Other victims of the wreck are William Alexander, 20, of Elkton, a cousin of the driver; Lawrence Burczyk, 28, of Elkton; and Gilbert Cameron, 30, of Dryden. The accident occurred shortly after 11:00 p. m. on Tuesday. The machine was demolished and the men were pinned inside the wreckage.

H. E. Girls Display Handiwork at Party Wednesday Forenoon

For the past six weeks, the Home Economics II girls, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Verma Bailey, have been sewing small dresses and suits and using the kindergarten children as models.

Now that the clothes are all completed, it was decided to have a party at which the children's mothers would be guests, and at which the garments would be judged by the girls.

Wednesday morning, the children were dressed in their lovely, gay new clothes. As they played London Bridge, Drop the Handkerchief, and other games, the clothes were displayed in a natural, interesting manner.

At a given signal all of the children looked for peanuts that were hidden around the room. Bobby Polkert won a big red apple as first prize for finding the most peanuts.

Punch and wafers were served to the children and their mothers by the high school girls. Irma Gibson poured.

This entire project exhibited the splendid principles of modern education. A practical project was culminated in an event that brought happiness to students, parents and teachers.

Family Together First Time in 18-Year Period

Hicks Home in Novesta Holds 97 Celebrators at 60th Wedding Anniversary

From Deford Correspondent.

November 5, 1939, was a joyous occasion and outstanding event in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Hicks, it being the 60th anniversary of the day when Ben Hicks, a boy of 19 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, and Selina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Loyst, took their marriage vows before Rev. Mr. Godwin, pastor of the M. E. Church, at Essex, Ont.

The Hicks and Loyst families were firm friends and in the same community and their young people were closely associated even in childhood days. Sixty years have passed for Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, seemingly, very quickly. Blessed with good health and plenty of courage, their close application to business has brought as compensation a pleasant home for the more mature years of life.

The Hicks farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hicks, was the scene of the activities and festivities of the occasion, when 97 were present at dinner. The center of attraction was the table at which Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Hicks were seated, surrounded by their family of 10 children, and as honored guests, Rev. H. C. Elford, pastor of the Deford and Kingston Methodist Churches, and Mrs. Elford. Mrs. Fred Marriott of Sarnia, Ont., sister of Mr. Hicks, and Marshall Loyst, brother of Mrs. Hicks, attending the anniversary, were the only ones present who were at the wedding Nov. 5, 1879.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are the parents of 10 children, all of whom were present. This is the only time for a period of 18 years when all were together. They are: John Hicks of Deford, Geo. Hicks of Dryden, Ont., William Hicks of Deford, Ben Hicks of Flushing, Archie Hicks of Deford, Jay D. Hicks of Detroit, Nelson Hicks of Deford, Mrs. Elmer Collins (Alfreda), Mrs. Jesse Kelley (Olive), and Mrs. Burton Morrison (Estelle), all of Caro.

Besides the ten children, there are 32 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. In 60 years of wedded life, with 53 descendants, and never a death in the family of four generations is almost without parallel. "There are 76 descendants and in-laws, but no out-laws," says Mr. Hicks.

Thirty-three were present from the Dominion—Sarnia, Warwick.

Cass City Wins from Croswell 12 to 7

Locals Play Bad Axe Here Today in the Last Home Game of Season.

Cass City chalked up victory number four Friday when their superior offense and heavier line held Croswell scoreless until the last quarter. The day was perfect for the occasion and the local boys paralleled this by playing an almost perfect game.

In the first quarter, both teams were strong on defense and the ball seldom left the center of the field.

In the second quarter, Croswell had the ball in their own territory and attempted to pass, but Strickland intercepted it on the 30-yard line and ran it to the 55. McIntyre took the ball from here on the next play and smashed his way to a touchdown. Dewey entered the game to kick for the conversion, but the kick was blocked. The third quarter was very similar to the first. Neither team scored.

In the fourth quarter, Cass City pushed the ball to the 15-yard line. Strickland, carrying the ball around his left end, plowed through the Croswell defense and scored the second touchdown. The try for point failed.

In the last few minutes of the game, Croswell advanced to the one-yard line where Keglavitz plunged through the line for their only touchdown. Kerchenheiter scored the extra point and Cass City's lead was narrowed down to five points. The rally was late, however, for the game ended shortly.

Strickland's and McIntyre's beautiful spinning and side stepping accounted for many of Cass City's gains.

Elkton Coach and Two Companions Get Chills When Boat Overturns

Larry Hutchinson, Elkton High School coach, his wife, Margaret, and their house guest, Miss Elvera Bassner, of Saginaw, had a thorough chilling and narrowly escaped drowning in Saginaw Bay Saturday afternoon.

The three had intended to go fishing and their boat overturned as it was being tied to a stake. The mishap occurred about a mile off the Caseville shore near nets set at commercial fishing grounds. They were rescued after 20 minutes in the water by Arthur Quinn of Elkton and two Detroiters, who were taking a boat ride. The trio were brought to shore and fishermen later recovered the boat which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, whose cottage is located at Oak Bluff.

Livestock Club Here Purchases 8 Head of Registered Herefords

Eight head of Registered Hereford cattle, four steers and four females, have been purchased by members of the Cass City Livestock Club from the Crapo Farms at Swartz Creek and the Dohrman Bros. Farm at Davison. Most of these are of Aaron Domina breeding, and Aaron Domino is known as a leading Hereford sire in Michigan.

Members who are among the late purchasers include Carl Kolb, Kathleen Smith, Leslie Smith (2), Bruce Stine, Stephen Dodge, Jr., Dale Kettlewell and Stanley VanVliet.

Eighteen animals are being fitted for the Detroit Junior Livestock Show by club members and the present outlook is that at least 17 will be classified for exhibition next month.

PRIMARY SCHOOL INTEREST PAYMENT CHECKS READY

From the office of County Clerk Clare W. Hornig are being sent checks to the treasurers of school districts in Tuscola County which represent a $2.45 per capita payment of the primary school interest fund. The total amount sent to the county is $25,808.30 and the school population is 10,534 children.

This is the third payment of this fund which has been sent out this school year. In September the per capita payment was $2.00 and in October $3.00.

Arbela WPA Worker Found Smothered to Death under Car

Walter Rogers, 29-year-old WPA worker employed on county drain projects, was found smothered to death shortly after noon Saturday beneath an automobile on which he was working in the yard at his home in Arbela Township, southwest of Vassar.

He was found by his wife, Catherine, about 12:30 p. m. She called a neighbor, but Rogers was dead when he arrived. Mrs. Rogers said her husband had the automobile raised on a jack which had slipped, causing the car to fall on the man's chest.

Coroner Lee Huston of Caro, who was called, decided that no inquest need be held.

Besides his widow, Mr. Rogers leaves two children, one two years old, the other a month old.

Vassar Man Victim of Accidental Shot; Charge Enters Lung

Earl Westcoat, 35-year-old foundry worker of Vassar, was taken to the General Hospital in Saginaw Friday night with a bullet lodged in his right lung, as the result of the accidental discharge of a .22 calibre target rifle at his home.

Westcoat was showing a friend at Westcoat's home a half mile south of Vassar, how easily the gun came out of a new holster he had bought when he dropped the weapon. It landed on the hammer and discharged, the bullet entering his chest. He was given first aid in the office of Dr. Theodore Hoffman in Vassar and then taken to the hospital in Saginaw. An X-ray showed the bullet had lodged in the lung. Due to loss of blood and Westcoat's weakened condition, no attempt was made to probe for the bullet at the time.

Surrender Old Plates When Buying New

Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, has requested all purchasers of new 1940 license plates to surrender the 1939 plates at the time of purchase.

Mr. Kelly has deemed it advisable to make this request because of the fact that 1939 license plates if not turned into the branch office might be used by an unlawful owner. Many persons in the past have been careless about the disposition of the old plates, and have become involved in complications resulting from that carelessness.

Much time can be saved in the issuance of your new license plates by having the old plates ready to turn over to the licensing officials at the time of purchase.

Mr. Chase has been in business here for two and a half years and reported a satisfactory and gradually increasing business. He anticipates that Mrs. Chase, who had been quite ill for several months, will benefit by the change of being away from business activities. While here, they occupied rooms in the same building in which their business was conducted, while now they occupy a private residence. They are living in Deckerville.

The Flying Youngs at Fort Morgan, Colo., Are Attracting National Prominence in Aviation

The Flying Youngs of Fort Morgan, Colorado, are attracting national prominence for their achievements in private aviation, and have set up several marks which will be hard to better. Six in the immediate family hold official pilot certificates, the greatest number of any one family in the world.

Hersey W. Young, Sr., former Cass City resident and now city councilman and elevator operator in Fort Morgan, at 59, is the oldest active pilot in Colorado.

Corra Mae, 17, and high school student president, is one of the youngest. Dorothy, or Mrs. Paul Young, is 21, and holds a commercial pilot's certificate—the highest rating of any woman in Colorado and one of 27 in the United States.

Hersey, Jr., 18, is a sophomore backfield ace of the Denver University football squad, but keeps up his flying on week-end visits home. All have received their instruction from Paul, operator of the Fort Morgan airport, who holds a commercial and instructor's certificate. They have all soloed on the same Piper Club, owned by Harold and Paul.

In their accumulated solo air time of approximately 1,000 hours, not one of the family has ever had an accident.

The Youngs and other air-minded residents have put Fort Morgan on the aviation map of the United States. Fort Morgan now ranks close to the top in per capita population; one person in every ninety of the city's 5,000 population is either flying or in the process of learning.

This airport, says the Fort Morgan Herald, is a favorite stopping point for cross-country flyers, and is frequently used by ships of the Colorado National Guard squadron.

Union Service Is Planned Here on Thanksgiving

Congregations of Four Local Churches to Gather Thursday, November 23.

The congregations of the Methodist, Evangelical, Nazarene and Presbyterian Churches will hold a union Thanksgiving service in the Presbyterian Church Thanksgiving Day, November 23, at 10:30 a. m. After a brief meditation by the Rev. H. G. Bushong, the united group will participate in a short communion service. This is a very fitting close for this service as the communion is looked upon by the church as the highest act of worship and thanksgiving of which man is capable. Pastors of the various churches will assist in the service.

Since Thanksgiving Day is historically a religious festival, it is hoped by local ministers that the people of the various churches will try to find time for this brief but important service which should help to set the tone for Thanksgiving celebrations. Never has there been a time, they say, when the true significance of the day is as essential as it is this year.

Valuable Mineral Deposits in Thumb

Says Aged Prospector

Samuel Wheaton is exhibiting samples of cadmium and zinc sulphite which he says is found in large quantities west of Cass City "and not very far away from the village." He claims in drilling 100 feet, he found 45 feet of this substance which Sam says is a heat resisting material used in manufacturing automobile pistons and cylinders. The same material is deposited in a vein 80 rods wide on his farm in Greenleaf Township.

This aged prospector, who won't have to wait many years to reach the octogenarian age, is blind in one eye and has lost some of the energy of more youthful years, but he still holds the enthusiasm he has exhibited in the last 20 years that there is great mineral wealth in the Thumb and gold deposits along the banks of the Cass River.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

Published every Friday at Cass City, Michigan. The Tri-County Chronicle established in 1899 and the Cass City Enterprise founded in 1881, consolidated under the name of the Cass City Chronicle on April 20, 1906.

A 20 YEAR ARMISTICE.

On November 11, 1918, an Armistice was signed between the foes of the World War, which Armistice was supposed to last only for some months until the peace treaties should be signed.

The present hostilities do not seem like a real war. Yet the world has been preparing for the most terrible kind of war during these supposed years of peace, and no one can tell when any real peace will come.

It is a terrible thing if leading nations have to fight wars every 20 years to settle their differences, which could be adjusted around the conference table.

The people complain of their national and world troubles, but they rarely stop to think that they have been sowing seeds of such troubles for many years.

The depression, for instance, from which the country has suffered most of the time since 1929, can't be laid off on the Germans, the Russians, the Japanese, or any people whom we may not happen to like.

Meanwhile we do well to pay honors to our men and women who made such great sacrifices in behalf of a better world in 1918.

VIGOR OF MODERN YOUTH.

The college students of today are developing into a new and more vigorous physical type, according to the physical training department of the University of California.

These schools try very hard to bring up strong and vigorous students. The old time idea of the book worm who burns the midnight oil at his studies so persistently that he becomes a physical weakling, is all out.

Formerly the majority of students used to do little in athletics except sit on the grandstand and yell for the athletes. Now, the idea is more or less generally accepted that every young person needs athletic activity.

How far do these excellent ideas provide physical development in the high schools and lower grades? They have had a wide influence, but it takes a good deal of money to provide adequate athletic equipment and opportunity for all boys and girls.

Yet as a rule the young people of today look healthy. Some of them play the game of social life and activities outside of study so hard that they still look a bit pale when they are finally dragged out of bed in the morning.

WHAT SHALL THE HARVEST BE?

There was a gospel song which many people will remember, that asked "What shall the harvest be?" It brought out the idea that people are all the time sowing seeds, and some day they get a harvest, dependent on the kind of seed they sowed.

President Wilson said early in the last European war that we were too proud to fight. Let's hope this time that we are too smart to fight.

The machine lying still in a factory does not accomplish anything until you turn on the power. So the resources and possibilities of a community are not realized until people turn on power in the form of work that benefits the home town.

110 Attend 60th Anniversary—
The Hicks homestead in Novesta Township was the scene of a beautiful and unusual occasion Sunday, November 5, when 110 of the Hicks clan gathered to celebrate the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hicks, who are now living in Deford. The house was beautifully decorated with American Beauties and white chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks and their ten children with Rev. and Mrs. Elford of Deford were seated together at one table. There were 32 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren present.

George Hicks, a son from Dinearvic, Ontario, traveled 1,700 miles to be with his parents on the special occasion. George Hicks moved to Ontario in July, 1922, and this is his first visit with his parents in 17 years. Thirty-three relatives were present from Canada.

Ever since the golden wedding celebration ten years ago, the wedding anniversary has been the occasion for a family gathering, but this is the first that has been complete, including a perfect day of sunshine. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks received many gifts from members of the family and the best wishes of their many friends.

One of the most unusual features of the family's life is the fact that death has never entered. Every child, grandchild and great-grandchild of the couple is living.

The children of the couple are:

George Hicks, Dinearvic, Ontario; John Hicks, Hemans; Nelson Hicks and William E. Hicks, Deford; Benjamin Hicks, Flushing; Archie Hicks, living on the homestead; Mrs. Freda Collins, Mrs. Olive Kelley and Mrs. Estella Moorison, all of Caro; J. D. Hicks, Detroit. Striffler, who was graduated from Cass City High School in 1931, was a factory representative. Mr. Striffler was with a Buick exhibit at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City last month. "My ten-day visit in New York was very interesting," he writes. "Even though it was a business trip, I managed to do a little sight-seeing in the evenings. Rockefeller Center, Times Square, Staten Island, Radio City Music Hall, an afternoon and evening at the World's Fair and eating at various spots such as the Lobster Inn, Child's, and Glass Hat were included in my stops. Both the Waldorf-Astoria and the Grand Central Palace Auto Shows were very well attended."

Sanity Needed. Merle Thorpe in Nation's Business warns against losing our senses in the emotionalism of wartime psychology. He reminds us that it is no more difficult for the United States to keep out of the European war now than it was for a dozen countries directly in the path of the 1914 war to have kept out of it and to have maintained neutrality. Thorpe urges chief attention to our own economic problems to strengthen our independent democracy. He urges against burdensome bureaucracy and curtailed freedom imposed in the name of emergency. In conclusion he says: "Our destiny as a people transcends the plan of a political lottery ruled by administrative whim. It is still possible in this country for the citizens to determine the national interest and the commitments which will best achieve that interest. If we lose our representative government it will be because it is abandoned at home and not because of alien confiscation. The major premise in the situation we now contemplate is that we are not at war. Our resources are intact. Life on the American plan is still normal, still constructive, still sweet and worth the living. The best turn we can do embattled civilization is to keep our own freedom in order, and see to it that our common sense is not interned." —Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

Freedom of Speech. There has been much said about the decision of radio network owners not to permit Father Coughlin, Dr. Townsend and others who discuss controversial issues to use the radio to present their views to the people of the country. The order, it must be admitted, is an effort to curtail free discussions and free speech by restricting a presentation of such assertions as Father Coughlin and others might desire to make over the radio. While it is a right of the radio station owners to conduct their own business as they see fit, the fact that the government does not permit so-called radio competition and will not issue permits to stations where there might be conflicts in wave lengths, places the radio in a far different class than that of newspapers. If one newspaper refuses to print one side of an issue, there is always some other newspaper that is generally glad to present the opposing viewpoint. That is because of unrestricted competition in the newspaper business.

But when the radio cuts off some person from a discussion of questions before the public, that, under existing conditions, is curtailment of freedom of speech, as there is no similar wave length open for such use.

But what is there about the statements that Father Coughlin makes, what is there about the Townsend plan that should prevent them from being discussed over the radio? While we do not agree with all that Father Coughlin says, he does preach good Americanism, he does advocate honest government and he does arouse an interest in public problems. Why gag him? What is there about the Townsend plan that should not be discussed? Are there not some hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country interested in doing something to provide for themselves? Because some believe that the Townsend plan will provide a tax burden too great to bear, is that any reason why its advocates should be gagged and prevented from giving their views over the radio? It is a public issue and it, therefore, is a question that should be open to discussion. The decision to curtail these discussions just does not seem to conform to our American way of doing things.

Hick Towns. Did you ever feel a bit humiliated when someone spoke of your town as a "hick" town? To some people every town outside a large city is a hick town, but that's nothing to worry about or which to feel ashamed. True, we have no skyscraper buildings, no big libraries, no zoos, no subways, no art galleries and not a lot of other good things the big city has, but neither do we have vice-ridden city governments, gangsters, labor wars, labor racketeering and a host of other evil things the big cities have and do not boast much about. And now comes someone with the following satisfaction for the residents of the so-called hick towns: "A hick town is a place where 27 out of 31 presidents were born and where seven out of nine immortals of New York's hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons. And we might also suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent foundation for future greatness.—The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Yosemite Animals. Wilderness areas of Yosemite National park are the home of about one hundred species of mammals and some 230 varieties of birds. Among the larger mammals are 6,500 deer and 400 American black bears. Along the 700 miles of trails in Yosemite these and the smaller animals and birds are abundant, and may be easily seen and studied. These superlative examples of primeval America are permanently preserved that they may be enjoyed for all time by those who seek spiritual inspiration and outdoor recreation in wilderness solitudes.

Goose Acts as Sentry. Refusing all attempts to lure it away, a goose has been on sentry duty outside the Kralievo barracks, in Yugoslavia, for three years. Latest reports received in Belgrade were that it still is on duty. It is always in the same spot, standing first on one leg and then the other, and is so attached to the army that it will not take food from any one not in uniform. When taken from the post it mopes and goes on hunger strike until permitted to return. Advertise it in the Chronicle.

The Greeks Had a Word
Two schools of thought exist on the derivation of the word "glass." Some say it comes from the Celtic word "glas" meaning green or bluish-green, the color of common window glass when seen edgewise. Others say it is from the Latin "glacies" meaning ice, because the word "crystal" is derived from the Greek word meaning ice.

Aftermath of War

On Nov. 11, 1918—just 21 years ago—the Armistice brought the World war to an end. It didn't, however, end the suffering of thousands of men. In the Hines Memorial hospital at Hines, Ill., approximately 1,700 disabled men are cared for, taught to earn a living, and are being guided back to health.

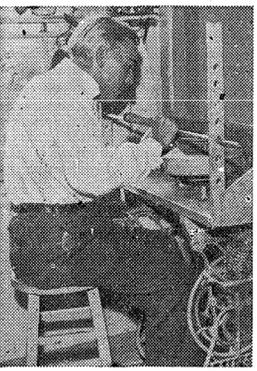

Here a partially disabled veteran operates a weaving machine. Records show that even in the case of spinal paralysis, when the veteran is at first unable to hold a ball of yarn, co-ordination has been taught and the veteran, in a year's time, can do beautiful weaving.

"Shell-shock" is never mentioned at Hines hospital. The term is "war neurosis." All nurses are teachers and superintendents' activities. Beautiful brass and copper ware are turned out by these skilled artisans. The veterans are earning money, and glow with pride of their achievements.

This woodworker at his lathe manufactures furniture both beautiful and practical. Occupational therapy cures many seemingly hopeless cases of advanced melancholy and "creeping death."

One of the many pottery workers at Hines hospital. Hundreds of men are out in the world today making a good living by doing similar work. Most of these men have had no training other than that received at Hines. Each veteran is treated as any other person is treated by a physician in the outside world. The medical staff consists of 200 physicians and dental surgeons.

Marlette Provides Interesting Program

On Wednesday, November 1, the students of Cass City High School had the pleasure of hearing Dale Halleck and his high school band from Marlette. The band, which was in full uniform, played several selections, including "The Wedding in Rag Time," a skit portrayed by members of the band, while the band played an overture, a rumba, a special arrangement of "Stardust," and many other selections.

The program also included two choruses of "Deep Purple" sung by William Spitzer, a senior of Marlette High School, accompanied by the band; a trumpet solo by Bob Kirkpatrick, and a tap dance which was also accompanied by the band. The four drum majors, including two small girls, were very pleasing to the audience as they went through their twirls.

Everyone enjoyed the program very much and it is hoped that Cass City can return as worthy a program in the near future.—The Cassopolitan.

Record Number of Disasters Reported by Red Cross for Year

The American Red Cross gave emergency relief and rehabilitation aid to 130,000 sufferers of 157 disasters in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, according to a report submitted by DeWitt Smith, newly appointed director of the Red Cross disaster relief service.

Mr. Smith said the number of disaster operations exceeded that of any previous year, with cloudbursts, epidemics, fires, windstorms, snowslides, and other catastrophes striking in 43 states and the territory of Alaska. Red Cross disaster relief expenditures totaled $2,276,109 for the year.

"Since its founding in 1881 the Red Cross has aided victims of 2,495 disasters here and abroad, expending $143,000,000 for rescue, food, clothing, shelter, medical and nursing aid and the permanent rehabilitation of families unable to re-establish themselves," Mr. Smith said.

Last year the Red Cross helped 41,000 enlisted men or their families through its workers stationed at Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard Stations and through Red Cross chapters from coast to coast. Recent Congressional action to increase the United States armed forces has necessitated expansion of this vital service to enlisted men by the Red Cross.

Merchandising Program to Boost Sale of Beet Sugar

To move this year's large beet sugar crop, Michigan sugar beet farmers and processors have placed in effect a merchandising program of greatly enlarged proportions.

During November and December, according to the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar Association of Saginaw, three advertisements per month will be made in 48 Michigan dailies and one per month in 127 weeklies.

Latest advertisements stress the importance of co-operation of Michigan homemakers in patronizing this home product, and back up every retail outlet in their effort to sell the 310,000,000 pound crop.

That farmers and wage-earners will appreciate retailer and consumer support goes without question. From the beet crop 18,000 Michigan farmers will receive in the neighborhood of $7,500,000. This revenue can be either materially increased or decreased, depending on the wholeheartedness of Michigan buying co-operation, say the sugar producers.

Since the farmer grows his beets on a "participating contract," which means that he gets 50 cents of every dollar received from the sale of the sugar after selling expenses and transportation costs have been deducted, consumption in local markets will cut down those costs, and the farmers' return will be greater.

However, if the sugar must be marketed hundreds of miles away at distant points while foreign sugar is consumed locally, the selling costs will be increased and the farmers' returns will diminish.

Make Michigan Highways the Safest Highways

Do You Know?
That uniform traffic laws became effective recently in Michigan.
That it is now unlawful to make a right hand turn when a traffic light is red.
That there are many other new rules concerning Stop and Go Signals.
That 25 miles an hour is now the legal limit in residential and business districts.
That the new law regulates pedestrians and bicycle riders.
That stringent provisions govern the operation of vehicles on multiple lane highways.
That parking provisions have been revised in many respects.

That you may get into serious trouble through lack of knowledge of these new Rules of the Road.
Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, is distributing free of charge, a booklet, "What Every Driver Must Know," containing a clear summary of all the new rules. Get your copy today at any office of the secretary of state. Study the rules carefully and observe them in your daily driving or walking.

Harvest Is Riot of Color.
Clio, (MPA)—A most unusual harvest provided a beauty treat for Clio residents this fall when a local greenhouse rushed to beat the first frost and cut a crop of 3,000 gladioli blooms. All 8,000 stalks were on display at once.

BOWLING

After leading the league for one week, the Wilson team drops back into a three-way tie for first place along with the Mann and Landon teams. Mann's team led the league for the week in total pins, getting 2,466 and are now only 14 pins away from the leaders and with a good opportunity to top the list in total pins. Schwieger joins the list of high ten bowlers and along with Coleman and Folkert, these three first string men occupy a place on the honor positions which are eagerly sought by the individual bowler. The superb bowling of Frank Reid during the last few weeks is outstanding, commencing the season as the league's high average bowler, he got away to a slow start but is now back in high stride and is challenging the leaders. His one game of 245 gives him the prize score for the week.

These scores include games up to and including November 2.

Generous Attitude of Speller to Her Rival-Victor

The high school periodical, the Cassopolitan, has during the past two weeks been promoting a courtesy campaign which evolved from its "Reflections" column. A weekly prize is offered to the person writing the best account of a courteous act witnessed in schools. The winner of this week's contest is Mary Milligan. The following observation was submitted to the Cassopolitan staff:

The Most Courteous Act of the Week.

For variety, Mr. Kroll's fourth hour English class decided to have an old-fashioned spell-down once a month. At the first contest we each contributed a penny or two so that we could give a prize to the student remaining on the floor longest. The first spell-down on Friday was a huge success. We had worked hard on the lists of words furnished by Mr. Kroll and stood up well. Even a spell-down, however, must end sometime, and so he found other lists for which we weren't prepared.

Slowly the standing lines thinned until only Helen Hillman and Ruth Tuckey were left. Tension ran high as both students either spelled or both misspelled the more difficult, catchy words.

Finally Ruth missed a word and Helen, the victor, was asked to leave the room while Mr. Kroll counted his "collection" and called for class suggestions for a gift. The class decided to get Helen a pair of silk hose.

"How much do serviceable silk hose cost?" asked Mr. Kroll.
"Sixty-nine cents."
"Hold everything! I've only 49c. Maybe we can't get silk hose after all."
"I'll give more money toward the deficit," Ruth spoke up promptly.

"What? After Helen winning over you by so small a margin? That is real courtesy."
Ruth also volunteered to make the purchase.

The whole class deserves commendation for its splendid spirit, and Ruth in particular for her generous attitude to her rival-victor.

Much has been said about safe driving. Many lessons have been read, and also many lessons have been learned through bitter experience, disappointment, accident, and death.

The lesson of safety when once learned thoroughly should stick with us like our shadow. It should become a part of us like our arms or our legs.

Let's adapt these safety methods we read and hear about. It doesn't cost anything. The main job is to make up our minds once and for all that we will drive safely, and then stick to the resolution. It's smart to drive carefully!

Bacteria Keep Soils Producing

Every Michigan farmer and even the city resident with a backyard garden has countless billions of little helpers—bacteria and other soil micro-organisms.

They've just recently retired for the winter, but a few pointers picked out by L. M. Turk of the soils department of Michigan State College may give tillers of the soil some ideas on putting these unpaid hands to greater efficiency in 1940.

One-fourth of a thumbful of soil often contains as many of these microbes as the total human population of the United States. Bacteria, one of the several forms of soil micro-organisms, are the smallest and simplest common forms of plant life. Some idea of the size of bacteria can be gained by knowing that 25,000 average size bacteria placed side by side would be a line only an inch long.

Soil bacteria depend upon materials and suitable working conditions but usable for further plant growth. Bacteria also are able to "fix" atmospheric nitrogen so that it is available for crop growth. Their third principal ability is that of effecting changes in soil mineral supplies so that they are usable.

How can one put them to work? Dr. Turk suggests giving them materials to use if the soils are depleted of humus. Proper conditions of air and water also will help next spring and summer. Too much water, for instance, retards their stride. Some of the bacteria willing to fix nitrogen are hindered by an acid soil reaction, which means an addition of lime and organic matter would help.

Once the bacteria perform these miracles, crops grow better, but if the crops fail to utilize the readily available plant foods, rains likely will leach them out of the soil.

Hospitality New Word

A new word and a new science, "hospitality," has been added. This is the science of hospital organization and management.

Michigan Mirror

A Non-Partisan State News Letter By GENE ALLEMAN Michigan Press Association

Lansing—Effective in Michigan this week is a new statute which strives once more to untangle the age-old problem of land.

It mirrors a major part of the history of Michigan itself. This history is written in the terms of human use of land and of exploitation by outside interests of the land's natural resources and by-products such as fur, timber, iron, copper, oil and gas.

It recalls the hey-day of greedy speculation of land in the Detroit metropolitan area during the boom years of 1924, 1925 and 1926 when a wave of excessive and poorly controlled subdividing swept over the city and its environs, leaving in its wake a trail of tax delinquencies and over developed realty. It reveals a shameful neglect and indifference by state and local government in intelligent planning and conservation.

It reviews a reoccurring cycle of human ambition and disillusionment, success and failure, happiness and heartaches.

Here is a subject so commonplace that it is almost prosaic.

Yet there probably is no one other thing in Michigan which affects so many people. Consider then for a few minutes this paramount problem of land and how our state government is trying to solve it.

The New Land Plan

Confronted with the cold fact that 1938 advertising of delinquent land in Michigan had disclosed the existence in tax default of approximately 1,500,000 acres in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula and literally millions of dollars in undeveloped residential and business lots in the Detroit metropolitan, the 1939 state legislature arrived at this solution:

(1) Tax delinquent land north of the south line of Arenac, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana Counties would go to the state conservation department for disposal through its land division. Thus, suitable forest land (and unsuitable agricultural land) could be added to the state forests. Municipalities would be given an opportunity to acquire lots within their boundaries for purpose of school sites, playgrounds or parks.

(2) Tax delinquent land lying south of the above line which extends generally from Muskegon to Bay City would be offered for resale by a state land board at a "salvage" auction in May, 1940. All such land will be offered for sale at a minimum of 25 cents on the dollar of assessed valuation. Dispossessed owners may have the privilege of matching the highest bid and of obtaining title again. Former title-holders may enter into an agreement with the state land board to pay such a redeeming price over a period not exceeding 10 years.

If the lands are not redeemed by former owners within the 30-day period, a deed will be issued conveying absolute title to the "salvage sale" purchaser.

Northern Michigan

In Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula the state conservation department may dispose of the delinquent tax lands in one of three ways:

(1) Reserve the land for state forests and other conservation units. This would recognize the character of the land as being unsuitable for agricultural use. Speculators could not obtain the land for exploitation after which the land likely would revert to tax delinquency and thus proceed once more through the process of being advertised, offered for sale, and so on.

(2) Offer at public auction after appraisal and establishment of minimum prices—owner at time of tax sale having 30 days following the auction to redeem for the amount of the auction bid. This corresponds with the plan for Southern Michigan with one exception that while sale is discretionary in Northern Michigan, it is mandatory in Southern Michigan.

(3) Exchange with the United States and individuals when such procedure is for the best interest of the state.

In the place of speculation and spoilation, through which hundreds of millions of second-growth trees might be stripped by lumbermen and "timber skimmers," Northern Michigan land is to be carefully administered by a state department created in 1921 for the purpose of fostering conservation of natural resources.

Southern Michigan

The land problem that exists in Southern Michigan is largely the result of a subdivision boom, quite like the Florida boom which developed in the mid-twenties.

Today, in the City of Detroit and in an adjacent area, enough subdivided lots are on the tax rolls to accommodate an increase in population of three million people!

The Michigan Planning Commission, in a survey completed in 1939, found that only 4.3 per cent of subdivision lots in four townships in Wayne County, immediately adjacent to Detroit, were being utilized. The commission also pointed out that a lack of coordinated policy of restrictions had produced "rural slums." Out of 5,323 residences constructed in four townships, 69 per cent are without furnaces, 58 per cent without bathrooms, and 54 per cent without basements.

In 13 metropolitan townships studied, 65.1 per cent of all subdivision lots platted were advertised in the 1938 tax sale. More than three-fourths of all advertised lots were tax delinquent for five or more years.

The commission concludes: "The return of this land to private ownership, unencumbered by delinquent taxes, will not assure the payment of taxes in the future, unless the return is accompanied by a program which will bring this land into proper use." It would only mean a repetition of existing abuses, another turn in the land merry-go-round.

Responsibility for prevention of such abuses should be vested, the commission continues, with "legally constituted planning authorities having jurisdiction broad enough in scope to encompass the overlapping interests of municipalities, townships, and counties in the area affected by the plat."

Land Grants

Originally all land in Michigan belonged to the Federal Government, and prior to that, of course, to the Indians.

In 1837, when Michigan was admitted to the Union, section 16 of every township was turned over to the state with the stipulation that sale proceeds would go to a state primary school fund. Later, the state colleges were given a grant of 30,000 acres for every representative in Congress. In 1850 Congress passed a swamp land act whereby six million acres came into state ownership for drainage development. The state would give swamp land script in payment for the building of roads and bridges, such script being discounted at banks and purchased by land speculators.

Then came federal land grants to builders of railroads, whereby belts of land six to eleven miles in width were granted outright to railroads. (1866, Lansing to Traverse Bay railroad). Builders of the Soo ship canal and the Keweenaw ship canal, for example, were given a choice of desirable timber lands.

Between 1870 and 1890 came the timber-cutting boom when lumber interests stripped much of the land of valuable pine and then left the idle cut-over land, tax delinquent, for the state to worry about.

It was not until the 1893 depression that the state, after trial and error process, established a sound general tax law which provided that five-year tax default lands could be sold to homesteaders and land companies. Into the modern picture comes the 1929 oil and gas discovery in Midland and Isabella Counties—an interesting story in itself.

Tax Moratorium

In 1933, the year of the bank moratorium, the state legislature enacted a tax moratorium for relief of distressed property owners.

In May of 1936 a tax sale was to have been held to sell 1933 tax default land and any unpaid installments (10-year plan) on 1932 and previous tax years. The legislature later delayed the tax sale to May, 1938, when the accumulation of all tax delinquencies had mounted to astounding proportions, and the cost of publication in these counties (despite a 50 per cent reduction by the 1937 legislature) was abnormally large for reasons found in simple arithmetic.

The present grand jury investigation at Lansing into possible mishandling of state funds through the office of the 1937 and 1938 auditor general, George Gundry, and his assistant, Martin Lavan, attorney at Brighton, involves the metropolitan tax lists. Thus, the land story unfolds a history of Michigan from the era of Indian fur trade to the present week. The state once again seeks a solution for an old problem in which speculation and exploitation have had such a prominent place.

Designer of Grace

Samuel McIntire, a product of Salem, Mass., in colonial days like the Adam brothers of England, was most noted for his fame as an architect and as a carver, and is responsible for some pieces of furniture gracefully and delicately executed. His favorite piece of furniture was the sofa and several of these pieces together with chairs to match are in the collection of the Essex institute of Salem.

Darkens With Age

Mahogany wood is of pinkish cast when first cut but becomes a golden brown or sherry color when exposed to light. This sherry color beautifies and deepens with age if the wood has been properly finished when made into furniture.

Kansas' Prohibition

Kansas adopted the prohibition amendment January 14, 1919.

This and That

WHY SHOULDN'T youngsters have a good time these days and that at little expense? This summer those of school age could go swimming every week-day in a well supervised, sanitary community pool while the only expense involved to the individual was a bathing suit. This winter they may get a wide range of books from the village library at no expense whatever. Just recently 95 new books were placed on the shelves, many of them especially suitable for children and the teen age. The school board provides group musical instruction without cost to the pupil, the youth center provides entertainment for children during the winter with no admission price, and there are various others avenues of sport and amusement for present-day youngsters. And yet we hear older folks talk about "those good old days."

WHEN SANILAC County residents get their tax receipts from their township treasurers this year they will get one big surprise, for they will see just exactly how much welfare is costing the county. The tax has been divided this year, through the efforts of John Decker, Marion Township supervisor, and the general tax levy and the welfare tax will be separated on the tax receipt.

MICHIGAN'S annual game crop has a butcher shop value as meat of almost three million dollars as computed by the game division of the department of conservation. Though deer at an average of 110 pounds for the 1938 kill of more than 44,800 bucks is the only Michigan big game animal used generally for food, its contribution of 4,928,000 pounds to the 1938 grand total of 13,947,475 pounds for all species is exceeded by that of hares and rabbits. About 2,500,000 cottontails and 500,000 snowshoe hares taken in 1938, if averaged at two pounds, had a total weight of 6,000,000 pounds. And boy, would the butchers smile if they could charge the amount that some of the hunters spend in time and hunting expedition expenses to get their deer!

Arresting examples of nature's endless cycle may be viewed at Hawaii National park in the Mauna Iki area. There among the weird formations in the pahoehoe lava, widely scattered shrubs and ferns and a few stunted trees are striving to gain a foothold. They represent the advance guard of vegetation and the breaking down of the lava built up by volcanoes into soil. Much of the surface of Mauna Iki's pahoehoe lava is rainbow tinted and as perforated as Swiss cheese.
