Majority Were Favorable to Purchase of Water Softening Equipment

Comparatively little interest was taken in the proposition to bond the village for $20,000.00 to construct and add to the village water supply system, water softening equipment and a deep well pump. Only 88 voters cast ballots on the proposition. Sixty-six were in favor of the project and 22 were opposed.

In the election of officers, Ernest L. Schwaderer was chosen president; Otto Prieskorn, clerk; Ernest Croft, treasurer; Evarad Rawson, assessor; James Gross, Malcolm C. McLellan and Benjamin F. Benkelman, Jr., trustees for two years; and Marion Douglas and Calla Patterson, members of the library board for three year terms.

Messrs. Schwaderer, Prieskorn and Croft and Mesdames Douglas and Patterson were chosen to succeed themselves in office.

With no names of candidates appearing on the ballot for either the offices of clerk or assessor, voters wrote in names of 13 citizens for the office of clerk and eight for assessor. Here's how they voted:

Clerk—Bernard Ross 1, Marion Douglas 7, Ivan MacRae 1, Evarad Rawson 5, Earl Douglas 1, Dorus Benkelman 7, Otto Prieskorn 11, Concluded from page 10.

First Sgt. Raymond Green in Berlin Hears "Million Dollar" Laugh from Battle Creek

"That laugh was worth a million dollars to me," exclaimed First Sergeant Raymond Green in a telephone conversation he had from Berlin, Germany, to his wife in Battle Creek, Mich., recently.

The connection was made by telephone from Berlin to Hamburg, Germany, then by radio to New York City, and again by telephone to Battle Creek. The charge was a flat rate of $12. It was the first phone call received at Battle Creek from Berlin.

Jesse Sowdens Celebrated Golden Wedding Sunday

Many Gather at Home to Extend Felicitations and Leave Gifts

Sunday, March 10, was an auspicious day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sowden when they celebrated their golden wedding in their home in Greenleaf township.

At the family dinner, served at noon, they were surrounded by all their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren and their families. Two beautiful wedding cakes were in evidence on the table. One was from their son, Edward, and their grandson, Clare Sowden and the other from the couple's children. The latter cake was in gold and white and was adorned with a bride and groom in miniature.

An outstanding and unusual feature of the meal was the fact that a large, white platter which had been used at the wedding dinner 50 years ago was again in service at the golden wedding festivity. It was the gift of Mr. Sowden's mother.

During the afternoon and evening, many friends and relatives called to extend felicitations and left many beautiful gifts as remembrances of the occasion. Many anniversary cards were also received. Mrs. Ella Vance was among the guests present and contributed several poems, both original and otherwise, to the enjoyment of the party.

Gagetown and Saginaw St. Joseph District Winners

Capacity Crowds Attend; 200 People Could Not Be Admitted on Friday

Gagetown high school's basketball team won its first district championship here by defeating Unionville and Akron in the Class D tournament held in the Cass City high school gym on March 7, 8 and 9. Although outsize by both opponents, their ball handling, accurate shooting and cool-collected play made them winners in both games by safe margins. Gagetown will go to Lapeer to compete for regional honors Mar. 14, 15 and 16.

Saginaw-St. Joseph won its second consecutive district basketball title in Class B here this past week end by defeating Sandusky and Caro. Although they lost their five regulars of last year that carried them to the state quarter finals, they were able to develop a new team capable of winning over the B teams of this district. St. Joseph will go to Mt. Pleasant to play in the regional tournament this week end.

Cass City's team met a rejuvenated Caro five in its first tournament game on Friday and bowed to their accurate shooting and tight zone defense by a 44 to 29 score. DeLong, Strickland and Leitch could not find the hoop as they had during the earlier games with Caro, while MacPhail kept his team in the running for the first three quarters with his 14 points. Caro's sharp shooters cooled in the St. Joseph game and lost 28 to 23.

Game Scores—Class B.
Caro 44, Cass City 29.
St. Joseph 53, Sandusky 30.
St. Joseph 28, Caro 23.

Class D.
Gagetown 42, Unionville 24.
Akron 49, Fairgrove 34.
Gagetown 34, Akron 29.

The total attendance for the three nights of play was 3,200, the largest crowds that ever attended a tournament in Cass City. On Friday night over 200 people could not be admitted and had to return home disappointed.

LABOR:

Hit Case Bill

The administration took its stand against the Case bill regulating union practices in hearings before the Senate labor committee, with Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach branding the legislation of a hedge-podge character which might well accelerate industrial warfare.

While the measure would permit federal injunctions to prevent violence in a labor dispute and make both employers and unions liable for contract violations, Schwelienbach said that the legislation was heavily weighted against labor and might render almost any action unlawful by employees.

In bucking the bill, pushed through the house during the height of the reconversion strike wave, the administration took its stand beside organized labor, which bitterly assailed the legislation. Speaking for the AFL, President Green agreed with Schwelienbach that the provisions of the bill might prevent labor from striking under usual circumstances.

Representing the National Association of Manufacturers, Raymond Smethurst commended the bill, declaring that employers were bound to respect contracts and force or violence were permitted in industrial disputes despite prohibitions of local law.

MEAT:

Price Raise

With the office of stabilization permitting packers to pass the full wage increase of 16 cents an hour on to consumers instead of ordering their absorption of about one-third as recommended by a fact-finding panel, retail meat prices are scheduled to rise 1 1/2 per cent.

Under the directive, the big five packers will be allowed an increase of 45 cents more per hundredweight on beef, veal and lamb, and 55 cents more per hundredweight on pork. Additional markups for wholesalers and dealers will account for the boost to consumers.

While the price order specifically covered the big five, Stabilization Director Bowles declared that other companies following the wage pattern set by Armour, Swift, Cudahy, Wilson and Morrell would secure similar price relief. Cases of companies setting up their own working standards will be subject to individual review.

JAPAN:

Export Program

To ease other Asiatic economies dependent upon the Japanese industrial machine and at the same time permit importation of essential goods, Nippon will be permitted to make exports up to 25 per cent of prewar volume in 1946.

While the majority of items will be shipped to such nearby markets as China, Korea, Formosa and southeast Asia, some goods may find their way into American trade. Until Jap industry is stepped up, early exports will be drawn from stocks built up during the war, including 80 thousand bales of raw silk; about 75 million yards of silk and rayon fabrics; 500 tons of medicines; 10 thousand tons of pottery; 1 1/2 thousand tons of tea, and 200 thousand fur pelts.

While raw silk and textiles are scheduled to make up a substantial portion of Japanese exports, cotton shipments will be aimed toward relieving the world-wide fabric shortage and will be of a low-count, non-competitive caliber. Indicative of allied plans for suppressing heavy Jap industry suitable for war productions, metallic exports will include such light items as bicycles, radios and electric fans.

RAIL DISPUTE:

Arbitrate Wages

Even while the engineers and railway trainmen were engaged in strike votes, voluntary arbitration proceedings involving 18 operating and non-operating rail unions were begun in Chicago, Ill., over wage demands.

In agreeing to put their cases before arbitration boards rather than without for the application of pressure against the rail systems, the unions declared they were entitled to substantial increases because pay has fallen behind living costs; higher income is needed to permit workers to absorb the products of mass production; the greater efficiency of employees entitles them to more money, and rail wages have failed to keep pace with those in other industries.

Answering the union arguments, rail officials declared that the roads have absorbed a billion increase in operating costs since 1941 and freight rates will have to be boosted even without additional wage advances. Besides earning 25 per cent more than employees in other industries, the officials said, rail workers enjoy generous old age pensions.

While the three operating unions have asked for a 25 per cent increase, with a minimum boost of $2.50 per day, the 15 non-operating groups seek a raise of 30 cents an hour.

SCHOOL LUNCHES:

Past House

Eliminating federal control over administration of the 50 million dollar school lunch program, the house passed the bill by a big majority and sent it to the Senate for consideration.

Under terms of the act, an annual appropriation of 50 million dollars would be apportioned to the states on the basis of population and per capita income. While the wealthier states would be required to put up an amount equal to federal funds, states with a per capita income below the national average would receive more money than they would be expected to contribute.

In forcing the elimination of federal control over administration of the program, state rightists charged that such supervision would lead to an expansion of bureaucracy and eventual government dictation of education. Left standing in the bill over strong opposition of some southern congressmen was a provision forbidding discrimination in the program because of race, color or creed.

CIVIL TRIALS:

Upheld in War

Declaring that the evolution of American governmental institutions guaranteed patriotic citizens in loyal territory civil trial, the Supreme court set aside two convictions returned by a military tribunal in Hawaii during the emergency period extending from December 7, 1941, to October 24, 1944.

In a 6 to 2 decision reaffirming a previous declaration that even under martial law citizens are entitled to civil trials where the judiciary is operating, the Supreme court pointed out that Hawaiian courts were permitted to function within certain grounds. Further pointing up the limited emergency existing, the justices said that bars, schools and theaters were reopened for public use.

In dissenting with the majority, Justices Burton and Frankfurter declared that because of its strategic position Hawaii could have been considered a part of the battlefield, making emergency measures necessary. The justices warned against the establishment of precedents which might affect government conduct in future critical situations.

G.I. Return Rate Exceeds World War I's

Ships are bringing home three times as many men three times as fast from twice as far away following World War II as they did after World War I. The biggest moving job in history reached its peak in November, 1945, when a little more than 1,050,000 soldiers and sailors stepped ashore again in the U. S. A. Since then, the rate has dwindled. Most returnable men in Europe are already home and almost half of those from the Pacific.

By next July 1, says the war department, all troops overseas except the 870,000 required for occupation and garrison duties will have been repatriated or will be on their way back. Of the 870,000, 400,000 will be in the Pacific, 370,000 in Europe, 100,000 in the Canal Zone, Alaska and other areas.

Promoted Aluminum

Napoleon III was the most eminent of the early boosters of aluminum. In addition to his efforts to fit out his army with aluminum equipment and weapons, he himself wore an aluminum breastplate to foil would-be assassins. But another early promoter of the metal who, though of less renown, was no less enthusiastic, was the gentleman who christened his son, "Aluminum," and said that if he ever had a daughter he would name her, "Alumina," because he wished "as great and glorious a future for his children as indicated for the new metal."

Battleship Bakery

Enough loaves of bread pop out of the ovens in the bake shop of one of our 35,000-ton battleships each week to satisfy the average one-day consumption of every individual in a city of 8,500 population, according to Ships magazine. In addition to these 8,800 loaves of white, raisin and graham bread, the battleship bake shop turns out 700 pies, 8,000 hot rolls, 4,800 cinnamon rolls, 8,000 to 9,000 cookies, fruit slices, coffee rings and birthday cakes for special occasions.

IT WORKED, ANYHOW

An American soldier who had heard of English eccentricity, found himself one day—in a remote village—riding in a pony trap with a retired colonel. Every hundred yards the colonel took a little pinch of powder from a packet and threw it on the road behind him. Finally the G.I. asked what the powder was. "It's anti-Ion powder," said the colonel sternly. "But," said the American, "there are no Ions in this country." "You're right," said the colonel, "and it's a good thing, too, because this anti-Ion powder is no earthly good."

Hormone Treatment Of Potatoes Advised

Storage Application Retards Sprout Growth

The plant hormone, methyl ester of alpha-naphthalenacetic acid, was found by Thomas and Riker, University of Wisconsin, to be effective in keeping potatoes from sprouting in storage, even at ordinary room temperatures.

The chemical can be employed successfully in liquids, dusts or shredded paper distributed among the tubers. The dust and shredded methods gave the best results. Treatment should be made in the spring shortly before the advent of warm weather, before the tubers break dormancy and begin to sprout. This retarding of the sprouts will extend the local selling season of potatoes, even after the spring weather has warmed the storage bins.

Potatoes free from late blight, soft rot, fusaria and other types of rot organisms only should be selected for hormone treatment. The amount of the chemical to be used should be approximately 1.35 grams of the methyl ester of alpha-naphthalenacetic acid per bushel of tubers.

Feed Salt to Hogs

Experiments conducted at Purdue university proved definitely that for economical reasons, hogs should never be allowed to go hungry for salt. Block or loose salt or a simple mineral mixture should be provided. The experiments showed that hogs supplied with a plentiful amount of salt averaged 250 pounds after 85 days, while those without salt only averaged 174 pounds in that time. The feeding of one pound of salt saved $5.37 in feed.

Corpron's Hardware

FAIR PLAY OUR POLICY ON NEW CAR DELIVERIES!

IN COOPERATION with the Ford Motor Company, we are making every effort to give earliest possible delivery of new cars to our patrons, according to the fairest method we have been able to devise. ●● During the current shortage, when there are not enough new cars for all who want them, we are filling orders for new cars on the basis of first come first served. There are two important exceptions to this rule:

1. We are definitely reserving a substantial percentage of our cars to supply those who have served in the armed forces. 31.2 percent of all Ford cars delivered to date in this area have gone to veterans. This we feel is simple justice and conforms with public interest and fair play.

2. If emergency need for a new car is a factor, we will, in the public interest determine priority according to the now abolished but publicly accepted OPA priority lists.

●● We believe these delivery policies are in your interest. We will use every care to see that the procedure works fairly and that exceptions to the rule of first orders delivered first are made only in genuinely deserving cases.

●● Both in the matter of increasing production and speeding delivery, the Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to get your new car in your hands promptly and fairly. We want to assure you that the '46 Ford is out in front in everything and is well worth waiting for.

American Red Cross Aids Wounded and Able-bodied

Not long ago to a Red Cross field director with an outfit on maneuvers flashed a message that the mother of a man in his unit was critically ill, and the man was needed at home immediately. With this message from the soldier's Red Cross chapter verifying the illness, the field director called on the commanding officer who arranged an emergency furlough. While a courier sped up the line to fetch the soldier, the Red Cross man was busy arranging transportation. Within a few hours the boy was at the Red Cross field office where furlough papers and a ticket awaited him. The field director drove him to the airport, and the boy arrived home in time—not to see his mother die, but to save her life with a blood transfusion. Today, almost seven months after V-J Day, some 17,000 Red Cross workers are still with the GIs at home and abroad. Hundreds of clubs and rest homes overseas are in operation where men meet on leave, get home-cooked food, and that prime American favorite—doughnuts and coffee. Music and entertainment, books, magazines, and home town newspapers, lounge and writing rooms—all are popular. For men staying overnight there are comfortable beds, clean sheets, and hot showers. More important than Red Cross services to the able-bodied are those for the wounded and ill. In army and navy hospitals the country over, professional and volunteer Red Cross workers serve in many ways. To the hospitalized a financial or family problem may prey upon the mind and dull the will to recovery. Under guidance of Red Cross medical social workers many a problem is dissolved, and obstacle overcome. Programs directed by recreation workers help patients forget their troubles. Red Cross volunteers supplement these workers with every conceivable service.

For example, there was the blinded soldier whose face was horribly scarred, who was expecting a visit from his wife and five-year-old daughter. It would be the first meeting in two years, he told the Red Cross girl who was teaching him rummy with Braille cards. "My little girl knows I'm blind and she's planning how she'll do things for me," he said. But what she did not know, what had been kept from him so that it might not retard his readjustment, was the way he was scarred and disfigured. The Red Cross girl caught her breath. "That's fine," she said. "I'll meet them at the train." Her heart sank upon seeing the tiny girl. It would be a job to prepare her for the shock, to make sure she did not let her father suspect there was anything wrong. Gently she told the child about her daddy's face, how it would get better, how much he loved her, and that she mustn't be afraid. Then, with a prayer in her heart, she led mother and child to where the blinded soldier waited. The crucial moment had come. Now, upon the actions of a little girl, the future of this family would depend. For a moment the tot stood in the doorway, looking at her father across the room. Then, without hesitation, came the patter of little feet, and she threw her arms around her father's neck. "Daddy," she cried, "Daddy, it's me—we're so glad to have you back!" A simple service, yes. But it determined the happiness of three people. Without the understanding heart, and the many who daily give of their minds and souls, the adjustment of thousands of servicemen might be seriously retarded. The American Red Cross needs $100,000,000 to carry on during the next fiscal year. Because farm families have a big stake in the Red Cross they consistently support the organization. The Red Cross is confident that families in agricultural areas, the backbone of the nation, will generously support the 1946 Fund Campaign.

Dwight Turner reported a robin looking over his strawberry patch Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice O'Connor and children of Pontiac spent the week end with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bohnsack were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Schwieger in Charlotette. Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Corkins were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Corkins of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hurst of Ann Arbor. Arthur Paston, who has been manager for the Aikman Bakery company for Port Huron; here for the past five years, has sold his interest to Orville Mallory. Mr. Paston will work with the same company in Port Huron. Because of the housing shortage, the Paston family expect to continue to make their home here. Mr. Mallory spent 27 months overseas in the service of Uncle Sam.

WHOLESUME FEAR

Out in a Western town a number of lions had broken out of a circus posse was organized to hunt them down, and the leader suggested that before the chase began it might be well for the men to stop in a saloon and have a drink. This suited as the members except the town leader do-well, Jason. "Whiskey for all!" the leader yelled, when the men had lined up before the bar. "Not for me," objected Jason. "Just gimme a jigger of ginger ale." "You'll take whiskey!" shouted the leader. "It'll give you courage." "Heck!" rejoined Jason. "That's jest what I'm afeared of."

Robert A. McNamee Died Suddenly at His Home Here Saturday

Concluded from page 1. agent at Ann Arbor with the Ann Arbor Railroad in October, 1918. He remained there until the fall of 1917 when he took an extended trip to western states. On his return he resigned with the Ann Arbor railroad and accepted the position of traffic manager for the Liberty Motor Car Co. of Detroit in which position he remained until the fall of 1920 when the slump in auto production occurred and he accepted the Grand Trunk agency at Cass City where he was steadily employed until the summer of 1940 when an eye ailment made it necessary to cease his railroad work. He was made a Mason by North Newberry Lodge at Durand and was its oldest living past master. He was also a member of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Rats and mice will not chew modern American matches creating fire hazards, because of ingredients so repulsive to rodents that in laboratory tests they would not touch the composition even when starving.

Aluminum in Transport Experiments with aluminum in marine construction were begun almost as soon as the first aluminum sheet and plate were turned out. In the field of railroad transportation, aluminum appeared nearly a half century ago, being first used as turned out. From the start, of course, aluminum was a feature in the aircraft industry, not only for airplanes but also for some of the first lighter-than-air craft. Count Zeppelin, for example, built his first airship with aluminum.

Forage Poisoning Horses and mules are the most susceptible animals to forage poisoning. Feeds that may kill them may be fed to cattle or to hogs. Soft, moldy corn, for instance, may be safe for hogs but fatal to horses and mules.

American Sport Basketball is the only major sport of entirely American origin. It was invented in 1891 to keep athletes physically fit and entertained between the football season and the baseball season.

WANT TO

Air Conditioning
Postwar requirements in air conditioning are said to exceed $1,000,000,000 in volume. This estimate is based on the small percentages of homes and other buildings now air conditioned, some of which are: less than 1 per cent of homes valued at $12,000 or more with central heating units; only 3 per cent of department stores; 2 per cent of drug stores; 7 per cent of restaurants; 2 per cent of doctor's offices; 30 per cent of railroad cars, and similarly small figures for many other establishments.

Rural Health
In comparison with city folks, more farm boys were turned down for military service, more mothers died in childbirth, more infants failed to survive, and there were more deaths from diphtheria, malaria, pellagra, pneumonia and influenza.

Beet Picker
Harvesting beets by conventional hand methods requires about 21 man-hours per acre, but a combine requires only about four man-hours per acre.

Load Lines
On every ship there's a painted mark which shows how low in the water she may safely be while carrying a full load. But that load varies depending on where and when the ship is to sail. If she's heading for tropical waters, where the seas are calm, the mark is high. Similarly, she can be loaded more deeply in summer than in winter because less allowance is necessary for storms. There's also a mark for fresh water sailing since buoyancy of a ship is less in fresh water than in salt.

Aluminum Uses
Several of the main uses made of aluminum at the beginning of the century are still among the largest consumers of the metal today, such as cooking utensils, electrical conductors, marine construction, architecture, novelties and transportation.

High is Low
The musical term "alto" describing the lower kind of boy's or woman's voice actually means "high" and is used in this sense to mean the highest adult male voice.

Arctic Plants
Some plants, such as cabbages, grow faster and bigger in parts of the Arctic than they do in the temperate zone or the tropics. Possible explanation is that the daylight is continuous during the Arctic summer, providing more growing time; at Fort Yukon, Alaska, on a day that varies from 65 degrees F. to 95 degrees F. there would be as much growing time as in two ordinary days in the tropics.

U. S. Telephones
In terms of capital investment, telephones are the third largest public utility in the country (after electric power and transportation). More than 80 per cent of the telephones in the United States are operated by one system. About 6,300 independents account for the other 20 per cent of the total telephones operated.

Favor Rural Clinics
A national rural health survey showed that 80 per cent of the farmers questioned wanted public clinics in rural areas and 75 per cent wanted a pre-payment plan for hospital and medical care.

CASS FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS

Bob Keppen.

You aren't getting machinery, Mr. Farmer, because...

PICKET LINES

have taken the place of

PRODUCTION LINES!

...so don't blame your Implement Dealer!

Your implement dealer had planned and expected to have his display floor filled with new implements and tractors weeks ago. And we had planned to make them—had told our dealers and our farmer customers they would have new equipment and plenty of service parts for the 1946 spring work. And we had hoped to sell these machines at no advance in price.

Real Production Had Started
When the war ended, our organization bent every effort to increase production, with the result that in the last months of 1945 machinery was being built in very substantial quantities. Here are a few figures:

ITEM	PRODUCTION
	NOV. 1945	DEC. 1945
Tractors.....	7,271	7,432
Combines.....	2,345	2,526
Cultivators.....	3,482	3,308
Hay Loaders.....	209	982
Plows.....	6,185	6,702*

*Plows are made in our Canton and Chattanooga Works, which are not on strike. January production was 7,747 plows.

Both your dealer and we were encouraged by this production picture at the turn of the year. But the strike changed all that. As you know, the CIO United Farm Equipment & Metal Workers of America called a strike in ten of our plants, on January 21, 1946.

What Is The Strike About?
Wages are a basic issue. At the time of the strike, Harvester employees were among the highest paid workers in American industry. When the strike began, the average hourly earnings in the ten plants, not including overtime, were $1.15 1/4. If present wage proposals are adopted, this figure will become $1.33 1/4 per hour.

When the strike began, negotiations were broken off by the Union on the issue of compulsory union membership. The Company has no desire to weaken the Union. It recognizes certain reasonable needs of the Union. But the Company does oppose compulsory unionism. It feels strongly that an employee's membership should be a matter of his own choice.

Material Costs and Price Relief

Wages and materials are the great costs of operating our business—together they consume all but a few cents of every dollar the Company takes in. Wages are obviously going to be high—and nobody knows just how high material costs will go.

In the face of rising costs of materials, the Company does not see how it can pay the wage increases recommended by a Government fact finding board until it has definite and satisfactory assurance from the Government that reasonable price relief will be granted to the Company within a reasonable period of time. This matter is of such importance that it will not be discussed here, but will be covered by future advertisements devoted to both prices and profits.

Speaking for our dealers and ourselves, we can assure you that no customer is more eager than we are to resume production. We are doing and shall continue to do everything in our power to bring about a fair settlement as soon as possible.

BowlingCity League.

For the first time since the second schedule of bowling opened, the league now has only one team holding down first place. Wooley's group after a hard struggle through their first eight weeks of bowling now find themselves out in front by two full games as they trounced the Wilson squad for a three-game win, while the DeFraim team were able to capture but one game from the Ed Fritz keggers, who were on the rampage with their lead man, "Slim" Milligan hammering out a grand total of 570 pins with a high game of 235. The Novak team riding along in a three-way tie in first place, took a trouncing from the Landon pin spillers who were at top form and set the Novak team down in all three games. McCullough's squad fell on the Gross team to take their three game series and "Shorty" Greenleaf was the outstanding bowler on Captain Mac's crew with his 556 pin totals.

The league added a new member to its list when Harry Little, the town's new mortician, appeared on the Kolb team where he will roll as a regular team member for the balance of the season. We also welcomed back an old league member in the person of Alex Tye, recently released from the Navy. Alex rolled on the Gross team and established an average of 180 and would be a good addition to any team.

Those writing their names on the honor list by their weekly offering were Landon 606, Kirton 574, Milligan 570, Croft 559, Retherford 554, Kolb 551.

Ernie Croft's 238 game was high for the week. Kirton had 236, Milligan 235, Benkelman 227, Landon 225, Ellis 220, Auten 213, Retherford 210, Hoffman 202, Kolb 201, Krug 200.

The first five teams leading in pin totals since this second schedule has opened are Novak 18844, Larkin 18675, Landon 18582, De-

Frain 18454, Wooley 18329.

Let's Tackle Inflation While We Can

You don't want your dollars to buy less and less and less!

You don't want your savings to melt away! Or the value of your life insurance to dwindle!

Yet that is what inflation can do to all of us. Therefore, thoughtful people everywhere are concerned with ways to smother it before it gets out of hand.

One major cause of inflation is a shortage of goods when people have money to spend for things they want.

That cause can be eliminated by the production of goods — fast — in quantity.

BUY THERE'S A BOTTLENECK

During the war there wasn't enough labor and materials to meet the needs of war and still produce all the civilian goods people wanted and could buy.

Therefore price controls on civilian goods were substituted for competition to keep prices down.

Today this country has all the labor and materials necessary to turn out the things people want.

Yet goods are still scarce. Store shelves are still bare. The national pocketbook continues to bulge. Inflation grows.

Why? Because price controls in peacetime hinder the production of goods. Business cannot live by producing at a loss. And so, goods that can't be made to sell at the prices fixed by the government just don't get made.

Nor will the raising of price ceilings solve the problem. When costs and selling prices are subject to change at any moment by government action, production has to be on a day-to-day basis.

That means uncertainty . . . reduced output . . . more inflation.

ISN'T THIS THE ANSWER?

Remove price controls on manufactured goods and production will step up fast.

Goods will then pour into the market and, within a reasonable time, prices will adjust themselves naturally — as they always have — in line with the real worth of things.

Competition has never failed to produce this result.

This is the way you can get the goods you want at prices you can afford to pay.

Please think this over. Then tell your representatives in Congress what you believe should be done. You owe it to yourself . . . and to your country's welfare.

Leftover Storage
Three covered refrigerator dishes for leftover foods will help to solve your storage problem — one for meats, another for fruits, and the third for vegetables. The various leftover meats may be used in creamed dishes, meat pies and in combination meat-vegetable dishes. The vegetables may be used together in soups, salads and combination dishes, while odd bits of fruit may be combined and served for either the first or last course of the meal.

Fertilizer Bags
Fertilizers and powdered chemicals, which otherwise would have to be shipped in rigid containers, can be handled without damage from moisture in multi-wall paper bags. The bags have up to six walls of kraft, one usually being a moisture-resistant sheet of two layers of kraft bonded together with asphalt.

Elastic Cloth
A new development is an elastic cloth made without rubber. The trick is to curl rayon thread into a spiral — like a spring — before the cloth is woven. Electron heating gives a uniform and permanent set to the spiral thread. The fabric does not lose its elastic properties by washing or ironing.

Retarding Paint 'Sliding'
The careful flowing of a small quantity of turpentine over the surface of the paint in a partially used can, which is being set aside for only a few days, will generally prevent a "skin" from forming on the paint. In addition, the lid of the paint can should be handled carefully to avoid shaking. It should be borne in mind that this is merely a temporary procedure.

Building Trim
In architecture, aluminum was first used as trim and decoration, from which point builders and architects discovered that the metal also could be used to great advantage for many construction purposes.

Discover Celtic Temple
Excavations for airfields in England brought interesting disclosures. One revealed the design of an ancient Celtic temple of wood, a square within a square, and on this site also were found bronze earrings. The temple was probably built between 500 and 300 B. C.

Vacuum Bristle
Here's how to determine whether your bristles in your vacuum cleaner are long enough to sweep the carpet. Lay a card across the nozzle. If bristles touch card, they'll touch the carpet. Too short? Learn how to lower the brush—there's probably a pin or slot mechanism or a flat screw at the ends of the roll.

Hog Influenza May Cause Serious Loss

Prevention Should Be Practiced in Hog Lot

Earthworms, usually found in large numbers around old straw stacks, often contain the lungworm which in turn is the carrier of hog influenza.

Proper housing including draft-free ventilation and adequate bed-

A healthy, well-housed and fed hog will not be in danger of contracting flu.

ding are necessary if hog flu is to be controlled or prevented. They should be kept from undue exposure.

As the disease is contagious, any sick animals should be separated if part of the drove comes down with the flu.

By proper housing, feeding and management, little trouble should be met with in the prevention of flu.

Chemical Effective As Weed Eradicator

The chemical 2, 4-D (chemically dichlorophenoxyacetic), has proven effective in killing dandelions, plantains, and many other weeds with little difficulty or expense by spraying.

Detail work is being conducted at Mississippi state agricultural experiment station by Prof. O. A. Leonard and F. H. Herzer.

Left, untreated bitterweed; right, bitterweed treated with 2, 4-D. This method of treatment has proven valuable in many ways.

ress report indicates that the chemical acts as a plant hormone. When used in high concentrations, the plant dies under proper conditions.

The USDA reports that a solution of 2, 4-D containing as little as 1 1/2 ounces of the chemical in 10 gallons of water will be deadly to many species of broad-leaved plants including dandelion, plantain, pennywort, Japanese honeysuckle, annual morning-glory, daisy, chickweed, winter cress, ragweed, pigweed, burdock, wild mustard and annual sow thistle.

DDT in Paint

A wall paint blended with DDT under a new process has proved an effective "insect control" as long as 16 months after a single application.

Tests have shown that seven seconds contact, on DDT paint, for flies first paralyzes and then kills the insects in 30 minutes.

Superphosphate Needed

Five to six tons of animal manure reinforced with one-half bag of superphosphate per ton of manure produces as much increase in yield as does 10 to 12 tons per acre without the superphosphate.
