

Tuscola Bond Sales Reach $14,000,000 in 3½ Years

Both "E" and Over-all Quotas Exceeded in Victory Bond Drive Last Month

The final tabulated results of the Victory Loan in Tuscola county shows total sales of $1,136,002.00 on a quota of $950,000.00.

Sales by districts:
Akron, total sales, $56,397.50 on quota of $66,500. Caro, sales $236,905.50, quota $190,000. Cass City, sales $160,816.25, quota $114,000. Fairgrove-Gilford, sales $57,178.75, quota $57,000. Gagetown, sales $39,000, quota $38,000. Kingston-Koylton, sales $42,752.50, quota $38,000. Mayville, sales $167,997.50, quota $114,000. Millington, sales $38,007.50, quota $38,000. Reese-Richville, sales $108,359.75, quota $66,500. Unionville, $57,000, quota $57,000. Vassar, sales $171,586.75, quota $171,000.

All districts except Akron exceeded their total quotas. Cass City, Gagetown, Millington and Reese-Richville exceeded their "E" quota. Cass City with a quota of "E" bonds total of $51,720.00 sold $52,856.25. Reese-Richville took second place having had an "E" quota of $30,170.00 and sales of $45,881.25. Gagetown was third with a quota of $17,240 and sales of $18,687.50, and Millington fourth place with a quota of $17,240 and sales of $18,187.50.

The total recorded "E" bonds sales were $376,830.50 on a quota of $431,000. However, apparently all "E" sales were not reported locally since the Federal Reserve final report shows Tuscola county as having sales reported to them of $439,341.25. There is likewise quite a difference between the county's report and the Federal Reserve in all other issues of bonds since they show an over-all total sale of $1,187,890.25. "The total discrepancy in our favor," says Clarence Bougher, county sales manager, "is $62,510.75 in "E" and $51,888.25 in over-all totals. So we will accordingly take the Federal Reserve report figures and say that Tuscola county exceeded both their "E" and over-all quotas in the Victory Bond drive."

Thinking it may be interesting Mr. Bougher gives below the approximate figures that the districts sold in war bonds from the beginning of May, 1942, to December 31, 1945. The total roughly is around 14 millions of dollars.

District	Approximate Sales
Akron	$724,000.00
Caro	2,695,000.00
Cass City	1,675,000.00
Fairgrove-Gilford	785,000.00
Gagetown	490,000.00
Kingston	440,000.00
Mayville	1,700,000.00
Millington	530,000.00
Reese-Richville	925,000.00
Unionville	775,000.00
Vassar	2,150,000.00

"I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all district chairmen and all gallants for the very fine cooperation they gave during all drives," says Mr. Bougher.

Series of Four Timely Lectures Here in February

Renowned National and International Leaders in Rotary Institute

Residents of this community will have an unusual privilege during the month of February to hear a series of four timely lectures by renowned national and international leaders.

For several seasons Rotary International has sponsored a project aimed at education, understanding and good will through the Rotary Institute of International Understanding whereby outstanding speakers are scheduled for a series of community lectures.

Some neighbor towns have held such institutes these past years, but this is the first season for Cass City to be in on the project. The Institute of International Understanding is being sponsored locally by the Rotary club, with Frederick Pinney as the project chairman.

Gordon Powell of Melbourne, Australia, will be the first lecturer, on Sunday evening, February 3. His subject will be "International Security in the Pacific." Sunday evening seemed to be the best or only available night, inasmuch as other communities in the area and state are scheduled in the itinerary of the speakers. The meetings will be held in the high school auditorium on Sunday evenings at seven-thirty o'clock during February.

Other speakers will be Cleo Dawson, traveler, author and lecturer, Feb. 10; Landrum Bolling, newspaper correspondent and lecturer on international affairs, Feb. 17; and Don Bolt, of Brazil, Ind., a commentator, lecturer and an analyst of current affairs, will close the series on the evening of Feb. 24.

Rotarians to Sponsor Senior Scouting

Harold Oatley told Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that the world in recent years has entered the third stage in human history. Outstanding in this period is the use of atomic energy, the invention of the radio and the airplane, and the approach to the first steps in world government.

Mr. Oatley, previous to his address, pointed to the need of Senior Scouting here for boys older than the regular Boy Scouts and said Edward Baker had consented to serve as leader. Rotarians voted to sponsor the project.

Luncheon guests included Clarence Myers and Bates Wills of Caro, Horace Ridley of Bad Axe, Austin A. Scott of New York City, and Henry Bartnick of Cass City.

Notice.

Echo chapter, O. E. S., members will serve a dinner to the public at the school Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, at 6:30. Tickets, $1.00. Proceeds will be used for the benefit of the "Save a Child" federation. Keith McConkey is in charge of ticket sales. Buy your tickets before Jan. 23.—Advertisement.

Victory Clothing Collection Off to Good Start

The price of a man's life may be hanging in your closet. In a chest or attic may be the decision as to whether a child shall live or die. Does it seem fantastic that your old clothes, things you've outgrown, spare clothes, cast off shoes, or a frayed quilt or blanket can be a factor in building good will, rebuilding this chaotic world? Those who are in knowledge of the needy and suffering in many lands believe that the Victory Clothing collection offers an opportunity for expressing compassion—"doing it unto one of the least of these"—and that aside from a humanitarian deed, it will save lives, rebuild morale from the sense that somebody cares, and will be a factor in both expressing and building good will.

Enclose with your garments a "good will letter." Clothing may be brought to any of the four designated collection centers—the Baptist, Evangelical, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Students from a class in public speaking have presented the Victory Clothing Collection in a number of churches last Sunday, at the Community club, the Women's Study club, the Gavel club and Rotary.

Children in the grades are writing "good will letters." Rotarians have offered three, two and one dollar awards for the best "good will letters" written by junior high students, and for the best two essays on good will and the clothing collection from each of the respective two groups—ninth and tenth grades, and the eleventh and twelfth. Rev. M. R. Vender, local chairman of the Victory Clothing collection, announces that Mrs. J. A. Sandham, vice chairman, has

Another Reason Why!

Another reason why the United Dairy Farmers was created instead of supporting some other farm organization already in existence, was the ever pressing need for a militant farm organization. That the other farm organizations are unable to serve their membership in this capacity, is best set forth in the following testimony given in behalf of other farm organizations by Mr. C. B. Smith, Chief Officer of Cooperative Extension Work in Agriculture and Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture of the State of Michigan, before the investigating committee, in which he says:

"All other farm organizations differ in many respects. They are not created to meet any special emergency or to correct any injustice."

The United Dairy Farmers is a militant farmers' organization, standing ready to all times to use every honorable means to correct any injustice to the farmer.

Famous thrills!

1913, West Point, N. Y.: A straggling squad of 18 football players came out of the Midwest to battle the mighty Cadets ... to give them a "breather." The New York newspapers sent cub reporters to watch the workout. And they saw plenty! They saw forward passing the like of which had never before been seen on an eastern gridiron. They saw the brash young men from the prairies take a 14-13 lead at the half, and go on to win, 35-13, in a game that established Notre Dame as a football power. And three of the touchdown passes were caught by Notre Dame's captain, a tow-headed end—named—KNUTE ROCKNE.

1946, anywhere in the Midwest, another great thrill! Split-second starting with Standard Red Crown or Standard White Crown Gasoline, now stepped-up with aviation fuel ingredients. Fatty Acids

It has long been known that there are marked differences in the composition of various food fats. Some contain a large variety of fatty acids and others contain comparatively few types. When extracted from fat some of these fatty acids are solid, some are liquid and some are volatile.

Tea Leaves

All tea, green and black, grows on the same kind of bush. Different varieties result from differences in climate, location, soil and methods of processing the leaves.

Camphor Source

Formosan stills, which processed the chips of the camphor laurel, normally provided almost all the world's supply of natural camphor and about 70 per cent of the camphor used in the United States—for medicine, lacquer, perfumes, celluloid, photographic films and insecticides.

Silk Menaced

Although the silk industry is carried on in other parts of the world including Brazil, France, China and Italy, development of rayon, nylon and other synthetic fibers continues to encroach on silk production.

70 Times As Fast

American shipbuilding yards in 1943 produced at a rate 70 times above their prewar output. At this rate, says the Shipbuilders Council of America, the world's merchant tonnage could be replaced in the space of four years.

Hang Trousers

Best way to hang trousers is upside down, using a hanger with clips. If trousers must be laid over the crossbar of a wire hanger, fasten cardboard or thick paper over the crossbar, to prevent a sharp crease.

British Dominion
The Union of South Africa is a dominion with the British Commonwealth. It spreads over the southern end of the African continent with an area nearly one-sixth as great as that of continental United States, and has a population of 9,500,000, including 2,000,000 Europeans. Through the South African port of Capetown had come immigrants from many countries. In 1852 Jan van Riebeck, a surgeon of the Dutch East India company, established a small colony there to grow vegetables for sailors on the company's ships in oriental trade. The city was nicknamed "Tavern of the Sea."

Safe Ladder
Before climbing a step ladder, see that the spreader is fully extended and the footing firm. If the ladder is to stand on a concrete sidewalk or smooth surface, get someone to hold the ladder to prevent sliding. Use a board under the base on soft ground. Face the ladder when climbing; don't lean too far out or attempt to carry too heavy a load up the ladder.

THERE ISN'T ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE

Abdul doesn't know that a straw too many can break the camel's back. And many people don't know that one appliance too many on a circuit is the cause of that troublesome blown fuse. Many people are accustomed to inadequate wiring. But overloaded circuits are not your only handicap to home happiness if you have inadequate wiring. It means, too, improper distribution of outlets—not having the electric roaster where you want it because there's no outlet convenient, or it means that Dad can't use that electric shaver where he wants it. Don't think "there's always room for one more." Don't be like Abdul. Adequate wiring means a home for you "as good as new"—good enough to use every new appliance you'll want in your home. And, of course, if your plans for tomorrow include a brand-new home, adequate wiring is an "A-1" item to check in plans and specifications.

This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in the interest of the electrical contractors in your area to insure adequate wiring for every home. When you build or remodel, be sure your home is properly wired.

Symbolic Stone
The Chinese believe jade to be a combination of the five cardinal virtues — charity, modesty, courage, justice, wisdom. As Confucius explained, "In the eyes of wise men, its polish and brilliancy represent virtue and humanity; the angles of jade, which seem sharp, yet do not cut, represent justice; the defects under the surface, yet apparent, represent sincerity; the impossibility for the bad shades to hide the beautiful, or the beautiful the bad, represents loyalty."

Marshall of Port Huron, assisted by Rev. Floyd Porter, pastor of the Shabbona church. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

In 1935, he was graduated from the Cass City high school and about 18 months later entered Asbury college at Filmore, Ky., which he attended for a year and a half. On Oct. 25, 1939, he was united in marriage with Miss Phyllis Boag. They resided on the Caister farm in Evergreen. Owing to a crushed hip received when a cement wall fell upon him, Mr. Caister found it advisable to give up farming nearly a year ago, and last May he and his father-in-law, Avon Boag, purchased the plumbing and heating business of E. A. Wanner in Cass City. Mr. Caister was in poor health since the accident which injured his hip.

MR. AND MRS. A. A. BRIAN MARRIED 59 YEARS

Mr. Brian has always worked in Cass City as an express and mail carrier, drayman, teamster and market farmer. During the summer months he worked a 40-acre garden plot which they owned just outside the village limits and where many depended on his garden products.

Mr. Brian was always in good health until about five years ago and since then has been confined to his home. Mrs. Brian has enjoyed good health until the past year. Both say they have nothing to complain about their health at their age.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian have two daughters, Mrs. H. T. Crandell of Ithaca, Michigan, and Miss Mabel, at home; two grandchildren, Mrs. H. A. Beechem of St. Johns, Mich., and H. T. Crandell, Jr., of East Lansing; and three great grandchildren, Katherine, Michael and Janie Elizabeth Beechem, of St. Johns.

Enlistment Changes Effective Jan. 31

Lt. Everett L. Dean of the Army Recruiting Station, Saginaw, announces that effective midnight January 31, 1946, applicants will no longer be able to enlist or reenlist in the highest grade held at time of discharge, if such grade was a temporary grade. This also applies to enlisted reservists, whether they enlist from an inactive status or whether they request call to active duty with view of later discharge and reenlistment. Therefore, any enlisted reservist who desires call to active duty for the purpose of discharge and reenlistment should be advised that, unless he is on active duty at such time as will permit his discharge and reenlistment prior to February 1, 1946, he will not be eligible to reenlist in the grade from which discharged or the grade held by him in the ERC, if such grade is temporary. In this respect, it is believed that in order for a reservist to be sure he can be discharged and reenlisted prior to February 1, 1946, he should be on active duty by not later than January 26, 1946. This is not an official date, but it must be kept in mind that it takes time to process men for discharge and reenlistment at the reception center, and it is not considered desirable to create a "bottleneck" by reason of men arriving at the reception center at the last minute for the purpose of discharge and reenlistment. Cpl. Johnson, Army recruiter, is on duty at the Cass City Post office Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU
COMMUNITY GROUPS

ionville, the women's representative for the county.

President Jesse Treiber of Unionville gave an interesting report of the work accomplished by the Farm Bureau. He said farmers of this nation produced more food during the war than ever before. The farmer can't see much sense in rationing work to a 40-hour week when farmers put in more hours than any other organization. The sound road to prosperity is by work and production, he said.

Dr. Arthur Mauch with the staff of Michigan State college as a specialist in the marketing of fruits, vegetables and poultry, was the speaker of the day. He stressed the importance of looking ahead and planning for the future. The time has come to view the future with more caution. He advised the ladies to wait awhile for improvements they might want to make in their homes and to be careful about buying things not needed at the present time as there would be new improvements and new things with better prices later on.

The big problem for the next few years, he said, will be what to do with farm prices and products. Farmers have a big responsibility and can help a lot by working together as a group instead of individually. The farmer should be glad that he is working on a place where the only pickets he has are on his own front fence.

George Bitzer of Unionville gave a report of his plans as campaign manager for the county bureau's 1946 roll call which begins Jan. 22.

Sugar Syrup

Keep sugar syrup on hand for sweetening fruit drinks and iced tea. It goes faster than plain sugar. To prepare, boil together for 3 to 5 minutes equal parts of sugar and water. Keep covered tightly in refrigerator.

Camphor Source

been asked to represent the V. C. C. committee on determining the selection of the letters and essays for reward. He further reports fine cooperation and a desire to share in the project. The committee will appreciate additional offers of help in the collection and packing. The latest response for help by way of publicity comes from Mr. Schuckert of Cass theatre where a feature film will shortly be shown from national headquarters depicting scenes from the former United National Clothing Collection and its distribution to refugees and others made homeless and destitute by war.

The minimum quota for Cass City, with the rural environs in addition, is 1,500 garments and 1,500 good will letters.

Henry J. Kaiser, national chairman, in a letter to Mr. Vender said, "The people want to give, give them a chance! A dire need exists; 6,007 local committees covering 11,935 communities are already organized for the V. C. C." Note the sponsored V. C.

Shortening Recipe

Seven-eighths of a cup of lard, oils, or home-rendered fats provides the same shortening power as one cup of butter or margarine.

Scrubbing Tip

Cut away one side of a grocery carton, then kneel in the box when scrubbing floors to protect knees and skirts.

Growing Children

During the period of rapid growth, children need more sleep than at other times and are apt to get less, child development specialists point out.

Pony Express Stable

One of the few remaining pony express stables has been preserved at Fort Bridger, state-owned historical shrine in southwestern Wyoming.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR FUTURE AS A FARMER?

As a farmer you want to get ahead. You want a better living for your family. You'll agree that you could use help on some things. Let's look at the record and see why 38,000 Michigan farmers consider Farm Bureau membership as one of their best helps.

ELECTRIC POWER

Michigan Farm Bureau helped develop a rural electrification plan that has brought free electric lines and low cost electric service to 111,000 Michigan farms since Jan. 1, 1936. The increase has been from 47,000 to 158,000! Five of every six farms now have electric service.

ADAPTED SEEDS

Twenty-five years ago losses of alfalfa and clover seedlings by winter killing were traced to enormous imports of unadapted seeds. Michigan Farm Bureau founded a seed service to guarantee farmers northern origin, Michigan adapted seeds. Helped get federal seed staining law to expose imported seeds of little value.

PARITY PRICES

Parity prices are better prices for farm products. They take farmers, labor and business up and down the price ladder together. A square deal for agriculture! The Farm Bureau helped write the parity price program Congress enacted for farmers. It is a farm organization job to keep the parity price relationship in force.

POSTWAR FARM PRICES

Congress has guaranteed farmers 90% of parity prices for two calendar years after the President proclaims the war is over. Purpose is to protect farmers in adjusting to peace time production. Farm Bureau worked for that in Congress. We recalled the World War I farm expansion and ruinous post war crash of farm prices.

SALES TAX

You don't pay 3% sales tax on seeds, feeds, fertilizers, machinery, farm supplies for production. Farm Bureau convinced the court and legislature such purchases are for producing products for resale and are not subject to tax. Exemption saves Michigan farmers $1,000,000 annually.

LEGISLATION

Farm Bureau assures its members that men of ability will represent them and present their program to Congress, the state legislature, departments of federal and state governments, and to business, industry and labor.

HIGHWAY TAXES

As a rule the only road taxes you pay today are gas tax and license plate. Thank the Michigan Farm Bureau for starting work in 1921 to replace property tax for highways with a gasoline tax. Gas tax to finance state highways enacted in 1923, township roads 1931, county roads 1932.

SCHOOL TAXES

Why are school taxes generally lower? Because the Farm Bureau helped enact a law for more state aid to schools. Results (1) lower property tax for schools, (2) an equalization fund helps make available to all children a good quality of school education at about the same cost to taxpayers anywhere in Michigan.

YOU CAN HELP YOURSELF to services like these and others we need by joining the Farm Bureau, or by continuing your membership. Nearly 1,000,000 families are members in 46 states. More than 38,000 farmers are members in Michigan. Family membership is $5 per year.

'Shore Right'
It was the "Tawan Karang" or "shore right" which finally led to fighting between the Netherlands from Java and the princes of Bali. Bali's people had long believed that they had the right to plunder any foreign ship which went ashore on Bali or was in distress in its waters. As late as 1904 this "right" was practiced and the Netherlands government denied.

Council of State Governments. Invariably this trend follows every war.

For example, heavy trucking of supplies to war plants has pounded the concrete pavements of state highways. Many roads must be replaced. Price inflation has decreased the buying power of governmental employees; wages inevitably must rise. Influx of veterans to state colleges has precipitated an emergency condition in housing and class-rooms. Hospitals are badly overcrowded, and the war's strain on human nerves and the decline of morals have already spawned a violent crime wave in Detroit and other cities.

Retirement pensions for state and local government employees, authorized at the 1945 general session of the state legislature, constitute another bid for funds.

If long-term unemployment prevails in Michigan, welfare officials again would beat a path to the governor's door imploring increased legislative appropriations for public relief.

Back in 1937 when the labor sit-down strikes plagued Governor Frank Murphy, the state went into debt to provide adequate relief to distressed. This could easily happen again.

States have expanded their unemployment compensation coverage. Despite a $7 billion reserve, these funds could be wiped out by a prolonged economic depression.

Back in the war years when government officials were busy with post-war planning, a favorite subject was work projects. These were designed to help absorb the shock of veterans returning to civilian life during reconversion from war to peace.

Now it appears that most of this work project planning must wait several years until construction costs come down and materials are available. Contractors are including every possible price increase in their bids. Not knowing how much more labor may get in 1946 or 1947 in a period of rising inflation, contractors close their eyes and write down the highest possible wage increase.

New costs of public works would easily wipe out the $27,000,000 surplus. Costs are already running from 40 to 70 per cent above 1940, and they are still soaring.

A considerable portion of the post-war planning done by local governments in Michigan has not been realistic. It was based on the assumption that federal aid from Washington would be forthcoming to help foot the bill.

This fact has been noted candidly in this column.

Earl D. Mallory, executive director of the American Municipal Association, now makes this interesting observation: "All the municipal postwar planning done so far is unrealistic, because needs aren't squared with funds to do the job. Already it has been made very clear that Congress cannot and will not make any large appropriations for general public works unless there is widespread unemployment."

Getting Uncle Sam to provide a public service, rather than state or local government, isn't the answer either.

It is a fact that from 1929 to 1939 the number of federal employees increased 66 per cent. Yet the number of state employees went up 62 per cent. Despite the growth of federal and state employees, the number of municipal employees did not decrease, but in fact actually went up 14 per cent, thus indicating that despite a trend toward centralized federal control, no savings were made locally.

The plight of cities is due largely to exodus of wealth into the outlying lower-taxed suburban areas and small towns and to a decline in assessed valuations. Valuations in 10 of the largest cities of the country declined more than 12 per cent between 1928 and 1940.

It is easy to see that the state legislature has a complex tax problem on hand in trying to find a sensible answer to the problem of distributing equitably the present state surplus. The same plight will prevail, in years to come, when a deficit will prevail in the state treasury.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Patterns Set for Settlement Of Wage Disputes; U.S. Assured Of Control Over Atom Bomb

Released by Western Newspaper Union
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news staff and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Following speedy settlement of negotiations with Kaiser-Frazer officials, R. J. Thomas (center), head of the United Automobile Workers union, explains contract under which employees will share fund drawn from $5 on each auto produced. President Joseph Frazer of new company sits at left with Chairman Henry Kaiser on right.

LABOR: Hopeful Signs

With individual agreements reached in the oil, auto and steel industries, hope was held out that the understandings reached would serve as national patterns for resolving labor strife threatening early resumption of peacetime production.

With the CIO spearheading the drive for a 30 per cent wage increase to maintain high wartime take-home pay, the United Oil Workers' agreement to accept an 18 per cent boost and afford companies guarantees against unauthorized walkouts led to hopes that such a settlement might prove the basis for determining other nation-wide disputes.

Meanwhile, the Kaiser-Frazer agreement to set aside $5 out of each automobile sale for a year-end bonus fund for employees amounting to 10 per cent of income, opened the way for consideration of the plan as an alternative to the United Automobile Workers' demands for basing pay upon profits.

At the same time, the administration decision to permit price increases on steel products was looked upon to lead to resumption of negotiations between the industry and the United Steel Workers over union demands for a $2 a day wage boost. Pointing the way to a temporary settlement pending a final determination of national wage policy was a pact drawn up between the USW and Lehigh Foundries, Inc., calling for immediate pay raises of 12 cents an hour, with a sliding scale up to 21 cents an hour as production and tonnage goes up.

As these cracks developed in the labor-industry stalemate, the government worked feverishly to avert work stoppages in the packing and farm equipment fields, arising over CIO-AFL wage demands.

In dickering with Armour, Swift, Wilson and Cudahy, the CIO and AFL asked representatives of the Farm Bureau, Farmers' Union and Grange to sit in on discussions to weigh the merits of their pay demands, set at 17 1/2 cents an hour pending further negotiations for an additional 8 1/2 cents. Rather than permit stoppage of meat production, the U. S. reportedly was pondering seizure of plants under emergency power.

In seeking to avert a strike of the CIO-United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers at 11 International Harvester plants, the government set up a fact-finding board to consider the union's demands for a 30 per cent wage boost. Producer of an estimated 60 per cent of farm equipment, the company has offered the UFMW a 10 per cent raise.

ATOM:

U. S. Safeguarded

Even while Secretary of State Byrnes assured the country that congress would have the last say on the disposition of the atomic bomb, a British scientist declared that Russia already had developed a similar explosive whose superiority rendered the American product obsolete.

Byrnes' reassurances of U. S. control over disposition of the bomb followed anxiety expressed in some quarters concerning plans shaped at the recent parley of foreign ministers in Moscow for creation of a United Nations commission to regulate atomic energy. Concern centered about possible U. S. release of the two billion dollar bomb secret before adequate safeguards had been devised against its misuse.

In explaining plans for commission control, Byrnes said that any UNO group set up to study atomic control could only make recommendations for action. Proposals not only would have to be approved by the security council, on which the U. S. has veto power, but congress then would have to agree to what extent the suggestions would be adopted.

In claiming that Russia had already developed an atomic bomb, Dr. Raphael E. G. Armatov of London, North Ireland, said that the weapon had a destructive range of 53 miles in width and an upward lift of 6.2 miles.

Reputedly invented with the aid of two German physicists captured by the Reds, the Russian bomb was said to be as large as a tennis ball and to develop its terrific force by a spin or angular motion. Because of the comparative simplicity of design, Armatov averred, the Russian weapon could be manufactured on a mass production basis.

Amid all the atomic talk, the United Nations Organization was scheduled to convene in London for its first general assembly, with high hopes of inaugurating a new world order guaranteeing peace and justice.

WAR CRIMES:

Unique Appeal

While Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita languished in a jail in Manila, three American army officers acting as his counsel carried a unique plea to the Supreme court of the United States for suspension of his death sentence for war crimes on the grounds that he was denied a fair trial by a military commission.

In declaring that firing had ended and no need existed for an emergency war crimes commission, Yamashita's three defense attorneys, bedecked with decorations attesting to meritorious service in the American army, declared that as a prisoner of war the Jap general was covered by constitutional guarantees assuring fair trials to all under U. S. supervision.

Noting that the war had not been officially declared ended, government counsel argued that revocation of sentence would seriously hamper action against individuals who had waged barbarous warfare against this country.

DEMobilIZATION:

G.I.s Protest

Angered by war department plans to slow demobilization because of inadequacy of replacements, G.I.s in the Philippines staged orderly demonstrations against the new program, with complaints that "brass hats" sought to preserve wartime rank by maintaining a large organization.

In announcing its new demobilization plans, the army disclosed that 1,533,000 men will be shipped home during the next six months instead of the next three because accelerated return of troops would leave occupation garrisons undermanned.

Even with the reduction in monthly redeployment, the army said, total strength on July 1 will be 400,000 below previous estimates, with 335,000 men in Europe, 375,000 in the Pacific, 87,000 in other areas, 360,000 in the U. S. in supply, hospital and other operations, and 345,000 also here as a strategic reserve.

Intermixed with protests to Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commanding army forces in the western Pacific, were pamphlets and other literature circulated by G.I.s incensed by the slowdown in demobilization. Rapping the policy, the Yanks called for a petitioning of congress by friends and relatives back home to bring pressure to bear for relief.

South Seen as New Industrial Frontier

Southern industry and resources played a vital part in war production, according to a study of the New York Trust company, and the south may well become the new industrial frontier of the United States. Much of the practical development of the atomic bomb took place in facilities established for the purpose in the south at a cost of well over a billion dollars.

Beyond the direct contribution to the war machine in arms and food products, the south supplied bauxite for most of the aluminum in planes and engines, fuel for powering the planes, sulphur and other chemicals for the heavy chemical industries, cotton for uses ranging from bandages to powerful explosives, steel, wood-pulp, naval stores and dozens of other important war materials.

UNRRA:

Assail Head

United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administrator for Germany, Lt. Gen. Frederick E. Morgan received strong support from American and French field commanders in his efforts to resist pressure for his removal following his statement that he believed a well-organized movement existed for the exodus of Jews from Europe.

Despite declarations of Gen. Joseph E. McNarney of the U. S. and Gen. Ferdinand Lencud of France attesting to Morgan's efficiency in directing relief operations in their respective zones, pressure on the British administrator to resign remained strong, with UNRRA threatening to deprive him of all authority if he persisted in staying.

In asserting that a well-developed plan nurtured by a secret underground organization existed for a Jewish exodus from Europe, Morgan said that all Jews infiltrating into Germany from Poland showed no signs of persecution, being well-fed and clothed. Investigations had failed to disclose evidence of widespread pogroms in Poland, he said.

Irked by the incident, the American and World Federation of Polish Jews, with headquarters in New York City, charged the British with fostering anti-semitism pointing to their support of the Polish army in exile in Italy, which allegedly carried on anti-Jewish activity spreading to the U. S. and Canada.

BRUTAL MURDER:

Arouses Citizenry

Working on more than a half dozen clues, Chicago police aided by the FBI staged one of the most extensive man hunts in the city's history in efforts to solve the brutal murder of Suzanne Degnan, six, daughter of an executive of the metropolitan office of OPA.

As police pressed their search, an aroused citizenry, horrified by the criminal attack and slaying of the little girl and the subsequent dismemberment of her body and disposal of parts in different sewers throughout the neighborhood, put up over $11,000 in rewards for the apprehension and conviction of the killer. Acting upon recommendations of Mayor Edward J. Kelly, the city council voted a $5,000 reward.

the neighborhood, the killer seemed to outsmart himself, since his actions indicated a thorough familiarity with the district and thus furnished police with an important starting point in their probe. Discovery of blood-stains, particles of flesh and bone in the wash-tub of an apartment basement also pointed up the slayer's acquaintance with local housing layouts.

With police investigation focusing upon the neighborhood, two janitors were closely questioned in connection with the crime. Both fathers, the two suspects protested their innocence, with affirmations of their characters supported by their wives and neighbors.

NATIONAL ECONOMY:

Quick Rebound

With an average individual reduction in savings to permit greater consumer expenditures an important factor, the national economy showed a surprising rebound after V-J Day, Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace declared in a year-end report which estimated over-all income and output for 1945 only slightly below 1944.

In checking over the postwar industrial picture, Wallace said that though the job of reconverting plants to peacetime production largely was completed, output remained small. While employment has risen upwards since V-J Day, the rapid demobilization of the armed forces will result in increased unemployment because of the inability of industry to immediately absorb the additional labor, he said.

Mostly because of fewer hours worked, total wages and salaries shrank 12 per cent during the year, Wallace estimated. Smaller payments to servicemen also contributed to the drop in income, he added.

ARMY:

At the present time approximately 20,000 civilians in the U. S. zone in Germany are given physical examinations and 100,000 more are weighed each month as a means of determining the health curve of the population in the American occupied areas, the army announced.

The work is directed by six nutrition survey units, five in Germany and one in Austria. Each is headed by a nutrition officer with a staff of trained doctors and technicians.

Caravan Appeals To Homemakers

Homemakers will find much of interest and value at the local showing of the Rural Progress Caravan which comes to Tuscola County from Michigan State college on February 21, according to Miss Mildred M. Omlor, county home demonstration agent. The caravan can be visited at Caro between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

One home economics display will show how to do household mending the modern way. Definite improvements have been made since grandmother's day, for mending the modern way isn't the tedious task that past experience indicates.

For example, the display shows how to make a jiffy overall patch that will save many mending minutes. You'll find elbow and knee patches easy to do when you learn the secret. No pinning or basting is necessary—just a little cutting and creasing, some machine stitching and you have a strong patch in one and one-half minutes.

Other homemaker displays show how to shorten the time on many other jobs around the home. A motion saved here and there counts up at the end of a day or week. The kitchen unit shows correct work heights that save backaches and fatigue. A model cupboard features two work-surface heights, with the mixing area lower than the area near the sink. Another feature is the lapboard which is located so the homemaker may sit comfortably while she works.

Still another exhibit illustrates how to refinish floors with the new penetrating seal. It is easy to apply, easy to clean, easy to renew. Homemakers who have developed labor saving devices for home use are urged to display them on February 21 at the Caravan showing. Any inquiries about them or the caravan should be made to the County Extension office at the Court House.
