

Voters to Decide on Installing Water Softener System

Council Voted Monday to Submit Bonding Issue to Local Citizens

Village trustees, in a special session Monday night, voted to submit to voters the proposition of bonding the municipality for the purpose of purchasing and installing a water softening plant in connection with the village waterworks. If the legal steps are completed in time, the question will be voted upon at the village election on March 11.

The water softening system would change the properties of Cass City water which has 330 parts per million of hardness to from 85 to 100 parts per million. Through a Zeolite system two-thirds of the water used is treated and after this amount goes through the filtering process it is united with the one-third which has been bypassed. In other words, it will be necessary to send but two-thirds of the water used in a day through the filters. This united with the one-third untreated will retain the proper hardness of the water furnished by the waterworks system.

The council approved the plans, specifications and planning documents of the water softening system at their meeting Monday. One-half of the engineering cost was met by the Michigan Planning Commission and the remainder by the village.

East Lansing has added its second water softening plant to that city's equipment.

White Furs for Day and Evening Are Topflight Style This Season

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S topflight fashion to wear white furs this winter. Nor is the flattery of this season's lovely furs to be enjoyed only by the favored few who can afford luxury at any price. No indeed! The good news is that this year the collections include most stunning coats of smart white furs, available within a modest budget. Furthermore, these are styled for practicality and multiple service that tunes them to both day and evening wear.

With the young set it is the moderately priced white fur coat that is stealing the show. The campus crowd and the teen-age group are going all out for the white fur coat as a grandstand fashion. With these they wear simple little hats of matching fur, often carrying an intriguing muff to match—and the result is a "perfect picture."

Instead of being exclusively an evening item, this season's white fur coat is styled also to go places as a daytime wrap with dress-up dresses or to serve as a winter sports fashion. It may also be worn as a southern resort wrap, and for indoor wear with winter slacks the white fur jacket is the last word in chic.

Coats designed for daytime wear include a belted full length model of snow-white, nutria that is perfect for grandstand wear. You will also find many belted tunic models of shorter length in the new collections, featuring high collars. The better coats are made up in white broadtail, but the college girl specials are in a variety of lesser priced furs. The little jackets in white lapin come within a modest budget, and they are ever so charming and chic.

Ermine is as much beloved as ever. From the voguish little jacket of white fur with hat and muff to match, to wrap of regal splendor such as you see centered in the illustration, ermine plays an outstanding role. In this long Russian ermine cape the skins are worked in graceful slanting lines. This model interprets fur luxury at its highest peak. Such is the way of smart white furs this winter. They run the gamut from inexpensive practical types to furs of fabulous value.

White Russian broadtail is a close second to ermine in the season's furs. In the picture the tailored model shown to the left tunes to daytime wear. Smart details include an easy gathered blouse effect, raglan sleeves with cuffs, an attached belt that ties at the front together with a shapely and comfortable collar. This lady of high fashion wears a halo of matching fur.

Not all the glamour of white fur is told in daytime coats and evening wraps. The costume highlighted with white fur accents is a favorite theme with fashion. The flattery of white fur is found at its best in the charming hats and neckwear ensembles of white fur women are wearing with their dark coats and dresses. White fur is contributing glamour galore to the winter fashion picture in way of ensembles that include hat and muff or hat and deep detachable cuffs, such as you see pictured.

Your simplest black frock topped with a chic little hat of white fur and complemented with a pert bow of matching fur caught to the shoulder or neckline of your frock, with a white muff for glamour plus, will call forth admiration wherever you go, be it the matinee, the cocktail hour or for smart restaurant wear.

Advice Is Where You Get It

By RICHARD A. MCGIVERN
McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Features.

"AND SO we can't get married?" "Now, Jane, don't be like that. We can and will, but not now." "Why not now?" "I've told you a dozen times. We'll have to struggle along and perhaps never get on our feet. If we wait until I'm started everything will be easy."

"We are on our feet now. You have some of your mustering out pay and I've saved a few dollars. How much have we?"

"In cash, all together, about two hundred dollars."

"That's a lot of money to me. Plenty to get married. We don't need much. I've been thinking of this for two years. If we had any confidence in ourselves we would do it. Ma left me those two acres on the turnpike. We can fix up the shack there. I can keep working for a while."

"That sounds all right, and all through those months in the Army while the other guys were talking of going back to the bank, the store, or the post office, I kept thinking of the day I could begin an egg route. It's my dream."

She gripped his arm. "If that is what you want, go after it. It may not sound like much, nothing does at first. Just think, Pete, how lucky we are. There are so few egg men in this town, it ought to be easy. I bet I can get fifty regular customers in a couple of days."

Slowly they sauntered toward town. Pete sighed and grinned. "Gee, Jane, I can hardly wait! I can peddle butter and oranges and . . ."

"And I've learned to make swell jelly. . . ."

"By fall we should be all set." Though his voice was casual, it broke the spell.

"There are a lot of folks with hens around here. I'm sure they'd be glad to sell you eggs. And with a cart you could take them into town. It would be tough on your feet but you'd soon harden up. The doctors told you to walk a lot. You're not afraid of hard work?" The question was lightly put.

"No," he said. "It's us I'm afraid of. I don't want to look forward to hard times later. It's not my pride. I'll pull a cart if that's the test, but I'll not take a chance on two hundred dollars."

They neared the main street. Finally she spoke. "Let's ask a few people what they'd do. There must be a lot who have had the same problem."

Pete laughed. "Who'll be the first victim?"

Jane pointed at a couple. The man rested his hand on the door knob of a long shiny motor car. "Yep," said Pete, "they look likely. One of them probably inherited so much dough from a tightwad uncle that he never had to work a day. Try it if you like."

Flashing her best smile—which was very nice indeed—Jane said, "Pardon me, I wonder if you would do us a favor?"

The man opened the door of the car, looked at the dashboard clock and answered, "We're in a bit of a hurry but we'll be glad to help if we can."

"Will you answer just one question? How much money do you think a couple should have before marrying?"

The woman was about to speak. But the man answered again. He nodded toward his companion. "Ma and I got married on her dowry, eighty dollars in American money. That paid our passage from Dublin to New York. In 1889 it cost thirty dollars for each. We landed with twenty-five dollars. Twenty of it was Ma's and five I earned on the way over. Twenty-five dollars was enough, young lady. That and Ma's faith in me." He smiled and patted the auto. "The rest came with hard work."

Pete cut off all further talk by saying, "That does it. Let's go home and tell our families that we're going to take the big jump." They rushed off hand in hand.

The woman turned to the man. "Were you ever in Dublin?"

He was grinning. "No, lady," he replied. "I've never been out of this state. But if I owned this auto I'd soon fix that." He looked up the street. "You say this is my bus? Do you take it too?"

"No, I live on the other side of town."

"Then good day to you, madam. Don't worry. Those youngsters will be all right."

"Let us hope so. Good day to you, sir." She watched the bus disappear, muttering, "And I was just going to tell them what a time me and the ol' man had in Cork borrowing the money for our marriage license and passage over. Well, he'll laugh when I tell him." She opened the door of the car. "I'm glad he left the machine unlocked so I can wait in it."

Preventing Covered Shunt Loss

Good insurance against reduced grain yields caused by covered shunt is to treat winter barley or wheat seed before planting in the fall with an organic mercury dust. The cost of treating the seed amounts to about three or four cents an acre, a small price, compared with the loss of several bushels of grain per acre.

U. S. Gives Up Property

Held in United Kingdom

LONDON. — The United States army has reduced property holdings in the United Kingdom by 80 per cent and 405,397 troops have been redeployed to the United States since V-E Day, Brig. Gen. Claude M. Thiele, new commander of the United Kingdom base, said recently.

Thiele, who succeeded Brig. Gen. F. S. Strong Jr. on December 1, said the policy set by General Eisenhower of closing down installations, disposing of surplus property and sending home troops as rapidly as possible would be vigorously pursued.

American troops in the United Kingdom, he said, now number 50,473, a drop of 26,386 from November 1. In the last month the army has turned over to the British 19 depots and camps, 14 air fields, 3 hospital sites and 24 London properties.

New Camera Has Light

Source Built Into It

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The army has a camera with which it says the rank and file amateur can make flawless still pictures, in color or black and white, of fast action at distances between 6 inches and 12 feet.

The secret of the camera is a built-in light source, a quartz vapor tube giving a flash of approximately 1-250,000th of a second with a brilliancy greater than sunlight.

The camera was developed by the army's pictorial service, for army surgeons, from an idea by Capt. Rollin W. King and Emanuel Berlant, a civilian expert. The light tube was designed and built by the General Electric company.

Officers Don't Beat G.I.s,

Japs Interested to Note

KYOTO, JAPAN. — The Chugaku news reports that American troops in the Kure-Hiroshima area are very cheerful. Members of the 41st infantry division "sing songs, dance and play games in barracks," it said.

A Japanese reporter approached some of the soldiers and asked: "Have you ever been kicked or beaten by your superior officers?"

The G.I.s replied: "No; not even once."

Dried Herbs

Dried herbs must be steeped in cold liquid for several hours or overnight to bring out the volatile oils which give them their flavor. Or, if for a last minute affair, they can be heated slightly in the liquid. Using a measurement of one-half teaspoon salad herbs to every cup of vinegar, let stand in the refrigerator overnight. Strain off the herb particles in the morning and the vinegar is ready whenever you want it for your regular salad dressing recipe.

New Print Dresses Have Wider Skirts

Soon there will be gay prints peeping out from under milady's fur coat. There are surprises ahead in regard to the new print frocks. The news is as much in the way they are styled as it is in the prints themselves. Guess what! New print frocks are arriving that have real sleeves, the full gathered-in-at-the-top kind we used to wear. Skirts are wider too with special attention given to shirred and pleated hip treatments. All of which means that a new silhouette is on the way. It's news also that the two-piece print suit will stage a big come-back. The jackets have peplums accentuating trim waists. As to the prints themselves, new patterns depict scenic effects, some of Chinese inspiration, others show marine views with picturesque ships. Stunning florals contrast bright color against a black background.

Knit Wear of All Sorts Is Being Bought in Volume

With the "keep warm" idea in mind there is much buying of knitted items. Most wanted items include bed socks, knit slips, pajamas, bed jackets, shawls, shoulderettes, fancy mittens often enssembled with wool knit headwear. As to sweaters, the demand is limitless.

Woolen things are lovelier than ever this year, in many dainty pastel shades. Designs are intriguing.

Velveteen Hats and Bags

Most exciting because of their clever styling and delectable colors are the new hat and bag sets made of handsome velveteen. The hats are of last minute styling that accent the new tall crowns, some shirred, others smooth-covered or draped. The bags take on the "new look" of soft bulk and rounded corners.

Satin Bolero

This long slim bodied evening gown in black crepe by Joe Cope-land has sequined satin straps over the shoulders to match the charmeuse bolero. It is charming with the bolero on and it is charming with it off. With the bolero it is less formal, but when extreme décolletage tunes to greater formality this dress sans bolero is most beguiling.

Use Atomic Energy
To Combat CancerMay Replace Other Methods
Of Treating Disease.

PHILADELPHIA. — Treatments derived from the release of atomic energy ultimately will replace x-rays and other methods used in combating cancer, Dr. Ivor Griffith, president of the Philadelphia college of pharmacy and science, predicted here.

He also suggested the possibility that new techniques would eliminate surgery in the treatment of cancer with radioactive materials, in an address before more than 500 women at the 13th Annual Free Cancer forum.

The forum, held at the Bellevue-Stratford, was sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Lankenau Hospital Research Institute in cooperation with District No. 1 of the Pennsylvania State Nurses' association.

"This may be a wild conjecture on my part," Dr. Griffith declared, "but it is my firm personal opinion that the destructive forces released through the fission of uranium and other elements and the various rays produced ultimately will throw into the discard the deep x-ray, natural radium and radon for the therapeutic or stoppage of the malignant runaway growth of cancer."

"The old technique of surgically inserting radium capsules or needles into the tissue, allowing them to remain until the growth is successfully eradicated, which may take days or weeks, and then removing the needle surgically is a costly and painful procedure."

"It is quite probable that atomic fission already has made available temporarily activated materials which may be introduced into the malignant tissue and left there to spend their radioactivity wisely and well with no need for their ultimate removal."

"Furthermore, there is sufficient progress in the field to indicate that it may be possible to develop tracer radioactive materials which could be introduced into the blood stream and would travel around the body until they reached the malignancy," Dr. Griffith continued.

Europe's Schools Will Be Shut by Lack of Fuel

NEW YORK.—Ten million children of school age in France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Norway will not be able to attend school this winter, especially if the weather is severe. Howard E. Kershner, director of foreign work for the Save the Children Federation, predicted on his arrival from London by plane.

The critical coal shortage in those countries is intensified, he said, by the lack of suitable warm clothing with shoes and bedding also needed. While bread is plentiful, owing to large shipments of American and Canadian wheat, many sections remain without sufficient quantities of milk, protein foods and fats, Mr. Kershner reported.

He declared that "if unspeakable suffering is to be avoided this winter," Americans must provide the necessary commodities. He added that our wheat "has saved western Europe from the greatest catastrophe of all times" and asked for further contributions.

Texas Judge Rules That
Wills Become Records

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — Another snag was yanked by Judge George S. Matthews from the rough road that sometimes blocks the prescribed edicts of wills.

He ruled that no will sealed from scrutiny of the court or public can be filed for probate in the county court.

The ruling arose after a sealed envelope purportedly containing a will and marked, "Do not open," was filed for probate in the county court.

"When a will is filed, it becomes a public record and the public is entitled to see its contents," Judge Matthews said. "We cannot know that a sealed envelope actually contains a will until it is opened," he added.

There isn't always room for one more

Triplets are an expensive addition to any family. There isn't always room for another in the buggy—or in the budget! And there isn't always room for the extra lamp or appliance you want to have—if your wiring is inadequate. An inadequate wiring system means frequent blown fuses, resetting of circuit breakers and a loss of electricity which you pay for in both money and benefit. Having that recreation room you've always wanted may be a grand idea—that is, until you discover that you can't have lights without a network of "drop cords." And your plan to get Junior's electric train from underfoot by putting it in the attic won't be thwarted if you've modernized your wiring system to meet such needs. Adequate wiring means even distribution of outlets on each circuit, that does away with "overloading" and frequent blown fuses. It means the "full light" of satisfaction in your home.

This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in the interest of the electrical contractors in your area to insure adequate wiring for every home. When you build or remodel, be sure your home is properly wired.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Rap Truman for Wage Muddle; Reconversion Almost Finished; New Milestone: UNO Underway

Released by Western Newspaper Union

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Protesting against demobilization slow-down, G.I.s parade down Paris' Champ Elysees. Later, a "liberation committee" was established. (See: Demobilization.)

LABOR UNREST:

Rap Truman

As the strike situation grew more aggravated, and the administration back-tracked on its original stabilization policy of only granting price increases if earnings failed to support wage raises, Democrats and Republicans alike in congress blasted President Truman for lack of a clear-cut program.

Declaring that Mr. Truman should have concentrated on holding pay at wartime levels and reducing prices, Senator Ellender (Dem., La.) asserted that the policy of raising wages will inevitably lead to increased costs, with the inflationary spiral following crimping both domestic and foreign purchasing power here.

Formerly a public member of the War Labor Board, Senator Morse (Rep., Ore.) compared Mr. Truman's indecision with ex-President Roosevelt's forcefulness, averring that he should have originally set up an impartial arbitrator who could reach a definite conclusion on a dispute instead of fact-finding boards with only recommendatory power.

Meanwhile, Majority Leader Barkley (Dem., Ky.) sought to slow up hasty senatorial consideration of anti-strike legislation. He was supported by Senator Ferguson (Rep., Mich.) who urged even-tempered action to avoid the possibility of circumscribing traditional liberties.

RECONVERSION:

Ahead of Schedule

With reconversion already 90 per cent complete, and with production and employment at the highest peacetime level, the U. S. is well on the way to postwar prosperity barring future dislocations, officials of the Committee for Economic Development declared.

With 22 million persons at work, and only 2 million remaining jobs, the nation is close to the employment goal of 53.5 million the CED set for next September. Since economists have agreed that normally there are about 2 million who are always idle because of job changes, incapacity, etc., indications point to virtual full employment now.

If strikes do not seriously crimp production, returning vets and others should be easily absorbed by industry in the coming year, CED said, pointing to the huge potential market resulting from the tremendous accumulation of savings and pent-up needs of consumers both here and abroad.

Refuting contentions of labor leaders that reconversion has resulted in a decrease in wartime take-home pay, the CED declared figures showed payrolls and earnings are now only slightly below the wartime peak.

PEARL HARBOR:

Kimmel's Side

In issuing his first public statement on the Pearl Harbor catastrophe Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, naval commander at the base at the time of the surprise Jap attack December 7, 1941, charged that inadequate information furnished by Washington prevented him from making effective preparations for defense.

Reading a 25,000 word statement to the congressional committee investigating the Pearl Harbor debacle, Kimmel asserted he was misled by navy department intelligence supplied him from fragments of intercepted Japanese messages, into believing that the Japanese would move first in the Far East.

Vital information denied him, which he said indicated hostilities at Pearl Harbor, included a decoded Jap message of October 9 instructing Hawaiian agents to report on ship movements in the bombing area of the base and the intercepted note of December 6 and 7 ordering the Japanese ambassadors in Washington to formally break off relations at 1 p. m. on the day of the attack.

Had the crucial note of the 6th and 7th been sent to him even five hours before the assault, Kimmel said, he could have moved his light forces out of Pearl Harbor and placed all other units in readiness for defense.

UNO:

Well Under Way

With election of a president, selection of remaining members of the all-important security council and the naming of the economic and social committee, the United Nations organization to preserve postwar peace got well underway in its opening session in London.

Election of Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium as president and of Brazil, Poland, Australia, Mexico, Egypt and the Netherlands to the security council to work with the Big Five, was met with opposition, however. With Russia lining up against the U. S. and Britain, the Reds had proposed Trygve Lie of Norway for the presidency and sought to place Norway on the security council in a floor fight.

In addition to permanent membership on the security council, the Big Five obtained representation on the economic and social committee whose power to work for the improvement of both trade and living standards is considered by some countries as one of the most vital tasks of UNO.

As UNO studied the question of trusteeships over territories, a movement developed within the American delegation to assure full U. S. control over strategic Pacific islands taken from the Japs.

DEMILITARIZATION:

G.I.s Organize

Even while U. S. generals cautioned G.I.s against continuing demonstrations against the demobilization slowdown because of its effect on American prestige overseas, a G.I. "liberation committee" was established in Paris following troop demonstrations for the purpose of uniting Yanks abroad for speedy return home.

In drawing up a four-point statement, the committee declared: "Use men for occupying only Germany and Japan. . . . Eliminate the waste of personnel. . . . Use available replacements, including 400,000 volunteers. . . . Democratize the army to encourage whatever volunteers are necessary."

Underlining committee assertions that G.I.s clamoring for an acceleration of demobilization were not quitters, Lt. Robert Eisner of Brooklyn, N. Y., stated: "We are in no way mutineers. We haven't forgotten what we fought for, but the simple fact is we are no longer needed in France. The same thing is true in many other countries."

INDO-CHINA:

Mass Starvation

While French and native leaders haggled over terms for the importation of rice to the region, between 600,000 and 2,000,000 people of northern French Indo-China were expected to starve this year, adding to the hundreds of thousands who perished in 1945 from hunger.

French difficulty in getting food to the region lay in their lack of force in the country following Japanese occupation and the existence of armed bands of natives of the unrecognized Viet Nam republic opposing any move for the re-establishment of colonial rule. Though willing to accept relief, the native leaders insist on a distribution of food by neutrals rather than by the French.

Further aggravating the tense situation was a flood of the Red river which crumbled dykes and inundated miles of rice land. While refusing to permit the French to repair the damage, the native leaders charged that they were responsible for the tragedy by having failed to teach the people to attend to the dykes during their 80 years of rule in the country.

ARGENTINA:

Employers Strike

Failing to receive modification of a government decree ordering wage increases and year-end bonuses business men, industrialists and manufacturers closed shop in Argentina for three days, crimping the nation's day-to-day shoppers.

Seeking to offset the immediate effects of the national lock-out, the regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell threatened to take action against establishments refusing to sell essential articles, citing a wartime law against promotion of speculation. While rioting against closed establishments was reported in some provinces, relative calm prevailed in the capital of Buenos Aires, with shoppers crowding municipally operated markets, fruit and vegetable stores and the few places that heeded orders to reopen their doors.

With national elections scheduled for February 28, the government's decree for higher wages and year-end bonuses was considered as an effort by the Farrell clique to point the labor vote toward Col. Juan Peron, who is seeking to bolster his position in Argentine politics by popular election to the presidency.

Haitian Chief Flees

Latest political leader in the so-called banana republics of the South to sneak out the back door while crowds rioted for his removal was President Elie Lescot (pictured at left) of Haiti. Accompanying the 63-year-old refugee to America was his son Gerard Lescot (at right), who served as foreign minister in his government, and other members of his family.

Elected to Haiti's presidency in 1941, Lescot's overthrow followed near weekly demonstrations started by 5,000 students, and eventually joined by about 5,000 well-armed troops after his left wing to form a coalition government embracing radical elements. Succeeding Lescot, a three-man military junta experienced difficulty restoring order as mobs stormed police headquarters, demanding punishment of officials who had sought to quiet the uprising.

In Miami, Lescot, commenting on his discomfiture, remarked that he was ousted because he would not play ball with the Communists.

ALUMINUM:

Wider Competition

Government efforts to break up the Aluminum Company of America's hold on the industry partly materialized with ALCOA's release of patents to the U. S. covering plants then leased to the Reynolds Metal company, No. 2 operator in the field.

As a result of its action, ALCOA may now be permitted to bid for plants it operated during the war, and which were denied to it by the justice department on grounds that additional acquisitions would strengthen the company's grip on the aluminum industry. By freeing patents, however, it was believed ALCOA had widened competition sufficiently to overcome government objections.

By taking over the Hurricane Creek and Jones Mills, Ark., plants formerly operated by ALCOA, Reynolds increased its capacity to the entire prewar market in the U. S. In leasing Hurricane Creek, Reynolds agreed to rentals running from $275,000 for the first year to $546,000 in the fifth, while Jones Mills' payments will run from $594,000 in the first year to $1,069,000 in the fifth.

HISTORIC FORT:

Doors Closed

Fort Niagara, N. Y., has been officially closed by the army, bringing to an end a military post which has borne its present name for 210 years, and whose history reaches back to a stockade built in 1878 by the French explorer La Salle.

Throughout the clashes of British and French colonial ambitions, the American Revolution, and the War of 1812 the fort held a key position in the strategy of conquest.

U. S. Presses Pure Food and Drug Campaign

The campaign to preserve the purity and truthful labeling of foods, drugs and cosmetics during the wartime disruptions of production, transportation and storage featured the 1945 report of the food and drug administration. Court actions charging violation of the federal food, drug and cosmetic act increased by 45 per cent over similar actions in the fiscal year 1944, Commissioner Paul Dunbar said.

Over 71 per cent of the food seizures involved products receiving inadequate protection from rodents, insects and decomposition. While some of this food was processed in unsanitary plants, much of it reached its destination in clean, sound condition and became contaminated during storage.

SHERIDAN COMMUNITY
FARM BUREAU MET MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Healy entertained the members of the Sheridan Community Farm Bureau at their home Monday evening, Jan. 21. There was a very good attendance. Ernest Willis presided as chairman and group singing opened the program with Mrs. Thomas Campbell at the piano. Mrs. O. H. Blair led in reading the bureau's creed and roll call was answered by a current event or a humorous story.

At the business session some activities for the benefit of the association were discussed. Dates will be announced later and committees appointed.

Plans were made for the membership drive which opened Jan. 23. A thorough canvass of the township will be made and the drivers hope to meet their quota. Dan Healy, supervisor, explained the procedure of the re-registration of the voters. He announced that the Uby Fire department is now ready to take care of all fires that may occur in Sheridan.

Mrs. Dugald Leitch, discussion leader, gave an interesting talk on "Public Health." All members were in favor of pasteurized milk and that all wells and drinking fountains at school houses be inspected every year. Many diseases may be caused from contaminated milk and water.

Robert Richardson from the Veterans' Affairs Council spoke on inflation. A general discussion followed. A potluck lunch closed the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Sweeney will entertain the February gathering in the church hall when all returned veterans will be guests.

BENEFITS OF ENLISTING

Benefits resulting from enlistment and service with the Regular Army were today emphasized by Lt. Everett L. Dean, local Army recruiting officer, in announcing a New Year effort to sign more county men to the service.

Education, travel, excellent pay and allowances, plus a retirement system which offers security for life are among the advantages young men can enjoy by serving their country, he pointed out. Those who sign and serve for three year terms are entitled, upon discharge, to free tuition and other school expenses in an approved school up to $500 per year, plus $65 per month for those without dependents and $90 monthly for those with one or more. Other benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights will be available to men who enlist before the present emergency has ended, including the $300 mustering out pay, providing part of their service is outside the continental limits of the country.

Enlistment now allows the recruit to choose the overseas theater in which he wants to serve, including the following: European, Pacific, China, Mediterranean, Caribbean, Defense Command or Alaskan Department. Enlisted men are also encouraged to visit scenic, historical and civic centers in countries accessible to them from their station. An example of this are the special furloughs being arranged for soldiers in Germany to Switzerland, Norway, France and other European countries.

PUBLIC FAITH

FAMILIES, inexperienced in funeral matters, call us to serve because of established public belief in our competence and trustworthiness.

Two retirement plans are in force for men who decide to make the Army a career, says Lt. Dean; one at half pay after 20 years service, and the other, after 30 years, at three-quarters pay. An enlisted man may draw pay and allowances up to $284 each month and common retirement rates range between $89.70 and $155 monthly.

Many other benefits and advantages of Army life will be explained to interested men by Cpl. Jim Johnson, whose office is located at the Cass City post office every Wednesday.

New Pasteurization

Milk companies have found that they can pasteurize milk in a few seconds by passing supersonic vibrations through it. The bacteria are slain (beaten to death by vibration) in a few seconds as effectively as they are slain in the conventional method of heat pasteurization, which takes 30 to 40 minutes. Milk can also be homogenized by supersonic vibration, the fat globules are broken up and the resultant fluid is of a single, uniform consistency.

Strip Manchuria Of Jap Machinery

Russians and Chinese Reds Clean Out Factories.

CINHSIEN, MANCHURIA. — A jeep trip from the great wall to points within 50 miles of Mukden—a distance of more than 150 miles—disclosed that numerous factories have been stripped to the bare walls since the Japanese surrender.

Lt. Gen. Tu Li-ming, Chinese commander in chief for the northeast area, said the Russians and Chinese Communists had removed the equipment, while peasants had completed the job of picking clean the bones of plants which the Japanese had spent 14 years developing.

To restore the factories will take much money and years of work.

General Tu's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Chao Chi-shiang, and the secretary general for Manchuria, Prof. Yu Hsieh-shung, supported Yu's statement that the Russians and Communists had taken the equipment.

"The Russians took all of the important foreign made machinery from every factory and hospital I have seen," said Tu. "Then the Communists took most of the rest, and smashed what they could not carry away."

After the Communists, he added, came the fuel hungry peasants of this scantily forested area. Some factories were burned after being stripped. Nationalist forces took Chinhsien so quickly that it was little damaged. At Kinsi and Hingcheng, south of here, damage is more in evidence.

The Japanese had built the world's fourth largest sulphur plant at Kinsi, copying the American plant at Freeport, Texas. Tu said the Russians took so much of its machinery that it now is unworkable.

Professor Yu said reports he had received from Mukden and Harbin indicated that about 80 per cent of the industries in those two large cities had been taken away by the Russians.

Torpedo Missed Iowa With Roosevelt Aboard

WASHINGTON.—A navy spokesman revealed that a torpedo accidentally fired by a United States destroyer missed the battleship Iowa while the Iowa was carrying the late President Roosevelt to the Cairo conference.

The incident took place on November 14, 1943. The destroyer William D. Porter accidentally fired a torpedo which exploded some distance astern of the Iowa. The late President and the United States chiefs of staff were aboard the Iowa at the time en route to Cairo.

The navy spokesman said the explosion took place at a considerable distance from the ship and caused no injuries either to the ship or to its personnel.

An investigation board found certain personnel of the Porter inefficient in performance of duty and the officers and men concerned were "admonished."

Industry Sales Fell 2.3 Billion in Third Quarter

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — Sales of 15 major industry groups dropped nearly 2.3 billion dollars during the third quarter of this year, the securities and exchange commission said recently in a summarization of quarterly reports on sales data covering 274 corporations. Total sales, placed at $9,095,971,000 in the second quarter, dropped to $8,824,107,000.

The corporations' data covered three-month fiscal periods through April, May or June for the second quarter and through July, August or September for the third quarter.

Largest sales in any one industry group were those of 43 automobile parts and equipment companies, $1,931,330,000 in the second and $1,152,739,000 in the third quarter.

Reds Don't Wed Germans But Fraternize With Them

BERLIN. — Russian soldiers fraternize with German girls but are not marrying them, Col. J. Stepanov, Red army deputy member of Berlin's Kommandatura, said recently.

There is a marriage registry at Russian headquarters in suburban Karlshorst where any one can file intent to marry, but no one has applied, he said.

"There isn't one reason why a Russian soldier should marry a German girl," he said. "But there are lots of reasons why he shouldn't—great differences in language and culture, plenty of Russian girls looking for husbands and the fact that a Russian soldier may be here today and in Siberia tomorrow."

U. S. Will Return All Captives by 1946

WASHINGTON. — All Axis prisoners of war in the U. S. will be sent home by late winter or early spring of next year.

War department sources said prison camps in this country now hold nearly 400,000 prisoners. About 50,000 are Italians, 5,000 are Japs and the remainder German.

Ten High Average Bowlers.

Landon 187, D. Kilbourn 180, Kolb 175, Hunt 174, E. Fritz 172, Ludlow 170, F. Novak 169, Reid 168, Keppen 168, McCullough 167, Allen 167.

Opening week in the final schedule produced three winning combinations from the 16 teams as Larkin's, Fritz's and Wooley's squads came through to take their series. Novak's and Reid's teams rolled the higher totals, yet they won but two games. Another week may produce a considerable change in the standings.

Team captains had the opportunity to size up the possibilities of their squad members and a number of the new bowlers made very creditable showings in their initial starts in the league. In fact, four new members maneuvered the maples into totals sufficient to be numbered among the 10 high bowlers. Don Kilbourn and Alva Allen, two war veterans, along with Curt Hunt and Bob Keppen were the ones who served notice that they must be reckoned with and they no doubt will try to stick around the top to harass some of the familiar faces that formerly showed among the ten best.

Glen McClorey's 596 count was tops for the week as he linked together games of 214, 182 and 200. He missed the 600 mark that all bowlers covet when he failed to spare in the last frame of his final game.

Frank Novak's 575, Ludlow's 571, Knobel's 566 and Kolb's 555 totals were sufficient to register these bowlers on the honor list for the first week.

Games of 200 or over were rolled by F. Novak 228, Ludlow 227, Reid 223, Ellis 219, Schenck 215, Downing 215, Mann 215, McClorey 214, D. Kilbourn 211, Allen 209, F. Novak 207, McClorey 200.

Drainage Practices Increase on Farms

Crop Yields Improved By Control of Moisture

Improved drainage is considered one of the better means of increasing crop yields on flat farmland without furthering the danger of erosion. Good ditches have been found to increase crop returns materially while actually cutting the cost of planting and cultivating. On some farms, drainage is necessary before such practices as terracing and strip-cropping can be satisfactorily employed, and good drainage is helpful to the best results from any soil-improvement or soil-building practice.

Experts point out that the drainage of wet spots in cultivated fields is generally the most profitable type of drainage a farmer can use. Surface drainage is usually accomplished with shallow ditches that quickly remove water from the top of the ground. Tile drains are employed when under-drainage is needed to remove excess water from the root zone of the soil.

Emphasis in the AAA conservation program is laid on the importance of keeping ditches and drains clean and free from weeds, trash and sediment.

New Ideal Salt Box

Keep salt clean in the barnyard or pasture by erection of box as shown in illustration. The post should be set solid and the box spiked to the post. A hole in each corner will let out rain water.

DDT Proves Valuable In Dairy Fly Control

A 5 per cent suspension of "water dispersible" DDT powder is used to spray cows that are kept in open air stalls.

Walls and ceilings covered with DDT spray remain deadly to flies for three months. Dairy cattle made nervous by flies have been quieted by sprayings of the compound, an important item when it is realized that a cow's productivity is lowered by a pestilence of flies, apart from sanitary considerations.

Future of Soybeans

Soybeans have some advantages in the competition for peacetime acreage which will continue to make them a profitable farm crop. Some of the advantages are: more pounds of quality protein and oil produced per acre than by any other crop; value of soybean oil meal as stock feed; rapid strides made in the food and industrial usage of soybeans; present research indicating further industrial uses; and their replacement of unprofitable grains.

Population Doubles

Puerto Rico's population has more than doubled under Uncle Sam's stewardship, and now totals almost two million—540 people to the square mile. As a result, labor is plentiful and the soil is intensively farmed from the shores almost to the summits of mountains, which rise to 4,000 feet near the island's center.

Trouser Cuffs

Trousers finished about one-half inch above the heels look and wear best at the lower edge. A strip of cloth or tape sewed just inside the edge takes the brunt of wear off the trouser cuff.

'Shore Right'
It was the "Tawan Karang" or "shore right" which finally led to fighting between the Netherlands from Java and the princes of Bali. Bali's people had long believed that they had the right to plunder any foreign ship which went ashore on Bali or was in distress in its waters. As late as 1904 this "right" was practiced and the Netherlands government defied.

MRS. A. H. STEWARD
HOSTESS TO W. S. C. S.

The afternoon group of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met last Thursday afternoon. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. W. Douglas, using the subject of prayer and peace. Mrs. Howard Woolley presented the lesson, touching on the three requirements to be a member of the organization, prayer, service and gifts.

At the close of the program, the hostess, Mrs. Arthur H. Steward, assisted by Mrs. E. W. Douglas and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, served refreshments.

War Alcohol
Direct military and lend-lease requirements of alcohol from 1942 to 1944 totaled 258 million dollars. Smokeless powder and chemical warfare materials were high on the list as important consumers. The small portion remaining of war alcohol after these many purposes were served went for use as anti-freeze, since many previously available chemicals for this purpose were being diverted into direct war uses.

Proper Handling of Insecticides Urged

Best Safety Methods Suggested to Farmers

Simple rules for handling of insecticides include:
Take extra precautions in handling and using the more poisonous insecticides, such as the arsenicals and fluorine compounds.
Do not keep insecticides where foods are stored, and see that they are properly marked.
When mixing or applying, take extreme care to keep ingredients out of the mouth and eyes.
Keep the body well covered. Do

Heavy gloves and goggles are part of safety spraying program. Do not spray or dust with legs or arms and shoulders bare.
Burn empty bags which contained insecticide materials.
Guard against leaving residues of insecticides on harvested product.
Most of the insect controls are not good for humans or for farm animals, and some are dangerous. Precautions must be taken in using them, in order to get the best results with maximum safety.

Improved Equipment Water Heater

A portable water heater will be a welcome addition to the farm.

A new portable electric water heater, which needs no water pipe to feed it, has just been announced by Rheem Manufacturing company, San Francisco. It is designed for farms where there is limited or no plumbing.

The new unit can be moved around at will. All it needs is an electric outlet near by. It holds 17 gallons and has automatic control. It can be connected to a water pipe and thereby converted into an automatic heater if plumbing is installed.

Ultraviolet Rays Bacteria Killer

Invisible bactericidal rays sprayed by a new U-shape ultra-violet lamp can reduce the bacteria count in washed milk cans 96 per cent in one minute, according to a recent Westinghouse research report.

The tests were conducted under conditions of contamination more extreme than ever would be encountered in normal service. The unit consumes less electricity than a 25-watt electric light bulb, and should prove of real value in the milk house and dairy plants. Milk cans, although thoroughly cleaned, often pick up infectious organisms from rinse water and air.

This bactericidal rays lamp can be used in many ways about the dairy. Its main purpose is to kill the bacteria in the milk cans. By proper use of the lamp the quality of the milk can be raised and maintained. The cost of operation is very little and its effectiveness great.

Ragweed Injures Peas

Ragweed fragments in contact with peas in lug boxes after vining, has been proven to have an unfavorable effect on the flavor of the peas. They also have an unpleasant odor effect on the peas.

Mayweed, or dog fennel, has also been found to affect the flavor of the peas. However, this weed does not appear to be common to pea fields, being found largely near barnyards. Thus the anathema to hayfever sufferers has another sin.
