Senate Votes to Call National Guard: War Spreads to Africa and Far East; England Offers Self Rule to India; U. S. Armed Forces Start War Games

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

BATTLE OF BRITAIN: Invasion

Information from unoccupied France was that German troops in great volumes were moving toward the French channel ports. Germany closed all travel and communication routes between occupied and unoccupied France.

Worried about the turn of events in the Far East, England offered self-rule to India after the war if that country would now aid the Brit-

England, with a new army commander-in-chief, Sir Alan Brooke, changed its mode of defense. Boasting an army of 4,000,000 well-trained men, it swung back to the old theory that the best defense is an offense. Therefore road obstructions laid to delay movement of an enemy if he arrived were dug up-to permit the British army to get at him faster, if he did.

Bombings

England bombed Germany and Germany bombed England. Both sides claimed heavy damage to the other. Germany claimed the port of Dover, England, a shambles. England claimed the port of Hamburg, Germany, "pulverized." Both sides denied they were hurt much.

Virtually all British raids on Germany and German-held territory have been night calls, when safety is greatest for the fliers. On the other hand, Germans have paid daylight calls on England. This has led to the opinion the Nazi fliers were more interested in observation than destruction. But several eastern and southern English ports virtually have ceased to be open for commerce.

In Africa

Meanwhile Mussolini began warlike gestures in Africa. Italian troops said to number 250,000 moved from Italian possessions on Egypt and British Somaliland. London newspapers warned their readers to expect some Italian successes. Duce's goal is believed to be Suez and the gate to India.

INDIGNATION:

Japan So Sorry

Arrest of nine British trade leaders and journalists in Japan was designated by Tokyo as breaking up of an espionage plot. Nipponese reported "suicide" of one journalist soon after his arrest. They said he unfortunately leaped from a window.

England demanded explanations and London papers called for retaliation. Four Britishers eventually were released but London was aroused by now and the arrest of an undisclosed number of Japanese in England, and elsewhere in the British empire, put a further strain on Anglo-Japanese relations.

Ambassador Namoru Shigemitsu lodged a "strong protest" with Viscount Halifax, Britain's foreign secretary, against arrest in London of representatives of two great Japanese banking and commercial houses. He was said to have requested their immediate release. There was no official comment, but unofficially it was said the arrest of the Britains in Japan and of the Japanese in Britain was "pure coincidence." Tokyo said the British action was retaliation.

SPIES:

Nation Alert

G-Men have increased their force, due to many complaints about espionage, Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover told governors and their representatives, called together by President Roosevelt to form a common front against Fifth Columnists. Prior to 1938 the FBI investigated 35 cases a year. In 1938 the number rose to 250 and last year to 1,651. So far this year 16,855 investigations have been made.

Efforts of Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) to learn the Republican candidate's views on the conscription measures failed. Willkie said the President could have his opinion anytime he asked for it. Otherwise they also will first appear in the acceptance speech.

Democratic candidate for vice president, Farm Secretary Henry A. Wallace, changed his mind about staying in office during the campaign. He said he will resign when he accepts the nomination. He also had a little trouble with a "boomerang" (see cut).

BRITAIN'S PROBLEM: Naval Losses

German claims to heavy destruction of British shipping show basis for alarm. Britain started war with 183 destroyers. They admit 29 are sunk and more are laid up for repairs. Less than 100 are believed in operation. Nazis say British loss in merchant ships is larger than in the World war, in excess of 5,000,000

Agitation was brought into the open when Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the A. E. F., spoke in favor of the sale. He said it might be the last act America might be able to make "short of war." and said by sending help to the British we "still can hope with confidence to keep the war on the other side of the Atlantic ocean."

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in a speech to the anti-war rally at Chicago, warned that in the future America "may have to deal with a Europe dominated by Germany." and advocated "non-interference by America with affairs in Europe.' For these remarks the "lone eagle" was branded as "the chief of the fifth column in this country," by Senator Pepper of Florida. This statement resulted in some bitter debate on the floor of the senate.

MISCELLANY:

Disappointment

The duke and duchess of Windsor frustrated the hopes of many expectant dowagers when they decided not to come to America, en route to the former king's new job, governor general of the Bahamas. His royal highness changed plans, decided to disembark at Bermuda. There have been rumors, however, more-bred wife soon may visit America for a plastic operation, details unannounced.

medical corps were called to Carlisle barracks, Pennsylvania, for training, the major course was tropical and semi-tropical diseases.

A death sentence was voted by a French court for the rebel Gen. Charles de Galle, who fled to England when the armistice was signed and has since organized French forces for further resistance. Still to hear their fate are Former Premiers Edouard Daladier and Leon Blum and Marshal Maurice Gamelin. De Galle and Blum still are not in French hands.

The quality of canned peaches depends largely on the quality of the fresh peaches used, explain members of the home economics extension staff, Michigan State College. Canning does not improve the quality of the fruit, and gan. only the very best peaches are suit-for peaches that are firm and ripe but not soft. Avoid those that are badly bruised, those with brown spots of decay, and those that are uneven in shape and have punctures made by worms. The pink blush which is found on many varieties of peaches tells little about the quality. But the rest of the color on the outside of the peach is very important. If this background color is green, the peach may ripen with a poor flavor or it may become shriveled. But the peach is a safe buy if this green color has changed to a yellow or whitish-yellow color.

Peaches are easy to can successfully, but they are likely to turn an unpleasing brown color if not handled correctly. The best way to avoid this brown discoloration is to heat the peaches in the syrup Republican candidate, Wendell for three to five minutes and then Willkie, bent an ear to the wheat pack them into the jars or cans while they are hot. While many state primaries select all state nominees, Michigan limits its primary to the offices of lieutenant governor, commissioner, 'superintendent of public instruction, and members of the state legislature. Following the primary election each party holds a convention to select, officially by delegates, the nominees for secretary of state, state treasurer, auditor general, and attorney general. As the highway commissioner and superintentendent of public instruction are chosen at off-year elections, the 1940 primary will offer two chief positions-governor lieutenant governor-in addition to the United States senate nomina-

But even the lists for these positions are formidable. They place a heavy load on the intelligence of the voter, let alone an assumption that he is willing and ready to investigate the merits of each aspirant and to act accordingly.

One immediate result of the flood of primary candidates was a movement launched by Emerson R. This trend toward what is known as an "open" primary—whereby anvone can vote for a nominee regardless of his party activitytook place in Idaho, North Dakota, Utah and Michigan. In 1939 the Michigan legislature amended the law to require rotation of different party ballots so that each party ticket will be on top an equal number of times. Another amendment has made it necessary for a new party to file petitions signed by four percent (formerly it was one per cent) of the vote for the successful candidate for secretary of state. (California requires 10%). The 1938 primaries in Kentucky and Missouri led News-Week magazine to declare that effective state political machines were just as successful in primary fights as they were previously in controlling conventions The July issue of the Political Science Quarterly noted that state-wide direct primaries were gaining ground, despite criticism here and there.
