Hutchinson and Brown Re-elected School Trustees

School Expenditures of the Cass City District Totalled $64,996.37.

There were no contests for officers at the school meeting in Cass City and Frank Hutchinson and Cecil U. Brown were chosen unanimously to succeed themselves as trustees, each for a term of three years. This with the reading of the treasurer's report and brief discussions regarding school matters made the annual school meeting held at the school auditorium Monday night a short business session.

Treasurer M. B. Auten, in his report, stated that the year's receipts together with the balance on hand at the beginning of the school year, totalled $72,381.29. The expenses amounted to $64,996.37, leaving a balance on hand on July 5, 1940, of $7,384.92. He stated this year's estimated budget would be similar to that of last year which amounted to $58,731.87 less $4,000,000 planned last summer for the purchase of school buses.

The direct tax levied in the district last year was $15,065.91. Of this amount, $12,157.27 went for school bonds and interest and $2,908.64 went for operating expenses during the year. The bonded indebtedness which originally totalled $170,000 has been reduced to $108,000.

The tuition received by the district the past year was $20,505.16. Of this amount, $2,252.00 came from rural districts and $18,253.16 from state funds.

Four mills will be spread this year for a school tax in the Cass City district.

The following is the treasurer's report read at the annual meeting Monday evening:

Many Changes Made in Milk Condensing Plant

New Addition to Nestle's Factory Will Store 25 Carloads of Sugar.

The recent completion of the one-story brick building, 126 by 60 feet in size, which joins the milk condensing plant of The Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., in Cass City makes possible space which will permit the storage of as much as 25 carloads of sugar at a time.

At the east portion of the new building are located the local offices of the company and the remainder of the new structure will be used mainly for the storage of raw materials used in the manufacture of condensed milk.

An elevator shaft at the rear of the offices offers facilities for the transportation of supplies to the three floors of the factory.

Workmen have resurfaced several floors in the factory building as well as laid a few new ones. A room in the factory equipped with a refrigerating unit provides quarters for cream storage at low temperatures.

The third floor of the factory building now provides storage for canned merchandise and space on the second floor is used for placing fiber cases and sawed lumber for boxes used in shipping condensed milk.

It was anticipated that the work in alterations and repairs would be completed by July 1 when started, but it will probably be August 1 before all changes planned will be finished. Factory crews are naturally pleased over alterations and improvements made and the new storage space provided as it will greatly facilitate the work of manufacturing, packing and shipping. They will also be happy when the work is completed because alterations and repairs during the period of about three months have hindered the regular routine of manufacturing.

Practically all of the condensed milk manufactured in Cass City has heretofore been shipped in 14-ounce cans, but a recent order calls for shipments in four-ounce cans, which are unusually small containers for this product.

Considerable of the condensed milk manufactured here is shipped to New York City for export shipments. While there has not been any "war business," considerable late export trade may possibly be the result of the conflict overseas. The Nestle's Company has its headquarters in Switzerland and has factories in Spain, Holland and several other European countries as well as in the United States.

Wreck Lee Bldg. to Erect New Car Sales and Service Station

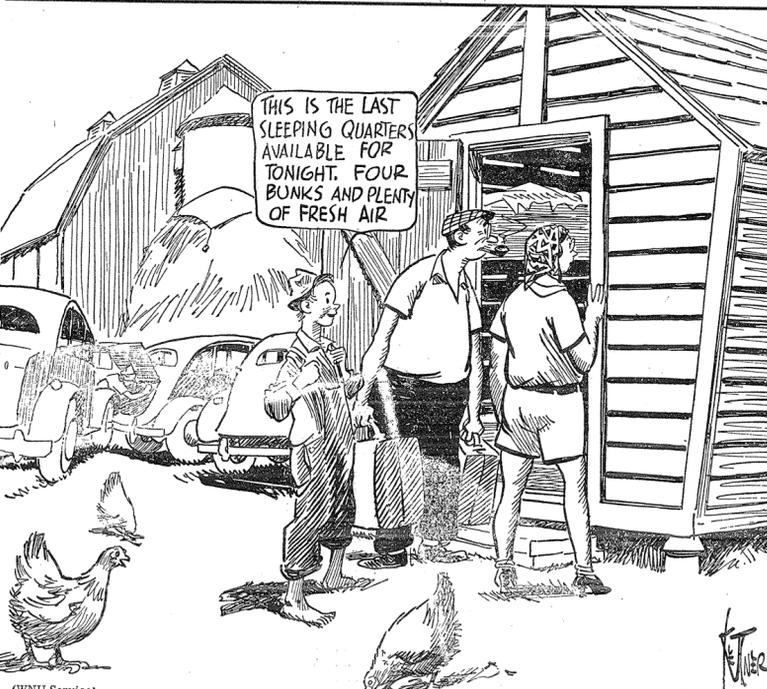

Donald Herdell of Argyle, who purchased the Lee Block on the corner of Main and West Streets, from the S. W. Striffler Estate several months ago, has employed workmen to tear down the building to make room for a combination car sales and gas service station building which will be erected this summer. Work started this week in dismantling the Lee Block.

The new building will be 45 by 70 feet in size, one story, and will be constructed of cement blocks surfaced with a snow-white covering. The building will have a store front with plate glass windows and rounded corners and will be modernly equipped. Fred Morris of Cass City will be the local manager and it is planned to have it ready for business by September 1.

Mr. Herdell says that he plans to handle Dodge and Plymouth cars. He has gas stations at several points in Sanilac County.

Six Injured in Two Automobile Accidents Sunday

Three Received Serious Injuries; Others Escape with Minor Hurts.

While going down hill on Sunday evening at a rate which officers state was excessive, Leroy Ochoa, 20, of Fairgrove applied the brakes and the rear end of his car skidded to the right side of the road and his automobile hit a car driven by Neil Bennett, 28, of Kingston head-on. Bennett was travelling south and Ochoa was driving north. The accident occurred at 7:30 p. m. on Sunday two miles west and two and a half miles south of Kingston.

With Ochoa were Joe Fearless, 34, and Lloyd Beteris, 22. Fearless has a fractured arm and Beteris, picked up unconscious, has lacerations on the forehead and face. Neil Bennett received head and arm cuts, and Robert Shaw, 14, a passenger in Bennett's car, had his shoulder broken and received face lacerations. Ochoa received only minor injuries.

Beteris, Bennett and Shaw were taken to the Marlette Hospital and Fearless to the Caro Community Hospital.

Elmer Srodawa of Pinconning, travelling east, was severely injured when his car hit an abutment a half mile west of Colling on Sunday at 12:00 p. m. He was taken to the hospital at Unionville and later removed to the Bay City General Hospital. Officers who investigated the accident think that Srodawa fell asleep at the wheel. For 200 feet, tracks showed his car had travelled on the left side of the road before striking the abutment. The car was completely wrecked.

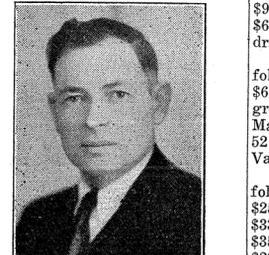

Srodawa received a fractured skull and chest injuries and his condition was reported as critical.

Buses Bring Pupils from 18 Districts to Bible School

Expect Next Week's Enrollment to Reach 250 or More Children.

Over one hundred children gathered at a number of rural schools in this vicinity Monday morning and were transported by bus and car to the Cass City Baptist Church to attend the opening meeting of the Bible School which is being held there this week and next. The children who came from their homes in Cass City brought the total enrollment for the first day up to 141. On Tuesday it was 190 and on Wednesday 213.

The Bible School is interdenominational and is under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Connor of the Rural Bible Mission. Mr. and Mrs. Connor have just closed a similar school at Vassar where they reside. In Cass City, they are living in the upper apartment of the Wanner house through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wanner.

Before the rural schools closed for vacation, the children were told of the school to be conducted this summer and 194 indicated their intention of attending the sessions. On Monday morning eighteen different schools were represented by children in attendance. Two buses and two private cars were employed in bringing them to the church in Cass City.

The school is in session every day except Saturday and Sunday from 9:00 until 11:30 a. m. After Mr. Connor speaks to the whole group of children, smaller groups are taught by a number of local teachers. Between fifteen and twenty persons are engaged in this work.

This came from a man who has never worshipped blindly at the altar of F. D. R. as has Frank Murphy.

This open endorsement of Roosevelt is another indirect result of the current war crisis.

CRISP, COOL WEATHER
and profits all summer long!

No longer is there any doubt about the VALUE of summer air conditioning for retail stores, restaurants, theaters, beauty parlors, etc. It has proved its worth in cold cash figures through sales increases of anywhere from 10 to 50 per cent in many different types of business. Air conditioning is now so generally accepted by the public that a merchant who tries to get along without it is severely handicapped.

Why TRY to get along without it? Air conditioning is not an added expense: It is a paying investment that can earn its way in increased profits. Besides, it offers many other worthwhile advantages: MORE EFFICIENT EMPLOYEES—your sales force is more cheerful, more alert and attentive, can do a better selling job. LESS HOT WEATHER SPOILAGE—reduces losses of perishable goods. Fewer mark-downs due to soiled merchandise, perspiration stains, handling, etc. REDUCED CLEANING EXPENSE—no open windows to admit dirt, dust and grit. Less frequent dusting of floors, counters, walls. CUTS DOWN STREET NOISES—excludes traffic din, makes for quieter and more attractive surroundings.

Any air conditioning dealer or contractor will gladly make a study of your cooling requirements and give you a free estimate. Telephone today. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install air conditioning equipment.)

Lois Milkins and K. W. Kaiser Wed

A pretty June wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haz. Milkins, 1st Concession Mersea Township, at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, when their niece, Miss Lois Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Milkins, Foundry Street, Leamington, was united in marriage to Mr. Kenneth W. Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kaiser, of Detroit. The ceremony took place in the living room, which was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and white peonies. Rev. J. E. Griffith, pastor of Leamington United Church, read the marriage service which was a double ring ceremony, the groom's ring being a gift from the bride, whose grandmother wore it at her own wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the room to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Rose Panabaker of Harrow. Her wedding dress was of white net over satin, with satin embroidered bodice and she wore a finger-tip veil held by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride's only jewelry was a sunburst of pearls given to her by her grandmother and her flowers were pink roses and baby's breath. Attending as bridesmaid was Miss Eloise Wilkins of Windsor who wore pink net over satin and carried delphiniums and baby's breath. Little Miss Nancy Sovia of Windsor made a pretty flower girl in her dress of pink organdie, carrying a nosegay of pink flowers. Mr. John Kaiser of Detroit, brother of the groom, was groomsman. At the close of the marriage ceremony, Miss Jenette Howie of Harrow sang "Because," during the signing of the register.

Later a reception was held for the immediate relatives and friends and refreshments were served to the gathering by Misses Lorraine Wood, Jeanette Ferguson, Phyllis Hardcastle, Janette Howie, Audrey Farough, Helen Jackson and Ruth Kaiser, classmates of the bride, who graduated with her from Grace Hospital, Windsor. They wore dotted swiss dresses and carnations in their hair. The table was tastefully decorated with a handmade lace table cloth, centered with the wedding cake and tall tapers at each end. The bride's cousin, Miss Mary Milkins, of Wyandotte, Michigan, and Mrs. A. V. Tennant of Detroit, poured tea.

Following the reception, the happy young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Washington, D. C., and the Eastern States. For going away, Mrs. Kaiser wore a grey striped ensemble, with white accessories, the coat having a red belt and her bag trimmed with red. She wore a corsage of roses. On their return they will take up residence on Vanduyke Avenue, Detroit.

Last week I wrote about the necessity of uniform highway signs.

Signs divide themselves into two groups: Yellow and black signs indicate important road hazards; curves, side roads, grade crossings, etc. Black and white signs carry legal regulations and warnings as well as information of general interest.

Keep these two divisions in mind so that, when reading future comments about signs in this column, you can make the distinction immediately and will know that even the shape of the sign means something.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Farnham F. Dudgeon

French Break Diplomatic Ties With England Following Loss Of Fleet in Naval Encounter

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union

"Take a tip from me," or "How to be a vice president" might well be captions of this picture showing Vice President John N. Garner congratulating his colleague, Sen. Charles L. McNary of Oregon, upon his return to senate duty following his selection as the G. O. P. nominee for Mr. Garner's post. Garner, never without a cigar, reportedly told McNary at the time of his congratulations that "Charlie, the first thing you must learn for this job, is the proper way to hold a cigar."

THE WAR: Strange Battle

Since that fateful day on which the French government came to armistice terms with Adolf Hitler, major problem facing Great Britain has been the disposition of the French fleet. For control of the seas and the continuation of the naval blockade against the axis powers is vital to the British cause.

Well did Winston Churchill and his advisers know that if Germany interned the French navy or turned it against England, the combined naval weight of Germany, Italy and France would be superior to their own.

Naval experts throughout the world had predicted that England would never allow the French fleet to fall into German hands. And after a brief but fierce naval engagement on the North African coast these predictions were fulfilled.

As Prime Minister Churchill reported to the house of commons this battle wrecked the French fleet and cheated the dictator's attempts to control the seas. In addition to heavy French loss of life, Churchill said, seven of France's crack warships were sunk or badly damaged.

At least 217 other French naval units have been seized in British ports since the armistice. This naval battle occurred when the French naval commander at Oran, Algiers, Admiral Marcel Gensoul, acting under Nazi orders, chose to fight it out after a British ultimatum demanded that he either deliver his ships in British ports or scuttle them.

In the resulting battle the backbone of the French fleet was either sunk, seized or dispersed. Two days following the naval encounter the French government notified Germany that because of the "unjustifiable aggression" by Britain's fleet, France had severed diplomatic relations with England.

Thus allies of what had been termed a "never-ending" alliance came to a distinct parting of the ways.
