Argyle Man Found Dead in Bed

Perley S. Pike, 57, was found dead in his bed Sunday morning in his home a mile south and a mile west of Argyle. He had not been seen by his neighbors for several days and according to Henry Hacker, Sanilac county coroner, had been dead for about a week. He is survived by a brother, Rhea, whose farm adjoins the deceased man's farm and two sisters living in the East. He was born May 13, 1887, in New Hampshire and had been a resident of the Argyle community for 32 years. Funeral services were held in the home of his brother Tuesday at 2 p. m., with burial in Johnston cemetery in Lamotte township.

Mrs. Harriett Dodge outlined the work for the coming year and gave the lesson from a new study book entitled "Behold I now set before thee an open door which no man can shut."

The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Anna Patterson and Mrs. Nelson Perry.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Ewing.

Benefit Dance for Plastic Surgery Fund For War Veterans

Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer, John West, Mrs. A. R. Kettlewell, Mrs. E. E. Binder, Keith McConkey and Mrs. D. A. Krug are the committee in charge of a benefit dance sponsored by Echo Chapter, O. E. S., at the school gym in Cass City on the evening of Feb. 23. The proceeds are for the benefit of a plastic surgery fund for returned war veterans.

This is a Michigan project—non-profit sharing. The fund will enable a Detroit sculptor, Beaver Edwards, who has won international fame through his work in plastic restoration of human parts, to manufacture these appliances for the benefit of our returned soldiers and sailors. These natural restorations will furnish boys who have been sadly disabled to regain normal self-confidence. The benefits are both physical and mental.

Co. Farm Bureau Annual Meeting Well Attended

Clarence Bolander of Lansing Was the Guest Speaker at Gathering

The annual meeting of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau was held at the Caro high school auditorium Wednesday, Jan. 17, with the hall filled to capacity for the 12 o'clock banquet dinner served, very efficiently, by the ladies of the Sutton church. During the meal time, Miss Marilyn Pomeroy, Caro, entertained at the piano with noon-time melodies.

Claud Elmore, district 4-H leader, really got the crowd limbered up when he directed the community singing. Jesse Treiber of Unionville, president of the county organization, reported the bureau's activities and presented some current issues.

Geo. Fostor of Fostoria was elected as a member of the board of directors. Mrs. Otto Monte of Fairgrove, James Kirk of Fairgrove and Jesse Theiber were re-elected to the board. Harold Humm of Fairgrove was chosen by the Junior Farm Bureau to serve on the senior board. The group passed a resolution supporting a bill introduced in the state senate by Senator Porter of Hillsdale amending the time law so that all Michigan would go back to normal time.

The proposition that all youths would be inducted into the army came in for a lively discussion. The group took the position that it was unfair and ill considered. Farmers are not ready to give up essential workers as long as shipyards and other war industries are oversupplied and strikes and absenteeism waste millions of man-hours. Fifty per cent of the farms in this area would be idle, it was concluded on page 5.

GI Certifying Machinery Set Up

Machinery for certifying GI farm loans is being set up at a meeting to be held in Saginaw on Monday, Jan. 29. The Veterans Loan Certifying committee and county FSA supervisors from Tuscola and Saginaw counties will be in attendance. P. J. O'Malley, the district supervisor from the State FSA office at Lansing will assist John McDurmon, the county FSA supervisor in training the committee and county supervisors for their duties in carrying out the farm loan provisions of the "G. I. Bill of Rights." The certifying committee will be composed of the regular FSA county committee in each county with the addition of the fourth member who is to be a business man and a veteran of World War I or II.

Although the duties of the certifying committee will not be connected with the regular FSA program of rural rehabilitation and farm ownership, the committee will function through the FSA organization. The County FSA committee will continue to perform their regular normal duties in connection with the FSA program but will take on the added responsibilities of serving on the Veterans Loan Certifying committees.

P. J. O'Malley, district FSA supervisor, states that it is hoped the machinery will all be in working order by Feb. 15 and the many veteran applications now on hand can be processed.

Special features will be the luncheon and dinner fellowships and a book exhibit.

Cass City Protestant churches are sponsoring the conference.

A. Holmberg Panel Leader on World Order Discussion

The second Sunday evening discussions on world order will be headed by Arthur Holmberg as leader of the panel. He will be supported in the panel discussion by Mrs. Edward Pinney, Mrs. Cameron McLellan, Lester Ross and Orion Cardew.

Thirty-nine persons were present at the opening discussion last Sunday evening which got off to a good start with a lively discussion of peace time military training.

The discussion of Sunday's panel will center around the historical background of contemporary peace proposals, on the theme "Are We on the Road to Peace?"

The group will meet informally in the Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. All are welcome. Fred Pinney will be the panel leader for the third session on Feb. 4.

Harold Hulburt and Elmer Fuester were the candidates upon whom the third degree was conferred. The following past masters assisted in the work: Leonard Urquhart, Edward Golding, John West, G. A. Striffler, B. F. Benkelman, Jr., Percy Read, D. A. Krug, Jos. Crawford, Warren Wood, John Marshall, Chester Graham, and from Acme lodge at Gageton, Wm. Profit, Earl Maharg and Howard Helwig. The Fellowship work was in charge of Lester Bailey.

A fish and ham supper was served preceding the meeting.

Crop Goals Can Be Met in State Believes Decker

Labor, machinery and weather conditions permitting, Michigan farmers will meet the challenge of increasing their acreage of cultivated crops during 1945 to meet the wartime goal of 8,302,000 acres of all types of field crops, predicts R. E. Decker, head of the farm crops department of Michigan State college. This will be an increase of 150,000 acres over 1944.

"Some say we can't find land to grow that much," Decker commented, "but my only answer is—how did we find room for 8,393,000 acres of the same crops in 1918, and 8,928,000 acres in 1923?" He anticipates that Michigan farmers will lean heavily toward crops that require less labor, in view of the labor shortage. As a result, it is very probable that the largest corn acreage in the history of the state may be planted this spring. The goal is 1,800,000 acres, the same as was grown in 1944, but this may be exceeded. If it is, with seed of adapted hybrids used, Decker says it will be excellent support for the state's livestock program.

Weather this spring will have a substantial bearing on crop plans, but with a normal spring Decker expects a larger acreage of both oats and barley.

Although the seed picture isn't bright, the farm crops head believes that with care in fitting seed beds, and proper use of fertilizers, legume production can be maintained. Legume acreage, in his opinion, is the foundation of Michigan's cropping and soil maintenance program.

Decker suggests that the planting of soybeans in 1945 be restricted to those areas in southern Michigan where corn is at its best. They have been tried too far north, and can be produced more economically in the two southern tiers of counties, he says.

Memorial Service to Be Held Sunday

A service in memory of Sgt. Roland A. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, of Cass City, will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, Jan. 28, at 3 p. m.

Soil Conservation District Reports On Year's Activity

Complete Farm Plans Covering 3,082 Acres Were Drawn Up

The board of directors of the Tuscola Soil Conservation District summarized their past year's activities at their annual meeting in the court house at Caro recently. The present board consists of Dorr Perry, chairman; Walter Goodall, vice chairman; R. L. Hill, secretary-treasurer; Erwin Zemke and Bruce Brown. Two of the members are appointed by the State Soil Conservation committee and three are elected for terms of three years by farmers within the district.

During the past year, 39 applications for assistance were received from farmers within the district. Twenty-five complete farm plans covering 3,082 acres were drawn up on farms. These plans providing for adequate water control, fertility maintenance, and land use are all made on a basis of the soil resources found on the farm.

Drainage problems are numerous. Twenty-two drainage surveys were made for interested farmers. These surveys were about equally divided between tile and open ditch.

The runoff and soil-loss plots were constructed on the county farm. A substantial part of their cost was met by public donation. From these plots it will be possible to compare soil loss and runoff between up and down hill cultivation and contour cultivation in a two year and a four year rotation. Each year two plots will be in a row crop, two in small grain, and two in meadow.

Farmers cooperating with the district planted 3,000 trees in the spring. One half of these were used for windbreak planting and the balance for reforestation of poor agricultural soils. Survival of the trees was good except in two plantings.

Equipment consisting of a crawler tractor, terracer and rotary scraper was received on loan during the late summer and fall. Due to mechanical failures little work was accomplished. Major jobs to be done are leveling ditch banks, filling trenches, and pulling stumps. The directors have the use of a dragline on a cooperative basis with the Lapeer district.

Seventeen meetings with an attendance of 468 were participated in by district personnel. A series of meetings for the winter months is now being held with groups of farmers interested in the maintenance of soil and water resources. Groups wishing to hold meetings of this type should contact the board or call at the office in the court house. Groups of five to ten are ideal.

TYDINGS AMENDMENT IS NOT CHANGED OR MODIFIED

The Agricultural committee of the House of Representatives has just released the following telegram sent on Jan. 22 by General Hershey, director of Selective Service, to all state directors of Selective Service:

"Questions of interpretation of state directors advise No. 288 have been brought to my attention by members of Congress and by others. The directive of Jan. 3, 1945, SDA 288 did not change or modify the Tydings Amendment. The opinions and findings contained in SDA 288 were for the consideration of the local board in determining the classification of the registrants in the age group 18 through 25. Section 5 (k) of the Selective Service Act, known as the Tydings Amendment, places upon each local board the responsibility to determine, subject to appeal, in the case of the individual registrant, whether or not the registrant meets the requirements prescribed by this section. Notify all local boards accordingly."

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Doerr, in company with Dr. and Mrs. L. D. McCoy of Bad Axe, left last Wednesday for Washington, D. C., to attend the inaugural ceremonies for the fourth term of President Roosevelt. They arrived in Washington at 11 a. m. Thursday and left there to return home Sunday at 5 p. m. The trip was made by rail from Detroit.

Land Use Study Begun in Five Tuscola Townships

Start on Intensive Study of Land and Natural Resources

Under the sponsorship of the County Land Use Planning committee, township land use planning committees in Arabela, Elkland, Fairgrove, Watertown and Wells began an intensive study of land and natural resources, within these boundaries, in a series of meetings conducted by County Agricultural Agent Norris W. Wilber. One meeting in each of the above-named townships was held last week. Two or three more meetings will probably be held with each of these township committees.

The purpose of this land use planning work is to interest local farm residents to sit down together and make a careful inventory and study of the land and other natural resources within their own townships. The immediate objective is to acquire as much information as possible about any given area in order that the following types of problems may be considered and recommendations made regarding their solution:

—Problems concerned with the practical economy of land use, such as land classification; readjustment; land ownership; problems peculiar to rural-urban zones and those of a non-farm nature; human problems.

—Farm and land management problems of a technologic nature such as control and prevention of soil erosion; raising the fertility and productivity level of the soil and land; crop and livestock improvement and crop adaptation; land drainage; and problems of an economic nature.

George Hurrell, extension specialist in land use planning at Michigan State college, assisted the county agricultural agent with the meetings held last week. The next series of meetings will be held in the same townships some time in February. After work is Concluded on page 5.

DRAFT PLAN: For 26 to 29

With the pool of 18 to 25 year olds dwindling, and with the services insistent on the use of younger men, War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes traced out the course to be followed in the induction of industrial workers in the 26 to 29 class without impairing the production effort.

Under Byrnes' formula, 26 to 29-year-olds not in essential activities would be the first to go. They would be followed by those engaged in relatively unimportant positions in essential or critical industries, who can be easily replaced.

Meanwhile, some 365,000 deferred farm workers between 18 and 25 years of age began receiving their pre-induction physicals, preparatory to local boards' review of the cases of those found fit for the services.

CIGARETTES: Trade Rationing

In the first broad attempt at private rationing during the war by a trade, the National Association of Tobacco Distributors drew up a plan under which the 1,250,000 retail outlets they serve would issue cards controlling their customers' cigarette purchases to assure an equitable supply for all.

Framed after shortages had pinched many communities, the distributors' plan did not meet without criticism, with an official of the National Association of Retail Drug-gists declaring that no such private rationing was necessary if members were given their wartime allotments instead of smaller and smaller amounts.

Eight-seven per cent of the retail outlets would be affected by the plan, with exceptions including the chain stores, which buy direct from manufacturers and take 8 per cent of supplies, and hotels, railroads and other places serving travelers and normally selling 5 per cent of stocks.

EUROPE: All-Out Drive

On the move behind massed artillery, with tank columns spear-heading their drive, 2,000,000 Russians smashed at German defenses from the wooded lake country of East Prussia to the vast snow-covered plains of Poland in an all-out effort to reach the Reich.

Greatest concentration of Russian strength was along a 200-mile front below Warsaw, where about 650,000 Reds hacked forward, with one of the wings swinging to the rear of the former Polish capital, and the other riding down hard on Silesia, important German industrial province.

Outnumbered, with no natural barriers to hold up behind on the flat plains, the Germans were compelled to fall back as the Reds overran their forward positions. In East Prussia, where the Nazis could utilize the forested terrain, the Reds were held to smaller gains.

Meanwhile, the Reds encountered stiffening resistance in their push into southern Czechoslovakia and Hungary as the Nazis sought to buttress their industrial districts to the west.

Write-Off Bulge

One month after Field Marshal Von Rundstedt had launched his lightning thrust into Belgium and Luxembourg into the First army's rear sector, his forces streamed back into the Siegfried line again under cover of fog and rain.

As the U. S. armies wrote off Von Rundstedt's sudden offensive thrust, however, the cagey German general was reported to be shifting

With the war department removing the limitations on the total of overseas vets who can return home on 30-day furloughs, Gen. George C. Marshall said the number should rise sharply in the next few months.

major forces to the Alsatian front to the southeast, where small but sharp Nazi diversionary attacks earlier had bitten deep into American and French positions along the frontier.

Von Rundstedt's abandonment of the bulge and withdrawal into the prepared defense fortifications of the Siegfried line followed quickly upon the Allies' recovery from the first shock of his big offensive and their attack upon his lines from the north, west and south with massed forces that threatened to chew his army to pieces.

Losses High

With most of their 90,000 casualties on the western front between December 15 and January 7 suffered in Belgium and Luxembourg, the Germans paid a high price for their temporary relief of their vital industrial Ruhr and Saar basins.

Of the 90,000 casualties, approximately 40,000 were captured, Secretary of War Stimson announced, bringing German prisoners up to 844,391 since D-day, with the U. S. First army bagging 230,911 alone.

U. S. losses on the western front between December 15 and January 7 reached 52,594, with nearly 40,000 of these suffered in Belgium and Luxembourg. Of the 40,000, Stimson said, about 18,000 are missing, with the majority presumed to be prisoners.

GUARD MARKETS

Protecting both the consumer and honest manufacturer, the U. S. Food and Drug administration moved against a minority of manufacturers who sought to capitalize on the heavy demand of consumers by disguising their food products during 1944.

Cases included substitution of mineral oil for food oil; use of saccharin in beverages and ground cocoa shells in chocolate products, and the palming off of prepared cereals for nuts and coconuts.

FARM INCOME: Up 6%

With returns from crops showing the most substantial increase, farm income approximated $20,390,000,000 in 1944, 6 per cent over figures for the previous year, the U. S. department of agriculture declared.

The rise in income from crops totaled 11 per cent, the USDA said, with receipts for tobacco showing the biggest increase of 36 per cent as a result of larger acreage and higher yields, and returns on food grains mounting 29 per cent, chiefly as a result of the record wheat harvest.

With most of the rise due to marketings of meat animals, receipts from livestock and related products were up 2 per cent over last year, USDA estimated. Because of a sharp drop in egg prices and slight decreases in both prices and quantities of chickens and broilers, income from eggs and poultry dropped.

Wages Highest

The highest wages and lowest level of employment of hired hands for a January 1 in two decades were recorded on the first of the year, the USDA said, partly reflecting the intense competition of agriculture and industry for labor.

Up sharply from a year ago, rates per month with board averaged $74.60 on January 1, while rates without board stood at $38.00. Daily rates with board averaged $3.54 and those without board $4.15, the USDA reported.

As of January 1, the total of both hired and family workers on farms stood at 8,005,000, 2 per cent below 1944, 9 per cent below the 1935-39 average, and the lowest on that date for 20 years. Part of the decrease was attributed to unfavorable weather, which reduced efforts to necessary chores and livestock care in most parts of the country except the west and southwest.

FOREIGN POLICY: Senate Debate

Charged with the consideration of America's foreign affairs, the U. S. senate, with prewar debates still mutely echoing within the staid old chamber, again stirred itself as Montana's Burton K. Wheeler rose to his feet to describe projected postwar peace organization as arbitrary rule of great powers, and Florida's Claude Pepper warned against scotching an effective international security body.

Said Wheeler: "Observe how the Dumbarton Oaks proposals emasculate the good neighbor policy, override the principle of the sovereign equality of all nations, approve as a cardinal principle the use of brute force and the threat of coercion with requiring resort to peaceful methods in dealing with the threat of aggression, and deliberately divorce the structure of the proposed security organization from the nature of the peace which it is expected to enforce."

Retorted Pepper: "After the senate failed to ratify the treaty of Versailles (in 1920), including provision for the league of nations... we abandoned our Allies. We abandoned our objectives. We failed to take advantage of the opportunities afforded by that day, and we waited for the next war to come..."

HITLER TRIAL: Plans Snagged With Great Britain's rejection of the Allied war crimes commission's proposal for a creation of an international court to try Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and other Axis leaders, fear was expressed that they might escape punishment, after all. According to the London Sunday Express, the British foreign office favored exile for the Axis heads much in the manner of Napoleon's banishment to Elba.

Meanwhile, Russia intimated that it was proceeding with its own plans for trying Hitler, et al, what with Ilya Ehrenburg, prominent Soviet journalist, declaring: "... We ourselves will judge our torturers and this we will entrust to nobody."

Quoting an unnamed British jurist, the London Sunday Express declared that one of the reasons Great Britain might object to an open trial of the Axis chieftains was because some of its own officials might be embarrassed by being called to the witness stand to give evidence for the defense.

LABOR TURNOVER For every 1,000 workers on factory pay rolls in November, 80 either changed jobs or left manufacturing work. Quits represented three-fourths of all separations, discharges and lay-offs each accounted for 10 per cent and the remaining 5 per cent resigned for military and miscellaneous reasons.

The quit rate for manufacturing as a whole, 45 per 1,000, was slightly below that of the previous month, but on the same level with that of one year ago.

BOWLING

Ladies' Bowling League.

The Ladies' Bowling league has reconvened and the first games of the second series were rolled Jan. 16. New teams and new averages have been established. Here are the standings after the first week of bowling:

Ten high averages—Stafford 167, E. Townsend 152, Sommers 147, Schwaderer 146, Stepka 146, Keane 145, Parsch 140, Collins 139, Lessman 136, Vance 136.

Team, high three games—Schwaderer 1943, Glaspie 1919, Stafford 1915.

Team, high single game—Collins 697, Schwaderer 692, Glaspie 680.

Individual, high three games—Riley (sub.) 501, Stafford 500, Sommers 441.

Individual, high single game—Riley (sub.) 187, Stepka 183, Stafford 179.

City Bowling League. Reid and Auten teams share the league lead and are tied with five games won and one lost, while Starmann's Five, the only team to win three games during the second week of bowling, are in a six-way tie for third place, largely because of their captain's 564 individual pin totals.

Bowlers entitled to be named on the honor list are Pinney with 576, F. Fritz 573, Starmann 564, Hoffman 559, J. Czerwiec 550. Others who rolled 200 games or over are Pinney 225, Hoffman 208, Deering 208, Dillman 205, Gross 205, Hoffman 205, Maier 200.

Starmann's team totals were large enough to win them the three game overaverage prize and Mac McCullough's Five grabbed the one game overaverage prize. Fred Pinney's high game of 225 pins was good enough to win him the one game overaverage for individuals and his three game totals were big enough to let him share the three game individual prize with Gallaway with their overaverage count of 90 pins. Nelson Willy won the alley open bowling prize for the week with his 225 game.

Standings of teams after the second week's bowling:

Table with columns: Team, W, L. Includes Reid, M. Auten, Dillman, Starmann, J. Czerwiec, Knoblet, Ludlow, Landon, Gross, McCullough, Kolb, Juhasz, Parsch, F. Fritz, Willy, Wallace.

Ten high individual bowlers: Landon 184, Gross 174, McCullough 174, Knoblet 173, M. Auten 173, F. Fritz 171, Ludlow 171, Reid 170, Parsch 169, Wallace 169.

In the Merchants' league, the Sam's Tavern squad are out in front by the slim margin of one game, with Schwaderer's Construction team in second place, and other teams following close enough to give them trouble in the next few weeks.

Controls Ulcers Sodium alkyl sulfate, a component of a popular brand of soapless soap, has been found to be effective in the treatment of gastro-duodenal ulcers which have been resistant to all other types of medication. Twenty-six out of 34 patients treated had their symptoms controlled by the sodium alkyl sulfate, eight obtained no relief, and two of those relieved have had a recurrence on cessation of the treatment.

Fishing Paradise Wyoming has 20,000 miles of streams and 130,000 acres of lakes containing trout.

Easy to Understand The fact that our fine service costs no more than funerals sold on price alone, puzzles many people. But it is easy to understand. Efficient business management based on accurate cost accounting keeps the overhead charges on every service at the lowest possible figure consistent with high standards. And our fair-profit policy results in moderate prices.

MUNRO Funeral Home Phone 224 - Ambulance Reg. Nurse in Attendance

Reefer Ships The refrigerated ship, virtually a giant, floating ice box, has been of great value in the war. Four hundred such vessels supply ice, medical goods and perishable foods to all our fronts.

Caloric Needs A child of one needs to be supplied with 1,200 calories from food daily. Fast-growing boys from 16 to 20 require 3,800.

Roasting Turkeys Turkeys from five to nine months old are ordinarily used for roasting. Chickens may be five to nine months; capons, seven to ten; farm ducks, four to nine, and "green" ducks, ten to twelve weeks.

Absorbs Water Many times its own weight of water is absorbed by the mat of leaves and moss that covers the ground in a forest.

Brush Clothes As regularly as you brush your teeth, brush your clothes—immediately after wearing—for dust and grit work into the threads, shorten garment's life. And dandruff is oily. Tweeds and gray flannels don't show it but they collect as much dirt as darker fabrics. Use long strokes, brush with the nap of napped materials and always with the thread of the cloth. Brush often—it freshens and conserves the garment.

Forests Demanded
Indiana started out as a forest state. The best estimates indicate that about 19 1/2 million of the 23 million acres within Indiana were covered with timber. The present situation is approximately the reverse, with about 3 million acres in woodlands, much of it cut over one or more times and not capable at this time of producing forest products in the quantity which this rather large acreage would indicate.

California Story
Three-foot carrots weighing 40 pounds apiece and turnips running 20 to the ton raised in California in 1851 are mentioned in the United States department of agriculture reports.

Birds More Numerous
In the Pacific islands birds are much more numerous than mammals.

Motor-Fuel Revenues
Bonanza of taxation is motor fuel. In the recent peace years annual revenue to the states from gasoline taxes exceeded the total annual revenue of the states from all tax sources less than two decades ago. The $864,000,000 collected by the states in gasoline taxes in 1940 was 75 per cent higher than their 1930 motor-fuel revenue.

Dust Cloth
A dustless dust cloth can be made by soaking a piece of flannel or thick flannel in a mixture of two parts paraffin oil and one part turpentine. Wring out and hang out-doors to dry.

Attractive Drink
A sprig of mint and a cherry frozen into each ice cube in your electric refrigerator makes the serving of cold drinks more attractive.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

CHICAGO — Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 1,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in more than 41,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of co-operation among nations in the post-war world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday School attendance.

Named From Egg
Eggplant got its name from one of its original varieties, a small, white, egg-shaped species.

Ship's Stack
A ship's smokestack is not always what it seems to be. It may house a crew's smoking room, dog kennel or be empty in case the vessel is a motor ship. Dummy funnels are frequently used to add to a ship's appearance. On steam vessels, smokestacks are really much larger than the actual smoke flue, which is usually only one-third the diameter of the outer funnel.

Plant Foods
The potency of plant foods varies, but as a rule the following amounts are sufficient for potted plants; a four-inch pot requires one-third teaspoon; a six-inch pot, one teaspoon; an eight-inch pot, one and a half teaspoons; a ten-inch pot, two teaspoons.

Sinus Relief
From Mayo clinic comes news that sinus trouble is not necessarily chronic. Penicillin may offer some hope in combatting the disease.

Potato Storage
The home garden potato crop may be kept in any number of ways, such as a windowed corner of the basement partitioned off for temperature regulation and darkened, a garage, a closet or unheated room in the house, or in a partly buried barrel covered over with straw or leaves and soil. Boxes and barrels are better than baskets for stored potatoes, since they help to keep down shriveling and protect them better against light, which causes green spots.

Bears Load
Fifty tons of water, in the form of rain, snow and sleet, fall upon the roof of an average house in the course of a year, according to engineers.

Community Refrigeration
There were 5,282 frozen food lockers in the United States last July, according to a count made by the state extension services. Iowa led with 580.

Farming Took Most Wood From Forests

Era of Agricultural Expansion Cut Volume

THE demands of agriculture have played the largest role in reducing forest acreage in the United States, a survey by American Forest Products industries discloses. Almost twice as much timber has been removed as existed when the original settlers arrived, although sizable stands of commercial forest yet remain. The apparent paradox of removing more timber than we had in the beginning, without exhausting the forests, is explained by the natural tendency of trees to reproduce themselves, when harvested properly.

Nearly 60 per cent of our original forest and its subsequent growth has served no economic purpose. More than 4 1/2 trillion board feet died from disease, insects, windthrow and other natural causes. Fire killed almost 1 1/2 trillion board feet, and more than 2 trillion board feet was cut to clear land for farming. Wood waste in industrial operations accounted for only about 1/4 trillion feet.

Thus, wood which disappeared from the national stockpile in 300 years, but which did not find useful occupations, totaled 8 trillion, 715 billion board feet—more than there was when Columbus first landed in the New World.

Of the 45 per cent removed for fuel, the survey discloses, the greatest single drain has been caused by the farmer, who cut for fuel, or otherwise destroyed, more than 2 trillion, 100 billion board feet of merchantable timber.

while held between the thumb and the tips of the first two fingers it is given one or two quick turns on its long axis. This causes the contents of the egg to move and throws the yolk nearer the shell, allowing its condition to be more carefully observed. The fresher the eggs, the smaller the air space. Blood spots or other foreign matter can also be easily detected as can watery whites and yolks.

Walter H. Hubbard, Pfm. 3-c, whose family resides at Kington, has undergone training with the Navy's amphibious forces at Camp Bradford, Virginia, and has been assigned to the crew of an LST (Landing Ship, Tank), largest of the amphibious craft capable of making a beach landing. Heavier than a modern destroyer, the 300-foot LST lands assault troops and equipment directly onto enemy beaches under the protective bombardment of heavy warships and Navy planes. Despite its size and weight the landing vessel is designed to navigate shallow approaches to hostile beaches, spilling its troops and tanks ashore through huge bow doors.

Marine Sergeant Roy Martin, 23, son of Claude Martin of Gagetown, has returned to the Marine Corps Air Depot at Miramar, California, from the Pacific where he was a ground crewman with a Fourth Marine Air Wing squadron. He was stationed at Hawaii, Samoa, New Hebrides and Guam. Sergeant Martin said he was under fire while flying from Guadalcanal to the Russell Islands. After reaching the Russell Islands, he underwent several night raids, but escaped injury. Sergeant Martin was graduated from Owendale high school in 1939, where he was a baseball, football and basketball letterman. Before enlisting in November, 1942, he worked with his father on a farm. He was promoted to his present rank in September, 1944.

The Ladies' Aid of Greenleaf has received the following letter from Cpl. Earle Ballagh: "I received your lovely fruit cake the day before Christmas. It couldn't have come at a better time and it certainly tasted good. It is hard for me to express in words my appreciation for what you have all done towards making this a merry Christmas for us over here. I would like to write and thank each one of you for sending it but that is almost impossible for me to do here so I thought the least I could do was to thank you all as a group.

"It was very quiet here over the holidays. We worked both days but we had plenty of turkey both days for dinner. I was glad to see the holidays over with. You hear so much over the radio that makes you think of home and a million other things so that is why I am glad they are over. When there is something you want more than anything in the world and can't have it, it is best to try to forget the past.

"I have often wondered in the last three years I have been away how all my friends were getting along and if things have changed any. I realize there must be quite a change as so many people have passed away. I am thinking mostly of Dad but recall a few others too. We often wonder at the time why such things have to happen, but perhaps it is all for the best.

"Well, I suppose you wonder what kind of a place or country this is. The people have had it pretty tough. A lot of their homes are in ruins and food wasn't very plentiful but it is better now. When the Germans left these towns they took, everything was destroyed.

"Rome is a very beautiful city and has a lot of beautiful homes and churches and other nice sights.

"The weather here now is very cool but no snow except on the mountains.

"There is a lot I could tell you if I were there to tell it. Maybe that day isn't too far away, so until then I will say good-bye for now."

Michigan State Soil Test Service for Land Management

Increasing numbers of both town and city residents in Michigan are taking advantage of the soil testing laboratory service made available by the soil science department of Michigan State college, according to C. E. Millar, department head. As a result, soil conservation and improvement steps are being taken on a sound basis on hundreds of farms and garden tracts within the state. Records show that 458 soil samples were sent in for tests during November. Of this number, 26 per cent were from city residents, indicating that plans for productive victory gardens are being made. Total tests for 1944 were approximately 4,600. Three valuable benefits are obtainable from soil tests. First, whether lime is needed on the soil, and how many pounds per acre, can be determined. Second, necessity for fertilizer and the types and amount can be arrived at, with field experiments and other information also being taken into consideration. Third, whether abnormal amounts or deficiencies of soil nutrients can be learned. Soil tests often will save money and materials when soil building practices are being planned, Mr. Millar says. In many cases it is found that lime is not needed, and the cost of material and labor of spreading is saved. In other cases the use of the wrong type of fertilizer is avoided. The soil testing service is available to any Michigan resident without charge. Directions for submitting samples can be obtained by writing the soil science department, Michigan State college. CO. FARM BUREAU ANNUAL MEETING WELL ATTENDED Concluded from page 1. A resolution embodying these thoughts, in opposition to the proposed threat, was adopted and conveyed by telegram to members of Congress, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones at Washington, and to the Michigan Farm Bureau, Lansing. After the business meeting, a very fine program was enjoyed, which was largely contributed by local talent—Mrs. Richard Kamenska and Keith Crawford, Caro, vocal selections; Wm. Sevens, Caro, trombone solo; Miss Joan Thurston, Caro, saxophone solo; Norwood Eastman, Cass City, empha-sized the need of community clubs and also gave a humorous reading; Geo. Pullen, Lapeer, mystified the audience with ventriloquism. Clarence Bolander, deputy commissioner of agriculture, Lansing, was the guest speaker. He told of new uses for agricultural products and presented a number of articles and garments which were made from soy beans, whey, coal and sand. Mrs. Murale Iseler, Fairgrove, and Norwood Eastman were hostess and host for the occasion. Mrs. Ralph Rayl, Akron, accompanied the singing. Tomato Red Volunteer Crop corps girls—mostly from the cities—had trouble figuring out the correct picking color for tomatoes. Purdue university experts came to the rescue by developing a fingernail polish of the correct tomato red. With their nails as a guide, the girls thereafter had no trouble picking the ripe tomatoes.

U. S. Kept in the Dark

On Men Held by Japs

BUFFALO. — Japan is giving "only lip service" to the Geneva convention covering treatment of war prisoners, and U. S. authorities are "very much in the dark about prisoners" there, a regional Red Cross conference was told here. Capt. Wilbert J. Lincoln, chief of the records and identification subsection, prisoner of war information bureau, office of the provost marshal general, declared that representatives of the International Red Cross have not been permitted to visit camps in the Philippines, Java, Borneo, French Indo-China, Thailand or Burma.

Handicapped Persons

Holding Down War Jobs

NEW YORK. — Physically handicapped persons have shown such efficiency that they have broken down opposition to holding war jobs, John B. O'Connor, deputy regional WMC director, said. He testified before a hearing of a house committee investigating aid to physically handicapped persons, that 39,000 out of 51,000 registered with the United States employment service had obtained jobs during the first eight months of the year. He added that 10,000 war veterans had been placed in jobs.

Patented by New Yorker

WASHINGTON, D. C. — That one about the left-handed monkey wrench may be just a gag, but when it comes to toothbrushes, Sidney S. Vogel of Staten Island, N. Y., has one that he says is just the thing for southpaws. The Gazette of the United States patent office revealed recently that Vogel had been awarded a patent on a toothbrush with a swivel handle which, he says, will be a boon to the "5,000,000 to 7,000,000 people who are left-handed."

Yank Lieutenant Got

His Man, but Oh, the Cost

WITH U. S. AIRBORNE TROOPS IN HOLLAND. — Lieut. John Spooner of Wilmington, N. C., demonstrated his marksmanship heritage by picking off a German observer from a telephone pole at 6,000 yards with a field artillery gun but his feat did not entirely please his commanding officer. Spooner got his man after firing three smoke bursts and then ten rounds with a 75-mm. gun. His colonel, however, figured the ammunition cost the taxpayers $100, whereas "the infantry kills Germans at five cents a round."

British Corset Guild

Threatens a Sitdown

LONDON. — England's women are demanding more and better corsets and the corset guild is seeking action from the government. "If Mr. Dalton (Hugh Dalton, president of the board of trade) does not agree to see us and listen to reason," said the guild's secretary, "the leaders in the corset industry are ready to stage a sitdown strike on the steps of the board of trade." Corsetiers report that in the black market women are paying as high as $80 for inferior corsets.

Academy at St. Cyr

PARIS, FRANCE. — France's famous military academy at St. Cyr, three miles west of Versailles, is in ruins—the result of Allied preliberation bombing and German occupation as a military warehouse, it was reported recently. Not one building is intact at the academy, known as the West Point of France.

Need Care

To wear and give good service, harness must be properly cared for. This means keeping it repaired and in a pliable condition by regular washing and oiling. A good harness oil is made by using 10 ounces of neat's foot oil, 2 ounces of oil of turpentine, 4 ounces of petrolatum and one-half ounce of lamp black. Mix the lamp black with the turpentine and neat's foot oil, melt the petrolatum and mix by shaking together.

Renew Ribbons

Ribbons, laces or veilings can be renewed by dipping in skimmed milk. Be sure all the cream is removed; otherwise it may leave grease spots. Stretch on a smooth surface to dry. Leave unironed.

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND INAUGURAL CEREMONIES

movie stars were present: George Jessel, Bob Hope, Edw. G. Robinson and, of course, blond Faye Emerson, wife of Elliott Roosevelt, just to mention a few.

The grandchildren of the President tired of the proceedings and went out to make snowballs on the White House lawn, where there was just a little snow.

The ladies were impressed with the marvelous personality, charm and grace of the First Lady. At one affair she was gowned in pink and at the inauguration in white.

The visitors were impressed with the splendid taxicab service and the fine hotels of Washington. No butter was in evidence when food was served at White House functions and meats served were those which did not require ration points.

Guests were admitted to the White House grounds by showing their invitations to the inauguration for which they were given a small card bearing the stamp of the F. B. I.

Suppers Possible With Little Meat

(See Recipes Below)

Easy on Meat

Well, what are we going to do about the meat situation? Draconic regulations now in effect will make every homemaker think twice before she buys a cut of meat.

Meat supplies are low, point values high, and still we like meat dishes at least once a day. With clever and effective use of meat, it is possible to use little meat and to simulate meat flavor. Beef cuts are fairly high in point value, but we can use liver. We'll make use of pork, veal, lamb and chicken, too, for they help us to take it easy on meat points.

Proteins are an important body-building food, and meats should not be cut out of the diet. Use these recipes to help you on those low-point weeks:

Spanish Rice With Meat Balls.
(Serves 6)
¾ pound ground beef
¾ pound ground pork
1 chopped onion
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¾ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup rice
2 cups tomatoes
1 can tomato soup

Combine meat, onion, mustard, salt and water. Roll into balls. Place in skillet or baking pan. Pour tomatoes, tomato soup and salt over top. Sprinkle dry uncooked rice on top of tomatoes and season with salt and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat for 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Macaroni and Frankfurters.
(Serves 6)
1 (8 ounce) package macaroni
2 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 tablespoons flour
2 eggs, beaten
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup grated American cheese
¾ teaspoon black pepper
¾ pound frankfurters

Place macaroni in saucepot and add 3 quarts boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Boil rapidly about 15 minutes, or until macaroni is tender. Do not cover utensil while boiling. Drain in a colander and let cold water run over macaroni. Melt butter or substitute in pan, then add flour and blend well. Add milk and cook until thick. Add eggs, seasoning and cheese. Pour into an oiled casserole and add sliced frankfurters. Bake 35 minutes in a moderate (350-degree) oven.

Lynn Says

Variety from roasts: When you do splurge on meat and buy a roast, make sure you use every scrap of meat before you write finis to the roast.

After it is served the first time, have it cold, sliced. This is especially good when served with salads and relishes.

Ground pieces of roast may be served in recipes which call for ground meat. The made-over taste can be disguised by using tomatoes, catsup, chili sauce and other condiments.

When the meat is almost used, it can be used to give meaty flavor to rice, noodles, spaghetti or vegetable casserole.

If the bone of the roast has meat left on it, it can be made into delicious soups with plenty of vegetables. If the meat flavor is a bit thin, add one of the meat concentrates to enrich it.

When you tire of meat reheated and served as leftover, try cutting it into bits and using for flavor to salad. Fish and fowl may be used like this, too. They can also be combined and used as sandwich fillings.

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menu
*Braised Pork Liver and Vegetables
Raisin Bread Jam
Grated Carrot-Apple Salad
Caramel Custard
Beverage *Recipe given.

Pork liver is the most nutritious of all livers and the least expensive, too. It has a slightly stronger flavor than beef or veal liver but this can be disguised if it is used with vegetables and seasonings:

*Braised Pork Liver and Vegetables.
(Serves 6)
1 pound pork liver, cut in ¼-inch slices
2 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
4 tablespoons fat
2 carrots, diced
4 potatoes, sliced
1 onion, diced
1 cup boiling water
1 cup tomato juice

Dip liver in seasoned flour. Brown in hot fat. Add vegetables and liquid. Cover and simmer 1½ hours until tender.

As point values remain rigid, we will turn more and more to chicken and other fowl. This is a good way to fix up the leftover chicken from Sunday's roast. The chicken may be peeled from the bones and diced.

Chicken Rice Casserole.
(Serves 6)
1 cup rice, steamed
2 cups cooked chicken
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon celery salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons cracker crumbs
1 egg
1 cup hot water or stock

Steam rice. Chop chicken very fine, then add seasonings. Fold in beaten egg, crumbs, stock or hot water enough to moisten. Line bottom or sides of greased mold with cooked rice, one inch thick, pack in the chicken mixture, cover closely with rice, and then place greased paper over top. Steam 45 minutes. Turn out on hot platter, garnish with parsley and serve with tomato sauce or cream of mushroom soup.

There's another possibility, and an important one, which we still have not considered to take the place of meat. Naturally, this is fish. It will meet the protein standards which we must have to maintain health, and will add variety to the menu:

Fish a la Tartare.
(Serves 6)
1½ pounds pike or trout
2 hard-cooked eggs
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon salad oil
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon catsup
1 tablespoon powdered sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 cup strained fish liquid
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon each pickles and onion, chopped

Boil and bone the fish, leaving it whole or cut in portions, as desired. Rub the yolks smooth with mustard and oil, then add remaining ingredients, including whites of eggs which have been chopped fine. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Boiling Fish.
Clean fish and let stand in salt for several hours. Let 1 quart water come to a boil with 2 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, and 1 onion. Add the fish slowly and let simmer gently until the flesh is tender.

The conference was called by Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, and was based on a similar conference held recently at the White House. The purpose of the conference was to discuss problems of education for citizens in rural areas in Michigan. They dealt with all phases of rural living, such as health, education, library service, church, family, home, land use, and social assistance.

As the result of this state conference, Michigan being the first state to do so, a series of regional conferences are being planned. In this area, it will include Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer, St. Clair, and Tuscola counties. Following the regional meeting, each county will hold a meeting patterned on the regional and state meetings. Mrs. Hal Conkey of Caseville is chairman of the committee planning the meeting in this region and Miss Mildred R. Omlor, home demonstration agent, is secretary. Other members of the committee are John A. Francis, commissioner of schools of Sanilac county, Ruby Gibbs, Lapeer County normal, and Rev. Ewart Smith, Methodist minister from Reed City.

The Farmers on the Crossroads

We as individuals can increase our income by working long hours and our family as a whole. Good farm management is a great help.

One of the most important facts in the farmer's income is collective bargaining. The farmer is the only man who takes what business gives him. Today the individual's voice is not heard. All business is organized including professional men, industry and labor as a whole. Each group is fighting for its right. All farmers must do likewise.

If the farmers were organized strong enough, it would influence the legislature to do the rest of the work in putting a floor under all farm prices. In this way the farmers wouldn't be slapped down over night.

United we stand; divided we fall.

Take Your Fertilizer Home with You Now!

It's a wise farmer who takes his spring fertilizer now. Shortage of labor in the fertilizer plants, combined with uncertainty of product restriction; potash and phosphates are in greater demand than available supplies can take care of. No one can tell what delays or other shortages we may have next spring.

Don't wait and hope to get all you need next spring. Take your fertilizer home and store it, and avoid delays or disappointment when you are ready for planting.
