Middlesex County, Ontario, April 8, 1873, daughter of James MacArthur and Jane McLean. In March, 1878, she came with her parents, two brothers and six sisters to the farm, 1½ miles west of Cass City where she attended the Dillman School until 1881 when she entered the Cass City School from which she graduated in 1889.

Later she taught in the Quick School in Novesta Township one year; then the Cedar Run School for three years and the Dillman School one year and the next fall she entered State Normal College at Ypsilanti. After graduating from this school in 1897, she accepted a position in the schools in Libertyville, Illinois. In April, 1902, she was married to George S. Bond of that village. Her home was in Libertyville, St. Paul, Minnesota, and Chicago, Illinois, for the succeeding years excepting for one year spent in San Diego, California.

Mrs. Bond was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Libertyville, Illinois, and of the Englewood Woman's Club of Chicago.

Her son, Donald, of Philadelphia and her husband survive her and her two brothers, Duncan and Donald, and seven sisters, Martha, Margaret, Isabella, Effie, Nancy, Lavina and Mima. One brother, Donald, died in 1868, at the age of two years.

Private services were held Tuesday, June 27, at 11:00 a. m. in the chapel at Sixty-third and Harvard, Chicago. Interment was made at 2:00 p. m. in Lakeside Cemetery, Libertyville, Illinois.

Mrs. Jessie A. Sauer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie A. Sauer, 53, wife of Attorney Alfred H. Sauer, of Bad Axe were held Tuesday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church in Bad Axe, Rev. Lester E. Williams, the pastor, officiating. Mrs. Sauer died in Hubbard Memorial Hospital Saturday evening after a two weeks' illness.

Mrs. Sauer was born on a farm near Caro, January 5, 1886. She was a lifelong resident of the Thumb. Before coming to Bad Axe more than 18 years ago, she lived in Pigeon.

During her residence in Bad Axe, Mrs. Sauer was active in Presbyterian Church work. She was organizer of Child Study Club No. 1. Besides her husband, Mrs. Sauer is survived by five children, Bruce, and the Misses Margaret, Frances and Catherine Sauer, all at home, and Miss Ruth Sauer, Detroit; her mother, Mrs. Edward McKenney, Caro, and a sister, Mrs. T. J. Fritz, Caro.

Merger of Churches.

The Adrian Conference saw the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant Churches merged into a single denomination.

At the union ceremony of the churches Friday night, Bishop James A. Straughn, of Baltimore, speaking in behalf of the former Methodist Protestants, said, "We look to the union with new high hopes. It is easy to think in terms of the past and as our fathers thought, but now we are thinking in terms of the future and our children."

Bishop Edgar Blake, of Detroit, speaking for the M. E. group in the service which marked the merger of the two conferences as decreed by the unification meeting at Kansas City, in which the church of the South also joined, said, "We have all come home together and I thank God we are one in this hour."

To include the incoming Methodist Protestant branch, a special district at large was created and the Rev. E. R. Willson, of Gagetown, former president of the Michigan Conference, was named superintendent.

Pigeon—One of the does in Dick McBride's private zoo gave birth to twin fawns recently. They weighed four pounds each and Mr. McBride reports that the "mother and babies are doing nicely." It is only a few weeks ago that another doe in the same enclosure gave birth to a single fawn. The twins are the first known to have been born in captivity in the Thumb, McBride says.

Caseville—Edward Langley, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lengley, Caseville, suffered severe injuries to his left hand when a giant firecracker, about six inches long, exploded in his hand about 6:00 p. m. Saturday.

Bad Axe—Jerry Schmitt, 5, son of John Schmitt, of Smith's Corners, had his right foot almost severed by a mowing machine in an accident in a hay field. The foot had to be amputated at the hospital here.

Bad Axe—Last week's Sandusky Republican-Tribune carried a story boasting about the number of Sanilac County residents employed by the state. A total of 22 were named as having positions with different functions of the state. The article went on to say that this was an all-time high in state appointments for Sanilac County. It concluded with this statement: "Three more from the county have been given assurance that they will receive unclassified positions with the state by July 1 or 15." This will make a total of 25. Republicans of Huron County are asking: "What's the matter in our county? We have less than six employed in state departments. The Republicans have been in power since January. Is the trouble locally or is it at Lansing?"—Tribune.

14 from Tuscola at Michigan 4-H Club Week at M. S. C.

Among the 1,000 delegates to Michigan 4-H Club Week held at Michigan State College are 14 4-H club members and one local leader from Tuscola County. These delegates have been selected because of outstanding achievement in 4-H club work during the past year.

The Tuscola delegates left the court house at 8:00 a. m. Monday. They were accompanied by Neil Walter, local leader from Millington; H. D. Parish, district 4-H club agent; and Norris W. Wilber, county agricultural agent.

During their stay at Michigan 4-H Club Week which began at noon on Monday, June 26, and continues through Friday noon, June 30, the boys will be housed in Mason Hall, one of the new men's dormitories on the campus, and the girls in Mary Mayo Hall, one of the women's dormitories. The members are being served their meals in the dining rooms of the People's Church. Over half of the expenses of the members are being paid from the county 4-H Club funds.

Those attending from Tuscola County are: Alice Galliver, Unionville; Marion Valentine, Fostoria; Beatrice Francis, Kingston; Genevieve Legg, Kingston; Naomi Neal, Kingston; Fontaine Sugden, Mayville; Dorothy Harrington, Akron; Chas. Hunt, Millington; Ferris Rushlo, Cass City; Edward Jaku-

When Pirates Sailed the Seas

—An article telling how Uncle Sam considers transforming Cocos Island, an old pirates' haven, into a warplane base . . . and resurrecting stories of treachery, torture, ruthless ferocity and legends of hidden treasure concerning the old haven of cruel, ancient "sea wolves," will be found in The American Weekly, the great weekly magazine, with the July 2 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.—Advertisement.

Speed of Birds When Migrating

When migrating, birds fly at great speeds three and a half miles above the surface of the earth. At this height, they have the help of constant winds blowing up to 100 miles an hour.
