WORK IS A JOY AND SERVICE

"I have no recipe for success," said the late Samuel Gompers when he was president of the American Federation of Labor. "1 have worked and fought so hard and long during my entire life that I have not had either the time or the inclination to work out formulas for the success of any program upon which I was embarked.

"I have simply worked and then worked some more and then worked still more until the object for which I had been striving had been gained or until every possible method of achievement had been exhausted.

"To determine the line of work for which one's talent and ability are best fitted and then to give to that work the very best that is in one, not regarding it as work but as a joy and a service to humanity, must eventually bring to one at least some measure of success in one's chosen line of endeavor.'

Probably no man in American history did more to help the cause of organized labor than Samuel Gompers. As a wise and prudent leader of the A. F. of L. for many years he directed labor safely through numerous dangerous channels and earned the respect and admiration of workers and employers alike by his fairness and justice. He devoted his entire life to helping labor and believed in work as a fundamental principle of success. (WNU Service).

Within gunshot of the business ion of Grand Haven on the Lake Michigan coast are several unique things: (1) Scores of sand dunes; (2) miles of white, dazzling beach; (3) 300 summer cottages in Highland Park and the "North Shore," both within city limits; (4) an almost ice-free harbor, home port of the U. Borrow From Victorian Era For Quaint Summer Frocks

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Ingenue silk taffetas are being gown for a young lady of "teen" Polka dots flourish in the print cealm this season both for adults and the younger generation. The dirndl influence in the skirt, the square neckline, the yoke treatment are details that combine to make the dress of polka-dot silk crepe centered in the picture, a very smart affair for the growing girl. Very practical too, for the silk washes perfectly.

Interest continues in the skating silhouette in skirts rejuvenated by spic and span lingerie touches and petticoat ruffles. For the pretty little-girl frock to the right in the picture the designer selects a china blue silk crepe with a stylized floral print. Fine eyelet batiste makes its petticoat ruffle and it also edges the square scalloned neckline. The Victorial bonnet that tops this quaint dress is a newly accepted fashion this season for young girls.

Now a word in regard to party dresses for sweet sixteen and thereabout. For dancing daughters, the graduate girl, birthday party or attle flower girls who grace the wedding scene, silk sheers take the limelight. There are silk georgettes, mousseline de soie, silk marquisette and both plain and printed starched silk chiffon, and if not selecting a sheer then let classic silk chiffon in ankle or short length versions be your choice. These are in such pastel shades as peach, pink, aqua, delphinium blue and of course white.

Skirts are always full whether through smocking or ruffles of preschool simplicity or through flares and circular cuts for older girls. Necklines ape those of their elders with many heart-shaped and square types being favored.

Vividly colorful and no-end exciting is a stunning new bag, belt and glove set designed by Herbert Bienen, in soft white leather embroidered in multi-colored threads to form an intricate all-over pattern that is fascinating to look upon. Note in the picture the smooth tailored lines of the flat bottomed bag. the side insertions of the gay embroidery of the white kid gloves and the matching belt. Just the right splurge of color for any costume and simply stunning worn with a white Mexican sombrero hat bound in red as illustrated.

Given New Shoes Time was when a shoe was just a shoe, but with every year they become a more important part of your wardrobe, and this season they adopt details which once belonged only to dresses. Some of them have tiny jutting wings, suggesting collars, posed just above the toe, and inlays and applications through the body of the shoe take the shape of brief boleros. Folded down collars around the tops of shoes suggest revers on coats, and military button details through the vamp evidently are inspired by the same treatment on dress and coat fronts.

Cotton Is Leader In Summer Styles

High fashion summer wardrobes this year are in color and of cotton. Cotton daytime dresses for town are especially designed for defying the heat. Country clothes shricking with bright color are made for tennis and golf. Garden frocks are really picturesque affairs and so are party clothes for country club

Office togs of cotton are the direct answer to the prayer of appreciative career girls, being neat, slim twosomes, usually a smart dark, short-sleeved dress combined with a bright print jacket and a dark top for alternate use.

CITES GOOD, BAD POINTS OF SILOS

Various Types Analyzed By Engineer.

By C. H. REED

To the dairyman, an important question is: "How long will a silo last?" The answer to this question is found in a study of 170 silos made by the New York state college department of agricultural engineer-

Advantages of the wood stave silo are two: A low initial cost, and the fact that silage acid will not deteriorate the wood. The disadvantages: it may blow over any time unless properly built and cared for, it should be painted on the outside, and hoops and guy wires must be kept tight.

Square and octagon wood silos have the same advantages and some of the disadvantages. For this type, in addition, the silage requires better spreading and more tramping than in round silos.

Triple wall silos, similar to the wood stave type, are giving satisfactory service when properly built and cared for. Concrete stave silos will probably give service for 18 to 20 years with little, if any, care, but among the disadvantages are: high initial cost, silage acid will corrode and disintegrate concrete, making protection of the inside of the silo necessary every four or five

Study Shows Cost of

Hauling Cream to Plant The pound of butter on the dining table includes in its price a cost of 1.66 cents for hauling a pound of butterfat from farm to creamery.

This cost feature was among those facts discovered in a creamery truck operation study conducted by R. W. Bartlett, assistant chief in agricultural economics, and G. W. Freemyer, assistant in agricultural economics, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Co-operating in the study were the owners and operators of 14 trucks hauling cream in central Illinois. Excluding labor, the average cost a mile for operating the 14 trucks was 3.14 cents. Costs for gasoline, tires, lubrication and repairs were about three-fourths of the total cost of truck operation.

Largest single expense item was found to be gasoline which represented 46.6 per cent of the cost of 3.14 cents a mile. Tires, repairs and lubrication amounted to 26 per cent of the total. Fixed costs were relatively low because of the high mileage for each truck which averaged about 36,800 miles over an 11-month period.

Newspaper Headlines

Show Erosion Problem Muddy streams, lakes clouded with silt, and newspaper headlines of floods and dust storms are always calling attention to the erosion problem, said John Lamb Jr., superintendent of the United States soil erosion experiment stations in New York.

Research shows that fields carelessly handled will lose a lot of water as run-off, he said. This runoff carries with it much fine top soil, the loss of which is a permanent loss of capital investment.

"The greatest loss of soil and water usually comes when the growing crops need water the most, in July and August."

One result of recent research, said Mr. Lamb, shows that good farming methods are an important part of erosion control. A good rotation with limestone and superphosphate when needed to grow clover, and clover residues turned under, will leave the soil so it can absorb wa ter and grow good crops.

Watch for Lice

Warm weather increases the poultryman's trouble with parasites. Lice and mites are always more abundant when it is warm and extra precautions against them are neces-

There are any number of materials on the market which, when put on the birds or painted on the roosts, will effectively destroy lice. Best known are nicotine sulphate and sodium fluoride, which can be secured from any drug store.

For mites thoroughly clean the poultry house, remove and burn the straw and spray with a mixture of one part of coal oil to four parts of crude oil. The oil is allowed to soak into the wood before the birds are returned to the house.

Egg Blood Spots

Blood spots in eggs which increase after a long season of heavy production may be caused in part by rough handling of the birds, particularly by having equipment that is too high from the floor. G. T. Klein, Massachusetts State college extension poultryman, recommends therefore that all such equipment as nests, feeders, waterers, and dropping boards be as close to the floor as possible. They should, of course, be kept clean.

Do Your Little Tots Say This About You?

My mother is the best cook in the Whole World. Everyone says so! Daddy's awfully proud of her! He says he is going to get her to write a book on "How to Cook."

Mommy says that the first thing to do to get to be a good cook is to go to a good store that has quality and variety, and if you run out of ideas on what to fix, they will suggest something that might meet with your approval.

HOUSANDS of motorists have subjected 1939 Chevrolets to the Mileage Meter test. In cars with gauges feeding a measured quantity of fuel to the engine, these thousands have seen how the 1939 Chevrolet stretches out each gallon of fuel to make it go farther-extra miles farther.

What about oil? The fact is that the 1939 Chevrolet is unbelievably economical of oil-because the oil stays in the engine.

As to upkeep and tires-every motorist knows of Chevrolet's tra-

American Tourists Turn Down Europe

More Families to Tour Own Country This Year.

MINNEAPOLIS.-More American families will tour the Americas in 1939 than ever before, while they turn their backs on Europe. Barring unexpected economic reversals, 1939 will be the biggest travel should top the record five and onehalf billion dollar tourist business of 1937, according to a study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

American travel to Europe shrank 20 per cent in 1938 from the 1937 volume. Although travel agents reported a pick-up in European bookings immediately after Hitler's January speech, with its unexpectedly moderate tone, present indications are for a further shrinkage in American visits to Europe in 1939, the survey finds.

Major stimulants to domestic travel during 1939 are the New York and San Francisco World's fairs; it is estimated that 26 million visitors will see one fair or the other. Railroads and travel agencies already report large blocks of bookings for both fairs; automobile clubs are already filling members' advance requests for routings to New York and San Francisco.

However, South American travel has been climbing steadily; domestic cruise bookings jumped in the last few weeks of 1938 and have continued to gain since; it is difficult to reserve space on Hawaiian steamships for early summer sailings, as practically their entire passenger

The American motorist, who despite the depression did almost as much touring in 1938 as in the record year of 1937, is due for his greatest mass pilgrimage in 1939. Automobile clubs report that many members cut short or postponed 1938 pleasure trips, in anticipation Automobile clubs and gasoline company routing bureaus report that they have a considerable volume of inquiries already for summer vacation routings. Winter motor travel for the season just past exceeded Air travel, which has expanded in volume in spite of business cycles, continues its steady increase.

Teos World in Railway Speed

United States Supreme in Both Electric and Steam Power.

WASHINGTON .- Speed of passenger trains has been developed by the United States to a far greater degree than by any other country, according to a survey of the world's fastest railroad runs just completed by the Railway Gazette, published in London.

Not only does America have the largest amount of high-speed mileage, but it also is supreme in swift trains operated by Diesel, steam and electric power. Only one country-Germany-has a faster scheduled run.

The survey discloses that American railroads have reached 48,247 miles of daily runs scheduled at 60 miles and more per hour. This is more than half of the world's entire mile-a-minute mileage. It is an increase of 10,835 miles over 1937.

75 Miles an Hour.

For runs booked at 66 miles and more per hour the United States has 12,030 miles. There are 4,415 miles at 70 miles and more per hour and 1,012 miles at 75 miles and more per hour.

That the United States has made amazing progress in the speeding up of passenger trains is seen from the fact that in 1932. American milea-minute runs totaled only 2,022 miles. The fastest scheduled run in the world is made by a German Diesel train, which travels 109.6 miles at 82.2 miles per hour. However, an American train, also Diesel operated, is close on its heels with a run of 62.4 miles at 81.4 miles per hour.

Outranks All in Steam. In both mileage and scheduled runs this country outranks all others in steam operated passenger trains, according to the survey. For instance, the United States has 23,692 of the 46,633 miles of daily runs at 60 miles and more per hour. With a train hitting 73.9 miles per hour over a 43.1 mile stretch, America leads the list. It also occupies the next three places.

Two 75-mile-an-hour runs for a distance of 15 miles put America on top in the field of electrically operated trains, the review says. At speeds of 60 miles and more per hour 9,632 of the world's 15,736 miles are in the United States.

CRAB SALAD

Salads for Summer Meals

When the mercury soars skyward and appetites are on the wane, nothing tastes quite so good as a crisp, cool mixture of fresh greens, or fruits, or vegetables with a tart, taste-teasing dressing.

Salads are summer favorites. There's hardly a dish that's so simple yet so satisfying to make, and there's such a pleasant way of making sure that we get the minerals and vitamins we need!

Suggestions on Salads. Salad ingredients must be clean and cold and crisp. Contrast is important, too-contrast in textures, in flavors, and in colors. Combine crisp foods with soft; sharp, pungent-tasting foods with mild - flavored ones: and pale, uninteresting looking foods with foods that are vividly colored. Make your summer salads as light or as substantial as you please. Find a few good basic recipes, and vary them to suit yourself. Here are some of my own favoritespractical, everyday recipes that are easy to prepare and serve, yet delicious enough for almost any social

Summer Tossed Salad.

Dip edges of lettuce leaves in paprika and arrange in salad bowl. Add green pepper rings, cucumber slices, radish roses and tomatoes, cut lengthwise in eighths. Toss together with french dressing made as follows: grate 1/2 clove garlic on two tablespoons granulated sugar. Add one tablespoon salt, one tablespoon paprika, one cup salad oil and 1/3 cup lemon juice. Shake vigorously, chill, and shake again, before mixing with salad.

French Provincial Style

Of Furniture Is Revived French provincial furniture, now that it is being revived, is sure to be with us for a long time for it is beautiful in itself, it is moderately priced, and it can be combined so well with early American styles. Many women, who like a little variety in their rooms, will delight to find that the simple, graceful chairs of beachwood and of cherry in this French vein mix perfectly with maple tables and chairs. There are charming upholstered armchairs, too, from which to choose, and many handsome little occasional tables, some of the tiered variety, others with sunken receptacles for plants, and still others for bedside use and for service for afternoon tea or after dinner coffee.

Whether you are doing an entire room or are merely investing in a piece or two you'll have no difficulty in finding charming furniture in French provincial style.

creases rapidly in proportion to the delay before operation. This does not mean that all those not operated upon will die, in fact most of them will recover although the after results may mean years of misery.

Some physicians keep an "observant" eye upon their acute appendix patients and feel that they would sooner | take chances with the appendicitis than have the patient undergo the

Some interesting figures are furnished by Dr. L. Lazzarini, who records his observations of 100 cases of appendicitis operated on at the General hospital, Milan. These cases were emergency cases, that is the condition of the patient demanded immediate operation. The record was made for the four years 1932 to 1935.

Survey Made of Patients. In 1932 there were 133 cases with 30 deaths (22.5 per cent); 1933, 174 cases with 25 deaths (14.3 per cent); 1934, 262 cases with 19 deaths (7.25 per cent). In all the cases immediate operation was performed, in almost all the appendix showed areas of gangrene or perforation (had burst) and in most of the cases the patients had been ill several days and had been treated by purgatives and enemas.

Dr. Lazzarini emphasizes the importance of operating within 24 to 48 hours from the onset of the symp-

The above figures showing a great decrease in the death rate within a period of four years means that patients and physicians realize more fully the necessity of early operation, and also that in cases of a persistent acute pain in the abdomen it is unsafe to use a purgative and that even an enema may be dangerous.

Vitamins Necessary To Good Health

Some years ago, lecturing to high school and collegiate teachers-university graduates-I wrote a little textbook on food, hygiene, sanitation, elementary anatomy and psychology, and effects of exercise. I turned to this book recently and found that there was no mention of July 9: vitamins in food because little or nothing was known about vitamins at that time. I mentioned five classes of foods, proteins-meat, eggs, fish, cereals; carbohydratescereals, vegetables, some fruit; fats loved's Mine." -butter, cream, fat meats; saltssodium, potassium, magnesium and calcium, and water. Now that vitamins are found to be so important to health, it may be wondered how we got along without them in former days. Of course we didn't get along without them the food but were unknown until recently. The finding of vitamins A, B, C. D, E, and others, and the great influence they have upon the foods and upon the tissues of the body, has had the effect of making many forget about calories, fats, starches, proteins and even minerals.

Rickets Becoming Rare. The discovery and use of vitamins in special cases has been of wonderful help in maintaining health and preventing certain diseases in children and adults. The very fact that rickets, once so common, is now becoming rare in some children's hospitals, can be attributed almost entirely to vitamin D in cod liver oil and vitamin C in orange juice.

However, instead of talking about the vitamins and trying to remember the effects of each vitamin on foods themselves and on body tissues, Dr. Nina Simmonds in American Journal of Digestive Juices and Nutrition says:

"There is too much of a tendency to discuss nutrition in terms of vitamins, carotene, ascorbic acid, units of various vitamins in food and units of vitamins needed daily by the individuals.''

Instead of talking about vitamins, an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association suggests that "the question of balanced nutrition must be discussed in terms of milk, meat, potatoes, carrots, oranges or cod liver oil.'

NEWS of the FARM

BIT OF FENCING UNLOADS TRUCK

Simple but effective is this device for unloading grass at the side of an ensilage cutter so that the truck can go back out into the field for another load while men fork the material over to the cutter. S. T. Dexter in the farm crops department at Michigan State College figured out this one. He took a strip of woven wire fencing linked to a two-by-four on one end. This is laid in the bottom of the empty truck. When a load comes up, a rope is attached to the two-by-four over the top of the load, the truck is driven slowly forward, sliding and rolling the load onto the ground. The wire is picked up and put back in the bottom of the truck body. The device is particularly useful if the silo filler is set low enough to eliminate high pitching.

WINDMILL POWER IS CHEAPEST WAY

Electric Pump Found Most Convenient.

By A. G. TYLER

The wind that whistles around our ears in January and that gently waves the fields of grain in July is still found to be one of the cheapest sources of power for some farm jobs, according to the division of agricultural engineering at the University of Minnesota. After summarizing the history and development of windmills all over the world, the following conclusions are reached as far as power for pumping water is concerned.

If low first cost is of prime importance, then pump by hand.

If convenience is the feature most desired, the electric pump is best. If moderate first cost, no operating cost, freedom from monthly bills, and general all-around reliability are desirable, then the windmill will be the choice.

Tyler pointed out that the power output from farm windmills depends upon the diameter of the wheel. To compare the power developed by wheels of different sizes, multiply by itself the diameter of each wheel. For example, an eight-foot mill will do almost twice as much work as a six-foot because six times six equals 36 while the diameter of an eight-foot wheel multiplied by itself gives 64. Likewise a 10-foot mill will do about three times as much as a six-foot mill. Large wheels run in lighter winds.

Fur-Bearing Animals

Disappearing Rapidly With but few exceptions, fur-bearing animals represent a disappearing race. The death knell of several species was sounded long ago; others are being crowded into oblivion despite the efforts of state legislatures, through ever-shorter furtaking seasons, to stop the decline. Fur animals cannot increase, or even maintain their present numbers, without enough wild land to roam. Drainage projects have destroyed millions of acres suitable for ping, too, for the billion-dollar fur industry, has had an influence. These are statements of Dr. W. J. Hamilton Jr., zoologist at the New York state college of agriculture.

"We can never hope to restore our fur animals to the level of pioneer days, but we can help to restore, in numbers, many fine species. One way would be to restrict the trapping season to periods when fur is prime. Furs would then be taken when at their greatest value, and unprime pelts, that glut the market each year, would be re-

Insects May Be Cause

Of Stored Grain Loss With AAA loans on corn and wheat increasing the farm storage of grains, farmers are cautioned to guard their grain from insect dam-

"If no preventive or control measures are taken, grain held for any length of time in farm bins is al most sure to become infested with insects with consequent loss in value of the grain for seed, for feeding or for market," it is explained in a circular issued by the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Best measures recommended for controlling stored-grain insects and preventing damage are cleanliness and fumigation. Preventive measures must be taken before the grain is in the bin, since most insect damage is caused by failure to clean bins before the grain is stored. It is best to remove waste grain from cracks, corners and floors of bins.

Once grain is in the bin and has become infested with insects, fumigation is the only practical method of stopping damage.

Shorts and Middlings

A kilowatt-hour is the equivalent of 1,000 watts used for one hour.

A deep yellow egg yolk usually contains more vitamin A than does a pale egg yolk.

As a rule, all permanent poultry buildings should face toward the south and be on land that slopes gently the same way.

The U.S. bureau of plant industry warns that many of our wild flowers will be extinct in 25 or 50 years unless measures are taken to conserve and increase them.

Separating the cockerels from the pullets gives the latter a better chance at the feed hoppers. Cockerels usually grow faster and get more than their share at the feeders.

Cows milked twice a day produce only about five-sixths as much during a ten-month lactation period as they do when milked three times a day during the period or four times a day for the first five or six months and three times a day there-

Belgium, Europe in Miniature, Is Geographical Hodge-Podge

The mind and eye of the sojourner subtly adapt themselves to the fact that distances and heights here are all on a scaled-down basis. The same phenomenon is often experienced at a marionette show-the observer finds himself really believing that the miniature scene is lifesize.

Smaller than the state of Maryland, but with a population of more than eight million, Belgium stands out as Europe's most densely peopled country. It is divided into nine provinces: West and East Flanders, Hainaut, Brabant, Antwerp, Namur, Liege, Limbourg, and Luxembourg-which must not be confused with that other Luxembourg, the little independent Grand Duchy.

been transplanted from the Scandinavian countries. During many generations the Ardennes district sank to a point of almost negative crop production. In recent years, however, thanks to scientific chemical treatment of the soil, the fertility of the land has been enormously increased. Oats and potatoes are the principal

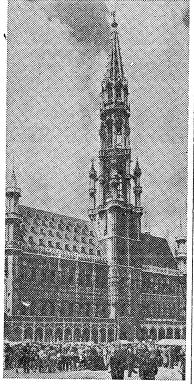

Near Rochefort are the Grottoes of Han, which need only a P. T. Barnum to give them rank as world wonders. At some period when the earth was young, they were hollowed out by the River Lesse, which here disappears and wanders underground. It is estimated that it takes the water of the river 12 hours to complete its subterranean course.

Excellent hunting and fishing are to be had in the Ardennes. Many sportsmen who live in Brussels and Antwerp have their shooting preserves in this region. Grottoes, game, ham, horses, vacationists. and werewolf legends are not, however, the only resources of the Ardennes. The great center of the wool industry is near by in the Vesdre valley, with Verviers holding first place.

When English competition killed the Flemish cloth industry, by an anomaly of fortune the business continued to thrive around Verviers.

The secret of this region's salvation was the water of the Vesdre and the Gileppe rivers. A peculiarly soft water is required for washing wool; these streams alone possessed that quality.

The last official census of production in this industry shows a total of 285 enterprises.

Additional industries represented in eastern Belgium are the paper mills of Malmedy and the chocolate factories, boot and shoe and leatherproducing plants of Verviers. Leather is a patriarch among the trades; tanning pits dating from Roman times have been found here.

Europe's Busiest Man.

One of the busiest men in Europe is the port lieutenant at Antwerpan amazing fellow, busy in four different languages at once. Never hurried or confused, he spends his day at a battery of phones receiving reports of the myriad ships and barges.

Ten thousand seagoing vessels call yearly, handling a total of twenty million tons of merchandise. In addition are 50,000 river craft.

Antwerp is the outlet for Belgium's heavy industry, its mining and agricultural products. Northern France, Alsace-Lorraine, the Rhineland, Westphalia, and Central Europe employ this gateway for a goodly percentage of their world commerce. Two hundred and forty shipping lines enter Antwerp.
