Larger Attendance at School Meeting Monday Night

Dr. F. L. Morris and M. B. Auten Are Re-elected as Trustees.

Probably the mailing of a number of postal cards urging voters to attend the annual school meeting in Cass City accounted for the upward trend in attendance at the meeting at the school auditorium Monday night. Last year exactly nine voters attended the annual district meeting, while Monday night there were 43 present.

M. B. Auten and Dr. F. L. Morris were elected to succeed themselves as members of the board of education. The services of John Cathcart and John McLarty, who were elected tellers, were not required for by vote the rules were suspended and F. E. Hutchinson, secretary of the board, who served as clerk of the meeting, was instructed to cast unanimous ballots for both of these officers whose terms had expired.

Following the reading of the report of Treasurer M. B. Auten, Supt. J. I. Niergarth explained source of school funds received from the state and advocated the purchase of a few school buses for the transportation of non-resident pupils. The cost of transporting a pupil is approximately $30 annually. This pays for fuel, upkeep, operating expense of driver and permits a 20% charge-off each year on the bus, thus paying for it in a five-year period.

Treasurer Auten's report for the year ending July 1 follows:

Balance on hand	$10889.58
Direct tax	16208.54
Smith-Hughes	1479.36
Primary	6873.12
Primary supplement	4375.89
Equalization	8732.05
Tuition	12068.03

Unionville Woman Fatally Injured by Explosion of Weapon

During a quarrel of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trischler, at their farm home four miles northwest of Unionville Friday night in which the husband threatened to kill himself, Mrs. Trischler, according to the story of her daughter, Caroline, 17, took a shotgun from her husband in the wooded back of their home and, taking the weapon by the barrel, brought it down on an anvil in the yard. The hammer, smashing down on the anvil, exploded the gun, fatally wounding Mrs. Trischler. Mrs. Trischler, the daughter remarked, said she would smash the gun so it could never be used again. In endeavoring to do so, the woman was accidentally shot in the thigh by the charge from the 12-gauge gun. She was taken to Mercy Hospital in Bay City where she died at 3:25 a. m. Saturday. The story of the daughter was substantiated by a statement of an attendant at the hospital who said Mrs. Trischler, before she died, said that she had taken the gun from her husband and was going to break it. She remembered nothing after that she told the attendant.

It is said the couple had quarreled a half hour before the shooting about Trischler's drinking. Funeral services for Mrs. Trischler were held Tuesday morning in the Sebewaing Catholic Church. Rev. F. A. H. Hafner officiated and burial was made in the Sebewaing Catholic Cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, three sons, four brothers, three sisters and her father.

A luncheon at noon, an instrumental trio composed of Mrs. B. H. Starmann, Mrs. J. Ivan Niergarth and Miss Harriett Crowthers, several violin numbers by Miss Crowthers, and visiting completed the afternoon's activities. Mrs. S. B. Young of Cass City is the retiring president.

Cass City Oil Co. Reelects Directors

Year's Business Reached $97,500.00; Directors Declared 10% Dividend.

Stockholders of the Cass City Oil and Gas Company were gratified when they learned from a report given at their annual meeting on July 6 that assets of the company were seven times greater than liabilities. Auditors of the company, in a review of the company's business record, said the ratio stood seven to one, which, they said, is a very sound financial condition.

Another feature of the company's business for the year just closed which was also gratifying to the stockholders was the payment of a 10% dividend which has been the regular annual income of members of the company for several years.

At the annual meeting of stockholders held at the Cass Theatre, Charles E. Hartsell, W. B. Hicks, M. B. Auten, Lewis Travis, Bruce Brown and Henry Smith were elected members of the board of directors.

Directors elected Mr. Hartsell president of the company, Mr. Hicks, vice president; and Mr. Auten, secretary-treasurer. Stanley Asher, who has been the efficient manager of the company for several years, will continue in that capacity.

The gross business of the company for the year just closed reached approximately $97,500.00.

Following the business session, a motion picture was placed on the screen for the entertainment of the group.

Youth Drowned at Thomas Co. Park

Body of Henry Fischer of Akron Is Recovered in 7 Ft. of Water in Channel.

The first fatality of the bathing season in Tuscola County came on Friday night when Henry Fischer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fischer, of Akron Township, was drowned in seven feet of water in the channel of Sellers Drain, at the Thomas County Park, northwest of Unionville.

Fischer was drowned at eight-thirty that night and the body was recovered with grappling irons about 40 rods from shore three hours later by Deputy Sheriff Homer Hillaker and Cecil Greenfield, an employee at the state hospital at Wahjamega.

While there were several hundred persons at the beach that night only Floyd Fischer, 17, a brother, and a Mr. Sharick, were near the drowning youth. None of the three could swim.

Sharick himself nearly drowned when he stepped into deep water in the drain cut but was rescued by Walter Stecker, 19, of Unionville.

The beach at the Thomas County Park is shallow a long distance into Saginaw Bay but is bordered by the drain channel.

Coroner Lee Huston decided that no inquest was necessary.

Funeral services for Mr. Fischer were held on Monday afternoon at the Lutheran Church at Unionville.

Voters Decide to Send 8th Grade Pupils to Larger Schools

Voters in the Dickhout School district decided Monday night at their annual school meeting to send their eighth grade pupils to the Cass City School. Cedar Run rural school came to the same decision. The seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Sunshine rural school in Elmwood will go to the Cass City or Caro School to complete their eighth grade education. The Dillman School will continue sending their eighth grade pupils to Cass City it was decided at the annual meeting.

Watrousville voted 24 to 4 to send their seventh and eighth grade students to the Caro School and will hold an adjourned meeting of the district on July 31 to decide whether to remodel or rebuild their present school building, or close the school and send all the pupils to Caro to receive their education.

Tennis Courts Project Suggested

After the discontinuance of two weekly meetings because of an inter-city meeting at Bad Axe and the national holiday on July 4, members of the Cass City Rotary Club met Tuesday for the first time during the administration of Guy W. Landon, the new president.

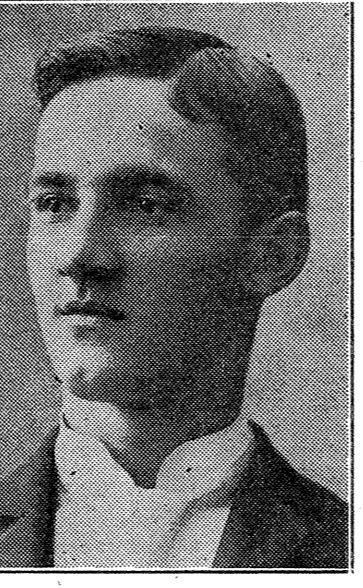

Mr. Landon, in his maiden address, said he desired to see tennis courts and a new federal building established in Cass City in the near future. To further interest in the projects and their promotion, he named Robert Keppen as chairman of a tennis court committee, and Postmaster Arthur Little to head a committee to create interest in the second project. Mr. Landon said that postal receipts the past year in Cass City were just below the amount which would permit making application for a new post-office building here as a federal project. Chairmen were given the privilege of selecting other members of their committees.

Andrew B. Champion was a luncheon guest Tuesday and Rotarians expressed their gratitude for his gift in repainting the four Rotary signs at the entering highways of Cass City.

A talk on rubber was stretched into a few embarrassing moments for one of the newer members of the club when a beautiful young lady interrupted the speaker and accused the youthful Rotarian of breaking a date. It all turned out to be a skillfully arranged farce enjoyed more by the others than the disconcerted victim of the occasion.

Frank Reid served as song leader Tuesday and A. C. Atwell will do so next Tuesday.

Half Price License Plates Go on Sale

On February 1, 1939, half-year license plates went on sale at each branch office of the Secretary of State. By September 1st, all motorists will have to obtain full year plates instead of half-year plates.

Having received numerous requests that he place on sale at this time, the full year plates at half price, for those who are purchasing new automobiles and those that have not had an opportunity to purchase license plates this year, Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, has advised all branch offices of the Department that the full year plates went on sale at half price on July 11.

The full year plate that can be purchased now will be honored on cars until March 1, 1940.

Ed Coler, in charge of the sale of license plates in Tuscola County, said that business "perked up" considerably on Tuesday, the first day for the sale of full year plates.

Last Concrete in for Cement Road, Cass City to Detroit

The last cement for the seven-mile stretch of concrete highway on M-53 was poured Thursday afternoon, completing a hard surface road all the way from Cass City to Detroit. There remains about two days' work in cement pouring for the intersection of M-53 and M-81, four miles east of Cass City.

Work on grading and filling the seven miles by E. B. Schwaderer, Cass City highway contractor, was commenced last winter. Cement laying on the lower end of the seven-mile stretch has been completed for some time and that part of the highway has been opened to traffic for a few weeks.

Many Witnessed Orange Walk Here Wednesday

Three Grand Lodge Officers Gave Addresses in the Afternoon.

Led by a trio of Scotch pipers and drummers, approximately 175 representatives of lodges of Orangemen of Michigan marched in a parade here at the state meeting of the fraternity which marked the commemoration of the 149th anniversary of the Battle of Boyne. Interspersed in the line of march were five and drum corps who not only filled the air with airs loved by the Orangemen and Orangewomen during the parade but contributed numbers during the day and night as well. Henry Marks of Verona led the procession riding a white horse.

On a street platform, three grand lodge speakers, Roy E. Hines of Port Huron, state grand secretary, Marshall Rouston of Detroit, state grand master, and Mrs. Olive Fleming of Detroit, past supreme mistress, gave addresses following the walk. Dr. R. N. Holsapple of Cass City gave the invocation and closed the speaking program with brief remarks and pronounced the benediction. Scotch musical numbers and Highland dances were contributed by Sandy and Mack.

At the city park in the afternoon, Akron defeated Cass City in a baseball game by a score of 13-12, and in the evening, Don Hunter and Charles Walmsley entertained a large group of people with a boxing match.

The Cass City High School Band gave their usual Wednesday night street concert earlier in the evening. An Orangemen's dance in the town hall went into the early hours of morning as a conclusion of the July 12 program.

The attendance of Orangemen here was lowered by members of four lodges of Lower Michigan who went to Forest, Ontario, to celebrate the fraternity's holiday. This, said Roy E. Hines, state grand secretary, was done to create good will and aid in promoting an international observance of July 12 in 1940 in Port Huron.

Spencer Farm Home Destroyed by Fire on Thursday Morning

Fire destroyed the farm residence two miles south and one and three-quarters miles east of Cass City occupied by Mrs. Sterle Spencer and children and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spencer, at 2:30 a. m. His artificial limb was destroyed as well as furniture on the second floor of the home. Cause of the fire which started in the upper part of the residence is unknown.

Sterle Spencer is employed in the state hospital in Pontiac and was not home at the time of the fire. The Spencer family lost their home near Wickware by fire about seven years ago.

THE AMERICAN ON VACATION.

Millions of people are about to go on vacation trips. There is a strenuous day when people have to decide how the most vital thing in four closets can be put into one suitcase. The trippers look over their lists again and again to be sure nothing is missing, and usually before they get 20 miles from home they think of something important left behind.

Arrangements are made to have the cat and dog fed. The householder tries doors and windows four or five times to see if they are locked. After the family is finally gone, a burden rolls off the shoulders, and all feel like shouting.

Millions of mournful unemployed will say they have had far more vacation than they need, and they want an end of vacations. For the folks who have regular work, the holiday of a week or more is a happy time.

Some folks don't know how to enjoy it. If the tourist camp bed is hard or lumpy, if ham was tough and eggs too soft, they growl at poor service. Many such folks would be better off at home. If a person sits on a chair all day at his work, he had better look out how he climbs a high mountain every few days.

It takes philosophy to be a good vacationist. If you get cross because the wife wants to see the shop windows when you long for the fishy brooks, you need a lesson in adjustment. If you fret because a rainy day keeps you in some hotel, you need to discover the pleasure of human contacts. With the right philosophy, a vacation should bring you home with a keen desire to dig into your job, a feeling that the old home town is the best place on earth, and a memory of scenes that will cheer you on many dull days.

THE DEFICIT PILES UP.

The deficit in running the federal government for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $3,542,000,000. This is $430,000,000 less than expected last January. But three and a half billions add a whopping sum to the debt, already too big.

It can be said that the government debt is not large in comparison with the debts which the European countries owe. This shows that our condition is not necessarily discouraging, yet any debt is too big when the people are already growling about their taxes, and protesting when asked to pay more.

If the factory wheels could all be made to turn, if business treasuries had profits generous enough to pay heavier taxes, the situation would not be so bad. Uncle Sam can't go on borrowing money indefinitely, as if he had some inexhaustible gold mine to which he could turn whenever he failed to pay his bills.

CURB ON IMMIGRATION.

A bill is reported to the U. S. Senate, said to constitute the most drastic curb on immigration ever reported to that body, though under the proposed law admission of a certain number of German refugee children, and members of families already in this country, would be allowed.

The day has gone by when Uncle Sam could beckon to foreigners with enthusiasm and tell them to come one, come all. With our millions of unemployed, we have to find work for our own people. The poor and oppressed of Europe, ground under tyranny, look with envy at the glorious freedom under the starry flag, but not all those folks would improve their lot by coming here. In the main people do best to stay where they understand the life and language.

YOUTH AND KNOWLEDGE.

The newspaper joker has it that when the kid was told how Isaac Newton discovered gravitation when he saw an apple fall from a tree, he replied that if Newton had been sitting in school looking at his books, he would have discovered nothing.

Youth has a tremendous keenness to see all that is going on, and it watches apple trees and 10,000 things to see what will happen. But unless it has dug into the wisdom which the past has accumulated over thousands of years in books, it will not see the meaning of these things that happen. Millions of kids have seen apples fall from trees, and never discovered anything about them, except that when eaten green they are apt to produce stomachache.

SUMMER CLOTHES.

People don't seem to complain about the heat as often as they used to. The difference seems to be mainly that they have learned to wear cool clothes. Probably two-thirds of the suffering from heat occurs because of too heavy or too tight garments. When they learn to avoid such things, the good old summer time is welcomed with greater pleasure.

The women folks escape a good deal of heat suffering when they put on sleeveless dresses and the open necks, but the husbands say some of the things they wear don't contribute any to coolness.

As for the men, they appear to be the worst goats, largely because of the ancient custom of wearing heavy coats through the hot weather.

Also there are the tight collars adorned with a necktie, which press up against their perspiring chins. The man who proudly boasts in politics, that he wears no man's collar, isn't able to say that on the simple question of clothes. Each year the men seem to escape a bit more from such customs, and many open shirt collars indicate that they don't propose to let the girls have all the cool summer breeze.

Just why it is necessary for a man to wear a coat on a hot day is not apparent, yet in many places it is not considered good form to go without it. Fortunately, the clothing makers are doing a wonderful job in turning out lightweight garments.

As for the "undies," as short as possible seems the general rule. Probably future ages will be even more tolerant of scanty clothing in hot weather. The world is not by means ready to go nudist, though it makes a fairly close approach to it on many bathing beaches. It should give the folks who live through warm summer weather whatever relief its conscience will allow.

COLLECTING THE DEBTS.

The people of England greatly desire the friendship of the United States. They need it, in a time when the British empire almost cracks under hammer blows of dictators. One difficulty in the way of that friendship on the most cordial terms, is the unpaid debts owed by Britain to the United States. The same is true of unpaid debts owed by France.

Turbans Are Chic

Right in the midst of the vogue for sailors and wide brimmed hats, comes a surprise trend—a decided move in favor of turbans. Expertly draped ones are being turned out by designers in varied types. The turban pictured at the top follows the style of the headress worn by ancient Abyssinian warriors. It is made of white silk jersey. The hatpin is of amethyst colored stones surrounded with simulated pearls. The other turban is a most flattering type. It is developed in a heavy exotic silk that has great softness of texture. The remarkable drapery is accentuated by the clever use of shirred eyelets to show the hair.

Sculptured Female Figures Caryatides are sculptured female figures which in some classical and Renaissance buildings serve as supports, taking the place of columns or pilasters. The most noted of such figures stand in the ruins of the Erechtheum at Athens and in a hall of the Louvre in Paris.

Michigan Mirror A Non-Partisan State News Letter By GENE ALLEMAN Michigan Press Association

Lansing—The paradox of Luren D. Dickinson, prominent layman of the Methodist church and national and state figure in the Anti-Saloon League, being responsible as governor of Michigan for administration of a vast liquor retail business and a horse race gambling set-up is one of those colorful situations that makes the octogenarian governor "good copy" for a news-hungry public.

Being a practical man of all things, Governor Dickinson probably smiles at the moral dilemma in which he finds himself.

Perhaps no governor in a half century is so fervently and unequivocally dry as Mr. Dickinson. He is state president and national vice president of the Anti-Saloon League which in prohibition days was a powerful pressure group, along with the Ku Klux Klan, in mid-west states.

The Eaton County figure is high in laymen's circles of the Methodist church. He headed the Michigan delegates to the national conference in Kansas City.

As lieutenant governor, Dickinson had no direct responsibility in what the state did, or did not do, in the field of selling liquor and running horse races. But fate intervened unexpectedly this year. Upon him was placed the mantle of chief executive of the commonwealth of Michigan. Attorney General Read ruled that he was both acting governor and lieutenant governor, and that he would draw the governor's salary. In any event Governor Dickinson today finds himself indirectly running liquor stores and horse races, and you can imagine his extreme distaste in engaging in either of these activities of old-fashioned moral ill repute.

"Drunken Carousals"

Mr. Dickinson left no room for doubt as to his personal feelings about these two activities last January in his "inaugural" address this year to the State Senate.

He called attention to an estimate that Michigan people pay $120,000,000 annually for liquor, that the liquor control commission's revenue last year was $8,000,000 and that the price of crime traceable to abuse of liquor could be put reasonably at $90,000,000 annually in Michigan.

Then came a blast that would do justice to a Methodist prayer meeting: "Again we see parents, young men and women and boys and girls, even, from funds that should be used to buy clothing, food, shoes, medicine, rent, toys, furnishings, etc., in drunken speebs and carousals, handing out millions to the bars, beer gardens, road houses and restaurants in the fashion of ancient Greece and Rome to sustain the liquor traffic while state and nation are devising new modes of taxation and borrowing more millions to support and feed tens of thousands.

Quite a mouthful, that! Like a stenographic voice from the sky is this indictment of gambling expressed in the inaugural address: "Conceded gambling practices, permeating all grades of our society, can well be likened to these ancient countries' indulgences. The vehement outcry from every locality of our people, as well as from other sections of the country sending millions of tourists into our commonwealth annually, are uttering vociferous demands that we purge our state of these gambling leeches, habitues of our fairs, races, resorts and roadsides, extracting millions by every conceivable device from fathers, mothers, boys and girls that should be used to buy shoes, clothing, fuel, food and other necessities thus turning over thousands upon thousands to be fed and warmed by State or Federal aid." To all this you need only shout a loud "amen" to complete the picture.

Political Patronage

Michigan's retail liquor business is politically controlled to the extent that a large number of its jobs are handed out as patronage to deserving party workers.

The Murphy administration put its followers into store manager-ships before civil service, "jellied" them in their jobs. Now the Republicans are doing the same thing, handing out plums to those who served faithfully during the campaign.

The same thing could be said of the Michigan racing commission, a board responsible to the governor, which manages the legalized, parimutuel betting system at the state fair ground track in Detroit.

Following a visit to the state fair office where Dr. Linwood Snow, Northville, is doing an efficient job as manager (despite attempts at political interference) we visited the nearby race track. Twilight races were being run, 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Several thousand people (a small box-office) were there, not to witness the races as much as to gamble.

Long rows of betting windows, $2 to $100, would require a good two blocks. Loud speakers carried frequent reminders of the time available to place bets. After each race the winners present their tickets to the cashier for the pay-off.

Of course it is called a sport for the improvement of the breeding of better (and faster) horses. But we all know that it is gambling, pure and simple, and not so much of either at that.

This gambling business is conditioned and supervised by the state under state legislative authority. Being legalized by the legislature, betting has become a law which Governor Dickinson, by his oath of office, agreed to enforce along with all other laws on the state statute book.

Surely here is a paradox, a conflict of moral issues, if there ever was one.

Governor Doesn't Worry

Despite his age of 80 years, Mr. Dickinson enjoys the responsibilities of being governor. He relishes it.

In fact, he has gained weight. Worries which plagued the late Frank Fitzgerald into an early grave apparently do not inspire a wrinkle on the Dickinson brow.

Admitting frankly that he wasn't "losing any sleep" over the then prevalent budget problem, the governor packed his bags and left in a state police car for the governors' conference in the East. Let the legislature worry about a prospective deficit, he said, if it failed to cut school aid to $38,250,000.

And worry the law-makers did, while Governor Dickinson enjoyed himself at New York City and Washington, D. C. They reduced the school aid to $39,000,000 and left a loophole for $2,000,000 more revenue if budget-balancing would permit it.

It was a triumph for economy, on paper at least. Actually, however, the state is still in the hole financially and another "recession" or a prolonged automobile strike would impose another heavy burden on welfare needs, enough to quickly exhaust the reduced appropriation which the legislature authorized.

The Dickinson administration then would be bogged down in the same morass that befell Frank Murphy. It would be a case again of inducing the Great White Father at Washington to feed the jobless or of dipping more into non-existent state funds. With an election due, and the 1940 balloting isn't so far away, politicians would see to it that plenty of spending was done. As the records prove, welfare rolls have a funny habit of going up just before votes are to be cast.

Milk Price Fixing

Michigan's experiment in the field of price fixing is about to begin.

On Saturday, July 17, the state milk board will hear arguments of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association and Detroit milk producers that an emergency exists in the metropolitan milk-shed and that the state should intervene.

Anticipated by producers is an increase in the price of bottled milk.

The new milk law does not affect the so-called surplus milk which goes into butter, ice cream, milk powder, canned milk and other manufactured products.

McKay Rumors

Despite the "you did no wrong" report of the house investigating committee into Frank D. McKay's $105,000 bridge bond deal, rumors still persist as to the Grand Rapids leader's participation in miscellaneous affairs.

If all the reports were true, then the Kent County Republican boss would be, indeed, almost a legendary Paul Bunyon. Gossip would have you believe that McKay has an interest in at least one Wayne County resort (which at present is not open), that his lieutenants help supervise the horse racing track at Detroit, that he is a super-salesman for jitney parking meters, that he engages indirectly in the sale of sundry supplies to state institutions, and that he even has telephoned orders from his Florida mansion as to additional liquor brands for the state list.

The rumors, without substantiation, do Mr. McKay a serious injustice.

And without proof, they must be classified as untrue. Yet in themselves, they would create for Mr. McKay the hearty role of a villain, whether he deserves it or not. The Kent County leader appears altogether immune to this brand of political vendetta.

Allspice Berry of Pimento

Allspice is the berry of the pimento (Pimenta officinalis) or allspice tree, of the West Indies, also, the mildly pungent and aromatic spice prepared from it. Allspice has been supposed to combine the flavor of cinnamon, nutmegs, and cloves, hence the name.

Dachshund Used as Hunter

The dachshund was used extensively in Germany in hunting the dachs, which is a small, burrowing animal resembling the American badger. The dogs are trained to go into the dach's hole and bring him out.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE G. O. P. Centers on Vandenberg Despite Tom Dewey's Showing In Popular Opinion Samplings

POLITICS: G. O. P. Shift

As recently as one year ago politicians feared such highly successful public opinion samplings as the Gallup poll might make party nominating conventions needless. Example: New York's racket-busting District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey is No. 1 popular candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

But popular opinion is one thing and common sense another. Astute Republicans know Tom Dewey has no administrative record, know also that he might be elected and still prove a failure, thus destroying the party's chances in 1944. In Washington, where political schemes are hatched, the G. O. P. now seems bent on nominating not Tom Dewey but another Michigan product, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Reasoning: Most conservative politicians favor him and most G. O. P. editorial support falls in his direction.

H. STYLES BRIDGES No 'H' in campaign literature.

What such seers have not considered is that 1936 found Gallup polls, Fortune polls and several other samplings much less fallible than U. S. editorial opinion, which the public rejected to elect a Democratic President. But since 1936 the public has followed a newspaper-inspired trend to conservatism, which probably makes today's editorial opinion less erring.

Biggest Vandenberg asset in winning both G. O. P. and Democratic votes is his middle-of-the-road record and a reputation for working harmoniously with both friends and enemies. In May he led a victorious fight against the Florida canal project in which he was supported by 22 Republican and 23 Democratic senators. Better than anyone else, observers think he could win anti-Roosevelt Democratic votes.

Other G. O. P. boomlets: Bridges, in 1936 New Hampshire's ex-governor and present senator, H. Styles Bridges, missed the vice presidential nomination with Alfred M. Landon simply because strategists thought a Landon-Bridges combination sounded too much like "London Bridge is falling down." This month thousands of booklets captioned: "For President in 1940—Styles Bridges" are being distributed in his behalf by a New Hampshire organization. Noticeably absent from campaign literature is the first initial H., a concession to diplomacy.

Martin, House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. was judged most popular congressman last winter by newspaper correspondents and has now become vice presidential possibility. Since he would rather be speaker of the house next session than vice president (provided the election goes Republican), Joe Martin is busily fighting off boosters like Illinois' Rep. Leo E. Allen, who predicts that the man who managed Alf Landon's nomination fight at the 1936 convention will find a lot of friends awaiting him at next year's gathering.

AGRICULTURE: Good or Bad?

Until Judgment day men will probably use the year 1939 as a basis for comparing economic conditions. This year, 10 summers after the stock market reached its peak, a decade's experience led Standard Statistics company to probe the U. S. farmer's status. General conclusion is that it almost parallels 1929's, though conditions themselves differ as night from day. Today's "prosperity" has a different basis.

Retail sales, always a good index, seem to be up. But biggest increases are shown not by independent local merchants but by mail order houses, which may indicate no return of prosperity but simply a swing to mail order buying. Less important, but significant in the mail order increase, is decentralization of industry.

Offsetting a possibly dull picture is a drastic shift in farm expenditures. Though cash income for 1939's first four months was only 73 per cent of 1929, the farmer's essential purchases cost substantially less. In the past 10 years mortgage debt has dropped 26 per cent; interest charges, 35 per cent; hired hands and expenditure for labor has dropped; taxes in 1937 were 33 per cent less than 1929. Result: Overhead and operating costs are down and a larger portion of farm income is available for buying industry's products. But if this increased portion goes exclusively to mail order houses and not to local merchants, observers wondered how permanent prosperity could reach the rural U. S.

WHITE HOUSE: Initials

Hint to uninformed newspaper readers: Added this month to Washington's alphabetical agencies are FWA, FLA and FSA—Federal Works, Federal Loan and Federal Security agencies. Another change: Though WPA retains its battle-scarred initials, it must now be called Works Projects administration, not Works Progress administration.

BELGIUM: Isolation

In 1914 German troops marched to France via Belgium, meeting little resistance en route. In 1939 a Reich war machine would be stopped on Belgium's frontier, thanks to a fortification system far out of proportion to the little kingdom's size. But Belgium has not cast her lot with France and Britain, has instead followed King Leopold's pronouncement of 1936 when Belgium declared herself free from all former obligations with these nations. Significantly, no French or British general can today examine King Leopold's defenses.

Last month France's General Chauvineau protested, declaring a French-Belgian defensive formation was the best for all concerned. A few weeks later France got her answer in Brussels' newspaper, Derniere Heure. The Belgian stand: If Germany respects Belgium's independence in a general war, all will be well, although France's line of defense would be shortened by 155 miles. But if Germany again possibly evade a German attack on its northern frontier and might not aid Belgium as immediately as it did in 1914. If past experience is any indication, France might even squeeze out of a war via the time-tested appeasement route.

Meanwhile the Belgians have good reason to rush their fortifications. Knowing a German drive would hold France as its ultimate goal, shrewd King Leopold also knows the Reich might avoid a conflict with him if there is a good chance it would delay the attack on France.

FORECAST

CITATION—Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, who stood pat on the U. S. position during Japan's recent drive against Occidentals in China, is expected to be given the distinguished service medal by congress.

UP—Increased world consumption of U. S. cotton is expected by the agriculture department on basis of current sales. For the year ending August 1, consumption is estimated at 11,250,000 bales compared with 10,900,000 bales last year.

RETURN—Lord Beaverbrook's London Evening Standard predicts a return to England this fall of the duke and duchess of Windsor.

OIL—T. G. Delbridge of Philadelphia, president of the American society for testing materials, estimates the U. S. has ample petroleum supplies for 150 years.

INTERNATIONAL: Armaments

What constitutes absolute "neutrality" in wartime has never made itself quite clear. Superficial neutrality under the U. S. law bans sale of arms and munitions—"lethal weapons"—yet under the amendment of Ohio's Rep. John M. Vorys such indispensable war-making equipment as trucks and commercial airplanes may be sent abroad. Early July, when the neutrality bill was making its way through congress, found the agriculture department proposing government subsidized export of cotton in a program whose chief benefactors would be aggressive Germany and Japan, both of whom need cotton to stuff into their ammunition.

But U. S. participation in dictator rearmament is only part of the picture. Though France has just banned shipment of scrap iron to Germany, though Britain's new ministry of supply will have the right to ban such shipments, profit-conscious democracies and dictatorships have no moral compunctions about such things; scrap iron or any other material of Mars is sold abroad to the highest bidder until domestic rearmament demands that it be kept at home. Samples: Last month Britain's liberal Lord Davies told how scrap iron and steel exports from the United Kingdom to the Reich rose from 4,500 tons in July, 1938 to 17,000 tons in August, 21,000 tons in September (month of the Munich crisis) and 23,000 tons in December.

France gave Germany 350 tons of pig iron last August when the Czech crisis was just rising, gave her 19,000 tons in September when the crisis was at its peak, and 75,000 tons in November.

Still more revealing are Germany's 1938 foreign trade statistics, showing that 1,059,800 tons of Germany's total 1,146,027 tons of 1938 scrap iron came from Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Great Britain, Holland and the U. S., all potential enemies. In March, 1939, the same countries contributed 161,344 tons, which would make 1,936,128 tons if the same import level were maintained throughout the year. From the U. S. in 1938 came 462,782 tons; in March, 1939, came 20,175 tons.

Other import figures for Germany:

Table with columns for Iron Ore (tons) and Copper Ore (tons) for various countries like Sweden, France, Spain, G. Britain, U. S. R., etc.

Most logical deduction is that the next World War may find British, French, Canadian, Belgian—and possibly U. S.—troops dying of wounds inflicted by arms made of metal from their home lands.

CONGRESS: Going Up

In 1878 an economy-bent Forty-fourth congress appropriated $291,220,000. In 1909 the government's expenditures first topped the billion-dollar mark; 1918's war crisis brought it to 18 billion; 1919 made it 27 billion. Never since then have U. S. expenditures dropped much below the four-billion mark and last year came a peacetime record of 11 billion. By mid-July, with most appropriations (but little else) out of the road, the Seventy-sixth congress had managed to set a new record of about $13,110,000,000.

Beyond its control were such costs as mounting old age pension reserve and the railroad retirement plan. Cropping up from the past, too, was an item of $3,624,812,065 for interest on the $40,000,000,000 national debt. Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini were held responsible for almost two billion of it, but not even President Roosevelt would acknowledge the $338,000,000 which an election-conscious senate tacked to the agriculture department's appropriation bill for parity payments and disposal of surplus commodities.

Most significant drop: Relief. For the 1939-40 fiscal year the U. S. will spend $1,755,600,000, against $2,915,605,000 last year. Item by item expenditures, with little more to come:

Table listing expenditures for independent agencies, agriculture, interior, treasury-post office, war (military), war (supplemental), war (engineering projects), navy, labor, state, justice, commerce, congressional, first deficiency, second deficiency, third deficiency, relief (supplemental), and relief (for 1940).

Youthful Styles Growing in Favor

The "little girl" fashions so strongly advocated this season are proving a big success. It's fun to look young and the short swing skirts, the nipped-in-at-the-waist bodices, the perky white pique collars and cuffs and other "fixings" make you look just that. The cunning white straw hats with their ribbon streamers add to the picture of youth. Remember fashion's message is to be young this summer and the shops and stores are filled with raiment that aids and abets the good cause.

Ear Specialists Now Measure Hearing Ability

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

WHEN one finds his eyesight failing, he does not hesitate to consult an optometrist or an eye specialist, to find just how much assistance is needed to bring his eyes up to normal vision. And this has been the case for many years.

When one finds his hearing impaired and is told by the ear specialist that nothing can be done from the treatment standpoint to restore the hearing, instead of seeking a hearing aid, as one does an eyesight aid (glasses), the hard-of-hearing individual tries to get along without the aids as he is ashamed to let his friends or acquaintances know that he is hard of hearing. This of course may be necessary in some cases as loss of employment might follow the discovery of his hearing defect.

It is certainly gratifying, however, to see that our hard-of-hearing friends, recognizing that impaired hearing should really be compared with impaired eyesight in that both need help or aid, are now more willing to use these aids.

Hearing Aids Increase. What is just as gratifying is to know that not only can the degree and range of hearing be measured with the new instrument—the audiometer—but the type of hearing aid to suit the various types of hearing defects can now be obtained.

Just as the optometrist measures the exact seeing ability and fits the glasses in the proper position, so can the ear specialist, after measuring the hearing ability, fit the right type of hearing aid to the patient. Sometimes the hearing aid is adjusted to the outer ear and the hearing is improved by magnifying the sound striking the eardrum in the usual manner, or by adjustment to the bone behind the ear from which sound goes to the inner ear and to the brain.

Valuable help on selecting hearing aids for those hard of hearing may be obtained by writing the American Society for the Hard of Hearing, 1528 Northwest Thirty-fifth street, Washington, D. C., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Maintain Good Health By Visits to Doctor

Most of us believe that the greatest asset or gift in life is to have good health. To have brains, ambition, money, all give life more fullness but cannot make up for poor health and a weak body.

If, then, good health is the greatest human asset, no one can be blamed for trying to attain and maintain good health. Regular visits to the physician, the dentist, the oculist and optometrist should be in the life plan of everybody.

On the other hand, there are some who appreciate good health but are so concerned about it that they worry constantly lest they lose it. These are the individuals who think and worry so much about health that they tire themselves physically and mentally; they are called neurotics. Socrates said that there is nothing in the world that so hinders us in making a proper demand on life as an exaggerated worry over our bodies.

Be Thoughtful, Not Anxious. The point of course is that there should be thought, not anxiety, about our bodies, because an aching tooth or stomach, an infected tonsil, the sluggishness of the liver that manufactures insufficient bile and fails to remove poisons from the blood, the slowness of the gall bladder in emptying bile into the small intestine, can each so alter the thoughts of the mind and the actions of the body that we are not our real or true selves.

Being anxious or worried, which is really a condition of chronic fear, not only fails to help but can, as Professor Cannon of Harvard has shown, cause real organic ailments in the body. This does not mean that you should not think of the body and its needs but that you should think of these needs in a constructive way—common sense in diet, common sense in sleep, and common sense in exercise.

Common sense about food or sleep is reflected in your weight. If you can keep your weight to within five pounds of the ideal for the shape of your body (length and width of trunk, not total height) you are fulfilling the body's needs and helping to lessen or prevent infection or other ailments due to underweight and overweight.

In regard to the third need of the body—exercise—we have but to remember Gladstone's comment, "All time and money spent in training the body pays a larger rate of interest than any other investment."

Campbell led the parade of youth to the fairgrounds. Besides community singing, the band gave a concert of sacred numbers, and Rev. H. I. Voelker of Flint delivered an address. About twenty attended from Cass City.

Laidlaw in Brown City. The Dillman family, Miss Kenyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nique of Decker met Miss Kenyon's parents in Flint on Sunday and enjoyed a picnic dinner and then returned to their various homes.

It all started when Mary Jane Young, daughter of the Hersey Youngs, of Fort Morgan, Colorado, wrote to the sixth grade in the Cass City Schools last year. When over twenty of the sixth graders replied, Mary Jane decided she would like to know her correspondence friends better when she came to Michigan this summer. Accordingly, on Thursday afternoon she invited them to a swimming party. After a swim at the pool, refreshments were served, and Mary Jane and her friends were really acquainted.

A QUEEN ON THE BATTLEFRONT

Queen Jean Halmond of the 1939 National Cherry Festival at Traverse City, forgets her regal station, climbs up on a spray rig and pours it into the shothole fungus. Queen Jean, raised in the midst of cherry orchards, handled the situation like a veteran as she shot both sides of the row.

Mrs. Kidder and a son, John, are the other members of the family who visited here and left Monday morning for New York.

To say that Mr. and Mrs. John Sandham, their daughter, Miss Johanna, and Archie Valier of Detroit, and a tall and blooming hollyhock spent the week-end at the Sandham cottage at Oak Bluff sounds a bit unusual. And yet it is true. When backing out of the garage preparatory to the drive to Caseville, Mr. Sandham uprooted a hollyhock planted close to the driveway which became wedged between the bumper and the car body. Although Mrs. Sandham wondered what the townsfolk would think of the blooming flower garden on the rear of the car, she and her husband drove to the cottage with the hollyhock peering over the top of the car, and entertained their guests.

Something that has been mentioned many times but never before tried for a two-month period is being conducted as an experiment this summer. Instead of holding separate services for the Bethel Methodist Church and the Methodist Church in town, during two months this summer they are combining Sunday School and church sessions and holding them jointly in the church in town. Since cars have made travel to religious services much more convenient, the two congregations decided to merge for the summer months, thus making just one charge for the Methodist minister in Cass City. The new pastor, Rev. H. G. Bushong, conducted the first combined service on July 2.

Traffic Fatalities in State Reduced by Safety Program

The key to reduction of traffic fatalities in Michigan may be found in the successful July 4 safety program executed by the state highway department and state police.

In 1937 a record of 36 traffic deaths for the four-day holiday period was established. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner and Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the state police pooled the efforts of their men to cut that figure in 1938 for the first time.

That year they cut fatalities to 31. They set cooperation between drivers as the goal to be accomplished, and kept a careful record of all elements contributing to each fatal accident. On their findings, they based their 1939 safety program. The result was a reduction from 31 to 12 in the number of Michigan July 4 traffic deaths.

At the same time reports of increased traffic were general over the state. The International Blue Water Bridge at Port Huron reported a 49 per cent increase over the traffic carried the previous year by ferries. State ferries handled 34.4 per cent more traffic. Visitors registering at the New Buffalo Tourist Lodge increased from 5,773 in 1938 to 7,900.

America is now vacation bound. For the next few months thousands upon thousands of automobiles will cross the country in all directions. Here are a few tips to follow on your trip:

- 1. Watch the road. Watch the other fellow; but chiefly watch yourself.
2. It's a lot better to take a little time being careful than to spend a lot of time being sorry.
3. Signal what you are going to do before you do it.
4. Stay on your side of the road.
5. Don't trust the other fellow, but check upon yourself first.
6. Your pleasure trip has no right to promote the other fellow's funeral trip.
It's smart to drive carefully.

Style Notes

Fashion for dark sheers is gaining. Drape-your-own fishnet turbans are popular. Handknit cardigans are worn over print frocks. Huge organdy or pique bows are worn at the throat. White lastex printed in bright plaid is new for bathing suits. Eyelet pique is smart for hats, boleros, blouses and accessories. White party frocks are made gay with gypsy stripe accessories. Gold trimming, especially buttons, on white is new fashion highlight. Summer jackets of smart cotton weaves are either quilted or of candlewick type.

Want Compulsory Grading for Dry Beans in Michigan

Recommendations were made at Bay Port at a meeting of representatives of the Michigan Bean Shippers' Association with Department of Agriculture officials that all dry edible beans produced in Michigan be made subject to compulsory grading, when the existing contract between the association and the department for the grading of beans is renewed in August. Under the contract in effect during the past year, navy beans only have been subject to inspection.

The trend of the attitude at the session was for more rigid enforcement of the inspection service, remedying faults that have been found in the first year of operation. Representing the bean shippers were A. C. Walcott, secretary of the association, Leo D. Cline of Birch Run, Herman Henne of Bay Port, Neil H. Bass of Lansing, A. B. Love of Michigan State College and L. W. Todd of Owosso, while department was represented by Miles A. Nelson, director of the Bureau of Agriculture Industry, Glenn W. Davis, director of the Bureau of Foods and Standards and A. F. Armbrustmaker, inspector-in-charge.

Michigan Farm Produce Is Featured by Railroads

Commissioner Elmer A. Beamer, checking with Roy Vandercreek, secretary of Michigan Railroads' Association, proof of card, four by six inches printed on blue stock, which railroads, operating in and out of Michigan, are attaching to menus in diners. The success of the campaign is expected to encourage use of other products, especially beans and potatoes, large shipments of which are made annually by rail. Insert shows card.

current progress in research and experiments.

A bit of entertainment starts off the program this year. The four Girards, of Gladstone, Michigan, will display their bag of tricks in birling logs and fancy and trick log riding. This opening event at 9:30 a. m. is to be held on the Red Cedar River near Farm Lane Bridge.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, is general chairman for the day, working with V. R. Gardner, director of the experiment station, and R. J. Baldwin, extension director. R. W. Tenny, short course director, is program chairman.

When the lumberjacks' band quits playing after the Girards perform, guests will scatter over the campus and farms to pick out those departments which interest them most. Until noon the departments holding field and office open house will include agricultural engineering, animal husbandry, dairy, farm crops, farm and horse, farm management, landscape, forestry, horticulture, poultry, short course, soils, veterinary, botany and entomology.

In the afternoon a program on the lawn north of the library opens with a concert by the Michigan Future Farmers' Band. At two o'clock Frank Peck, president of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, will describe phases of a quarter century of agricultural progress. Mr. Peck served 22 years in Minnesota as extension director. Floats depicting how Michigan has been served by the extension service in agriculture and home economics will conclude the day's events.

Kitchen Comfort No Real Secret

Kitchen comfort in the hot months is not only a matter of reducing the number of hot foods and prolonged use of the oven, but improving the arrangement of the kitchen to cut down the necessary steps and movements may result in cooler and less tired housewives.

Studies in timesaving have provided members of the staff of the home economics department at Michigan State College with some of the secrets of what to do and what not to do to keep cool in the kitchen in summer.

A good housekeeper moves in orderly sequence from the refrigerator to the work table and sink, to the range, and to the dining table without crisscrossing of paths. Food is prepared chiefly at the sink and work table. Where is it stored before work is begun? Does the homemaker have to cross the room continually to get her materials, or are they kept within easy reach, in the food-storage cupboard, the refrigerator, and possibly the vegetable bin? How near is the refrigerator to the food-preparation table? Could it be nearer?

When the food is ready to cook, how near is the stove? If the various pots and pans have to be filled with water, are they handy to the sink? Are most of the small implements and pans hung up, or does one have to rummage around in drawers or closets to get them out?

What distance is walked in setting the table, from the place where the china, glass, and silverware are kept? Could these things be stored more conveniently? A dish cupboard within arm's reach of the sink is a great step-saver, especially if it runs through the partition to the dining room side.

VETERAN TEAM TO REUNITE.

A reunion for the first livestock judging team trained at Michigan State College is to be one of the features of the all-day picnic celebration Tuesday, July 25, at the Pontiac State Hospital. The prime purpose of the program is to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the state's first institutional herd, purebred Holsteins. Team members who were coached in 1899 by the late H. W. Mumford include the Rev. N. A. McCune, East Lansing, John B. Strange, Grand Ledge, former commissioner of agriculture and now a member of the civil service commission, J. Hackley Skinner, farm superintendent at Cranbrook, Professor George W. Humphrey of the dairy department of the University of Wisconsin, and V. M. Shoesmith, East Lansing real estate man. The coach died a year ago and another member of the team, George Severance, died recently in Washington, D. C.

Prophets

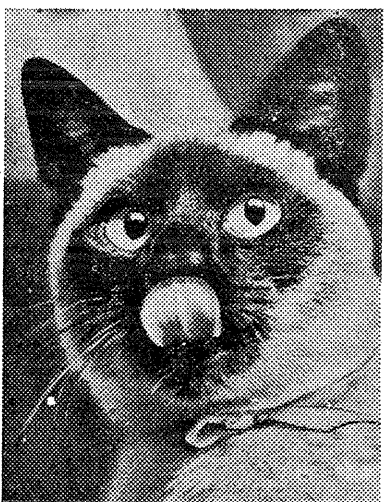

● According to ancient English legend, rain on St. Swithin's Day, July 15, means rain for 40 days. The folk lore of every country imbues animals, fowl and insects with the gift of foretelling rain. Here are a few of the more popular superstitions:

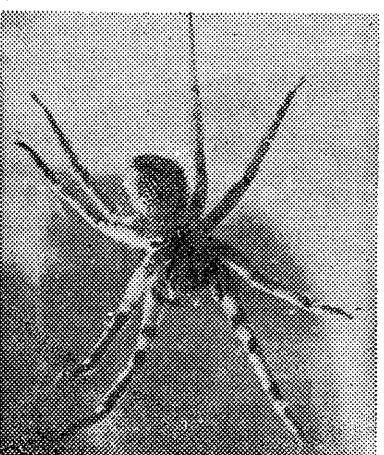

Despite meteorologists, many farmers here and elsewhere listen to the rooster's crowing for advance weather information. This superstition is based on the age-old couplet: "If a cock crows when he goes to bed, he'll get up with a wet head."

Another "sure-fire" indication of rainfall, fishermen to the contrary, is when "Through the clear streams the fishes rise, and nimbly catch incautious flies."

Government weather experts look upon kitty as nothing more than a household pet, but according to diehards, rain is a two-to-one bet when "Puss on the hearth, with velvet paws, sits licking e'er her whiskered jaws."

The not-too-particular housewife can disregard scientific prognostications, according to legend, because rain is definitely due when "The soot falls down, the spaniels sleep, and spiders from their cobwebs creep."

And this wise old bird may be as smart as his reputation paints him, for "When the owl does hoot within the day, in 48 hours the skies are gray." So—if your newspaper didn't come, and your radio isn't working, try dropping out your own weather prophecies.

"JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES, I'M PRETTY WELL PLEASED ABOUT IT"

"Yes sir, there's a lot of satisfaction in having an individual telephone line again. 'Not that I have anything against our old party line. It served its purpose during the depression when we had to watch every penny, and yet didn't want to do without telephone service. 'But now that things are better, I'm kind of proud to have 'our own' telephone once more. It's right there—ready for us—when ever we want it or whenever anybody wants us. There's no one else using it when we're in a hurry. 'And it's surprising how little more it costs than our party line did. Might be a good idea for you to look into it, and see if you don't want to change back too."
