Cass City Youths to Exhibit Steers

Five members of the Cass City Livestock Club will exhibit steers at the 11th annual Junior Livestock Show at the Detroit Stock Yards on December 10, 11 and 12. While lis Campbell, club adviser, and he anticipates that the group will share liberally in the winnings next month. Four of the animals are unusually fine specimens.

Local exhibitors at the junior show next month will include Leslie Smith, with a Shorthorn steer; Bruce Stine, Aberdeen Angus; Lewis Profit, Aberdeen Angus; Billy Ritter, Aberdeen Angus; Les-lie Peasley, Hereford.

During the past 10 annual Junior Livestock Shows in Detroit, Cass City youths have exhibited 14 to Years champion animals from which the prizes and sales have totalled $6,165.00. Prizes as a rule have not exceeded $20 an animal so the principal revenue from championships was realized at the auction sales held at the close of the shows.

At the first show in 1930, Lynn Spencer exhibited the reserve champion steer from which he realized $500. In later exhibitions, champions were shown and money received from prizes and sales by Cass City youths as recorded in announced this week that plans are under way for extension of the Compose Poems to contract for construction of the nation's first military highway at Accompany Gifts Fort Custer near Battle Creek.

The department's action followed a suggestion by Thomas H. Mac-Donald, commissioner of the Public Roads Administration in Washington, that the present project be extended to keep pace with additional expansion of Fort Custer facilities. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Harry C. Coons has been at Fort Custer making arrangements for the contract extension. Actual start on the additional construction will depend upbeing submitted to the Chicago office of the Public Roads Administration and approval by the state administrative board.

The work in Fort Custer involves the construction of a four-lane divided highway. The original proj ect was for 2.33 miles and the contract price was $219.549. The extension will call for approximately two miles of additional work.

The original contract was awarded to the Lewis & Frisinger Company and E. B. Schwaderer. Low set Gap, Newport, Tennessee. Rebids were taken on September 25. The original contract is more than of the meeting. Assistant hostesshalf completed at the present time.

Word has been received here that the two additional miles will be constructed by Lewis & Frisinger Company and E. B. Schwad-

By L. L. STEVENSON

It takes more than 70,000 keys to lock and unlock the World's fair. How many more isn't known even to Larry Peck, the fair's locksmith. As a matter of fact, to learn the exact number, Peck holds, it would be necessary to put an accountant to work on his records. Even then the total wouldn't mean much since it changes all the time. Twentyfour hours a day keys are made and that explains why lights in the locksmith's shop burn all night. Peck, who was born in Flushing, just, around the corner from the fair, and who still lives in that community, took over the locksmith job two years ago. Except for one short winter vacation, he's been on it ever since. During the off-season months, a four-man crew was kept busy. At the moment, 11 men are a whole lot busier, since with the fair's opening near, the key demand has risen.

Nights don't mean any letup in the key-making, Peck said. A watchman may find that a key has been left in a building. So Peck or one of his associates has to pick the lock or dig up a duplicate key. An exhibit arrives in the night, ahead of schedule, and he has to be ready to open up and get it in out of the weather.

"Taking care of the employees is a considerable job in itself," he continued. "We have more than 10.000 employee lockers. Naturally keys are constantly being lost and we have to make dupes. Office personnel changes and new keys are needed for individual desks. During the months the fair was open last year we duplicated slightly

Three clerks, one for each of the eight-hour around-the-clock shifts, keep a record of the disposition of each key. In case important keys are lost, existing duplicates are destroyed and the lock tumblers changed. A precaution against the improper use of keys is avoiding the placing of significant numbers on handles. The numbers have a meaning only to the locksmith.

"No particular headaches on this job," said Peck, who has been a locksmith all his life and is now in his late thirties. "It's a lot of work, with much on an emergency basis. Every once in a while, some one finding himself locked in for the night will phone the World's fair police. They just give us a call and that's that."

A novelty even for New York will be three small parks on the new East River drive. Instead of being at ground level as parks really are, they will be built on the roof of the drive, which between Fifty-seventh and Sixty-third streets is a doubledecked structure with northbound traffic running under southbound. The small parks will be at Fiftysixth. Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets. Between them, the roof of the drive will be laid out as yards for apartment houses. The city pays for the parks but the owners of the houses have paid for their private yards.

Those roof parks and apartment house lawns will not be the only novelty on the new drive. On the roof will also be a residence, that George D. tractive suggestions.

Whether the children carry their lunch to school or dash home at moon for a hurried meal, autumn school bells bring a major problem to the menu planner. For the midday repast must give plenty of nourishment in a form that can be quick-Iy and easily eaten—and, in the case of carry-away lunches, easily packed as well.

Fruit, cookies, sandwiches and milk in some form constitute standbys for box lunches as well as the school child's home lunch. Cocoa. cream soups, custards and simple puddings help with the milk quota at the home lunch. Cocoa, or a milk shake, as well as plain milk, can be carried lunch in a vacuum bottle. For the box lunch, sandwiches ought to be carefully wrapped so that they will be fresh and appetizing. Chopped meat moistened with a little butter or mayonnaise, hard-cooked egg delicately seasoned, cream cheese, jams and jellies, all make tempting fill-

Semi-liquid foods may be put into small glass jars with tightly fitting covers. Supply paper cups for the beverage; and as a novelty, put in a paper straw, especially when you pack chocolate malt or iced cocoa. The sandwiches and softer foods should be placed on top to prevent mashing.

Brightly colored lunch boxes are popular, because they are not only easier to pack, and well-ventilated, but are attractive to carry. Literally speaking, you can pack everything in them from "soup to nuts." The lunch boxes should be kept immaculately clean by careful scalding each day.

You may like to use this menu some day when you have plenty of meat loaf left over from the Sunday dinner:

Meat Loaf Sandwiches Deviled Egg Custard

Chocolate Milk Or you might use a menu similar to this for colder weather: Cream of Tomato Soup

Peanut Butter and Orange Marmalade Sandwiches Fruit Tapioca

Cookie There is always an extra corner into which you can tuck a surprise. To the smaller children this will be a delight. It may be a few nuts, or a few pieces of good candy, or it may be the little candy bridge favor you received yesterday. A packed lunch can become as tiresome to eat as it is to pack. Even you will be thinking of the little surprise you can find to put into it. and thus make this task more of a pleasure to you.

So get a lunch box that will be large enough to hold all the necessary equipment, but will not be too heavy to carry, and begin making your plans for the school lunch. Some of these suggestions may aid you in your plans for the school year:

Soups and Beverages. Soups and beverages, if packed

Volume From Piano

Where greater volume is desired from a piano, there should be no carpet under the instrument. This is especially true of a grand, which gives off sound from the underside of its case. Conversely, in a small room a carpet under the piano will soften its tone and keep it from being too loud.

Tuscola Farmers

Under a provision of the 1941 AAA Program, Tuscola County farmers will be able to receive onservation materials in the forms of lime and superphosphate in an amount not to exceed 70% of their conservation payment. The lime and superphosphate, of which much of Tuscola County land is in need, will be obtained at very low prices, through the county agricultural committee.

John M. Reagh, chairman of the Tuscola County Agricultural Committee, said this week: "This is one of the first conservation provisions that has been introduced to date under the national farm program. Many of us have wanted for years to apply lime and superphospate to our land, but could not afford to.

"Under this provision we can all afford the conservation materials our soil has so long needed. A soil survey of the county has shown that 55 per cent of our land needs the application of these materials if we are to get good stands of legumes and other crops."

Village Owes Existence To a Strange Mistake

BEULAH, MICH.—This town of 350 population is built on a "mistake." It was here in 1873 that Archibald Jones, an Illinois business man, discovered he should not have tampered with nature. He had planned a canal connecting Crystal lake with Betsie river to open new territory for the Michigan lumbering industry; but instead he created a flood that killed one man, swept away live stock and lowered the Crystal lake level to 15 feet. He had neglected to learn that the lake elevation was higher than the river's.

The roar of a torrent let loose when the last of the canal was cut through was heard five miles away. For two weeks the lake water surged through swamps over an area nine miles long and three miles wide, and when the flood subsided Crystal lake had no timber along its shore but a vast expanse of sand and dried mud.

Settlers, however, dammed the canal cut 30 years later, built a road and railway along the sandy beach and founded Beulah in a valley once submerged in water.

these Compare prices with the Charles Roth prices you see advertised in your newspaper today and you will see that, although much talk is bandied back and forth concerning the increased cost of living, the fact is that the cost has gone downward consistently since frontier times.

One of the reasons for high prices then was undoubtedly the difficulty with which the supply was obtained -the hazards and expense of transporting goods.

But the chief reason was that the cost of these necessaries could not be spread out over enough customers to bring them at lower cost to all. The merchant had to pay the

$2 EGGS HEN my mother went over- | a comparatively few customers. Costs had to be high.

Prices on everything you buy today, regardless of whether you live in a village or a large city, would be higher now if it were not for the service of advertising in lowering them to your advantage. As soon as a manufacturer or a merchant begins to advertise he begins to sell more. As he sells more it costs him less to sell to each customer. He cuts the price. More customers come. Again he is able to cut the price.

Pretty soon you have the situation of improved quality and lower prices, brought about through the creative service of advertising to the consumer. Advertising and high prices do not go together at all. They are extremely incompatible to each other. It is only the product which is unadvertised, which has no established market, that costs more than you can afford to pay. Whenever you go into a store and buy an item of advertised merchandise, it doesn't make any difference what, you are getting more for your money-more in quality and service-than you would get if you spent the same amount for something which was not advertised. The man who builds a business on advertising can give you more for your money because advertising, enables him to give more for less See how advertising pays you every @ Charles B. Roth.

Greeks Take Second Inning of War; 2,000 Killed in Rumanian Earthquake; Rumors of Changes in Next Cabinet; British Bombers Raid Italian Fleet

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

WOODBRIDGE, N. J .- This scene of desolation met the eye after a terrifying blast leveled the United Railway and Signal Co., here, killing nine persons and injuring 33. Though the plant made torpedo signals for railroads, it was said to be working on a device of "great importance" to the army and navy. ### FOUR HORSEMEN:

Greece is connected to Fascistheld Albania by three highways running through deep mountain passes. Down these three highways marched Mussolini's blackshirt legions in the first week of his war with Greece. Back up the highways hurried what was left of the divisions in the second week.

The Greeks, outnumbered two to one, reported they had pushed the invaders back on the northern and central front. On the southern front they also claimed victory, said a complete Italian division was surrounded and wiped out.

England, still pounded by German warplanes, saw the Tower of London, ancient prison where famous prisoners were confined in the Elizabethan era, smashed by a bomb. One night the raiding planes had an unaccustomed hum. The English guessed they were Italians, a guess confirmed when one was shot down. The Italian onslaught brought demands in London for a raid on Rome, treasured architectural city until now protected by agreement.

George Bernard Shaw, "There is no reason why Rome should not have it. If only people were not killed and we could select the places to be bombed, I would welcome an attack on London. They are knocking down a good many things we should have knocked down ourselves long ago.'

Germany was being torn by tons of explosives also. When Adolf Hitler visited the Munich beerhall, Nazi shrine, R.A.F. fliers sought out the place and dropped explosives. Hitler cancelled the broadcast of his annual speech. The raiders found the spot just an hour after the address and sent high German officials scurrying to shelters.

Likewise when Soviet Premier Molotoff and 32 trade and commercial advisers came to Berlin, the route over which their private train passed was bombed. The visiting diplomats escaped injury. The following day Molotoff and Hitler held a three-hour conference during which it is believed the course of the two nations in relation to the Balkan countries was decided.

Death

The Pale Horseman rode over Europe in more than war. An earthquake shook Rumania killing an estimated 2,000 and causing millions of dollars of property damage. Destroyed also were some of the prolific Rumanian oil wells which have been supplying Adolf Hitler with the gasoline needed for his war ma-

Famine

Unable to ship food through the British blockade, the American Red Cross prepared to close all its stations in occupied and unoccupied France. All Europe was under strict rationing.

Pestilence

How long England holds out may depend indirectly more than directly on Nazi bombs. Millions of people were crowded into air raid shelters enight after night, in foul air and weakened by loss of sleep. It is feared this may bring epidemics as soon as spring arrives.

On the continent, other millions, enfeebled by lack of proper nutrition, also are susceptible to disease.

Refugee

NEW YORK.—Mme. Annette Clemenceau, daughterin-law of Georges Clemen-ceau, "The Tiger" of France in World war days, is photographed on her arrival in New York aboard the S. S. Exeter. The Exeter brought many American and European refugees from the war zone and the ship's officers told of two shots fired across her stern by a British patrol boat while the vessel was one hour out of Lisbon, Portugal.

houses appear, open the session, hear the official prayer, permit speeches to be inserted in the Record and then recess within a few minutes. There is no embarrassing roll call.

One bill being worked out in the meantime is the Ramspeck measure for extension of the merit system to cover some 150,000 more government workers. The bill has been passed by both houses and is being delayed because the house won't accept changes made in conference. Final acceptance would make the Roosevelt administration the recordbreaker for civil service extension.

Debt

Meanwhile Treasury Secretary Morgenthau warned the ceiling on the federal debt must be raised soon, due to heavy defense spending. A formal treasury request for new taxes and a higher debt limit -probably $60,000,000,000-is not expected until next January however. The present congress has voted almost $17,000,000,000 for defense. Morgenthau said the treasury has no idea of asking congress to pass a retroactive tax on government se-

The Aftermath

Rumors of changes in the cabinet were given scant attention by President Roosevelt, although there are excellent indications some will be made when the new administration officially starts January 20. Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes was the first to submit his resignation. He acted the day after election. There was no indication the resignation would be accepted, it merely was the same routine Mr. Ickes followed four years ago "to give the President a free hand."

War Secretary Henry L. Stimson is mentioned among those who may leave. New York's Mayor LaGuardia was mentioned as a possible successor. The "little flower" knows the army, was raised on an army

Death-Neville Chamberlain, appeasement prime minister of Great Britain, found the peace he so long sought. Amid the roar of German bombs around his Hampshire home, the ill and aged statesman died at the age of 71. Earlier it had been reported he would seek health in California, but his illness had proceeded too far for that trip to be undertaken.

Eliminating Blemishing Birthmarks

The first thought many mothers have when they discover a birthmark-strawberry mark, port wine stain, blood tumor-is that radium must be used. It will be gratifying to mothers to know that unless the mark is large or is very thick and raised above the skin, a simple method of reor stains is availa-snow at the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto. 'The technique of the treatment of skin diseases by carbon dioxide snow is both simple and inexpensive. A chamois bag is placed over the nozzle of a tank of carbon dioxide and when the gas escapes the temperature is lowered to such an extent that some of it is converted into snow. This is then made into a the tumor with firm pressure."

While this is simple enough, Dr. Wrong states that experience is required in determining the length of time to keep snow applied to the tumor, amount of pressure to use and the type of tumor which is best treated by this freezing process.

Early Treatment Advisable. The usual types are (a) the port wine stain with no increase in tissue, (b) the strawberry mark with large vessels immediately beneath the skin and (c) the enlarged lump or growth of blood vessels and tissue raised above the skin.

Experience with these marks and growths makes it advisable that, instead of waiting for them to disappear treatment should be given as early as possible if the child is well. It is in the thin small marks that the carbon dioxide snow is most effective.

Sunstroke and Heat Exhaustion

SUNSTROKE and heat exhaustion are two different ailments and require different treatment. In sunstroke you may feel tired and dizzy before the regular symptoms occur. These are headache, feeling of oppression, sometimes a tightness in the chest, great thirst, restlessness, frequent desire to pass urine, hot skin, a "sicky" feeling, flushed face and high temperature, finally unconsciousness.

Treatment in sunstroke is to lav the patient in a cool, shady place, off the ground if possible or on the ground on newspapers or clothing if no bench or table is available. Cold cloths are then applied to back of neck, face and chest, clothing removed, body sprinkled with water. The head should be kept high and patient fanned with a towel or piece of clothing. When patient is able a pinch of salt should be given.

In heat exhaustion due to working in a hot, ill ventilated room, there New Economy Drive? is at first usually faintness, headache, dizziness and a staggering The face is pale instead of flushed and skin is cold and damp, and low temperature (not high) is present. Unconsciousness may or may not occur. In the treatment of heat exhaustion, patient is laid in a cool spot, cold applications made to the head and heat (by hot water bags or other methods) applied to the body. If patient is conscious he is given as much water as he can drink containing a quarter teaspoonful of salt to each glass of water. If he is unconscious, the salt solution is used as an enema.

Merchants in Michigan "small towns"-places with population under 10,000—have new reasons to be

The U.S. Census for 1940 shows that Michigan was the second in 17 states with an increase in the percentage of inhabitants living in small towns and rural areas. Whereas the state was 31 per cent rural in 1930, today it is 42 per cent. Oklahoma had the greatest population shift, advancing from 56 to 73 per cent rural in ten years. Other states which show a greater suitably sized pencil in a wooden population of small towns and mold and the pencil is applied to rural population than in 1930 are: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Washing-

The spilling over of metropolitan opulation into suburban area has peen a factor in this trend. Decentralization of industry has revitalized many communities; Henry Ford plants at the fringe of Detroit offer a familiar example.

According to a commonly ac cepted interpretation of the amendment, a state officer will be limited to two appointments-presumably a deputy and a personal secretary. All other employees will be hired and fired by the civil service commission, whose director is a czar beyond reach of the legislature.

Furthermore, funds for operat ing the system are automatically provided for by the amendment Again legislators are powerless to interfere.

Army 105,000 Short Of Maximum Fixed

Months of Recruiting Lie Ahead to Reach Limit.

WASHINGTON.—The army must recruit about 105,000 men in order to attain its authorized maximum enlisted strength of 375,000 men, the actual total as of today being about 270,000. An increase of about 95,000 is reported since June 30, 1939, when the total was 175,000 men, or about 45,000 under the then authorized strength of 210,000. A few days after the outbreak of the present European war President Roosevelt on September 8 issued a limited emergency proclamation authorizing an increase of the regular army's enlisted strength to 227,000 men, a goal that was attained in a comparatively short period. When the army appropriation bill for the fiscal year 1941 was passed, it carried a provision increasing the enlisted strength to 280,000 men. In the first supplementary appropriation act congress again increased the authorized strength this time to 375,-000, which is the goal the army is today laboring to attain. The army recruiting service is proceeding with the enlistment of the men necessary to bring the army to maximum strength and every volunteer accepted for service must meet the test of loyal citizenship and good character. None who fail to meet the test are accepted.

Several months may elapse before the maximum is reached, probably by the end of this year or early in 1941.

The navy recruiting drive also is under way and, while the navy has a waiting list of 3,000 men, the recruiting of the new men is proceeding cautiously and is described as a "build-up" campaign timed to end some time in March, 1941.

The present authorized enlisted strength of the navy is 170,000 and the latest figures show that the strength is now about 140,000.

August Schuette, whose picture is shown here, has been grinding about 300 pounds of feed daily during the past two years, on his 160 acre farm in Oliver Township, Huron County. He has kept accurate records of the cost of operating his three horsepower electric hammer mill.

He finds that he is saving about $40 a year in grinding cost. And he has freshly ground feed for his twenty head of stock and 225 chickens. The grinding operation takes only ten or fifteen minutes a day.

Electric feed grinders can be had in a wide variety of types and sizes, at prices which make this a wise investment for farmers requiring ground feed in any quantity.

ays about with Walter like a happy kid, and he is beginning to feel that she is the most important person in the group. If he cleans the car, Nancy is out at the garage laughing and helping. If he must run uptown she dances along.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"FI didn't love him," sobs the bride, "I wouldn't care when he's so mean to me!"

"If I didn't love him," mourns the mother in her stricken heart, "it wouldn't be so hard for me when he's away at night, when he marries the wrong woman, when he's shabby and tired and discouraged!"

Love is the greatest joy and the greatest sorrow in life; the deepest satisfaction, the most acute fear. The power held by those who love and who are loved is a limitless power. That's why we have to be so careful of it; why it is such a crime against love itself to misuse it.

Every mother has the power to completely destroy her children's lives, if she will, because they love her. Every child has potentialities of hurting his parents with coldness and cruelties, because they love him. Wherever love is, there is also the possibility of agony and cruelty and fear. This is true especially between husbands and wives, because of the necessary closeness of their relationship, and their dependence upon each other.

Bliss-Misery Not Far Apart. These things are so obvious as to be truisms. And yet it is a matter of great surprise to some young wives-and even some older ones, that close to utter bliss there can be complete misery. When a woman gives her heart into a man's keeping she doesn't always realize that he may break it as well as cherish it.

When a love-tone in a man's voice thrills you to utter ecstasy, remember that a little chill in that tone. a shade of indifference or criticism, can lower you to corresponding depths of despair. A wife may ruin her husband's life. A mother may ruin her son's. A son can break his mother's heart. Easily, easily, eas-

Fortunately for most of us, love begets love. The young husband forgets his anger, and in the floodtide of a blissful reconciliation scene the bride seems to regain a surer position than ever. The son has only to say, with a sleepy kiss, "why, we were only over at Harry's playing bottle-pool, Mom. You're my girl!" to send his mother's spirits soaring to heaven again.

As for mothers and small children, thank God most mothers know their power, and use it wisely. Even disciplined children know that Mother loves them only too well. Domestic Triangle.

But used or unused, the awful force for hurting those we love remains. Here is the case of "Deedee," who lives in Pittsburgh, and whose letter has this to say:

"We've been married 14 years, I'm 36 and Walter 39. We have a boy of 12, and for the past 10 months my sister and her small girl of five have been with us. Junior adores his cousin Jo-Anne, and as I love children and housekeeping and gardening it is nice for me to have a girl as well as a boy.

"The trouble is my sister, Nancy. She is eight years younger than I, not pretty, but with a great deal of charm. She and my husband have struck up a friendship that excludes

"Walter defended her in her divorce suit, which was an unpleasant one. He finally secured her a good alimony and the custody of Jo-Anne. Jo-Anne admires and loves her mother, and Nancy is nice enough with her, but more like a sister than a mother. I am like the mother of the whole crowd.

Friendship Causes Heartaches. "If Nancy were ever inclined to be indiscreet, it wouldn't be with aside.

Because love holds the greatest ower of all for making others terribly happy or terribly sad, Kathleen Norris earnestly admonishes that it be used wisely. She writes this after being consulted by a "Deedee," a heartbroken young wife, whose husband and sister are very friendly. They both love her but neither realizes the pain their friendship is causing her. Miss Norris advises that only time can correct this lamentable situation.

plans he and Nancy have made.

Bear the Burden.

Deedee, there isn't any immediate answer. This is one of the difficult times most of us have to endure, sooner or later; a time when you have to admit another woman's superior charm, beauty and opportunity, and bear it. The alternative is to quarrel, destroy the friendship that now exists among you three, and possibly lessen your husband's affection and admiration for you. He probably thinks of you as a woman with common sense. To burst out with jealousy of your sister would shock and disgust and disillusion him.

But you won't have to bear this forever. Nancy doesn't want to marry your husband. She's just playing with him to keep her hand in. In a few more months she will be free to find another mate, and then she will settle down to real business, and you will have the grateful job of consoling your husband for the change in Nancy.

"She isn't a bit like what she used to be," he will complain, "and it's all that boob. What she sees in him is more than I can work out! But if she's going to act like such a fool the sooner she marries him and settles down the better."

Your only cure, Deedee, is time. But I would like to give a hint to the husbands and wives who so cheerfully take chances with the sacred and easily destroyed thing that is married love and confidence. It would be a good idea for every married person to check up on himself or herself, now and then. Ask yourself if the flattering friendship that seems so harmless and so amusing to you is hurting your old mate. Ask yourself if the person nearest you has any reason to feel herself or himself left out in the cold. Love is a great responsibility. To hurt it-to repulse it, is no laughing matter. It is my profound—if somewhat old fashioned-conviction, that one of the sins we pay for most bitterly is the sin of throwing love
