1939 IN HISTORY. The year 1939 will go down in history as a time when the world looked shudderingly into the horrible pit where it suffered such agonies from 1914 to 1918.

THE NATION ON WHEELS. The Travelers' Insurance Company estimates that 30,968,000 automobiles are registered in the United States, the highest total in history.

THE HOLIDAY TRADE. The Christmas trade of 1939 is over, and the merchants of Cass City wish to thank the people of this city and surrounding communities for the generous patronage they have received.

FINLAND PAYS UP. Nations in the past have usually felt under obligations to pay their debts, but of late that feeling has petered out to a large extent.

WAR'S DESTRUCTION. If the people of the world should suddenly go out on the ocean and throw a major proportion of their money, property, and all valuable into the water, and see them sink out of sight, it would be thought they had gone crazy.

destiny. The well organized nation which lacks a free press to give its people the truth, is like a machine operated by some wild driver.

Below are the standings at the close of the first schedule of 51 games this season.

POWER OF ORGANIZATION. The world, since the war broke out in Europe, has been given striking object lessons of what is accomplished by the power of organization.

Organization is not the only thing that wins successes. A country may be so highly organized that it moves like a mighty machine, in which every cog and every connection operates with mathematical precision.

GOING TO MARKET HAS BEEN STATE PROBLEM IN '39
to grow better products. But in every case it hasn't been easy to solve the new problem of surplus and competition for markets.
Hence, the role of state government as an arbitrator in the milk industry and as a tax collector in the apple industry. Both roles were made possible by acts of the 1939 legislature, and they have occupied much time of Commissioner Elmer A. Beamer.
This extension of state activity, much of which is self-financed by fees, was accompanied, however, by the inevitable increase in payrolls—a fact which has been disturbing to Mr. Beamer amid all the administration's efforts at economy.

Food Inspection
The department's payrolls, increased approximately $75,000, are being offset more than $50,000 in fees collected for inspection services. The remainder is covered by legislative appropriations to permit continuance of testing of Michigan livestock.
Commissioner Beamer estimates that payrolls for the inspection of fruits and vegetables will be increased by approximately $27,000 during the present fiscal year. (As we pointed out two weeks ago, the administration's fiscal year began last July 1). This amount of $27,000 will be returnable in fees paid to the department for inspection of farm commodities.
During recent months the demand for service has been steadily increasing with payrolls for the first five months of 1939-40 fiscal year reaching $23,101.54 compared to $11,494.46 for the same period last year. Records disclose that a large portion of this increase was caused by requests for inspection of apples purchased by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation. This federal agency required inspection of apples, and returned $8,000 in increased fees to the state for this service.
Compulsory inspection of onions likewise increased a demand for inspection with a corresponding increase in fees.

Poultry and Beans
Other food products which require inspection by the state in the interest of both the producer and the consumer are poultry products and beans. Poultry products alone were responsible for an added $6,000, while another $6,000 is expected on the basis of present expenditures for inspection of beans due to demands for grading of large quantities of colored beans.
In a discussion of inspection payrolls, Commissioner Beamer pointed out the department attempted to provide this inspection service upon an actual cost basis with the producers and processors sharing the cost.
The apple commission, from taxes collected from apple growers, reimburses the state department for the cost of apple inspectors who are deputized by the commission to act in its behalf. The amount of money necessary for payment of this inspection staff is advanced to the department monthly.
Approximately $4,000 in the department's payroll increase will be shown as a result of the newly effective farm produce storage, which is operated upon a fee basis, with fees returnable to the department.

ment to make the service self-sustaining.
Milk Producers Gain
As a result of the 1939 milk marketing act, Michigan milk farmer-producers are $527,000 ahead in income for the year.
This amount represents the increase in price granted to producers on 177,000,000 pounds of milk since September 1. In Southern Michigan, for example, prices which ranged from $1.50 to $2.45 per hundredweight have been stabilized. Of the increased producer income, $496,600 went to producers in the Detroit milk area; $7,800 to Muskegon area producers; $8,000 to Ann Arbor and $25,000 to Grand Rapids producers, the latter increases being made voluntarily by distributors.
For the apple growers, the 1939 act has not had an opportunity to function as it has been challenged for constitutionality and is now in the courts.
The 1939 review shows clearly that marketing problems have occupied more time of the legislature and state officials than for many, many years. The trend is significant.
